Daskalakis dissenter

When it came time for the Plymouth-Canton school board to name the members of a citizens blue ribbon committee at its last meeting, trustee E.J. McClendon spoke up. He balked at the ointing of Diane Daskalakis to CREW, Community earching Educational Workings. CREW is charged with conducting an intensive review of the school district. Daskalakis is a Plymouth Township jeweler who's publicly objected to the use of certain teaching materials in

"She's entitled to the right to speak . . . but how can we take seriously the advice of someon who accuses us of promoting witchcraft and the occult?" asked McClendon. "I feel so strongly that she has not been a friend of education."

Trustee Barbara Graham disagreed. "I think you are wrong saying we don't have the materials. I think we're top heavy with them.

"When you have people coming forward volunteering their time to help and when you suggest they're on it to undermine the committee — to single someone out like this is a witchhunt," said m. The 54 CREW nbers, Daskalakis included. were approved 5-1-0.

Stamper gets life sentence for murder

staff writer

In a courtroom teaming with onlookers and armed Washtenaw County sheriffs, 18-year-old Steven Stamper was sentenced Friday to life in prison for the murder of Mary Anne Hulbert, 13, of Canton Town-

A jury convicted Stamper of Ypsilanti Township of second-degree murder Sept. 30. Circuit Judge Henry Conlin could have sentenced Stamper to a minimum of eight years imprisonment.

Stamper, dressed in hunter-orange overalls, white T-shirt and a camouflage jacket, said nothing after the sentence was announced.

"He just looked solemn and very circumspect," said Jeffrey Strouss, Stamper's attorney. "He knew he was going to get a substantial prison

Stamper was one of two defendants charged with open murder in the shooting death of Hulbert, whose body was found in a Superior Township field in January 1987.

ACCORDING TO testimony, Mary believed she was pregnant by the codefendant, Christopher Machacek. On Dec. 30, 1986, Stamper and Machacek drove Mary to a field where they claimed they intended to shoot rifles into the air, inducing a miscarriage by scaring Mary.

An autopsy showed Mary was not pregnant. The Stevenson Junior High School seventh grader was shot seven times.

Machacek was found guilty of first-degree murder in a separate jury trial in September. He is to be sentenced Friday by Conlin.

Addressing Stamper, Conlin said he received numerous letters from the friends and family of both the defendant and Hulbert.

"I'VE LIVED with this case now for over a year," said Conlin. "We've had a complete trial and a fair trial. After considering all the testimony, I cannot get past two or three things.

the fact that if you hadn' driven the car and provided the guns and bullets, Mary probably would be alive today," he said. "The other fact is that you and other people involved were partying afterwards. While that young lady was laying in the weeds, you were partying at a hotel I can't believe it.

"The court is convinced . . . that the only appropriate sentence is life." Conlin gave Stamper credit for the 653 days already served.

"It's not over for you," added the judge. "Everything you and your attorney have said about your desire to change your life is still available to you. I'm hopeful that I'll be hearing good things about you . your getting an education and learning skills. You'll have a chance to convince the parole board. You're entitled to appellate review.

Strouss, who said he'd like to handle Stamper's appeal, said the average time served by those given a life sentence is 17 years.

Stamper, an 18-year-old from Ypsilanti, was convicted Sept. 30 of second-degree murder. According to testimony, Stamper and co-defendant Christopher Machacek shot Hulbert, 13, because she thought she was pregnant by Machacek. Stamper implored Conlin to be lenient.

"I understand that this is a very serious crime and that someone should be punished. I was 16 when I was arrested, and it has been a long road," said Stamper.

A specialized emergency calling system is a step closer to being hooked up in Canton Township, Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Enhanced 911 offers two key features, said Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry. Calls go straight to the police department of the community where the call is placed, Berry said. Also, after a caller dials 911, police immediately see a computer read-out of the caller's address.

THE DIRECT call "cuts down on a lot of time by virtue of the call not being transferred," Berry said. Also, if a community chooses to buy the option, the caller "doesn't have to say anything and the address appears on a computer screen."

The updated emergency calling system is being implemented jointly by 17 communities in the Conference Western Wayne Communities. Canton trustees approved $55,000

"From a technical standpoint it's probably one of the biggest advancements we've had in public safety during the last 10 years," said John Santomauro, Canton public safety di-

Installation of equipment and personnel training are the next steps in making Enhanced 911 - which has been actively pursued by area police chiefs since 1985 - a reality.

The program is expected to be ready for testing in March 1989 and on board by October 1989, said Marsha Bianconi, CWW assistant direc-

The cost to homeowners for the first five years is approximately 25 cents per month per telephone, said Bianconi. After the first five years, the cost will drop to about 20 cents per subscriber. These costs will be automatically added to telephone

"The reason initial costs are higher is that they are paying for the installation," Bianconi said.

SERVICE TO homeowners wouldn't be affected by the installa-tion of Enhanced 911, said Fred Monterio, Michigan Bell market administrator. Monterio said Michigan Bell is unsure when the program will be implemented.

"Right now we're sitting down and talking about that date," he said.

If you want to report an emergency before Enhanced 911 is implemented and you live in Canton, call 397-3350 for police and 981-1111 for fire; if you live in Plymouth or

Sheriff, judge at odds over jail incident

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano said chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman overstepped his bounds last week by holding him in contempt after a court-appointed monitor was denied access to the county jail.

Court sources, however, said it was Ficano who overstepped his bounds in denying access to court-appointed monitor Vincent Nathan of Toledo.

KAUFMAN issued a contempt cition against the sheriff Monday afer holding a show-cause hearing on the incident.

The matter will be resolved at a hursday, Oct. 27, hearing before dge Kaufman.

Ficano, however, said he is coninced that if the judge allowed testimony at last week's hearing, "he'd see that there was no basis" for the Chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman issued the contempt citation against the sheriff and is giving him until Oct. 27 to resolve the matter.

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano is protesting his citation for contempt for failing to allow a visit by a court-appointed jail monitor.

tempt last week for what he said was failing to allow Nathan, the jail monitor appointed by the judge, to tour the jail. Ficano maintains that Nathan was allowed to visit and that the monitor's request for a clarification of Kaufman's orders was "not adversarial."

Nathan's request prompted the show cause hearing.

Kaufman declined direct comment on the case, citing judicial codes of conduct and ethics.

"I'd like to be able to comment, but my hands are tied," the judge said.

Sources close to the court, however, said Ficano was held in contempt for interpreting provisions of Kaufman's orders and that interpretation is the responsibility of the judge alone.

Sources said the judge acted within proper bounds in holding the show cause hearing without seeking additional testimony. Kaufman has issued two orders regarding the jail. The first, in May 1987, said that the court monitor could use employees of the jail and have access to information. The second was issued on Oct. 6 and ordered the sheriff to provide staff to collect some 1,000 pieces of material so that it could be reviewed by the monitor. The Oct. 6 order gave the sheriff 10 days to comply.

FICANO said Nathan asked two doctors to come in on Oct. 13 to examine the medical case histories of 80 inmates.

The dispute, Ficano said, stemmed from a conflict between provisions of the two orders.

The sheriff also said any request for information takes staff time, and that there are 14 positions at the jail that are not filled.

At the hearing last week, Kaufman heard arguments from both attorneys then adjourned for a short time. When he came back he held a show cause hearing on the contempt charge. Nathan, according to Ficano, stood up in court and said "I didn't ask for that."

NATHAN was unavailable for comment last week.

The judge didn't hear any testimony and issued the contempt charge. Ficano had previously asked Kaufman to excuse himself from the case.

Said Ficano about Kaufman's actions: "I am shocked that in an

Olives neat in grocery and vodka

I really can't tell you which I enjoy more, strolling through a Greek grocery, breathing in the air scentented with Calamatta olives or stirring a few anchovy-stuffed olives in an Icelandic vodka on the rocks.

I love olives.

Whether they're served up on a steaming botana from Xochomilico's or sliced and tossed with some cherry tomatoes and a light vinaigrette, I love 'em even more.

The olive is one of the oldest known fruit crops. Man grew olive trees even before recorded history. It is not known when the wild olive was first brought under cultivation. But records point to the limestone hills of Attica, the Greek peninsula, as the seat of its first cultivation.

The olive is frequently mentioned in the Bible. The Spanish brought the olive to California in 1769. In the early Franciscan missions, the fruit was pressed for oil and used in the diet and burned for lamps.

AT LAST COUNT, there are more than 15 million acres of olive trees in the world. Each year, more than nine million metric tons of olives and more than three million tons tons of olive oil are produced. The countries bordering the Mediterranean Sea grow most of the world's olives and olive oil.

The olive tree is adapted to a hot, dry climate, and it does well on many different soils. For bearing fruit, it must have water, along with good drainage. Trees come into production at five years of age but are not in full production for at least another 10-15 years. They are long-lived, however, because it is known that trees brought to the United States by the Spaniards are still bearing fruit.

For the production of high-quality table olives, the fruit must be picked by hand. Harvesting for the oil industry is usually done mechanically, either by knocking the fruit from the trees or by the use of shakers.

Methods of processing the olives for the table vary widely. First, there is the traditional Spanish method, which has unripe yellowish-green olives being fermented. Second, the American method, in which halfripe reddish fruit is used and fermented, and lastly (my favorite) the Greek method, in which the fully ripe, dark purple fruit is pre-

In most processing methods, a weak solution of lye is applied to neutralize the bitter principle. The lye penetrates the olives and hydrolyzes the bitter taste. The lye-treated olives are immediately rinsed and soaked in water, with frequent changes, in order to remove the lye. The washed olives are placed in fermentation tanks and barrels and are then covered with brine. The use of lye is not allowed in Greece. Instead, the brine is relied on to lessen and mask the bitterness, hence the different taste.

Pumpkins more than an eyeful

By Mary Rodrique staff writer

> Halloween is just around the corner the day when pumpkins are elevated to star sta-

Those orange orbs are good for more than just carving jack-o-lanterns. The pumpkin, cousin to squash and gourds, and sure symbol of autumn, can be cut. cooked and transformed into everything from soup to dessert. Upland Hills Farm in

Oxford has been celebrating the pumpkin for several years with a Pumpkin Festival, complete with spooks and goblins and a haunted house. It continues each weekend through October, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday

Admission is $5 for adults, $3 for children. Visitors can take a horse-drawn hayride to a pumpkin patch, where they can pick their own pumpkin and have it named by the Great Pumpkin (who moonlights as a psychologist when he's not holding court in the pumpkin patch). Prices run from $1 for the smallest to $5.50 for a 16-inch pumpkin.

Of course, the less adventurous can do just as well at the local grocery store, fruit market or roadside pumpkin stand which seems to multiply this time of year the way Christmas tree lots appear in December.

PUREEING FRESH pumpkin is not hard. The folks at Upland Hills recommend not peeling unless the pumpkin is very large with a tough rind. Cut the pumpkin into cubes and put the squares in a preserving kettle with a pint of boiling water. Simmer without a cover for 5 or 6 hours, until the juice has evaporated.

Mash the pumpkin through a colander, or use a blender to make the puree. Pies, puddings and soups can be made from the fine, creamy pulp. If you use a colander, the leftover pulp can be used for cookies, cakes and bread. One medium-sized pumpkin will produce five or six cups of pulp.

If you have a large pumpkin, whose rind can't be used, clean it out, put its cap back on, and bake it in the oven. Place it on a cookie sheet and bake at 300 degrees for five or six hours. Then scrape out the meat and puree it as previously described.

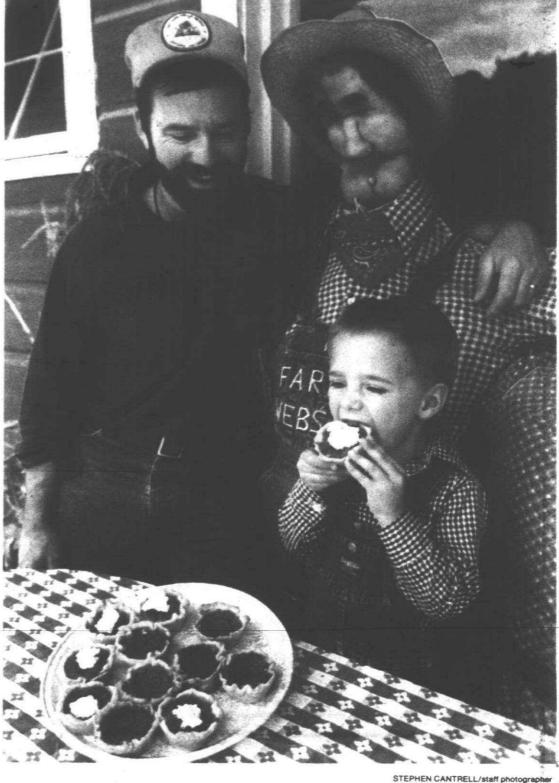

Upland Hills has two pumpkin patches and has been operating the autumn festival for about 10 years, according to staff. Farmer Knight Webster says the patches are 10 acres each. And if they run out of pumpkins, they bring in more from neighboring farms.

"We get 15,000 to 20,000 people each year," he said one recent Sunday. And despite cool, brisk weather, the farm was teeming with many families taking rides out to the pumpkin

KNIGHT AND his wife, Dorothy Webster, operate the family owned farm with the help of sons Bruce, who serves as president, and Ken, who runs a catering business and restaurant: Ken's Kitchen at the Wagon Wheel in Lake Orion.

Gundella the Witch celebrates Halloween with party guests by serving them a frightful — but tasty — array of food including Bloody Mary Soup, and Liverheads and crackers.

Halloween party wards off chill

Halloween, like Christmas, is a season, not just a day. The whole month of October vibrates with it.

Early in the month, Mother Nature decorates with festive fall colors - orange pumpkins and brown cornstalks. The leaves are aflame with reds, yellows, oranges and

Later in the month - as these leaves fall to the ground - bare, spectral branches reach out like arms against the background of the gloomy gray sky on a rainy day, or cast weird lacy shadows in the night, by the light of a cold, white moon.

Sometimes, a mist will rise up from the ground to add to the effect, and produce a bit of a shiver in even the most stalwart.

Is it any wonder that this is a favorite time for parties? People need to get together to ward off the chill. They need to laugh and make light of the scary things that threaten us all as winter draws near.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES are special fun. Guests can come in masquerade and act anyway they like because their masks hide their true identity, and everyone knows they are only playing a role.

For one party, I hired a young high school girl to don a burlap dress, rat her hair widly and smear dirt on her face. She was then seated on a shelf in the living room, where she screamed madly at the guests as they entered the house, startling them a bit - to say the least.

That was a great ice-breaker.

On another occasion, we had a young man wear a parachute harness underneath his clothing, and hang suspended from the rafters on Everyone thought he was a stuffed dummy, until they get real close and heard him moan.

All sorts of tricks and scary games can be used, but at Halloween - as at any other time of year - it is the food that really determines the success of the party.

Traditional foods such as cider and doughnuts, apples in any form, pumpkins and popcorn, are always

But, at times, it is fun to try something different.

We once ordered a six-foot submarine sandwich, had it wrapped in a white sheet, delivered by a hearse, and carried in on a slab - like a

LIVERHEADS

Liverheads are fun and easy to make. This recipe makes one large, or two small heads. Use your hands to mix together:

2 pounds smoked liver sausage 2 8-ounce packages cream cheese 1 envelope dry onion soup mix optional: 2 ounces Lauche Kum (carroway liqueur)

Shape mixture into heads, bats, witches, devils, pumpkins and monsters. Frost with cream cheese, softened with a few drops of lemon juice. Tint some of the cheese with food coloring for the hair, eyes and mouth. Serve with crackers.

DEAD-EYE DELIGHT

For each serving, place a ring of spiced apple atop a lettuce leaf. In the center of each, arrange one (canned) lichee nut stuffed with a raisin, a dark grape, or dyed cream cheese, to resemble an eye.

AND DEAD FLIES

Prepare one large, or two small, packages of orange gelatin dessert, using only 3 cups of water, instead of the four cups called for on the pack-

Pare and shred two carrots. When the gelatin is semi-firm, stir in shredded carrot, along with one cup well-drained, crushed pineapple (canned), and one cup black raisins. Leave mixture in refrigerator until firm enough to cut into squares; (I make this a day ahead, to make sure it is jelled enough.)

HALLOWEEN HAM 4 pounds canned ham % teaspoon ginger 1 box frozen puff pastry 1 Thsp. water 1 cup prepared table mustard 1 cup brown sugar 1 egg yolk

Cut ham into two-inch cubes. Mix together the mustard, ginger and brown sugar. Coat each piece of ham generously with the mixture. (Save the remaining mixture to serve as a sauce with the cooked ham.)

Meanwhile, thaw puff pastry and roll out until it is double in size. Cut into pieces to fit the ham. Neally wrap each piece of ham with pastry Use cold water to seal the edges as place on an ungreased cookie sheet

FOREIGN OWNERSHIP - By a vote of 250 for and 170 against, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 5410) requiring foreigners who buy heavily into American assets to register with the Commerce Department.

These buyers would have to make certain information available to the government - their officers and directors by nationality and certain internal financial information.

Supporter James Florio, D-N.J., said, "We want to know who owns America, and that is what this legislation is all about."

Opponent Jim Cooper, D-Tenn., called the bill "an exercise in election year xenophobia," damaging to states that court foreign investment.

Members voting yes want foreign buyers of America to provide certain internal data to the U.S. government. Voting yes: Democrats Dennis Hertel of Harper Woods and Sander Levin of Southfield.

Voting no: Republicans Carl Pursell of Plymouth and William Broomfield of Birmingham.

Not voting: William Ford, D-Tay-

TEXTILE BILL VETO - By a vote of 272 for and 152 against, the House failed to achieve the twothirds majority it needed to override President Reagan's veto of textile trade legislation (S 2662).

The bill would have frozen nonrubber footwear imports at present levels and limited textile and clothing imports to a growth rate of 1 percent annually over 1987 levels.

Override supporter James Traficant, D-Ohio, said the bill is needed because unfair competitors abroad 'are laughing in our face."

Jim Slattery, D-Kansas, said the bill would inflict "unnecessary increases in clothing and shoe prices" on American consumers.

Members voting yes wanted to override President Reagan's veto of the textile bill. Voting yes: Democrats Hertel, Ford and Levin.

Voting no: Republicans Pursell and Broomfield.

WELFARE REFORM - By a vote of 347 for and 53 against, the House sent to President Reagan legislation (HR 1720) giving the federalstate welfare system its first major overhaul in its 53 years.

Roll Call Report

Seeking to end welfare dependency, the bill:

- · Rèquires most recipients to enroll in state job-training and education programs as a condition of getting their welfare checks.
- Requires payroll withholding of absent parents' child-support obliga-
- Institutes "workfare" under which one parent in a welfare family must spend at least 16 hours weekly in a government or community ser-

Supporter Don Pease, D-Ohio, termed the bill "a clear signal that we expect people on welfare to move on to regular employment."

Opponent Bill Archer, R-Texas, said "the bill will approach $1 billion a year in extra spending" after five TOBACCO, ALCOHOL TAXES -By a vote of 60 for and 33 against, the Senate tabled (killed) a proposal to raise alcohol and cigarette taxes. The revenue would fund multi-billion dollar anti-drug legislation that Congress may clear before it adjourns this month.

Deficit ceilings have left Congress far short of the revenue the drug bill will require to meet the high expectations lawmakers are raising for it in the countdown to Election Day

This amendment to a tax bill (S 2238) sought to raise $2 billion over two years by raising federal levies on cigarettes, wine, beer and liquor.

Sponsor Warren Rudman, R-N.H., said the drug bill "will be meaningless without funding. Opponent Terry Sanford, D-N.C., Congress should consider in-

To the winner goes the spoils of victory - and that includes the leftover pizza in the case of Farmington's boys cross country team.

Plymouth Salem honored a premeet wager by treating its opponent to dinner after Farmington defeated the Rocks 24-33 in Thursday's showdown for the Lakes Division dualmeet title.

Both teams go to preseason camp together each August and have developed a sportmanslike bond in addition to a competitive rivalry.

Their latest meeting was a rematch of last year's season finale in which Salem edged the Falcons for the division championship, winning a sixth-man tiebreaker.

Farmington, 5-0 in the Lakes and 8-0 overall, made sure their was no such ending to this year's dual meet, capturing three of the top five places and getting the jump on Salem.

"LAST YEAR THEY beat us, and we came back to beat them in the league meet," Farmington coach us of that right away."

Brad Moore of Farmington won a foot race to the finish line and nipped Salem's Scott Stryker for first place. Moore ran 16:45 on the Oakland Community College course and Stryker 16:46.

Farmington's Ben Goba-was right behind, taking third at 16:48, and Greg Endres nabbed the No. 5 spot after Brendon Masterson of Salem came across in fourth place. Endres was three seconds behind Masterson, who ran 17:32.

"Ben pushed it today. He didn't vin it, but he was the one pushing the pace.'

Young was especially pleased with the efforts of Goba and Endres, who have been hurt much of the season.

"THE LAST GOOD race Endres ran was at (the) Schoolcraft (Invitational on Sept. 17)," Young said. "That tells you how long it's been."

Endres, who has been running in the 18- to 19-minute range, came through in the biggest meet of the year and ran his best time since the Schoolcraft race.

'Moore ran a great race," Young said. "I think that's the first time he's beaten Stryker.

"Goba and Endres, because they were hurt, were the key kids in the victory. Having them today was

The Falcons had a 9-12 lead after six runners, and they sewed up the win when Mark Mitchell, Paul Brandt and Matt Langdon, following sixth-place Dave Hamway of Salem, captured the Nos. 7-9 positions, respectively.

Hamway was clocked at 17:40, Mitchell 17:42, Brandt 17:48 and Langdon 17:56. John Thomas and Sean Speakman completed the Salem scoring, coming in 10th and 11th at 17:59 and 18:01.

Comeback falls shy as Canton tumbles, 17-12

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

The cold rain, a 17-0 Walled Lake Central lead and a woeful offense gave people three reasons to leave Friday's Plymouth Canton game. Karl Wukie gave them one reason to Canton caught fire in the final five minutes, but it wasn't enough to beat the visiting Vikings, who won 17-12 in a Western Lakes crossover football game.

The sophomore quarterback miraculously brought the Chiefs, 2-6, within 30 yards and 30 seconds of beating Central, 3-5. But time ran out faster than the yards would.

Wukie replaced starting quarterback Jason Dembny in the final quarter and promptly completed six consecutive passes for 99 yards. One of those was a 15-yard touchdown strike to Bruce Hermanson with three minutes left in the game.

Wukie moved the ball with efficiency and profiency in his relief

Ironically enough, Wukie started in the Chiefs' win against Livonia Franklin the previous week. He was relieved by Dembny.

"LAST WEEK, he didn't look that good, so we went with Dembny," Khoenle said. "Tonight, Dembny didn't look good. Next week, we'll probably start so-and-so, and he'll probably play bad.

"Heck, I don't know. Maybe they can't stand prosperity."

Prosperity was only 30 yards away for Canton. After Hermanson scored, he recovered an onside kick that gave the Chiefs the ball on the the Viking 34. Four plays later, Jason Riggs carried the ball 4 yards for the touchdown with 2:10 remain-

Still, minus the last-second comeback attempt, the Chiefs were a sad sight to watch. Offensively, they were stagnant. The team did not get a first down until midway through the third quarter.

Defensively, Canton fell as easy as dominos hit by a bowling ball. Viking running back Joe Gough continually pounded the middle, accumulating 115 yards in 25 carries.

Bowie lifts ballclub to 21-14 win

The Pat Bowie Show rolled through Northville Friday evening, although it's doubtful it received rave reviews from the partisans.

Bowie, a 5-foot-9, 200-pound junior fullback, punished the Mustangs with 183 yards rushing and three touchdowns in leading Plymouth Salem to a 21-14 Western Lakes' football triumph.

Bowie scored on runs of 1, 3 and 14 yards. His final TD broke a 14-14 tie with 6:41 left in the game and capped a 59-yard, sixplay drive. Bowie provided the key play in the game-winning march, a 27-yard run.

The Rocks, who improved to 6never trailed in the game but had to withstand two Northville comebacks that tied the score. Bowie, who had 129 yards rushing in the first half, dived in from a yard out in the second quarter to finish a 12-play, 64-yard drive that included Bowie runs of 13, 9 and 27 yards.

BUT THE MUSTANGS tied it with just six seconds left in the half on a 3-yard pass from Greg Price to Dave Cryderman.

A fumble recovery by Salem's Mike Jarvey at the Northville 17 in the third quarter set up Bowie's second TD. It took the Rocks four plays to score: two runs by quarterback Ryan Johnson for 13 yards and two runs by Bowie for 4.

Northville, though, rallied again, tying the score with 9:41 remaining in the game on a 4yard Mike Karfis run. The Mustangs negotiated 44 yards in 10 plays to knot the game at 14.

Salem outgained Northville, 273-213. The run-oriented Rocks threw just four passes. Johnson completed two for 28 yards. Bowie lugged the ball 19 times in rushing for 183 yards; Salem finished with 245 yards on the Plymouth Salem made quick work Thursday of host Westland John Glenn, outscoring the Rockets 24-8 in the first quarter en route to a 65-51 trouncing.

Salem improved to 12-2 overall, 8-0 in the Lakes Division; Glenn dipped to 7-6 overall, 4-4 in the division.

Three Rocks reached double figures in scoring: Jill Estey (19), Teri King (15) and Sarah Ruete (11). Estey had 12 and King 10 of Salem's first-quarter points.

We left too many kids open (in the first quarter)," said Glenn coach Pat Bennett. We didn't pressure them and they hit some nice open shots pretty consistently."

The Rockets were led by Yvette Lawrence's 16 points and seven rebounds. Tracy Martin scored 14 points and Janet Ternes tallied nine.

CANTON 66, HARRISON 5: Plymouth Canton showed no mercy at home Thursday against woeful Farmington Hills Harrison. The Chiefs held the winless Hawks scoreless in the first and fourth quarters in rolling to their 14th win in 15 games. They are 8-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division.

MERCY 35, LADYWOOD 32: Jenny Clinton's four free throws down the stretch carried Farmington Hills Mercy past rival Livonia Ladywood in a Catholic League Central Divi-sion girls basketball game Thursday before 900 fans at Madonna College.

"It was a great lift for us after that great embarrassment Tuesday (a 65-36 loss to Birmingham Marian), with all the turnovers," said Mercy coach Larry Baker, whose team improved to 4-10 overall, 4-4 in the Central. "The way they came back makes me very proud of this

Defense and rebounding keyed the Marlin victory. Mercy limited Ladywood forward Yvonne Barnett to seven points ("Holding her to seven is a great achievement for us," Baker said) and held Jenny Kennedy scoreless in the fourth quarter. Kennedy had 12 in the game.

On the boards, Mercy had a commanding 40-28 advantage. Lee Albrecht topped the Marlins with 10. Clinton, who Baker said "did a masterful job running the offense," led all scorers with 15 points. Clinton's four free throws came after Sherri Adams drilled a threepointer to give the Blazers a shortlived 32-31 lead.

The loss dropped Ladywood to 9-5 overall, 5-3 in the Central.

FARMINGTON 44, STEVENSON 38: Marissa Ferrari's 10 first-quarter points enabled Farmington (2-7 in the Lakes Division, 4-10 overall) to roll to a 17-6 lead after one period and hold on for the win against visiting Livonia Stevenson.

Ferrari finished with 19 points. Erika Hatcher added eight and Kirsten Norman six and 13 rebounds.

Jeanne Magoulick led Stevenson (0-9 in the Lakes, 1-12 overall) with nine points; Jessann Martin had eight.

W.L. CENTRAL 60, N. FARM-INGTON 58: North Farmington wasn't quite able to stop Walled Lake Central on the Vikings home floor Thursday. North was paced by junior guard Kim Gurecki's 25 points, which led all scorers. Central got 24 points from senior forward Kelly O'Hanlon and 20 points and 19 rebounds from enior center Tonia Smith.

"I figured if everybody ran their usual race, we'd be OK," Barrett said. "Again, the freshman came through and ran well today."

Because of that, the Falcons continue to be successful despite losing three of their top six runners - junior Margaret Martin, senior Maureen O'Dell and sophomore Chervl Casaroll - from a year ago to injury

"Our top six runners today have done an excellent job the last two weeks of running hard at practice and taking up where the injured runners left off," Barrett said. "They've really done a bang-up job."

Despite also having a career-best time, Salem's Thomas fell just short of her personal goal of running 21:00. She has the 10th-best time in school history and needed that time to move up to No. 9.

"I felt I held back in some places." the senior said. "Once I heard my two-mile time. I thought I had the ing in 21:12 and freshmen Allison time I wanted and slowed down, and Davis and Sheri Ylitalo running Salem coach Geoff Baker, whose eam finishes 4-1 in the Lakes and 4-2 in dual meets, credited the Falcons for their successful pack running, which he said would be the leciding factor.

"They were bunched in there pretty well," he said. "Where that came from, I don't know. When they ran (Livonia) Stevenson at Cass (Benton Park), they weren't like that, but they don't like Cass."

The story you are about to read 1S true.

And we haven't changed any names, either. In a nationwide taste test, a majority of smokers rated Merit as good or better than Camel Filters, a full-flavor brand with twice as much tar as Merit. Enriched Flavor™ is the reason why. Only Merit has it, in both regular and menthol. Which is why Merit can deliver full, satisfying tobacco flavor with far less tar than Camel Filters. In fact, Merit delivers all that taste with even less tar than other leading light cigarettes! Including Winston Lights. And Salem Lights. So taste Merit yourself. You'll find it truly remarkable.

Enriched Flavor,™ low tar. ■ A solution with Merit.

Birds of a feather

As the temperature continues its steady decline down the thermometer to winter cold, so the birds are continuing their annual fall trek south to warmer weather. Sandhill cranes are just one species of migratory birds that stop off in Michigan for a brief hiatus. See Page 6D.

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

Monday, October 24, 1988 O&E

RANDY BORST/staff photographer

Jim VIk of Farmington Hills bought his "dream" car, a Mercedes 190 SL convertible, in 1986, paying "in the ballpark of $12,000." The car, which also has a hard top, "is the little roadster I've always wanted, ever since I was a little kid."

By Janice Brunson staff writer

In its heyday during the late 1950s and early '60s, the convertible was the preferred automobile of choice for thousands of drivers who seemingly asserted a "Ube-U" individuality in their choice.

"If you wanted to be different or sporty, the convertible was the car to buy," said Ray Windecker of Livonia, who coined the U-be-U phrase. Windecker is a 41-year veteran of the auto industry who now works for Ford Motor Co.

The peak year for convertibles was 1963. Of 7.7 million automobiles sold in the United States that year, 540,000 had folding tops. Seven percent of all cars on the road were convertibles.

But by the late 1960s, the scene was rapidly changing. Buyers who took pride in driving something different had a whole new array of exciting selections, a veritable cornucopia of imported and American-made coups, pickups and sports cars.

The convertible plunged in popularity, almost gone from the U.S. market by 1973. Cadillac was the last to end production, discontinuing the El Dorado convertible in 1976 after manufacturing 14,000 that year.

By 1980, there were fewer than 50,000 licensed convertibles in the United States An estimated 20,000 of those were imported Fiats.

Catherine "Katie" Ascencio, now 20 and a student at Oakland Community College, bought the used car four years ago while a sophomore at Redford Union High School. She labored long hours at after-school jobs to

"It's my baby," she said. "The minute I saw it, I knew it was the car for me. I always wanted an old convertible. I love it.

She parks the car in winter. Storage is something of a problem. She must rely on relatives with an empty garage or pay the cost of storage, sorely stretching her already limited budget. But Katje considers the sacrifice well worth while.

"I'd never sell it," she said.

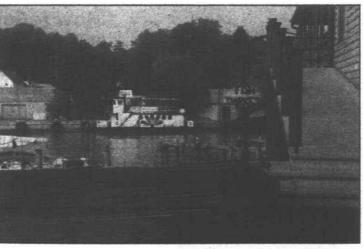

Katie's devotion is not unusual among convertible lovers. And their numbers are rapidly increasing.

This fiscal year, 155,000 drivers in the United States and Canada bought new model convertibles, 18 percent more than last year. Sales are expected to top 190,000 in 1989. The majority of models sold are American-made

U-be-U individuality, the culprit accountable for the demise of the convertible, has once again reared its head. Buyers are clamoring yet again for something different, and convertibles fit the bill.

Port Stanley is definitely a place where you should slow down and live on 19th century time.

Auto analysts first noticed the trend in 1980, buyers pestering dealers for convertible models. U.S. manufacturers responded. The first model in six years hit the market in 1982, quickly followed by a succession of others.

Nick Vitale, a sales manager for Joe Panian Chevrolet in Southfield for 10 years, recalls those first inquiries and the changes since.

"THIS YEAR, (the availability of convertible) Corvettes dried up all over the country. We had to go as far as Texas to find some," he said. In fiscal year 1988, Panion was one of the nation's leading Chevrolet dealers in convertible sales, selling 20 Corvettes and 10 Cavaliers and Cameros.

Today's buyer is reflective of those from yesteryear, "free spirits," according to Vitale and others in the Port Stanley: life in the slow lane

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

If you ever watch Bob Newhart on the NBC television series "Newhart," you will recognize the scene as you enter Kettle Creek Inn: Gary or Jean Vedova standing behind the small registration desk, a few guests enjoying drinks in the tiny dark wood bar, and another curled up with a book in the garden room across the hall.

The Newhart inn is in some unnamed place in New England. The Kettle Creek Inn is in the little village of Port Stanley, Ontario, Canada, on the north shore of Lake Erie, 125 miles from Detroit. It is half hour's drive south of London.

Inn life always seems to be cen-tered around the lobby. At Kettle Creek Inn, the rest of the action is down the hall in the dining room or upstairs, where 10 simple guest rooms are lined up on either side of a single hall. The rooms are clean, contemporary and spartan, with

For Mitch Easter, the game isn't 'What's My Line?" but rather "Who Have You Talked to Lately?'

After a recent Let's Active per ormance, the usual backstage wellwishers swarm around the one of the most-lauded new music producers today. The questions start.

'Craning' for a good look

By Marie Chestney staff writer

On a hill in Jackson County, there isn't a sign that says, "Rest Stop, Sandhill Cranes."

But you know there's something special about this place because benches dot the rural hilltop. There's got to be some reason why folks gather here on this well-worn hill overlooking a vast watery marsh.

The reason shows up in the sky every fall. That's when great flocks of the four-foot-tall cranes come back to Haehnle on their long trek southward.

The annual migration from north to south starts with a trickle of cranes in mid-October. By Nov. 1, the trickle has turned to flocks, with the evening sky flush with cranes gliding to a stop in the distant

On some fall days, at least 200 of the big birds with their seven-footwingspans can be counted. On one November day in 1980, bird watchers counted a record 1,325 cranes in the bird sanctuary.

By mid-November, the marshland is empty again, the last of the visitors having left on their long flight to Texas. Mexico or California.

And yes, the long-legged, longnecked, long-winged birds drift into the marshes of Phyllis Haehnle Memorial Sanctuary in April on their trip north. But their numbers are few and their stay is short because there's not much to eat at Haehnle in the springtime.

A few of the cranes, the early arrivals or those who grew up in the Haehnle marsh, stake out a claim and stay the summer to rear their young.

BUT MOST move on quickly to other marshy areas in Michigan and Canada. These big birds need a huge area to feed in, whereas Haehnle can support just a handful of cranes over the summer months.

There's lots of water in the Haehnle marsh, but cranes don't eat fish. They stick to grain, frogs, snakes and insects.

But the fall migration, well, just call it spectacular. The cranes, accompanied by their young, fly in, in large groups. And they don't arrive quietly, either.

With trumpeting, boisterous noises, they glide into the marsh and onto the marsh's flood plain. They roam over the hillside on which the benches sit.

"It's a spectacle at dusk," said Roger Sutherland, biology professor at Schoolcraft College and a bird watcher for many years. "They spread out for miles, eating. The water is shallow and when they come in, it looks like they sink out of sight. But they barely get wet."

The cranes spend their days eating the corn planted for them in nearby fields by local farmers working in cooperation with the Jackson Audubon Society. The society doesn't want the cranes eating the corn of nearby farmers, so a crop is planted each year just for them.

"They're voracious eaters," said Grover Niergarth, a biology professor at Schoolcraft College who also Fog offers a thin shroud over the Haehnle Sanctuary where sandhill cranes congregate during their annual migration.

is a bird lover. "They build up their carbohydrate reserves."

Cranes that get to the sanctuary early get to enjoy the rest stop the longest; the late arrivals have just a few days to rest up.

WHILE FATTENING up for the long trip ahead, the cranes wait for two things to happen. One is for their flock to get bigger. For reasons of protection, they like to travel in massive groups.

massive groups.

The second is to wait for just the right air currents in which to take off. Because they are high fliers, the cranes depend on high air currents to get them to Texas and Mexico.

By mid-November, both of these things have happened, and the last of the noisy, big birds are gone. The countryside around the Waterloo Recreation Area becomes quiet once

At one time, because they were widely hunted, the sandhill crane was close to being an endangered species. After being named a protected species, they made a comeback.

The sandhill cranes return to Haehnle each year because there are very few large wetland areas left in southern Michigan for them to use as a stopover.

Most of the small marshy areas left can't support a bird with the voracious eating habits of the sandhill.

In the early 1900s, Jackson County was dotted with marshy areas. These areas attracted huge numbers of ducks — as well as a huge number of duck hunters.

Casper Haehnle was an avid duck hunter who bought land on which to hunt. In 1955, he gave 500 acres of this land to the Michigan Audubon Society as a memorial to his daughter Phyllis.

IN 1957, much to the chagrin of nearby farmers, the state named it a wildlife sanctuary. That designation closed the land to hunting, fishing and trapping.

Since then the society has bought other pieces of nearby land, making the sanctuary bigger.

"Hunters saved Haehnle," said Sutherland, who was "overwhelmed" 20 years ago when he first saw the sandhill cranes at Haehnle. "Farmers didn't drain it because they wanted to shoot ducks. They knew there would be good hunting only if they kept the habitat.

"They wanted to maintain the water levels. In the process, they became good conservationists."

How to get to Haehnle

The Phyllis Haehnle Memorial Sanctuary is near the western fringes of the Waterloo State Recreation Area in Jackson and Washtenaw counties. It's about an hour's drive from Livonia, via M-14 and I-

Parking is in a small lot off Seymour Road, but it can be troublesome if a lot of bird lovers show up at the same time. During the migration, many have to park along Seymour, which is a not heavily traveled blacktop road.

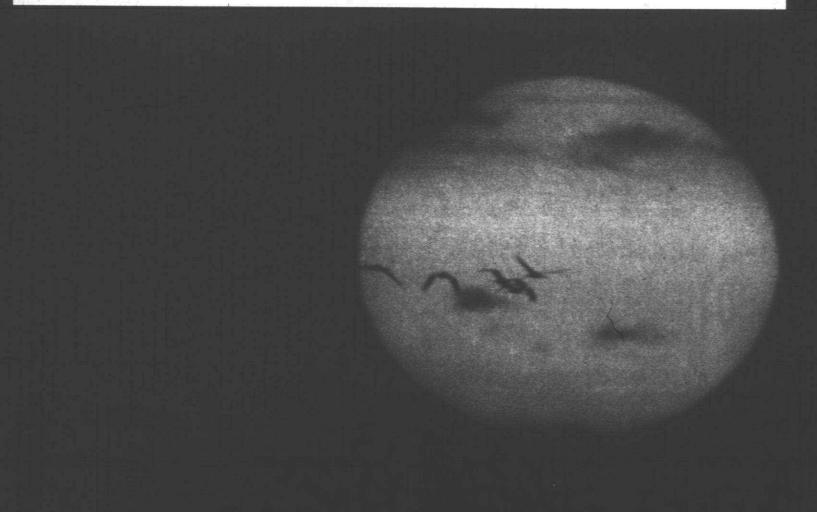

Take exit 147 (Race Road) off I-94 north about 2.5 miles to Seymour Road. Turn west on Seymour and go about 1.5 miles to the sanctuary.

After parking, follow the mowed trail near the road to the hilltop overlooking the marsh.

Q. It seems my car is always littered. Do you have any hints for organizing your car?

A. Exercising a bit of self-discipline and a few little rules can make a tremendous dif-

First, make it a habit to take every bit of litter with you each time you get out of your car. By practicing regular maintenance, you will never have a clutter build-up.

Second, utilize small bits of time to clean out your car. While getting gas, insesrt your gas tank cap into the nozzle handle for hands-free fillup and clean out your car or wash windows while you wait. Shake out your floor mat while you are caught in a traffic jam or waiting for someone., Carry a terrycloth hand towel to dust off the dash while you wait for a red light. Buy two towels (for alternating in the laundry) in a color to match your upholstery to also cover items you don't want others to see, wipe off fogged windows or clean up messes.

Extend your car's beauty by forbidding eating or drinking in your car; otherwise something will eventually be spilled. This can also help you break bad habits of consuming extra calories or unneeded caffiene while you drive.

A sure way to lose a camera or a purse is to place it on the top of your car. If you must lay something down, put it only on the front hood of the car so you will be able to see it before you drive away.

Certain items should be carried in your car, especially those for emergencies now that winter is approaching. Those include your owner's manual; photocopies of insurance and registration forms; spare tire. jack, tire "key" and lug wrench; tire puncture sealer, spare fuses; flashlight with magnet; warning flares; first-aid kit; fire extinguisher, CB radio; ice scraper; shovel; tire chains; umbrella; blanket, gloves, extra sweater; battery booster cables (and instructions if you aren't absolutely sure how

Another important item is a reflectorized "Please Call Police" sign. These are available in some emergency kits or for $4.50 from the Los Angeles Commission on Assults Against Women; 543 N. Fairfax Ave., Los Angeles, Ca 90036.

Items can be kept either in your dash pocket, under the seat (don't overstuff that space) or in an attractive covered box (that won't roll over) in your trunk.

Now is time to start work for next year

Autumn is the time to start working on next year's outdoor-living season and to reduce next season's potential garden-insect and disease

Some landscape maintenance chores to be done include:

- Apply wood chips or mulches to areas around trees, evergreens or shrubs. Avoid materials likely to contain weed seeds, food for rodents or obnoxious odors.

Add nitrogen fertilizer, but apply early in the season to avoid late growth subject to winter kill.

Remove extended growth of ground covers that have overlapped sidewalks, driveways or patio areas. - Trim shade trees to remove heavy lower limbs that obstruct views or are bothersome in other ways Reshape boundaries of walks and driveways to encourage users to follow intended path-

Remove or recycle objects, including weeds, that tend to detract from the basic quality of the landscape. - Consider adding a grassy mound or rock composition to relieve bareness in winter

A FALL CLEANUP will reduce the inevitable spring garden invasion by insects. This should include removal of old plant debris and tilling the garden this fall to eliminate many over-of condominium projects, although there is also the incumbent additional risk upon developers,

The end result is that developers have wintering insects and disease organisms

Debris left in the garden provides winter homes for cucumber beetles, squash bugs, Colorado potato beetles and European corn borers. Remove plant material by raking and bagging or burning it, or plowing it under. This will eliminate many bugs, and limit your insect population largely to insects that migrate into the gar-

In the flower garden, iris borers lay eggs on iris foliage. Dig out infested plants and remove dead foliage to reduce this problem.

Rake fallen fruit and leaves from fruit plantings to interrupt the life cycle of the apple maggot, a serious home-orchard problem.

Cleaning up fallen fruit and leaves also will help control apple scab, a fungus disease that affects apples, crab apples and mountain ash trees. Leaf-spot disease on hawthorn, elm and horse chestnut also can be reduced by raking leaves and fallen fruits and destroying them.

IF BLACKSPOT ON roses is a problem, prune plants of infected areas. Don't use these clippings as a winter mulch as it will encourage blackspot next year. One spot on one leaf in the neighborhood can produce enough spores to infect all nearby plants. A really good cleanup is recommended

If you plan to compost diseased materials, be sure your compost pile is an active one where
