Dinner for 2: It'll be love at first sight

The tradition of Valentine's Day is centuries old. Heartsand cupid-decorated cards, flowers and chocolate are typical expressions of affection, but this year, why not show your Valentine your love by preparing this special meal?

The first course in this Valentine's special is a glamorous grapefruit-cherry soup, served either hot or cold, swirled with a dollop of cream fraiche. The cherries enhance the citrus and vice versa; it will be dazzling in white, unpatterned chi-

Roast Pork Tenderloin with Green Peppercorn Sauce is an elegant entree. Served with sliced pineapple and steamed spinach, it's sure to please the discriminating palate. And the Parslied New Potatoes are a fresh and colorful accompaniment to the roast pork.

Single parents get survival advice

THEN LESLIE Charles talked about "risks, setting goals and taking positive action steps," to an audience of single parents recently at Schoolcraft College, she was more than a dynamic speaker who punctuated her talk with humorous anecdotes. She was a powerful "voice of experi- you could do if you wanted to.

no problem relating to Charles - or FOR ONE THING, Charles immediately broke with tradition - that of delivering her address from the podium and using a prepared text.

Instead, she stepped toward the audience of 50 single parents and began her address by declaring that she was "not going to talk on the assigned title, 'Let the Rest of Your Life Be the Best of "I'm going to be more personal," she said with a big grin that immediately endeared her to the audience. I want to give as much of myself as can," she said. "I know it's not the an education. way I usuallly start my talks, but I want to make this as special as I can."

GETTING PERSONAL meant diyulging her own background a pregnant 16-year-old high school junior, she dropped out of high school to marry, by 20, she had three children; at 25 her marriage ended and she was left with three small children, a 10th-grade education, no work experience and no visible means of support.

Within 10 years, she gained an education and valuable work experience, then founded her Lansing-based consulting firm, Trainingworks Inc. Her Professional Development Series for Women, a series of one-day seminars, is in its fifth year. In 1984, she was named Career Woman of the Year by the Lansing Association of Career "I can identify as a single parent

"To risk failure is to risk growth," she said. "Don't be afraid of failing. Be afraid of not trying. "Please believe these words when I tell you that I am a totally different erson today than I was 20 years ago." Back then, she continued, she was "totally disorganized and couldn't take the responsibility for myself. I thought someone should be helping me.'

She recalled "moaning about the fact that I'd be 40 years by the time I got ny college degree." A friend reminded her: "Look at this way, you're going to be 40 regardless." Being without goals, she said, is like traveling without a map.

She encouraged setting one-, twoand five-year goals. "After five years, it becomes too nebulous." What's absolutely the worst thing that could happen to you if you didn't reach your goals?"she asked. Someone in the audience answered: Throwing them away and making new TO REACH YOUR goals, she cau-

the movies

Greenberg

Woody Allen pays a glorious tribute to New York City

to invent him. "Hannah and Her Sisters," (PG-13). Allen's latest paean to life and love in Manhattan, has a greater virtue than love and New York. It travels beyond the Hudson by telling the timeless tale of how hard it is to be human - and how much fun.

Hannah (Mia Farrow) presides as a saintly, modern, upbear earth-mother of a rather complex family establishment whose nexus is the Thanksgiving dinner. She and her two sisters, Lee (Barbara Hershey) and Holly (Dianne Wiest), suffer, and benefit, from the rich, albeit complicated and tortured heritage of their theatrical parents, Margaret O'Sullivan (Farrow's natural mother

Much of the film was shot in Farrow's New York apartment with seven of the eight children appearing being her offspring. New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital, the RCA Building, the Waldorf Astoria, Bellevue, the Metropolitan Opera and one of lower Manhattan's most famous punk rock clubs (CBGB's) provide the background for Allen's love affair with New York and, more important with so rich a life that you don't have to like New York or

The complications in Hannah's life include her ex-husband Mickey (Allen), a television director with a number of personality crises, not the least of which is whether or not life is worth living, in other words, vintage Allen with a gestalt of angst that would drive Freud to analysis

Fortunately, this time, the distress is restrained, pleasant, hurous and warmly reminiscent of all the terrors of the night when each of us wonders what we're doing here.

HANNAH'S SECOND husband, Elliott (Michael Caine), a sucessful financial advisor, develops an uncontrollable lust for her sister Lee who is living with Frederick (Max Von Sydow), an older fellow, a painter who is teaching her all about life while himself

While that affair progresses, Hamah is supporting sister Holly's cocaine habit, and other assorted follies, not the least of which is a catering business with partner and friend April (Carrie Fisher). beating her out of men and the parts for which they audition.

Holly claims she only wants theatrical success, like her parents and like Hannah, who has successfully resurrected her theatrical

The film's rich tapestry flows smoothly and clearly. If nothing else, and there is much more, Allen tells an easily understoo tory, no matter how complicated its description may seem. The story has a great deal of New York ambience, but its greater value ies in warm, rich interpersonal relationships of the very human characters who people writer-director Allen's world, and everyone

The cast is about as accomplished as any you'll see, and what iderable acting talent provides under Allen's direction i an ensemble presentation of really nice folks going about the difficult business of living. There are moments when the realism has a seemingly rough, unpolished quality that is actually quite refined and sophisticated, providing a sense of peeking in on life as it actually is lived.

Carlo Di Palma's photography is diffused to just the right level with rich earth colors so that "Hannah and Her Sisters" is filled with rich images of life's fecundity and a happy nostalgia for a non-existent romantic world that we would all like to think is going on, right now, but somewhere else, of course.

IF YOU HAVE a bone in your body over 25, or an ear that doesn't live for rock noise, you will love the soundtrack with Count Basie, Harry James, Rodgers and Hart, Johnny Mercer, Sammy Cahn, Jimmy Van Heusen, Jerome Kern, Cole Porter, J.S. Bach and other lesser-known musical lights.

If you guessed that I loved the movie, you're quite right. I bet

Yoody Allen, as Hannah's ex-husband, Mickey, makes a call

Cast excels but play falls short

Performances of the Meadow Brook Theatre production of "84 Charing Cross Road" by Helene Hanff, adaped by James Roose-Evans, continue through Sunday, Feb. 23, on the Oak-and University campus in Rochester Hills.

"84 Charing Cross Road" really isn't a play. It is an intriguing character study of Helene Hanff, an American writer with a fetish for old books and a forthright, witty way of expressing herself in letters. The Meadow Brook production does well by this collection of letters that never quite makes it as a play despite an expert cast and fine staging.

The script is entirely structured around reading letters aloud - some 20 years of trans-Alantic corespondence in the guise of book orders between Hanff and a stiffly correct seller of antique books n London, one Frank Doel

Director David Regal skillfully handles the constantly shifting focus of the action from the New York side of the stage to the London side at 84 -Charing Cross Road, offices of Marks & Co. Book-

Action in the "play" is inconsequential. Except or Hanff shuffling from typewriter to bookshelf to scruffy sofa, she doesn't really do anything much except talk. Thank heavens, Jeanne Arnold as Helene talks well, because the entire play depends on hooking the audience with the wit and intelligence of her personality. Arnold pulls it off partly ecause she's so adept at bringing out every nuance of humor in the letters, which change hardly at all over the years spanned by the play.

HER HELENE is a big, frizzy-haired spinster with a robust way of talking that belies the loneliness of her life. Her friends, for the most part, are the great minds of history - from Roman historians through the 18th-century poets and essavists That's not bad company, except for the fact that they're all long dead. She spends her days alone, cranking out Ellery Queen scripts and docu-dramas for television and schlepping around her one-room New York apartment in baggy slacks and tennis shoes or robe and slippers. She reads and cherishes books and writes letters to Frank Doel.

On his side of the Atlantic, the action is scarcely nore dramatic. People move from desk to bookshelf and back again, occasionally making the little bell jingle when they go out the door.

Doel is supposed to be a terribly English fellow, estrained and proper but underneath a basic good hap. Will Love, as Frank, comes off as a good chap although he doesn't sound terribly English. The bookshop people (Barbara Barringer, Liz Zweifler, Eric Johnson, Paul Hopper and Wayne David Parker) tell bits and pieces of what's going on in their ives as they move books around in the charming bookshop set, which is brighter and airier than the

ing us care about the plebian lives of the nice people who work in the bookshop during the years of Helene's and Frank's correspondence. Still, it must be a challenge making a play out of an autobiographical character sketch that was better off as a

This is an old-fashioned play, older even than the timely mentions of Churchill and the coronation of Elizabeth II or Ellery Queen mysteries on early

Those not hooked on books may find the play tedius because every letter centers on Frank's and Helen's shared love of fine leather-bound editions of classic literature. Helene spends an inordinate nount of time clutching one book or another to her breast and rapsodizing about it. What's more the books are all classics - old classics.

Modern playgoers who cut their teeth on television and think Hemingway is a classic writer are bound to miss many references. To Helene, Hemingway is an upstart who borrowed the title "For Whom the Bell Tolls" from her favorite genrus

Rocks hit stride in victory

Plymouth Salem volleyball coach Betty Smith has been trying to tell her team all year that they had the ability to be successful. Maybe after Wednesday night the team will be-

The Rocks put all the pieces together and knocked off talented Walled Lake Central 15-11, 12-15, 15-8 in a Western Lakes home match.

"Walled Lake didn't play at their best," Smith said. "Their middle hitter was out of the lineup. But we played good besides that. I think we would have won either way.

Smith adjusted her lineup slightly, inserting Jessica Handley as the primary setter and freeing Lisa Madis to attack. The move brought mixed results at first.

"We confused ourselves at first," Smith said. "Jess and Lisa weren't confused, the rest of the team was. It was a little shaky for a while.

Things began to jell in game three. Tied 7-7, Salem assumed command.

Handley's passes were on the mark and hitters Madis (nine kills) and Leanne Becker (eight kills) took full advantage of them.

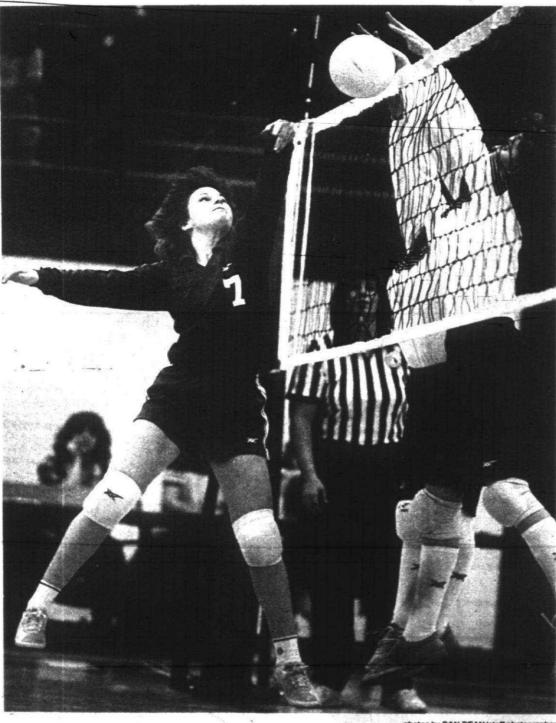

THE ROCKS also got a big boost throughout the match from Kelli Theard. She was successful on 19 of 20 serves with three aces.

"The last couple of weeks we've been getting progressively better," Smith said. "Early in the season we had some internal problems - that was really strange since the girls are all pretty close friends. But, we had a big team meeting right before our tournament and ironed out the problems. Things have been getting better since then. We may be peaking at the right time.

The Rocks are 4-5 in the Western Lakes and out of contention for the Lakes Division title. But, for the first time, the Western Lakes champ will be decided by a league tournament.

Salem is hoping to make some noise at that tourney Saturday, Feb.

The Rocks are 4-10 overall this sea-

Free throws save Salem

Plymouth Salem offset a second-half Livonia Stevenson comeback with free throws, canning 15 of 21 in the fourth quarter to beat the homecourt Spartans 69-66 Friday

The win improved Salem's record to 8-7 overall and 7-5 in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA).

Mike Hale ignited the Rocks with 21 oints, including 13-of-17 free throws. Paul Makara added 15 and Dave Collins had 10.

"We got the ball inside and they were fouling us," said Salem coach Bob Bro-

The Rocks started fast, rolling to a 23-17 lead after one quarter and building that to a 39-29 lead by the half. But Stevenson trimmed the deficit to three with a 16-9 third-quarter surge.

"They got hot," said Brodie. "Everybody was hitting for them, and we came down at the other end and couldn't score. We were getting our shots, they just weren't falling."

Stevenson managed to go in front 53-51 in the early moments of the fourth quarter, but Salem regained the lead and never trailed again. Chip Finneran topped the Spartans with 22 points. Jim Kimble had 11 and Dan Palmisano and Jeff Gibbons added 10 each.

Salem hit 37 of 37 free throws in the game to 14 of 23 for Stevenson

CANTON 67, CHURCHILL 60: There was no stopping Plymouth Canton in the second half, which overcame a 21-6 first-quarter deficit to upend visiting Livonia Churchill Friday.

"We talked about out defense and our offense," was Canton coach Tom Niemi's description of his halftime talk, "We had a meeting of the minds, Joel Mies and Tyrone Reeves got the message for the Chiefs. Mies popped in nine points and Reeves added eight in a 21-12 third-quarter rally. That cut Churchill's lead to 46-44 entering the fourth quarter, and that melted away underneath a 23-14 surge.

Mies and Reeves got 17 each for Canton (8-7 overall and 7-5 in the WLAA). Jeff Lyle contributed 12 and 10 rebounds and Roger Trice had nine points and eight rebounds.

Mickey Katschor paced Churchill with 14 points. Ken Gendjar and Brad Wylie chipped in 10 apiece

Paul Makara scored 15 points for Salem Friday.

HURON VALLEY LUTH. 76, PLY CHRIST. 64: Plymouth Christian's 11 game unbeaten streak came to a 'foul' end Friday at Huron Valley Lutheran.

Five Eagles - four starters and the top reserve - fouled out, forcing coach Jeff Cook to finish the game with just four players on the court.

Huron Valley executed better than we did," said Cook, whose team fell into a tie for first in the Michigan Independent Athletic Association at 9-1 with Troy Oakland Christian. "We made a lot of turnovers - the most we've had in a game in two years.

"I told our guys we can't do anything about it. It's over. Let's pick up the pieces and go from there."

Plymouth Christian (11-1 overall) which beat Huron Valley by 16 last month, led 15-13 after one quarter. But Huron Valley rallied to take a fourpoint halftime lead (32-28) and a 50-39 edge after three periods.

Rod Windle paced Plymouth Christian with 17 points. Pat McCarthy had 14 and 18 rebounds and Jim McCarthy

Tony Mitchell's 22 points was best for Huron Valley. Eric Huetter added

Boles to U-M, Nash goes west

By Brad Emons staff writer

Tony Boles confirmed Thursday what everybody pretty much knew all

The All-State running back from Westland John Glenn verbally committed Thursday to the University of Michigan. He will sign a national letter-ofintent Wednesday with the Fiesta Bowl champions.

Boles expressed his desire to stay in the state and was leaning toward U-M as early as last fall.

Meanwhile, another area blue chipper, Redford Catholic Central tackle Dan Nash, rated the top lineman in the state, will attend Stanford in Palo Alto Calif.

Nash, a 6-foot-4, 235-pound two-way tackle, made just one visit, Jan. 17-19, to Stanford and cancelled scheduled trips to Notre Dame and Michigan. He verbally committed to Cardinal coach Jack Elway on Jan. 24. Boles, who helped Glenn reach the state playoffs, rushed for 1,526 yards and 17 touchdowns this year.

MICHIGAN STATE also made a strong pitch for the 6-2, 195-pound but Boles chose coach Bo Schembechler and his staff.

"Nothing in particular made me choose U-M," Boles said. "Bo came out to the school to talk to me a couple of times. He's a nice guy to talk to. He motivates you, and he makes you like

"I'm glad the pressure (of recruiting) is over. It was getting on my nerves, especially State. They were really recruiting me hard — coming to school all the time and coming to my (basketball) games."

backs. The Wolverines have also received commitments from Warren DeLaSalle's Allen Jefferson and an allstate running back from Ohio. Southfield's All-Stater Torin Dorn is also considering Michigan.

"When Tony was going through the recruiting process, he didn't care who was going where," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said. "His whole decision was based on where he felt comfortable and that was at U-M. The fact that Lorenzo White (a junior All-American running back) was at MSU had no effect on his

NASH, WHO HAS a 3.94 grade-point average at CC, said he chose Stanford because of its strong academic program. He plans to major in engineering.

"The toughest part was going away from home, but I thought a lot about it," Nash said. "The advantages outweighed the disadvantages.

"The first time I was on campus, the coaches and players had a positive attitude. They were a bunch of winners. I wanted to go there since last year."
Two of Nash's talented teammates at CC, Nick Varajon and Ken Wandzel, made commitments last month and will sign Wednesday with Toledo and Michigan State, respectively.

Other expected area signings include Farmington Harrison wide receiver Brian Smolinski (with MSU) and Glenn tackle Don Croft (with Ferris State).
