Lower speed limit urged

By Peggy Aulino staff writer

It will take three to eight weeks before any changes can be made to the speed limit on Sheldon Road, township officials told a group of concerned residents Tuesday.

The residents, who mounted their effort for improved safety in the wake of an accident that caused the death of an 8-year-old boy, said they want a firmer commitment from officials

The group wants Sheldon's 40mile-per-hour speed limit between Ford and Cherry Hill reduced to 25 mph. They also want a traffic light installed at the corner of Sheldon and Saltz, which is a block from Hoben Elementary School.

The speed limit fluctuates along Sheldon. It is 45 mph south of Cherry Hill, which is less densely populated. To the north of Ford Road, which is part commercial and part residential, the speed limit is 35 mph.

TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR Tom Yack said it's up to the Wayne County Road Commission to change the speed limit on township arteries and to determine if and where traffic signals should be erected. Township officials said studies are under way on the Sheldon corridor, and they expect changes to be made. But it could take several weeks before any action can be taken.

"I just can't believe that any bureaucracy moves that slow," said Annette Tefft, a Sheldon Road resident who said she approached township officials last June about making changes on the street.

She presented trustees Tuesday with petitions that carried more than 425 signatures and said Hoben students "take their lives into their hands" as they walk to school each day

CBE against tax increase and renewal

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Citizens for Better Education is opposing both the 4-mill tax increase and the 8-mill renewal Plymouth-Canton voters will be asked to approve in a June 12 election.

School officials say $3.1 million in cuts will be needed if the 4-mill proposal is defeated. Non-renewal of the 8 mills would mean a loss of more than one-third of the district's budget. John Hoben, superintendent, said he doesn't know how long the schools could operate without the renewal.

CBE is comprised of 2,600 Christian conservatives in Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township. It has protested the showing of R-rated films in the classroom, and the use of books and other teaching materials dealing with the occult and witchcraft.

"Central administration and some teachers have already made this decision for us," said CBE chairwoman Diane Daskalakis.

"There is no way in good conscience that we can vote for a millage increase or renewal. Repeatedthe board has voted to continue the use of R-rated and occult-type materials, though we have continn-ously told them we cannot support such teachings.

Daskalakis has two stepchildren who graduated from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. She owns a jewelry store in Plymouth Township.

"Over the past three years, we have been treated rudely by board members, while some administrators have even suggested that we put our children in private schools," said Daskalakis

"Many have done this and now have an extra financial burden for this private schooling, which makes it impossible for them to vote for these increases.

"We really are part of this town. We are a type of individual and a part of the community who has certain beliefs. We should be recognized and reckoned with instead of run out of town, or our ideas run over.

HOBEN WAS disappointed to hear of CBE's decision.

"I think it's sad," he said

While many of their classmates were sunning on southern beaches, a group of Plymouth Canton and Salem students toured landfills a few miles from their high schools. Government teachers Mike McCauley and Bill Gretzinger organized the field trip to Salem Township during spring break to help students prepare for a unit on ecology.

The 40-acre landfill, and the Arbor Hills East landfill next door, is on a list of contaminated sites compiled by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. City officials estimate clean-up costs at nearly $2 million. The landfill is for sale for $1.

grate-covered drain and listened to the gurgling sounds below. They saw methane vents, which resemble small smoke stacks.

From the abandoned landfill, students got a broad view of Arbor Hills East, 135 feet tall and one of the largest landfills in the Midwest and of the new Arbor Hills West expected to be operational soon. Together the landfills take up more than half a square mile. When completed, the landfills will contain 20 million tons of trash

The group then drove into Arbor Hills East, and climbed to the top in a truck to drop off some garbage. Out the window they saw dirt mixed with tires, sponges, paper boots, green sheets, mattresses and an occasional outhouse.

In motion around them were seagulls, trucks and earthmovers. The windows were open, and in came grime, the stench of decaying garbage and the noise of machinery.

Hans Oertel, an exchange student from West Germany, said the United States and Germany dispose of waste differently.

"We recognize the area will be developed as a commercial area sometime in the future," said Supervisor Tom Yack

"We would like to see that commercial area be distinctive, so that it's different from any other commercial area and that it's not a strip mall district," he added.

THE HEART of the district will be Oakview, a road circling around the district at Ford going north to Harvard Square and feeding into Sheldon.

"The goal is to develop the downtown area, and to put a road through to attract developers," said Ralph Schufeldt, committee member,

Capturing monies from the Tax Increment Finance Authority, which allows the township to take some taxes from the developments and funnel that money back into the district, is a primary benefit of developing a downtown district

Most often that extra money is used for building roads, providing sewers and installing lights, said John Spencer, Canton finance direc-

committee chairman and Canton at torney

Another benefit of the district is it could provide more township control in the way projects are designed and landscaped, and other aesthetic options, Yack said.

Without a DDA, the township has little control in landscaping and designs other than zoning and ordinance requirements.

Right now the proposed district has 38 acres of undeveloped land.

INITIAL PLANS, like including a main library in the district, have changed since the DDA committee formed in the mid-1980s. Canton's main library was erected last year next to township hall.

"The whole plan has to be looked at in terms of how it has changed since the pencil was first put to it," Vack said

Last month Yack appointed three people to the committee, Schufeldt, Bob Card and John Thomas. Other members include Hazen and Vicki Hiller, Norman Newman, John Burdziak, Catherine Foege, Thomas Kosh and D'Avanno

"It is time to either move forward with a workable plan or terminate the DDA," Yack wrote in a memo to the board

A court officer and a locksmith accomplished at noon Wednesday what Plymouth Township officials have been trying to do for more than a year - close the Plymouthrock Saloon.

Locks were changed at the building on General Drive because Var-Ken Inc., which operates the saloon, owes the landlord, W.K. Construction of West Bloomfield, $13,200 in back rent.

District Judge James Garber signed a writ of possession and restitution, sought by W.K. Construction, on March 20. Even if Var-Ken pays the back rent, it doesn't have an automatic right to regain possession of the building, Garber said. W.K. Construction obtained a judgment against Var-Ken on March 1

"As far as I know, they (Var-Ken) want to make attempts to pay it," said Jeffrey J. Kahan, lawyer for W.K. Construction. "If they paid the rent, I think we'd make some kind of arrangements."

No one was at the bar when he and a locksmith arrived at about noon to change the locks, said Randy Hughes, a court officer. A burglar alarm, however, was sounding.

Half a bottle of beer, a pitcher half filled with liquid and a glass with some liquid were left on the bar as the locksmith worked. The floor was unsw

Assault weapon demand strong despite ban By Mary Rodrigu

staff writer

Proponents of gun control view it as a first step. Opponents hope it's not the beginning of a trend. Spurred on by national outrage over increased drug-related violence and mass killings, the Bush administration earlier this month indefinitely suspended importation of semiautomatic assault weapons. Among the weapons affected is the AK-47, an assault rifle used in January to kill five children and injure 30 others in a Stockton, Calif. schoolyard. Most local gun shop owners, fearing negative publicity, view the whole issue of gun control as "too sensitive to discuss." But the manager of an established Livonia gun store said that despite the changing political climate, business is good. 'Business is very strong. We pull ustomers) from Livonia, Farmington Hills, Plymouth, Redford," said Roger Little, manager of Shooters Service at the corner of Six Mile and with more than six rounds," Marble lerriman roads

'Good gun shops - well stocked and knowledgeable - are few and far between. There's not one on every corner," Little said.

The publicity surrounding Bush's ban on assault weapons has created a tremendous artifical demand for the weapon, Little said 'All the collectors want them. It's that same philosophy, you tell people they can't have something and they want it," he said.

"WHEN THE ban went into effect after criminals. (March 14) the merchandise was gone - imports had already dried out. This type of merchandise had een scarce for months.'

Little said that no matter what happens, he believes firmly in the right of individuals to own guns. "I was raised around the proper handling of guns. Hunting and archery are things I've always done,' Little said.

SGT. Alan Marble of the law enforcement division of the state Department of Natural Resources in Lansing, said a growing interest in paramilitary things like camouflage gear has made semiautomatic weapons popular with some hunters.

"Some are patterned to look like fully automatic weapons. It's a real adrenalin raiser. The Rambo movies and some television series have put emphasis on sophisticated firepowe But we haven't had many actual violations

"State law prohibits the use of any semiautomatic shotgun or weapon

"Experts say the bolt action rifles. traditional deer hunting rifles, have the highest degree of consistent accuracy

REGARDING THE Stockton massacre, "(gunman Patrick Purdy) had seven tangles with California law, Little said. "He was never jailed. He was convicted and plea bargained down to misdemeanors. ing blame where it doesn't belong. Little said.

HOWEVER, MANY law enforcement officials believe that going after criminals would be easier with increased gun control. "I think control on the national level is a step in the right direction. Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano said. "Frankly, assault weapons are not for hunting, they're for killing people. Our officers are being outgunned, especially on drug raids." Calling the import ban on assault weapons "a step in the right direc-" Westland police Lt. Michael Frayer said he's not in favor of a total ban but he wants a mandatory waiting period before a handgun can be bought.

A PROSPECTIVE handgun owner has to obtain a permit from the community where he or she lives. To meet state requirements, they must not have been convicted of a felony in the previous eight years nor udged mentally incompetent. "We check our own files and then run through the state computer," Lt Robbin Crosby said.

My personal opinion is that there should be a waiting period of at least 0 days," Crosby said. "We've had people come in, get the permit, purchase immediately then go out and shoot themselves. With 30 days, they'd have time to think about it." The Law Enforcement Informa tion Network would reveal criminal charges in other states, he said. Once a purchase permit is obtained, the buyer can pick up the Area reps will seek tougher penalties for armed criminals On the national level, five bills have been introduced calling for controls on semiautomatic assault weapons

The most far reaching would require current owners of certain assault rifles, carbines and pistols to turn ip their weapons. Other measures would simply ban the sale of certain assault weapons and current owners would have to register their firearms

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, will co-sponsor a bill with U.S. Rep. John D. Dingell, a downriver Democrat, increasing gun related penalties

"It would increase penalties for the use of a semiautomatic firearm or short barrelled shotgun during the commission of a violent or drug related crime," said Gary Cates, who works as an aide to Pursell.

"CURRENT penalties for use of a machine gun or silencer is 30 years. no parole, for first offense and life imprisonment without release for a second offense," Cates said. Symphony sets pops performance

By Julie Brown staff writer

Not all of the people at the Plym-outh Symphony Orchestra's "Cabaret Pops" concert will be regulars. "I think people will come to this who don't go to our other concerts," said Russell Reed, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. "So it's an opportunity to introduce people to the symphony.' Performances will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8, at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor. Performances are sponsored by the PSO and the Plymouth Symphony League. Monday night, the musicians were hard at work, preparing for the per-formances. Their rehearsal schedule included: Overture to "Candide" by Leonard Bernstein; "Salute to MGM: That's Entertainment," arranged by Ian Polster; "The Entertainer" by and conductor of the orchestra at Eastern Michigan University. "It's fun," he said. "I think they find it a nice diversion.

The pops concert is the final performance of the season. The concert selections are a bit lighter than the works performed during the rest of the year

"We enjoy both actually," said Peggy Bunge, who plays first violin. "We have fun with it." Bunge, a Garden City resident, has ship benefit performance this school year featuring popular selections. When the EMU students perform at high schools, they sometimes present lighter selections.

"This is some of the most original American music." Show music and pop music is truly American; much of the classical work done by American composers has been based on the work of European composers.

'So pop music and jazz is really ruly American music," Reed said. Ticket prices for the "Cabare Pops" concert are $10 for adults, $5 for students in kindergarten through 2th grade. Refreshments will be

Auto task force credited for declining thefts By Mary Rodrigue

staff writer

An auto theft task force aimed at closing down chop shops, nabbing ring leaders and putting them behind bars is being credited with a sharp decline in auto thefts in western Wayne County.

Five of seven communities polled reported drops in auto theft in 1988 ranging from 6 to 20 percent. Of the two that reported increases, Canton Township was up just 1 percent. The other, Garden City, reported a whopping 57 percent increase and local police officials were at a loss to explain why. But officials pointed out that in 1986, Garden City recorded 155 car thefts (10 more than in 1988) so 1987 figures (82) appear unusually

Police officials generally had high praise for the efforts to curb auto

"I think the task force is doing a great job." said crime prevention officer Bob DeVore of the Redford Township police, where auto thefts dropped off 16 percent from 1987 to 1988 - the first full year the task force team was in operation.

"They're out there in unmarked cars with surveillance efforts, impacting on high target areas."

DeVore also credited Neighbor hood Watch programs for the drop. "Awareness is greater. People are

POLICE spokesmen for several tities report the worst areas for auto theft are adjacent to major thoroughfares, such as the Jeffries Freeway through Redford and Livonia and I-275 in the Plymouth/Canton area, which gives car thieves easy getaway routes. Just like previous years, General Motors cars continue to be the most popular target of thieves. Experts said that's due to interchangeability of parts; GM sells the most cars so the market for parts is highest; it makes sporty cars that are popular and have higher accident rates, thus

Although not every western Wayne community contributes money or manpower, oject director John Santomauro, chief of Canton Township public safety, said "we basically serve all of western Wayne County. The nature of the crime doesn't allow us to pick and choose."

> Part of the reason the task force is making such an impact is because auto theft is multi-iurisdictional. Miller said.

"Auto theft is big business. We're here to put them out of business. "Auto thieves are so mobile. We have the expertise and the manpower to get at the auto theft rings who are doing the majority of the crime. Hopefully, we're beating them at their own game." To date, the team has arrested 69 people resulting in 154 charges and was sentenced from two to 10 years has recovered more than $2 million in stolen vehicles. "I have nothing but positive things say about the concept idea. There's no way people in the state can get better use of their money," Miller said.

THE TASK force was created with a $250,000 state grant in August 1987. Canton provides a facility and financial management of the grant. The consortium grew through 1988,

In 1989, the task force operating budget is $322,366. "Our main source (of revenue) is through the Auto Theft Prevention Authority (ATPA) and forfeitures," Miller said. The ATPA, enacted by state legislation, sets aside $1 from each insured motorist in the state. Miller said that Wayne County has assigned two prosecutors exclusively

Tolerance It's needed on anti-gay column

CONFRONTATION is brewing at Plymouth Canton High School between the school rights group from Ann Arbor.

The group, Lesbian and Gay Rights Organizing Committee, has said it plans to picket the school because of a column in the school paper that the group finds objectionable.

The school has taken the position that editorials and columns in school newspapers are protected by the First Amendment and shouldn't be censored.

The homosexual group has enlisted the help of the Michigan Daily, the student newspaper at the University of Michigan.

In an editorial the paper said the column is "an example of the way the public school system reinforces the homophobia that is rampant in our

BOTH SIDES are overreacting. We think the lesbian and homosexual group is as off base as the student who wrote the column.

However, the controversy is a microcosm of the way society deals with homosexuals and lesbians and the way they react to that treatment.

Columns and editorials are protected by the Constitution. If the press didn't have that protection, there would be a lot of things left unsaid that should be said. The student newspaper has a right to air his views about homosexuals.

However, the First Amendment isn't a defense against a charge of bad journalism. And that's what the column was - bad journalism.

The columnist got into homosexual bashing. Here's an example: "If someone does murder one or two (homosexuals), they should not receive the same punishment as if they killed a heterosexu-

The columnist is saying that homosexuals shouldn't have the same legal rights as heterosexuals, that somehow they are less than human bians should seek tolerance, and not be paranoid and it's a little more acceptable to kill a homo- that the school system is conspiring against

THE COLUMN and the dispute could be dismissed as school kids calling each other names, paper and a homosexual and lesbian if it weren't for a recent case in Plymouth where a Plymouth Township man was convicted in a

Recorder's Court trial of killing another man. Part of the man's defense was that the victim was a homosexual and was making sexual advances. The victim's family contends he wasn't a homosexual

The victim has been branded a homosexual by a man convicted of first degree murder and he isn't even around to defend himself.

The convicted man would have us believe that it's OK to kill somebody for making an unwanted sexual advance. If society were to follow that line of thinking, singles bars in this country would become like battle fields, strewn with the bodies of males and females who made unwanted sexual advances.

That may sound absurd, but the point is people usually find more socially accepted means of rejecting sexual advances than violence.

A SIMPLE "get out of here" usually works. Those rules usually work when it comes to males and females, but they're suspended when it's a homosexual advance. That's when males think its appropriate to engage in violence

And, while we acknowledge that homosexuals and lesbians have been the victims of violence and homophobia because of their sexual preference, they should realize that those preferences aren't shared by the bulk of Americans. Homosexuals and lesbians should also realize that the emergence of AIDS as a public health issue has focused more attention on their behavior. Also, in Canton Township, local residents stay clear of a rest area that has been taken over by homosexuals for use as a gathering place.

Homosexuals and lesbians have the right to engage in the behavior of their choice, but that behavior shouldn't be put on public display. Also, in the case of the column, homosexuals and lesthem.

Speed limit Make it 65 mph and enforce it

ICHIGAN DRIVERS have voted with their feet specifically, they have voted to repeal freeway speed limits. Moreover, they have put the State Police freeway patrols out of business.

We believe the law must match reality. And reality dictates that the majority of drivers disoposted speed limits, particularly when it comes to the confusing urban 55 mph versus the rural 65 mph

The goal is to put some sanity and effectiveness back into speed enforcement. The state serve that speeds are greater on urban freeways should make the highway speed limit a uniform 65 mph - and than enforce it to the limit.

To understand the problem, just examine driving habits on surrounding freeways.

Start with western I-696 in Southfield, Farmfour lanes is under way, and the posted limit is 45 bank robbers.

The actual speed limit is 65. That's the lower speed limit, of course. Anyone fool enough to go slower is likely to find a truck the size of a whale in his tailpipe

As soon as traffic lightens a little, someone is bound to shoot by at 75 or 80. Next, go to I-275 from Novi through Livonia, Westland and down to Monroe. For a decade, the prevailing speed has been 72. It's a fact of life, and many go faster. On I-96 from Livonia into Detroit, drivers used to observe a 55 limit. No longer. The prevailing speed is higher than 60. Many travel at 75. Ditto with I-75, the Lodge, I-94 and any we may have missed.

IN MYTHOLOGY, alias state law, we have a 65 speed limit on "rural" freeways and a 55 limit n "urban" freeways

No one you'll meet in freeway flight paths can tell you the difference, but the experts in the Michigan Department of Transportation are supposed to know. They were to have posted the seed limits according

In truth, one rarely sees a speed limit sign on any freeway.

Two years ago, there was a big battle in the Legislature over whether to raise the speed limit to 65 rural and 55 urban. There were hair-splitting differences over how to define the difference and whether to include such state roads built to freeway specifications as US-23 and US-131.

The argument turned out to have been largely foolish. Drivers travel at whatever speed they wish on any kind of freeway. Indeed, many ob-

One hopes they are out doing more important ington Hills and Novi. Construction to widen it to things, like busting drug dealers or staking out

> The federal government also has been lax. Year after year, we heard stories from Washington that federal highway aid would be cut because more than half of Michigan drivers were consistently exceeding the 55 limit The fact is that we're driving faster than ever. the feds haven't cut a penny of aid, and they probably won't. Michigan drivers repealed federal law, too, with their feet. DRIVERS ARE actually doing what comes naturally. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. explained it all in his scholarly lectures on "The Common Law" back in the mid-19th century. The lifeblood of the law, Holmes said, is not logic but experience. More simply, the law isn't engraved in granite but is constantly modified by people to suit changing conditions.

Certainly Michigan drivers have produced a late 20th century final chapter for Holmes' tome by effectively repealing our democratic speed laws

Michigan is, as many business speakers reund us, in an international market. No longer can Americans wrap their oceans around them in splendid isolation. We are witnessing the Europeanization of our freeways.

On the West German Autobahn, for example, there are no speed limits. You drive as fast as your car will carry you. If you have a status car like a Porsche or BMW, you go like a bat out of the nether world, for that is the natural right of the lordly. If you're in a VW, you putt-putt along, for that is the natural fate of the peasant. Such is the common law of Michigan.

With some justification, we've managed to work ourselves into quite a frenzy. Making a big fuss over the crisis has made us feel like we are doing something about it. Not much but something.

Maybe, just maybe, we've made the solution more complicated than the problem. Recently, I was invited to read at

Neighbors' actions calm racial fears

VILLAGE OFFICIALS have been downright feisty in heaping scorn on the vandal. That, too, is an improvement

It wasn't that long ago that some communities, such as Lathrup Village, openly boasted that only whites and Christians were welcome. Times change. A year ago a black^e woman around the margins.

You can hope that the spray paint ing is no more than the work of a troubled soul. A white family also had a home sprayed with paint. Ditto for a car that someone thought was speeding through the neighborhood. Perhaps it is all the work of a single, paint-happy vigilante. Lord knows, there are a lot of troubled souls out there. Several columnists at our newspapers infreese comments are never signed and rarely laudatory. They generally start out by suggesting the writer is terribly naive, a stupid liberal (a phrasing they believe to be redundant), or hell-bent for destroying their way of life.

Then they take off on two or three, vorite themes, usually blaming blacks for crime and drugs or else claiming that Jews are the only people to profit at Christmas or other such gibberish

It's tough to get parents interested

THE PRINCIPAL was feeling heat from the superintendent. Nat urally he took it out on the teach

Thursday, March 30, 1989 OdrE

"The six-week report cards are oming up," said the principal. 'and I don't want any parents hollering at me, 'Why wasn't I told my kid is failing?' No surprises.

"So I want you teachers, at the four-week mark, to send letters to the parents of all kids who are having trouble. Invite them in for a nference."

Grumble, grumble, said my kinsnan, who is one of the teachers in this junior high. But he did as the principal ordered. There was no ompensation, of course. And he ever did hear what supplies fund was raided for the postage.

"I sent out 68 cards," said the teacher, "and do you know how many of the parents contacted me? None. That's some batting average or the parents - zero for 68."

IT'S COMMON knowledge, with to need to cite professorial research, that there's a direct link between a kid's academic success and he interest of the parents

So the teacher hit on an idea. Beause it's no longer acceptable to spank kids, he would spank the parents when the kid goofed off.

Now, one has to be fair about this. The parent wouldn't be punished if the kid did the work and failed anyway.

Only the parents of kids who came to school a second time without notebooks, pencils and books, and the kids who were repeatedly absent without written excuses would be punished.

MORE SERIOUS infractions reired more serious punishment. Although this occurred in a small ity, the local bowling establishment had a computerized scorekeeping system in which a current was broken when the pin was moved off its place. The bowling lane proprietor was vice president of the board of education and fully cooperative with the teachers' efforts. He had the computer programmed so that, when a bad news message arrived from a teacher, the offending pa ent's bowling score was cut by 9 vere punishment, but it was publi and it occurred in a place where the parent's closest associates, as well as opposing teams, would be absolutely certain to know

The other bowling patrons, their tongues loosened by a few beers, rubbed in the salt. "Haw, haw, your kid too weak to carry his own pencil? Hardy, har, your brat can't renember how to find the school?"

What the parent said to the kid in the privacy of the home we can only imagine.

INTERESTINGLY, the small city actually recorded a decrease in child abuse because parents be gan taking an active interest i sending their kids to school prepared.

It would be a lie to say that kids IQs improved. The small city's genetic pool remained the same

But there were marked improve ments in state proficiency tests and vastly improved scholastic aptitude scores because finally the kids were coming to class prepared and paying attention.

With fewer student absences and missed assignments, teachers had more tests and book reports to correct. That was all right. The strain of reading 20 percent more book reports is considerably less than the strain of disciplining a kid or sending 68 useless warning letters to parents.

BY NOW you have guessed there's a certain April Foolery in this column.

The first five paragraphs, however, are fact - right up to the line about "zero for 68." The remainde is wishful thinking on the part of some educators.

The April Fools are the parents who had to be sent warning letters and failed to heed them.

individually the teacher is doling out discipline to the whole group in hope that peer group pressure by those who are there to learn will result in a classroom behavior modification

Frankly, it doesn't work. Indeed, what occurs is not only do the students who are acting out know they are in control of the environment but the other students who are being punished for something they are not part of become very angry Although the "innocent" students may suppress their feelings in class they will do a real verbal number on the teacher after the class is over to ing out and until there is an underpeers and parents.

The teacher obviously has to be more assertive and have a reasonable, fair classroom procedure to follow. Too many teachers of this nature get into what I call a "verbal tug-of-war" with students in which he conversation goes something like

"OK class, quiet down." Said over and over again that statement means nothing. The statement is (if Johnny is acting out) "Johnny you do not interrupt when Mary is talking. Inless the teacher specifies and pin points the acting-out students, a broad statement means nothing to young adults. Many school districts are aware of a program developed by a Dr. Lee Cantor called Assertive iscipline which can be of value for a teacher in this predicament.

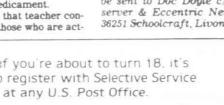

In any case, until that teacher confronts specifically those who are act-can snowball resulting in learning time being lost for all the students. Therefore, mass punishment does not work and is a very weak substitute for sound class management The bottom line is a well-structured resting program that motivates students under a teacher with well thought out written lesson plans

He set goals, found success

By Julie Brown staff writer

For Steve Fraser, competing in the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles was a dream come true.

Fraser remembers entering the arena and hearing the shouts of "USA, USA.'

"Never in my life have I been so proud to be an American."

He was glad to have the home crowd advantage.

"This crowd was truly an unbelievable crowd to wrestle for."

Fraser, 31, went on to win a gold medal. He was the first American athlete to win a medal in Greco-Roman wrestling. The U.S. team won a total of four medals - two golds, a silver and a bronze - in that category in 1984.

We had a major breakthrough and that's what we were looking for," said Fraser, an Ann Arbor resident

At that time, Fraser was working as a sheriff's deputy for Washtenaw County. He's now a special projects coordinator with Domino's Pizza Distribution Corp.

FRASER WAS in Plymouth Township recently, speaking to students at Fiegel Elementary School the afternoon of Wednesday, March 22. He talked about goal-setting and how it helped him achieve his dream.

Fraser, who began wrestling in the eighth grade, didn't start out as an outstanding athlete.

'I was a terrible wrestler," he told the students. "I was the worst wrestler you could imagine."

He had to work hard to get to the Olympics. Fraser found it helped a great deal to visualize himself winning at competitions. He'd imagine what it would be like to have the medal placed around his neck and to see the U.S. flag raised.

FRASER'S MESSAGE didn't focus so much on his having reached his goals. It's important to set a number of goals at different levels, he said.

"What should be important is you people can make your dreams come true. Be proud of yourself because that's what life is really all about." He showed the students videotapes of his Olympic matches and talked

'Be proud of yourself, because that's what life is really all about.' - Steve Fraser Olympic athlete about the differences between Greco-Roman and high school wrestling. Fraser, who wrestled in the 198pound weight class, brought his gold medal with him to the school, giving students and staff a chance to see what an Olympic medal looks like.

FRASER TOOK time to sign autographs. He spoke at two presentaphysical education teacher. The students at Fraser wrestle with their teacher. tions, one for kindergarteners through second graders and one for third through fifth graders. Fraser told the older students that it's OK to make mistakes. Learning from mistakes helps people grow and reach their goals. When Fraser was a freshman at the University of Michigan, he was failing two classes. He got help from a tutor and was able to earn A's on his final exams. "I was in shock that I could make that dramatic of a comeback.' He reminded the older students that they shouldn't make the mistake of abusing drugs.

Drugs and alcohol keep you unfocused.

FRASER'S MESSAGE was a serious one, but the school assemblies had their share of laughs. During both sessions, Fraser wrestled John Demsick, who teaches physical education at Fiegel and at Bird Elementary School.

Demsick was captain of his high school wrestling team and wrestled for one year at the U-M. At 150 pounds, he was at a disadvantage in wrestling Fraser.

'I was excited,'" Demsick said. "I wasn't fearful. I'm pretty good at landing Demsick was relieved to see that Fraser didn't take his tie off for the wrestling sessions. Fraser wasn't afraid he'd injure Demsick.

"I know he's pretty agile. I wasn't too worried about that.'

FRASER, WHO earned a bachelor's degree in education from the U-M, retired from competing in 1985. He's an assistant wrestling coach at Eastern Michigan University

He has been with Domino's Pizza for almost four years. Fraser speaki to a number of school groups and has other responsibilities.

"But the enthusiasm for all ages is primarily the same. We don't segregate the ages or the size. When it comes to the black belt testing, we don't test them any differently than we would an adult."

The boys were tested in such basic movements as blocks, punches and kicks, and in forms, combinations of the basic movements. They were tested in one-steps, the basics put into a practical application, such as against an attack.

"We teach it as an art," Boliard said. "It's an art form."

He believes in establishing a family-type atmosphere at his studio, it's not uncommon for families to take classes together, although it is unusual for boys as young as the Wesners to earn their black belts.

The boys were tested in karate terminology, including translations from Korean to English and English to Korean. Free fighting, fighting against one another under controlled supervision, was part of the testing.

19 years

THE BOYS received their black belts, certificates, registered identification cards and pins. They have earned the first-degree black belt (Cho Dan). The style of Korean karate they practice is called Moo Duk Kwan/Tang Soo Do.

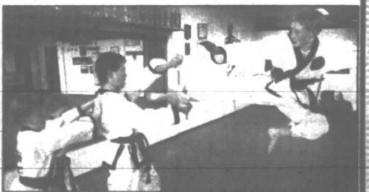

The boys take three classes a week, with each class lasting about an hour and a half. They plan to continue with their classes

"A major portion is due to Greg," Terry Wesner said. "They really enjoy coming in and training with him."

Sometimes, the boys will say they don't want to go to class, but then say "Gee, we had a great class today," said Mary Ann Wesner; a homemaker.

The boys saw a karate demonstration a few years back. Seeing a movie, "The Karate Kid," also increased their interest level. The family observed a class at Boliard's before signing up; neither Terry nor Mary Ann Wesner have taken karate classes.

Studying karate has been a great confidence-builder for the boys Terry Wesner said.

honored for charity

Sister Mary Francilene Van de Vyver, president of Madonna Col lege, recently received a Knights of Charity Award at the Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions annual award dinner-dance.

The recipients of the Knight's of Charity Awards are individuals judged to be the finest examples of charity in action and service to their fellow man.

In addition to her duties as president of 4,000-student Madonna College, Sister Francilene serves on umerous boards of directors. Also, Sister Francilene was recently recognized in national study as one of "the 100 most effective college presidents" in the country. She was also honored during the state's sesquicentennial with 15 First Lady Awards in recognition for her contributions to the community.

Madonna president Church closings unlikely here

By C. L. Rugenstein staff writer

It could happen here in western Wayne County, Catholic church closings like those in Detroit are always a possibility, said Jay Berman, director of communications for the Ar chdiocese of Detroit.

But "Is there any reason to believe in our lifetime any parish in Livonia will close? No?" Berman said. A church closing would have "more to do with Livonia than with the Catholic Church.'

Berman pointed out a distinct par allel between the life of a person and the life of a parish.

"Every parish is born, has an adolescence, maturity, old age, and then it dies," he said. "Sooner or later, every parish will die," like the first century churches of Thessalonika or Corinth for example, Berman said. Churches closings in Livonia for instance would have "more to do with the society and culture in Livonia," Berman said, "Whatever the future of Livonia is, the church will share

Berman explained that parishes have a definite geographical territory. Events that impact the neighborhoods of the parish, impact the church, Berman said. Disintegrating neighborhoods, Catholics moving out to be replaced by non-Catholics and aging parishioners are some of factors that would cause changes in parish dynamics, Berman said.

IT AFFECTS church economics, basically, Berman said. A church with no young families would be unable to celebrate the full range of sacramental life - baptism, first Communion, confirmation, confession, marriage, anointing the sick and last rites, Berman said In addition, parishes with a handful of older members on fixed insomes would no longer able to support rarely used church buildings, like schools

If five freeways were to converge in Livonia, it might bring about these conditions, Berman noted, And if great tracts of residences were taken for industrial development, or there was a dramatic shift in popula tion, it would affect the life of the parish by decreasing the population

All of these factors contributed to the declining parishes, and eventual church closings in Detroit, Berman said

Some parishes were immediately destroyed by freeway construction "In some cases it reduced parishes by 80 percent," Berman said.

The prosperity that built Livonia depleted Detroit, he also noted. 'Interstates allowed people to get

- migrate to the suburbs," he said. Men and women didn't need to true fillment of the American dream, to have a house, car, yard, cocker spanel." Berman said.

ADDED TO that, and we do acknowledge it, there was also racial ension," Berman said. Not everybody, but some people "wouldn't live with people of another color," he said

It all demonstrates that a parish lives with the society it's in, Berman said - "Its future is tied very closely to its neighborhood."

How does that translate for suburban parishes?

"Some parishes in Livonia, and the western areas" not to mention Oak land County, "are still experiencing rapid growth," Berman said. "Every week more families are still join

The background checks for political appointees have become so extensive that filling out forms, detailing all work experience, naming all work supervisors, listing birth dates of all relatives, living and dead, as well as divulging personal finances, can keep, as in Peter Secchia's experience, a lawyer busy for weeks.

Some people insist that this detail of personal life will discourage many qualified people from serving in public office. Beyond the sheer effort required to gather information from all features of one's past, there is also the reluctance to open up one's whole life for public peview and judgment.

Proposal could settle suit against university

Diploma denied over false charge, student says

A Livonia resident's lawsuit against the University of Michigan-Dearborn could be settled in the next few days.

Both Kevin Evans, former editor of the Michigan Journal, the university's student newspaper, and a spokeswoman for the university agreed that the lawsuit likely would be settled soon.

Evans, 25, originally filed three lawsuits against his alma mater. They stemmed from the university's denial of his diploma and grade transcripts after officials claimed Evans was involved with vandalism at the newspaper office in May 1987. I should know in the next couple of days whether they'll accept our settlement offer," said Evans, who described 90 percent of the vandalism alleged by the university as "total fabrication.

THE SETTLEMENT "would give me my degree and allow me to participate in the graduation ceremonies, which I have not been allowed to do," said Evans, who currently manages a Southfield restaurant and plans to attend graduate school.

A college spokesman said Evans was sent his diploma following the winter 1988 semester. Evans said he never received it.

In a lawsuit filed last May in the state Court of Claims - which hears suits against state institutions such as UM-Dearborn - Evans charged he was libeled when former Dean Joseph Wright said Evans admitted to "certain violations" related to the vandalism at the newspaper offices.

Debbie Kowich, a law clerk with the university's legal department, said both sides recently agreed to dismiss that lawsuit.

In February, Wayne Circuit Judge Robert Columbo ruled against Evans in a second lawsuit. The judge found the university could withhold his diploma - even though Evans had completed his graduation requirements.

Currently, the 1981 Livonia Stevenson High graduate has a lawsuit pending in U.S. federal court, in which he alleges his civil rights were violated by the university.

What has the experience taught him? "I've basically learned that the cliche 'You can't fight city hall' is probably closer to a law than a cliche," Evans said. "It's very hard to fight a governmental institution.

They have the money, the resources and the people, all of which I don't have."

While he won't detail how much pursuing the lawsuits is costing, Evans said, "It isn't cheap."

Before the incident surrounding vandalism at the student paper, Eyans had on occasion run afoul of university officials during his one-year tenure as editor.

One incident that won international attention involved a contest he staged asking students to predict the number of fires set on devil's night in Detroit.

"At this point I am definitely considering going to law school," said Evans who originally planned to seek a master's degree in journalism.

"I really, truly, deeply miss writing. I hope I will get involved in it once again.

Plan ahead to enjoy retirement, teacher says

By C.L. Rugenstein staff writer

Enjoyable retirements don't just happen, they have to be planned for.

That's the advice of Virginia Kennedy, creator, producer and host of a cable TV program, "Retirement Roads," designed to provide guidance and counseling for people planning their life after their retirement

And, "according to Kennedy, who teaches a class at Schoolcraft College, it's never too early to start planning.

"There are more people in this country now who are over 65 than there are in all of Canada," she said. "We're all living longer. We could spend a third of our lives in retirement.

She also stressed that people should realize they're responsible for their own retirement. Financially speaking, this means not taking things like company retirement plans for granted.

"If you work for a company, ask lots of questions about pensions and benefits," Kennedy said.

She recommends group sessions on pensions and benefits, because 'someone else could ask a question you haven't thought of, and you can learn more that way," she said.

Another benefit of a group situation is that people can swap information. If there's no company sponsored retirement plan, however, Kennedy said people should "pay themselves first." They should develop their own pension by setting money aside to invest or get financial advice.

Health and housing are other retirement concerns Kennedy deals with.

AGAIN SHE advised knowing well ahead of time what post-retirement health insurance benefits and housing arrangements will be. Sometimes benefits you think you have can be changed when you retire because the company contract can change," she said.

And again, the retiree must take responsibility as much as possible for the future. What we do now (health-wise), is going to have importance later on,"she said. Exercise, diet and having a doctor "who listens to us" is important, Kennedy said.

Know in advance what housing arrangements will be, Kennedy advised. This, she emphasized means retired couples had better communicate with one another about it.

'Sometimes one wants to move to Florida, and the other wants to stay near the grandchildren,"she said.

Or the retiree may not be able to afford a move. Like many older people, they may not even want to move from their old neighborhood. Some people may not even want to retire. 'People avoid retirement planning sometimes because it reminds them they're getting older,"Kennedy valued.

ple is that the bulk of the population is getting older. That means more voting clout and buying power for them, Kennedy said.

Having the right attitude towards retirement is crucial. People who think that if they retire they'll die, probably will, Kennedy said, because it means they've given up.

"People need to concentrate on what they're going to," she said. "If they only think about what they're going from, they may be disappointed." And they need to discuss their priorities with their partners well in advance, and make good decisions.

"One thing people don't always anticipate is the need for privacy.' Kennedy said.

For instance, the homemakers, used to doing things their own way all those years, have to adjust to having husbands home all day. People who've worked all their lives and had time alone in their cars to think, won't have that.

When you're in retirement and have 24 hours together, it can become a major problem," Kennedy said.

THE BEST way to solve that problem is to develop individual interests now, she said.

Another thing retired people can do is volunteer to share skills plumbing, electrical, - whatever they did for a living, and maybe swap skills with others, Kennedy suggested.

Volunteering is one thing Kennedy plans for her own retirement. But that's in the far future for her right now. At 52, she's not close to retirement, and keeps busy with the interests she's developed in teaching and counseling.

She began her professional life as a teacher, and has her master's degree in guidance and counseling at community colleges and the community level. At one time she even taught preschool, Kennedy said. But most of her work has been at the college level

Kennedy teaches a community ed-ucation class called "Women in Retirement," which she developed, at Schoolcraft. She started another class recently, "Causes and Cures of Procrastination.'

She was teaching at Schoolcraft when the Arbor Consulting Group came to the school and offered to train people to do retirement planning. She's worked with them as a consultant ever since, and does planning programs for Ford Motor Company

THE CONCEPT for "Retirement Roads" was all her own.

"I was talking to a friend once. and said, 'My next mission is to help people at home'", Kennedy said. That friend knew someone in cable, and "here I am,"Kennedy said.

'My husband (William) is a retired teacher, so I'm living this in that respect,"said Kennedy, a 29 year resident of Westland.

Kennedy has also advised her sons, Rob, 27, and Rick, 24, about retirement, she said. Her husband is one of those people who developed a lot of individual interests, Kennedy said, so "he's keeping busy and hav ing a good time.

About her own retirement. Kennedy said, "I see it as a new beginning. I'd like to be more involved with issues like the homeless, and the needs of people."

Retirement can be wonderful, she said.

"People can have a good time but they have to take the responsibility for themselves and do something about their dreams

And for Kennedy that means plan. plan, plan.

Control assets with a wil

Three out of four Americans die without a will. But consider this: If you die without a will, you do something that you would probably never have done while alive. You relinquish control over your assets and your survivors to the government.

Disposal of personal items can split family

By Janice Brunson staff writer

When Pearl Thiry died at age 69 on Jan. 4, her family was certain she had known that death was imminent.

Christmas, Pearl's favorite time of year, was bigger and better than ever before. Pearl showered her five children and four grandchildren with gifts. And just days before dying, she called each of them, professing her love, sharing nuggets of Pearl-styled wisdom and recalling warm memories.

But Pearl's greatest legacy is quite possibly the manner in which she distributed her most cherished personal items before dying.

"She wanted to come to your house so she could see her things and watch you enjoy them while she was alive," said granddaughter Bridget Moran, whose Canton home contains pieces of Pearl's bric-a-brac and furniture

It is Pearl's charm bracelet that best signifies a sense of family unity and harmony. The bracelet, containing charms gathered through the years, reflects family history. Pearl dismantled it charm by charm, giving the most appropriate to each member of the family.

Moran, for example, an office receptionist in Plymouth, received a miniature golden typewriter Moran's brother, Michael Lucas of Canton, received a watch fob with a treasure chest. Lucas is a business major at Eastern Michigan University

But Pearl's way is not necessarily the way of all families. While many may have wills for disposing of major assets, few think of personal possessions that often contain little value other than emotional meaning

'IT DREW BLOOD,"said Bloomfield Hills attorney Patricia Donaldson of a second-hand, three-speed bicycle valued at $25. The bike was part of an estate she recently helped settle Donaldson, a public administrator since 1970 for estates without heirs or in dispute over distribution of personal goods, said it required five hours of group discussion to resolve ownership of the bike. It was donated to charity, a home for juveniles in Oakland County.

"What should go to whom is very similar to divorce. It produces the same deep-seated feelings," Donaldson said. "My job is to attempt to solve problems with as little bloodshed as possible. To do that, everybody has to give a little," she said.

Southfield attorney Steven Malach, who has specialized in probate law for 11 years, said family photographs are known to trigger bitter family battles.

"Pictures can be a real thorn, much more so than say furniture, ewelry or other real property, Malach said. He was one of three attorneys recently retained by different generations of a single family to resolve such a dispute that was settled only after a series of meetings between family members and attor-

Robert Waddell of Bloomfield Hills, chair of the Oakland Bar Association's probate committee, said the majority of battles he has witnessed involve "a second wife and kids from the first wife." In these instances, solutions are especially difficult to come by.

"WHEN PROBLEMS arise over grandma's handmade quilt or the cup and saucer 'that grandmother gave mother that I should have because I was grandmother's favorite, we play Monopoly," Donaldson said.

A separate card lists each disputed item. Cards are placed face down on a table. Participants draw straws. The person with the longest straw chooses first. Whatever is picked is kept. No exchanges. No questions.

Malach said the dispute over family photos was resolved by a "toss of the coin. Heads went first. Tails second." Certain photos were reproduced, with reproduction costs paid for by the estate.

A toss of a coin to determine who has first choice is a common way to distribute personal items, many of which have little or no resale value. A West Bloomfield man and four brothers in California peacefully distributed contents of their recently deceased father's garage by such a method. They also agreed their only sister, divorced and less well off than the brothers, should receive the family home and its furnishings.

Compromise in such instances is essential. Otherwise, the cost of settlement likely far exceeds the value of disputed items.

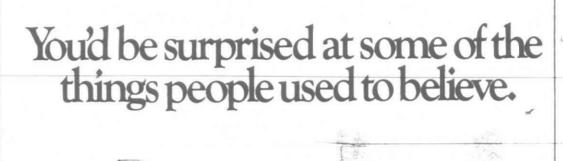

"Generally speaking, values don't even come close to attorney and appraisal fees. And if push comes to shove, such things can be admitted to (probate) court," Malach said. Such costs are not paid by the estate.

"I TELL THEM, 'You're talking principle. If you have the financial resources to bear the cost of putting this $5 item in your hands, then let's go after it.' But when I tell them there is probably going to be a substantial legal cost, and the estate does not pay for it, most back off,' Donaldson said.

In fact, such disputes are rare, occurring in less than 1 percent of all your death, you need a will.

If you still have doubts, consider what can happen if you die without one. The state will name an executor for your estate, appoint a guardian for your children if necessary, draw on your estate to pay creditors and taxes, and distribute the rest of your estate according to state laws. As a result, your child could end up being raised by a family member you distrust, your spouse could be saddled with exorbitant fees and taxes, and if your spouse remarries, someone else, or someone else's children could inherit your estate.

A carefully planned will, which most lawyers can draw up after one meeting, can prevent the state from enforcing decisions about your estate that you would never have made. For persons who do not wish to consult a lawyer, but want to follow a structured form, the state of Michigan provides for a statutory

Before you decide to write a will, take an inventory of your assets and decide how you want them distributed. Remember to think in percentages rather than dollar amounts.

Consider the implications of each provision of your will. Do you want to divide your assets equally between your two children if one of them has five children and the other none? Who would be able and willing to raise your children with values similar to yours if both you and your spouse died in an accident? Should your children have full access to their inheritance as early as age 18? Do you want to incorporate safeguards against the consequences of a spouse's future remarriage into your will?

ONE OF THE MOST critical decisions you gan make about your estate is the selection of a personal representative, formerly called an executor. As overseer of your estate, he or she will have to inventory all of your assets, collect all money owed you, pay outstanding debts, noliquidate your assets, prepare and file all tax returns and distribute your estate.

Besides insuring that your estate is distributed according to your wishes, a will can also reduce the financial burden placed on your heirs. Tax claims on an estate can also be substantial. Under the federal estate tax law, you do have a degree of protection. If the gross estate, including the value of all lifetime taxable gifts, is under $600,000, filing a federal estate tax return is not required. But if assets exceed $600,000 even after deducting administrator's fees, funeral expenses, outstanding debts and personal representative's fees, the federal estate tax rate kicks in at 37 percent and goes as high as 55 percent.

There is one major exception to this rule. Under the unlimited marital deduction, you can leave your entire estate to your spouse without incurring federal gift or estate tax regardless of your estate's worth.

able you to take full advantage of the unified tax credit. Another option is to divide assets equally between you and your spouse prior to death. Or you can make tax-exempt gifts of up to $10,000 (or $20,000 with your spouse's consent) per year person. You can even consider educational or nursing home bills as gifts if you pay the bills directly, If minimizing the tax burden on survivors is a primary concern of yours, consult a tax professional or attorney about these procedures.

Keep your will up to date. Revise a will after a marriage or divorce, or when tax laws change. Keep your will in a central location with a copy of all other essential records.

Careful planning with a tax adviser and an attorney will enable you to create a will that provides for the well being of your family and insures your peace of mind in the here and now

ist can aid Survivors

The death of a family member brings a whirlwind of anguish and grief. Never is this more true than with the death of a spouse. Survivors are often ill-equipped to deal with the consequences of a spouse's death; pressing financial and practical matters seem both insignificant and overwhelming.

The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you prepare for the possibility of a spouse's death when your wits - and your spouse - are still with you. Your first priority should be writing a will. (See accompanying story.)

Funeral arrangements may be the hardest topic to discuss with your spouse, but an open discussion and mutually arrived at decisions can save a spouse from having to rapidly plan funeral arrangements in the earliest period of mourning when grief and time pressures are most debilitating.

You should also draw up a letter of instructions - a simple list of information related to an individual's financial and legal status. Include telephone numbers of lawyers, accountants and doctors. Document employee, veteran and Social Security benefits; pension and profit-sharing plans; insurance policies and their beneficiaries; union membership; savings and checking accounts; investment holdings such as IRA accounts or mutual funds; and any valuable collectibles.

List all potential creditors, including credit cards, the bank issuing your mortgage, and the issuers of any other outstanding loans. Note the location of such important items as your birth certificate, marriage certificate, divorce papers, Social Security card, safe deposit keys, in-come tax returns and the will. If you have bought a cemetery plot, list the amount paid and the deed number.

Waddell said "disputes are definitely the exception" and can be avoided altogether. Michigan law allows for a letter of intent in which all personal possessions and the intended recipient may be listed. When referred to in the will, the letter becomes part of legal documents recognized by state probate courts.

At the very least, personal representatives (formerly called executors) should have authority to dispose of all personal items in the event a dispute arises, according to Waddell, because there are certain things nobody wants.

What is treasure to one person is junk to the next. Lots of times you can't even give personal property away. Used furniture just isn't that valuable. I mean, how much can you get for a 10-year-old TV?" Waddel

Gasoline tax hike would help U.S. carmakers

By Dan McCosh special writer

Glaciers from the last ice age stopped approximately 50 miles north of Detroit 10,000 years or so ago, a fact that today is worrisome to the domestic auto industry Not that anybody these days begrudges the need for electric refrigeration for nine months of the year around here, but the receding ice also marked the beginning of warming trend that eventually filled the Superior and Huron canyons with water, according to the rudimentary lessons learned in my old high school in Royal Oak.

LIKE MOST trends that don't know where to stop, this warming trend now threatens to move spring break festivities from Fort Lauder dale to Toledo, and continued melting of the polar ice caps could drown billions worth of Japanese real estate investments in Manhattan sometime in the early 2200s All of which would have mainly academic interest to the rest of us except for a report about to be released in Washington by the Envi ronmental Protection Agency that blames the continuing rise in the earth's temperature mainly on excessive fuel consumption by automo-

THE EPA'S position is the strongest argument unleashed in Washing ton in a decade arguing for a significant increase in the minimum corpo rate average fuel economy - the socalled CAFE regulations adopted as a reaction to the mid-1970s fuel crisis that mandate both minimum acceptable fuel consumption and an overall average, now approximately 27 miles per gallon of gasoline for an individual manufacturer

auto talk Dan McCosh

Despite the fact that CAFE regulations were originally proposed by the domestic industry, they quickly became a noose with the rope held by imports, since most foreign-built fleets were far ahead of the domestics in overall economy.

TODAY, WITH the resurgence of nterest in high horsepower and baby boomers suddenly discovering the joys of parenthood, even the Japa nese fuel economy averages are dropping rapidly for new cars, although the overall average fuel consumption per vehicle continues t

If global warming seems a bit abstract, the proposal included in the pending EPA report is not. Hearings will soon commence on proposals that include raising corporate fuel economy requirements approximately 30-50 percent in the next dec-

THAT WOULD result in a huge shock to a domestic industry only now beginning to recover from the reluctance of its customers to buy its early efforts at fuel-efficient automobiles. Few technoids today be

Improving CAFE thus means cut ting sales of large cars and increasing sales of small ones

Doing this with gasoline at less than a buck a gallon means domestic automakers once again would be prohibited from selling their most profitable, popular car lines, while mports from low-labor-cost countries capable of building small cars profitably would be heavily favored

DESPITE THE problems inherent in such a proposal, CAFE is still the oute favored by an administration reluctant to advocate a gasoline tax the main alternative that would likely also achieve the goal of improved fuel economy but leave the hoice of what to buy in the hands of the consumer

Then again, maybe Toledo wouldn't be such a bad place for spring break after all.

Guild's play committee searches out special shows

By Bob Weibel special writer

7 EAR AFTER YEAR the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford presents some of the most stimulating theater in the Detroit area, or for that matter just about anywhere. Its shows are bold, varied and thought provoking Judy Nakdimen, executive director, recently outlined the group's formula for success. Her comments were made gainst a backdrop of furious sawing and hammering, as construction workers busily transformed the stage of the Redford playhouse into New York's Central Park for an upcoming production. TGLR is not your average com munity theater. This season (its 35th) opened with "Home," a sad but lovely character study of two old gentlemen in an asylum. That was fol lowed with "Olympus on My Mind," a delightful spoof of the musical comedy genre, and "My Sister in This House." an extraordinary drama about a French murder case. About to open is "I'm Not Rappaport," a charming little comedy about two nonconformist but lovable old codgers on a bench in Central Park.

One expects that sort of season from a university theater or professional repertory company. Typical community theaters lean toward proven commercial hits (Neil Simon's "Odd Couple"), old favorites ("Charley's Aunt") and big splashy musicals ("Hello Dolly!").

NAKDIMEN SAID, "The guild's Success over the years is a direct rewas established in 1954 by Pat Secor, the guild's founder, and exec utive director until retiring five years ago. TGLR would be an amateur theater that would always strive for professional standards." To attract the best, TGLR pays its directors. And to assure good scripts, a rigorous play selection process is employed. It's so thorough, in fact, that in 35 years the guild has never repeated a show. A play reading committee headed the executive director recommends a choice of three seasons to the board of directors for approval. A season usually consists of four shows, one of which is a musical and the others a mixture of drama and a good show. Secondly, to choose something not being done by everyone else. Our audience expects some thing a little different. So, we attempt to be first. Which means we take risks. We attempt things that are pretty nervy sometimes.

"WE DON'T TRY to offend people. But some excellent theater pieces have explicit language. And occasionally there is a bare bottom. In fact, 'Equus' involved full nudity which we tastefully handled with body stockings and creative light-

Incidently, the guild production of "Equus," presented at the 1979 Mort Furay Festival, won awards for best production and best actor, plus unner-up awards for best actor and best supporting actor.

"We present what we like. What we think is good. We feel obligated to do shows with theatrical merit We reject plays that use language or ituations for shock value only,' Nakdimen said.

Just where do you find what you

'We read the theater reviews in New York Magazine and Time. Pat Secor and myself go to New York and London, and to regional stages such as Actors Theatre in Louisville, Ky. They first produced 'Getting Out' and 'Talking With,' both of which won outstanding new play awards and were recently part of our season, ' she said.

"In fact, I saw the musical 'Nine twice. First time just to enjoy it, the second time to analyze ways to handle the many period costumes and reduce the large cast. Our limited space places constraints on staging echnical effects and number of per ormers we can accommodate

"IF A SHOW has possibilities, we order a script, which everyone involved in play selection must read. f selected, we call or write the publishers for permission to produce the play. As a rule, they won't give it to you during the first year the show is on Broadway, or if a professional company is performing within 50 niles of Livonia.

'Because we're always looking for new shows, the guild is usually the first community theater to present new works ('Equus,' 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolfe,' 'Stop The World').' Often the guild is the first and only community theater in the area to produce a show ("The Championship Season," "P.S. Your Cat Is Dead," sometimes this includes shows that even local professional companies haven't done ("The Dresser" and "Nine").

Poorer school districts start state funding suit

staff writer

A group of the state's poorer school districts is asking Wayne Circuit Court for permission to sue the state over what they see as "substantially unequal" funding of public ed-

'We're asking the court to rule on the use of public funds to challenge the constitutionality," said Dr. Richard W. Wilson, superintendent of the Brandon School District in northern Oakland County. Wilson chairs the coalition of 250 "in-formula" districts whose administrators say they're underfunded. 🤜

"Currently, it's not lawful," Wilson said, citing a remark in a 1984 Court of Appeals decision. "But if it's carefully examined, the court may well reverse it. The Supreme Court has never ruled.

"IN-FORMULA" districts receive state appropriations. "Out-of-formula" districts have larger local property tax bases and receive no state

In-formula districts say that, even with state aid, they are treated unequally. Per-pupil spending ranges rom about $2,000 to more than $6,000. The smaller amounts are spent in rural and poorer urban districts with little industry. The larger amounts are spent in the high-techology suburban districts of Oakland and western Wayne counties.

funding is so unequal that it violates the constitution. He said statewide equity would cost $2.5 billion to $3 billion under a formula the caucus will propose. The Currently, only 60 percent are in-formula, he said.

In contrast, House Joint Resolution B, rejected by the state Senate March 15, would provide only $500 million in new money to education, although it would have resulted in statewide property tax base sharing.

"The caucus believes that the current method of funding is so unequal that it will not stand serious judicial challenge. However, it is necessary first to ascertain the legality of utilizing public funds for such a purpose," the caucus said in a statement.

It has hired John P. Jacobs of the Detroit law firm of Plunkett & Coo-ney to file the first suit today.

THE CAUCUS said it is "dismayed over the lack of statesmanship on the part of the governor and the Senate" for the stalemate in Lansing.

Gov. James Blanchard, a Demo-

John Engler of Mount Pleasant During 1987-88, the Legislature restled with more than a dozen different versions of plans to cut school property taxes, raise the sales tax and raise state funding to poorer districts, but could reach no agreement

Three other efforts are under development on the school funding

· State leaders again are asking Edgar Harden, former president of both Northern Michigan University and Michigan State University, to help them reach a compromise on another proposal that could be put before voters.

• Engler allies are preparing pet itions for a ballot question that will require larger and larger percentages of the state general fund budget to go to education.

· The In-Formula Caucus said it s considering its own ballot petition for 1990 "to provide constitutional constitutional responsibilities in this

The 1989 all-area team features a balanced look, with each of the seven first-team selections representing a different school.

The top two teams in the Catholic League, Redford Bishop Borgess and Redford Catholic Central, placed Shawn Respert and Terry Boykin on the squad, and Wolverine A Conference co-champ Wayne Memorial the area team to go the farthest in - put Tony the state tournament -Rumple on the honor roll.

The Western Lakes Activities Association is well represented this year by league champion Plymouth Salem's Jeff Elliott, Farmington Hills Harrison's Chad Burgess. Plymouth Canton's Brian Paupore and North Farmington's Matt Hoffman

None are first-team repeaters, but Burgess and Hoffman moved up from the second team. Paupore was a third-team pick last year, and Boykin, Respert and Elliott were honorable mentions. Rumple assumed the leadership role at Wavne from Shawn Wimberly, a member of the '88 all-area team, in his senior year. Redford St. Agatha coach Jim contradiction: Jill Estey scores fer er goals and Plymouth Salem becomes a better soccer team.

Murphy, who guided the Aggies to the Catholic League C-D championship and an 18-5 record, was named coach of the year.

Estey has been a scoring machine the last two years and is entering her senior season with 79 career goals. And the Rocks have been successful during that time, compiling a 27-5-6 record and winning a state championship in 1987.

But Coach Ken Johnson believes Estev's all-round talents are needed to shore up a weakness in the midfield area, and he has decided to move the two-time, All-America selection from her left-wing position.

The midfield serves as an important link between the defense and offense, and Johnson thought the Rocks faltered in that area during a 10-3-4 campaign a year ago. Too often, Salem was unable to deliver the ball to the offense.

To be sure, it was a fine line between success and failure for a team that was runner-up in the Western Lakes Activities Association, but it may have been the difference between having a good year and reaching even greater heights.

AS THE game moved along, we lost some stamina in the midfield, Johnson said. "We had a lot of skill. but as the games wore on other 'teams put pressure on us and we'd lose the ball in the middle."

Johnson's plan calls for Estey and senior Teri King, who also is being converted from a forward to a midfielder, to join with junior Sarah Haves and make the Rocks stronger in that key, transitional part of the game

"(Estey) has a lot of stamina, and center midfielder is very hard to play," Johnson said. "She's the type of player, like she does in basketball, who can play from end to end.

"Lexpect our midfield to be strong this year," he added.

B ides using his best player to shore up the need at midfield, John-son figures Estey will be able "to come through on the attack" and

Jill Estev moves to midfield

still have a role in the offense

"She can drop back and help the defense, and she run forward and help the offense send the pass through," he said.

Estey followed an outstanding sophomore year in which she scored 32 goals with 22 last year. But she isn't just a scorer. Estey has passed out 28 and 14 assists the last two seasons, respectively. King also will contribute to the offense, having 23 goals and 28 assists in her career

FURTHERMORE, Johnson wouldn't take such a gamble if he didn't have another proven scorer to replace Estey, who is headed to the University of Illinois on a basketball scholarship. That player is junior Michelle Minton, who has started since she was a freshman and has scored 45 goals in two years.

"I think the number of (total team) oals will be better," Johnson said. I think (Estey) will be spreading the assists" around, and the other girls will be picking up the slack. Basically, we're looking for more goals n among the other forwards

The primary scoring threat becomes Minton, the center striker who has played in the shadow of Estey. After scoring 20 goals in her first year, she upped that total to 25 as a sophomore. Johnson expects Minton, who also has 11 career assists, to maintain that kind of production.

"Jill will make her mark as a midfielder and be recognized as a good, all-round player," Johnson said, 'and Michelle will have a good year as a forward."

Playing alongside Minton will be senior Missy Smith on the right wing, and three newcomers will divide playing time on the left wing.

Johnson anticipates a good year from Smith, a veteran player who had one goal and six assists last year following a three-goal, 12-assist sophomore campaign.

Sophomore Erin Harvey, who came up from the JV team for the tournament last year and scored Salem's only goals in a 3-2 loss to Plymouth Canton in the district final, is contending with junior Kim Goff and freshman Mandy Drummond for playing time at left wing.

THE ROCKS lost only three starters to graduation - Ellen Schnackel, Tracy Krajewski and Rachel Thiet - but the toughest shoes to fill belonged to Schnackel, an all-state goalkeeper who recorded 25 career shutouts and finished her senior year with a 0.85 goals-against average.

But Johnson said his prayers were nswered when Jennifer Emmett transferred from the state of Washington. Though she is freshman, Em-mett has years of youth soccer experience behind her and was the goalie on her former state's select team.

"She's quick, she has good hands she's fearless, she's an all-round good player," Johnson said.

"(High school experience) might be the only thing she has to get yet. We'll see how she handles the Churchill and Athens teams, I think

Proposed changes

New grid format expected to pass

A new plan that would restructure the current four-class system now used by the Michigan High School Athletic Association to six classes for the football playoffs will likely be in place by the start of the 1990 school year.

"I have not heard any people who are opposed to it," said Fred Sible, an assistant director with the MHSAA in charge of football. "This is the first time we could expand the program without lengthening the around the state - larger schools about it so far.'

MHSAA's Representative Council March 17. The council will re-exam ine the proposal at its meeting in May. The proposal cannot be voted on until this fall, when the council gathers with school principals. Any changes to the MHSAA constitution are considered at that meeting. If adopted, the new alignment would be in effect in the fall of 1999.

Again, it would affect just football.

Adding classes for playoffs safe

"S TIME TO cut the camouflage. Let's put this expansion deal in its proper perspective. The idea is to make four into six. Instead of having just four classes for high school football - A.

B, C and D — we have six: AAA, AA, A. B. C and D. Why? The preferred reason presented by football coaches is it 1,020 and over, the proposed change would help smaller Class A schools, ike Birmingham Groves, North Farmington, Redford Union, who like Westland John Glenn, Plymouth Salem and Traverse City, schools that are more than twice their size. Nonsense. There's one reason for going from four to six classes - the playoffs.

TOO MANY teams - North Farmington, for instance, which has gone 7-2 the last two seasons ("One more win and we would have been in," said Raider coach Jim O'Leary.) have missed out on the big, season-ending show. And they're tired of Dividing the state's 623 football playing high schools by six instead of four means greater opportunity. There would be only 104 schools (103 in Class AAA) per class; there are currently 178. That means less competition for one of the 16 playoff erths up for grabs in each division. There's the beauty of the plan. The playoffs are expanded without engthening the season. Who wouldn't love it? "I would like to see more teams get into the playoffs," said Redford Thurston coach Bob Snell, "And it would knock down the disparity somewhat.

If anything bugs me about it, it's this disparity nonsense. If that were really the issue, something else could be done to address it.

DON'T BE MISLED. The new format does little to change any disparty problem. Birmingham Brother Rice and Southfield-Lathrup will be just 20 and 21 students above the Class AAA cutoff of 1.366, so they'll still have to battle giants more than twice their size

The current Class A enrollment is raises that level by just 346. The discrepancy would still be 1,826 between the largest (Detroit Redford play in the same class as behemoths population 3,192) and smallest (Davison, population 1,366) in the state's biggest division.

If disparity were really the key issue, football wouldn't have been the only sport considered. "If (schools don't think they can compete in football, why not go across the board with it?" questioned Redford Catholic Central coach Tom Mach. "It shouldn't just be football. Big Class A's have an advantage in all sports." True enough. But football has the only state tournament with a predetermined, and limited, number o participants.

WANT TO TALK disparity? Then instead of dividing schools so that approximately the same number is in each class, use some sort of population formula. Example: If have a total of 2 million kids in high school statewide and you want four classes of competition, divide by four. Schools making up the first 500,000 in enrollment would be Class A, the next 500,000 would be Class B, and so on.

Certainly there are flaws in that plan (there would probably be 40 schools in Class A and 300 in Class), but if disparity were a real problem, that would come closer to addressing i

It isn't. The real reason for adding two classes just for football is exanding the playoffs.

Which isn't so bad. I wouldn't like to get like the National Hockey league, where every Toronto and Chicago has a chance, but if 32 more teams can be cast into the playoff pot without lengthening the season, why not? But let's present the plan in an

Chiefs face new challerige in '89

By Dan O'Mergia steff writher

Everything worked out well for lymouth Canton's boys tennis team ast year.

So well, in fact, the Chiefs captured the Western Lakes Activities Association championship for the second time in three years. But veteran coach Jim Haves wouldn't have predicted that kind of success when the season started. It's not that he didn't believe his team was capable. Hayes likes the low-key approach, preferring to allow the season run its course.

And, though the Chiefs are defending champions with enough returning talent to be expected to be among the contenders, there won't be any unnecessary looking ahead at Canton.

"We don't even worry about that," Hayes said. "We'll find out at the end of the season how we did. We don't even talk about it.

"THE KIDS set their goals more than I set them," he added. "And we key contribution, Hayes said. Flodon't have the same kids in the same

While the Chiefs graduated half of their starting lineup, they return some key players, including the No. 3 singles champion Jim Gallagher nd the top No. 3 doubles team of Chris Harper and Tony Spagnoli. Gallagher will be moving up to

No. 1 singles this year as the replacement for WLAA runner-up Mike Burt. Gallagher, who was 12-2 last year as a junior, has made great strides in the last year, according to Haves.

"He'll work his tail off," Hayes said. "He was a cross country captain, too, so he's a pretty tough guy

I didn't know these two all that well, but I met each of them during their respective seasons and being an ex-Patriot myself, I felt a common bond.

My father, who works at Franklin took the news hard when I called him on vacation in Lexington, Ky. It doesn't seem fair that they left

Franklin basketball coach Rod Hanna called his basketball team throughout the season "my little french fries."

Shea stood 6-feet-2 and weighed only 145 pounds, but he was the brains of an improved Franklin which upset state-ranked Farming ton Harrison and nearly knocked of two other area powers, Plymouth Salem and Wayne Memorial.

Shea was an expert passer and used every ounce of his body to reound against much bigger and stronger opponents.

He puts hobby to practical use

OHN LONG'S father was a cabinet maker John Long figures: maybe some of his father's craftsmanship ability was passed eJ along through his genes.

Or maybe it's the overwhelming sense of aecomplishment felt when you build something with your own hands, then utilize that creation to its fullest potential - like landing a Master Angles brook trout on a fly rod you built yourself.

Whatever the reason, Long has developed a rather unusual hobby. He builds bamboo fly rods. Long is a member of the Livonia-based Michigan Fly Fishing Club. He's been making bamboo fly rods for the last four years.

"I met Bill Waara in the Michigan Fly Fishing Club and he has been building (bamboo fly rods) for 40 years," explained Long, "One thing led to another and pretty soon I was learning the craft myself. And I had a very good teacher.

The process of hand-making a bamboo fly rod takes about 50 hours per rod. Subsequently, mos rod makers are strictly amateur. Despite a price tag of $800-$1,200 most rod makers only make bamboo rods as a hobby

"It takes a lot of time," Long said. "That's why most people only do it as a hobby. But it's quite a thrill to make a rod, tie a fly and catch a fish with it. That's the excitement of it all."

FLY FISHING is a finesse sport in that anglers must present their bait to a finicky trout in the most natural manner possible. To accomplish this, an angler must know the potential and the feel of the rod.

An experienced fly fisherman knows the feel of his rod as well as a concert violinist knows the feel of his bow. They seem to become one.

On fast rivers or when fishing for big fish, a heavy, sturdy fly rod is usually preferred. On a placid body of water, or when using very small flies, most anglers prefer a long, light, thin rod. The difference between the two rods lies in the taper of the shaft

"The heart of the rod is the bamboo," Long explained. "The soul is in the taper of the rod. The taper allows you to get the flex the way you want

LONG CREDITS former president Richard Nixon with contributing to the rebirth of the art of making bamboo fly rods.

"It was almost a lost art during the China trade embargo," Long explained. "Bamboo rods are only made from Tonkin bamboo, from the Tonkin province in China. When the embargo (was in effect) you couldn't get the bamboo. But thanks to Richard Nixon (who improved relations between the U.S. and China) the embargo was lifted and a umber of people are making them now. Several bamboo rod makers will be among the exhibitors this weekend at the Midwest Fly Fishing Expo at the Southfield Civic Center. The show speakers Mel Krieger, Gary Borger, Dennis Bitton and Jim Teeny. Exhibitors include Able Reels, 3M, Browning, Paul H. Young Co., River Bend Orvis Shop, Ted Hebert Tackle and others.

I read an interesting article that I want to pass on to all of you readers In the March issue of Longevity magazine, an article featured in the "Anti Aging News" section was written by Frank Ulovec. In the story, Ulovec quoted Dr. Robert Dustman as saying: "In a study that suggests a whole new meaning to jogging and memory, researchers have confirmed what fitness experts have been saying all along - exercise improves the mind as well as the body." Exercise aids short-term memory and the ability to reason, said Dustman, of the Salt Lake City V.A. Medical Center. He found that men and women placed on a four-month fitness program increased their ability to remember sequences of numbers and symbols. They were also faster at calculation and understanding new concepts and felt stronger and more energetic. The men and women between the ages of 55 and 70 were out of shape at the start of the study. Their one-hour workouts, performed three times a week, consisted of fast walking for aerobic exercise, push-ups and weight resistance for strength-building, and flexibilty exercises "The goal of the workouts was to raise the heart rate to a training level," Dustman said. "That is the rate that increases oxygen usage by the body, which is usually 60 percent of the person's maximum heart

No stroke or heart patients were included in the study. How does exercise improve memory? It may increase the oxygen supply to the brain, a process some physiologists believe enhances brain function

A medium-sized pottery pot painted white serves as the base of an attractive coffee table in the Green Valley model living room. The glass top came from Pier I.

'Make-do' task stirs ingenuity

By Joan Boram special writer

HE GENERAL public thinks of decorating as a "fun" job, with unlimited funds available to indulge your own personal taste," says Joanna Doyle. "Not true," insists the Farmington Hills decorator with a sigh.

"It is more like decorating your own home, but with added complications. You have the same budget problems, but it's a compromise between your own and the client's taste. And, in a model home, you and the client must second-guess the public. The model's decor is often a factor in the buying decision, so there's pressure on both of us to do the right thing.

The "right thing" in the Green Valley subdivision model she was hired to decorate was a combination of modern, traditional, and art deco. Key colors throughout the model are easy-on-the-eye lavender, pink and white. Shiny black accents add art deco sparkle. "I did more shopping at T.J.Maxx, and they just love me at Pier I. One woman followed me around Pier I and bought everything I bought because it all looked so sharp," she said. Proudly, Doyle points out a pair of Royal Doulton figures she picked up at T.J.Maxx "for practically nothing."

at discount stores and flea markets to get the right effect for the right price. Like most decorators, Doyle has a cadre of talented artisans who create items according to her speci-

For instance, an Italian artisan and his son make pottery of a fiberglass-plaster mixture. Sometimes they use existing molds, and sometimes they make molds to conform to Doyle's drawings. She paints the pottery whatever color her project calls for.

In the Green Valley model, Doyle painted two medium-sized pots white and topped them with circles from Pier I. The results are elegant and unique coffee tables at a very reasonable price. In the family room, an Ali Baba-sized pot was painted pale pink, and filled with stiff grasses spray-painted pale pink and lavender.

Pioneer spirit

T COULD be due to all the optimism that has flavored his life of late.

Or it could have been just plain old market savvy that lead to the decision.

But whatever the reason, Livonia Realtor-broker Lou Ronayne has a new pioneering spirit, especially as it relates to a house he has for sale in a country setting outside of Plymouth.

It's a 2,100-square-foot loghouse that looks every inch a re-plica of its historical forerunners, but with some very modern applications

Tripod's hidden advantages

In the past, I've written about the benefits of using a tripod when you photograph. You'll recall that one advantage is that it steadies your camera in a low light situation. This enables you to get the shot when hand-holding just won't work.

Another advantage is that a tripod allows you to shoot that waterfall using a long time exposure to obtain a feeling of movement and mood in your picture. No question, these are two major benefits that will really work for But did you know there is another advantage to putting a tripod to work for you, an almost intangible advantage, that is equally important? It's really quite simple - a tripod forces you to slow down. You may ask why you should slow down and what benefit you derive by photographing more slowly. Well, a lot. First, slowing down will force you to think out and plan your shot more carefully. You'll find yourself paying more attention to your subject and getting to know it better. You'll compose more thoughtfully and be more meticulous in determining correct exposure.

Heed the words of the old-time sea captains "slow and steady as she goes." I wonder if they weren't really talking about photography.

Log home recaptures best of bygone era

When he heard of the house, Ronayne said he was immediatey interested. "There is a growing interest in this kind of house and a particularly strong attraction, espcially in this area, as widenced by the growing number beginning to crop up in the still-rural arcos around here," Ronayne said, " Besides, we were looking for something to do in between our two big projerts.

AS A RESULT, the winter was exciting, beginning with the delivery of two semitruck loads of the logs - literally stacked sky-high - right up to the final finishing details that have turned the log structure into something of a showplace.

"We had no idea of the complications of building a log house." Ronavne said with a half-grin.

Authenticity in details perhaps set the house apart from other log houses, he said.

For instance, he said, "chinking"- the process of closing up cracks and openings between the logs - is very a key factor in the insulation process. In pioneer days, the grouting was sandbased. Today it is a man-made product that blocks any possibility of air flow between the logs.

"Ours was done by husband-wife team who only do about 30 houses a year. They know what they're doing."

The size of the logs in the home are special too, he said. The logs - all hand-peeled - average 24 inches in diameter, with some as large as 36 inches. Normally, the diameter of logs used in similar homes is around 11-14 inches, but at the owner's request, larger ones are provided.

Hand-peeled logs are perfectly round in contrast to "kit.

The logs are Michigan red pine and came from a Grand Rap-

Muskegon "Actually, the house is built twice. Once at the manufactur er's site where the logs are cut, hand-peeled and assembled to make sure everything fits. They are then marked and and hoisted by crane onto trucks for shipping to the building site where they again are reassembled.

ONCE INSIDE THE house, people are "surprised at how modern the house really is," Ronayne said.

But there's one important throwback to earlier times. It's the floor-to-ceiling fieldstone fireplace, the focal point of the great oom-living room combination as you enter.

That was done by a 75-year-old stone mason who lived near "He happened by one day and indicated he was interested in building the fireplace," Ronavne said. "And he did it all by

The house has three bedrooms and two full baths and a partially finished basement, a two-car garage and a covered old fashioned country porch that runs the full length of the house that just begs for a porch swing and log rocker.

It is open for viewing from 1-5 p.m. Sundays. For more information, call Ronayne or Lendrum at 422-6030.

As for the optimism mentioned earlier, Ronayne's doesn't all stem from his real estate projects. Some of it comes from his recent election as president of the Livonia Optimist Club.

Doyle had him create a step table about four inches deep to fit a narrow space. The three tiers match the purple, lavender and turpuoise painting that hangs over the table. This painting, and others in the model, were created by Bloomfield Hills artist Mary Ann Hall. Doyle frames all artwork herself.

In the living room, the richly ornamental hand-painted pillows are another of Doyle's finds. Hand-painted fabric is very expensive if it's perfect, but if it's flawed, it can be very reasonable. She managed to find some that was less-than-perfect. and had pillowcovers made, turning the flawed side of the pillow toward the couch. In this room, Mary Ann Hall created two large abstract paintings in the pink, white and lavender tones of the pillows.

"THERE'S NOTHING like plants to make a house look richly decorated." Even here, Doyle goes the extra mile. Before visiting Elliot's, in Livonia, to buy artificial plants, she went to a greenhouse and studied the real thing, making note of how their branches fall. Then, when the artificial plants were in place, she blust the branches to imitate nature. "All they lack are brown edges along the leaves." Dovie noted.

The textured walls in the family room were achieved by applying a mixture of plaster and paint with a broom. The final ffect is pleasing to the eye, and "not as messy as it sounds." The dining room is a testament to Doyle's ingenuity and frugality. She bought plain white fabric for the chair seats and

A van conversion shop was the source of raw material for the metallic gold-and-black placements. They cost less than $2 apiece, and are selling for $20 in better stores. "We couldn't afford custom carpeting, so I bought a square off-the-roll, and bordered in with left-overs from the living room."

A square mirror, framed in black, looks very art deco hanging in a triangular direction. "I overheard one woman say, Now, where do you suppose they found a triangular mirror like that?" said Doyle. "People just don't notice that it's hanging sideways.

THROUGHOUT THE HOUSE, Doyle used inexpensive wallpaper for borders on painted rooms. "It's the only way I can get the colors I want, and I can vary the width from room to room." In one of the hathrooms, a delicately patterned wallpaper is hung horizontally around the room. It gives a more ethe real effect than the standard vertical application, gently leading the eye around the wall rather than up and down.

Even the elements complicated Doyle's life. Last summer's drought created a shortage of carpet in the United States. It seems that the South is a major source of carpeting, and that a great deal of water is used to rinse carpeting after it is dyed. There was a shortage of water in the South, and therefore a shortage of carpeting. Designers were scrambling for in-stock arpeting from the previous year - Doyle included. Green Valley homes are located in Farmington Hills, on Nine Mile Road between Halstead and Haggerty. For more information, call Debora Fischetti at 471-6920
