The Canton Connection

CHOIR SCORES: For the first time ever the Centennial Educational Park Concert Choir recently performed in State Choir Festival competition. Under the direction of Laura Wiener, the local high school singers performed at Jackson Community College's Potter Center for the Performing Arts. Earlier this year the choir had received the highest rating of "I" in the primary classification at district festival for its performances of two selections and for sightreading. The "I" rating qualified the choir to perform in State Choir Festival, where there are no classifications.

The CEP Choir was given a Outstanding Division (II) rating for outstanding performance for its acapella renditions of "Now May Has Come With Gladness" by Arnold Schoenberg and "Innsbruck, I Now Must Leave Thee" by Heinrich Isaac. The choir also performed "Go Out With Joy" by Hank Beebe, accompanied by choir member Lisa Tilley, a junior at Plymouth Salem High.

GOOD NEIGHBORS: The Neighbor of the Year/Community Person award of the Awareness Communication Team for Development Disabled has been earned by the Fedorko family of Canton. Jim and Denise Fedorko and their three children have been actively involved with a group home which opened next to their home in 1980 for six mentally retarded men. They were nominated by the staff and residents of the group home. The Fedorkos were honored at a luncheon in the Southfield Hilton. Also honored at that luncheon were Cheryl Barnett of Canton who received a John Furtaw Inspiration Award certificate, an honor announced previously in the Canton Observer.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE: Magician Bill Heiney of Plymouth will entertain at the Children's Dessert Theatre beginning 6:30 p.m. Monday, June 16, at Geneva Presbyterian Church on Sheldon Road just north of Ford in Canton. The charge of $3 per person includes dessert and magic. Advance registration is required and may be done by calling 981-5637.

IN WORKSHOP: Tara Groeber of Canton has been named to participate in a summer science workshop to be held at Central Michigan University, Mount Pleasant, beginning June 15. Tara is a student at West Middle School. The workshop is sponsored by the Mid-Michigan Minority Pre-Engineering Program and the university. The workshop, which provides a chance for talented students such as Tara to increase achievements in science and writing, includes computer-aided instruction and word processing, and scientific experiments. Teachers come from public schools and CMU.

ACADEMIC ALL STAR: Gale Tang, a senior at Plymouth Canton High School, has been named a Class A Academic All-Star — one of only 10 in the state in Class A school districts. This is the first time for a Canton High student to attain this recognition. Miss Tang will enter the University of Michigan for a seven-year medical program to prepare for a career in medical research to do research in the areas of neurology or cancer. She is a National Merit finalist and managing editor of the student newspaper, the CEP Perspective. She is the daughter of Sing and Kin Tang of Plymouth.

Man attacks kids near Hulsing

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton police are searching for a man who sexually molested an 11-year-old girl near Hulsing Elementary School in Canton only moments after he apparently attempted an attack on a 7-year-old boy at the same location.

The girl and two friends were walking east on the path, which extends through a wooded area near Mayfair Village subdivision. She was headed toward the school shortly before 9 a.m. Tuesday when the incident occurred, according to Canton police.

The man, in his late teens or early 20s, ran toward the girls. He held out his arms blocking the path, grabbed the girl from behind and fondled her, police said. The victim and her friends screamed and ran to school. Later that day, police were called to the home of a 7-year-old boy who said he was walking on the footpath that morning when a man tried to grab him. The boy said he dodged the man's grasp and ran to school. The man the boy described fit the description of the person who later attacked the girl.

"These kids did exactly the right thing," said Canton police Lt. Larry Stewart. "They ran and screamed."

Police provided this description of the man: 6 feet tall with a slim build, 165 pounds, short curly brown hair and a brown slightly curly mustache. He was wearing a class ring with a red or green stone. He was dressed in a green sweatshirt, blue jeans and white tennis shoes.

The suspect was last seen running west on Candlewood near Morton Taylor.

POLICE HAVE interviewed at least six witnesses who said they saw the man running near the footpath after the time of the attack. One resident said he saw the man in the area on other occasions riding a red moped.

One witness said she saw a man fitting the description of the suspect riding in a gold van shortly after the incident.

Anyone with information about the case is asked to call Canton police at 397-3000.

Michael Hucal, a Mayfair Village resident whose twin daughters will be attending Hulsing, wants school and Canton officials to offer safer access from Mayfair subdivision to Hulsing. He suggests providing security people in the woods or plowing out the vegetation.

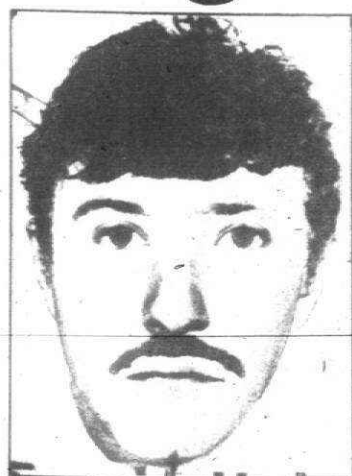

"With all the crazies running around in the world why does something serious have to happen before something is done?" Hucal said.

Irene Ras, Hulsing Parent Teacher Organization president, has scheduled a meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, June 9, (today) at Hulsing for residents to air concerns about the footpath.

Hulsing Elementary School Principal Kate Otto sent a note home with the children the day of the attack. It informed parents that the 11-year-old student was approached by a man. But at the time the letter was written, Otto said, she was unaware that the girl was molested.

In the letter Otto stressed the "usual" safety precautions. Students should walk with someone else to and from school, and they should try not to arrive before 9 a.m. Students should go straight home and avoid playing at Hulsing after school hours or on weekends unless accompanied by adults.

Canton police provided this composite drawing of a suspect who attacked two students en route to Hulsing Elementary School last week.

Fest offers action galore

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

When the chips were down, some community-minded Cantonites came through.

In March, Canton Country Festival Board President Larry Bowerman said this year's festival lacked organizers. "If there isn't more participation from people, we won't be able to put on a festival like we have in the past," he warned at the time.

But shortly after that problem was publicized, Bowerman heard from several people interested in either joining the festival board or helping to organize the annual event. Now, Bowerman reports, "I'm very pleased with the way things have turned out."

The festival will run Friday through Sunday, June 20-22, behind Canton Township Hall on Canton Center Road just south of Proctor.

The board now has the 15 members required under the by-laws of the non-profit organization. Bowerman says 11 have never served on the board, adding that several are relative newcomers to Canton. "The new board members have done an excellent job in a very limited period of time," Bowerman said.

WHILE THIS year's festival is organized generally along the lines of recent ones, Bowerman said there will be no parade this year.

Theft, vandalism lead to charges

By Diane Gale
staff writer

An 18-year-old man is charged with three felonies in connection with the theft of a truck and a trail of destruction in Canton and Plymouth last week.

According to police, early in the morning on June 3 two teens stole a 1979 Ford truck from Fairlane Furniture Restorers on York in Plymouth. They then picked up two other friends and began riding in Plymouth and Canton.

The teens stopped at the Speedway Gas Station on the corner of Ford and Lilley roads in Canton and — after filling the tank with $34.28 worth of gas — left without paying, police said.

A gas station attendant chased the teens in a 1974 Chevrolet pickup. The driver of the stolen truck rammed into the attendant's vehicle, causing more than $2,000 worth of damage, according to Canton police detective Ernie Sayre, and ending the attendant's pursuit.

AFTER LEAVING the gas station, the teen-agers reportedly went through a residential area at Cherry Hill and Lilley and demolished at least five mail boxes. They then drove to I-275 and Michigan Avenue and ran over barricades left by construction crews, according to police.

At about 4:15 a.m., Canton Officer Kurt Johnston spotted the Ford truck at Quik Pik in Pine Tree Plaza on Joy east of I-275. He arrested the teen-ager who was waiting in the truck and then went into the store and arrested three other teens.

Carl Wayne Dimeck, 18, was arraigned Wednesday, June 4, in 35th District Court before Judge John MacDonald. Dimeck — who police say was driving the stolen vehicle — was charged with one count of stealing an automobile, two counts of property damage over $100 and one count of larceny. Each offense is a felony. A plea of not guilty was entered on Dimeck's behalf.

MacDonald set bond at $20,000. Dimeck, who once lived in prison but does not have a permanent address, was unable to post bond.

A preliminary examination to determine if there is enough evidence to hold a trial is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Friday in 35th District Court.

Stealing a car carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison, property destruction over $100 carries a maximum four years in prison and the larceny charge carries a maximum 10 years in prison.

Salem senior dies in crash

Georgenna C. Nix is remembered by educators at Centennial Educational Park as a quiet student who demonstrated particular aptitudes for photography and art.

Miss Nix, 18, was killed last Wednesday in an automobile accident near Dexter.

Funeral services were Friday at the Schrader Funeral Home. She was a Canton resident and a graduating senior at Plymouth Salem High School.

"She was rather withdrawn but very conscientious about her work," said Kris Darby, an art teacher at Salem. "She did some nice pieces. It's sad. They're hanging on the wall now for senior exhibit."

"She had briefly talked to me about going on in art," Darby added. "If she really worked at it, she could have (succeeded), but she really wasn't sure."

Diane Pomish was Miss Nix's counselor at Salem.

"She was a quiet, soft-spoken girl," Pomish said. "She was bright. She was talented. She didn't really

ROUGE RESCUE
Workers help unclog river

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

IT TOOK strong arms to shove soggy debris into a dump truck on Saturday. Livonia resident Rick Hernandez helped supply the strong arms.

It took patience and determination to carry armload after armload of brush and tree limbs to a truck. On Saturday, Plymouth residents Elvera Brown and Pat Carroll helped supply the patience.

And it took a lot of caring about a dirty old river for a mother and her son to work together, filling plastic bags with waterlogged, decaying wood. On Saturday, Garden City residents Chris Friend and her son, Michael, 6, helped supply the caring.

Strong arms and a determined, caring attitude were in abundance at 15 cleanup sites along the banks of the Rouge River. Hundreds of volunteers pitched in to help out in the cleanup and restoration of the clogged, contaminated river.

"ROUGE RESCUE '86" started at 9 a.m. at most of the 15 sites. By noon, more than a year's accumulation of logs, tree limbs, junk, trash and even a few waterlogged picnic tables had been hauled into trucks and carted away.

State officials estimate it will take 20 years and about $1 billion to clean up the Rouge and make it suitable for fishing and swimming. The Friends of the Rouge, Wayne County Parks and Recreation Department workers and a host of volunteers got a head start Saturday on that monumental cleanup task.

So what did they accomplish?

"WELL, THE HUGE, 40-foot logjam at the bridge at Merriman Hollow, along Edward Hines Parkway near Merriman and Warren roads, is now gone. A crane dredged the junk out of the water last week and piled it on the banks of the river.

The biggest pile was estimated at eight feet high, 30 feet long and 10 feet wide. At noon Saturday, most of it was gone. Five dump-truck loads were hauled away.

The volunteers who registered at this site and tackled the mucky pile with pick and shovel could not escape getting dirty — plenty dirty. The work also was backbreaking, as one of trucks had a closed back. The debris had to be shoveled over the top of the truck.

The sign-up folks said about 60 volunteers registered. So many registered, in fact, that some were sent further down Hines to another site. The shovellers included Plymouth resident Sylvia Langh, Friend and son Michael, Hernandez, and Westland residents Linda Adamson, Mary Lawrence and John Graham.

AND THE riverwide logjam at Parr park, along Hines west of Telegraph, is also gone. Most of it, anyway. One toppled tree was so imbedded in sand that last week a crane couldn't move it. The debris captured by the tree still lines the south bank of the river. But eight truck loads of debris were hauled away Saturday morning from this site. At noon, there was an estimated eight truck loads still to go.

Volunteers here didn't get as dirty as they did at Merriman Hollow. Most of the workers simply carried stumps and limbs to an open-backed truck. Or they sawed through giant logs with chainsaws.

The workers included Garden City residents Keith Lamp and Daniel Bagnocche, Redford residents Marjorie Kluck and Dave Vrabec, Carroll and Brown of Plymouth and Livonia residents Sab Kunimatsu, Russ Leviska and Jim Moraksky.

A MASSIVE logjam in Dynamite Park in Wayne did not disappear — it was simply rearranged.

Bulldozers pulling steel cables latched the logs out of the water and piled them along the banks of the river. Unlike the other sites, the logs at this park were not hauled away but recycled. The rearranged logs will create a shoreline which won't erode and which will trap dirt. Eventually, the trapped dirt will cover the logs.

The theory was thought up by George Palmer, an Ohio resident who's helped save rivers in Ohio with the reclamation method. The county demonstrated this method Saturday on what it calls the worst logjam on the river — in Dynamite Park.

By midday the bulldozers and cables had unjammed the river.

"We'll be doing this from now on, instead of hauling away logs," said James Murray, president of the Friends of the Rouge. "It will straighten out the bank so this won't happen again next year. It makes the water do the work. We manipulate the water. The river will follow its natural bend. It's definitely easier. There's no hauling, sawing, loading. And it's a lot cheaper than to haul and to dump."

Workers hauled wood at 13 cleanup sites along the River Rouge. When an empty truck pulled up at Parr Park (top right), workers started filling it with chunks of wood from the river. Garden City resident Keith Lamp and Westland resident

Dennis Lewis climbed into the truck to help stack it. Plymouth resident Sylvia Langh stuffed smaller pieces of wood into bags at Merriman Hollow

by Steve Fecht

At Wayne's Dynamite Park, Westland resident Larry Jacobs supervised a parks and recreation department crew cleaning up the biggest logjam on the Rouge River. The logs were pulled to the side of the river, where dirt eventually will cover them to create a new riverbank.

GOP man in county race

Scott Press, a Republican from Wayne, is running for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners from the 11th District.

The district includes Canton Township and currently is represented by Democrat Milton Mack of Wayne.

Press is active in Republican circles, and serves as the Youth Chair of the Republican Party in the 15th Congressional District, according to district chairwoman Terri Bennett.

Press, who was vacationing last week, was unavailable for comment. He will face the winner of the Democratic primary in November.

Mack will face a rematch for the Democratic nomination against a Wayne County Sheriff's employee, Robert H. Smith.

Mack and Smith, a Belleville resident, competed for the western Wayne County seat four years ago when the district was newly drawn.

Smith is a lieutenant and head of data processing for the sheriff's department.

Canton Festival coming up soon

because organizers got a late start. "It was certainly a big attraction," Bowerman said. "But the parade itself did not attract people to the festival. There wasn't any Pied Piper heading people to the festival grounds."

Bowerman said one aspect of this year's festival, first intended as a cost saving move, may lure more people to the event.

"Entertainment expenses are lower this year. We were able to come up with more amateur entertainers," Bowerman said.

"In the past, 95 percent of the entertainment was professional."

Bowerman added that amateur entertainers' friends and family tend to come out to those performances, encouraging participation in the festival.

Also new this year, the Canton Free Methodist Church will present puppet shows Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and a donut eating contest is scheduled for noon Sunday.

The Don Korte group, which plays music from the swing era, will perform Saturday evening, and a dance area will be set up. There also will be dancing Friday evening, as disc jockey Rob Cortis spins pop and rock records.

have any long-range plans."

SHE WAS recognized recently at an honors assembly for winning a second-place ribbon in a statewide photography contest.

She is survived by her parents, John and Christine; a sister, Michelle; grandparents, George and Bertha Glockner and Doris Nix; and grandmother, Minnie Lee Croly.

Miss Nix was a passenger in a car driven by Charles D. Triplett, 18, of Tecumseh, as they left Silver Lake State Park near Dexter, said Sgt. Harley Rider of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Triplett was passing three other vehicles, Rider said, when he lost control on a curve, over-corrected and hit a tree. The accident occurred at about 6:30 p.m.

Neither was wearing a seat belt, Rider said.

Schoolcraft budget targets roof repairs

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Schoolcraft College will be repairing the roofs on several campus buildings, including classroom buildings and library books. Bid specifications for roof repairs are being prepared and will target the Radcliff Center, the college's Service Building, the Applied Sciences Building and the Forum, he said.

"THE BIGGEST growth in the budget this year is in the transfer section, that's where we've earmarked the money to do these major maintenance repairs and equipment purchases," Raby said.

For homeowners, the new college rate will cost about $96 a year for a house valued at $80,000. For the owner of a $100,000 house, the college property tax bill will be $120 a year.

College officials estimated the district's total property worth (state equalized value) is going up by 5 percent this year, or by $118 million. The district takes in Plymouth, Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Northville.

Schoolcraft students will see no change in the tuition rate, based on the new budget.

Students, however, will see no change in the tuition rate, based on the new budget. The credit hour cost is $30.25 for in-district residents, $41.50 for out-of-district residents and $62 for out-of-state residents.

Tuition will account for $4.7 million of the budget and fees $5.16 million of it. The largest funding source is property taxes, projected at $8.16 million, state appropriations at $6.57 million and federal grants at $25,000. The new budget also takes into account rebuilding the college's reserve, which had dwindled in the last few years, Raby said. Some $450,000 of the new budget was set aside for that purpose. The reserve fund is currently at $250,000.

IN COLLEGE expenses, staff salaries account for 74 percent of the budget total, or $14.9 million. The new budget reflects a 4.4 percent increase for salaries this year. Negotiations with the college's 382 full- and part-time instructors began one week ago, however. Overall, $578,693 more is targeted in the budget for personnel expenses this coming year. The college president Richard McDowell was granted a $5,000-a-year raise from the college board. The trustees approved his pay hike from $63,000 to $68,000 after a closed-door evaluation. Due to a recent state law change, public officials such as school presidents may receive a private performance review upon their request.

A breakdown in key college expense items follows:

- $64,998 for athletics
- $10.78 million for instruction
- $2 million, student services
- $939,000, administration
- $668,997 for the school's contingency fund
- $749,775 for transfers

Trade legislation makes a House divided

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes during the week ending May 23.

HOUSE

GOP PLAN FOR TRADE — By a vote of 145 for and 265 against, the House rejected the Republican alternative to the Democratic majority's massive bill (HR 4800) to overhaul anti-tariff government policy toward America's trading partners.

The bill later was passed and sent to the Senate (see the next vote, below, for details). Called fair-trade legislation by its backers but protectionism by its critics, the bill is expected to be an issue in many of this year's congressional campaigns.

Political acrobatics were on display during two days of floor voting, as several dozen flip-flopping lawmakers supported this and other amendments to gut the Democrats' bill and then voted for the bill on final passage (below).

This vote on the Republican plan provided probably the sharpest indication to constituents of where their members stood on the issue. It confronted lawmakers with a clear choice between the far-reaching Democratic legislation and a GOP approach more palatable to President Reagan and other free-trade advocates.

The GOP substitute retained the thrust of the Democratic legislation, but deleted several tough sections, including one to force retaliation against trading partners such as West Germany and Japan that fail to reduce their trade surpluses over the United States.

Sponsor Robert Michel, R-Ill., called it "a positively Orwellian misuse of the language" for Democrats to say their trade bill was not protectionist.

Opponent Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., said of the GOP alternative, "its major weakness is its lack of muscle in confronting unfair trade practices abroad."

Members voting yes preferred the Republican trade plan.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Voting no: Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, William Ford, D-Taylor, Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

TRADE BILL — By a vote of 265 for and 145 against, the House passed and sent to the Senate a pugnacious, retaliatory trade bill designed to pry open overseas markets for American exports while safeguarding domestic industries and jobs against foreign competition that is seen as unfair.

The 458-page, 239-provision bill diminishes a president's power to set trade policy by forcing certain presidential actions against economic partners and strengthening the authority of the U.S. trade representative and the federal International Trade Commission at the expense of the chief executive.

House Democrats, who authored the bill, hailed it as a long-overdue "fair trade" measure that will make America more competitive and competitive in the rough-and-tumble world economy. But President Reagan denounced it as short-sighted protectionism that could "plunge the world into a trade war" and other critics saw it as an election-year commercial as much as a serious economic document.

One of the bill's most provocative sections forces retaliation against Japan, Taiwan, West Germany and other economic powers that fail to reduce their surpluses over America by 10 percent annually. Another hotly-disputed section broadens America's definition of unfair trade to include imports from workers not covered by internationally recognized labor standards such as collective bargaining and health and safety protections.

The bill also sets tough procedures for opening Japan and other markets to U.S. telecommunications ware, shortens by up to 40 percent the list of "sensitive" American products that need government licenses for sale abroad, and requires retaliatory action in "targeting" cases where a foreign government enforces the exports of a specific industry by subsidies and other aids.

Additionally, the legislation virtually requires U.S. intervention in international currency markets to make the dollar more competitive, makes it easier for American companies to gain protection from the International Trade Commission, converts Trade Adjustment Assistance for unemployed workers to an automatic entitlement program, and authorizes over $1 billion for purposes such as retraining dislocated American workers and helping U.S. exporters counter foreign subsidies.

Members voting yes favored the bill.

Voting yes: Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

Voting no: Pursell, Broomfield.

MANDATORY RETALIATION — The House rejected, 137 for and 276 against, an amendment to cut the heart out of the trade bill (HR 4800) drafted by the Democratic majority (see previous votes).

The amendment sought to eliminate mandatory retaliation against countries that fail to gradually lower their trade surpluses, and to delete the section permitting American retaliation to be based upon a foreign country's denial of internationally recognized worker's rights.

Also, it sought to preserve a president's authority to reject his trade representative's recommendation of import relief, and to soften a section dealing with countries that "target" or help specific industries to dominate certain overseas markets.

Members voting yes wanted to gut the Democratic majority's trade bill.

Voting yes: Pursell, Broomfield.

Voting no: Hertel, William Ford, Levin.

SENATE

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME — By a vote of 36 for and 58 against, the Senate failed to kill an amendment in behalf of three additional weeks of daylight saving time.

The vote left intact a plan to advance the daylight saving starting date from the last Sunday of April to the first Sunday of April. The plan was attached to a bill (S 2180) reauthorizing the Federal Fire Prevention and Control Act, which later was passed on a non-record vote.

The House has voted not only to move the starting date to the first Sunday in April but also to add a week of daylight saving time in the fall. A House-Senate conference will reconcile the two measures.

Wendell Ford, D-Ky., who voted to kill the daylight-saving provision, said the extension would benefit the East and West Coasts but "cause another blow to rural America."

Supporters said the extension will cut energy costs, reduce highway deaths, and stimulate leisure and recreational areas of the economy.

Senators voting no favored extending daylight saving time each year by three weeks.

Voting no: Carl Levin, Donald Riegle.

FEELINGS AND ARTHRITIS

Can a prolonged state of depression, anger, anxiety, or grief lead to arthritis? No evidence to date supports such a relationship. However a connection between feelings and arthritis exists and is best expressed by the phrase: "being up tight."

Often mental stress shows itself as muscle tension. Usually the muscles anchoring in the neck, shoulders and thighs are affected. You feel their tightness as an ache in those areas. Because of the prolonged contraction of muscles, the joints lose their ability to move freely and in turn begin to ache and throb. If you have a joint that is susceptible to arthritis, then such distress will act as a precipitating cause to set off an arthritis flare.

Treatment does not consist of muscle relaxers, tranquilizers, or more anti-arthritis drugs. When mental stress is playing a role in pain, the best therapy is exercise. You should walk, swim, or bike to the limits that your arthritis permits. The ensuing muscle fatigue is a natural body response to activity and overrides the strain created by mental stress.

Dumas withdraws from county race

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

County commissioner Mary Dumas' sudden withdrawal as a candidate for re-election Friday has set the stage for a political battle between Northville Township Supervisor Susan Heintz and Livonia city treasurer Elaine Tuttle.

Dumas, a 13-year county commissioner, filed for re-election two hours before the filing deadline last Tuesday saying then, "This is absolutely the last time."

She withdrew as a candidate Friday, the last day for withdrawal, saying she was suffering from political "burnout."

Political experts say the battle to succeed her in the 10th District — Livonia and the Plymouth and Northville areas — will be between Heintz and Tuttle, both Republicans.

LARRY SWEIGER, a Livonia resident who has run unsuccessfully for a number of local and county offices is also in the race as a Republican.

John Kopka of Livonia, a political unknown, has filed as a Democrat but the district is generally considered a Republican area.

Dumas said of her decision, "I am mentally, emotionally, physically exhausted from politics. I've been in politics 26 long years, and I've been here long enough."

Dumas said she was "torn" about whether she would seek re-election and was "persuaded to file" last week.

"I've been struggling with this for six months," she said.

SHE DECIDED to change her mind, she said, because she was "exhausted. It's not the campaign, but the job for two more years. I made the decision last night (Thursday)."

Dumas will serve as a commissioner until the end of the year. But she won't have to go through a tough re-election campaign against Heintz and Tuttle.

"I'm taking a vacation from politics. I need a change of pace, scenery, atmosphere, to revitalize," Dumas said. "Then I'll make plans for the future. I come from a long-living family, and I got a lot of years to go. I don't want them to just drag along."

Dumas said she has enjoyed her long stint as a county commissioner even though for much of the time she was the only Republican on the Democratic-controlled board.

"They've been rewarding years," she said.

VOTERS WILL choose between the Republican candidates in the August 6 primary election. The top vote-getter will then be on the November general election ballot against the Democratic candidate.

Dealers rave about local stamp show

(Part 3)

When awards were presented to exhibit winners at the 17th annual show of the West Suburban Stamp Club, held recently in Plymouth, I was fortunate to sit next to three people who know the stamp business from top to bottom.

My previous store of knowledge about stamps was that you "licked" them before affixing to envelopes. I know lots more after talking to members of the Rasdale Stamp Co. of Chicago — Kevin Kellerman, his brother Kim, and their grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Rasdale. Mrs. Rasdale's husband, the late Joseph R. Rasdale, started the firm, said to be one of the most reputable in the country.

This was the Rasdale firm's fourth year at the Plymouth show. They came originally because they heard it was good, and they say the report was no exaggeration. The firm sells more stamps here than it does at the Chicago show. "The people who attend the Plymouth show are very serious collectors," says Kevin.

Joseph Rasdale began selling stamps in Elsie, Mich., when he lost his general store during the depression of the 1930s. It took some nerve to go into stamps in Elsie. The little town, with a population of about 600, had as many as nine stamp dealers at the time. But Rasdale went into the business anyway, and soon began to auction his stamps in Detroit. Later, he moved the firm to Chicago where five of the Rasdale children and two grandchildren, Kevin and Kim, are now active in the business.

THE FIRM'S customers are mainly from the Midwest, but they ship all over the world, particularly to collectors in Japan, the Philippines, Portugal, England and Australia. Kevin says 99 percent of sales are through the mail by auction. Stamps are pictured in a catalog. Some dealers print their catalogs in color, but Rasdale prefers black and white. "If the color of a stamp is off you stand a good chance of getting it back."

Kevin Kellerman says the value of a stamp depends on (1) condition (2) rarity (3) demand — "and not necessarily in that order." He says a U.S. airmail stamp, of which 100 were printed with one wrong plate, is worth about $135,000. A British Guiana stamp recently sold for millions of dollars.

uncanceled, can be worth more than one that has been canceled. Stamps must be protected to remain in good condition. Kevin notes that chemicals are bad for them, that they should never be mounted on paper with a high sulphur content. Stamps in a hot climate must be protected against fungus growth. "Many Confederate stamps were affected because of the weather in the South."

Asked whether most people collect stamps in hope of capital gain, Kim Kellerman replies: "Most people collect stamps because of the hunt."

THE WEST Suburban Stamp Club's show this year attracted more than 3,000 visitors. The exhibit area included 2,200 pages of stamps grouped under United States, British North America, General Foreign, Topical and Thematic, and Junior Exhibits. Stamp dealers with tables at the show totaled 47. They came to Plymouth from Ohio, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Indiana, New York, Illinois, Canada, and, of course, Michigan.

The stamp exhibits were judged by a panel of American Philatelic Society judges including John Foxworth, James Adams, Jeanette Adams, Russ Skaveril, Doug Kelsey, Patrick Walters and Robert Ziegler. Top prize at the show was won by Wilbert Dalum who used 10 frames to trace the succession of U.S. postmarks, rates and stamps used in China from the early 1880s to about 1922. As grand award winner, Dalum became eligible to enter the Champion of Champions competition at the annual American Philatelic Society convention on in Washington, D.C., in August. This is the fourth year in which the West Suburban Stamp Show has been recognized as a World Series of Philately event by the American Philatelic Society.

The club's newsletter, begun in 1971, is distributed monthly to members. From it one learns interesting bits of philately the editor picks up from books, giving the authors due credit. For example, a pigeon post was established in 1897 between New Zealand and Great Barrier Island, 65 miles away. Private stamps were provided. Messages attached to the pigeon's leg in a waterproof carrier were called "pigeongrams." Pigeon posts have also been used in Poland, India, Australia, the Channel Islands and the United States.

One also learns that stamps are valued according to a grading system. They are rated superb, excellent or extra fine, very fine, fine, very good, good, fair or poor. The first U.S. government postage stamps were issued in 1847, making them the fifth oldest in the world. Before the advent of stamps, postmasters simply wrote "paid" on the envelope. The first airmail stamps made their appearance in 1918. The West Suburban Stamp Club, started in Plymouth 17 years ago with 18 members, now has 200. Current club officers are president Ed Dubin, vice president Bill Brooks, secretary Ellen Howell, treasurer Ralph Mortenson, club historian Gil Camp, and trustees Phil Czaka, Harry Winter, Richard Joan and Richard Chellevold. In one of his articles in Linn's Stamp News in 1979, John Apfelbaum attributed the success of the Plymouth-based group to active membership, to the word "social," to spouses who are of great help, and to the fact that junior members are treated as equals. Apfelbaum said the Plymouth Show is one of the finest stamp shows he has ever attended.

Did You Know That Last Year's U.S. Savings Bonds Average Rate Exceeded 9%?

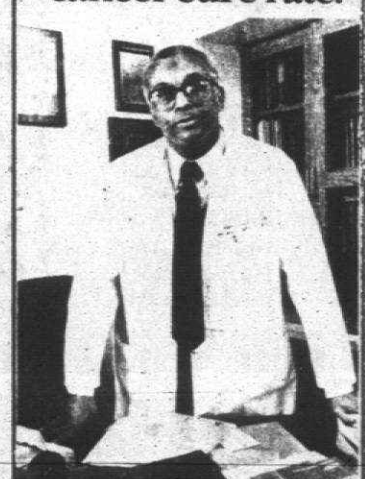

Surprise! U.S. Savings Bonds give you market-based interest rates—like the money markets—plus a guaranteed return. What's more, Savings Bonds give you big tax advantages, cost as little as $25 and are easy to buy. For more information, call toll-free 1-800-US-BONDS.

Market-based rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 1/1/82 and held to maturity. Bonds purchased before 1/1/82 may have lower rates. A public service of the U.S. Treasury.

You can help us
raise the colorectal
cancer cure rate.

"If everyone over 50 had checkups for colorectal cancer, the cure rate could be as high as 75%," says Dr. Lasalle D. Lefkowitz, Jr., past president, American Cancer Society. "You can't cure it if you don't know you have it." But if it's detected early, the cure rate for colorectal cancer is very high. Your doctor can perform the digital and proctoscopic exams, and you take care of the simple stool blood test at home.

Since men and women are equally affected by this disease, we urge everyone over 50 to get regular checkups.

The warning signs for colorectal cancer are a change in bowel habits and blood in the stool.

People with a family history of colon or rectal cancer or ulcerative colitis are at higher risk and are urged to be doubly cautious.

Checkup Guidelines for men and women over 50 without symptoms:

- digital exam annually
- stool blood test annually
- procto exam every 3 to 5 years after 2 negative tests 1 year apart.

cancer alone.

GALA GRILLING:
ADD SIZZLE
TO SUMMER
BARBECUES

One of the summer's best-loved traditions is the backyard barbecue. Whatever the occasion — family reunion, Fourth of July party, or just a lazy Sunday afternoon — a barbecue is a fun, festive way to entertain family and friends.

This summer, bring some new sizzle to your backyard barbecues by trying some deliciously different recipe ideas.

First up on the grill: instead of the usual hot dogs or hamburgers, why not try barbecuing turkey? It's delicious and economical, and frozen turkey breast is readily available. Turkey Kabobs calls for cubed, uncooked turkey, marinated in a flavorful mixture, then grilled on skewers and served with a sweet, spicy sauce. The key to this unusual barbecue treat? Coconut rum, an exotic blend of rum and natural coconut that provides a tasty counterpoint to the spices in the marinade and sauce.

Baked beans go hand-in-hand with barbecued foods. Try adding some chopped green chilies and chile powder for a sensation new version of this traditional dish.

After this hearty fare, you'll want to serve a dessert that's light and refreshing. Take advantage of summer's fresh fruits — strawberries, peaches, blueberries or other seasonal favorites — by whipping up a quick and colorful dessert recipe: Fruit Boats Arcicibo. The delicious marinade includes fruit juices, spices and coconut rum for extra flavor impact. Served in a hollowed-out pineapple or watermelon, this dessert is as pretty as it is delicious.

And to top off your festive barbecue menu, try whipping up some frothy, cooling drinks. One particularly appealing new drink is the Cocorita, a refreshing takeoff on the Margarita. Coconut rum is substituted for triple sec to lend a new dimension to this summertime favorite.

TURKEY KABOBS

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 1-1/4 cups cococonut rum, divided                          | 1 can (20 ounces) chunk pineapple in pineapple juice, drained, reserve juice |
| 2 tablespoons brown sugar                                  | 1/2 teaspoon ground coriander  |
| 1 tablespoon lime juice                                    | 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin  |
| 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger                                 | 1 tablespoon cornstarch  |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt  | 1/2 cup water  |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper  | 1 large green pepper, cut in cubes   |
| 1-1/2 pounds uncooked turkey breast, cut into 1-inch cubes | 1 large red pepper, cut in cubes   |

Combine 3/4 cup coconut rum, brown sugar, lime juice, ginger, salt and pepper; mix well. Arrange turkey in a shallow dish or plastic bag; add coconut rum marinade. Cover. Refrigerate 4 hours or overnight; stir occasionally. Meanwhile, make dipping sauce. In a small saucepan combine reserved pineapple juice, coriander and cumin; bring to a boil. Combine cornstarch and water; stir into saucepan until mixture boils and thickens. Cool slightly. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup coconut rum. Thread turkey, pineapple chunks, green and red pepper on skewers. Brush generously with the coconut rum marinade. Place on grill about 4 inches from source of heat. Grill 5 minutes on one side; turn and brush again. Cook 5 minutes longer. Continue to turn and brush 10 minutes longer or until turkey is done. Serve with warm dipping sauce. Yield: 4 to 6 servings. *Note: One half of a 5 pound frozen turkey breast will yield about 1-1/2 pounds of meat.

COCORITA

- |   |                      |
|---|----------------------|
| 4 ounces frozen concentrated limeade, undiluted | 6 ounces coconut rum |
| 2 tablespoons lime juice                        | 6 ounces tequila     |
| 2 cups ice cubes                                |                      |

Combine all ingredients in container of electric blender. Cover. Process about 1 minute, or until ice is crushed and drink is thick. Serve immediately. If desired, drink can be served in glass that has been rimmed with salt. Yield: 5 to 6 servings.

CHILI BAKED BEANS

- |  |                                      |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine          | 1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)       |
| 2 tablespoons canned chopped green chilies | 1-1/2 teaspoons chili powder         |
|  | 1 can (1 pound 2 ounces) baked beans |

In medium saucepan melt butter; cook onion, chilies and chili powder 4 minutes. Add beans; heat thoroughly. Yield: 4 servings.

FRUIT BOATS ARECIBO

- |                          |  |
|--------------------------|--|
| 1-1/2 cups water         | 1 large, fresh pineapple   |
| 2 tablespoons sugar      | 8 cups assorted fresh fruits (strawberries, plums, peaches, oranges) |
| 2 lemon slices with skin |  |
| 2 3-inch cinnamon sticks |  |
| 1-1/4 cups coconut rum   |  |

In medium saucepan combine water, lemon slices and cinnamon sticks. Boil about 5 minutes or until liquid is reduced to 2/3 cup. Remove from heat. Cool to room temperature. Stir in coconut rum. Meanwhile prepare pineapple. Cut pineapple in half lengthwise. Cut pineapple meat out of both halves to make two shells; remove core and cut remaining pineapple into cubes. Cut assorted fruits into bite size pieces. Combine all fruits in a large bowl. Remove lemon slices and cinnamon sticks from syrup and pour over fruit. Chill at least 4 hours; stir occasionally. When ready to serve, spoon fruit and syrup into prepared pineapple shells. Yield: About 8 servings.

Chicken breasts make Tex-Mex quick-fix

When it comes to after-work dinners, today's food-wise cooks are a demanding lot. They want meals that are quick, easy, and nutritious, and they want to be in and out of the kitchen in the shortest possible time.

One speedy supper staple that rates high with convenience-oriented cooks is boneless skinned chicken breasts.

Versatile, low in calories and adaptable to an amazingly broad range of preparations, chicken breasts are an ideal starting point for quick main dishes and single-skillet meals. Whether you opt for convenience and buy chicken breasts boneless or enjoy the economy of doing it yourself, you'll delight in the way they shorten time spent fixing supper.

NEXT TIME you're in a rush after work, try one of these fix-it-fast Tex-Mex chicken recipes. Easily prepared in about 20 minutes each, both recipes rely on picante sauce to streamline the way to lively Mexican flavor and add just the desired amount of jalapeno pepper "heat."

Pollo Rapido is a calorie-conscious one-dish dinner made with chunks of tender chicken, onion and zucchini. Quickly prepared in a single skillet, its lively Tex-Mex taste appeal comes from garlic, cumin and the cook's choice of mild, medium or hot picante sauce.

Quick Chick 'N' Peppers teams chicken with convenient stewed tomatoes, green pepper and picante sauce for a saucy, spicy entree that will bring the family flocking to the table. Serve it with rice or warm tortillas and pass additional picante sauce for those who just can't get enough of a good thing.

POLLO RAPIDO
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1/2 cup picante sauce
1 tsp. ground cumin
1/2 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. oregano, crushed
2 whole chicken breasts, boned, skinned and split
Salt and pepper, as desired
2 medium onions, cut into 1/2-inch wedges
2 Tbsp. vegetable oil

2 cups zucchini, cut into 1/2-inch cubes (about 1 medium)

Combine tomato sauce, picante sauce, cumin, garlic salt and oregano, mix well. Cut chicken into 1/2-inch pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cook chicken and onions in oil in large skillet over medium heat, stirring frequently, until chicken is lightly browned and almost cooked through, about 5 to 7 minutes. Stir tomato sauce mixture into skillet, mix well. Stir in zucchini. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Uncover, cook and stir about 1 minute to thicken sauce. If necessary, serve with additional picante sauce. Makes 4 servings.

QUICK CHICK 'N' PEPPERS
2 whole chicken breasts, split, boned and skinned
Salt and pepper
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 can (14 1/2 oz.) stewed tomatoes
1 green bell pepper, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup picante sauce
1 garlic clove, minced
1/2 tsp. oregano, crushed
1/2 tsp. ground cumin
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
1 Tbsp. water

Pound chicken to 1/2-inch thickness. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brown in butter in 12-inch skillet about 2 to 3 minutes on each side or until almost cooked through, drain.

Combine tomatoes, green pepper, picante sauce, garlic, oregano and cumin, mix well. Pour over chicken. Bring to a boil, reduce heat. Simmer 5 minutes. Remove chicken to serving platter, keep warm. Dissolve cornstarch in water; stir into skillet. Cook and stir until sauce is thickened, about 1 minute. Serve sauce over chicken. Serve with rice, if desired. Add additional picante sauce. Makes 6 servings.

When time is short but dinner must be special, serve spicy Pollo Rapido.

Cheese cookery is ideal for kitchen novices

When you want people to smile, tell them, "Say cheese!" To bring smiles "of satisfaction" to junior cooks, teach them to cook with this nutritious and versatile ingredient.

Explain to youngsters that cheese products range in flavor from mild to sharp and in texture from soft to hard. But all cheese falls into one of two main categories — natural and processed. When preparing recipes such as sauces and dips, natural cheese is shredded while processed cheese may be cubed or sliced.

Natural cheese is easier to shred than right from the refrigerator, when it is cold and firm. Show first-timers how to hold a shredder over wax paper, which side of the shredder to use and how to shred slowly to avoid nicked fingers. Four ounces of chunk cheese makes 1 cup shredded cheese.

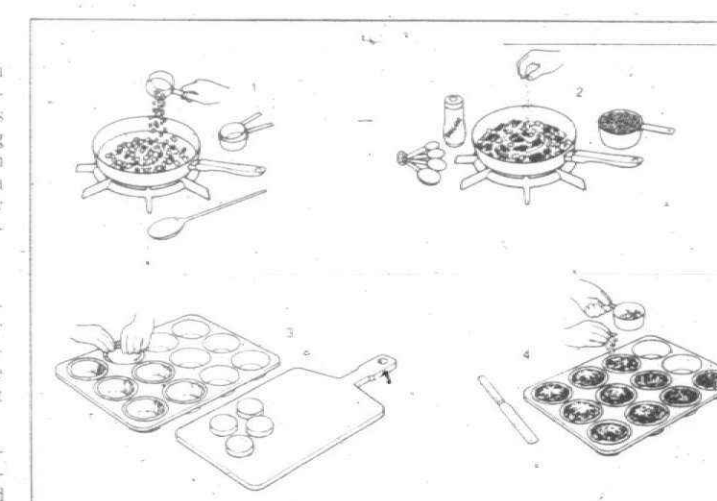

When using processed cheese, demonstrate how to cut the cheese into 1/2-inch cubes using a wire cheese cutter or a small knife.

Cheese cookery is easy for beginners because there are just two rules to remember:

- Use low to medium heat.
  - Cook cheese only until it melts.
- When making a sauce or topping a casserole with shredded cheese, explain to children that the cheese is added near the end of the cooking time to avoid overcooking. And when cheese is used as an ingredient in a baked dish, the dish is baked at low to moderate temperatures, 325 degrees to 375 degrees.

PIZZA CUPS provide a good opportunity for youngsters to master natural cheese cookery while making a tasty snack. The "cups" are made from refrigerated biscuit dough pressed into a muffin pan.

The pizza-flavored filling is a popular combination of chopped vegetables, tomato paste, oregano and shredded natural low-moisture part-skim mozzarella cheese. This favorite cheese is used most often for pizza because of its mild, buttery flavor and desirable stretchy texture. Children will enjoy this fun-to-know fact: Mozzarella cheese was originally made from buffalo's milk, but today most mozzarella cheese is made from cow's milk.

When preparing the filling for Pizza Cups, show youngsters how to quickly wash and thoroughly dry mushrooms to prevent them from absorbing water. Explain that oregano and all dried herbs should be crushed with the fingers before adding to a dish.

Assist novice cooks with greasing the muffin cups. Explain that white shortening, which comes in a can, will prevent sticking and should be used for this job. Cook, stirring frequently, until vegetables are tender.

PIZZA CUPS
10 snacks
You will need:
2 Tbsp. margarine
1/2 cup chopped mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 6-oz. can tomato paste
1/4 cup water
1/2 tsp. dried oregano leaves
1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) shredded natural low-moisture part-skim mozzarella cheese
1 (7.5-ounce) can refrigerated buttermilk biscuits

Take out: Cutting board and small sharp knife. Metal and glass measuring cups.

Measuring spoons.
Shredder and wax paper.
8- to 10-inch skillet.
Wooden spoon.
Shortening and paper towel.
Medium-size muffin pan.
Oven mitts or pot holders.
Small metal spatula.

1. Melt margarine in skillet over medium heat until bubbly. Add mushrooms, green peppers and onions to skillet. Cook, stirring frequently, until vegetables are tender.
2. Add tomato paste, water and oregano to skillet; stirring to blend well. Cook over low heat 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 cup of the shredded cheese, mixing well.
3. Grease 10 medium-size muffin cups. Separate biscuit dough into 10 biscuits. Press each biscuit onto bottom and sides of muffin cup. Fill with vegetable mixture.
4. Bake at 375 degrees 20 to 25 minutes or until biscuits are lightly browned. Remove from oven. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Remove Pizza Cups from muffin pan, using metal spatula, and serve warm.

Give summer meals a cool finale

Planning a summertime dinner party? A special dessert is in order, but with the weather likely to be hot and muggy, a cool finale to your company meal is your best bet.

Here are two frosty and dramatic dessert suggestions guaranteed to put a chill on the gathering. The key to both is the fresh, lively flavor of summertime Granny Smith apples, the green summer apples so delicious for eating out-of-hand or including in recipes.

The first, Green Apple Ice Cream Pie, is so easy to make that you'll want to give it star billing at every-day family dinners as well as special summer occasions.

Just stir brandy-soaked shredded apple and some cinnamon into softened vanilla ice cream, fill an unbaked crumb crust with the mixture and freeze for about four hours. Before serving, allow the pie to sit at room temperature for 15 minutes to "temper" the ice cream for easier slicing.

APPLE CHARLOTTE. Russe is a variation on the classic dessert of 19th century Europe. The recipe involves several steps but the glorious result is well worth the culinary challenge of making the rich, chilled apple custard that overlays a bed of ladyfingers.

Actually, the only tricky step is adding the egg yolks to the mixture of apple puree, milk, unflavored gelatin and seasonings. Be sure their temperature rises slowly to prevent hard cooking by adding a bit of the hot apple mixture to the yolks before stirring them into the rest of the custard base. That accomplished, it should be smooth, sailing to an elegant, airy party dessert.

Fast brown-bag favorites

Sandwiches are the lunchtime favorite for brown-baggers of all ages. Today, with the increased awareness of the quality of food consumed, totting a favorite sandwich from home makes good sense.

Quick to fix and easy to pack, sandwiches are satisfying and nutritious. They also can provide great lunchtime menu variety.

Sylvester Stallone is Marion Cobretti, the unbelievably tough city cop who takes on jobs nobody else can handle, in "Cobra." A gang of psychos is no match for him. Wayne Crawford plays the title role in "Jake Speed," as a fictional superhero who comes alive to help save a kidnapped woman. He isn't daunted by the real world's dangers.

the movies
Dan Greenberg

'Cobra,' 'Jake Speed' may be winners — but you will lose out

"Lead-in," "two," and "unimaginative" are appropriate descriptions of Stallone's latest, "Cobra" (R), and of the less-heralded "Jake Speed" (R).

Having eliminated the Communist menace in Southeast Asia in the guise of Rambo, Stallone now is cleaning up the cities. "Crime" is a disease and I'm the cure. So sayeth the Cobra, nickname of Los Angeles Police Department Zombie Squad Lt. Marion Cobretti (Stallone), who does the dirty jobs that no other cop can.

When SWAT Teams have failed, send the Cobra and his sidekick, Sgt. Gonzales (Reni Santoni). While Gonzales consumes junk food, Cobra stomps psychos barricaded with terrified hostages. The film is mainly devoted to Cobra and Gonzales protecting a witness, of course a fair young maiden, Ingrid (Brigitte Nielsen). She has witnessed a gang of maniacal, ax-wielders at work. They are creating a new order. How or why is never specified, but when they're not changing their axes together in unison during ceremonies in an old warehouse, they're out slicing people. The Night Slasher (Brian Thompson) is most effective.

THE WHOLE AFFAIR is pretty typical of Stallone movies and the gag is wearing thin. Stallone seems to be getting stronger, more and more invincible as each film rolls. He no longer gets captured and tortured by the evil opposition, nor temporarily on the ropes, like the "Rocky" films have led us to expect. Cobra certainly would not have had any trouble with terrorists at Cannes.

Stallone's obligatory big-battle scene pits Cobra against a continual stream of heavily armed motorcycleists with his grenades and machine pistol makes it look easy. If you enjoy stunt riders falling while Sly grunts, you'll like this scene, followed by the final brouhaha in a steel foundry where Cobra eliminates the Night Slasher and other upper-echelon psychopaths. In addition to the dull and predictable course of events, the acting is vintage Stallone. Grunts, muscle-flexing and occasional monotone comments issue from Stallone's repertoire of one facial expression — blank. Cobra does venture into the realm of humor with the unoriginal, "You have the right to remain silent," just as Cobra flings a lighted match onto a gasoline-soaked body. The rest of the acting is equally unappealing with the exception of Brigitte Nielsen, a pretty girl with an engaging smile. She screams OK.

"JAKE SPEED" is much the same as "Cobra," with one exception. Although badly developed, it does have one clever idea, not something you can say about "Cobra." Both are adventure films with "costs of thousands," numerous stunts and uninspired, over-tional special effects. Both are quite dull. "Jake Speed's" clever idea is, unfortunately, poorly realized.

Wayne Crawford leads in the title role of Jake Speed, dashing hero of "Destroyer" paperback adventures who, with his writer and creator, Desmond Floyd (Dennis Christopher), moves in two worlds: the real world of the film and the fantasy world of paperback novels.

They are "summoned" into the real world by Margaret Winston (Karen Kopits) who needs help desperately to rescue her sister, Maureen (Rebecca Ashley), from white slavers. Maureen and her companion were kidnapped in Paris and Margaret feels guilty because she had encouraged Maureen to travel. The State Department has been absolutely no help and Grandpa Winston, who is only marginally batty, suggests they need a real hero, someone like Jake Speed, the man who does everything in the "Destroyer" novels.

A clever idea, summoning up the hero of an impossible paperback series, a hero for all seasons who makes Stallonian characters appear wimpy. The idea that Jake and his "writer" are looking for a new adventure for their next novel is very plausible as they enter the real world.

But the whole thing falls flat on its imaginative face as the plot proceeds in a murky manner with flawed continuity and an almost total lack of development of this basic story concept.

IT IS ALWAYS amazing that film production companies, with access to millions of dollars and numerous talented personnel, can produce movies with such obvious stupidities. "Jake Speed" was filmed on location in Paris, Los Angeles and Zimbabwe, but none of that cures the fact that Maureen could have been kidnapped under more credible circumstances. It hardly seems likely that she could have been chased for some time through the daytime streets of Paris with no one interfering, or even noticing. At the other end, it seems just as unlikely that the incomparable hero, Jake Speed, would rescue her and leave her girlfriend behind.

In between those two improbabilities, there is never any clear delineation between reality and fantasy-adventure novel. That's the film's major flaw. It never explores or exploits the idea that paperback superheroes can bring their impossible strengths and their human foibles into the real world.

Add to that an unending series of stereotypes and poor acting for example, the hero's dull bewilderment and the villain's vastly overdrawn, supposedly satirical presentation, and you have a film duller and more unimaginative than the novels it purports to satirize. "You have" because I've had it.

Summer sagas

Adventure planned for young book enthusiasts

Michael Sawchuck, 10, peruses the books at the Canton Public Library. A summer reading program is scheduled at Plymouth and Canton libraries.

By Julie Brown
staff writer

CHILDREN IN Plymouth and Canton are looking for something to do during the summer vacation months don't have to look very far.

Both the Canton Public Library and the Dunning-Hough Public Library in Plymouth are offering summer reading programs for local children.

The programs are designed to get local youngsters reading — and to keep them reading.

"I hope that they'll have a good feeling about the library and about reading in general," said Pam Rawlinson, children's librarian at the Dunning-Hough Public Library in Plymouth.

The programs are designed to get local youngsters reading — and to keep them reading.

"We really want the experience of reading to be rewarding and not a frustrating experience," Reeves said.

THE THEME for both the Canton and the Plymouth programs this year is "Spotlight on Books." Both libraries belong to the Wayne-Oakland Library Federation.

The Dunning-Hough Public Library's program is open to children 6-14 who are residents of Plymouth, Plymouth Township or Canton Township. Registration for the Plymouth program began last week.

Reading will begin on Monday, June 23, with Thursday, July 31, the final day to report on books.

At one time, children participating in the Plymouth program were required to read 10 books.

"We changed it so that each child could set their own goal," Rawlinson said. "It was difficult for some kids to do that. If they didn't (meet the requirement), they felt they hadn't accomplished what they'd set out."

This year, children participating in the Plymouth program will be required to read at least three books, all at their own reading level. They will sign a contract indicating how many books they will read during the six weeks.

Library staffers can help out with suggestions for reading.

"We do have suggestions. Every week, we try to highlight something different," Rawlinson said. Bookmarks available at the library in Plymouth list books in different subject areas, such as fantasy, entertainment, games and nature.

Children participating in the Plymouth program will be required to give an oral report to a library staffer on at least one book. Youngsters will pick a question slip from a jar and answer the question as it relates to that book.

"Sometimes, kids get a little tongue-tied and they don't know what to say," Rawlinson said. "We hope they'll get them to think a little more about what they want to say."

OCCASIONALLY, AN extremely shy child will have difficulty giving an oral report and will be allowed to submit a written report, the librarians said.

If a child participating in the Plymouth program wishes to read a book that's not in the library's collection, he or she should have that book checked first by a library staffer.

Both the Plymouth and Canton programs will include a number of special activities for children. The Plymouth program will end with a Saturday, Aug. 2, Awards Party, which will be limited to those who have fulfilled their contracts.

The Canton program will end with a Thursday, July 24, Skating Party at the Skatin' Station in Canton Township. All children who participate in the Summer Reading Club may attend.

The Canton program will begin on Monday, June 16, and end on Thursday, July 24. Registration may be completed at the library on or after Monday, June 16. The deadline for registration will be 9 p.m. Wednesday, July 16.

Children in grades one through eight who have a Canton Public Library card may participate. As with the Plymouth program, books chosen must be at the child's reading level.

Only book titles in the Canton Public Library will be accepted. Children who read five books will receive a certificate.

The Canton program does not require children to give book reports. "We don't want to make it a labored type of thing," said Reeves, the library's department head for children's services.

Both Reeves and Rawlinson agree that parents can help their children with the reading.

It's important for parents to be good role models — by reading themselves and by encouraging children to read, Reeves said.

"And talking about the books they read together," such discussions are a big help to children in understanding what they've read.

"They often will tell us in great detail about it."

PARENTS SHOULD help children set realistic goals for reading, the Dunning-Hough Public Library's

"I hope that they'll have a good feeling about the library and about reading in general."

— Pam Rawlinson
Dunning-Hough children's librarian

Rawlinson said.

"Sometimes, they tend to say a higher number than is realistic for them."

It's also helpful to set aside some time each day — such as the time just before bedtime — for reading.

As with many adult readers, children tend to look for lighter material during the summer months.

"A lot more fiction gets read during the summer," Rawlinson said. The non-fiction shelves, however, also attract young readers.

Local children enjoy reading books about hobbies and interests. Rawlinson said, and also books about sports.

"Those are always real popular." Youngsters also seek out books in the areas of history, animals and others. Fantasy books are popular among children at the Canton Public Library, Reeves said, as are the mysteries.

Both librarians encourage children and their parents to come in and register for the summer programs, which have been popular with young readers in previous years. Registration must be completed in person.

For more information on the reading programs, call the Canton Public Library at 387-0995 or the Dunning-Hough Public Library in Plymouth at 455-0750.

The Dunning-Hough Public Library is at 223 S. Main St. in Plymouth. The Canton Public Library is at 1150 S. Canton Center Road in Canton Township.

Glenn wins 1st regional

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Norm Hoenes had waited 20 years for this moment.

As the final Monroe batter strode to the plate, Hoenes perched himself on the top step of the dugout. He surveyed the field, shouted something to his sophomore pitcher, put his hands in his back pockets, adjusted his stance. Normally calm, Hoenes was antsy.

There was no suspense left in the game — his Westland John Glenn team had amassed a 17-1 lead by this time — but the wait was taking its toll on him.

The batter lofted a lazy fly ball to right field and it was over. Finally. For the first time in his 20 years of coaching Glenn baseball, Norm Hoenes had himself a regional championship.

"This has just been a great year," Hoenes said, struggling to verbalize his feelings. "We are a very thin ball-club, we don't have a lot of depth. But the nine guys we put out there have done the job all year."

TECHNICALLY, GLENN'S 17-1 lambasting of Monroe was for the championship of the Class A regional hosted Saturday by the Plymouth-Canton School District. But ask any neutral observer, the championship was decided in the semifinal round.

In a splendid battle, Glenn survived Plymouth Canton 2-1.

The game belonged to the pitchers, Glenn's Steve Irwin and Canton's Adam Kocik. Irwin, though not at his overpowering best, struck out 11 Chiefs — eight of them with runners in scoring position and less than two outs.

"It was a situation where we didn't even need a hit to score, all we needed was to make contact," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "The kid (Irwin) did a good job in those situations. He shut us down."

IN THE FIRST inning Canton put runners on first and second with one out; in the second the Chiefs had first and third with one out; in the third they had runners at second and third with one out. The score after three innings was 0-0.

Glenn scored an unearned run in the fourth. Mike Hammontree singled and went to second on a balk. He went to third on a ground out and scored on a passed ball.

Glenn loaded the bases in that inning with two out but a diving catch by right fielder Mark Stevens saved at least two more runs.

Glenn picked up an unearned run in the sixth. Jim Kenyon, who was 3-for-3 on the day, rapped his second double to lead off. After two outs, he scored on an infield error.

IN THE bottom of the sixth, Canton put runners on second and third with two outs. Irwin fanned Art Dart to end the threat.

Tony Aiken led off the seventh with his second hit, a double to right center. Tom Kenyon followed with a single. A passed ball brought Aiken home and sent Kenyon to second.

Irwin then fanned a dangerous hitter in Chris Sisler, got Stevens on a ground out and fanned Mike Culver — that's Canton's three, four and five hitters.

"He was awfully good when he had to be," Hoenes said of Irwin. "We knew this would be a tough game. We've played them three times, all three were dogfights."

Canton finishes the year with an 16-15 mark.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP game, virtually anticlimactic after the thrilling semifinal, was owned by sophomore Clint Straub. The slightly-built right-hander allowed only one hit — a two-out RBI double in the sixth — and fanned eight.

He also rapped out two hits, a run-scoring double and a grand slam home run.

"He's done that for us all year," Hoenes said. "I thought we were going to be hurting for pitching at the start of the season. He came up and said he could pitch — I guess he was right."

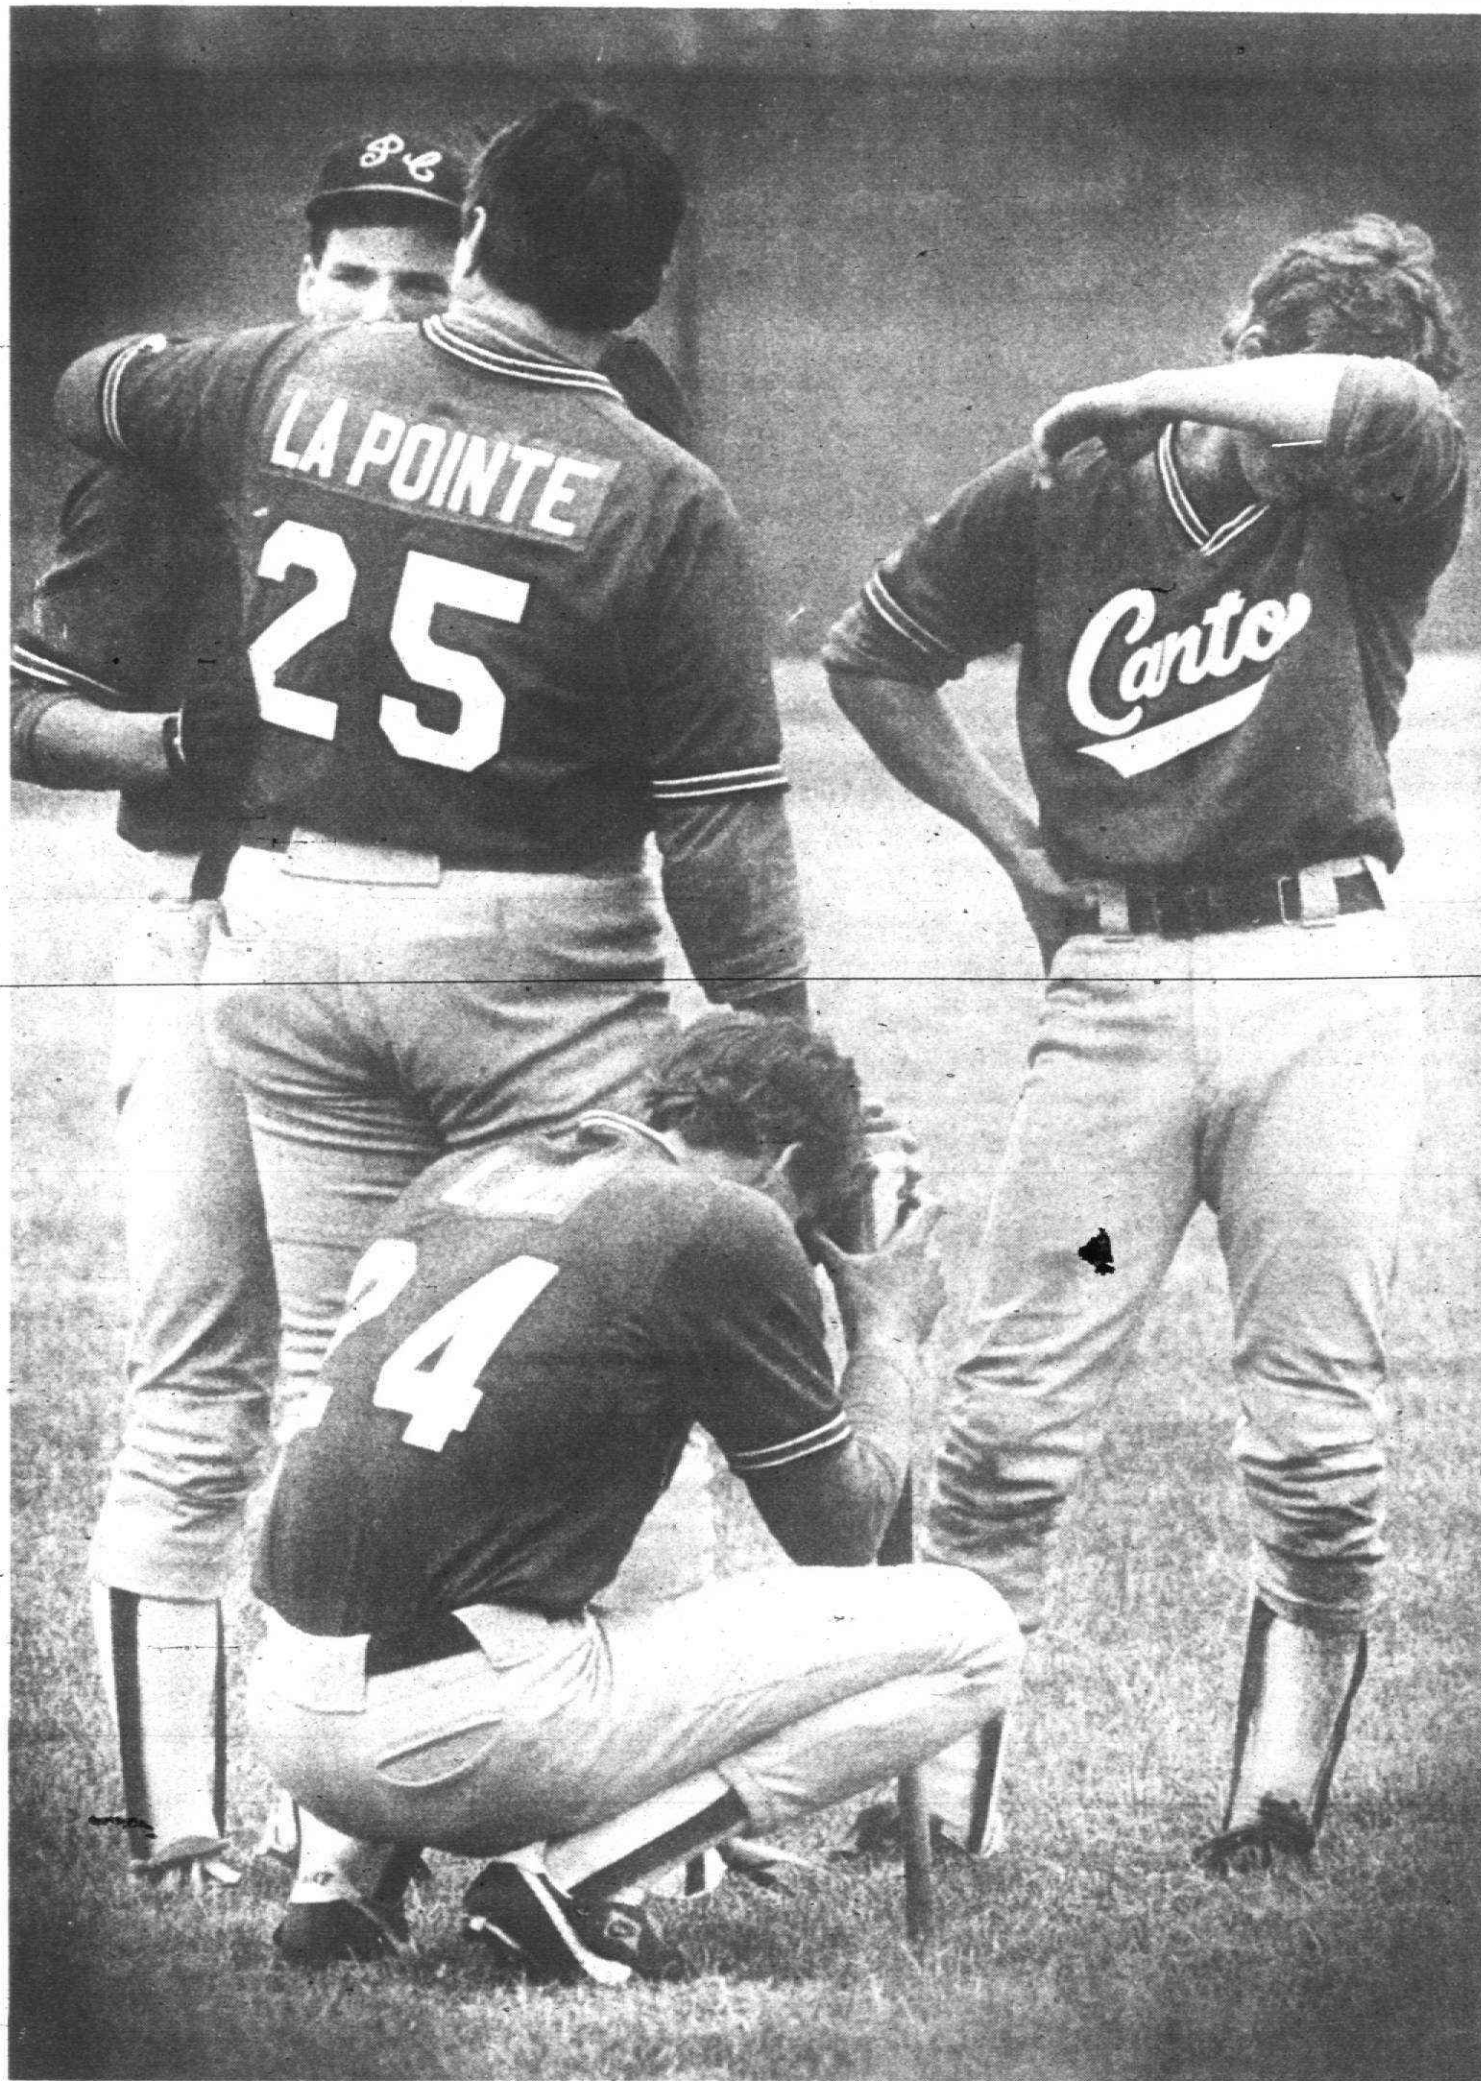

The Rockets broke open a 1-0 game with a five-run fourth. Chuck Hammontree providing the big blow, a three-run double.

In the sixth, the Rockets sent 16 batters to the plate and scored 11 times. Straub's grand slam capped the inning.

Irwin had three hits in the ballgame, designated hitter Shawn Wilson knocked in four runs with a pair of hits and a sacrifice fly while Mike and Chuck Hammontree each had two hits.

Glenn will take its 26-2 record on to the state semifinals next Saturday at Western Michigan University. The Rockets will play the winner of the Grosse Pointe North regional.

But for now, let Hoenes savor the regional title. It's been a long time coming.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Senior sadness. Plymouth Canton assistant coach Mark LaPointe consoles seniors Chris Sisler, Jeff Lyle and Tony Aiken following a bitter 2-1 loss to Westland John Glenn in the Class A regional semifinals Saturday. Glenn went on to win the regional title with a 17-1 lambasting of Monroe.

Monroe ousts RU

Losing in a regional semifinal is never fun, but the manner in which Redford Union went about defeat Saturday at the Class A regional at Plymouth Salem was, well, galling.

The Panthers lost to Monroe 3-2. In the seventh inning, RU put runners on second and third with one out. The tying run never crossed the plate.

Monroe's ace lefty Dan Hilliard struck out 13 to record the win. John Malik and Rod Posey each homered off RU hurler Pat Miller.

Dennis Bushart had a pair of doubles for RU, Mike Stefanski and Mike Kaczmarek each had RBI singles.

RU closes with a 15-11-1 record.

All-Area track: A dashing lot

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

BISHOP BORGESS did not win the Observerland Boys Track and Field Meet this year, but few will argue that the Spartans are the class of this area.

They won the Catholic League title, the Operation Friendship title, the regional title and placed sixth overall in the state meet.

Borgess also produced Observerland's lone state champion: senior Ivan Cotman — who, to no one's surprise, is this year's Observerland Track Man of the Year.

"Ivan is what I would call the cleanest man," said Borgess coach Gary Hickok. "Whatever he does, he has the potential to clean up in it. On a given day, he can run a super 220, run a super sprint relay split and run a great quarter mile. When you hear he's dead for the day, he will come back with a sub-49.0 relay split in the mile relay. He is a great runner."

He proved all of that at the Observer meet. In his fourth event of the day, he ran an incredible 48.2 400 split in the sprint medley relay, coming from way behind to win the event for Borgess.

Cotman headlines a large contingent of Spartan track men (four individuals and two relay teams) selected to the 1986 Observerland All-Area Track Team by area coaches.

Here is that team:

FIELD EVENTS

Dan Nash, Catholic Central, shot put: The senior posted the sixth best toss in the Class A state meet (52-1½). His best throw this year was 53-4. Nash, who will attend Stanford University next fall on a football scholarship, won the shot put title at the Observerland meet, the Catholic League meet and the regional.

Craig Petersmark, Farmington, discus: The Western Lakes champion in both the shot and discus, Petersmark placed eighth in the state in the disc with a toss of 151-10. His best throw of the year was a 161-6. Petersmark will attend Eastern Michigan University next fall on a football scholarship.

Jim Rintala, Livonia Churchill, high jump: Churchill coach Fred Price seems to produce a stable full of good jumpers on an annual basis. This is one of his better ones. His best jump this year was a 6-4 which won him the Western Lakes title. He won the Observerland title and was unbeaten in dual meets this year.

Tyrone Reeves, Plymouth Canton, long jump: A rough day at the state finals can hardly ruin the fine season this junior put in. He won titles at the Observerland, Western Lakes and regional meets. His best leap was 22-3½. His regional winner was a 22-3. He also was a key member of Canton's sprint team.

Ray Lark, Bishop Borgess, pole vault: This senior posted firsts at the regional and Catholic League meets this year. His 12-9 vault earned him an eighth place finish at the state meet. His best vault was a 13-1.

TRACK EVENTS

Brian Kelly, Bishop Borgess, 110-

meter hurdles: A junior, Kelly posted the fastest time in the area by nearly a full second (14.4). He won the Catholic League in this event, took first at Operation Friendship, won at Observerland and at the regional. His 14.5 placed sixth best in the state.

Eddie Jordan, Wayne Memorial, 300 hurdles: Jordan decided to give track a try in this his senior year. Good move. His best time, 39.6, was second only to Kelly in this area. He placed third at the Wayne Invitational and second in the Wolverine A meet to state champ Millard Thomas of Belleville. He was fourth at the regional.

Marion Pittman, Bishop Borgess, 100 dash: This senior's performances this year have qualified him to compete in the prestigious Midwestern Meet of Champions. His 10.5 time leads the area. He ran a fifth best 11.0 at the state meet. He was runner up at the regional and first place at the Observer meet.

Ivan Cotman, Bishop Borgess, 200 dash: Cotman's state championship time in the 200 was 21.84. His per-
