It began last Halloween. When a neighbor told Diane Daskalakis that a witch had been invited to speak to local school children. "I said that's terrible," she recalls.

Daskalakis, a born-again Christian who is active with TV's 700 Club, continued: "I came home and prayed And I said 'Lord, please let me know what I should do

While attending church soon after, a local minister also deplored the school-sponsored visit by Gundella the witch. By 1 p.m. the next day, Daskalakis, 39, was moved to leave her jewelry business. Solid Gold in Plymouth, for the afternoon and seek petition signatures to protest the event.

'I went to 150 homes and just four people said no," said the Plymouth Township resident. "I took them to the (school) board meeting that night.

Daskalakis, married, with two grown children, said the Bible prohibits Christians "to practice witchcraft or submit themselves (to witches) in any way whatsoever." She told board members that as Christians, they should vote against the witch's appearance But the board voted unanimously to allow Gundella's visit.

WHILE DASKALAKIS failed in that forum, she was inspired to continue. She advertised for a Christian candidate to come forward and run in the June school board election. While one candidate did volunteer, Daskalakis decided to run also.

After stuffing mailboxes with fliers stressing her Christian beliefs, Daskalakis came in second out of a field of four candidates vying for one board seat.

Because she supports evangelist Pat Robertson as a presidential candidate, Daskalakis ran for precinct delegate; she is awaiting the final vote tally.

Her goal, she said, is not to make us all better Christians.

'I'm not worried about society in general at all. They could open up a church of Satan across the street and I wouldn't care. I do not believe in telling adults how to lead their life.

But she says school-age children are impressionable, easily affected by what she calls occult or devilinspired books or other teaching materials. Daskalakis is for removing books from school library shelves like Herman Hesse's "Siddhartha," which she says gives instruction in how to be a Buddhist monk. Another is activist Saul Alinsky's "Rules for Radicals," which calls Lucifer "the first radical known to man."

She has rented video cassettes of some movies shown to students, studying them for profanity and non-religious content. On a neatly typed sheet of paper, Daskalakis has collected 70 expressions of profanity from "The Breakfast Club."

She also is against "Ghostbus-ters," saying that in one scene, a woman "becomes totally and absolutely demon-posessed.

Asked if she would label "The Wizard of Oz" offensive for its inclusion of witches, Daskalakis responds she's not sure, adding she hasn't seen the film since she was a child.

said he'll continue efforts to reorganize a township department, even though the township board rejected his initial plan.

Canton Supervisor James Poole

"It's not a dead issue, that's for sure," said Poole. He declined to outline an alternative plan.

Poole and Dave Nicholson, community and economic development director, have been at odds over several issues. Earlier this month, Poole issued a directive reorganizing Nichoison's department. It called for a transfer of five community and economic development staffers to the building-ordinance department.

Had the directive gone through, community and economic development would have consisted of Nicholson and a secretary. But the board turned down the reorganization by a 4-3 vote last week.

'Past practice of the board is that reorganizations of the township are discussed at board level and a consensus decision is arrived at," said Trustee Stephen Larson, who voted to keep the department intact.

in title and job descrip cholson's chief assistant David Schneider, from assistant community and economic development director to planner. If this change is approved, Schneider would report directly to Poole instead of Nicholson.

Poole said the township's Merit Commission was to consider that change Tuesday.

Earlier, Larson said Poole could effectively implement a reorganization if Poole "gives conflicting direction to the people Dave is supervising While there have been no changes made as yet. Poole said "there will be some changes ... it might become a public issue.

Poole said he was prompted to make changes in the department following complaints from "citizens, employees, staff people, two elected officials and a number of attorneys." Nicholson has described his professional relationship with the supervisor as "strained.

Delegates tilt to Robinson

Local Republican delegates will probably have a pro-Rev. Pat Robertson tilt when they attend the state convention Friday and Saturday in Detroit.

That was the conclusion of 15th Congressional District Chairwoman Terri Bennett in reviewing the district convention of Aug. 13 and list of delegates.

Of the 136 delegates and alternates from western Wayne County, about 90 to 100, or from 66 to 73 percent, were recruited by the pro-Robertson Michigan Council for Freedom Bennett said.

About 57 percent of the delegates at the district convention were recruited by the Robertson organization.

Other presidential hopefuls working with organizations are Vice President George Bush, affiliated with the Fund for America's Future, and U.S. Rep. Jack Kemp, whose state group is called Michigan Opportunity Center.

The delegates will meet for two days in the Westin Hotel, Detroit, o pick Republican nominees for Michigan Supreme Court openings and governing boards at the University of Michigan, Michigan nett, Loren Bennett, Roger Flem- man and Marge David.

of "new enthusiasm," Bennett said. The district's Republicans picked 68 delegates and 68 alternates to the state convention.

Group eyes '88 wine cooler vote

Now that the Michigan Legislature has rejected citizen requests for a special legislative session to place the wine cooler deposit proposal on the November ballot, the Michigan United Conservation Clubs is stepping up its campaign to gather enough voter signatures to place the question on the ballot in 1988.

The MUCC, which gathered more than 200,000 voter signatures between mid-May and early July, has begun distributing new petities supporters in every county in the state. In addition, MUCC-affiliated clubs in the Detroit area will be staffing a booth at the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 22 to Sept. 1, where voters can sign wine cooler deposit

Under state law, the group has until Nov. 3 of this year to submit 243,201 valid voter signatures to the Elections Division of the Michigan Secretary of State's office in order to place the issue on the 1988 ballot, according to Thomas L. Washington, MUCC executive director.

"It is our opinion that the signatures we have already collected will remain valid for the 1988 election," Washington noted, "and we are confident we will file more than the necessary number of signatures before this year's election."

Supporters of the drive to man-date deposits on containers of wine coolers and pre-mixed spirit beverages are being urged to gather more voter signatures on petitions to en-sure that the question will be decided by voters in two years. More than 6,000 individuals who were involved in the initial circulation effort will be receiving new petitions in the next few weeks.

"Our club members and supporters have done a tremendous job keeping this important conservation issue alive in Michigan," Washington added. "We're asking them once again to talk with their family members, friends, neighbors, and coworkers and encourage them to sign to petitions that will give Michigan voters an opportunity to decide the Members of MUCC-affilitated conservation and outdoor recreation clubs in metro Detroit will be staff ing a special MUCC booth at the Michigan State Fair to encourage fair goers to add their names to the growing list of Michigan voters who want to add wine coolers and mixed spirit beverage containers to Michigan's successful "Bottle Bill." The booth will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day of the fair. "We're very close to a victory on this issue," Washington said. "With just a little more effort we'll give Michigan citizens an opportunity to stop the new trashing of our state." Orientation set for telecourses

Schoolcraft College telecourse offerings this fall include Introduction to Business, Business Management, Principles of Economics, Survey of American Government and Principles of Biology. The orientation session for these lasses will be 9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. in Room 200 of the Liberal Arts Building, 18600 Haggerty.

The three- and four-hour credit telecourses are broadcast on Channel 56 and area cable stations. Telecourses are taught by Schoolcraft faculty. Students meet their in-

County budget draws mixed reviews

By Lynn Waldsmith

staff writer

There are a few surprises in the 1987 budget for Wayne County. That's what western Wayne Counissioners are saying about have the $203 million budget proposed by County Executive William Lucas.

But some commissioners are unhappy with the recommended cuts in proper the board's own expenses. The Lucas budget does not allocate any funding for the auditor general's office, the legislative research bureau, and the public information department, a provision that's "absolutely ludicrous," said Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster. "The charter mandates an auditor general," said Beard, whose district includes Garden City and Westland. "As a legislative body, we have to Lucas, the Republican candidate for governor, faces a showdown with Gov. James Blanchard in November. The county budget must be approved by the Board of Commissioners by Nov. 30.

Both Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano and Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara, who is the Democratic nominee for county executive, said they are studying the proposed budget. But McNamara said he finds the recommended $286,000 cut in the county executive's department to be somewhat ironic.

"If it's a realistic cut, it should have been made earlier," he said. "That's my budget, not his (Lucas').

Wayne Parsons, who has spent his entire career with the district at Adams Junior High School, will replace David Gracey, who recently was named principal at Vandenburg Elementary School.

A Livonia resident, Parsons, 43, oined the district in 1971 and taught English, mathematics and social studies at Adams. He also served as the social science department chairman and coached boys' and girls' track. Parsons received his bachelor of Nursing Care with all the luxuries.

It's sad, but most nursing homes provide only the minimum required care and treatment. But at Kenneth J. Roney Manor, a brand-new nursing care facility serving the metro area, there is a different attitude. So-called "luxuries" like personal comfort, honest care, friendly companionship, and true rehabilitation are considered everyday necessities. Meeting special needs is also standard practice at Roney Manor. Referring physicians are asked to identify specific needs for each patient. Roney Manor is uniquely staffed and equipped to carry out such prescribed programs.

But nursing care patients need more than clinical care. They need a little love and someone to talk with. Activities to keep their minds stimulated. Physical therapy to keep muscles moving. Family visits to warm the heart. And nutritious meals. These are more Roney Manor "luxuries."

Roney Manor is affiliated with the internationally respected Detroit Medical Center, so quality is very closely supervised. And specialists are on call 24 hours a day.

The luxury of having someone truly care. It's the Roney Manor difference. Call Janet McEnhill for a personal tour and more information.

Next week marks the opening of school, which means the return to the roadways of school buses and school children crossing (hopefully) at intersections.

During the summer months the defensive driver learned to become more alert while driving in subdivision streets and residential areas, aware that children were out of school and were out in mass on the sidewalks and streets, playing ball, maneuvering skateboards, riding bicycles, etc. These are the scenes of importance to the alert driver.

With school open again, the alert driver only needs to watch out for the above scenes for about three hours each weekday afternoon until the change of even more the volume of children playing on or near the streets.

Instead the eyes of the alert driver now will be watching the flashing lights on school buses, aware that all vehicles in both directions must stop when the school bus flashing lights come on and turned off.

That driver also instinctively knows that not all school children will patiently wait for the patrol member or crossing guard to signal it's ok to cross. Some will sneak by and run across the street to a waiting friend or other lure across the street. The alert driver knows that the mere presence of a crossing guard standing on the sidewalk is not a good reason to speed through the intersection

There is a sixth sense the alert driver sesses that tells him to watch carefully and be especially alert on weekdays between the hours of about 7:30 to 9 a.m. and 2:30 to 4 p.m. He knows to watch out for students of all ages, not just the little ones in kindergarten and lower elementary levels. He knows that seasons and time zone changes cut down often middle school students do dumb things and sometimes high schoolers do also. And so he drives defensively at all times when students could be enroute to or from school.

Most of us are alert, defensive drivers. But sometimes it takes one or two weeks to adjust driving habits to the remain stopped until the flashers are change in environment. It takes awhile to reprogram our "instincts" to be alert The alert driver's mind instinctively at the right times. That's why we should program our minds now to watch out for all those danger signals we should there may be a little one darting out watch out for and how those signals differ once school opens from during the ummer

Recent actions of the county board also may threaten the charter amendment. In May, the commission voting on the proposal for the second time, narrowly approved (8-7) placing the charter change on the November ballot. In recent weeks that fragile coalition may have been damaged.

Earlier this month the board ousted John Hertel as chairman because commissioners were angered by Hertel's dismissal of Clarence Young from the LUCAS' GUBERNATORIAL bid also drain board. (Hertel dismissed Young as your kid who is dead or maimed.

THAT'S WHY WE all should be a little more indignant about the lack of regulation and/or enforcement surrounding the resurgent motor scooter.

If you're in your late 30s, early 40s you'll remember the scooter of your routh - smaller than a motorcycle kind of like a motorized bike.

Well, they're back — more popular than ever. Now they are just machines - harmless in their own right. But un-unsafe speed, weaving across intersections and cross streets, dodging the traffic. Many times these youths are without helmets or any other safety gear. For some strange reason, some people think these machines must be safer than, say, a motorcycle, because they're smaller. But that's dumb. Traveling at 30 miles per hour in an open-air twowheeled vehicle is dangerous whether that machine be large or small. Something we tend to forget is that a motorized vehicle at just about any speed, especially in traffic, stops being a toy and becomes a heavy-duty responsibility.

Parents who allow their children to drive these vehicles unsupervised would be smart to think twice. Those in society who make the laws and ordinances of the land really should do more to protect these children.

And the police should enforce the laws and ordinances that already exist. After all, it might be your child who is saved for another summer.

Well, most kids have made it - but not all. And that's the tragedy of summer. Those of us who make a paycheck by hanging around newsrooms never get used to the shadow of death that hangs over the summer months. Sure, it becomes part of the territory, but always an uncomfortable part. And while death is part of living, when it comes to the slaughter of youth during summer, it never quite fits in to the cycle of nature. And it's always a waste.

The summer death cycle begins around graduation usually with the drunk driving deaths. Celebrations quickly turn into tragedies. Then come the water accidents - broken necks and drownings. These are closely followed by the motorcycle accidents. This week one of our local editions told of how a young woman about to get married was killed in an auto accident. Earlier this summer I stood on the shore of a local lake and watched scuba divers search for the body of a drowned youth. Just minutes earlier that same

OU closes enrollment

Officials at Oakland University announced Tuesday that for the first time they have closed both graduate and undergraduate enrollment.

The action was taken, they say, to stabilize enrollment near last fall's record level of 12,586.

According to spokesman Jim Llewellyn, application for under-graduate school was closed July 15. Graduate applications were closed effective Aug. 15. Last year undergraduate enrollment was cut off Aug. 1 and graduate enrollment was not limited.

Those students who have applied but not yet been accepted will be allowed to register only on a spaceavailable basis once they are accepted, said Llewellyn.

He said that applications for graduate school are up 62 percent over last fall primarily in the field of education.

He said that late registration, which ended las* week, set a record of 10,283, including both graduate and undergraduate schools

Final registration will be from Aug. 26 through Sept. 8.

Those with questions can call the school at 370-3450, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

One of the nice things about an interest in nature, is that no matter where you go there is something you can observe and appreciate. Travel-ing around the state or across the states, naturalists find interest in the similarities and differences found in 'the natural world.

For instance, I just returned from giving blood at the Livonia Red Cross station, and while lying down looking out the window, I identified a great-crested flycatcher feeding in the cottonwood trees behind the building. Watching the bird hunt for insects made the time fly by.

Flycatchers, as their name implies, feed primarily on insects. Watching their abrupt turns and erratic flight, traces the flight of insects. In order to help them catch insects in flight, flycatchers have wide mouths and long whiskers (rictal bristles) that protude from the base of their bill. When an insect touches a whisker, the flycatcher is directed to its location and immediately grabs it in its bill.

Shallow, rapid wingbeats aid flycatchers in catching insects, but it also helps to identify them at a distance. Coupled with a partial crest, not as prominent as that of a cardinal, and their habit of returning to the same branch after short feeding flights, helps birders identify flycatchers in general.

Great-crested flycatchers nest in tree cavities. Natural holes or old woodpecker excavations may be used. Birds can also be induced into nature artificial nest boxes too. No matter where the nest is, great-crested flycatchers have the curious habit of lining their nest with a shed snake skin. Many people have speculated as to why they have such a habit, but on one knows for sure. Some nests have onion skins or cellophane as substitutes for snake skins - maybe shininess is the attraction.

Whether driving down the road, sitting on your front porch, weeding your garden, or giving blood, you can observe the wonders of the natural world.

Seniors run, toss, dive, go for the gold

By Christine Rizk staff writer

T WASN'T much different from any other type of competition, save for the participants — there were cheers from family members, sighs of fatigue from competitors and cries of the victors.

Perhaps the only difference during the day of winners and losers was the aged veneer of wrinkles and gray hairs of those who competed during the seventh annual Michigan Senior Olympics at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus Aug.16.

More than 600 seniors from Farmington, Rochester, Livonia, Westland, Canton and Oak Park turned out for the event, which featured everything from shuffleboard and horseshoes to swimming and track.

Fewer than that, however, left with gold, silver or bronze medals indicating their expertise in their field of competition.

Said one senior, who voiced his complaint about the ability of his nemesis, "Why is he able to keep coming back and competing in this class? Nobody can beat him and I've tried for three years straight."

The answer, according to the volunteers who staffed the event sites, is simple — everyone has the opportunity to practice for the senior olympics well ahead of time (some seniors, in fact, prepared months ahead for competition).

Those who arrive in top form are encouraged to compete and are rewarded, said Marye Miller, in charge of registration for the olympics.

"It's like anything competitive," she said. "If you're the best, you should win."

THE OLYMPICS is designed to encourage better exercising and good health, Miller said. "Seniors have really not been into the sports scene for too long. I guess everyone expected them to sit in rocking chairs at their age."

A glance toward the playing fields for cycling, track and tennis indicated that many seniors were set to defie that image.

As dozens of spectators gathered to cheer on family members, the competitors, 55 and older, looked more like young U.S. olympic hopefulls on their way to fame and forminton when she's not preparing for competition. "I'd much rather be active than sitting at home," she said. "I hate just sitting. Besides, I've always been active, even when I was younger." Jennie Hughes and her husband,

Robert, share a unique tie to the olympics. Hughes, 66, from Farmington Hills, received a bronze medal in the 100-yard dash. Her third year in competition, she practices running daily. "I'm the active one, not him," she said. " He's just my coach." Robert said he earned his reward vicariously through her. Active or not, more seniors are entering the competition and more spectators are turning out for the events, Miller said.

It's a sign, she added, that seniors are fast becoming a more important part of a society that traditionally left them sitting in rocking chairs past the age of 60.

"We emphasize an active lifestyle," Miller said. "More importantly, we advocate senior recognition. Back 20 or 30 years ago, when these people were in their 30s and 40s, there was no time for recreation," said Miller. "They were told to work and raise kids so they have not really been in the sports scene for too long."

The idea, she added, is convince seniors first and then others, that they can still remain an active and important part of society.

THE MICHIGAN SENIOR Olympic Committee, while advocating good health and exercise, recognized that the spirit of competition would undoubtedly prevail.

"Age has nothing to do with the fact that these people want to take home medals," Miller said.

In an effort to promote senior activities, the committee will help sponsor participants who take first-place honors and who qualify by time to the U.S. National Senior Olympics in St. Louis next year. It will be the first time seniors will gather to compete on a national level.

The Michigan Senior Olympic Committee next year will even sponsor a Miss Senior Olympics.

Sylvia Kozorosky, deputy director of Westland's Department of Aging, attributed seniors' abilities during competiton to the kinds of activites offered in their communities. "If a community lets seniors see that they are a useful, vital part of that community, then the chance for ability to flourish is there," said Kozorosky. One senior's shirt stated it as tion, coaches a soccer team and is umpire for a baseball team.

tune than like seasoned grandfathers and grandmothers.

Helen Morcom, 67, from Garden City, won a bronze medal for the mile walk. Her activities outside the campus depict the kind of lifestyle most seniors competing Saturday lead — active and healthy absent wheelchairs or rocking chairs.

Morcom, who participated in her fourth senior olympics this year, plays volleyball, baseball and bad-event.

One senior's shirt stated it as aptly as comments by the olympic committee — "Life, Be In It."

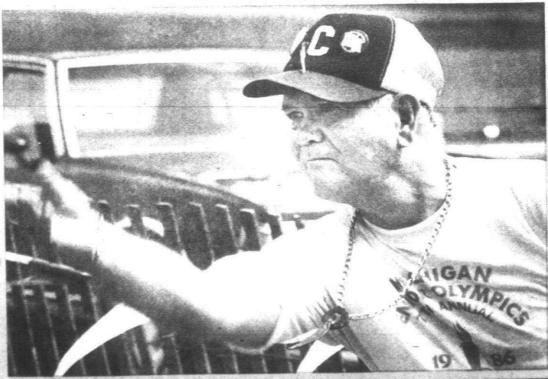

"This is our third year here," said Albert Dill, 62. "It's like an old song — it's so familiar."

This is the third year Phil Ladouceur competed in the horseshoe event and the third year the West Bloomfield resident walked away with a gold medal.

Clair County Council for the Aging, based in Marine City. Weaver won the gold in his class.

Participants and spectators kept arriving and leaving all day, but Virgil Pyle of Westland spent the entire day on campus practicing for his event.

Bluestone Fruits of labor reaped in classroom

By Tim Smith

staff writer

Longtime labor leader Irving Bluestone took a winding road back to academia.

He started out with aspirations of becoming a teacher, detoured into a factory and then took the express lane to the vice presidency of the UAW, where he played an integral part for four decades until his 1980 retirement.

Now, nearly 50 years after graduating from City College of New York, where he majored in literature and German language, the Southfield resident is back in school - as director of Wayne State University's Master of Arts program in Industrial Relations (MAIR).

The program explores the relationship between labor and management and feeds on the theory that employees are apt to be more productive if considered as "cogs in the wheel.'

A pioneer of the idea that management and labor can work jointly, Bluestone said MAIR graduates have better chances of being promoted in both industry and corporate management.

"When workers know they count and what they do counts, it makes for a more effective organization," said Bluestone, who assumed the MAIR directorship July 1.

"Where there is a full utilization of human resources, the ideas that flow from employees are very, very significant.

"That's only one piece of industrial relations — but a "very important one," said Bluestone, the former direc-tor of the UAW's General Motors department who, during his tenure, was instrumental in building GM's quality-of-work-life program.

Other aspects of industrial relations he listed include collective bargaining, salary wage-setting, handling of grievances — "anything to do with the employee-employer relationship."

BLUESTONE, WHO considered his old UAW boss Walter P. Reuther "like a brother," joined the WSU faculty in 1980 as a half-time instructor after retiring from the labor union.

But he has never left the labor movement.

Besides his MAIR duties, Bluestone is co-chairman of the Economic Alliance, a statewide business-labor coalition, and is working to create a "high level advisory board" of business, labor and education leaders to further develop the MAIR program.

He also is writing a book "to put down on paper" how to successfully marry labor and management. His new position at WSU is giving him a new perspective on that relationship "For all that I've achieved in my years in the union, it has been a tremendously satisfying career.

"But this is kind of a new career at the university - a continuation, only at a different level."

BUT WHILE the classroom perspective differs from the one seen at the bargaining table, Bluestone said the goals of both are essentially the same - to help create a better quality of life.

"Universities are designed to train people, to help improve their welfare and that of the community at large, but the union also strives to do that.

"Advancing the welfare of people, industry and labor is part and parcel of the growth of the community and in creating a better life for people."

But he admitted that the success of industrial relations has been a mixed bag so far.

"I'd say there are two parallel tracks in the United States today. On one track, the union is here to stay, while on the second track, management will use all the tricks in the book to drive the union out."

He says progressive management realizes that companies benefit more from employees when they are treated as assets and not "pieces of machinery."

BLUESTONE WANTS to expand the MAIR program, to get it closer to the business and labor communities for use as a recruiting ground.

"We don't focus and say when you get out (of MAIR) you'll be 'this' kind of person. But you'll have the basic groundwork in whatever field you decide to go into."

Bluestone originally wanted to teach, graduating from CCNY in 1937 and taking post-graduate German language courses at the University of Bern, Switzerland.

But when he returned from Switzerland in the summer of 1938, there were no teaching jobs available. After taking on odd jobs for a while, he was introduced to labor in 1941 when he was hired as a grinder operator at GM Hyatt Bearing Division in Harrison,

Gradually, Bluestone became chairman of the shop

Irving Bluestone: 'I'd say there are two parallel tracks in the United States today. On one track, the union is here to stay, while on the committee. In 1945, he was asked to join the UAW regional office staff on the east coast and invited to Detroit two years later by Reuther.

rector - where he negotiated both national and local agreements - and, from 1972 to '80, as UAW vice president

Reuther is still fondly remembered by Bluestone.

"He never lost touch with the common man," Bluestone said, glancing at the UAW ring on his finger. "Yet he dined with prime ministers and presidents of the United States.

"He was a humble man, with enormous leadership qualities. I once asked him what he thought his greatest achievement was as president of the union and he said, second track, management will use all the tricks in the book to drive the union out.'

'I think I'm a good educator.'

"But he was a wonderful educator - one of the finest negotiators in the world."

Either through teaching "Future Trends in Collective Bargaining" or by recalling Reuther to MAIR students, Bluestone wants to paint a realistic portrait of the complex management/labor scene.

He hopes he can convey a lifetime of labor experience into the classroom to perhaps simplify that picture. The 69-year-old Bluestone was interviewed from the Southfield residence he shares with his wife of 46 years, Zelda. The Bluestones have three children, Barry, 41; Maura. 39; and Karen, 35.

"I thought before that professors had cushy jobs, but not anymore," joked Bluestone. "Now I really work my

By Carolyn Smith special writer

Some employers must offer 11/2 years of continued group health-care coverage to workers who have quit or were fired for reasons other than "gross misconduct."

The same employers - those with 20 or more employees - must extend this coverage for three years to others, including the widows, children and divorced spouses of employees, children who outgrow family plans and employees who become eligible for Medicare.

That's the gist of a new federal law - the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act - that took effect on July 1 as an attachment to a federal budget act. Employers who don't comply may be assessed up to $100 a day for each employee and spouse who has not been notified in writing of the new extended coverage option. Employers who don't cooperate can lose tax deductions for health plan contributions.

But the law says that employers don't have to bear the cost of these extended benefits. They can pass it on to group members with an added 2 percent charge for

'Take the surviving spouse who remarries. By law, we can cancel the coverage. But suppose we don't know about the remarriage until several months after it took place. We can't always send out detectives in such cases. Ultimately, the feds shift this administrative nightmare to employers who, in turn, pass the added cost on to consumers of their goods and services.'

- Robert Miller senior benefits administrator Federal Mogul Corp.

lealth-care extension an employers' to consumers of their goods and services," Miller said.

DEBORAH W. THOMPSON, a Detroit tax attorney with a sub-specialty in employee benefits, said, "Privately sponsored welfare plans are becoming big issues in Washington."

An associate with the firm of Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg, she predicted: "We're going to see 100 percent vesting of pension plans after five years (of service), probably connected with (employer-paid) plans like health and life insurance . . . Congress will have to give companies additional tax incentives for putting up with all this."

Under current laws, most employees do not become vested until they have 10 years of service.

Thompson also foresees a big shakeup in public health care programs. "Those with Medicare and Medicaid programs are going to lose coverage around 1990."

She said U.S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and U.S. Rep. Fortney Start, D-Calif., are about to introduce legislation that could change the new law extending health group-rate options. "If enacted, their proposals would require that employers foot the (health-care coverage) bill for the first four months (after an employee quits or is dismissed). I don't believe that many employers are aware of this.'

Thompson said. All area employers with 20 or more workers, when contacted, said they were aware of the new law on continuing group coverage. None said they would pay all or part of the insurance - an option the law offers employers.

Miller of Federal Mogul and Cheryl Paterson, personnel director of Madonna College, Livonia, which has about 400 employees, said workers would be offered existing group rates, but neither thought their employers would tack on the 2-percent administrative fee.

Ann Granz, who works in the payroll department for Advo-System, Livonia, said the company's 200 employees can get a group conversion plan by completing a form sent to all terminated employees Spokeswomen from Ameritech Publishing, Troy, and Johnson Stamping and Fine-Banking Co., Plymouth, said nothing had been decided.

"The plan year changes Jan. 1, 1987," said Joan Piatek, supervisor and benefits representative for Ameritech. And Flo Ponke of Johnson Stamping's bookkeeping department reported, "Our union contract expires in lot depends on how the (next) contract December, so

HE ROSE to prominence first as the union's GM di-administration.

Also, employers don't have to begin complying with the law until the beginning of their health plan years, which can vary from July 1 of this year through the conclusion of collective bargaining agreements well into 1988.

THE LAW'S intent is to put less strain on federal Medicare and state Medicaid budgets, mainly designed to help the aged and poor, respectively. It also means considerable savings to former employees, their spouses and dependents.

Robert Miller, senior benefits administrator for Federal Mogul Corp., headquartered in Southfield, said his company covers 12,000 workers nationwide with 75 different health plans. He said an average individual comprehensive plan, including vision and dental care, costs about $300 a month under group coverage. "A personal policy with the same coverage easily could cost $500 to $600 a month," Miller said.

Still, he added, the law forces employers to keep track of people over long periods of time. And that's not always easy. "Take the surviving spouse who remarries. By law, we can cancel the coverage. But suppose we don't know about the remarriage until several months after it took place. We can't always send out detectives in such cases.

"Ultimately, the feds shift this administrative nightmare to employers who, in turn, pass the added cost on

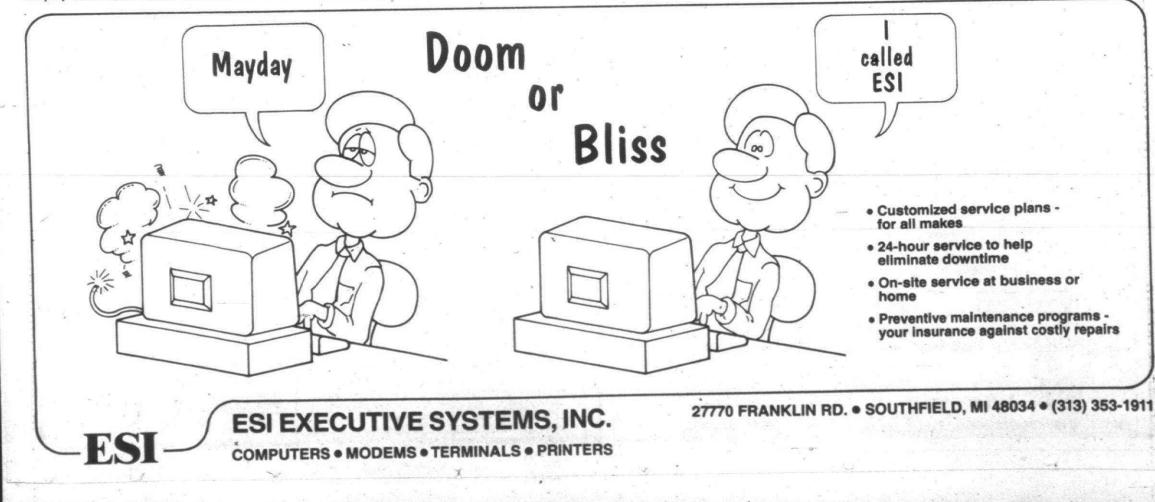

MEANWHILE, SOME companies will have to await guidelines from the U.S. Department of Labor and the Internal Revenue Service to help them resolve some sticky problems.

For instance, some companies have chosen to insure themselves against health-care risks. Premium rates, which go into their "self-insured" pool of dollar resources, fluctuate according to the group's use of benefits. How much to charge ex-employees or eligible dependents an equitable monthly premium is unclear, turns out."

Little Caesar's Enterprises, with home offices in Farmington Hills, employs about 3,000 in metropolitan Detroit. "The company hasn't made a decision because the benefit year doesn't begin until September," said Sue Sherbow, corporate communications manager.

But a Plymouth company has decided to charge former employees the allowed administrative fee, according to Emily Cantrell, company personnel manager.

I believe we will charge 100 percent of the full group rate and the 2 percent administrative fee. I'm sure it will cost us all that and more to keep track of so many people.'

Tax breaks will be ended for lump sums

The proposed tax law provides for the repeal of the popular 10-year forward averaging rule. In this column we will discuss this rule and suggest a strategy for taking advantage of it prior to 1987.

How It Works

If you have been a member of a plan for at least five years, you qual- tax rates for single individuals even ify for 10-year averaging. Under this rule, the entire lump-sum payment is taxed as ordinary income separate and apart from your other income.

However, the tax is computed as if the income had been received over 10 years instead of all at once. And if the payout is less than $70,000, part what is known as minimum distribution allowance.

Here is an example. You take the entire lump-sum distribution, minus any minimum distribution allowance, and divide it by 10

It's the Heart of the Cultural Center It's the Hub of the Freeways . . . It's a Short Drive from Your Home!

Almost all residents of Macomb, Oakland and Wayne counties are within 30 minutes of Wayne State University's main and medical campuses . . . and residents of the six-county metropolitan region are within an hour's drive away.

All roads lead to Wayne State University: I-94 (the Ford) from east or west; U.S. 10 (the Lodge) from north and northwest; I-75 (the Fisher) from downriver and I-75 (the Chrysler) from north and northeast; and I-96 (the Jeffries) from west and northwest. Several major surface streets also offer easy access.

Once you arrive, you've really arrived. You are in a major center of vitality and activity around Wayne State University: the Detroit Cultural Center. And a few blocks away is the New Center area; a mile away is the Detroit Medical Center, one of the finest and most comprehensive networks of health care institutions in the nation. And we are three miles from Downtown Detroit, Hart Plaza and the riverfront. The Cultural Center is one of Detroit's best kept secrets. Discover beauty in the Detroit Institute of Arts. Mysteries of nature in the Detroit Science Center. Nostalgia for bygone days in the Detroit Historical Museum. The cross-cultural experience of the International Institute. And the joys of learning at Wayne State University.

The bustling world headquarters of General Motors and Burroughs are a few blocks north in the New Center. The Fisher Theatre and the Golden Tower of the Fisher Building. Shopping arcades. Fine restaurants. Sidewalk musical performances.

In the Medical Center, physicians and researchers from Wayne State University, Harper, Hutzel and Children's hospitals, the Rehabilitation Institute and Detroit Receiving Hospital work to cure ills and improve health care for all.

WSU is where the action is — the Three-Center area of Detroit, composed of the Cultural Center, the Medical Center and the New Center. For more information, call your "Opportunity Line," 577-1000.

YOU GET A NEW BODY EVERY 12 MONTHS

Did you know that every living cell in your body is replaced with a new one in 12 months (excluding bone cells which are replaced in 7 years and the central nervous system which is never replaced). That is, in one year your body is almost totally replaced. Your heart, lungs, kidneys, gall bladder, liver, muscles, eyes, ears, skin, hair, etc., etc., etc., are not the same ones you had last year. Scientific research shows that cells within your body are constantly being replaced with new cells.

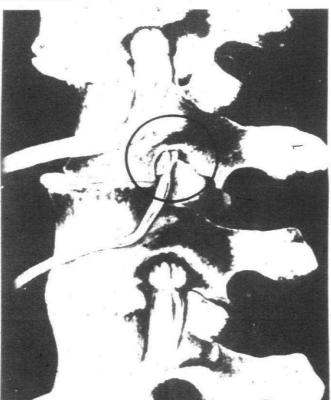

If that is the case, why do people have disease or disfunctioning organs? Why, if cells are totally replaced with new cells, should anything ever disfunction?

Good question, who's answers until recently, haven't even been attempted. However, in the last few years the science of genetics has come of age. The main thrust of many research groups has been on the genetics of life, of aging, and of diseases.

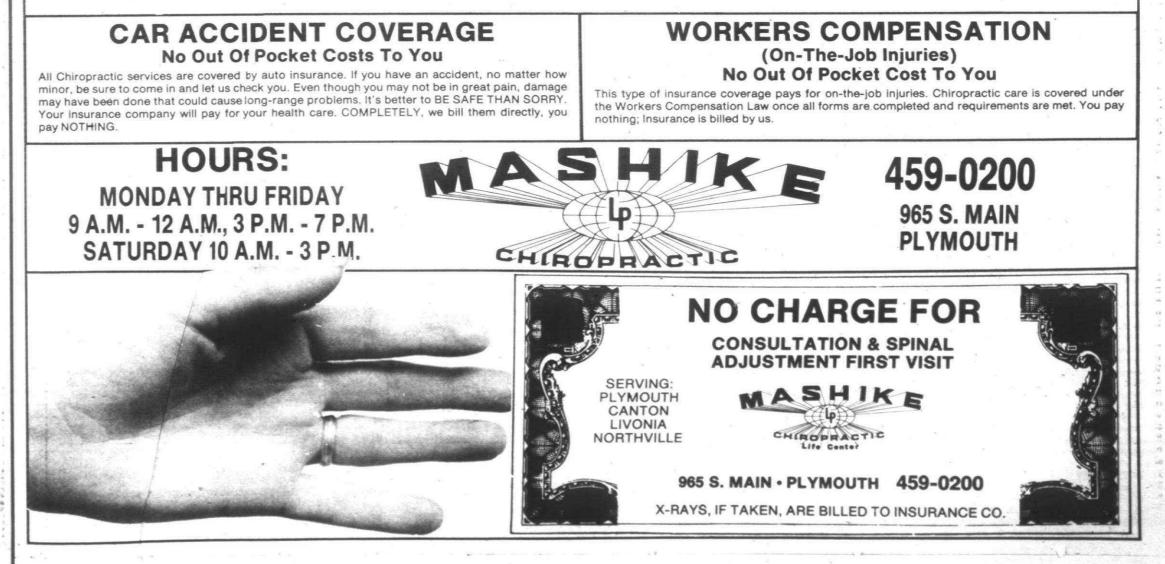

Genetics is a fascinating field of understanding the creation of life from generation to generation. It is the study of why one's eyes are green or blue, why one is short or tall or looks more like mom or dad. It also deals with internal structure and function.

Genetics is filled with amazing facts. One of those facts that has recently surfaced is reported by Dr. Ronald Pero, Director of Cancer Research at the Strang Institute, Manhattan, New York. His research shows that cells in the body disfunction and become abnormal when they lose their nerve supply (impulses) from the brain. Dr. Pero believes vertebral subluxations interfere with normal function of cells, causing them to become weak and susceptible to disease.

Chiropractic has been saying just exactly that for over 90 years. Chiropractors remove subluxations from spines with low force adjustments which move the bone off the nerve allowing the body to return to normal.

If you want to have a healthier body next year, start doing something about it this year, it's up to you. We are here to help, call 459-0200 for your appointment.

HOW TO DO A LITTLE BUSINESS ON YOUR OWN...

Holding a garage sale is a fun way to do a little business on your own . . . but it takes a bit of planning. Like you'll want to decide what to sell and how much to charge for each item . . . and then you'll need price tags so other people will know what you're charging. And you'll have to be able to make change for all your customers . . . so that means you should have lots of one dollar bills and an assortment of coins.

Then you'll want to advertise your sale to attract that crowd. You can do it with a sign or signs in your neighborhood . . . but you'll want a bigger crowd than that . . . so you'll run an ad in Classified which tells the time and place of your sale to a host of potential buyers.

Pick up your free Garage Sale folder in our office when you place your ad! (Contains two signs, two arrows, a handy ledger, 14 tips for a successful sale and nine tips for a successful ad)

At the par-five 16, Lauer finally caught fire. "I hit my best drive of the day at 16," she said. "I just missed an eagle."

She got her birdie, though. Zonder, meanwhile, left her drive short of the green at 15, chipped out of the rough 10 feet past the hole and twoputted for a bogey.

Zonder got into trouble again at 16. After two weak shots, she lofted her third into the deep rough. She got out with a fine wedge shot and saved bogey with a strong putt.

LAUER PARRED the par-three 17th, while Zonder missed an important opportunity - a six-foot putt for par. "I chipped it right up there, then missed it," she said. " never gave it a chance."

Lauer followed with another great drive at the par-four 18th. Her approach shot landed just 12 feet short of the hole, and her putt circled the cup before falling for a birdie.

Zonder played 18 like she had her previous three holes. Her second shot landed in the right bunker, and her pitch skipped over the green and into the rough. Her fourth shot traveled just three feet, to the edge of the green, but she hit the eight-foot, putt for a bogey.

Last year the girls tennis teams at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton combined for a 26-1 record. The one loss was sustained by Canton, at the hands of Salem, 4-3. Not too shabby Salem won the Western Lakes Activities Association title and produced the No. 1 singles champ in the state: Wendy Gilles.

Canton won the Western Division of the Western Lakes and placed second in the league tourney. The Chiefs also lost their No. 1 player: Lisa Hays.

So what can we expect - more of the same this season? "I haven't done any scouting of the other teams, but we really should be as strong as we were last year," said Canton coach Carol Michaels. "We have some good young people coming up and we have some experienced players at the top. I'm encouraged. We should have another good year."

SALEM COACH Judy Braun had 31 girls show up for the first day of practice.

"We are going to suffer a little because Wendy Gilles is gone," said Braun. Gilles will begin her sophomore season at the University of Wisconsin this fall. "This year, I really don't know what to expect. I've still out. But both teams should be seen a lot of change in the skill lev- highly competitive and among the els of the players over the summer. TAR OF DETROIT, in its third season on the Detroit River, provides a pleasur-able outing, with cocktails, able outing, with cocktails, food and music for listening and dancing adding to the basic fun. Entertainers who perform aboard the Star all enjoy the extra dimension provided by the shipshape, floating venue. Sheila Landis and Top Drawer have played aboard the Star ever since it began operating in August 1984. They do three shows a night for dinner cruises 7-10 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday and 9 p.m. to midnight Friday, and also play on the Saturday moonlight cruise from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m.

"It's different than performing in ounges, mainly because you rock back and forth," Rochester Hills resident Landis said about the Star. "It's a lot nicer than doing a lounge. It's a sense of adventure. There's a small dance floor. People are there mainly to chat. We're providing the ambiance."

SHE SAID the dance floor usually isn't crowded. But one night this season, the group did a party for Buick and people were packed like sardines on the dance floor. "We did our Motown set and they went crazy. Landis' group plays all types of music and also does requests. "Some want their 'Stardust' and some nothing but Madonna," she

Are Saturday moonlight cruises romantic? "It really varies. Sometimes there are kids that want to do nothing but dance, sometimes couples that hold hands and look out the window," she said.

Along with bandleader Landis, who does vocals, the group includes Jon Kaust of Rochester, drums; Phil Kelly of Rochester, piano; former Troy resident Ken Kellett of Detroit, bass; and (on Saturdays) Scott Petersen of Detroit, saxo-

The Star offers cruises open to the general public and also takes reservations for special parties, which may reserve part or all of the ship. Landis said her group plays some proms early in the season, does corporate charters and special cruises.

LANDIS HASN'T gotten motion sickness from being on board the ship, but she and her band members have noticed something else. "I feel like I'm tipping and lurching even when I'm not on the boat," she said. "We've got our sea legs and we can't get rid of them."

Tom Hewitt and Feelings play 7-10 p.m. for Monday and Tuesday night dinner cruises and 5:30-7:30 p.m. Fridays for the TGIF (if you need a translation - Thank God, it's Friday) cocktail cruises. Hewitt's group also is playing aboard the Star for the third year in a row. "I think the reason we've been on it so many years is that we have such a variety we do," said Hewitt, Rochester Hills resident. Show tunes Top 40, old rock 'n' roll, big band, funk and Motown are some of the types of music offered. They also play waltzes and fox trots, he

The band can't limit itselt to playing just one kind of music, when there are people with varying tastes aboard. Passengers may range from a young twosome to a couple celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

HEWITT IS a third-generation musician, following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather. He plays saxophone, clarinet and flute and does vocals. The four lead vocalists include his wife, Elaine; Frank Dunn of Sterling Heights, who also plays piano; Tim Garrick of Royal Oak, guitar; and Ken Murphy of Rochester, drums.

"I think the most fun I derive is when someone asks for a request," said Hewitt, describing what he likes best about playing aboard the "It's a wonderful cruise," he continued. "I highly recommend it." Cruising on the river, in varying weather conditions, may lead to minor problems. "There have been times you get a little seasick, but nothing very serious," he said. Another thing he likes about the Star. "It's nice to see from the top of the windows (the two lower United States and one Canada."

Hewitt said there's a diffence in the crowd at the TGIF cocktail cruises. He described it as "an upbeat crowd, a fun crowd. Without dinner, thre's a lot of dancing. At $15 a person, $30 is reasonable for a date. And you get hors d'ouevres. Two hours goes like two seconds.

DOUG JACOBS and the Red Garter Band play at Saturday brunch from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. aboard the Star of Detroit.

"To me it's like a mini-cruise ship, but you don't have to go away decks are enclosed), one side the two or three weeks at a time," said the longtime Detroit-area Dixieland bandleader, who lives on Cass Lake.

"We start upstairs and play a set. We go downstairs and entertain people tableside for our second set, and then we take a short break and invite everybody from the downstairs and the second deck to join us for a sing-along on the third deck to end the day," he said. "As they depart, we play, 'Oh, When the Star Comes Rolling In.' "

ALL THE entertainment for the Star of Detroit is booked by Nancy Kader-Jacobs, Doug's wife, who is owner-operator of the Entertainment Connection in Southfield.

Other performers who play or the ship include the Claude Lam bert Trio, which plays for a Dixie land Sunday brunch from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. ("For brunches, we've decided to stick with the Dixie land," said Kader-Jacobs.), and the Marv Williams Trio, which plays jazz for a Sunday cocktail cruise 3 5 p.m. ("Fun jazz," said Kader-Jacobs.)

"For dinner cruises seven nights a week, it's important we got groups that could exercise a good versatility," she said. "We want to accommodate everybody's taste.'

Musicians at dinner cruises "play jazz and standards, Motown and ol dies and current Top 40 music, so anybody can be pleased. Sometimes there's an old crowd, sometimes a young crowd."

At TGIF cruises, the music is strictly Top 40.

The Star of Detroit, docked at Hart Plaza in downtown Detroit, sails through Sunday, Oct. 19. Brunch, lunch and dinner cruises are served buffet-style. age" aimed at the family trade by an out of Hollywood producer, it is a package that basically works. The secret here is a low-key style that concentrates on telling a mystery story from a dog's eye view. In this case the dog, Benji (Higgins on "Petticoat Junction"), is adorably cute, expressive and agile. The movie doesn't sink into the cutes because director-producer Joe Camp stays on the mystery rather than the kids.

"Buck Privates" (1941), 8:30 a.m. Sunday on Ch. 7. Originally 84 minutes. TV time slot: 90 minutes.

This was Abbott and Costello's first starring feature and offers some of their better routines. The team was extremely popular during the war years, though in retrospect they don't have the appeal of the Marx Brothers or Laurel and Hardy. But what a dose of nostalgia this film has — the war fervor, the topical humor and the Andrews Sisters performing "Boogie, Woogie Bugle Boy." Rating: $2.80.

Arguably the finest epic film ever made by the grand master of the genre, David Lean. "Lawrence" was made for a wide screen, stereo sound presentation. Anything less will lessen the effect. But there is still much to admire, especially Peter O'Toole's curious, ambivalent performance as T.H. Lawrence, undoubtedly ranking with Joan of Arc as history's most unusual warrior. The all-star cast includes Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn and Omar Sharif.

Rating: $3.90 (although you could take off anywhere from a dime to 50 cents depending on the size of your television screen.

Ballet's twirling dervish

By Barbara Ziemba special writer

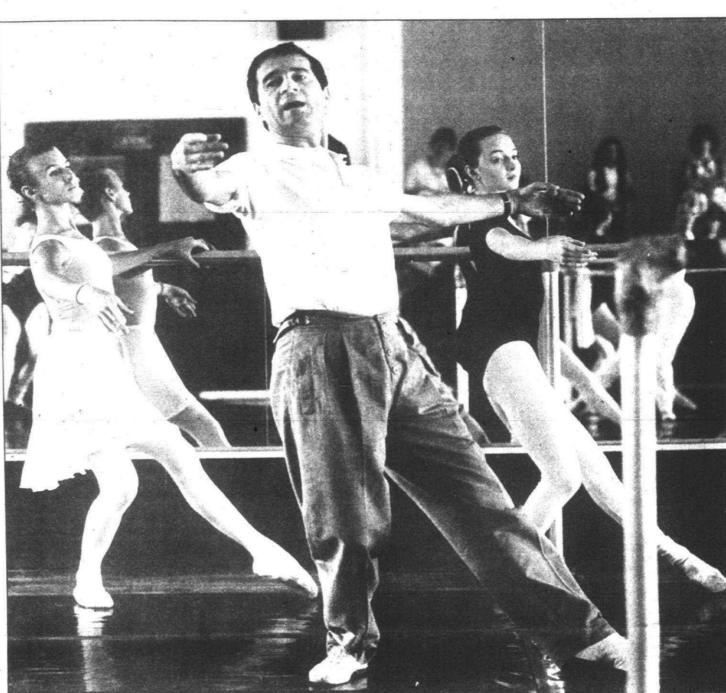

URGEN SCHNEIDER WAS hot and tired. Seated on a hard, wooden chair, a towel draped around his neck, the dancer recited the hectic schedule he'd been following.

"I just finished a 10-day course for dance teachers and students in Kalamazoo, and before that I was in Rochester (New York) for a twoweek session which started the day after our season finished at the Met."

The trim, athletic Schneider is no stranger to an accelerated lifestyle. As ballet master of the American Ballet Theater and personal coach to the ABT's star and artistic director Mikhail Barishnikov, Schneider's dance career has taken him around the world.

SCHNEIDER WAS AT DETROIT'S Marygrove College recently to conduct a two-day workshop for intermediate and advanced ballet students. The workshop was part of Marygrove's 17th Annual Summer School for the Performing Arts. The program brings acclaimed artists and teachers to the Detroit campus to conduct a six-week long series of workshops. Participants range from beginner to advanced levels of all areas of dance.

Schneider's involvement with Marygrove's dance program began three years ago during the ABT's appearance in Detroit. Penny Godboldo, Marygrove's department head for dance and the co-chairperson of the division of visual and performing arts, and Carol Sharp, owner of the CAS-Ballet studios in Ann Arbor, contacted Schneider and asked him to work with some of their students. The affiliation has developed into an arrangement tht Godboldo hopes will become permanent.

Jurgen Schneider leads through example.

(P,C,W,G)1E

"He really enjoys the college environment," she said.

Schneider was born in Berlin in 1936. He began studying ballet in East Berlin and then traveled to Moscow to learn the Russian style of ballet. He decided to concentrate on teaching, studying in Moscow and Leningrad, and was appointed ballet master at the Theater Institute in Moscow.

Then he returned to East Germany, dancing with the National Theater, the Stuttgart Ballet, and then assumed the duties of co-director of the Munich State Opera Ballet. He began guest-teaching all over the world, traveling to Europe, Japan, Australia, the Caribbean and South America.

IN 1975, HE MADE THE decision to defect to the West. He recalled, "I had become so specialized in the Russian ballet school that it would have been difficult to show what I could do. I worked in this limited situation in East Germany. Also, I was not a member of the (Communist) party and the whole political system and it would have been difficult to gain or create an influential position for myself without playing these games."

As with the intense sports programs the East Germans are so well known for, the East German goverment paid for Schneider's training and it would have been impossible for him to appear in the West as a guest artist/teacher. This would have been tantamount to turning his back on the party apparatus which had provided his education.

The distrust that Communist party officials harbor toward citizens who wish to travel abroad finally prompted Schneider to leave.

"I WOULDN'T HAVE DONE this (defected) if I could have gotten a passport and accepted the invitations to appear in the West. I would have come back (to East Germany). So I did the only thing I could do - I defected."

Ballet master of the ABT since 1975, Schneider is responsible for training and rehearsing the company as well as assisting choreographers in staging ballets.

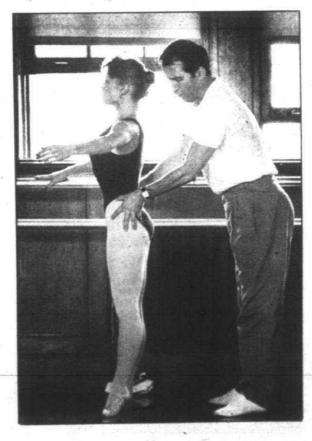

As Barishnikov's coach, Schneider provides guidance rather than instruction to the ballet superstar.

It's a fine line to draw but an important one.

"My function is to remind him of traditional ballet techniques and routines. We had the same teachers and dance background, so it was easy for me."

Then, with a flash of humor, he added, "The only difference is I learned about teaching and he, in accordance with his outstanding talents, became a superstar."

room Henry Ford had the chair nailed down where it stood after Thomas Edison, poised in the seat, reenacted lighting the first successful incandescent light bulb on Oct. 21, 1929. The event was Light's Golden Jubilee, celebrating the 50th anniversary of the invention of the electric light and dedicating Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village as the Edison Institute. In the 57 years since the dedication, millions of people have passed through the doors of the entire Menro Park complex and restoration of the landmark has become necessary. Subtle changes emerge for fall all 1986 is a fashion season of variables. Newest on the scene are the clean, pure, spare looks of understatement.

STEVE FECHT

Sophisticated accessories with the romance of the Old West - boots in all heel heights in leather and suedes, faux-gem studded belts and shoes with their own brand of style. From Roz & Sherm, Bloomfield Plaza.

Or, as Hudson's fashion director Gretch Snow so succinctly puts it: "The unimportant look is the important look for fall."

It's a look that depends on quality fabrics in dark or neutral colors that absolutely scream "timeless." They're new as fashion headliners this season but, in one form or an- while the body portion of the jackother, have been around for years et is slender. I'd say 99 per cent of and will always be the choice of my new fall pants are pleated and a the wardrobe investment-minded lot of the heavier fabrics have man and woman.

On the other hand. signers who believe as Karl Lagerfeld does. "Fashion is to do the right thing at the right moment. Timing is everything," he says. These are the designers who offer " It's a combination of silk, cashmere many options for those who believe dressing fashionably is an art form.

In the matter of women's clothes, Saks Fifth Avenue's fashion expert Linda O'Hagen sums up the season when she says "A subtle revolution of style has emerged this fall, resulting in clothing that is more dramatic, luxurious and wearable than it has been in many seasons.

"RATHER THAN focusing on any one style or trend, there are many options, different choices to make. What counts is whatever looks attractive, whatever works and just as important, the way clothes fit and the way they feel," according to O'Hagen.

Vandenburg says, "It's a treat to dress up again. But this time around, it's a self-assured look not pretentious, just refined, understated and fantastic."

Roz Becker of Roz & Sherm puts it more simply, "The look for fall is elegance."

From Anna Bassett, owner of Claire Pearone, comes this assessment: "The leading silhouette this fall is sleek and chic.

Jean Navin, Lord & Taylor's fashion director, describes the new season's dressing as "spirited in an updated classic mood."

GIORGIO ARMANI says, "It is time for a quietly elegant, powerful consistent look for women." Galanos adds: "It's the shape that's important." Bonwit Teller's John Barnard maintains, "The look this season is definitely feminine with a softer, more rounded shoulder. And whether it be cinched, tucked or belted, it's time to define the waist-

From the masculine point of view, who can argue with Ralph Lauren when he observes, "Men buy image. When they western clothing, they believe they are gauchos; when they wear weekend denims, they believe they are carpenters, gardeners or auto mechanics; and when they wear a suit, they think they are chairman of the board." Bob Benkert, owner of the Claymore Shops and Polo Ralph Lauren, believes, "Men's fashions this season are timeless in attitude and highly reminiscent of the '30s and '40s. Pleated trousers, doublebreasted suits, suspenders and the English-spread collar are back."

L'UOMO VOGUE owner Bruce Goldman points out, "What's really hot this season is the slightly looser look, especially in business suits. The shoulders are larger and wider, cuffs."

And hang onto your broadbrimmed hats, guys.

Goldman also describes a new fabric called "twist" that is sure to separate the men from the boys. and virgin wool.

"The most beautiful garment I've seen made from the twist fabric is the Clark Gable suit. It's an updated version of the zoot suit, with a big inverted tunnel pleat in back."
