The Canton Connection

VIGIL IN PARK: A candlelight vigil was held Saturday evening in Kellogg Park by the Plymouth-Canton Amnesty International Campus group to join a worldwide effort to call for an end to imprisonment on racial and political grounds, torture, and other human rights abuses in South Africa. The candlelight vigil, similar to those held by apartheid protesters in South Africa, lasted about two hours and included poetry reading and singing. The theme was "Free Prisoners of Conscience."

The Plymouth-Canton group has participated in the South Africa Awareness Campaign mainly through letter writing to South African officials, community leaders, company executives and members of church bodies, trade unions, and other institutions. The group is focusing upon awareness of the South Africa situation in the community.

REMEMBERIN': Memory improvement and retention skills will be featured when the Canton Chamber of Commerce hosts Memory Master Institute at its Member Luncheon beginning at noon at Wednesday, May 7, at the Roman Forum. The program is open to the public but only if reservations are made. The lunch is at noon with the program immediately following. If you can remember, call 453-4040 for reservations; otherwise, forget it!

MONEY AVAILABLE: A potential $3,500 is available in scholarships to local students enrolled in vocational education programs at Centennial Educational Park. Plymouth Rotary is offering two $1,500 scholarships and Canton Rotary is offering a $500 scholarship specifically for vocational education students. The deadline to apply for the funds is Wednesday, May 7. Students can pick up applications from their area coordinator or vocational education teacher.

Porno statute scanned

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton's anti-pornography ordinance doesn't have the strength to remove Hustler, Penthouse and Playboy from store shelves as requested by a resident.

That's the decision from attorney Judd Hemming, who was asked by the Canton Township Police Department to decide if Canton's anti-pornography ordinance is enforceable.

The "possession or dissemination of obscene material" is regulated by a Michigan law (MCLA 752.361, section 10) adopted in March 1985, Hemming said.

The statute says municipalities shall not enact ordinances or rules that are covered in the law. Therefore, the effect of local pornography ordinances is weakened.

Canton Police Chief John Santomauro wants a decision from the Wayne County prosecutor's office on whether police may take action against stores that sell sex-oriented material. And he says he believes the outcome will set a precedent for other communities in the state.

LAST WEEK Santomauro requested an interpretation on the enforceability of the law from the prosecutor's office.

Wayne County officials working on the case were unavailable for comment last week.

Parts of Canton's pornography ordinance still may be valid, Hemming said. He made reference to portions referring to zoning regulations.

Definitions of obscene material varies from person to person. And the U.S. Supreme Court has ruled "community standards" regulate the manner in which it is disseminated.

The pornography issue was initiated by Canton resident Richard Tengel who asked Canton Police to issue warrants against 10 stores for selling Hustler, Penthouse and Playboy.

"In fairness to the people who file complaints and in fairness to the sellers the Canton Police Department will not make the decision — the prosecutor's office will."

Planting roots

Ron Milner and John Hardin of D & L Landscape plant one of 20 trees — lined along Ford Road near Sheldon — that were donated by Wendy's restaurant, which started serving meals inside Canton's K mart last year. The site is the first Wendy's in the U.S. to be located inside a K mart store.

2 apartment arsons linked

Fires set in the basements of Canton and Plymouth Township apartment complexes within 20 minutes of each other last week were probably the work of the same person or persons, fire investigators suspect.

"If they're not, it's an awful coincidence," said Capt. Art Winkel of the Canton Fire Department.

"The similarity is there and the proximity to the two apartments leaves something to investigate," said Capt. Randy Maycock of Plymouth Township.

Canton firefighters received an alarm from Building I of the Honeytree Apartments, I-275 and Honeytree Boulevard, at 9:58 p.m. last Tuesday. Plymouth Township firefighters were called to the Plymouth Manor Apartments, Lilley south of Ann Arbor Road, at 10:18 p.m.

The two complexes are less than a mile from each other.

In both instances fires were discovered in basement storage areas. Overhead sprinklers activated at each complex.

DAMAGE WAS estimated at $5,000 at Honeytree. No damage figure was provided at Plymouth Manor. No injuries were reported in connection with either incident.

Canton firefighters posted signs offering a $2,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of those responsible for the fires.

A key is needed to get into buildings at Plymouth Manor, said manager Dee Bannasch. To her knowledge, she said, the locks worked the night of the fire.

"I haven't had any evictions. I don't have any enemies. I don't know. Whoever did it must be a sicko," she said.

A key also is needed to get into the Honeytree apartments, said Sherry Kelly, property manager.

"The problem is that some residents prop the door open. I don't know if the door was broken before the firefighters went in or not," Kelly said.

Additional security people were hired to "keep a watch out for suspicious people because it was arson." Kelly made hotel arrangements for four residents the night of the incident but only two opted for the offer. Honeytree also is making refurbishing arrangements for the apartments damaged by smoke.

"IF IT was an accident it would be one thing but since it was set deliberately it's more of a hassle."

Additional security measures weren't taken after the fire at Plymouth Manor, Bannasch said. Tenants from 16 units were evacuated that night but were allowed to return in a couple of hours.

"It could be anything," Winkel said of a motive for such arsons. "You just don't know what goes through a person's mind. Maybe it's a prank with kids. Maybe someone likes fire. It's lucky there's sprinkler heads in the basement and they operated."

Maycock agreed that tragedy could have occurred had the sprinkler systems not operated properly. "That's the really the thing that contained the fire until we arrived."

Canton road paving funded

More than $3 million is earmarked by Wayne County for paving projects in Canton Township this year.

The Wayne County Commission approved road work on: Cherry Hill from Beck to Canton Center at $385,000; Ridge from Cherry Hill to Ford at $495,000; Warren from Canton Center to Beck at $550,000 and Lilley from Joy to Warren at $440,000.

Additionally, the county approved the widening of Lilley at Saratoga at $33,000 and construction of Sheldon Center as a connector road from Sheldon to Canton Center at $900,000.

The $3 million is part of an $8 million bond issue through the Michigan Transportation Fund.

Construction is expected to begin this year.

"More money will be spent on Canton paving projects than any other community in the county," said Commissioner Milt Mack, D-Wayne, whose district includes Canton.

"Wayne County's commitment to improving the infrastructure of Canton Township recognizes potential economic development the county sees in Canton."

I-275 rapist jailed

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Darrell P. Morey, who was convicted earlier this year of sexually attacking women on the I-275 bike path in Canton and Van Buren townships, has been sentenced to 17-40 years in prison.

Wayne Circuit Judge Sharon Tevis Finch April 30 sentenced Morey for three counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of second-degree CSC involving a Canton woman. Life in prison is the maximum sentence for first degree CSC.

Wayne County Prosecutor Diane Odobina had requested a minimum 30-year sentence.

Judge Finch also sentenced Morey to 10-15 years in prison for one count of second-degree CSC involving another Canton woman and 6-10 years for assault with intent to commit CSC involving a Van Buren Township woman.

Morey will serve the sentences concurrently.

In a surprise move last February, Morey told his psychologist, Steve Miller, he committed the crimes.

Miller, of the Recorder's Court psychiatric clinic, said Morey has a "sexual addiction."

"The problem is with the person's self-image. They try to relieve that through sex. People who have tension may take drugs to relieve tension or gamble. And some people go to sex." The person needs to restore his sense of power, Miller said.

Miller said he recommended "some leniency" because Morey's problem could be treated.

"He has some potential of becoming a productive member of society with treatment but I didn't downplay the difficulty of doing that. This is a tragedy all the way around but particularly for the victims — which I identify more with."

"I did go through his history and I can see his problems."

Miller said sexual addiction usually develops in stages beginning with voyeurism, progressing to exhibitionism, frequenting massage parlors and prostitutes, and grabbing women's breasts.

Brian Sherman is painting a wood duck.

Students worked on drawings first and then used the drawings to carve the decoys.

Brad Grondzieleski has learned to draw the knife away from him while carving.

A 3-D art learning experience

There has been an emphasis on three-dimensional artwork at Lowell Middle School this year to help students relate more easily to the work of visiting artist Peter Rockwell.

One of the most popular projects has been decoy carving, says art teacher Graham Martin.

The students plan their work on preliminary sketches of various views of the bird they chose to familiarize themselves with. The bird is then roughed out on a bandsaw in basswood or white cedar.

The actual carving is done with knives, rasps, rotary rasps and sandpaper. Finally the bird is primed, painted or stained. The finished product becomes a keepsake to display on a mantle or end table. Some students had their works on display for two weeks at Wild Wings Gallery in Plymouth.

Rapist gets 17-40

The final stage is rape, Miller said. The sexually addicted person may go through all or some of the stages.

Odrobina said there hasn't been a ruling on whether Morey will stand trial on two remaining sexual assault cases.

Asked whether Morey will appeal, his attorney, Seymour Berger said, "The system encourages appeals. What can he lose?"

A yearlong investigation of attacks on women between June and August 1984 on the I-275 bike path came to an end when Morey was arrested by Canton Police May 22, 1985.

While out on bond for the Canton cases, Morey was charged with an additional sexual assault in Van Buren Township.

In November 1985 Morey was found guilty of sexually assaulting a Canton woman and was sentenced by Judge Finch to eight to 16 years in prison.

The primary detective on the case, Canton Police Lt. Alex Wilson, said, "I felt all along we had the right guy, and I'm pleased that he did finally confess and admit his guilt in those cases."

One way or another, Keith King and 3,000 other Vietnam war veterans plan to rally at 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 7, on the State Capitol steps.

The Livonia businessman said the veterans will either vent their frustration at lack of action by lawmakers to aid them, or else thank them if they've acted by then.

"On May 7 it will be 11 years ago that we ended our involvement in Vietnam, but for the Vietnam veteran, many of us continue to carry the poison Dioxin in our bodies."

— Keith King of Livonia, state chairman Vietnam Veterans of America

KING, 35, believes he and his 12-year-old daughter, Amy, have been harmed by war chemicals. His story: "I was there from 1969 to '71. I was an MP (military policeman), a convoy escort. I handled an M-60 machine gun from the back of a gun Jeep. I was all over the Central Highlands."

"I developed a rash on my left foot — it erupted in Vietnam — that I believe is related to exposure. I went to Walter Reed Hospital, the VA Hospital, other hospitals, and got six different diagnoses."

"My daughter was born with a similar rash on both feet."

In five years, Vietnam Veterans of America has organized 21 chapters with 13 more in the formation stage.

A subcommittee report aimed at upgrading protection against the effects of pesticide use awaits formal adoption by Gov. James Blanchard's Cabinet Council on Environmental Protection.

While the report is expected to get cabinet approval, some insiders wonder whether its recommendations will be implemented.

"I think there is good agreement on passing the report. I question whether the implementation will move forward quickly," said Dr. Larry Holcomb in a recent phone conversation. Holcomb is executive secretary to the Toxic Substances Control Commission (TSCC), a group that deals with toxic substance problems in the state.

Holcomb said, "Implementation of the report would require more finances for new programs and people."

Since the Michigan Legislature passed the Pesticide Control Act of 1976, public concern over pesticide usage has increased. It is recognized that certain chemical compounds used to kill weeds or garden pests, and such indoor menaces as cockroaches and rats, can have harmful effects on humans, pets and wildlife.

WITH THIS concern in mind, the Governor's Cabinet charged a subcommittee composed of the directors of the departments of Agriculture, Natural Resources, Public Health, and Transportation, and representatives of the TSCC and MSU Cooperative Extension Service with finding ways to improve pesticide management and regulation in the state.

The subcommittee's final recommendation covered 11 areas: public exposure to pesticides; certification of applicators; aerial application; pest management and reduction of pesticide use; notification of pesticide applications; pesticide product constituents; worker protection; residue monitoring; law enforcement and pesticide waste disposal.

According to TSCC's Dr. Holcomb the recommendations are needed and "are a big step forward" in handling the problems associated with pesticide usage statewide.

THE VILLAGE of Milford has already taken matters into its own hands. Holcomb said Milford recently passed an ordinance requiring notification of commercial pesticide applications throughout the village.

The attorney general's office is examining the legality of the ordinance.

Holcomb said, "If the attorney general's office knocks down local ordinances, then the state will have to look into the issue of posting."

Holcomb observed that a pesticide bill — Senate Bill 65 — introduced by state Sen. Richard Fessler, R-West Bloomfield, is stalled in the Senate Agriculture Committee. Fessler's bill would require public notice when pesticides are sprayed in schools, buildings with public access and neighborhoods.

Holcomb expressed concern that implementation of the strategy report could also be stalled. "My philosophy is that the state serves the citizenry, if the public wants a service, they will get the service," he said, adding:

"I frankly feel we will have to have 'people power' to carry the recommendations to implementation."

Because his bill was passed first, Bartnik wants to keep his bill number but accept the major Senate Republican changes. "I'm willing to take the lesser part of the bill," he said. "What's the excuse? There should be none."

Meanwhile, the Senate last week provided $155,000 in funding for testing Vietnam veterans.

That's fine for a year, said Bartnik, but it's not enough. There should be an administrative structure by law to assure the work of reporting and referral is carried on.

Bartnik accused senators of timing passage of their bill with the beginning of a Vietnam veterans convention.

FESSLER ALSO noted that Democrat Bartnik was author of a House resolution to investigate Senate Majority Leader John Engler's handling of a contract with the Hudson Institute on Michigan's economic future.

In other words, Bartnik's name is mud with GOP leaders.

Bartnik said Republicans fear he wants to run against Republican Sen. Norman Shinkle of Monroe County. He said their fear is groundless be-Creek (Mich.), Love Canal (N.Y.), or Times Beach (Mo.) about the effects of Dioxin, the increased cancer rates, the higher than normal miscarriage rates and birth defects in their children," he said.

George Claxton, counselor and advisor to the veterans, said veterans exposed to Agent Orange appear to have higher rates of cancer, particularly liver cancer, along with neurological damage.

THE LEGISLATIVE snafu tying up state help is complicated. First, Rep. Jerry Bartnik, D-Monroe County, won 89-0 passage for his House Bill 1069 to set up an office in the state Department of Management and Budget for reporting and referral for Vietnam veterans exposed to war chemicals. Passed in March 1985, it languishes in a Senate committee.

Second, Fessler's Senate Bill 588 won 33-0 approval. It assigned administration to the Department of Public Health, required a woman on the commission and made other improvements. Fessler said, and the veterans' spokesmen agreed, that the Senate bill was the better of the two.

What's the problem? "A certain House member wants his name on the bill," said Fessler. "I don't care who's the sponsor as long as it's solved."

How to recognize a quack when you see one.

Quack medical products. They're everything from baldness remedies to cancer cures. All eventually prove to be a waste of money. Many actually pose a serious threat to your health. How do you distinguish a quack medical product from the real thing? For a start, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Quack medical products usually claim simple solutions, miracle cures, or amazing scientific breakthroughs. Many flaunt testimonials from satisfied users. To be sure whether a medical product is a quack, check with your doctor or pharmacist first. Because the next dead duck could be you.

Bees: honey of a hobby, or a busy business

By Christine Rizk
staff writer

It was a honey of a day for Ralph Alloway, 71, as he presided over his first beekeepers meeting at Schoolcraft College.

Alloway, a Canton Township resident, was anticipating a crowd for the 48th Annual Southeastern Michigan Beekeepers Association convention.

As newly elected president of the association, he directed fellow apiarists to the coffee, doughnuts and, of course, honey displayed on a nearby table.

The beekeepers gathered at the college April 26 for a daylong seminar designed to allow members to compare notes and learn more about their hobbies, and for some, their livelihoods.

"It's a hobby for some who've only got one or two hives," Alloway said, "but there's a lot of people who are definitely in this for the business of producing honey."

WITH 210 members, the association ranks above both the Michigan and Wayne County beekeepers associations in membership.

And if experience in the trade holds any weight, those attending the Saturday meeting together held more than 100 years in tending bees.

Although a somewhat less than lucrative business, it is, nonetheless, a popular one, especially among students and staff at the university who are interested in the benefits derived from one of our better-known insects.

"Most people don't realize the actual benefits we get from bees aside from their honey," explained George Ayers, a Michigan State University department of entomology staff member. "Bees represent the ultimate example of a community working together for the good of the entire community."

AYERS, A BEEKEEPER himself with more than 20 hives, said that a little-recognized fact about bees is that they have had a role in the production of almost every vegetable or fruit raised in the United States today. "What people don't realize is that bees have had something to do with almost everything that reaches their dinner plates," said Ayers. "Bees pollinate the fruit and vegetables and even the alfalfa that goes to feed the cattle that ends up on our plates."

In fact, Ayers said, indirect benefits from bees totals more than $18 billion a year, far more than what is actually derived from a bee's best-known product, honey.

Although few would argue with the good intentions of scholars, beekeeping still remains predominantly a hobby for most of the members of the association.

"IT'S A STING operation," said Homer Pugh, pun intended, a Troy resident and apiarist of five years. "I

'Bees represent the ultimate example of a community working together for the good of the entire community.'

was looking for a challenge and I had a lifelong vicarious interest in beekeeping. In fact, did you know that bees are the only creatures more written about in history next to mankind?"

Pugh, like fellow members, maintains a relatively small number of beehives, if 50,000 to 75,000 per hive sounds like a minimal amount of bees to have around.

Ken Krawczyk, another Troy resident, considers himself a bee hobbyist with 24 hives spread among neighbor's farms.

"My neighbors don't mind; after all, the bees pollinate their crops so they enjoy having them around. Bees don't require much care because they are so self-sufficient," Pugh agreed. "The bees don't need us, remember, we need them."

DENISE TEREBUS, a 26-year-old apiarist and victim of rheumatoid arthritis, testified to how her affection for bees began.

Five years ago, when the pain from her arthritis became unbearable, she and her father recruited the help of Don and Joyce Guthrie, Utica apiarists.

Together with a Vermont doctor specializing in bee therapy, they managed to alleviate the devastating effects of Terebus' malady.

Today, although still plagued with recurring pains in her hand joints, Terebus considers herself lucky.

After suffering through as many as 500 bee stings (to help relieve the arthritis) in the past two years, she seldom has to give herself bee injections now.

Setting aside the agricultural and economic benefits of beekeeping, a common strain of thought remained steady among the apiarists. Despite the rather nasty image bees have for the layperson, those familiar with the creatures recognize the lessons to be learned from them.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 14, 1986, at 7:45 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1986 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.114 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1986 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1986 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated five percent (5%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

NO COOK JAMS: THE 30-MINUTE WONDERS

As you linger longer admiring fresh seasonal fruits in the market and on farm stands, think about capturing nature's best for enjoyment over the months ahead. "But, I've never made jam before," you may say. Or, you may think it's simply too much work and takes too much time. With today's no-cook freezer jam method, you don't need a lot of time or fancy equipment. Before you know it, you'll be stashing away fresh fruit jams in the freezer with your very own label.

Today there isn't any guesswork about making no-cook jams because specially developed recipes are clear and concise. All you have to do is add commercial fruit pectin to the fruit mixture and spoon it into plastic freezer containers. Recipes for the no-cook jams in this collection call for specific pectins, either powdered or liquid. It's the pectin that gives a good "set" so that the jam "jams," so to speak. Because the natural pectin in fresh fruits decreases as fruit ripens, it's necessary to supplement it with commercial pectin.

Are you a rather hesitant newcomer to the world of jam making? Then try your hand at either Strawberry-Peach Jam or Raspberry-Pear Jam. Each calls for only three or four ingredients, one of which is a light, relatively new fruit pectin. This light pectin appeals to those who prefer a less sweet spread, since recipes developed especially for its use require one-third less sugar than the regular powdered pectin.

Next, you might "graduate" to a tantalizing combination of four fresh fruits in a Fruit Cup Jam. Strawberries, pineapple, oranges and pears unite in a perfect blending of flavors in a jam that promises to make morning toast a gourmet treat. Regular fruit pectin is used in the recipe. This long-term traditional powdered fruit pectin also has its own recipes. Keep in mind that the two powdered pectins — light and traditional — cannot be used interchangeably in recipes because of the difference in recipe sugar measurement.

As you move on with your jam-making adventure, you'll appreciate the convenience of using liquid fruit pectin that comes in pre-measured foil pouches. Peach-Blueberry Jam and Sweet Cherry-Orange Jam (the latter not shown in photo) call for addition of liquid fruit pectin to prepared fruit mixtures, followed by a quick three-minute stir. It's as simple as that!

Before launching a jam-making session, review these helpful reminders:

The Fruit

- Use fully ripe fruit at room temperature. Wash just before using.
- Prepare fruit for one recipe at a time, even though you plan to prepare several recipes in succession.
- Do not use more fruit than is called for in the recipe.

The Containers

- Use 1-pint freezer containers or 8-ounce jelly jars with tight-fitting lids. Wash, rinse with boiling water and drain; or, use automatic dishwasher with very hot rinse.

The Easy Process

- Never substitute one pectin for another because recipes are developed for a specific pectin.
- Do not reduce the sugar in a recipe. The amount specified in the recipe is needed to ensure correct results.
- Do not double recipes. Prepare in separate batches.

After preparing these jams and allowing them to stand 24 hours at room temperature, it's heartwarming to know they can be kept in the freezer for up to 6 months. Once removed from the freezer, a jam will keep fresh in your refrigerator for up to 3 weeks.

Go ahead and be your creative self now. You'll discover how easy it is to expand your jam-making expertise with seasonal fruits throughout the year.

STRAWBERRY-PEACH JAM

3-1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 1-1/2 lb. fully ripe peaches)
3 cups (1-1/4 lb.) sugar
1 box light fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and grind or finely chop about 1-1/2 pounds peaches. Measure 1-1/2 cups; add to strawberries.

Then make the jam. Measure sugar. Combine pectin with 1/4 cup of the sugar. Gradually add pectin mixture to fruit, stirring vigorously. Set aside for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Gradually stir in sugar until dissolved. Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature overnight; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes 5 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Create irresistible no-cook fresh fruit jams, so easy to prepare, so convenient to store in the freezer for enjoyment year round.

RASPBERRY-PEAR JAM

3-3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 pt. fully ripe red raspberries and about 1-1/2 lb. fully ripe pears)
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 cups (1-1/4 lb.) sugar
1 box light fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 3 pints red raspberries. Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Peel, core and finely chop about 1-1/2 pounds pears. Measure 1-3/4 cups; add to raspberries. Add lemon juice.

Then make the jam. Measure sugar. Combine pectin with 1/4 cup of the sugar. Gradually add pectin mixture to fruit, stirring vigorously. Set aside for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Gradually stir in sugar until dissolved. Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature overnight; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes 5-1/2 cups or about 7 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

PEACH-BLUEBERRY JAM

1-3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1/2 pint fully ripe blueberries and 1 lb. fully ripe peaches)
4 cups (1-3/4 lb.) sugar
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 pouch fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Measure 1/2 cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and finely chop or grind about 1 pound peaches. Measure 1-1/4 cups and add to blueberries.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

FRUIT CUP JAM

2-1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries, 1/4 medium ripe pineapple, 2 medium oranges and about 1/2 lb. fully ripe pears)
4-1/2 cups (2 lb.) sugar
3/4 cup water
1 box fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries; measure 3/4 cup. Peel, core and finely chop or grind 1/4 medium pineapple; measure 3/4 cup. Peel and section 2 medium oranges; remove all membrane and seeds and crush thoroughly; measure 1/2 cup. Peel, core and finely chop or grind about 1/2 pound pears; measure 1/2 cup. Combine measured fruits in large bowl or pan.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5-1/2 cups or about 7 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

SWEET CHERRY-ORANGE JAM

1-3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1-1/4 lb. fully ripe sweet cherries and 1 medium orange)
4 cups (1-3/4 lb.) sugar
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1 pouch fruit pectin

First prepare the fruit. Pit and grind about 1-1/4 pounds sweet cherries. Measure 1-1/2 cups into large bowl or pan. Grate the rind from 1 orange; measure 1/2 teaspoon. Section orange, removing membrane; dice the sections and measure 1/4 cup. Add orange rind and sections to cherries.

Then make the jam. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4-3/4 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Some food origins may surprise you

Our favorite foods, where do they come from?

The origin of foods is not always what we think. As a matter of fact, it's easy to be fooled.

For example, where did the fancy flaming dessert, Baked Alaska, originate? No, not with the Eskimos or even in Alaska. Baked Alaska was invented in 1867 by a French-born chef, Charles Ranhofer, in New York City.

During the St. Louis Exposition of 1904, a Middle East immigrant named Ernest A. Hamwi rolled a circular pastry into the shape of a cone and placed ice cream on top. Thus, the ice cream cone was born.

CHOP SUEY was invented by a Chinese man named Li Hung Chang, but he created his dish in America. Chang, a Chinese diplomat, is known as "the father of chop suey."

During a state visit to New York City, he developed the dish in an attempt to recreate authentic Chinese food without having the proper cooking utensils, ingredients and seasonings.

When friends asked what the dish was called, Chang combined the words for chop sticks and soya sauce into "chop suey." From this, the name eventually became chop suey.

CHOW MEIN was also born in America. The dish was first made by Chinese railroad laborers working in San Francisco.

Where did spaghetti and meatballs originate? Would you guess Brooklyn? It's true.

Here are some American foods with Italian roots — cantaloupes and French fries. French fries?

French fries do not come from France at all. They originated in Italy.

In this case, "French" does not refer to the country of origin, but merely indicates that the potatoes have been cut into thin strips, in the "French" manner.

Cantaloupes, on the other hand, take their name from the Castle Cantelupo in Aconcua, Italy.

The first spaghetti factory in the United States was built in New York in 1876. However, it wasn't until more than a century later that spaghetti became common in America.

Once considered an "ethnic" food, pasta is now thoroughly American.

Chili powder was invented by a German from New Braunfels, Texas, in 1902. The spice was unknown to true Mexican cooks.

And, Julius Caesar had nothing to do with "Caesar Salad." The favorite salad of millions was concocted during the Prohibition Era by Caesar Cardini, the proprietor of a small hotel in Tijuana, Mexico.

As it turns out, tamales can't be labeled true Mexican either. They were served to Captain John Smith when he landed in Virginia in 1612.

RUSSIAN SAILORS did bring the recipe for Tartar steak to the seaport of Hamburg, but it took German cooks to improve on the recipe by cooking the meat.

Lebanon Bologna has nothing to do with the Middle Eastern country of the same name. It is an all-beef sausage, smoked for added flavor, that was first made in Lebanon, Penn. Danish pastry is really called "Wienerbrod" (Vienna bread) in Denmark where the pastry originated.

The Dutch invented the fried doughnut, but it took a young boy from Maine, Hanson Gregory, to add the doughnut hole in 1847. He later became a New England sea captain. (Today, a plaque stands in Rockport, Maine, honoring Gregory and his achievement.)

POTATO CHIPS were invented in 1853 by an American Indian chief.

A Swedish-American biochemist, Dr. Alexander Anderson, patented an invention in 1902 for making puffed wheat and puffed rice — "the cereal shot from guns."

Julia Child prefers lamb's flavor

The consistent quality and unbeatable flavor of fresh American lamb has made it a favorite among some of the finest cooks in the United States.

Food personality Julia Child prefers the flavor of American lamb. Why? Because fresh American lamb is just that — it's fresh. And with freshness comes high quality and flavor.

American lamb is bigger today because of better production practices. And with the larger lamb comes a leaner, more flavorful and more nutritious product. A three-ounce serving of lean American lamb averages only 176 calories and is an excellent source of protein, iron, zinc, niacin and the B vitamins.

Make a feast out of cold, leftover roast lamb by marinating slices of it and serving them with colorful bulgur salad. Bulgur is cracked wheat, which you can find in the health-food section of your market. It has a little more flavor and texture than rice.

JULIA CHILD'S SYRIAN SALAD

The Stock: Chop or saw your lamb bones into convenient pieces, brown them for 30 to 40 minutes in the upper third of a 425-degree oven with a chopped carrot and chopped onion, drain out the accumulated fat, and scoop bones and vegetables into a large saucepan. Pour a little water into the browning pan; simmer and scrape up the coagulated browning juices, pour them into the saucepan, add water to cover ingredients by an inch, and bring to the simmer. Skim off accumulating scum for several minutes, salt lightly, add a chopped celery stalk, 2 cloves of garlic, Blend in 1 or 2 tablespoon of capers, squeezed dry and chopped, and several tablespoons of minced fresh parsley. Season carefully, and you'll have enough sauce to baste and flavor 12 good slices of lamb.

The Bulgur Salad: Pour 1 cup of bulgur into a bowl and stir in 4 cups of boiling water. Let soak for 20 minutes or until tender when you chew a spoonful. Drain, and squeeze dry.

Place in a mixing bowl. Blend in a small, finely grated onion, pressing it with a spoon into the grains, then toss with salt and pepper to taste, ½ cup or so of chopped fresh parsley, fresh lemon juice, a tablespoon or more of good olive oil, and other tasty and decorative elements like diced green and/or red peppers, celery, cucumbers, tomatoes, black olives, fresh mint leaves. Mound your salad on a platter, and place the marinated slices of lamb around it.

JULIA CHILD'S LAMB SOUP

The Stock: Chop or saw your lamb bones into convenient pieces, brown them for 30 to 40 minutes in the upper third of a 425-degree oven with a chopped carrot and chopped onion, drain out the accumulated fat, and scoop bones and vegetables into a large saucepan. Pour a little water into the browning pan; simmer and scrape up the coagulated browning juices, pour them into the saucepan, add water to cover ingredients by an inch, and bring to the simmer. Skim off accumulating scum for several minutes, salt lightly, add a chopped celery stalk, 2 cloves of garlic, halved but not peeled, a bay leaf, and a good pinch of rosemary or thyme. Cover loosely and simmer 3 to 4 hours, adding more water if needed. Strain and degrease.

The Soup: Simmer the stock with ½ cup of barley or lentils or 1 ½ cups of almost-cooked beans, plus ½ cup each of diced onions, turnips and carrots. When ingredients are tender, season and add a bit of diced tomato for color, simmering 2 minutes, and a good sprinkling of fresh chopped parsley.

RASPBERRY LAMB SKEWERS

4 lbs. lean lamb leg, cubed
½ cup safflower oil

½ cup raspberry vinegar
½ cup white wine
½ cup lemon juice
2 tsp. garlic, minced
3 tsp. sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper, fresh ground

Combine all ingredients in bowl large enough for lamb cubes, whisk ingredients together, then add lamb, toss gently to coat with marinade. Refrigerate for six hours, tossing occasionally. Skewer two or three cubes on 6-inch bamboo skewers which have been soaking in water (one hour). Grill, broil or barbecue 3 to 5 minutes, allowing lamb to remain pink inside. Makes about 32 appetizers.

Let them eat cake

For a moist, heavenly-tasting coffee cake, try this one made with fully yellow, ripe bananas.

BANANA COFFEE CAKE

6 Tbsp. butter, softened
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
1 Tbsp. grated lemon peel
1 tsp. vanilla extract
½ cup milk
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 Tbsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
3 large, ripe bananas, sliced (3 cups)
Streusel Topping

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg, lemon peel and vanilla until smooth. Stir in milk. Combine dry ingredients; add to creamed mixture, stirring until blended. Fold in bananas. Spoon batter into well greased 9-inch square baking pan. Smooth top. Sprinkle with Streusel Topping. Bake in 375 degrees oven 45 to 50 minutes until wooden pick inserted comes out clean. Cool 20 minutes before cutting. Serves 9.

Streusel Topping: Combine ½ cup packed brown sugar, ½ cup all-purpose flour and ¾ teaspoon ground cinnamon. Cut in ¼ cup butter until mixture is crumbly.

Celebrate Cinco de Mayo

Easy Mole Poblano is a streamlined version of Mexico's best-known fiesta dish.

Cinco de Mayo, the fifth of May, is one of Mexico's liveliest national holidays. Commemorating the Mexican army's 1862 victory in battle over the invading French in the small town of Puebla, it's a time for merriment and feasting.

The ideal menu choice for a Cinco de Mayo party is Mole Poblano (MOE-lay poh-BLAH-no), the national dish of Mexico.

Created by nuns in Puebla over 200 years ago to honor visiting church dignitaries, the dish consists of chicken or turkey in a distinctive, dark sauce. Pull-flavored and spicy, the sauce traditionally requires twenty or thirty ingredients, including unsweetened chocolate and a multitude of different chiles, seasonings and spices.

For home cooks who love Mexican food but lack time for involved preparation, a streamlined version of this favorite fiesta food has been created.

Easy Mole Poblano shortcuts preparation while carefully preserving the traditional taste of the original dish. To shorten cooking time, it begins with boneless skinned chicken breasts in place of whole chicken or turkey.

Rice is the traditional accompaniment for this dish and Cumin Avocado Rice is an easy, flavorful choice. Seasoned boldly with cumin and given a lively flavor boost with piquante sauce, avocado and green onion, it provides a colorful complement for the saucy, spicy chicken.

EASY MOLE POBLANO
(Chicken in Spicy Brown Sauce)

3 whole chicken breasts, split, boned and skinned

2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
¼ cup piquante sauce
4 tsp. unsweetened cocoa powder
1 tsp. ground cumin
1 tsp. oregano
Dash of ground cloves
Dash of ground allspice

Pound chicken to ½-inch thickness. Lightly brown in oil in large skillet about 2 minutes on each side, drain off fat. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour over chicken in skillet. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer gently 10 minutes. Remove chicken to serving platter; keep warm. Cook and stir sauce until slightly thickened, about 3 to 5 minutes. Spoon sauce over chicken and serve with Cumin-Avocado Rice. Makes 6 servings.

CUMIN AVOCADO RICE

1 cup regular long grain rice
1 Tbsp. butter or margarine
2 chicken bouillon cubes
¼ tsp. ground cumin
1 ripe avocado
¼ cup piquante sauce
2 green onions with tops

Cook rice according to package directions, adding butter, bouillon cubes and cumin, but omitting salt. Peel, seed and coarsely chop avocado; stir into rice with piquante sauce and green onion. Serve with additional piquante sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Bite Cheese flavor distinctive

Connoisseurs prize the exquisite, tangy little cheeses from France called chevres. A choice supply of many popular goat-milk French chevres are shipped to the United States. And they're in great demand because there is a chvre to please every cheese lover.

The texture is most distinctive: When the cheese is fresh, it is smooth and spreadable; when mature, it resembles a dry cream cheese. Yet the taste is always recognized by a distinctive bite.

Another special character of chevres is their varied shapes — pyramids, logs, loaves, patties. Sometimes they are wrapped in leaves or dipped in herbs or spices for still more tang.

Their variety makes them extremely versatile. Use the young chevres as vegetable stuffings or spreads. Drier mature chevres are great snacks and add unique flavor to salads.

CHEVRE AND LAMB SALAD
(Makes about 4 servings)

Salad:
3 cups thinly sliced cold roast lamb
6 oz. coarsely crumbled chvre
2 endives, trimmed and separated
2 Tbsp. sliced celery
2 Tbsp. chopped fresh dill
¼ cup sliced corianders (French gherkins)

Dressing:
¼ cup French peanut oil
¼ cup French red wine vinegar
1 tsp. Herbs de Provence
1 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. horseradish
1 Tbsp. imported Dijon mustard

Combine all salad ingredients and toss lightly. Cover and chill. Combine dressing ingredients and whisk until thick. Let stand at room temperature for 2 hours. When ready to serve, whisk dressing again and pour over salad.

6 cheeses key to special manicotti

This is rich. I mean RICH! It may be the richest pasta dish in the world.

The six cheeses can be found at the supermarket or an Italian specialty store.

The first time I prepared the dish I made the mistake of tasting the two-cheese mushroom sauce too many times. Resist the temptation so you can enjoy it over the four-cheese filled manicotti.

This creation will make you a big cheese at home.

FOUR-CHEESE MANICOTTI

The four-cheese filling:
½ cup Asiago or Parmesan cheese
½ cup grated Romano cheese

pilot light
Greg Melikov

½ cup shredded mozzarella cheese
1 lb. Ricotta
4 walnuts, finely chopped
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
3 eggs, beaten
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ Tbsp. salt
Liberal amount milled black pepper

Mix cheeses in large bowl, add remaining ingredients and blend well.

Picnic booklet available

When you think of summertime activities, you think of warm sunshine, games and good food (with maybe an occasional ant).

But a more worrisome "bug" — food poisoning bacteria — is lurking, waiting to pounce on foods that are not prepared and handled properly.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is offering a booklet that provides information on how to safely care for foods that will be served away from home.

"Safe Food to Go," a 20-page, colorfully illustrated brochure, includes practical food safety information for almost every outside eating occasion. It also contains a fold-out chart that lists five basic food safety tips, as well as information about food-borne poisoning organisms.

Jeff Bridges is Matt Scudder, an ex-cop who tries to find a prostitute's murderer, in "8 Million Ways to Die." Rosanna Arquette is Sarah Armstrong, who works in the party house.

Heroes' lifestyles shown at worst in these 2 losers

If you're into drugs, booze and bad movies, "8 Million Ways to Die" (R) and "Jo Jo Dancer, Your Life Is Calling" (R) should be right up your alley.

Both feature supposedly resurrected substance-abusers but the moral lessons get lost in showing decadent lifestyles that led the heroes down the garden path in the first place.

If either film was any good, we could probably come to grips with Richard Pryor's foul language and all the other objectionable activities. But both "8 Million" and "Jo Jo Dancer" (Pryor is in the title role) are so maudlin, boring and poorly constructed that one shudders to think these are "major motion pictures" with all-star casts and significant production budgets.

"8 Million Ways to Die" features Jeff Bridges as Matt Scudder, an alcoholic, gung-ho macho cop who loses his badge, as the film opens. The rationale appears to be his smart-alecky response to the Police Internal Security Investigation regarding the shooting of a suspect.

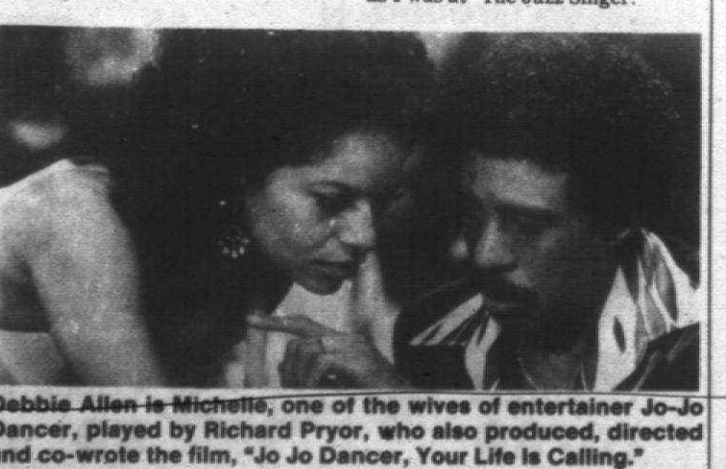

IT SEEMED the thing to do at the time since the suspect was viciously beating two of Scudder's fellow cops with a baseball bat. This hardly should be cause for Scudder's dismissal, but it is typical of the film's murky writing, directing and editing.

Well, Scudder hits the bottle, his wife and daughter leave him, and he is hired by a pretty young prostitute, Sunny Hendryx (Alexandra Paul), who works in a party house run by Chance (Randy Brooks). Chance's relationship is, at best, muddled.

Predictably, Sunny is brutally murdered so Scudder hits the vengeance trail with the reluctant help of Chance's chief prostitute, Sarah Armstrong (Rosanna Arquette). After Sarah gets drunk one night, her reluctance vanishes and she gets close to Scudder when she isn't fending off the advances of the arch-villain, drug dealer Angel Maldonado (Andy Garcia).

There you have it, enough material for a 30-minute TV cop show, but Director Hal Ashby manages to drag it out to 1 1/2 hours by interspersing Scudder's AA confessions with alcoholic binges and lots of shouting.

Believe me, there's nothing to shout about. The final shoot-out starts as a shout-out but winds up in such an overly obvious fashion that you will wonder why they picked this way when they had 9 million choices.

Debbie Allen is Michelle, one of the wives of entertainer Jo Jo Dancer, played by Richard Pryor, who also produced, directed and co-wrote the film, "Jo Jo Dancer, Your Life Is Calling."

Fine California wines arrive

There is some splendid news in the new-wines-to-Michigan department, one of which I suggested in a recent column would in no way happen.

Regular readers will recall I recently extolled the many virtues of the Dunn Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon 1982, a multi-award winner and deservedly so. Only very small quantities were ever made in this basement-garage operation on Howell Mountain in eastern Napa. The good news is that the wine is now here and available at selected outlets; the bad news is the price, something in the range of $26-$28 a bottle. Dunn apparently gave no discount to his shipper, so we must pay the "extra" costs of added handling.

For a most special occasion only, but one that will be made more memorable with this rich and complex wine. It will benefit from 3 to 10 years aging. The presence of the other new single release surprised me even more than the Dunn. This is the Domaine St. George 1984 Chardonnay, a wine that the Wine Spectator recently listed as a best buy at its California price of $4.99 and said some most laudatory things about. At this writing I have seen it locally at two outlets (Market Square at $5.99 and the Mercantile at $4.99), but a great quantity was shipped and should be readily available by the time you read this.

THE WINE IS full of nice Chardonnay fruit, a bit citrusy, wholly uncomplicated by oak. One suspects it went through malo-lactic fermentation to attain its softness. Very nice. And don't be turned off by those white-tartrate crystals at the bottom of the bottle. They are pure and harmless.

I know nothing of this "winery." I suspect it is not one and is simply a d.b.a. Someone did something right with this one!

While I am on a recommending roll, there is a recently published book that, with one qualification, a real knock-out. It is by the noted wine and food writer Anthony Dias Blue and is forthrightly called "American Wine" (Doubleday, 1985; $29.95).

It is essentially a series of brief précis on the separate wineries of the United States, not in Leon Adams' more narrative style, but winery by winery. It appears to be factual, where I have been able to check it out, and is extremely comprehensive.

Richard Watson

My only reservation about the book is the presence of commentaries on specific wine issues. Features like this tend to become quickly outdated, rendering the book less timely in appearance than it really is. But that was a publication decision and one that added no doubt considerably to the cost, a not modest one. However, this is a major publication that complements Adams' and can also stand on its own.

Book's pages include a little bit of Plymouth

By Julie Brown
staff writer

YOU WON'T find Broadhead, Michigan, on a map and the notorious Green Pillowcase Bandit of Broadhead is nowhere to be found in the pages of any criminology textbooks.

That, however, doesn't mean they're not real.

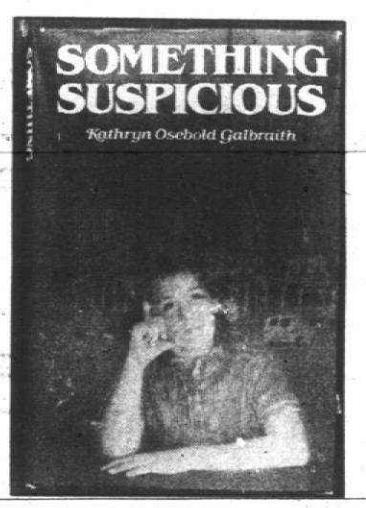

Broadhead, the Green Pillowcase Bandit, and an assorted cast of other characters can all be found in Kathryn Osebold Galbraith's "Something Suspicious" (Atheneum/Margaret K. McElderry, 1985, $11.95). The mystery, written for children ages 8 to 12, includes a little bit of Plymouth in its pages.

Galbraith, who now lives in Tacoma, Wash., grew up in Plymouth. She attended grade school at Our Lady of Good Counsel and graduated from Plymouth High School.

"It's sort of a combination of places I've lived, but it doesn't really exist, at least in one place," she said of Broadhead during a recent telephone interview. Broadhead combines aspects of Plymouth and Ypsilanti, where the author lived when she was very young.

"Certainly, the town square reminded me a lot of Plymouth."

THE MYSTERY begins with young Lizzie Bruce complaining to her mother that there's absolutely nothing to do.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

The summer doesn't stay dull for very long for Lizzie and Ivy in "Something Suspicious."

That very night, however, Wendell Bennett, who is president of the National Bank of Broadhead, comes to dinner with what Lizzie considers to be exciting news. The bank in the neighboring town of Green Hills has been robbed, with the robber using a green pillowcase as his signature.

The bank president jokingly asks Lizzie to help keep an eye out for the bank robber. Lizzie takes him up on the offer and convinces Ivy, her best friend, to help out with the job. Before too long, the girls find themselves with too many mysteries to handle.

In addition to "Something Suspicious," Galbraith has written several other books, "Spots Are Special" (Atheneum/Margaret K. McElderry, 1976) is a picture book for children ages 4 to 8 with black and white illustrations by Diane Dawson.

Her other publications include "Come Spring" (Atheneum/Margaret K. McElderry, 1979), a novel for children ages 9 to 14, and "Katie Did!" (Atheneum/Margaret K. McElderry, 1979), a picture book for children ages 4 to 8 with black and white illustrations by Ted Ramsey. "SOMETHING SUSPICIOUS" was her first written in the first person. Her earlier books had been written in the third person.

The author found it to be a challenge writing in the first person and writing a mystery that would hold young readers' attention.

"Mysteries are harder. I have a great respect for mystery writers," Galbraith read a number of mysteries while she was working on "Something Suspicious."

Writing a good mystery requires that the author weave sufficient clues into the story.

When you write mysteries, you have to play fair. You have to put the clues in. They all have to come out in the end and that takes a lot of planning."

The author writes books designed to hold readers' attention; she worries when she sees statistics about the number of hours young people spend watching television.

In addition to getting young people to read and write, Galbraith likes to popularize books with strong female characters.

"I do think it's important to show girls in roles other than passive, domestic. I like girls who are strong, who are full of adventure and fun. I think we should have strong heroines."

FOR A NUMBER of years, however, few books for children showed female characters as being strong and independent.

"I do think it's important to show girls in roles other than passive, domestic. I like girls who are strong, who are full of adventure and fun. I think we should have strong heroines."

Kathryn Osebold Galbraith
children's author

"All the kids who had the fun were boys." The Nancy Drew books, despite their literary shortcomings, were among the relatively few books that showed strong female characters.

"she was important in that sense. Of course, things have changed dramatically and I'm delighted."

The author wanted to emphasize the friendship between the two girls in "Something Suspicious" and the love found in the Bruce family.

Although Lizzie and her older brother, Mitch, tease each other quite a bit and at times get on each other's nerves, there's no doubt they also love each other.

"I wanted to create a very loving family," Galbraith said. "I think it's important to show love between siblings."

Galbraith also tried to make her characters believable.

"LIZZIE AND IVY to me are real people. The longer you live with your characters, the more real they become."

In "Something Suspicious," Lizzie has just a fine little girl. It wasn't the end of the world, it wasn't a trauma. It just was.

It took Galbraith about three years to complete work on "Something Suspicious." She did the work in the book full-time. In addition to writing, she is administrator for the Tacoma Philharmonic, a nonprofit organization which sponsors a classical music series.

Galbraith has worked as a children's librarian in Seattle, Wash., and as a business librarian at Fordham University in New York City. She has also worked as a librarian

Plymouth-area residents will have an opportunity to meet Kathryn Osebold Galbraith when Plymouth Book World hosts an autograph party to celebrate the publication of

"Something Suspicious," her mystery for children. The event will be 1-3 p.m. Saturday. Galbraith grew up in Plymouth and now lives in Tacoma, Wash.

for the New York City Rand Institute and for the Family Service Association of America in New York City.

The children's author received an undergraduate degree in English literature from the University of Michigan. She received a master's degree in library science from U-M in 1970.

GALBRAITH SPEAKS regularly at young authors' conferences and has taught writing workshops for adults. Her husband, Steve Galbraith, is a native of Washington who is employed by the Puget Sound National Bank. The author works at her Tacoma Philharmonic job in the morning and writes during the afternoon.

"It's a nice balance," she said. "I need to get out and be with people." When she's having a bad day writing, Galbraith finds it's good to be able to go to work.

Plymouth-area residents will have an opportunity to meet Galbraith before too long. Plymouth Book World, at 470 Forest Ave. (in Forest Place), will host an autograph party to celebrate the publication of "Something Suspicious" from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, May 10.

(For additional information on the author's local appearance, call Plymouth Book World at 455-8787.)

RECEIVING CORTISONE BY INJECTION IS DIFFERENT THAN TAKING CORTISONE BY TABLETS

Injecting a swollen knee or shoulder with cortisone or a similar steroid is a useful way to treat a flare of osteoarthritis or rheumatoid arthritis. Often people are concerned that receiving the injection will be "bad for me," and prefer to live with their pain. Such concern over a steroid injection only denies the individual an opportunity for relief.

Taking cortisone tablets on a daily basis can lead to harmful effects such as weight gain, high blood pressure, and thinning of the bone. Injection therapy avoids these problems. The type of cortisone used is chemically changed so it will have a strong action against inflammation, but not cause the other side effects of steroids.

Physicians are well aware that injection of steroids can be harmful if abused. The recommendation for injection comes from weighing the probability that this therapy will give relief, against the possibility that new medications will bring their own side-effects and hazards.

Something for everyone could be found on the tables at the Used Book Sale of the Plymouth American Association of University Women.

A feast for book lovers

Things were going well Friday at the Used Book Sale of the Plymouth American Association of University Women. Even so, Elaine Bain, who served as co-chairwoman of the annual event, was looking forward to the beginning of the new week.

For Bain, relief was spelled "SUNDAY." The Used Book Sale was held Friday and Saturday at the Westland Shopping Center. The crowds showed up bright and early Friday morning for the sale.

A variety of items were available at the annual event, including mysteries, science fiction, romances, reference works, children's books, cookbooks and others. Prices ranged from 25 cents to several dollars.

The books, magazines and other materials were displayed on tables according to category, making it easier for browsers to find what they wanted. Many, however, took their own sweet time at the tables, searching for that just-right tome.

Each fall, Plymouth AAUW members begin to gather, sort and price books for the following year's sale.

Books are picked up from the drop box at the Plymouth Library or directly from the homes of donors. Before too long, cartons of books are stacked to the ceiling in the basement at St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth.

Proceeds from the Used Book Sale provide scholarship money for local women who are returning to school or work. Funds are funneled through Wayne State University, Michigan State University, Schoolcraft College, Madonna College and Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

Plymouth's Liz Gribble was among those looking for reading material at the used book sale Friday. The annual event, which raises scholarship money for local women who are returning to school or work, was held Friday and Saturday at the Westland Shopping Center.

The Special Rates will depend on the Sewer Use Regulations including all changes of the Water Code Division as prepared by the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners and the Wayne County Board of Public Works and will be a minimum of those charged by Wayne County plus fifty (50%) percent overhead.

Chiefs celebrate Observerland title

By Brad Emons
staff writer

They were yelling "Hail to the Chiefs" Saturday night at the 16th annual Observerland Boys Track Relays.

Plymouth Canton first-year coach Rob Neu and former coach Mike Spitz each got a victory ride after the Chiefs clinched their first-ever title in the area's premier meet held at Livonia Churchill High School.

Canton scored in 12 of 16 events for a team-high 84 points. The high-spirited Chiefs were followed closely by last year's champion, Churchill, which scored 74½. Redford Catholic Central and Bishop Borgess tallied 74 apiece, making it one of the closest meets ever run at Observerland. (See statement summary.)

"When you have that kind of support behind you, it's good for a couple of years to the track," said Neu of his enthusiastic team. "This was nothing shy of a team effort."

Canton's firsts came in the long jump relay (Tyrone Reeves, Roger Trice and Geoff Estevez), the shuttle hurdle relay (Bryan Whiteley, Jake Michaelson, Larry Allman and Dan Houdek).

The Houdeks added second place finishes in the high jump relay, 6,400-meter relay, distance medley relay and sprint medley relay.

"THE KEY EVENTS were the sprint events," Neu said. "Our sprinters rose to the occasion. We knew we would score in the distance and jumping events. Our sprinters had to come through and they did."

But Neu was not only happy for his kids, he was equally happy for Spitz and former Canton assistant John Tarr, who helped bring the Canton program to respectability.

"Mike [Spitz] was deserving of that shoulder ride," Neu said. "This one belongs to Mike Spitz, John Tarr and the Canton program."

Eric Gudeman leaps 13-0 to capture the pole vault medal for Churchill Saturday.

boys track

As usual, host Churchill scored well in the field events, racking up 28 points. Catholic Central was right behind with 26.

Churchill captured the high jump relay (Jim Rintilla, Steve Galindo and Jason Belaire) and pole vault relay (Eric Brandemuhl, Eric Gudeman and Brian Kert).

The Chargers were hurt somewhat when their sprint medley relay squad took a surprising fourth, but then was disqualified for making a baton exchange in an illegal zone.

CHURCHILL COACH Fred Price, however, refused to alibi.

"The kids ran very well even though we made a mistake here and there," said Price. "Going into the meet we figured we had to place in the 800 relay, but we didn't, and that's where we had to score."

"I don't want to make excuses. Maybe Canton is more alive than people think."

CC's firsts came in the shot put and discus relays (Dan Nash, Tom Eifrid and Matt Fras), as well as the 3,200 relay (Mike Csicsila, Kevin Krasko, John Regan and Jim Fedewa) and 6,400 relay (Jim Kolodziej, Mike Bodner, Regan and Fedewa).

CC coach Kavanaugh left somewhat disappointed after being edged out by Churchill by one-half point for second place.

"It was one of our best efforts of the season, but I'm not satisfied with fourth place," he said. "We could have gotten a trophy, but we did best with what we had."

BORGESS, WHICH captured the title in 1984, was on the brink of winning the meet until disaster struck in the shuttle hurdle relay when Sean Darkins went down with a hip pointer. The Spartans, who dominated the sprints, lost a possible eight points in the event.

"Our guys don't feel bad," said assistant coach Marion Pittman Sr. "They did one heck of a job. We're proud after only getting one point in the field events."

The Spartans were hurt by the absence of Tom Slawski, one of the area's top discus and shot putters. He sat out the meet with a bad back.

Borgess was impressive nonetheless, especially Marion Pittman Jr. and Ivan Cotman.

Pittman won the open 100 dash in 10.9, beating Plymouth Salem's Brian Neuhardt, and anchored the winning 400 and 800 relay teams. He was also a member of the winning 1,600 relay squad, anchored by Brian Kelly, who also won the open 110 hurdles.

COTMAN, a lanky middle distance runner, was a member of the victorious 800 relay squad and turned in an impressive 48.28 400 split as Borgess won the sprint medley.

In the open 1,600 run, Westland John Glenn junior Dan Liedel won comfortably in 4:29.9 over Churchill's Rob Annett.

On a cold and brisk night, no meet records were set.

Bryan Whiteley (left) wins his preliminary heat in the 110 high hurdles edging Garden City's Audie Wheeler. The Canton senior placed second in the event overall.

Morgan's speech lights a fire under Chiefs

Pep talks are amazing things. If delivered effectively, they can light a fire under a team and induce a higher level of execution.

That was the case Wednesday night as Plymouth Canton's soccer team overcame a dubious first half to beat Farmington 3-1.

"The first half was all Farmington," said Canton coach Mike Morgan, whose team trailed 1-0 after 40 minutes. "I had a little talk with my team at halftime. I more or less appealed to their sense of self-worth. It was a different game after that."

Michelle Lonigro scored twice within the first 10 minutes of the second half to put Canton on top. Trish Greenhalge, off an assist from Lonigro, added the insurance goal.

Stacy Schalm scored Farmington's goal capping a pretty passing play from Laurie Dingle and Leslie Martin.

"As far as I'm concerned, we completely outplayed them in the first half," said Farmington coach Ed Bartram. "We outshot them 12-2 in the first half. Canton's statistics showed a 7-5 shooting edge for

soccer

Farmington). We had two or three other scoring chances that we just missed or it could have been a different game.

"It's hard to believe that second half. In my opinion, they scored three pretty cheap goals. They outshut us in the second half, they didn't really outplay us."

Canton goalie Jenny Saul helped stave off Farmington, making 23 saves, according to Farmington's stats (nine according to Canton's stats).

Farmington (5-5-0) had a rougher go of it Friday as Observerland's No. 2 team Livonia Stevenson lambasted the Falcons 9-0. Sue Zatorski scored four times to pace the Spartans (11-0-1).

NORTHVILLE 3, CANTON 0: No pep talk could help Friday night.

Northville's defense was just too stingy.

After a tightly-contested first-half, Northville didn't allow Canton a shot on goal in the second half.

"It was really one of our better games of the year," said Morgan. "But it wasn't enough."

Northville got off just 13 shots on the Canton goal but made good on three of them.

The Chiefs are 5-4-1 on the season.

MERCY 3, SEAHOLM 2: With this non-league win Friday, Farmington Hills Mercy has played seven straight matches without defeat since losing the season-opener to No. 1-ranked Livonia Churchill.

Margaret DeMattia scored an unassisted goal and Stacy Nolte scored a pair off assists from Mari-beth Knight to boost the Marlins.

All-stater Katie Andreae scored twice from Birmingham Seaholm (7-3-1).

Mercy outshot the Maples 25-12, that shooting edge attributable in a large sense to the fine midfield play of Amy Stock.

Mercy had an easier time of it Thursday, whipping Catholic League foe Bishop Borgess 12-0. Colleen Raftery (two goals, two assists) and Mary Beth Larabell (two goals, one assist) led the way.

Shannon Bebes, Leigh Clancy, Jenny Kuzma, Nolte, Kathy Rush, Stock, Julie Hale and Sue Swienkowski each scored once. Hale added three assists.

Kelly Beaudry earned the shutout as Mercy outshot Borgess 48-2.

The Marlins are 3-0-2 in the Catholic League, 5-1-2 overall.

SALEM 10, HARRISON 0: Freshmen accounted for six of the 10 Plymouth Salem goals Wednesday in this one-sided Western Lakes match.

Jill Estey and Jo Wiklund led the Rocks' kiddie-corps with two goals each. Estey now has 12 goals on the season. Missy Smith and Nicole Stojeba, both freshmen, also scored.

Senior captain Julie Tortora scored twice, Rachel Thiet and Pam Mayer once each.

Salem (6-2-1) outshot the Hawks 34-6. Credit Jenny Cebula and Ellen Schnackel with the shutout.

Harrison is 0-8-1.

N. FARMINGTON 9, LAKELAND 1: Jean Anzlovar, Kris McMinn and Lisa Nordini led the assault for North Farmington with two goals apiece in a non-league match Friday.

Terry Kaltz, Mo O'Brian and Sandy Spahn also scored. The Raiders outshot Milford Lakeland 32-2.

The Raiders played well on Wednesday, but fell to Western Lakes power Northville, 4-0.

"Our defense played excellent," said North coach Cathy Cole. "We are starting to get into the game mentally now. We played well."

The Raiders are 3-6-1 on the year.

STEVENSON 9, FARMINGTON 0: The Spartans (11-0-1) stayed right with their Livonia counterparts Friday, whipping undermanned Farmington.

Sue Zatorski led the way with four goals. Maureen Sudek, Michelle Hussey, Kim Paterson, Mary Pelloni and Tina Gelmsi also scored for the Spartans, who outshot the Falcons 35-0.

On Wednesday, Stevenson bested visiting Livonia Franklin, 4-0, as Pelloni racked up three assists.

Lori Green, Karen Carney, Sudek and Zatorski scored the Stevenson goals.

Stevenson outshot the Patriots, 20-1.

MERCY 12, BISHOP BORGESS 0: Farmington Hills Mercy (5-1-1) got two goals each Thursday from Colleen Raftery and Mary Beth Larabell in a lopsided Catholic League Central Division victory over Redford Bishop Borgess.

girls track

Salem, Canton win duals

Thursday wasn't the best day to track and field meet, but the Plymouth Canton girls team made the most of it, beating Walled Lake Western 70-59.

"The wind was terrible," said Canton coach George Pryzgodski. "It was like running in a hurricane. They had to have kids hold the hurdles so they wouldn't get blown down."

The Chiefs dominated the meet from 440-yard dash on, outscoring Western 37-4 in the final seven events.

Tricia Carney and Marie Jarosz led the way with a pair of firsts each. Carney won the 220 (29.5) and the 440 (1:07.0), while Jarosz captured the 880 (2:46.0) and the mile (6:05.9).

Sherry Figurski set a Canton long jump record, leaping 15-11½. That topped Carolyn Nagy's 1985 mark of 15-8.

Lori Schauder won the 330 low hurdles (54.0) and Rachel Mann took the 2-mile run (12:56.0). The Chiefs (2-0) also won the 2-mile relay (11:48.0).

PLYMOUTH SALEM posted its first dual meet win of the season Thursday, topping Walled Lake Central 74-53.

Salem's superior field event team keyed the victory. Shelly Bohlan (29-5), Karen Marcinak and Nancy Reukewitz 1-2-3 in the shot put, while Marcinak (105-1), Bohlan and Keri McBride 1-2-3 in the discus, staking Salem to a comfortable lead early in the meet.

Jimmy Johnson then kept Salem on top winning four individual events. She claimed the long jump (15-5), the high jump (4-6), the 110-yard high hurdles (17.8) and the 330 low hurdles (53.16). She earned 20 of Salem's 74 points.

Dena Head was the only other Rock individual winner. She captured the 100 in 12.18. Salem won both the 440 relay (56.21) and the 880 relay (1:57.66). The Rocks are 1-1.

Franklin rally upends Salem, 6-5

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Bloodied but not beaten. That was the war cry of the Livonia Franklin softball team Thursday, after surviving an eight-inning, 6-5 Western Lakes tussle with Plymouth Salem.

"Winning this game was a huge lift for us," said Franklin coach Joe Epstein, whose team lost a doubleheader to Garden City April 26. "The Garden City game was a prestige game, and the kids were down after losing. We needed this one bad — this win could go a long way for us."

Franklin and Salem came into the game on top of their respective divisions in the Western Lakes and, at times, both played like champions. Salem turned a pretty double-play, pitcher-to-second-to-first. Salem center fielder Mary Jo Callan made two diving catches and just missed a third. Franklin's all-state hurler Tracy Letcka demonstrated her athletic prowess, handling seven chances without error.

Then there were those other times. Of Salem's five runs, only one was earned as the Pats committed four errors. Of the six runs scored by Franklin, three were earned.

FRANKLIN'S GAME-WINNING rally typified the good-bad game. Franklin trailed Salem 5-4 going into the bottom of the eighth. Karen Schoeninger led off with a triple and scored on Cherie Mascarello's single to center. Nothing cheap about that.

But Mascarello went to second when the ball eluded Callan. She went to third on a wild pitch and scored the game-winner on a passed ball.

"Sometimes we looked sharp out there and other times we were shaky," said Salem coach Rob Willette. "We can't do that against a good team and expect to win."

Errors and mental mistakes aside, Salem put forth a courageous effort. The Rocks, once on the verge of getting routed, battled back and eventually had the Patriots gasping for air. Mascarello, 3-for-4 with four RBI, helped stake the Pats to a 4-0 lead with an RBI single in the first and a line-drive, two-run home run up the gap in right-center in the third.

SALEM GOT two runs back in the top of the fourth on a clutch two-out, two-strike single by freshman catcher Darlene Gagleard, then dodged a bullet in the bottom of the fourth.

The Pats loaded the bases with no outs, but Salem pitcher Maggie Meissner worked out of it. She set down the top three hitters in the Patriots' lineup on two infield ground outs and a pop to short.

Denise "whack it" Tackett, who had three of the nine hits Salem off Letcka, knocked in a run in the fifth to pull the Rocks within one, 4-3.

In the seventh, Jessica Handley stroked a triple to right-center field. One out later, Leslie Plichta drove her home with a fly ball to right and the Rocks were even.

They pulled ahead in the eighth. Freshman Ann Mundinger led off with her second hit of the game. She went to second on a bunt by Meissner, to third on a passed ball. Gagleard brought her home with her second hit of the game.

Franklin took the second game (which counted as a non-league game) 7-6 scoring seven times in the first two innings. Mascarello and Maria Vesseliou had two hits each for the Pats (6-1 in the league, 8-3 overall). Patti Wisson was the winning pitcher. Kim Berrie took the loss.

Salem is 6-1 in the league, 6-2 overall.

CANTON 4, W.L. WESTERN 3: Laura Darby manufactured the game-winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning to give the Chiefs a hard-fought victory Thursday.

After Walled Lake Western had tied the game with a three-run outburst in the top of the sixth, Darby led off the bottom half of the sixth with a single. She went to second on sacrifice, to third on a passed ball, then home on a passed ball.

Diana Knickerbocker allowed just two earned runs to pick up the win. She allowed seven hits and walked one.

Kelly Lingenfelder had a pair of doubles to lead the offense. Knickerbocker and Darby each had two hits.

The win ups Canton's record to 5-2.

Salem, Canton get back to winning

That screaming and yelling you may have heard emanating from the Plymouth Salem baseball field Friday was only Salem coach John Gravin trying to ignite his troops.

It worked. Salem, after blowing an 4-0 lead, scored twice in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Livonia Franklin, 10-9.

"I just went into a tirade in the dugout, just went crazy; that's out of character for me. I hate to get that angry, but I'm disappointed with the way we are going at it. We just aren't playing with any intensity," Gravin said.

A six-run fourth inning, keyed by back-to-back doubles from Sean Worden and Brian Dawson, gave the Rocks a comfortable lead. But Franklin came back with five runs in the sixth to take a 9-8 lead.

That's when Gravin administered his verbal attack.

DAWSON WALKED to start the seventh. His older brother, Steve Dawson (who has been out with a shoulder injury), came in to pinch run. Todd Robinson singled Steve Dawson to second. Dawson alertly stole third and came home on an errant throw. Robinson, meanwhile went to second.

With two out, pinch-hitter Ricky Genrich delivered the game-winning single to center field.

"We have been playing just well enough to lose," Gravin said. "We blew a four-run lead to Stevenson, a 7-0 lead to Harrison, a 6-4 lead to North Farmington and an 8-4 lead to Franklin. We just haven't been able to put the nail in the coffin. We just don't show a lot of heart out there."

Junior left-hander Craig Hawley, making his first pitching appearance of the year, picked up the win in relief. Robinson had three hits, Mike Kesson and Chris Davis two each.

Davis, a pitcher, has six hits in eight at-bats.

ON WEDNESDAY, North Farmington scored twice in the last of the sixth to defeat Salem 6-7. Shane Smith absorbed the loss for the Rocks. Jerry Sumner went 3-for-4 with two RBI and Rob Adams went 2-for-3.

Salem is 4-5 on the season.

CANTON 4-16, W.L. CENTRAL 2-6: Fred Crissey has held just two team meetings in 14 years at Canton. He held one last week after his Chiefs had dipped to 2-5 and into the basement of the Western Division.

The result: three straight wins. In game one at Walled Lake Central Friday, Mike LaSota and Jeff Lyle teamed up to stymie the Vikings. LaSota worked 3½ and left with a 3-2 lead. Lyle slammed the door the rest of the way pitching no-hit ball and fanning eight.

Mark Stevens capped a three-run home run in the first and Lyle added an insurance dinger in the sixth. LaSota was the winner in game two, as the Canton bats exploded for 19 hits. Lyle hit a two-run homer and Steve Waite a three-run shot.

On Wednesday, the Chiefs ripped Walled-Lake Western 17-8. Lyle, in relief of Paul Swartzinski, earned the victory.

Ron Balog knocked in five runs with a double and a triple. Waite hit a two-run homer and Chris Sisler hits a long three-run homer beyond the 380-foot sign in right-center.

"The key thing is that we're playing better defense," Crissey said. "People tend to get carried away with the offensive thing in high school baseball. We're not making the mental mistakes that had been killing us. And really, the kids ironed out the problems themselves."

The Chiefs are now 5-5.

Unappreciated at EMU, Bill Gavin a hit at MSU

By C.J. Rask
Staff writer

Bill Gavin has a message for his former baseball coach, Eastern Michigan University's Ron Oestrike. And when Gavin's Michigan State team plays the Hurons later this month, Gavin hopes to deliver it personally — with his bat.

It was Oestrike who didn't agree with Gavin's off-field behavior, you see. "We had a conflict, we just didn't see eye-to-eye," said Gavin. "I had a bad season (in 1984) and things didn't go well for the team."

"It was kind of a mutual agreement for me to leave. I didn't agree with him on a lot of things, and he thought my lifestyle off the field was affecting my play."

SO GAVIN transferred after his sophomore year to MSU. Since Oestrike released him from his scholarship, Gavin was eligible immediately, and the Livonia Churchill graduate responded with a solid season for the Spartans at shortstop. He batted .32, driving in 31 runs.

Now a senior, Gavin is performing at a better pace this year. After 25 games, he leads the team in batting with a .455 average, in hits with 40 (88 at-bats), in doubles with six and in on-base percentage at .619. His 19 runs batted in rank second.

Gavin put it, "So far, so good."

"The third baseman had graduated," said Gavin, "and the coach felt they could use me there more than at short. Plus, any chance I have to play after college will probably be at third."

THOSE CHANCES have improved as his batting average soared. Changes in approach have helped his hitting.

"It's a combination of things," he said. "Being a senior, being around college pitching for a while, and I worked extra hard in the batting cage during the off-season. And we have a new coach this year, Rob Ellis, who has helped me a lot with my mental preparation. He really stresses the mental approach to the game."

According to MSU assistant coach Jeff Kawasaki, Gavin's adjusted hit style, it was based on rumors. "The revenge factor is there, but it's not as bad as it was last year."

hitter this year," said Kawasaki. "He used to go for home runs more, so he struck out more. Bill's gone from primarily a pull hitter to using the whole field."

"He's definitely capable of hitting 400."

GAVIN IS hopeful he'll continue his torrid pace at the plate, but he'd still like to be in the boat over the winter. Dirty fuel can cause engine problems.

• Give a thorough check of all the hoses and belts.
• Make sure all hull fittings are functioning properly.
• Also check the battery and electrical system.

THE COAST GUARD also warns against overloading your boat. Life jackets should be readily available and worn when the weather looks foul.

When refueling, close all doors and hatches and shut off the bilge blower. This can prevent your vessel from becoming engulfed in flames.

A two-way radio should be kept on board in case anything should go askew on your journey. For boats that capsize, it's suggested you stay with the boat. A belly-up boat is easier for rescuers to spot and offers a platform to escape from cold waters.

Coast Guard tips for anglers

OK, nautical neighbors, listen up. With spring here, a lot of you fishermen are taking your boats out for the first time this year. So with the growing number of boating accidents, it wouldn't hurt to heed some advice on safe boating.

The U.S. Coast Guard passes along a few tips in that regard.

Before launching your boat for the first time, the Coast Guard suggests checking the following:

• Don't plan on using the same gas that's been in the boat over the winter. Dirty fuel can cause engine problems.
• Give a thorough check of all the hoses and belts.
• Make sure all hull fittings are functioning properly.
• Also check the battery and electrical system.

Take along charts of the area to make sure where you're going. (If you don't, you could be shacking up with Gilligan and his buddies.) Also take a first aid kit and know how to use what's in it.

It's highly suggested by the Coast Guard that you file a float plan, which includes the boat's name, the type and year, registration number, length, type of power, color, home port, and list of equipment. Point of departure, destination and estimated time of return are certainly items to be included in the float plan.

And leave drinking to the fish. Alcohol and drugs are the leading cause in many boating mishaps.

• A 1986 V-8 pickup truck waits for the overall winner of the 1986 Budweiser Salmon Derby, which begins Sunday, May 18, and runs through Sunday, Sept. 14.

All entries in the tournament must be caught in Lake Michigan or Lake Huron, and registered immediately at one of more than 40 official weigh-in stations around the lakefronts.

The fourth annual contest is Michigan's richest salmon derby. The contest features four segments with each winner collecting $4,000 in prize money. The overall winner receives the truck.

In addition, the fisherman to catch the largest salmon in Lake Huron receives four non-charter boats is $80 and $150 for charter boats. Those interested can write to: Bud Reel/Palmer Salmon Derby, 1896 E. Midland Rd., Bay City, 48706.
