The Canton Connection

PLANS READY:

Residents are invited to have a look at the plans for the new Canton Public Library building beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 19, at the library. Claire McLaughlin, grants coordinator and librarian, will describe plans for services and the design of the library building. Questions on making the most of the library's present collections and services also will be answered. Register to attend by calling the library at 397-0999 or sign up in person.

LEARNED FEAR:

Parents usually are the main source of children's fears about dentists, according to Dr. James Gusfa, Canton resident who heads the dentistry department at Henry Ford Medical Center/Fairlane.

"Comments such as 'Don't worry, it won't hurt too much,' or 'If you're good, it won't hurt,' are statements that focus on the negative," says Dr. Gusfa. "Intentionally or not, these can pressure a child into being scared of the dentist."

The caution was shared now because February is National Children's Dental Month, which the Fairlane center observed by offering free balloons and coloring books to children. To make a child's first dental checkup more positive, Dr. Gusfa offers these tips:

Adults should set an example by maintaining proper dental health; adults with dental problems should watch their conversations around their children — don't use words indicating pain or discomfort; approach your children's first visits in a casual manner by telling them they are going to "meet new friends and get their teeth counted"; start taking children to the dentist around their third birthday (earlier if problems arise).

SPEAKING OF

YANKERS: Molly Molar is once again on patrol at Plymouth-Canton schools as our local plaque-buster.

In observance of National Children's Dental Health Month, she is armed with multiple selections of healthy nonsugary snacks. Molly is teaching children at all elementary levels proper brushing and flossing techniques, along with general dental terms such as plaque, decay and fluoride.

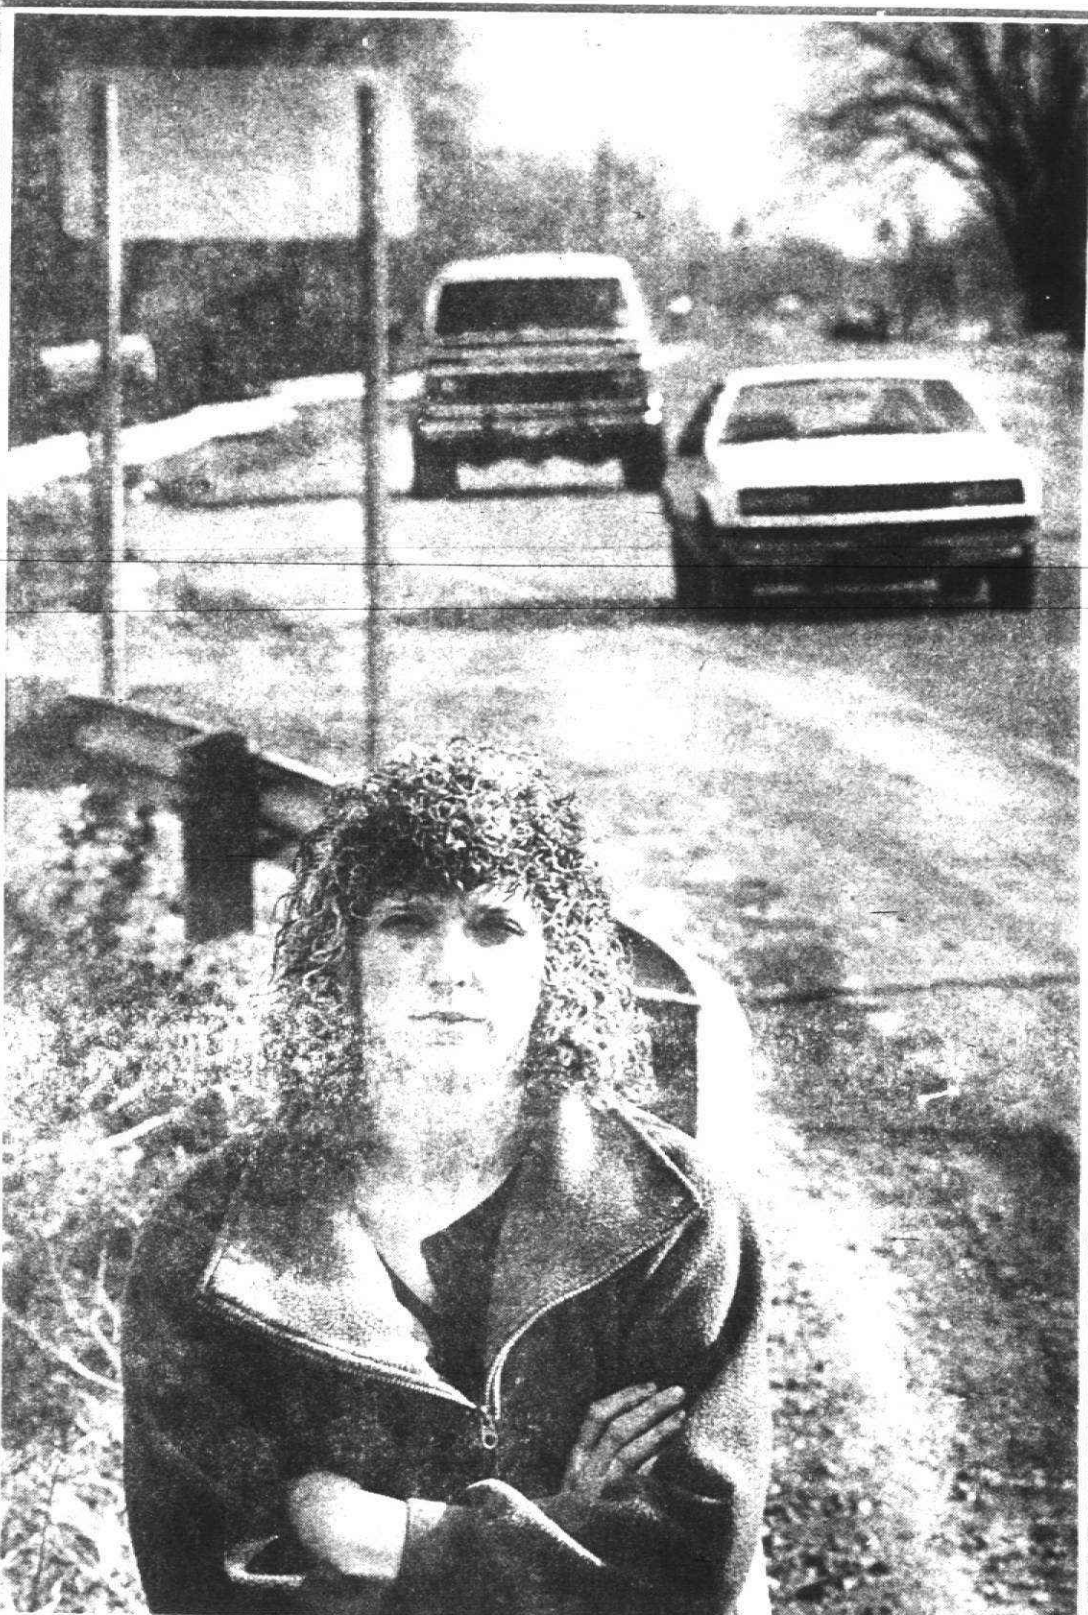

Molly has been out on the road for good oral health with the help of the hygiene staff of Willow Creek Dental Clinic on Lilley in Canton. The hygienists, Marianne Pink, Robin Kingsley, Diane Smith and Carolyn Kostegian, also have been speaking with parent groups about how to help children feel good about going to the dentist.

Among the schools to be visited by Molly the Molar this week are Isbister today and tomorrow and the kindergarten class at Gallimore tomorrow.

LOOK AT FUTURE:

Junior Achievement students from the Plymouth center recently heard guest speaker Marshall Loeb, managing editor of Fortune magazine, speak on the subject "The Economy of 1987 — and Beyond" at the Economic Club of Detroit luncheon in Cobo Hall. The students were the guests of Ray D. Eisbrenner & Co. at the luncheon as part of JA Week Jan. 26-30. Eisbrenner is a JA board member.

Students attending were Aleda Aryan of Plymouth Salem High, Colleen Burd of Lowell Middle School, James Phillips of West Middle, Michael Dempsey of Lowell Middle. The advisers of the Plymouth center are Mark Wulkusky and Hal Sortokke.

Sally Lysakowski won't let her children play in her front yard because she fears cars failing to negotiate the S-shape curve may end up on the lawn.

Road improvements promised

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Conditions on a "dangerous" Cherry Hill stretch of road will be improved sometime this year, Wayne County officials promise.

The action is in response to the large number of accidents near an S-shaped curve west of Hix and east of Lotz.

Last year the county widened the road, paved shoulders, erected guard rails and posted new signs in an effort to help drivers negotiate the curve.

But the work doesn't seem to be enough for residents in the area. Citing numerous accidents, they say conditions are poor. Some residents have started a letter-writing campaign to local and county officials to complain.

"What I'm scared about is they'll wait until a bus gets it," said Joni Stachowski, who owns a home near the curve.

HER NEIGHBOR Sally Lysakowski said she won't let her children play in the family's front yard.

"I'm afraid if someone goes off the curve they'll end up on my front porch," Lysakowski said.

School tax renewal vote on Tuesday

A special election will be held Tuesday to decide a millage renewal for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Two proposals will be on the ballot — the first to renew 10.36 mills, the second to seek approval to levy the authorized levy.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. E.J. McClendon, school board president, stresses that neither involves a millage increase.

"The first proposal asks permission to continue levying a portion of the millage already being collected," he said Friday, "and the second seeks approval to levy the full millage already authorized by voters."

PROPOSAL I, if approved, would allow the renewal of 10.36 mills ($10.36 per $1,000 state equalized valuation or SEV) for 10 years. The 10.36 mills is now being levied.

The renewal represents 28 percent of the school district's total operating budget. If defeated, the district would lose almost $11 million.

If approved, the renewal in itself would not result in any tax increase.

The 10.86 mills expired in 1986, and voters must approve continuing school taxes at the current rate.

PROPOSAL II is the result of the Headlee Amendment to the Michigan Constitution.

The Headlee amendment provides school districts and municipalities must get voter approval to collect its full authorized levy whenever the value of the property in the district increases faster than the cost of living.

Since the Headlee amendment was passed, the school district has had to seek voter approval twice to collect the full authorized levy. In 1980 approval was given; in 1981, it was denied.

The district collects taxes of 37 mills and would continue to if both proposals were approved.

School officials aren't sure yet how much they would have to reduce the tax rate by if Proposal II does not pass because they don't yet know the district's total value. Municipalities don't have to report their SEV totals until March 1 and so the district won't know how much SEV exceeds cost of living until sometime after that.

Canton scores with tournament

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Canton's reputation is expected to score by a yearly sports event.

The Canton Soccer Club Invitational will host 200 teams at one of the largest soccer tournaments in the country.

About 4,000 players — from teams all over Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Canada — will compete May 22-24 on fields throughout Canton. May 25 is designated a rain day.

Every year the number of teams involved increases, said Phil LaJoy, tournament director. In 1986 there were 186 teams.

PREDICTING MOST players will bring family members, about 11,000 people from outside the community are expected to be in Canton for the fifth annual event, said Mike Gouin, parks and recreation superintendent. It's considered one of Canton's largest annual crowd-drawing events.

More officers will be on duty directing traffic, as well as patrolling parking lots and fields, said Lt. Alex Wilson, patrol division commander.

Tim Ford, chamber of commerce president, said in the past hotels and motels reported an increase in business during the soccer tournament weekend. However, restaurants and retail businesses "have not seen a significant change" in sales during the event, Ford said.

"Each participant gets a T-shirt," said Bob Dates, recreation supervisor.

"Believe it or not you see those shirts all around — at shopping malls, Cedar Point, and I was at Disney World last year and saw a little boy with that shirt."

"It's good public relations for Canton Township, and not just for the recreational sport. The benefits are three-fold — there's involvement from the community, it lets people see soccer played competitively and it serves as a fund-raiser for the soccer club."

LAST WEEK the Canton Township Board of Trustees approved $13,000 for T-shirts.

Treasurer Gerald Brown said he believed the club should become self-sufficient at some time. However, he voted for the expenditure.

"I see it as a promotional item to the community," said trustee Bob Padgett.

Last year, Canton's soccer club made $23,000 from the tournament which pays for uniforms and equipment. Some of the money is given back to the township by making improvements to Canton fields, like erecting goal posts.

The club has committed $15,000 from last year's profit for an in-ground irrigation system at Canton's recreation complex behind township hall. Work on the irrigation system is expected to begin this year, Dates said.

Project gets high marks

By Sue Mason
staff writer

Wayne-Westland school officials must be doing something right.

According to a recent state Department of Education survey, Project Outreach, the district — which serves southeast Canton — has scored top marks for the credibility of information it provides residents.

The state department conducted the survey in early January, contacting 439 randomly selected registered voters — 339 in the original Wayne-Westland portion and 100 in the annexed Cherry Hill portion of the district — to garner their opinions on everything from the quality of education to a possible tax increase.

The district's marks for the most part were higher than recent state and national surveys and had some surprises, said Kathy Feaster, opinion research coordinator and millage consultant for Project Outreach.

Feaster, who presented an overview of the survey to the school board last week, found the district's credibility level "very impressive," even with a 4.8 percent sampling error.

Of Wayne-Westland residents surveyed, 59 percent found the information supplied believable. Twenty-seven percent rated it somewhat believable and 6 percent not very believable. Nine percent couldn't say or didn't know.

Among Cherry Hill residents, 62 percent found the information believable, 24 percent somewhat believable, 3 percent not very believable and 11 percent couldn't say.

The Wayne-Westland results are almost a reversal of opinions garnered in the 1984 survey. At that time only 21 percent of residents found the information believable, 66 percent somewhat believable, 7 percent not very believable and 7 percent couldn't say.

OF THE 31 percent who found the information somewhat or not very believable the reasons ranged from being minimal or not giving the facts to biased and one-sided, not always truthful and inconsistent or contradictory.

"What a turnaround," Feaster said. "It speaks very well of the district."

While Feaster said the results are a positive for the district, she laments that the survey didn't explore why residents' opinions changed.

"We should have followed up on that, but we didn't know what we were going to get," she explained. "I really would have liked to follow up on that one."

The survey also showed that residents both praise and criticize the school district, but the former outweighs the latter.

Three out of every four surveyed (75 percent) offered some aspect of praise — good curriculum, good teachers, good buildings and facilities and individual attention for students — while about half (53 percent) voiced at least one concern: poor quality of some teachers, teaching methods and lack of discipline.

When it came to financing education, 43 percent felt the district did an excellent to good job of managing money. However, 41 percent rated the district as fair or poor.

Those answers also reflect an upward trend in opinions since 1984. At that time only 37 percent rated the district's money management as good or excellent, while 57 percent rated it fair or poor.

THE REASONS offered for the poor rating included too much waste, money mispent and a need to balance the budget and make cuts.

The residents were also asked for their opinions on why two millage questions were defeated last year. One of four (25 percent) felt it was because taxes are too high, while 19 percent cited mispent money and too much waste. Other reasons included a lack of information on the proposals and a lack of confidence in the school board and administration.

Residents believe the district needs to distribute information about millage requests earlier (20 percent), inform the public on exactly how the money will be spent (19 percent), show how money currently is being spent (16 percent) and justify the need for additional millage (12 percent).

More than two-thirds (69 percent) favor a bond issue to building maintenance and repairs and equipment replacement, and 56 percent expressed support for three-mill tax for district operations rather than a debt levy.

Opposition was 20 percent for the bond issue and 25 percent for the millage increase.

The information is good news for district officials, who will be asking voters to approve a $12.5 million bond issue and 2.75-mill tax increase in an April 2 special election. In fact, information contained in the survey will be used in the Funding Efficiency Schools Committee's pro millage campaign, said Gary Dell, executive director of the district's information services department.

But Feaster in making her report warned the board that "although support does exist for such proposals at the present time, yes voters would need to be identified and brought out to vote on election day."

The posted speed on the road is 45 mph and there are no street lights.

"We know there's a problem, and we're trying to correct it," said Carol Steffani, executive assistant in the office of the Wayne County Executive.

"We've driven down that road, and there shouldn't be a problem but there is," Steffani said. "I think the problem is people are used to straight roads."

This year the county will review the following improvement options:

• Westland has requested the county widen Cherry Hill at Hix. The site is high priority in the 1987 county budget for widening intersections, Steffani said.

• A developer has proposed to widen Cherry Hill east of the S-curve.

• A business person has proposed construction work between the S-curve and Hix on Cherry Hill.

• The county is reviewing whether to straighten the curve somewhat.

"This is something that we're looking at and we're trying to resolve," she said. "We're hoping to see a change during the next construction season, which is this summer."

Although accident statistics were unavailable, the number of crashes indicate there is a problem in that area.

From 1976 to 1986 there have been 10 accidents on Cherry Hill the quarter-mile west of the township line.

School tax vote on tap Tuesday

ESTIMATES ARE that the district will have to reduce the 37 mills by between a quarter to a half-mill if Proposal II is defeated.

For 1986-87 the district's operating budget will be $52 million. Of that, $41 million is raised by the 37 mills. State taxes provide $10 million, and federal taxes provide $1 million.

The school district's financial attorneys advised placing Proposal II on Tuesday's ballot, said Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business. The advantage of passing the proposal now, Hoedel said, is that it allows the district to collect the full levy for the summer tax collections.

The polls will be open Tuesday at regular school district voting locations in school buildings.

Area schools divided on tax shift's merits

By Wayne Post staff writer

No local school districts would benefit from the state-supported $3,000 minimum per-pupil expense outlined in a new tax proposal.

But that doesn't mean the proposal — which would raise the state sales tax to 6 percent while cutting property taxes — is without local support.

Even though all local districts currently spend more than $3,000 per student, some local school officials — particularly those in small districts — see the proposal as a positive step toward equalizing education costs.

"Any type of tax reform that would reduce the inequity (of per-pupil spending) I'm in favor of," Clarenceville Superintendent Michael Shilber said.

OFFICIALS in Redford Union, another of the area's smaller districts, have long advocated finding alternative funding sources.

While unfamiliar with the latest proposal, district officials said it was at least worth examining.

"Without having seen it, I would say we are generally supportive of any program that would move support away from the property tax," RU Superintendent Kenneth Erickson said. "We are not a property-rich district."

Officials from some larger school districts also hailed the proposal, though doubted whether it would benefit them.

"Any increase in sales tax would go a long way toward equalizing funding," said Livonia Schools business director Michael Furlong. "But we're a long way from qualifying."

As an out-of-formula district, Livonia currently receives no state aid for general educational expenses.

But everyone was enthusiastic. Some school officials are looking for hidden traps.

"Our concern is that we haven't seen it yet," South Redford Superintendent Jan Jacobs said. "It could be something like the new federal tax law — something that sounds good at first but which causes concerns when you read all the way through it."

OTHERS DOUBT whether the sales tax increase would be the cure-all envisioned by its supporters.

"It looks to me like a tax shift," Wayne-Westland Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said. "A lot of people thought the lottery was going to be the answer, but it doesn't come close. We'll have to see whether this would."

Added Garden City Superintendent Michael Wilmot: "It's just one of many proposals out there. Any change could be a long time in coming."

Still others criticized the sales tax. "I don't believe the sales tax is a fair tax," Plymouth-Canton Superintendent Michael Hoben said. "It's discriminatory in that the poor have to pay the same percentage as everyone else."

'It's just one of many proposals out there.'

— Michael Wilmot
Garden City superintendent

The tax proposal was contained in a Michigan Citizens Property Tax Commission study released Tuesday. The 15-member commission was appointed by Sen. Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, to investigate property tax alternatives and methods to equalizing state education funding.

THE PROPOSED $3,000 minimum per-pupil expenditure includes all costs — including teacher salaries — involved in providing a year's education to any particular student.

Districts with heavy industrial or commercial base generally spend more per pupil than less endowed communities.

Among local districts, per-pupil spending varies from Plymouth-Canton's $3,159 per student to South Redford's $4,517. Per pupil spending for most local schools falls within the $3,300-$3,600 range. (For figures, see related chart.)

The report also suggests asking voters to increase the state sales tax from 4 to 6 percent in return for property tax cuts. Supporters said average school taxes could be rolled back from 32 mills to 17-18 mills if the sales tax increase was approved.

The commission also suggested: • Lowering Homestead Property Tax Credit income eligibility from $73,650 to $30,000.

• Studying whether tax abatements spur expansion and limiting business tax breaks seven years rather than the current 12-year maximum — unless the development would have regional economic impact.

• Imposing mandatory education and recertification programs for tax assessors.

The commission concluded that the state has to overhaul the property tax system to decrease taxes while increasing per-pupil spending. No lawmakers sat on the commission.

Last week, the Michigan Board of Education and House Speaker Gary Owen set up their own committees to study school financing. Engler, expects the legislature will evaluate the various proposals this fall. He added the group's recommendations do not necessarily reflect the beliefs of Senate Republicans.

"I'm not willing to be locked into a position . . . prematurely," he said. "I think there's some pretty bold recommendations."

Owen, who has spoken favorably about funding schools with sales tax, was cautious in assessing the commission's report. "I'd have to take a closer look at it," the Ypsilanti Democrat said, noting that state sales tax is no longer deductible on federal income tax returns.

The University of Michigan expects the best.

And they expect the best in any endeavor, whether it's academics, athletics, or health care. Which means they expect the best of us, the new health maintenance organization from the University called M-CARE.

No problem. We've designed this new HMO with plenty of important features.

For example, M-CARE is filled with flexibility. It's flexible for both you and your employer. Your basic M-CARE package covers health benefits such as routine office visits, allergy testing, birth control services and skilled nursing care. And you can select your own personal physicians for each member of your family from the many participating M-CARE physicians in family practice, internal medicine, obstetrics/gynecology, and pediatrics.

And M-CARE is convenient and complete. You have six community health centers throughout the area from which to choose. And its coverage insures access to the world-renowned University of Michigan Medical Center, should you ever need it. Whether that means pediatric services from

C. S. Mott Children's Hospital, sophisticated radiation therapy for cancer treatment, or Survival Flight's emergency air transport service, M-CARE offers it all.

So feel free to be tough on us: after all, we're the HMO from The University of Michigan. We're M-CARE.

Western Wayne council backs triple bunking

By Wayne Pool staff writer

Will it be three's company in the new Wayne County Jail?

Sheriff Robert Ficano is stumping for triple bunking of prisoners, saying the 2 1/4-year-old facility is filled to capacity.

According to Ficano, roughly 800 prisoners — including 500 felons — should have been housed at the jail since September, but weren't because space wasn't available.

Triple bunking, the sheriff said, is the quickest, most cost-effective, means of expanding jail capacity.

Agreeing with Ficano, the Council of Western Wayne endorsed triple bunking Friday. Council members said they would lobby state and county officials on the proposal's behalf. The council includes government representatives from Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Westland and Canton, Plymouth and Redford townships, among western Wayne County communities.

THE AMERICAN Civil Liberties Union, however, has criticized the proposal.

And at this point, it isn't certain whether state officials will agree with either group.

While an exact price tag hasn't been established, Ficano said it cost roughly $350,000 when jail cells were recently converted for double bunking.

County commissioners would have to approve funding, though rejection from the Michigan Corrections Commission would kill the plan.

But Ficano said state Rep. Justin Barnes, D-Westland, seeks an attorney general's opinion on whether state corrections officials can regulate the county facility.

Ficano acknowledged that triple bunking could increase prisoner assaults.

"There's always a possibility inmates may assault one another," he said. "But a lot of people in our jail are awaiting trial. That sometimes keeps them restrained. Once they've been sentenced for 10-15 years, they probably feel they've got nothing to lose."

Prisoners with records of assaultive or homosexual behavior would be transferred to the old county jail — which features single-bunk cells — Ficano said.

Prisoners are not confined to their cells all day, according to the sheriff.

"Most people have a misperception of what happens in jail," he said. Prisoners are moved outside their cells during the day, Ficano said.

The new jail includes indoor and outdoor gymnasiums as well as recreation rooms on every other floor.

The third bunk would be placed along cells' rear walls, perpendicular to the other two bunks, Ficano said.

Jail overcrowding isn't expected to ease, however, the sheriff said. Detroit's new gun law, which requires mandatory sentences for offenders, and increased police protection in suburban areas should provide a steady flow of prisoners.

Chiefs soar in Western

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

There were 10 seconds left in the game.

Plymouth Canton's Tyrone Reeves hit Mike LaSota with a pretty pass underneath the Farmington Harrison basket. LaSota's hoop gave Canton a 65-56 lead and Tom Niemi finally accepted the victory.

"That's it. That's it, that's it, that's it," the Canton coach shouted while slapping five with everyone along the bench.

Sir Edmund Hillary probably said the same thing when he reached the top of Mount Everest.

In fact, Canton's 65-58 win at Harrison Friday night — a win that gave the Chiefs sole possession of first place in the Western Lakes Western Division — would have made old Sir Hillary proud. It was like climbing a steep mountain.

"Yes, I guess we climbed a bit of a mountain tonight. But we've played over adversity all season," Niemi said.

LET'S TALK adversity. Canton got into foul trouble early. The Chiefs were whistled for 17 fouls in the first half. Harrison was whistled for seven. By the fourth quarter, Canton had three players with four fouls and two others with three.

For the game, Harrison made 24 of 38 free throws. Canton made 11 of 13.

But the Chiefs, in effect, were getting two points for every free throw they gave up. The Chiefs made 27 field goals to Harrison's 17.

But foul trouble wasn't the only thing blocking the Chiefs Friday — there was a human mountain by the name of Brad Ridgeway to contend with. The 6-8 senior center scored 14 points for Harrison, blocked 10 shots and grabbed 11 rebounds.

The Hawks were very effective when they set up their half-court offense and kicked the ball inside to Ridgeway. Unfortunately for the Hawks, the Chiefs seldom allowed Harrison to set up.

"I think that was because of our inexperience," said Harrison coach Mike Teachman. "These guys, even our seniors, haven't played that much basketball. That stuff happens. We got out of our offense. Then we got frustrated. But Canton did a nice job. They saw that we took the middle away so they worked the ball around until they got an open shot."

AND CANTON didn't miss many open shots, particularly down the stretch. Much to Niemi's delight, it was players off his bench that were doing the scoring. Brad Carey (who should remind old-time Canton basketball fans of a young Scott Adler), Matt Littleton, Mike LaSota and David Foxworthy all contributed mightily.

"We work very hard to develop players in our program and we expect them to perform," Niemi said. "And tonight they did. They really did a job for us."

Canton led throughout the first half but Harrison took a 33-31 lead early in the third quarter. Jeff Anulewicz scored to tie the game, then Carey drained two long-range jumpers and Littleton hit a short jumper to put the Chiefs back in front 39-35.

Harrison retied the game at 39. But LaSota, Carey and Brian Paupore countered with baskets and Canton eventually took a 47-44 lead into the final quarter.

Canton, virtually ignoring Harrison's all-out pressure, never relinquished its lead in the fourth quarter.

"AT HALFTIME I really thought we had them," Teachman said. "They were in foul trouble and I thought we could really take it to them in the second half. But we didn't play very smart. We couldn't find their open shooters and we stopped taking the ball inside; we stopped doing the things that got them into foul trouble in the first half."

Said Niemi: "I thought we played excellent defense when we had to and I thought we showed excellent poise when Harrison took the lead. I'm really proud of the kids. We're like a family. Everyone of these guys played super tonight."

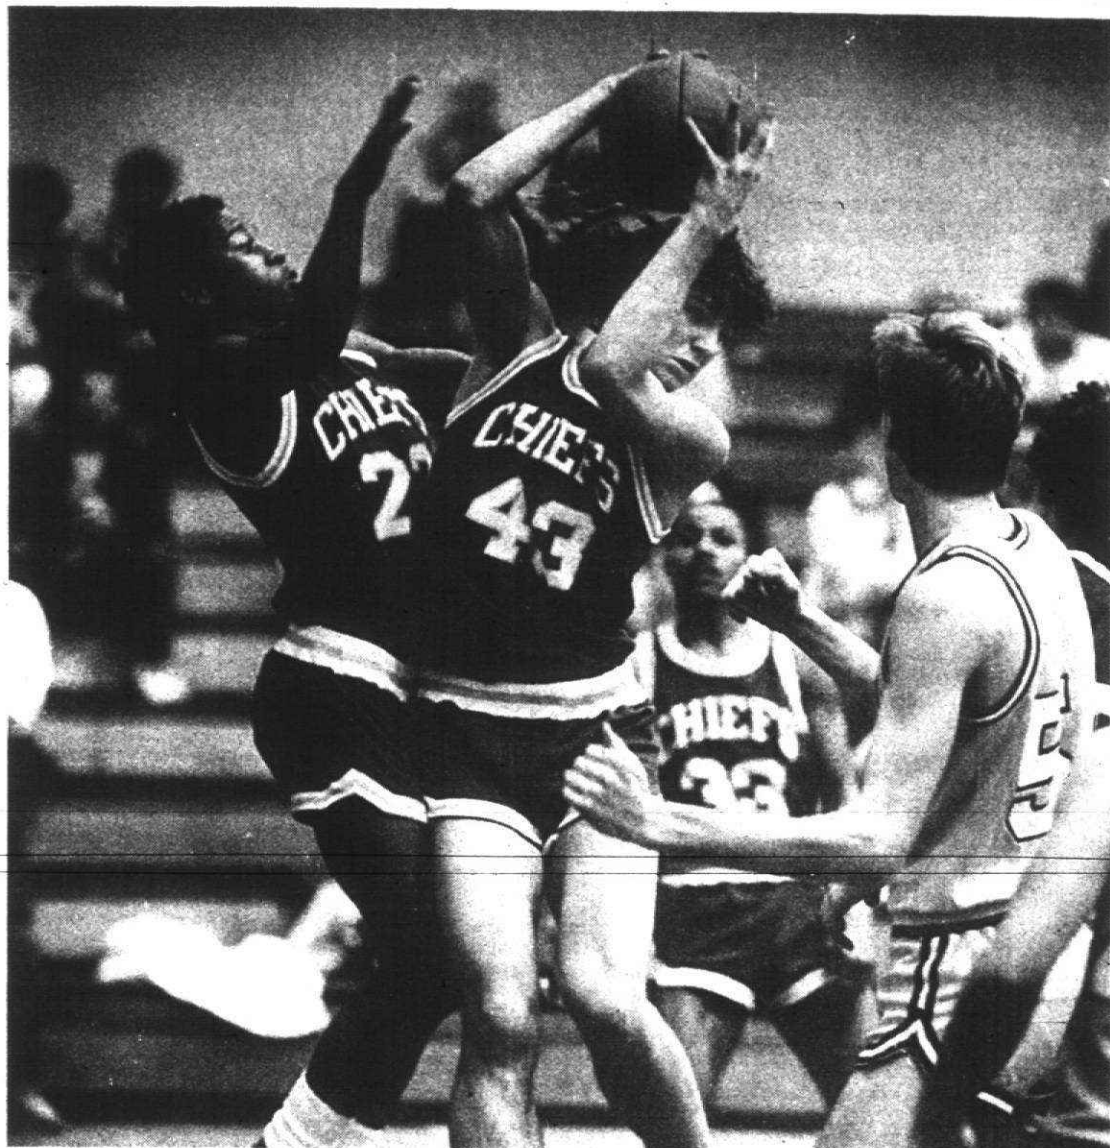

LaSota led Canton with 14 points. Carey notched 12. Starters Tyrone Reeves and Roger Trice were also effective. Reeves scored 10 points and dished out nine assists. Trice scored 11 points, grabbed 11 rebounds and checked Harrison sharpshooter Scott Bissell on just six points.

Harrison got 15 points from Chad Burgess and 14 from Gary Schwedt to supple ment Ridgeway.

The victory gives Canton a one-game lead in the Western Division with two games left. The Chiefs, 9-5 in the league and 10-7 overall, host Livonia Stevenson Tuesday and Northville Friday.

The Hawks, 8-6 and 9-7 overall, travel to Walled Lake Central Tuesday and to Walled Lake Western Friday.

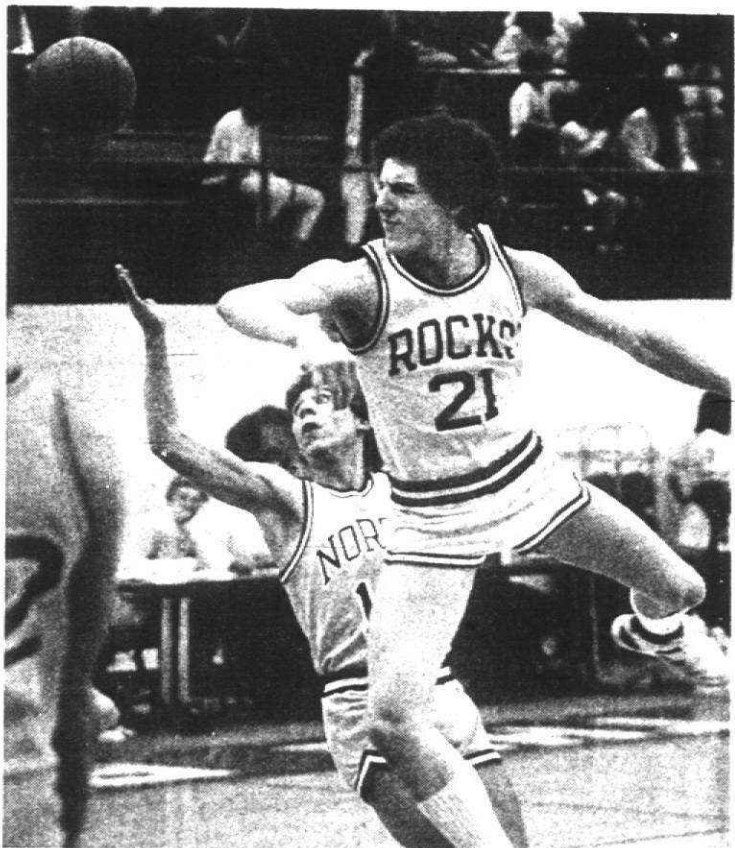

"We know that we have to play two very difficult teams next week," Niemi said. "This thing is far from over."

Big night

Jeff Anulewicz of Canton (top, crashing with teammate Roger Trice) and Mike Hale of Salem (below) were on top of some heavy action Friday night. Canton took over sole possession of first place in the Western Lakes Western Division with an impressive win at Farmington Harrison. Salem kept pace one step behind John Glenn in the Lakes Division with a home-court win against North Farmington.

Rocks bash North

All Plymouth Salem needed was that strong first quarter.

That's just what the Rocks got against visiting North Farmington. They led 18-6 after one period, and against a team like North, which has struggled offensively all season, that was enough.

Salem played the Raiders evenly the rest of the way to win by that 12-point margin, 58-46, in a Western Lakes Activities Association basketball game Friday.

"We got the ball inside in the first quarter," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "Then North packed it in."

But by then it was too late — the damage was done. The Raiders narrowed the gap to 32-25 at the half, but Salem outscored them 26-21 over the last two quarters to claim the victory.

Chuck Howard did most of the offensive damage for North, scoring 13 first-half points. But Brodie made a defensive adjustment at halftime, limiting Howard to just four second-half points and 17 for the game.

"We didn't allow Howard to drop step and shoot in the second half," said Brodie. "We did a real good job defensively. I'm happy with our defense — we're holding teams to 49 points a game."

Rick Taylor was a potent offensive force for the Rocks, pouring in 25 points and grabbing 14 rebounds. Mike Hale added 14 points. Rick Karcher contributed 12 for North.

The win lifted Salem to 15-2 overall and 13-1 in the WLAA. North fell to 6-10 overall and 5-9 in the WLAA.

STEVENSON 44, FARMINGTON 33: The one-two punch of Eric Johnson and Pete Mazzoni triggered a Livonia Stevenson scoring spree in the middle quarters, when the Spartans outpointed Farmington 33-14, Friday at Farmington.

Mazzoni netted 12 points, six coming in a 17-5 second-quarter Stevenson surge that put the Spartans ahead 23-12 at the half. Johnson, who finished with 17 points, netted six in the third quarter as the Spartans increased their lead to 41-21.

A 12-3 final-quarter Farmington rally wasn't enough. Andy Boden and Steve Howell each scored eight points for the Falcons (1-15 overall, 1-13 in the WLAA). Stevenson is 8-8 overall, 6-6 in the WLAA.

Chief tankers rule West; Raiders surprise Salem

Plymouth Canton swim coach Hooker Wellman refused to let his team dunk him in the pool after the Chiefs knocked off Farmington Harrison 108-64 Thursday.

The obligatory victory dunk generally accompanies a championship swim but Wellman didn't want to make a premature splash.

"We still have to beat Northville on Thursday," Wellman said.

Yeah, but for all intents and purposes his Chiefs clinched their first Western Lakes Western Division title with Thursday's win. At worst, the Chiefs would share the title with Harrison. And, even though Wellman put up a good fight, the Chiefs did finally toss their coach in the drink.

"I'm really pleased that the program is doing so well," Wellman said. "And I'm proud of the way these guys overcame five straight losses at the start of the season. The thing I'm concerned about is keeping this in perspective. I don't want them to get so up over this that they swim lousy at the league meet."

The Chiefs, in winning their seventh consecutive dual meet Thursday, swept three events against the Hawks.

Tom Hone (24.0), Frank Wisniewski (24.06) and Jim Walker (24.4) went 1-2-3 in the 50-yard freestyle. In diving, Brad Flowers (181.45), Keith Corley (181.35) and Bill Richter (155.30) went 1-2-3. Then in the 100 backstroke, Dean Roberts (1:00.1), Scott Swartzwelter (1:03.03) and Jim Riemenschneider (1:05.04) pulled off the sweep.

Roberts, the Chiefs' lone double winner, also captured the 200 freestyle (1:53.3).

Wisniewski won the 100 free (53.18). Swartzwelter, Jeff Homan, Bryce Anderson and Walker won the 200 medley relay in 1:50.5.

Scott Farabee won two events for Harrison. He took the 200 individual medley (2:08.9) and the 100 butterfly (57.76). He also swam a leg in the Hawks' winning 400 freestyle relay (3:32.1).

Brian Fitzgerald won the 500 free (5:11.1) and Scott Walock won the 100 breaststroke (1:08.1).

Canton is 4-0 in the Western Division and 7-5 overall. The team will finish its dual meet season at Northville Thursday. Harrison falls to 3-1 in the division and 5-5 over the season.

NORTH FARMINGTON used eight first-place finishes to upend Plymouth Salem Thursday, 91-81, in a Lakes Division battle.

Mike Tumey and Jordy Greenstein won a pair of events each for North. Tumey won the 200 IM (2:01.3) and the 500 free (4:47.3). Greenstein won the 100 free (52.3) and the 100 breaststroke (1:07.2).

Andy Fretz won the 50 free (23.6) and Bruce Goins took the 100 butterfly (57.3). North also won both relays: the 200 medley in 1:47.4, and the 400 freestyle in 3:28.4.

Salem (8-3) got firsts from Phil Bocketti (1:53.6 in the 200 free), Kevin Tunich (194.3 in diving) and David Miller (1:00.8 in the 100 backstroke).

Plymouth Salem came into the meet ranked No. 2 in Observerland behind Livonia Stevenson. North was ranked No. 4.

Down-Home Cooking

Inspires Two Hearty Supper Dishes

Stuffed Pork Loin from the Midwest and Louisiana-style Roast Chicken with Jambalaya Rice are updated versions of two American regional classics.

Roast Chicken With Jambalaya Rice

- 1 cup chicken broth
- 2 ounces Polish sausage (kielbasa), chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup chopped red pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic salt
- 3 dashes hot pepper sauce
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 1 cup packaged enriched pre-cooked rice
- 1 cup chopped fresh tomatoes
- 4 chicken breast halves
- Pepper
- Butter or margarine

Combine broth, sausage, onion, green and red peppers, garlic salt, hot pepper sauce and thyme in a saucepan. Bring to a full boil. Stir in rice. Cover; remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes.

Spoon rice mixture into bottom of 4 individual baking dishes. Sprinkle chicken lightly with pepper. Place chicken on top of rice mixture. Dot with butter and bake at 350° for 45 to 50 minutes until chicken is golden brown.

Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Pork Loin

- 1 1/3 cup chopped scallions
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, thawed
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 package (6 oz.) stuffing mix with savory herbs
- 2-pound boneless pork loin, untied and flattened
- 1 cup apple butter

Saute scallions and garlic in oil until tender but not browned, about 2 minutes. Stir in spinach and cook until heated through.

Remove from heat and cool slightly. Stir in eggs, vegetable/seasoning packet and stuffing crumbs. Spread mixture evenly over inside of pork loin. Roll up and tie with twine.

Place in roasting pan and roast at 400° for 10 minutes. Remove from oven and coat meat with 1/4 cup of the apple butter; add 1/2 cup water to bottom of pan. Cover and roast at 350° for 45 minutes. Add more water if pan becomes dry during roasting. Remove from oven and spread remaining apple butter on meat and continue roasting uncovered 25 minutes longer or to an internal temperature of 160°. Let stand 15 minutes before slicing.

Makes 8 servings.

Recently, down-home American cooking has provided the culinary inspiration for some of America's best-known chefs. "The immense interest in American regional cuisine has given young American chefs the freedom to draw on their own culinary roots to come up with appealing new twists on classic American favorites," says Chef Blake Emerson Swihart, an Indiana native and graduate of The Culinary Institute of America.

"Re-experiencing foods that we loved as kids is a source of comfort for most of us," says the chef, in explaining the popularity of some of the foods that have been out of fashion until recently. "We all need a touch of nostalgia now and then to make it easier to cope in this increasingly complex world."

Chef Swihart combined his culinary training with his love for the foods his Indiana grandmother served at family gatherings to come up with an updated recipe for Stuffed Pork Loin.

Ideal fare for a cold-weather family supper, the pork loin is roasted with a savory herb and spinach stuffing and is glazed with apple butter. "Pork and apples are a traditional combination in Indiana's Amish country, where I grew up, and everyone in my family loved apple butter," says Chef Swihart.

"Although I love old-fashioned dishes, like most people today, I don't have the time for meal preparation that my grandmother had, so I rely on good-quality convenience foods to help save time when I cook," he says. For the pork loin, he uses frozen chopped spinach and packaged stuffing mix with savory herbs to make a quick and tasty stuffing which is spread over the inside of the pork loin before rolling, tying and roasting the meat.

Southern Louisiana cooking, with its Creole and Cajun influences, was the inspiration for another timesaving recipe of Chef Swihart, Roast Chicken with Jambalaya Rice.

The rice mixture, captures the smoky, spicy flavors favored by Louisiana cooks. In it, Polish sausage is used as a substitute for andouille, the Cajun smoked sausage.

The sausage, along with chopped onions, chopped red and green peppers, spices and hot pepper sauce, is added to chicken broth, which is brought to a boil. Minute rice is added to the broth and left to stand for 5 minutes. Then chopped tomatoes are added and the mixture is spooned into individual baking dishes. Chicken breast halves are placed on top and the dishes are baked in the oven until the chicken is golden brown. The result is an exceptionally flavorful concoction that could well become one of your own family classics.

Reducing recipes makes cooking for 2 easy

People who may be willing to make a healthy meal for two others seldom put the same effort into cooking for themselves.

Just as with larger families, cooking for one or two requires advance planning to create tempting and nutritious meals. Get variety into meals. Try something new, especially if you're eating alone.

Most recipes are planned to serve four to six people. Many of these can be reduced to one-half or one-third to serve two people. It is often more advantageous to cut the recipe in half rather than thirds. Sometimes it's harder to work with the smaller amount. Cooking time may need to be shortened because of the smaller quantity in the pots and pans.

When you divide a recipe, translate the amounts into equivalent measures. For example, one-third cup can be divided easily if you know that it equals five tablespoons plus one teaspoon, or 16 teaspoons; half of this would be two tablespoons plus two teaspoons, or eight teaspoons.

When you figure these equivalents, rewrite the recipe or make notes in

home economist, Cooperative Extension Service

the margins for future reference. Most cookbooks will have a page of the equivalents listed.

One problem in division that may puzzle you is how to halve an egg. There are two ways of doing this: either use a very small egg or break the egg into a cup, beat slightly, then divide in half for your recipe. Cover the remainder and store in refrigerator for another dish.

Depending on the size of the egg, one egg usually yields about four tablespoons. A little more egg than the recipe calls for generally will not do any harm.

With yeast dough it is advisable to use a larger quantity of yeast. If the recipe calls for one yeast cake and you are cutting it down to one-third or one-half, it would be wise to use the whole yeast cake or the greater part of it to hasten the process. Bread recipes that require no kneading are easier to handle in small quantities.

Buy carefully to avoid waste, save storage space, and make small-scale cooking and serving easy. As a quick buying guide for meat and poultry with lots of bones, you should figure one pound equals two servings. One pound of fish fillets or meat with a little bone makes three servings.

Instead of a large beef roast, buy a thick steak, roll and tie for roasting. Leftovers can always be used in another dish. Broiling is a quick and easy method to use when preparing small quantities of meat.

Buy fresh cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and brussels sprouts in regular amounts. Cut off or separate enough for one meal, cover and refrigerate the remainder to cook within a day or two. Larger size bags of frozen vegetables are excellent for one or more persons, pour out enough for one meal and return to the freezer.

Regular loaves of bread can be purchased and kept in the freezer. Keep a couple of different kinds on hand to add variety to meals. To avoid soggy crust or bread, double wrap the loaf before freezing. Save the used plastic bread bag and slip the new loaf into that as a double thickness.

If desserts are a puzzle, make individual custard cups or a cup large enough to serve two. It's as easy to make one cup of custard or gelatin as it is to make a quart. Individual tarts can be made in muffin tins or as turnovers that are just large enough to serve one or two people and avoid variation in form.

Leftovers can be a problem when cooking for one or two. Many recipes can be made in full amounts and leftovers reheated for several days.

Freeze leftover meat and casseroles in individual containers for convenient cooking later. Stir a few tablespoons of sour cream into heated leftover gravy to give it new zest or use a dash of curry in gravy for a new tasty treat.

Leftover vegetables can be "recycled" successfully by adding some diced cheese to melt into a delicious glaze. Add leftover corn kernels to pancake batter to make corn cakes or fritters. Mix bread crumbs or croutons with a little melted margarine or butter and sprinkle over vegetables to create a new interest. Freeze little packages of leftovers to use in soup or stew later.

Leftover cake can be broiled and then topped with ice cream or lemon sauce. Line a loaf pan or pie plate with strips of leftover cake, spread with softened ice cream, freeze. You have dessert ready when company drops in!

Use one recipe in different ways. Baking powder biscuit dough will make shortcake for one meal; toasted biscuits for another; if rolled, bake flat, cover with cinnamon and sugar for a flat bread or rolled up to make a coffee cake. Pie doughs will make pies or tart shells for meat dishes or dessert.

If you don't enjoy eating solo, invite a friend or neighbor over at mealtime on a regular basis. Overindulging is an easy trap to fall into when you are alone.

To avoid this, don't keep irresistible goodies around the house. If your recipe serves two or more, one serving should go on the plate and the rest stored in the refrigerator or freezer so you're not tempted to nibble.

Create interest in meals by using attractive place mats or trays. Choose a pleasant spot to eat, perhaps by a window. Pay attention to how the food looks on the plate. Whether you are cooking for one, two, or ten, food taste better if it looks good!

Lois Thieleke is a home economist with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service. Watch for her next column, "No Time for Breakfast."

Potatoes, cinnamon add 'welcome' flavor to bread

There is nothing like the fragrance of freshly baked bread wafting through the house to say "welcome" to family and friends. Especially if it's made with a mashed potato dough and coated with sugar and cinnamon like this Festive Potato Yeast Ring.

Mashed potato flakes are the convenient ingredient that makes the difference in this unique yeast bread. No more bothering to peel, cook and mash fresh potatoes to make a silky smooth dough.

The potato flakes are added directly from the package to the liquid ingredients. The yeast is stirred in the flour kneaded in, and the dough is ready to rise and be shaped into individual rolls.

Each roll is dipped in melted butter and cinnamon-sugar, coated thoroughly, then layered in a tube or bundt pan. The bread bakes into a lovely loaf that pulls apart in individual servings for easy eating.

FESTIVE POTATO YEAST RING

1 cup instant mashed potato flakes
2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 tsp. salt
1 pkg. active dry yeast
5 to 5 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. baking powder
Coating:
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon

Heat milk, sugar, butter and salt to simmering. Stir in potato flakes; then cool until warm to touch, about 115 degrees. Dissolve yeast in small amount of warm mixture. Let stand 5 minutes, then add to potato mixture. Sift 5 cups flour with soda and baking powder. Add half of flour to potato mixture and beat until smooth. Add enough remaining flour to make a smooth, soft dough. Knead on floured board 8-10 minutes. Place in buttered bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until double (about 1 hour). Punch down; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Generously butter a 10-inch bundt or tube pan. Sprinkle nuts in bottom of pan. Form dough into about 28 balls, golf-ball size. Roll each in melted butter, then mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Layer in prepared pan and let rise in warmplace until double (about 1 hour). Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool in pan 15-20 minutes. Invert on rack; turn out of pan. Makes 1 (10-inch) loaf.

Salad gives winter the toss

It's easy to give winter the toss — just serve crispy, crunchy iceberg lettuce.

During the winter months the deserts of California and Arizona come alive with iceberg lettuce, with more than 80 percent of the nation's lettuce coming from these two states.

The growers and shippers of iceberg lettuce offer these simple steps to ensure some "sunshine" in your salads this winter.

Select heads that "give" slightly when squeezed. These "springy-firm" heads are perfect for lettuce cups, to cut into wedges of rafts or chunks, to tear into bite-size pieces, and for coarse shredding. Their outer leaves may be pulled off easily to put into sandwiches or to line salad bowls or plates.

1. At home, trim any leaves that may seem too coarse for salad use. Holding the head core-end down, what it out to the kitchen counter. Then twist the core with your fingers.

2. Cleanliness is characteristic of iceberg lettuce. However, rinsing is recommended to restore moisture lost in transit. Hold the head, core-end up, under forcefully running water.

3. Then drain thoroughly, core-end down, in a rack or colander.

4. Store in refrigerator in tightly closed plastic bag. Make a habit of this simple procedure, and your iceberg lettuce will always be crisp and "field fresh."

Stars don't glitter in dull films

"I can't complain," says Benjamin Raskin (Jason Miller), nominal head of the quarrelsome family whose affairs are the centerpiece of "Light of Day" (PG-13).

With all respect to Raskin, I can, and will, complain, about this poor excuse for entertainment, a motion picture that gives new meaning to the terms, "dull," "leaden" and "boring."

Thrown in "confusing" and "poorly structured," and you have, as well, a good description of another major motion picture, "Black Widow" (R).

Both films feature major stars, Debra Winger and Michael J. Fox, and both films are remarkably weak, unpleasant experiences.

IT REALLY is quite amazing that people with the intelligence and business acumen to gather $10 million or $20 million to finance a motion picture aren't smart enough to produce a film that makes sense.

It may be difficult to entertain moviegoers, but it shouldn't be too hard to explain what happens in a story and why characters act as they do.

"Black Widow" and "Light of Day," however, quickly prove me wrong, with their poorly structured plots, unanswered questions and gaping loopholes. By comparison, swiss cheese looks solid.

The Raskin family, whose melodrama clouds the "Light of Day," showcases rock star Joan Jett as sister Patti who can't get along with her mother, Jeanette (Gena Rowlands). While father Raskin mopes around in terminal silence, brother Joe (Michael J. Fox) sporadically tries to keep things moving and prevent the family from congealing in a leaden mass of inactivity.

exciting moment, comes near the end of this interminable two hours when Patti reveals the name of Benji's father. By that time no one cares.

least comprehensible denouements, traps the "Black Widow."

THE FILM, which was faltering all the way, falls completely on its face at this ridiculous ending. Neither space nor energy permit a detailed explanation of the foolishness with which the plot terminates.

The fascination of old men for young, sensuous women, the "Black Widow's" obsession for money, Debra Winger's intense need to track and destroy evil, and the attraction of two very different women for each other — all these powerful motivations are glossed over or left unexplored.

"Black Widow" and "Light of Day" both deserve contempt. Only by voting at the box office can you send a message to producers who think that liberal doses of slick images and rock music are the only secrets of success. Save your money, and don't support filmmakers who, unwilling, or unable, to tell understandable, entertaining stories.

Stars shine

ALTHOUGH THEY were a bit nervous, the young performers let their talent shine through.

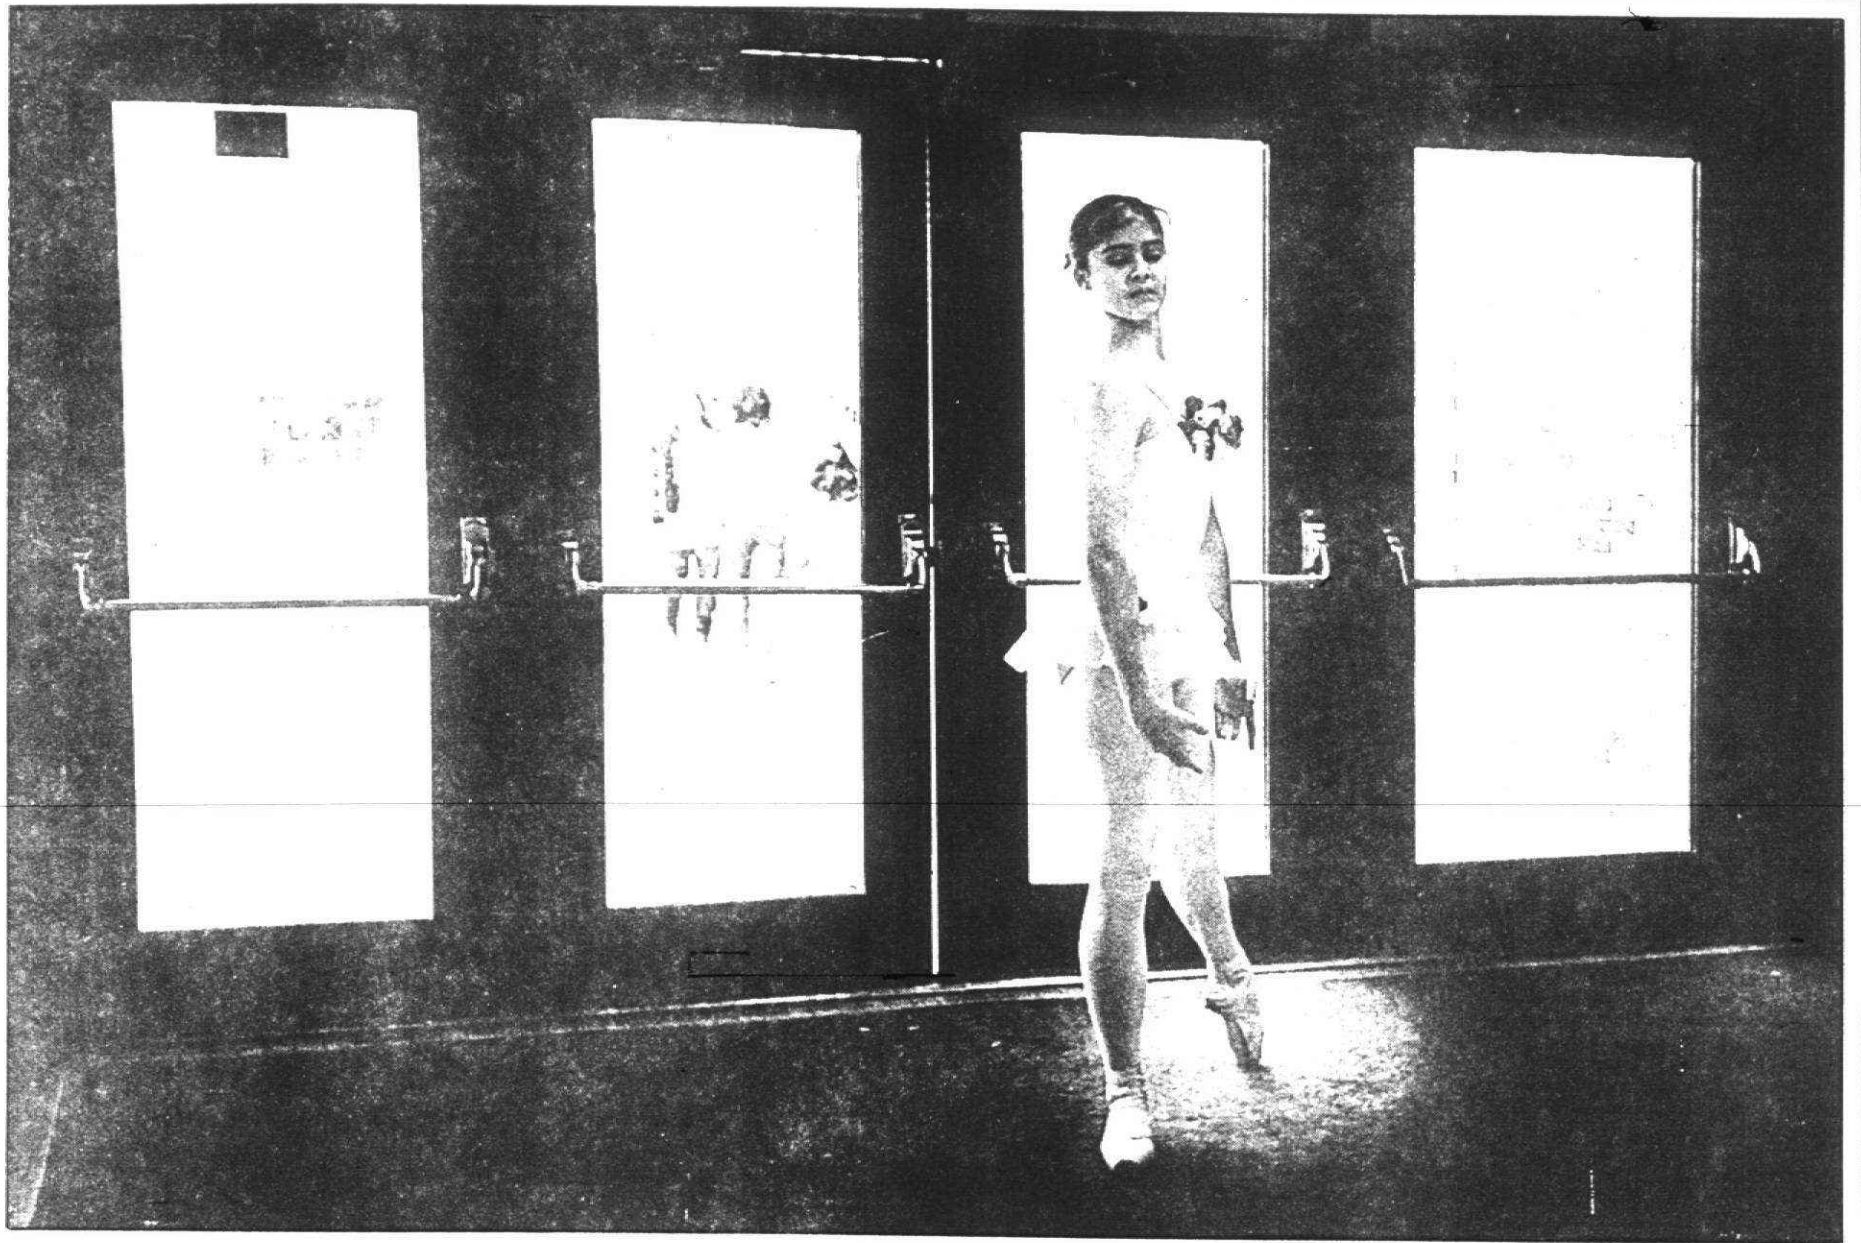

The singers, pianists and dancers performed Thursday afternoon during competition for the student fine arts awards offered by the Plymouth Community Arts Council. The competition, for students in sixth through ninth grades, was held in the Little Theater of Plymouth Canton High School.

"The caliber of the work was excellent," said Margaret Smith, chairwoman for the awards program. "There's a lot of talent in this community."

Some of the students are as young as 11 or 12, but they nevertheless show considerable talent, she said.

"It's amazing. The pianists were extraordinary, we thought."

In addition to Thursday afternoon's performances, some student contestants competed in the areas of art, creative writing and poetry. Those areas had been judged ahead of time, Smith said.

A total of 65 students participated in the program this year.

THE AWARDS program is designed to encourage students in that age group to continue with their work in the arts, said Smith, who coordinated the program with the help of co-chairwoman Mary Corridore.

"It's the age where so many tend to give up," Smith said. Performing helps the students become more confident.

"The more you perform in front of others, the easier it becomes." The students were competing for cash awards, with a total of $1,000 to be presented.

Those who coordinated the program hope to announce the winners this week. They'd also like to see more students participate in the future.

"It's growing in numbers and that's wonderful," Smith said. "We hope to have even more next year."

Both Smith and Corridore were a bit tired after Thursday's student competition.

"We both commented how drained we felt," Smith said. "They only had to perform once. We had to go through it 34 times."

Those who coordinate the program hope that the student winners will use the cash awards to continue their arts studies. Although putting the program together is a great deal of work, it's also enjoyable for the PCAC volunteers.

"It takes some planning, but it was certainly a gratifying committee on which to serve," Smith said.

It's certainly possible that at least one of the participants will go on to do great things in the arts and become famous.

"They'll say they got their start at the Canton Little Theater," she said.
