ON DISCIPLINE: Canton Public Library is presenting a program on disciplining children 6-9 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 30. Lee Burton will discuss the difference between punishment and discipline to help parents understand the roadblocks to good parent/child communication and to simplify discipline so family life can be enjoyed more. Sign up to attend by calling the library at 397-0999 or register in person.

BULLSEYE: The Canton Police Department has begun to process purchase permits and safety inspections for handguns and concealed weapons for residents, according to Canton Police Chief John Santomauro. The service is available from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday at the police station.

PUNT, PASS, KICK: The punt, pass and kick contest for ages 8-13 will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 4, at the Sheldon Road side of Griffin Park Awards are given to top finishers in all six age groups. No football cleats allowed, only tennis shoes or turf-type shoes. Local winners will represent Canton Sunday, Oct. 5. in Oak Park. For information, call 397-1000.

COOL REMINDER: Cool temperatures are a good reminder that it's time to have your chimney cleaned. The Canton Fire Department warns that chimney maintenance is necessary in the prevention of home fires. If you don't plan to hire a professional, it's important to learn the proper cleaning methods, say fire officials.

RENAMED: Charles D. Kilpatrick of Canton has been reappointed for a term on the Michigan Potato Industry Commission, to serve until July 1. 1989. Kilpatrick, who will represent potato processors, is the plant manager for Frito-Lay Inc., Allen Park,

Crash kills Canton man

A 45-year-old Canton man was killed Monday morning when his car ran into a semi-trailer which was backing out of the Spartan warehouse on Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township

Frank Baldwin, who sustained head injuries, was dead at the scene, said Chip Snider, deputy police chief in Plymouth Township. Baldwin was going to work in Detroit when the collision occurred at 5:30 a.m., Snider said. The trucker, 48 from Evansville, Ind., was ticketed for improper backing, Snider said.

Visibility was very poor. It was still dark, hazy, and it was raining,"

Long bus rides rankle parents

By Kevin Brown staff writer

Some parents of kids who recently entered Plymouth-Canton Community Schools begindergarten program are complaining about long bus rides their 4-year-olds must endure, including 20-minute waits outside for bus transfers.

But the school system's director of transportation said the schools are doing the best they can to transport an increased number of district students this fall, adding that bus schedules become more refined as the transportation department adapts.

Several parents of the 25 children attending half-day begindergarten sessions at Miller Elementary in Canton say they'll send representatives to the Board of Education meeting tonight to discuss bus sched-

The meeting opens at 7:30 p.m. For Kathy McFall of Manton - her husband videotaped Street their twin boys first trip to school concern over bus scheduling was raised quickly. After her boys boarded the bus at 8:18 a.m., they didn't reach Miller Elementary until more than an hour later - and she lives 2.2 miles from Miller, she explained. And the boys were late for class.

AFTER THE bus picks up her children and other begindergarten students in the neighborhood, it stops at Eriksson Elementary where it drops off some 4-year-olds who wait outside as the bus leaves to pick up begindergarteners from Field Elementary, McFall said.

While buses now get the kids to Miller on time, it's the 20-minute wait outside to transfer that disturbs some parents.

"In fact, I'm damn disturbed," said Tom DiDario, father of a begindergartener attending Miller. don't know how or why they would take these youngsters and make them change buses in the middle of the stream. It's not so bad right now, but what about the wintertime when DiDario and other parents said they wouldn't be as concerned if the children were older. But they question the way their children - in the begindergarten program because they're considered either too young or too immature to handle regular kindergarten - are expected to handle tedious bus trips.

"We're saying this isn't a real good deal for a lot of these little people," said another mother, Marty Cohen of Keystone in Canton.

Dale Goby, director of transportation and safety for the district, said that some elementary students wait 30 minutes for buses, adding that several factors contribute to long bus trips for some students.

"THIS YEAR, we're less able to offer the service we've been able to offer before," he said. Contributing factors include more buses needed to transport ninth graders to the Centennial Educational Park, and expansion of classes for gifted and talented students from one school to several.

'Livonia doesn't transport those students; we come to expect that service here," Goby offered.

He added that his staff spends much time refining bus schedules, even working weekends. Should it rain or snow while students wait outside to change buses, Goby said they can find shelter at an overhang near the Miller entrance, or they can go inside the school.

cussions with school staff and administrators, "You just get the feeling they don't take you seriously or to heart . . . The way we're being sluffed off is like, 'Oh, you're just a bunch of hysterical housewives.'

"We're not out to make trouble. We're just saying, 'Couldn't some-body please look at this?'''

There are 237 students enrolled in begindergarten classes scheduled at six district schools.

$400-million-plus development begins

By Diane Gale staff writer

Construction is under way on 226 acres spanning Canton and Westland and is expected to attract about $400 million worth of development primarily in light industry and including a hotel/conference center, offices and retail businesses.

The land - at Ford Road, Lotz. Cherry Hill, John Hix and the railroad tracks - is vacant except for a lumber plant and wholesale facility owned by Weyerhaeuser Co.

"Due to the size of the park we feel we have the capability to accommodate just about any user from heavy to light industry to commercial, offices and on Ford and Cherry possibly retail," said Carlo Galuppi, president of Royal Transmissions Inc. in Fraser.

Galuppi has a purchase agreement to buy the land. The agreement was initiated about six months ago and should be final by the end of the

The property is owned by Michitech Center Limited Partnership, operated by general partner Charles Forbes. Galuppi plans to use the Michitech name.

The land and proposed roads are expected to cost in "excess of $10 million," said Galuppi, who is also Construction is expected next month on a one-half-mile strip of road on Cherry Hill north to a creek, and next spring it will be extended to Ford Road.

'We've done a lot of planning so as not to make mistakes," Wzacny said. 'We're looking at one park located on the boundaries of two communities. Both Canton's and Westland's images are tied to the development.'

About two-thirds of the land is in Westland and one-third in Canton. The majority of commercial and ho-

"But the ultimate value of the development will be about equal for both," he said. "The park is designed around strict covenants, and we're looking for attractive high-quality firms - we're talking about a highquality park.'

The proposed hotel will "undoubtedly be a chain hotel," he said.

Canton Community and Economic Development Director David Nicholson said "right now" the project is 'still in the formative stage

Man charged in apartment sex cri

staff writer

A 32-year-old Canton man has been charged with criminal sexual conduct and breaking and entering in connection with incidents at Canton Commons apartment complex.

A preliminary examination is scheduled Monday, Sept. 29, in 35th District Court for Albert Anthony Morucci, of Canton, who was arrest-Wednesday after an attempted breaking and entering at the apartment complex on Haggerty and Palmer.

Morucci was arraigned Frdiay before Judge John MacDonald who entered a plea of not guilty for him. Morucci is being held without bond in the Wayne County Jail.

Canton Officer Andrew Korbal said he spotted a man walking briskly north on Haggerty and noticed he fit the description of a suspect in other criminal cases at the complex.

Korbal said he found a small hammer, white rope and masking tape on Morucci.

HE IS charged in connection with these two incidents: • A 30-year-old woman reported that at 1:30 a.m. July 2 she heard glass breaking in the basement of the complex and got out of bed to investigate. She didn't find anything, returned ing up the stairway," the police report said. She screamed, the man put a knife against her throat and his hand over her mouth.

The man grabbed the hair at the back of her head and walked her downstairs to the basement where he lost his knife sheath. He returned to the living room and raped her.

The defendant then had her off of him and then apologized for (the) act," the police report said.

He told her to call the police, had her open the rear doorwall and left.

• In another case a 29-year-old woman reported to Canton Police that at about 11:30 p.m. she heard breaking glass in the basement but didn't think it was anything serious.

About 2:40 a.m. the next morning she was sleeping on a living room sofa and was awakened by a man standing over her. When she screamed the man pointed a knife at

Model airplane hobbyists launch air show

You won't have to go to Metro Airport to see jets take off this weekend. Try Canton.

That's where a normally tranquil field becomes a runway for ascending aircraft - the scaled down, radio-controlled variety.

For the third consecutive year, area hobbyists will show what their planes can do over the skies of southeast Canton - specifically at the northwest corner of Van Born and Lilley roads.

Don Kehoe of Canton, president of the Flying Pilgrims, a local model airplane club, is organizing the Fall Fly for Fun Phase-Out, scheduled for 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and

He said spectators can expect to see at least 40 aircraft, including jetpowered planes, reaching speeds of 125 mph.

Kehoe expects about 25 pilots for the event, drawn from model airplane clubs in southeast Michigan and Ohio. "There's no competition. It's strictly a fun-fly."

ADDED TO this year's event will be a radio-controlled helicopter, with 4-5 foot rotors and a 3-foot fuselage. Spectators also can expect the flying replicas of jets, byplanes and other aircraft.

Kehoe said model planes usually cost a minimum of $600 and can run "well over $1,000." While the planes can fly as high as 800-900 feet, operators, or pilots, usually allow the planes to reach maximum ceilings of 300 feet. Kehoe said this is so pilots can maintain visual contact "so they don't get disoriented." While most planes will take off from a 20-by-140-foot concrete runway at the site, some take off from grass. Some of the aircraft - they can weigh up to 55 pounds - have retractable landing gear.

We'll shut the flight line down for a half-hour so people can come over and talk to the pilots," said Kehoe. That went over real well last year." There is no admission charge.

Pop and hot dogs will be available at the site, and sometimes planes are offered for sale, Kehoe said.

This is St. Joe's

Our nurses have been at the heart of the spirit of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today than ever before.

As professionals, our nurses have more responsibility than ever in providing care to our patients. Their education, experience, and skill are essential in maintaining the consistently high level of healthcare service that this community has come to expect from St. Joe's since 1911.

As people, these nurses play many roles in assuring that excellent care also means compassionate care. Nurses are educators and advocates for patients. They provide comfort and reassurance. They take a special pride in carrying out the hospital's philosophy of caring for the needs of the whole person.

Not surprisingly, although there are more than a thousand nurses at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, they still think of themselves as family. Together with the medical staff and the rest of the Health Center's employees, our nurses represent the values that have made St. Joe's the hospital of choice here for so many years.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital our family is here to help yours.

ARTHRITIS DRUGS IN THE ELDERLY

What drugs used to treat arthritis are safe for the derly? The answer is: very few.
With aging, you lose your ability to eliminate drugs from your body, with the kidney and liver being particularly susceptible to harmful levels. The chance of drug toxicity is compounded if you take a number of medications. Interference between drugs may lead to dangerous concentrations of the medication by raising the blood level of the drug of

Most anti-arthritic drugs now on the market have not been in use lon enough to allow one to say with certainty that the drugs are safe for the elderly. The one exception is aspirin.

The public has been using this drug for over 100 years. To date, aspiring the remained safe when used by persons of all ages and by individuals aking a number of other medications. The physician's choice of aspirir anti-inflammatory drugs, but reflects an understanding of what is best and safest for the elderly patient.

Fighting for your life: learn how to beat alcohol and drugs

Catherine McAuley Health Center's Chemical Dependency Program and Office of Health Promotion

A free lecture series on chemical dependency and adolescents will be presented in the Community Room of the Arbor Health Building in downtown Plymouth from 7 to 8 p.m. on consecutive Thursdays from Sept. 25 through Oct. 9. No pre-registration is required.

Sept. 25 What is chemical dependency? This session defines chemical dependency as a disease and discusses the unique differences between chemical dependency in adolescents and adults. A distinction is made between "normal" adolescents and the chemically dependent adolescent. Signs and symptoms of adolescent chemical dependency are discussed.

Doctor, can you help me with my teenager? This session desgribes addiction and physical dependency with an overview of some genetic aspects. Also discussed are physical symptoms as they relate to various drugs, particularly alcohol, marijuana and cocaine.

How does substance abuse affect the adolescent and the family? This session explores many of the questions concerning adolescent alcohol and drug use. The disease concept is reviewed and an explanation of the family's involvement in chemical dependency is offered from an illness perspective. The medical aspect of chemical dependency is also discussed.

How can I get some help? Chemical dependency assessment, referral, treatment and follow-up: What can I expect? A discussion of the continuum of care and an introduction to self-help groups is given. Direction is given on how to get the appropriate help for the chemically dependent teenager.

Presenters include Neil Carolan, director of the Catherine McAuley Health Center Chemical Dependency Program; Charles Gehrke, MD, medical director of the Chemical Dependency Program; Kathleen Bishop, family counselor for the Huron Oaks adolescent unit. For more information, please call the Chemical Dependency Program at 572-4300

Stoddard defense: Feds violated their 'deal'

staff writer

A key question in banker Stanford C. Stoddard's trial is whether federal regulators violated a "deal" - his resignation as board chairman of Michigan National Corp. — in return for an end to their potentially embarrassing investigation.

"At no time was any deal ever made," said P. Stacey Powers, an attorney for the Comptroller of the Currency, the federal agency that regulates nationally chartered Stoddard's defense attorneys, however, insist there was a deal and spent several hours last week in a federal courtroom in Ann Arbor trying to prove it.

wrongdoing by resigning," answered

Why such an effort? "So it doesn't show he admitted lawyer handling Stoddard's case. At one point Roberts, in an interview, said the deal may be "not legally binding.

"But we don't concede it's not legally binding," added his associate, Sandy Comenetz. "It's not clear whether it's legally binding.'

IN TESTIMONY Friday, Stoddard's son and daughter-in-law told of a tense meeting in the elder Stoddard's Yarmouth Avenue home in Birmingham the evening after a July 18, 1984, meeting of the bank holding company's board of direc-"The board was very scared," said

Stanford D. Stoddard, the son who is now a student in the University of Virginia's graduate school of business administration.

"It was the unanimous viewpoint of the board that to satisfy the regulatory agencies, he should resign

. . The resignation would be temporary. He would not lose any salary and benefits."

He said seven directors who attended the meeting were concerned about being hit by heavy fines themselves and "adverse publicity for them, adverse publicity for the bank, adverse publicity for the Mormon Church, adverse publicity for the corporation.

THE MEETING occurred after Karen Wilson, a deputy regional director of the Comptroller's Chicago office, met with the board and reportedly said the investigation would be dropped if Stoddard would step out of the bank chairmanship.

Government attorney Powers said in an interview that "our office never entered into deals that I'm aware of" and that Wilson might have lacked authority to make such a

The government seeks to fine Stoddard $500,000 and bar him from banking for life for misallocating $150,000 in bank funds on his own homes, family weddings and Mormon church projects.

Stoddard, 55, whose father pieced together the third largest banking company in Michigan after the Great Depression, had been chairman of Michigan National from 1972 until the 1984 resignation. His bold defense — in an unprecedented public hearing he requested — is aimed at showing the government is out to get him with trivia.

TINA STODDARD, the banker's daughter-in-law, told much the same story: Directors told Stoddard "he had to resign, at least temporarily.

"He, the bank and the Mormon church would be put in the paper, Mrs. Stoddard said. "The board members were very scared. (They said) later he could be brought back into the bank.' She quoted two directors as saying two weeks and he would be back. Much of her testimony also involved a San Francisco dinner the evening before her Dec. 3, 1981, marriage to Stanford D. Stoddard.

The defense says it was businessrelated. On the witness stand, the young Stoddards pored over guest lists and said many were "business associates" of the bank chairman.

THE GOVERNMENT contends Michigan National Corp. records show it was a business dinner for the board of a subsidiary called Western Leasing and Capital Corp. Government attorney Powers contended: · Only three Western Leasing directors attended, but the guest list numbered 51. · Stoddard paid only $412 of the nearly $1,400 bill, charging off $962 as a business expense to the bank. Stoddard wrote letters of invitation on his personal stationery billing the gathering as a "small family dinner party." Other questions involved a Dec.

16, 1981, reception in Bloomfield Hills Country Club attended by some 200 people.

'Many were business associates of my father," the younger Stoddard

The trial has been going on for more than a month before Thomas Jones, an administrative law judge from Grand Rapids.

Author to speak. on Irish changes

Fans of Ireland will hear Irish author Peter Somerville-Large speak on the changes in country life at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 25.

The occasion is a meeting of the Irish American Cultural Institute in Birmingham Unitarian Church, 651 N. Woodward at Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Somerville-Large will discuss changes which 60 years of increasing technology have brought to country life. He uses the recorded voices of elderly farmers and fishermen who talk about the changes they have witnessed. Their conversation is laden with nostalgia for the past and its values

The Irish American Cultural Institute is a tri-country group with headquarters at 4193 Biddle, Wayne. Information on the non-profit group is available at 535-7425 after 5 p.m. The group sponsors lectures, concerts, social teas and films.

Child advocates honored

Madonna College will host the annual gathering of the Detroit/Wayne County Child Care Coordinating Council Thursday in Kresge Hall when new officers will be installed.

Among other announcements, a volunteer from Livonia, Debra Winkler, will be named one of three special award recipients. A parent support group volunteer coordinator, Winkler represents the Livonia Public Schools' Department of Community Education. Others receiving awards include Ellen J. Rumman, a family counselor-therapist from the Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services in Dearborn; Lila Cabbil for her work with families with special needs; and IBM Corp. for progress in meeting employee childcare needs

ENTERTAINING IN THE EIGHTIES-CASUAL, YET ELEGANT

Entertaining seems especially appropriate during the winter months when many occasions bring family and friends together. But with so much to do and so little time to do it, entertainers of the eighties need to find ways to plan, prepare and host a party using as little time as possible. The key is to choose foods that can be prepared in advance, will hold up without a lot of fuss and will satisfy the varied tastes of the guests. Buffets are the perfect answer - they're easy on hosts and give guests a nice choice whether nibbling or enjoying a full

Since time has a way of slipping by (especially during the busy holiday season), look for shortcuts when choosing a buffet menu. Have a local caterer, restaurant or supermarket deli prepare the buffet entrée. It can be as simple and delicious as a honey-baked ham or roast. sliced thin and served au natural Then you'll have more time to plan and prepare side dishes that will turn your buffet into an extraordinary dining experience.

Party foods are only as good as their ingredients, so look for special items that will delight your guests tastes...crunchy golden pecans and creamy smooth California avocados both readily available for fine winter

Pecans have long been a welcome addition to traditional dishes But today there's hardly a style of cooking or recipe (from pies to vegetable salads) where pecans aren't an asset. When stored properly, this nut will hold its freshness for up to two years! This means you can purchase pecans when the price is best and savor them in your favorite recipes all year long

California avocados add a striking golden green color to an array of buffet dishes along with a delightful fresh taste.

As an ingredient, avocados span the culinary globe from a spicy guacamole to a rich frozen dessert to a hearty loaf of bread. And of course, large crops and many varieties make California avocados an affordable luxury all year round.

When planning a buffet menu, look to the refrigerator first. Turn leftover turkev into a delicious Turkey Treasure Salad by teaming it up with such colorful gems as pecans, avocado cubes, oranges and raisins, all spiced with a curried yogurt dressing.

During a party, a good host should tend to the guests, not the food. Festive Peran Pintoheels can be prepared one or two days ahead and put out on the buffet table just before the guests arrive. A zippy cream cheese mixture with crunchy pecans, bacon bits and fresh parsley is spread onto pumpernickel bread slices, rolled and chilled, then sliced into pinwheels and served.

Brandied Pecan Spread, with its rich pungent flavor, will hold its molded shape beautifully for guests to enjoy ... even into the wee hours .

For true aesthetics, emerald green Dillin Accounts Dip served in hollowed out cherry tomato shells and topped with pecan halves will add stunning color and a cool, fresh flavor to any buffet table.

Holidays are the perfect time for good home cooking and nothing signifies that more than the aroma and flavor of a freshly baked loaf of bread. Preparing Avocado Pecan Bread is quick as any quick bread and will pleasantly surprise your guests with its rich, moist, nutty flavor. Served with butter, cream cheese or alone, it's bound to be a hit!

Spend this winter's festivities in the casual style of the eighties... with good friends and family, delicious food and plenty of time to enjoy it all.

TURKEY TREASURE SALAD

- 2 California avocados, seeded, peeled and cubed
- 2 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
- 2 oranges, peeled, sectioned and cut into bite-size pieces 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup raisins Curry Dressing, recipe follows

Combine avocado, turkey, orange pieces, pecans and raisins in large bowl. Stir in curry dressing; toss until well coated. Serve in a salad bowl lined with leaf lettuce or line individual salad plates with leaf lettuce or fresh spinach and spoon salad over. Makes about 16 appetizer servings.

Curry Dressing 1/2 cup sour cream 1/4 cup plain low-fat yogurt

2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate 1-1/4 teaspoons curry powder

Thoroughly blend all ingredients together

It's been a long time between headlines for Jennifer Rioux. college sports

And that's unusual, because the Livonia Ladywood graduate was the best distance runner in the state during her prep career and was the nafreshman, she earned All-America tional junior 1,500-meter champion. status in track. When her coach, Francie Goodridge, decided to move to Wake Forest, Rioux transferred

The move seemed to be a good one, at least initially. Rioux could not complete her first year for Wake Forest because of NCAA restrictions regarding transfers, but she ran as

As one might expect, Rioux was more than prepared for 1985. That's when disaster struck. Or perhaps just near disaster.

Only the future can decide which. Rioux suffered a stress fracture in her left leg during the 1985 track season. Her ability had just begun to resurface; she had clocked a 9:14 in the 3,000 meters at the TAC senior meet, placing 10th.

BUT THE INJURY set in motion a series of setbacks. By last fall, tendons in both of Rioux's heels were inflamed from overuse. "The problem was coming off the previous injury too fast," she said.

You could say it was very tough on me mentally. I didn't like being injured and out of shape." Rioux continued to run last fall in spite of the pain, but her performance was lackluster. She placed a poor (for her) 10th in the Atlantic Coast Conference championships which earned her all-conference honors but very little satisfaction. Rioux finally stopped training after the NCAA District III meet in injuries to heal Last weekend, Rioux made her return to cross country, and it was a success. She placed first in the nineteam Wake Forest Invitational, finshing the 5,000-meter course in 18:07.3, as the Deacons swept the top four spots and won easily. "It really was (satisfying) because Rioux took those credentials to I did exactly what the coach want University of Michigan where, as a ed," she said. "She dictated what she wanted me to do. The plan was for me to lead all the way, to slow up if I had to or speed up. I feel very confident, I had a lot left."

was a major goal in the race. De and proven ability, she was coming off an injury-plagued, poor 1985

"Right now, I'm trying to regain my self-esteem. It really took a nosedive. The reason it hit me so hard was because I had such a good (track) year (in 1985)." Last weekend's performance was uplifting, but Rioux admits she isn't all the way back. One heel has healed, but the other still causes her problems, limiting her workouts. Instead of alternating heavy (three miles in the morning, 10 in the after noon) with light (three miles in the morning, five in the afternoon, or swimming) workouts, she runs one heavy workout followed by two days

"I think, for me, I can get ready with two heavy workouts a week, she estimated. "I think by Novembe I can be ready and be competitive with anyone in the district." If that sounds cocky, it's exactly what Rioux wants. She has just one more year of eligibility after this and she plans on making the most of myself. That's when I'm at my best. That's how I was in high school. early November. She didn't run for "I really want to go to national this year. I plan on going to nation nearly three months, waiting for her als. And I want to be in the top five in the TACs."

Don't misunderstand, Rioux ha team goals, first and foremost. But along with Karen Dunn, an All-American last year for Wake Forest, Rioux is the Deacons' top runner. Her personal triumphs will weigh heavily on the team's success

Skin's on view in 'Hardbodies 2'

Only three other people were in the theater the night I saw "Hardbodies 2" (R) - and for good reason, it's a pretty dumb skin flick and not

Monday, September 22, 1986 O&E

When the definitive work is written about making movies, "Hardbodies 2" will not be featured prominently, or at all, for every element of the film - plot, characterization, acting, directing and the making of film-within-the flilm - are equally weak and simple-minded.

Mark Griffiths and Curtis Scott Wilmot — the same team who wrote the box-office success, "Hardbodies deliver another adolescent fanasy that is boring, slow-moving and has all the continuity of home movies. Griffiths also directed both, "Hardbodies," and Wilmot plays a supporting lead in Number 2 tertaining and humorous movie, but in the case of "Hardbodies 2," the maturity results in a boring skin flick - even, I am sure, for those who like skin.

Scott (Brad Zutaut) is flying to Greece with his friend and co-star, Rags (Sam Temeles), to make a movie about a gorgeous and wealthy Greek girl, Cleo (Fabiana Udenio). Cleo's father keeps her a virtual prisoner, I presume to avoid fortune hunters, although that is never clear.

Naturally, Scott falls in love with the Greek waitress, Cleo, who plays Cleo in the movie-within-the-movie. Her father (George Tzifos) keeps her isolated from the boys. As an additional complication, Scott's fiancee, Morgan (Brenda Bakke), a compulsive shopper, is along for the ride.

The potential for satiric comments on human foibles, the crazy mishaps of filmmaking and the allaround general foolishness of people finding their way in the world, are lost because Griffiths and Wilmot fail to deliver a comic punchline or cut to continuity with any semblance of intelligence.

Perhaps their greatest shortcoming is the murky distinctions they make between their film and the film-within-the-film. Both stories are so similar, the transitions so unclear and the acting so weak that there is no impact and what could have been good punchlines get lost in the cutting.

THE GRIFFITHS-Wilmot filmmaking technique may be summa-rized thusly: "When in doubt, cut to a crowd of barebreasted young la-

Most movies have something good to be said for them. In the case of "Hardbodies 2," all one can say is it has a lot of naked ladies, to the point of boredom.

Greenberg

Something interesting to be said about one of last week's films, "Good to Go," is the fact that, no matter how corny and cliched, its viewpoint is that of the black community and its resolution carries a moral victory for black, inner-city folks. That's unusual in contemporary films.

THE DETROIT Film Theatre at the Detroit Institute of Arts features three films this coming weekend. The recent (1985) Brazilian film, "Quilombo," a colorful, historical spectacle about a utopian republic founded by slaves in 17th-century Brazil, will be shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday. Otto Preminger's 1959 "Anatomy of a Murder," filmed in the Upper Peninsula with James Stewart and an all-star cast, will be screened at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Of special interest, however, is the screening of Kurosawa's "Rashomon," 1950 Oscar winner as Best Foreign Film, at 7 p.m. Sunday. "Rashomon" is notable as the film that first focused Western eyes on Japanese filmmaking. This brilliant story of a samurai, his wife and a bandit is a psychological masterpiece investigating the nature of truth and human behavior.

While I would never say any one film is "the greatest," "Rashomon" certainly should be on everybody's Top 40 - well worth a trip to the
