Road raises residential fears

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Residents in Hampton Court West are worried about a "race course" atmosphere when a road to be built this year cuts through their subdivision.

Sheldon Center will run from Canton Center to Sheldon beginning on Canton Center south of Brunswick and continue northeasterly to Sheldon south of Gallimore School. A small curve in the road called the Canton Center connector will join Canton Center and the new road.

Sheldon Center will be four lanes south of Brunswick to the connector and two lanes from Canton Center to Sheldon.

Wayne County is expected to begin construction by July and complete the project in the fall, said Alan Richardson, assistant county highway engineer.

The purpose of the project is to divert traffic that's now travelling through the Joy and Canton Center intersection onto the new Sheldon Center road.

Other drivers assisted by the new road will be those who have a hard time merging from Arlington and other parallel streets onto Sheldon, Richardson said.

Forest Trails and Hampton Court West residents are concerned, Richardson said. "But the other people in the congested intersections will be helped.

HAMPTON COURT resident Carol Bollman, representing a group of her neighbors, wants Wayne County to use caution in setting speed limits and determining traffic signal sites.

A strip of road on Canton Center will be eliminated. Therefore, traffic travelling on Canton Center north from Warren will be forced to turn east onto Sheldon Center.

Bollman said homeowners knew the road would be constructed but are surprised by the proposed plans.

"We assumed the road would be like Hanford with two lanes of traffic with parking on either side like a residential type of road," Bollman said. "We did not understand it would be a rerouting."

The Canton Connection

TOP BOWLER: Tom Brudzinski, who carries a 190 average at Super Bowl in Canton, bowled his way into the elite circle of the game when he posted an 805 series recently with games of 290, 236 and 279. It was one of the highest series rolled at Super Bowl.

BOOK BOWLERS: Field Elementary School was the first-place winner in the 1986 Book Bowl held recently at Canton Township Hall. Team members were Michelle O'Brine, Jodi Carr, Kara Fiegenschuh and Melissa Keith. The runnerup team representing Eriksson Elementary consisted of Lisa Allen, Matt Wilson, Jessie Givens and Alyssa Rickard. The Book Bowl is a cooperative effort between the Canton Public Library and Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

SMALL IS BIG: The Canton Chamber of Commerce still is looking for the 1986 Small Business Person of the Year in Canton. That person will be honored at the chamber's quarterly membership meeting May 21 in the Mayflower Meeting House. Besides being honored, the person also will have a chance to hear guest speaker Dick Allen, Michigan's ombudsman. If you haven't nominated your choice for the honor, pick up nominating forms at the chamber office, Township Hall, at local banks and at many businesses. The nomination deadline is today.

DELEGATE RALLY: 15th Congressional Republications will hold a Spring Picnic and Precinct Delegate Rally 1-5 p.m. Saturday, May 10, at Canton Township hall. There will be refreshments served with donations accepted. The keynote speaker will be Spencer Abraham, Republican state chairman. Special guests will include Jack Kemp, Dan Murphy, Bill Lucas, Dick Chrysler, State Sen. Robert Geake, Rep. Gerald Law, Rep. Lynn Bankes, Peter Bundarin, Glenn Kassel and Jeb Bush.

CLEANING UP: Canton Township again is declaring May as Clean Up Month for all residents. Residents may dispose of all items except tree limbs at Canton Recycling, 5757 Lilley, about 600 feet north of Ford Road in Canton. There will be a large "spring clean up" sign up in the front truck yard. The hours are 9 a.m. until dark, seven days a week. The service is free.

Paint containers are to be placed into the proper 4-by-4 container marked for "paint" found in the truck yard. The paint is to be contained in a tightly sealed container. Tree limbs and branches will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday at the DPW Yard, 4847 Sheldon just south of Michigan Avenue, Canton. Check in first at the front office.

LOWELLITES HONORED: Lowell Middle School students Lisa Phillips, Christopher Pavia and Loren Givens were the top three winners in the 17th annual America & Me Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group. All three, who are in Joann Gustafson's eighth-grade English class, received certificates for their achievement. As the school's first-place winner, Lisa will have her name engraved on a plaque to be displayed at Lowell.

Academic all-stars

Here they are — the 15 members of the Observer's 1986 Academic All-Star team. They are bright, energetic and have their sights set high. Each student member will be profiled Thursday in the Suburban Life section. Selected to this year's all-star team are (seated from left) Christine Pelliar of Redford Union, Linda Rhee of Plymouth Salem, Kenneth Clark of Westland John Glenn, Jacqueline Aho of North Farmington, David Darmofal of Livonia Stevenson, Soo Jin Kwon of Plymouth Salem and Ian McCreery of Westland John Glenn. In the back row (from left) are Daniel Shakespear of Catholic Central, Bill Kellogg of Livonia Churchill, Dennis Paige of Garden City, John Brinkman of Bishop Borgess, Peter Mueller of Bishop Borgess, Paul Krajewski of Livonia Stevenson, Mark Schiefsky of Farmington Harrison and Daniel Weiner of Farmington Harrison. The scholars were nominated by their schools and selected using a formula which took into account their grades in academic subjects and scores on national tests such as the SAT and ACT.

Cause sought for ailments at school

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Health officials expect to know today or tomorrow the cause of stomach ailments reported among elementary students and staff last week at Plymouth's Allen School.

With health officials saying that culture tests in Lansing should pinpoint the cause of the outbreak, Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, medical director of the Wayne County Health Department, said, "Information suggests a point source of outbreak — possibly related to some contaminated food or water."

At the height of the outbreak, 150 students and 10 staff were ill and stayed home from school Wednesday morning, with others reporting symptoms and leaving school during the day.

Most reported symptoms of nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. One student was hospitalized Wednesday but was improved on Thursday, said Plymouth-Canton school nurse Kari Miller. She said the "acute phase" of the illness lasted eight to 12 hours. Allen School's enrollment is 609.

THE NUMBER reported ill dropped to 90 on Thursday and 68 Friday, when Lawrenchuk concluded, "It looks like we are over the peak. Whatever was out there seems to be resolving."

Most of those afflicted reported symptoms Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. Schools officials called in health department staff who circulated questionnaires to pinpoint the cause of the outbreak.

The school cafeteria was closed pending test results, and food was trucked in on Friday. Food, water, and stool samples were taken, and environment testing was conducted.

Lawrenchuk said some students and staff reporting no symptoms were also polled.

INDICATORS POINTED to the cafeteria as a possible source of contamination, especially when no symptoms were reported among half-day kindergarteners, said Lawrenchuk.

Most students and staff who became ill had eaten at the cafeteria, he said, adding, "That was a good hint for us."

The Service Systems Co. provides food service to the school.

Lawrenchuk noted that some who reported symptoms did not eat at the cafeteria, or just had cafeteria beverages. Some half-day kindergarteners also reported symptoms by Friday.

Lawrenchuk said these symptoms could have resulted from these individuals coming in contact with others already contaminated, possibly at the school cafeteria.

ON THURSDAY, a rumor circulated that pasta salad served at the cafeteria was the contamination source.

Lawrenchuk said, "Pasta salad was one of the questions in our survey. I would just call that a rumor right now."

He said that while some who reported symptoms ate the salad, others who were afflicted did not. Principal Tom Workman, who reported symptoms, also ate the salad, Lawrenchuk said.

Lawrenchuk said some similar symptoms were reported among Sarnia, Ontario, residents recently, and in other Ontario cities. But he said the outbreaks were probably not connected to the Allen School situation.

MOST PROMINENT among symptoms reported in Sarnia was bloody diarrhea — not reported among those afflicted in Plymouth.

Schools spokesman Dick Egli urged parents not to return children to school before symptoms have subsided to prevent further outbreaks. Lawrenchuk encouraged parents of children with symptoms to contact family doctors and the health department at 467-3325 or 467-3300.

Guards hurt in prison scuffle

Michigan State Police are investigating an incident last Friday morning at the Western Wayne Correctional Facility that resulted in injuries to five guards and the relocation of three inmates to the facility's detention unit.

The medium security prison, the former Detroit House of Corrections, is near Sheldon and Five Mile in Plymouth Township.

One guard sustained a broken wrist, another broken ribs and the others minor injuries, said Kurt Jones, administrative assistant to warden Emmett Baylor Jr. None of the inmates was hurt, Jones said.

"During the ensuing struggle, two officers were hurt seriously enough to be taken by ambulance to a local hospital for medical treatment."

It wasn't immediately determined what the inmates were doing out of their beds at that hour of the morning. Jones said he heard spud juice, a homemade alcohol, was involved.

"I assume this will be leading to prosecution."

"The rest of the housing units didn't become involved at all so we're operating this facility with those barracks under normal operations," he said.

Western Wayne Correctional Facility houses just over 400 prisoners, Jones said.

"He ordered them back to bed."

'Mostly Mozart' concert is presented Thursday

The orchestras of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will present a concert entitled "Mostly Mozart" Thursday.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, Joy west of Canton Center Road.

Featured will be the combined middle school beginning orchestra (seventh grade), the combined intermediate orchestra (grades seven, eight and nine), the high school orchestra and several soloists.

Each group will perform some compositions by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the composer who lived during the late 1700s. A few non-Mozart selections also will be included, thus the title "Mostly Mozart."

Middle school students Suzanne Long, violin; Danielle Walquist, violin; and Wendy Stuart, cello, will perform a trio by Mozart and the middle school orchestra will perform a "Serenade."

High school orchestra members will perform the following concertos (solos) with the high school orchestra: Danile Stacey, violin concerto No. 5 in A Major; Kristin Van Buhler, flute concerto No. 2 in D Major; Mozart; Lily Pao, piano concerto No. 1 in C Major; Beethoven.

Open to the public.

Chance to win makes 'em smile

By Janice Brunson staff writer

JOANIE HEATON was ecstatic. After two years of trying, she had just won her first Special Olympics medal in many of the running long jump.

For Joannie, 24, a short red-head who suffers mental and physical impairments, including a substantial hearing loss, it was a personal achievement.

Joannie was one of 937 athletes 8 years old and older who participated in the Wayne County spring Special Olympics last Friday at Wayne Memorial High School.

Five school districts were represented by 37 teams from special education classes, schools and group homes for the mentally impaired. Joannie represented Opportunity House, a group home in Plymouth that houses 16 young men and women. She attends special education classes at Bryant School in Livonia.

WHEN HER COACH, Gail Bowers, asked Joannie what she thought about her first-place medal, Joannie raised her arms in victory and shouted, "Happy. Yeah, happy." Joannie may like her medal, but the thing Debbie Gutholm, 16, likes best about the Special Olympics is the dances held following state-level games. "I LOVE the dances," the articulate, stocky brunette emphasized.

Debbie, a junior at Redford Union High School, is educable mentally impaired. She has been competing in special olympic events for two years in swimming, track and field events. Her coach, Roger Handy, places her on teams where he needs her most. "Our program is so small," he explained, "that I determine what events we enter by the number of students competing and their individual abilities."

DEBBIE SAYS she also likes the extra activities Coach Handy arranges for the Special Olympics team, like the community field trips. Last winter the team visited Redford's elected state officials, Rep. John Bennett and state Sen. Robert Geake.

Exposing the mentally impaired to the community, and the community to them is one of the real benefits of the Special Olympics in Terry Frynsinger's opinion.

Frynsinger is the coach for Burger, a development learning center for autistic children in Garden City and he had 137 athletes competing in Friday's games. Another 50 regular normal students from Garden City High School participated as volunteers.

Over 300 regular students from Western Wayne county high schools volunteered to help. According to Terry Jobbitts, games director, these students received school credit for their participation.

Jobbitts was also a volunteer who put in many hours as games director. He is a member of Civitans, a service organization. Eleven years ago, members of Civitan worked with the Michigan Special Olympics to establish the Wayne County games. They have hosted approximately five games each year since.

JOE QUINN, 18, a slender, tall young man who is the middle of nine children, has competed in many of the games.

He has carefully collected 13 medals at home in Livonia, where he says brothers and sisters encourage him to, "go for it." Joe, who is trainable mentally impaired, attends the Northwest Wayne Trainable Center and is considered a superb athlete.

His coach, Ricki Gans, expects him to qualify for international Special Olympics competition this summer at Notre Dame University in Indiana.

Aaron Shackelford, 14, of Wayne, is also considered an excellent athlete. He competes in the pentathlon, an event of five separate competitions. Aaron attends special education classes at Stevenson Junior High School. A soft-spoken, thoughtful boy, Aaron says "I'm good at athletics."

He likes the Special Olympics for another reason, too. The new friends he meets. "I mostly like the coaches."

HIS COACH, Nancy Chilcutt, sees this as one of the major benefits of the games, the opportunity to participate in experiences that develop what she refers to as "survival skills."

This was the first competition Ronnie Walzak, 9, had entered. Ronnie who is educable mentally impaired and attends Farrand Elementary School in Plymouth, entered the softball throw. His mother, Marcia, was there to cheer him on. "It's a great way for him to use up all that energy," she laughed.

Sandra Salliotte, 14, a lovely, lanky blond from Garden City does not display much emotion. She is autistic. But she does compete in Special Olympics and last year she even won a medal in the 50 meter dash. Sandra does not say much, but she nodded a firm "yes" when asked if she was enjoying herself.

Deadline looms on historical school grant

By Diane Gale
staff writer

A $99,500 grant to renovate the 109-year-old Cherry Hill School will be lost unless Canton officials act quickly.

Reaching agreement with Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is the next step Canton officials must make.

The Michigan Equity Program grant was earmarked last year for the school, at Cherry Hill and Ridge in the Cherry Hill Historical District.

but the renovation must be completed by December 1986, according to a grant requirement.

"We're really trying to get the negotiations completed," said Kim Scherschligt, Canton's community and economic development research associate.

"We'll be right under the wire but I think we will be able to do it."

Since notification of the grant, Canton has tried to clear hurdles with the Plymouth-Canton school district and the Edison Institute.

Edison gave the district a quit claim deed for the school in 1946. However, the title said the site had to be used as a school.

Earlier this month Edison lifted the restriction with the stipulation the site not be used for commercial purposes, Scherschligt said. Edison also asked to be recognized on a plaque at the site.

AFTER THE RESTORATION, the school will be used as a community meeting hall by local groups and township organizations.

The next move is receiving the title from the school district. Following lengthy talks between school and township officials, the board last week approved a payment to the district of $25,000 without stipulations. Canton is waiting for the school board to vote on that proposal.

Trustee Loren Bennett has negotiated during the past few months with Superintendent John M. Hoben. Initially what they wanted was that we would build their top priority sidewalks along Canton Center Road," Bennett said.

However, the cost for these projects was more than the $25,000 Canton wanted to pay. Canton came back with a $25,000 offer that would be earmarked for sidewalk construction.

While residents say the road will cut through the subdivision, the county has a different perspective. "We see it as there are houses on either side of our road," Richardson said. "We'll be serving thousands of people on that road, and we'll make it as safe as we possibly can."

Sheldon Center is expected to carry up to 9,000 cars daily and alleviate traffic on Sheldon and Canton Center, he said. Daily about 13,000 cars drive Sheldon between Joy and Warren, and daily about 11,000 drive Canton Center between Joy and Warren.

Bollman suggests the county conduct safety studies, resurface Sheldon, and give residents a chance to air their views on the final proposal. She's not opposed to the road going in because the weeded property would be left unkempt. But Bollman wants care taken in its planning.

"We will be presenting the project to the township for their comment," he added.

WHEN THE BEST MEDICINE IS NO MEDICINE

If you have arthritis, you expect that treatment will include the use of medicine. However, there are reasons that may lead your physician to choose an alternative.

For example, you may have shoulder pain from tendinitis. Usually, injection into the painful area, or heat and massage to that location are the preferred treatments. The reason is that since the pain is localized the therapy used should be concentrated in that locale. Taking a medicine means providing therapy throughout the body where it is not needed, and hoping that the fraction of the medicine that reaches the involved area will suffice for treatment.

Another reason for not using drugs occurs if you are sensitive to the side effects of medications. If they bring on upset stomach, headaches, or nervousness, then starting a drug may not treat a problem, but create one.

Therapy does not always mean using medicine. In treating arthritis, heat, rest, injection, and time often prove effective and invariably are safe.

clarification

A headline, "Cantonite nabbed in drug raid," was incorrect in the April 24 edition of the Plymouth Observer and Canton Observer. The story correctly reported that the Canton resident has been indicted on drug charges but he was not arrested in a drug raid as the headline indicated.

County hopes to build campground in Canton

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

To encourage tourism, Wayne County planners are trying to set up a public campground along the Lower Rouge River in Canton Township.

Nancy Watkins, chief of planning with the county Parks and Recreation Department, says the county has applied for almost $1 million in state grants to buy privately owned acreage generally between Morton Taylor Road and I-275 along Michigan Avenue.

Word on possible acceptance of the grant request should come "in about four months," Watkins said.

PLANS TO OPEN A campground hinge on two factors: Acceptance of the grant requests by the state and private owners agreeing to sell the 32-acre and 24-acre spots to the county.

"These are the key pieces to the big puzzle," Watkins said.

This acreage fronting Michigan Avenue would be added to a portion of the more than 200 acres the county already owns along the banks of the Lower Rouge. The campground would likely sit on 126 acres, Watkins said.

She added that this would be the only public or private campground in the county.

Currently, vacationers wanting to camp in the region "have to go up north or go to Oakland County," Watkins said. "The campground would accommodate recreational vehicles, tent camping and there would be the possibility of some cabins in rentals."

UTILITY HOOKUPS and showers would be included at the facility, "a regular modern campground," she added. The campground would also be made available to school and scout groups.

Watkins noted that because of the development boom along I-275, competition for available acreage has pushed land prices up. Competition for land in that corridor makes access of the park plan uncertain, Watkins said.

"Wayne County cannot afford for it not to work; not if it's going to compete in the economic tourist trade."

She added that much of the land the county is seeking is designated a floodplain. This excludes some types of development, making the land less attractive to developers.

Disclosure

Ficano reveals his finances, issues challenge

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Sheriff Robert Ficano disclosed his personal financial net worth last week and challenged the other candidates for Wayne County executive to do the same.

Ficano's financial statement listed personal assets worth more than one-quarter of a million dollars. Most is in real estate, investments in two pension-savings plans, $17,790 in four bank accounts, one car and computer hardware.

He listed his net worth at $121,133 after subtracting mortgage debts totaling $148,800 on two homes — one in Livonia valued at $120,000 and a condominium in Orlando, Fla. worth $99,500 — and a $5,728 car loan.

Ficano and his wife, Rosemarie, listed $30,267 invested in a Comerica (Individual Retirement Account) IRA ($9,165) and the county pension system ($21,102) as well as a 1985 Chrysler car (valued at $7,125), and savings account.

FICANO SAID he owns a company called Robdale Ltd. whose assets are listed as $779 worth of computer equipment.

He said he earns $45,900 in salary as sheriff. His wife works as a special education teacher in the Garden City School District. Her salary was not listed.

Friday's disclosure did not list his campaign or office-holders funds, which are not personal assets.

Ficano said he was disclosing the information voluntarily because "it is important for the public to know what holdings a public official has."

"I don't think anyone wants to get into a situation like in the old County Building of a potential conflict of interest," he said.

FICANO WAS referring to ownership by Dennis Nystrom, then execu-utive William Lucas' chief of staff, of a company selected to do renovation work on the historic county building. Nystrom's company was later dropped from the project when it was learned he stood to gain, and a county commission probe followed into the conflict of interest issue.

Friday's disclosure prompted charges from several other executive candidates of political posturing by Ficano.

"It never occurred to me that any candidate wouldn't do it (disclosure private assets). There's no question, he's posturing," said Frank Wilkerson, a candidate and an assistant county executive. "What the citizens want to know is that you're honest, but they also want to know what you stand for."

"THAT'S WHAT I'm more interested in," Wilkerson continued. "I want them (the other candidates) to say where they stand on the vital issues."

Wilkerson said he will disclose his financial worth sometime before the Aug. 5 primary. Detroit Commissioner Sam Turner said he also intends to release that information and would decide this week on a time.

"I don't own anything that could be considered (a conflict of interest)," he said.

Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara said any decision he might make about financial disclosures would be complicated because it would necessitate public disclosure of the finances of his wife and two longtime business partners.

HE REFERRED to a private corporation called Will-O-Mac of which he is one of three members. The corporation owns property along the I-75 Freeway in Northville Township that includes 17 acres containing a par 3 golf course, a driving range and a putting course.

According to township assessment records, the 17-acre site is valued at almost $400,000. But McNamara said a small part of that assessment includes a bar located on the site, which is not owned by the Will-O-Mac Corp. McNamara said Friday the corporation owns about 35 acres in the township.

"I've got some problems (with disclosure)," he said. "If it would serve some purpose or defend something, then it would make sense. But in disclosing my finances I'm exposing my wife and business partners."

McNamara said he didn't think he had "the right" to do that but he would think about it. He also accused Ficano of seeking publicity.

COMMISSIONER JOHN Hertel of Harper Woods responded to the Ficano challenge by saying it's been his practice since he first ran for elected office to disclose not just a prepared summary of holdings, like Ficano, but his entire tax return.

In addition, he filed a statement listing his source of income with the commission clerk a few months ago, and "urged the rest of the commissioners to follow suit," he said Friday.

Lucas to freeze hiring, spending

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Wayne County Executive William Lucas is expected to call for a freeze on hiring and spending in all departments at a press conference today (Monday).

The county is facing a potential $42.4 million deficit because of lost revenues, overspending and other fiscal problems this year, according to Ronald Chapman, Lucas' chief administrative officer.

Lucas plans to announce a three-step series of executive orders that would freeze hiring, freeze employee overtime and eliminate planned capital expenditures, said Chapman.

Chapman blamed the fiscal problems in part on overspending by county commissioners and department heads.

He cited Sheriff Robert Ficano and the Westland Power Plant as two areas where the budget has been overspent by $2.7 million and $1.2 million, respectively. In total, overspending in the county budget has reached $7 million, he said.

"We'll be contacting the various department heads and putting them on restricted allocations," he said.

THE COUNTY'S fiscal year began last Dec. 1. Basic overspending, Chapman said, anticipates losing $3.4 million this year in five separate areas including revenue sharing.

Their projections also take into account what Chapman calls "potential" fiscal problems such as the county's current $20 million dispute with the state of Michigan over independent medical care costs, as well as another $12 million dispute before the Michigan Court of Appeals over overtime payments to AFSCME workers. Unless settled in the county's favor, he said, they represent $32 million in new costs.

The issue over medical-care costs focuses on a dispute over the county's share of providing medical care to indigents who cannot afford care yet don't receive Medicaid coverage. Auditors are reviewing charges the state has billed Wayne County.

According to Chapman, county fiscal planners say that while a portion of those costs are probably accurate, the balance represents "gross errors" in billing on the state's part. Chapman said there will be "no immediate cutback in services and programs."

Tax on horse bets may be cut 2.5%

The Michigan Senate passed a bill to cut the state tax on pari-mutuel horse race wagering and to allow track wagering on races telecast from other states.

But the bill lacks a section guaranteeing host cities a cut of the funds. Affected are the cities of Livonia and Northville in Wayne County.

"The main purpose is to allow simulcasting of races from other states," said Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

Tracks such as Northville Downs, Ladbroke DRC in Livonia and Hazel Park would be able to telecast races from tracks in other states and accept wagers.

"A second purpose was to reduce the state tax on wagering from 6 percent to 4.5 percent," Geake added. The lost revenue — $6 million — would allow tracks to upgrade their facilities and offer larger purses, hopefully attracting better horses.

Geake's argument that race tracks eat up big tracts of land, generate little in property taxes and bring lots of traffic fell on 25 sets of unresponsive ears.

ROLL CALL vote on final passage: Yes: Doug Cruce, R-Troy; Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills; Richard Fessler, R-West Bloomfield; Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford; and Patrick McCollough, D-Deerborn. No: Geake.

Excused: William Faust, D-Westland. The Geake amendment was supported by Geake, Cruce, Faxon, Fessler and Nichols. McCollough was opposed.

The bill goes next to the House.

THE BILL was written in mid-1985 by Sen. Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale County, went through his Agriculture Committee and was rewritten in Sen. Rick Fessler's State Affairs Committee. Fessler, R-West Bloomfield, has one of the state's largest concentrations of stables in his district.

In the process, senators resisted Detroit's efforts to add either a horse- or dog-racing track. The bill would grant Racing Commission William Cahalan more authority to make random tests of horses for drugs.

Officials, jockeys, drivers, trainers and others in direct contact with horses would be subject to tests for controlled substances. The bill allows the racing commissioner to levy stiffer penalties for drug-trafficking, drunken riding (thoroughbred runners) and drunken driving (harness trotters and pacers).

After starting his sophomore season, Bublin ended up on the bench the next two years. His talent was evident, but he didn't fit into coach Fred Thoman's system. So he was sentenced to the bench, seemingly paroled only when Thoman deemed it absolutely necessary.

Somewhere Purdue's coaching staff had heard of his troubles at Salem, Bublin was convinced. The impression was firmly established. It was irreversible.

HE WAS RUNNING track, and that led him to another sport, one he never considered at Salem: football.

"I wouldn't have gone out if I didn't think I had a chance to play, but they said they were short people in the secondary."

His size and speed were enough to convince football coaches to give Bublin a shot at defensive back. During his sophomore season he was limited to the scout team, but

Bublin's success can't chase cloud

MAYBE SCOTT BUBLIN was born a couple decades too late.

He seems a throw-back to the '60s, whether he agrees with the image or not. Bublin will be remembered as outspoken, the guy who dared disagree, who said what he thought. Even if it got him into trouble.

For the record, the impression isn't right. What is true is that throughout Bublin's athletic career, trouble has lingered like a case of teenage acne — unwanted, yet unwilling to go away.

The shame of it is that Bublin has talent. Lots of it.

AT PLYMOUTH SALEM, Bublin was a superb trackman. He was the outstanding runner at the Oberlin Relay his senior year, a superb sprinter and hurdler whose abilities won him Observer's trackman of the year honors.

Bublin also played basketball. That's where he got in trouble.

After starting his sophomore season, Bublin ended up on the bench the next two years. His talent was evident, but he didn't fit into coach Fred Thoman's system. So he was sentenced to the bench, seemingly paroled only when Thoman deemed it absolutely necessary.

"He just thought I'd never listen to anything he said," said Bublin of his conflict with Thoman. "It developed into a personality thing."

WHAT BUBLIN couldn't have known then was that his conflict would follow him to Purdue, a school he chose not so much for athletics as academics.

Bublin is a senior at Purdue now, carrying a B average in electrical engineering. He will enter graduate school at Purdue in the fall.

His athletic career has remained in turmoil, however. When he arrived at Purdue, he wanted to walk-on and tryout for basketball.

"They wouldn't let me play basketball," he said. "They weren't even interested. They didn't want anything to do with me."

Somewhere Purdue's coaching staff had heard of his troubles at Salem, Bublin was convinced. The impression was firmly established. It was irreversible.

HE WAS RUNNING track, and that led him to another sport, one he never considered at Salem: football.

"When I was running track as a freshman, I got to be friends with Mel Gray, who was a running back on the football team," explained Bublin. "I was hanging around with a lot of football players and I decided to give it a shot."

"I wouldn't have gone out if I didn't think I had a chance to play, but they said they were short people in the secondary."

His size and speed were enough to convince football coaches to give Bublin a shot at defensive back. During his sophomore season he was limited to the scout team, but his junior year he traveled with the squad on half its trips.

CONSIDERING SEVERAL of the scholarship athletes don't make road trips, it seemed fair to Bublin that he receive at least a partial scholarship. Particularly after spring practice a year ago.

Starting safety Rob Woodson was injured and Bublin thought he had secured a spot as second-string safety. But when spring practice ended, some junior college recruits landed on the depth chart ahead of him.

"The secondary coach didn't want to admit to playing a walk-on," said Bublin. "It would make him look bad if he played a walk-on ahead of players he recruited."

The writing was on the wall, plain enough for Bublin. No scholarship was forthcoming. His game score three quick goals. I thought if we could hold Beth Frigge and Ken Whiteley in check until everyone settled down, we'd be OK."

WITH NO SPRING football to play, Bublin has been running track. And doing quite well. He's Purdue's top sprinter and high hurdler, with a 10.9 in the 100 meters and a 14.7 in the 110-meter high hurdles. He's also a member of the 4x100 relay.

"It's a lot of fun," said Bublin of his track season. "I'd like to place in the top six at the Big Ten meet, but that'll be pretty tough."

Bublin isn't as dedicated to sports as other high school standouts, who figure they can major in basketball or football in college. His reasons should be apparent.

"After that basketball thing (at Salem), I was kind of down on sports," he admitted. "It was disappointing, kind of a bummer. But you grow up and realize there are other things more important."

PERHAPS HIS route to that realization wasn't a pleasant one. Bublin: always cherished basketball, a love he never got a chance to satisfy. At Purdue, football suddenly blossomed as an outlet for his athletic skills. But after two seasons that wilted, too.

"I don't know," said Bublin. "It seems I was always a day late and a dollar short."

Which is why he hesitates when asked if he will take advantage of another year of eligibility in outdoor track. "Maybe," he muttered.

"It's a fine line. I mean, sports are a lot of fun, but they take a lot away from school. It's hard, it's a lot of work trying to do both. People should consider that when they go away to school."

Bublin knows now there's a time and a place for everything. For him, the timing always seemed jilted, slightly out of whack, when it came to sports. Whatever athletic greatness was within his potential was also located in another time zone.

A day late, a dollar short.

Like a Rock: 3-1

Johnson out for season

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

You have to wonder what Ken Johnson was thinking Friday night.

Earlier in the day he was told by doctors that the heart attack he suffered last week would keep him away from his Plymouth Salem girls soccer team the rest of the season.

Later in the evening he found out his team knocked off rival Plymouth Canton, 3-1.

Johnson is expected to be back next fall to coach the Salem boys team, but doctors have told him to remain completely inactive for six more weeks.

In the interim, Ray Sturdy and Larry King have taken over the girls team.

"Our key initially was getting past the emotional part of the game," said King. "The kids get so high for this game. I had my house toilet-papered the night before the match. Our kids went out and TP'd some Canton houses."

I remember last year, Canton came out really high for us and scored three quick goals. I thought if we could hold Beth Frigge and Ken Whiteley in check until everyone settled down, we'd be OK."

KING GOT more than he bargained for. The Rocks' defense held the entire Canton offense in check. Salem enjoyed a 22-8 edge in shots on goal, according to the Salem statistics.

"We kept the Canton goal pretty busy," King said.

Jill Estey scored the first goal of the game at the five-minute mark, taking a nice feed from Julie Tortora. Jennifer Belhart put Salem up 2-0 at the 24-minute mark off an assist from Estey.

Whiteley got Canton back into contention with goal off a penalty kick early in the second half. She drilled the shot off the hands of Salem goalie Ellen Schnackel.

It was one of the few shots Whiteley was able to trigger.

"We were worried about Whiteley. We put Lisa Hysko on her because she has the speed to stay with her. Lisa did a tremendous job on her," King said.

Tortora set up Estey again with 14 minutes left in the match to secure the victory for Salem.

As has been the case all season for the Rocks, the defensive line has been virtually impenetrable. Fullbacks Michelle Cygan, Chris Casler, Nikki Stojeba and Maria Wordhouse have been solid as, well, rocks.

Estey and Tortora scored two goals each. Rachel Thiet had three assists.

Salem outshot Stevenson 28-12.

CANTON, 3-3-1, was blanked by No. 2-ranked Livonia Churchill on Wednesday 4-0.

Jennifer Huegli scored two goals for Churchill (8-0-1).

Other individual winners for the Chiefs were Bryan Whiteley in the 120 high hurdles (15.95), Dan Hodek in the 330 low hurdles (10.56), the 200 (23.64) and the 400 (50.31) — superb efforts at this stage of the season.

Bill Atwell took care of the distance events for the Rocks. He won the 1,600 in 4:45.2 and the 3,200 in 10:26.5.

Other individual winners for Salem were Tony Moore in the high jump (5-10), Chris Range in the 110-meter hurdles (16.15) and Chris Hill in the 300 low hurdles (41.75).

The Rocks won both the 400 relay (46.15) and the 1,600 relay (3:37.94). It was the first dual meet for the Rocks. Stevenson is 0-3.

PLYMOUTH SALEM had a relatively easy time with Livonia Stevenson Thursday, winning 79-58. The Rocks won 11 of 17 events.

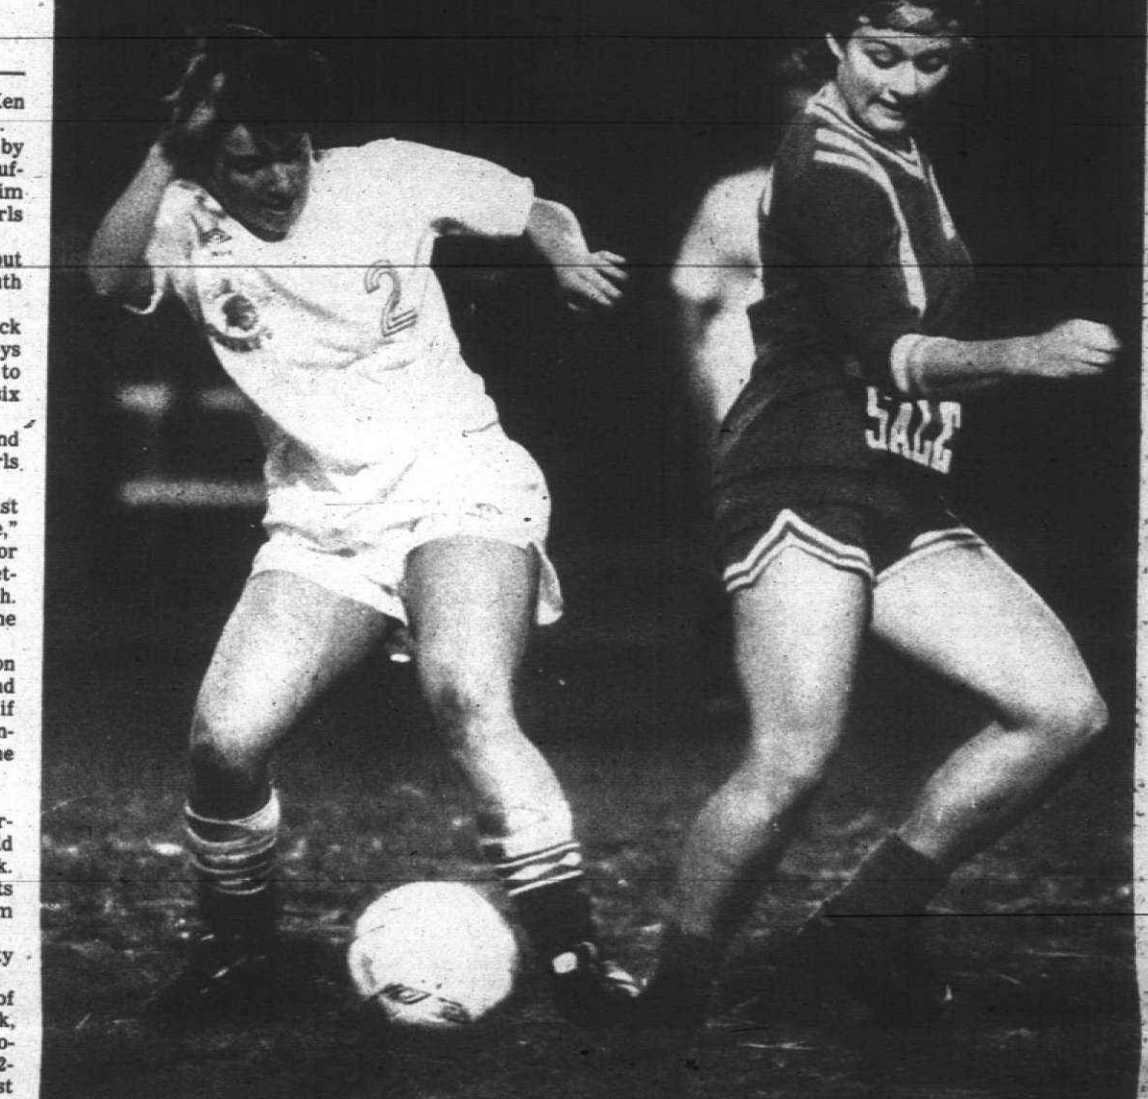

BOTH COACHES changed pitchers to start the fifth.

Franklin went with ace right-hander Bob Solnikowski, who notched his third victory of the season, while Crissey countered with Darksowski, a left-hander.

"Our other pitchers are young and Bob is our only seasoned pitcher," Cullin said. "We used him (seven innings) Wednesday against Northville (a 3-2 win), but he told me he was ready to pitch today if I needed him."

"Canton is the team to beat because they're so well coached. If you make a mistake, they'll eat you alive. But we have a good defensive team and that's what is helping us win ballgames."

On Wednesday, Solnikowski allowed just one hit, a two-run homer, in Franklin's 3-2 win at Northville.

Beth Frigge (No. 2) battles Salem's Pam Meyer for the ball during the Chiefs' 3-1 Friday night.

CANTON, 3-3-1, was blanked by No. 2-ranked Livonia Churchill on Wednesday 4-0.

Jennifer Huegli scored two goals for Churchill (8-0-1).

Other individual winners for the Chiefs were Bryan Whiteley in the 120 high hurdles (15.95), Dan Hodek in the 330 low hurdles (10.56), the 200 (23.64) and the 400 (50.31) — superb efforts at this stage of the season.

Bill Atwell took care of the distance events for the Rocks. He won the 1,600 in 4:45.2 and the 3,200 in 10:26.5.

Other individual winners for Salem were Tony Moore in the high jump (5-10), Chris Range in the 110-meter hurdles (16.15) and Chris Hill in the 300 low hurdles (41.75).

The Rocks won both the 400 relay (46.15) and the 1,600 relay (3:37.94). It was the first dual meet for the Rocks. Stevenson is 0-3.

PLYMOUTH SALEM had a relatively easy time with Livonia Stevenson Thursday, winning 79-58. The Rocks won 11 of 17 events.

BOTH COACHES changed pitchers to start the fifth.

Franklin went with ace right-hander Bob Solnikowski, who notched his third victory of the season, while Crissey countered with Darksowski, a left-hander.

"Our other pitchers are young and Bob is our only seasoned pitcher," Cullin said. "We used him (seven innings) Wednesday against Northville (a 3-2 win), but he told me he was ready to pitch today if I needed him."

"Canton is the team to beat because they're so well coached. If you make a mistake, they'll eat you alive. But we have a good defensive team and that's what is helping us win ballgames."

Vaunted Canton offense goes quiet

A person might have gotten pretty good odds against a Plymouth Canton softball team losing a 2-1 decision prior to the season.

This Canton team is known for its hitting. If the Chiefs are going to lose, it's going to be by a 15-12 score, or something of the like.

Evidently, nobody told that to Farmington Harrison pitcher Heidi Reyst.

Reyst and the Hawks did indeed score a 2-1 win over the Chiefs on Wednesday in a Western Lakes game.

The one run scored by Canton was unearned. Reyst allowed just four hits, while walking four and fanning five.

Harrison scored its two runs in the bottom of the fifth. Theresa Spisz and Kristi Rugh both singled and were sacrificed to second and third. Spisz scored on a wild pitch and Rugh scored on Reyst's single.

Rugh had three hits for Harrison and Spisz two.

Canton's run came in the first. Kelly McCumber singled, stole second, advanced to third on a ground out and scored on a passed ball.

Diana Knickerbocker pitched well for Canton but absorbed the loss. She gave up seven hits and walked two.

softball

THE CHIEFS' bats stayed quiet in a 6-3 win at Westland John Glenn on Thursday.

Canton managed but two singles off Glenn hurler's Lynn Morey and Dawn Williamson. But, Glenn helped Canton out with seven walks and three errors.

"I looked at the scorebook and said, 'How did we win?'" said Canton coach Max Sommerville. "We aren't hitting well. We're playing good defense, though. And we're running the bases well."

Kristina Wines hit a double and Laura Flaskamp singled for Canton's lone hits. All the Chiefs' runs were brought in by walks or errors.

Knickerbocker checked the Glenn offense on just three hits. She struck out three. She was also aided by a near-flawless defensive effort. McCumber saved two runs with a long running catch in center field in the fifth.

Glenn is 3-1 overall, 1-1 in the league.

FRANKLIN 8, CANTON 3: One thing. Western Lakes frontrunner Livonia Franklin doesn't need help from its opponents. But Canton gave them plenty Friday.

The Chiefs committed six errors behind Diana Knickerbocker; five of the eight Patriot runs were unearned.

The Chiefs managed only four hits off of all-stater Tracy Lectka, but one was a bases-loaded double by Kelly Lingenfelder in the second. At that point, Canton trailed 4-3.

Maria Vasselou had three hits and pair of RBI for Franklin (4-1).

Canton is now 3-2 overall, 1-2 in the league.

SALEM 15, JOHN GLENN 3: Denise Tackett paced the powerful Salem attack Friday with three hits, all triples. She knocked in four runs.

Maggie Meissner pitched the first five innings to earn the win. She allowed five hits, walked six and fanned three. Kim Berrie pitched the final inning and didn't allow a run.

On Wednesday, the Rocks flattened Farmington 13-1 in a five-inning mercy-rule shortened affair.

Marci Walker and Leslie Plichta led the assault with two hits apiece. Meissner was the winning pitcher.

Carney helps Chiefs get past Chargers

The Plymouth Canton girls track team is picking up where it left off last year — winning.

The Chiefs, in their first dual meet of the season Thursday, upset perennial Observerland and Western Lakes power Livonia Churchill 69-59.

"We're real happy," said first-year head coach George Pryzgodski. "Especially considering this was our first meet and they had run three."

The outcome of the meet was decided in the final event — the 1,600-meter relay. Marie Jarosz, Angie Miller, Karen Boluch and Tracia Carney brought home a winner for Canton in 4:21.11.

It was a fitting conclusion for Carney. She was the Chiefs' top scorer in the meet winning the 100 dash (13.87) and the 400 (1:03.76).

"I think the key to the meet for us was that we swept the shot put and the high jump," Pryzgodski said. "Plus, we won three of the four relays. I looked at the results, they outscored us by 20 points in the running events. They won nine events and we won seven. So our

girls track

depth was real important."

In the shot put, Kara Haarala (28-0), Lori Schauder and Vicki Minar went 1-2-3. In the high jump Miller (5-0), Janet Armstrong and Jarosz went 1-2-3, giving the Chiefs a nine-point advantage in each event.

Canton also won the 800 relay (1:54.21) and the 3,200 relay (10:25.81).

The meet featured a stirring individual race. In the 3,200, Churchill's Karen Kantor (12:10.68) nipped Rachel Mann (12:10.70) at the wire.

"This (winning) is something that we started last year and we're trying to keep it going this year," Pryzgodski said.

So far, so good. PLYMOUTH SALEM suffered a far different fate in its dual-meet opener Thursday. The Rocks got run over by Livonia Stevenson, 87-40.

Canton loses lead; home runs pepper Rocks

Canton hurler Adam Kocik suffered the loss.

But despite his team's sloppy play, Crissey refuses to throw in the towel. "The hardest thing to take is that this is one of the nicest and hard-working groups I've ever coached," Crissey said. "This can't be the same team that won 23 games last year and has six starters back.

"We don't usually do these things, but we're doing them. But I'm not ready to pack the season in."

JOHN GLENN 18, SALEM 7: The balls were flying out of the old Plymouth Salem ballyard Friday night — most of them off the bats of John Glenn hitters.

Clint Straub blasted two three-run home runs and Rock Tavormina hit a two-run shot, all part of Glenn's 14-hit attack.

Glenn had two five-run innings and a six-run inning.

Rob Adams blasted his second home run of the season for the Rocks (3-4).

Shane Smith took the loss for Salem.

John Glenn is 6-0 on the year.

OUTDOOR ENTERTAINING IN GREAT STYLE

ENTERTAINING IN great style, whether you're by a lake, ocean, river or stream, a few feet or many miles from your back door, can be a breeze with an innovative California barbecue.

This tempting menu of sparkling warm colors, contrasting textures and tastes showcases innovative recipes using versatile avocados, lettuce, teriyaki sauce and soy sauce. All the recipes can be prepared ahead of time with easy last-minute assembly at your destination. And a real bonus — they easily serve eight and can be halved or doubled to suit your guest list.

Begin your innovation in outdoor entertaining with California Temaki-Zushi, our version of hand-rolled sushi. Versatile and crisp lettuce leaves replace traditional dried seaweed and are rolled around tangy seasoned rice, slices of ripe avocados and crabmeat to create a cornucopia of complementary colors, textures and tastes. If you wish, you can substitute one of the new and less-expensive imitation crabmeat blend products in place of the crabmeat. For a dipping sauce, naturally brewed soy sauce right out of the bottle is all you need.

AVOCADOS, with their rich, nutty flavor and buttery smooth texture, are especially good travelers. And they're easy to prepare when you know how. Cut the avocados in half lengthwise around the pit and rotate the two halves to separate. To remove the pit, either slide the top of a spoon gently underneath and lift it out or carefully whack the pit with a sharp knife, embedding the knife in the pit. Rotate the knife to lift out the pit and then just peel and slice. If not served right away, give them a sprinkling of lemon or lime juice to preserve their pretty golden-green color.

Barbecued Teriyaki Pork Loin makes an elegant and distinctive yet very easy entree. Boneless pork loin roast is cut into three equal strips that are the perfect size for marinating and grilling. The strips are simply marinated overnight in bottled teriyaki sauce, a special blend of brewed soy sauce, brown sugar, wine and select herbs and spices. You'll love its mild, delicately sweet flavor that penetrates through the pork. The marinade also helps keep the pork juicy during grilling. If you marinate the pork in a plastic bag, it can travel carefree to wherever you barbecue.

LETTUCE offers endless salad possibilities — we've chosen an extra-special and delicious one. Colorful Avocado-Cantaloupe Rafts are easily assembled on-site. Be sure to buy the best quality lettuce. Look for a "spring-firm" head that gives slightly to gentle pressure. Core, rinse, thoroughly drain and refrigerate lettuce ahead of time. Just before you serve the salad, slice it crosswise into inch-thick rafts. Arrange a colorful spiral of avocado and cantaloupe slices on top and drizzle with a tangy-sweet dressing made with bottled teriyaki baste and glaze, vinegar, honey, mustard and ginger.

For a new and delicious taste, California Avocado Bread with Creamy Vegetable Spread fits the bill. The subtle yet distinctive flavor of avocado comes through with flying colors and is beautifully complemented by the delightfully creamy spread made with lettuce and cream cheese and artfully seasoned with parsley, onion powder and soy sauce. Naturally brewed soy sauce isn't just for Oriental cooking. Made from soybeans and wheat, it's an all-purpose seasoning that adds a delightful taste that enhances the flavor of many foods, including this creamy spread.

NO MATTER where you transport your California barbecue, you can be sure all the guests will rave about this deliciously innovative and stylish menu.

CALIFORNIA TEMAKI-ZUSHI

(Hand rolled sushi)

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 large head Lettuce                                    | 2 teaspoons salt                         |
| 1-1/2 cups uncooked long grain rice, washed and drained | 1-2 pound crabmeat or imitation crabmeat |
| 1-1/4 cup distilled white vinegar                       | 2 large ripe avocados                    |
| 3 tablespoons sugar                                     | Naturally brewed soy sauce               |

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; refrigerate in plastic bag or crisper. Combine rice and 2 cups water in medium-size saucepan; bring to boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes, or until water is absorbed. Remove from heat and let stand 20 minutes, covered. Meanwhile, combine vinegar, sugar and salt in small saucepan; heat over low heat only until sugar dissolves, stirring constantly. Turn cooked rice out into large non-metal bowl, separating kernels with fork. Pour vinegar mixture, a little at a time, evenly over rice; gently fold in to combine after each addition. Cool rice mixture to room temperature. Cut lettuce in half lengthwise. Carefully separate leaves; set aside. Cut or shred crabmeat into bite-size strips. Just before serving, cut each avocado in half, seed and peel. Cut each half lengthwise into 8 thin slices. Arrange avocado slices, lettuce leaves and crabmeat on large platter. Fluff rice mixture with fork. To make Temaki-Zushi: Place lettuce leaf in palm of hand. Spread 1 to 2 Tbsp. rice mixture in center of lettuce. Top with 1 avocado slice and small amount of crabmeat. Wrap lettuce around filling in cone shape to enclose. Serve with soy sauce.

Makes about 8 servings.

BARBECUED TERIYAKI PORK LOIN

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 2 boneless pork loin roasts, 2 pounds each | 3-4 cup bottled teriyaki marinade & sauce |
|--|---|

Cut each roast lengthwise into three equal strips. Pierce both sides of strips with fork; place in large plastic bag and pour in teriyaki sauce. Press air out of bag; tie top securely. Turn bag over several times to coat pieces thoroughly with sauce. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight, turning bag over occasionally. Remove pork and grill or broil 4 inches from hot coals or heat source 35 minutes, or until tender. Turn pieces over frequently. To serve, cut each strip crosswise into thin slices.

Makes 8 servings.

AVOCADO-CANTALOUPE RAFTS

- |                                |                                      |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 2 large heads Iceberg Lettuce  | 1 tablespoon honey                   |
| 1-2 cup vegetable oil          | 1 teaspoon dry mustard               |
| 1-3 cup teriyaki baste & glaze | 2 teaspoons minced fresh ginger root |
| 1-4 cup cider vinegar          | 2 ripe avocados                      |
|                                | 1 small cantaloupe                   |

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; refrigerate in plastic bags or crisper. Meanwhile, measure oil, teriyaki baste & glaze, vinegar, honey, mustard and ginger into screwtop jar with lid; shake thoroughly to combine and set aside. Cut each lettuce head crosswise into 4 "rafts" 1 inch thick. (Store remaining pieces in plastic bag for later use.) Place rafts on large platter or individual plates. Cut avocados and cantaloupe in half, remove seeds and peel. Cut each half lengthwise into thin slices. Arrange avocado and cantaloupe slices equally on rafts. Thoroughly shake dressing and pour over each salad.

Makes 8 servings.

CALIFORNIA AVOCADO BREAD

- |                               |                             |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 cups all purpose flour      | 3-4 cup mashed ripe avocado |
| 2-3 cup sugar                 | about 1 large avocado       |
| 1-1/2 teaspoons baking soda   | 2 eggs, slightly beaten     |
| 1-1/2 teaspoons ground ginger | 1-4 cup milk                |
| 1-2 teaspoon baking powder    | 2 tablespoons vegetable oil |
| 1-2 teaspoon salt             | 1 tablespoon lemon juice    |
| 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel | Creamy Vegetable Spread     |

Sift together flour, sugar, baking soda, ginger, baking powder and salt in large mixing bowl; stir in lemon peel. Thoroughly combine avocado, eggs, milk, oil and lemon juice. Add liquid all at once to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Turn into greased 9 x 5-inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven 1 hour, or until wooden pick inserted into center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack 10 minutes before removing from pan. Cool completely before slicing. Serve with Creamy Vegetable Spread.

Makes 1 loaf.

*Creamy Vegetable Spread

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 2 cups chopped Iceberg Lettuce (about 1 2 small head) | 1-2 cup minced fresh parsley            |
| 2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese, softened        | 1 tablespoon naturally brewed soy sauce |
|   | 2 teaspoons onion powder                |

Place lettuce in steamer basket, colander or large strainer placed over, but not touching, boiling water. Cover and steam 3 minutes. Drain and cool to room temperature. Thoroughly combine lettuce, cream cheese, parsley, soy sauce and onion powder. Cover and refrigerate 3 to 4 hours for flavors to blend.

Makes about 1-1/4 cups.

Modern conveniences make cooking easier

Many Americans have fond memories of the oldtime kitchens where their grandmothers cheerfully spent most of the day preparing wonderful home-style meals for huge family gatherings. They may remember those as the good old days, but few people actually have the time or desire to relive them today.

In short, hardly anybody cooks like Grandma anymore. Fortunately, they don't have to. Modern food technology has resulted in many conveniences that make it possible to prepare good-tasting meals in a relatively short time.

For the times when you want a home-cooked meal without spending hours over a hot stove, try this Stir-Fry Pepper Steak Dinner. By teaming up the quick-cooking technique of stir-frying and the convenience of some prepared food items, you can have a delicious home-cooked meal on the table in about 20 minutes.

Apples: delicious!

Canned apple fruit filling makes more than easy apple pies. The following recipe uses the easy-to-use, prespread apple filling to make a unique ice cream confection that tastes like a caramel apple, only better.

CARAMEL APPLE SUNDAE

STIR-FRY PEPPER STEAK

TOMATO DRESSING
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/4 cup white wine vinegar
1 tsp. oregano leaves
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup peanut oil

Blend together tomato juice, vinegar, oregano and salt. Gradually beat in peanut oil. Chill. Shake to blend before serving. Yields 1 1/2 cups.

STIR-FRY PEPPER STEAK
1/4 cup peanut oil
1 lb. top round steak, thinly sliced across the grain
2 large green peppers, cut into thin strips
2 medium onions, thinly sliced
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
1/2 to 1 tsp. ground ginger

In large skillet over high heat, heat 2 tablespoons peanut oil. Add meat and brown, stirring occasionally. Push meat to side of skillet, add remaining 2 tablespoons oil. Add green pepper strips and onion slices, cook, stirring constantly, until tender-crisp, about 2-3 minutes. In small bowl, combine cornstarch, ginger and garlic powder; blend in broth and soy sauce until smooth. Slowly stir into meat mixture, cook, stirring until thickened, about 1 minute. Stir in pimientos. Cook until heated through, about 2 minutes. Serve immediately over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Summer releases are being touted

If you've been to the movies lately, you've seen the seemingly endless trailers announcing this summer's crop of films.

As expected, there's more than a fair share of blood, gore and perversion, with "Poltergeist II," "Eight Million Ways to Die" and "Let's Get Harry" leading the way. Apropos of last week's discussion of sexuality in the media, Tri-Star Pictures announced that it was changing the title of "Sexual Perversity in Chicago" to "About Last Night."

The film is based on Pulitzer-Prize-winning playwright David Mamet's Obie Award-winning play, "Sexual Perversity in Chicago," and stars Rob Lowe, Demi Moore, Jim Belushi and Elizabeth Perkins. Quoting again from Tri-Star's release, "It is a funny and often poignant look at two people who try to build a relationship out of a one-night stand and the pressures exerted on them by their two best friends."

Kurt Russell as Jack Burton, along with his friends, confronts danger in "Big Trouble in Little China," coming in July from 20th-Century Fox.

Having neither read the book nor seen the film, I can make no judgments. The movie may very well deal with the issues of commitment and responsibility. But what is interesting is the hypocritical attitude implicit in playing both sides of the street.

"Frankly, I'm appalled" by the advertising media's power to influence this kind of decision — especially in the case of an award-winning play. That from the film's director, Ed Zwick. Apparently responsibility is for the other guy while First Amendment and property rights are extended to all who agree with you.

ONE OF THE summer films that arrived early is the Danny DeVito-Joe Piscopo vehicle, "Wise Guys." It's OK for an idle summer day, if you're nothing better to do, but on the whole it's too unreasonable plot overwheels two very funny guys — and that's a shame.

DeVito and Piscopo play lower-echelon hoodlums, an Italian and a Jew, who are great buddies but bumbling idiots entrusted with getting Mr. Big's laundry and groceries. They live next door to one another in one of Newark's less pleasant neighborhoods. Piscopo is the Jewish hoodlum, Moe Dickstein, whose name gives rise to interminable and very funny obscenities. Those who giggle at bathroom jokes will probably enjoy.

To the film's credit, the potential of this situation — the heroes want to open the first Jewish-Italian restaurant — is restrained insofar as ethnic jokes are concerned.

The plot, however, leaves much to be desired as our heroes bumble through to culinary victory. Piscopo is sent to the track to bet 10 screening of his latest film, "Sweet Liberty." Imagine a historian whose book is to be filmed. The film company arrives in town and gets to work. The comic potential there, particularly for someone with Aida's track record, is pretty high. Aida wrote and directed "Sweet Liberty," which also stars Michael Caine and Michelle Pfeiffer. For all you film fans, the coming weeks will provide plenty of new viewing opportunities so keep your eyeballs polished for the latest releases.

Prince makes his directorial debut and stars as an American pianist working on the French Riviera in "Under the Cherry Moon," a summer release from Warner Bros.

Culinary Art Salon names show's winners

Many local chefs and students are among those who received awards in the recent Culinary Art Salon held at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The Professional Culinary Art Salon is sponsored by the Michigan Chefs de Cuisine Association and the Michigan Restaurant Association. The MRA also sponsors the Student Culinary Art Salon.

The Golden Mushroom team from the restaurant in Southfield received the Best White Buffet award, as well as a bronze medal, for its grand buffet entry.

Other prizes in the professional category included bronze medals to Matthew A. Naughton of the Pine Lake Country Club in Orchard Lake, for individual cold food platters, and Michael Hall of Truffles Restaurant in West Bloomfield, for individual hot food (displayed cold).

In the APPRENTICE class, individual gold medal winners were Steve Allen and Jacqueline M. Parent, both representing the Golden Mushroom. A silver medal was awarded to Mary Beth Hausman of the Airport Hilton in Plymouth.

In the college class, a staggering number of gold, silver and bronze medals went to students from Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

These include gold medal winners Timothy Toland, Gary Beaubien, Vicki M. Bertschinger, Grace E. Crowl, Carol Fritz, Errol J. Koo, Thomas R. Lieb, Jeanette M. Kocian, Anita Sudakin, Gary Beaubien (two gold), Janice Spica and Kendra Zappo.

Also, silver medal winners Joseph Kingsley, Debra Borth, Vance Riley, David Robertson, Lydia M. Briggs, Paul Burnash, John Iaconelli, Cheryl L. Kisabeth, Pamela K. Iysan, Michelle Davidson and Janet Thurman, and bronze medal winners Dan Ireland Jr., Daniel M. Lina, Chris Cohoon, William Thompson, Denise Gaylon, Carrie Foster, Ginger Marshall, Patrick Rafferty, Selene J. To-liver, Sandra Baker and Anne Bleisch.

Other gold medal winners were Karen Towers of Oakland Community College in West Bloomfield and Roger M. Carson of Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

Silver medals also went to Gary Jabynski and Christopher J.

Stepek and a bronze medal to Karen Cavallaro, all of Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

Cancer: Early detection is the key

By Julie Brown
staff writer

MARY BETH LACEY is a fictional character. The situation she faced, however, is all too real to many women.

A group of local women met last Wednesday night and watched the "Cagney and Lacey" television episode in which Mary Beth Lacey faces breast cancer. Excerpts from the episode were shown during a program on breast cancer awareness at the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth.

The program was sponsored by the Catherine McAuley Health Center in collaboration with the American Cancer Society.

In the United States, one out of every 11 women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life.

THE MAJORITY of breast cancers are discovered by women themselves through breast self-examination. Sister Marilyn Donahue told the women at the program. Fewer than 25 percent of women, however, do breast self-exams on a monthly basis.

"That's not something we're used to doing,"

Donahue, who works as a chaplain at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, explained the procedure for doing breast self-exams. (See related story.) The women also practiced doing self-exams on a model of a breast.

It's best to do the breast self-exam seven to 10 days after the menstrual period begins. For women who have reached menopause, the exam can be done on an easily remembered day, such as the first day of each month.

IF A WOMAN does find a breast lump, it's important to get it checked immediately.

"Any types of lumps, they want to look for changes," Donahue said. Fear, however, keeps many women from seeking prompt medical help when they find a lump, thickening or discharge.

"I think fear is a powerful emotion," she said. "Fear lots of time will prevent us from making rational decisions, making the best decisions possible for ourselves."

If breast cancer is discovered in its early stages, however, successful treatment is much more likely to be possible.

"The sooner you find it, the better, so treatment can take place," said Donahue, who is also a registered nurse with an associate's degree in nursing and a bachelor's degree in general education.

During the Wednesday program at the Arbor Health Building, the women also examined the machine used for mammograms at the Plymouth facility. Mammography is an X-ray technique that allows for the detection of breast tumors before they can be felt.

Gail Cowan, X-ray technologist at the Arbor Health Building, showed the mammogram machine to the women and explained its use.

Women can also make certain lifestyle changes that will make for better health, Donahue said. Many women — and men — have in recent years become more aware of the need to choose a healthful lifestyle.

"THE NUMBER of people who are here tonight says something to me," Donahue told the approximately 15 women of various ages who attended the program.

Women (and men) shouldn't, however, become compulsive about good health practices.

"You could get phobic on maintaining good health." The best thing to do is to remain well-read, she said, and to be willing to ask doctors and other health care professionals questions.

"You can't assume," Donahue said. "You need to ask the questions that are going to help you."

Self-exam habit a lifesaver

Detection of breast lumps, dimples, discharge or other changes through breast self-exam means that cancer can be found in its early stages when successful treatment is most likely to be possible.

This three-step procedure for breast self-exam is recommended by the American Cancer Society.

• In the shower: Examine your breasts during a bath or shower. Hands glide more easily over wet skin.

With the fingers flat, move gently over every part of each breast. Use the right hand to examine the left breast, the left hand for the right breast. Check for any lump, hard knot or thickening.

• Before a mirror: Inspect your breasts with arms at Next, raise your arms high overhead. Look for any changes in the contour of each breast, a swelling, dimpling of skin or changes in the nipple.

Then, rest your palms on your hips and press down firmly to flex the chest muscles. The left and right breasts will not match exactly — few women's do.

Regular inspection will show you what is normal for you and will give you confidence in your examination.

• Lying down: To examine your right breast, put a pillow or folded towel under your right shoulder. Place right hand behind your head; this will distribute breast tissue more evenly on the chest.

With the left hand (fingers flat), press gently in small circular motions around an imaginary clock face.

Begin at the outermost top of the right breast or 12 o'clock, then move to 1 o'clock and so on around the circle back to 12. A ridge of firm tissue in the lower curve of each breast is normal.

Then move in an inch, toward the nipple, keep circling to examine every part of your breast, including the nipple. This will require at least three more circles.

Now, slowly repeat the procedure on your left breast with a pillow under the left shoulder and with the left hand behind your head. Notice how the breast structure feels.

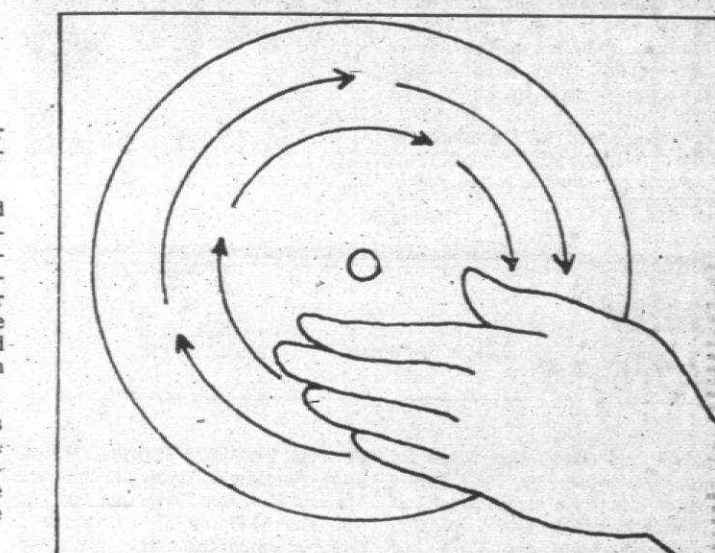

Finally, squeeze the nipple of each breast gently between the thumb and index finger. Any discharge, clear or bloody, should be reported to your doctor immediately.

The procedure should be followed once a month seven to 10 days following the beginning of each menstrual period, when breasts are usually not tender or swollen. After menopause, breasts should be checked on an easily remembered day, such as the first day of each month.

If a lump, dimple or discharge is discovered, it's important to see a doctor as soon as possible. The majority of breast lumps or changes are not cancer, but they need to be checked.

(Additional information is available from the American Cancer Society, 557-5353.)

Breast self-exams should be done on a monthly basis by all women.

Marcia Elsner (left) and Elaine Bain don't have much room to move as they look over some of the books for the Plymouth AAUW's Used Book Sale. Many hours of work have gone into preparing for the sale, which will be held Friday and Saturday, May 2-3, at the Westland Shopping Center. Hours for the sale will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

These books need good homes

More than 16,000 used books will change hands at the annual Used Book Sale of the Plymouth American Association of University Women. The sale will be held Friday and Saturday, May 2-3, at the Westland Shopping Center.

A variety of items will be available at the AAUW's sale.

"We have mysteries, science fiction, romances, children's books, reference works, antiquing guides, and a particularly good collection of cookbooks," said Elaine Bain, co-chair. "We were given the entire collection from the estate of a well-known area hostess."

Prices at the Used Book Sale will range from 25 cents for some children's books to several dollars for certain old and rare volumes.

Proceeds from the sale will provide scholarship money for local women returning to school or work. Money goes to Wayne State University, Michigan State University, Schoolcraft College, Madonna College and Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

Before too long, cartons of books are stacked to the ceiling in the basement of St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth.

Elsner, co-chair. There will also be sheet music and standard study books for the piano.

"They're all sorted and displayed by category, so you can find what you want," she said.

Each year, AAUW members begin in the fall to gather, sort and price books for the following year's sale. Books are picked up at the drop box in the Plymouth Library or directly from donors' homes.

The shopping center is at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads in Westland. Hours for the Used Book Sale will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

The Used Book Sale is the sole fund-raising event for scholarship purposes. It involves more than 100 AAUW members.

The recycled books provide high-quality, inexpensive reading material for local adults and children. Nothing is wasted; materials that can't be sold are donated to Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, the Purple Heart, and other area organizations.

The shopping center is at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads in Westland. Hours for the Used Book Sale will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

Area DAR represented

Seven members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution recently attended the DAR Continental Congress, held in Washington, D.C.

During the Continental Congress, the DAR members participated in a number of committee meetings and sessions. They also found the time to visit the White House, the Smithsonian Institution, the Vietnam Memorial, the National Museum of Art, the Library of Congress and Archives.

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of Northville and Plymouth won the Silver Star award for Honor Roll participation, the 100 percent award for the President Generals Project.

The award meant that each member had contributed to the restoration of Constitution Hall. The National Parks Service dedication of the Constitution Hall as a historical site was part of the proceedings.

Members attending from Plymouth were: Mrs. Albert Heindryckx, region vice chair of genealogical research for the east central region; Mrs. Lester Robinson; Mrs. Bruce Richard, state chair of correspondent docents; and Mrs. Robert Wiloughby, who served on the Resolutions Committee.

Mrs. Herman Scott of Northville assisted with two from Northville women, Mrs. George Merwin, DAR Museum vice chairman for the east central region, and Jacki Merwin, who is a state director. She was also a page for the public relations department for the week.

Women win honors

Two Plymouth women have been chosen for inclusion in the current edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

They are M. Eileen McMahon and Agnes K. Ohno. The awards program is designed to recognize the talents, abilities and successes of young women throughout the country. It is for women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their professions, homes and communities.

"Volunteering is just plain fun."

Linda Leahy

Linda Leahy comforting a patient and his mother in the Ambulatory Surgery Facility.

An essential ingredient in providing compassionate care for our patients is the dedicated work of volunteers like Linda Leahy. In almost every area of Catherine McAuley Health Center, volunteers can be found assisting the health care team.

"Volunteering is more fun and more rewarding than anything I have ever done before," Linda said. "Basically, my job is to help the nurses. I try to make patients and their families feel comfortable. I learn something new every day."

"Volunteering is a two-way street. You do it for your community and yourself. It increases your understanding of people's needs and makes you a better person."

"As a volunteer, you are aware at all times that you are a part of Catherine McAuley Health Center. I have been a volunteer here for eleven years, the last four in the Ambulatory Surgery Facility. As long as I'm needed, I'll keep coming back."

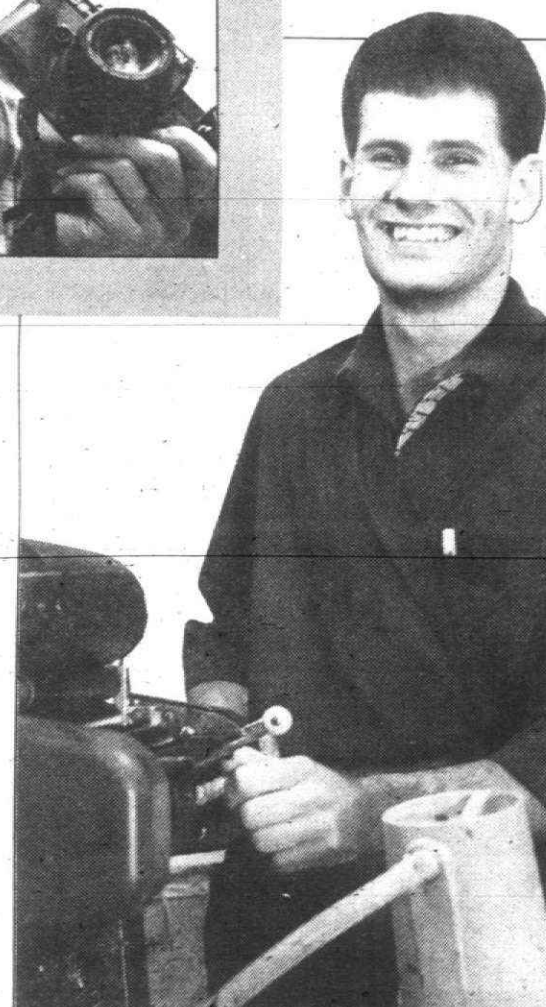

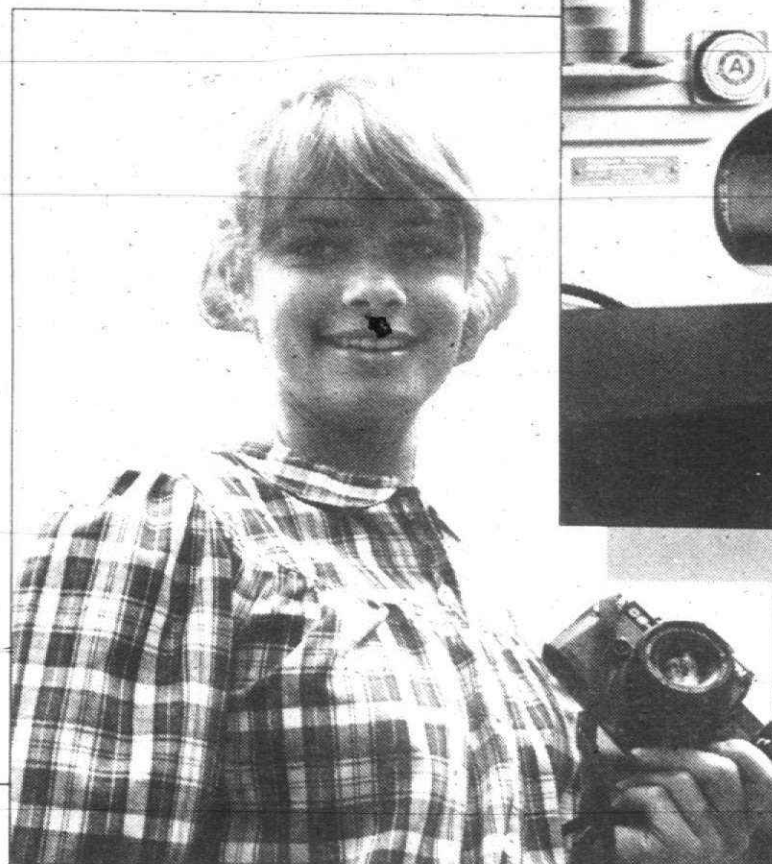

Since 1911, when the Religious Sisters of Mercy were invited to Ann Arbor, Catherine McAuley Health Center has grown into a comprehensive health care center touching the lives of tens of thousands of families each year. We invite you to join us as we celebrate 75 years of health care service to the community.

For more information about volunteering, call 572-4159. For information on health care services from Catherine McAuley Health Center or a physician referral, please call 572-4000.
