Underground oil tank leaks on lot

By Diane Gale
staff writer

The leaking of fuel oil from an underground tank is not a health threat to Canton residents, according to officials.

The fuel-oil leak last week was from an underground tank on a vacant lot at Michigan Avenue west of Sheldon.

"There is no big health hazard at all," said Canton Fire Capt. Art Winkel. "You just have a hazard to the environment in the immediate area with soil contamination and some water."

The vacant lot is owned by Waste Management, owners of Woodland Meadows Landfill in Canton. Long before Waste Management purchased the land, the site was used as a fueling station which burned down in 1940.

The Canton Fire Department became aware of the leak Oct. 19 from callers who noticed a "rainbow" color in puddles of rain water, said Canton Fire Sgt. Don Adams.

"It was coming from a tank that no one knew was underground," Winkel said. "It was storage for flammable liquid."

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL Resources (DNR) quality division representative Michael Czuprenski referred to the incident as "really routine." He also said there was no potential health problem to residents in the area.

"This is really a common problem, not just with abandoned tanks but with any corner gas station," Czuprenski said. "We're finding throughout the state that a great majority of ground-water pollution is from leaking underground storage tanks."

The fuel oil and contaminated water is considered hazardous to the environment, but "it won't burn, explode or anything like that," Winkel said.

"There would be no problem with the drinking water," he added. "If there are wells in the area they would be deeper than where this would go."

Waste Management vacuumed out the contaminated water and fuel from the Canton site Friday afternoon, according to Donald Reddcliffe, Waste Management director of corporate affairs.

Crews recovered 100 gallons of fuel that remained in the 500-gallon tank, but "there's no way of knowing how much was in the tank," Czuprenski said.

This week Waste Management also planned to remove six inches of soil considered contaminated by the fuel. Once the site is cleaned, the tank also will be removed.

"They are having the soil tested to see if it is hazardous," Czuprenski said. "Because if it is, Woodland Meadows can't accept it."

SHORTLY AFTER becoming aware of the leakage, the Canton Fire Department called the Coast Guard which erected machines to soak up oil from a nearby ditch, Czuprenski said.

Waste Management had crews digging "about three, 20-square-foot" pits so the water and fuel would collect, Winkel said. The company then sent out vacuum-like machines to suck up the liquid.

"We've been getting very good cooperation from Waste Management on this," Winkel said.

After the fueling station burned down in 1940, the abandoned tanks were filled with sand. Waste Management told DNR that the company had "no idea the tank was down there" when they purchased the land, Czuprenski said.

"Unknown underground tanks are quite common," Winkel said. "Years ago there were no records of them, and no one knew anything about them until there is a problem with them."

"The state is really trying to get a fingerhold on this, and starting next year all underground tanks will be registered with the state."

The leak occurred, Winkel said, because the tank "eventually got damaged" and when it rained the water, heavier than fuel, went to the bottom of the tank and the fuel floated out.

Czuprenski said the leak might have occurred when a fill pipe that reached the ground broke.

Switching supervisor format in Canton is board's decision

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Groundwork is being laid to alter Canton's administrative hierarchy from a strong supervisor to a strong superintendent format.

A five-member committee — appointed by the Canton Township Board of Trustees — is meeting regularly to detail an implementation plan, salary recommendations and position descriptions to change the administrative make-up at township hall.

The superintendent would be hired and could be fired by the board, whereas the supervisor is elected to office.

Proponents say the switch will allow the board to hire a "professional manager" to handle the day-to-day operational matters of the township, and add stability by limiting the possibility of change after each election.

THE PROPOSED change in the administration also calls for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer posts to be cut to part-time positions.

At Tuesday's board meeting Canton supervisor James Poole presented a ballot proposal which would allow township residents to decide if they favor a part-time supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

The proposed ballot proposal asks voters if they want a "superintendent to manage the township by assuming certain responsibilities of the supervisor."

The board has the power now to hire a superintendent, said Philip Schaefer, partner in the Kalamazoo law firm of Bauckham, Reed, Lang, Schaefer, Sparks and Rolfe which represents the Michigan Township Association (MTA).

"A vote simply would be an indication of what the people think, like a public opinion poll," Schaefer said. "A vote of the people on that issue would be strictly advisory."

This authority is outlined in Michigan Charter Township Act 359. Canton, a charter township, falls under the provisions of the act.

The board of trustees tabled Poole's ballot resolution saying the proposal was premature.

"The implementation committee is in charge of developing information, and all that information is needed to discuss whether we want to go forward with this," said trustee Robert Padgett.

EDWARD PORTSCHELL, chairman of the implementation committee, said the group will study effects of the change and make plans for a smooth transition.

"We are not trying to make any judgments," Portschell said. "We are simply carrying out the board's request. This is an administrative thing. It's not going to change the form of government."

"If we come up with some information along the way that shows they shouldn't make the change we'll give them that, too," Portschell said. "I would stress that we want to do this right and not just rush and do it."

Committee members expect to present the board with their findings next spring.

Under the charter township act the board could give most of the supervisor's responsibilities to the superintendent, Schaefer said.

A few duties, such as presiding over township board meetings, would remain the supervisor's responsibility, according to the charter act.

"Statutorily the positions of clerk and treasurer shouldn't change drastically because there are certain duties they are required to do by law," Schaefer said.

For instance, the charter township act says the treasurer is responsible for collecting taxes.

However, the law "allows flexibility" in the administrative responsibilities of the clerk and treasurer, Schaefer said.

The implementation committee will study laws holding officials responsible for certain duties, Portschell said.

Canton Township personnel director Dan Durack, a member of the five-member implementation committee, asked Schaefer if the firm would be available for committee questions.

The trustees recently allocated $1,500 for the committee's legal services and up to $250 for miscellaneous expenses.

DURING THE FIRST few meetings, the implementation committee has

Haggerty paving is undecided

By Diane Gale
staff writer

The fate of Haggerty Road and a proposed paving project still is undecided.

Canton Township received a letter from Jim Meyers, Wayne County director of the Office of Public Services, explaining that the county will allow a less expensive paving plan on Haggerty between Cherry Hill and Palmer than previously required.

Meyers tacked on two conditions: Canton must pay the entire cost of construction except for the design and engineering. And after five years Canton will become 100 percent responsible for major repairs and 50 percent responsible for routine maintenance costs.

If the conditions are met the county will allow a Class B designation — asphalt paving and open ditches — on the strip. Otherwise, Class A designation — with higher standards — would be required. Both sides of the Haggerty stretch are designated Class A.

TO PAVE ONE mile of roadway under Class A — which requires reinforced cement, enclosed ditches and other standards — costs an estimated $1 million. To pave one mile of roadway under Class B costs about $330,000.

Meyers expressed hesitations by the county to go with Class B on Haggerty between Cherry Hill and Palmer.

"Our engineering division has several reservations about joining two Class A road segments with a Class B pavement because of the different structure and surface characteristics," Meyers said. "The Class B pavement will require significantly more maintenance than a Class A pavement."

Previously Meyers reported that the Class B designation would be a short-term solution. The county wants the full length of Haggerty to be Class A, he said.

At last week's Canton Township Board of Trustees meeting, Supervisor James Poole said he wrote a letter back suggesting the county maintain the Class A designation.

"I am recommending to the board that we put out some money and they match it," Poole said. "We can make it a Class A road and not compromise the integrity of the road."

TO SAVE money, Poole suggested paving the strip with cement and postponing some of the other Class A requirements.

Poole recently wrote to the county about many roads in Canton. "I understand the dilemma in reclassifying from A to B," he wrote. "I appreciate the concern to maintain the integrity of the primary service road to I-275. Maybe cement is the answer without all the extra costs, like ditches, curbs, etc."

"In any case, Canton Township does not have the money for paving this road," the letter said.

Poole said last week that he hasn't received a response from the county.

"What Poole is saying is that we just won't do the full Class A with fancy shoulders, curbs and gutters," said state Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, who lives near Haggerty and has been a prime advocate of having the road paved.

Nine-year-old Stacy Chuhman is knocking down the gender barriers in the rough and tumble male-dominated sport of ice hockey.

Stacy, the daughter of Terry and Linda Chuhman of Canton Township, plays goalie in the Bantam BB Division of the Garden City Youth Athletic Association.

"They said I couldn't do that good because I am a girl," Stacy said. "When I am on the ice I think about stopping shots."

STACEY TOOK up hockey last year shortly after learning how to skate.

"Her brother, Scott, took her to the rink we made in our back yard and had her play goalie while he practiced. She didn't have any pads," Mrs. Chuhman said.

"My brother played and I decided to try," Stacy said. "It's fun, I like skating too!"

Four teams are currently practicing at the Garden City Civic Center for the Bantam BB league. The first game is scheduled for later this month.

"She has the ability to compete with the boys," said coach Bob Mulligan, who helps with all Garden City teams. "At her age the boys and girls are pretty well balanced."

"I'm better than some goalies I've seen before," Stacy added.

THE GARDEN City League was picked because it is the nearest with competition at Stacy's level said Mrs. Chuhman, who is the clerk in Canton Township.

Last year Stacy played defense and goalie for teams in the Wayne Hockey Association during the winter and spring leagues. Her team, the Jets, was 1-10 last winter. The Goal Busters, a spring team, did better. Mrs. Chuhman said.

Being on a losing team has not dimmed her desire to play.

"We thought maybe she would go one year and give it up," her mother said. "We tried to talk her out of it. But it didn't work, she loves it."

"She likes the puck flying at her."

"Stacy is one of the boys who plays hockey," her mother said.

"Mom said I couldn't change with the boys. I had to change in a different locker room," Stacy said.

STACEY'S INTEREST in hockey is not unusual. Mulligan coached a girl in the Bantam division last year.

"Stacy is one of the better skaters," said coach Jim Goldner. "During tryouts we checked the fundamental drills to see what she could do."

The other players seem to have adjusted to a girl on the ice.

"They might say stuff but I don't hear them saying anything," she said.

Outside of organized play Stacy and brother Scott are a formidable team.

"It's Stacy and Scott against the whole neighborhood, they always won," her father said.

Worrying about pins, razor blades and other metal devices that can be hidden in candy puts a damper on the fun and games of Halloween.

The Canton Township Police Department and McDonald's are hosting an annual metal detector program to lessen some of the worry.

Both McDonald's in Canton — 44900 Ford near Sheldon and 40241 Michigan Avenue near I-275 — will scan Halloween treats 6-9 p.m. Thursday.

Garden City fails to force Canton into Supersewer

Garden City has been defeated in its attempt to force Plymouth and Canton townships to participate in the North Huron Rouge Valley Wastewater Control Project II (Supersewer II).

The lawsuit, filed in May 1985, sought to force the townships into the Rouge Valley system for all sewage they generate now and in the future.

According to Plymouth Township Attorney Brian James, the Garden City lawsuit was dismissed about three weeks ago, removing at least one hurdle in efforts by the townships to provide what they consider an equitable funded sewer system that meets the pollution requirements of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

IF THE townships win, they will be guidelines on what it plans to accomplish.

"We haven't in any way, shape or form set anything down on paper," Durack said. "There's a lot of angles, and a lot of things need to be addressed. We want to do a thorough job."

Understanding the legal aspects, setting a timetable on when the changes will happen, and making salary suggestions were cited by Durack as a few of many tasks that lay ahead.

Implementation committee members include Portschell, Durack, resident Robin Koebel, manager of the Michigan National Bank in Canton, resident Ira Bargon, a personnel supervisor of Great Lakes Steel, and Phil LaJoy, Canton merit commissioner.

Chief John Santomaro recommends parents use "good judgment and when in doubt dispose of the food."

Extra police road patrols will be riding through the Canton neighborhoods both Devil's Night and Halloween.

"We're saturating the subdivision areas with police cars, and we're going to be very visible," Santomaro said. "We encourage residents to put their lights on both nights, and to call the police department when suspicious activities occur."

The first 2,000 children 13 years old and younger who are accompanied by a parent in Kellogg Park will receive a trick-or-treat bag and a map of participating streets.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is providing a special treat on Devil's Night, Wednesday. A route will be mapped out of stores participating in the special trick-or-treat program 5-7 p.m.

The first 2,000 children 13 years old and younger who are accompanied by a parent in Kellogg Park will receive a trick-or-treat bag and a map of participating streets.

FOLLOWING ARE Halloween safety tips promoted by the Canton Police Department:

- Use special care when crossing streets especially during dusk when visibility is the poorest for drivers
- Beware of flames from pumpkins and candles that easily start fires on billowing costumes and flowing false wings
- Wear bright costumes that can be seen

• Know the route your child plans to take.

- Walk in groups no larger than three or four
- Provide supervision for young children
- Set a time the children are expected home
- Insist treats are brought home and inspected before the child eats anything
- Report to police anything wrong with the goods

Michigan Bell customers in the Plymouth area have the option of selecting the long distance telephone company of their choice — or to be randomly assigned one — as "Dial 1 Plus" becomes available Dec. 14.

Bell customers get choice of long distance service

Michigan Bell customers in the Plymouth area have the option of selecting the long distance telephone company of their choice — or to be randomly assigned one — as "Dial 1 Plus" becomes available Dec. 14.

The service has been introduced in several communities and will be phased in statewide to most Michigan Bell customers by the end of 1986, according to Marcia Buhl, the company's corporate affairs manager.

Dial 1 Plus will also allow customers in exchanges 451, 453, 455 and 459 to use any long distance carrier available in their area by dialing "1" plus the area code plus the telephone number.

In the past, placing a call through any long distance company other than AT&T required dialing as many as 22 digits.

While customers can use Dial 1 Plus service with only one long distance company of their choice per line, they can use other long distance companies by dialing the appropriate access codes plus the area code and telephone number.

"Dial 1 Plus dialing is the fastest way to dial long distance, and now it's available from many long distance companies," said Buhl. "Customers will receive information explaining the program, as well as a response card to indicate a long distance company of their choice."

CUSTOMERS will receive a ballot listing the long distance companies offering Dial 1 Plus service in the Plymouth area.

To select a long distance company, they need to check the appropriate box on the ballot and mail the ballot back to Michigan Bell in the self-addressed, postage-paid envelope.

Those who do not respond to the first mailing will receive a second opportunity to select a company, as well as the names of the long distance companies they will be assigned if they do not make a selection.

"In the early months of Dial 1 Plus, customers who did not make a selection remained with AT&T," said Buhl.

"Now, under a Federal Communications Commission decision, Michigan Bell must randomly assign those customers to a long distance company."

The first time customers choose a long distance carrier, they will not be charged to establish the service. But a service charge will apply to later choices.

About 22,000 customer lines in the Plymouth area are eligible for Dial 1 Plus through long distance companies that include AT&T, GTE/Sprint, Citicorp's Citicorp, Sprint, Max, Western Union, MCI Dial 1 Long Distance Service, American Express Expressphone, Sears Long Distance Phone Service, TTT, SBS Skyline and Lightcall.

The selection process is part of the court-ordered divestiture of the Bell System. Michigan Bell and other operating companies have been given until September 1986 to convert equipment and software in their central offices so that any long distance company wishing to pay the extra cost can offer its customers Dial 1 long distance service as AT&T does.

Plymouth customers who have not made arrangements with one of the companies by Nov. 14 will be randomly assigned when the Dial 1 Plus access goes into effect Dec. 14.

Student of the month

Mary L. Massey, a senior at Plymouth Canton High School, has been selected Student of the Month for October by the Plymouth Elks. Massey is mayor of the executive forum, treasurer of the Latin Club, executive board member of the National Honor Society, and is captain of the varsity girls swimming team. She also is involved in volunteer work for the Easter Seals, Jerry Lewis Telethon, math tutoring, and church youth activities.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Massey of Plymouth, she is considering attending Kalamazoo College, William and Mary or University of North Carolina.

FLUID INTAKE AND JOINT SWELLING

At some time a physician may have removed fluid from your knee or other joint. You may have wondered if drinking less water, coffee, tea or alcohol could have prevented that fluid from accumulating. Or perhaps, that taking "a water pill" would have been a less painful way of treating the problem.

In gouty arthritis the ounces of beer, wine, or whiskey consumed is critical. The reason is because of the effect of alcohol in decreasing the body's ability to rid itself of uric acid, the substance that causes gout. Unfortunately this observation has led to the incorrect conclusion that drinking a great deal of any beverage such as coffee, tea or water could cause a joint to swell.

Taking "a water pill" is not helpful, as the development of joint inflammation is not dependent on the amount of water in the body. Therefore, medicines which result in water loss have never succeeded in stopping joint swelling. Furthermore, these medications influence kidney functions and have no ability to draw fluid from inflamed joints.

In sum, joint aspiration is the best way to rid a joint of extra fluid now, and usually a long term program of medication is needed to prevent a recurrence.

By the year 2000, 2 out of 3 Americans could be illiterate.

Read that again, just to be sure you read it correctly.

Because, believe it or not, it's true.

Today, 75 million adults, about one American in three, can't read adequately. And by the year 2000, U.S. News & World Report envisions an America with a literacy rate of only 30%.

Before that America comes to be, you can stop it...by joining the fight against illiteracy today.

Reader urges 'no' on library

To the editor:

1. Vote no on library millage.
2. Vote yes on township millage.
3. If the library millage fails, rest assured Plymouth will then have sufficient funds to pay their full fair share as in the past.
4. How will the library be sure of getting the money they need? Well, the nine-member elected library board with representatives from both city and township were given the job of doing what our elected leaders failed to agree on.
All the library board needs to do is to bill both governments for their fair share of the money needed. If the township board members are hesitant to take such action, one must assume they are robots - controlled. This will save the taxpayers double taxation by a private group with no governmental control.

Please think this over.

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.
No Dieting—Eat Normally
BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special)—Good news for overweight people! If you want to lose weight fast, you no longer have to guess which diet product to use. A recent clinical weight loss study was conducted by a panel of medical doctors in California on groups of overweight individuals to determine which of the five most popular weight loss products was the most effective. One product, the amazing new "hi-tech super pills" proved to be vastly superior to all the others tested in the study. The new pills gave almost "3 times faster" weight loss than the famous grapefruit diet pills.

All lost up to 1 lb. Per Day
Best of all, the pills allow you to continue to eat all of your favorite foods without changing your normal eating or exercising habits and still lose weight easier and faster than ever before, starting immediately! The manufacturer guarantees it! Remarkably, ALL people in the new "hi-tech" super pills clinical test group lost weight (an average of 1/2 lb. per day up to 1 lb. per day or the equivalent of 15 to 30 lbs. per month.) It also helps eliminate bloating and puffiness.

"Pills Do All the Work"
According to the clinical study, "the pills alone do all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation diet menus," in fact, NO calorie counting, NO special exercise, and NO hunger pangs." You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals.
Powerful Appetite Suppressants
The new pills contain a powerful clinically proven appetite suppressant that an advisory panel of doctors have determined to be "safe and effective for weight loss."
In addition, the pills also contain a remarkable calorie-free dietary fiber that expands in your stomach and tends to give you a partially satisfied feeling before you eat. Thus, the new combination of ingredients in the pills act 2 ways to aid in curbing your appetite, causing you to eat less, take in less calories, and lose weight without feeling deprived or hungry.
Pills Contain ALL Daily Vitamins
No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy because the pills are fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government's USDA recommended daily vitamin requirements.
The amazing "hi-tech" super pills are already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public
You can order your supply of these new highly successful "hi-tech" super pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail or phone order only) by sending $14 for a 15-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Hi-Tech Products, 17 Central Ave., Dept. W26, Kansas City, KS 66101. (30 day unconditional money-back guarantee (not 100% refund). Visa, MasterCard, and Amer. Express OK. (Send card number, expiration date, and signature.) Wayne's early boundaries

At its conception, Wayne County consisted of all of Michigan as now defined (except the western end of the Upper Peninsula), plus the part of Wisconsin and Illinois drained by Lake Michigan and a strip of land across northern Indiana and northern Ohio.

Not much is known of the original officers of the county, but records show land being purchased in 1799 from Louis Bond, sheriff of Wayne County. On May 3, 1802, when Detroiters elected their town officers under United States rule for the first time, women as well as men were permitted to vote.

SOME OF THE GREATEST THINGS IN AMERICA NEVER CHANGE.

In Ansel Adams' eyes, America's wilderness is its most precious national treasure. Through photography, he immortalized the unspoiled beauty of Mt. McKinley for all to see. Some things never change. But one great American tradition has changed—U.S. Savings Bonds. Now Savings Bonds pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts. That's the kind of change anyone can appreciate.

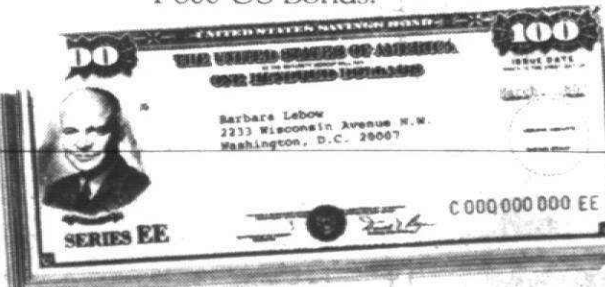

Just hold Savings Bonds for five years and you get the new variable interest rates. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. That means you can earn a lot more, but never less than 7½%.

But some of the best things about Bonds haven't changed. The interest earned is still exempt from state and local income taxes. Still cost as little as $25. And can be purchased at almost any financial institution. Or easier yet, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Like the wilderness, they're another part of our proud heritage. For the current interest rate and more information, call toll-free Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased after 11/1/82 and held at least 5 years. Bonds purchased before 11/1/82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10/31/87. Bonds held less than 5 years earn lower interest.

CHIROPRACTIC SPELLS RELIEF!

Headaches Gone, Eyesight Improved

I gradually developed some weakness in my eyes and many bad headaches over a three year period. I fatigued more than normal and seemed to lack energy. After receiving negative results from an ophthalmologist, a neurologist, and several hospital tests, I asked my doctor about Chiropractic care. He said it couldn't hurt.

After a Chase Chiropractic examination and x-rays were taken, a plan was developed for treatment. Some minor back aches developed from the regular adjustments. However, the change and improvement was very noticeable.

My headaches are now very few and far between. I very seldom feel fatigued. My energy is back to its normal level, and my eyes are much better. Overall I feel a considerable improvement, and recommend chiropractic care to all my friends.

RELIEF IN A SHORT TIME

I injured my back in early January. I was rushed to emergency, given a pain killer, told to stay off my feet and that I should see an orthopedic surgeon. I guess you could say that the possibility of surgery scared me.

A dear friend of mine made an appointment and brought me to the Chase Chiropractic Office. I was x-rayed. I saw my x-rays and everything was thoroughly explained to me. I had my first adjustment and when I left Dr. Chase's office much of the pain was gone. I felt much better.

Pinched nerves caused the numbness in my hands and to my surprise, I was three quarters of an inch shorter on my right side. That was causing most of my lower back and leg pain.

Now I'm in my seventh week of adjustments and I feel like a new person. My imbalance is almost corrected and it was done without surgery.

I am most grateful and appreciative to Dr. Chase and his staff for the kindness and understanding they have shown me, and especially for alleviating my pain.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Delores Palfavi

Chiropractic Care, Don't Ever Underestimate It!

I had taken Darvon and Percadon for 2 months and was completely laid up prior to coming into the Chase Chiropractic Office.

I started at the Chase Chiropractic Office in Nov. of 1984. I had pain in my lower back and arthritis in both knees. After only two months, the pain in both of my knees had almost completely disappeared. I can do things I could not do for several years. All back pain had disappeared.

My medical doctor was surprised when I went back to him after my Chiropractic Adjustments, to see how healthy I was compared to previous visits.

I came in to a Chiropractor because I had friends and relatives that had been helped and they all recommended not only Chiropractic care, but Dr. Richard Chase. I'm so glad I listened to them.

Shouldn't Chiropractic Be Helping You, Too?

Asthma Relief After 40 Years of Suffering

In August, I took the flu. I went to our family doctor, he gave me a prescription for pills and liquid medicine. I took them and felt some better, but never was well.

I worked all that winter and just got worse. On the 18th of March I went home and called our doctor for an appointment. He said I had pneumonia. I was shocked. I was told to stay home and rest. I did, but felt I had to get back to work. The doctor said if I felt like it, I could go back the 5th of April. I went back but could not work, so back to the doctors again and more medicine. I felt some better so, April the 12th I went back to work and worked to April 16th.

Each day my boss said, "You don't look so well, why don't you go home." I told him I was trying to stay the week out, but if I was not better I would not be back Monday. In the meantime I received an advertisement letter in the mail from Dr. Richard Chase.

I had taken so much medicine my stomach hurt if I ate or if I didn't eat and every pill I took made it worse. I wish I didn't have to take any more pills, so I said to my husband I am going to Dr. Chase the Chiropractor. I couldn't lose and at least I wouldn't have to take any more pills.

After three weeks, I was sorry I did not know about Dr. Chase a long time ago. I have all kinds of allergies, hayfever, sinus trouble and asthma. I can breathe better now than in years. I am sure if I keep up my Chiropractic adjustments I will be well. If I had known years ago, I would have saved myself a lot of suffering.

Myrtle Yeager

Helps Us Help Others

My name is Andy Orlando. I first started as a patient at the Chase Chiropractic Office approximately in March of 1980. I was referred by Mrs. Juhnke. My problem was a pinched nerve in the neck. I have received about 6 adjustments to date and feel GREAT. I first began feeling relief after my first adjustment. I would like to recommend the Chase Chiropractic Office and Dr. Chase to anyone with a health problem. Try them, you'll see!

Confections weren't always part of Halloween

Trick or Treat.
Halloween.
Here we are approaching the most unusual day of the year—one that has been celebrated in more ways than most of the others put together.
Come Thursday evening, the mothers in most cases, will dress their children in all sorts of costumes and be sure they are wearing masks.
Once dressed for the occasion they will go to the many homes in the neighborhood, rapping at the door. Then out comes the housewife and the youngsters call, "Trick or Treat."
Supposedly to avoid any tricks, the housewife will have a few pennies for each of the children and then, for good measure, will drop in a piece of candy, usually chocolate and wish them well.

But in some cases it has been known that the candy was poisoned. These cases were few but have happened.

BACK HOME. In the Dutch country of Pennsylvania, we always got in the act in a most unusual way.
The boys would take the spoils from their mother's sewing basket and cut ridges along the edge.
Once this (too) was made, we'd start out to call on the folks in the neighborhood. We wouldn't take any treats. We just

The trick with this gadget was to wrap thread around it and then spin it on the windows or the front door. It made a terrific noise and scared most of the folks inside the house.
We wouldn't take any treats. We just wanted to scare the people inside the house. When we did that, it was celebration enough. We never knew what that meant as a celebration but we had a lot of fun doing it.

The big trick back in the Dutch country try would get a person into trouble today. You see, folks in those days did not have indoor plumbing. Only the rich could afford it. So the families around town had what they called "outhouses." They were holes in the ground with a wooden building on top that wasn't attached to the ground.

And what a job it was on a cold night to get out there if you had a call.
But on Halloween these outhouses were the main target.
Instead of rapping on the door, we would sneak up, take the outhouse and move it a few yards away. We thought it was fun. Although it wasn't if it was your outhouse.

BUT TIMES have changed and most of the celebrating on these days is to mask the children and take them calling to collect gift pennies or a few other small items.
With these different ways to celebrate — and most of it at night — it makes of the holiday a much different special day on the calendar.
There are no outhouses to move these days, but be very careful if your children are given candy or some other treat that could be dangerous.
Talk about odd observance of a holiday. There is nothing that can beat Halloween. So have a good time.

Former South Dakota Sen. George McGovern, remembered most for his crushing defeat by Richard Nixon's re-election machine in 1972, arrived on the campus of the University of Michigan in Dearborn yesterday looking tanned and fit, and speaking out on the "Future of Liberalism."
Now based in Washington, D.C. and writing a syndicated column on current events, McGovern, 63, spoke in favor of Democrats developing "clear alternatives" to the economic and social policies of the Reagan Administration.
"I still think liberalism is mainstream American politics," he said in an interview. "The pendulum swings back and forth. But sooner or later people will be looking to confront the problems of unemployment, declining international trade and the rising national deficit," he said.

"LIBERALISM DOESN'T" have to be associated with big government spending," he added. "My own personal feeling is that we're spending too much money on poorly planned weapons systems and not enough on job training, education, health, housing — all of which also have something to do with national strength."
McGovern's visit on a sunny, mid-fall campus day was arranged by the university and was to be followed by two other campus visits at Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind., and the University of Chicago.
McGovern took several swipes at Ronald Reagan's presidency, blaming Reagan for racking up the largest national deficit ($200 million) in the country's history. And he challenged Democrats to take Reagan "head on" on the issues of the MX missile, the Star Wars System and U.S. aid to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

HE SAID liberals need to develop issues such as restructuring the "unfair" federal tax system in order to chart a course for the future. In the cities, the issues are unemployment, runaway plants and competition of foreign products. And in the farmlands, he said "Jefferson would be horrified to see what's happening with the family farm."
Looking toward the 1988 presidential election, he predicted a "free-for-all" with both parties attracting six to 10 candidates each.
Speaking to a government class at the college, McGovern said, "I think the conservative trend is still ringing in this country, but not with the same force. I don't feel at this time that Americans agree with the policies of Ronald Reagan, though they like him as a leader. When he's off the scene, it seems the Democrats will have a good chance in '88."

"1988 could be a good year for a new-comer to arrive," he said.
His own political interests, he said, don't include seeking another bid for the presidency.
TODAY, HE says, he takes a great interest in foreign affairs, reflected in his column writing.
This week's topic, for instance, was a commentary on the U.S. response to the Achille Lauro hijacking. While he endorsed Reagan's action to intercept the flight, he was took issue with Reagan's blame on the Egyptians and Italian handling of the Palestinian hijackers. "It was a good military operation but bad diplomacy," he said.
Other topics he plans to write commentaries about include the upcoming arms talks between Reagan and Soviet leader Gorbachev.
McGovern lives in Washington, D.C. He says he still stays in touch with old friends from the Congress and former Senate colleagues. This week, he entertained at home old friends — former U.S. Senators Gaylord Nelson and Birch Bye and former vice president Walter Mondale.

As for Richard Nixon, he says the last time he saw the former president was in New York. He visited him to suggest a joint appeal to Reagan — then in his first term — to meet with the Soviet president. Nixon turned the idea down, however.
"I'm glad to see he's being consulted by Reagan (now). I think he handled the Russians quite well."
The university paid McGovern a $4,400 speaker's fee. A university official said he normally charges $6,000 but reduces the rate for colleges.

Wayne — big county
Big is the word for Wayne County. It is the third largest in the country, is the home of the world's largest industrial corporation (GM) and the largest industrial labor union (UAW), and is anchored by the country's sixth largest city (Detroit).
It is the builder of 160 miles of expressway, maintainer of 4,380 miles of county roads and creator of 4,450 acres of public parks.
It is bounded on the west by Washtenaw County at Napier and Rawsonville roads, on the north by Oakland and Macomb counties at Eight Mile Road, on the southeast by the Detroit River, and on the south by the Huron River and Monroe County. Several islands, including Belle Isle and Grosse Ile, are also part of the county.
EIGHT MILE is also known as Base Line Road because surveyors used it as the "base line" when establishing the size and shape of Michigan's other counties in the early 19th century.

Censorship's not beneficial

To the editor:
I am concerned by the hysteria that has been generated over the scheduled appearance of the witch Gundella at Plymouth Salem High School. No one, including high school students, benefits from censorship of this type.

LOW BACK PAIN
If back pain is a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebral slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

Charity yule cards do double duty

EVEN THE MAILMAN likes to deliver these holiday greetings.

They come enveloped in love and sealed with warm wishes for holidays that are merry and bright. They say twice as much but they don't weigh any more than normal yule greeting cards.

But theirs is a powerful message of love and support to the various charity organizations which offer holiday greeting cards as a fund-raising project.

Each year, as a public service, the Observer &

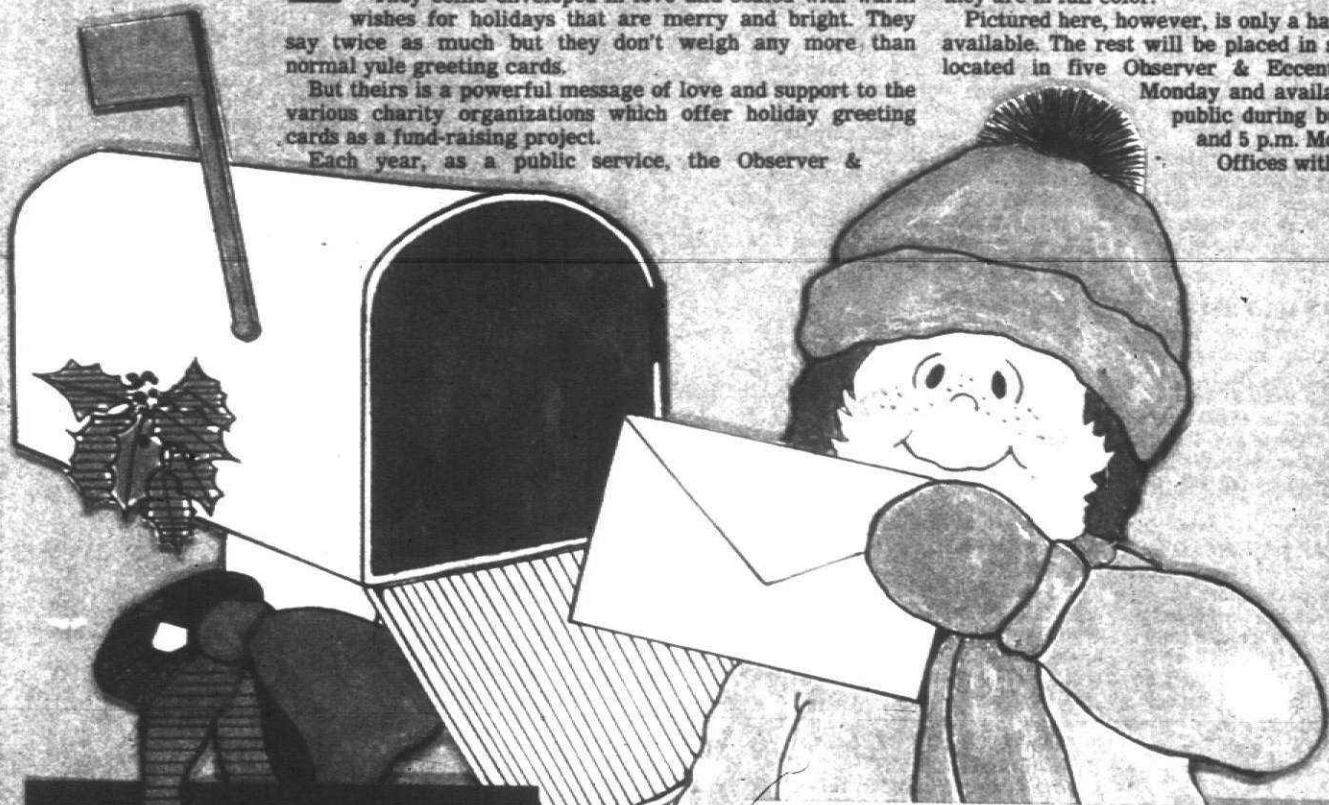

Eccentric aids these organizations by publishing a page of some of the cards being offered. This year, for the first time, they are in full color.

Pictured here, however, is only a handful of the assortment available. The rest will be placed in scrapbooks that will be located in five Observer & Eccentric offices, beginning Monday and available for viewing by the public during business hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Offices with scrapbooks are:

Livonia, 36251 Schoolcraft; Birmingham, 1225 Bowers; Rochester, 410 Main; Farmington, 33203 Grand River; and Plymouth, 489 S. Main.

The card directory will give complete information on prices and how to order, including additional information on the cards pictured.

Additional pages of cards will be published and printed throughout the next few weeks, when space permits.

Organist, trumpeter in 1st musicale

David Wagner, concert organist, mixes classical music with wit and humor as the afternoon music host on WQRS-FM radio. He will perform on the organ at St. John's Episcopal Church in the first of the Sunday musicales.

The Plymouth Symphony Society will open its Musicales Series at 4 p.m. Sunday with a concert in St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 Sheldon.

David Wagner, concert organist, and William Beger, trumpeter, will perform "Trumpet Tune in D Major" by John Stanley, the Prelude Fugue in G Major by J.S. Bach, two chorale preludes by J.S. Bach, "Wake, Awake, For Night is Flying" and "Dear Christians, One and All Rejoice," Trumpet Concerto in D Major by Tarenti, Scherzo Opus 5 by Eugene Gigout, Prayer of St. Francis for trumpet by Houshass, Suite in F Major for trumpet by Leopold Mozart, Couplets from Gloria of the Mass for the Convent by Francois Couperin, and Trumpet Air in C Major by Telemann.

AS THE AFTERNOON music host on WQRS-FM radio, "Dave" Wagner mixes classical music with wit and humor.

He is producer and host of the Maccabees Mutual Quest for Excellence, a statewide artist competition broadcast from the campus of Wayne State University in a 26-week radio program. Wagner is director of music at St. Paul Church in Grosse Pointe and adjunct assistant professor of music at Madonna College.

A graduate of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, Wagner has been heard in recital throughout the Midwest. He has been organist and harpsichordist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and was soloist with the orchestra for the special concert commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

He was named recipient of the Palmer Christian Award from U-M in the spring of 1985 in recognition of postdoctoral achievement in furthering excellence in organ and church music.

WILLIAM BEGER has established a solo career, performing in recital and liturgical ceremonies. He is in demand as a lead trumpeter and soloist because of his reputation for perfection of technique, interpretation and sound.

Beger is founder and director of the Renaissance Brass Quintet. His educational background includes highest honors as a graduate of the vocational music department of Cass Technical High School. He received his bachelor of arts and masters of education degrees from Wayne State University.

A reception and refreshments will follow the musicale.

Admission is $5 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens. Tickets may be purchased at Beliner Jewelry in Plymouth or at the door.

The musicale series is sponsored by the Plymouth Hilton Inn, the Charter Township of Plymouth and manufacturers Bank.

St. John Episcopal Church is on Sheldon Road just south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Bill Beger's reputation for perfection in technique, interpretation and sound is responsible for his popularity as lead trumpeter and soloist.

Michigan National is helping smart people, like Harry Hryczek.

Harry Hryczek did a smart thing.

With help from Michigan National, he expanded an ambulance company into a vital emergency support service. Now, Harry's fleet of dozens of ambulances, and his specially trained crews, help save hundreds of lives each year.

Harry's plan for a better ambulance company actually started the night he was being rushed to the hospital with a serious injury. He thought the vehicle should be better equipped and the attendants more capable.

At Michigan National, we think it's smart to help people like Harry. Smart for business. Smart for the communities we serve.

We grow by helping the businesses in our communities grow. And it's people like Harry Hryczek, of Dearborn, who give us that opportunity.

Jeff Bridges is Jack Forrester, a newspaper publisher and editor accused of murdering his wife, an heiress, in "Jagged Edge."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Fascinating people are the characters in 'Jagged Edge'

Critics usually consider themselves the ones to recommend films for others' viewing pleasure. If you happen to enjoy the film, then you'll be convinced the critic is a good one.

Not so this time. Everyone's been telling me I just had to see "Jagged Edge" — so, despite the role reversal, I went to see it. While everyone was quite correct, it is entertaining and worth seeing, it doesn't hold up to the rave notices as much as one might wish.

The "Jagged Edge" is the serrated blade of a hunting knife used to brutally slay wealthy San Francisco newspaper publisher Page Forrester (Maria Mayenzet), and her maid, as the film opens. The "Jagged Edge" is also the psychological borderline that weaves and wanders between the interesting characters who populate the film. The politically ambitious district attorney, Thomas Krasny (Peter Coyote), sees the opportunity to grandstand a sensational case and run for the Senate.

SUSPICION FALLS on Page's husband and editor-in-chief, Jack (Jeff Bridges). For Krasny's political ambitions that is just perfect, particularly since Jack Forrester's editorials have been highly critical of Krasny's management and tactics in the District Attorney's Office.

The Krasny-Forrester borderline is complemented and triangulated when Forrester's law firm convinces one of its attorneys, a former Krasny assistant D.A., Teddy Barnes (Glenn Close), to return to criminal practice and defend Jack.

Barnes' complicated and jagged psychological reactions to the assignment involve her great distaste for Krasny and his questionable tactics, her guilt for the outcome of the last case she had tried with him and her own slightly disordered personal life.

That personal life includes two conventionally cute kids, played with satisfying restraint by Brandon Call as young son David and Christina Hutter as daughter Jenny. Teddy's divorce from hubby Matthew (Guy Boyd) is so amicable that one has to wonder if the only reason they divorced was to meet the needs of plot complications.

In any event, Teddy takes the case in spite of her avowed distaste for criminal practice. Her investigations convince her that Jack is innocent and that the D.A., whom she despises, is out to get an enemy and advance his own career.

"JAGGED EDGE" has plenty of emotional tension, suspense and excitement induced through good use of film techniques — subjective cameras, darkly lit, shadowed images, appropriately creepy music, and too much gruesome gore. Those images, however, along with Matthew Leontetti's fine photography of San Francisco, make the film a worthwhile entertainment.

There are some excellent roles that flesh out this picture. John Dehner strikes just the right note as Judge Carrigan. His court-room demeanor and his personal interaction is warm, human and just. Robert Loggia is Teddy Barnes' personal friend, confidant and private investigator. His tough, no-nonsense approach and brash, outspoken manner keep the film moving. His tag line, as the film closes, alone is worth the price of admission.

Unfortunately, Glenn Close mugs when she should be acting and neither Jeff Bridges nor Peter Coyote ring true. In that latter case, it's difficult to tell whether the acting or writing weakens the story and the role of D.A. Krasny.

No doubt such venal villains inhabit the halls of power, but I'll bet anything that such characters are much more devious than Krasny. His edges were obviously jagged. Not only didn't he do his homework, he didn't appear to try. There is also some question whether the circumstantial evidence he presented to the court was sufficient to have Forrester bound over for trial.

In spite of all that, San Francisco devotees will appreciate the scenery. Mystery/suspense fans and courtroom drama addicts, too, will enjoy the tension and suspense of the "Jagged Edge."

Peter Coyote is District Attorney Tom Krasny, who finds himself pitted against Glenn Close, his former assistant attorney, now the defense lawyer for Forrester.

Ordinary family is good drama

Performances of the Actors Alliance Theatre Company production of "The Subject Was Roses" by Frank D. Gilroy continue through Saturday, Nov. 23, at 30800 Evergreen in Southfield. For ticket information call 842-1326.

By Cathie Breidenbach
special writer

The Actor's Alliance Theatre Company's fine production of Frank Gilroy's "The Subject Was Roses" reminds us that a good play doesn't need an earthquake happening at its center.

"The Subject Was Roses" is a 20-year-old play about nothing more spectacular than an ordinary middle-class family from the Bronx sorting through its troubles. The Clearys (father, mother and son) just come from duty in World War II, lack the flamboyant glamour of the Ewing clan, and their problems don't blaze across headlines or head up chapters in sociology books about the latest form of domestic abuse or sexual deviation.

Yet "The Subject Was Roses" won drama's triple crown in 1965 — the Pulitzer Prize, the New York Drama Critics Award for the Best Play and the Tony Award.

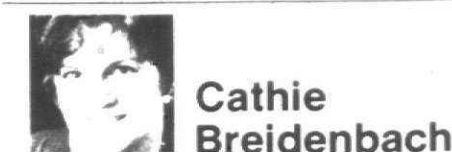

Gilroy stakes out a narrow turf as his subject — the inept communication between three people in a family, and within the confines of that domestic circle he creates a tight play with masterful dialogue and subtle characters whose roots go deep.

TOLSTOY SAID, "All happy families resemble one another, but each unhappy family is unhappy in its own way." So it is with the unhappy Clearys, and Gilroy plumbs their intricate troubles to create three distinct and memorable characters.

Director Jeff Nahan is up to the challenge of casting John, Nettie and Timmy Cleary.

The play opens when the family is coming down from a party celebrating Timmy's safe return from the war. Before he's been home even a day, old tensions begin to surface. There's John and Nettie's willed marriage, an arrangement riddled with suppressed anger and unsatisfying to both, but nevertheless bound to continue by genuine caring and by memories of how it once was between them.

Timmy takes up his old position in the family triangle as his parents' jockey for his time and allegiance. Henry

Cathie Breidenbach

Bennett as Timmy shows his acting skill best when Timmy resorts to drink because he can't handle the tensions.

Nobody comes to a present moment without the baggage of the past passing judgment or making demands on the present. Part of what makes "Roses" a mature play is the expert way Gilroy gives each character a past that impinges on the present. Henrietta Hermin turns in a solid, admirable performance as the ladylike Nettie who married John for his high Irish energy so unlike that of her refined father, then laments ever after that John isn't more like her father. Such are the convoluted ironies that have the ring of truth in "Roses."

CARL KNEISELY as the temperamental father, John Cleary, keeps tension on its toes and masters the dynamics of his character in an exceptional performance. John Cleary is a moody, self-made man trying to curb his natural dominance to let his son become adult.

The Actors Alliance Company stages productions in the gym of the Lyceum International. Despite the difficulty keeping the gym has the advantages of dramatic flexibility. Artistic Director Jeff Nahan stages plays in the round or in the three quarters, according to what best suits each production.

No matter what the staging, the audience can count on sitting close to the action and sometimes virtually in it. Even the farthest seat in the house is the equivalent of third row prime seats in a traditional theater.

The seating creates an intimacy impossible for larger theaters to duplicate. In "Roses" the tight scope of the three-character play seems made for the flexible staging and the intimate seating that Actors Alliance does so well.

Falcons drop Chiefs, Aiken rebreaks leg

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Football can be a cruel game. Witness Farmington's 23-0 victory against Plymouth Canton Saturday.

On the Falcon sidelines stood senior Jim Laird, the unquestionable leader of the Farmington team. He was on crutches. His leg was broken last week against North Farmington. Saturday was his last chance to play football in front of the home crowd.

"Look at that, they are running right at my position," Laird said during the game. "I hate just standing here."

On the Canton side there was even more heartbreak. The Chiefs No. 1 quarterback, Tony Aiken, broke his leg in the season opener at North Farmington. He made his return Saturday.

On the Chiefs' fourth offensive series, Aiken rebroke his leg. While the doctors put his leg in an air cast, the talented senior, who had waited three years for his chance to run the Canton offense, broke down and cried.

football

"THE TEAM felt bad for Tony," said Canton coach Richard Barr. "He came back to us and really added a spark. He wanted to play so bad. We all feel terrible about what happened."

Aiken's injury hurt more than feelings — it hurt Canton's chances to win the football game.

The Chiefs trailed 3-0 by virtue of a 30-yard Bruce Kraft field goal at the time of the injury and had pushed the ball into Farmington territory.

The normal backup quarterback

John McKimmy (No. 31) found very little running room during Saturday's 23-0 loss at Farmington.

Patriots subdue Salem, defense 'overpowering'

A blitzing Livonia Franklin defense and a potent option rushing offense proved more than Plymouth Salem could handle Friday in a 22-8 Patriot win at Salem.

"The key was their defense," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "We couldn't handle it. They blitzed their linebackers all night, and we had trouble picking them up. They overpowered us."

Another overpowering force for Franklin was back Brad Norrid, who carried 15 times for 155 yards and scored two touchdowns.

The Patriots (3-5) scored in the opening quarter on John Vondal's 3-yard run and Bob Solnikowski's placement. Norrid made it 13-0 with a 30-yard run in the second quarter.

A 23-YARD Solnikowski field goal put Franklin ahead 16-0 in the third quarter, and Norrid scampered 16 yards in the fourth for the final Patriot score.

Salem (2-6) got its only touchdown on a 6-yard pass from Brian Tiller to Chris Hill early in the fourth quarter. Ron Piwko's two-point conversion run halved Franklin's lead, pulling the Rocks to within a touchdown at 16-8.

Franklin gained 261 yards offensively to 99 for Salem. Salem gained 106 yards rushing, but was dropped for 33 yards in losses by the Patriots blitzing linebackers for a net of only 73 ground yards.

Chiefs inch closer to divisional crown

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It's just about time for Plymouth Canton to make room in its trophy case — the Chiefs are ready to clinch the Western Lakes Western Division girls basketball title.

The Chiefs, with their 43-38 victory against Livonia Churchill Thursday night, led the division by four games with four games left to play.

But second-place Churchill didn't succumb without a spirited fight.

The Chargers (7-5 in the league, 8-5 overall) trailed Canton 39-24 with four minutes left in the game when coach Roger Springsteen switched from zone defense to man-to-man.

The switch helped Churchill outscore Canton 14-4 down the stretch to make a ballgame out of what looked to be a rout.

"WE PLAYED with good intensity at the end," Springsteen said. "If we had played that way throughout the game we might have won."

Amy Weber scored 12 of her game-high 19 points in that stretch, including eight consecutive free throws.

Fouls played a huge role. By the end of the game, three Canton starters had fouled out: Laura Darby (gone at the beginning of the fourth quarter), Penny Piggett (gone with 4:18 left) and Beth Frigge (gone with 30 seconds left).

Canton was also without starting forward Vicky Perko, who missed the game with an illness.

"Not having Vicky really hurt," said Canton coach Rob Neu. "Our big people were getting in foul trouble, and we had to replace them with guards and that's really hard to do."

All three fouled-out Chiefs had been instrumental in building Canton's lead. Darby led the Chiefs in scoring with 11 points despite only playing half the game. Piggett was a force on defense blocking six shots. She also added eight points. Frigge scored eight points and spearheaded Canton's offense.

"We just played out of sight in that half, didn't we," Neu said. "The girls seem to carry over our practices into the games. That second quarter looked just like all the X's and O's we draw up in practice."

Springsteen was equally impressed: "You have to give Canton credit. They played outstanding defense against us and took us away from what we wanted to do."

Jackie Wozniak played a solid game for Churchill, scoring 10 points. Canton is 14-1 on the season, 11-1 in the Western Lakes.

Salem 33, STEVENSON 27: A win is a win, but you had best believe Plymouth Salem breathed a loud sigh of relief when this game ended.

Livonia Stevenson, winners of only four games in 15 tries this season, took the Rocks Division-leading Rocks down to the wire Thursday night.

"We got some great scoring opportunities early but the ball wouldn't fall," said Salem coach Fred Thoman. "And Stevenson came ready to play. But we got the job done."

Salem forged a six-point lead in the fourth quarter, then went into its delay game. Stevenson got as close as three in the final minutes.

Dena Head led Salem with 19 points.

Stevenson got a 12-point night out of Kelly Kowalski and another 10 from Sue Zatorski.

The Rocks are 11-1 in the Western Lakes and 12-3 overall.

Mercy wins at the buzzer

Larry Baker is smiling again. The personable Farmington Hills Mercy basketball coach has done the long face much of this season while his team took turns being brilliant and bad.

But Thursday night's dramatic, come-from-behind 45-44 win against Harper Woods Regina put Baker a bit more at ease.

"Regina came at us with relentless pressure," Baker said. "We earned our spurs. We showed a lot of character in the final 50 seconds. This could be a turning point in our season."

Mercy led by nine going into the final quarter, but Regina rattled off 13 straight points to go up 44-40 with 50 seconds left to play.

Yvette Mason drained two free throws to tie the Marlin with a basket. Regina gave the ball back and Mercy's Terri Naolka tied the game with a power layup with 35 seconds left.

Terri Ford intelligently stopped a sure Regina layup with a foul that sent her to the bench with five. She was replaced by Margaret DeMatta.

With 28 seconds left, Baker called a timeout to cool the Regina foul shooter. The move was successful. The foul shot was missed.

With seven seconds left, Baker huddled with his troops and set up the final play.

Michelle Fryatt drove to the basket, but her shot circled the rim and fell out. DeMatta, in perfect position, rebounded the miss and scored the winning basket.

Mason led the Marlin with 12 points and Missy Duczynski, despite foul trouble, added nine.

Jodie Majcherzak led Regina (3-5 in the Catholic League, 6-8 overall) with 17.

Mercy is 7-1 in the league, 11-3 overall.

N. FARMINGTON 43, JOHN GLENN 40: Raider coach Greg Grodzicki has said all along that his team may not win the league title but they had better not be taken for granted.

Westland John Glenn bore the brunt of that Thursday night.

Glenn led North 40-39 with 29 seconds left. Sandy Spahn scored on a pretty, out-of-bounds play to put North up by a point. Glenn missed its next shot.

Heather McPhillips then salted the win away by calmly sinking a pair of free throws with one second left.

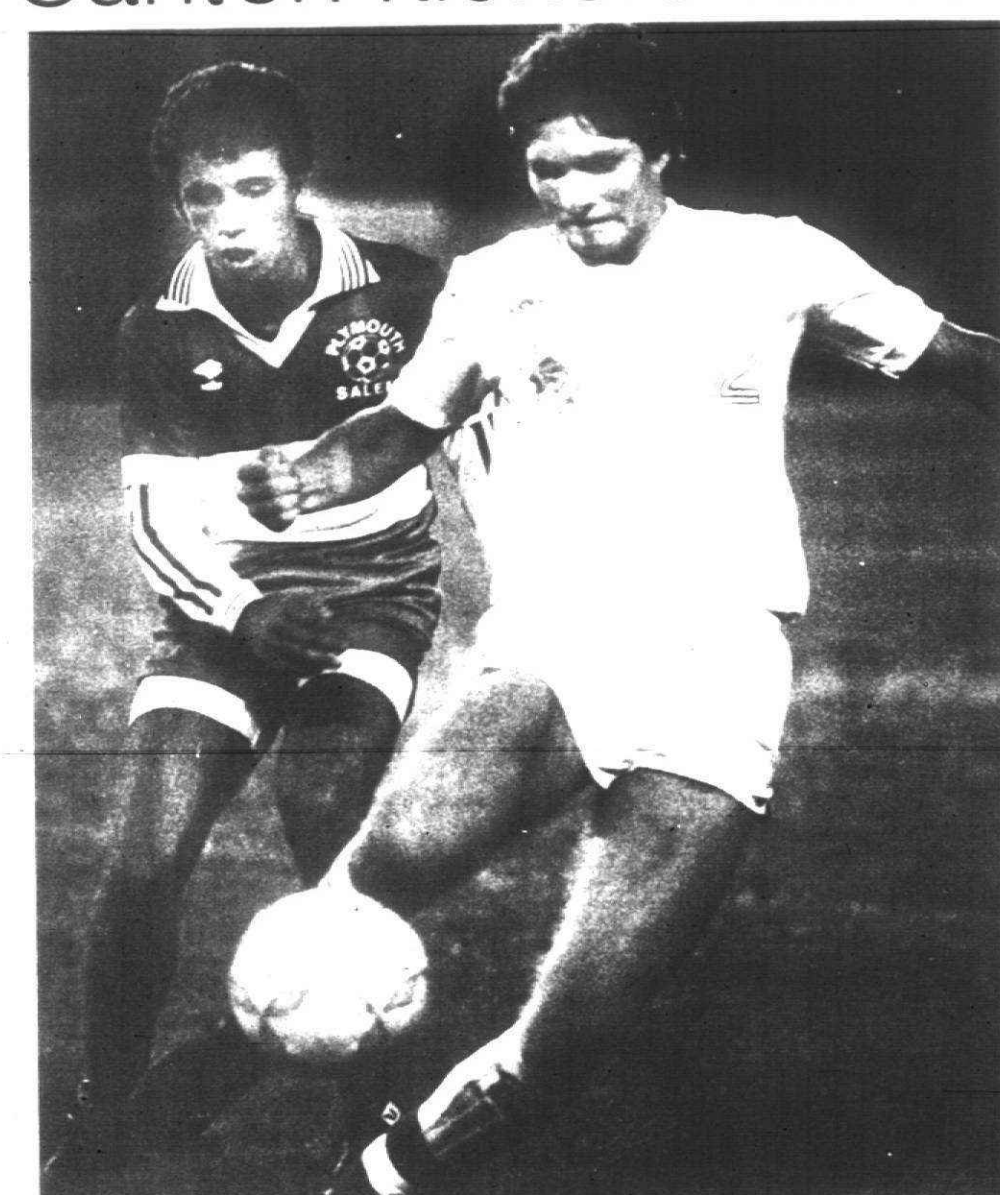

"Sandy's only basket of the game turned out to be the game-winner," Grodzicki said. "I had a lot of confidence in her on that play."

McPhillips led North with 15 points. Senior Nancy Cotran added 14. But Glenn's leading scorer Jenny Okon was limited to six points by the North defense.

North is 7-5 in the league, 9-5 overall.

W.L. CENTRAL 52, FARMINGTON 41: A 16-4, second-quarter surge gave Walled Lake Central just enough cushion to outlast Farmington Thursday.

Canton kickers fall to Churchill

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Last week brought bad tidings to the Canton and Salem soccer teams. Above, Canton's Greg Houston kicks one away from Salem's Ted Hanosh.

Although Livonia Stevenson had wrapped up first place in the Western Lakes Soccer League, second place was still at stake early last week — until Wednesday.

That's when Livonia Churchill wrapped up the runner-up spot with a 3-1 triumph over visiting Plymouth Canton.

"It was a closely played game," said Churchill coach John Neff, whose team is 12-4-1. "It was anybody's game. I'm just happy we won because Canton beat us the first time. But they're always tough and well schooled."

Churchill led 1-0 at halftime on Jim Chendes' goal from Dave Rea.

The Chargers made it 2-0 on Torin Gniwew's goal from Brian O'Leary, but Canton closed the gap to 2-1 before Churchill's Khaled Zeidan put the game out of reach on a pass from Steve Galindo.

Churchill, meanwhile, still has two league games remaining, but the Chargers 10-3-1 league record will not be challenged. Plymouth Salem, the league's third place team, closed out its regular season Thursday at 7-4-5 after a 2-2 tie with North Farmington.

Canton, the league's fourth place team, fell to 14-7-1 overall with the loss.

STEVENSON 5, HARRISON 0: Livonia Stevenson finished league play at 15-0-2 with an easy Western Lakes win at Farmington Harrison.

The Spartans goal scorers included John Mikkelsen, Karl Bach, Christian Amborg, Peter Galea and Dave Henratty.

Stevenson coach Pete Scerri has now won nine league titles.

SALEM 2, N. FARMINGTON 2: Jim Ragland took a cross from Jeff Juliano with just two minutes to go, giving North Farmington (7-8-3) a tie Thursday at Plymouth Salem (10-5-5) in a Western Lakes bruiser.

The goal came after a fracas broke out between the two teams.

Zac Beim scored North's other goal.

Mike Tanner and Ebon Nash had the Salem goals.

North coach Cathy Cole saluted the play of goalie Dennis McCarthy and her forward line.

Early in the first half, North missed a penalty kick.

FARMINGTON 4, FRANKLIN 2: The Falcons evened their overall record at 7-7-2 behind Jerry Potter's hat trick Thursday against visiting Livonia Franklin (5-13-1).

Dave Fraunheim assisted on two Farmington scores. The other goal was scored by Chris Hickman.

Bill Adams scored both Franklin goals. Dave Dominato, Mike Kryger, James Albanice and Rich Hutchman drew assists.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 3, PIONEER 2 (OT): Vitas Rugienius' goal from Craig Thiel in the first overtime carried Redford Catholic Central (14-2-3) to a thrilling regional semifinal win Wednesday over Ann Arbor Pioneer (13-5-2) in a game played at Northville High.

Western Lakes crowns new champ: John Glenn

By Brad Emons
staff writer

football

In the victorious Westland John Glenn locker room, sounds from a portable tape player blared out Bruce Springsteen's "Glory Days."

It was a song and a night of football that coach Chuck Gordon, his staff and players may remember for quite some time.

Glenn, taking advantage of 244-yard running performance by Tony Boles, captured its first Western Lakes Activities Association title with a stirring 28-7 victory Friday night over two-time defending champion Farmington Harrison.

"That was a good football team we beat," Gordon told his players afterwards. "And they (Harrison) showed a lot of class."

GORDON, WHOSE team is unbeaten in eight games, also emphasized the importance of this week's game against crooktown rival Wayne Memorial for the city title.

"This was a big victory because we won the league," Gordon said. "But the other thing it does give us a chance to get into the state playoffs."

"We're in control of our own destiny," Boles, the 6-foot-2, 194-pound senior was at his finest for the big league showdown.

He broke a school record with a 92-yard TD run to give Glenn a 12-0 lead after one quarter and then help set up Glenn's final touchdown in the fourth quarter, carrying 10 times for 79 yards, capped by quarterback Steve Irwin's 2-yard sneak.

"Somebody said that he (Boles) couldn't run inside that ball," said Harrison coach John Herrington. "He's a great back."

ON GLENN'S final TD drive, Boles, helped by his offensive line, carried tacklers and made moves that coaches just don't teach.

"Tony played his finest game at John Glenn," Gordon said. "I hear the talk about him not running inside, but I don't know where it comes from."

"He had good speed since he got here and he's improved."

There were other Glenn heroes as well.

The Rockets' defense made a goal-line stand midway through the first quarter, stopping Harrison's all-purpose back Brian Smolinski on third down at the 1 and quarterback Mike Mack's sneak on fourth down.

"Smo" said he thought he was in, but his coaches said he didn't get in on the fourth down, Herrington said. "It took our momentum away, but that sounds like sour grapes. But it didn't matter, Glenn was the better team."

GLENN'S FIRST TD came as a result of a Harrison miscue as defensive back Bill Grismar picked off a pass and raced 80 yards (also a school record) at the 916 mark.

Glenn scored another TD at the outset of the second quarter when Irwin found Mike Hammontrone wide open for a 28-yard scoring strike with 7:28 left in the half. Two plays earlier, Glenn picked up 27 yards when Irwin's pass, intended for Grismar, was tipped by a Harrison defender and fell into the hands of Rick Hasson. (After the score, Boles ran for the two-pointer to make it 20-0).

"I thought it might not be our night when the light came (Hasson) got that ball," said Herrington.

HARRISON, HOWEVER, marched down the field on its next series, only to have Hammontrone recover Mack's fumble on the 3.

Glenn, leading 20-0, took the ball to open the second half, but Harrison's Sean Norton picked off an Irwin flea flicker pass at the 50.

Seven plays later, Harrison got on the board when Mack hit Rod Sarveich with a 12-yard TD pass and Todd Marshke added the extra point to make it 20-7.

Irwin was then intercepted on Glenn's next series by linebacker Todd Gardner at the Rockets' 44.

But Harrison couldn't score as Glenn's Paul Pomeroy sacked Mack for a 10-yard loss back to the 40.

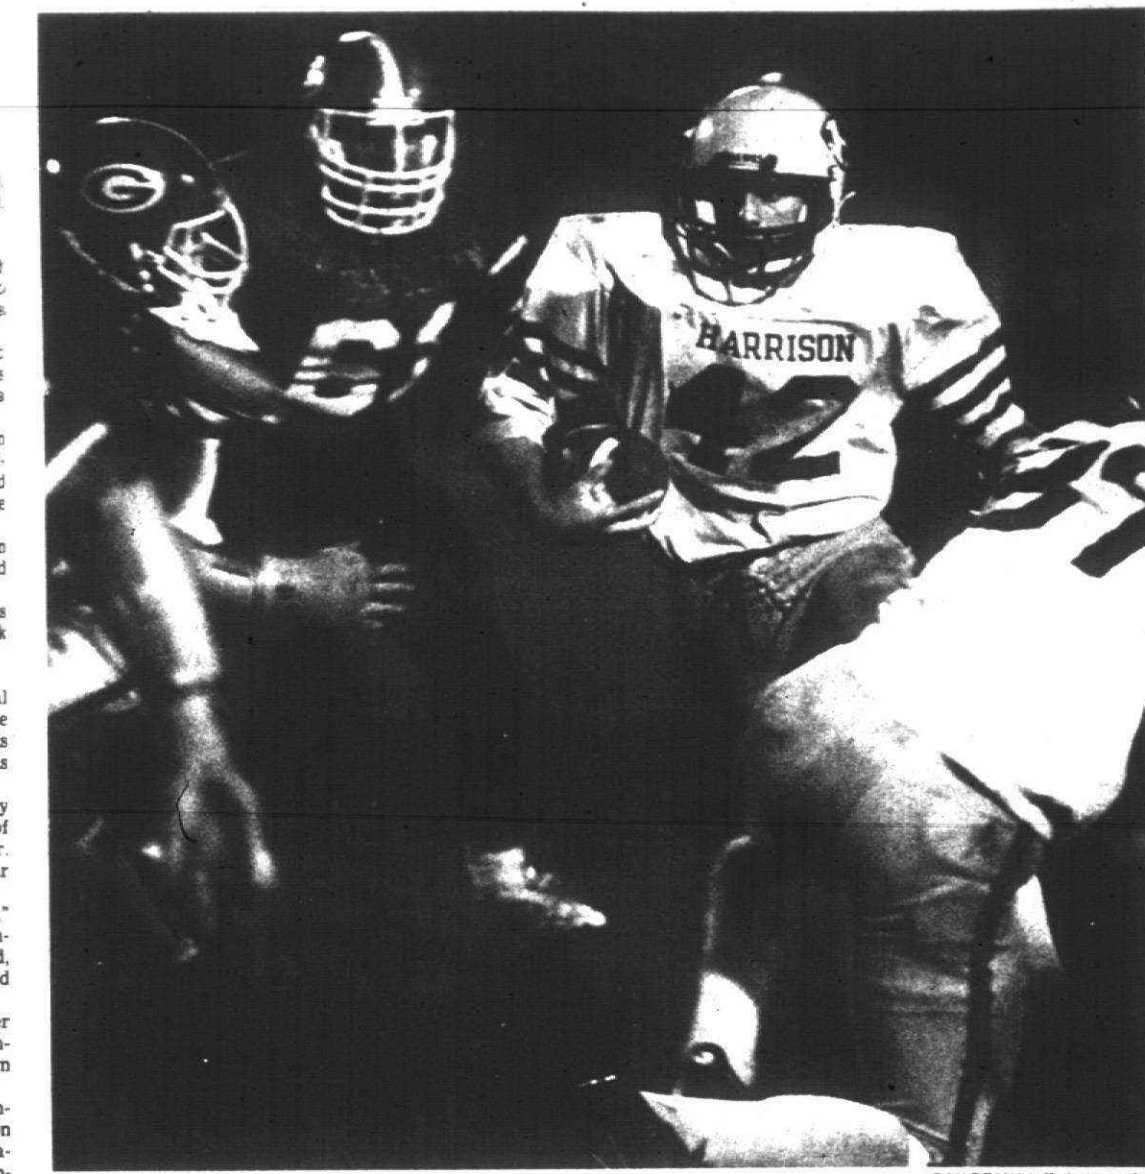

HARRISON'S ONLY other real chance to score was dashed early in the final quarter when Grismar made his second interception of the night at his own 11.

Harrison moved the ball effectively behind the running and pass catching of Smolinski, the 5-10, 155-pound senior. He rushed for 79 yards and made four aerobic catches for 85 yards.

"Smolinski did what we thought," said Gordon. "You're not going to completely stop him. We knew he was good, but we didn't know he was great. And he's a class guy to boot."

With the dangerous Smolinski ever lurking, Gordon said "I never felt comfortable until that last touchdown drive."

But Herrington couldn't feel comfortable either as long as Boles was on the field. His 24 yards brought his season total to 1,107, breaking Todd Jennings' school record of 1,071 set in 1982.

Harrison's Brian Smolinski had a big game Friday but he couldn't prevent his team from falling to Glenn in the Western Lakes championship.

HALLOWEEN FUN WITH CANDY DECORATED COOKIES

As the end of October draws near, thoughts turn to pumpkins, black cats, ghosts and goblins. Halloween, that well-loved celebration that's practically synonymous with candy and parties, gives children and adults alike carte blanche to dress in costume and have good old-fashioned fun.

Little do most people know that the light-hearted customs of feasting and visiting came from ancient New Year's festivals in Wales, Ireland, Scotland and Brittany. October 31st was the Celts' New Year's Eve, when evil spirits were supposed to wander back to their homes. To appease them, villagers would greet these spirits with a banquet. Afterwards, the villagers, disguised in costumes for protection, marched to the edge of town to lead the visiting spirits away.

Today, we present candy to friends and family as gestures of friendship at Halloween. One such fun project for adults and children is making Jumbo Halloween Cookies decorated with candy.

Parents simply cut stencils of ghosts, pumpkins, witches, cats and other holiday symbols out of stiff cardboard. These are then placed on sugar cookie dough to guide in cutting shapes. After baking and frosting with melted chocolate bars or ornamental icing, kids can decorate the cookies with an assortment of confections such as candy corn, licorice, gum drops and jelly beans.

While in days gone by people would use costumes and torches to remain safe from "evil spirits" on this special night, today parents and children are encouraged to observe safety rules from The National Safety Council and the National Confectioners Association to make sure Halloween is enjoyable for all.

It's best to put reflector tape on light-colored children's costumes and to keep clothes short enough to prevent tripping. Choose face masks that let kids see well. Young children need to have an adult with them when they go door-to-door, and older ones should be alerted to watch for cars, stay close to home and carry a flashlight in case it's dark when they return.

It's especially important to remind children to be careful about where they walk and how they cross streets. Excitement can lead to hasty darts between cars instead of crossing at street corners. Tell them to always stay on the sidewalk and to look in all directions before crossing an intersection. Remind them to walk—not run—and to watch for cars backing out of driveways.

Once back at home, adults should check candy and make sure it's properly wrapped before allowing children to eat it. Then it's time to decorate the Jumbo Halloween cookies, snack on collected treats and play games. Time-tested activities include pinning the tail on the donkey and bobbing for apples. Fruit juices or milk are welcome beverages to go with the food and festivities.

With plenty of candy, a few precautions and an evening of enjoyable activities, Halloween can be a wonderful time for togetherness, as well as safe and fun for all.

JUMBO HALLOWEEN COOKIES

- 6 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 large egg
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2/3 cup milk
- Milk chocolate candy bars
- Assorted candies for decoration

In a large bowl stir flour, baking powder and salt together. In another large bowl cream butter and sugar together; beat in egg until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk until combined. Cover dough and chill 2 hours. To make cookie patterns, cut Halloween shapes from light weight cardboard. Each shape should be between 5 and 7 inches tall.

Divide dough into four equal portions. On a lightly floured board with a lightly floured rolling pin, roll out one portion of the dough at a time to approximately 3/8-inch thickness. Using the cardboard patterns as guides, cut out cookies with the point of a sharp knife or use Halloween shaped cookie cutters. With a metal spatula, carefully transfer cookies to lightly greased baking sheets. Bake in a preheated 350°F. oven 10 to 12 minutes or until cookies are lightly browned around the edges. Remove to wire racks to cool. When completely cool, frost with Decorator Frosting*. Melt milk chocolate candy bars (6 to 8 ounces) in the top of a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. Apply chocolate to cookies using a small spatula. Decorate with assorted candies.

Yield: Approximately 3 dozen cookies.

*DECORATOR FROSTING

- 2 1/2 to 3 cups confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 2 egg whites
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- Assorted food colors

In a medium bowl stir together confectioners' sugar and cream of tartar; add egg whites and vanilla. Beat with a electric mixer or wooden spoon until frosting holds its shape. Cover surface of frosting with a damp cloth when not in use to prevent crusting. Divide frosting into small portions and tint with food coloring, as desired. Spread a thin layer of frosting on each cookie with a small flexible spatula. Decorate immediately with candies, pressing candies gently into the frosting. Allow cookies to dry on wire racks. Store in airtight containers at room temperature. Do not refrigerate.

Enjoy a literary banquet, but don't copy Romans

The history of food is everywhere intertwined with the history of civilization. The foods that were eaten, the ways in which they were prepared, and how they were served are directly related to the social milieu from which they arose.

The decadence of ancient Rome expresses itself through the gross overindulgences of the Roman banquet, which featured extravagant amounts of food and almost unbelievable waste. Ostentatious, for instance, were considered a delicacy, however, they were the only part of the bird that was eaten. Peacocks were another Roman favorite; these ancient gastronomes had no compunction about killing a bird so beautiful to satisfy their palates.

Other ages were equally ostentatious in their own way. Medieval lords, eager to flaunt their wealth, would liberally flavor the meats they served to guests with doses of the many spices all costly — which they had procured from the distant Orient.

A HARMONY of flavors was a distinctly secondary concern of primary interest was making sure that those people who visited them recognized just how rich they were.

And the 19th-century Roman nobility — denying their provincialism — set themselves apart by affecting a French style. They spoke to each other in French, called each other by French names and served each other elaborate French dinners.

Their culinary preferences were a direct reflection of their social circumstances, and social circumstances are an important — though often unwritten — facet of history.

How then do we glean the sort of information that brings these ages to life far more surely and dramatically than details of battles, royal successions and scientific inventions?

Frequently, the medium is the literature of the period, and it is the consummate skill of the novelist that captures for future ages the mundane details of his time.

Often, these mundane details encompass the arena of the dining table. Our knowledge of Roman banquets derives largely from such works as the "Satyricon" of Petronius Arbiter.

AND SHAKESPEARE is a source of information regarding herbs, spices and other culinary items popular during the Elizabethan period.

No one has painted the dining habits of the 19th-century French bourgeoisie with the care and exactitude of Gustave Flaubert, in "Madame Bovary."

And, of course, the most famous culinary event in literature occurs in "Swann's Way," the first volume of Marcel Proust's monumental achievement, "Remembrance of Things Past."

when the young Marcel dips a maderine (a lemon-scented cake) into a cup of tea, tastes it, and is rewarded with a kaleidoscopic and overwhelming vision of events long past — a vision whose recounting occupies a sizable portion of the novel.

A fascination with the interplay between literature and food is the premise for an unusual cookbook entitled "The Literary Gourmet: Menus from Masterpieces" (Harmony Books) by Linda Wolfe, which was first published in 1962 and recently reissued.

IN IT, Wolfe combines history, literature and culinary in an intricate and always interesting fashion, taking the reader on a Grand Tour of food through the realm of literature from antiquity to the present.

Wolfe allows the great writers who have been her inspiration to speak for themselves, quoting sizable portions from the appropriate works.

Her voice appears to introduce the works, the recipes and the periods, with lucid explanations, which always enhance, never detract.

Her guiding influence is also apparent in the menus that she has devised, using the literature as a guide.

Recipes for each dish of every menu are included. These were adapted in the kitchen of the world-renowned Four Seasons Restaurant in New York by the late Albert Stockli.

As a finishing touch, Mimi Sheraton, at that time an aspiring food writer, acted as consultant to The Four Seasons, and did much of the nuts-and-bolts work of researching and testing that the recipes required.

The recipes themselves range from Red Potage de Lentils, the food for which Esau sold his birthright in the Old Testament, to biscuits (Southern style), a recipe inspired by a John Steinbeck story entitled "Breakfast."

IN BETWEEN are tantalizing tastes of the pulse of your community.

of many of the classics of literature. A Roman banquet based on passages from Horace's "Satires" includes such unlikely dishes as Lamprey with Shrimp Sauce, Blackbirds and Figs, and Cranes. The recipes themselves are updated versions of authentic originals (an approach that has been maintained wherever possible throughout the book).

In this case, the source is probably the oldest extant cookbook, "The Art of Cooking" by the Roman writer Apicius, who compiled it in the first-century A.D.

In a later chapter, the earthenness of Chaucer's England is captured in such recipes as Bake Meat Pie of Fish, Bake Meat Pie of Fish and Sauces with Stung, adapted from a 15th-century volume entitled "A Noble Boke of Cookery."

The literary source is the description in the prologue to "The Canterbury Tales" of the Franklin as an epicurean who "was never short of baked meats."

more than counterbalanced by the sensuous fare enjoyed by that unfortunate lady, Emma Bovary.

Flaubert has the lovely Emma dine upon such extravagant fare as Truffles and Quails, during her fairytale immersion in the world of wealth and glamour at a Marquis's ball.

Wolfe offers us adaptations of some of the foods Emma feasted upon at the Marquis's chateau, recipes for truffles, compote of quails and other seductive dishes are updated from a pair of 19th-century French cookbooks.

HENRY JAMES creates an American version and viewpoint of French cuisine in his classic novel, "The Ambassadors," in which the innocent and naiveive with the new world is challenged by the sophistication and subtlety of the old. The result is that both are irrevocably changed, and preceptions are enriched.

More appropriate then, that the recipe for Omelette aux Tomates, a tomato omelette enjoyed by James' American protagonist, Lambert Strether, and the enchanting and ambiguous Frenchwoman, Madame de Vionnet, should be adapted from a 19th-century cookbook entitled "French Cookery for American Homes."

No book on food and literature would be complete without the Christmas dinner at Bob Cratchit's house, which is recounted in Dickens' immortal "A Christmas Carol."

Thus, the reader can join the Cratchit family and Ebenezer Scrooge, who has recognized the error of his miserly ways, for a meal of roast goose with sage and onion stuffing, gravy, apple sauce and Christmas pudding.

The literary inspiration for the menu is Austen's novel "Emma," the culinary source is the "The Young Woman's Companion," published in 1813.

1 tbs. melted butter
1/4 pound butter

Peel very ripe tomatoes (plunge them into boiling water for an instant, the peel will come off easily); cut them in halves, take out the seeds, slice them. Put 2 tablespoons of butter in a stewpan, place the tomatoes with salt, pepper, and let them cook gently until all moisture has disappeared, add a little chopped chives.

Now break the eggs season with salt, pepper, and 1 tablespoon of melted butter, beat up for an instant. Dissolve in (a 12-inch) omelette pan 1/4 pound of butter; pour the eggs into this pan, tilt the pan toward yourself, keeping the omelette spread over only half of it, and taking an oval form (as edges set, pull them toward center of omelette and let raw egg run under); when it has taken color and substance on the one side, tilt the pan in the opposite direction, turn the omelette over with a palette knife (spatula); give it a nice color on the other side, turn it into a hot dish, make an incision lengthwise in the omelette, pour into this opening the tomato mixture.
