Camaro skids on Ford Road

A Canton Township woman was killed Tuesday morning when her car, skidding out of control on Ford Road, was struck by several oncoming vehicles during the rush hour, po-

Sabrina Luann Brock, 19, was dead on arrival at Westland Medical Center

Brock was in her 1984 Chevrolet Camaro headed eastbound on Ford at Crown at 7:35 a.m., police said.

Brock's car changed lanes abrupt-ly before the driver lost control on wet pavement and skidded into the westbound lanes, witnesses told police. The Camaro was struck first by a Ford van, then by a 24-foot truck and finally a 1978 Buick, all traveling westbound, police said.

The driver of the van, a 33-year-old Westland man, was treated and released from Annapolis Hospital, olice said.

'She (Brock) was apparently on her way to an 8 o'clock class at Hen-Ford Community College (in Dearborn) and running late," said officer Terry Donohue of the Westland police department traffic bureau. Brock wasn't wearing a seat belt at the time of the accident, Donohue

Car hits teen near school

A 16-year-old Plymouth-Canton High School student was hit by a car on Canton Center Road around 2:30 p.m. Friday after school had ended.

Police were withholding the name of the victim, who suffered a broken leg and bruises. She was reportedly taken to Livonia St. Mary Hospital for medical treatment.

According to Canton Township patrol commander Lt. Larry Stewart, the girl was crossing Canton Center Road one-third of a mile south of Joy when she stepped into traffic and was struck by an oncoming vehicle.

The preliminary investigation indicates that the student stepped out into traffic and the driver of the vehicle, a 17-year-old girl, is not to blame," he said. When school is just letting out traffic is pretty heavy on Joy and Canton Center" but no more so than on other roads near a school, Stewart said. No other information was available on the accident.

Jesse Jackson

The 1988 presidential hopeful and social activist visited Canton Friday evening. Jackson appeared at Canton UAW No. 735 to support the striking Eastern Airlines workers. He has been supporting nearly 20,000 workers since they went on strike March 3 and said he hopes the strike ends soon.

Tainted milk sours couple

Louis Mallette wasn't surprised by recent reports of tainted milk at area Kroger stores

The 78-year-old Canton resident and his wife, Sally, had a run-in with store officials over a carton of milk Sally bought Sept. 1 at the Kroger store at Ford and Sheldon.

"When she poured it out into a glass, it didn't look like milk at all," Mallette said. "It looked more like cloudy water."

Kroger officials confirmed between 8-10 cartons of milk were returned to the Canton store in early September.

Mallette, though, said he kept his to make a point. He said he wants to see the problem corrected.

'Can you imagine a mother with an infant getting up at 2 a.m. and pouring some (milk) into a bottle, half-asleep?" he said.

SIX DAYS after buying the milk, Mallette received a $10 check from Kroger headquarters, "thanking me for bringing it to their attention," he

"I told them they still had a problem," he said.

Kroger believed the initial problem was confined to the Canton store, retail operations director Ron Spurlock said.

'We had no other reports," he

Aide search put on hold

staff writer

Canton Township's search for an administrative assistant to supervisor Tom Yack has been put on hold.

Last month, the township board approved the creation of three other administrative positions - chief financial officer, administrative services director and municipal ser-vices director — but didn't go forward with pursuing an assistant to Yack.

Yack said Thursday that doesn't mean the township is any less enthused about finding an assistant "Right now, it's on the back burner in the sense that it's going to take longer to do this because we're just starting to talk about where we'd advertise for the positions, who would do the interviewing and such," he said. "We're a ways away. I think it's important to get the other positions in place and work as a team to establish goals for the township.

The price tag for the positions is about $200,000.

The township's decision to create the positions is based on a reorganization report conducted by the Pennsylvania-based consulting firm of Bartell and Bartell, Ltd., which made a presentation to the board

"NEEDLESS TO say the township has grown to such a point that it can no longer be managed by a specialist, but must enter a new era where it must be managed by professional managers," the report said.

The administrative assistant would have broad duties, serving as an ombudsman to the supervisor in dealing with citizens concerns and coordinating public relations and economic development activities.

School board mixed on Proposals A and

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Plymouth-Canton school board members are all over the board on school finance Proposals A and B. But there's one thing they agree on: Neither will do much for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Voters, who will decide the issue Nov. 7, can vote yes or no on both proposals. The one with the most yes votes, should both proposals be approved, will be enacted. But both plans could be defeated.

Proposal A would increase the sales tax a half-cent to 4.5 cents and earmark the new revenue for schools. It would generate an estimated $400 million statewide a year

Proposal B would increase the sales tax to 6 cents and reduce property taxes. It would also set permanent school operating millages not subject to voter renewal and dedicate funds for local schools. It's estimated that B would generate $325 million a year for education.

SCHOOL BOARD Member Roland Thomas doesn't like either proposal. 'It is bad legislation to put financing in the state constitution for anything," Thomas said. "That is something the state needs to remain flexible on. Legislators need to do their jobs. Their job is to appropriate funds for services the state pro-

"The legislation in and of itself is bad legislation," he added. "It's a bad constitutional amendment. Once it's in there, Lansing will say we've refinanced schools, we've taken care of it, period.'

The proposals' reliance on the sales tax also bothers Thomas.

Who knows what the future holds? If we have high inflation with a recession and sales tax revenues go down, or don't grow as rapidly as the inflation rate does, the gap between what schools have available and what they must spend to maintain services is going to grow, placing a burden on local districts to provide funding.

BOARD PRESIDENT Dean Swartzweiter will try at tonight's school board meeting to convince fellow board members to take a stance opposite Thomas'.

Opposing both A and B "is the only thing to me that would be totally unacceptable," said Swartzwelter. "The bottom line is we have something out of the Legislature for people to decide on.

"I'm in favor of both, but I would prefer to see B pass. I view both as progress from where we are today. Both guarantee a specific amount of money for education in the future.

'If both fail, there's a strong like lihood it will be years before we get the Legislature to do anything more," he said.

Swartzwelter also has problems with the way in which legislators dealt with the issue.

"This is the biggest set-up I've ever seen in my life. If both of these fail, the Legislature and the governor can say, 'We offered you two al-ternatives, educational community, and you couldn't pass either one.'

TRUSTEE E.J. McCLENDON calls A and B "grossly inadequate solutions to a very intricate problem."

"It seems we've just churned, chugged and struggled, and still we've come up with two inadequate proposals," McClendon said. "I wish I could see through to a clear and responsible position."

McClendon dislikes B "because it would lock us in at $1,000 less per child than Livonia, Ann Arbor or Northville gets. That's not justified." Trustee David Artley supports both A and B.

trapped on bridge

Both represent the beginning of responsible school reform, but 1 agree it's a cop-out. I think the Legislature is dodging a bullet. Next year is a gubernatorial race year. and they don't want to see this issue then." Artley said.

"It has two potentials. One can be positive. If you have an aggresive

Duncan Moran, a former Plym outh resident, has first-hand kno edge of the earthquake that hit California last week. He was crossing the Bay Bridge in rush hour traffic when the earthquake hit. "I was coming back from visiting some friends," Moran said Friday afternoon. "I was taking my time."

He was on the bridge at 5:04 p.m. Tuesday when he felt his car moving utly to the left and right. He was traveling about 45 miles per hour at the time.

Moran was able to continue driving on the bridge. At first, he just thought the pavement was uneven, "which is something typical in Detroit. I didn't know what the heck was happening."

As he continued, traffic began to stop. At first, Moran thought it was just rush hour traffic. People began to get out of their cars on the doubledeck bridge that connects Oakland and San Francisco.

The top deck of the bridge leads to an Francisco and the bottom deck to Oakland, said Moran who was on the bottom deck.

We began to save those things the brochure talked about. After three eks our garage was bulging and we needed to get rid of our collection. Saturday morning I began my trip to the place listed on the brochure with stuff loaded in my trunk. The map on the brochure looked like Lilley Road to VanBorn was the best route. Since we have just recently moved to this area from Warren, didn't realize that Lilley turns to dirt

My plea is for you to consider recycling areas (other than just the VanBorn dump) where people will be more apt to bring their recyclables which can then be hauled to the Van-Born dump. To the editor:

In the Oct. 5 Creative Living section of the Observer & Eccentric an article appeared by Eve Garvin to which I take certain exceptions.

First of all, if the intent of the article was to assist readers in choosing between re-upholstering and buying new, as the headline and first aragraph suggest, then this article fell way short. There were inaccuracies and the last part of the story did nothing but describe her own living room and how "happy it looks." As a professional upholsterer and usinessman I have the same questions asked of me several times a day regarding the furniture dilemma. My response to customers is, if the piece is solidly built, comfortable and the style they like, it is wiser to re-upholster than to buy

The article failed to point out the advantages of owning a solidly built piece. It also failed to point out that most furniture built today is poorly made and that new sofas range in price from $500 to $5,000 in retail stores. There must be some differences. Those differences are mainly

Pro-choicers fool selves

The "pro-choice" column by Judith Berne in the Sept. 28 Observer &

Eccentric was misleading and flawed by illogical rationalizations. Those who pretend that abortion is anything but murder are simply deuding themselves in order to justify self-centered lifestyles. They value personal convenience more than life.

Ms. Berne discussed the pro-abortion rally she attended at Lansing. She admired her fellow pro-abortionists who conducted themselves with "quiet sincerity." Would these same people retain this dignified composure if they were asked to witness the bloody destruction of human life they so proudly support?

Ms. Berne found grandmothers at her rally (they must have been prolife once in their lifetime) and even a token "Catholic." The doctrine of the Catholic Church is very clear regarding the grievous sin of abortion and the sanctity of life. In the 1989 Respect Life Brochure the National Conference of Catholic Bishops

"Responsibility is more than just duty. It's the ability to respond to need. To know that every person has a right to life that precedes and surpasses all other rights, a right upon which all ther rights rest. To be willing to protect that right at the risk of inonvenience or loss. Responsibiliu challenges each of us. It preserves our past and guarantees our future. It is the essence of

Fewer and fewer pro-abortionists are claiming that life begins at a time other then conception. With the mounting scientific evidence of this fact, they now simply deny the morality of protecting that human life Pro-abortionists never state they personally should have been aborted

I've stood (and sat) next to many a committed pro-lifer at our rallies. Some of the strongest advocates for life are women who have had abortions. They know that the panacea promised by pro-choicers is a lie. The pain and emptiness they experienced after they aborted their child is an anguish they wish to spare other women. What a corrupt "billof-goods" pro-abortionists try to sell women - the misconception that if

The choice is made when a man and woman decide to allow life to begin. As a high school student I was often reminded of my responsibility to "choose" a chaste life. What an antiquated word "chaste" is today. We are afraid to challenge our young people to be morally responsible for their ac-

Pro-choice Reps. Maxine Berman and Shirley Johnson can be sure they do not have my vote. I demand my representatives be problem solvers and not succumb to illusionary "solutions" that involve the destruction of our youngest citizens. Our repreentatives should reflect on where they would be if their mothers had chosen convenience. Yes, legislators: Vote for life or look for work.

Call of the Wild

special writer

Maybe it's the call of the wild.

Do you crave tender, moist chunks of smoked rainbow trout? Have you ever wanted to try smoked partridge, goose, pheasant or duck?

The Green River Specialty Foods of Royal Oak caters to customers who are hooked on meat and fish that have been soaked in a sweet brine and then hickory-smoked for several hours

The shop, on North Woodward Avenue near Normandy, is a subsidiary of the well-known Green River Trout Farm of Mancelona, where 5,000 rainbow trout are harvested annually from spring-fed ponds. The store sells both fresh rainbow trout and trout smoked on the premises, as well as other smoked foods.

"The key is to start with good, clean water and fresh fish," said Frank Marra of Bloomfield Hills, a company vice president.

The Royal Oak store, which opened almost one year ago, obtains its rainbow trout from the Mancelona farm. The shop also smokes a variety of other fish, seafood and fowl such as turkey, quail and cornish from Michigan sources.

The only fresh fish we sell are the ones we raise on our farm," said Marra, 62, who bought into the business around 18 months ago. A retired president of a plastics tooling firm, Marra also is an international business consultant and board member of several corporations.

According to Marra, many customers are people who have developed a taste for trout or whitefish while vacationing in northern Michi-

The Green River Trout Farm, established almost 25 years ago, was for many years operated by the Weber family. The company has established a reputation for quality and consistency.

The farm is located below the headwaters of the spring-fed Green River north of Mancelona, not far from tourist-rich Petoskey and Charlevoix. Water from the river is diverted into several ponds, where rainbow trout are segregated according to size. The trout, which come from a hatchery in northern Michigan, are fed high-protein fish meal and remain in the ponds for around 18 months, Marra said.

"It's the largest trout pound in Michigan," Marra said. Visitors may fish from the ponds and are charged only for the fish they catch.

When a trout is between 8-12 ounces - the size preferred by many restaurants - it is ready to be harvested. The company supplies such prestigious restaurants as the Tapawingo and Rowe Inn of northern Michigan, the Whitney in Detroit, Rik's in Birmingham and LesAuteurs in Royal Oak.

Ken Weber developed the sweet, molasses-based soak and slow-smoking technique that gives Green River smoked products their distinctive taste. The Webers are no longer affiliated with the business.

The Royal Oak shop is redolent with the aroma of hickory flavor which emanates from the computercontrolled smoking oven. Food processor Jim Sheldon, 21, of Ferndale, was trained in the Weber method.

The technique calls for the meat or fish to be soaked overnight in sweet brine. Once it goes into the oven it is smoked for several hours, with temperature and humidity carefully controlled to ensure tend-

Bagelmania: not just breakfast food

The word is out. There's more to agels than cream cheese. Traditionally considered a breakfast bread. bagels have come out of the oven and onto the table for lunch, dinner and anytime in between.

roll goes back to the 1600s.

According to legend, the original bagel took shape as a gesture of appreciation by a Jewish baker in Vienna, Austria. BAGELS WERE a big hit in Poland and Russia, where they were said to bring good fortune and have magical powers. Jewish immigrants brought them to the United States, forming the Bagel Bakers Local No. 338 in New York by 1915.

In those days, bagel baking was back-breaking work for the 300 craftsmen who labored in 36 union shops in New York City and New Jersey. They typically worked in three-man teams, earning about 19 cents each for a box of 64 bagels.

The rolls became easier and more profitable to produce when bagelmaking machines were introduced in the early 1960s. However, the art of making bagels remains an exacting

November will be a very busy month for skywatchers: There will be two meteor showers; conjunctions (groupings) involving Venus and Saturn, Venus and Uranus, and Saturn and Neptune; Venus reaches its maximum elongation; and a new recently discovered comet may reach nakedeye visibility!

Mars and Jupiter will be the morning planets this month. Venus and Saturn are evening objects. Mercury is too close to the sun to be

Face the southwest about 45 minutes after sunset, on Nov. 1, and you'll see a very nice alignment of objects. Start with the waxing (growing) crescent moon. Below and to the west (right) of the moon is the star Antares (an TAR ees,) the "heart" of Scorpius. It's only a few degrees above the horizon and a challenge to see in the glow of evening twilight.

VERY EASY to see, above and to the south (left) of the moon, is the brilliant planet Venus. Draw a line from the moon through Venus, and you'll come to Saturn, the planet with the beautiful ring system. Watch the moon move past both these planets during the next two evenings. Also watch Venus pass Saturn during the next few weeks.

The S. Taurid (TORE id) meteor shower is at it's maximum in the pre hours of November 2. Named for the constellation of Taurus, from which the "falling stars" appear to radiate, this meteor shower is not very impressive. A patient observer can expect to see only 15 meteors per hour. Taurus will be high in the south at

On the evening of the 2nd, there will be a spectacular sight: The moon will be within one degree of Venus. That planet will appear to sit atop the point of the moon's crescent! On the next night, the moon will be about four degrees below and to the south (left) of Saturn.

Notice the moon's position after sunset on the 4th. It is now past Saturn and the crescent is noticeably

First Quarter Moon is at 9:11 a.m. on Nov. 6. The moon is one-quarter of its way around the earth. If you have a telescope, look at Venus tonight before the sky gets too dark. You may be surprised to see that it looks like the first quarter moon as Venus goes through phases, like our moon, as it orbits the sun. As different portions of Venus are illuminated by the sun, we see different 'phases." Because Venus appears so bright, it's best to observe it in partial twilight when there is less contrast between a dark sky and the brilliant planet.

PLUTO IS in conjunction with the sun on the 7th. It is behind the sun, as seen from the earth. Even when it isn't hiding behind the sun, Pluto is not an object you will see in the sky. Venus passes Uranus on the evening of the 7th. The planet Uranus is not easily visible without binoculars or a telescope, but having Venus nearby as a guide will make it easier Use your binoculars and look three and one-quarter degrees (about seven full moon diameters) to the north (upper right) of Venus. Try not to look directly at Venus, its brightness will dazzle your eyes and you'll have difficulty making out Uranus. Uranus will have a faint greenish Venus is at maximum elongation (greatest apparent distance) from the sun on the 8th. Venus is 47 degrees east (left) of the sun and dominates the evening sky.

Mercury is at superior conjunction with the sun on the 10th. Mercury is behind the sun, and is not visible. Don't worry about a collision occuring between Mercury and Pluto, which is also "behind" the sun. Those two planets are billions of miles apart, orbiting at different distances from the sun.

Saturn will pass one-half of a degree (one moon diameter) south of Neptune on the evening of Nov. 11. Use a telescope and look to the north (right) of Saturn. This is the third and final conjunction of a triple conjunc-tion that began in March this year. These two planets will not have another conjunction until 2026

FULL MOON is at 12:51 a.m. on Nov. 13. The moon is fully lighted by the sun. It will have risen at sunset, be visible all night, and will set at

Look for the moon, in the east northeast, on the evening of the 13th. Above the moon and to the right is the Pleiades (PLEE a dees) star cluster. The Pleiades marks the shoulder of Taurus the bull and is a beautiful sight in binoculars.

Venus passes four degrees south of Saturn on the evening of the 15th. This is the first pass of a triple con-junction that will conclude next

The moon is two degrees to the west (right) of Jupiter before dawn on the 16th. Jupiter is the 4th brightest object in the sky. Only the sun, the moon and Venus are brighter.

Chiefs move closer to division crown

After seeing his team's two leading scorers foul out, Plymouth Canton coach Bob Blohm certainly hoped to avoid another overtime game with Walled Lake Western.

Canton managed to hold off the host Warriors and virtually cinch its fifth straight Western Division championship in girls basketball Thursday night, 46-39.

The Chiefs, 7-0 in the division and 12-2 overall, have a two-game lead over Livonia Franklin with three games remaining and a three-game margin over Western, 4-3 and 8-6.

Canton, the defending Western Lakes Activities Association champ, plays Northville and Farmington Hills Harrison this week and, realistically, should clinch the title before it meets Franklin again on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

"This was a challenge week for us, and we accepted it," Blohm said. "We came in here after an emotional game with a big rival (Plymouth Salem) and got it done.

"NOT EVERY game is going to be picture perfect, but if the kids are working hard that's all you can ask," he added.

The main reason Canton didn't handle the Warriors with textbook precision was due largely to its precarious foul situation, which saw center Susan Ferko depart with 3:15 to play and forward Stacey Thompson a minute later.

Ferko, who still scored a game-high 15 points, also missed most of the third quarter after pick ing up her fourth foul with 61/2 minutes left in it.

That was an invitation for Western to make a comeback as it did on Sept. 26 when it lost 53-49 in overtime after trailing by 16 points early in the Ferko had 30 points in that game and Thompson 17, accounting for all but six of the team total. If Western coach Bill St. John had known Ferko would get half that number Thursday, he undoubtedly would have predicted a victory for the War-

"The other kids hurt us tonight," St. John said. 'Our goal was to hold Ferko and Thompson under their averages and rebound when they missed, but they had a lot of balance tonight.'

THOMPSON HAD 10 points, but Jennie Clark (7) and Mary Barna (6) combined for an additional 13 and Christyn Halliday and Jenny Russell chipped in four apiece.

Holly Miller and April Blanton led the Warriors with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Laura Call added seven and Marsha Kozmatka five.

Canton had a 23-15 lead when Ferko sat down in the third period, but her teammates managed to extend the margin to 31-19 before Western scored the last seven points of the quarter.

When Ferko went out, we wanted to pick them up full wurt," St. John said, adding it was too difficult to play that aggressively and try to stop Ferko 1-on-1 at the other end. "When she went out, we picked up the tempo, but their kids held

Salem preps for showdown

girls basketball showdown with division-leading North Farmington.

The Rocks smashed visiting Walled Lake Central 45-30 to remain one game behind North in the Lakes Division. The Raiders, who won the first meeting 31-20, are 7-0 after beating Livonia Stevenson 41-36. The rematch will be played Tuesday at North Farmington.

Salem is 6-1 in the division and 7-7 overall. The Vikings slipped to 2-5 and 4-10.

Senior center Wendy Bailey led the Rocks with a game-high 18 points coming off the bench. Freshman forward Yolanda Jackson added nine points and 10 rebounds for the winners. Maria Michela led Central with 11 points.

The Rocks, who started three sophomores and two freshmen, converted 11 of 22 free throws, the Vikings eight of 16.

Chiefs 7-1 after beating Raiders

By Dan O'Mears staff writer

North Farmington was playing for pride, but Plymouth Canton had something more tangible riding on the outcome of Saturday's football

The Chiefs are in the running for their first-ever appearance in post-season play, and they kept those hopes afloat with a 20-13 victory at North

Canton plays arch-rival Plymouth Salem in the season finale Friday night, and the winner most likely will qualify for the Class A playoffs the following week. Both are 7-1.

What more could you want in a game?" Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "It's all on the table. Who's going to get it?"

Khoenle added that the Chiefs will have to play better than they did Saturday when their errors - both teams had 80 yards in penalties contributed to North's only scoring drive and hurt their offensive effort.

THE RAIDERS, 5-3, made their share of mistakes, too, and Canton turned one of three North fumbles into the game-winning touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

North, leading 10-7, had the ball at its 20-yard line after Canton's Mike Krejcar missed a potential gametying field goal from 31 yards.

Quarterback Eric Detter dropped to pass but had the ball knocked loose by Canton linebacker Corey Johnson, who was rushing from the of Brian Bartlett, the front-side end, who carried it to the 4.

Jason Riggs scored two plays later on a 3-yard run to make it 14-10 with Krejcar's extra-point kick.

"I had TD on my mind," Bartlett said. "I thought the 5-yard line was the goal line. I just had to get the ball in."

"We got some big breaks, but that's all part of the game," Khoenle said. "They made 'em and we took advantage of them. I thought we came out awful flat today, but we hung in there."

THE CHIEFS stopped a North drive on its next possession and forced the Raiders to settle for a

Rocks rebound

The question Friday night was not whether Plymouth Salem was a better

That much was assumed since the Rocks, with a superior record, had beaten Northville 14-0 earlier in the season. The real question concerned Salem's resiliency in the wake of its last-second loss to Westland John

The Rocks responded in the affirmative — on both counts, for that matter—as they pounded the Mustangs 35-8 at Centennial Educational Park and

"We talked about that all week," Salem tri-captain and center Casey Ni-

Nichols and linebackers Steve and Brian Burlison admitted the Rocks didn't have quite the same intensity as they did for the Glenn game, but Salem certainly had enough to do the job.

"THAT WASN'T hard at all," said Nichols of the team's ability to get up emotionally to play the 2-6 Mustangs. "We call it 'Taking care of business.' "We didn't have as much (intensity), but we came out ready to play," Steve chols said. "We wanted to avenge that loss, and we have a very good chance of going to state if we win our last two games. We knew what had to be done:

time. Cowen, who booted a 31-yarder in the first half for North's first points, connected from 34 yards to bring the Raiders within 14-13.

Canton, however, responded with a victory-clinching drive, which was greatly helped by a North face-mask penalty. The Chiefs had already marched 46 yards when the infraction put the ball on the Raider 19.

On first down, fullback Chris James dashed up the middle for his second TD run, the Chiefs going up 20-13 with 4:02 remaining after Karl Wukie's conversion pass was deflect-

"We didn't play very good defense today for some reason," North coach Jim O'Leary said. "We gave up some big plays that we haven't all year.

The first (Canton) TD was basically a dive play, and the linebacker didn't get there to cover it."

The second time Canton had the ball - again on first down - James burst through the middle for a 63yard run and a 7-0 lead.

THE TEAMS exchanged five punts and managed one first down between them before the Raiders scored their only TD just before half-

North started at the Canton 35 following a late hit on the punt, and two offside penalties also helped. Detter, making his first start at quarterback, scored with 41 seconds left on a 1-yard sneak.

O'Leary decided Detter, who had never played football until this year but is the better passer, was ready to play quarterback and moved Jon Kraus, a hard-nosed runner, to tail-

Detter was 4-of-12 passing for 90 yards, and Kraus carried the ball 28 times for 90 yards.

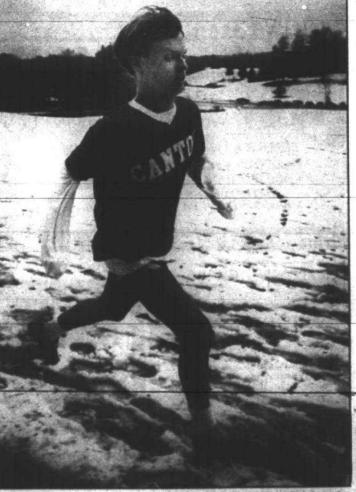

"I think it was the right decision." O'Leary said. "Jon was in the unfortunate situation of fumbling a couple times, but he still ran the ball well."

For the Chiefs, James rushed 10 times for 93 yards and Riggs added Mike Cowen field goal for the second 58. Wukie was 0-of-5 passing.

Members of the Plymouth Canton girls cross country team keep moving about in an attempt to stay warm prior to the start of Thursday's race at Cass Benton. The Chiefs battled a 38-degree temperature and a course covered with snow, but the hardship had its reward as Canton won its fourth straight Western Division title.

Thursday was a grand day for the Centennial Educational Park cross country teams. The boys and girls teams from Plymouth Canton and the Plymouth Salem boys squad captured division championships.

Furthermore, the Canton teams completed unbeaten, 6-0 dual-meet seasons, and Salem's only loss during a 5-1 campaign was to the Chiefs.

All three teams concluded the division races with perfect, 15-50 victories and ended up 5-0 in the division. Canton took forfeit wins from Farmington Hills Harrison, and the Rocks slammed host Westland John Glenn.

The Canton girls, who won their fourth straight Western Division crown, were led by senior Lori Penland, who was first with a 23:10 time at Cass

"IT'S ALWAYS our No. 1 goal to win the dual-meet championship," Canton girls coach George Przygodski said, "and I'm proud of this group of seniors, that they were able to keep up the tradition of the program."

The Chiefs and the Salem boys, who ran at Central City Park in Westland, had to contend with cold weather and sloppy course conditions due to Thurs-

"The course was in terrible condition, being covered with snow and mud," Przygodski said. "There was no traction, everyone was sliding around."
Following Penland, the order of finish for the Canton girls was Kim Rice (23:18), Amy Smith (24:00), Anne Dibble (24:09), Marisa Dersey (24:10), Carolyn Way (24:10) and Kim Gudeth (24:12). Harrison didn't have any runners.

Mike Ream won the race in 17:45 and the top seven inlcuded teammates Matt Hall (17:57), Matt Boland (18:03), Jason Napolitano (18:25), Chris Nelson (18:32), Jim Carnes (18:35) and Dave Maasberg (19:00). Harrison's Mike Davis

THE SALEM boys did much the same, taking the first eight places. Dave Hamway paced the Rocks with a winning time of 17:42 and was followed by John Thomas (17:58), Brian Uryga (18:01), Mike Patterson (18:12), Samir Bhavsar (18:16), Andy Hellmers (18:20), Steve Boudreau (18:23) and Todd-Cimo (18:33). Glenn's Jason Nowicki was ninth (18:36).

All three teams will contend for Western Lakes Activities Association nampionships Wednesday in the annual league meets, beginning at 4 p.m. at The Canton boys rate as the favorite based on their first-place showings at the Schoolcraft and Redford Union Invitationals and dual-meet win over Salem. The Rocks were runners-up in both invitationals.

The Canton girls are two-time defending WLAA champs, but state-ranked Farmington will give the Chiefs a serious challenge for the 1989 title.

"We're going to show up," Przygodski sald. "Farmington is the favorite right now, but we're running pretty well. If they want to win it, they'll have to take it away from us."

The Rocks play arch-rival Plymouth Canton this week, and Salem wants to avenge last year's loss to the Chiefs. Furthermore, the winner could well qualify for the state playoffs. Salem coach Tom Moshimer and the senior trio said that possibility helped the Rocks rebound from the Glenn defeat.

"Sure it did; it did me," Moshimer said. "We don't have any (league) championship to shoot for. We may not make it, but we're going to play like hell and hope we do."

When some people get old, their family is the first thing to go.

Over 40 percent of the people over 64 years old in this country live alone. By the year 2000 their number will have doubled. Many are poor. Most are widowed. And when they need care, often there's no one to turn to.

Your donation to the United Way Torch Drive supports 153 agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties like the Walter P. Reuther Senior Center and Adult Well-Being Services. Plus, you'll be helping other agencies that feed the hungry, counsel troubled youth and conduct medical research.

Please, think about how much your contribution does and how much more there is to be done.

And this year, give even more to the United Way Torch Drive. Because old age is no time to be left alone.

Give, for all the good you can do.

How can a person be cheerful at four in the morning? It's hard to say, but somehow Colleen Bucar manages to be. Sensei Willie Adams of the Southfield Martial Arts Institute shows Sue Stephenson of Southfield how to do a karate kick.

By Pat Schutte special writer

Detroit has a reputation as a pretty tough city. And this weekend, it's a safe bet that it will be the toughest in the world.

The 1989 North American Karate Championships will be at Cobo Arena Saturday and the baddest dude in the city will be there. Is he a 6-8, 300-pound Joe Palooka? Naw, just 5-7, 160-pound Willie Adams. Adams, you see, is and eighth degree black belt, chief instructor at the Southfield Martial Arts Institute and Tournament chairman of this weekend's contest.

Adams has mastered the control over his mind and body to a point that borders on something supernatural. And the key to his mastery is just that . . . "key power."

"Key power comes from deep inside," said Adams, who has been practicing the Isshin-Ryu style of karate for some 26 years. "It is the ability to ignite your adrenalin resources when you need to . . . It's stronger than anything in this world."

It's also mysterious.

A bit of Paradise in the U.P.

contributing travel editor

I am sitting at breakfast at the Little Falls Restaurant, looking down the road into Paradise. The only time I ever hear of this little town is when a television weathercaster gets bored on a cold, cold winter's night and says "and it's cold in Paradise today . . ."

Paradise is in the eastern Upper Peninsula 12 miles south of Whitefish Point, the last finger of land that guards the bay north of the Soo Locks. Pass it and you're in the open waters of Lake Superior.

The town is only a block or two long on M 123, starting here at the Cedar Lodge, run by Jim and Shir-ley Stabile, at the south end of town, and wandering past rustic gift shops, restaurants, grocery stores and bait and tackle shops to Curley's Motel, run by Bill Fergu-son at the other end of town.

Bill serves the area's biggest and best pasties at T.J.'s Restaurant across the street in what still looks like an A and W root beer place. Paradise is a popular little tour-ist town summer and winter, but it trails in Michigan in the early 1970s. Whitefish Township now has 250 miles of the most lovingly groomed cross-country ski trails in the UP and keeps three snowgrooming machines working full time in season.

SNOWMOBILERS are so welcome here that they ride right on the roads along with the cars. They are so plentiful that they fill rooms as far away as St. Ignace, so reberve early.

If you drive or snowmobile through the Paradise area you could easily believe that there is nothing here except a wondrous spread of treed wilderness, but this was a very busy place a century ago and the whole history of the Great Lakes is tucked away among these forests and waterways.

French explorers Radisson and Groseilliers spent 18 months in the Great Lakes area in the 17th century and in 1660 took 60 canoes full of far pelts back to Montreal, many of them beaver skins from what is now Whitefish Township.

'Anatomy': College life that's slow and bland

Strangely enough, "Gross Anatomy" (C-, PG-13, 105 minutes), a film about first-year medical students, isn't all macabre. That's rather surprising these days, when filmmakers seem to be intent on gross images and gross dollars.

One expects such a film to be filled with grisly black humor — at east in today's market. But "Gross Anatomy" is quite bland and, for a omantic comedy, rather slow.

The film centers on five diverse, unlikely lab partners, freshmen a Chandler University's College of Medicine — Joe Slovak (Matthew Modine), the hot-shot son of a fisherman, Laurie Rorbach (Daphne Zuniga), the demure, intense student who wants to be a surgeon like her mother, the stressed-out David schreiner (Todd Field), the very snooty Miles Reed (John Scott Clough) and Kim McCauley (Alice Carter), an Oriental woman whose husband just wants her to have lots

"The Killing Floor" (1984, mostly color, PG, 118 minutes) is an important chronicle of the black experience in America.

It's the story of Chicago's 1919 race riot and the background to those riots — racial segregation, economic deprivation and attempts to organize labor in Chicago's stock site of Upton Sinclair's "Jungle" 15 vears earlier.

An expanded economy and deplet ed labor pools characterized the World War I home front. Big cities throughout the country desperately needed labor for the war machine Blacks from the south and numerous ethnics fleeing persecution and destruction in Europe were attracted to northern factories and their substantial wages.

Based on actual events, "The Killing Floor" is a social docudrama that rises above normal expectations of that genre. It is a dramatic, compelling and highly personal look at the people behind the headlines the people who make the news but seldom appear in it. Hearing of good jobs and high wages, Frank Custer (Damien Leake), a southern sharecroppe leaves his wife, Mattie (Alfre Woo dard), and hops a freight north with his best buddy. Thomas Joshua (Er nest Rayford). They settle in a Chicago flop house and look for work. The stock yards are hiring, blacks as well as whites since labor was at a premium and getting meat to the troops fighting in Europe was the priority. Frank is

That acceptance by whites must have had a considerable psychological impact on a southern black sharecropper. But why the acceptance in a period when the north was still segregated?

Some blacks mistrusted whites, be they union or management, and were certain they were being used. Austin "Heavy" Williams (Mos Gunn) was one such individual and of course, he was right to some considerable extent as the meat packers used black labor to break strikes.

FRANK CUSTER'S voice-over narration and period newsreels (in black and white) effectively link "The Killing Floor's" rather involved segments covering the 21/2 years from early 1917 when Fr. and Thomas come north through late 1919. Because of these two techniques, one personal and intimate, the second general and historical there is no question about what's going on and when. Nor does the film ever lose its personal touch and inti-

That's the bottom line on "The Killing Floor." It's personal touch. Frank Custer is an engaging young man, someone to care about. He and the others in this film are human beings caught up in difficult times. Most of them deal with their problems with strength and courage.

Excellent acting and an intelligent script skillfully personalizes the ethnic and economic conflict that tormented their lives

"The Killing Floor' is an absorbing drama peopled by characters who incidentally represent some pretty significant times in American history. You can take your history or leave it, but there's no doubt about the people in this drama, they will affect you.

In the wee, wee hours of morning

By Stephanie Drobot special writer

The moon is still high in the sky when Colleen Burcar starts her morning. The public affairs director for WKQI 95.5 FM - previously WCZY - she wakes up when her alarm buzzes at 4 a.m.

Part of the early-morning routine includes leaving her Bloomfield Hills home as quietly as possible to avoid disturbing her family — husband Bryan Becker and daughter Kimberly.

Once at the radio station, Burcar checks the news service wire for stories for her newscasts

Although Burcar loves her job at WKQI, she maintains that a broadcast career isn't glamorous by any stretch of the imagina-

"I get in generally at 5:15 a.m., pull together a quick newscast in 10 minutes and then I'm on the air," she said.

Throughout the remaining hours, she rechecks the Associated Press wire copy constantly for news updates, basing her topics on what people are talking about on the streets. She also chooses a "kicker" - an informative funny story - to end her newscasts on a positive note.

The majority of the WKQI staff arrives by the time Burcar reads the last of her five broadcasts at 9 a.m.

IN SPITE of her early mornings, Burcar is always cheerful, said Carolyn Hough, a former WCZY receptionist.
"She's a fun-loving person and a pleasant individual," Hough

And according to morning show personality Mark Andrews, "Colleen has a unique style unlike other female broadcasters who try to act like their male counterparts.

He added that Bucar's "incomparable voice easily transmits her bubbly and effervescent personality over the airwaves" to the listening audience.

Burcar enjoys working on the morning shows because of the flexibility. She can, she said, fulfill her commitments at her convenience. Those commitments include taping a weekly radio talk show and writing and scheduling the station's public service announcements.

Later, at home, Burcar can be found perusing magazines in search of kicker stories and spending time with her 10-year-old daughter. Her family's happiness is her primary concern and most important goal in her life.

I want us to be happy," she said. "I want to be a good mother, a good wife and a good journalist third."

Becoming a good journalist was a slow climb up the ladder of Burcar had little luck when she started looking for employment in the radio and television industry in the '70s. But in 1977, within the course of three days, Burcar auditioned at CKLW, was called back and put on the air.

Six years after her debut on CKLW, Burcar moved to WCZY and stayed when it became WKQI.

BURCAR DIDN'T have any contacts in the field of radio broadcasting when she first auditioned for jobs.

"I didn't know a soul, so it isn't necessarily who you know in the business," she said. "I think it's a matter of being in the right place

She attributes part of her success to her educational back-ground. She received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State University and a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Eastern Michigan University.

"I think that (getting an education) shows that you are able to handle responsibility," she said.

Burcar advises aspiring journalists to accept a beginning in entry-level positions and internships. Although they provide little or no pay, they do provide a wealth of experience, she said.

A case in point: When she worked at Channel 2 on "PM Magazine," producing two-minute segments, Burcar worked "dilligently" on them. Her hard work, however, was for almost no pay.

"I was compensated something, but it was almost nothing," she said. "But when that was over, I had a tape and I had experience."

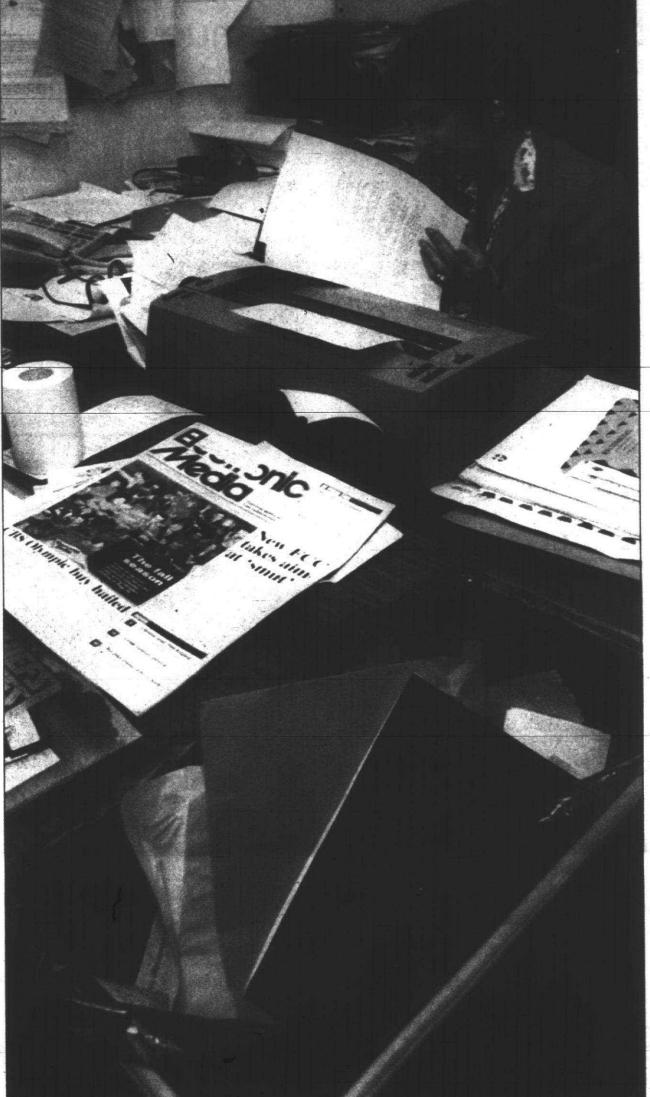

STUDENTS NEED to get a good education and experience to compete in a very tight job market, especially Detroit where job availability has decreased in the past decade, forcing newcomers to go to other markets in other cities, she said.

"Certainly, I think it's good to go in with really high goals and go for them, but be realistic," Burcar said.

Although Burcar doesn't lecture on the discriminatory treatment of women in the media, she clearly has an opinion. People have to think about where women are going and how they are Another case in point: Whenever you watch the news, one male and one female are co-anchoring or even two males anchors, but never two women, Burcar said.

"I think women can do just as good of a job of handling that as a

Stories about Adams include raising and lowering the flame of a lit candle with nothing more than an intense glare, catching a razor-sharp sword (swung at Adams' head by a blind-folded guy) between his palms, stopping kunchack (a martial arts weapon) swinging idiot in front of several alarmed police officers with just a handful of dirt.

ADAMS EVEN has a penchant for winning all of those giant stuffed animals at carnivals that nobody else can seem to win.

Sure, you say, I've seen those kung fu westerns on television. OK, we'll let some of Adams students (who would rather tell fibs about Mike Tyson than their teacher) paint some more of the picture. This one time at a Christmas party, I saw Sensei (a Japanese martial arts instructor) let 10 guys grab him." said black belt John Cox of Detroit. "There were two on each limb and three or four guys around his waist. Next thing you know, bodies were flying every where and Sensei is the only one left standing."

So he got lucky, you say. Well, luck is as luck does and Adams has done

"I saw two guys swing live (sharp) swords at Sensei, one at his head and one at his legs," said second-degree black beit Burt Maben, who has studied under Adams for 10 years. "He jumped up and turned into a small ball and the swordsmen missed. I've studied the samurai sword and know that one can easily cut you in half."

Yeah, but this Adams guy couldn't take Chuck Norris or, um. Bruce Lee, you say. Well, you're right . . . and wrong.

Back in 1966 in Cincinatti, Adams fought Norris in a karate tournament in which 20 of the top martial artists in the country (including Lee) were invited to do battle until only one man was left standing.

ADAMS, WEIGHING a mere 129 pounds back then, was edged in a decision to the larger Norris.

"It was a knock-down, drag-our fight," Adams said. "Five minutes of fighting and a lot of fun." Yeah, but nobody could take Bruce Lee, you say.

Even though he never got the chance, Adams would have loved to face the legendary Lee. When asked what would have happened if the two would have met in a true, bare-knuckie brawl, Adams said simply, "He would have been in big trouble."

Adams began his career in martial arts in the late '50s. Hanging out at the local YMCA, practicing judo (karate was somewhat foreign then), Adams first befriended a Japanese exchange student who taught him tne Shotokan martial arts technique, which emphasizes punching. Adams then met a Korean gentleman and learned a Tangsoodo technique. the Shotokan martial arts tech learned a Tangsoodo tech which involves mostly kicking.

These two styles helped Adams master the Isshin-Ryu technique -50-50 punching and kicking - which he practices today.

Adams reached his prime in the late 1960s when full contact karate fights were bare-knuckle battles that ended with blood and broken bones A popular version now is the kick boxing seen on TV.

THAT'S CHILD'S play, according to Adams, who told this story on how tough it was back then:

I once saw a fight where this guy from Montana named Jim Harrison was fighting my instructor," Adams said. "Harrison got hit in the nose so hard, bones shot out all over his face. Wanting to continue, (Harrison) went to the judges' table, grabbed a pencil and proceeded to push bones back into his nose with an eraser.

"Nowadays, you may see a cut lip and that's better."

Adams fought bare-knuckle, but to look at his face you wouldn't know it. At 129 pounds, he fought his way to become the North American champion back in the late 1960s, whippin guys that weighed as much as 100 pounds more than him.

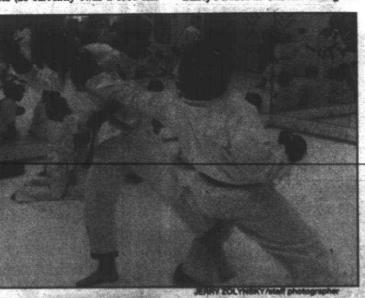

He also reigned as state champion in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania from 1964 to 1968. And that was an unlimited weight class. It got to the point where tournament directors paid Adams not to

"No one would sign up if I was there," Adams said with a laughed.

The story of when all 129 pounds of Willie Adams fought the 6-5, 270pound president of the motorcycle gang called the Heathens is a classic kind of like a modern day David and Goliath.

ADAMS LIKES to ride motorcycles (he currently owns a 1983 Harley Davidson Lowrider) and owned a little Honda bike back in the 1960s. He liked to follow the "Hells Angels" types on his bike and hang out with them at their parties. But the Harley guys didn't like him to hang out with them because, well, he didn't ride a Harley. Adams was at this huge biker party - 300 plus bikers Bailey's Beach in Canada. Sitting on Heathens. Adams said "sure."

"The next thing you know I hear this 'boom-boom-boom' coming across the sand," Adams said. "I look up and see probably the biggest biker of the bunch."

The president of the Heathens asked Adams if he'd like to "slap box," to which Adams replied, "You do what you want, I'll do what I

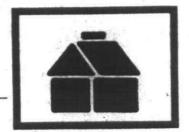

"He swung, I dropped him . . . He swung again, I dropped him again," Adams said.

By night's end, the Heathens president wanted karate lessons and every other president there wanted Adams (and his little Honda) to ride

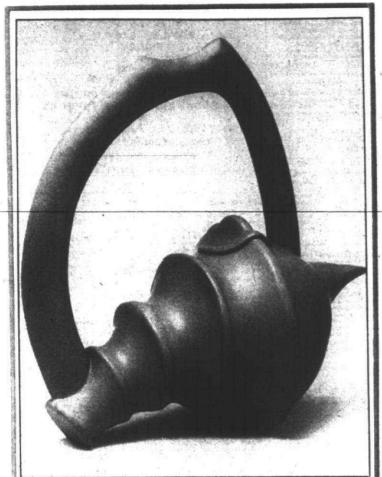

"Everyone in this world has the right to walk around and feel as if they're a whole person even if they're small like me," Adams said.

Registration starts at 7:30 a.m., with elimination bouts beginning at 9 a.m. The Black Bett Battle of the Stars will be at & p.m. Tickets cost $35 each. ### organizing Dorothy Lehmkuhl

Q. With my husband gone most of the time, I am handling the contracting of our kitchen remodeling job. I would like some direction in being more organized and direct in talking with trades people. They seem to act as if a woman doesn't know anything.

A. I know what you mean. Most people have learned to have more respect for women, but there are still a few thoughtless people out there. After noticing a gavel on a plaque handing on our own basement office wall recently, a service man connecting wires inquired if my husband is a judge? (It was my office and my plaque - a memento of my presidency of our speakers' association.)

Here are some suggestions which may help: Collect ideas ahead of time so you know approximately what you want, then begin your educational process by making the rounds of kitchen remodeling stores. It's important to ask every question you have with confidence. Neither male nor female customers are expected to understand everything about construction nor the latest products available and you should not be embarrassed to ask any question you have. Be direct, and if you are told you cannot get what you want, then ask "What are my choices?" As you learn, write everything down so you can ultimately make an informed deci-

You must remember you are the person with the checkbook and therefore you are the boss. Make it clear that your are the person in charge, not your husband. Insist that everything is in writing ahead of time, including a detailed drawing, and don't just assume that a certain quality of material will be used or that what is torn out will automatically be hauled away free of charge.

If there is anything you don't understand, ask now. Identify nagging concerns and bring them out in the open. No question is too dumb to ask. Your contractor will respect you when he realizes you are on top of all the details.

Agree ahead of time how changes in plans will be handled. Will there be a penalty, and if so, at what point and at what cost? Also have a written agreement as to the completion date and any followup work to correct residual problems after completion.

If, during the course of construction, you realize you don't like something, stop the workers immediately and discuss it. It will no doubt cost you extra labor and materials to change your plans, but if you are unhappy it will be less costly to change it now than later.

Note to tradespeople: Don't treat women as if they are merely servants for their husbands. If you have been dealing only with the woman, then ask her for money when it is due. Although she may indeed have to get it from her husband, suggesting that is the case is an insult to many women, including this one.)

Author Alvin Schwartz will sign his Halloween books, Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark" and "More Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark," 7:30-8:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 30, in Borders Book Shop in the Novi Town Center off Novi Road, just south of I-96. "Everything I write is read aloud three or four times in the bathroom because the acoustics are so good," says Schwartz of his stories.

Maximize fall colors

Choose your home trees carefully

HE RIGHT selection of trees for your home grounds can help provide brilliant fall coloring, but Mother Nature must cooperate.

Color intensity may vary from year to year, depending on the variety of trees, soils, nutrients, moisture, sunny days, frosty nights and other weather factors.

Fall's shorter days, not its colder weather, cause leaves to change color and drop from trees. The spectacular colors are caused by the tree's pigments, which are always present but are hidden in spring and summer by chlorophyll, the dominant green pigment formed by exposure to light, or the process of photosynthesis.

In the fall, when days are shorter, photosynthesis ceases, chlorophyll production ends and other pigments dominate.

Cool nights and warm days favor production of bright scarlets, lavenders and purples, But freezing temperatures kill leaf cells and prevent color formation. Chemical changes in the leaf stalk, where it joins the twig, cause leaves to fall

AUTUMN COLOR IS better some years than it is others. Generally, colors are better in auweeder's guide

Aronson

tumns that have bright, sunny days and cool

Light is important to the development of color. A tree may be red only on one side, the side exposed to afternoon sun. Trees growing in low places may develop red color earlier than trees in higher locations, perhaps the result of cold air settling in low places on still, windless nights. Cooler temperatures trap tree sugars earlier in

Here is a guide to autumn foliage colors, based on tree species and Jack Frost's paint

Reds: sugar maple, reds; orange and yellow; red maple, orange and scarlet; dogwood, vivid scarlet; sweet gum, crimson; red oak, dark red to russet; scarlet oak, brilliant scarlet; black gum, burgundy; sassafras, orange to scarlet.

Yellows: Eastern redbud, mellow yellow; Norway maple, buttercup yellow, yellowwood, yellow to gold; larch, golden yellow; tuliptree, sparkling yellow; elm, pale yellow; ginkgo and aspen, vellow.

Browns and oranges: American beech, golden bronze; white oak, purplish red to violet; black oak, reddish tan to brown; hickory, leathery yellow to brown, white ash, purple; American hornbeam, bright ora ige.

AUTUMN COLORS peak in early to mid-October. It takes approximately two weeks for a tree to complete its color cycle. Autumns that are rainy, very hot or cloudy may produce foli-age that is bland or less vivid.

Indian legend explains the autumn color this way: Celestial hunters stalked and killed the Great Bear, and its dripping blood fell onto the forest trees, gradually changing the leaves to various shades.

A modern version holds that little green p ple inside the leaves conjure up psychedelic hap-penings that burst into view in the fall.

Generally, only areas of the Eastern United States, Southeastern Canada, Eastern Asia and Southwestern Europe have weather conditions and deciduous forest trees favorable to vivid fall

Sandpapers get a going-over

special writer

The multiplicity of sandpapers on the market makes shopping for them a hit-and-miss chore unless you have some idea of what you are doing. Here are some facts that will help you make the proper selections: Flint paper, once widely used, is not seen too much these days because it is brittle and quickly deteriorates with use compared to other materials. Remember that if you should see it and be tempted by it because it is cheaper.

Garnet, a natural material, removes wood easily and resists what is known as "loading," which is filling up the spaces between the abrasive grains. It is not as durable as the manufactured materials, such as aluminum oxide and silicone carbide. Aluminum oxide is especially good for power sanding.

The principle of sanding is that the finer the grade of paper, the better it is for sanding between coats and on the final coat.

The final sanding, with what is called very fine paper, prepares it for the finishing material. Rough wood must be treated with coarse paper, then medium and then either fine or very fine.

PAPER USED TO be designated only by number. Today, most have a per. The smaller the number, the larger the size of the grit. And the larger the size of the grit, the coarser the resulting finish.

Thus, if you wanted to remove wood fast and not be too particular about the coarseness of the wood (because you would use finer papers later), you would use a 36 grit rather than a 120 grit.

It will make it easier on you if you look for sandpaper that gives the classification, such as coarse, medium, fine, very fine.

SANDPAPERS USED for wet sanding have a special waterproof backing, since the sanding is done Most other backings are made of

on the house

regular backing, varying in thickness according to the use to which they will put. The strongest paper backing, for instance, is on material to be used for tough hand sanding or regular power sanding.

Inferior sandpaper utilizes inferi-or adhesives to hold the abrasive grains to the backing. Notice if a lot of grains have accumulated at the bottom of the sandpaper package. If you tap the paper against a solid surface, some of the grains on this type of product will come off easily.

Also, look for folds and wrinkles in the paper. These things can affect the quality of the final finish as well as reduce the life of the paper. The product may have been fine originally, but the folds and wrinkles developed in the packaging and transporting. If that's the paper you want, look for another package.

THIS IS ESPECIALLY important when choosing paper to be used in a power machine, where the extra pressure can greatly affect the overall performance.

When you have a specialized kind of job to be done, look over the store's entire stock of sandpapers and accessories. A special open coat sandpaper has more and larger spaces between the grains, which minimizes loading.

Some dealers even have a special treatment that will retard loading when using aluminum oxide, silicon carbide or garnet. Manufacturers are constantly coming out with products designed to handle particular kinds of stubborn sanding.

There is even a sanding sealer that helps the finer-grit papers be more effective on softwoods. The sanding sealer toughens the wood. Some wood finishers achieve the same result by mixing shellac with an equal part of denatured alcohol.

The principle of sanding is that the finer the grade of paper, the better it is for sanding between coats and on the final coat.

Benefit to aid art archives

Ten metropolitan Detroit galleries will present artists and their works as part of a benefit for the Archives of American Art at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 25, in the Roostertail.

At "Show and tell - an evening with the artist," guests can talk with the artists and view their works. After supper, the artists will be formally introduced.

Artists participating in the event include: Timothy Solien, Cantor/ Lemberg Gallery, Ann Mikolowski, sponsored by Joy Emery Gallery, sculptor Tom Bills of Feigenson/ Preston Gallery, John Torreano and sculptor Lynda Benglis representing Suzanne Hilberry Gallery and watercolorist Alfred Leslie of the Hill Gal-

Robert L. Kidd Associates sponsors Glen Michaels and the Donald Morris Gallery has invited painter Robert Wilbert. Allie McGhee, painter and ceramic muralist, represents George N'Namdi Gallery. Douglas

W. Warner represents Xochilpilli Art Gallery. The Yaw Gallery presents Jean Stark, goldsmith and painter, and Anthony Lent, creator of wearable sculpture.

Tickets are $75 each. For information call the Archives of American Art office at 226-7544. The Archives of American Art was founded in Detroit in 1954 and has been a bureau of the Smithsonian Institution since 1970. The archives has so far collected nearly 10 million original papers and other memorabilia of American painters, sculptors, craftspeople, dealers, collectors, critics and curators. It conducts an oral history program, which has produced nearly 3,000 interviews with significant figures on the art scene.

About one-third of the collection is available on microfilm for public use in the archives' six regional research and collecting centers including the Midwest Regional Center in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Site contamination concerns raised

Intensifying environmental concerns continue to trouble land developers and if the trend continues, it could conceivably drive smaller developers out of business. Attorney George Fulkerson, of the Troy law firm of Dean and Fulkerson, told members of the Builders Association of Southeast Michigan Wednesday that environmental concerns are today's "moral imperative," and unless builders - especially small builders - learn to anticipate and protect themselves, they're in for a rough ride.

Environmental concerns will squeeze out the smaller developer because he does not have the resources to comply with all the regulations and requirements being placed on him, Fulkerson said.

"That may very well change, but greater enforcement is the trend, he said, adding the slow growth movement prevalent in southeast Michigan uses environmental concerns as one of the key weapons in the arsensal to stop development.

Historically, building and the environment have always been related, but the emphasis and the nature of that relationship has drastically changed, Fulkerson said. "It's become magnified over the years.

'We have moved from a 'protection from nuisance' theory, which implies a certain amount of negligence, to a point where liability is no longer dependent on negligence," he said. Today, developers can be liable for environmental problems by virtue of land ownership, regardless of whether they caused the problems.

In almost every case where an environmental concern is raised, the developer is bound to lose because the courts almost always support the "Builders are faced with a myriad of laws and regulations," he said, adding that there are currently more than 200 laws addressing environmental concerns and development.

"It's a gloomy picture," Fulkerson continued. Whether the developer is personally responsible for an environmental problem or not, as a purchaser he can be held liable for contamination already on the site.

Recently, hazardous waste regulations have had the greatest impact on builders, Fulkerson said. Loan approval from lending institutions, for example, may greatly depend on previous uses of the site and evidence of current contamination.

PERHAPS EVEN more frightening, he said, is the chance that contamination will be discovered on a recently purchased site. Federal environmental protection laws and regulations protect the developer who is innocent of further contaminating the property and who has thoroughly investigated the property to be exempt from repercussions. Fulkerson continued, but the definition of innocent and thorough is interpreted "very narrowly.

Fulkerson said developers must be cautious at every turn. "There are resources out there - hire someone to investigate the property and see what they can find."

Such investigations might include anything from soil samplings to interviews with previous property owners. "You may have to sit heavily on the previous owner to find out what the property's previous uses

Readers' poll leads to wood house design

staff writer

What are the desires of home buyers in today's market?

A workable functional kitchen, energy efficiency, low maintenance and a spacious pantry, according to a reader poll taken by Home Mechanix Magazine.

The American Wood Council and Home Mechanix Magazine co-sponsored the poll last fall that asked readers to describe their dream home. More than 200 readers responded, and those responses were incorporated by Stephen Mead Associates of Des Moines, Iowa, into the design of the 1,950-square-foot 'Home Mechanix Dream Home.'

We wanted to design a relatively affordable package, but one that encapsulated as many of the readers' responses as possible," explained Mead. "A lot of readers wanted a sense of space so they didn't feel they were crawling over other family members. I think we have accomplished that. The house lives much larger than it actually is."

TO ACHIEVE THAT sense of spaciousness, Stephen Mead Associates designed the house - located in the Crescent Hills Subdivision in Ortonville - with several features. In addition to a spacious kitchen with an adjacent greenhouse/solarium breakfast area, the house also features a two-story entrance, a columned dining room leading to a screened porch and sweeping deck, a large workshop and adjacent storage area easily accessible from the garage, a huge master suite, french doors and a window seat.

One of the unique aspects of the house is the way spaces relate to one lot of wasted space, but the house isn't cramped, either.'

An example includes a work station (desk and book shelves) which was added to a widened hallway on the second floor. Such "nooks of storage" could be used by children or parents for work or play.

The house - built by Gary Sabo of Future Homes Inc. in Davison also incorporates advanced wood construction techniques that earned it the American Wood Council's Design For Better Living Award.

The council recognizes houses that feature the use of new wood products and systems and innovative design " explained Wally Poure, regional marketing director of the American Wood Council.

These construction techniques include a permanent wood foundation, Interlock lap-siding on the exterior walls. The house also conforms to the Code Plus building code.

The permanent wood foundation is used in place of a concrete foundation with the aim of providing a drier, warmer environment. The wood foundation is constructed of pressure-treated lumber and plywood walls set on a gravel base and backfilled with gravel. The walls are insulated with a high R-factor insulation providing a warm basement environment. And because wood doesn't settle like a concrete foundation, there tend to be no cracks or leaks in the basement walls.

The house is priced in excess of $199,000. It was recently featured in the Parade of Homes '89, a builder's show sponsored by the American Wood Council and 11 north Oakland County Builders. The house is open for viewing by appointment. Call Fu-ture Homes at 653-3490 for an ap-

Tile caulk in colors

By Andy Lang special writer

(AP)- What's new on the market? THE PRODUCT - A ceramic tile caulk to match or coordinate with many of today's grout colors and

Manufacturer's claim - That the new color selections include clear, antique white, wheat, sand tan, pewter gray, red wood, black onyx, Almond and pure white; that it is mildew-resistant and prevents water seepage around sinks, tubs, vanities, countertop spashguards and tile soap holders; and that it seals surface areas that tend to move slightly, such as where a wall meets a floor or where tiles abut corner and count-

THE PRODUCT - An epoxy adhesive especially designed for vertical and overhead bonding projects.

Manufacturer's claim — That this epoxy gel bonds quickly through a chemical reaction between the epoxy resin and the hardener; that it will not sag or drip, setting in five minutes; that it bonds wood, metal, fiberglass, china, ceramic, glass and other materials; that, after the adhesive is applied, bonded objects can be handled in 15 minutes, with the epoxy achieving full strength in one hour at room temperature; that it hardens to an opaque finish; that it is available in a dual-syringe container that dispenses equal amounts of the resin and the hardener, and that its special properties make it ideal for bonding objects to walls, ceilings, under counters and wherever such projects normally are difficult to handle.

THE PRODUCT - A motion sensor light control that reduces the problem of false triggering.

That Manufacturer's claim false triggering, caused by such things as blowing leaves, will be eliminated by 75 percent; that when the sensor discovers heat in motion, it takes a "second look" to verify the object before it switches the lights on; that the sensor detects people in motion from up to 70 feet away, providing more than 4,500 square feet of coverage; that a multitone lens provides overlapping detection zones for both downward and outward coverage; that it has a variable shutoff delay to allow the user to adjust the period of time the light stays on from one to 20 minutes; and that it is UL-listed for wet locations.

The epoxy adhesive is made by Devcon Consumer Division, 780 A.E.C. Drive, Wood Dale, Il. 60191; the light control by Health-Zenith, Hilltop Road, St. Joseph, Mi. 49085; and the caulk by Darworth Co., Avon, Ct. 06001.

(Do-it-yourselfers will find much valuable material in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," which can be obtained by sending $3 to this paper at P.O. Box 1055, NJ 08723.

First, I am not sure from your question what type of "lotto" the board is planning to conduct, but it had better make sure that it is not violating any state laws with respect to such "lotto" and that, if necessary, it obtain a license from the state to conduct any type of gaming activity. Secondly, and more important, if the association has a pool which the association members are allowed to

You should contact the board to remind them of this responsibility and in the absence of any forthright action by the board, you should consult with an attorney to assist you.

Q: I am being transferred from Birmingham to New York City and wish to buy a co-op in the upper 60s of Manhattan. Do you have any inkling as to what the market is in New York and how is a co-op different there from what I might find here with respect to a condominium or condo queries Robert M. Melsner

A: Coincidentally, I have just had the opportunity to review the co-op market in New York, particularly as it relates to the higher echelon of coops surrounding Central Park. The co-op market in New York is weakening, as I understand it, although the price of co-ops in New York comparable to what one would find in Michigan is extremely high. Cobility in regard to who may or may not live in the co-op. A good exam-ple, of course, is the Richard Nixon situation in New York where he was denied an opportunity to buy a co-op because he was a lawyer. In a co-op, you rent your unit from the cooperative association, even though you are buying shares in the cooperative association. You sign a proprietary lease and live by the rules and regulations, or they can evict you. I would be very cautious before investing in a co-op in Manhattan because of the apparent fluctuation in market conditions.

ecorating rules meant to be broken

"Tradition is back," said House Beautiful editor JoAnn Barwick, "because we are tired of trendy fads and have swung around again to an appreciation of architecture and furnishings with serenity and balance — the way a home looks when the age-old rules have been followed.

Young people decorating their first homes hunger for rules, according to Barwick. How should they arrange the furniture? Which chairs go with what table? Can they use something inconventional that they've fallen in love with?

Barwick said her magazine went to the masters of home design — past and present — for the following "Golden Rules of Decorating," which range from the classic look to personal

John Saladino gave his view of how to create class "To be timeless, we must pare away fussy details, create an orderly balance. Simple geometric forms the ancients knew.—circles, squares, triangles — shape the classics."

Comfort was Billy Baldwin's subject: "Some people confuse luxury with grandeur. To me, comfort is perhaps the ultimate

Edith Wharton and Ogden Codman Jr. on symmetry: "The desire for symmetry, for balance, for rhythm, is one of the most inveterate of human instincts."

For Elsie de Wolfe, suitability was the subject: "We must learn to recognize suitability, simplicity and proportion, and apply our knowledge to our needs. A huge stuffed leather chair in a tiny gold and cream room is unsuitable.' Dorothy Draper had this to say about color: "There should never be any doubt about what your color has to say. It may be lemon yellow, watermelon pink, chocolate brown or any thing you like, just as long as it knows its own mind. Muddy walls are nothing but a blight." Michael Greer puts passion into his interior designs, saying: "You need one marvelous decorative object which you love outrageously; which you may have spent far more for than you could afford. It can be anything - a painting or a rug or a vase, as well as a piece of furniture."

David Hicks understands the need for warmth. "I may create a very disciplined background, but then I like things ed up or cozied up a little. I am always thinking of

No matter how many rules you follow, a home must reflect you, as T.H. Robsjohn-Gibbings noted when he said: "Why do we love certain houses, and why do they seem to love us? It is the warmth of our individual hearts reflected in

That brings the amateur decorator back to House Beauti-ful's advice in giving out these rules: "Just remember: Once learned, rules are also meant to be broken."
