Bike path suspect drops alibis, confesses

Morey confessed this week to four of six sexual assault attacks on the I-275 bike path in Canton and Van Buren townships

Appeal to follow murder conviction

Dr. Charles Fisher has been found guilty of first-degree murder in the 1984 death of his wife who suffocated after her head was wrapped with duct

The jury deliberated for 21/2 days before delivering the verdict Monday morning following a weekend break The trial began Dec. 5.

In a surprise move, Wayne Circuit Judge Claudia House Morcom allowed Fisher to go free on 10 percent of $250,000 or $25,000 until sentencing March 26. The mandatory sentence for first-degree murder is life in prison.

AT THE TIME of the attack Fisher worked as a microbiologist at Veteran's Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor. His wife, Ella Maria Mercado-Fisher, 31, worked as a nurse at Chelsea Community Hospital.

"I was shocked that he was not remanded after the jury came back with the conviction of first degree murder." said Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Doug Baker "That's just unheard according to defense attorney Dan Bur-

After the verdict was read in court Fisher told Judge Morcom that he was innocent. "He said he did not do it, and was not involved in any manner," Burress said. In a case based on circumstantial evidence, Baker convinced the jury of nine women and three men that Fisher planned a scheme that left his wife unconscious in their Thornwood home July 15, 1984, and concocted a burglary story as his cover. The murder was Fisher's final attempt to stop Mercado-Fisher from taking a trip to Germany July 17, 1984, to visit her cousin Javier

FISHER KNEW THE TRIP would mark the end of their marriage because Mercado-Fisher told her parents Clara and Manuel Mercado, that when she returned she would file for divorce.

Manuel Mercado testified that Fisher believed the cousins were having an affair. He said Hortato was a bad influence and was involved with communist politics. Fisher pleaded for help in stopping his wife from taking the trip, Manuel Mercado testified. At the time Manuel Mercado supported his son-in-law, and was to call his daughter July 15, 1984, in an effort to prevent the trip.

Instead, that morning he received a call from Fisher saving his daughter was in a coma, from which she never regained consciousness. Mercado-Fisher died July 20, 1984, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor after life support systems were removed.

Fisher said he and his wife were rob bery victims. He reported to Canton Police that the couple's truck and his wallet were stolen. However, police noted nothing else in the home was taken and the residence wasn't ransacked.

Baker maintained Fisher planned the attack and might have hoped to save her at the last minute to appear to be her protector, gain her approval and nix the trip to Germany. But Fisher waited too long to call for help because he wanted to give his accomplices who took the truck time to get away. Baker told the jury.

After his wife's death Fisher created facade of grief, Baker said. The mourning was cut short. Baker added, when Fisher placed a companion advertisement in the Detroit Free Press less than one month after his wife died

He asked for responses from white, Hispanic or Oriental women who would a "friend, wife or possible lover. Marguerite Mary Orosz answered the ad and the two talked about marrying a month later, Baker said.

To Manuel and Evelyn Mercado the first-degree murder verdict against their son-in-law brings justice to the painful memory of their daughter's death, which she seemed to predict in

The jury's decision marked the end a long battle initiated by Manuel Mercado who prompted the Canton Police to arrest Dr. Charles Fisher for killing Ella Maria Mercado-Fisher

'I feel a terrible pain from seeing Mr. Fisher tried but I still think he is guilty, and he has to pay for taking the life of another human being," Manuel and obsession with stopping his wife Mercado said Monday, after the verdict was delivered. "What made me unhappy was that the judge let him go free until the sentencing. I'm surprised and unsatisfied with that. I think Mr Fisher should start paying for his crime immediately.

THE MERCADOS said they are left to deal with aching anxieties about not seeing hidden clues that Fisher was planning to kill their daughter.

'Now that it's all over we say why we believe him " said Evelun cado, who saved letters written to them by Fisher. The letters referred to marital problems and Fisher's jealousies from filing for divorce. They proved to be vital evidence prompting police to seek a first-degree murder warrant against Fisher

Before the attack, Fisher pleaded by telephone and through letters to Manuel Mercado for help in saving his mar-riage. At the time Mercado supported son-in-law and tried to help. Mercado-Fisher was planning a trip to Germany to visit her cousin, with whom Fisher thought she was having an af-

Fisher asked his in-laws to destroy the letters and not to tell Mercado-Fisher what he wrote "Because he told us to destroy them, kept them," Evelyn Mercado said.

Jumaneh Judeh of Westland: "We may be starting to play the game later than others, but we're playing catch-up.

Arab Americans seek political clout

After a daylong convention in Southfield, many Arab Americans have May 27 circled on their calendars. It's the deadline for filing petitions to run for precinct delegate in the Democratic and Repub lican primaries.

"We're not involved in either party as a collective group," said Jumana Judeh, who lives in Westland and chairs the Arab American Democratic Federation. "We seek one voice that will speak in both parties. We put on this conference to get in the political mainstream.

Significantly, many speakers at the Arab American Institute gathering were from other ethnic groups - black, Italian, Hispanic. Judeh spelled "BUILDING TIES." The theme came out repeatedly as ethnic leaders, professional politicians and a top lobbyist addressed nearly 100 Arab Americans in the Michigan Inn.

"It's no secret Arab Americans have been on the sidelines for a long time," said Isa Hasan, who lives in Livonia, runs a pharmacy in Dearborn and is national chairman of the 5,000-member Arab American Republican Federation. "We could have a very decisive input into our state government."

City eyes grant plans

A funding boost in public services and fire emergency services is expected to continue as the city of Plymouth's three-year plan to spend federal grant funds goes to the city commission March 3 for second-year approval.

Leading contenders on the wish list are a sewer tie-in to the pumphouse overlooking Wilcox Lake in the Old Village area, now used as an Old Village Association office; tables and chairs for the senior center, replacement of old, unsafe playground equipment at Starkweather School, continued planting of trees in the Old Village area; and expansion of the Neighborhood Watch

Death penalty wrongs us all

N 1846, MICHIGAN became the first English-speaking jurisdiction in the world to abolish the death penalty. Since then, most of the Western developed world has ollowed our lead. We believe the death penalty should no more be introduced now than slavery, child labor, or denying women a vote - rules in force in 1846. We sympathize deeply with the victims of violent crime Violence and murder are as ancient as the human family Since Cain slew Abel, the blood of countless victims has cried out to the Lord. Our hearts cry out, too, because we believe life is a sacred gift. The whole human community grieves with the family and friends of the victim. What can be done to make things right? Those who violate life must be held accountable, and the human community demands that justice be done.

Extending death to another circle of family and friends, however, by means of execution does not make anything right. How does another funeral, another bereaved family, another death, make anything right?

THE DEATH penalty only wrongs us all. The death penalty is wrong because it claims innocent lives Michigan abolished the death sentence after it found that an innocent man had been hung, across the river in Windsor, On-

All human systems are fallible, unreliable for such ultimate decisions as death. According to a recent ACLU study, at least 343 innocent people have been convicted of a capital crime since 1900; 25 innocent people have been executed. The death penalty is wrong because it is used in an arbitrary, discriminatory and unfair way. Most who are on Death Row are defendants who are too poor to afford experienced,

Likewise, the death penalty is inequitably administered in relation to race. According to a study of homicides from 1976 to 1980, an individual is seven times more likely to receive a death sentence if the victim is white than if the victim is black.

The death penalty is wrong because it fails to deter violent crime. Since about three-fourths of all murders involve family members or close acquaintances who are killed out of anger or passion, the threat of the electric chair has little effect on these spontaneous, unpremeditated acts. On the other hand, premeditated murders are committed by people who do not expect to be caught. They are no more deterred by the death penalty than they would be by life imprisonment

THE DEATH penalty is wrong, finally, because it diverts our attention from the real needs of victims' families, and from what might truly improve our society.

If we have the death penalty, it will make people believe something is being done about crime when in fact nothing is being done about crime when in fact nothing is being done except expending enormous sums of money that will divert precious resources and attention away from dealing with the common cancerous crimes of car thefts, breaking and entering, mugging, rape and armed robbery. We are alarmed by the widening cycles of violence in our society. To all who are asked to take a stand in the current petition drive or, if need be, in the general election, we have one message: Say no to death.

Religious Leaders Against the Death Penalty is an interfaith, interracial statewide organization committed to opposing the introduction of death as a penalty in Michigan. You can learn more by writing:

Fear of death deters crime

We hear a lot of debate both pro and con on the subject of capital punishment and deterrence. In the most recent landmark case from the U.S. Supreme Court dealing with capital punishment (Gregg vs. Georgia). Justice Potter Stewart, writing with the majority, made the following observation "Although some of the studies suggest that the death penalty may not function as a significantly greater deterrent than lesser penalties, there is no convincing empirical evidence either supporting or refuting this view. We may nevertheless assume safely that there are murderers, such as those who act in passion, for whom the threat of death has little or no deterrent effect. But for many others, the death penalty undoubted-

My opponents in this newspaper debate will claim there are no reputable studies supporting the proposition of deterrence from capital punishment. What they really should be saying is that there are no studies that they choose to accept

JUSTICE DEMANDS capital punishment Even if it could be convincingly demonstrated that there is no deterrence with capital punishment, there would still be a need for that penalty on the basis that justice demands it.

The U.S. Supreme Court, again in the case of Gregg vs. Georgia, touched on this argument most persuasively. Justice

"Indeed the decision that capital punishment may be the appropriate sanction in extreme cases is an expression of the communities' belief that certain crimes are themselves so grievous an affront of humanity that the only adequate response may be the penalty of death."

There must be justice in the criminal justice system for the crime of first-degree murder; capital punishment is a just punishment for that offense. It is a punishment that fits the

If it is true in America that we stigmatize criminal conduct by the penalty we associate with it, then to stigmatize the heinous crime of cold-blooded murder we must have a punishment of sufficient severity.

AN ENGLISHMAN by the name of Sir James Stephan put it in proper perspective when he said, "The reason murder is ered so dreadful a crime is that we hang murderers." I choose to define capital punishment in terms of justice, Bu when the U.S. Supreme Court justices discuss capital punishment in their many opinions, they always refer to it as an act of "retribution." The Supreme Court says you must have punishment in the criminal justice system; if you do not, the system and respect for it breaks down. In support of that last statement, one need look no further than the following quotation from Furman vs. Georgia:

The instinct for retribution is part of the nature of man. and channeling that instinct in the administration of criminal justice serves an important purpose in promoting the stability of a society governed by law. When people begin to believe that organized society is unwilling or unable to impose upon criminal offenders the punishment they deserve then there are sown the seeds of anarchy, or self-help, vigilante justice and lynch - L. Fine print on credit statements tell true story

Young couples buying a house are paying double-digit interest rates. The business credit picture is still bad enough that small businesses are lobbying in Lansing for new kinds of financing mechanisms. It bugs me, then, to receive - unsolicit-

Third, it charges interest at the rate of 18 percent per year if the card holder doesn't pay off in full at the first billing. Fourth, it charges interest on cash advances, also at 18 percent.

SOME OF the foregoing gems of information come from the fine print on the back of my lone credit card statement. And it really is fine print. It's in blue, rather than easy-to-read, conventional

This statement of "terms and conditions" is printed 120 characters to the line. That's triple the number of characters you'll find in a newspaper column. The type is small.

The idea, of course, is that we're not supposed to read it. The credit card of the UAW and generally a believer in the company is relying on our gullibility.

It's better business, I guess, to zap a credit card customer with an annual fee and South Dakota interest rate charges than to loan a young couple money for a house when they might have a lawyer along to examine the mortgage contract.

House KOs health programs were recorded on major roll-call votes dur-ing the week ending Feb. 21.

U.S. HOUSE

HEALTH PROGRAMS - By a vote of 254 for and 151 against, the House failed to achieve a two-thirds majority needed to pass a bill to continue categorical grant funding of health centers in selected areas.

The bill (HR 2418) would have authorized $893 million over two years for community health centers in areas lacking adequate medical care and for migrant health centers to serve seasonal workers. Most people qualifying qualify for Medicaid.

The big issue was use of categorical grants rather than a block grant to states. The Reagan Administrationhas pushed a block grant approach calling for states and localities to determining how funds will be

Opponent Trent Lott, R-Miss., noted that the administration opposed the bill because it didn't use the block grant approach.

Members voting yes, for the bill, were: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, William Ford, D-Taylor, Sander Levin, D-Southfield, Broomfield, F-Birmingham.

SENATE

MARCOS - By a vote of 85 for and nine against, the Senate adopted a resolution comdemning as fraudulent President Ferdinand Marcos' claim that he won the recent electin in the Philipines.

GENOCIDE TREATY - By a vote of 83. for and 11 against, the Senate ratified a treaty declaring genocide an international crime.

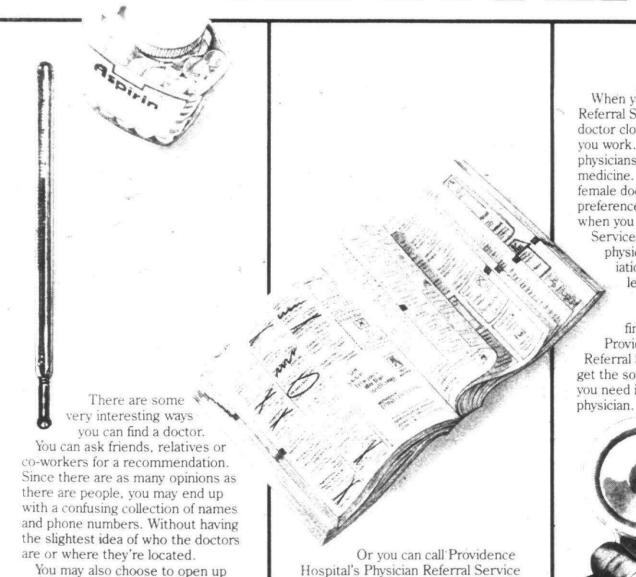

The United States signed the Genocide Convention in 1948, but the Senate had refused until this vote to approve it. Some 97 nations, including the Soviet Union, now formally support the treaty.

Supporter William Proxmire, D-Wis., who over the years delivered 3,000 floor speeches in behalf of the treaty, listed as among its leading foes "the John Birch So-ciety, Phyllis Shafly's Eagle Forum, the Liberty Lobby and a few other far-out extreme fringe groups."

Opponent Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said the Senate should withhold a vote until Ambassador Philip Habib returned from the Philippines to report to the White House on the situation there. "We should give our president an opportunity to review all the facts," he said.

Fairbanks is keeping busy these days taking care of the two female and five male puppies. The puppies were sired by Champion Brush Creek A-Capella Chang, from North Carolina.

In addition to the puppies, Fairbanks cares for their mother, Chi Ling Lee, and another adult dog, Su Yen Ling, who is Chi Ling Lee's daughter. Su Yen Ling is 14 months old; Chi Ling Lee will be 3 years old this summer

The stocky, extremely wrinkled Shar-Pei descend from an animal that guarded the tombs in ancient China. They were nearly extinct several years ago when breeders began efforts to increase the numbers of Shar-Pei.

But alas and hurray! Now is the time for all good committees to burst forth and say "So what do you think?"

I wish I could tell you I have reached, or we have reached, a decision, but it seems the more we look, the more we need to know. So for now, I must step back and resist the tempta tion to tell all.

It has not been easy, as you might well know if you know anything about me. I love to tell news, and to be the first with it - what a coup! But that would be irresponsible on my part, and could sway your opinion one way or the other if I were to feed you bits and pieces along the way.

Mad March brings cage turmoil to a boil

I don't like it when people change things. In particular, I don't like it when people change things to something I don't like. I thought we had something good going here Two leagues in the suburban communities we cover were growing into monsters. These two beasts swallowed up smaller leagues, throwing smaller bites back and absorbing those they deemed worthy.

The Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA), which encompasses 12 schools in Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Canton, Walled Lake and Northville, and the Metro Suburban Activities Association (MSAA), which numbers eight schools from Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Troy, Rochester, Southfield and Royal Oak, were the demons

They lurked behind only Detroit's Catholic League and Public School League in power, which I figured was great. Now we'll have some real action, especially in one of my favorite months of MARCH. To some it may herald spring, with flowers blooming as warmer weather thaws the frozen tundra. They view March as a time for love and peace, tranquility and serenity.

Ha, ha, ha. That kind of definition must come from someone living south of Toledo. I still remember snow swirling around Jack Morris in last April's Tiger opener. If you believe spring will arrive sometime soon, then I have an investment you'd be interested in - a luxury hotel in Beirut

March is just what it implies. The month's name is derived from Mars, the ancient Roman god of war. Is the message clear? Expect nothing pleasant in the 31 days that lie ahead

March is turmoil. Battles waged, vengeance sought, conquests savored.

IT'S NO MERE accident that March is tournament time in sports. Emotions run at a fever pitch, with people impatiently, anxiously awaiting warmer weather. The tension builds through bleak February days until it reaches critical levels by March

So how do you relieve it? You have a "Tournament - 1. a trial of skill in some game in which competitors play a series of contests; 2. a meeting for contests in a variety of sports, as between teams of different nations; 3. History: a. a ceremonial contest or martial sport in which mounted and armored combatants fought with blunted weapons; b. a series of knightly contests held at one time and place."

I didn't write that. It's in the Random House College Dictionary. But I believe it, especially the historical part. I can just see knights of medieval times waiting, waiting, waiting in their cold, drafty castles until the snow melted, then climbing into their suits of armor and riding off to the season's first tournament.

HAS IT CHANGED so much? Not really. Basketballs have replaced blunted lances, that's March tournaments still provide a release for pent-up frustrations, built through months of tortuous indoor training. All teams practice through winter's cold, dreary months with March in mind. More exactly, they practice for the tournament.

Of course, for some teams winning the state tournament is as farfetched as winning the lottery. It's a million-to-one shot. But long odds have never kept anybody from buying into the lottery, and they won't stop an athlete from believing that, if everything breaks just right, he could stake a claim to a state title.

That's what angers me. I thought that by creating two huge leagues like the WLAA and the MSAA, we'd be in for some real tournament fun. Let's face it: Everyone qualifies for the state basketball tournament, but only four teams out of more than 600 finish the season with a win.

The answer is to have more tournaments. Sure, it's nice to play a dozen (or more) games and finish on top in the league, but that can't compare to the drama, the appeal of a tournament

THE WLAA had a great one in basketball, with all but the last place teams in each division qualifying. But when more schools were added, the format was changed. Now there's only one playoff game, with the first-place teams in each division playing each other, second place against second place, etc.

That's not a real tournament. It's got to be a series of games, so the drama has a chance to snowball

Here I was hoping the MSAA would follow suit. Once adopted, the format might spread to other tournament-less sports.

I suppose administrators figure too much of a good thing makes it not so good. I disagree. Heck, I cover two basketball games in a day, then go home and watch a couple more on TV, and it hasn't hurt me much (ahem).

Tournaments aren't only good, they're a necessity this time of year. How else can you defuse a potentially serious situation by releasing all those suppressed frustrations? If a team can make a good showing in a tournament, the frustrations will pour out — for both the athletes

Fewer tournaments mean fewer releases. Which could mean more trouble. It's that simple Pretty convincing argument, isn't it? If you believe it, send letters of endorsement — cash or money orders will also be accepted - to me at the Basketball Detoxification Center at Northville State Hospital. These people think

It is the final league meet for coach Kathi Kinsella and senior Beth Rafail.

"This team and I, we kind of grew up together," said Kinsella, who will head west to San Diego after the season to pursue a job at any one of six gymnastics clubs in the city.

"Beth and I have a lot in common in this meet," she said. "We both know it's our last shot and we want to go out

The success of the Salem program is indisputably tied to Kinsella and Rafail. Kinsella took over the program five years ago. The team was 1-19 the first two seasons.

Enter Rafail. In her sophomore year, Salem was 8-2. Last year, the team was 9-2. The team will enter Thursday's meet with a 10-2 mark.

THE FINAL goal for the Rocks, and the eight other teams in the Western Lakes, is to knock off perennial champs North Farmington. The Raiders have won eight straight league titles.

Last year, the Raiders got a scare from Walled Lake Western. This year, both Salem and Farmington Harrison are nipping at the heels of the Raiders.

"It's going to be a very close meet," said North coach Mary Glitz. "It'll be the best league meet around. It'll come down to balance beam. There are so many falls on beam, the team that hits on beam will probably win the meet."

All three teams have earned team scores in excess of 130 points - that in itself is rather impressive. Salem held the highest score in the area throughout much of the season with a 133.85

HOWEVER, THE talented triumvi rate will each take some problems into Thursday's meet.

Plymouth Salem's Jackie Huff, its No. 2 all-around performer, broke her toe last Friday. Kinsella expects her to compete Thursday but is unsure of her "I know Jackie. She'll go out there and she'll be in great pain. But she won't do a half-hearted job. She'll go all out," Kinsella said. "But it'll be tough our chances are getting dimmer by the minute. Our kids won't give up but you can only be kicked so many times." Rafail, a 34.85 all-arounder, and

The "Mo and Bow Show" was a no go Wednesday night.

That's what fans are fond of calling Delta Community College's mens basketball team. And usually with good reason.

The duo of Jon Bow (pronounced Bo) and Mo Steward are pretty tough to handle. For example, they combined for 43 points against Schoolcraft College in DCC's opening-round victory in the Eastern Conference playoffs Monday. That got them to Oakland Community College Wednesday night, but the Raiders didn't allow any repeat performances. In fact, Mo never even got started, and when Bow did, it was far too little, too late. OCC's zone defense overwhelmed DCC to claim an 83-64 triumph.

The victory catapulted the Raiders (18-3) into the conference semifinals Friday at Kalamazoo Valley CC against an opponent to be determined.

The difference in the game was defense. When OCC pressured, the Pioneers panicked and coughed up the ball. They had 31 turnovers in the game to 18 for the Raiders.

Defensively, we kind of matched up with them a bit," said OCC coach Fred Thomann. Thomann has assumed the head-coaching duties for Tom McPhillips, who has left the team for medical reasons

THAT WAS a defensive surprise. Not that a Thomann-coached team was so extraordinary defen-- while coaching Plymouth Salem, his teams have always excelled at that end of the court. But OCC dominated with a zone. Thomann has always been a disciple of man-to-man defense.

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FLASHBACK

During the 1st weekend in March of 1983, Plymouth Salem beat Livonia Stevenson 67-70 to capture the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) title at Salem. The triumph made the Rocks the first-ever WLAA basketball champions. Both Stevenson and Salem came into the contest with 17-2 overall records and 14-1 league marks. The only WLAA losses on their records came in games against each other. "What it came down to was our eight against their five," said Rock coach Fred Thomann. "It seems everyone we went to on the bench contributed." John Cohen scored 16 points, all in the last two quarters, Dave Houle had 15, Marvin Zurek scored 11, and Glenn Medalle and Matt Broderick netted 10 apiece.

Rockets, Hawks ready to blastoff

By Chris McCosky

If you are planning on checking out the Western Lakes championship basketball game at Farmington Harrison Friday night, make sure your neck muscles are good and loose - they are likely to get a serious workout. West and John Glenn and Farming on Harr:son play basketball at only

"John Glenn has so many weapons, farrison coach Mike Teachman said. When they run the break, it doesn't natter who gets the ball."

So, will the Hawks attempt to run with the Rockets? "Oh, you bet we will. We will run with anybody," Teachman said.

And what about Glenn's strategy? "We will have to try and slow down Ha.rison's break," Glenn coach Gor

he Davis said. "But it could very well be a track meet BOTH TEAMS wrapped up their division titles early and have been anxiously biding time waiting for Friday's showdown. The wait has taken Harrison stormed through its first 4 games without a loss and had the Vestern Division wrapped up after 12 league games. Then the Hawks lost back-to-back games to Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton before defeating Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western. Glenn began the season slowly, losing four of its first seven games inluding a 64-59 loss to Harrison Dec But, with four games left in the Western Lakes regular season, the Rockets had clinched the Lakes Divifor all season long." Davis said WHERE THE Hawks, with the exception of one bad week, have been quite consistent this season, the Rockets were one team before Christmas and another since.

"We're playing better as a team. Davis said. "We were inexperienced coming in, and we were making a lot mistakes that we aren't making now. Where we were really having trouble was protecting leads. When we lost to Harrison, we led by eight points going into the last quarter. We lacked poise to hang on - we're beter in that department now."

Davis also made a monumental coaching move that has bolstered the Rocket attack. He switched his guards, putting Greg Bates on the point and Steve Hawley on the wing. He made the switch after a disapointing loss to Canton. Since then, Glenn has gone 11-1, and Hawley has averaged 25 points a game. He is averaging 22 on the season.

"He was just trying to do too nuch," Pavis said of the switch.

The Hawks play a scrappy, hellbent-for-leather style of game. They play an unrelenting, untiring pressure defense. They deploy a variety of presses and do not ease up when they fall back into their zone.

The reason they are able to apply pressure for 32 minutes is a bench that goes 11 men deep. Teachman uses virtually everybody on his bench. Players like Jeff Hoskow, Bill Otto. Quarles, Sam Shanborn, Jon Weisberg, Mark Rosen will shuttle in and out of the lineup.

Say advertising and most people think of glamorous people in big cities trying to convince us to buy something we don't really want. But classified advertising is something else entirely.

Classified is the widow with a room to rent. The young wife who wants a job. The shopkeeper who needs a cashier. The student who needs an apartment. The secretary who wants a car. The handyman who wants a shop table.

You get the picture. Classified is people just like you filling needs the most efficient, least expensive way possible: with a little ad in the back of the paper. Classified is people-to-people information. Try classified; it will work for you, too.

Watch Out! Kid On The Move!

This is one of our many "Kids On The Move" -- moving on down the street to deliver our hometown paper.

Our kids juggle busy school and leisure schedules to make sure you get your local paper on time. They budget their earnings to buy things they need and want. We hope they're courteous and friendly as well.

Someday, they'll be "Adults On The Move" and will use their newspaper carrier experience out in the real world.

If you want to be a "Kid on the Move", call our Circulation Department to get yourself an Observer or Eccentric carrier route.

and histories of black culture were all part of an exhibit at Madonna College in Livonia February 13-18

In celebration of February as Black History Month, the school hosted the private collection of African and Afro-American art of Bishop Moses Ander-son, auxiliary bishop of Detroit The bishop, a member of Madonna's board of trustees, received much of the art as gifts over the past two decades.

"My personality is that I have al-ways been interested in art," said Bishop Anderson. "It happens that all artifacts in Africa are religious, except those being made for tourists."

The bishop's knowledge of African art was also greatly expanded during a six-week visit to Ghana in 1973 on a cultural grant

'This is the royal cloth of Ghana,' explained the bishop, pointing out lengths of brightly patterned fabrics arrayed in a showcase at Madonna's library gallery. It's made on hand looms You wear it by wrapping it under one arm and then drawing it across the body. I have about six vestments made out of this cloth.

BISHOP Anderson commented on another display of cloth, this one featuring a set of fabric markers used to produce the design. The markers, he said, speak a language, sending a message such as good luck, God be with you or carrying the symbols of justice and

"I fell in with the philosophy of art and have found it to be a way to demythologize the statements of prophets. The redefinition by the artists helps our understanding of what we're being told," he added

Frank Hayden's "Tower of Babel" woodcarving was not closed in a case at the exhibit, but open to the close-up views and touch of those visiting the display. The warmth of the wood and smoothness of the carving draws one's attention to it: one need only look at the title of the work to reflect on the sculptor's projection

Hayden, a professor of fine arts at Southern University, has works promi-nently displayed in Louisiana churches businesses and university buildings Other commissions have been executed m Pennsylvania, Virginia, Illinois and at Notre Dame University in Indiana, where he was once a student of Ivan Mestrovic, a Yugoslavian sculptor of BISHOP Anderson, acting as host at the reception, spoke glowingly of the talents of this black sculptor and his ability to express his feelings and arouse ours as well through his art. In his works, Hayden expresses a "fundamental belief in humanism."

The bishop remembers a time when it was said that "black people cannot be Christians" In tracing his roots back to Africa and in appreciation of the African heritage, Bishop Anderson shows in his art collection the faith that has been put in God over the centuries.

Many of the fine paintings in the art exhibit show the caring for one another

African art from the private collection of Bishop Moses Anderson, auxiliary bishop of Detroit, was dis-played at Madonna College in mid-February in honor of black history month. Bishop Anderson shares the background on the artifacts with Madonna student Anjail Askew of Detroit.

Charleston Gullah coil basketry is one of the oldest crafts of African origin in America. These baskets date from the 18th century.

A ceremonial figure takes on a regal flair when set against Kinte cloth, royal cloth from Ghana. Bishop Anderson has several vestments made of this fabric.

This batik art from Kenya by G. Bukenya depicts village activities involving the chief and family members. Batik is a method of dyeing designs on cloth by coating with removable wax the parts no to be dyed. There are several African batiks in Bishop A personal collection.

Establish financial housekeeping plan

If you need to add some discipline to your financial life, consider organizing a monthly maintenance file to gain better control over your money. The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests the following schedule:

BY NOW: The sooner you contribute to a 1986 Individual Retirement Account, the more tax-free earnings you'll accumulate. If self-employed, open a Keogh account. Both will lower your current tax liability and build a retirement nest egg. If you have not already contributed to a 1985 IRA, you have until April 15 to do so. There are no extensions for Keogh deadlines; the account must have been started by Dec. 31.

April 15 is also the deadline for a 1985 income tax return. The sooner you file, the quicker you'll get back a refund if any is due.

investing in a 1986 tax shelter should be considered now to ensure getting the safest and fullest tax benefits

Draw up a new budget. Figure your fixed expenses for each month including rent or mortgage payments, utilities and any other expenses which you do not control. Then calculate the monthly sum of all expenses over which you have some control: transportation, taxes, medical care, entertainment, clothing, insurance and food. Then total your income from wages and investments for each month. Subtract the difference to determine your "discretionary" income — if any. Set aside a reasonable cash fund each week for out-of-pocket expenses.

MARCH: Plan to reduce your taxes this year. Estimate your 1986 taxable income. Make sure you're not having too much withheld from your weekly paycheck. If in need of shelter from taxes, review investments now. Check your capital gains position. Consider establishing a trust or making a gift to shift income to a lower-bracket family member.

APRIL: Deal with debt. If you are in debt because of credit cards, consider consolidating credit card loans. Credit card debts frequently carry annual interest rates that are higher than other loan rates. By taking a personal loan to pay back credit card companies, you can cut the interest dollars you pay back.

MAY: Tune up your savings. If you are maintaining a savings account, be sure to leave no more than a three- to six-month "emergency

Low interest rates changing IRA picture

By Mary Rodrique staff writer

No doubt you've heard the aggressive sales pitch: radio and newspaper ads vigorously vying for your retirement savings. Why all the interest this year?

With banks offering single-digit interest rates, investors are turning to brokerage houses and investment firms in greater numbers than ever before to get the best return on their Individual Retirement Accounts.

"(Investors) are missing the bandwagon if they stay with a bank and get 7 or 8 percent (Interest) on their IRA. They can earn twice that," said Mark Kierzkowski, a stockbroker at Prudential-Bache's Birmingham office. "It's really snowballing. We're getting lots of bank money."

IRA funds historically have gone into interest-rate investments like insured certificates of deposit at banks and savings and loans. But now for the first time since the IRA program started in 1982, average longer term CD rates have dropped below 10 percent.

That has sent many IRA investors shopping. But the vast range of choices can be confusing, and some argue on the side of safety when advising on IRA investments.

"The prime investment goal of an IRA is to preserve capital," said Jim Dorsey, financial editor of the IRA Reporter, a Cleveland-based newsletter. "Investments offering higher yields won't be insured, and they'll have market risks."

But that hasn't stopped the flood. Investors are choosing programs ranging from moderate risk options like mutual funds (investing in AAA securities to net a 12 or 13 percent return) with a small risk to principle to more aggressive alternatives like the stock market, which means greater risk but also the possibility of greater return.

"Interest rates are low this year and should remain stable, providing a good opportunity to go beyond reliance on bank CDs," said Michael Hillman, director of retirement plan services for First of Michigan Corp.

"Investors should do their homework," he advised. "The bottom line is what you do today with your IRA will impact 30 or 40 years down the line.

"It's important to have an investment adviser you really trust. You can't see a bank teller for advice. Sit down with an investment professional and create a long-term structure for your IRA."

Options range from investing in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships and real estate deals. One of the primary factors in how much risk an investor should be willing to take is age.

"Younger people with IRAs can afford to be more aggressive," broker Kierzkowski said. "They can invest in stocks and mutual funds that may fluctuate through several business cycles. They have enough years ahead to find a good average."

Those closer to retirement age can't afford the gamble. Popular with older IRA investors are government insured bonds because they offer high yield and preservation of capital

"Government security bonds are 100 percent insured, and interest rates are stable at around 11 percent," Kierzkowski said. "Older investors have less time to make up for loss so they choose more secure investments."

Another popular option this year is zero coupon bonds.

"(Investor) buys a very discounted bond, say a $1,000 bond for $250," Kierzkowski said. "It won't earn interest, but it will mature in 10 or 15 years. And like with government bonds, you've locked yourself into a fixed rate. You know exactly what you're going to have."

Some 60 percent of the national $202 billion IRA market is deposited in banks and savings and loans. Investors are expected to put $44 billion in IRA accounts during the 1985 tax year.

The banking community, which could stand to be the big loser, is taking steps to preserve and encourage IRA accounts.

Banks like Michigan National, National Bank of Detroit and Comerica are offering investment plans through brokerage houses.

Bob Saoud, a telemarketing representative with Michigan National, explained how his bank can offer IRA customers options from the Dreyfus investment firm.

"The customer sets up a settlement account with Michigan National and then can choose from four Dreyfus funds, including a variety of bonds and mutual funds," he said.

There are other ways to keep IRA money safe and get extra yield out of banks and savings and loans:

Open a long distance IRA with one of the banks paying especially high yields. At the end of January, two insured institutions offered annual yields of around 11 percent on five-year CDs, according to the publication "100 Highest Yields:" Continental Savings in Angelton, Texas, and Gill Savings in San Antonio.

 Many banks now offer variablerate CDs for 18-month terms.

 Watch for banks that offer bonuses in order to bring their current advertised yields back into double-digit range.

For those who choose to take their IRA money out of the banks, the best advice experts offer is to diversity.

"It's not the time to be completely invested in the stock market," said James Schabacker, editor of the Switch Fund Advisory in Gaithersburg, Md.

His service recommends that onethird of IRA funds go into money market funds, one-third into bonds and one third into equities.

"When in doubt, diversify," he said.

Taxing situation made less painful

By Doug Funke

Before mailing that income tax return, take a few minutes to make sure you've wrung every deduction and credit to which you're entitled.

After all, a dollar is a dollar and better in your pocket than Uncle Sam's or the state legislature's.

Robert Czapiewski, a certified public accountant with Swad and Co. of Livonia, offers several tips that may help you come out further ahead or at least avoid the long arm of the Internal Revenue Service.

First, a point of order. A tax credit is a dollar-for-dollar reduction of tax due. A tax deduction is an offset to income, which generally results in a lower tax liability.

Now, for some of the finer points.

 A new diesel-powered car, light truck or van bought in 1985 is eligible for a tax credit of up to $198 (based on type of vehicle). Consult Form 4136.

A state or local refund received in 1984 must be included as income on Line 10 of Form 1040 this year if the taxpayer itemized in tax year 1984. But the refund may be subtracted from income on Line 49B of this year's Michigan state return.

 A lump-sum distribution from a company-sponsored pension plan may be subject to special tax treatment called 10-year forward averaging. Use Form 4972.

"A little-known fact is the state doesn't tax a company pension distribution if it is forward-averaged," Czapiewski said.

Tax may be deferred on the lumpsum pension distribution by placing it into an individual retirement account.

● The Internal Revenue Service allows a deduction of 21 cents per mile — up from 20½ cents — for business use of an automobile. Mileage isn't allowed between home and the workplace. Detailed records must be kept. Consult Form 2106.

 A federal tax credit ranging from 20 to 30 percent of child care expenses is available through Form 2441. Maximum credit is $720 for one child, $1,440 for two or more.

 A federal tax credit may be taken for contributions to a political party or campaign. The credit, onehalf of the amount given, is limited to $50 on single returns, $100 on joint.

 Individuals who sold their houses last year must report the sale on Form 2119 even though they may JUNE: Manage risks. Review insurance policies. If you were to become disabled or suddenly die, what cushion has been provided for your family? Find out how long you must be unable to work before a disability policy will begin paying you.
