More teaching tools under fire

By Susan Buck

School dissenter Diane Daskalakis last week filed seven more complaints against what she says are materials that should be not be used in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

According to Dr. Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction, Daskalakis met with him and Richard Egli, community relations director, for one hour on Oct. 28 to discuss her complaints.

Daskalakis filed formal complaints against three movies, "Excalibur," "Teen Wolf" and "Ghostbusters," two books, "Rules for Radicals" and "Introduction to Zen Buddhism," an excerpt from a publication called "Kids America" by Steven Caney which, school officials say, is voluntary material made available to Isbister Elementary pupils last year; and a statement called "Ouija Board" with attached references.

DASKALAKIS CONTENTS that all the materials are anti-Christian and/or contain forms of devil worship, Homes said.

"The implication is that if you don't object to this, you are non-Christian," said Homes.

Last month, Daskalakis filed complaints against two movies, "The Sword and the Sorcerer," which was used at East Middle School last year, and the R-rated movie "The Breakfast Club" which was discussed at two recent school board meetings. Homes said that he does not know how Daskalakis obtains information about materials used in the schools but added that she has spent some time in the libraries of Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools.

Daskalakis said that parents often bring material that is used in school by their children for her perusal. "People come in and hand it to me. I pay $2,000 a year in school taxes and I don't like the tools that are being used by teachers there."

"I work very hard to earn $2,000

Kosteva, Law win re-election

Canton and Plymouth voters returned both incumbents Tuesday in the Michigan House of Representatives.

State Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth Township, defeated Kathryn Reilly in the 36th District which includes Canton while state Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, defeated challenger Theodore Jacques, Democrat from Romulus.

In Canton the Democratic Kosteva collected 1,555 votes to 908 for his Republican challenger. Districtwide in the 37th Kosteva, former planning director for Canton, strengthened his margin and defeated Jacques 10,338 to 3,751 votes.

Kosteva, whose campaign hinged on property tax cuts and reforming the school financing system, said he was surprised by the margin he and Gov. Blanchard won.

"I guess you could consider us conservative Democrats and that people are genuinely pleased with our record," Kosteva said. "Possibly the traditional Republican voters didn't come to the polls or maybe they crossed over."

LAW WON districtwide in the 36th by a margin of almost 2-1 with 11,089 to 6,096 for Reilly.

In Canton Law outpaced Reilly 4,256 to 2,950, in the city of Plymouth Law collected 1,832 to 1,008 to Reilly, and in Plymouth Township Law got 5,001 votes to Reilly's 2,131.

Although Law won handily, Reilly

election '86

ran ahead of other Democrats in key races in Plymouth and Plymouth Township. In the township Reilly collected more votes than Dean Baker in the 2nd Congressional, than Thomas Healy in the 6th Senate, and John Kopka in the 10th Wayne County Commission. In the city Reilly outpaced Kopka and Baker but ran behind Healy in his hometown.

While Reilly's performance may have been influenced by Blanchard's strong run, Democrat Kosteva clearly didn't enjoy as clear an advantage in his hometown. In the Canton vote Kosteva edged out Jacques 1,555 to 908, a comfortable victory but not as close to the almost 2-1 margin incumbent Law compiled on the GOP side.

Law, a former Plymouth Township trustee and Ford Motor Co. staff attorney, is brother of former state Rep. Robert Law. Reilly, a homemaker and former school teacher, once ran for constable in Plymouth Township.

Law first won election four years over former Wayne County Commissioner William Joyner, D-Plymouth, when the 36th was first redistricted.

Duty sends reluctant draftee to war

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Canton Township Personnel Director Dan Durack remembers well that day in late 1969 when a first draft lottery roll plunged him into the U.S. Army to fight in Vietnam.

He and other draft-age men at Michigan State University intently watched a dormitory TV to learn how lucky their birthdates really were. Birthdates drawn early in the roll guaranteed a stint in the armed forces; birthdates drawn later were granted a time reprieve.

Durack, born June 26, 1947, the oldest of seven children, knew early in the roll what his fate would be.

His number was 22.

"All the guys that I hung around with had high numbers," he said. "In November 1969, I was marching in the march on Washington, D.C. (which questioned the Vietnam War) and in January 1970, I was marching in Fort Knox, Ky."

"At that time, I was convinced that the war was not right and we should not be there. I wasn't a campus radical but I felt strongly about it. I wasn't happy that I was drafted but I felt, as an American, if you were called, you served."

"At that time, the thinking throughout the country was that we should be out. The general consensus was that the Vietnam War was a mistake."

Durack never thought about resisting.

AFTER BASIC training at Fort Knox, Durack got orders to proceed to Vietnamese language school for eight months at Biggs Field, an old Air Force base attached to Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas.

"That gave me a good hint of where I was going," Durack said wryly. "I had had Latin and French in high school (at Catholic Central High School, Detroit) and no language in college."

"When you go into the service, you get a battery of tests and I must have scored high enough on the language section to be considered."

He was the only draftee in the class. The other students were enlistees or career servicemen. Durack ended the class with a ninth grade Vietnamese proficiency.

From there, Durack was sent back to Fort Knox for an eight-week clerk school.

In March 1971, Durack arrived in Dien, Vietnam, assigned to the First Air Cavalry. Later he went to Phu

Heintz joins incumbents on county board

By Teri Banas staff writer
Northville Township Supervisor Susan Heintz lost her voice campaigning for the county commission seat to represent Livonia-Plymouth-Northville this week but she won the race, becoming western Wayne County's freshman commissioner.

Susan Heintz 10th District

Milton Mack 11th District

Kay Beard 12th District

Heintz defeated John Kopka, a Democrat from Livonia, 25,839 to 15,840 in the 10th District. Re-elected Tuesday to the county board was Richard Manning, D-Redford, who was unopposed for a ninth two-year term.

In the 12th District, Beard won by 21,410-7,280 districtwide. Challenger Cox, a retired school administrator, is an active GOP party worker who indicated he wanted to fill out the ticket this season.

Band seeks national title

The Centennial Educational Park Marching Band was runner-up band Saturday at the Western Michigan University Invitational Cavalcade of Bands in Kalamazoo.

The 12-band invitational included two of the finest bands from the mid-west: the former grand national champion Trojan Guard from Chesterton, Ind., and one of last year's grand national finalists, the Lake Park Lancer Marching Band from Roselle, Ill.

The Lake Park Band ended up being the overall champion at the WMU Cavalcade of Bands competition.

THE PLYMOUTH CEP Marching Band took top honors for its drum line with a record-breaking score of 9.7 of a possible 10 points.

The drum solo, "Paradox," written by drum line instructors Chris Johnson and Jerry Hotchkin, has received high praise from the judges throughout the season, notes James R. Griffith, band director.

The drum line, which has won every competition entered this year, includes snare drums, quads, bass drums, keyboards, cymbals, bells and an electric guitar. The instructors are Debi Goodwin and Greg Collins.

The CEP Band now will travel to Indianapolis where it will represent Michigan on Nov. 7 and 8 for the Marching Bands of America Grand National Championships.

The band will meet outstanding

The award was presented recently to Jim Schebil, owner/operator of the dealership on Ann Arbor Road at Lilley.

Eggers featured soloist at concert

The Plymouth Community Band will present a concert, "Theme and Variations," Friday night at Plymouth Canton High School.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the Canton High Little Theatre, on Canton Center Road south of Joy. Admission is free.

The featured soloist for the concert will be Carter Eggers, professor of trumpet in the Eastern Michigan University School of Music.

Eggers has just completed a semester sabbatical during which he collected nearly 100 different pieces for trumpet and band from sources around the country.

Many of these pieces are of the theme and variation type (music of various times and styles based on a theme), and Eggers will perform two of them — "Rose Variations" by Robert Russell Bennett and the "Debutante" by Edwin Franko Goldman.

The Plymouth Community Band will present the "Haydn Variations" by Johannes Brahms and the "Variations on a Korean Folk Song" by John Barnes Chance.

The concert also will include music by John Williams, the conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra and composer of film music such as "Star Wars," "Raiders of the Lost Ark" and "Superman."

The band also will perform numerous marches.

McNamara assembles county team

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Wayne County executive elect Edward McNamara's new administration has assembled a mix of some of his closest aides from Livonia City Hall as well as William Lucas' appointees for the transition ahead in January.

Sources and a number of the new appointees themselves confirmed the news of their assignments this week. McNamara aides are preparing a public announcement of the appointments Thursday.

The new executive's staff blends knowledgeable on-line appointees with city hall loyalists, and one observer said it should "work well for continuity and make the transition very smooth."

McNamara assumes the job of county executive Jan. 1, following Tuesday's general election making him the second man to fill the office.

HEADING THE list of Livonians in the new county administration is Michael Duggan, 28, his campaign manager and the man McNamara will announce as his deputy CEO.

Other Livonia city hall staffers who will be named this week to county positions include:

• David Katz, 28, McNamara's administrative assistant, is slated to become an assistant county executive in charge of liaisons with other governmental agencies.

• Jack Dodge, 56, Livonia's finance director for 16 years, will be announced as Wayne County's next chief financial officer to oversee a 200-employee department.

• Russell Gronevelt, 39, Livonia's public works director, will be named director of roads in the Office of Public Service, a position comparable to the chief of the old county road commission. A 17-year city employee, he served one year as the mayor's chief assistant.

• Edward Siemert, 56, Livonia's chief engineer/building official, will join the county staff as the head of the Office of Public Service's engineering division. Siemert retires from city government this January after 28 years.

ANOTHER LIVONIAN, Charlotte Mahoney, who works as economic development consultant for Detroit Edison, will serve as coordinator of a six-month project on economic development for Wayne County.

Mahoney, a member of the Wayne County Private Industry Council, will be "on loan" from the utility company.

Others McNamara will name this week to the central CEO staff include Lester Robinson, the county commissioner's auditor general, who is expected to be named assistant county executive in charge of administrative matters. His role will be to act directly with the county's various departments. Robinson lives in Belleville.

County commissioner Sam Turner, D-Detroit, who ran second to him in the August primary, will be appointed corporation counsel, a position currently held in a dual role by elected county prosecutor John O'Hair. O'Hair, a staunch McNamara supporter in the contested August primary, has indicated a desire to hold only one job.

Turner, 60, who gave up his commission seat to run for county executive, said this week he was looking forward to the new appointment.

"I feel it's a challenge. John O'Hair brought in some good people, and I'm taking over what is considered to be a good operation," said Turner.

It is expected that assistant Office of Public Services director James Vollman will be named to head up that area. In the Information Processing Department, Irvin Morehead, the county's budget director, will be named as director of that operation. Morehead, 38, a Detroit resident, has been with the Lucas Administration since 1984 and previous to that worked for Ingham County's government.

Vernice Davi Anthony, the current appointee heading up the department of Health and Community Services, will remain in that post.

Said Turner of the appointments so far: "Ed is looking for quality first. Then he's interested in people he knows."

Though McNamara has said he plans to employ fewer people than the Lucas Administration, he is expected to name his Detroit campaign coordinator Virginia Rollins to what will be a newly-created post — director of Metropolitan Affairs. She will serve as a liaison to municipal governments.

Rouge zinc dump case settled

State officials last week announced that a settlement has been reached involving excessive discharges of zinc into the Rouge River from the Double Eagle Steel Coating Co. facility of Dearborn.

Double Eagle is jointly owned by Rouge Steel Co. and USX Corp.

The settlement involves clean-up costs, damages and penalties, according to Attorney General Frank J. Kelley and Gordon Guyer, director of the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"To their credit," Kelley said, "Rouge Steel and USX recognized the seriousness of the past violations, engaged in responsible negotiations with my office and the DNR, and moved with dispatch to bring the Double Eagle plant into compliance with its discharge permit."

THE SETTLEMENT was contained in a consent decree filed simultaneously with Kelley's complaint in the Ingham County Circuit Court.

The complaint listed excessive discharges of zinc from the Double Eagle facility from April through August 1986.

The consent decree was approved by acting Ingham Circuit Judge William E. Collette upon motion by Kelley, representing the DNR and the attorneys for Rouge Steel Co. and USX Corp.

KELLEY GAVE this outline of the settlement:

• "The companies have agreed to pay $775,000 in penalties for past violations to the State of Michigan, in addition to $100,000 in damages.

• "They have agreed to complete a comprehensive dredging program no later than September of 1987 to remove zinc-contaminated sediments from the lower Rouge River. This dredging program may cost an additional $800,000.

• "Further, the companies are undertaking a costly engineering study to make sure that these violations are not repeated.

• "Finally, the companies have agreed to stipulated penalties of up to $10,000 per day for any future violations.

"FORTUNATELY, this was all done without the loss of one job," Kelley said.

Guyer said the settlement reflects the priority the department has placed on enforcing environmental regulations and cleaning up the Rouge River.

"We are taking every step we can to return the Rouge River to a viable, fishable, swimmable river. Every community in the Rouge watershed is working diligently to this end, as are this department and the attorney general. I am very pleased with this action," Guyer said.

Troupe prepares for play's opening

By Julie Brown
staff writer

Showtime is fast approaching for those hard at work on the Plymouth Theatre Guild production of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite." The production's three directors are optimistic about the show's readiness for an audience.

"No problems whatsoever," said Gerard L'Heureux, director of the first act of the Neil Simon comedy. "Everything's running really smoothly, so far anyways. It should be a spectacular show."

The show will be presented Fridays and Saturdays, Nov. 7, 8, 14 and 15, at Central Middle School in Plymouth. Showtime is 8 p.m.

Joan Washburn, director of the second act of "Plaza Suite," is also looking forward to the opening of the show.

"I am so proud," she said, during a Monday night rehearsal break. "It came out superbly."

Washburn isn't nervous about the opening.

"Not at all. I'm very confident." Patricia Gresock will direct the third act of the Plymouth Theatre Guild production.

Gresock said things were going very well. "It should be funny," she said.

THE FIRST act of "Plaza Suite" involves the characters of Karen and Sam Nash, a couple married 24 years, or perhaps 23, returning to their honeymoon suite. Cathy Fife and Robert Regan will play Karen and Sam.

In the first act of "Plaza Suite," Sam Nash is getting tired of his relationship with his wife. He begins to have an affair with "the other woman." Jean McCormack, Elizabeth Martin will play Jean McCormack, with Bill Regan appearing in the cameo role of the bellhop.

When Karen Nash finds out about Sam's affair, he expects her to be angry. Karen, however, reacts by being understanding. Sam is so angry at her reaction that he leaves.

Although the audience doesn't see Sam come back to Karen, that possibility is left open.

"They're left with a glimmer of hope," said L'Heureux, the first act's director.

The second act involves a famous Hollywood producer, Jesse Kiplinger, who is planning a rendezvous with Muriel Tate, his high school sweetheart. Jesse and Muriel will be played by Tom Hinks and Nancy Schuster.

"And they've done a marvelous job," Washburn, the director, said. "It shows their professionalism."

THE THIRD act of "Plaza Suite" deals with Norma and Roy Hubley, two anxious parents trying to coax their daughter, Mimsey, out of the bathroom on her wedding day.

Patti Jones and Michael Gresock will play the anxious parents, with Delaine Williams appearing as Mimsey. Robert Regan will play the bridegroom-to-be, Borden Eisler.

Wonderland reopens — officially

Wonderland Mall celebrates its reopening with a four-day schedule of activities now through Sunday. Wonderland was acquired by Schostak Brothers & Co. in 1983. In the last two years, Schostak has invested $30 million in enclosing, renovating and expanding the mall to nearly one million square feet of retail space. New stores in the mall include Dunham's, Gantos Boutique, B. Dalton Booksellers, United Health Spa and Wonderland Theaters.

Convenience: food industry's mandate

By Carolyn Smith
special writer

The state's growing food service industry will continue offering customers more conveniences and hassle-free experiences.

That's the prediction of John D. Correll, chairman of the board of the Birmingham-based Michigan Restaurant Association.

Correll, a Canton Township resident, also is vice president of development of RPM Pizza, Livonia, which owns 74 of the 80 Domino's Pizza stores in the metropolitan area.

He predicts the state's restaurant and food service business will post 1986 sales of about $4.3 billion, a gain of 7 percent over last year. National sales are expected to increase by 6.5 percent over the same period.

More restaurants and stores are catering to the customer's need for convenience.

"Nobody wants less convenience. We all try to avoid even the smallest hassle," Correll said.

Owner of an independent pizza establishment in Westland two years ago, he recalled ordering pizza that was delivered by Domino's rather than driving 20 minutes to pick up a free pizza from his own store.

Offering another example of resistance to hassles, Correll switches the scenario to the fast-food restaurant. The customer returns a hamburger because it has the wrong condiments. And then he or she waits.

"It's two or three minutes of waiting, so it's not a big deal. But the customer feels anxious, ignored, forgotten, as though the restaurant worker doesn't care."

MARKET SURVEYS attribute sales increases to growing numbers of two-income families and aging people.

"The working woman doesn't have time or energy to cook a family meal, so it's a question of getting the easy meal on the table," Correll said. The aging population has the time and the money to eat out.

The need for fast, dependable service and quality food at an affordable price has generated many changes in the industry.

Owing to an awareness Correll believes was started by McDonald's, other restaurants are cashing in on the breakfast trade. Major chains, table-service and cafeteria-style restaurants are opening their doors earlier to welcome customers.

"Some of these people have suddenly realized Mom was right when she said it was healthy to have a good breakfast."

There's also an increase in the number of table-service restaurants offering packaged takeouts. Hogan's and Richard & Reiss restaurants in Birmingham and the Golden Mushroom in Southfield package items from their upscale menus. Detroit's London Chop House delivers carryouts in a limousine. Many family restaurants also offer takeout service.

Supermarkets have responded to demands for convenience. In addition to ready-to-cook items such as stuffed chickens and shish kebab, store delicatessens sell soup, salads, desserts and hot side dishes and entrees by the pound.

Also biting into the market are convenience stores and gas stations. Some 7-Eleven stores, for example, sell a variety of sandwiches. And some of the larger Speedway gas stations offer everything from breakfast sandwiches to catfish dinners. There are 142 items on the Speedway menu.

Area bullish on building

Residential building permit issuance climbed to a seven-year high in southeast Michigan for the first six months of 1986, according to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

In Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties, 1986 six-month totals are down from 1985 levels. Residential building is down 12.1 percent in Wayne, 9 percent in Oakland and 8.6 percent in Washtenaw. But Oakland still led the region's seven counties in total permits issued for the first six months of this year.

For the seven-county area, 11,202 permits were issued, a 12.6 percent increase from the same period in 1985. The increase is the highest since 11,428 permits were issued for the same period in 1979.

Four of the seven counties show increases. Livingston led with a 62.2 percent increase over 1985, followed by Macomb with 61.8, Monroe with 46.4 and St. Clair with 37.9.

Sterling Heights led the region with 708 total residential building permits issued in the first six months of 1986. Sterling Heights recorded a total of 380 single family permits and a total of 328 multiple family permits. Rochester Hills led the region in single family permits with 468. Southfield had the highest number of multiple family permits issued with 500.

The top 10 communities of Sterling Heights, Rochester Hills, Clinton Township, Farmington Hills, Southfield, Shelby Township, West Bloomfield Township, Warren, Northville Township and Livonia accounted for 5,043 permits, 45 percent of the total permits issued in the region.

Corporate directors face new liabilities

Serving in the corporate board room may be hazardous to a director's financial health, according to a corporate law specialist. "Corporate America has been hit by a double whammy," said Robert Profusek, a Dallas-based partner specializing in takeovers and corporate governance matters. He is in the international law firm of Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue. The twin blows: A series of court decisions that have significantly eroded the legal protections afforded people who serve on boards of directors, potentially jeopardizing their personal fortunes and reputations. Some have felt forced to resign or refuse to take jobs as directors. Companies increasingly are unable to obtain adequate liability insurance for their directors and officers. New legislation will be required to restore the necessary protection, he said. "THE VERY quality of corporate governance in America could be at stake," Profusek said. "While the board of directors is ultimately responsible for overseeing the company's profit-making function for its stockholders, a company and its directors also have other constituencies - including employees, customers and suppliers, and the communities in which the company is located." Federal and stock exchange rules require that large, publicly owned companies have a majority of directors who are not employed by the company. "Outside" directors, as they are called, bring an unbiased or independent perspective to the company's affairs. "ONE POSSIBLE outcome of all the uncertainties caused by recent adverse legal developments is that we may end up with professional directors, which is similar to what exists in some other countries," Profusek said. "However, we would lose much of the benefit of having a board of directors made up of a cross-section of the business community, such as a bank president, the CEO of another public company, or a distinguished business professor. They bring new ideas and enthusiasm to the boardroom." "Until the current wave of hostile takeovers, the law was such that directors were assured they didn't have any personal liability at stake when they were acting in their capacity as directors, unless they did something clearly improper or illegal." "The 'Business Judgment Rule' basically protected directors when they were challenged by stockholders over making decisions that turned out to be wrong after the fact. The idea was that courts really aren't very well equipped to decide in retrospect whether decisions by directors, which frequently must be made with less than perfect information, were right."

Albino birds are easy prey

WHENEVER we look at a robin or a chickadee in the yard, they all look very much alike. There may be natural differences between males and females in some species, but even all males and all females look the same. Through time, the coloration and structure of each species has become adaptive for that species in their environment. Individuals that vary from that norm are unlikely to survive. Birds, mammals, or plants that are different from the majority of the population stand out from the crowd. A GENTLEMAN from Warren sent some photographs of a house sparrow seen in his neighborhood that had some unusual white spotting on its feathers. This bird was a partial albino. In birds, albinism can range from a pure white, with red eyes and red legs, to a normally colored with only a few white feathers. The white feathers lack pigment. That is caused by the inability to produce an enzyme. Brown-colored birds show signs of albinism more than orange or yellow colored birds. In fact, robins and house sparrows show the greatest number of albinos found in North American birds. We had a white spotted robin in our neighborhood last spring. IF YOU HAPPEN to see a partial albino bird, you will notice that the white areas are symmetrical on both sides of the individual. It may be only one or two tail feathers, but the white pattern will be the same on the right side as on the left side. Some birds that do not show symmetrical white spotting may have developed white feathers as a result of an injury. Animal bites or cysts on the feather tracts of a bird have been known to cause white, unpigmented, feathers in the affected area. White spotting disrupts the normal adaptive coloration of the bird, and thus many albinos are likely to fall prey to predators more readily.

Truck toll up

Many truckers have a love-hate feeling about new electronic weigh-in-motion scales installed by the Michigan Department of Transportation along the I-75 freeway just north of the Ohio border. They love the way they can roll through the scales at 10 to 20 miles an hour without getting tied up in long lines. They hate it when the high-tech scales detect a load that's over the weight limit. A lighted sign directs violators to a static scale where the overweight is confirmed. Then the entire rig is inspected for safety defects by a State Police motor carrier officer. "THESE state-of-the-art devices represent part of our commitment to reduce truck accidents on highways," said James Pitz, state transportation director. "Truck accidents in Michigan have increased more than 50 percent the last two years" he said. "I'm sure one reason is because truck traffic is up significantly. But there are other reasons, and one of them is unsafe vehicles. "In no way do I mean to indict the overall trucking industry for unsafe vehicles. But I do feel some truckers knowingly take chances, operating vehicles with safety defects. "For the sake of saving a few dollars in repair costs, some truckers will postpone repairs." I.T. BILL MOHR of the State Police Motor Carrier Division said the new scales on both the northbound and southbound freeway are weighing up to 400 trucks an hour in each direction. "We're writing lots of tickets for weight and safety violations," he said. They include such things as defective lights, brakes and coupling devices and cracked frames. MDOT built the two scales and adjoining facilities for $4.5 million. "It's money well spent," said Pitz. "The technology and geometrics of this new station, compared to the old one down the highway, are like a modern automobile compared to a Model-T. In efficiency and workability, there just isn't any comparison. And dead time for truckers is reduced considerably." Two more weigh-in-motion stations are under construction on the busy I-94 freeway - at New Buffalo near the Indiana border and near Grass Lake east of Jackson. PLANNED INCREASES in the size of the State Police Motor Carrier Division also will help the truck safety program.

Congress' spending on self grows fastest

By Richard G. Thomas special writer

Lawmakers who tout themselves as deficit-busters on Capitol Hill are unlikely to cite record-breaking House and Senate operating budgets for fiscal 1987 to document their claim.

One of Congress' parting acts was to approve a new legislative branch appropriations bill. Compared to the Pentagon budget and three times faster than inflation.

LAWMAKERS actually approved hefty increases for their own travel, mailing costs, committees, furniture, telecommunications and other elements of the legislative branch budget.

BY CONTRAST, the Defense Department budget was increased by slightly more than 1 percent from 1986 to 1987.

Steve Holt did a credible job running the Salem offense in place of injured quarterback Chris Hill this season.

Sadness, gladness

Emotions mixed on CEP grid year

There are two ways to look at the just-completed Centennial Educational Park football season. The optimists will say: "Both teams should be proud. Plymouth Salem won three more games than it did last season and should have won a couple of others. Plymouth Salem was probably the most respected 3-6 team in southeastern Michigan."

The crabby cynic will say: "Don't tell me how they should have won more than they did. And don't tell me how they were in every game. Both teams were 3-6, mediocre and near the bottom of their respective Western Lakes divisions."

Since it's November, and this is an election year, I'm going to stand somewhere in between those two schools of thought.

Like the crabby cynic, I was disappointed in the CEP football season. Let's face it, Plymouth Salem was too good a football team to finish 3-6. And Plymouth Canton was especially distressing. Off to a 2-0 start, a first-ever .500 season seemed inevitable. But the team, like all other Canton teams, crashed.

Why? Only first-year coach Bob Khoenle knows for sure, but I'll give you my theory, anyway. I think the team overestimated how good it was after the 2-0 start. You got the feeling the Chiefs thought they were world-beaters and began to take teams like Walled Lake Western and Franklin and Farmington lightly. Just a theory.

DESPITE THE disappointments, it's hard to ignore the many positive things that happened. The fact that Canton won three games after a winless, confidence-crushing 1985 season should not be discounted. Nor should Salem's resiliency: losing its starting quarterback just before the season opener, losing its season opener 49-0 to Trenton, and losing five games by a total of 19 points, the Rocks refused to quit.

Both coaches were proud of their football teams. Said Salem's Tom Moshimer: "Not counting our 9-0 teams, this has been the most enjoyable group of kids I've coached. I never had a team that practiced as hard as this team. They came to play every day. They never gave up on themselves or what we were trying to do. And we went a long way with a lot of juniors. I'm looking forward to next year." Said Khoenle: "The kids have come along well. I'm proud of the kids."

AT THE SAME time, both coaches will look back on certain events of the 1986 season and cringe.

- Salem loses 7-6 to Churchill. First-team kicker Brian Storm is out with an injury. Salem misses a potential game-tying PAT in the final quarter. "Hindsight tells me that maybe I should have tried for two," Moshimer said afterward.

- Salem completely dominates Livonia Stevenson but loses 16-15. Salem racked up 327 yards in total offense to Stevenson's 101. Salem missed an opportunity to tie the game in the final seconds when the snap on a 22-yard field goal attempt was mishandled.

- Canton's third straight loss, a 14-7 overtime setback to previously winless Livonia Franklin, was a killer. The Chiefs turned the ball over eight times. The term self-destruction again aligned itself with the Canton team.

- Salem loses a 6-0 game to lowly Farmington. A pass interception leads to the lone score.

- Canton's defense shackles Western Lakes powerhouse Farmington Harrison, but the offense again sputters. Canton loses 7-0.

- Salem outplays John Glenn. The defense beats up the normally high-powered Rocket offense, forcing four turnovers. Salem loses 3-0.

- Canton suffers an ugly 15-7 loss to Farmington. Four turnovers lead to the Chiefs' demise. Farmington wins three games all season, two vs. CEP.

You see, it's kind of tough to be 100 percent upbeat about the 1986 season.

BUT LET'S recognize some of the heroes.

For Salem: Chris Hill. The quarterback who broke his leg made a remarkable recovery and played in the team's final two games. Talk about desire. Leonard Bowe. The 5-6, 205 bulldozer was probably the best two-way player at Salem since Scott Jurek. Joe Jouppi. Probably the most punishing hitter to wear a Salem uniform since, well, Scott Jurek. Kurt Urban. A throwback to the Salem glory days. A tough, rugged lineman who symbolized Rock-pride.

For Canton: Scott Browne and Wes Johnson. I thought these were two of the most active and aggressive defensive linemen I had seen all season. Tony Boucher. An excellent football player. Period. Joel Riggs. How come I have a feeling this guy could be one of the premier running backs in the area next season?

In the final analysis, 1986 wasn't a horrible football season. It lacked one element: consistency. In fact, the only consistent thing about CEP football this season was the voice of CEP football, Paul Sincocock. Every game his lordly voice could be counted on to excite and humor the crowd. He, along with his press box compatriots Dave Workman and Mike Primeau, could also be counted on to badger and abuse a certain local sports writer. See you next year, men. At least once or twice.

Roger Trice is one reason why Canton is optimistic about next season.

Canton vs. Salem for league crown

The Plymouth Salem girls basketball team has been on somewhat of a pleasure cruise the past three weeks. The 66-25 romping against Livonia Franklin Tuesday was the fifth consecutive lopsided win for the Rocks.

That'll end tonight. The Rocks will travel to Westland John Glenn tonight. If they covet an undefeated Western Lakes season — the Rocks have long ago clinched the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes — they better come to play.

"It's certainly going to be something we are looking forward to," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "We need to play somebody who can do all the things to challenge us. John Glenn has got good size, good quickness and good athletic ability. They have all the things they need to test you. And that's exactly what we need. We need to be tested."

Glenn, whom Salem beat 47-45 Oct. 9, blasted Livonia Churchill 80-34 Tuesday.

Salem, 15-0 in the league and 17-1 overall, got a potent balanced attack against Franklin Tuesday. Dena Head led the way with 16 points, Jessica Handley added 15, Keri McBride scored 11, Kristen Hostynski 10 and Jill Estey eight.

Cathy Cruz (eight) and Cathy Curnow (six) led the Franklin scoring. The Patriots are 4-11 in the league and 4-13 overall.

CANTON 71, STEVENSON 25: With this victory Tuesday, Plymouth Canton clinched outright its second consecutive Western Lakes Western Division championship.

The Chiefs (11-4 in the league, 12-6 overall) raced out to a 20-1 lead after one quarter and led 40-8 at halftime.

girls basketball

Karen Boluch scored 16 points to pace Canton. She also pulled down 12 rebounds. Tory Barger added 12 points and Vicki Ferko chipped in 10. Sophomore Amanda Bell and junior Michelle Fortier each scored 10.

23 points.

W.L. CENTRAL 90, HARRISON 12: Farmington Harrison trailed 23-0 after one quarter, 43-2 at the half and 63-2 after three quarters.

"We're feeling good," said Canton coach Rob Neu. "We've won six straight and the division title. We're getting excited about the chance to play for the Western Lakes championship."

Pam Fitzgerald (18) and Kelly O'Hanten (16) led Central (13-4). Stephanie Kallen scored five for the winless Hawks.

Jessica Handley scored 15 in Salem's win against Franklin Tuesday.

Canton and Salem will vie for the title next week. The game is presently scheduled for Thursday, but the game could be switched to Friday. Canton's game tonight against Northville will be played at Salem's gym.

Denise Vince led Stevenson (5-13) with nine.

NORTHVILLE 57, FARMINGTON 36: Things aren't getting any easier for the Falcons. Tuesday, they played without three starters: Becky Philp, Tracey Jourdan and Karen Jenkins.

Carrie Hale (14 points) and Stacy Swanderski (10 points, 10 rebounds) led the Farmington cause. The Falcons dip to 1-17 on the season.

Tricia Ducker led Northville with

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FLASHBACK

One year ago, another football season ended at the Centennial Educational Park. Final score: Salem 33, Canton 0. Salem gained 290 total yards against a normally stingy Canton defense, 273 on the ground. Canton mustered 24 yards total and just one first down on the night. Still, the Chiefs had their standout players, especially on defense. Olszewski, Wood, Derrin Brege and Brian Gothard were in on the majority of tackles. For Salem (3-6), Makara carried the ball 22 times for 92 yards. He was also a contributor on defense. Piwko gained 59 yards in eight carries and Sumner chipped in 48 in seven.

Falcons runners-up at state

By Chris McCosky staff writer

"Initially, there was great disappointment," said Farmington boys coach Jerry Young, whose team finished second to Swartz Creek at the state meet in Flint. "To lose by just seven points, the kids were thinking, 'Boy, if only I did this, or if I could've done that.'"

THE BOYS individual winner in the team race, for the second straight year, was Monroe's Todd Williams (15:08.32). Farmington's Chris Inch placed fourth (15:40.64). "Chris was disappointed," Young said. "He would have liked to have finished higher. But he ran his best time ever. Four of our seven runners ran personal bests."

Jay Swiecki from Plymouth Canton placed 49th in the Class A individual cross country race last Saturday in Flint.

CC wins grid finale

Bob Malleck closed out his high school football career as a hero. The senior kicker booted a 22-yard field goal in the first overtime and then added a 27-yarder, the game-winner, in the second OT to give Redford Catholic Central a season-ending 20-17 victory over Madison Heights Bishop Foley in a game played Sunday at Clarenceville.

ST. AGATHA 34, HOLY CROSS 9: Redford St. Agatha closed out its season with a winning record (5-4), trouncing Marine City Holy Cross in a game played Sunday at Redford Union's Kraft Field. The Aggies roared out to a 27-0 half-time lead and coach John Goddard emptied the bench in the second half.

Buck fever hits in strange ways

By Bill Parker staff writer

The sun was already below the horizon and a blanket of darkness was quickly covering the woods. I was walking down a two-track approach my hunting partner's blind on my way back to camp when I saw the buck. He was Boone-and-Crockett all the way. He was walking along a trail which angled away from me but would send him to within feet of the stand my companion was in.

"DID YOU see it? Did you see it?" he asked hysterically. "Of course I saw it. He was too big not to see. Why didn't you drop him," I asked. The color began to return to his cheeks as he broke into a scarlet blush. "I believe it," he said, hanging his head sheepishly on his chest. "I watched him for three or four minutes until he got close enough for a clear shot. I was shaking like a tree but I set my sights on him and away he went. Two quick shots. I don't know how I missed."

Glenn wins in rout

By Bill Parker staff writer

If Tuesday's game between Westland John Glenn and Livonia Churchill was any indication of what the Rockets are capable of, tonight's clash between Glenn and Plymouth Salem should be a real barn burner. The Rockets would like nothing better than to avenge an earlier season two-point loss to Salem. And they warmed up Tuesday night with an impressive 60-34 victory over the visiting Chargers.

people in sports

when he graduated from Canton. "Not at all," he said. "For me it's a dream come true. A lot of my friends were getting all sorts of offers and I wasn't getting anything. Coach (Bob) Khoenle helped me a lot."

Canton's Santilli ignites Bulldogs

By C.J. Risak staff writer

In a nine-game college football season, one play rarely amounts to much. Sure, there are plays that rate the label "big." But what Matt Santilli did for Adrian College in its 24-10 upset of Albion College Saturday probably won't even rate an honorable mention in a season-long list of key plays.

Harrison's foe: Riverview

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Farmington Harrison vs. Riverview. First round, state Class B football playoffs. Very intriguing match. Consider: • Both Harrison coach John Herrington and Riverview coach Don Lessner have in excess of 20 years of coaching experience. Both are among the movers and shakers of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association. We have a mutual admiration society here.

FACT SHEET

WHAT: Class B pre-regional football game. WHO: Farmington Harrison (8-1) vs. Riverview (8-1). WHEN: 1:30 p.m. Saturday. WHERE: Riverview High School. Note: In the event of bad weather, the game could be moved to North Farmington High School (10 miles west of Orchard Lake). The decision to move the site would be made on Friday by Farmington athletic director Ron Hennrich.

Glenn happily returns to the party

By Brad Emmons staff writer

Chuck Gordon, the Westland John Glenn football coach, can't hide his enthusiasm. "We're going back to the party," he said, referring to the state Class A playoffs, which begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at home against Ypsilanti. "With only two starters back each way (offensively and defensively), there was no way we could envision going back to the playoffs."

for nearly 1,000 yards and accounted for over 1,700 in all-purpose yards. At Monday night's All-Observer football meeting, Glenn defensive coordinator Jeff Mate described Douglas as "scary."

second runs

By Louise Okrutsky
special writer

Give a child a paint box, and you'll end up washing paint off the walls. Give Ted Turner the computer colorization process, and you can only wish you could wash the color off.

Turner, the man who brought us superstation WTBS and the Cable News Network, is determined to indiscriminately spray paint on the more than 100 black and white films his concern owns.

It makes as much sense to decide Whistler's mother ought to be wearing a magenta dress or that Greta Garbo's hair should be colored blonde in Edward Steichen's famous 1920 black and white photograph. Many of the movies scheduled to be colored were filmed in black and white for artistic reasons.

But why let that stand in the way of making a few bucks? Locally, the movies will be shown on WKBD-TV, Channel 50. On Halloween, the station aired the color version of "Night of the Living Dead." Here's a list of other films, some with an almost cult following, that are on the colorization hit list:

"IT'S A WONDERFUL Life." Frank Capra's 1946 Christmas card to the world didn't do wonderfully at the box office but, like "The Wizard of Oz," it's managed to claim a small part of our hearts during the holiday season. James Stewart plays a small-town banker on the edge of financial and personal ruin. Who else but Stewart could make us even consider believing that a bumbling guardian angel could make him see how miserable others would be if he had never been born?

That gloomy December night Stewart plows through the small town considering suicide won't look any gloomier or more forsaken in color. Channel 50 airs the movie in color on Wednesday, Nov. 26.

The cast also includes Donna Reed, Lionel Barrymore, Beulah Bondi and Ward Bond. They can still be seen in glorious black and white on videocassette.

"Casablanca." A few years back, television tried to tamper with this one by presenting David Soul as Rick in a series set in wartime Casablanca. You'd think people would learn to leave well enough alone. It died a swift, merciful death.

The color version ought to vanish just as quickly, if there's justice in the world. Somehow the thought of seeing the newsreel-like maps in the beginning of the movie in added-on color doesn't sound as if it will provide new insight or pleasure. Ingrid Bergman's Ilsa is radiant without color. Humphrey Bogart's performance in the film makes it just about everyone's favorite movie. Here again, videocassettes will come to the rescue of a few injured sensibilities.

DISNEY, WHICH watches over distribution and ownership of its films like the proverbial hawk, added color to its 1961 comedy "Absent Minded Professor." For those who missed wearing a set of Mousketeer ears, the movie features the 1960s favorite television dad, Fred MacMurray, as a slightly nutty professor who invents flubber, a substance that ultimately makes the college basketball team jump higher than the competition.

Disney movie regulars, Keenan Wynn, Tommy Kir, Ed Wynn and Leon Ames, are on hand.

Unlike Turner, Disney was mindful of its audience and asked subscribers to its cable-television magazine what they thought flubber ought to be. The vote came in. Flubber is kind of a grey, which makes one wonder why they bothered coloring this one, at all.

Certainly color doesn't detract from or add to this film, but the process hasn't been perfected yet. Sure this is a cute, coy Disney movie. Sure, it would die if it were made today. But for a generation, its main appeal is nostalgia — remembering when they conjoined Mom and Pop to take them to the movies.

'Wearables' threaded in artistry

By Marie McGee
staff writer

PONTIAC ISN'T the only one building excitement — as the auto commercials imply.

The Ann Arbor Art Association does a pretty good job at it too — using a vehicle of its own creation engineered on assembly lines across the state.

It's called "Wearables," a fashion show that showcases the work of fiber and surface design artists. This year's show spotlighted the works of 28 Michigan artists designers. Four were from this area.

This year the excitement began to build the moment the audience scrambled for seating in the ballroom of the Ann Arbor Inn. It heightened as the choreographed show began to unfold to the oohs and ahhs of the capacity crowd.

Again this year, the excitement peaked at the show's finale when all the clothes are available for sale — and the mad rush is on to be the first in line.

THIS YEAR'S SHOW began on an eye-riveting start as all eyes concentrated on statuesque — and statue-like — models clad in black body suits em-
