Isbister to get portable classrooms

Overcrowded conditions at Isbister Elementary School may be relieved by mid-October with a couple of portable classrooms, school administrators say.

Until then, a fourth grade class and a first grade class will meet in a commons area set off by partitions in corridors apart from regular classrooms

That arrangement doesn't sit well with all parents.

'They have to conduct classes in learning areas which are hallways,' complained one mother, who asked not to be identified. "It seems to me they can spread out the school population a little better.

She had nothing but good things to say, though, about the teaching and support staff at Isbister.

Two portable classrooms, each expected to cost about $33,500, not including some installation work, could be ready for use by Oct. 21 if an order is placed by Sept. 9, said

Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business Bids will be taken.

THE UNITS are at least as large as regular classrooms - 900 square feet - and contain heating units and restroom facilities, said Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction.

At the start of this school year, four portable classrooms are in use at West Middle School, three at Field Elementary and two each at East

Middle School and Erikkson Elementary

Commons areas have been used at other schools within the district in past years, Homes said, but, to his knowledge, only at Isbister this year. The crowding at Isbister wasn't unexpected, he said. There's some new homes going up in that area and an influx of new families with elementary-age children," Homes said.

Some elementary attendance boundaries likely will change during the next few years with an addition to Gallimore School expected by 1987 and construction of an elementary building for 1988, Homes said.

SOME ISBISTER students may be affected, especially with Gallimore, Homes said, so administrators were reluctant to move pupils around this year and perhaps again in another vear or two.

Judith Ireson, Isbister principal, said she knows of only one parent who had concerns about classes in the commons area this year.

"Two-teachers in rooms in the commons area talked to her and exand from their perplained spective, she left, I understand, very comfortable," Ireson said.

Class sizes in the commons were deliberately set smaller, Ireson said. No decision has been made yet on which students will be moved to the portable classrooms when they're ready

Rise in reported crimes lengthens response times

By Diane Gale staff writer

It takes longer for Canton Police officers to respond to calls these days.

An increase in police reports this year over 1985 has caused a delay from four to five minutes in the average reponse time for emergency calls

"Normally an acceptable response time for service is less than five minutes for emergencies," said Canton Police Chief John Santomauro, adding that the level of service is set at what the community finds acceptable.

As of June, calls for service were 10 percent higher than in all of 1985. The average response time for nonemergency calls has risen from 10 minutes last year to 12 minutes in 1986. Even though total calls for service were up, serious crimes were down 3 percent from last year.

TO MAINTAIN the present level of service, Santomauro has requested the hiring of five officers in the proposed 1987 budget. The added officers would maintain the 1986 level of service, he said. 'As Canton continues to develop and population grows I would anticipate the request for service to in-crease," Santomauro said. "There's no way we can maintain the present response times. New 12-hour shifts and the hiring of six civilian police service personnel are other recent efforts to free officers for patrol. "Irregardless of what we do adminstratively, if calls increase a decision has to be made on whether we hire more personnel," Santomauro said. "This is, strictly a board decision, and the board has to decide what is acceptable."

Santomauro said the department has fielded complaints on response

On the first day of school, new Plymouth Salem High principal Gerry Ostoin reaches into a pile of written phone messages accumulating on his desk.

He studies a message, written in red on white paper: "This one says, We could use more student desks. The problem is they're on a truck somewhere in North Carolina."

Ostoin, 42, has been an educator for nearly 20 years - high school teacher, middle school assistant principal, and for the last 11 years, area coordinator at Plymouth Salem. He is succeeding former principal Bill Brown.

While he describes his first hours at the new post as harried, Ostoin appears composed as school staffers rush into his office with messages or requests.

Ostoin, who has a daughter in the eighth grade, once played drums with a touring rock band in the mid-60s. That was before he entered college to study teaching.

OSTOIN RECALLS a former colleague who influenced his administrative style.

The guy I probably learned the most from was Ed Beverly; he was 6-feet-4. He was the principal at Edmundson (in Ypsilanti) when I was assistant principal. He had the ability to filter through situations; to judge things in a realistic, responsible way Ostoin said Beverly also showed compassion and humility - useful in dealing with student problems. says she can't afford her child's re- proved technology. "We teach com-

One possible strain on school staff this year could result from an increase in students housed at the school, up from about 3,700 last term to 4,400 now, as more ninth graders have been relocated to the Centenial Educational Park.

"At this time we're probably near capacity," Ostoin said. "There's still a relatively calm atmosphere; we seem to be able to accommodate everybody at this point.'

THE NEW principal spent part of the morning introducing himself to freshman and sophomore class-"just to let them know how to es. get things done around here, who to see about different things.

"I see a real difference in kids from when I began teaching. They're more responsible today. But it was a pretty volatile situation in the late '60s and early '70s,' said Ostoin, when racial problems plagued some Ypsilanti schools where he worked.

About $750 was stolen from Hardee's in Canton during an armed robbery last week.

Two other Hardee's in suburban Detroit were robbed around the same time and are possibly linked. No one was injured during the incidents.

Canton Police said they have suspects.

Four men entered the fast food restaurant on Ford Road west of I-275 at 11:10 p.m. Sunday, ...ug. 24. Two ordered food and when it was delivered one of the men announced a holdup.

He walked around the counter with a small semi-automatic blue steel gun in his hand. The robber ordered a Hardee's employee to open a safe in another area of the building.

He took a deposit bag with $687 and asked for a day deposit bag, but was told there were none. He also emptied a cash register drawer with about $60 in bills and coins.

WHEN THE MAN and employed returned to the front of the store, the three other men were forcing a cashier to empty a cash register drawer into a Hardee's paper bag.

All four robbers were wearing white high-top tennis shoes and blue jeans.

In what appears to be a related case, Taylor Police reported a robbery at about 12:30 a.m. Monday. Aug. 25, at Hardee's on Van Born and Telegraph.

Three men stole a "large sum of money," according to a Taylor police detective who declined to be specific.

Hardee's in Van Buren Township, on Rawsonville south of I-94, was robbed about 3:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 25. About $190 was stolen, according to Van Buren Township Police Detective Ernie Thornsbury.

Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart said the descriptions of the people involved in the Van Buren case 'don't seem to match-up" with the descriptions given of the men in-volved in the Canton robbery.

Court takes up county drain plan

Ballot proposal er to adopt. In arguin awaits verdict

By Teri Banas staff writer

A Waype County Circuit Court judge said this week he will decide by Sept. 11 whether a ballot proposal, calling for the elimination of the county drain commissioner's office, should stand.

After hearing arguments for 2 1/2 hours on Monday between attorneys for drain commissioner Charles Youngblood and Wayne County, Circuit Judge Charles Farmer said the ssue is "fairly complex. But it has far more political implications than legal ones."

Farmer said there is a lack of precedent on the issue from the state upreme Court and that most arguments arise out of cases which were decided at the state Court of Appeals level. "And they all arise from (county executive William) Lucas office.' he noted, in reference to two previous cases that asked for clarification of the 1980 County Charter Act by the higher court. "There is nothing exactly on point," he said. MONDAY'S hearing was requested by Youngblood's attorney. Jeffrey Supowit, who had asked for a "sumnary judgement" to dismiss the ballot issue. Supowit said the ballot proposal, set by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners last May, was "a fraud on the electorate over something they do not have the powdents, for instance, refuse to use the word "Canton" when talking about the school district. They talk about "Plymouth Schools" when they really mean 'Plymouth-Canton Community Schools." They embrace Salem High as the Plymouth high school and believe Canton High is Canton Township's high school — a myth totally without foundation in fact.

So it shouldn't be surprising that similar petty thoughts exist in Canton in the minds of officials who want to deny reality and destroy history in a parochial attempt to create a Canton-only community. The fact is that Plymouth, as the downtown hub of the larger community, has a special relationship to the surrounding townships - a relationship

Someone asked a candidate at the League of Women Voters' debate for Republican candidates how he would change the state campaign finance laws. I would have said the law is OK as is - what we need to change are the debate rules.

In most so-called debates - whether sponsored by the League, a chamber of commerce or even a newspaper - the candidates have two minutes to answer a question. The rule seldom varies. Then it's on to a different topic.

That puts a premium on moron-level es. The candidate never has to demonstrate his/her mastery of a subject.

You would imagine such crimes would make home security systems a high-growth industry. One study, referredo by Donat Alarms of Michigan, suggets that home security sales reachd $200 billion in 1985 and will increaseourfold by 1990.

Eve so, the number of alarm companiesin the greater Detroit area decrease by a third, from 180 to 120, since 178, according to Mark Springer, directr of marketing for Habitec, the home ecurity system that Donat markets though Hudson's.

Notsurprisingly, Springer sings the praise of home security systems. He recommends wiring all doors (entry points or 85 percent of all home burglarie, all basement windows (the windo of choice for most burglars) and a fewyulnerable main-floor windows. Instalkn interior device such as movement-etecting beams and pressuresensitie carpet pads, and you are protected against the vast majority of breakns, he says.

The professional crook probably can't be stopped if he has targeted your home, says Springer. But most thieves aren't that polished. They are looking for an easy way to get cash, perhaps to buy drugs. If your home looks difficult, they are happy to visit your neighbor.

That same line of reasoning makes some people feel that home security systems are superfluous. My friendly locksmith says that a deadbolt for each door, secured windows and a well-lit exterior will discourage most thieves.

"The light stops the thief from apoaching the house, the locks stop the thief from getting in," says the locksmith. "The alarms only work if the thief gains entry. It's a third line of de-

Maybe so, says Springer. But he claims homes protected by his system are untouched, while neighboring homes are burglarized. He also says that many new homes are being built with home security systems.

Security, after all, has become very dear to two-income households since 62 percent of all break-ins occur during the day

"You and I go to work every day to legitimate jobs," says Springer. "So, too, do the intruders go to work every day."

To the editor

I think our Plymouths, Salem and Canton, have had enough of the witch hunter, Madam Daskalakis.

After the hysteria of the original witch hunts in the original Salem, everybody involved was pretty ashamed. After the modern-day "Commie" hunt of the McCarthy era, it was pretty clear that the perpetrator was more interested in the publicity than in finding real treason. And a lot of innocent people got hurt.

House rejects 65 mph freeway speed limit

Here's how area lawmakers were recorded on major roll-call votes before Congress began its current recess

HOUSE

55 MPH LIMIT - The House rejected, 198 for and 218 against, an amendment allowing states to raise the 55 miles per hour speed limit on rural interstate highways to 65 mph.

The amendment was offered to a transportation bill (HR 3129) that was headed for final passage. Supporter Kenneth Gray, D-III., said: "Let us the states have a little states rights here by saying, 'OK, we think we can go to 65 mph without

Opponent Jim Wright, D-Texas, said "if we want carnage on the highways, we can do away with this 55 mph speed limit."

$3.4 billion recommended by the Armed Services committee to $2.85 billion.

The vote occurred as the House neared final passage of the fiscal 1987 defense authorization bill (HR 4428).

President Reagan had requested $5.3 billion for continued development of the Strategic Defense Initiative, the official name of the proposed shield against incoming missiles. SDI is estimated to cost between $770 billion and $2 trillion if it ever is fully developed.

Amendment supporter Mel Levine, D-Calif, called SDI "an unworkable undefined, untested Rube Goldberg antimissile system .

Opponent Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., called SDI "the most hopeful, the most positive and progressive means by which we can begin to defend oursleves and our allies against the incredible Soviet offensive capability.

Members voting yes wanted to trim SDI funding. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Ford and Levin.

Voting no: Broomfield.

NERVE GAS - By a vote of 210 for and 209 against, the House adopted an amendment to HR 4428 (above) to delay for one year, until October 1987, the Pentagon's plan to resume production of nerve gas weaponry

The Senate version of the same defense spending bill provides full funding of the binary nerve gas program, the centerpieces of which are the Bigeye chemical bomb and 155mm artillery shells carrying poison gas, both under development.

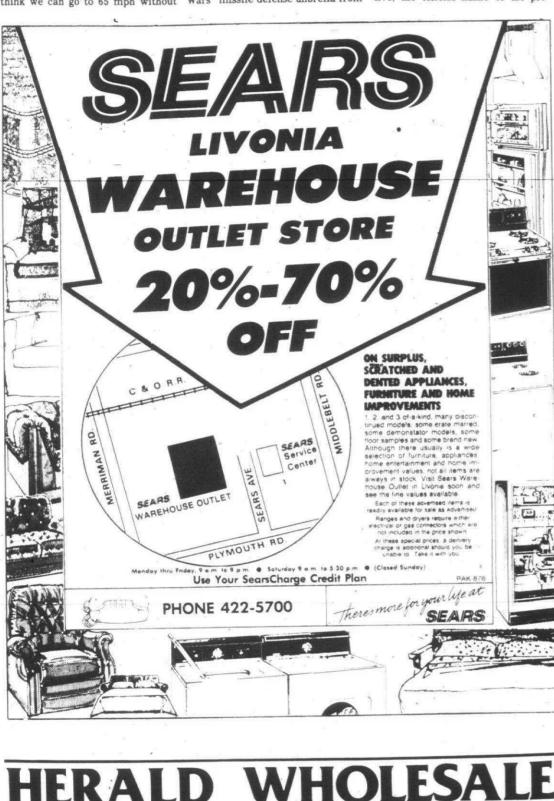

Amendment sponsor John Edward Porter, R-Ill., said the General Accounting Office judged the Bigeye "the worst (performing) weapons systems the GAO ever evaluated."

Members voting yes wanted to delay the nerve gas program. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Levin. Voting no: Broomfield. Not voting: Ford.

SENATE

CONTRA AID — By a vote of 57 for and 43 against, the Senate approved $100 million in military and non-lethal fiscal 1987 aid to the Contra rebels fighting to destabilize the Marxist Sandinista regime in Nicar» agua.

In a victory for President Reagan, the money was included in a military construction appropriations bill (HR 5052) that was sent to conference with the House.

Report due Oct. 1

By Julie Brown

staff writer

ORK IS continuing on a report examining the economic status of older women in Michigan. Members of the Michigan Women's Commission Task Force on Older Women's Issues met Aug. 15 to review the first draft of the report. which is expected to be completed by Oct. 1.

"Now we're working on the second draft," said Earlene Neal, director of programs for the commission. "So we're still shooting for our due date' of Oct. 1

In its 1985-86 budget, the Michigan Legislature directed the com-mission to study three areas as they relate to older women. Those areas are:

Availability and impact of pension systems. • Employment and training programs

· Health insurance.

The Task Force includes 32 members from the public and private sectors. Task force members held five hearings throughout the state between March 27 and May 8

The May 8 hearing was held at UAW Local 735 at 48055 Michigan Ave. in Canton Township.

THE HEARINGS were helpful to the task force members in researching the three areas and making recommendations, Neal said. 'Very much so." The hearing in Canton Township was "probably one of our best.

During the hearing in Canton, Virginia Nicoll of the Farmington chapter of the Older Women's League presented a report on the economic status of older women. That material, along with other information provided during the May 8 hearing, was helpful to task force members. Neal said.

"It was a very good hearing because of the material we got out of the hearing.

Other task force hearings were held in Lansing, Grayling, Detroit and Marquette. The commission also gathered written testimony, with a May 15 deadline applying for that material.

The deadline for the commission's report to be presented to the Michigan Legislature is Oct. 1.

Neal is optimistic that the deadline for what she called "a very comprehensive report" will be met.

THE REPORT should go into printing during the second week in September, she said, and thus should be ready by the deadline name, address and phone number there is a passage from Psalms 97:1 printed on the business card: "The Lord Reigns . . . let the multitude of the isles be glad thereof." For a person who's about to em bark on a four-year mission to the Marshall Islands, the quotation from the Bible is appropriate. Wolyniak believes it's prophetic. As a missionary for the Pentecostal Assemblies of God church, the Livonia-bred Wolyniak wants to spread the gospel to the Marshall Islands, which perhaps are best known for their use as United States nuclear test sites. But it won't be easy. There are as many obstacles as there are islands in the Pacific Ocean.

The Marshall Islands, which recently established its own republic, is besieged by various social problems. Overcrowding, poverty and disease are the main problems.

White Castle expands niche

By Louise Okrutsky staff writer

In an industry that started with a 5-cent hamburger and ended up serving croissant breakfast sandwiches, White Castle occupies its own niche.

Never mind that the niche is modeled after the Chicago Water Tower. Never mind that the buildings are so well lit at night they're virtually giant signs frustrating local ordinances. Those buildings make up White Castle's highest corporate profile.

Leave it to other fast food owners to acquire sports teams and glossy television advertising. In the high profile world of fast food, White Castle is an unassuming pioneer. From one tiny stand set up by company founder Edgar Waldo "Bill" Ingram in 1921 in Wichita, Kan., White Castle has branched out to 218 units spread from New York to Minneapolis-St. Paul. Six years ago there were 160 Castles.

In its own quiet way, White Castle is undergoing corporate expansion. Each new unit is paid for before it opens. Construction is financed from current operating revenue. The family-owned firm keeps its cost and profit figures within the family circle. Unlike other chains, White Castle restaurants aren't franchises. The corporation owns each unit.

We're in the midst of the most aggressive growth pattern in our 65 years of history. We're putting in 30 units a year nationwide," said Gail Turley, White Castle spokesman.

UNDER THE direction of third generation owner E.W."Bill" Ingram III. the firm boasts more retail facilities than at any other time in its history. The expansion follows a decade of building warehouses, bakeries and meat processing plants ordered by Ingram's father and retired chairman of the board Edgar W. Ingram Jr.

Those recent acquisitions include a revamped Dawn Doughnuts shop on Nine Mile at Telegraph, Southfield. That site has the distinction of being one of the few revamped buildings owned by the firm.

Last fall, the firm destroyed and replaced its original Detroit White Castle on Woodward in Ferndale. The building had been at the location since March 1929.

Generally, White Castle builds its own units. For suburban aficionados there are restaurants in Redford, Livonia, Troy and Canton Township.

"We're always looking for additional property. We have others planned," said Frank Sliva, Detroit area manager for White Castle. Sliva works out of the Farmington Hills

Along with an ad campaign that promotes its product as a cult experience, it might look like the fast food granddaddy is positioning itself to go mano-a-mano with Ronald McDonald. But the company with the burger referred to as "sliders" and "whitey one bites" remains realistic in its self-assessment.

We're not competing. We're never going to go head on with those people. It's a different world completely. We're a specialty item,' Turley said.

Locally, to celebrate the firm's 65th anniversary in September, the firm will run coupons entitling the holder to buy five sliders at the original price of five cents each, according to Sliva.

Marketing efforts, too, are modest by comparison. Castle fans won't be assailed with such choices as fancy baked potatoes, croissants or salad bars. "I doubt it very much if you'll ever find a salad bar in a White Castle. We don't have much of a place to put it," Turley said. Salad bars also increase the amount of waste accumulated in each restaurant.

'We do one thing, and we do it rather well. We don't want to divert our energy," he said.

But frozen White Castles are being

'One night in a downtown area White Castle, I saw a stretch limo in the lot. A uniformed chauffeur got in line for his boss. Behind him was a cat in an orange tux. They both fit into the ambiance of White Castle.'

test marketed in supermarkets in Denver, Colo. and Indianapolis, Ind. While Indianapolis has 17 White Castles, there aren't any in Denver. These test markets are expected to indicate if there is sufficient demand for even more burgers in areas where White Castle is established as well as checking to see if a frozen product affords a way to break into a new area without the risk and expense of building new restaurants. On the regional level, managers do adapt to local tastes. In St. Louis, Mo., and Chicago, Ill., consumers can buy cheese fries, melted cheese on an order of french fried potatoes. In Detroit, customers like Louisiana style hot sauce mixed with tartar sauce on fish sandwiches. "We go through it by the gallons," Sliva said.

And in every Castle, there's a hamburger sauce called Everything, a combination of mustard and catsup. "The combination of the words catsup and mustard gets you in trouble," Turley said.

And Castles still offer the best floor show around town. The grills stay hot 24 hours a day, 364 days a year. Castles are closed on Christmas.

'WE ATTRACT the most broad scope of human society I've ever Turley said. "One night in a seen, downtown area White Castle, I saw a stretch limo in the lot. A uniformed chauffeur got in line for his boss. Behind him was a cat in an orange tux. They both fit into the ambiance of White Castle," Turley said.

For the most part, White Castle's demographics are unassuming. The bulk of its clients are middle- and lower-income families. "We're one of the few places they can afford to eat out." he said.

On the other side of the cash register, employees stay with the company for a longer period than those of other fast food chains. In a business known for high employee turnover, 12 percent of White Castle's approximately 8,500 employees have logged between 10-45 years with the company. Sliva's a 39-year veteran. Turley's been with the system for 36 years.

"They have the most broad benefit program in the fast food industry," Turley said. That includes cash bonuses, profit sharing and a medical expense account in addition to conventional major medical coverage. Each employee has a $750 account to use each year for dental and optical expenses. White Castle promotes its managers from within. "In one sense, each employee we hire is a management trainee," he said.

When employees hit their 25th anniversary with the company, they're flown to Columbus for three days of wining and dining.

Wayne County employers who have met with little success using traditional routes to find qualified employees may have a friend in the recruitment business

They can turn to SER, Metro Detroit Jobs for Progress, an employment service that reimburses employers one half of the training time salary costs of employees hired through SER, Metro.

The focus at SER, Metro is to bring together quality occupations economically disadvantaged and workers. Recognizing that new people are not as effective as expericened workers, the subsidized training is an enticement to businesses by taking out some of the risk in hiring less experienced people.

SER, Metro provides prescreened, job-ready employees for no fee. It also offers work processing and computer training on IBM equipment. General Motors and IBM are among their clients, but SER, Metro primarily serves smaller companies having 50-100 employees but no personnel office or companies having employee turnover. Work runs from light assembly to management, clerical work to basic labor

Art Garcia, an employment counselor with SER, Metro, describes the typical on-the-job-training employees as "in their mid-20s, with a high school diploma plus additional education such as vocational training, often displaced or laid-off workers. These trainees have a certain level of skill but "what they don't know how to do is find a job," adds employment specialist Nancy North.

THE PROGRAM has proved valuable for Green Plant Design in Livonia. Their employees do routine work as horticulture technicians maintaining plants in business lobbies

General manager Maureen Vines points out, "You realy need a trial period of one or two days to decide if you even like this kind of work.

The training subsidy allows Green Plant Design a little more freedom to give new people a chance at trying out the job.

'We hired about five employees through SER, Metro. It saves us the expense of running ads and the management time to screen and interview." According to Vines, "it's not a guaranteed thing but some of the people work out wonderfully."

Sears Cleaning Service also puts SER, Metro to work as a substitute human resources department. Rick Pearson, Livonia divison manager, said he had "a problem getting prescreened people. Nancy North has been a great help doing that. She provides quality people."

Pearson looks for young people 18-22 with good driving and atten-dance records. "We bring them in, train them (in carpet cleaning), develop them into lead techicians. It's

Heres a way to figure out your W-4

How much money to withhold from your paycheck is a problem that most wage-earners face. And it's not always an easy one to solve.

Withholding is the federal government's way of collecting tax on your income. Your employer figures out how much of your wages should be taxed, based upon information you provide when you file a W-4 form.

The W-4 is the form that's given to you when your begin a new job. But when people begin a new job, about the last thing they want to contend with is an IRS form they do not understand - even after they've read it over several times.

The most obvious clues regarding whether you should adjust your W-4 come at tax time. If you received a large refund or owed a large tax, you should examine your withholding

A big refund probably means you allowed the government to withold too much, which amounts to giving practically speaking

Uncle Sam an interest-free loan. Or adjusting your withholding can save you from having any penalties imposed for having too little withheld.

The penalty can be avoided by applying one of the following safeguards: Pay at least 80 percent of your tax liability during the year or pay an amount equal to or greater than your tax liability of 1985.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT reason to consider filing a new W-4 is if you expect any significant changes to occur in your financial situation.

For people who bought their first house this year, for instance, the mortgage interest and local tax deductions on their 1986 returns may allow them to claim extra exemptions on the W-4 and have less income withheld.

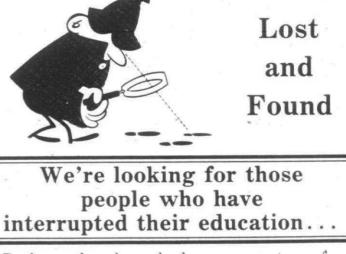

To save you the trouble of laboring over the W-4, here is a four-step formula that can help you figure out how much to withhold from your weekly paycheck.

• 1. Add the following: Contributions you expected to make in 1986 to an Individual Retirement Account or Keogh; alimony you will be paying, the amount you plan to claim for a two-earner deduction (working couples only) and the total of all itemized deductions you will claim. Itemized deductions are medical expenses that exceed 5 percent of ad-justed gross income, charitable contributions, casualty losses that exceed 10 percent of adjusted gross income, interest payments, state and local taxes and certain job and investment expenses. Some less common items that you should also add to your total include: deductible moving expenses; business and investment losses; unreimbursed employee business expenses and an adjustment for a child care tax credit.

• 2. If you do not plan to itemize deductions in 1986, add any charitable contributions to the total in step one and go directly to step three. But if you will be itemizing deductions on your 1986 return, subtract your zero bracket amount from the total in step one. The zero bracket amount for a single person in 1986 is $2,480. For a married person filing jointly, the zero bracket amount is $3,670. and it's $2,480 for a person who files as a head of a household.

• 3. Divide the total from step two by $1,800. Round off your answer to the next higher number. If

UTURE FORETOLD, So what are your expectations for the upcoming season? Short

You have short expectations? No. I expect it to be a short season. Especially for Observer & Eccentric prep football teams.

Kindly be more expansive. Well. First of all, football for many high school teams will be over before November arrives. The final football Friday of the regular season is Oct. 31 - Halloween night.

Don't expect many teams in the O&E coverage area to be masquerading as playoff hopefuls, though. Five area teams qualified for the enlarged playoffs in '85, and Troy made it all the way to the Class A finals before bowing. That won't happen this season.

Why not? Tony Boles, Torin Dorn, Marc Spencer, Brian Smolinski, Chris Sullivan, John Locker, Ken Wandzel for starters.

What about them?

They're gone, taking their con-siderable talents to college with them. Some hugely gifted players are gone, but more, the depth of talent a year ago proved to be extraordinary. The gap their gradua-tion has created will be difficult to refill.

Any guesses on potential stars?

Right now, major college prospects are Livonia Franklin linebacker Chris Parenti, Detroit Country Day running back Brian Stephens, North Farmington running back Scott Selzer, Orchard Lake St. Mary's guard-defensive end Scott Kowalkowski, Troy kicker Scott Kania, Rochester Adams running back Delbert Littlejohn, Troy Athens fullback Scott Sosnowski and Southfield-Lathrup end Eric Stokes.

Names aren't too familiar, are they? That's what happens when you graduate a group of headline-grabbers — like those guys mentioned earlier - all in one year.

So does that mean we have little to look forward to this football season?

years). The Hawks play an all-Class A schedule, so a 6-3 mark could conceivably get them into the state playoffs.

By the way, I'll bet a few of the Class A schools in the Western Lakes Activities Association aren't too pleased with Harrison's smaller status. Playing a Class B team costs them playoff points. Losing to one could cost them any hope of a post-season berth.

Another team to watch is Country Day, which was eliminated by Detroit St. Martin de Porres in the first round of the Class C playoffs last year. Birmingham Brother Rice, too, should rebound after an off (4-5) year. Warrior coach Al Fracassa is purportedly planning to install a wishbone running attack North Farmington, with Selzer and some sizable blockers, could surprise some people. So could Southfield, the defending Southfield, the defending Southeastern Michigan Association champs, despite Dorn's graduation. In Livonia, Churchill, which was eliminated from playoff contention in the final game of '85, and Stevenson both look formidable. And Franklin could be a tournament qualifier if it can survive its first three games - at Dearborn Fordson, home against Stevenson, and at Harrison. So there are possibilities.

Always. But a year ago, there seemed to be more certainties. Westland John Glenn, Redford Catholic Central, Southfield and Country Day all were solid bets to make the expanded playoffs. This year, Harrison and Country Day look to be favorites for the postseason derby. The others are long shots.

Still, this is preseason. Once the first football is snapped, another Troy could emerge.

Enough about football. What about a capsulized preview of some of the other fall sports? The upheavel shouldn't be as great. In girls basketball, Plymouth Salem will be awsome; so will perennial powers Farmington Hills Mercy and Livonia Ladywood. No team in the Eccentric area can match up with these powers. Southfield-Lathrup looks strong, though.

Runners hit the trail New coaches ignite

CEP cross country

By Chris McCosky staff writer

You wonder what the Plymouth Canton boys cross country team has left.

The Chiefs came virtually out of nowhere to win the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association last year with a perfect 5-0 dual meet record. The team placed third at the league meet.

But Jim Hayes' team lost six valuable team members to graduation: Keith Rosol, Scott Moore, Doug Rich, Bill Boyd, Dave McCollum and Dan Houdek.

There is talent coming back. Jun-iors Jay Swiecki and Al Byrnes were two of the top scorers last year. Seniors Dean Juergens and Ron Zimba also return.

Plus Hayes is hopeful that Bart Hall, a senior transfer from Cranbrook, will be eligible to compete. Canton is currently petitioning the Michigan High School Athletic Association to rule on Hall's eligibility.

"The kids are working hard. I think we will be alright," said Hayes. "You never can tell how good you're going to be until mid-September." Hayes has a talented trio of freshmen in camp: Matt Hall, Mark Boluch and Dan Innes. Hayes is counting on those three, plus junior Steve McClain, to bolster the team's depth.

All-Area Chief

THE CANTON GIRLS team has a new coach and a new sense of opti-mism, despite losing its two top runners from last year. Marie Jarosz has graduated and Rachel Mann has transferred to Ann Arbor Pioneer.

But George Pryzgodski has managed to bring more than 20 girls to camp this season. In past years, the Chiefs have struggled to field a complete lineup.

"I'm very happy with the turnout," said Pryzgodski, who coached the Canton girls track team a year ago. "I asked everybody on the track team to play another sport. I feel that's very important. I've got shot putters out here and sprinters. It's great."

The leading returnees are juniors Sheri Figurski and Jenny Kincer, sophomore Cindy Spessard and freshman Lori Penland. Pryzgodski is also encouraged by juniors Tonya Walaskay and Tricia Carney, sophomore Heather DeJong and freshman Missy Wasnowski.

"I can't really say how competi-tive we will be this year," he said. "I've never coached cross country before. But I can say this. These girls are used to winning and they want to win. Given that, I think they'll do pretty well."

The Chiefs open Friday Sept. 5 at home against Livonia Stevenson

PLYMOUTH SALEM has a pair of new coaches this season.

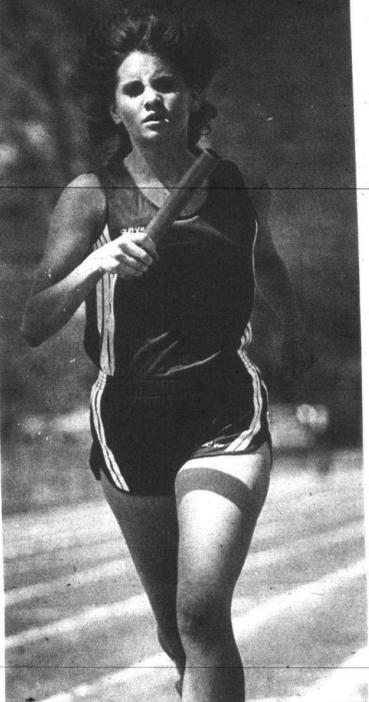

Jeff Baker will take over the boys cross country program, while John Gravlin inherits the girls.

Baker, a 1982 Salem graduate, takes over a team that placed fourth in the Western Lakes a year ago.

Seniors Tom Foley, Kevin Jones, Shawn Simms and Jim Disnaw, plus juniors Bill Atwell, Doug Vergari and Don Ross are expected to be the top scorers this season.

"These guys have a real good attitude and they are willing to work hard," Baker said. "They seem pretty sure of themselves."

Gravlin, like Baker, takes over a senior-dominated team. Returnees include Brenda Boyd, Lisa Mickey, Cheryl Brylinski and Sue Nyquist, all seniors. Junior and Theresa Schaller and talented sophomore Shannon Donnelly are also back.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Rachel Mann was expected to be one of Canton's top runners this fall. But she transferred to Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"The girls are real enthusiastic," Gravlin said. "They have set lofty goals for themselves. But they have a lot of work to do to yet to get their 9 at Ypsilanti.

times down so they can have a chance at attaining those goals." The Rocks will open Tuesday Sept.

I didn't say that. Even if I thought it, I wouldn't say it. Thing is, people have been asking me who's going to be tough in our area, and I can't say anything with conviction.

My guesses are: Watch Farmington Harrison, particularly now that they've dropped down to Class B again (for the second time in five and Stever Bloomfield Hills Andover in girls swimming, Bloomfield Hills Lahser in boys tennis, to name a few.

That's pretty good. One last question: How accurate do you figure these predictions to be? One hundred percent - for the next couple of weeks, anyway.

Adray Kings ousted

The Adray Kings painfully learned last weekend that you can't leave runners on base and you can't make errors in the state American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament at Bailey Stadium in Battle Creek.

The Kings left 14 runners stranded Thursday in a 2-1 opening-round loss to Birmingham Lynch and Sons and then made six errors Saturday in a 7-6 defeat to Twin Cities Collegiate of St. Joseph.

The loss to St. Joe's gave the Class A Kings a third-place finish in the state AABC and a final overall record of 37-7.

Lynch and Sons, the eventual winner of the Stan Musial Division tourney, got a combined seven-hitter from starter Mark Breese, the winner, and reliever Greg Everson, the former Bentley High School and University of Michigan product, in the opener.

Canton native Dan Funkhouser, the losing pitcher, was the victim of an unearned run in the sixth when outfielders Tim Pobuda and Doug Allard collided for a two-base error. Rick Ziegler then singled home what proved to be the winning run.

FUNKHOUSER, a left-hander, scattered six hits and walked only

Dean Fracassi, the former Red ford St. Agatha and Aquinas College standout, collected two hits along with teammate Clint Scollard in a losing cause. (Scollard knocked in the Kings' only run.).

The Kings, however, bounced back from their loss to Lynch and Sons with a 10-2 mercy rule victory over Troy Jet Box.

Jim Rousseau was the hitting star, ripping a grand slam and a two-run triple

Kirk White and former Plymouth Salem product Dave Slavin, now a catcher at the University of Missouri, each knocked in two runs.

Jeff Varga, the winning pitcher, scattered six hits over six innings.

In third-round action, the Kings used the two-hit pitching of Greg Reinhold to beat Muskegon, 1-0.

Losing pitcher Dennis O'Dowd yielded a triple to Allard on the leadoff pitch and then uncorked a wild pitch to Randy Baringer on the very next pitch to account for the only scoring in the first inning.

WITH ONLY THREE teams remaining, the Kings were eliminated by St. Joe's.

Hugh Pobur, the second of three Kings pitchers, was the hard-luck loser. Mike MacDonald and Mel Brunovich also took their turns on the mound for the defenseless Kings. The Kings, outhit 10-8, got a solo homer from Rousseau and a pair of RBI sacrifice flies from Slavin.

This year, seven starters are back. Both goalkeepers - Jeff Vakratsis (from Livonia Clarenceville) and Sam Matovski (Livonia Churchill) return. So do the Ocelots' top scorer (John Gelmisi of Livonia Stevenson), best midfielder (Rick Hamers) and strongest defender (Scott Steiner of nouth Salem).

IN ESSENCE, there were few holes for Dimitriou to fill. All that was needed was some fine-tuning.

Fullback Kevin Kurkowski imressed Dimitriou immensely. "He's an outstanding defensive player," the SC coach said. "He's very smooth, very fluid. He's the first player I offered a scholarship to."

D.J. Ward, a stopper who's also from Stevenson, fills another need for the Ocelots. Combined with veterans Todd Ericson (Stevenson) and Jim Moreau (Redford Catholic Central), defense should no longer be a veakness for SC.

GOAL-SCORING never was a weakness for the Ocelots. And yet, t's on the forward line that Dimitriou has made some changes hanges that reflect a remolding of the team's personality.

"Last year, we had three shooters up front," said Dimitriou, referring Gelmisi and Matt Pace, who

"As a head coach, I learned a few things in the last couple of years," he said. "One is that we will no longer be beaten up on the field. We got beat up physically last year by Lewis and Clark. They didn't pick their spots. They took Steiner out in the first half.

"Well, what's good for the goose is good for the gander.' The warning has been issued: SC will be as physical as need be. They after last year was that in a couple will also, according to Dimitriou, uation calls for it." "Our philosophy has always been to go for it," said Dimitriou. Translated, that means a pressure offensive attack. Against certain opponents this season, the team will play a more defensive, patient game.

DIMITRIOU IS certain he has the depth to fill both needs. Tony Peruzzi (Redford Thurston), Bob Newman (Livonia Franklin), Pete Lomas (Bentley), Brett Murphy (Churchill), Joe Skolnick (West Bloomfield) and Joe Mase (Bentley) all play either forward or halfback - or both Anwar Yaffai and Brian Schonfeld both from Bentley) can fill in at fullback or halfback.

All of which makes this the most formidable SC team in history - in the preseason, anyway. Dimitriou admits the "only thing I don't know is what the (Eastern Conference) opposition's got. Macomb and Lakeland I assume will be tough."

Farmington ends hunt for coaches

By Chris McCosky staff writer

So you want to be an athletic director.

Better read this first. Ron Holland, athletic director for the Farmington Public School District, is normally a personable, everjoking man. These days, he's a bit terse. There's a cutting edge in his voice when he says: "I'm just a fulltime recruiter, a purchasing agent." He has good reason to be snippy.

It's been one helluva summer. Over the course of the last two to three months. Holland hired sever new coaches for the upcoming fall season. He still had two vacancies left to fill for the winter season, but he figured the fall season was set. That changed last Tuesday night.

AT ABOUT 10 p.m., he got a call from a reporter traveling taster visits Your area eateries and rates them on a 100-point scale. Up to 30 points are awarded for ambiance, which includes general atmosphere and service; 55 points for food, and 15 points for price/value rating. A total count of 59 points or less indicates a restaurant is not recommended; 60-74 points signify from passing to good; 75-89 points designate very good with some extraordinary features, and 90-100 points show that a very special dining experience awaits you

CAFE BON HOMME, 844 Penniman, Plymouth (453-6260), scores highly on all counts and belongs on your "must try" restaurant list. The charming, crisp and clean dining room has a "Laura Ashley" look. Lovely tables have attractive stemware, fresh flowers and candles. Although the atmosphere is casual and coats and ties are not required, water is poured from silver pitchers and Mrs. Greg Goodman (the coowner, hostess and wife of the chef) is a most gracious woman who gives you the feeling that you are dining in her home not her restaurant. Reservations are suggested - ours was honored promptly. Dinner took an hour and a half, and our waitress asked us what pace we preferred, a very appreciated touch. General Atmosphere - 15 points maximum. Points awarded - 15.

Our waitress was very pleasant and helpful. Service was attentive, and the busmen were also professional. Our only complaint was that new silverware was not provided for the entrees or for dessert. It was difficult to understand why, with so many nice touches, this one area fell short. Nonetheless, our waitress was knowledgeable about the dishes and made several suggestions. Additionally, she told how chef Greg Goodman had opened the restaurant in February when he left Tom MacKinnon. We felt very comfortable and well cared for, definitely a sign of good service. Service — 15 points maximum. Points awarded — 14.

The country pate ($3.95) was a delicious combination of duck, chicken and pork with pistachio nuts throughout. It was rich without being heavy, and the presentation was unusually interesting and attractive. This appetizer was outstanding and well worth ordering. The escargot moutarde ($3.75) was attractive but less noteworthy. The puff pastry was light and tasty, but the escargot lacked flavor and we could not detect any mustard at all. Fresh French bread, is served. Drinks are reasonable and good, and there is an excellent wine list with very reasonable prices. Drinks, Appetizers and Bread - 10 points maximum. Points awarded - 8.

Entrees come with a choice of soup or salad. The onion soup is not baked, but it has a hearty flavor. The salad is nicely presented; however, it was not chilled. The mustard vinaigrette dressing is tart and pleasing. Salad - 5 points maximum.

Points awarded — 4. The poached Norwegian salmon

($12.95) served with red caviar and a dill sauce, was light and full of flavor. The salmon was fresh and delicate, and the dish was very attractively presented. The baked crab cassoulet ($7.95) is presented as a "light dinner." According to the menu description, the crab meat, scallions and swiss cheese are tossed in spinach fettucine and baked in lobster sauce. This, in fact, was how the dish arrived, along with a fresh vegetable garnish, and it was very good. But it was not really light. The fruits de mer en filo, a daily special at $16.95, was especially appealing. The filo pastry enclosed generous amounts of sole, scallops and salmon mousse. It both looked inviting and tastèd delicious. Entree, Vegetables and Garnishes - 30 points maximum. Points awarded - 27.

Thank goodness the desserts were as good as the rest of the meal. Each of the three we tried was outstanding, and they were so attractively presented that diners at the next table asked about them. Our favorite was the french vanilla ice cream with praline sauce ($2.95), which was creamy, sweet and very full of flavor. Certain to excite chocolate lovers is the chocolate au grand marnier ($3.95), a thin slice of fudge-like chocolate pate with nuts that is rich and delicious. Last, but not least, the creme champenoise ($3.25) is a very light lemon and white custard mixture, served with kiwi, raspberries and blueberries. Dessert - 10 points maximum. Points awarded - 10. At less that $54 per couple, with tip, this is a considerable value. The presentation of the food is outstanding, and so is the meal itself. At the end of dinner you feel welcomed and well-fed. What could be better? Price/Value - 15 points maximum. Points awarded — 15.

A Counting for Taste - 100 points maximum. Total points awarded: 93. Hurry to Cafe Bon Homme for a perfect evening of relaxation and fine food

Redstone-designed tower alters Traverse skyline

This is another story in a special Observer & Eccentric "Up North" series.

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

> IKE IT OR NOT, nobody in Traverse City makes light of the impact of the Grand Traverse Resort upon the community.

The newly opened 15-story glass Tow designed by Livonia-based architects Louis Redstone Associates, soars into the skyline.

The 840-acre resort with its accommodations for at least 1,500 people at any one time, the condo developments, both rental and permanent residential, the golf courses and elaborate sports facilities, meeting and banquet rooms and nine restaurants or lounges has already affected the economy of the community

Paul Nine, Bloomfield Hills attorney and presi-dent of the resort, said, "When we started (1973), Traverse City had one of the highest unemployment rates in the state and now we're looking for people to hire.

Colleen Bagley, the Resort's marketing director, echoed that statement:"We have over a thousand employees and we still looking for more in a few departments.

Located several miles east of the city on pleasantly rolling countryside, the resort is easy to find and recognizable because of the pristine condition of the miles of green lawns and golf courses bordered with bright flowers.

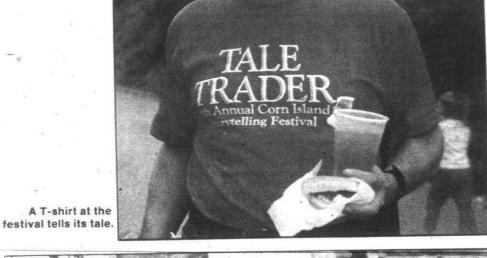

When the Redstone-designed conference center, seating 2,000 people, is completed next summer, the National Governors' Association will inaugurate the facility. And although it is still in the embryo state, it has been officially dubbed "Governors' Hall" in honor of its prestigious first guests.

REDSTONE SAID THE construction of the convention center, like the Tower, "is all split second timing" in order to make the tight deadline. It will be one story brick and glass right in the center of things with the Resort facilities just few steps away

Nine, said the Resort is "clearly one of the finalists" in its bid to host the 1992 PGA tournament on the "Bear," which golfers say lives up to its name. He also admitted that Oakland Hills, another contender, is tough to score against.

Status quo is a long way off. A $17-million expansion is already well underway. It's like watch-ing the evolvement of a planned community on a film that's set on "fast forward."

Bagley said a third golf course, designed by Jack Nicklaus, "will open as early as 1988," the sports complex will be "getting a facelift" and eight outside tennis courts plus a stadium court will be open next summer with an exhibition with either Martina Navratilova or Chris Evert Lloyd as the star. The present outdoor pool will be enclosed and another Redstone designed Olympic aking four in al

Storytelling comes home to America

By Iris Jones special writer

AY HICKS LEANS BACK in his chair, telling about the day he stuffed his britches into the crack of a log cabin to keep out the cold. "And the cow ate the britches," he says, pausing just long enough to let the laughter wash through the tent pitched just behind the main street of Jonesboro, Tenn.

Hicks brought his stories down out of the hills for the first National Storytelling Festival here in 1973, and he is one of a dozen tale tellers scheduled for the 14th annual festival Oct. 3-5 here in the mountains of Eastern Tennessee.

Storyteller Milbre Burch likes to tell another tale, "about the time Claude stuck his head of the wagon and saw that pig a-goin' by." It's a country tale, but the people stomping their feet in appreciation inside the giant tent are mostly townfolk; teachers and engineers, mothers and office workers, fifth graders and teenagers, who didn't grow up deep in the hills; out of sight of the television set Burch didn't grow up that way either. She learned her skills from people like Ray Hicks, and now she tells stories from theater stages nationwide.

The real winners of the great national storytelling revival in America, however, are women like Joanne Ladd of Flint, holding forth in her Mother Goose costume down the trail in the Swapping Ground, where any amateur can practice telling tall tales and members of the Detroit Story League, who tell their tales all over metropolitan Detroit, got their start. (See related story below.)

These spellbinders are among thousands who have taken storytelling into schools and libraries across the country during the 1980s, launching their own state and community festivals and swelling the ranks of the National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling (NAPPS).

NAPPS, with 2,400 members in 50 states and several foreign countries, sponsors the annual festival. Alex Haley, whose family stories were the basis of his book, "Roots," will be part of this year's special events, celebrating Tennessee's Homecoming '86 and the state's 190th birthday.

EVERYBODY LOVES A GOOD yarn. Stories have fascinated us around campfires, aboard sailing ships and at the bedsides of our children for thousands of years. For centuries, they were Bible stories, Aesop's fables, the tales of Homer and Scheherezade, but for the last half century the role of a storyteller has been taken over by radio and television, putting an electronic screen between the teller of the tales and the spellbound audience

size will be built, m

Nine said his goal was to build, "a total destination sun belt resort in the north. Of course to do that you have to put the type of facilities they have outside in the South inside in the North - and that's expensive."

For winter vacationers (in addition to the huge indoor sports complex) there are 20 kilometers of cross country ski trails, eight kilometers $(5^{1/2}$ miles) underlights, horse-drawn sleigh rides and ice skating on a rink under a permanent tent-like yellow canopy which in warm weather is a picturesque outdoor pavilion.

Local residents have mixed emotions about the resort. Redstone said he thinks some are threatened by it because of the changes it has brought to their community.

The Redstone-designed Grand Traverse Resort tower soars into the northern skies.

Storytelling was almost dead in America when a few year spinners like Hicks and Doc McConnell were lured out of the hills to the first National Storytelling Festival.

"Storytelling is the oldest form of entertain-ment in the world," said McConnell, whose straw hat and Colonel Sanders beard are familiar sights in Jonesborough. "It started losing popularity when printing and other forms of communication began.

"I told stories all my life, long before electricity and radios came into the mountain villages just 60 miles from Jonesboro," he said.

'We would be sitting there on the porch and one of us would say, 'Grandma, tell us about when you first came to the creek.'

"'I was just a little old girl when It got here,' Grandma would say and there she'd go, telling a story

Uncle Jeff would tell a tale about the army. Daddy would spin that old yarn about the blind horse. Grandpa would tell about Wicked John and the Devil.

"There were haunt stories, we call them 'haint stories,' and Booger stories - how you spelled it depended on which holler you were out of.

'A country store was a loafer's glory. I learned about sex, cussing and gambling at the store in Tucker's Knob, down by the feed room." You could tell that old Doc McConnell has told this here story before! He told me the history of mountain stories, how tales about English kings and queens came with the early settlers and were changed to suit the mountains. How overmountain men brought tales, many of them Jack Tales.

"Jack and the Beanstalk is a typical Jack Tale, a dimwitted Jack who trades a cow for three beans and ends up with a pot of gold. Storytellers often specialize: Jack tales, cowboy tales, ghost stories. Uncle Remus stories.

ALL THIS STORYTELLING might have disappeared forever if a teacher named Jimmy Neal Smith hadn't been riding in his car with a group of students in the early 1970s. They were listening to a tall tale on the radio.

Wouldn't it be great to bring those old-fashioned storytellers together in a festival setting, Smith mused.

Area has its own tale-tellers

Detroit area story-tellers are usually members of the De-troit Story League (DSL), formed in 1912 to improve the English language skills of the public and now dedicated to storytelling in the metropolitan area. DSL is part of the National Story League, according to DSL publicity chairman Celia Goodman of Southfield.

Many DSL members are also members of the National Association for the Preservation and Perpetuation of Storytelling (NAPPS), which sponsors the National Storytelling Festival in Jonesboro, Tenn.

The Detroit Story League meets on the third Saturday of each month and regularly goes out to churches, schools, libraries and organizational meetings to tell stories. One of the few members who wears a costume is Violet Altschuler, librarian of the West Bloomfield library Storytelling '86 was held Aug. 9 in Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn, which co-sponsored the event along with the DSL. Past DSL president Doris Cooney of Redford and current president Barbara Schutz of Ann Arbor were in charge of the event, which presented several national storytellers.

For information on joining the Detroit Story League or inviting them to tell tales to your group, contact Goodman at 356-8069

Try to improve nature's artistry

ADMIRE ANIMALS. I love love nature. I am fascinated by its their attitude toward life. Take Tiffany, my standard poodle, for example. Every month or so I take her to the dog groomer. Andre bathes her, trims her and puts a ribbon or two on her head or ankles. Proudly, I announce her arrival at home and she gets loads of attention for about 10 min-

But once she's back at her old stomping ground - the backyard she will scout out either a moldy pile of leaves, peat moss or the sand box and proceed to roll in it. Then she'll stand on the deck in all her newfound glory: 60 pounds of poodle with her pompons poofed, her ribbons gone and her newly coiffed exterior covered with whatever she chose to roll in. Then trotting into the family room, she looks at me as if to say, "Hey, dummy, I'm a dog.

What do you expect?" As you may know by now, I truly simplicity and, with closer observation, am in awe of its complexity. The general balance and beauty of nature calls to me like the spiritual call to a minister.

THE REPRESENTATION of any living thing, be it plant or animal, is more challenging a subject to me than any other. I particularly am interested in making the subject appear as natural as possible. Continued from Page 1 Their first festival was a simple one: 65 folding chairs set up on the street beside the Mail Pouch sign, with a haywagon as stage. They heard a few stories, watched a clog dance and went home. Now it's a citywide event, with storytellers coming from all over the country and the world to tell tales in tents erected around town. If you want to hear storytelling as close as possible to its early mountain style, push through the crowds around Ray Hick's tent. He will be leaning back in a chair, his hat askew on his grey hair, sucking a straw and giving his audience a oothless grin.

Sit a spell and you will hear a "true story" about the day, as a child, when Ray stuffed his britches into the crack of a log cabin and the cow ate them.
