Road improvements planned for spring

By Diane Gale staff writer

Bad news for auto repair shops is good news for drivers traveling bumpy Canton roads.

Three roads in Canton Township will be paved this spring. And more projects will be paved later this year or in 1990.

All Canton thoroughfares, other than private roads, are run and operated by Wayne County. However, Canton Township has agreed to share costs on some pavement projects Estimates to pave the Lotz and Sheldon projects are $1.2 million, and Canton has agreed to pay 50 percent of the bills.

The detour for Sheldon Road is Palmer to Canton Center to Geddes and back to Sheldon.

The detour for Lotz Road is Haggerty Road on the west and Hannon Road on the east, said Rick Hodges, Wayne County engineer of traffic operations.

"Usually we maintain local traffic on all roads," Simonovits said.

The Cost to pave the Lilley to Joy jog is estimated at $220,000. Construction has started.

The county has more than 80 projects at the same pre-construction stage and that makes it difficult to say when each road will be paved, Simonovits said.

A citizens committee charged with assessing strengths and weaknesses in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools told the school board Monday that it needs to improve in areas including communication, class size, curriculum and discipline.

Community Researching Education Workings, or CREW, also concluded that the district has been fiscally responsible, but "definitely needs additional support to continue the tradition of excellence in education.

CREW studied areas of concern identified by 424 district residents in a scientific survey last October.

If Lisa LeJack had dropped out of life, no one could have blamed her. She grew up in Detroit's inner city in a troubled family. Talking about her childhood is a painful experience.

When she turned 14, LeJack figured that attending an inner-city high school would be another dead end.

"The thought of it was too much. So I lied about where I lived," said LeJack.

LeJack finagled her way into Plymouth-Canton High School, and graduated in 1984.

She visited Plymouth-Salem High School government classes recently to tell students about her work with the poor.

A graduate of Blackburn College in Carlinville, Ill., LeJack quit a $40,000-a-year marketing job in Washington D.C. to work for the homeless with Mitch Snyder's Center for Creative Non-Violence, also in D.C.

"I was in public education, and went door to door to talk to people about the homeless," LeJack said.

Back home in Detroit, LeJack now works nights as a social worker at a treatment center for delinguent youth.

Among the female juvenile offenders at the agency are "a lot of teens who have been raped." Some were sold into pornography or prostitution because their parents are addicted to drugs.

Worker tries to get kids on right track

Others "have killed someone, or tried to kill someone, but they're too young to go to prison," said LeJack, who asked that her agency not be named.

"They come to us when they have no food, no money, - when they just can't survive anymore.

"These girls are so smart. They know all the tricks," she said. "They can commit suicide with paint chips. They hate you so bad they'll jump you.

Among the young women LeJack works with is a 15-year-old "throwaway" who was kicked out of her

"She has three bullet holes in her leg, a scar where her face was people slashed from her eye to her chin," LeJack said.

"She became a prostitute when she was 12, was addicted to crack cocaine, and has a kid."

LeJack said it angers her that so many people think money alone will solve the problems of the poor and homeless.

"Everyone thinks the best solution is to build housing. I get mad when I hear that. If you give a homeless person an apartment for $3 a month. chances are they will end up home less again. They would spend their last $5 on drugs because they're addicted.

"We have to change the way we think about the homeless. We're talking about an economic culture," Le-Jack said. "We have to go back and undo the damage. They have to unlearn what they know - abuse and alcoholism.

"Those who are born homeless don't see the world the way we do. They see it in a unique way. Women allow men to beat them. They have no idea how to take care of themsalves.

Hines Park rowdyism worries police chief

By Doug Funke staff writer

Young people, attracted to the western end of Hines Park like bees to honey again this spring, are creating a nuisance with noise, litter, drinking and congested traffic. That's the verdict of Carl Berry,

Plymouth Township police chief: "It's out of hand," Berry said. "It's the usual problems - drinking by minors, excessive traffic. They are going into bushes relieving them-selves. Beer cans and busted bottles are all over the place."

Trouble spots have occurred on a 100 Arres stretch of Hines between I-275 and Park Drive, Berry said. Most people who congregate are in their late teens or early 20s.

Last Sunday, a fight involving four or five people broke out at about 5 p.m., Berry said. Upwards of 1,500 people were in the area of Haggerty Field west of Haggerty Road at the time, he said.

Three Wayne County Sheriff's deputies and three township officers broke things up without incident, Berry said. But he's concerned about what might lie ahead.

"IF IT EVER gets out of control,

we won't be able to handle it," he said.

Sheriff Robert Ficano, who has jurisdiction over Hines, said 10 more deputies were assigned to the park detail Monday for the remainder of the summer.

That swells the law enforcement ranks to 50, not including deputies from secondary road patrols who swing through at the start of the season, he said.

"The first couple of warm sum mer weekends of spring, the park al-ways fills up with kids," Ficano said. "Until beaches open up, activity always accelerates.

"The same thing happens every year. We go out with heavy enforcement. We won't tolerate any abuse of the park or families in the park," he said

DEPUTIES ISSUED 72 tickets in the Plymouth area of Hines Park last Saturday and Sunday, Ficano said. He couldn't specify what most ere for.

Deputies also made four arrests - two for disorderly conduct, one for drunken driving and one of a per-ICL ODE son wanted on an outstanding war rant, he said.

A meeting of law enforcement au thorities from communities alo the 21-mile length of the parkway was scheduled for yesterday.

Things generally quiet in Hines af-ter the initial spring fling, then pick up again at graduation time and right before school begins in fall, Ficano said

Berry said he has an uneasy feelog this year. "Officers I've talked to are all of the same opinion — the crowd in Hines Park this spring is not a friendly crowd. For whatever rea-son, crowds this year seem a little more volatile," Berry said.

A proposed newsletter for Canton residents was the center of a misunderstanding among township officials on Tuesday. The idea of a newsletter surfaced in February when the board looked at bids-that ranged from $8,200 to $88,000 with an additional $30,800 for mailing. Trustee Robert Shefferly at that time sought a survey to determine if residents wanted the newsletter. However, instead of the survey the board

The survey was estimated to cost about $2,000 to print and $2,000 to mail, township inance director John Spencer told trustees. Shefferly said he's angry that the bid reuest, written by clerk Loren Bennett, said the board had authorized the township supervisor to seek bids.

Welsh, chairwoman of the communication subcommittee. "It's imperative that communication at board meetings be improved. Meetings are the only communication much of the commun ty has with the board. It's a time for board members to show empathy and concern by suggesting solutions, not to sweep problems under the rug. "Accurate and frequent informa tion, both internal and external, will educate the community. We have found that an informed community is a supportive communi ty," she added. As did other submmittees, the commi group compared Plymouth-Canton erous other districts.

CLASS SIZE also was identified as high priority in the citizen survey, said Pam DeNeen, subcom-

Where special education students are mainstreamed into regular classrooms, CREW recommended that they be counted as two students. A class-size review group also should be set up, said CREW members MARGE HAY chaired the curriculum subcommittee. "While it is true that the Plymouth-Canton MEAP scores were not outstanding, it should be pointed out that we were well above the state average and also well above the average of the six comparable school districts," said Hay.

MEAP is a state standardized test that measures student achievement in math, science and reading A shortage of textbooks exists 'in a number of academic areas.' said CREW member Pam Nuttal. "Because of the district's financial straits, teachers would like to have books for every child, and can't," she said. 'We understand your financial problems, however, in order to compete in an increasingly technical world, we feel it is essential to update our textbooks." said Hay CREW also would like to see foreign languages introduced "in all grade levels of middle school first. and then elementary school; advanced placement classes in science and foreign language; and instrumental music in elementary schools," added Hay.

The discipline subcommittee commended the district for its clearly-written rules for behavior" and for establishing "penalties appropriate to the offense." CREW said weaknesses include an attendance policy that isn't effective, and the schools' tolerance of smoking.

CREW's research shows that student achievement is going down, while absences are going up.

The group recommended rein stating the attendance policy and procedures of 1987-88. (The attendance office was cut as a moneysaving measure this school year.)

CREW also suggested banning smoking or allowing only students of legal age to smoke. The finance subcommittee found that "we need to disseminate .nfor mation on finances of the school district," said subcommittee chair man Ray Buckman.

"We also need to decrease voter apathy." CREW supports both millage

Chamber backing millage requests 'Definite need' for mill renewal, increase By M.B. Dillo staff writer

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce is backing both the 8-mill renewal and the 4-mill tax in crease voters in the Plymouth-Can ton school district will be asked to approve at the polls on June 12.

The chamber board decided to support the millage requests based on a report drafted by the organization's education subcommittee The chamber has about 400 mem-

"We conducted a review in order to make that report, and one of the things that came out was that there is a definite need today to pass both issues," said Paul Sincock, assistant to the Plymouth city manager and a member of the subcommittee.

OTHERS ON the subcommittee are Plymouth attorney/Plymouth Township Trustee John Stewart; Wayne Daniels of the R.J. Liddy Moving and Transport Co.; and Jack Dempsey of Michigan Bell Telephone in Detroit. The subcommittee found that:

· "The net effect of both the renewal and the additional 4 mills passing would be an increase of 2.08 mills. The less-than-authorized increase would be due to the Headlee rollback requirement.

· "Over the past three years, the Plymouth-Canton school district has experienced nearly $12 million in new tax revenue. Over the same three-year period, the district also has experienced just over $22 million in revenue cuts due to a cut in state aid and the Headlee rollback requirement. When looking at funding cuts and required rollbacks versus new tax revenue, we note a loss of $10.5 million," said subcommittee members.

· "The Plymouth-Canton school district is ranked 11th in the state in student population. The district also ranks 286th of 525 school districts in the state for administrative spending per pupil.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools spend $3,377 per student, below the state average figure of $3,560. Per-pupil spending averages $3,849 in Wayne County and $4,363 in Oakland County. Detroit spends $3,767 per student per year.

Passing the millages will allow the district to restore some programs, hire additional teachers, do needed maintenance to facilities and complete other budget restorations.

A 19-year-old Canton man was arrested and charged with fleeing po lice after leading officers on a highpeed chase early Sunday morning. Police spotted the man driving at high speed in a four-door 1989 Mer-cury Sable at 3:40 a.m. Sunday, according to police reports.

A Canton officer said he saw the car heading south on Haggerty about 1/4 mile north of Warren. A radar check showed the man was traveling at 87 mph in a 45 mph zone.

The officer began the chase. The driver reportedly disregarded a red flashing light at Warren and turned west on Warren, police said. The car fishtailed and almost went out of control before it stopped at Warren and Lilley.

The driver, who was without a driving license or car registration, was arrested on fleeing and eluding charges.

Our units provide progressive, highly technical and holistic medical and nursing care, requiring us to be educated, confident and assertive. We are encouraged to collaborate not only with physicians, but also with our patients and their families to formulate unique, individualized plans of care. There is a strong sense of cooperation and camaraderie here.

Without a doubt, our patients and their families are the most important reason we're here. We are fortunate to have a nursing administrator who encourages us to take a stand and get involved in the new directions which ultimately will increase our job satisfaction and enhance the care our patients receive. Dr. JuJuan Taylor hands out evaluations following the classroom production of the fictional WNEW Channel 6 news program. The 90-minute show is videotaped for later critique. In addition, each student is evaluated on presentation, with Tavlor scribbling notes on index cards during the live broadcast.

Cable amateurs act like pros

By Mary Rodrigue staff writer

Morning TV viewers can watch Jane and Bryant or Charles and Joan - but few get to watch Kim and Janet and Mike, or Sally, Ralph and Mark.

If local cable TV subscribers could tune in, they would hear the latest -news, weather and sports, plus a host of information on consumer topics. All with a few silly commercials tossed in. They might even recognize their neighbor giv ing the delivery.

These very local broadcasters are but a handful of 26 students in JuJuan Taylor's Fundamentals of Speech class at Schoolcraft College Livonia. It's one of five sessions Taylor teaches this term.

A few times each semester, the group produces a fictional WNEW Channel 6 news program. The 90minute show is videotaped for later ritique. In addition, each student s evaluated on presentation, with Taylor scribbling notes on index cards during the live broadcast.

"I plan activities that are educational, enforce (speech) principles and are fun," Taylor said

Ralph the weatherman hams it up like Willard Scott. Flinging his arms across a chalk drawn weathermap of the United States, he calls attention to his makeshift garbage bag raincoat (a parody of the designer fashion segment just ended). When he gives the predicted highs in the southwest, he throws off his raincoat to reveal a gaudy Hawaiian shirt.

ALTHOUGH THE cooking segment doesn't have a chef messing up a real kitchen, it has the next best thing - the finished product which this day is a sweet chocolate topped confection ready for sam-

Because the news and information content are real, students in this class can't help but be well informed on everything from the lat est breaking national story to the best new place in town for pizza. For many students, the class is an initiation into the world of speechmaking. Other assignments include mock court trials and children's story telling. "In addition to just speaking, (students) have to research professionally. I'm concerned with them after they leave Schoolcraft. This promotes self confidence." Taylor

The news format is one way Taylor teaches her students the basic tenents of speech - to promote self confidence and poise in public speaking.

SHE ADDED it to her assignment repertoire because she feels college students don't read enough newspapers.

"Now they're reading the Ob-server, the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal. (Newspapers) touch every discipline, every area."

In addition to promoting self confidence, she hopes the class will help prepare students for becoming independent professionals. Among her students are a police officer, a homemaker and some aspiring teachers.

Sally Edwards of Brighton acted as news director for the news show. She was also in front of the camera as a fashion reporter and editorial commentator.

"(Taylor) is a fabulous teacher. said the liberal arts student. "The first day, we were afraid to stand up and open our mouths. She's prought so much out of everyone. Kelly Walter of Northville is taking her first speech class. An education major who plans to transfe to Eastern Michigan University, she said the class has made he more outgoing.

"I really enjoy it," said Walter, who gave viewers a rundown of up coming concerts in her presentation. "I wouldn't be afraid to take another speech class."

TAMMY BORZA of Redford Township is so enthusiastic about the class, she calls it "my favorite class of all time."

"I had speech classes, in high school - I'm originally from Illinois - but I was never as comfortable as I am in here." said the Linda Ellerbee lookalike who gave the latest sports scores during the news program.

Lvnn Goodlesky, a freshman education major under Taylor's instruction, put it thus in the campus newspaper, The Schoolcraft Connection: "After one learns proper speech techniques, it is easy to keep friends and relatives from not. falling asleep and losing interest in daily conversation. Learning how communicate is very critical." It seems apparent that Taylor's students have learned that lesson

Fish warning threatens popular Rouge event

By Wayne Peal staff writer

A new warning against eating fish caught in the Rouge River could force the Wayne County Parks to cancel one of its most popular events.

The parks' annual fishing derby scheduled for Sept. 9, will be canceled unless the warning is lifted.

The event had tentatively been moved from Newburgh Lake to Wilcox Lake due to the warning against eating downstream fish, though both lakes are included in the warning.

"We wanted to move it upstream. thinking that would be safer but we're keeping a close eye on reports," said park activities director Chaisson. "If the situation doesn't improve, we'll cancel it. We

JOA on hold again, Judge defends The Bard's honor

By Tim Richard staff writer

It's a serious gag. Judge Myron Wahls is stepping down from the state Court of Appeals - but only for a theatrical evening, and just to defend William Shakespeare. The serious part is that Wahls is expected to be a formidable adversary for impresario Mark McPherson, who again will challenge the historic idea that Shakespeare wrote all the plays attributed to him.

"He is a very knowledgeable and will be an apt opponent," Wahls said Wednesday in a mock news conference. McPherson conceded that Wahls, noted for a rapier wit, could be his toughest opponent yet.

In several previous trials, Wahls was presiding judge as McPherson, the flamboyant investigator of mysteries, sought to change literary opinion

"The Duel" on May 14 will feature Judge Myron Shakespeare and impresario Mark McPherson Wahls (left) defending the literary reputation of continuing to attack the Bard's reputation.

REPLACING WAHLS as magistrate in the May 14 duel will be Judge Marilyn J. Kelly of Bloomfield Hills, newly elected to the state Court of Appeals.

Jurors will be critics and members of the news media.

The audience also will be able to vote for or against Shakespeare. In last year's trial, held on Oakland Community College's Royal Oak Campus, Shakespeare won a majority of both jurors and audience, but by a shrinking majority

G.B. Harrison, who edited Shakespeare's complete works for a standard college text, scoffs at the attacks. Explaining the shortage of biographical material on the Bard of Stratford-upon-Avon, Harrison said, "Literary persons, even the greatest, are seldom spectacular. Few writers attract a Boswell." THAT'S THE SORT of literary explanation McPherson enjoys ripping There's "a bare minimum of contemporary observation" in his lifetime and no biography until a century after his death, McPherson said. Shakespeare's will makes no men tion of literary properties, he said, although 20 plays attributed to him were still unpublished at his death in 1623. Over the years, Shakespeare's portrait becomes altered.

McPherson is known for his pursuit of the Loch Ness monster and his expertise on Sherlock Holmes. A room in his house is decorated exactly as Holmes' apartment at 221-B Baker Street.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 10, 1989, at 8:00 o'clock DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1989 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.366 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1989 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1989 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated twenty-two percent (22%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

Wiretap bill repaired, sent to state Senate

An amended state wiretap bill emerged from the Senate Judiciary Committee last week, but without Chairman Rudy Nichols' vote.

THE FESTIVAL sounds like it's going to be a refreshing change from the traditional rides and games type of event that most American comunities hold each summer.

One of the major events will be a soccer tournament that will attract 200 teams. The other events will include a health screening, hole-inone contest, fishing derby, walk/run for literacy, youth fitness field day and bike-a-thon. By spreading the events throughout the community, Cantoh will be able to show of its impressive array of parks and recreation facilities. However, at the same time the lack of a community center will become apparent to residents who attended the events.

A community center could serve as headquarters for the festival and a location for many of the events.

Canton has been trying to build a community center for a number of years, and township officials are still looking at trying to build one.

It seems to us that the Canton Challenge Fest could be the focal point for an effort to build such a community center. The persons attracted to such an event are physically active types who would probably see the need for such a facility.

One of the other dreams of township recreation officials is an outdoor swimming pool. And this just might be the time to take a look at pro-

Turning our backs is no solution

▲ IDS, an always lethal disease, continues to evade the concern and attention of the general public, while the health care world struggles to cope.

Michigan is ranked 17th in the number of recorded AIDS cases, looming over the 1,000 mark and growing. Those numbers will only continue to rise if the public doesn't respond by calling for action from educators, legislators and the usiness community.

EDUCATORS must increase their efforts in teaching about the disease's dangers and how to avoid coming in contact with it. Earlier this week U.S. Rep John Conyers, D-Detroit, reprimanded educators for avoiding sensitive subjects such as condom use.

We agree that educators need to be bolder in their approach. Studies show that most students are uninformed or misinformed about AIDS and that many who engage in sex do so without the use of condoms - the only known protecton against contact.

For those who believe abstinence only should be taught, we say that death is too harsh a penalty for engaging in premarital sex.

LAWMAKERS must continue to examine legislation which would protect AIDS victims from discriminatory practices in the workplace. All too often we continue to hear stories which show that some business managers are insensitive to AIDS' victims. These victims need the protection of the law to insure they are protected from discriminatory practices.

BUSINESS has a mixed record on dealing with AIDS. Some have done a good job, establishing programs to help both the sick employee and the colleagues who are unsure of how to deal with this frightening illness.

But other companies have chosen to fight a regressive battle. They terminate AIDS-infected mployees or discriminate in their hiring.

Turning our backs on the problem offers no solution. It only makes the problem worse. Even more business leaders will face an even harsher confrontation with AIDS as the disease spreads to their shops and offices. They need to prepare themselves and their employees in learning how to humanely cope with colleagues who face certain death. Now is that time.

Lakes area transformation forces many from homes

LIKE MANY mothers, my mother always taught me to share. It kind of went along with the flag and apple pie. But apparently that all has changed.

I thought about this the other day while reading that the lakes region has become an economic war zone between the well-to-do and the working stiffs. Not too many years ago, the lakes stood out as a feature which everyone could enjoy. For the most part, lakefront property was owned by blue and white collar workers either as year round homes or as summer

The homes were small, the lakes unsullied

And many of those same lakes were enjoyed by a multitude of people, whether they lived on them or not No one much cared, really, Western Oakland was a quiet place, roads uncluttered, lakes peaceful, parks quiet.

As youths, my friends and I would often hitchhike out Northwestern Highway (then a country road) and than up Orchard Lake (another country road) to one of the many beautiful lakes.

We would rent a boat, fish, swim and mostly just hang around in the middle of a lake, letting the summer breeze cool our bodies.

With some real luck, a lone skier would come along in search of companions. The trade-off was fairenough. We would pilot the boat while he skied and, as repayment, he would treat us to a free afternoon of skiing A great thrill for some city kids

TODAY, of course, such tales ring of ancient mythology.

The upper middle class and the wealthy have discovered the region we always called "the lakes." And they, unlike many of those who have lived on the lakes for years, are unwilling to share.

Small homes are being torn down and replaced with palatial domiciles. Property taxes are surging and lakefront lots can go for anywhere up to $300,000.

An area that was once the recre ational haven for those who could afford no other, is fast becoming the subdivision for the well-to-do.

Skyrocketing taxes are forcing many out of homes they have lived in for decades. And the lakes are Understand, please, While the land is owned by the homeowners, the water is owned by you and I and anyone else who can get to it. The problem is access

Every year the legislature allocates funds to purchase land along lakes for public access. The Department of Natural Resources works off of a lakes list on which property can be purchased for public access. But the newer, far more political-

A master teacher

To the editor:

This letter is in regards to the article questioning the teaching ability and the methods used by Plymouth-Canton English teacher Barb Mas-

I am a 1979 graduate of Plymouth-Canton. As I look back 10 years. there is no doubt in my mind that the Plymouth schools offer a quality education. I am satisfied with my education. I had a number of great teachers, who to this day I respect and admire. Both Canton and Salem are loaded with quality teachers; a number that would be too large to list here. However, I would like to focus on one: Barb Masters

She is, without a doubt, the finest English teacher I ever had as a stuent. I received my bachelor's de gree in English from Eastern Michigan University. While at Eastern, I had 14 different professors. My professors were a quality group, but none can compare with Barb Masters. She is, bluntly, the best! What makes her the best

First of all, she doesn't make value judgments based on how students act or dress, what students like to do in their spare time, or who they choose to "hang around with." Her students respect the fact that they are not judged when they walk into her classroom.

Barb Masters uses a wide variety of learning materials and teaching techniques to motivate and develop the writing skills of her students Some of her methods may appear, to someone not involved in her learning environment, a bit odd at first. How ever, her results are undeniable! She uses different materials, objects, films and artwork that students nor mally wouldn't be exposed to in evervdav life.

Using these materials, and her special style of teaching, she challenges students to review standard oncepts in our everyday life. Students reaffirm their own values or make changes that help them to become better citizens.

I had the pleasure, thank God (no pun intended), of having Barb Masters as my English teacher my senor year in high school. Her influence on my life will be everlasting, as any good teacher's influence will.

The ultimate goal of any teacher. in my opinion, is to get students to recognize their responsibilities as citizens and to help students become productive members in society. No one does this any better than Barb Masters. Students who take her classes, always leave with respect and knowledge.

Students know she really does care about them, and they respect her for it. Her open, honest, caring attitude, plus the fact that no one works harder than she does, gains respect from students that many teachers never get. She is constantly making the extra stride necessary to help students improve.

Currently, I am an English teacher in Walled Lake. First hand, I see the challenges teachers face, day in and day out. It is extremely difficult to motivate students who are not in terested in education

No one motivates students to learn better than Barb Masters. My re spect and admiration of her teaching methods and her teaching style is be vond words. As an English teacher my goal is to be half the motivator that she is. Then, I would know I am a teacher If I had a child enrolled at Plymouth-Canton, knowing what I know today. I would insist that my child take Barb Masters. She is what education should be all about; teaching students to be better citizens.

Wilcox house development

To the editor:

I write on behalf of my client, ohnston H. Wilcox, owner of the Wilcox House and related property and in particular in response to a leter sent to you captioned under your opinion column "Fix Up City Eye sores." It is a shame that the writer or others will likely attempt to claim credit for the transformation which will shortly begin to take place on the Wilcox property.

Mr. Wilcox has long lived in downtown Plymouth, been active in community and governmental affairs and certainly interested in the prop er development of his property. His previous attempts at development on the site did not work and he has spent a number of months recently in surveying in excess of 20 developers to be sure that the right combination existed, both for the develop ment as he feels it should occur and to the end that his constant desire, namely that the project will be a credit to the community, will be ac complished. I am pleased to be able to state that an agreement has been eached with Marcello & Silvio Building Co., longtime developers in the area, to both restore the Wilcox house and develop the surrounding property for residential use.

To his financial detriment, Mr. Wilcox has avoided attempts to develop the property in a way which would have desecrated the setting or allowed commercial development such as fast food or other similar type operations.

Numbers questioned

To the editor:

I attended the school ralley Tuesday night and was given this worksheet to figure my school tax for next year based on both renewal and 4 mill increase passing. It was then stated that I would only be paying about $200 more if I had any S.E.V. value of 50,000 on a house worth $100,000. My houses 1989 S.E.V. value is $43,900 and my 1988 value was $36,740 so when I placed these figures in the blanks I got an increase of $335.97 or $135.97 above the so called $200. So who is right. Please print this worksheet so everyody in this community can calcuate their taxes and remember this group called "I Care," published this worksheet.

love literature, it is imperative that they are able to have ready access to books within the school setting. As teachers of young children, we are especially concerned because much of the early elementary instruction s centered around materials appropriate for the beginning anders. Reading concepts taught center around exploring authors and books as well as ways to answer questions that come up in our daily learning. All of these materials are housed within our library.

Other ramifications of the elimination of the libraries will be that informational materials and refernce books will not be available to" older children to do reports and research. Library skills will not be taught. Computers and related programs may not be available as they are also part of the media center Basic equipment housed in the media center, such as tape recorders record players, teaching kits, filmstrips and projectors, will also be locked up. It is distressing to realize that a large segment of our teaching program will not be available

We understand and support the fact that due to lack of funds the present librarians will be needed in teaching positions. However, we believe that it is time for the public to realize the damage that will be done to the children in our school district if the elementary library program is liminated.

Please show your support for our children by voting yes on both school issues on June 12. Kindergarten-First Grade Teacher Isbister Elementary Schoo

Area hospitals impose smoking bans

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Area hospitals have made adjustments due to a new anti-smoking law that went into effect April 1, but adjustments vary from hospital to hospital.

The new law bans smoking in hos pitals, other health-care facilities and public places.

But while some hospitals opted for strict enforcement, others went for "kinder, gentler" standards.

"I'd say we're getting 95 percent compliance, but we're not grabbing anybody by the neck," said Allan Breakie, president of Garden City Osteopathic Hospital. "We've set up a separate dining room for smokers. We've had some people who have been good employees for 15 years who smoke and we don't want to be aggressive and obnoxious with them.

St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, substantially reduced the number of hospital areas open to smokers.

"ESSENTIALLY, St. Mary is a non-smoking hospital," spokeswom-an Julie Sproul said. "We used to allow it in the coffee shop and cafeteria but no more."

Since the law went into effect, smokers have been restricted to a third floor lounge.

The hospital is offering free classes to help employees break their nicotine habits.

Smoking will be banned inside all buildings at Botsford General Hospital, Farmington Hills, as of July 1.

"We're having a two-step phasein," hospital spokeswoman Margo Gorchow said. "Right now, smoking is limited to one room for employees and one room for visitors. After July 1 there will be no smoking in the hospital or any of the other buildings on our campus." The hospital is also offering free anti-smoking seminars to employees.

Violators face fines of up to $500. as well as jail sentences, under the new law.

Doctors and other health professionals in private practice must also comply

Smoking has been outlawed in treatment areas, waiting rooms, staff lounges, hallways and bathrooms. It is allowed only in rooms designated for smokers.

The new law exempts nursing homes, homes for the aged, hospices, hospital long-term care units and county medical-care facilities. Hospitals could also make an exception if doctors agree that prohibiting smoking could harm treatment.

Under another new law, minors caught smoking or carrying unlighted tobacco products in public can be fined $50. Minors can no longer be sold tobacco products, including snuff and chewing tobacco.

Stores selling tobacco products must post a sign by July 1 warning minors of the penalty. Restaurants also face changes.

They must now provide non-smoking areas in spaces closest to fresh air and must give special consideration to people with smoke-related ailments. These include asthma, chropic bronchitis, emphysema or coronary heart disease.

The Michigan Public Health department will record complaints. Follow-up may be handled by the attorney general's office or local coun-prosecutors. But Dr. Kenneth Rowe, deputy director of programs and chief medical executive for the state health department, said he realizes enforcing the laws may be challenging.

"It's obvious it would take a large police force to enforce every violation of this act," Rowe said.

Other diseases rise despite AIDS warning

ly.

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Michigan's new AIDS counseling law has caused concern for some soon-to-be-married couples, but the county's chief medical officer said counseling is desperately needed.

"There are between 30,000 and 50,000 people married in Wayne County every year," said Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, county medical director. "That's a lot of people we can reach

While AIDS remains a paramount concern - Lawrenchuk called it the nation's "number one public health concern" - health officials are also concerned about a steady rise in the number of other sexually transmitted diseases.

"THE GOOD news was that the incidence of sexually transmitted diseases decreased among gay white men by 80 percent nationally," Lawrenchuk said, citing a recent report from the Center for Disease Control, Atlanta. "The bad news is it rose for every other group." The report covered the years 1985-6.

While statistics are maintained for AIDS, syphilis and gonorrhea, there are no statistics for other sexually transmitted diseases, making statistical comparisons difficult.

The county's fastest-rising social disease, chlamydia, is not currently required to be reported to the state Department of Public Health, Lawrenchuk said. Tests at county clinics, however, show the gonorrhea-like disease is spreading rapid-

WE'RE NOW getting more cases of chlamydia than all other sexually transmitted diseases combined, Lawrenchuk said. "Because its symptoms are so similar to gonorrhea, it's difficult to diagnose. But it's easy to treat. Everybody who comes to our clinics now gets treatment for both."

Chlamydia can cause sterility. It is particularly difficult to diagnose because its symptoms don't often show themselves, health officials said. Presence of HIV, the AIDScausing virus, can also mask the presence of other diseases.

Gonorrhea is the most commonly reported of the sexually transmitted diseases. New penicillin-resistant strains of gonorrhea have also surfaced, making treatment more difficult

"We're now dealing with these new, super-organisms," Lawrenchuk said.

The number of reported cases of gonorrhea increased by nearly 20 percent statewide between 1984-87.

Statistics show 7,863 cases report ed in 1984 and 9,222 four years later.

While monogamy is advised health officials advise those with multiple sex partners to have a physical check up at least once every six months. Those who believe they have contracted a sexually transmitted disease are advised to see a doctor immediately.

Speaking French isn't something most Plymouth-Canton residents do every day, but in recent weeks, some local parents and children have had a chance to practice their French at home

Children from the Ecole du Coudray in Nantes, France, are visiting through the French-American Back-to-Back exchange program. The 30 children arrived April 18 and will leave May 9. The children, ages 9-11, are stay-

Communicating hasn't been a major problem, said Gaylord, a homemaker. She speaks a bit of French. "Between the dictionaries and sign language, we're doing quite well. A lot of sign language. You wouldn't believe what you can accomplish with that." GAYLORD HASN'T found as many differences between the French visitors and American children as she thought there would be. "They seem to be more appreciative," she said. That may be partially because the students, being away from home, are on their best behav-

Earnest and Irene Berridge can always find room for another teddy bear in their Plymouth home.

"There's a lot of them around here," Irene Berridge said. "They keep moving in."

The Berridges have a couple hundred cloth bears, plus some ceramic ones. The bears are perched in rooms throughout the house.

"It seems like when we have company, we find room for them to sit," Earnest Berridge said with a smile.

The Berridges have lived in their home on Irvin since 1948. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Feb. 4.

They had the home built in the 1940s, and raised their two children, now grown, there. The Berridges have two grandsons. Earnest Berridge is retired from his? position as chief accountant at Pienty of teddy bears have found their way to the Ber-ridge home in Plymouth.

THEIR PLYMOUTH home will be among those featured on the "A Melody of Homes" tour, sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League. The home tour will be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, May 19.

The Berridges have seen changes in their neighborhood over the years. In the 1940s, there were some homes but not nearly as many as now.

"Most of this was all built up af-ter we came here," she said. "I don't know if there's a vacant lot around here anymore."

A few of the bears at the Berridge home are from their children's younger days. One bear, Mustard, belonged to their daughter, Kathy, when she was a child.

"He's the oldest one around here," Irene Berridge said. Mustard has been played with, and is showing signs of his age.

Irene Berridge and her daughter started collecting the other bears about 10 years ago. Some of the bears were made by local people. They enjoy looking for the bears and the props. "That's half the fun, looking for the props for them," Irene Ber-ridge said. Some of the teddy bears wear clothing that belonged to the Berridge children. All the bears have names. Some have been named by the people who made the bears; the Berridges choose names for the others.

"I know I named one after one of my shipmates," said Earnest Berridge, who served in the U.S. Navy furing World War II. That bear, as Warren, wears a naval uniform.

THEIR GRANDCHILDREN are allowed to play with some, but not all, of the bears.

"They respect that," she said

Writers Field's students enjoy working with words

You won't find books by Sean lewkowicz and his classmates in ookstores - not yet, anyway. Sean is an 8-year-old second rader at Field Elementary School n Canton. He and other Field students have been hard at work in reent months, writing and publishing books at their school Last week, staff members and students at Field held their Young Authors Celebration. Parents visited the school Wednesday, April 26, to see work done by their children.

Sean wrote a book entitled "All About Falcons.' "I got my first idea from a wildlife stamp," he said. Sean became even more interest ed in that subject when a falconer came to the school with a falcon. "I like birds a lot." For his book, Sean did extensive research on falcons. He worked on the book, writing by hand and then on the computer. "On the computer, I've got to find many letters and stuff," he said. Sean did illustrations for "All About Falcons," the second book he wrote this year. Seag also wrote Sean's Very Bad Day," a book describing a less-than-ideal day at school.

"It's my best one, I think.

God at work Meeting examines chaplaincy

Week stresses consumer influence on economy

"Consumers Open Markets" is the 1989 theme for National Consumers Week, April 23-29. This theme em phasizes the power each one of us, as consumers, has in our local, national and international economies. Consumers open and close markets from neighborhood markets, media markets, supermarkets to world market. All products from hamburgers to hoses and services from shoe repair to day care succeed or fail based on our consumer decisions.

National Consumers Week is a special time set aside each year to: · recognize the vital role consumers play in the success of our economy · highlight important and ongoing consumer programs; • unveil new consumer efforts; focus on consumer issues The focus is on the rights and freedoms we enjoy as consumers in the American Marketplace and the important role we play as buyers in an economic system based on the freedom to produce and purchase.

Article One of the Constitution established a free enterprise system with common currency, standard weights and measures, reliable legal procedures and interstate and international trade. It provided the incentive for the invention of new products through patents and trademarks and paved the way for a national postal system. These same provisions are still working for consumers and businesses more than 200 years later

THE CONSUMER Bill of Rights was adopted by President Kennedy and has been endorsed by each succeeding president. The five consumer rights are: 1. The right to choose: to be assured, wherever possible, access to a variety of products and services at competitive prices.

2. The right to information: to be

Menopause: It can be normal or severe

Dear Jo:

Dear Mrs. G .:

Could you please address the subject of menopause in your column? When does it need treatment? What treatments are available? Thank you. Mrs. G.

40 Plus Reader

Most women going through menopause do not require any treatment at all. It is, for them, just another part of the natural development in the female life cycle.

Treatment is needed only for severe symptoms of menopause. These include hot flashes, episodes of sweating followed by breathlessness and chills, and vaginal changes.

Many doctors prescribe estrogen replacement therapy (ERT) as a major treatment. ERT, using a synthetic estrogen, supplements the decreasing amounts of estrogen produced by the body. Estrogen in pill form is most often prescribed for the prevention of osteoporosis. It is applied in cream form for several vagfective but it must be used with caution. There are many reasons for

APPROXIMATELY 10 percent of women who use estrogen experience side effects such as nausea, headaches, vaginal discharge, fluid retention, swollen breasts and weight

Some early studies suggested that breast cancer and heart disease were associated with estrogen use Current evidence refutes this evidence - yet the controversy continues.

Cancer of the endometrium (lining of the uterus) has been found to occur more frequently in women who use ERT containing estrogen as the only ingredient, compared with untreated women.

Present treatment usually combines estrogen with progestin (another hormone), and this combination appears to reduce the risk of endometrial cancer. But even with this breast or endometrial cancer, stroke, migraine headaches, high blood pressure, blood clots or other circulatory disorders. Other conditions that warrant extreme caution in the use of ERT are obesity, a family history of cancer, vaginal bleeding, liver or gallbladder disease and diabetes.

Women who are at high risk of developing osteoporosis or have severe symptoms accompanying menopause should discuss the use of ERT with their doctors.

Benefits rule a headache to small business

By Mary DiPaolo special writer

A Farmington veterinarian says he's been to three seminars since January and spoken to his accountant, but all he's got to show for his efforts are four different interpretations of what he describes as "one heck of a mess."

What's all this discussion about? Section 89.

Among other rules, Section 89 requires that employer-provided employee benefit plans pass several tests to determine whether benefit plans unduly favor highly compensated employees, generally those earning $50,000 or more per year. (See related story for Section 89 provisions).

"There are so many unanswered questions as to what and what does not constitute discrimination," says John Richardson, owner of Plaza Veterinary Hospital in Farmington. Richardson employs several parttime workers. Under Section 89, part-time workers who work as few as 17.5 hours per week must be ineluded in calculations to determine whether plans are discriminatory.

"If I'm paying $1.25 per hour for each of my employees' benefits and yet one works 20 hours and the other works 40 hours a week — is the total cost going toward each of these employee's benefits in itself discriminatory? One expert told me yes, the other said no," Richardson said.

He also questions the benefit eligibility issue.

"Suppose an employer has a standard waiting period of three months before new employees can receive health coverage. But you find an excellent full-time prospect that wants or needs coverage right away. So you make an exception for that person. Is that being discriminatory?

"How much is the 'mistake' going to cost in terms of specific tax penalties? Are employers better off dumping their benefits altogether? And if benefits are eliminated and offset by an increase in employee salaries, who's to say the extra funds would be used to obtain individual coverage?"

LEONARD GREY, officer with the Birmingham-based CPA firm of Grey and Trepeck, calls Richardson's questions typical.

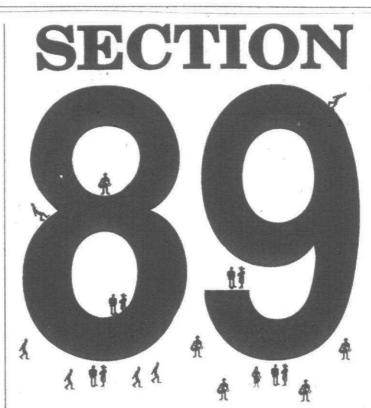

"As I've explained Section 89 to our clients, the end result is that they're discontinuing their employee benefit plans and compensating some people so they can pay health insurance premiums out of their own pockets," Grey said. Grey agrees that there aren't any guarantees that employees who are compensated to obtain health coverage on their own will do so.

There are one million people in this state without health insurance at the present time. It will certainly be interesting to see how the numbers change by the end of this year.

"Up to now, approximately 10 of our small business clients with 10 or fewer employees have made the decision to dump their benefits," Grey said.

Relief a year away

By Marilyn Fitchett staff writer

Although one move is afoot in Congress to repeal Section 89 and another to amend it, employers should not expect to see any changes this year and are being advised to comply with the IRS ruling.

More than 250 members of Congress, including U.S. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Lake Orion, have signed on as co-sponsors of legislation repealing Section 89. The bill to repeal is being led by Small Business Committee chairman John Falce, a Democrat from New York.

On Tuesday, a hearing was scheduled for House Ways and Means chairman Dan Rostenkowski's bill to alter Section 89 in the form of an amendment to the national budget bill. Rostenkowski is a Democrat from Ilinois.

According to Sean Foley, legislative aide to U.S. Rep. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, Rostenkowski's amendment clears up questions of discrimination in benefit plans and sets a health care guideline. Levin is a member of the Ways and Means Committee and is supporting the amendment.

"Rather than looking at who's participating in the (benefits) plan, you can look at the design of the plan and

'89' questions participation, discrimination

Section 89, a provision of the 1986 Tax Reform Act that goes into effect this year, has two major parts: qualification (or documentation/minimum participation) rules and nondiscrimination rules. Section 89 applies to all employers, both public and private. Only churches and church-controlled tax-exempt organizations are exempt.

According to Buck Consultants, the general requirements of Section 89 are similar to those for pension plans.

Under the qualification rules, an employer is required to provide a benefit plan and have notified employees of it. It must be: developed exclusively for employees, legally enforceable and maintained for an indefinite period of time. An employer must provide "reasonable" written notice of benefits available under the plan to employees who are eligible to participate by July 1, or, the first day of the plan year.

If the plan violates the qualification rules, all employees will be taxed on the cost of the plan benefits they received, and employers will be subject to tax penalties if taxable amounts are not reported on employee W-2s.

Donald H. Scharg, principal with the Fishman Group, a Bloomfield Hills law firm specializing in management/labor law, offers an example.

"If an employee needed major surgery and the company's health plan pays out $100,000 to cover it, that money will become taxable income to the employee" if the benefit plan does not meet the qualification regulations of Section 89, Scharg said.

The following plans are included in the qualification requirements of Section 89 if the employer pays for any portion of the benefit or arranges for a discount for employee paid benefits:

- Accident or health plans
- Group life insurance
  Qualified tuition reduction pro-
- grams
- Cafeteria plans
   Employee discounts
- · Employer operated eating fa-
- cilities • Voluntary Employees' Benefi-
- ciary Associations • Qualified group legal services
- Educational assistance.

ACCORDING TO Steve Hacker, general agent with American Community Mutual Insurance Co. of Livonia, Section 89 encourages employers to develop more consisten benefit packages for their employees.

"The law does not prohibit plans that are discriminatory; rather it works to ensure that these types of benefits be treated as taxable income," Hacker said.

The non-discrimination tests compare the value of employer-provided benefits available to highly compensated employees to the value of benefits available to the rest of the work force. They apply to employees working as few as 17.5 hours per week. In general, a highly compensated employee earns more than $50,000 per year.

Expo marks 3rd birthday

Business trade show at S'craft

By Emory Daniels staff writer

The Greater Livonia Expo will be open Tuesday through Thursday in the gymnasium of Schoolcraft College, Haggerty north of Six Mile in Livonia.

Approximately 6,000 people are expected to attend the western subtablishments in Livonia and neighboring communities will offer samples of their specialties. Those buying 20 or more tickets rate a reduced price of $10 per ticket.

Many participating exhibitors offer costomers complimentary tickets to the party, Cooney said.

Wednesday, a chamber luncheon will be held beginning at noon in the Waterman Center of Schoolcraft. Guest speaker will be Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara. Tickets are $10 each.

A wine tasting party will be held by the Wine Castle from 5:30-7:30 Hall, the Livonia expo "gets so much more community involvement," Skinner said.

The expo, which started with 115 exhibitors in 1987, is expected to sell out its 135 booths before the show, Cooney said.

"People who have been in the last two shows were anxious to sign up again. Forty exhibitors signed up last year for the '89 show."

THREE YEARS ago John White, executive director of the Livonia chamber, was looking for a way to "provide better service to our mem-

Battling the IRS in court

For most people, taking on the Internal Revenue Service is as farfetched as stepping into the ring with Mike Tyson. But the Farmington Hills-based Michigan Association of CPAs points out that the IRS is not unbeatable. If you believe that an examiner's findings are unfair or inaccurate, you have the right to appeal within the IRS or through the court system.

How you initiate an appeal depends, in part, on the type of audit you have undergone and the amount of tax liability in dispute. For a field audit involving a tax dispute of $2,500 or more, you are generally required to file a written statement or protest. But in a correspondence or office audit, where the IRS asks you to submit documentation related to certain items on your tax return, you can usually begin an appeal simply by asking to meet with the examiner's supervisor. The supervisor will review the audit, discuss your concerns and try to resolve the dispute.

IF YOU cannot reach an agreement on this level, your next step is requesting an appeals conference within the IRS. In either case, if you plan to appeal an examiners's decision, make sure that you do not sign the agreement form that the IRS agent provides at the end of an audit. The majority of tax disputes are resolved during appellate hearings. These proceedings are relatively informal and you may even choose to represent yourself. But you may ask a certified public accountant or attorney to appear before the IRS on your behalf.

Because the hearing is generally limited to one meeting, be prepared to present and discuss documentation for each and every item in dispute. The appeals officer will review the government's chances of winning in court and, in most cases, argue for a speedy resolution. It's the appeals officer's job to settle the case out of court whenever possible. As a result, you may find that the appeals officer is more willing to negotiate than was the original auditor. During the hearing, expect a great deal of bargaining to occur and be prepared to make your own concessions.

IF YOU cannot reach an agreement in the appeals office, you still have the right to appeal to the courts. But do not make this decision lightly. Court disputes can be time consuming and extremely expensive. In some cases, litigation can last years and cost a small fortune. Before taking, your case to court, put aside your hard feelings and re-examine your tax bill. You can argue the case on principle, but make sure you consider whether it makes sense to spend thousands of dollars to dispute a $1,000 tax bill. On the other hand, your future tax bills may in fact be affected by the principle you fight to support.

If you decide to take the litigation route, there are two paths you can follow. You can go directly to the United States Tax Court or your may appeal to the United States District Court or the Court of Claims. Don't assume that all roads lead to the same result. In 1987, taxpayers won complete or partial victories in 68.4 percent of the regular tax cases fought in Tax Court, but they won only 19.5 percent of those argued in the Disrict Court and 14.8 percent of those argued in the Court of Cliams.

The U.S. Tax Court is totally independent of the IRS. In the small tax claims division for cases involving $10,000 or less in disputed tax, you can attend with or without an adviser. But in cases involving disputes of more than $10,000, you will have to follow the same rules of procedure as those in effect in regular courts.

Section 89 rules prove to be a big headache

IF, IN FACT, Section 89 leads to employers dropping benefits, it will be the ultimate irony for those who believe that Section 89 represents Congress' attempt to extend employee benefits, especially health care coverage, to lower-income workers.

Sherry Mirasola, director of public affairs and communication with the Michigan Hospital Association, says the nation's health care crisis is one of the factors behind Section 89.

"It has been estimated that the tax" penalties imposed on employers who do not comply with Section 89 will generate between $300 million and $500 million over the next five years," Mirasola said.

She added that no one knows how the tax revenues will be used. "Last year alone, Michigan hospitals provided over $342 million of uncompensated care. So it becomes expensive to provide the same benefairly obvious how Section 89 is just fits to all employees and avoid disone of several strategies that need to be implemented in overcoming the problems of the uninsured." Grey believes that the problem with Section 89 isn't so much compliance as the paperwork required to comply. For example, the testing procedures for Section 89's non-discrimination rules require that a company offering medical coverage to single workers, workers with spouses, and workers with children (with each option offering two deductibles) falls under six plans for testing purposes.

Myndi Fynke, president of Employee Health Insurance Manage ment in Farmington Hills, says that business owners still have a choice before deciding what to do about Section 89.

"Some firms will find that it's less crimination. Others who discriminate will choose to pay the extra income taxes every year because the total penalties will be less expensive. And, of course, there will be those who are totally unaffected by Section 89 and had nothing to worry about in the first place," she said.

Al Senchuck, tax manager with the Farmington Hills-based CPA firm of Morof, Sheplow and Weinstein, suggests that small business owners write to their representatives in Congress about their con cerns. And Livonia councilwoman Laura Toy strèsses why:

"If you don't let the government know what you think, you'll end up getting what they think you should

Battling the IRS in court

If you choose to go to Tax Court, you do not have to pay the disputed amount, as is the case if you choose to appeal in federal court. But be warned: Decisions made in the small tax claims division are final. Neither you nor the IRS can appeal.

If you decide to take your appea to a federal court, you must first pay the amount in dispute plus any inter est and penalties owed. Next, you file a claim for a refund. If the claim is rejected, you may bring your suit to the U.S. District court where you live or the Court of Claims that hears cases in Washington D.C. The proceedings in either case are for mal, and you will most likely need an attorney.

Why then would you select the District Court over Tax Court? For one, you may choose this route if you be ieve your case would fare better be fore a jury. (Tax Court hearings have no jury.) Or your professional advisers are aware of previous rulings that make it likely that a federal court would judge your case favorably. In other cases, such as those involving employment taxes, you have no choice; the case must be argued in the District Courts.

CPAs recommend that you make every attempt to settle your case early in the appeals process. But if you are convinced that your case is just, don't accept an unfair decision simply because your are afraid of getting into the ring with the IRS.

Big 3 getting serious about alternative fuels

GM's Methanol Marathon blasted eral regulators have made the auto off from the GM tech center last week in a cloud of eye-stinging fumes, a few days before another team of Chrysler engineers took cars on the road in approximately Chrysler's methanol-powered car to three years, with Chrysler only a lit-Washington.

Both events mark a revival of interest in alternate fuels for the family bus, the kind of research that enjoyed a short-lived popularity during the mid-1970s energy crisis but today raises as much interest as organic gardening.

Methanol is a type of alcohol mainly used to thin shellac and as a engines. fuel for model airplanes. Now it's rapidly gaining notoriety as the first fuel being taken seriously as an alternative to gasoline for passenger cars since interest in diesel fuel dwindled a few years ago. It's relatively costly and nearly

It also enjoyed a short popularity in World War II with the Germans, who also puttered with charcoal fumes and gas from decaying chickens after Allied troops created a regional energy crisis for that country by cutting off Mideast oil supplies. Today, methanol is being pitched

In today's market, when customers are demanding big cars and big engines, while the corporate fuel averages are bumping against regulated limits, any relief is seen as a big incentive to new car sales.

Thursday, May 4, 1989 O&E

The result is such a dramatic advantage for automakers selling methanol-fueled cars that both GM and Ford today are rushing to develop methanol-fueled cars by 1992, with Chrysler not far behind.

THE SUDDEN burst of government support for an alternate fuel is that it's the first sign of a long-range something of a mystery. California has been pushing alternate fuels as a hope for the future. But methanol, while it is relatively clean of smogproducing hydrocarbons, is rife with eye-stinging aldehydes. Likewise, the low energy content of the fuel means that it takes approximately twice as much to push a car a mile

Lastly, the lack of availability means both manufacturing facilitie storage and distribution systems will have to be built.

Despite the drawbacks, it offe the potential of a source of liquid fuel that will last far into the nex century, and some freedom from oil imports - although the Mideast is the likely source of methanol as well as gasoline.

Probably of more significance than a handful of research cars is look at the future of energy for transportation in years, and one not driven exclusively by a current crisis - a welcome shift in thinking after muddling through for the past 15 years or so

Taxes may affect life insurance

Part III

In this concluding column, we will discuss taxation of life insurance. One of the most overrated and misinterpreted statements in the life insurance industry is that life insurance proceeds are tax free. This statement is not only misleading but, in certain instances, could be devestating.

A summary of the rules governing the taxability of life insurance proceeds is presented in the accompanying table. Clearly, the tax conseuences significantly differ between distribution after death and during the gross estate of the insured for lifetime.

The table reveals that all ife insurance policy death benefit distributions are exempt from federal income tax and, with few exceptions, from state inheritance taxes.

In addition, whether a policy's death benefit is subject to federal estate taxes depends on who owns the policy. Life insurance perceeds are included in the gross estate of the insured only if the insured owns the policy.

If someone other than the insured, such as a life insurance trust or an irrevocable trust, owns the policy, the proceeds will not be included in purposes of figuring federal estate

THE LAST TIME the actor was in the Detroit area, he was causing mayhem and driving around town in a van with a giant stuffed rat on the roof, playing a hit man/extermina tor in the locally produced horrorspoof "Crimewave.

"I was here filming for three months in the dead of winter. You can keep your Michigan winters," the actor, who resides in California, said with a laugh.

The "Horror Show" is a cut above our run-of-the-mill slasher flick. In the film, Max is a twisted mass mur derer bent on the destruction of the detective who put him behind bars. no matter what it takes. " 'Horror Show's' different because the terror is psychological," said James, breakng into the voice of Max.

"In a lot of horror movies there isn't much emotion or tension because you can't identify with any of the good guys. They get bumped off before you can get to know them. In this film, you care for the detective and his family. And Max isn't a faceless monster. That's one of the reasons why this movie is different Freddie ("Nightmare on Elm Street") is a dream and Jason ("Fri day the 13th") is a moron. Max is a real guy, just gone very, very bad."

Bad in more ways than one. Max wears Armani clothing. Max is truly one mean dude in "Horror Show's" horro-fi story - a combination of horror and science fiction. He has murdered 116 people before being caught and stopped by a police detective played by Lance enriksen. We join the story with Max awaiting his fate on death row.

And his fam ily begins to think he's not firing on ll cylinders. This doesn't stop when Max is executed because the essence of Max is catapulted from the elec tric chair into another dimension where he can continue to wreak ha voc on McCarthy and then the gener l population

James, 44, brings almost 20 years acting experience to the role of Max. His film credits include "Southern Comfort" with Keith Carradine and Powers Booth, "48 Hours" with Nick Nolte and Eddie Murphy, and the now-classic science fiction film "Blade Runner," with Harrison Ford and Rutger Hauer. He also has appeared in numerous television shows from "Gunsmoke" to "Dynas ty" and "Miami Vice."

James grew up in Beaumont, city in southern California. It was there he developed a fascination with movies that led into acting.

'My father built a movie theater in 1939. From the time I was very ung, I saw a lot of movies. I lived movies. And as I got older, I be came a big reader. I found this fan tasy world in books and movies and I liked it there. That fantasy world, probably more than anything else, sparked my interest in acting.

The intensity of applause experi enced by the cast of the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford production of "I'm Not Rappaport" says it all. The show is a hit. Maybe grand slam says it better. Author Herb Gardner writes very funny lines about the problems of aging, and director Mattie Wolfe's cast skillfully bring them to life. Veteran performer Howard Egan gives a stunning performance as a feisty, 81-year-old Jewish radical, Nat - whose daughter wants to put him in a home. But irascible Nat isn't ready to be carted off to the junk heap:

No sir. There are still causes to champion. A life to live. A world to an aborted attempt to scare off a observe from a park bench in Central Park.

Nat shares the bench with his friend, Midge, a nearly blind, black superintendent of an apartment uilding. David Boone is splendid as so they won't notice his affliction.

excellent production, the fisticuffs appear too artificial, especially when the Cowboy hits Laurie.

NAT AND MIDGE argue about most everything. Nat is given to challenging authority head-on. And, if need be, assuming characters to bluff through situations (which enrages Midge). Nat is hilarious as a union lawyer, messing up a severance pay deal for Midge. The laughs roll on as Nat, a Mafia Don, makes young punk in the park. Nat's daughter, Clara, is played effectively by Laura Niesen. At times, however, the character could use more warmth and less acrimony. In supporting roles we have Rich-irector Tom Hinks on Friday-Saturday, May 5 and 6, only); Jennie Betley as Laurie, a troubled would-be artist: Tyrone Franklin as a very convincing Gilley, who offers park visitors "protection," and David Rago as an intimidating Cowboy, who pushes dope and young women around

Along that line, in an otherwise excellent production, the fisticuffs appear too artificial, especially when the Cowboy hits Laurie.

The set, on the other hand, is outstanding. In lieu of the large bridge that dominates the Broadway production, Judy Nakdimen designed a skyline, wall and trees around the park benches. The guild's intimate stage adds a very special ambiance. It focuses attention on two lovable old codgers searching for respect and dignity in their twilight years. One laughs at their antics, while at the same time being touched by their humanity

"I'm Not Rappaport" gives a poetic symmetry to the guild's 35th season, which opened with "Home," a story of two elderly gentlemen in an institution for the mentally impaired, that also featured Howard Egan

Groh swings mighty bat in Canton win

Ron Groh is congratulated by teammates after he drove in three runs with a bases-loaded double and then scored on a base hit by Derek Humphries. That gave Plymouth Canton a 6-3 lead, but BILL BRESLER/staff obotooran Plymouth Salem tied the score in its next at-bat. However, Groh later hit a grand slam, and the Chiefs claimed an 11-7 victory in Monday's game. Groh was 3-for-4 with seven RBI.

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Ron Groh's career day at the plate for Plymouth Canton meant dooms day for arch rival Plymouth Salem.

Groh had three hits, including a grand slam, and batted in seven runs Monday as the Chiefs outslugged host Salem 11-7 in the first game of a double-header

The nightcap was suspended after four innings because of darkness with Canton, 7-3 overall, leading 3-1 The Rocks saw their record dip to 6-4. No make-up date has been set.

The bases-loaded homer was Groh's third hit of the day, and it helped secure the victory for the visiting Chiefs, who led 7-6 entering the sixth inning.

As a result Canton coach Fred Crissey might have found a permanent leadoff hitter in Groh, who was in that spot for a third straight game

"HE'LL PROBABLY stay up there," Crissey said. "He's aggressive and runs well enough to stay there. He's not a strikeout kid, so he's the kind you like to have up there.'

Groh, who also scored three runs and helped make a winner of Canton starter Jeff Kugelman, atoned for an earlier error that kept alive a Salem rally in the second. With one out and a runner on first, Groh dropped a fly ball off the bat of Brian Rudolph and the Rocks later took a 3-2 lead on Dennis Hanson's two-run double. Groh rebounded at the plate, hiting a bases-loaded double in the fourth inning that gave Canton a temporary 6-2 lead, and he capped the big day with the slam off losing pitcher Dave Makowiec.

"The thing I like about Ronnie is that he's a bulldog," Crissey said. He digs in and stays after you.

"He gets upset," added Crissey, re ferring to the error, "and that's not always bad as long as it doesn't become a negative situation."

Groh's comeback also helped his team bounce back from a disastrous week in which Canton lost three of four games and dropped from the ranks of the state's top teams.

"LAST WEEK was probably the worst we've ever had at Canton," Crissey said. "We went into a funk and played poor defense.

"We worked on it and talked about, and I think they responded. You have ups and downs, but the kids have to play together. We were in a couple situations today where we could have broken and didn't do that.

Salem nearly matched the Chiefs at the plate - Canton had 12 hits,

Fresh perspective revives net career

A little more fun, a little less door-die thinking, and — presto! — Wendy Gilles' collegiate tennis career at Wisconsin did an about-face.

As a freshman, Gilles - from Plymouth (Salem) - was named to the all-Big Ten team. In 1987 she was second team all-conference in singles, but in '88 the best she could this season. She is currently ranked 54th in singles in the Volvo rankings, compiled by the Intercollegiate Ten-, nis Coaches' Association.

It seems unlikely Gilles' collegiate manage was second team in doubles. Her career seemed to be sliding.

"I think I put too much pressure on myself my sophomore and junior years," Gilles, a senior, explained, "I felt like I just had to win. I expected too much from myself. I was mentally frustrated.

This year, I said to myself I was going to have fun and do the best I could.

THAT SEEMINGLY subtle change in mental approach has helped put her career on track. At last weekend's Big Ten championship meet in Bloomington, Ind., the Badgers finished second to Indiana in the dual meet-type tournament, and Gilles was named all-Big Ten in both singles and doubles.

Wisconsin defeated Michigan State 8-1 in its first match and Northwestern 7-2 in its second before falling to Indiana 5-1 in the final.

Gilles was 2-1 at No. 1 singles. She beat Linda Pursel of MSU 6-2, 6-3, then gained a bit of revenge with a three-set triumph over Christina Schuschel of Northwestern, 7-5, 4-6, 7-6. A week earlier, Schuschel had edged Gilles 7-5, 5-7, 6-4 in a dual meet. Indiana's Shawn Foltz, eighth in the Volvo Collegiate Tennis Rankings, defeated Gilles 6-1, 6-1.

Gilles' victory over Schuschel was pivotal, giving Wisconsin a 4-2 lead going into the doubles competition in its Big Ten tournament semifinal against Northwestern. The Wildcats had beaten the Badgers 6-3 in their previous dual meet.

"IT WAS a great match, one of the highlights of the tournament," claimed Wisconsin coach Kelly Ferguson. "Wendy's winning that match gave us a lot of momentum going Into doubles." Added Badger assistant coach Liss Fortman, "Wendy was down 4-1 and 5-4 in the last set and (Schuschel) had six match points against her."

But Gilles was able to fight them

Wendy Gilles All-Big Ten netter

off for the win, partially by "playing a style foreign to her," according to Fortman. Gilles, normally a baseline player who comes to the net only to put a point away, charged in earlier to force Schuschel to make mistakes. The strategy worked.

"I always come to the net to finish off a point," said Gilles. "I was coming in a little sooner because I knew (Schuschel) wouldn't come in. You do anything you have to do to win. Last year, I didn't put myself in that position enough.

Fortman, who was Gilles' doubles partner in '86, called Gilles "very intense. Wendy can be intimidating on the court because of her intensity. But that same intensity led to Gilles' overly-pressurized approach, one that would not allow for mistakes.

"I WAS going out not to lose instead of playing to win," she said. "I was just hitting the ball and hoping the other player would make a mistake, instead of being aggressive."

That and an injury problem Gilles has had to cope with a painful hip flexor throughout her career at Wisconsin - bothered Gilles until currently fifth in the Midwest Region and won't get an automatic NCAA berth. She could land an atlarge spot; those will be announced Friday.

Gilles will be in the NCAA's individual tournament, which starts May 15 in Gainesville, Fla. She and doubles partner Elaine Demetroulis did get an automatic berth; they were 12-2 in Big Ten matches.

"I think I've improved my doubles game 100 percent since I've been here," said Gilles. Fortman agreed: 'Wendy definitely started out as a singles specialist, but her doubles game has come a long way.'

GILLES WILL finish fourth on the Wisconsin career singles victory list with a 76-45 record, unless she gets into the NCAA tournament. First on the list with 97 wins is Wendy's sister, Chris, whose career at Wisconsin ended last year.

Their careers have similarities. A year ago, Chris also earned an automatic berth to the NCAAs in doubles. but not in singles, the same situation as Wendy's. But their on-court approach offers quite a contrast.

"Chris was much more mellow," said Ferguson of her former No. 1 player. "Because of that, she tended to have fewer peaks and valleys and was more consistent.

"Wendy is intense. She likes the challenge of the big match. We played a tough schedule this year, so she excelled. Wendy is probably one of the best players I've ever coached. I think any coach would like to have a player as intense and talented as she is."

Unlike Chris, who has given up tennis to pursue a career with Moto-rola in Chicago (she majored in informational systems and marketing) and is engaged to be married, Wendy plans to play satellite tourna this summer before returning to Wisconsin to complete her work towards a degree in communications.

Near misses frustrate Salem in 1-1 tie

By Dan O'Mears taff write

At the conclusion of Monday's soccer game, referee Ron Montroy asked Plymouth Salem coach Ken Johnson if he wanted round goalposts at Centennial Educational

Park next season. That was no doubt a tempting thought after the Rocks hit the existing square posts five times and settled for a 1-1 draw with Farmington. Johnson and the Salem girls had to wonder what might have been as the Lakes Division showdown ended in a no de-

"It's one of those things," Johnson said. "It could have been 5-1, and here we're fighting for our life. But if it had been 5-1, it rouldn't have been indicative of how well Farmington played. "It was a good tie," he added. "We could really have been unlucky and had it go the other way. We could have lost, and a loss would have been fatal to our chances in the division '

While nothing was gained, neither team was hurt by the result, although the Rocks will have the edge in the event a tiebreaker is meeded

ASSUMING BOTH defeat Livonia Steven son in upcoming games and tie for first place, total conference points will decide the division winner. It was the second straight tie for the Falcons, who battled Livonia Franklin to a 0-0 stalemate last Friday. Salem had defeated the Patriots 6-0.

"It's a little easier to accept this (tie), but I can't take anything away from Franklin.' Cole said. "Franklin played hard. All you can do is take it as a success and use that in your next game.

The tie probably won't affect Salem's No 1 ranking in Class A, and No. 4 Farmington soccer will probably gain from it. The Rocks are 7--1 overall, the Falcons 7-0-2. Johnson thought the Rocks should have been ahead 3-0 at halftime, but it was a 1-0 lead instead after Sara Hayes scored at the 8-minute mark. Coincidentally, both teams scored on the same kind of play and from the same spot on the field. Hayes and Farmington's Amy Westerkamp lofted high, arcing shots from 0 yards on the right side. Both shots caught the opposing goalie a bit too far out of the net and bounced into the left pocket of the goal.

'THOSE ARE- deadly for the keeper,

Johnson said. "because it comes in high and goes over the shoulder. If the keeper is watching it come in and it's kind of high, it's easy to misjudge. Senior midfielder Jill Estey bounced three of the five shots off the Farmington goal Missy Smith and Michelle Minton one each Furthermore, Farmington's goal came jus seconds after a play in which Smith hit the sidepost and Estey caught the top bar with the rebound. With 8:26 left in the half, Westerkamp gave the Falcons cause to celebrate after scoring only the second goal allowed by Salem's freshman goalkeeper, Jennifer Em "I was shooting; it was intentional," assured Westerkamp. "I thought it was going over the net at first. Amy Trunk put it off to the side; she gave me a square pass. "It was a good shot, a pretty shot, and I don't think the keeper had a chance on it,

Cole said. "A team always has to be ready tell my girls they have to be ready for the unexpected."

The tying goal gave the Falcons new life. The added inspiration caused them to press the attack for the next several minutes and kept Salem on the defensive.

'KEN'S TEAM hit the post quite a bit, and that gave us momentum," Cole said It's like hockey, the other team gets frustrated, and we tried to use that to our advan

The Rocks, however, were successful at shutting down Farmington's high-scoring Carrie Maier and Trunk. The Falcons pene trated the corners of Salem's defense sever al times, but the ball was too far ahead o Majer and Trunk, who had to chase the ball and had too sharp an angle to attempt a solid shot. They did well to make a centering ore the ball went out of bounds. pass b

Glenn has edge in Observer meet

By Steve Kowalski stal writer

If Richard Gordon had his druthers, he'd make sure Saturday's Observerland Relays weren't decided until the day's final event - the 1,600meter relay.

For personal reasons "I don't think anyone will run away with it," said Gordon, the Westland John Glenn boys track coach. "I think it will come down to the mile relay (1,600). I'm hoping it will, because I've got a good mile relay Glenn and Wayne Memorial each have recorded 3:25.0 in the 1,600 relay, and that's the best time by far in Observerland.

But Glenn is the odds-on favorite to win the Observerland Relays at Livonia Churchill, largely because defending champion Wayne will be missing a number of performers to the prom weekend.

WAYNE (5-0 in duals) clobbered Glenn 84-44 last month in a dual meet, but Wavne coach Joe Grasley isn't as confident about this next encounter. The Wayne prom is Friday night, and Saturday, several standouts, including Shayler Barnes, Wendell Smith, Jason Hodge, Larry Ryles and Demetrice Welch will be at Cedar Point for the day-after prom festivities.

Grasley expects to be riding his own emotional oller coaster Saturday at Churchill.

"We'll still be highly competitive," Grasley said. "We're going to give it our best shot. One of our pluses is we have depth. But John Glenn would be the team to beat considering we're not at full strength. Carl Lowe, Steve Wiseley, Ferlin Whitlow and David Ryan will anchor Glenn's hopes in the 1,600 elay, but that isn't all Gordon has going for him.

Sprinter Andrew Dobbins, high jumper Greg Anlerson and distance runners Chris Gumke and Randy Seach also will figure in the seoring. Wayne ran away from the field with 104 points st spring, but Gordon said "anyone who reaches this year has a chance to win it.'

WE'LL BE in the top four, but (Redford) Cath olic Central and Plymouth Salem has a good shot and I still don't count out Wayne," Gordon said hey have a lot of individual guys. And I think there's a sleeper team here and that's Churchill." The Chargers are led by Jason Belaire, one the area's top high jumpers and the top high hurdles performer, but middle-distance sprinter Jeff awislak pulled a hamstring last week and won't be available. Churchill was third last year and has won the meet several times under coach Fred

'We won't have him (Zawislak) but we hope to scratch and kick around and get our points," Price said. "Jason's got a good shot at the high hurdles and we have a good chance in the discus relay where Jeff Bristow has thrown 139-0)."

CC, which finished in a tie last year for 10th place with Farmington, has a far better chance to contend this time. The Shamrocks are deep in the distance events, led by Mike Sheridan, who has Observerland's best times in the 800, 1,600 and 3,200 events CC also has distance performer Chris Antczak, second to Sheridan in the 3,200 run, and sprinter Dave Owens, owner of Observerland's best 100meter time (10.9).

staff writer BUT COACH Kevin Kavanagh also said he has "few sprinters nicked up," though he won't say who they are. "We may not be quite at full strength," Kavan agh said. "And the problem we'll have is our field elays are suspect and we don't have depth to match Glenn, Churchill and Wayne. We saw Glenn at the Elk Relays and they've got a lot of speed and Wayne blew them away, so it will be a strong Salem beat Churchill in a dual meet earlier this year, and has hurdler and long jumper Roger Pary. Also competing will be versatile distance man ott Stryker, who "is going to have a busy night, edicted coach Gary Balconi

"I think we're getting better every week," said Balconi, whose team is 2-1. "Competition at this meet is as good or better than ever before. We hope to do well on the track so when all is over nd added up we'll be in the hunt.

let's face it, who looked forward to Chris Webber dunking at will over shperning in the evening Class C f this year? By halftime, every body had pretty much cleared out. I made a long day longer

 Consideration of a six-foot coaching box in front of the team bench area (basketball):

seems the National Federation, which Roberts adores, has changed its tune for the 1989-90 season. It seems the ball-and-chain rule coaches have been subjected to the past two years is on its way out.

Roberts likes the controversial rule because it keeps coaches in line. but we all know that the rule is challenged night-in and night-out. A coaching box would be a nice compromise

Don't football coaches have to be within the 30-yard lines?

The Palace of Auburn Hills is also under consideration, but I feel high school events belong on college sites. The Palace is bigger (21,000 seats) and more modern, but it seems luxury boxes and high school sports just don't mix

There's plenty of parking at the Palace, but with Lapeer Road (one lane) as the only entrance, traffic is always a problem.

And the word is that Roberts is not thrilled about using a facility which openly advertises beer

But the Palace would not be a bad idea for staging, for instance, all four Class A quarterfinal games a once (how about 2, 4, 6 and 8 p.m. on Wednesday?)

With the advent of Breslin, East Lansing an even more attractive site because it is centrally located.

Help is on the way: S'craft gets recruits

By C.J. Risal staff writer

Actually, Dave Bogataj's job was rather easy. The Schoolcraft College mens basketball coach was faced with the task of recruiting help for his team

He didn't, however, have to worry much about scouring the metro-Detroit area for a certain kind of player to fill a certain need. When your team has won only 14 of 59 games in the last two seasons, any size or type. of player with talent will suffice.

Bogataj signed three players last week who he hopes can contribute immediately: 5-foot-11 guard Tony Rumple of Wayne Memorial, 6-7 forward-center Greg Shamus of Grosse Ile, and 6-7 center Butch Layow of Whitmore Lake.

Rumple could be the quickest to contribute. Wayne had an excellent 1988-89 season, going 20-5, and Rumple was the Zebras' leading scorer with an 18 points-per-game average. Wayne tied for the Wolvegine A League title and won the Westland John Glenn district before losing to eventual Class A champ De troit Cooley in the regional final.

"TONY JUST doesn't make any mistakes," said Bogataj, a teacher at Wayne. "He's a good three-point shooter and he can run a very disciplined program.'

Another valuable asset: "I think he can play either point or off guard, depending on the other people (on the court). It's a nice situation because he can do either Shamus and Layow should help shore up SC's biggest problem area: rebounding. The Ocelots were woefully short last season.

Shamus was overshadowed by teammate Steve Klein, a two-time Class B all-stater at Grosse Ile. But Shamus' contributions were significant - 11 points, 10 rebounds per game.

"Rebounding was his primary job at Grosse Ile," said Bogataj. "He's one of those kids who got better every year. He should contribute immediately, especially on the boards, where we need it." LAYOW'S RECRUITMENT was unique. He was first contacted by SC womens coach Jack Grenan, who spotted Layow's massive frame - 6-250-pounds - at a shopping center. He asked him if he played basketball, and when Layow said yes, Grenan told him to come to SC's open gym.

"He's just a big, thick kid," was Bogataj's description. "His foot speed is not the best, not at all. But e rebounds well. He goes after the ball and really throws it out (on the preak).'

Layow averaged 10 points and 13 boards a game at Whitmore Lake, but it may take him longer to adjust to college ball. "He takes up a lot of space inside," said Bogataj. "He can play, he just has to learn to play fast-

Layow is currently about 240, and wants to lose another 15 pounds before the season. Bogataj was emphatic that his recruiting is far from over. Three or four more players could be added by next week. He has at least five, and perhaps eight, players returning from last year.

The past two seasons have been plagued by academic ineligibilities, which decimated the squad. The three new Ocelots are all honor roll students, according to Bogataj.

The latest high school senior to sign a national letter-of-intent with St. Mary's College is Marvin Morrison, a product of Detroit Benedic-

Morrison, 6-foot-8, 235-pounds, averaged 12.1 points and 10 rebounds per game last winter and he is the fourth recruit landed by the Cardinals.

Previous signees include 6-8 cen ter Brian Koscielski (Oxford), 6-6 center Kevin Karafa (Utica Henry Ford, and 6-4 forward Jeff Szczepanski (Utica Eisenhower). Morrison led Benedictine to a 196 record and a district champion-"He's a man, there's no question," said St. Mary's coach Glenn Donahue, who would like to sign three more players. "We're excited about getting him." Donahue will give each player a chance to break into the lineup.

"They'll have an opportunity to play," coach Glenn Donahue said. "It's up to them. Coming in they'll know they have to work hard to get some time.

Karafa averaged 10.6 points and six rebounds per game at Henry Ford. Szczepanski, a swingman, scored 11.2 points and 8.2 rebounds at Eisenhower, but the real find might by Koscielski, who improved greatly over his junior year. Koscielski averaged 18.2 points, 12.2 rebounds and 6.1 blocks per game as a senior and will be a valued addition inside for the Cardi nals. "He really came on his senior year and we feel he's a real strong prospect," Donahue said. "His coach (Dave Smith) figures he's getting better every day.

Dotted line Teeters optimistic about latest signees

By Steve Kowalski staff write

8D*

Maybe Tom Teeters is destined to become a general manager someday. The Schoolcraft College women's volleyball coach made a pretty fair trade recently, when Eastern Michigan freshman Mary Kelley signed a national letter of intent to attend Schoolcraft.

Kelley's signing comes only weeks after Garden City's Nikki Stubbs the National Junior College player of the year last fall at Schoolcraft announced she would attend EMU next year.

So Teeters lost Stubbs to EMU, but gained Kelley, a setter who led Teeters' Livonia Ladywood squad to a Class A title in 1988. Schoolcraft was the NJCAA national champion last fall.

KEELEY, RED-SHIRTED at Eastern as a freshman, headlines a list of eight recruits, whom Teeters calls "twice as good as any other recruiting class I've had here.

Also among the eight players is Jenny Sproul, a senior outside hitter from Livonia Churchill.

EMU planned on playing Kelley at right outside hitter instead of setter, Teeters said, so she approached her former coach in late March about reuniting with him at Schoolcraft. She'll be eligible immediately.

Schoolcraft and that she enjoys setthat's the one thing she ting missed." Teeters said. "They planned for her to be a right-side hitter and in Mary's judgment, she didn't fit in there as a setter. I coached her in high school and know she can play setter." Teeters got commitments from all over greater Detroit. They include middle hitter Elena Oparka, Madison Heights Lamphere; outside hitter Angelette Love, Detroit Henry Ford; middle blocker Michelle Shirey, Royal Oak Dondero; blocker Hollie Marie Brachel, Harper Woods Regina; middle blocker Tricia Marie Lukas, Dearborn Heights Crestwood; and middle blocker Chervl Francis. Walled Lake Central.

"WE GOT A lot of strong Division I-type talent, whom we feel when they leave here will be well-sought out for by other schools," Teeters said. "They're tremendous athletes and all have been well-coached. Usu-

Mary Kelley returns to S'craft

"She'll be our most dynamic play er." Teeters said. "She's got skill, experience, she's smart and a hard worker. She has a great deal of speed.

Teeters needed a strong recruiting year, considering he lost Stubbs to Eastern and Chris Paciero, Sarah Heddle and Marla Evans to Florida Southern University

Madonna's Abraham brings in some very familiar faces

vollevbal

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Madonna College volleyball coach Jerry Abraham signed six players to national letters of intent, including a pair of familiar faces - Melissa Mars and Ann DiMambro. Mars and DiMambro played for Abraham at Redford Bishop Borgess, where Abraham spends the winter months coaching.

Borgess went 36-9 last winter and lost in the Class B state finals in 1988, so Mars figures good times are bound to continue at Madonna. Last fall, Madonna was 27-10 under Abraham, his second season as coach.

"He's a good coach," Mars said. "I was successful underneath him before, so I don't see any reason for us not to be at Madonna - or I hope so, at least.

THE RECRUITING class also includes outside hitter Maria Wordhouse, Plymouth Salem; outside hitter Stacey Girard, Livonia Ladyrood; hitter Tonia Smith and setter Lyn Bernwanger, both from Walled Lake Central.

Of the six recruits, four are from Observerland, and all but one of the four was tabbed first-team All-Observer.

Abraham has six letter-winners returning, and he's excited about blending in the newcomers. Girard brings with her the most impressive background, playing on two consecutive Class A champions at Livonia Ladywood.

"This gives us 12 players, and it was definitely our best recruiting class ever," Abraham said. "They all have a very good work ethic and come from good, solid programs. Many will be impact players.

"All the kids we brought in could have played at several different colleges in the area. This is our second year of playing NAIA (National Asy sociation of Intercollegiate Athletics), so our schedule is getting better and we have to get better players."

WHILE ABRAHAM managed to sign some heralded recruits with plenty of press clippings, he believes Wordhouse, Smith and Bernwanger are a trio of unknown quantities who could contribute.

'Smith and Bernwanger played at Walled Lake Central but they can re-ally play," Abraham said. "And I'm really excited about Maria Wordhouse. She's a big, strong player and works hard. She's got a ton of potential. It looks like we have great things ahead of us. We've gotten super support from the administration.

Joining the Madonna coaching staff next fall as an assistant will be Shannon Voss-Miller, who is the varsity girls coach at Walled Lake Western in the winter.

Symphony Showhouse—a class act

The family room adjacent to the kitchen has strong elements of drama and light-heartedness in the choice of black and white print for the upholstery as well as in the art. It is by Mermaid Designs of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Corner of the light, bright kitchen and breakfast area by Mermaid Designs of Grosse Pointe and Kitchens by Jensen of Birmingham Woods shows how the white ceramic tiles, each with a flower design in center, give an inviting, continental look to this popular part of the house.

The first house completed in Woodlynne, a se lect community being developed by David Jensen in Bingham Farms, is the 1989 Detroit Symphony Designers' Showhouse.

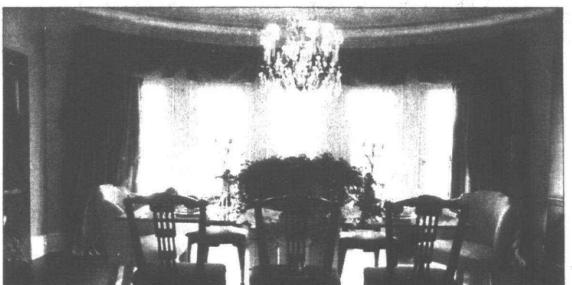

Internationally known architect, Robert A.m. Stern of New York City, is the resident architect for all of the residences (12-14) which are in the million dollar price range.

Interior designer, D.J. Kennedy of Grosse Pointe Farms coordinated the work of 18 metropolitan area interior designers who came up with some exciting rooms and areas for the 5,400 square foot home. The result of the coordination is an a combination of country and old world elegance, very suitable for the fine classical architecture (with early Frank Lloyd Wright and Eliel Saarinen influences) and picturesque rural setting.

The Detroit Symphony Designer's Showhouse opens to the public on Saturday and continues to Sunday, June 4. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. Tuesday-Friday and noon to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Closed Monday except Memorial Day. Tickets are $8 in advance and $10 at the door

The living room, above, was done by Perlmutter-Freiwald of Franklin. Shown is one end of the very large, high-cei'inged room. The tapestry upholstery on the chair in the foreground is used throughout the main floor as an accent fabric. The dining room, at left, was done by Brian Killian & Co. of Birmingham.

Artist shows new kind of realism Symphony finale

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

All of the art which Pat Mayhew created in the past appears to coalesce in her current show of paintings, "Return to Realism," at Gallery Arteria of Birmingham May 4-27

Her favorite subjects - flowers, wicker furniture, Victorian houses, parades and carousels - are very much in evidence. But they have been enhanced by a maturing of approach which brings elements of abstract (which she has done successfully in the past) to create a dreamlike quality to these multilayered paintings. The layering produces interesting textural qualities reminiscent of her interest in collage without actually being collage.

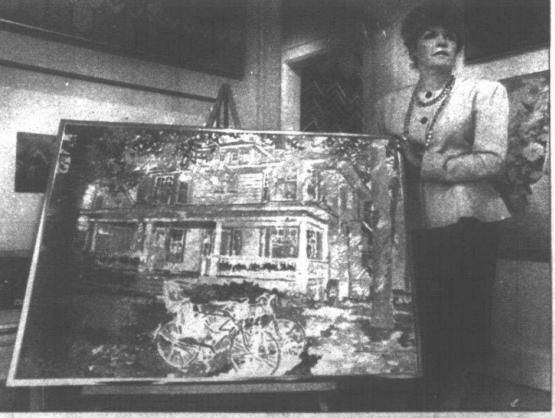

The palette is stronger, deeper, livelier and more carefree than in her previous work.

A while back, she worked with three-dimensional paper and plaster forms and now she said she knows the time spent with these was extremely worthwhile. "I loosened up. I've carried through a lot of the texture and build-up. I really think taking that time to loosen up, in color, form and composition, was important."

THIS IS HER FIRST show of realism in this area in more than seven years and it took close to a year to the 20 paintings in the show. She ## book break Victoria Diaz Newsy tidbits on variety of subjects

• The book business is booming. With sales climbing, children's paperbacks made the most impressive gains last year, and more new authors than ever made the best-seller lists. According to the "West Coast Review of Books," overall book sales amounted to something in the neighberhood of $9 billion. Non-fiction books comprised about 85 percent of the market.

• More money matters: Clive Classler recently signed a contract with Simon & Schuster for $5 million to write two more novels starring his detective hero Dirk Pitt, first heard from in Cussier's best-selling "Raise the Titanic!" Novelist Mark Helprin and illustrator Chris Van Allsburg recently agreed to put together "Swan Lake," a children's book, for $801,000 — reportedly the largest amount ever paid for a book for children.

• Changing times: "Reader's Digest" has relinquished its No. 1 spot as the magazine with the largest circulation in the United States. "Modern Maturity," the publication of the American Association of Retired Persons, is the new front-runner, with a circulation of 17,924,783, outdistancing "Reader's Digest" by about one million readers.

• Goodness-gracious-there-goesthe-old-neighborhood department: When the results were in for "The Best American Short Stories 1988," those involved in judging were a bit surprised. Names of all authors were withheld from judges this time around as they considered stories for the prestigious collection published annually by Houghton Mifflin. Out of 20 stories chosen, only six were authored by "name" writers.

• In honor of the 100th birthday of detective fiction writer Raymond Chandler (1888-1959), Knopf has published "Raymond Chandler's Philip Marlowe: A Centennial Celebration." For the collection, 14 private-eye writers were asked to contribute a story in the style of Chandler, and with Marlowe as the main character. Authors include Benjamin Schutz and Jerminh Healy. See what you think.

• A recently established fund will furnish grants to writers and editors stricken with AIDS, who are faced with acute financial emergencies due to medical expenses. The PEN Fund for Writers and Editors with AIDS will furnish grants of up to $1,000, and those in need may apply for assistance more than once.

"The situation of writers stricken with AIDS is desperate," says fund director Christine Freidlander. For more information, write or call Freidlander at PEN American Center, 568 Broadway, New York 10012 or call (212-334-1660.

• Grey Castle Press (Pocket Knife Square, Lakeville, Conn. 06039) has come to the aid of young readers who are visually impaired. "The Nancy Drew Files," by Carolyn Keene, "The Hardy Boys Casefiles," by Franklin W. Dixon, and "Choose Your Own Adventure" and "The Babysitters Club" by Ann M. Martin, have been brought out in large print by Grey Castle. While many adult books have been available in large print for some time now, not so for children's books.

• Now that spring is here, those of you who are getting out to walk or run may want to try an "audio book" in your Walkman for a change of phen Coonts' "Final Flight," read by George Kennedy, Anne Tyler's "Breathing Lessons," read by Jill Eikenberry, and Kirk Douglas, reading his autobiography, "The Ragman's Son." All run for about 180 minutes and sell for around $14.95. Keep in mind that what you'll be hearing will be a condensed version of the book itself (sometimes highly condensed).

• Look for the screen version of Elmore Leonard's "Cat Chaser" as theaters this summer. The thriller will star Peter Weller and Kelly McGillis. Final screenplay was put together by Leonard.

• The last word: Keep your eye on Birmingham playwright Kitty Dubin. Her comedy-drama, "The Last Resort," recently opened in Austin, Texas, to applause, applause.

German designer makes rare U.S. visit

Fantasy-cut Ge tones could easily replace onds as a girl's best friend. The one-of-akind gemstones and sculptures that include amethyst, aquamarine and citrine are the only colored stones, other than the highly prized ruby, emerald and sapphire, considered to be of investment quality

Created by famed gemstone designer Bernd Munsteiner, known as the "Picasso of gemstones," the fantasy cut is the first new gem cut in 500 years. Munsteiner's gemstone sculptures enhance a stone's individual qualities by using asymmetrical cuts to achieve total reflection something unheard of in gemstone cutting. His stones are sold loose, or set into rings, pendants and pins or sold as art pieces.

Special guests will spend a fantasy evening cruising the Detroit River aboard the Star of Detroit with Munsteiner in his first such American show as he presents a preview of his 1989 collec tion of Fantasy-cut Gems. The Saturday, May 6 event is sponsored by DuQuet Jewelers of Farmington Hills. Dick Purtan will be the master of ceremonies.

MUNSTEINER WILL also be at DuQuet Jewelers from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, May 7, to introduce his creations to the general public. Du-Quet Jewelers is at 31620 Grand River Avenue. DuQuet Jewelers' co-owner Chuck DuQuet first met Munsteiner and viewed the Fantasycut Gemstones three years ago. DuQuet Jewelers now features the country's largest collection of Munsteiner Gemstones, selling between 100-150 of the roughly 500 creations that are sold annually in the United States.

Munsteiner creates about 1,000 to 1,500 pieces each year. His exclusive creations have been called everything from exquisite to magical. He •does not take orders for his pieces but produces them strictly from inspiration, relying on an in-

In her description of her work, she writes, "My work depends heavily on pattern, spaces and design. I paint what isn't there with more enthusiasm than I have for the subject in some cases; relating back to the professor years ago who stressed negative spaces. The pattern in my subjective work appears in painted designs of wicker, quilts, lace, foliage, flowers, etc. '

Then as she stood in the gallery talking about her new show, she said, "These paintings are very happy. ] have some different colors in this show. In all there are 20 paintings. This was really a pleasure. My family is grown. I really focused in on it."

Share your Meadow Brook memories on Thursday, June 1.

84 FT. BRICK HOME ON LAKEFRONT

What do you think of when thoughts of Meadow Brook Music Festival come to mind? We'd like to know - and share those nostalgic memories with other readers. Once again, the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers will publish a special section detailing highlights both past and present - of the putdoor musical event that has been field on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester for the past 25 ears. It will appear in all editions

A part of the section that proved popular last year was a column on Meadow Brook Memories gleaned from letters from readers who have attended the concerts through the years. We want to repeat it again this year. Letters chosen for publication will receive two free tickets to a Meadow Brook concert. Send your letters to Meadow Brook Memories. # 1-stop shopping Expo's a local marketplace

By Nechama Bakst special writer

The third Greater Livonia Expo will bring the convenience of one-stop shopping to members of the community from Tuesday, May 9, through Thursday, May 11, in the gymnasium of Schoolcraft College, Haggerty north of 6 Mile in Livonia.

No money will change hands at the Expo. But an expected 6.000 business people from as far away as Toledo will have the opportunity to become better acquainted with the services and supplies in the metropolitan area, according to Michael Cooney who is responsible for the Expo for the Livonia Chamber of Commerce.

"It's a great opportunity for businesses to maximize their sales calls." said John White, executive director of the Livonia Chamber. "We bring people to them. If they analyze it properly, they are getting the best bang for their buck."

THE SHOW itself is free of charge to spectators, except for the Preview Party from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday open to the public at $15 a plate.

The Preview Party features "A Taste of Livonia" in which more than 20 restaurant establishments offer samples of their specialties. Those buying 20 or more tickets get a reduced price of $10 a ticket.

Many participating exhibitors offer their clients complimentary tickets to the party and suggest they come and visit, said Cooney, who is director of economic development and retention for the Livonia Chamber.

On Wednesday, May 10, a Chamber luncheon will be held beginning at noon in the Waterman Center of Schoolcraft. Guest speaker will be Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara. Tickets are $10 each.

Show hours are 1-8 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday.

"We get excited at being at the Expo, being a part of the community." said Lee Hughes, resident branch manager of Kelly Temporary Services in Livonia, a company that is participating in the Greater Livonia Expo for the third year

"It's a chance to let our customers know what we have to offer.

The Expo also creates an awareness in prospective employees. People looking for temporary jobs in non-clerical fields may not realize that the company. with 750 branches around the world, offers other services in addition to the office-related areas it is well known for.

"Being in shows gives us an opportunity to let the public know what we have that they might be interested in." said Hughes, adding that the company has changed its name from Kelly Girls in an effort to move away from its former image of girls working as clerics.

THE COMPANY is trying to make people aware that it now offers a much wider range of services that include technical engineering and drafting in addition to the other office-related services that in the past have been its trademark, said Hughes.

Its light industrial division offers jobs for unskilled or light-skilled people. Accounting, biology, expediting and graphic design are among services Kelly intends to tout at the Expo.

And the jobs are not just for girls, Hughes emphasizes.

Because Kelly Services is able to set up a display of its office automation at the Expo, the company can be more convincing in demonstrating the expertise it provides.

COONEY SAID the Expo, that started with 115 exhibitors in 1987, is expected to sell out its 135 booths before the show.

"People who have been in the last two shows were anxious to sign up again. Forty exhibitors signed up last year for the '89 show.'

Reported attendance will rise from last year's 4,500 "if God smiles on us and we have three bright, sunny days," said Cooney.

Another factor is the improved economy. "People have more money to spend, so they have more interest in going out shopping. 'With a three-year record, it's word of mouth. People look forward to it." Three years ago White was looking for a way to "provide better service to our members" when this idea came up. "Since then it's been one nice success story

"Cooperation from the college makes the show possible." Cooney said, adding that although there is a nominal charge, the facility is the largest, most affordable in the area.

The show is scheduled to coincide with the break between semesters, so ample free parking will be available.

Prizes and special events are being planned. "There's something for everybody," said Cooney.
