The Canton Connection

EASTER VISIT: Six members of Den 3, Cub Scout Pack 898, which meets at Eriksson Elementary School in Canton, prepared an Easter fruit basket which they delivered last week to residents of Middlebelt Hope Nursing Home in Westland. The youngsters distributed the fruit as well as hand-made Easter cards to residents before leading a group in a few verses of "Here Comes Peter Cottontail." The boys, all Canton residents, were Donny Welch, Chris Chetcuti, Jason Posiak, Jamie Olesky, Shawn Williams, and Jimmy Clements. They were accompanied by den leader Lynn Posiak and assistant den leader Denise Brown.

CASTING OPAL: The cast has been announced for the Plymouth Theatre Guild for its spring production "Everybody Loves Opal" to be presented May 2, 3, 9, 10 at Central Middle School. Appearing in the comedy by John Patrick will be Michael Gresock of Canton in the comic role of Solomon Bozo, Rick Boldman of Plymouth as Professor Bradford Winter, and Andrea Logan as Gloria. Gresock played the role of Howard Bevens in the guild's last production, "Picnic." Boldman was last seen as the hero, Fairfax Kisselberg, in PTG's "For Her C-H-ild's Sake."

RECORD HOLDER: Ralph Galvin, the Drug Free (anti-steroid) National Bench Press record holder, will give seminar demonstrations and explain proper training techniques beginning 3 p.m. at the Wate Room Gym, 1672 S. Lilley, in Canton. The seminar will last about 1½ hours and will stress how fitness gains can be made without the use of drugs which inundate professional and amateur sports. Galvin will be performing several extremely heavy lifts to demonstrate techniques. Advance tickets are available at the Wate Room Gym.

DAR HONOREES: Four students at Plymouth Christian Academy in Canton have been honored by the Quakerstown Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution for their American history essays. Christopher Martin of Canton took first place and Matthew Volz of Canton took second in the fifth grade competition. Julie Black of Canton and Kevin Alt of Canton took first and second respectively in the sixth grade competition.

WRITING CLINIC: Canton Public Library is sponsoring a creative writing clinic beginning 7 p.m. Thursday, April 17. Bill Linn, professor at University of Michigan-Dearborn, has agreed to examine writing samples of those planning to attend the program if they are submitted to the library by April 5. Dr. Linn, author of the novel "Missing in Action," will give pointers to those seeking publication and will discuss the samples he has received. Sign up to attend beginning April 1 by calling 397-0999 or in person at the library.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS: State Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, announces that Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will receive a grant of $55,000 to be used for professional development in the area of reading and related language arts.

OLYMPIAD WINNERS: A team of 15 eighth graders from Central Middle School earned two gold, three silver, and two bronze medals at the Michigan Science Olympiad Regional Competition at University of Michigan-Dearborn recently. Some 28 Wayne County school districts competed in 16 science-related events such as metric estimation, science bowl, mystery substance, energy house,

Trustees named in clerk's lawsuit

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton Clerk Linda Chuhran has added the entire Canton Township Board of Trustees to a lawsuit charging interference with her state-mandated responsibilities.

Initially Chuhran filed suit against Supervisor James Poole. But he was dismissed as the sole defendant by Wayne Circuit Judge James A. Hathaway last January.

Hathaway noted that the board, not Poole, was responsible for Chuhran's charges.

The trustees include Bob Padgett, John Preniczky, Stephen Larson, Loren Bennett, Treasurer Gerald Brown, Poole and Chuhran.

THE TOWNSHIP'S cost for Poole's defense was about $4,800.

Chuhran is paying her own attorney fees, has not requested reimbursement from the township and said she doesn't plan to do so "at the present time."

Alan Helmkamp, Chuhran's attorney, said the many attempts he's made to settle the lawsuit were in vain.

"If I'm forced to take this to trial, I would seek an order of the court to direct the township to reimburse the attorney fees that the clerk is incurring," Helmkamp said.

It is expected attorney fees to represent the trustees will be paid by the township.

Chuhran draws a link between the lawsuit and a recall petition filed earlier this year by Jim Donahue, Canton treasurer from 1978-80 when the post was part time. Donahue is friends with some board members.

"Certain elements of the community have threatened with recall, I assume to bring pressure to bear against her to dismiss the lawsuit," Helmkamp said.

In a complaint filed March 27 in Wayne Circuit Court, Chuhran charges the board with the following:

- Denying custody of all township records, books and papers.
- Preventing free access to township records stored in other departments.
- Refusing to allow her to open and maintain various accounts, including an account with the treasurer, relating to township funds.

• Failing to compensate a deputy clerk whom she appointed.

The new complaint also charges Poole with interfering with employees in the clerk's office, directing township employees to deny her access to township records, directing the finance department to refuse funds for the deputy clerk's equipment, and directing township employees to deny the deputy clerk "status and cooperation."

Chuhran said she delayed filing the amended complaint since Judge Hathaway's decision in hopes of negotiating a settlement.

Poole said Friday: "It's a waste of everyone's time . . . and it's an absolute waste of taxpayer's money. But she continues to do it. I wasn't worried about the first lawsuit and I'm not worried about this."

Fire destroys auto sales shop

Fire caused about $115,000 worth of damage at Statewide Auto Sales in Canton Friday night.

Timothy Marshall, 25, of Lansing was treated for smoke inhalation at Westland Medical Center and was listed in fair condition Saturday morning. Kevin Arnold, 31, of Westland was taken to the hospital and released later Friday night, according to a hospital spokesman.

Damage to the Statewide building, at 44625 Michigan Avenue west of Shel-don, is about $105,000, which is enough to total the building, according to Canton fire Lt. Don Adams. Two ambulances, worth about $10,000, were destroyed inside the site, said Adams, who counted four explosions while firefighters were battling the flames.

Half of the building is operated by Statewide Auto Sales, a used car business, and the other half is leased out to Community Ambulances for repair work, Adams said.

"This is still under investigation, but preliminary indications are they were repairing a gas tank in the back shop and we believe something happened with the gas tank," Adams said. "She was cooking pretty good. When we first got there, the fire was rolling out one of the sliding doors."

CANTON FIREFIGHTERS were on the scene about 6:35 p.m. and took between 20 minutes to a half hour to quell the fire, said Canton fire Sgt. Mike Ror-abacher.

Marshall was overcome by smoke after leaving the building and returning to drive a Community Ambulance out of the building, Adams said.

Jim Legg, a Garden City firefighter, was on the premises at the time of the fire and was a great help in assisting Canton firefighters, Adams said.

"He's a good guy."

Subdivision gets new streetlights

Streetlights will be erected at entranceways of Sunflower Subdivision.

The Canton Township Board of Trustees vote Tuesday follows about nine months of debate on whether the lights should go up at entranceways throughout the subdivision, or even at all.

Detroit Edison will be directed to install colonial-style lamps. The cost to Sunflower residents will "probably be" $7 annually and will be tacked on to property tax bills, said Canton Clerk Linda Chuhran.

Trustees John Preniczky, Loren Bennett, Bob Padgett, Steve Larson and Treasurer Gerald Brown voted in favor of the change. Chuhran was opposed and Supervisor James Poole was absent.

If gas and water lines don't interfere, lights will be erected at: Beck and Bartlett, Chichester and Warren, Warren and Burgandy, Canton Center and Plum Hollow, Canton Center and Brunswick, Canton Center and Field Stone, Canton Center and Holmes, and four lights at Memorial and Warren.

Two surveys were taken by the clerk's office among property owners of the approximately 920 lots in Sunflower. The deadline for the initial survey was Oct. 22, 1985, and 368 people responded: 196 chose entire subdivision lighting, 89 were against lighting the entire subdivision, and 83 opted for entrance ways only.

A look inside I-275

Since I-275 opened on Jan. 7, 1977, the 38-mile stretch of freeway has spurred development for all the communities it touches in Wayne and Oakland counties.

In Thursday's edition, the Observer will examine the building boom along what has been dubbed by some local planners as the "Golden Corridor."

Where is all the development taking place? What has it meant to the local tax base and job markets. How do longtime residents view the changes. What effect has the development had on city and/or township services and how have real estate markets benefited?

For a look at the freeway's impact on your hometown, see Thursday's Observer.

The frame house of settler John Tibbitts, now owned by the Curtiss family, has been designated a historic site. The community reportedly was named Plymouth in Tibbitts' barn.

Plymouth settler's home designated historic site

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Pioneer John Tibbitts' frame house — probably the first such structure in Plymouth — has been added to the State Register of Historic Sites.

"The Tibbitts farmstead is significant for its direct historical association with Plymouth pioneer John Tibbitts and his family, one of Plymouth's earliest settlers," explained Charles Cotman of the Michigan Historical Commission.

Located on N. Territorial Road just east of Beck, the white frame farmhouse was probably built around 1830, says Cotman. Clustered near it are a carriage house, milk house and barn. All the structures are included in the historic site designation.

IT WAS IN the stone-foundation barn that Plymouth's first settlers met on Feb. 26, 1827, to discuss a name for the township they hoped to establish. Local historian Sam Hudson recalled the meeting in his book, "The Story of Plymouth Michigan: a Midwest Microcosm."

"Someone said the township should be named Pekin, after the most renowned of all the Chinese cities. China was just becoming known in this country at the time," Hudson wrote.

At first, the group agreed on the name LeRoy for the township. But the group yielded to a suggestion from William Bartow, who became the first township supervisor. "Bartow declared that the name Plymouth was 'more historical and patriotic' than others proposed," Hudson wrote. Bartow also stressed that many settlers were from families who once settled near Plymouth Rock in Massachusetts.

Tibbitts, born in 1783 in Massachusetts, traveled the Erie Canal on his way to Plymouth with his wife and 11 children in 1825. In March that year,

'Rainwater would come down the drainspouts and drain into the cistern. It was a source of soft water you wouldn't have in a well.'

— James Curtiss

he bought 560 acres of land at $1.25 per acre. The first structure raised on the land was a log cabin, with the barn following two years later.

JIM CURTISS, a lawyer with Ford Motor Co., currently owns the house and lives there with wife Suzanne and their two children.

Curtiss, who has a history degree from the University of Michigan, said he sought historic site designation for the home because of continuing development in the area, and because "we just liked the house."

Curtiss studied records at the Detroit Public Library in researching the home and its original builder. He presented a four-page summary of his research to the Michigan Historical Commission, along with black and white photos showing the Greek Revival architecture style of the home, well tended through the years.

On a tour of the home, probably the first frame house built in the Plymouth area, Curtiss points out wainscoting in the dining room — wide horizontal boarding along the lower portion of the walls. Most rooms have foot-high baseboards. Wide floorboards are of random widths and fastened with pegs.

Upstairs floorboards are of knotty pine. "These are the original floors, no question about it," said Curtiss. "They didn't use pine for floors after 1860 — it doesn't wear well; it doesn't look good unless you paint it." Walnut doors feature porcelain knobs and original latches.

In a room to the rear of the dining area, a floor rug covers a trap door leading to a stone cistern below. "Rainwater would come down the drainspouts and drain into the cistern," Curtiss explains. "It was a source of soft water you wouldn't have in a well."

Just west of the home is the carriage house, now housing the Curtiss family's two cars. Bark remains on several log ceiling beams. Curtiss points out hand-hewn, pegged beams in the barn.

WHILE THE HOUSE was extensively remodeled in 1939, Cotman adds that "the Greek Revival carriage house, clapboarded and battened barn, and clapboarded milkhouse remain intact."

Cotman says the historical significance of the Tibbitts family was a major factor in giving the house historic site designation.

John S. Tibbitts, son of John Tibbitts who bought the property, "also served as township supervisor, state representative, and Wayne County auditor," Cotman notes.

John S. Tibbitts, 1801-1891, also wrote papers on wildlife observed in the region during his youth. In his book, Hudson recalled one paper, in which Tibbitts wrote that "bear, wolf, lynx, deer, wildcat, fox, raccoon, badger, porcupine, woodchuck, rabbit, mink, weasel and fisher were abundant."

Taylor entertains for corps

Fat Bob the Singing Plumber will be the featured guest at this year's Civic Dinner of the Plymouth Salvation Army.

The annual dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Corps Community Center, 9451 Main south of Ann Arbor Road. Accompanist for the singer/disc jockey, formally named Robert Taylor, will be Dr. James Wilhelmson of Ann Arbor.

Tickets at $12.50 per person are available at me and mr Jones and John Smith's. Born in Leamington, Ontario, Taylor came to the United States with his family during World War II. After graduating from East Lansing High School and attending Michigan State University, he enlisted in the Air Force and served during the Korean War in Special Services.

After that, Taylor enrolled at U-M to study voice. Under the tutelage of Professor Millard Caves, he won the Great Lakes Regional Metropolitan Opera Contest in 1966.

After a brief stint in New York, he returned to Michigan for further study and met disc jockey J.P. McCarthy at WJR to begin a relationship which has lasted for about two decades.

Taylor has appeared on the Mike Douglas Show, and with Arthur Godfrey, Woody Woodbury, Jimmy Durante, Duke Ellington, Myron Cohen, Jack E. Leonard and Barbara Eden.

He has appeared in concert with all local symphonies and symphony bands, is heard on WJR, and appears singing the National Anthem at all major sporting events in this area. He has sung on opening day for the Detroit Tigers for the past 14 years.

Last year the featured guest at the Salvation Army's Civic dinner was Douglas Fraser, retired UAW president.

Signs of cataracts

If you answer yes to any of these questions, it might be a good idea to see your eye doctor.

1. Are you having difficulty with distance vision?

2. Is your distance vision worse in the bright sun?

3. Is your distance vision worse at night?

4. Are you having a problem reading or seeing things close up?

5. Have you always had a "lazy eye" that is one that lets the other do most of the seeing?

6. Have you experienced problems with depth perception?

7. Is vision in one eye worse than in the other?

8. Are these visual problems interfering with your life style and preventing you from doing the things you want or have to do?

9. Do you seem to be looking through a haze or do your glasses seem dirty even when they're not?

Local firm diversifies away from auto field

By Doug Funk

staff writer

Sun Plastic Coating Co. has developed products for all kinds of customers during its 23-year existence, first in the city of Plymouth and for the last 10 years in Plymouth Township.

Sun Plastic, launched by Joe Tate, a longtime Plymouth resident, broke into the marketplace by solving a carburetor problem with a coating for the Ford Motor Co.

Since then, the privately owned company has tackled projects ranging from coating tubes used for medical bypass operations to coatings in the baking industry to coatings for recreational equipment like sailboats.

Attention to quality during turbulent times has paid dividends since the economy rebounded, maintains Beverlee McAllister, vice-president.

"Really, we're a service organization," she said. "Because we maintained our quality through those tough years is why I believe we maintained our growth. I think customers remembered us."

McAllister, along with George Osterhout, the general manager, are responsible for day-to-day operations.

The auto industry used to account for about 90 percent of Sun Plastic business earlier this decade but diversification efforts have brought that figure down to 65-70 percent, McAllister said.

Now, the company is targeting military, medical and food processing clients.

Sun Plastic is looking at the feasibility of building a plant in the southeast part of the United States to service the oil drilling industry, McAllister said.

Also, a technology exchange is planned next month with manufacturers from Japan.

"What we're hoping to do is consult with them and some time sell them our technology," she said.

Sun Plastic doesn't have to disclose financial statements, McAllister revealed, though, the company had sales between $2 million and $6 million and a profit margin of at least 10 percent during its last budget year.

"We went through the recession and had some pretty hefty losses. We're going to have to have some pretty big years to compensate."

Business, though, has been so good that company executives plan to build an extension of up to 10,000 square feet on its 18,000-square-foot facility behind Plaza Lanes.

TAX INCENTIVES and government-backed financing will be sought within the next four months, Murdoch said.

"We have never in all our years in business, never, never taken advantage of those programs. It was too much red tape."

"I think we've paid our dues over the years."

Expansion is good for Plymouth, she added. "A majority of our employees are from Plymouth and a few from neighboring communities."

The work force — about 30 production workers and five technical people — is non-union.

"We have a small amount of turnover but several people have been here 10-12 years," Murdoch said. "We had a union vote seven years ago, and we won 2-1. It tells us we treat our people well. We have a pay scale that the more valuable you become for us, the more you're rewarded."

People become more valuable by becoming more productive and learning a variety of jobs, she said.

"We pride ourselves in doing the impossible," Murdoch said. "The emergency work is what we thrive on. We have people deliver parts in taxi cabs. They're in that big of a hurry."

Beverlee McAllister talks about diversification of products at Sun Plastic.

Spin of the wheel sends local man flying

Walker wins wheels plus trip to Hawaiian Islands

By Kevin Brown

staff writer

Picture this! You're on The Wheel of Fortune! It's your turn to solve the puzzle! Host Pat Sajak awaits your answer! Hostess Vanna White is smiling! In the studio audience, your family is rooting you on! If you win, it's a trip to Hawaii!

Amid the noise, you answer, "Wood-burning Fireplace."

"That's it," says Sajak. And the audience goes wild!

LIKE MILLIONS who watch that No. 1-rated game show, Gary Walker says he'd thought about what it would be like to spin the wheel.

But unlike those who regularly tune in to day and night-time versions of the show, Walker appeared as a contestant — and won. Walker, 36, of Plymouth, is shown winning the trip to Hawaii and a new Pontiac Sunbird at 7:30 tonight. The taping of the show in February was the culmination of an odyssey that began last summer.

"I was watching the show last August and they flashed a message across the screen. It was a number to call; they were having trouble at the Renaissance Center," he recalls.

Walker, who works for an oil-recycling company, was scheduled for an interview by Wheel of Fortune staff. He then joined 1,000 people in the first round of testing.

"They showed a variation of the puzzle used on the game; it was partly filled in," Walker explains. "People being tested had to fill in as many as possible. One was 'Oysters on the Half-Shell,' another was 'Sahara Desert.' People who passed those two tests were asked to come back the next day for an interview."

WALKER THEN joined about 30 people for a group interview.

"They gave each person an opportunity to tell a little bit about themselves," he recalls. Mock games were played, and the potential contestants were given pointers on rules and regulations. About two weeks later, Walker was notified by mail that he had been chosen to appear on the show.

Walker scheduled a family vacation around the taping Feb. 11 in Los Angeles. Several shows were taped that day. Walker's was fourth.

"I was surprised I was not nervous. There were so many things going on off camera; people shouting instructions, and there were a lot of cameras at different angles." He estimates that 45-50 crew members worked off-camera during the taping.

In an early round, Walker landed on "bankrupt" after one spin of the wheel.

But he won in the second round, and in a bonus round won the car. Walker also won an original watercolor of Batman and Robin by the comic's creator, valued at $5,000.

"It's for sale, if you know of someone who wants it," he says.

WALKER OFFERS some impressions of his appearance on network TV. "The studio lights were very hot," he recalls. Walker says the puzzle board appeared as he pictured it, and the show went quickly.

"The hosts were both very cordial, very nice, although I didn't get a chance to talk to them very much more than at the taping."

"Vanna White was more attractive in person," Walker said. He also ate lunch with Pat, Vanna and the crew. The Wheel of Fortune stars offered some hints on the best tourist spots in Southern California.

Back home, Walker's friends offered congratulations. "There were a lot of questions about Vanna White," he adds.

Walker says his family was both surprised and happy when he won. "They were glad they got to be on camera."

Delivery on the new car will be made by a local dealer, Walker says, adding that he will pay around $7,000 in taxes on his prizes. "Even if I had not won, it was a very good experience," he says.

Polyester band plays for laughs, charity

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

If all goes well, some hideous polyester suits and some rocking 'roll' oldies will help put a Monroe mother stricken with multiple sclerosis on a plane to Germany sometime in June.

The mother, Renee D'Ortenzio, needs $5,000 to pay for a one-month stay in a German medical facility. The clinic has set aside a bed for the mother of three beginning the second week in June.

The only thing standing in the way of her getting the specialized treatment is $5,000.

The gaudy polyester suits belong to five members of a local band. The band sometimes plays for money, sometimes plays just for the fun of it and sometimes plays to help out some special cause.

In D'Ortenzio, Mod-Kay and the Po-lysters have found their latest special cause.

"SHE'S A friend of mine," said Auburndale resident George O'Malley, the band's drummer and occasional lead singer. "Her multiple sclerosis has gotten worse. The treatment is not open to her."

bridge building, and computer programming.

The Central team placed second overall for all events which qualifies them to represent Wayne County at the state finals April 26 at Michigan State University. Team members are Mike Abesamis, Mark Madrilero, Dave Swagles, Erin Rowland, Jason Smigell, Mark Farris, Tracey Lipford, Kathryn Shirmohammad, Courtney Lemon, Greg Weidenbach, Charles Lefurgy, Dave Bares, John Minuth, Tim Davis, Josh Anderson, and Brian Uryga. Team coach was Barbara Church.

Pioneer Middle School and Plymouth Canton High School also sent teams to the regionals and qualified to attend the state finals.

SPRING DANCERS: Two Canton residents were among the Eastern Michigan University Dancers participating recently in the Spring Dance Concert at EMU's Quirk Theatre. The local dancers participating were Michelle Iaquina and Paula Kowacyk.

poved here by the FDA (Federal Drug Administration). We've played for other causes and now we want to help her."

To help raise the $5,000, the band will perform in a special benefit May 17 at the VFW hall, 29155 Seven Mile Road.

If history repeats itself, the hall will be jumpin' that night from the first Elvis rocker to the final Chuck Berry screamer.

"We went pro about two years ago," said O'Malley. "We began to get a following, especially on St. Patrick's Day. Some of the parties got too big, so we cut back."

NONE OF the five band members are professional musicians. In fact, O'Malley taught himself to play drums three years ago because the band needed a drummer.

O'Malley is a Livonia police officer who works with juveniles. Four of the five live in Livonia. Southampton resident Steve Stropes, a salesman, plays rhythm guitar. Dorais resident Mark Kava, a salesman, is lead singer. Sunset resident Craig Weiland, who works for WXYZ-TV, plays lead guitar. Canton Township resident Michael Holroyde, also a salesman, plays base guitar.

All except Holroyde went to high school together. They graduated from Bishop Borgess in 1973. None played in a high school band.

"WE MAINTAINED our friendships and started playing together after our high school days because we needed an outlet from our high-pressure jobs," O'Malley said.

"Some guys go bowling once a week. We get together once a week to practice."

Once they got pretty good at it, they began playing for money at weddings, parties and other hall gatherings.

For two years now, they've also played a special benefit at the Elbo Inn in Atlanta, Mich. The benefit raises money for the Special Olympics. This year the band helped raise $2,700.

"It's the one time during the year the inn has entertainment," O'Malley said.

THE BAND plays rock and rhythm and blue numbers from the '50s, '60s and '70s. Each show starts off with "Route 66" and goes on to the Beatles, Rolling Stones and Carl Perkins. The fellows in the band don't have any trouble coming up with the gaudy polyester suits they wear.

"We get them at the Salvation Army," O'Malley said. "In that way, we're making donations to that group, too."

I-696 improvements sought

Plans to widen I-696 and add two interchanges in Farmington Hills were boosted last week by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. SEMCOG also endorsed widening 12 Mile between Orchard Lake and Novi roads and started a corridor traffic study of Haggerty Road in western Oakland County, according to Edward Hustoies, SEMCOG's deputy executive director for planning.

Only Detroit delegates dissented when the SEMCOG General Assembly gave 85-3 approval to amendments in its 2005 regional transportation plan. The governing body of the seven-county planning agency met last week in the Novi Hilton, which is on Haggerty Road.

THE I-696 plans endorsed by SEMCOG include:

- Adding an interchange west of Drake Road in Farmington Hills.
- Adding an interchange in the vicinity of Haggerty Road, at the place where I-696, I-96 and I-275 come together in Novi.

Costs of the two projects, both for construction and right-of-way, are estimated at $20 million.

Currently I-696 in western Oakland has two lanes in each direction and only one interchange west of Telegraph at Orchard Lake Road.

Last year SEMCOG endorsed widening I-696 to four lanes in each direction and adding an interchange at Inkster Road.

Arrows show proposed I-696 freeway interchanges. Shading shows proposed 12 Mile widening.

HUSTOIES SAID the resolution endorses traffic studies on the Haggerty Road corridor and that an environmental impact statement would come later.

SEMCOG's Council on Regional Development suggested the study area run from Eight Mile Road to M-59 in the middle of the county.

Detroit Council President Erma Henderson asked by letter for a more detailed study before any commitment is made to the project, Hustoies said.

Michael Turner, a staff assistant to Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, failed to win an amendment asking for studies of such "indirect" costs as population stimulation, utilities, police and fire protection.

A SIERRA Club representative, in the public comments section of the meeting, warned against any steps toward reviving the M-275 project.

The Michigan Department of Transportation has dropped M-275, which was to be a freeway in the Haggerty corridor from Novi to Davisburg.

The Oakland County Road Commission still favors an M-275 freeway. Current thinking in M-275 and the Oakland County Board of Commissioners is that the Haggerty corridor be a multi-lane, divided state highway.

How educational park became located in Canton

(Part 27)

In the late 1950s, the board of education became aware that expanding population would soon tax the limits of the building at the corner of Church and Main where high school classes had been taught since 1877.

Real estate developments planned for the area were on the increase. In July 1956, the board heard that the year ahead would bring 188 new homes in the northeast and 100 trailer homes in the northwest parts of Plymouth Township.

It was estimated that the following two years would see 1,000 homes built in the north-central part of Canton Township.

In September, the board also heard that the Greenspan Building Co. had received FHA approval on mortgages for homes the firm planned to build at its Lake Pointe Village Subdivision.

A letter from Greenspan informed the board that it would build a total of 1,100 homes there, about 500 of which would go up during the following two years.

IN THE FALL of 1958, a site committee recommended the purchase of a 40-acre site for a senior high school. Since parcels that size were hard to find within city boundaries, acceptance by the board of that recommendation might mean moving the high school from the city center.

Realizing that local merchants, who had previously complained about the influx of non-purchasing students in their stores during the lunch hour, suddenly took a liking to them and began to pressure the school board to expand

past and present

on the existing site.

To get a comparison of the cost of expanding on the old site vs. building at the new location, the board sent letters in May 1959 to 19 owners of property adjacent to the high school asking what they would be willing to sell for. Offers to sell came from 16 of those approached.

Board minutes do not give the cost comparisons but it is apparent that the board was leaning toward a new site.

HAROLD FISCHER, who had been president of the board 10 years earlier, recalls that the state was recommending a minimum of 40 acres for a high school site and the property at the old site had only 21 acres.

Esther Hulsing, president of the board in 1967, says another reason for the board's inclination to build elsewhere was that the old school had been added to several times over the years, presenting architectural and aesthetic problems if expansion took place there. It was felt that a clean start should be made at another location.

In June, the site committee recommended the purchase of 40 acres of the Peck-Bennett property in Plymouth Township. Just outside the city limits, it was on the north side of Ann Arbor Road, west of Sheldon an east of Canton Center Road.

Test borings on the property, which Pauline Peck had inherited from her uncle, Charley Bennett, showed that the land was satisfactory for a school site. Negotiations to acquire the property met with no success. The minutes of July 6 indicate that "no action was taken by the owner on the board's offer."

Harold Fischer, Esther Hulsing and John Hoben, now superintendent of schools, all recall that the strongest proponents of the new location were Russell Isbister and Carol Schultheiss. Isbister was then superintendent of schools. Schultheiss, an engineer elected to the board in 1963, was re-elected to another four year term in 1967.

ISBISTER and Schultheiss proposed the purchase of a site large enough to hold as many as four high schools. Looking to the future they foresaw a time when economic or racial segregation might occur if high schools were decentralized. Locating multiple schools at one location also would result in joint use of facilities that might not be available under a decentralized concept.

The master plan called for "two pairs of two high schools" with complementary facilities including a school farm, a nature center, wildlife habitat and large open space along with athletic facilities.

The proposal, put to public vote, called for the acquisition and development of an "educational, cultural, recreational, historical and scenic park" which was to be located near the geographical and future population center of the school district.

When VOTERS approved the proposal, the board began to acquire property for the educational park. Land then available at the corner of Canton Center and Joy roads in Canton Township seemed to meet the requirements of the master plan.

Purchased at the location in 1967 were 299 acres, including 124 acres of the Casterline, 99 acres of the Hersh, and 76 of the Everett properties. A few odd acres must have been added because the park now totals 305 acres.

In April 1968, the board named the site "Plymouth Community Centennial Park," presumably because the year in which it was acquired marked the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of Plymouth as a village.

Tragically, neither Isbister nor Schultheiss lived to see the completion of their dream. Carl Schultheiss died prematurely on Dec. 31, 1967. Russell Isbister, one of the most respected and beloved superintendents the system ever had, died at age 60 in November 1968.

The first of the two high schools did not open until 1970.

Heavy fog drives Stroller to think

Now that the Easter holiday has passed and we have colored all the eggs available, what could happen during the remainder of the year that would be a godsend for all motorists?

The Stroller got to thinking about this a week or so ago when he had a difficult time driving through a heavy fog. It was all he could do to get home safely and have his car in the garage.

As he struggled in the fog he recalled that when John F. Kennedy was inaugurated as the President of the United States he stood on the platform and vowed that we were going to have a man on the moon. And we did.

As The Stroller thought of this he started wishing that someone would turn up and show us how to drive in the fog when the sun should be shining.

IF WE COULD put a man on the moon, he thought, why can't we have someone show us the way to drive through a heavy fog instead of taking our life in our own hands?

By a twist of fate a few hours after he got home he read in one of the magazines that the cat can see through fog because it has a split pupil. It also can see through bright sun. We can't. Why not?

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

With the heavy fog we had recently one couldn't see the white line on the highway. As a result he gambled with every turn of the wheel. This shouldn't be. But what can be done? More effort should be placed in these matters.

Several years ago a member of our family was employed in the state highway department and spent some time on the highways.

He was asked why we stuck to white paint to mark the safe driving areas. Why not use white cement? It would last much longer.

He replied that the lanes change from time to time and it would be difficult to change the markers if they were cement. Fine. But there is paint on the market that won't wear off in the rain. He just shrugged his shoulders as if to answer that it wasn't thought of in the state department.

As a result we have to go on suffering and a heavy blanket of fog falls.

WHAT COULD BE done to avoid the trouble on the home streets and on the highways?

Well, the automakers always are coming up with grand ideas of fuel consumption and miles to the gallon and the comfort of the passengers. That's how we got the seatbelt law and the air bag suggestion. Neither of them help when it gets foggy.

So here is a chance for the automakers. Never mind the miles per gallon we drive. Help us to save our lives. That would be the best thing that could happen.

If we could drive safely through the fog our auto insurance rates could be lowered. Our lives could be saved and chances of safety would be increased.

Curbs sought for polygraphs

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll-call votes during the week ending March 14.

HOUSE

POLYGRAPH TESTING — The House passed 236-173 a bill which would make it illegal for private employers to engage in polygraph (lie-detector) testing of present and prospective employees.

Exempted would be: companies handling government intelligence material; certain pharmaceutical workers, and employees of day-care centers, nursing homes and electric power companies.

Federal, state and local governments also could legally administer lie-detector tests.

Richard Shelby, D-Ala., said polygraph tests "are flawed, not reliable. We should not play with this kind of thing. Let us protect our constitutional rights."

Bob Livingston, R-La., said the bill should be defeated as unwarranted intrusion into states' rights.

Voting yes to outlaw most polygraph testing were: Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, William Ford, D-Taylor, and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

REAGAN'S BUDGET — The House rejected President Reagan's proposed federal budget for 1987 by a 312-12 vote.

Roll Call Report

Reagan's budget, which he sent to Congress in February, has been debated on Capitol Hill with opponents criticizing big hikes in defense spending while cutting domestic programs.

It projects $994 billion in spending and a deficit of nearly $144 billion.

Both sides agreed the House vote on just Reagan's proposal was unprecedented. In the past presidential budgets have been debated alongside alternative plans put forward by the two parties.

While budget proposals lack the force of law, they serve the important purpose of identifying spending priorities and limits and setting deficit reduction targets.

Trent Lott, R-Miss., called the vote "a partisan fudge-it process designed to score some political points." Voting against President Reagan's proposed budget were: Pursell, Hertel, Ford and Levin.

Not voting: Broomfield.

SENATE

TO BALANCE THE BUDGET — The Senate voted 54-44 to table an amendment by Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, which called for prohibiting presidents from sending deficit budgets to Congress.

Metzenbaum sought to impose a specific budget-balancing responsibility on the White House.

Referring to Reagan, Metzenbaum said, "To propose massive deficits and still to crusade for a balanced budget seems to me to be hypocritical."

Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill., who voted to table, said "the Constitution ought to deal in broad principles and not in details," such as specifically limiting a president's budgeting authority.

Senators voting yes were opposed to amending the proposed constitutional amendment to require presidents to submit balanced budgets to Congress.

Michigan Democrats Carl Levin and Donald Riegle voted no.

COMMITTEE FUNDING — The Senate rejected by a 69-27 vote an amendment which called for giving Senate committees up to $1.5 million in additional funding.

The Senate then approved a measure (S Res 353) budgeting about $43.6 million for the 19 Senate committees for staff salaries, travel and all other expenses. The amount is some 2 percent below the 1985 figure, as a result of the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings deficit reduction law.

The amendment proposed that the $1.5 million be taken from committee allocations unspent from previous years.

Levin and Riegle voted against the increased funding.

STOMACH ULCERS AND ARTHRITIS

Spring begins. If you have arthritis, you look forward to easier walking; no more heavy overcoats, pulling on stiff boots, or concern that you may risk a nasty fall on the sidewalk.

But there is one aspect of spring which presents a threat for anyone with arthritis: bleeding ulcer.

For unknown reasons, early spring is the time when an increase in the incidence of ulcers occur. This increased risk holds for everyone, but for those individuals taking arthritis medications, the risk is particularly great.

The reason is that one of the side effects of these drugs is to decrease the stomach's ability to counteract the effects of the hydrochloric acid its own lining cells produce. If the individual with arthritis uses a drug such as coated aspirin the risk of ulcer is small, with other drugs which dissolve in the stomach, the chance of gastritis or ulcer is great.

Therefore, the physician may be reluctant to add medicine to your arthritis program at this time despite a flare in joint pain and swelling. Do not become discouraged. Remember that March and April will pass, and with their leaving exists the risk of ulcers in treating arthritis.

Spring Menu Offers Surprises

Over a century ago, the English poet Percy Bysshe Shelley wrote, "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" And today, what more delicious way to lift spirits out of the doldrums than with party fare that welcomes the new season — perhaps even before it arrives.

The menu suggested here is inspired by several different cultures, while taking advantage of the best and freshest home-grown ingredients. It's also delightfully adaptable — to festive brunch, dinner or supper — and each of the dishes is surprisingly simple to put together, requiring little kitchen time to produce impressive results.

A refreshing variation on classic rollatini, Chicken Breasts Primavera has a special filling based on ripe avocados. Fortunately, this highly versatile golden-green fruit is now available year-round, adding a taste of springtime to almost any meal. And here's another secret: both filling ingredients and chicken breasts are sautéed in pure, delicate olive oil giving a distinctive touch of flavor and light, pleasing fragrance.

An unusual twist on that perennial favorite, pasta, Rainbow Tortellini is deceptively easy to prepare — you can even whip it up quickly for unexpected guests. Double or triple the quantity and it's an ideal buffet dish, or serve as a luncheon centerpiece.

Spring is synonymous with salads, and this sprightly Garden Bouquet combines a variety of greens with artichoke hearts and the nutty, mellow goodness of California avocados. There's an avocado bonus in the dressing — which deserves nothing less than pure Italian olive oil.

Since salads should also be synonymous with healthy eating, it's important that avocados are loaded with nutrients — Vitamins A, C and E in addition to hefty doses of potassium, magnesium and phosphorus. And although you're probably aware by now that — despite the dihard myth — neither avocados nor olive oil contains even the tiniest bit of cholesterol, did you know that each is also very high in monounsaturated fats, considered by many leading nutritionists to be more beneficial than polyunsaturates alone?

Round out the meal with an attractive Ambrosia Ring Bread. And crown it with elegant glasses of Tea Nectar, garnished with mint sprigs or lemon slices — or, for a drink that's also a dessert, small scoops of lemon sherbet.

A beverage that's popular with just about everybody, tea — all by itself — complements an almost limitless number of foods and, of course, makes an ideal base for party punches galore — enhancing rather than masking other flavors.

PERFECT HOT TEA

- Bring freshly drawn cold water to a full, rolling boil.
- Meanwhile, fill your teapot with hot water and let stand to heat it.
- Empty the teapot and put in one teabag or one teaspoon of loose tea per serving.
- Pour the boiling water (about 5½ ounces of water per serving) over tea.
- Cover and let stand 3 to 5 minutes. Remove teabags or strain.
- Serve plain or with lemon or milk (not cream) and sugar to taste.

Chicken Breasts Primavera

- 4 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned and halved
- 1/4 cup pine nuts (or coarsely chopped silvered almonds)
- 1/4 cup sliced green onions
- 1/4 cup Bertolli Olive Oil
- 2 cups chopped fresh spinach or 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and well-drained
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 medium avocado, seeded, peeled and chopped
- 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
- 1-1/2 cups chicken broth or stock
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1 medium avocado, seeded, peeled and mashed (Green onions and parsley, for garnish)

Place chicken breasts between 2 sheets of waxed paper and pound until thin, about 1/4-inch. Set aside.

In skillet, brown pine nuts and cook onion until just tender in 2 tablespoons olive oil. Add spinach, garlic, thyme, salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, just until spinach is slightly wilted. Remove from heat. Fold in chopped avocado. Spread mixture on chicken breasts. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion; fasten with toothpicks.

In skillet, brown chicken in remaining olive oil. Add mushrooms and chicken broth. Cover and simmer 10 minutes, until chicken is tender. Blend flour and wine. Add to sauce and cook, stirring, until thickened and smooth. Blend in avocado.

To serve, slice chicken. Arrange on platter and spoon sauce over all. If desired, garnish with green onion curls and parsley. Makes 8 servings.

Rainbow Tortellini

- 3 tablespoons Olive Oil
- 1-1/2 cups heavy cream
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 6 slices prosciutto, cut into strips
- 1 medium tomato, coarsely chopped
- 4 cups hot cooked tortellini or fusilli pasta
- 1 medium avocado, seeded, peeled, quartered and sliced
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

In saucepan, combine olive oil, cream and cheese. Simmer, stirring often, until slightly thickened. Add prosciutto and tomato. Heat through.

In bowl, combine sauce with tortellini, avocado and parsley. Toss to blend. Makes 8 servings.

Garden Bouquet Salad

- 1 large bunch arugula, rinsed and patted dry or
- 1 bunch green leaf lettuce, broken into large pieces
- 1 large bunch watercress, rinsed and dried
- 4 heads Belgian endive
- 1 medium avocado, seeded, peeled and cut into strips lengthwise
- 1 cup artichoke hearts
- 1 medium avocado, seeded, peeled and mashed
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 tablespoons Dijon-type mustard
- 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 3 drops hot pepper sauce
- 1 cup Olive Oil

Remove root ends from arugula. Remove stems from watercress. Separate endive into leaves. In salad bowl, just before serving, combine greens, avocado and artichokes.

In small bowl, combine mashed avocado, egg yolk, mustard, vinegar, garlic, pepper and sauce. Blend well. Gradually whisk in olive oil, pouring in a thin stream.

Pour dressing over salad; toss to blend. Serve immediately. If desired, sprinkle with toasted sesame seed. Makes 8 servings.

Tea Nectar

- 4 cups hot strong brewed tea
- 1 can (12 ounces) apricot nectar
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup light brown sugar
- Lemon slices
- Mint sprigs

Combine hot tea with nectar, juices and sugar. Cover and let stand 10 minutes, to blend flavors. To serve hot, reheat gently but do not boil. To serve cold, chill thoroughly and pour over ice. Garnish with lemon or mint. If desired, garnish cold tea with lemon sherbet. Makes 8 servings.

Ambrosia Bread Ring

(not shown)

- 1 cup shredded Mozzarella cheese
- 1/3 cup Olive Oil
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon basil, crushed
- 1 loaf ring-style Italian Bread (or use standard long loaf)

In bowl, combine all ingredients except bread; blend well.

Cut bread into 1-inch slices, cutting almost through to bottom. Spread cheese filling between slices. Bake at 350 F. for 10 minutes, or until bread is heated and cheese is melted. Makes 8 servings.

Stewin' Lamb is base for traditional recipe

It's comforting to know that a flavorful stew is also a convenient-to-prepare, one-dish meal. Some people might question a stew's convenience because of its longer cooking time. But time isn't the only element in a convenient recipe.

What makes a stew convenient? One reason is its small amount of preparation time. A stew can take from five to 20 minutes to prepare, depending on the type of stew you're making. Preparing a light stew is the quickest method. All the ingredients, including the cooking liquid, are simply combined at the beginning. A brown stew takes a few minutes longer to prepare because of an additional step. The meat is browned and then the cooking liquid is added. The meat is browned and then the cooking liquid is added. The meat is browned and then the cooking liquid is added.

Because a stew cooks in one pan, kitchen clean-up is easy. That's another reason preparing a stew is so convenient. And once the stew is slowly simmering on the range, the cook can relax or do another house-hold task.

One example of a French country stew is Lamb Stew Provencale. A "Provencale" dish is traditionally cooked or prepared with garlic, tomatoes and, occasionally, olive oil. This "brown" lamb stew recipe contains all three.

It also uses less-expensive lamb shanks which come from either the fore-shank or hind-shank section of the lamb. The delicate flavor of lamb comes through by slowly simmering the shanks in a tomato-wine broth. Then cut the lamb from the bones while vegetables and orzo cook in the broth. Complete the dish by adding the lamb pieces back into the stew with tomatoes and flavorful seasonings.

LAMB STEW PROVENCALE
Preparation time: 20 minutes
Cooking time: 2 hours 15 minutes
2 Tbsp. flour
1/4 tsp. ground pepper
2 Tbsp. olive oil
1 large onion, chopped
3 cloves garlic, minced
1 can (16 oz.) whole tomatoes
1/2 cup each beef broth and dry red wine
2 tsp. dried rosemary, crushed
2 stalks celery
1/2 cup orzo pasta (rice-shaped), uncooked
1 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
1/4 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley

Combine flour and pepper; dredge lamb shanks. Brown shanks in oil in Dutch oven. Remove shanks. Cook onion and garlic in same pan until onion is transparent. Pour off drippings. Return shanks to pan. Break up and drain tomatoes; reserve. Add tomato liquid, broth, wine and rosemary to shanks. Cover tightly and simmer 1 1/2 hours or until meat is tender, stirring occasionally. Remove shanks; cut meat from bones into small pieces. Skim fat from surface. Meanwhile cut carrots and celery into strips approximately 2x1/4x1/4-inches. Add vegetables and orzo to Dutch oven. Simmer, uncovered, about 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender-crisp, adding water if necessary. Add lamb pieces, tomatoes, lemon juice, lemon peel and salt and heat through. Garnish with parsley, 5 to 6 servings.

Try 'alternative cuisine' at home

The "alternative cuisine" that's all the rage in four-star restaurants means exactly what it says. It's an alternative to foods which are high in calories, fat, cholesterol, sodium and sugar.

Unlike traditional "diet food," alternative cuisine is beautiful and bountiful — and surprisingly easy to duplicate at home.

Fish and chicken, skin removed, form the backbone of alternative cuisine. Both contain high-quality protein, but moderate to small amounts of fat and cholesterol. To further reduce calories and fat, they're poached, broiled or baked rather than sautéed or fried. When served with a sauce, the butter and cream have been replaced by vegetable purees, broth, yogurt or skim milk. To keep sodium in check, alternative cuisine takes full advantage of seasonings other than salt to heighten the natural flavors in food. Lemon and lime juice, citrus zest, fresh ginger, green onion, garlic, fresh and dried herbs, and spices the likes of pepper, cinnamon, clove, cumin and coriander are just some of the seasonings which can be used alone or in combination.

IT'S ESSENTIAL that accompaniments be carefully selected since fish and chicken portions do not exceed two or three ounces. Although a generous serving of fresh vegetables is an important part of an alternative cuisine meal, rice makes the meal satisfying. Because rice is high in complex carbohydrates, it helps prevent that "running on empty" feeling dieters often experience an hour or two after eating. At a lean 225 calories per serving, California Seafood Supper satisfies completely, and the 25-minute, one-skillet preparation meets the needs of after-five cooks.

Rice extends both the budget and the great flavor of plump Pacific shrimp and tiny bay scallops. A trio of fresh mushrooms, green onions and tomatoes make a separate vegetable unnecessary. The vegetables, rice and seafood all simmer together in a rich basil-scented broth. Coriander-flavored rice flecked with sliced ripe olives and bits of green onion becomes a tasty bed for colorful fish kebabs. Meaty chunks of halibut, haddock or sole marinate in lime juice, garlic, cumin and a small amount of vegetable oil. Before broiling, the fish is threaded onto skewers with thick slices of zucchini and yellow squash and squares of sweet red bell pepper. Save time by marinating the fish overnight in the refrigerator.

CALIFORNIA SEAFOOD SUPPER

2 cups clam juice
1/4 cup dry white wine
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 cup rice
1 cup quartered fresh mushrooms
1/2 lb. small bay scallops, about 1/2-inch in diameter
1/4 lb. cooked shrimp, peeled and deveined with tails left on 2 green onions cut into thin strips

(about 1/4 cup)
1 to 1 1/2 sliced basil leaves
1/4 tsp. white pepper
1 medium tomato, seeded and diced
1 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice

Bring clam juice, wine and garlic to a boil in 12-inch skillet. Stir in rice and mushrooms. Cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Add scallops, shrimp, onions, basil and pepper; mix well. Remove from heat. Let stand covered until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomato and lemon juice. Makes 6 servings.

CEVICHE-STYLE FISH KEBABS WITH CORIANDER RICE

1/2 cup fresh lime juice
2 Tbsp. olive oil
1 Tbsp. finely chopped fresh parsley
3 garlic cloves, minced
2 tsp. ground cumin
Black pepper, to taste
1 1/2 lbs. halibut or haddock fillets about 1-inch thick, cut into 1 to 1 1/2-inch pieces
2 1/2 cups water
2 tsp. ground coriander
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. red pepper flakes

Combine lime juice, olive oil, parsley, 1 garlic clove, 1 teaspoon cumin and black pepper in shallow glass container. Add halibut; mix well. Marinate at least one hour or as long as overnight, refrigerated, stirring occasionally. About 30 minutes before serving, combine water, coriander, salt, red pepper flakes, remaining 2 garlic cloves and 1 teaspoon cumin. Bring to a boil. Stir in rice. Cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Meanwhile, remove halibut from marinade, reserving marinade. Thread halibut onto 6 skewers alternately with squash and pepper. Brush with marinade. Broil 3 to 4 inches from heat source 3 1/2 to 5 minutes per side or until fish flakes easily with fork. Turn once and brush liberally with marinade during cooking. Remove rice from heat. Let stand covered until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Stir in olives and green onion. Arrange kebabs over rice. Makes 6 servings.

weddings and engagements

Thompson-Eichstaedt

Kimberly K. Eichstaedt of Plymouth and David R. Thompson of Plymouth were married Feb. 1 at the First United Methodist Church, Plymouth. The Rev. John Grenfell and the Rev. Frank Lyman performed the ceremony. Parents of the couple are Dennis and Geri Eichstaedt of Canton and Robert and Ellen Thompson of Plymouth.

The bride is a graduate of Central Michigan University. She is employed by Consumers Power.

Her husband is a graduate of Albion College. He is employed by Thompson-McCully Asphalt Paving.

Carleen Eichstaedt of Plymouth, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Laurie Holman of Plymouth, Karen Doyle of Kalamazoo, and Anne Thompson of Plymouth, sister of the bridegroom.

John Koegel of Flint was the best man. Other attendants for the bridegroom were Robert Hanschu of Lexington, Ky., George Spaniel of Columbus, Ohio, Doug Schroeder of Lexington, Va., and John Thompson of Germany, brother of the bridegroom.

For her wedding, the bride wore a dress of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a scalloped neckline. The dress was originally worn by the mother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. Following a wedding trip to Toronto, the couple are living in Jackson.

Garnett-Marable

Valerie Garnett of Garden City and James Marable of Canton plan a May wedding at Faith Baptist Church in Dearborn Heights.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Garnett of Garden City. He is the son of Frank Marable and Louise Ruh of Dearborn Heights. The bride-to-be is a 1983 graduate of Wayne State University. She is a dietitian at Harper Hospital's Radiation Oncology Center.

Her fiancé is employed by Norwood Production in Melvindale.

IT SHOULD surprise no one that eight of the nine players selected to the 1986 All-Area volleyball team are hitters.

Observerland, in a relatively short span of time, has become a haven for powerful spikers. Last year, the All-Area team featured Lisa Bokovoy, Caroline Smith and Sue Cyrus. Two years ago, Nancy Rzepka, Jill Waterman and Amy Austin smacked their way into prominence.

This, however, may be the most powerful collection ever assembled. The likes of Redford Bishop Borgess' Debbie McDonald, Garden City's Missey Ward and Livonia Stevenson's Kristine Bailey are just the tip of the power block. Redford Union's Marie Becker, Ladywood's Cathy Schram and Livonia Churchill's Jackie Wozniak more than hold their own in such company.

BUT THERE is more to this squad than just power hitting. Each player selected excels in all phases of the game: front row, back row, passing and serving.

With such talent, it's no wonder that Observerland teams have been represented in the state's final four the past four years. Borgess was this year's leader, losing to Portage Northern in the state championship match.

Because of his team's success, this season and the three previous seasons, Borgess coach Jerry Abraham has been selected Observerland Coach of the Year.

Here's a look at the 1986 All-Area volleyball team as selected by the area coaches:

FIRST TEAM

Debbie McDonald, senior, Bishop Borgess: Division I college recruiters made McDonald one of the most sought-after players in the country — and for good reason. The slender 6-1 slammer, a two-time All-Area choice, could dominate a match from any position on the floor. She was the driving force behind Borgess' 39-6 record.

The University of Purdue landed McDonald's volleyball skills and her 3.5 grade point average.

Her forte, it almost goes without saying, is hitting. She averaged 10 kills per game and kept would-be blockers off balance with an array of off-speed tips.

Missey Ward, senior, Garden City: Talk about deceptive power. To look at her slender, 5-7 physique, one wouldn't expect the power that Ward unleashed on the court.

In 1,320 spike attempts, she missed only 96 times and nailed 519 for kills. She was also a lightning-quick blocker and consistent passer. Garden City lost four starters from the previous season, but with Ward in charge the team posted a 44-6 record this season.

A second-team all-stater, she was named the most valuable player of the Northwest Suburban League. She was the MVP of the Plymouth Salem Invitational and was named to three all-tournament teams (including Schoolcraft).

The 3.6 student accepted a volleyball scholarship from Oakland University.

Kristine Bailey, junior, Livonia Stevenson: Sometimes it's best to just state the stats: 841 successful spikes, 339 kills; 345 successful serves out of 375 attempts with 78 aces; and 209 blocks with 69 aces.

No wonder Stevenson coach Lee Cagle calls Bailey "the most well-rounded volleyball-skilled athlete we've ever had."

The third-team all-stater made all-Western Lakes, all-region and two all-tournament teams in this her first season as a full-time player.

Like McDonald and Ward, Bailey has the ability to gain complete control of a match — ask any team that faced the Spartans in the Schoolcraft Invitational (which Stevenson won for the third straight year).

See the smile on Cagle's face? That's because she'll be back next season.

Marie Becker, senior, Redford Union: Because Redford Union won very few volleyball matches, Marie Becker probably didn't gain the recognition that she deserved across the state.

Another deceptively powerful hitter (she's 5-9), Becker was 91 percent effective on her spikes, nailing 580 of 640 attempts. She had 285 kills. She added another 122 successful spikes and 56 more kills off back-row attacks.

She was 91 percent effective both setting and serving. Out of 370 successful serves, she scored 70 aces.

Becker will attend Saginaw Valley next fall on a basketball scholarship.

Cathy Schram, senior, Ladywood: Schram has a rare athletic gift. She can raise the level of her game to meet the challenges of the competition. Her inspired play, for example, led the Blazers to the Class B district championship at Allen Park.

On a good Ladywood team, Schram was the best hitter and passer, and one of the top three servers. She was a first-team all-Catholic League choice.

Her achievements weren't attained without pain, however. She played half the season with a strained back and the final two weeks with a broken finger.

"She never once complained," said Ladywood coach Mike O'Toole. "She's my kind of player."

Jacki Wozniak, senior, Livonia Churchill: There must be some kind of correlation between excellence in the classroom and excellence on the volleyball court. Wozniak, a lethal 6-0 spiker (with an 18-inch vertical jump), earned a 4.03 grade point average at Churchill.

Her talents, both in the front row and back row, helped Churchill amass a 30-11 record. She was an all-tournament pick at Schoolcraft Tournament and a first-team all-Western Lakes pick.

She was offered a volleyball scholarship from Rollins College in Florida.

Farmington trio quits Observer meet

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Generally speaking, there are three prizes highly coveted by Observerland track coaches during the course of a season. The most highly valued prize is the league championship. Next is the state regional meet (which leads to the state finals).

The third prize is the Observerland Relays championship. The annual event, which attempts to bring together all the teams serviced by the Observer Newspapers, has grown in both popularity and prestige over the course of its 15-year history.

"It's a great meet," said Livonia Churchill coach Fred Price, who hosts and directs the meet. "Our kids start thinking about that meet almost from the first day of practice."

Said Plymouth Salem coach Gary Balconi: "We tell our kids every year that the most important meet is the conference championship. Then we look at our weekend meets. The most important has to be the regional. After that comes the Observerland. It's a special meet. It's the pride of the area. I would hate not to be there."

"Hogwash!" say the three Farmington Public School District high schools.

FARMINGTON, NORTH Farmington and Farmington Harrison will not compete in the 16th annual Observerland Boys Track and Field Relays (scheduled for May 3), nor will they compete in the Redford Union-Observerland Girls Track and Field Relays (scheduled for May 10).

"The Observerland Relays are just a duplicate of the (Western Lakes) conference meet," said Farmington coach Dave Catherman, whose Falcons look to have one of the best boys track teams in the area this season. "I'm just not interested in seeing the same people all the time. And I've not been pleased with the way the meet is run. I don't have any answers, but it's such a long, drawn-out affair."

Actually, of the 11 teams signed up so far this season, six are from outside the Western Lakes conference.

Instead of competing at Observerland, the three Farmington schools organized their city meet for Saturday, May 3 (all three teams compete in the Western Lakes). But, according to Catherman, the city meet may be scratched.

"We wanted to have our city meet on that Saturday, but with the new schedule (three new teams, including North Farmington, were brought into the Western Lakes), conflicts came up. Now it's looking like we may lose the city meet."

THE FARMINGTON teams, although generally strong in league competition, have never fared well at the Observerland meet.

"We never have gone into the weekend meets with any team goals," Catherman said. "We just look at it as an individual opportunity for the kids."

Price doesn't see it that way. "Dave (Catherman) has never been real positive about the meet, even long before it came to Churchill," he said. "His teams have not done well here — for one reason or another he just doesn't like the meet. The meet doesn't really fit his team."

"I'll tell you what, it's not his kids (who want to pull out of the meet). He did it himself. He is an excellent coach and always has excellent teams, but his teams don't usually have the depth you need to do well in this type of meet. But you don't just back out."

CATHERMAN SAID he prefers the type of meet format used in the West Bloomfield Invitational, where emphasis is placed on individual events rather than three-person and four-person relay teams.

"I would really like to see them (Observerland) change the format," he said. "The trend these days seems to be away from the relay races and toward more individual races. That way, the kids at least have a chance to get qualifying times for regionals."

The Observerland meet features 16 events, three of which are individual races.

"It's just a matter of philosophy," Catherman said. "The Observerland has become such a hotly contested event, and all the conflicts they had last year, I just don't like the taste. I've been criticized for not going after the Observerland meet, but we peak for the league meet. And if you notice, we've done quite well at the league meet."

Last year, Churchill won both the Observerland and Western Lakes titles. This year, the Western Lakes conference meet and the Observerland are 3½ weeks apart.

ONE OF THE things that has happened," said Price, "is that the meet has become monopolized a bit in recent years. Salem, Churchill and Borgess have been the dominant teams. Maybe interest is waning from that standpoint. But it's hard for me to say because are kids get so pumped for Observerland. It is disappointing to see teams up and pull out. Sometimes that causes others to do the same."

Right now, 11 teams have contracted for the meet. Others, like Wayne Memorial, may also join the field. Last year, 15 teams competed.

"It has always been a good meet and it still is," Price said. "If the Farmington schools want to compete somewhere else, that's fine. The meet will go on without them. And it'll be a good meet."

Catherman indicated that the action taken by the three Farmington-area programs this season was not permanent.

"I'm not sure we're going to stay out forever," he said.

This was a common scene during Observerland volleyball matches this season — a pair of would-be diggers (in this case Salem's Denise Tackett and Lisa Madis) diving in vain for a kill spike.

All-Area volleyball squad loaded with power hitters

Carol Hall, senior, Westland John Glenn. A 5.85 student, Hall helped Glenn to Western Lakes Division and Class A district titles this season. She posted a 92 percent serving efficiency with 30 aces and made only 13 service reception errors all season (an impressive statistic).

But she is at her best at the net. At 5-10, and possessing a 26-inch vertical jump, she was 90 percent effective at the net, killing 37 percent of her shots. The three-year varsity player earned a spot on the first-team all-region squad this season.

Anne Terksi, senior, Bishop Borgess. Finally, a non-hitter. But Terksi's contribution to Borgess' successful season should be given equal space with McDonald's. After all, it was Terksi's job to get the ball to McDonald.

Borgess deploys a 5-1 formation on the court. As a result, a huge burden is placed on the shoulders of Terksi, the team's lone setter. For two seasons, she handled the role flawlessly.

Diana Swope, senior, Wayne Memorial. Very few people expected to see Wayne Memorial in the finals of the Schoolcraft Invitational this season. To get there, Wayne had to knock off the likes of Garden City and Walled Lake Western twice.

No problem. The team was eventually stopped by Stevenson, but not before Swope won the respect of coaches throughout Observerland. In fact, several coaches were shocked that Swope was left off Schoolcraft's all-tournament team.

She possesses tremendous quickness on the court and has an excellent vertical jump. She also packs a good deal of strength in her small body. Like the seven hitters mentioned previously, she had the ability to dominate a match.

SECOND TEAM
Linda Madis, Plymouth Salem; Livonia Stevenson; Garden City; Livonia Stevenson; Bishop Borgess; Wayne Memorial.

Play ball?

Depending on the weather, it'll either be time to pull the tarpaulin off the baseball field or put it back on as the 1986 Observerland baseball season gets into swing. Both Salem and Canton will be opening up on April 14. The Observer will be featuring pre-season previews of the teams (softball, too) in the next two weeks.

Ex-Marlin finds no shame at No. 2

By C.J. Riskak
staff writer

For almost any swimmer anywhere in the country, Kara McGrath's accomplishments over the past two seasons would be exhilarating. Finishing second in the NCAA championship meet in the 200-yard butterfly is, after all, something to be proud of.

But McGrath, a junior at the University of Texas from Birmingham, says accomplishments meant little if there was no improvement. In other words, why continue as No. 2 if there was no evidence that No. 1 was within reach?

That was the disillusioning spectre confronting McGrath — until last weekend. Understand, McGrath went up against Olympic gold medalist and world record holder Mary T. Meagher of California in the NCAA finals last week and placed second. Again. She was second to Meagher at the 1985 NCAA meet, too.

BUT THIS TIME it was different. "I've swam against her at least 50 times and I've never beaten her," said McGrath. During their high school years, the pair trained together in Louisville, Ky., where McGrath attended Sacred Heart Academy. She went to Farmington Hills Mercy as a freshman.

Such a long string of frustrations can be overpowering. But McGrath has endured, and at last weekend's NCAA meet there was something different. Meagher did beat her in the 200 fly. McGrath's specialty, but it wasn't so easy. Meagher won in 1:54.52. McGrath clocked a personal best of 1:56.91.

"I felt better this time," said McGrath, "because I felt I made progress against her. This was the first time I felt good about it."

She could give no single reason for her improvement and the resulting optimistic outlook. "I think I'm stronger this year," she said. "And my parents wanted me to change what I was eating. They think that helped."

WHATEVER THE REASONS, McGrath's 200 fly swim was the second-most exciting thing for her at the NCAA meet, which was March 20-22 in Fayetteville, Ark. The first was U-T's third consecutive national title, making the Lady Longhorns the first women's team ever to win three straight NCAA swim championships.

"It was really exciting," said McGrath of the team victory. "It was the high point of the whole meet for me. I've gone three-for-three, and next year we'll be going for a perfect record — four-for-four."

This title didn't come easy for U-T after the 1985 team's record-setting point-scoring effort. And the team's struggle — the Lady Longhorns totaled 633 points to 586 for runner-up Florida — helped motivate McGrath.

"I didn't swim well at all the first two days (of the NCAA meet)," she admitted. U-T coach Richard Quick figured it would be best for the team if McGrath swam the 500 freestyle as well as the 100 and 200 fly and 400 individual medley.

She finished 15th in the 400 IM (4:24.36) and 16th in both the 500 free (4:53.83) and 100 fly (56.16). At last year's NCAA meet, McGrath was 10th in the 100 fly, but this time she swam it 10 minutes after finishing the 500 free. She also had to swim the 100 fly and 500 free twice each on Thursday.

STILL, WITH U-T behind after the first day of the NCAA meet, McGrath knew she'd have to do better. She did, on Saturday, her 200 fly time beat her previous best of 1:57.54 by six-tenths of a second.

Following the NCAA championships, McGrath took time off for spring break to visit her family. But when classes resume today (Monday), she'll go back into training. Her goal is the World Games trials, held in Orlando, Fla., in June.

McGrath wants to be one of the two swimmers to make the team in each event and travel to Germany for additional training prior to the World Games to be held in Madrid in July.

After that, training for her senior season at U-T starts. But that's as far ahead as McGrath will plan; a berth on the Olympic team is not on her horizon, at least not at present.

● CRAIGER REESE TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the Craigie Pee Wee Reese Travel baseball team will take place 1:30-4:30 p.m. Saturday, April 5, at Griffin Park (Canton Center Road). All boys 11-12 years old are eligible. Call Bob Ruete at 397-8149 after 6 p.m. for more information.

● SOFTBALL OPENINGS AVAILABLE

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department still has a few openings in its mens and womens softball leagues. Those interested should contact the recreation department as soon as possible. 397-1000. League play begins late April.

● MENS GOLF

Canton parks and rec will sponsor a mens golf league at Fellows Creek Wednesday evenings beginning May 7. The league is for Canton residents only and the fee is $20 plus weekly greens fees. A league meeting has been set for 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 22, at the Canton Township meeting hall.

● SENIORS GOLF

Canton will also sponsor a senior citizens golf league at Fellows Creek on Tuesday mornings. The cost is $5 plus greens fees. A league meeting has been set for 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 22, at the Canton Township meeting hall.

● OVER 40 HOCKEY

All those "kids" age 40 and over interested in competing in a spring hockey league can register by calling 455-8289 or 471-3348.

The league, housed at the Plymouth Cultural Center, will run from April 6 through May 7 (eight games).

● CHIEFS BASEBALL CLINIC

The second Plymouth Canton Chiefs Baseball Clinic will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the following Saturdays: April 12 and April 19.

The clinics, sponsored by the Canton Chiefs' Parents' Booster Club, are housed at Canton High School's Phase III facility.

The fee is $20. Participants must be at least 9 years old. The clinics, which cover virtually every aspect of the game, will be run by Canton baseball coach Fred Crissey and his assistants Dave Racer and Mark LaPointe.

Call Gary Lyle at 455-3444 or Tom Kenyon at 453-5667 for more information.

Late registration for boys ages 7-12 and girls 13-18 interested in competing in the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League will take place 7:30-9 p.m. Wednesday, April 9, at the Canton High School cafeteria.

A $10 late charge will be assessed per family in addition to the registration fee. Those interested in umpiring or managing should also attend.

● USED EQUIPMENT SALE

Canton parks and rec is sponsoring a used sports equipment sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, April 26, at the Canton Township Administration meeting room.

Those with items to sell should bring them to the administration building 5-9 p.m. Thursday, April 24. You set the prices and the parks and recreation department gets 15 percent of the sale price.

Call 397-1000 for more details.

Goalie saves Engineers

The spectacular goaltending of Mike Williams Thursday night enabled the Henssey Engineers to beat the St. Clair Shores Falcons, 8-5, in the second game of their North American Junior Hockey League (NAJHL) series at the Redford Ice Arena.

Williams, who stopped 37 shots during the first two periods, enabled Henssey to tie the best-of-seven series at 1-1.

The Engineers exploded for three goals in the second period and then outscored the Falcons 4-1 in the final period.

E.J. Sauer led the surge with two goals and two assists. Mike Miller added two goals and one assist, while Paul Mitter contributed one goal and three assists.

Game No. 3 was played Saturday night at Oak Park's Compuware Arena. Game No. 4 is slated for 8 tonight at the Redford Arena.
