Campaigns of GOP hopefuls contrast in style

staff writer

GOP Congressional challenger Burl Adkins of Southgate is running as hard for the 15th District nomination as his thus far limited budget will allow - building a campaign staff, distributing attractive campaign literature and issuing periodic statements to the media.

Meanwhile, fellow candidate Glen Kassel is taking a more relaxed approach. "I do my best face-to-face. I'll stand in front of the post office until they chase me off," the Westland businessman said.

Adkins and Kassel will oppose each other in the Tuesday, Aug. 7 primary for the right to meet incumbent William Ford, D-Taylor, in the fall. The district includes southern Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Canton, among other communities.

Adkins edged Kassel by 365 votes in a four-way GOP primary two years ago, and he's taking nothing for granted this time.

"I'M GOING to be knocking on doors throughout the district," Adkins said.

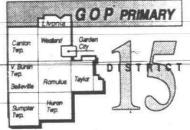

Both men face a tall order in trying to pick off the incumbent. Even with George Bush at the top of the ticket, Ford defeated Adkins by nearly a 2-to-1 margin in 1988.

In line to become chairman of the House Education and Labor committee, the 25-year House veteran could prove an even more formidable opponent this year. Adkins, however, portrays Ford as an almost-imperial incumbent isolated from constituents, out of touch with their concerns and ripe

"I feel people are looking for a change," Adkins said. In campaign appearances, he's chided Ford for his support of a congressional pay in-- and chided Congress over wasteful spending.

One campaign release blasted Congressional spending for a fish farm project.

TAX CHANGES are necessary, Adkins said, to make American products more competitive. Tax breaks aren't needed, he added, for foreign companies building plants in the United States. Adkins has been a particular critic of the Mazda plant in Flat Rock, claiming it will cost jobs, rather than expanding the workforce.

It's nice to have a neighbor in the medical business. Just ask Rita Treichler of Canton

Dr. Richard Hood, a resident anesthesiologist at Southfield's Providence Hospital, was the first person Treichler thought to turn to when her 14-month-old daughter, Shelby, turned a purple-blue color after she started choking and couldn't breathe Sunday.

MONDAY AFTERNOON the toddler smiled contentedly while sitting on Hood's knee as he explained what happened.

Woman killed in head-on crash

A 42-year-old Farmington Hills woman died after the car she was driving collided head-on with another car at Haggerty and Cherry Hill roads in Canton on Tuesday, police said.

At 10:17 p.m. Helen A. Thomas was traveling north in a 1986 Mustang on Haggerty south of Cherry Hill when she crossed the center line and collided with a car traveling south on Haggerty.

Thomas, who was not wearing a seatbelt and was alone, was pronounced dead at Annapolis Hospital, police said.

The other motorist, Cynthia L. Ohlinger, of Canton, was traveling with two children in a 1975 Pontiac LeMans, police said. All three people were taken to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

They were treated and released Tuesday night, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Alcohol was believed to be a factor in the accident, police said. "Witnesses said the Mustang was weaving over the road and almost hit a parked car before hit-ting this car (LeMans)," said Par Nemecek, police information officer. The fatality was the seventh in Canton this year. The most recent was the July 1 death of a 23-year-old Ann Arbor woman who collided with a

BUT INSTEAD of being moved out by developers, six calves were added to Laird's cattle herd

And his son Rob, 26, said that as long as taxes don't get too high, there are no plans to sell the land to developers and move elsewhere.

The senior Laird owns the farm and is a semiretired medical doctor. He has been in the cattle business for 35 years.

Ten Laird cattle stay at Domino's, not in the petting farm, but on more than 20 acres of pas-ture land. The Lairds also lease land at Domino's Farms to grow hay for cattle feed. Rob Laird said the family hopes to lease more pasture land this

Lawyers more closely watched than doctors

Which professionals are most subject to scrutiny where on-the-job

There are discipline-dispensing organizations in Michigan for each profession, and both have recently been criticized for unprofessionalism, incompetence, or dishonesty. Yet 59 attorneys have been disbarred in the last three calendar years and 12 medical doctors lost their licenses between October 1987 and September 1989.

Statistics show that almost five out of 1,000 attorneys have been dis-average in the last three years. Doctors have lagged slightly behind, with 4.56 per 1.000 disciplined in fiscal years 1987 and 1988. The state Department of Licensing and Regulation, which disciplines doctors, has been accused of having an overabundant bureaucracy and a lenient disposition. The Attorney Grievance Commission has recently been criticized for selective investigation of attorneys, and for shredding documents concerning the investigation of two prominent law-

If the doctor discipline system is inadequate, the answer might be found in the number of professionals McDowell's office is responsible for lowed by hearings that closely resemble courtroom proceedings. One of 15 boards, one for each profession, makes the final decision on whether a professional will be suspended, reprimanded, fined, etc.

> McDowell reported that most cases take about a year to go from complaint to discipline, although, "some of them take a lot longer.'

The Attorney Grievance Commission, on the other hand, is responsible for only about 27,000 lawyers. The AGC is under the supervision of the state Supreme Court, but funded entirely by the state bar association.

In 1989 there were 3,400 allega- pected to be the next president of the tions filed with the grievance commission, according to John Van Bolt, VAN BOLT cited a 1988 Florida study that said Michigan rated highest in the country where attorney discipline was concerned. But that study was conducted when Schwartz was grievance administrator. He had a reputation for relentless prosecution of complaints to such an extent that some referred to him as a barracuda.

"The system worked well in those years," Schwartz said. "The commission during those years I was there was very efficient.

In January 1989, shortly after Schwartz was replaced by Deborah Gaskin, the commission ordered the destruction of documents connected with the investigation of Detroit attorneys James K. ## An opportunity for the area

Main Street is such a opportunity for the Plymouth and Canton communities.

It's a prime corner noticed by many visitors to the area. Because of that there's much hand wringing going on because it's vacant.

We see the location as a prime one for a visitors' center, a place where a person could get directions and where information about the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township could be handed out. We think now is the time for officials and community groups to look at doing something with the station. Mayflower Meeting House owner Ralph Lorenz has settled with Amoco for past damages from fuel oil leaking from the station into the nearby Meeting House.

However, the $250,000 settlement for past damages doesn't clear up the cloud hanging over the station. There's still the matter of a clean up. The state Department of Natural Resources has been expecting Amoco to submit a revised cleanup plan, after rejecting plans submitted in March and October of last year that didn't address the problem.

WE UNDERSTAND THE reluctance of government to get involved with such a parcel of land and we hope the settlement clears the way for a new cleanup plan and resolution of the situation. That way government officials wouldn't be so wary of getting involved.

We would hope that officials from the Plymouth and Canton communities could see past the problems with the vacant station and toward uses for the building.

The station has a colonial face and with minor renovation could be a fine public facility. Apart from a visitors center, it could house tage of it.

Also, it could remedy one major problem in Plymouth, the lack of public restrooms. One of the major complaints of visitors to Plymouth is that there are none. The former Amoco gas station could serve that end.

But there's more. The station's location at a major intersection and across the street from the Mayflower Hotel could be used to dispense information about Plymouth, Plymouth Township and

Safety's found in this town

AFETY TOWN's not found on any Michigan maps, but it's still an important place. The miniature town is housed in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School. The Safety Town program, offered throughout the summer by Plymouth-Canton Community Education, teaches 4- and 5-year-olds about the importance of safety.

"Our program is a lot of fun," tance of safety.

"Our program is a lot of fun," said Jan Hooker, Safety Town director. "We make sure we provide a fun experience for the kids."

Many topics are covered during the nine-day program, including traffic/pedestrian safety. Children spend some time each day on the Safety Town course, riding their Big Wheels and learning the rules of the road.

The youngsters, who will begin kindergarten in the fall, particularly enjoy their time on the road, said Hooker, a Novi resident.

At first, a lot of them think it's

AS THE PROGRAM cont AS THE PROGRAM continues, children do a better job of obeying the traffic signs and signals. They're more conscientious about staying on the right side of the road and are careful not to bump the children in front of them.

Some program instructors pass out traffic tickets to children who don't obey the rules of the road. Those children aren't required to spend any time in jail or to pay nine paid instructors, young wom

Children in the program also learn about the importance of fire safety, poison control and safety on the school bus. They learn how to be safe while riding a bicycle in traffic.

"We talk about electrical and water safety as well," said Hooker, a certified teacher who's done sub-stitute teaching and is looking for a full-time job. She gets a great deal of help with the program from the Others contribute to the program as well. Officers from the city of Plymouth Police Department come in to talk with the children, as do firefighters from Plymouth Township and Detroit Edison staffers.

Field trips to a Canton Towns fire station and to Oakwood Canton Health Center are also included. At the health center, children go on a tour of the emergency room, X-ray area and lab. At the fire station, they get to see the fire trucks and other emergency vehicles, and learn about the work firefighters Safety Town instructors and the visiting police officers talk with the children about safety around strangers. They're careful not to scare the youngsters but let them know caution's called for when dealing with strangers.

"We just take an approach where we're teaching them basic things, and we're very careful about how we present it," Hooker said. "It's important to state the facts, but to be sensitive to what they can han-dle."

Children attend either morn

Many organizations donate materials for the local program, including coloring books from Consumers Power Co. and bicycle safety handouts from AAA of Michigan.

Poison control literature is provided by Children's Hospital of Michigan, and the Canton Lions Club buys firefighter hats for the children. A seat belt donated by the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use is used to demonstrate how to buckle up for safety.

Hooker's found most of the youngsters know Michigan law requires seat belts to be used. She knows many of the children take home what they've learned and share it with their parents and siblings.

Camp Tonquish are "pretty cool." Justin, who turns 8 this week, is spending some time at the day camp sponsored by the Plymouth Commu-Family YMCA. Camp sessions are held weekdays at Plymouth Township Park.

"We get to play lots of games and we get to go in the woods and walk," said Justin, a Westland resident. He and his fellow campers find lots of golf balls from the nearby golf course in the woods. Justin also enjoys the various crafts activities.

the activities Mike Leutheuser, 8, of Plymouth enjoys. The day camp for kids ages 5-11 began June 18 and will continue through Aug. 24.

The majority of the campers participate for the eatire summer, said Rich Roman, head counselor. Many others participate on and off during the summer, and spaces are still available in the program.

Many parents work outside the home and need to find child care in the summer. The program includes extended care offered 7-9 a.m. weekdays at the YMCA in Plymouth and 5-5:30 p.m. at the park. 5-5:30 p.m. at the park.

"It makes it enjoyable for the kids," he said of the themes.

A session later this summer will focus on health and fitness, "and let these kids know that eating Twinkies isn't that much fun all the time,' Roman said.

Other themes include nature study, Indians and fantasy. Field trips to such places as the Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum, Matthaei Botanical Gardens, Detroit Science Center, Detroit Zoo and Domino's Farms are part of the program.

CAMPERS SPEND part of each day working on a crafts project. Last week, they painted T-shirts. Daily group activities, such as sports or group hikes, are also included.

The atmosphere at camp needs to be controlled but it isn't quite as structured as in a classroom, he said. Counselors try to make the camp experience similar to that enjoyed at a resident camp.

"It's nice to be outside," he said. "Even when it rains, we do have a lot of fun."

About 30 campers participate each week, Roman said, although last week's enrollment dropped a bit due to the Fourth of July holiday. Enrollment at camp's just about evenly divided between boys and girls. The Plymouth Community Family YMCA also offers a preschool day camp, with those sessions held in the morning only.

Roman works with counselors Marcia Rockwood, a Michigan State University student from Plymouth, and Karen Finnegan, an Eastern Michigan University student from Plymouth. Finnegan's studying edu-cation and Rockwood's studying special education for the hearing impaired.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR attracting new members.

Church officials strive for a peaceful coexistence

Mary and Graham Martin of Plymouth Township don't have to worry about being late for church. The Martins simply step out the door of their house, walk a few feet and they're at the entrance of the Lake Pointe Bible Chapel. What's it like living next door to a church? "People ask us that all the time. said Mary Martin with a laugh. "It has never been a problem.'

Although most churches are or busy, main streets, a few are nestled in neighborhoods. These include the Lake Pointe Bible Chapel and First United Methodist, both of Plymouth Township; St. Timothy Presbyterian in Livonia; and Hosanna Tabor Lutheran in Redford.

MOST CHURCHES co-exist peacefully with their residential neighbors, officials say. They try to resolve any disputes - generally noise and parking issues - quickly. "We try to be sensitive to the community," said the Rev. Janet Noble pastor of St. Timothy Presbyterian. For the Martins, both 45, life is tightly entwined with the activities and programs at Lake Pointe Bible Chapel on Schoolcraft Road. The house in which the Martins live was constructed from a kit during the 1940s. It predates the church,

There are few hassles in getting ready for Sunday worship services "On Sunday, if you get ready first you can just march over to the church and be on time," she said.

The pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Belch, came to the church from Niagara Falls, Ontario, just two years ago. But the church secretary, a longtime member, says residents have always been friendly.

"I have found we have been quite compatible with neighbors," said Janet Reid, 38, of Livonia. Sometimes, neighborhood kids come around and play basketball in the church parking lot. During the Christmas season children from the church go caroling in a nearby subdi-

Dick Tracy puts an end to Disney crime capers

The media-blitz accompanying the recent world premiere of "Dick Tracy" at Walt Disney World's AMC Pleasure Island 10 Theatres is typical of the largerthan-life dimensions of a trip to Disney World in Orlan-

While Dick Tracy theme shows, memorabilia and displays are the current highlight throughout Disney World's nearly 43-square mile facility, there are many other attractions, all part of the Disney "magic."

That's a major undertaking but Disney effectively provides an opportunity to travel to the limits of time and snace while viewing many facets of world culture. Disney World houses displays from pre-historic times well into the next century, offers building-size representations of many cultures in the Epcot Center World Showcase, numerous resort and amusement park facilities and the ultimate theme-park fantasy, the movies at the Disney-MGM Studios.

reality's problems in the self-contained, secure and imaginative world Disney has created. That's important, narticularly to experienced travelers well aware of travel problems these days. But everything's at Disney World and it's not the kind of place where anyone can wonder in on a whim. It takes a certain amount of planning and preparation to get there, particularly in the busier seasons when advance reservations are a must.

With the official opening June 15 of the 1509-room Dolphin complementing the 758-room Swan which opened late last year, hotel accommodations at Disney World are about elaborate as possible.

But wait; more are under construction with the Yacht and Beach Resort due next fall. With 1200-rooms, it's set around a 25-acre lake and designed with a late-19th century motif. Currently under construction on the other side of that lake, is a new park, also in the turn-ofland and Atlantic City Boardwalk style restaurants,

WHEN THE Yacht and Beach Club opens, there will be approximately 13,000 rooms available on Disney World property plus camping accommodations at Fort

Situated on Crescent Lake and crowned by giant, greenish-gray Disney-style sculptures of their namesakes, the Dolphin and Swan Hotels face each other across a covered causeway. Installation of the two, 45feet wide, 55-feet tall swans, each weighing about 14 tons, required a 400-ton crane. Hotel exteriors are painted a sunwashed coral with bold areas of turquoise ors with vivid splashes of the coral/turquoise motif accented by reds, blues, greens, browns, purples, laven-ders and yellows. The Dolphin-Swan complex is not just for folks dragging their kids around Disney World. These two hotels are being merchandised as a major conference center with Florida's largest hotel meeting room in the Dolphin, the Hemisphere Ballroom, which, at almost 56-thousand square feet, is only slightly smaller than a football field (including the end zones.) All hotels and resorts on Disney World property have convention exhibition spaces and ballrooms of varying sizes.

THE DOLPHIN Conference Center alone has over 30 meeting rooms and exhibition spaces with a grand total over 200,000 square feet. Clearly Disney staff will be hard at work recruiting conventions. One of their major selling points, of course, will be the many attraction and amusements available for conventioneers and their families. In addition to the extensive facilities at Disney World, the surrounding Orlando area boasts many hotels, motels and other accommodations.

Dolphin rooms range from $195 to $285 but travelers should be aware that Standard Forest View rooms (the lowest rate) below the eighth floor view far less forest and far more of the receiving area which gets fairly noisy around 6 a.m. There are less expensive accommo dations at Disney World, the Caribbean Beach Resort has rooms for as little as $60.

Although built by ITT & Tishman Realty, the Dolphin is operated by Sheraton and the Swan by Westin. On Disney property, both were built to Disney specifications with the Disney touch everywhere in evidence al-

Summertime means funs . . . and Lyme disease

Summer has arrived and people are spending more and more time outdoors.

For the most part, summertime activities are enjoyable and risk free, but people should be aware of Mother Nature's own dangers.

For example, this is the time of year when people are most susceptible to Lyme disease. The illness is caused by tick bites that can lead to severe arthritis symptoms and a number of other effects.

According to the Michigan chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, people who live, work near or enter wooded or marshy areas are most susceptible to Lyme Disease because the ticks which carry the disease-causing bacteria live in such areas.

Most people who are bitten by an infected tick develop a large, expanding rash around the area of the bite. Rashes vary in size, shape and color, but often look like a red ring with a clear center

Lyme Disease also can cause problems with the central nervous system, causing meningitis, facial palsy or encephalopathy.

At the onset, signs of Lyme Disease include flu-like symptoms out of season, such as a stiff neck, chills, fever, sore throat, headaches, fatigue and joint pain. And unlike, some types of arthritis, the pain seems to move from joint to joint.

SOME PEOPLE who become infected develop more serious problems. An irregular heartbeat may occur, sometimes requiring implantation of a temporary pacemaker.

Lyme Disease also can cause problems with the central nervous

While people should be on guard against Lyme Disease, people shouldn't become alarmed or paranoid to the point where they're afraid to go outside. By taking the needed precautions against the disease, people can still enjoy their favorite summertime activities.

There are several things people can do to guard against the disease, according to the foundation:

 Wear protective clothing like long skirts or pants with the legs tucked inside of socks.

· Check yourself and your children for ticks. Look closely at the hair, ears, underarms, trunk of the body, groin and back of the knees.

• INSPECT PETS for ticks before letting them indoors. They may carry the ticks into the house, where they may fall off and then bite fami-

THE ENTREPRENEUR'S success in creating jobs and introducing new products and services often goes unrecognized, said John Boos, the director of entrepreneurial service for the Ernst & Young Detroit office.

"Entrepreneurs are the lifeblood of American business.

The awards are a way of recognizing the entrepreneur's drive, innovation and energy, Boos said.

BEING AN entrepreneur can be invigorating, Tauber said. 'For certain types of individuals, it is the most satisfying thing you can do - it means being your own boss and measuring your own worth by your success.

"Most entrepreneurs are very confident with a positive self image - but then they have to be. You often go into these things where you can't see the answer.

'Sometimes you fail, but having failed, you learn an awful lot - it makes a better person out of you. If you do not have failure, you're not taking enough risks."

TAUBER'S CAREER has spanned nearly 20 rocky years. He has seen his family-owned company go public in 1979 in a leveraged buyout, and then return to being a private, employee-owned company in 1986. He has weathered the harsh economic climate of the early 1980s, and the boom time of the late 1980s.

Much of his success, he said, can be attributed to his father-in-law, Barney Keywell.

Software tax ruling threatens business

staff writer

All the fancy microchips and circuit boards in that expensive hunk of hardware called a computer are useless without word processing, spreadsheet and data base pro-

And if a ruling by the Michigan State Tax Commission reclassifying software used by businesses as tangible rather than intangible property stands, software will be be taxed the same way other tangible property is

Under an October 1989 ruling, all software — ranging from the $400 word processing programs to customized software programs costing hundreds of thousands of dollars would be reclassified for the purpose of personal property tax assess-

The ruling, according to its detractors, would mean a substantial tax increase costing Michigan businesses millions of dollars

"We think it's unconstitutional because they violated state law in promulgating the ruling," said Steve Young, manager of taxation and regulatory affairs for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The ruling was passed without formal public hearings and legislative oversight, Young said.

"Basically, what we have are a bunch of appointed bureaucrats who answer no one running amok."

Young also questioned whether the ruling, which the chamber considers a tax increase, violates the Headlee amendment to the Michigan Constitution which requires that property tax increases be voted on by the peo-

"If this ruling were to stand it's obviously a tax increase.'

Young said the state chamber

'This could affect a lot of people in the state.'

> - Steve Young chamber of commerce

filed a lawsuit this spring in Ingham County in hopes of overturning the ruling, but is also anticipating new legislation from state congressmen in the fall.

"We think it's important to pursue every avenue vigorously," Young said. "This could affect a lot of people in the state."

NO HEARING dates have been set for the lawsuit, he said.

Michigan Treasurer Robert Bowman has also asked the tax commission to obtain an opinion from the Michigan Attorney General's office on the reclassification, but as of yet, the commission has not sought a rul-

Businesses throughout the state are incensed over the ruling, Young said, and have joined the state chamber in pressuring legislators and state administrators to reverse the Manufacturing, small business, grocer and retail associations have all voiced opposition to the change and are optimistic the ruling will be reversed, Young said.

In addition to being bad for business and unconstitutional, the reclassification may also be unworkable, said Ann Parker, director of state government affairs for the Greater Detroit chamber of commerce.

Even if the ruling were to stand, collecting the new revenues would be an "administrative nightmare,"

"How do you determine (the software's) value?" Parker said. "Its retail value? Its value to us? How do you treat customized software?"

It's not unusual for a company to purchase customized software and then modify it to suit its purposes. "What is taxable - the purchase price? How do you assess the customizing work?'

Parker said the best scenario would be for the tax commission to reverse its ruling, but opponents are not counting on that. A more likely occurrence would be for state legislators to reverse the ruling.

"The problem is how to do it," she said. Legislators could rewrite either the general tax code or the intangible tax act, she said, but there is some concern that opening up either to changes could result in other significant changes.

"Legislators don't know if they can risk it or what's the best way to do it," she said. No legislation has been passed or introduced yet, but several legislators are looking at legislation.

Parker said if something is introduced in the fall, the tax ruling could be overturned in time to void the tax

Young of the Michigan chamber said the ruling could be used to essentially put a sales tax on services. For example, a company purchases a $25,000 payroll software program and then spends $2 million on its employees who modify it.

"The policy implications are extremely important," he said.

"Michigan has shown an interest in getting high-tech companies, but this is the wrong way to do it," he "These (high-tech) businesses are highly dependent on computers and this tax increase will drive them away, not attract them.'

GM getting premature bum raps on Saturn

sorry for General Motors, since they... seem to toddle along pretty well despite a seemingly unending stream of criticism about virtually every aspect of their operations.

On the other hand, it appears there are quite a few people in the media attempting to cover the launch of GM's new Saturn division like so many/ poor shooters crouched in duck blinds with feathers tied to their heads, in case you wondered

A particularly silly story recently appeared on the front page of the Detroit Free Press, wherein it was reported that the Saturn doors were sticking in tests in Phoenix. #### Caffeine: Most Commonly Used Drug Caffeine is considered the most commonly used drug in the United States. The primary method of consumption is through the drinking of coffee, tea, and other beverages. According to recent statistics, about half of the American population regularly drink coffee, the most frequently used source of caffeine. The average amount consumed by Americans is two cups per day – providing about 100mg of caffeine in each cup.

According to the Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs, caffeine is considered safe when taken orally in doses of 200 mg or less every 3 to 4 hours. A large number of nonprescription medicines, such as pain relievers, stimulants, and cold/allergy products, contain caffeine. In most persons, caffeine in doses of 200 mg has been shown to increase alertness and decrease drowsiness and fatigue.

Excessive use of caffeine may cause anxiety, irritability, sleep disturbances, and headaches. Caffeine consumption should be avoided just prior to laboratory blood work or a urine analysis.

Recent studies have found no link between caffeine and cancer. Indifuals with glaucoma, heart disease, gastric problems, and anxiety sorders should take caffeine with care or not at all.

Lightning, Hornets win Wolverine titles

Gwen Gibbish (center) of the Plymouth Lightning screens off an opposing player while teammate and goalie Jennifer Emmett makes a save in the championship game Sunday. The Lightning won the girls under-16 title in the annual Wolverine Soccer Tournament with a 2-0 victory over the Michigan Hawks.

Winning the Wolverine XI Soccer Tournament has become old hat for Livonia Hawks coach Paul Dugan.

"I've been to all 11 tournaments and I think this is my seventh winner," said Dugan, whose team won another title, the Under 19 Girls, with a 3-0 victory over the Cosmos '71 of Westerville, Ohio.

Twelve different age-group titles were_claimed last weekend as 152 teams converged upon Schoolcraft College for three-day tournament. The finals coincided with the World Cup final Sunday in Rome, Italy. The event was sponsored by Ford Motor Co. in conjunction with the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association.

Dugan's team, MSYSA state champs, used the Wolverine as a tuneup for next weekend's Region II Championships in Kalamazoo.

"This team has a lot of talent, it's my job to get them pumped up and their minds focused," said the veter-

Scoring for the Hawks on Sunday were Plymouth Salem High's Michele Minton; Dugan's daughter Julie, who plays at Farmington; and East Lansing's Carie Thomas, headed for the University of North Caro-

"WE HAVE a good opportunity to perform well this weekend," Dugan said. "If we stay healthy and have a little luck, we'll be OK.

The Region II tourney could be the last for some of Dugan's top players including Farmington High's Carrie Maier (headed for the University of Wisconsin), Farmington's Amy Trunk (going to Massachusetts) and Bloomfield Hills Margaret Kop-

"It's always good to see them go on and play in college," Dugan said. As for the Under 19 Boys final,

Vardar III '72, featuring several present and former All-Observer players, won't wave any good-byes soon to Pacesetters of Sylvania, Ohio, who won the title with a 1-0 upset victory.

Findlay native A.J. Siebeneck, a member of the regional squad who is headed this fall for Duke, ruined Vardar III's hopes with a goal midway through the second half.

He slipped behind a wall of Var-dar III defenders to beat keeper Mike Sheehy of Farmington High, who had no chance on the play.

WE PLAYED them in the regional indoor and we've been their nemesis for a long time," said Pacesetters coach Brian Cairns, who formed the team seven years ago. 'We've been coming here the last two or three years and obviously this is real sweet because it's the last time they'll be together, just a great Backup goalie Scott Rehklau, a junior at Sylvania Northview High, held Vardar III at bay to earn the shutout.

Vardar III featured several Observer standouts including Brian Thiel, freshman MVP at Valparaiso (Ind.) University, Derek Williford, a freshman at Oakland University from Livonia Stevenson; Jeff Gold, Plymouth Salem High; and Brady

Ericson, Livonia Churchill. In the Under 16 Girls championship, the Lightning, a team comprised primarily of players from the Plymouth-Canton area, scored a 2-0 victory over the Michigan Hawks.

Coach Frank Carey's Lightning won five straight, outscoring their opponents by a combined total of 20-

Leah Hutko (Canton) led the Lightning tournament effort with seven goals, while keeper Jennifer Emmett posted three shutouts. Defensively, Shelby Carey paced the effort along with midfielder Kris Goff, both of Salem High.

IT WAS THE FIRST tournament appearance for Lightning since the high school season ended. The Lightning won two tournaments last season and finished second in last year's Wolverine.

The Lightning will go after their second tournament title next month in Sarnia, Ontario.

The Under 15 Boys championship went to the Livonia-based Michigan Wolves '75, coached by Bruce Thomas and Dan O'Shea.

The Wolves '75 won in a shootout, defeating the Canton Titans '75, 2-1. Benjy Cesa, Adam Schomer, Jeff

Thomas and Anthony Verrino scored during the shootout. Clayton Campbell scored in regulation. The Wolves '75 are also headed this weekend for Kalamazoo in search of a Region II title. Also going to Kalamazoo are the

Collegiate stars can be proud despite loss

Making history can test reserves of discipline and determination. Repeating history multiplies the League all-stars have discovered low difficult the latter task can be. They made history when they blanked their Detroit Adray League counterparts 4-0 in 1987, the first time in 10 meetings the LCBL stars had bested those from the Adray circuit in the annual affair. The next two years, they didn't come close to repeating, they were routed 10-2 in '88 and 16-2 last summer.

With the memory of those defeats much fresher than LCBL's only win, it was no surprise that Dave Racer, coach of Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury and the LCBL stars, had another goal targeted for his team when they met the Adray team Tuesday at

"I talked to them before the game," he said. "The main thing was, we didn't want to embarrass

RACER NEARLY got more than he bargained for. Indeed, trim a few mental mistakes and the LCBL might be celebrating its second win in the series; instead, a valiant ninthinning rally went for naught, as Adray hung on for an 8-7 triumph. That makes 12 Adray wins to one for

"We gave them a heckuva ballgame, didn't we?" said Racer, all smiles. That the LCBL stars did, inflicting most of their damage in the ninth by scoring four runs after two were out.

Adray pitcher Leo Hutchinson tarted the ninth by walking Joe Brusseau. He got the next two batters, but Jeff Herrin's grounder was booted by second

That was all for Hutchinson. Bill Bellman relieved and threw one pitch to John Frazzini, and he popped out to short to end the game.

THE LATE rally certainly made the loss more tolerable for Racer, but his grin disappeared completely when he was reminded of LCBL's mental miscues which ignited Adray's four-run fourth, led to another Adray run without benefit of a hit in the fifth, and ruined an LCBL coring chance in the third.

"You're right," Racer agreed. "We could have been out of the (fourth) inning (without giving up a run). And we had that mental running error.

The Rocks, however, were 4-3 losers at Southgate the next day despite a strong showing by Belisle, who went the distance, struck out eight and walked two.

Cordero rides in Michigan Mile

The horses are always the attraction, but this year's 42nd running of the $300,000-guaranteed Michigan Mile will feature one of the leading jockeys of all-time, Angel Cordero, Cordero will be aboard Opening Verse, the pre-race favorite. Post time for the state's richest thoroughbred event, which is shaping up to be a speed race, is 5:10 p.m. at Ladbroke DRC in Livonia.

In his 30th season of riding, Cordero has scored 6,674 career victories (through July 1), placing him third on the all-time list of North America's leading jockeys behind only Bill Shoemaker and Laffit Pincay, Jr. His mounts have earned him in excess of $149 million.

He has ridden in four previous Michigan Miles, winning the race the "Michigan Mile Jinx" where 14 with Favorecidian in 1972. The Santurce. Puerto Rico native finished fifth on favored Everton II in 1974.

The win allowed the Plymouth-based ballclub (10-4) to split a double-header. Highland won the first game 1-0.

Dairy King scored six runs in the top of the seventh to take a 7-6 lead, but Highland pushed across the tying run in its last at-bats, forcing an extra inning. Dairy King then scored seven runs in the eighth to turn the game into a rout.

Frank Learned, who entered at the start of the seventh, was the winning pitcher. Craig Benedict started and pitched 4% innings, John Stimac the next 11/3.

Dairy King batters teed off on Highland pitcher Sean Furman, who entered in the sixth in relief of starter Adam Wood and proceeded to give up 14 runs on eight hits and

FOR SOME reason, Wood came out of the game despite having pitched five scoreless inning and working on a one-hitter.

"I told the kids 'We're not going to swing the bat until we take two strikes," Dairy King coach Mark LaPointe said at the start of the sixth inning. "In this case, it worked out. The kids were disciplined and did what they were supposed to."

Chris Johnson and Jeremy Hyde drove in two runs apiece for Dairy King, and 10 players had at least one RBI. Learned had two hits, and Ben Hendricks drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

There goes the sun — lunar eclipse coming

Jupiter is in conjunction with the sun of July 15. It is behind the sun and not visible from the earth.

Last Quarter Moon is at 7:04 a.m. on the 15th. The moon is beginning the last quarter of its orbit around the earth. (When will the next Last Quarter Moon occur?) The red 'star" below and to the left of the moon is Mars, the red planet. The moon is eight degrees above and to the left of Mars on the next morning.

Watch the moon as it passes through the constellation of Taurus starting on the morning of the 17th. The Pleiades star cluster is below and to the left of the moon. On the next morning the moon forms a triangle with the Pleiades and Alebaran. On the 19th the waning (fading) crescent moon is approaching Venus. Nortice how far Venus is

New Moon is at 10:54 p.m. on July 21. The moon is located between the earth and the sun and is not visible. In fact, the moon is located exactly between the earth and the sun, and the moon will eclipse (cover) the sun. This will be the first total eclipse of the sun to occur in 28 months.

YOU MAY WONDER why we don't have an eclipse every month, since we have a New Moon every month. The problem is due to the tilt of the moon's orbit around the earth. The moon usually appears to pass above or below the position of the sun. The moon often passes close enough to the sun's position to partially eclipse the sun, but the alignment has to be absolutely exact for the moon to totally cover the sun.

The bad news about this eclipse is that it begins at 8:40 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time. Sunset in our area on July 21 is at 9:03 p.m. Don't expect to see much during the 23 minutes between the start of the eclipse and sunset! Totality begins at 9:52 p.m., by which time the sun is well below the horizon.

Where will the path of totality fall? Along some of the most inaccessible parts of this planet! People in Helsinki, Finland, will be treated to the sight of a totally eclipsed sunrise. For people in Leningrad, the sun will be 97.4% eclipsed. . . close, runs along the northern coastline of Arctic Siberia, across the Bering Sea and some of the Alutian Islands, then ends in the northern Pacific Ocean.

Asia, China, Japan, northern Greenland, and northwestern North America will see a partially eclipsed sun. Look for the moon, 45 minutes after sunset, in the west northwest on the 23rd. It will be very close to the horizon and difficult to spot without binoculars. Five degrees is the star Regulus, the "heart" of Leo. Five degrees to the right of the moon, also

People in Scandinavia, northern

The moon is again approaching Spica on the 27th. On the 28th it has passed Spica. Notice, however, that this time the moon is less than onequarter full. Earlier this month, when the moon passed this way, it was more than one-quarter full.

THE SOUTH DELTA Aquarid meteor shower reaches its maximum during the morning of July 29. This is a fairly moderate meteor shower. Observers can expect to see an average of 20 "falling stars" per hour (about one every three minutes). This shower is named for the 4th brightest star in the constellation of Aquarius (which is identified by the 4th letter in the Greek alphabet), from which the meteors appear to radiate. Understand that the star has absolutely nothing to do with the meteors, they just happen to be located in the same area of the sky.

First Quarter Moon officially oc curs at 10:01 a.m. on the 29th. The moon is one-quarter of its way around the earth.

On July 4 the moon was near the star Antares. Now, 27 days later, on the 31st, we see the moon approaching Antares again in the evening sky On what tate in August will the moon pass Antares again? An excellent aid for learning constellations and keeping up to date with the sky is the monthly "Sky Calendar." A one-year subscription is $6 and is available from Abrams Planetarium, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48824.

Raymond Bullock was the former coordinator of the planetarium and observatory at the Cranbrook Institute of Science. He now works for a Troy company which specializes in laser displays and Creative lifestyles — It's called Creative Living. And it's a kaleidoscope of the creative ways you and your neighbors live.

It's the section of the Observer & Eccentric you're reading. And I like to think of it as a special reflection of the creativity each of us possesses to one degree or another. Some are writers. Others are artists or artisans. Many are musicians. A few are designers or history buffs. No matter. If they live in the diverse communities served by the O&E, chances are we'll profile them

Of course, we first have to learn bout these creative lifestyles — by press release, personal note or con-

Huge banners depicting old-time carnival shows hang on the museum walls.

• Back in time - It's well worth visiting Greenmead just for the trip back in time, when plank floors and spinning wheels filled homes, Greek Revival architecture, ice boxes, root cellars and carriage houses were commonplace, a roadside waiting room meant a Detroit United Railway depot and general stores carried dry goods, hardware and groceries

But there's another lure that's a labor of love for the Friends for Development of Greenmead and the Livonia Preservation Historical Commission: the community gardens at Joshua Simmons' 19th-century

Use color to make parties come to life

all about color -

Vincent

Q. My favorite way of entertaining is to give small dinner parties. I'm always looking for new color? My apartment is quite small but it does include a dining area.

A. By all means, a well-thought-out color harmony will help to make your luncheon and dinner parties out of the ordinary. But you first have to think of your table and buffet as engaging all of the visual senses, and not just color. Approach this as an artist would, balancing color with textures and shapes, and coordinating these elements with an overall theme or composition.

The composition is derived not only from the various ways a table can be set, but also from the style

pring Homearama nets sales

Attendance of at least 65,000 during the 24-day run of the Spring Homearama, which ended Sunday, surpassed the expectations of show organizers and drew raves from the builders who par-

About 50,000 had been expected to walk through the 10 models constructed in the Pheasant Run subdivision of Shelby Township.

Both figures were provided by Rosalie Lamb, show coordinator for the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

Comments from James Rutkowski, a Rochester Hills builder, were typical. We had a ton of traffic. I had a lot of interested customers." Rutkowski said he's had an offer to buy his model — Kingsley Estate — at the Homearama site and eight serious inquiries to build the model in other locaple kept telling me this is h this is the home I want," Rutkowski said. "I actually had two customers Saturday whose wives said, 'I want this house and I want it now." "

"IT WENT real well for us," concurred Paul McGillivray, a Rochester Hills builder who constructed the Bradford model for Homearama. "We had nice traffic and met people who are interesting. We sold a couple of houses.

Most people who attended Homearama weren't in the market to buy now but were looking for ideas for future moves or remodeling.

"The purpose is to showcase new houses and to show the general public what builders are capable of doing in today's market," Lamb said.

The Windemere Model, built by GTR Builders/Columbia Homes, narrowly edged The Weathervane, constructed by Gemcraft Homes, as the most desirable home in the show according to an informal people's choice poll.

Both builders are based in Mount Clemens.

THE WINDEMERE, four bedrooms and three baths with more than 3,750 square feet, is a two-story colonial.

The great room contains a vaulted ceiling, marble fireplace and two-story circular glass windows.

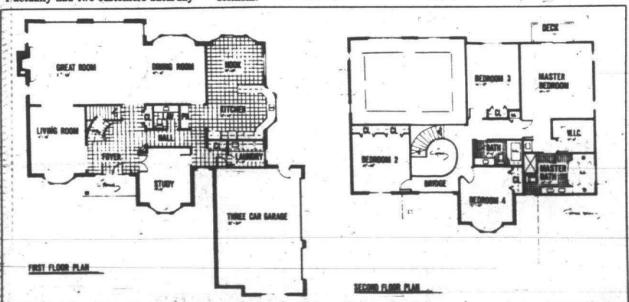

The master bedroom suite also has a high vaulted ceiling, veranda, whirlpool and oversized shower.

Other amenities include den with bay window and built-in bookcases, plus an oak circular staircase leading to the second floor bridgeway.

"They were really impressed with the great room, the height of it and a spectacular view from the bridge looking down," said Gaetano T. Rizzo, who built Marble floors in the foyer and kitchen also drew raves, he added.

The model and lot sold to a family relocating from Ohio for $385,000, Rizzo Windemere model was the People's Choice at the Spring Homearama.

Horowitz named top building entrepreneur

Getting started in the development/building able terms during the recession while most builders business in the early 1980s, when the industry had gone sour locally, turned out to be a good move for Michael P. Horowitz and Steven Friedman.

Since founding The Selective Group in 1983, they've built or have in process some 750 houses and condominiums and more than two dozen commercial projects with an aggregate value in excess of $150 million.

Horowitz, 40, a Bloomfield Township resident, recently was honored as Construction/Real Estate Entrepreneur of the Year in the Detroit area by the professional services firm of Ernst & Young.

"If there's anything obvious about all of the entrepreneurs of the year, the common thing is they're totally customer driven," said Joseph Valenti, a financial consultant at Merrill Lynch who nominated Horowitz.

The break they (Horowitz and Friedman) got is they made a decision when other people were afraid to act. That took a lot of guts. It was a tough decision to make at that time. It was fighting the HOROWITZ, A successful commercial real estate broker, and Friedman, who owned a building company, joined forces after Friedman had done some remodeling work on Horowitz's house.

Horowitz's business capabilities and Friedman's expertise in the construction end proved to be a good match

"Originally the idea was he would build some houses, sell them at a profit and pay overhead," Horowitz said. "I, like a kept mistress, could go out and develop some shopping centers."

WHAT REALLY paid dividends was the decision to acquire lots from financial institutions at favor-were sitting on the sidelines, Horowitz said.

"The market began to turn around and we were well positioned," he said. Their first house was a $250,000 spec model in West Bloomfield. Their first commercial endeavor was the Riverbank Square Shopping Center in Plymouth Township, Horowitz said

The Selective Group, headquartered in Farmington Hills, now employs 60.

They have built in residential subdivisions like Maplewood II and Stonebridge in West Bloomfield, High Oaks in Troy, Woodlore North in Plymouth and The Essex Club in Farmington Hills.

Commercial projects include Redford Square, the Berkshire Hotel in Southfield, Plymouth Trade Center, Plymouth Executive Park and Knollwood Office Park in Birmingham.

"THE PART of the business I do the most and enjoy the most is finding the deal," Horowitz said. "It's my art form of sorts. I can interact with people. I like the action.

Horowitz, unlike some big-time developers and builders, personally appears before municipal boards and commissions on mundane business that often is delegated to underlings. He likes to keep lines of communication open.

"Political interaction is getting pretty frustrating," Horowitz said. "When there is good dialogue, good communication, some communities make their goals clear. They understand our problems. In my opinion, you get better development because of that interaction.

Bad news

The good news? More and more people, businesses and industries are finding ways to recycle.

It takes more than 6,000 tons of newsprint each year to print The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers plus a number of other publications, so we're doing a number of things to help the solid waste situation:

1. For years we've sold our waste newsprint to a recycling firm.

2. 25% of the newsprint we print on is recycled and we're increasing this amount by another 25% this year.

3. Our employees have begun to And when you're finished reading routinely put officer paper (memos, house you're building, the right hardware will go a long way toward creating just the decorating touch you

The extensive list of reproduction items available today includes things such as colonial and Victorian thumb latch sets, door knobs and plates, and hinges.

Thanks to the few skilled craftsmen who've kept yesterday's blacksmithing and foundry skills alive, it is possible for the serious seeker to find handcrafted hardware that replicates what was used years ago. Many of today's craftsmen can also copy an existing piece or give new life to an old original in need of repair. There are also companies that sell a variety of machine-made production pieces that are perfectly acceptable in many old-house applimetal were a necessary part of life. In early colonial times, for example, a man had to see the blacksmith before the preacher to ensure that he would have the hardware for the new house he was building for his bride. Considered trousseau items, many pieces from the 17th and 18th centuries were decorated with Back then, most hardware was made from hand-forged iron. Since metal was expensive and labor was cheap, everything made out of iron was reused. In addition to paying or bartering with the blacksmith for his services, it wasn't unusual to also pay him with scrap metal — perhaps an old horseshoe or wagon tire equal to the metal he used to forge the new hardware.

The heyday of the blacksmith waned as machines, factories and foundries became prevalent.

Today, builders and restorers are lucky to find a good mix of both hand-forged and hand-cast, as well as machine-made, items available to outfit their houses. The classic blacksmithing, hand-forged hardware is made the same way it was Kayne & Son Custom Forged Hardware in Candler, N.C.

It's important to note that people weren't as critical back then as we are today. Since we're used to seeing machine-produced hardware, we expect things to be symmetrical. Obviously, this wasn't the case years ago, when everything was done by hand For example, it's quite common to see an original pair of andirons with one piece shorter than the other or a door hinge with uneven sides.

Modern blacksmiths, on the other hand, must work to today's standards, so care must be taken to ensure
