People are clamoring to get into a subsidized apartment complex for elderly and handicapped residents. and construction of the 118-unit complex hasn't even started.

They will have hundreds and hundreds" of applications, said Trudy Roettger, Canton Senior Advisory Council member. Another advisory council member,

Marie Beattie, said: "We could have half a dozen of these buildings."

CONSTRUCTION OF the community's first subsidized senior and handicapped housing project is targeted to start in September.

Occupancy of the 118-unit complex, Canton Place, on Ford between Sheldon and Canton Center behind the Mr. Steak restaurant, is expected in November 1989.

To be eligible for the apartment complex, operated by the nonprofit National Church Residences, residents must be at least 62, handicapped or disabled.

Also, you must have an income at or below $13,250 for individuals and $15,100 for couples as required by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Residents will pay 30 percent of their income.

It's 30 percent of income after all medical and other elderly allowances are taken out," said Anthony Talaga, NCR spokesman.

NCR operates 100 similar complexes throughout the U.S., said Talaga who spoke Tuesday at township hall about progress on the long awaited and often delayed project. "I think it's a wonderful thing,"

Beattie said. The living quarters might be con-

Clerk candidates find little common ground

staff writer

Clerk candidates agree they disagree a lot.

That's about all you'll hear Loren Bennett and incumbent Linda Chuhran come to terms on. They even describe the job differently.

"The main responsibility is to manage the elections - to make sure that everything goes smoothly," said Bennett, a Canton trustee since

'Record management is an extremely important part of the job," he said. "I don't believe all documents must be under the specific control of the clerk."

Some of the responsibilities can be delegated, he said.

One of the most vital responsibilities of the job is bookkeeping maintaining journals and general ledgers, said Chuhran, the incumbent "It keeps in balance the checks and balances of the town-

Record management also is important, she added.

"Canton does not have good record management - we're improving," she said. "There's no foundation for record preservation. Elections are the most visible, but they're not the most important.

SEWER BACKUPS and road improvements are Canton's biggest concerns, Chuhran said. And both problems have remedies in the works, she added.

Sometimes they're clouded by trustees creating issues out of miniscule happenings "in an attempt to make people look bad and to make headlines," Chuhran said.

Land management and development are the most important issues facing the community, said Bennett, who has served on the planning commission since 1980. Large lot developments are the thrust, he added.

Chuhran and Bennett agree the intendent is a major campaign issue. But, they take opposite stands

"Right now the people control the supervisor," Chuhran said. "A superintendent is controlled by board members. If we were to have a superintendent to work in conjunction with the supervisor I could support that, but not to take over the supervisor's job."

Bennett supports hiring a superin-tendent.

"WE AS the board must delegate responsibilities," Bennett said. "In no way are we delegating authority. If development is going to work, We're delegating day-to-day responadequate sewers and roads must sibilities to a professional. I see that

During a recent candidate interview, Allegrina complimented Brown on his work as treasu She said, however, the township needs a change.

"I am tired of the fighting and quarreling among our elected officials," Allegrina said.

"People in Canton want a new image of Canton and of their elected officials," she said. "I feel I can work well with all types of people and with my financial background I will be able to do a good job as treasurer.

IF SHE were elected, Allegrina said she would invest the township's money mostly in certificates of deposit and government securities.

Treasury bonds are the most attractive township investment, said Brown, Canton treasurer He wants to see laws changed allowing municipalities insurance protection for investments over $100,000. He'd also like to see approval of out-ofstate investments.

In addition to investment and office duties, the Canton treasurer also sits on the board of trustees and performs legislative duties.

Battle of the suburbs paints a bleak future

JUST FOR A second, take a look around your neighborhood, your subdivision, your suburban community. Then, look beyond.

The Detroit suburbs today are like an economic amoeba, vacillating from region to region, seeking nev life. And like an amoeba, it finally splits apart, leaving behind a part to fend for itself and finally die.

A fascinating new book, "Detroit Race and Uneven Development," outlines a scenario that could very well threaten your community. Researched and written by a team of Michigan State University professors, it reads like a Robert Ludlum

'Statement' lacked sense

On the Fourth of July, as I have every year, I put the flag of my country on display on the porch. It flew proudly all day. When dusk came, I turned on the porch light so that it would not be in the dark.

When I returned home from enjoy-ing the local fireworks, I found that you had torn the flag from the halyard leaving only the metal clips and bending the pole beyond repair. I don't know if this was an act of senseless vandalism or that you were "making a statement" against the flag. I only hope that you don't have to shed your blood in defense of the American flag to gain respect for it and consider the "statement" you made to those who have. Charles E. VanVleck.

FUN IN THE SU

Ah, the sweet sounds of summer. Birds singing in the morning, crickets chirping in the evening, the rustling of leaves in the trees as the wind passes through, soft rain on the rooftop — and the kids saying "But Mom, there's nothing to do."

Yes it's true, the summer that seemed ever so brief and sweet back in early June has started to stretch into eternity with the impending "dog days" of late July and August. Mother has come to realize that if the kids don't move out from in front of the television, they are going to fossilize in that position.

It's time for action. Yes, there is plenty for kids to do this summer. Educational, physical and just plain fun activities are available all around the area. These are just some of the possibilities.

College costs threaten retirement fund

By Alan Ferrara and Dan Boyce special writers

Local financial planning experts reviewed the data of the family profiled here and made general recommendations based on the participants' resources and goals. The information is for educational purposes only; references are not intended as discrimination or endorsements by Observer & Eccentric Newspapers or the advisers.

To receive a free financial planning brochure or to obtain a questionnaire to have your finances reviewed in this monthly column, contact the Center for Financial Planning, Dept. 100, 877 S. Adams, Suite 202, Birmingham 48009 or call 642-4000.

This month's profiled couple, Hugh and Janice Barker, have gone through a number of changes in their lives during the last 18 months. These changes have provided a number of concerns as well as opportuni-

Hugh is a personnel administrator, and Janice is a part-time teacher. They and their family have recently moved to Michigan from California. They have two children, ages 19 and 14, and live in Rochester.

Although the Barkers are in their early 40s, a primary goal for them is planning for their retirement. Hugh would like to retire in 18 years at age 62. In addition, one of their children will be attending college this year, and the other is approaching college age, so a secondary goal is the payment of college expense

With careful planning they will be able to meet all of their financial

For their most important goal, retirement, about one-third of their needs will be provided through Hugh's pension, about one-third will be provided through Social Security, and the Barkers will have to provide the remaining one-third from their investment assets.

FAMILY FINANCES

The Barkers should examine their cash flow and try to manage college expenses from current cash flow rather than from their retirement fund.

If they are able to continue building their assets from the current base, they should have enough assets accumulated by retirement age.

One of our concerns is that the Barkers use Hugh's stock savings plan for college costs, drawing money periodically out of that plan. The Barkers should examine their cash flow and try to manage college expenses from current cash flow rather than from their retirement

Hugh is deferring 6 percent of his salary into the company 401(k) and stock savings plan. The company matches his contributions to the 401(k) plan up to 6 percent of his salary at the rate of 90 cents on the dollar. It will match his deferral under the stock savings plan at a rate of 50 cents on the dollar.

We agree the salary deferral is an excellent idea. The company 401(k) plan and stock savings plan are designed to allow Hugh to defer salary, and thereby defer income taxes, while saving for his primary goal of retirement.

To the extent he can avoid drawing this amount out for college expenses, Hugh should try to maximize his 401(k) contributions.

He will be saving to meet his primary goal of retirement and also take advantage of the available tax deferral on the contributions and any income earned while the money is in the retirement plan.

When the children have completed college, he should consider raising his retirement plan deferral to at least 10 percent and continue this amount through retirement. This would then form the basis of his retirement nest egg.

The Barkers have a number of financial strengths, including steady employment with good benefits and no major debt beyond the home mortgage. But we are concerned that the Barkers do not have sufficient liquid assets.

We would like to see them build assets outside of the company savings plan for greater liquidity and access in the case of an emergency. A good rule of thumb is to have six months liquid assets such as stocks, certificates of deposit, money markets and savings bonds. Because of their other financial priorities, this might be an intermediate goal for

We both agree that the Barkers lack sufficient life insurance. Hugh is especially concerned because his life insurance is tied to employment with his current company. His current life insurance of $230,000 would not enable the family to maintain their standard of living and put their daughters through college should something happen to Hugh.

We'd suggest buying another $150,000 to $250,000 of term insurance, with the exact amount depending upon Janice's ability to work and bring in extra income.

There are a number of highly rated life insurance companies offering a level-premium term policy that would provide Hugh with the additional coverage with level premiums affordable to the Barkers. As an alternative, cash permitting, Hugh may want to consider a universal or whole life insurance product with cash value buildup.

By the time the children finish college, Hugh would have a larger vested pension benefit for Janice, and he might consider reducing or eliminating insurance, dropping the coverage if the need for it no longer exists.

Our last concern is that the Barkers had their wills drafted quite some time ago in California, a community property state. We're sure that their personal and financial situation has changed significantly during the time since the wills were drafted originally.

In addition, community property state laws regarding wills may vary significantly from Michigan law. We would suggest the Barkers review their estate planning needs with an attorney to determine if their current wills are still adequate considering their new residence and current family and financial situation.

Hugh and Janice will have significant expenses over the next few years in helping their children with college. But with proper planning, they can meet these short-term goals as well as the long-term goal of retirement with adequate assets for a comfortable life.

Dan Boyce, a certified financial planner, is the immediate past president of the Metropolitan Detroit Society of the Institute for Certified Financial Planners whose practice is in Birmingham. Alan Ferrara is a partner in the Farmington Hills law firm of Couzens, Lansky, Fealk, Ellis, Roeder & Lazar. He is immediate past president and a current board member of the southeast Michigan chapter of the International Association for Financial Planning.

Mid-year tax planning can result in many happy returns

Summertime and the livin' is easy And if you want to make filing your 1988 tax return smoother, pull yourself from the easy livin' routine to some mid-year tax planning tips offered by Grey & Trepeck, Birmingham.

· Review your IRA options. If you qualify for a fully or partially deductible IRA contribution, make your contribution as early in the year as possible to stretch the time your fund can be earning taxdeferred dollars

 Consider tax-exempt investments. Investments that yield taxexempt income (such as municipal bonds) may give you a better aftertax return than taxable investments.

If you invested in a tax-free bond vielding 8 percent and your tax bracket was 28 percent, you'd have to earn 11.11 percent from a taxable investment to get an equivalent re-

• Reduce your debt. Pay off as much consumer debt as possible, especially high-interest credit card balances

In 1988, only 40 percent of any such interest you pay will be deductible. If you have a lot of outstanding consumer debt, consider consolidating it under a home equity loan. Interest on home equity loans up to $100,000 is fully deductible.

 Use your vacation home wisely. If you own a second or vacation home, find out whether you get a better tax break by treating the property as a second residence or as rental property. The number of days you personally use the home can be a determining factor.

 Avoid the "kiddie tax." Check any income of children under the age of 14. If unearned income exceeds $1,000, the child will be taxed on the excess at your highest rate. Shifting investments or making other adjustments may be appropriate.

· Buy a home. Owning a home is one remaining tax shelter. You can deduct real estate taxes and mortgage interest on loans up to $1 million ($100,000 loan limit on home equity loans).

· Make your hobby a business. If you're making money from a hobby, turn it into a business so that you can write off your expenses. You must be able to demonstrate that you engaged in the activity for a profit.

Te do that, conduct the activity as a business. Keep records and get a separate bank account for the activity. The IRS will expect your sideline business to show a profit in three out of five years, or you'll have to prove your profit motivation.

• Get the rules on "material par-ticipation." If you have investments that are borderline passive/active, get details on the new material par-ticipation regulations. Adjust your involvement in such activities so that income or losses produced by them get the most beneficial classification in relation to your other income and losses.

 Segregate borrowed funds. Keep borrowed money that will be used for different purposes in separate accounts so you will not risk losing interest deductions because you can't prove how the money was Segregate travel and entertainment expenses. Keep your business travel and entertainment expenses segregated into fully deductible (travel and lodging) and 80 percent deductible (meals and entertain-

• Wait until age 55 to sell. If you're approaching the age of 55 and are planning to sell your home, you may want to delay the sale until you qualify for the $125,000 exclusion of gain. The election can be used only once by taxpayers 55 or older.

If you're planning to marry, realize that you and your spouse-to-be could each claim a separate $125,000 exclusion before marriage. After marriage, you will be entitled to only one exclusion as a couple.

 Manage rental property. If you have rental property and your adjusted gross income will be under $100,000, be sure you actively manage the property if you want to de-duct losses up to $25,000 against "ac-tive" income. The $25,000 limit phases out for AGI between $100,000 and $150,000.

* Expense $10,000 of equipment. In planning your business equipment purchases, remember that you can expense up to $10,000 for newly accorded. uired equipment in 1988. The wri-eoff for business cars is limited to $2,560. If your total equipment pur-chases exceed $200,000, the expens-ing option phases out.

· Don't overlook medical deductions. If you help support an elderly relative who lives in a nursing home for medical reasons, the cost of the nursing home qualifies for the medical deduction.

$6,000 earned during the individual's first year. Hiring economically disadvantaged 16- and 17-year-olds during the summer can qualify you dit of 85 pe $3,000 of wages paid.

• Time equipment purchases carefully. Be aware it may no longer be good strategy to make business equipment purchases as late in the year as possible. The new law requires you to adjust depreciation if you make more than 40 percent of your equipment purchases in the fourth quarter of the year.

Pitching pays Mound corps keeps Elks in hunt

The Plymouth-Canton Elks, faced with a mustwin situation Tuesday, came from behind to defeat the Mustangs 4-1 at Ford Field in Livonia.

The victory kept the Elks in the chase for a playoff spot in the Redford Connie Mack League. Plymouth-Canton is 14-4 in the league and 17-6

Heading into the latest round of games, the Elks trailed first-place Redford Union, which stood at 13-2-1, and were a notch above Ypsilanti No. 1, which was 12-4-1. The Mustangs saw their record fall to 8-9.

Dan Niemiec went the distance and pitched a four-hitter Tuesday to improve his record to 4-1. His strong showing included six strikeouts and three walks.

"You've heard me say it before," Elks coach Mark LaPointe said. "Our pitching has been out-

"WE'RE GOOD enough to be undefeated with the pitching we've had, but we kicked the ball around a few times

Niemiec added the game was also "a big win" because the team pulled it off without two key ballplayers, second baseman Kevin Learned and catcher Ron Groh. The former is sidelined with strep throat, and the latter is on vacation with his family Mikio Tanaka was the hitting hero, going 3-for-

5 with two RBI and a run scored. Curt Stinson, who took Learned's place at shortstop, was 2-for-4 and scored two runs.

"The biggest surprise of the summer has been the defensive play of Stinson," LaPointe said. Stinson was a Canton varsity reserve last spring and will be a senior this fall.

The Mustangs, who had beaten the Elks 5-4 previously, jumped in front 1-0 in the bottom of the first. Andy Weighill reached on an error and scored on Mike Kaczmarek's single and another

A three-run third inning turned the game in Plymouth-Canton's favor, however. Tanaka doubled to score Pat Hughes, who was running for. Stinson, and scored himself when Tom Hill followed with a single. The latter advanced on a passed ball and two wild pitches to make it 3-1.

STINSON, AFTER being hit in the head with a pitch the previous inning, got a hit in the fourth and scored the final run on Tanaka's RBI single.

Steve Olson, who was replaced in the fifth inning by Kevin Whitman, was tagged with the loss. Olson's double and singles by Tim Napier and Weighill accounted for the Mustangs' other hits.

We're still very much alive in this thing," La-Pointe said. "If we keep winning, we'll be all'

The Elks were in need of the win after dropping a 3-2 decision to Ypsilanti No. 2 Saturday, losing the game in the seventh inning. A long flyout and a double play in the bottom half for the Elks sealed the outcome. Jeff Allen went the distance for Plymouth-Canton, and Chris Kennedy was 2-for-3 with one RBI.

Holzer closing in on Caesars

Baseball League is heating up between first place Livonia Little Caesars and Tom Holzer Ford of Farmington Hills.

Caesars' commanding lead has dwindled to two after last weekend's action.

In an LCBL showdown Friday at Ford Field, Holzer wiped out a 6-1 deficit, scoring seven times in the fifth to gain a 9-6 victory.

Holzer, which scored all nine runs off Caesars starter and loser Chris Kloc (5-1), out-hit the LCBL leaders, 16-4.

Catcher Kevin Ritter delivered a two-run single and second baseman Rick Tavormina (Westland John Glenn High and the University of Detroit) added a two-run double during the outburst. Tavormina, Bob Tatro and Scott Peterson each went 3-for-4 for the winners. Keith Dutkiewicz and nine RBI. Fairman had a grand slam, threeand Ritter added two hits apiece.

Steve Malgay had a two-run single for Caesars. Mike Salach (3-0) was the winning pitcher. He needed relief help from Brett Loomis, who pitched the sixth to earn the save. (The game was halted after six innings because of a 21/2-hour

ON SUNDAY, Holzer swept a doubleheader from last place South Lyon Londo, 12-1 and 10-0. Both games (at Ford Field) were stopped after five innings because of the 10-run league mercy Dutkiewicz and Ritter added two hits apiece in the opener. Tatro also contributed two RBI.

Brett Loomis was the winning pitcher in the first game. He scattered three hits to run his record to 4-0.

In the second game, Chris Willerer (3-0) tossed three-hitter and fanned four to pick up his third straight win without a loss.

Huskies bump Bulldogs in battle of frontrunners

The battle of unbeaten teams turned out to be the classic confronation that was expected in the Metro Summer Hockey League.

There was plenty of offense when the Bulldogs and Huskies, leaders of their respective divisions, squared off Monday night, and it was the Huskies taking a 10-7 victory in the Plymouth Ice Arena.

The Huskies, who hold a 31/2-game lead in the Eagle Conference, are the lone undefeated team at 6-0-1. The Bulldogs stay atop the Bakes Conference with a half-game edge over the Lakers but slip to 5-1.

HUSKIES 11, FALCONS 4:There was no letdown the night after their big win as the Huskies continued to chalk up the goals, handing the Falcons their third straight defeat Tuesday.

The Huskies, however, had some incen-

Kneiding added two goals and two assists, and goalie Scott Hutten blanked the Falcons during his 1½-period shift while the Huskies built a 4-0 lead. Jeff Green had a goal and one assist for the Falcons.

BRONCOS 6, WOLVERINES 3: Michael Krygier scored a third-period hat trick as the Broncos erupted for five goals in the finale to win going away.

The Broncos, who trailed 2-1 entering the last period, also received a goal and two assists from Chris Nickerson.

Bulldog goalie Jim Moule also was a big factor in the outcome, turning away many Falcon shots, according to MSHL Commissioner A.J. Baker. sioner A.J. Baker.

West Coast fine tunes its wines

years ago and been able to see the essence of this column I would have rejected the ideas it carries as preposterous.

At that time I, and everyone else in civilized America, knew that West Coast wineries were making strong strides forward in quality, but that the king and master of truly great wines was clearly France. For centuries that had been true and surely would continue to be so for the foreseeable future. France, with her Bordeaux, Burgundy, Champagne and Chablis regions!

But it is amazing what this long decade has seen.

The first fissure in the previously impenetrable barricade came in 1976 when some California Cabernets began to show most favorably in face-to-face competitions with the giants of the Medoc. Such names as Stag's Leap Wine Cellars, Mondavi, Beaulieu, Duckhorn and Sequoia Grove and others began to rise rapidly in world esteem. Today they take second chair to no Bordeaux efforts. Petrus and La Tour cost considerably more and are no less great than they ever were but it is now tradition that enables this to continue for the most part.

By the early 1980s it became ap-parent that the great white burgundies of France, priced beyond reasonable limits even then, and the more affordable, crisp wines of chablis could be matched in this country by a wide variety of chardonnays from California.

Sonoma county especially began highest quality standards of France. Wines from Simi, Sonoma-Cutrer, Jordan, Kistler, Chateau St. Jean (and more recently Ferrari-Corano) in Sonoma, Kendall-Jackson in Lake, Quail Ridge, Pine Ridge, Girard, Beringer and Chateau Montelena in Napa, all have come to be accepted as world class.

Then, beginning with the 1983 vintage and continuing through 1985 and 1986, the great red burgundies have been challenged from three sources; the Carneros region of Napa-Sonoma, the Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo areas and, above all, Oregon and the Willamette Valley. The cool growing conditions in these three regions, combined with excellent soils and increasing winemaking skills all dictate that one no longer need pay $35-$50 for a great wine made from the Pinot Noir grape. At half the price, or less, the glories of this perhaps finest of all wine grapes can apparently be realized under label names such as Wild Horse, Byron, Carneros Creek, Acacia, Saintsbury, La Crema, Knudsen-Erath, Rex Hill, Cameron, Tualatin, Elk Cove . . . the list is a long one.

The less tradition-bound wine people acknowledge some of the above (and there are some who grant most of it). But, then it comes to the true champion of wine, the great one, champagne, they resist. The name, after all, is synonymous with prestige and excellence. It is also one of the most hyped commodities in all the world, whose cost is determined more by the difficulty in producing it than in the quality it holds.

The quality of true champagne, whatever the price, cannot be challenged. It is enormous, but some evaluations are beginning to come in suggesting that some of the finer, small California producers are now offering sparklers of comparable quality. Though today they have not yet attained the mystique of such names as Dom Perignon, Taittinger, Krug, Mumm, Salon and Roederer, the time may not be far off. It was not too long ago that the names Mondavi, Saintsbury and Simi were virtually unknown.

The evidence seems clear that today several California regions are producing, at a fraction of the price, wines of absolute top quality, comparable to some of France's finest.

From Napa the S. Anderson winery particularly is gaining tremendous press for its chardonnay and pinot noir-based sparklers. A modest, family affair, Stan Anderson's operation has risen from obscurity to prominence in little over half a decade. Excellent wines.

Scharffenberger in Mendocino and Iron Horse in Sonoma have fared almost as well land once tiny Culbertson in San Diego is now growing both in quantity and quality. Shadow Creek, now housed in San Luis Obispo, has won many international awards. And so it goes.

Add to these modest producers the French/California alliance producers (using French skills and money and California grapes and winemakers) such names as Domaine Chandon, Piper-Sonoma, Maison Deutz and Domaine Mumm, all reflect burgeoning sparkling production and ex-

Do not interpret what is being written here as chauvinistic patriotism or mere provinciality. It is rather a reflection of a trend that has evolved quickly. One that is being acknowledged by more and more of those who shape the trends and observe the patterns of the wine

It is not a matter of a lessening of French quality. It continues to be of the highest order. But the evidence grows that American West Coast wineries have caught up and, in some cases, surpassed them. After all, in the auto industry, on a reverse scale, it has happened before. We know that.

I am hesitant to get that dusty crystal ball out again. It did me too little good a dozen years ago. There are those who feel the Australians' time is next.

When the house itself is a work of art

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

T WAS REGARDED AS an unbuildable lot. It dropped 50 feet from the edge of a quiet country lane to an artesian well pond at the base of a wooded ravine.

Beverly and Kenneth Neumann owned the lot for 15 years before the time was right for them to use their combined talents and come up with what would immediately become one of the most unusual houses in this part of the state. He is an architect and she is an artist.

The house is a contemporary trilevel.

riding the slope of the land like a majestic ocean liner does the waves, proudly and efficiently. House and setting complement each other. Neither is dimminished by the presence of the other. It is like a good marriage in which each partner shines as an individual, yet the total is greater than the sum of the parts.

"The shape of the house was determined by the trees," Beverly Neumann said. "We put windows at places where there are beautiful views."

In all there are 220 windows, mostly facing the ravine, offering one spectacular panorama after another. The front-entrance by the garage opens to the entry hall that crosses open space to the third level where kitchen, breakfast room, dining room and one of two living rooms are located.

A DECK is on the west side off the dining room on the third level, and another is off the second-level living room above the ravine on the north side. Each, supported by a single pillar with braces to the corners, has the feeling of a house in the woods, even to the Adirondack-style perch furniture.

While area and function are clearly defined, it is often through use of the white metal railings, glass or curved partial walls. The sense of openness and light from all directions gives the atmosphere an almost translucent quality.

It is interesting that even though the design is unusual, the floor plan unfamiliar, the walls (with few small exceptions) painted white and spaces defined by curves and angles, there is no initial feeling of disorientation.

That's because the house has a rhythm, a flow and a continuity created by wery careful planning. Many elements are specifically intended to guide the eye. Forms and materials, such as verdi (dark green) marble, are introduced and then repeated in other ways.

THIS CAREFUL attention to form and line begins outside. The redwood siding is painted white or a very soft gray with white to establish a pattern of horizontal lines. The horizontal lines of the siding are repeated in the white front gate, which opens to an inner courtyard and the front door.

The lines, separating the frosted panes in the pitched roof over the entry hall, are at an angle. In the vertical banks of windows, the horizontal lines are farther apart than those in the metal railings, but harmony is in all of these variations on a theme.

One of the most subtle is the cherry wood stripe in the hardwood floor at the base of the wall that runs from the living room into the dining room, put there to lead the eye.

THE USE of verdi marble begins with a panel in the entry hall floor and is repeated in the tub in the master bath, the hearth of the living room fireplace and the splash panels in the guest powder room.

"I love the way it looks, I love the overall quality," Beverly Neumann said of the house where they have lived for less than a year. "It's sophisticated without being high tech and quality without being preten-

THE NEUMANNS were never slaves to periods or styles of furnishings. He suggested, when she couldn't readily find what she wanted, that she look for pictures of things she liked for inspiration.

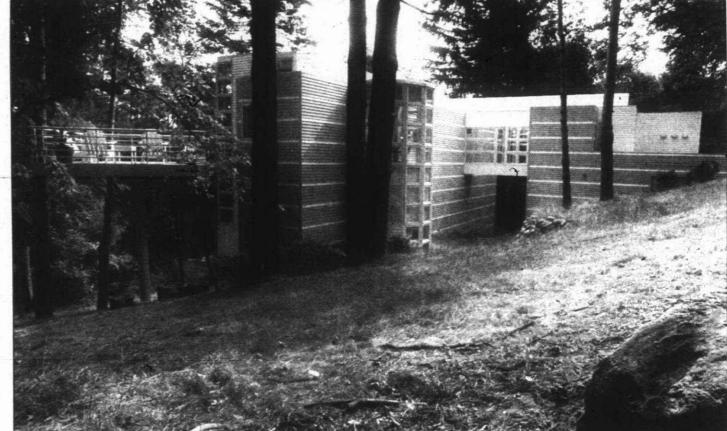

The breakfront in the dining room inspired by the work of Paul Frankel, designed by the couple and fabricated by Nelson Mill of Southfield. She found a picture of a Shaker jewel box with several drawers, expanded the idea and had the same Southfield company do it in cherry as a chest of drawers that covers almost a whole wall.

Lumen-Essence of Troy did the etched glass of the dining room table and the living room coffee table. The same style of chunky, sculptural wooden leg in different heights was used for both tables; again, repetition with modifications.

The natural wood floors throughout the house, the beautiful woods used in the custom-made furniture and the Italian-made dining room chairs with their beautiful solid panel curved backs, add a great deal of warmth to the atmosphere. The white background is an ideal setting for showcasing color, which comes from the family's collection of oriental rugs and the art.

ONE OF Beverly's newest works of art, a brilliant oil painting on birch plywood, the first of a Caribbean Series, on the two-story wall that goes from the upper to the lower living room, makes a dramatic and meaningful statement.

Her carved, painted totem pole in the entry hall with its colorful imagery is an immediate attention

"It is a satirical piece about the 20th century," she said of the totem. "The Indians used animals as symThe house is a contemporary trilevel, riding the slope of the land like a majestic ocean liner does the waves, proudly and efficiently.

bols to explain their lives. Instead of hawks we have parakeets. Instead of moose and bison, we have cows."

She made a large, folding-screentype painting for the master bedroom, tititilating in an intimate setting. It is placed by a bank of low windows, so it, like many of her recent commissions, is functional as well as artistic.

painting for the master bedroom, titled "Body Parts," mildly erotic and in the house except in the bathrooms," she said.

IT TOOK two years to build the house. Many problems had be overcome, such as getting the cement to the bottom of the ravine. All of the concrete blocks had to be carried down one by one. But all of that has begun to distance itself from the finished project, which in itself has become a work of art.

"You just go out and trust your instincts," said Neumann, who did all of the interior design herself.

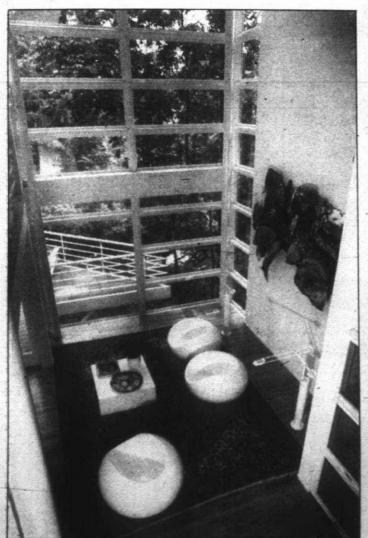

As a kind of postscript it could be said that hers are more trustworthy than most.

From the living room on the upper level, Beverly Neumann can look down on her studio, directly below, or across to the dining room pictured at left. The two rooms are partially divided by the fireplace wall at her right. The small globes and wires over the dining room table are part of an unusual and delicate light fixture.

Looking down to the living room on the lower level gives an idea of the scope and range of scenic views. On the long wall is Beverly Neumann's colorful painting on cut-out board of fish and people from her Caribbean series.

NBD's Convertible A.R.M. gives you low interest rates now...

...and the option to convert to a Fixed Rate Mortgage later.

With a Convertible Adjustable Rate Mortgage from NBD, you start with the guaranteed low rates of an Adjustable Rate Mortgage for the first year. Then, any time during the next four years, you can convert to a fixed rate mortgagequickly, easily.

Take advantage of low rates now...

The NBD Convertible A.R.M. gives you interest rates significantly below current fixed rate mortgages of comparable term. Here's how it works: Your rate is set on the day your completed application is received and it's good for one year from your closing date. Then every 12 months your rate will be adjusted up or down with the market. If interest rates go down, your mortgage payments go down accordingly. If interest rates continue to rise, your payments will increase. However, to protect you from any large changes, NBD guarantees that your A.R.M. will never go up more than two percentage points annually or more than six percentage points over the initial rate for the life of your loan.

...Lock in a fixed rate later for only $100.

If rates go down, or you want the security of a fixed rate mortgage, just notify our NBD Mortgage Office and they will convert your A.R.M. to a Fixed Rate Mortgage quickly, easily, and at a cost of only $100. You can even do it through the mail! There are no title searches, no waiting, and you can convert any month between the 13th and 60th month of your loan.

Find out more about it.

NBD's Convertible A.R.M. could help you buy more house than you thought. For more information about NBD's Convertible Adjustable Rate Mortgage, or the other loan options we have available, call or visit the NBD Mortgage Company Office nearest you.

*These estimated annual percentage rates are subject to increase or decrease on an annual basis after the loan is closed based upon the formula set forth in the loan contract.

Rates are quoted as of 7/18/88 and are subject to change without notice. Rates may vary across the state of Michigan. Contact your local NBD mortgage office. g interest rate will apply only during the first year. The quoted APR is based on a sociation should consider whatever legal aiternatives it has to seek the proper amendment of the documents. Generally, the better funded the homeowners association is, the better able the nomeowner is to enforce the documents and. otherwise, discharge its reponsibilities as set forth in the restrictions and covenants.

Homeowner associations tend to be selfdefeating because they don't think they have powers which they may well have. They should engage the services of an experienced attorney who can provide them with various insights, not only in enforcing the documents which they presently have, but seeking approval of needed amendments to the documents to improve their

Q. I have been waiting for over four months to get a mortgage commitment from a mortgage company that was recommended to me by my broker on a refinance. I have been met with a myriad of excuses and am wondering what to do. Do you have any suggestions?

I would contact the president of the mortgage company and demand a full explanation as to the cause of the delay. I would also consider seeking alternative means of financing, and if there was negligence on the part of the mort gage company. I would consider calculating the amount of damages which you may have suffered by way of loss of a favorable rate of interest and seek legal counsel as to the viability of a claim, assuming that you cannot get the mortgage company to in a timely fashion issue a commitment and provide you with some credit for their negligence if that can be established.
