The Canton Connection

HOME SALES ARE BOOMING in Canton Township, according to statistics reported by the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors and its Multiple Listing Service (MLS), which covers western Wayne County, Oakland County and northwest Detroit. MLS reports that during August 1985 home sales, in its listing areas, have increased by 25 percent from August 1984. Realtors of the Metro MLS see a chance of 1985 breaking a 1978 home sales record of 18,480 home sales in those areas. During August 1985 11 communities in Metro MLS area sold at least 100 more homes than a year ago this time. Canton Township listed a boost from 467 in 1984 to 673 in 1985. The other 10 communities are: Livonia, Farmington/Farmington Hills, Redford Township, Dearborn Heights, Southfield, Commerce/Wixom, Westland, Dearborn, West Bloomfield Township/Orchard Lake and Birmingham. MLS covers a 3,000-square-mile territory.

IS THERE A skeleton in your closet? If you would like to find out drop by the Canton Recreation Center 12:30-3 p.m. on Tuesdays. A genealogy instructor, sponsored by Canton Township Senior groups, will help you trace your family tree. Individual attention and assistance will be available. The program also involves field trips and informational speakers. The class is free and high school credit may be earned. Call the Canton seniors department for further information at 397-1000, Ext. 278.

PRESCHOOL STORYTIME SESSIONS are offered to youngsters, 3, 4, and 5 years old, who are not enrolled in kindergarten classes and are able to sit 45 minutes without parental attendance. The four week program, scheduled Oct. 7-29, introduces children to stories, puppets, songs, fingerplays and simple crafts to stimulate their imagination. Class time is limited and registration must be made in person only at 7 p.m., Sept. 24. A parent must remain in the library during storytime. For more information, call 397-0999.

Haggerty paving obstacle crumbles

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton residents trying to have Haggerty near Cherry Hill and Palmer paved have won a round. Jim Myers, Wayne County director of the Office of Public Services, said last week he would support less-expensive paving not designed for trucks.

The county has been demanding heavier paving suitable for use by trucks.

Wayne County commissioner Milt Mack and State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, said Myers indicated support for a change during a conversation among the three men. Kosteva and Mack are awaiting written confirmation from Myers.

"We would like to see this in some written form," Kosteva said. "Myers said he supported the reclassification (away from truck-grade concrete), but at the time, he mentioned to me that he wanted to resolve internal disputes regarding the reclassification.

"In other words, there wasn't uniform support among some of the staff members in the department."

MYERS WAS unavailable for comment Friday afternoon.

The proposed change means that Haggerty, a county road, would be designated for Class B use rather than Class A. The county has previously demanded that pavement of Haggerty be Class A, suitable for large trucks to use.

Kosteva, Mack and Canton Supervisor James Poole have been meeting with county officials regularly to have the county change the classification to B.

Paving a mile of Class B road with open ditches and asphalt costs $330,000. Paving a mile of Class A road costs $1 million. Class A roads must be built of reinforced concrete and have enclosed ditches.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS have said it would cost too much to pave that stretch of Haggerty.

Because there are interchanges at Michigan and I-275 and at Ford and I-275, trucks don't need to travel on that mile of Haggertu, Kosteva wrote Sept. 19 to William Oakley, director of the department of roads.

"The predominate land use within this mile stretch is residential, with the prospect for alternatives remote," Kosteva said. "Therefore, no uses which exist, or are likely to locate on Haggerty, are found at the extreme corners."

Kosteva lives near Haggerty.

The county has said it can't pay for paving projects. Canton residents would have to pay. This could present another hurdle for residents.

The Canton Township Board of Trustees recently passed a tax increase that was lower than proposed, Poole said Friday. The difference between the proposed rate and the approved tax rate will take a big chunk from Canton's budget for projects like road paving, Poole said.

"I am busting my tail to have Haggerty classified as B, but even if I do, the board will have to come up with the money," Poole said. "The township does not have the money.

"At the risk of making the Haggerty Road people mad, there are other roads that have a priority," Poole said.

HAGGERTY NORTH of Ford Road, the Canton Center and Sheldon Road cutoff, and Morton Taylor between Joy and Warren have a higher priority, Poole said.

Margaret Galazin, who has regularly attended Canton trustees' meetings requesting pavement of Haggerty, says residents will keep trying to have Haggerty paved.

"I won't count my chickens before they hatch, but holy Toledo," Galazin said after hearing about Myers' support. "I think this is one of the greatest news I've heard."

Petitions with 683 signatures demanding that Haggerty be paved before the fall of 1988 were given to the board in August by Hope Brey, president of Winds Condominiums' homeowners association.

THE AREA is residential, Kosteva said. He pointed to Winds, Canton Common apartment complex and houses. Safety for residents who ride school buses on Haggerty to attend Fields Elementary School is another major reason for the paving, supporters say.

Kosteva and Mack said they will continue to try to have that stretch of Haggerty paved.

With a chuckle, Mack said, he has a special interest in getting the job completed. Mack said the first request he received when he took office was from his goddaughter. She asked that he work on getting Haggerty paved.

Sandra Aldrich of Canton brightens the subject of bereavement with a few puns, and adds explanation points with her hands.

Death need not be call to mourning

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Death is not a funny matter.

But Sandra Aldrich finds a chuckle now and then helps lessen the pain when talking about the subject.

Faithfully executed in her slight southern drawl, the Canton resident slips in quotes from her colorful Kentucky relatives and drops light-hearted antecdotes, and suddenly the tension seems to lift from the room.

Aldrich has no time for negatives. She's upbeat, personable, "open and honest" — just the type of personality Thomas Rost, president of R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home said he was looking for as a "community service representative."

ALDRICH HAS been hired by Rost to deliver speeches on bereavement to service clubs, Bible studies, hospital staffs, seminars, students and any other interested groups.

Aldrich became a member of the funeral home's Maximum Living program last week.

"She can laugh at herself, and she can cry about herself," Rost said. "It's this type of personality that warms a person's heart when they meet her."

Rost admits the free service is a good public relations and advertising tool but adds that it's important to him to promote "living life to its maximum.

"We're very service orientated, and we're here to help people," Rost said. "We feel there is a real need to be involved in bereavement."

After watching her husband die after more than 16 months of a "beating-all-odds" battle with brain cancer, Aldrich said, she comes to the job with a lot of personal experience.

"From my own loss I have an empathy for others' losses," she said. "I try to stress the positive aspects because I'm sick to death, pardon the pun, with the negatives."

Aldrich says her grief education can be applied not only to losing someone to death but to other traumatic experiences, like losing a job.

"There are some things that happen, and we all have to suffer. Either it will be a better or bitter experience. The choice is up to us."

THE SURVIVOR should know that it's alright to hurt, and it's important to be good to ourselves. She stresses being good doesn't mean over-indulging in substances like alcohol to mask the pain.

"These are just common sense things but when we're in the grief process we don't always think rationally, and we need to make time to be good to ourselves.

"We have to realize our suffering is not unique," Aldrich said. "We have to know that other people hurt."

After most deaths the survivors are plagued with the "should haves." Sometimes it's "false guilt" stemming from thinking they could have prevented something that was irrevocable, like cancer, she said.

Some people experience misplaced guilt by blowing out of proportion incidents involving the dead person. The worst guilt of all, she said, is the true guilt.

Aldrich gives an example of a woman who had a "terrible argument" with her sister. The woman told her sister she never wanted to see her again. That night the sister died of a heart attack, which may have been spurred by the extra stress.

SHE EMPHASIZES that the death of a family member usually affects the lifestyles of the survivors, she said, and adjustments have to be made.

After her husband died, Aldrich and her children (who were in the third and fourth grades) began volunteering time on holidays for the Salvation Army. It was a depressing time without her husband, but helping others gave her the strength to deal with her own feelings.

Aldrich, who taught school for 15 years, tells her audiences that spouses could help each other deal with their death by leaving an encouraging letter in their personal papers. A note, like "I know you'll do fine," from a loved one would mean a lot to the survivor, she said.

Aldrich said some of her suggestions were learned from John Canine, who has a doctoral degree in grief therapy, and also is part of the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home Maximum Living program.

ONLY ABOUT 30 percent of the families using the funeral services take advantage of Canine's offer, Rost said.

"Dr. Canine is available to all our families, and he is educating people to the fact that what they are feeling is really a normal response. The service is available for those people who need that kind of direct confrontation.

"People come to us, they leave, and we are done with them," Rost said. "Basically there is no more communication with them, and that didn't make sense to me."

Fisher case returns to 35th District

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Charles Ray Fisher, accused of killing his wife, returned Friday to 35th District Court for a continuation of a preliminary examination so the defense attorney could cross-examine the victim's father.

Manuel Mercado was questioned at length by Fisher's attorney Daniel Burress and will return for more cross-examination today (Monday) beginning at 9 a.m.

Burress last month convinced Wayne Circuit Court Judge Richard Kaufman to return the case to district court because evidence was incorrectly suppressed during the preliminary examination.

Fisher is accused of killing his wife, Ella Marie Mercado-Fisher, by wrapping duct tape around her head, and staging a robbery in their Canton Township home on July 15, 1984.

BURRESS SAID Timothy Kenny, Wayne County prosecuting attorney, failed to provide him with copies of letters written by Mercado to the Canton Police Department.

Judge Kaufman said Burress' cross examination of Mercado and a doctor who worked on the victim could affect 35th District Court Judge James Garber's ruling in March that there was sufficient evidence linking Fisher to his wife's death to bind him over for trial.

Burress said that as of Friday he still hadn't received a copy of a letter written in November 1984 by Mercado to Canton Township police investigating the case.

Kenny said he sent Burress all letters given to him by the Canton Police, as well as letters he requested Mercado to copy.

Said Burress: "I can't understand in a murder case that a police department would lose things or throw things away relating to a murder case."

A short recess was taken to allow Burress to review copies of the letters in question, which were maintained and brought to court by Mercado.

BURRESS ASKED Mercado about times and dates of telephone conversations between Fisher and himself before Mercado-Fisher was attacked. Mercado said the conversations were centered on Fisher's allegations that his wife was having an affair with her cousin, Javier Hurtato.

Mercado testified that Fisher was afraid his wife planned to go to Germany July 17, 1984, to visit her cousin, and this would mark the end of their marriage.

Burress also questioned a doctor who examined Mercado-Fisher before she died. The doctor testified that he didn't see large pieces of duct tape on the victim.

At the close of the preliminary examination, Judge Garber will rule if there is enough evidence for Fisher to stand trial for first-degree murder.

Fisher is free on the $250,000 bond he posted in March following a five-day preliminary examination. He has been living in Missouri with his family.

Mercado, who also lives in Missouri, expected to return Friday after completion of the cross examination Friday afternoon.

In the hallway outside the courtroom, Mercado said he was "really disgusted to have to go back six months in the calendar, and that's really disappointing to me" that the case returned to the preliminary examination stage.

"You don't know how life is when something like this happens," Mercado said. "It's like standing next to a building, and you don't know whether to run or to stay."

No open interviews to pick fact-finder

Chairman John Hertel's special committee to hire a fact-finder to probe conflict-of-interest charges in the Wayne County Executive's office managed to select its man without conducting public interviews.

There were no collective committee interviews so it wouldn't be obvious whom we had rejected," said Hertel, D-Harper Woods. He chairs the Special Committee on Governmental Integrity that recommended Richard Strichartz (see related story on this page) and the full County Commission.

The state Open Meetings Act requires that "all interviews by a public body for employment or appointment to a public office shall be held in an open meeting."

"We conducted interviews by phone one-on-one," Hertel said following the County Commission's hiring of Strichartz. When one committee member had finished a conversation, another would place a call.

The Open Meetings Act also requires that applications be reviewed publicly unless the candidate asks for confidentiality.

Hertel said there were no applications. "We made a list" of prospects, said the chairman, declining to say how many persons were considered. The commission's profile for a fact-finder called for a person with legal experience, academic standing and no recent partisan political involvement.

Pre-Columbian bones unearthed in Plymouth

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

A Plymouth Township resident discovered the apparent remains of three to five Indians who lived in the area from 1200-1300 A.D.

Shane Cash, the son of Doug Cash, and his cousin Chris Hutter were helping with the digging of a septic tank when the pair discovered the group of bones.

"There was a big leg bone," said Doug Cash. "I thought it was a cow bone because we're across the street from a farm. But then I saw this jaw with teeth."

Cash's property, covering three acres, is located at Ann Arbor Trail near McClumpha Road, across Ann Arbor Trail from Plymouth Township Park.

Cash was excavating to lay a foundation and install a septic tank, when his son and nephew found the bones.

The bones were turned over to the University of Michigan Archeology Department, which gave them a preliminary time frame of 1200-1300 A.D., pending more extensive carbon testing.

Cash said there were three skulls intact, two fragmented skulls, and enough bones to make up at least three skeletons.

Jeff Parsons, director of the U-M Archeology Department, said curator John O'Shea is studying the find.

"There are fairly complete skeletons," said Parsons, "a lot of bones, although some were disturbed by the construction taking place. I'd say there were about two or three people discovered."

PARSONS SAID the bones were probably those of "late woodland Indians" that populated the area.

According to Cash, the discovery site also included charcoal remains from a campfire.

Cash has retained several skull pieces and leg bones, which will be donated to the Plymouth Historical Museum.

"They're thought to be Indians that were here before Columbus," said Cash. "I can't relate back that far."

Cash said the property will be designated an archeological site. He also is trying to get one of the houses on his property, a Greek Revival design that dates back to 1876, in the National Historical Register.

"The heads of the skeletons were fully grown men," said Cash. "They were all adults."

Cash, who has owned the property since 1970, said the U-M archeologists gave the find a "four" on a scale of one to 10.

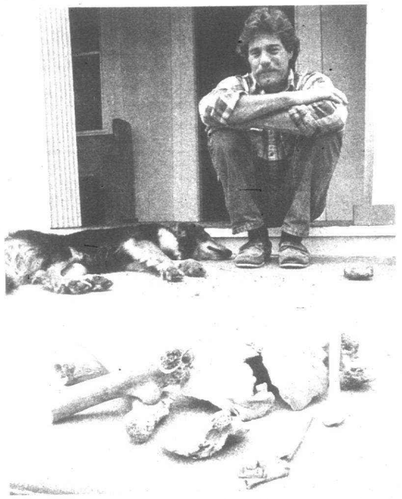
"The discovery of charcoal shows there was evidence of some sort of a fire," said Helen Gilbert, Plymouth author and columnist. "Their heads were separated and punctured, showing some evidence they may have been killed. This was not a friendly burial. There were no pots in the grave, so I'd say they were killed somewhere else and buried here."

Gilbert said tribes in the area included Ottawa, Potowatami and Hopwell. The last Indian pow-wow took place here in 1827.

Cash said he often found Indian arrowheads on the property. He showed a six-inch Indian tomahawk axhead in perfect condition.

Parsons said it would be "quite some time" before the bones could be dated through carbon analysis.

Meanwhile, Cash will continue construction on the site. Make no bones about it.



Doug Cash, on whose property Pre-Columbian bones were found, sits on porch of his Greek Revival home, which dates back to 1876.

Skull pieces, parts of a jawbone, teeth aand hip bones were discovered on the Cash property in Plymouth Township last week.

Bones, believed to date back to 1200 A.D., were found during excavation for a basement of a new house. Shovel marks the spot where bones were discovered.

Group home residents win over former foes

For the residents and staff of one group home in Plymouth, some common sense approaches to neighborhood relations brought quick results.

The Lexington home in the City of Plymouth faced strong community opposition before it opened in July 1984.

Fear concerning the safety of their children was one of the major apprehensions expressed by neighbors.

Some people said children would no longer be able to walk or play near the home.

Yet, three months after the group home opened, more than 100 neighborhood children visited the home to collect Halloween treats from the six men who live there.

THE HALLOWEEN experience was a meaningful one to Richard Snyder, executive director of New Worlds Inc., the agency which operates the Lexington home.

"So many children stopped by that we ran out of the McDonald's coupons we were giving out and had to switch to nickels," said Snyder. "Having this numer of 'trick or treaters' indicated to me that people were no longer afraid of us and accepted us."

According to Snyder, a complete turnabout in neighborhood attitudes started to evolve soon after the home opened.

"I went to the neighborhood notification meeting before the home opened," said Snyder, "I would guess that 80 percent of the 100 people in attendance were opposed to the home, 10 percent were favorable, and 10 percent were neutral.

"I'd bet that the percentages now are completely reversed, based on how well we get along with the neighbors."

BEING VISIBLE, open and involved in the community seemed to be three of the major factors which helped gain acceptance for the Lexington home.

Snyder cited a number of activities which he thinks promoted neighborhood and community acceptance.

- "One thing we started doing was taking walks through the neighborhood. We said 'hello' and introduced ourselves to the neighbors we'd meet. People are frightened because they haven't been exposed to persons with mental retardation. If we had just stayed in the home, neighbors would still be afraid."
- "We joined the Neighborhood Watch Program and attend meetings regularly. Even though only 40 percent of the other families have joined, we wanted to show that we desired to be good, civic-minded neighbors."
- "We have invited the local police and fire departments over so they could be familiar with the home."
- "We make regular, almost daily trips downtown for exercise and to patronize local businesses."
- "One of the residents has become an active member of a local church."
- "On Christmas Eve we participated in the neighborhood candle-lighting tradition. Families place candles spaced about one foot apart in a line along their property. The candles are lit at nightfall and burn for three hours. It's beautiful."
- "With staff assistance and cooperation from the State Police, one group home resident helped to initiate a bicycle safety program for other disabled persons living in Plymouth."
- "Recently, an open house was held. A number of neighbors we hadn't met previously attended. State Sen. Robert Geake also came."
- "We are open and friendly with neighbors and encourage their involvement. One man visited to see how the inside of the home was maintained and he was pleased with what he saw. Another neighbor recently visited and donated several wooden patio chairs to the home."

Concerning the Lexington home, a board member of New Worlds recently commented: "It is a place where people live harmony within its doors and in harmony with the world outside."

Jobs for youth available

Growth Works Inc. of Plymouth, is ready to put its 1985-86 Employment Dynamics Program (EDP) into operation.

The program offers training and job placement opportunities for residents ages 16-21 in the Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Redford, Westland, Garden City, Northville, Wayne, Inkster and Dearborn Heights communities.

Employment Dynamics trains young people in job search skills and techniques and assists with permanent job placement through on-the-job training wage subsidies that are offered to employers.

Applications for the program will be accepted now through May 1986.

"We are very excited about the opportunities available to young people through our 1985-86 grant, because of the flexibility involved," said Lissa Spitz, employment coordinator for EDP.

"Participants will be able to come to Growth Works for any number of training acuivities, whether they are looking for help with developing a resume and interviewing skills, temporary employment or assistance with training and placement in a permanent job," said Spitz.

Training is offered in three basic skills: pre-employment skills (job search and job goal identification); work experience (with short-term employment); and on-the-job training, in which trainees earn while they learn.

PERMANENT job placement opportunities through Growth Works have increased.

People interested in getting involved in EDP or other Growth Works programs should contact the agency at 455-4090 or at 271 S. Main Street.

LOW BACK PAIN
If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

Dr. Mashike has corrected these symptoms in many people without drugs. The procedure is as follows:

1. Each vertebrae of the spine, when out of position, usually causes a certain symptom to appear.
2. The spine is analyzed to find misplaced vertebrae (subluxated vertebrae).
3. These subluxated vertebrae are adjusted into place, unblocking nerve fibers.
4. When pressure is removed from nerve fibers, the tissue or organs they supply are regenerated and return to normal.
5. When the tissue or organs are normal, symptoms are alleviated.

If you have these symptoms, we suggest a spinal examination to find the underlying cause of the problem.

For a spinal examination call 459-0200.

Careful analysis is important for speedy recovery.

"After my cataract surgery, not only could I see...I could see my doctor really cared for me."

When my doctor at Livonia Cataract Center told us that there was an excellent chance that cataract surgery could help restore my vision, my wife and I were grateful but still a little scared. After all, we really didn't know what to expect.

In his gentle and reassuring way, my doctor told us that with today's advanced procedures, my operation would take only a very short time and I'd be home the same day. There would be little or no discomfort before or after surgery and, if necessary, Livonia Cataract Center would be happy to provide us with free transportation to and from the operation.

When the surgery was over I was very grateful for my doctor's skill and for his kindness. Do you know he called me after surgery to see how I was doing? He even sent us a plant. And my insurance covered the entire fee so I had no out of pocket cost.

Call Livonia Cataract Center at 522-0805 to see for yourself why our patients say "there is no better cataract care anywhere."

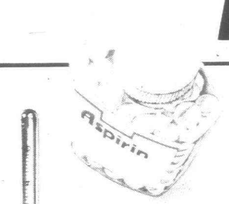
TENDONITIS: CAUSE AND TREATMENT

You may have experienced pain in a shoulder, hip or knee that you thought was arthritis, but which your doctor called tendonitis. The distinction is important as, in general, tendonitis is likely to be easier to treat, and not as long lasting as arthritis.

In most cases, the cause of tendonitis is injury, though the original tendon strain may have occurred so long ago that you forgot the incident. The usual site of strain is where the tendon anchors into bone. As this insertion takes place near the joint, particularly in the shoulder and hip, it is common to believe that the problem is coming from the joint itself.

Treatment may consist of injection or use of medication; the choice depends on the severity of the tendonitis, the preference of the patient, or other medical conditions present. One drug often used is butazolidine, known to race horse fans as "bute." Veternarians, seeing how useful the drug is in people, prescribe it for thoroughbreds with achilles tendonitis!

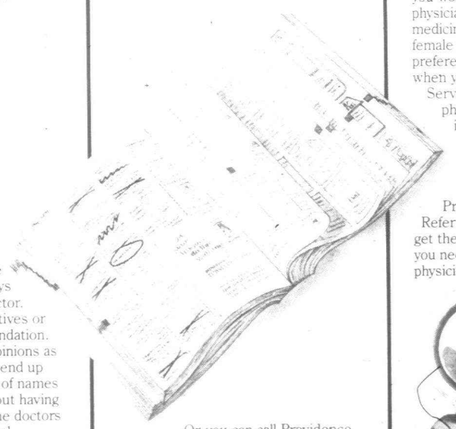
SOUND ADVICE.



There are some very interesting ways you can find a doctor.

You can ask friends, relatives or co-workers for a recommendation. Since there are as many opinions as there are people, you may end up with a confusing collection of names and phone numbers. Without having the slightest idea of who the doctors are or where they're located.

You may also choose to open up your telephone book and, well – good luck.



Or you can call Providence Hospital's Physician Referral Service at 424-3999. It's quick, professional and personal.

When you call the Physician Referral Service, we'll help you find a doctor close to your home or where you work. We'll put you in touch with physicians specializing in all areas of medicine. And if you prefer a male or female doctor, we'll see to it your preference is met. Most importantly, when you call the Physician Referral Service, you'll be put in touch with physicians who have a strong affiliation with one of Michigan's leading hospitals – Providence.

Save yourself from the time-consuming frustration of finding a doctor. Call Providence Hospital's Physician Referral Service at 424-3999 and get the sound, professional advice you need in finding a qualified physician.

Whether to adjust to weather is a costly question

Nancy Walls Smith

The really great part about Michigan weather is that just when you've become totally sick to death of one season, another starts up to serve as a welcome relief. Sometimes all in one day.

That makes it somewhat difficult for a columnist to commeht on the current weather. Today it's beautiful and sunny. By the time you read this, it could be snowing.

But what I really wanted to tell you is that my husband and I are solely responsibles for putting an end to that dreadful heat wave we had during the first week of September.

You must remember that Saturday when it was so hot and humid. When you walked out from an air-conditioned store into that blast of heat your glasses would steam up. That doesn't happen very often, Tropical, to say the least.

The heat was oppressive, tempers were flaring, and the spirit was willing, but the body was just too danged hot to move.

THE WEATHERMEN with their satellite pictures, radar maps, and barometric readings told us it was HOT. We already knew it.

So, after another miserable night of tossing and turning on sheets dampened by the humidity, hubby rushed out Sunday morning and bought a $400 air conditioner.

We both risked permanent back injury carrying it into the house, and then he read the instructions for two hours. But eventually our new acquistion was installed and I'm happy to announce that neither of us had to consult a chiropractor.

With baited breath we turned the air conditioner on. It blew a fuse. Three fuses later, we found that if we turned off everything in the kitchen, family room, and our bedroom, our air conditioner would work just fine. And work fine it did. We stood there in delicious awe as the cool air bathed our sweaty brows and we congratulated each other on a job well done and a decision rightly made.

TWO HOURS later it started to rain and the temperature outside dropped 20 degrees. We refused to shut the air conditioner off. When the furnace came on the next morning, we reluctantly turned it off. As I write this, a week later, we have had nothing but cool fall weather ever since.

Rather than dwell on the fact that those two hours of coolness cost over $3 per minute, we have optimistically viewed the weather change as an opportunity to store up on fuses for next summer.

Hubby has mentioned taking the air conditioner out of the window, but I've told him that if he does it will surely bring back that awful heat wave. Just to be safe we should probably leave it there until after Halloween.

If there happens to be a freak heat wave in November, you can just blame it on the Smiths and their new magical air conditioner.

Getting ready for winter's a winning proposition

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

Sitting out on the lawn in the rear of the little white house with the green shutters watching the squirrels store their food for the winter, the pages of history suddenly turned back.

As each squirrel whizzed by, The Stroller recalled the days of his youth when all of us children had to take part in building up a supply of food for the cold months of winter.

Mother was a great believer in having food on hand so that we children didn't have to battle the snow and ice.

To make sure we were safe, she had two large earthen crocks ready when Labor Day passed and the cabbage was ready to be picked.

Each of the crocks was large enough to contain almost enough for the long months until spring arrived.

IN ONE, she had sauerkraut and in the other she had pickled tongue. And aside from these two, she had a smaller one for such satisfying meals as pickled pigs feet.

On a given day when she was ready for work, she assigned each of us to a job. And it wasn't always the same one. First she had one cut and slice the cabbage. She took pains to show us how. Then we had another job of cleaning it and placing it in the crock.

When the crock was filled, she brought in a large stone and placed it on top of the kraut and closed the lid. Once the lid was on, she would say, "Now they can bring on the snow and cold. We are ready for it."

Much the same system was used with the pickled tongue. Mother knew the butcher for years and he always picked out the largest beef tongue for her. Once she had it home she would boil or stew it. And she seemed to know the exact moment it was ready to be sliced.

Once she made up her mind, she went to work with a large carving knife. And she was a master.

She had the vinegar, or whatever it was to pickle the tongue, and we would help get the slices in the right place.

WHEN THE CROCK was filled, she would place a stone on the slices and then place the cover on the crock.

The pigs feet were not large and they were easy to handle. She always would smile and say, "Some folks eat higher on the pig, but these will be fine when the cold weather comes."

Once this job was finished the three crocks were placed in the corner of the basement (we called it the cellar) and we often were so hungry for the sauerkraut and mashed potatoes we wished the cold and snow would come.

Many were the times the neighbors laughed when we told them we were having tongue for our meal. Sometimes this irked us until mother smilingly told us to remind them that they eat eggs and they don't come from the chicken's mouth.

So watching the squirrels the other day was most interesting and brought back many fond memories of the days of our youth back home in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

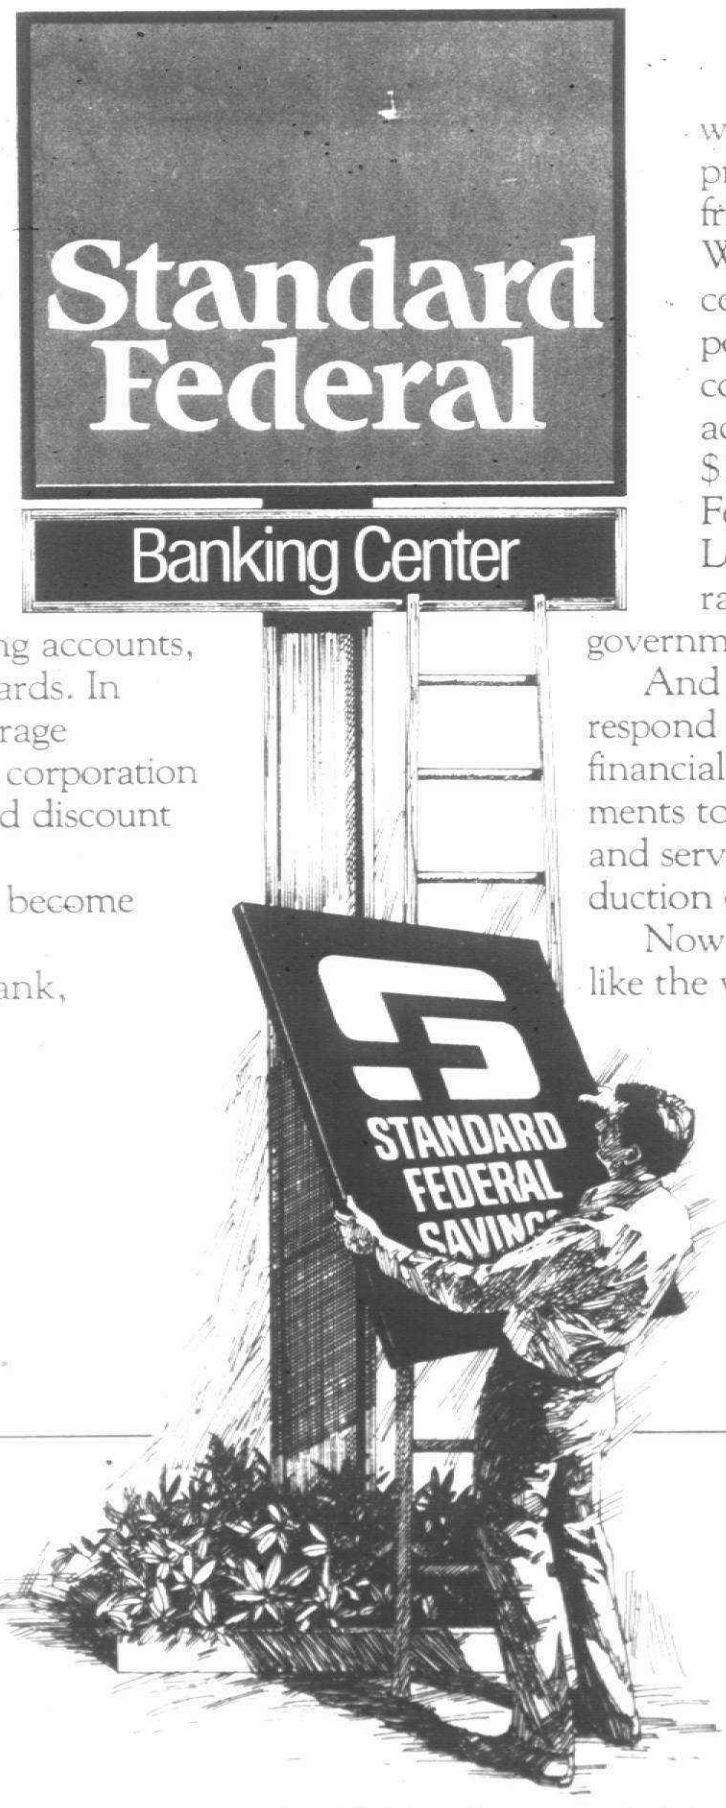
You'll like the way we do banking.



For nearly 100 years, you've depended on Standard Federal as a savings and loan, a place where you can find mortgage loans and a wide range of savings plans.

But for quite a while, we've offered a variety of banking services, too. Like personal loans, commercial loans, checking accounts, IRAs, and no-fee VISA cards. In addition, Standard Brokerage Services, Inc.,* a separate corporation owned by us, has provided discount brokerage services.

And that's why we've become Standard Federal Bank.

As a federal savings bank, we will continue to provide you with friendly, personal service. We'll make banking as convenient for you as possible. We'll continue to insure your accounts up to at least $100,000 with the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC), a government agency.

And we'll continue to respond to your ever-changing financial needs, with improvements to current products and services, and the introduction of new banking ideas.

Now more than ever, you'll like the way we do banking.

Canning from City to Country

Classic American cooking is taking the nation by storm. From the spicy specialties of the Southwest to the robust soups and stews of the Northeast, regional recipes are gaining national popularity. What better way to re-create the flavor of the heartlands than with home-grown produce, canned to preserve its flavorful goodness.

According to Ball Corporation and National Presto Industries, you don't have to be a rural resident to undertake a canning project. Rooftop gardens are sprouting up in cities coast-to-coast. In the suburbs, grow-your-own has always been a hobby. Even if you don't have a green thumb, you can still can it, using selections from the farmstand or supermarket.

With the right equipment, like home canning jars and a pressure canner, pressure canning is easier than ever before. The secret to successful canning is to select the freshest produce available and carefully follow the manufacturers' directions that accompany the canning jars and pressure canner.

A variety of foods, including meat, vegetables, fruit and herbs, are excellent for canning. As the following recipes demonstrate, an entire meal, from Squash Soup to Herbed Vegetables to Beef in Red Wine, can be prepared, canned and enjoyed later on. Meat sauce is a make-ahead topping for spaghetti or other pasta. Peachy Chili Sauce, eaten on the side or atop a meat dish, and Dilled Zucchini Sticks round out the dinner menu. Take advantage of summer's bounty to create a smorgasbord for the future.

CANNING TIPS

- To reduce jar breakage, use a non-metallic utensil such as a plastic spatula, to remove air bubbles from jars.
- Process 1-2 pint jars for the same length of time as pint jars and 1-1/2 pint jars the same amount of time as quart jars.
- Always use canning recipes from a reliable source such as the United States Department of Agriculture.
- Prepare home canning jars and lids according to the manufacturer's instructions.
- Follow manufacturer's instructions for operation of pressure canner.
- Vent the pressure canner to remove air from the unit and jars. This allows processing to be done at an accurate pressure. When processing at 10 pounds, vent for 7 to 10 minutes at 15 pounds pressure, vent for 5 minutes.
- Before tasting canned foods, check foods for spoilage indicated by broken seals, seepage, mold, gassiness, spurting liquid when jar is opened, sliminess, cloudiness and disagreeable odors. Even if no signs of spoilage are obvious, canned meats, vegetables and other low acid foods should be boiled for 15 to 20 minutes before tasting. Or pour canned food into a pressure cooker and heat to 15 pounds pressure. Let pressure drop of its own accord.

Squash Soup and Sauce Base

12 cups cubed summer squash (yellow zucchini, etc.)
3/4 cup chopped onions
3/4 cup chopped celery
3 cups cubed potatoes (about 1-pound)
8 cups chicken broth
1/2 teaspoon curry powder (optional)
1 tablespoon chopped fresh thyme leaves or 1-1/2 teaspoons dry thyme
1 tablespoon chopped fresh basil or 1-1/2 teaspoons dry basil
1 teaspoon salt

Combine vegetables and chicken broth. Bring to a boil and cook 3 minutes. Add seasonings. Ladle into clean, hot jars leaving 1/2-inch head space. Add additional boiling chicken broth, if more liquid is needed. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps. Process in a pressure canner at

10 pounds pressure — Pints 30 minutes
Quarts 40 minutes
15 pounds pressure — Pints and Quarts 20 minutes

Yield: 9 pints

CREAMED SQUASH SOUP — Boil 1 pint jar Squash Soup and Sauce Base for 15 minutes. Puree mixture in food processor or blender, adding chicken broth if desired. Add 1 cup yogurt or sour cream and blend. Serve hot or chilled. Makes 2 servings.

Beef in Red Wine

6 slices bacon, cut into 1-inch pieces
5 pounds round steak, cut into 1-inch cubes
2 onions, thinly sliced
3 cups peeled, grated apple
3 cups shredded carrot (about 6 large)
1-1/2 cups beef broth
1-1/2 cups dry red wine
6 cloves garlic, minced
6 small bay leaves
3 teaspoons fresh thyme or or 1 teaspoon dry thyme

Fry bacon, stirring occasionally. When crisp and lightly browned, remove bacon. Brown steak cubes in bacon drippings. Add onion, apple, carrot, broth, wine, garlic and bay leaves. Bring to a boil and cook until all pink is gone from meat. Ladle hot mixture into clean, hot jars, leaving 1-inch head space. Add 1/2 teaspoon thyme to each pint or 1 teaspoon to each quart. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps. Process in a pressure canner at

10 pounds pressure — Pints 75 minutes
Quarts 90 minutes
15 pounds pressure — Pints and Quarts 50 minutes

Yield: 6 pints or 3 quarts.

2 Way Herbed Vegetables

16 cups cut green beans (about 2-pounds)
4 cups sliced carrots (about 1-pound)
1/4 cup sliced celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
4 cups cubed new potatoes (about 1-1/2 pounds)

HERB MIXTURE 1

8 sprigs dill
2 teaspoons dill seed
4 cloves garlic
4 teaspoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
16 peppercorns

HERB MIXTURE 2

4 tablespoons chopped fresh basil
4 teaspoons chopped parsley
4 cloves garlic
1 teaspoon salt
16 peppercorns

Combine vegetables and cover with water. Bring to a boil and cook 3 minutes. Layer hot vegetables in clean, hot jars, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Prepare herb mixtures and divide among jars of vegetables. Pour hot cooking liquid over vegetables, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Add additional boiling water, if more liquid is needed. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps. Process in a pressure canner at

10 pounds pressure — Pints 30 minutes
Quarts 40 minutes
15 pounds pressure — Pints and Quarts 20 minutes

Yield: 12 pints or 6 quarts.

Dilled Zucchini Sticks

4 pounds zucchini
Water
1/2 cup salt
6 cups cider vinegar
2 cups water
4 cups sugar
4 teaspoons mustard seed
2 teaspoons celery seed
2 teaspoons cayenne pepper
8 cloves garlic
8 heads dill

Cut zucchini in half crosswise, then into lengthwise sticks. Cover with 1-inch water and salt. Let stand 2 hours. Drain thoroughly. Combine vinegar, 2 cups water, sugar, mustard seed, celery seed, and cayenne pepper. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Pack zucchini sticks lengthwise into clean, hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Add 1 garlic clove and 1 dill head to each jar. Pour hot liquid over zucchini, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps. Process 15-minutes in boiling water bath.
Yield: 8 half pints

Casbah Meat Sauce

3 pounds ground beef
2 large onions, chopped
4 hot green chili peppers, seeded and minced
2 cloves garlic, minced
7 pounds ripe tomatoes, chopped (about 17 medium)
2 cups dry red wine
4 bay leaves
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons cinnamon
3 tablespoons chopped fresh oregano or 1 tablespoon dry oregano
4 tablespoons chopped parsley

Brown beef; pour off drippings. Stir in onion, peppers and garlic; cook until tender. Add tomatoes, wine, bay leaves, salt and cinnamon. Bring to a boil and simmer until thickened (about 30 minutes). Remove bay leaves. Stir in oregano and parsley. Ladle into clean, hot jars, leaving 1-inch head space. Adjust caps. Process in a pressure canner at

10 pounds pressure — Pints 75 minutes
Quarts 90 minutes
15 pounds pressure — Pints and Quarts 20 minutes

Yield: 8 pints or 4 quarts.

Peachy Chili Sauce

15 ripe tomatoes, peeled, cored, and chopped
12 ripe peaches, peeled, pitted, and chopped
4 medium onions, peeled and chopped
2 small chili peppers, seeded and chopped
1 medium red or green sweet pepper, seeded and chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
3 cups cider vinegar
2 cups brown sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice

Combine all ingredients, stirring to mix. Bring to a boil, lower heat and cook over low heat until mixture thickens, stirring occasionally (about 90 minutes). Pour hot mixture into clean, hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Remove air bubbles. Adjust caps. Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath.
Yield: 8 pints

2 ways to make bean soup

Before I knew beans about beans, I was not and cold on the subject. That's because:

When I was a kid, my dad made a soup with great northern beans, refrigerated it overnight, sprinkled on some black pepper and squeezed a little lemon over it. I really loved that soup.

When I was in the Army, I ate cold beans out of a can many times on maneuvers in West Germany, rain often dripping from my helmet. I hated that, and for many years wouldn't eat beans cold, soupy or not.

I didn't know what I was missing. Sure, I still love hot bean soup. But I have found my way back to the cold.

Since I'm older, I eat many things that are good for me that I once turned up my spoon at. Beans are loaded with nutrition: calcium, iron, niacin, phosphorous, protein, thiamin and zinc.

MICHIGAN RAISES most of the crop produced in a dozen states, from the red kidney beans to the white navy beans. In fact, Michigan accounts for about 95 percent of the total navy bean crop.

All varieties of dried beans are among the most economical staples around.

You can refrigerate bean soup about a week, but freeze it up to six months.

I prepared a large pot of navy bean soup and set aside half of it for the cold soup base. Four of us enjoyed the hot soup.

Then I went to work and prepared the cold soup base. It's simple. Just make sure the container is airtight. Place it in the freezer and forget about it.

I forgot about it for four weeks.

HOT NAVY BEAN SOUP

2 cups dried navy beans, soaked overnight and drained
5 cups water
2 medium onions, coarsely chopped
2 carrots, diced
2 celery ribs with leaves, chopped
1 garlic clove, minced
1 bay leaf
¼ lb. salt pork, diced
1 Tbsp. vegetable oil

Place beans in large pot, add rest of ingredients except oil, bring to boil, reduce heat to low, add oil, cover and simmer 1 ½ hours. Reserve half of bean mixture, removing to saucepan with slotted spoon, and ¼ cup cooking liquid for cold soup base. Serve remainder hot, adding salt and black pepper if desired. Serves 4.

COLD NAVY BEAN SOUP

Half of cooked navy bean mixture, cooled
¼ cup cooking liquid
3 Tbsp. margarine, cut in bits
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. black pepper
1¾ cups chicken broth
¾ cup light cream
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
¼ tsp. dried marjoram
¼ tsp. ground nutmeg

Puree bean mixture in blender or food processor a little at a time, gradually adding cooking liquid. Stir in margarine, salt and pepper; place in airtight container and freeze. When ready to use, defrost and pour soup base into large bowl. Stir in broth, remaining ingredients and adjust salt and pepper seasoning to taste; cover and chill. Serves 4.

Use lamb to make appetizers

Two tempting hot hors d'oevres made with American lamb will complement any special occasion. Mexican meatballs made with lean ground lamb will add a Southwestern flair to your gathering. Guests will be surprised by the unusual and delicate flavors of Lamb 'n' Zucchini Spread enhanced by a Middle-Eastern influence. The ingredients for both recipes are simple and colorful, resulting in appetizers that are attractive, delicious and easy to prepare.

Be sure to ask your butcher for lean ground lamb. Broiling the meatballs helps reduce calories and eliminates the use of additional fat for browning. Lamb will also help keep the calorie count low . . . an excellent source of iron, zinc and the B-complex vitamins.

LAMB 'N' ZUCCHINI SPREAD

2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
2 small zucchini, unpeeled
¾ cup chopped cooked lamb*
¼ cup chopped green onion
½ medium green pepper, chopped
2 tsp. red wine vinegar
½ tsp. sweet basil
¼ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. black pepper
Dash of cayenne pepper or to taste
¾ cup bread crumbs
½ cup grated Swiss cheese
Grated parmesan cheese

Cut zucchini in ½ inch cubes. In large skillet, heat oil over medium heat. Add zucchini; saute until tender, about 4 minutes. Add lamb, onion, green pepper, garlic, tomato, vinegar, sweet basil, salt, black pepper and cayenne; cook over medium heat, covered, for 20 minutes, or until vegetables are tender and most of the liquid absorbed, stirring occasionally. Stir in bread crumbs and Swiss cheese. As soon as cheese melts, remove from heat. Using a slotted spoon, transfer to serving container. Top with Parmesan cheese. Serve hot with pita bread wedges or saltine crackers. Makes 1-½ to 2 cups.

*In shallow roasting pan, roast lamb at 325 degrees F. for 25 minutes per pound, or until meat thermometer inserted in thickest part of meat reaches 150-155 degrees F.

Preparation time: 30 minutes
Cooking time: 25-30 minutes

MEXICAN LAMB MEATBALLS

1 can (1 lb.) pureed tomatoes
2 Tbsp. minced onion
1 can (4 oz.) green chiles
2 Tbsp. catsup
⅛ tsp. black pepper
½ tsp. salt
1 lb. lean ground lamb
¼ cup minced onion
¼ cup finely chopped parsley
¼ cup picante sauce (red chili salsa)

In large saucepan, combine tomatoes, 2 Tbsp. onion, green chiles, catsup, pepper and salt; simmer uncovered for 20 minutes. Meanwhile in medium mixing bowl, combine ground lamb, remaining onion, parsley and picante sauce. Form meatballs using 1-½ tsp. mixture per meatball. Broil 5-8 inches from the source of heat for 5 minutes. Add meatballs to sauce; simmer uncovered for 10-15 minutes. Makes 6-7 dozen.

Preparation time: 20 minutes
Cooking time: 30-35 minutes

Garbage cans hold energy

How are many American towns and cities saving money these days? They're turning trash into vital energy and useful, recycled materials. It's all thanks to a technology known as resource recovery. Systems have been developed that savea energy from solids, liquids and gaseous materials which previously were viewed as waste materials.

Resource recovery systems can make solid waste still more valuable -- steel, aluminum and other materials are often able to be salvaged by the system's special separation processes.

If your community starts saving on energy costs thanks to such resource recovery systems, you may soon be seeing the benefits in your own budgets, experts say.

Store processed meats carefully

Consumers have many questions regarding safe at-home storage of processed meats. How long will processed meats keep in the refrigerator? Can they be frozen? Should processed meat purchased in the deli be rewrapped?

To preserve flavor and quality, processed meats must be handled carefully at home. Place these meat products promptly in the coldest part of the refrigerator, which is normally 36 to 40 degrees F. Optimum temperatures for storage of meat products is actually 28 to 32 degrees F.

Cimino-Bagnasco

Marisa Louise Bagnasco and Michael Angelo Cimino Jr. exchanged marriage vows Aug. 23 in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, Plymouth with the Rev. Francis Byrne and Deacon James Baughman officiating. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Bagnasco of Crabtree Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Angelo Cimino of North Territorial, all of Plymouth. The bride's candlelight matte taffeta gown had a chapel train and a bodice made of re-embroidered beaded Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of orchids, roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. Maid of honor was the bride's sister Jennine Bagnasco, and bridesmaids were Carol McGlinn, Patricia Cimino and Norine McMahan. Their soft raspberry taffeta gowns were trimmed with crocheted lace and their bouquets were in shades of pink and mauve.

Best man was Bill Harsha and ushers were John VanWagoner, Matt Elsenne and Kevin Kelliher. Christopher Cimino, the bridegroom's godchild, was ring bearer. Joseph Cimino of California, the bridegroom's brother, read the scripture. The couple honeymooned at Hilton Head Island, S.C., after the reception at Hawthorne Valley Country Club. They will live in Ann Arbor.

The bride graduated from Plymouth Canton High School in 1980 and from Michigan State University in 1984. She is employed at University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor. Her husband is a 1979 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and a 1983 graduate of MSU. He is completing a graduate degree at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Cancer is often curable.
The fear of cancer is often fatal.
If you're afraid of cancer, you're not alone. But some people are so afraid that they won't go to the doctor when they suspect something's wrong.
They're afraid the doctor might find something. That kind of fear can prevent them from discovering cancer in the early stages when it is most often curable.
These people run the risk of being cancer scare them to death.

PARENTS HAVE until the Thursday, Oct. 3, deadline for registering 6- to 11-year-olds in the "How to Begin Stamp Collecting" workshop at Dunning-Hough Library. The library is sponsoring the one-hour program, 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8, in conjunction with the designation of October as National Stamp Collecting Month.

Youngsters will be introduced to what has been called the "Hobby of Kings" and each will receive the colorful booklet "Introduction to Stamp Collecting."

Mary Lou Curtin, assistant children's librarian at Dunning Hough, is hoping for a good turn-out.

Anyone who has attended the West Suburban Stamp Club's annual spring show in Central Middle School is aware of the fascination of stamp collecting. An estimated 22 million Americans collect stamps. They find the hobby a wonderful way to be armchair travelers and let their imaginations soar.

They may choose to collect stamps from many countries, one country, or follow a particular theme — boats, flowers, animals, birds, heroes — whatever appeals to them. Stamps give new meaning to geography and history and can be enjoyed by all ages.

SOMETHING ELSE for the younger generation. This, too, is free — free plates for bicycles, free hot dogs chips and pop, plus a new awareness of bike safety.

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary and the Plymouth Police Department are co-sponsoring a Bike Rodeo, Bike Safety and Lite-a-Bike program 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28.

It will be in the VFW parking lot on Mill just south of Ann Arbor Road. Application forms are a necessity and may be obtained at the Police Department in Plymouth City Hall. For more information call Bob or Lorraine Nelson of the VFW or Officer Wayne Carroll, 453-8600.

This promises to be a lot of fun as well as educational. There will be games with prizes awarded according to age groups.

LISA HOWELL, 15, a sophomore at John Glenn High School, is an entrant in the Miss Michigan Teen All American Pageant. The pageant will be Sunday, Oct. 6, in the grand ballroom of the Southfield Hilton. Lisa will compete in swimsuit and evening gown classifications and be interviewed by the judges. The winner will receive a $1,000 scholarship.

Lisa Howell

Lisa is the daughter of Gary and Audry Howell of Beck Road, Canton Township. She says she enjoys both water- and snow-skiing, volleyball, softball and horseback riding. Right now she is working on the sophomore float for homecoming at John Glenn.

AFTER A WEEK off because of the antique mart at the Plymouth Cultural Center, the Thursday afternoon party bridge players were back in full force last week. There were 11 tables in play.

Margaret Hynick had top score with 6,610 points. Rose Kenyon, playing with the group for the first time, came in second with 4,460 points.

THE LADIES Guildat St. Kenneth's Catholic Church on Haggerty, will have its parish fall fashion show Thursday evening. Something new has been added this year — they have male models.

Modeling the latest in autumn attire for 1985 will be Maryanne and Tom White, Denise and Gary McLean, Reva Skuzenski, Mary Shiemke, Mae and John Castello, Betty and Tom caprise, Jenny Signorelli, Alice and Ray Smock, Cheryl Corte, Dick Mandle, Mary Hamblin, Barb and Steve Alfoldy and Jean Remsburg.

Bunny Hallway will commen on the fashions from Nawrot Pendleton in Twelve Oaks. Refreshments will be served and the donation is $4. For information or tickets call Mary, 420-0360; Alice, 453-3224; or Penny, 420-0819.

League opens season with Ronna Romney

Ronna Romney

The Plymouth Symphony League opens its 1985-86 season Thursday, with its annual luncheon and two membership teas.

The luncheon at Meadowbrook Country Club, 40941 W. Eight Mile, Northville, will feature guest speaker Ronna Romney. Officers for the new season will be introduced and annual reports presented. Admission is $11 and reservations are a must by calling Sue Decker, 453-9223, or by stopping at Armbruster's Bootery, 340 S. Main, Plymouth.

Morning and evening membership teas are planned to welcome those interested in learning more about the league. The morning tea will be at 10 at Meadowbrook Country Club. Sue Decker will host the evening tea at 7:30 in her home. For either tea, reservations may be made by calling Decker before Tuesday, 453-9223.

RONNA ROMNEY, writer, lecturer, politician, wife and mother of five, will speak at the league luncheon. She has been active in Michigan in a wide range of church, community and government activities during the past 15 years.

She was introduced to politics when her father-in-law, George Romney, ran for the Presidency in 1968. She campaigned for Lenore Romney two years later when she ran for the U.S. Senate. In 1982, she co-chaired the gubernatorial race in Michigan, raising more than $1 million for that effort. This year she is Reagan-Bush finance co-chair.

Since last fall, she has become known to the media and public as co-author of "Giving Time a Chance," a book about making a success of marriage. The book has been acclaimed by a list of critics from columnists Jack Anderson and Ann Landers to clergyman Norman Vincent Peale. Her new book, "Women in Power," will be out in the spring of 1986.

Ronna and Scott Romney, a senior partner in a law firm, live with their five children in Bloomfield Hills.

THE LEAGUE will review a successful past season that resulted in a record-setting $31,000 donation to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Projects, league groups and those responsible for chairing the events were: Gala reception, Prelude, Linda Anderson; Antique Mart, all-league, Elaine Kirchgatter and Carol Davis; Luminaries, Staccato, Lynda Neuroth; Young People's Concert, Sonata, Pam Anderson; Posters, Vivace, Pat Phillips; Christmas Ball, Crescendo, Sue Decker, Judy Lore; Jeffrey Bruce, Nightingale, Ann Arendsen, Fab Snage; Pops Concert, Prelude, Jan Harris, Ann Waite; Tom Hulce reception, League and Plymouth Community Arts Council, Ann Arendsen; Home Tour, all-league, Patti Centofanti and K.C. Moeller; and Bridge, Encore, Joyce Kelly.

NEW MEMBERS can look forward to belonging to one of the smaller groups within the league. Everyone works on larger projects like the antique mart and home tour. Each group has its own individual project and these are rotated.

Symphony League members never complain of being bored.

The pops concert has not been assigned.

Is it a victory or what?

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Plymouth Canton's soccer team snapped a three-game losing streak Friday with a 3-1 win at Livonia Franklin.

Or did they?

Livonia Franklin coach Doug Marks believes his team will get credit for a forfeit victory.

"Their coach (Mike Morgan) was thrown out of the game and they didn't have a legal representative of the team on the bench," Marks said. "Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) rules say that if a team doesn't have a legal representative on the bench, the game is forfeited."

Morgan was booted from the game after drawing two yellow cards from the officials.

SAID MORGAN: "The rule states that there has to be a representative from the school on the bench. We had one. A security guard from Canton was on the bench and Tony Shiner, my assistant coach, ran the team. The security guard was on the bench. That's why we brought him. Our athletic director (Paul Cummings) was there, too."

Shiner, although a state licensed coach, is an unofficial member of the Canton team. He is an unpaid assistant.

Marks said that the officials planned to file a petition with the MHSAA to award a forfeit win to Franklin.

"I guess the MHSAA will have to rule on this," Marks said.

Morgan was livid over the officiating.

"The referees were terrible," he said afterwards. "It's just not fair for the kids. All you have to do to become a high school official is pay $15 and take a test. The state doesn't certify these guys. They couldn't even coach Bonanza Leagues, they're not qualified."

CANTON (3-3), which had been in a horrendous goal slump, got goals from Pat Frederick, Tony Shiner Jr., Todd Nichols, Ivan Escobedo and Brad Neville. Shiner also picked up two assists.

Bob Neumann picked up the lone goal for Franklin (1-4-1).

Canton lost to Catholic Central 2-0 on Wednesday. CC's John Rama, a Plymouth resident, scored one goal and assisted on the other.

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Canton resident Rob Daksiewicz's athletic achievements aren't widely known by his Canton High classmates. But, he is one of the nation's top junior cyclists, placing 18th in the nationals last month.

Pedaling out of obscurity

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Meet Plymouth Canton's anonymous athlete.

His name is Rob Daksiewicz. He's a cyclist.

"Most of my friends know what I do because I tell them and show them pictures," the soft-spoken Canton senior said. "But other people, I'll tell them I'm a cyclist and they'll say, 'Oh, you have a BMX.' Or they think I ride motorcycles. I tell them I race bikes, that kind of confuses them."

Daksiewicz shouldn't feel bad. Greg LeMond is a world champion cyclist and makes more than $1 million a year, and he's hardly a household name in this country.

Anonymity sort of comes with the territory for the competitive cyclist, even after the widely successful movie "Breaking Away" and an Olympic gold medal in the summer of 1984 helped introduce the sport to America's general public.

"I GUESS (the lack of recognition among peers and classmates) bothers me a little," he said. "But, it's not a school sport. I'm not that concerned about it."

He is concerned about getting recognized by such national cycling teams as 7-11 in Colorado Springs, G.S. Mengoni in California, C.E. Turin in Chicago or the Schwinn National Team in St. Louis.

For the past two summers he has done his best to attract their attention.

On Aug. 3, Daksiewicz placed 18th in the United States Cycling Federation (USCF) Junior National Road Race Championship in Milwaukee out of an international field of 170.

He completed the grueling 75-mile course in 3:14.0. That's a 25 mph pace.

In his next competition, Aug. 17, Daksiewicz won the Waterford Hills Criterium — a 20-mile circuit race. It was his first USCF victory.

"THAT WAS a great feeling," he said. "Breaking away from the pack and crossing the line."

The win capped off quite a summer for the young man. He placed third in the Johnny Bench Coors Prestige Classic in Cincinnati, third out of 200 in the Milwaukee Road Classic's National Prestige Event and sixth in the lucrative Wheat Thins Mayor's Cup in Troy.

The summer's racing netted Daksiewicz roughly $1,500 — which more than paid for his $1,200 Conti racing bike.

It's been a fast two-year climb.

His cycling career began innocently enough. His neighbor Jeff Krolicki, a junior at Canton and a defensive starter on the football team, convinced Daksiewicz to join him in a 24-hour marathon bike race on Belle Isle.

The two rode for 20 hours. Krolicki stuck with football. Daksiewicz was hooked on cycling.

"I had seen some racing before and read some magazines. I figured I'd like to give it a try," he said.

He promptly got his USCF license and joined the Great Lakes Cycling Club, a developmental club housed in Ann Arbor.

"THE GUYS in the club, the older guys, really helped me get started," he said.

And Daksiewicz did the rest virtually on his own. He competes nearly every weekend during the spring, summer and fall. He has organized a strenuous weekly training schedule which encompasses about 250 miles.

During the off season, he trains on a stationary cycling apparatus in his basement and partakes in cross country skiing and ice hockey.

"Right now I'm classified as a level three junior. Four is the highest and I have to compete internationally before I can be a four," he said.

Daksiewicz is hoping to travel to Italy this fall to compete.

He has one more year of junior eligibility, then he'll join the senior circuit (ages 18-34).

"As far as the national class seniors, I'm far away from them right now," he said. "But, I've raced against two- and three-level seniors (at the Ada-Lowell Stage Races) and placed seventh. Those are pretty much the cream of the crop around here."

In October, Daksiewicz will attend a four-day cycling course at the Olympic Training Center where he hopes to gain additional national exposure. He has also applied for acceptance on the 7-11 Junior Development Team in Colorado — the team from which the U.S. Olympic Team is formed.

Folks around the Plymouth-Canton Community School District may not know much about Rob Daksiewicz now, but he's working on it.

Canton, Salem 0-for-1985 on gridiron

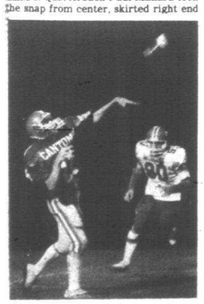
"Glory days.
Hey they'll pass you by.
Glory days.
In the wink of a young girl's eyes.
Glory days.
— Bru-u-uce

The glory days, for now anyway, are long gone for the Centennial Educational Park football teams.

As we enter week No. 4 of the prep football season, Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem are 0-for-1985.

Week No. 3 was especially disheartening.

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL 16, SALEM 6: Quarterback Paul Makara took the snap from center, skirted right end and sprinted 20 yards into the end zone for a Salem TD.



Tony Boucher had two of his aerials picked off by Western defenders.

football

The bad news: The score was 16-0 in favor of Central at that point, and the 20 yards was nearly half of Salem's rushing total.

"They just flat-out controlled the line of scrimmage," said Tom Moshimer, Salem's coach. "We couldn't get anything going at all."

Salem managed just 11 offensive plays in the first half.

"Our defense deserves a lot of credit," Moshimer said. "They did a heckuva job when you consider they were on the field nearly the whole game."

Central (3-0) ran 59 offensive plays to the Rocks' 25. In 52 rushes, Central gained just 140 yards. They completed one pass for 26 yards.

Kurt Urban, Ron Piwko and Joe Jouppi were the defensive standouts for Salem.

The two Central TDs came on 1-yard runs, one by Joe Gregart and the other by Tom Farr.

"I'll tell you what, I've been coaching for 27 years and I've never started a season with three straight losses," Moshimer said. "But I'm not about to quit so my players better not either."

WALLED LAKE WESTERN 6, CANTON 0: A headline in last Monday's Observer said something about the Canton soccer team being inoffensive in terms of scoring goals. Compared to the Canton football team the kickers are downright productive.

The Chiefs could muster but two first downs Friday night. They gained 33 yards rushing and 21 yards passing — 54 yards total offense.

"It doesn't help that we lost Tony (Aiken, Canton's starting quarterback) and it doesn't help that we lost a starting guard before the season," said Canton coach Richard Barr. "It's just a struggle. It seems we're getting outmuscled up front and the defense is on the field too much."

Sound familiar?

Canton's defense, led by Dan Olszewski, John McKimmy and Steve Boyd, yielded 169 yards rushing (125 by sophomore back Mike Hall) and 51 yards passing, but broke only one time.

Hall's third quarter 1-yard run was the game's lone tally.

Numerous times the Canton defense shut the doors on Western drives inside Chief territory. One time the Chiefs held inside the 2 and blocked a field goal.

"Just too much inexperience," Barr said.

Barr hasn't lost his sense of humor though. When asked about the chances of the CEP teams going winless in '85, he said: "No way. Somebody's going to win, we play each other the last game of the year."

Glory days.

Rockets check Raiders

When the third quarter ended, it looked as though Westland John Glenn had wrapped up its fourth straight girls basketball win.

But North Farmington unraveled the package Thursday night and the host Rockets had to earn the victory, 55-46.

Glenn, which switched from a press to a zone to protect its lead, opened up a 20-point advantage in the third quarter. Undaunted, the Raiders retaliated by outscoring the Rockets 19-12 in the final eight minutes to make it close.

"North Farmington just didn't give up," said Glenn coach George Sommerman. "You've got to respect Greg Grodzicki (the North coach) and his team.

"And, you've got to respect us for hanging on."

Fouls plagued both teams as a total of five players fouled out. As a result, both teams did some time at the line. Glenn was 19-of-26 on free throws and North Farmington 18-of-23.

Junior forward Jenny Okon had 14 points and junior center Stacy Graham had 13 for Glenn. Michelle Reddy and Diana Sommerman both chipped in eight.

Heather McPhillips, who was nine-of-12 from the free throw line, scored 15 points for the Raiders. Ann Howard added 13.

North Farmington is 3-2.

NORTHVILLE 49, HARRISON 16: On Thursday, Farmington Harrison was the victim of a 24-point assault in the second half as the visiting Mustangs ran away with the win Thursday night.

The Hawks (0-4) scored only four points in the first half as Northville led 25-4 at intermission.

Jennifer Hughes had seven points for Harrison. Northville's Susie Schrader had nine.

CC blanks Canton; Salem beats Hawks

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 9, BORGESS 1: This Catholic League contest was no contest.

John Rehm led a parade of Shamrock scorers with a pair Friday. Others were Vitas Rugienius, Dan Jakubowski, Jamie Rama, Troy Larson, Brian Raftery, Brent Wasik and C.J. Wendt.

CC (6-1-2) also scored Borgess's lone goal. A CC defender inadvertenly kicked the ball into his own net.

SALEM 4, HARRISON 1: Plymouth Salem got a pair of goals from Mike Zaretti and single goals from Ted Hanosh and Dave Dameron, all in the second half, to defeat a feisty Farmington Harrison squad Wednesday.

Victor Camaj got the lone goal for the Hawks (2-3).

Salem (5-0-1) got tremendous midfield play from Ebon Nash, Zaretti and Randy Balconi.

N. FARMINGTON 3, WEST BLOOMFIELD 1: Victory No. 1 for Cathy Cole's Raiders, after five straight defeats, came Wednesday with a 2-0 punching out of Northville.

Victory No. 2 came a lot quicker.

Jim Ragland scored twice and assisted on Jeff Juliano's goal to boost North past West Bloomfield Friday.

North outshot West Bloomfield 32-8.

Against Northville, North got goals from Carson Fenton and Monty Najar and some solid play from goalie Dennis McCarthy.

It was the first time the Raiders had ever beaten Northville in boys soccer.

STEVENSON 1, FARMINGTON 0: Christian Amborg took a nice pass from Jim Kimble midway through the second half and beat Farmington goalie Adam Krause from nine yards away to give No. 1-ranked Livonia Stevenson the win Wednesday.

Stevenson doubled Farmington in shots on goal.

Jim Misaros and Chris Hackman played outstanding games for the Falcons (2-3) on defense.

It was the sixth shutout of the year by Stevenson goalie Dan Millner. He was helped along by the solid back wall play of Steve Karfis.

The Spartans are 6-0-1.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 5, ZION CHRISTIAN 1: Rod Windle (11 goals in four games) scored his third consecutive hat trick of the season to pace the Eagles (4-0). Dave Presley and Steve Windle also scored.

Salem's singles bust Chiefs

Plymouth Canton tennis coach Carol Michaels knew that defeating Plymouth Salem would be a monumental task Wednesday.

"Salem has some super singles players," Michaels said. "We needed to win from No. 4 singles on down."

Almost.

Salem managed a victory at No. 2 doubles to clinch a 4-3 victory and keep the Rocks unbeaten.

"I'm not disappointed at all," Michaels said. "All the kids played super. Salem's top three singles players are awfully good."

Wendy Gilles, Anita Toth and Lisa Belsky — Nos. 1, 2, 3 respectively — didn't drop a set and only yielded six games to the Chiefs.

BUT, PAM Penland scored a win for Canton in No. 4 singles and the Chiefs No. 1 doubles team, Tina Heath and Michelle Khurana, scored an impressive straight sets victory to lend hope to the underdogs.

Kelli, Theard and Lara Wiklendt, Salem's No. 2 doubles team, squelched all Canton hope with a convincing 6-4, 6-2 win.

It was Canton's first lost of the season in six matches.

Amy Huth and Sandy Bajer won at No. 3 doubles for the Chiefs.

Both teams came back with wins Friday. Salem 5-2 over North Farmington and Canton 5-2 against Northville (See statistical summary).

Anita Toth, playing at No. 2 singles, helped Plymouth Salem to a 4-3 triumph over rival Plymouth Canton on Wednesday. Toth hasn't lost a match yet this season.

● STEELERS 2-OF-3 IN OPENERS

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers Junior League football teams opened the Western Suburban League season Sunday taking two of three contests against South Lyon.

The freshmen Steelers scored on their first possession, a 6-yard TD run and extra point conversion by Patrick Vesnaugh, and made that hold up for a 7-0 victory.

The junior varsity Steelers also shut out its foe, 14-0. The Steelers got a safety from Liam Rentz, and touchdowns from Hamon Cross (6-yard run) and Mitch MacDonald (5-yard return of a fumble).

The varsity lost a tough 8-7 contest. The Steelers lone score came on a 25-yard halfback option pass from Chris Decker to Dion Anton. Rob Kowalski converted the extra point.

A fumble with just two minutes left in the game set up South Lyons' winning score.

All three Steeler units won Western Suburban championships last year.

● LIONS SALVAGE 1

The Plymouth-Canton Lions Junior League football teams lost two of three to the Ann Arbor Rams Sunday.

The frosh lost 27-7 with Jason Gibo scoring the lone Lion TD.

The JV squad lost 14-6.

Brian Riggs was the hero for the varsity, scoring two touchdowns and intercepting a pass in the end zone, pacing an 18-6 win.

Jason Bielec also scored for the Lions.

Chiefs win battle of unbeatens

girls basketball

Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton staged a shootout Thursday night for early-season supremacy in the Western Lakes Western Division, but somebody forgot to bring the bullets.

The game was exciting, the action intense. It was a bruising, physical battle. Both teams were outstanding defensively. The only thing missing was offense.

For four quarters and a three-minute overtime period, the two undefeated girls basketball teams took shots at each other. Most missed.

In the end, Canton figured out a way to stop Churchill from shooting and won the game, 31-29.

"You know, I'm proud of the girls. They hung in there," said Canton coach Rob Neu who has yet to lose a game as a head coach. "They got down but not out. They hung on and took the game away from Churchill."

CHURCHILL (3-1) carried a 23-19 lead into the final quarter and appeared in command.

Suddenly, Canton's Karen Boluch stepped in front of a Charger pass early in the fourth quarter and bolted the length of the court for a score. The momentum began to switch sides from that moment on.

The Chargers would score just one field goal in the fourth quarter and get off just five shots against a swarming Canton defense. Churchill turned the ball over 11 times in the final eight minutes.

Canton seized the opportunity. Boluch scored to tie the score at 23 with 4:39 left. Two Laura Darby hoops offset two free throws apiece from Churchill's Jacki Wozniak and Amy Weber.

With 3:07 left, Diana Knickerbocker picked up a loose ball berneath the basket, pump faked and scored. She was fouled on the play but missed the free throw.

Churchill tied it with 1:10 to play on Tracy Greenwald's hoop then had a chance to win the game at the buzzer.

"We executed the play we wanted," said a disconsolate Churchill coach Roger Springsteen. "We got the 12-foot shot. It just didn't go in. Maybe it will next time."

BETH FRIGGE'S shot with 2:20 left accounted for the lone points of the overtime period.

Again, Churchill took only one shot at the basket. It was blocked by Canton's Penny Piggott. Churchill turned the ball over four times in five overtime possessions — two on Frigge steals.

"It's difficult when you have a tendency to over pass," Springsteen said. "We have to learn to recognize when we have an open shot. But then, you have to credit their defense."

Neu agreed that Churchill's zone was bothersome. But between the third and fourth quarter Neu felt his team was on the verge of cracking it.

"We were finally starting to recognize the seams in their zone," he said. "We started to execute, but we weren't finishing it. Then we started to get layups."

The more the Chiefs began to execute offensively, whether or not they scored, the more aggressive they became defensively.

"These girls have a lot of heart," Neu said. "They really want to win — bad."

Boluch led the Chiefs with eight points and Laura Darby added six.

Another key for the Chiefs was the defensive play of Piggott. She allowed Churchill center Wozniak only one field goal (five points total).

Amy Weber led Churchill with 10 points and Greenwald added six.

Offense comes alive; 3rd in row for Rocks

Don't look now but Plymouth Salem's offense has found a groove.

After struggling in their first three games of the season, the Rocks' offense rattled off 127 points in two games last week.

They routed Livonia Stevenson Thursday night 57-25.

Salem started slow, leading 19-13 at half, but blew the Spartans away with a 38-point second half.

"We shot the ball better in the second half," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We were rushing our shots a little bit in the first half."

Dena Head had a huge night for the Rocks. She scored 25 points and pulled down 14 rebounds. Jessica Handley and Julie Tortora added eight apiece.

Salem also did a solid job defensively, especially on Stevenson's high-scoring Kelly Kowalski. The 20-point per game scorer netted only 11 Thursday.

Ocelot spikers top SVSC

The Schoolcraft women's volleyball team swept Saginaw Valley State Thursday in its home-opener.

The Ocelots (6-3) won in three-straight games, 15-10, 15-12, 15-8.

Freshman Sue Cyrus, of Garden City, was Schoolcraft's top hitter with 24 spikes and six kills. Kathy McIntosh and Ann Bennett both had 12 spikes and three kills.

Wayne's early boundaries

At its conception, Wayne County consisted of all of Michigan as now defined (except the western end of the Upper Peninsula), plus the part of Wisconsin and Illinois drained by Lake Michigan and a strip of land across northern Indiana and northern Ohio.

Not much is known of the original officers of the county, but records show land being purchased in 1799 from Louis Bond, sheriff of Wayne County. On May 3, 1802, when Detroiters elected their town officers under United States rule for the first time, women as well as men were permitted to vote.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO THE CITIZENS OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON
OF PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER APPROVAL OF A PROJECT PLAN AND THE ISSUANCE OF THE BONDS PROPOSED THEREIN AS SUBMITTED TO THE TOWNSHIP BOARD OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON BY THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION OF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON FOR Z & Z LEASING, INC. PROJECT

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Act 338 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1974, as amended, The Economic Development Corporation of the Charter Township of Canton has submitted a project plan to the Township Board for its approval.

Said project plan deals with the construction and equipping of a 67,000 square foot paper converting and packaging facility to be owned by Z & Z Leasing, Inc., to be used by North Star Sales and Acme Carton Corporation and to be located on a project area or site described as follows:

5 acres of the 28 acres of land located in the SE ¼ of the SE ¼ of Section 34, T2S, R8E, Canton Township, Michigan.

The street address of the facility is 44052 Yost Road, Canton Township, Michigan.

Said project plan details all information required by law relative to said project and its impact on the community. No persons will be displaced from the project area as a result of this project. Said project plan also proposes the issuance of revenue bonds by said Economic Development Corporation in a maximum principal amount not to exceed $5,000,000 to assist in the financing of said project.

The Township Board will meet at 7:00 o'clock p.m., Tuesday, the 8th day of October, 1985, at the Township Hall located at 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Michigan, and will conduct a public hearing.

The public hearing shall consider the advisability of the Township Board approving, modifying or rejecting by resolution said project plan and the issuance of bonds as proposed therein.

THIS NOTICE is given pursuant to the requirements of Sections 10 and 17 of Act 338, Public Acts of Michigan, 1974, as amended. The project plan and relevant maps or plats are available for inspection at the Township Clerk's office.

All interested citizens are encouraged and will be offered an opportunity at said hearing to address the Township Board concerning said project, said project plan, and the bonds proposed to be issued. Written comments may also be submitted to the Township Clerk prior to said hearing.

O'Toole, cast bring life to film

the movies

Dan Greenberg

"Creator" is a pleasant sort of movie that provides an entertaining hour-and-a-half trip to the movies before the final 15 minutes snatches defeat from the jaws of victory.

Hints of the film's flaws appear earlier, but the engaging personality and fine acting of Peter O'Toole combine with the talent, youthful appeal and magnetism of Mariel Hemingway, Virginia Madsen and Vincent Spano to camouflage the defects until the end. The entire supporting cast is equally accomplished.

Dr. Harry Wolper (O'Toole) is a Nobel Laureate biologist and medical doctor characterized by flamboyance, devotion to science, unorthodox methods and an obsessive loneliness which has driven him to devote untold energies to recreate his dead wife, Lucy (Karen Kopins), from cells that he saved when she died 30 years earlier in childbirth.

The story is complicated by various doctors in the University Hospital vying for grant money and graduate students to complete their research. But an awful lot of energy goes into an $800,000 grant that seems a mere pittance in these hi-tech days.

DR. HARRY WOLPER "steals" a new graduate assistant, Boris Lafkin (Vincent Spano), from Dr. Sidney Kuhlenbeck (David Ogden Stiers, "M*A*S*H's" Dr. Winchester). Wolper knows the name of the girl, Barbara Spencer (Virginia Madsen), whom Boris followed with great passion into Harry's lab. That's Harry's initial hold on Boris.

Besides a graduate assistant, Harry needs a woman's fertile egg to "grow" Lucy in the lab and Meli (Mariel Hemingway) conveniently appears. She is a young swinger, as they say, with a rather loose and relaxed sense of life and its values. Meli provides Harry with the egg he needs, and ultimately with a sense of life and love as well.

The story of "Creator" is played out against the backdrop of conflict for funding with Dr. Sid Kuhlenbeck's diligent, step-by-step methodology as a foil for Harry's flamboyant search for the "big picture." The fact that Harry doesn't hesitate to appropriate student assistants, equipment and anything else he needs to recreate Lucy is a further irritant to Dr. Sid.

That character is played well by Stiers but the conceptualization of the character in the screenplay, and by the director, contains too much of Stiers' television persona as Dr. Winchester — a character that works well in television's brief interludes but is too much of a buffoon for a realistic, romantic comedy.

Despite the premise of the film, it is sufficiently well-done and seems realistic, except for Dr. Kuhlenbeck's buffoonery and the two happy endings, which were pleasant but discordant, given the film's initial flow.

THE SEMI-RETIREMENT, Northfield Campus, to which Dr. Kuhlenbeck attempted to banish Dr Wolper, seemed like a fashionable and well-appointed nursing home but made little sense as an adjunct campus.

"Creator" was filmed in Pasadena, at the University of California, Irvine, at the U of C Santa Cruz campus and in Crystal Cove, Calif. The movie is a pleasure to view, with Robbie Greenberg's cinematography a major contribution and a fine complement to the excellent acting.

Because of that accomplished acting, a number of the scenes work really well, particularly when Harry comforts Boris who has learned of his father's death, when Meli in her brash and open way seduces the mature and worldly Harry, and in the several scenes where Boris proposes his love to Barbara.

The film is appropriately rated "R," presumably because of its frank discussion of sexual matters and some fairly tasteful but explicit sexual scenes. Some might also think the "R" appropriate for the issues raised in discussing the implications of molecular biology, genetic engineering and laboratory manipulation of life.

Those issues are handled with sufficient taste so that no one who believes it proper to discuss them will be offended.

Peter O'Toole is Dr. Harry Wolper, a biologist who tries to recreate his dead wife, in "Creator."

HOWEVER, THE FILM is flawed in raising such issues but ultimately failing to deal with them. The matter is trivialized by the way in which Harry's experiments are terminated and by everyone's reaction that the attempt to recreate Lucy is just Harry's eccentricity.

Nonetheless, most moviegoers will view "Creator" with pleasure. Even if one doesn't really like the story, it is well told and well acted.

Auction of special wines will benefit music school

wine

Richard Watson

It's time again to announce the projected activities of the fourth annual Detroit International Wine Auction. This year the event seems to be even more ambitious than ever.

Beneficiaries are not only those who participate but, far more important, the Detroit Community Music School. Founded in 1926, this nonprofit institution offers instruction in music and dance to more than 1,800 students regardless of age or financial means.

The auction is to be held, again, at Lovett Hall in Greenfield Village, Dearborn. This very Michigan event will be presented, appropriately, Saturday, Oct. 12, the day of the Michigan-Michigan State football game and one which will carry the word "revenge" throughout the land.

It will be the only auction in the country this year featuring the grand piano case of wine from the Far Niente Winery of Napa Valley. This is the first release of the winery's cabernet sauvignon (1982), and the case consists of six bottles, ranging in size from a half bottle (375 ml.) to an imperial (6 liters).

THE CASE arrived here in September — to the awe of guests at a press party at Detroit's Renaissance Center — via its own helicopter. When you command that kind of promotion, you know you're in the big leagues, kid!

Once again there will be an honorary chairman for the auction. Following in the steps of Louis Martini, Robert Mondavi and Brother Timothy as honorary chairman will be Joseph Phelps of Napa Valley, owner of one of the most esteemed wineries in California.

David Molyneux-Berry, M.W., of Sotheby's of London, will serve as auctioneer. Sommelier will be Tim McCarthy of the Cost Plus Wine Shop in Greektown. Edsel Ford II will be master of ceremonies for the evening.

ENTRY FEE to the public is $125 per person. For reservations or further information call Jane Roose at 831-2870.

In addition to the Far Niente piano case, there will be a great many other temptations for the audience. The list is not yet complete, but some fascinating items are already committed.

One of California winedom's most venerated cabernets, the rare Cask 23 from Stag's Leap Wine Cellars from the 1978 vintage in a jeroboam bottle (4.5 liters),is one of the special features. Even larger is an imperial of Beaulieu's George de Latour Private Reserve 1978 cabernet.

Then there are three bottles of Tom Burgess' 1981 cabernet in double magnums. There will be six magnums of Caymus Special Selection Cabernet, one each from 1975, 1976, 1978, 1979, 1980 and 1981.

More California cabernets (apparently the wine of this year) will include wooden-boxed magnums of William Hill, 1978-83 (Gold Label) and six magnums of 1970 Martini Special Selection. There will be a magnum of Sterling Reserve 1973, three magnums of 1978 Clos du Bois Private Reserve and a single jeroboam of Ridge Montebello Vineyard.

FOR WHITE wine lovers there are five bottles on the legendary Stony Hill Semillon de Soleil, 1971-75, as well as six magnums of Chateau St. Jean Chardonnay, two each of 1980-82. Chateau Grand Traverse and St. Julian have also donated some attractive whites.

CANCER. NOT KNOWING THE RISKS IS YOUR GREATEST RISK.
A lot of people think cancer is unbeatable.
That simply isn't true. In fact, over two million people have had cancer and survived to lead happy, normal lives.
And not only can cancer be beaten, it can also be prevented.
There are definite precautions that have been proven to decrease your risk of getting certain cancers.
Ask your local American Cancer Society to send you a free booklet about cancer risks.
Learn the facts about cancer.
And make not knowing the risks, one less risk.

TIRED OF BEING UNDERPAID?
If you have a "burning" desire to increase your net worth and self-esteem, we have a program for you. We are a premium marketer of energy efficient heating, cooling and energy savings devises. We need to be involved with a few good people that have the ability to communicate with home owners by showing them the benefits of the products we offer. For this ability, you will earn in direct proportion to what you want to earn. Our present people make between $30,000 and $80,000 depending on their attitude. We will furnish you with the appointments, products, financing and service for your customer. If you're tired of being paid what someone else things you're worth, then set-up an appointment with us and see if we don't offer you the opportunity to achieve emotional and financial success. The difference between a winner and a loser is a positive attitude and a legitimate opportunity. You will supply the attitude. We will provide the opportunity. For your chance, call:
Rich Fetting 478-5020
