Flood cleanup

Cleanup concerns for Canton's flooded basements have been raised.

Trustee Elaine Kirchgatter said she received calls from "some young mothers concerned about flooding in their basements. There is a real concern about disinfecting those toys."

The Wayne County Health Department gives tips about what to do if your basement floods: Avoid flushing toilets or using other water connected appliances. Do not handle electrical cords or appliances while standing in water or on the wet floor until all power has been shut off.

After cleaning the basement make sure all clothing and body parts, which came in contact with the sewage are thoroughly washed. Discard all contaminated food and vegetables into tightly covered, vermin-proof containers.

Clothing, carpets, upholstered furniture, toys, bedding and similar items should be thrown out unless they are disinfected. After the sewage has receded, flush the floors and walls with water from a hose then wash with detergent and hot water.

Household laundry bleach diluted about one half to one cup per gallon of water is a satisfactory and inexpensive disinfectant. Do not mix chlorine bleach with ammonia, which produces poisonous gas.

Check all affected pilot lights or burners on gas fired or oil fired appliances.

Call the Wayne County Health Department at, 326-4900, for more information.

Oil recycling

Three oil recycling stations are open in Canton.

They include Valvoline Instant Oil, open 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, 44075 Ford Road; American Waste Oil, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, 44141 Yost Road at Sheldon and Canton Recycling, open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

On other recycling fronts, Canton's Recycling Station, number one behind the township administration building at 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Hopefuls doubt effect of deficit at polls

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Although they expect to gain some support from voters fed up with the month-long stalemate over the federal budget, challengers for local congressional seats know they still face an uphill battle.

And a Bloomfield Township political analyst said incumbent Congressmen in those races are so well entrenched that it would take a "political earthquake" to unseat any of them.

"It's going to be very hard, in the metro (Detroit) area, for challengers to capitalize on discontent with Washington," said Jack Casey.

The budget Congress approved Saturday cuts $40 billion this year and $500 billion in five years. In that same time, the deficit is expected to rise from $3 trillion to $5 trillion.

THE NEW BUDGET raises tax rates for the wealthiest people from 28 percent to 31 percent. More taxes will be added to gasoline, beer, wine, liquor, cigarettes, airplane tickets, and luxury cars and boats. Medicare deductibles are increased and Medicare taxes added to higher incomes.

Voting against the budget were Reps. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, and Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth. Voting to send the budget to the President were Reps. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, and William Ford, D-Taylor.

Casey sees voters in those districts — 2nd, 14th 15th, 17th and 18th — opting for the status quo on Tuesday, Nov. 6, unless there's "a political earthquake in the eight range (on the Richter scale)."

He cited factors including well-established incumbents with clean reputations, the way Michigan congressional districts are drawn and the lack of high-profile challengers.

NOT THAT people are satisfied with current leadership, Casey said. "It's the institution they are railing against, Congress as a whole, not 'our guys,'" Casey said.

CUTTING THE DEFICIT

A challenger would have to be a dynamic candidate from outside the political world to capitalize on the current situation, said the political analyst, former owner of Southfield-based Casey Communications. Center plan batted around

By Diane Gale
staff writer

The issue of building a recreation center in Canton during the years has bounced close to mortar and bricks and then it gets lobbed back to the drawing board.

In the most recent development, 60 percent of Canton voters killed a 1988 ballot question asking for a 20-year 1.2 mill tax increase to pay for an $8 million facility.

THE RECREATION building was to be built on a 105 acres behind the township administration building, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill.

Plans include a inside and outdoor pool, a gym with running track, senior citizen center, health and exercise area, meeting rooms, a preschool program, a dance and aerobics area and recreation department offices.

Canton's recreation facilities are inadequate, said recreation director Mike Gouin.

Residents fill recreation programs and in many cases spill over into waiting lists, Gouin said. Many of the programs, like dance and sports games, are in inadequate makeshift facilities, like elementary schools that do not have showers.

The operating costs in 1988 were estimated at $335,000 annually. Currently, the costs are pegged at about $665,000 annually. Between 70 and 75 percent of the costs would be covered by fees.

"The goal would be to generate enough to cover the operation costs," said supervisor Tom Yack.

"Realistically that is probably not doable," he said. "There are certain aspects that aren't big in generating revenue. For example, gymnasiums have a larger overhead, but are not generators of revenue."

Officials answer rec. center questions

Residents speak out about
rec. center, 3A

By Diane Gale

Supervisor Tom Yack and recreation director Mike Gouin recently answered questions about a plan to build a recreation center in Canton Township.

Q Regardless of how the recreation center is built there would be tax money spent in some way. Would you be willing to forego the community center and cut taxes the amount of money the township would save?

A Yack: The tax dollars that would be used in the construction of the facility come from a number of sources. One of the primary sources I would imagine would be from the solid waste community improvement fund and when we set up the fund, as an outgrowth of a contract with Wayne Disposal and also Waste Management, we committed those dollars to public improvement programs.

Those were in four areas: beautification, infrastructure, which would improve roads and sidewalks, solid waste planning and recreation.

The whole idea was to take dollars that were not planned for and keep those dollars as an investment for the community for the long term.

Sure those dollars could be used to reduce taxes, no question about it.

If you look at our millage rate, we levy 1.1 mills for general township purposes. For the average taxpayer that's $50 or $60 a year. We could take their $50 or $60 local property tax general fund contribution down to zero, but I think most people that I run into are looking to build a community that they feel proud of and that they like to live in.

Quality of life issues deal with the four areas that I mentioned as well as others. But certainly quality of life in most people's minds would focus on schools, public recreation, and police and fire services. We're in a period of time that we have to spend dollars on those elements for this community to mature in a fashion that will make people want to stay here a long period of time.

Q If you were to fold that money into the general fund how much could you cut taxes?

A Yack: You could I suppose capture any revenue, be it by selling property, solid waste or any other resource that would come into the community, it would come into the general fund. You could then transfer and pay a portion of fire, a portion of police. Typically you think that if it comes into the general fund, that's where it should be spent. Of the $8 million 70 percent comes from local property taxes and 90 percent comes from other sources.

Q How much would it be that you're getting from the landfill money?

A Yack: You could cut maybe 2 mills.

Q What measure have you used to decide that Canton residents want a recreation center?

A Yack: I get out to a lot of groups. I always ask. Do you think that Canton needs a community center, or a facility of that nature. And the responses usually, typically, are overwhelmingly yes. I can't even think of a group that I've been with that has pulled out the tomatoes and started throwing them. And then we get into funding and they appreciate the fact that it would not cost them any more in millage. And they appreciate us trying to find other avenues of funding rather than the typical reaching into your pocket and pulling out four bucks more a year. Government is good at that.

Q What is your stand on supporting a YMCA?

A Yack: A long time ago they had approached the school district, when I was on the Plymouth-Canton school board, looking for a donation of land, at that time I was willing to donate the land. Other board members were not. They never got the donation of land. Through the years I think the Y has recognized the need to have a facility in the Plymouth, Canton, Northville communities. I don't think they've been able to garner the financial support.

One of the difficulties for the Y is location. Where would you put it if you're covering Northville, Plymouth and Canton? You're talking 100,000 people throughout in a geographic area that is enormous.

In Livonia they have a community Y and a number of indoor recreation facilities in a community that is 36 square miles and 40,000 more people than Canton. I think they'd have a hard time servicing that area. I think they'd like to know that they continue to try.

Gouin: Over the years we've met representatives from the YMCA trying to convince them Canton was a desirable site for a YMCA, because we recognize that there is a need for not only a YMCA, but for other indoor recreation in this community.

The bottom line is that the dollars just aren't here right now and until Goals: When you look at what you can do for the community in the next 10 years, for the life of the landfill, it will increase the quality of life. What will it do to the value of homes for the next 10 years? Will you really be saving money?

Q How do you respond to residents who say your administration is forcing an issue they've already voted against. If you were convinced the majority of Canton residents were against the recreation center would you still pursue it?

A Yack: The way I look at the issue is that the recreation advisory has done a survey of the interest in the community prior to the 1988 election and that survey clearly indicated that people wanted or saw a need in a community center. The board took that information, and it appeared as though there were no other financial resources available to the township at the time except for a tax increase, a millage request. That millage request went to the people and they said: "No, we are not willing to pay a tax increase for a community center." Here we have opposing sets of data. Yes we want one, but no we don't want to pay for it.

We've done one large survey in Canton, in Sunflower (subdivision), and we asked them two questions. One was: "Would you be willing to pay for a community center by increased taxes?" And the answer was by and large no. And, if we could by without raising taxes would you support it? And the answer was yes. That's not all of Canton, but that's more confirmation that if we could provide a community center without any increases in taxes, I think that's what people would like. People want more for their money I guess.

Gouin: There were a couple of board members who received a lot of feedback saying why didn't we have something like this and there were other board members who had heard the same thing so they thought it was time to put this to a vote.

Q What is your stand on supporting a YMCA?

A Yack: A long time ago they had approached the school district, when I was on the Plymouth-Canton school board, looking for a donation of land, at that time I was willing to donate the land. Other board members were not. They never got the donation of land. Through the years I think the Y has recognized the need to have a facility in the Plymouth, Canton, Northville communities. I don't think they've been able to garner the financial support.

Gouin: Over the years we've met representatives from the YMCA trying to convince them Canton was a desirable site for a YMCA, because we recognize that there is a need for not only a YMCA, but for other indoor recreation in this community.

The bottom line is that the dollars just aren't here right now and until we can build that base of support with the dollars in the community through extension programs through the local YMCA it's not going to happen. YMCA certainly fulfills a great need in a community, but a community recreation center services a different need, in some ways there is a slight overlap. And the fee structures aren't going to be geared in the same way as a YMCA and there are going to be quite a few people who are not going to be able to afford to participate in the YMCA program, who would be able to participate in the community center with a comparable program.

Q Would you put another question about the recreation center on the ballot?

A Yack: Usually you think of ballot issues as money issues. This wouldn't be a money issue. When Mike and I started talking about this, I said: Mike no only way this could be done is without a tax increase to the Canton taxpayers, because otherwise we would come under tremendous criticism. They just voted against one and here goes government again. Usually you think of schools doing it. Here goes government again wanting to do something where the people have already said clearly no.

Q How about putting the issue on the ballot as an advisory question?

A Yack: Our attorneys tell us that advisory questions have no substance to them and if they're on with another issue it could invalidate the other issues. If there was a grounds of opposition to the approach that we have laid out, obviously the board would consider that option as well as some others as well. Maybe a communitywide survey. There are other ways of doing it without spending the money on a special election.

All the signals coming to me are very positive. I'm not going to look for the bogymen in the closet.

How is this any different from government spending dollars on anything in a capital nature?

Yack: A community needs a place for lots of different reasons and that's when you get a sense of a community. In the city of Plymouth you have the cultural center and Kellogg Park. The (Canton) library has served that role, for the past few years. To a large extent we see a big void.

Q What measure have you used to decide that Canton residents want a recreation center?

Spirited youths make haunted house

By Diane Gale

Staff writer

Move over, Freddy Krueger. Step aside, Stephen King. Jason, you ain't seen nothing until you've checked out the haunted house on Joy and I-275 in the Pine Tree Plaza.

BEHIND THE MASKS and chain saws are some 16 area teenagers and young adults, who say they are working to benefit Muscular Dystrophy.

"We've always wanted to do one (a haunted house)," said Christine Formigan, the adult support behind the kids' energy.

—If you dare to take a walk on the scary side, tickets are available next door to the haunted house at Soft Swirl, which Formigan owns. Tickets for the Halloween special are $3 a person. Children 5 years old and younger are admitted free.

If you're curious at heart but weak of knee, the best time to go is between 6:30-8 p.m. today through Halloween. The truly brave are invited to visit between 8-10 p.m.

Formigan said the group expected to open the haunted house Oct. 19, but problems with township codes delayed the ghoulish opening day.

The people behind the blood and gore trying to give you your frights' worth are: John McDougall, Brian Sherman, Jamie Hay, Justine Hay, Art Bellingham, Carlos Rubio, Matt Stoelt, Mike Stoelt, Jon Bonk, Eric Davis, Dan Stevenson, Paul Ritter, Shelton Holtzclaw, Ronda Wiatt, Dee Wiatt and Lori Ege.

"They have gruesome imaginations," said Christine Formigan's daughter, Lea.

A SMALL group, who walked through for a preview show Oct. 22, had mixed reactions.

"It was funny," said Natalie Schlickemeyer, 7.

Rachel Hesch, 6, came out with her cheeks tear-streaked. "It was scary," she said, adding that she wouldn't go back in.

Jana Schlickemeyer, 9, said she laughed and cried while watching the exhibits that include one side show titled, "Dinner Time."

"I saw a guy with a chain saw, and there's someone trying to grab you," she said. "Before I went in I was really scared and afterward you want to go in again."

Betsy Stoelt, 10, said walking through the haunted house was "an adventure and really fun." Her brother, Mike Stoelt, explained that the strobe lights make you dizzy if you're in there long enough.

Just when they thought it was over — a chainsaw, bully shows up in Canton.

Residents sound off over rec center

Editor's note: We asked Canton residents to tell us what they think about a Canton Township proposal to build a recreation/community center. The following are the responses we have received.

• NO FREE MONEY
Private industry, not township officials, should be hiring an architectural firm to study the question of whether a recreation center is needed; and, if such a facility is deemed feasible, then private industry should construct, equip, insure and operate such a facility on a paying basis.

Those using the facility should be contributing for its upkeep and operation. Those participating in an enclosed temperature-controlled space in activities such as basketball, volleyball, aerobics and dance, walking/jogging, sports camps and exhibitions would then be charged with- out further burdening the already-overburdened taxpayers.

We lose sight of the fact there is no free money. Federal grants in the form of Community Development Block Grant money, and state grants like a Michigan Recreation Bond issue, are monies already generated from the taxpayers.

The homeowners in Canton Township are already heavily penalized with the ever-escalating SEV assessments. My home assessment has risen from an assessed value in 1973 of $19,260 to $51,680 in 1990. If the Canton Township general fund has a plus-balance, and if money is to be realized from selling township-owned land, and if revenue is generated when a new landfill is built, perhaps these monies should be returned to the local taxpayers through a reduction of the tax rate.

• NOT VERY FAIR
No, but it doesn't matter; the politicians will do what they want. We could vote "no." Not a very fair World Series, is it? The taxpayer always loses in the long run.

• BIG FISH
Someone should remind our elected officials that they are big fish according to some standards but they are still in a little pool. The longer they are in office the more they emulate their counterparts in Lansing and Washington. We did not need a recreation building in 1988 and do not need one now.

Keep the lights on all night for a safe Halloween

By A. Giral Bedford
staff writer

An extra nine cents on your monthly electric bill will help make this a safer Halloween.

Among many suggestions to help everybody enjoy the upcoming holiday, Sgt. Robert Smith of the Plymouth Township Police recommends residents to leave their porch lights on all night.

And according to Lorie Kessler, spokeswoman for Detroit Edison, leaving a 100-watt light on for 10 hours costs nine cents. These are the common wattages of many porch lights, she said.

Residents lights will be particularly necessary in streets and roads with limited or no public lighting. "We have to rely on residents to light up the streets," Smith said.

Safety measures should start with the costumes. Smith said to use common sense and not to dress the children in outfits that may hinder their vision or movement. He also recommended wearing make-up instead of masks.

Attention should be paid to ensure that other people, especially drivers, can see the children. For example, the costumes should not be all in dark colors. But Smith is realistic about children's taste. "They'll be wearing their ninja outfits and running around in camouflage," he said.

place preferably during daylight or dusk. Smith said the ideal hours would be 5-7 p.m.

Parents should accompany the children, but if that isn't possible, Pat Nemecek, Canton Township public safety information officer, recommends that an older brother accompany children. And if they must go at night, they should carry a flashlight and some type of reflector tape on their clothing, he said.

Children should also plan with their parents the route they will travel. Nemecek added, this way, in an emergency, parents will be able to locate them.

Nemecek also said, "Pick streets that are well lit and only cross at the corners." Children should not cross from between parked cars either. If they must trick-or-treat on streets without pavements, they should walk facing traffic.

All treats should be inspected by parents before children eat them. "Be conscious of suspicious treats or with torn wrappers," Smith said.

Canton Township Public Safety will be working with McDonald's and Kiwanis inspecting candy. Nemecek said. Inspections will take place 6-9 p.m. at the McDonald's restaurants at 4490 Ford Road and at 40241 Michigan Ave., both in Canton. These inspections are open to all children regardless of where they live. Children and their parents will receive free orange drinks while children will also get bags with cookies and candy.

Parents should also remember that a safe alternative to neighborhood trick-or-treating is downtown trick-or-treating. From 5:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 30, the downtown Plymouth merchants will pass out candy to children accompanied by their parents.

For Devil's Night, the basic recommendation is to keep the porch lights on, Smith said. "Good lighting will go a long way to deter any of the seasonal pranks that might occur," he said, but added that this area has not had serious problems with past Devil's Nights. The most common pranks have been throwing toilet paper on trees, ringing door-bells and soaping windows, he said. "The kids are being malicious, but they don't intend to cause excessive damage," Smith said. He noted it is important not to turn off the lights when small children go to bed. "As it gets darker and later, the bigger kids come out," he said.

The Plymouth Township Police Department will also cooperate with residents. "We'll also have more patrols directed toward the neighborhood being a deterrent, making sure everybody has a safe and enjoyable Halloween," Smith said.

Canton's public safety will also have additional officers highly visible both days.

Hopefuls say deficit not enough to oust incumbents rates since spring. But he isn't sure how many votes it's going to win him "even though now, all of a sudden, that's become an issue."

"Ironically, it (discontent with Congress) could work for incumbents," Lankford said. "I'm afraid that people in this district (which includes Southfield, Lathrup Village and Redford Township) are so pissed off they just won't vote."

Walter O. Briggs IV, a Democrat challenging longtime U.S. Rep. Broomfield, said people are upset with the lack of leadership in Congress. That should bolster his campaign and that of other challengers, he said.

BUT HE SAID he wasn't sure how much the highly publicized, month-long battle between Congress and President George Bush over a deficit reduction plan would affect his race.

"I do know one thing," Briggs said. "I see Bill able to get lots of air time (on radio and television news and talk shows) over this."

Briggs, like Lankford, said turning off voters — especially informed voters — was a worry.

Casey called Briggs an attractive candidate. Briggs is a descendant of the former Detroit Tigers owner and auto supplier. He is related by marriage to the late Michigan Sen. Phil

Hart. Briggs also has the deepest pockets and best political ties of any challenger.

But he's young (33), running as a Democrat from a Republican family and "has had trouble getting his message across," Casey said.

Republican Burl Adkins, challenging Ford for the second time in two years, said people in the 15th District (which includes Westland, Garden City, Canton Township and the southern half of Livonia) may be ready "now more than ever" for a change in their representation in Washington.

James Anulewicz, Plymouth Township municipal services director, said the planning commission had passed an earlier resolution to develop the parcel as single-family residential homes on one-acre lots.

Just east of the land owned by the Islamic Center is the Plymouth Commons subdivision, where homes are now under construction on one-acre lots.

Faye said the Islamic Center of America, headquartered for 27 years on Joy Road in Detroit, has 5,000 members. "We're a religious organization that teaches religion and culture and the Islamic faith," Faye described Islamic Center members as "highly educated successful businessmen, they're hard working people."

He said a 45-acre parcel bordering

Napier Road was bought in June 1988, and the remainder of the property to the east was bought in July 1989.

Tax talk disappoints area financial planners

By Janice Brunson
and Wayne Peal
staff writers

Disappointment reigned among area financial experts last week even before Congress finished work on the new federal budget.

Congress reached agreement on the new budget Saturday afternoon — proposals include a new 31 percent tax bracket for high income Americans, up from 28 percent, reductions in some tax deductions, a new luxury tax on large autos, as well as boats and airplanes and other expensive items new taxes on gasoline, alcohol and tobacco and raised the exemption level for Medicare taxes.

Even without final details, area financial planners said they were profoundly disappointed the debate had centered so heavily on new taxes.

"The U.S. Congress is only interested in additional revenue, not reducing any fat in Washington," said Norman Wiest, a certified financial planner based in Plymouth. "This new budget (if passed) is actually going to increase the deficit. Cuts of $500 billion over five years are nowhere near enough, the way Congress spends money. Three times that amount, $1.5 trillion, would be meaningful."

RAISING TAXES on the wealthy may be politically popular, but won't be effective, warned Pat McWilliams of Capital Financial Planning, Livonia.

"If they (the rich) get taxed more, they always get more breaks," McWilliams said. "Everyone's going to pay more and the average guy usually pays most, percentage-wise, anyway."

But not every financial planner was unhappy with the new taxes being proposed. "It puts taxes on people earning $200,000 or more a year. I'm not in that category," said Stephanie Erickson of Money Concepts, Westland. Erickson, in fact, argued against some budget cuts.

"Medicare shouldn't be cut. Too many elderly need it," she said. "New taxes on beer and cigarettes? I really don't care, but I'd hate to see taxes on gas increased."

But Erickson agreed with President Bush's call for a cut in capital gains taxes.

"I'd like to see (capital gains) taxes dropped from 28 to 15 percent," she said. "That would benefit a lot of middle-class (people) and below."

ANOTHER TAX on the well-to-do — a 10 percent luxury tax on expensive automobiles — could keep people out of auto showrooms, one dealer warned.

"I don't think the tax itself is that bad, it's the perception of the tax that could be harmful," said Don Massey of Don Massey Cadillac, Plymouth. "I don't think most people fully understand exactly what's been passed. I don't think we fully understand. The difficult and harmful part is people could be steered away (from new purchases) because of perception. It could cause a lot of people to subconsciously stay away."

Area Congressmen split on the budget vote, as they did on earlier, rejected, budget summit agreement.

Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, who voted against the initial package, again voted no. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, who voted in favor of the initial agreement, again voted yes.

William Ford, D-Taylor, voted against the initial agreement, but voted yes this time.

Like the financial professionals, Pursell said he was disappointed the debate had shifted to taxes, instead of spending.

Spending "bills would increase spending by $32 billion, according to Pursell's estimate."

"It's NOT going to help the economy if we can't get a handle on spending," Pursell said.

Pursell's district includes northern

Livonia, Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Ford, who represents southern Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Canton, "believes it is about time to stop spending on a credit card and passing the bill on to his grandchildren," according to a spokesman.

Levin said the budget package, while less than perfect, was the best Congress could expect.

"There's no real alternative," Levin said. "It's not as fair a package as I would like, but we have made it more fair (than the original)."

Levin's district includes Redford.

Deputies to check Halloween candies

Community service officers with the Wayne County Sheriff's office will once again use metal detectors to conduct candy checks to ensure a safe Halloween for trick or treaters.

Officers will check candy 5:30-7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, at two Livonia locations: McDonald's, Five Mile and Middlebelt and the Wayne County Sheriff's Park Station, 37401 Edward Hines Drive, at the corner of Newburg Road.

Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies are also distributing free reflective bags and safety tip sheets to area students.

- Safety tips include:
- Never go trick or treating alone. Always be accompanied by an adult.
 - Don't stay out too late.
 - Always let your parent know the route you are taking.
 - Wear something that shows up in the dark.
 - Cross the streets at corners and watch for traffic.
 - Don't cross between parked cars.
 - Take masks off when you cross the streets.
 - Have your treats checked at a precinct or mini station for razors and pins.
 - Throw away candy that is loose or torn in the wrapper and candy or popcorn that is not packaged.
 - Be a good citizen. Don't do tricks or vandalism if you don't get a treat.
 - Watch out for others. Help smaller children if they need assistance.
 - Report vandalism or fires to the police or an adult.
 - Never accept rides from strangers.
 - Don't go inside anyone's home.

KNEE PAIN AND FLUID IN THE KNEE

Fluid in the knee causes pain as much from its sudden occurrence as by its amount. The normal knee holds a 1/2 cc of fluid; individuals can carry as much as 100 cc in the knee joint and experience little discomfort. Yet 5-10 cc can bring that same person to tears because of the pain that fluid creates. If fluid accumulates slowly the knee joint adapts, if the extra fluid comes in a rush, the joint capsule distends; this sudden stretch causing great pain.

Tears in knee ligaments and frays in the joint's cartilage are also reasons for pain. In these circumstances there may be no extra fluid in the knee.

When you have fluid in the knee, your doctor aspirates the joint to withdraw the fluid. This procedure relieves stretch on the joint capsule, at such times injection of the knee with a steroid helps to prevent the reaccumulation of fluid.

When there is pain in the knee, but no fluid, your doctor puts a needle into the knee, mainly to inject steroid. The medicine does not "lubricate" the joint, but acts to soothe sites of irritation in torn ligaments or frayed cartilage. The injection will initiate healing and end disability.

"I play hard. I work hard. And I expect the same kind of effort from my health plan."

BOWLERS

"I want a health plan that's on the job when I'm sick or when I'm well. Everyone expects to be covered when they're sick, right? And it only makes sense to be covered when you're well, for things like checkups, lab tests, x-rays. That's why I signed up for Care Choices HMO."

"Care Choices is everything I bargained for. I'm covered for preventive care for only a small co-pay. I can go to some of the best doctors and hospitals around for my care. And I even get discounts on certain programs that promote a healthy lifestyle. Naturally, I'm covered for hospitalization and emergency care worldwide."

"Another thing is, with Care Choices, I save money over my old plan. And I save aggravation."

There's not much paperwork. And if I have questions, I can call my local representative and get the answers.

"So, if you were to ask me why I have Care Choices Health Plans, I'd say, 'Because it's health coverage that works.'"

By Tim Richard
staff writer

The male candidates didn't show up, so the female candidates had a love-in.

State Supreme Court Justice Patricia Boyle, a Democratic nominee, said "On criminal matters, she would be similar to me."

Judy Hughes, a Republican nominee for the high court, said "I'm not running against my esteemed sister. There are not many cases in criminal law where I disagree with Justice Boyle."

They went on to prove it in a discussion of "basketball score" prison sentences.

Not showing up Wednesday for the forum on the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus were Justice Michael Cavanagh, a Democratic nominee, and W. Clark Durant, a Republican nominee. Under a quirk in Michigan law, Supreme Court candidates are nominated by political parties but run on a non-partisan ballot.

THE SENTENCING question was raised by one of just a handful of students attending the session. The state's highest court threw out a trial court's sentence of hundreds of years of a man convicted of stabbing, killing and robbing.

"I wrote the dissent," replied Boyle. "The trial court had authorized something that couldn't be done (sentences running beyond life expectancy). But the legislature had authorized any term of years. I lost 4-3."

"I would have joined in the dissent," said Hughes, adding "Some members of the court have been eroding the authority of trial judges for 20 years."

The candidates didn't discuss workers compensation or unemployment compensation cases, where Boyle and two Democrats have lined up solidly against three Republicans.

Justice Charles Levin, elected as an independent, has been a swing vote.

On criminal matters, however, Boyle votes with the most conservative members of the court.

EACH BOASTED a tough-on-crime career in other ways. Boyle said, "I worked on the Criminal Sexual Conduct Act (of the 1970s). It assures a woman's sexual history can't be brought out in a rape case. It's one of the most significant accomplishments of my life."

Hughes said that in Barry County she successfully prosecuted "a dirty drive-in movie west of town. The drive-in flew in lawyers from California and Georgia." When the place burned down, Hughes said she helped prevent its being rebuilt because it was a non-conforming use under the zoning ordinance.

Boyle: "I'm the only justice with significant trial court experience." Hughes: "You don't necessarily have to be a trial judge (to be an appellate court judge. You need trial experience — and common sense."

BOTH BORE children while attending law school and had to fight for their early jobs.

"I was first in my law school class, the only woman," Boyle said. "Out of 350, I was the last person to get a job. I've never forgotten."

"I fought off five local attorneys" to win the Barry County prosecutor's election, said Hughes, admitting she was something of a carpetbagger for being new in town. The Indiana-born lawyer also said she spent her junior year of high school in Japan, "immersed in Japanese culture."

Patricia Boyle, incumbent

COURTS ARE heavily burdened, they agreed.

Boyle said, "The system is extremely overburdened — too many cases, too much time, they cost too much."

Boyle called for "equitable funding" of the trial courts — circuit, probate and district. Outside of Detroit and Wayne County, local courts are financed by local units, with wide disparities in caseloads, pay and facilities.

TAX DEDUCTION SWEET TAX DEDUCTION

Now our home equity loans are an even sweeter deal.
Get an interest credit of up to $50.
Put the equity you have in your home to work for you with a Comerica home equity loan.
The interest may be fully tax deductible* — and if you apply between September 17 and November 16, 1990, you'll receive an interest credit of up to $50.
And Comerica gives you these four loans to choose from:
• IDEAL CREDIT LINE — A credit line ($5,000 to $20,000) accessed by check or IDEAL VISA® card.
• EQUITY LINE — A credit line ($20,000 to $200,000) you access by check.
• FIXED EQUITY INSTALLMENT LOAN — A fixed payment, fixed rate loan in amounts from $5,000 to $50,000.
• AUTO EQUITY LOAN — A fixed rate loan to be used to purchase a car. You may borrow up to the maximum available equity you have in your home.
Use the money to consolidate other higher interest rate loans, make home improvements, pay for education expenses, or even buy that dream car. Whatever need you might have, a Comerica home equity loan makes a lot of sense. Because when it comes to borrowing money, there's no place like home.

Mettetal purchase supported

To the editor:

Let me first say I am not now nor do I have plans to be involved in aviation or local area business, real estate speculation or government. I am a homeowner and taxpayer.

Several weeks ago as I exited the Great Scott (now Kroger) at Ann Arbor and Sheldon roads in Plymouth, I was asked to sign a petition to "stop the use of my tax dollars" by Plymouth Township to purchase and operate Mettetal Airport.

Having just read a newspaper summary of the township board meeting, I knew the board specified approval of the project only if no Plymouth Township funds were involved and I so responded.

I was then asked if I "paid federal taxes," and again being aware from the article that funding would be by the Airport Trust Fund, I knew this money was not from my income taxes but from airport landing fees and taxes on airline tickets, aviation fuel, etc. My response was:

1. The facts are being misrepresented. Why? What's going on?" and,
2. (Having been a senior manager in business for many years) "I am well aware what a valuable asset a general aviation facility is to the Canton-Plymouth community's current and potential industry."

Dispatchers played key role in rescue

To the editor:

In the Thursday, Oct. 18 edition of the Plymouth Observer, your paper included a very positive assessment of the teamwork displayed in a recent public safety emergency.

The emergency services employees of the City of Plymouth take pride in delivering quality services, and sincerely appreciated the public acknowledgment from your newspaper. A key element in our emergency services was unfortunately omitted in your kind remarks, however, and I would like to draw attention to the excellent job of our dispatchers.

As a long-term member of the Michigan Emergency Telephone Services Committee and immediate past chairman, I am very cognizant of the vital role that telecommunications play in delivering emergency services. We are constantly reviewing training and hiring standards, procedures and equipment needs to give our employees the tools they need to process calls for help. Our employees respond by doing their jobs in a professional, albeit quiet, manner.

In the case of the Med-evac incident, it was dispatchers who coordinated the numerous players and services involved. Every radio and phone call was passed through a dispatcher, who had to act promptly and without error to make sure the pieces fell together.

Yet, as in most incidents in emergency services, the field workers are prominently displayed in media photos, have the satisfaction of seeing their hard work come together and exchange the pats on the back. Meanwhile, the dispatchers, isolated from the outside world, continue to answer phones and worry that "their" police and firefighters are OK out there.

I am proud of the men and women who quietly go about perhaps the most difficult job in our organization, and gain little recognition for it — the dispatchers. Please keep them in mind in your future evaluations of public safety incidents and the teamwork aspect of our organization.

Richard W. Myers, Chief
Plymouth Police

Learning program questioned

To the editor:

I and a number of parents who I have had discussions with have some concerns regarding the developmental program that are not being addressed or answered.

Yes, I have been to the principal of my children's school. Still no answer.

Yes, I went to the board of education meeting last night (Monday). Still no answer.

This is our third year of developmental, why don't we still have the answers. Here are just some of the questions and if anyone can give me some direct answers, please do so:

- In the 1988-89 school year when the developmental program was started, it was stated that this program was geared for the smaller-size classroom (19-22). Our classrooms are larger than this, what have we done to change this program so it is now geared for the 28-30 classroom size?
- In talking with teachers and parents, we find that not only are individual schools run differently, but classes within each school are run differently. Why is this not a unified program? We understand that teachers teach in different methods, but when one teacher has reading books, reading groups, spelling lists, etc., and the other teacher does not, something is not balanced.
- What are you doing to differentiate between those students who are more advanced or may need special attention within their own classroom, as the program would lead you to believe.
- You would think in any new program that is instituted it would be closely monitored, especially in light of the fact that it is already doomed for failure, based on the schools' statements that this program is designed for smaller classroom sizes than we currently have. As of this date, the school has not been able to demonstrate that there are any checks and balances in place.
- How can a student develop at their own developmental level when everyone does the same thing together in a classroom?
- What is the evaluation process for the individual student?
- I guess in order to get some answers regarding our children's education is not as easy as we thought. Why?

Congress tackles civil rights, defense issues

Here's how Observer & Eccentric-area members of congress were recorded on major roll-call votes between Oct. 12-19. HOUSE:

To Cut Defense — The House refused, 201 for and 215 against, to cut 2 percent across-the-board from the $288.2 billion defense appropriations bill for fiscal 1991. The cut would not have affected the Desert Shield operation in the Middle East, which is funded separately.

The bill (HR 5803) was passed and sent to conference with the Senate. Counting military funding in other bills, the Pentagon's first post-Cold War budget will total $288 billion, about 4 percent below the comparable 1990 figure.

Amendment sponsor Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., said "every dollar we spend on... land wars in Europe is a dollar thrown away from America's future."

Opponent Tom Lewis, R-Fla., said "across-the-board cuts are dangerous" because they affect vital programs as well as lesser ones.

A yes vote was to cut the 1991 defense budget by 2 percent.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: William Ford, D-Ypsilanti and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

To Cut Interior Bill — By a vote of 167 for and 234 against, the House rejected a proposed 4.6 percent cut in the fiscal 1991 appropriations bill (HR 5769) for the Interior Department and related agencies. As later approved by the House, the bill costs about $11.9 billion, up six percent over the comparable 1990 bill.

Sponsor Bill Frenzel, R-Minn., said "a modest 4.6 percent cut... is certainly warranted in these times of fiscal crisis."

Opponent Ralph Regula, R-Ohio, said that "we have worked hard to keep the totals down" in Appropriations committee crafting of the bill.

A yes vote was to cut the Interior appropriations bill by 4.6 percent.

Voting yes was Pursell and Broomfield.

Voting no was Hertel and Levin.

Not voting was Ford.

Covert Aid To Angola — By a vote of 175 for and 246 against, the House rejected an amendment to end covert aid, reportedly $60 million this year, to the UNITA forces fighting the Soviet-backed Marxist government of Angola. The amendment stipulated that any continuation of the aid be openly requested by President Bush and publicly approved by Congress. The vote occurred as the House sent to the Senate a bill (HR 5422) funding the CIA and other government intelligence activities in fiscal 1991.

"If it makes sense to provide aid why should it not be dealt with in the open?" asked sponsor Ron Delums, D-Calif.

Opponent Henry Hyde, R-Ill., said America is "committed to fighting

Roll Call Report

Communist Tyranny, whether it is in Afghanistan... Cambodia or... Angola."

A yes vote was to end covert aid to anti-Marxist rebels in Angola.

Voting yes was Hertel, Ford, and Levin.

Voting no was Pursell and Broomfield.

Civil Rights Bill — By a vote of 273 for and 154 against, the House approved the conference report on a bill (S 2104) making it easier for minorities, women and others to seek redress in the courts against job discrimination. President Bush has said he will veto the bill because it could lead employers to adopt personnel quotas.

Reversing Supreme Court decisions of recent years, the bill shifts to employers the burden of showing challenged personnel decisions were made out of business necessity rather than bias. Another key provision enables plaintiffs to collect punitive as well as compensatory damages if they win their suit.

Supporter Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., called it "public relations, the big lie technique" to claim the bill would lead to personnel quotas.

Opponent Harris Fawell, R-Ill., said "simply stating that this bill is not a quotas bill does not mean that it is not a quotas bill."

A yes vote was to approve the bill.

Voting yes was Pursell, Ford, Hertel and Levin.

SENATE

Civil Rights Bill — By a vote of 62 for and 34 against, the Senate approved the conference report on a bill (S 2104) to combat workplace discrimination based on race, sex, religion, nationality or color. Sixty-seven votes are needed to override President Bush's promised veto of the bill if all 100 senators vote.

The civil rights measure counters Supreme Court rulings that have made it more difficult for plaintiffs to file and win job bias suits. It also adds punitive damages, of up to $150,000 in most cases, to the remedies available to those who win their case.

Supporters said the legislation protects civil rights without imposing affirmative action quotas, while opponents said employers would resort to hiring and promoting by the numbers to avoid costly litigation. The president's veto vow reflects business community criticism it is a quota bill.

A yes vote supported the bill.

Voting yes were Senators "Carl Levin, D and Donald Riegle, D.

Abortion — By a 48-48 tie vote, the Senate failed to table (kill) a requirement that medical authorities notify at least one parent in advance when a daughter under 18 is scheduled for an abortion in a federally funded hospital or clinic. Parental approval of the operation would not be required. The amendment was attached to a Department of Health and Human Services appropriations bill (HR 5803) for fiscal 1991.

bill (HR 5257) later sent to conference with a House bill containing no such provision. It would become the first such requirement in federal law.

A yes vote was against the parental notification requirement.

Voting yes was Levin and Riegle.

Stealth Bomber — By a vote of 44 for and 50 against, the Senate refused to limit production of the B-2 or Stealth bomber to six planes rather than the 75 copies the Air Force wants built. The amendment sought to signal an end to B-2 production while preserving the technological base that the taxpayers' $27 billion investment in the Stealth program has bought. Before the Cold War ended, the ultimate mission of the radar-evading plane was to deliver nuclear warheads deep inside the Soviet Union. This vote occurred as the Senate sent to conference with the House a $288 billion defense appropriations bill (HR 5803) for fiscal 1991.

UM-D holds dedication

The University of Michigan-Dearborn, dedicated the school's newly renovated administration building in ceremonies Friday.

The building, constructed 31 years ago and formerly called the student activities center, is the first phase of an $11.7 million campus renovation project started in 1989.

The renovated structure now houses executive offices and faculty offices, studios for the arts and classrooms. Future buildings slated for renovation include science and computer buildings and the student services center.

Savory secret is nutmeg

During a recent visit to the Eastern Market, I bought my first pumpkin of the season.

Small in stature and somewhere between the size of a one quart and a two-quart saucepan, this burnt-orange-and-brown speckled harvest vegetable ended up as a velvety soup that was as savory as an appetizer as it was sweet as a dessert.

Sure, the pumpkin itself was the mainstay of the soup but I just couldn't resist commenting about one tiny ingredient that made the soup so memorable. It was the chrome on an automobile, the crispness in the new sheets. It was the smell of a bakery or the sharpness of a new knife. Isn't it amazing what an iota of spice can do for a recipe?

In this case, however, an iota of nutmeg has the potential to come across more like an avalanche. This is one potent spice that has the potential to make a statement by a simple grating.

The tall and beautiful tree that bears the nutmeg has a yellowish fruit that resembles an apricot. When the fruit reaches the peak of ripeness, it splits open to reveal a nut covered with what looks like red lace. This crimson web is mace, the sister spice of the nutmeg that surrounds a tiny shell that encloses the dark nutmeg seed itself. Grated mace tastes similar to nutmeg but is more pungent.

THE NUTMEG is then dried in the sun for six to eight weeks, during which time the kernel shrinks back from its shell. The shell is then broken to reveal the oval, furrowed, grayish-brown seed. Larger seeds are sold as spice while the smaller ones are pressed for their oil, which finds its way into soaps, perfumes, ointments and medicines.

Ah, but this potent little seed carries a dark cross. Nutmeg contains a narcotic chemical known as myristicin that in large doses can be harmful. Cakes and teas containing high amounts can bring on hallucinations. But, like other such chemicals, myristicin has nasty side effects including headaches, nausea and even death.

Today's cooks need not fear these side effects since the amounts used in recipes are rarely enough to create problems. One person would have to eat the equivalent of two whole nutmegs before any symptoms appeared. Because small amounts are used, it is always preferable to keep whole nutmegs and grate only so much as is needed at one time. Once ground, the flavor deteriorates rapidly.

What is the flavor that is perceived? Personally, my mind conjures up a musky, aromatic warmth, with just a subtle hint of nuttiness. Not only was it noticeable in my pumpkin soup but the Italians use nutmeg in pastas, meat stuffings and vegetable dishes. The Indians include it in their rich curries.

My favorite bartender, Hanna, uses it to spice up her tropical hot coffee drinks, with just a dash being sprinkled on the whipped cream that inevitably gets stirred in.

You don't have to have an ethnic origin to enjoy nutmeg. Roasted chicken stuffed with a nutmeg-scented pilaf gives a new accent to the ordinary. All the fall harvest vegetables, especially the typically bland squash, can benefit from a brushing of butter and a sprinkling of nutmeg.

Even fruit like bananas, pears, pineapples and apples can have their sweetness brought to new heights with the addition of a grate of nutmeg.

In my opinion, there's no spice more adaptable to a wide range of dishes than nutmeg. You can pick up a small nutmeg grater for under $2 at most houseware departments. A jar of nutmegs (about 10) will last a lifetime.

Scary night: Party stuff inside a shell

IT'S THAT TIME of year again when the pumpkin is king.

Pumpkins are jolly and bright but a bit scary and unsettling at the same time.

Not only do they symbolize the abundance of the autumn harvest, they also signal the death of that colorful season and the onset of winter.

They offer one last glorious, rapturous burst of fiery brightness, before the bleakness of the cold days that lay ahead.

What would Halloween be without them? Black witch robes and white ghost sheets just wouldn't be the same without the orange accents of the jack-o'-lantern.

Everyone knows how good pumpkins taste. Pumpkin pies, cookies, and breads make our mouths water. And pumpkin butter spread on hot toast for breakfast helps dull the chill of the autumn winds we have to face when we go out for the day.

The taste of the pumpkin is delicious, but don't overlook the pumpkin itself as a decoration to cheer the spirits this time of year. I like to use pumpkin shells to hold all sorts of things. Remember the old nursery rhyme:

*Peter, Peter, Pumpkin-eater,
Had a wife, and couldn't keep her.
He put her in a pumpkin shell,
And there, he kept her very well.*

It would take a very big pumpkin to keep a wife in, but there are a lot more practical uses for pumpkin shells that are a bit smaller.

Pumpkins can be hollowed out (be sure to remove all seeds and pulp) and used as bowls or tureens to serve all sorts of soups and punches.

Others can be lined with plastic cups or containers, such as ice cream pails, butter tubs or cottage cheese cartons, to make great bowls for serving salads, desserts, nuts and caramel corn.

If you line the pumpkin, be sure to cut both the pumpkin and the carton to fit exactly, so that it doesn't spoil the appearance. Pumpkin shells lined in this way also make terrific flower vases for fall centerpieces.

If you like, you may decorate the outside of the pumpkin with waterproof markers or acrylics and make it look like a jack-o'-lantern.

These are good for elaborate adult parties, children's parties and family suppers. Or, use a smaller one to hold just enough spiced cider for you and your special someone to drink together in front of a fire.

Gundella the Witch (and "Kitchen Witch" columnist for Taste) recommends this spectacular, smoking Witch's Brew, a fall punch with sweet cider, cranberry cocktail juice, frozen orange juice and ginger ale, served in a pumpkin shell, for a Halloween party.

CREAMY PUMPKIN SOUP

This soup is wonderful made with fresh cooked pumpkin. But don't try it with canned pumpkin, or you will be terribly disappointed.

I usually make a lot of it in October when the pumpkins are plentiful and freeze it in plastic cartons to reheat and serve later for Thanksgiving or Sunday suppers.

2 pounds fresh pumpkin, peeled and cut into cubes
1 large or 2 small yellow onions, cut up
4 medium potatoes, peeled and cut into pieces
Salt and pepper
3-4 cups water

1 quart heavy cream (can use liquid non-dairy creamer. It's cheaper and better for you.)
Grated nutmeg
Chopped green onions for garnish

Combine pumpkin, potatoes, onions, water and a pinch of salt in a saucepan, and bring to a boil. Simmer over low heat until the vege-

No place like Home Sweet Home

On the outside, Home Sweet Home restaurant wears the formal facade of the stately White House-style mansion it once was.

But it's not as stiff and formal as it might look. Inside, the restaurant is teeming with life. It's friendly, inviting, charming — everything you would expect from a restaurant that proclaims homestyle cooking as its specialty.

In an earlier life, the restaurant was a formal place, red velvet drapes and all. But for the past three years Steve Romanik has operated it as a casual, moderately priced restaurant — an improvement that must help old Charles Rogers, the original homeowner, rest in peace.

Rogers, a dairy farmer and the inventor of condensed milk, built the house in the late 1920s and is said to have designed the home's dramatic, gently curved center stairway with a wedding in mind. That didn't happen in his lifetime, but today many a bride has posed on that stairway. "We like to think Charlie's ghost is happy," said manager Don Mazur.

WEDDINGS AND other private parties are in the daytime. The restaurant is open for dinners only Tuesday-Sunday.

The restaurant's homey image is reflected in its menu too. Turkey and meatloaf are among the most popular items here — and no wonder. The turkey comes with homemade stuffing and the meatloaf is served with genuine mashed potatoes and gravy. The meatloaf, incidentally, packs a little kick — green and red pepper that adds a surprise zip to the entree.

The shiitake mushroom soup holds a surprise also — pepper and Tabasco sauce that will light your fire. Actually, it's not too hot, just seasoned enough to add interest to what could be an average soup. The mushrooms, by the way, are grown by Romanik himself.

Wiley's spicy chicken, on the other hand, is designed to bring a tear to the eye. "A real meltdown" is how the menu describes this item. It "will stoke the fire in your palate." Need we say more?

There are no surprises in the chicken and dumplings dish, just extremely tender chicken with vegetable and gravy and a dumpling sitting right in the middle. When was the last time you had dumplings — good dumplings? One taste of these and the memories will flood in.

FOR THOSE who don't have fond memories of home cooking, there are grilled items, hamburgers and daily specials such as the lake perch, swordfish with Dijon sauce, salmon and veal chops. The restaurant's own Dijonnaise mustard sauce enlivens fresh fish dishes. We also recommend the mixed grill in which the shrimp, chicken, zucchini and carrots are chargrilled and brushed with a garlic-mustard glaze.

Broadening his menu, Romanik recently added "home" dishes from the corners of the world — such as pork tenderloin marinated in Chinese-style and a Moroccan-style chicken with cilantro salsa. It seems there's something to suit everyone here.

One word about appetizers — plentiful. They're enough to make a meal. A half-slab of ribs is served, for instance. The onion nest — finely sliced onions that were lightly breaded and not the least bit greasy — easily fed four.

Though you may have to return a few hours later to have room for dessert, try the brownie. It's the smoothest, chocolateiest brownie around — well deserving of all the praise it has garnered. Top it with Guernsey's vanilla ice cream and Sander's hot fudge and you have a made-in-Michigan delight.

It's hard to say which is most interesting here — the menu or the house with all its neat touches, such as the bird house and doll houses in an upstairs dining room and the almost-complete border done in crayon. Quilts double as window treatments and antique lamps and furni-

CARROT ORANGE COOKIES

These cake-like cookies are a good use for leftover carrots. The kids will never know and the aroma from the nutmeg will last in your kitchen for hours.

- 10 carrots, sliced
- 1/4 cup solid vegetable shortening
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg, beaten to blend
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon fresh grated nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1/4 teaspoon fresh grated orange peel

Cook carrots in saucepan of boiling water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain. Puree in blender or processor. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease baking sheets. Beat shortening with sugar, mix in egg. Stir in vanilla. Combine dry ingredients. Stir into batter alternately with carrot puree. Mix in walnuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto baking sheets and bake until light brown, about 20 minutes.

Bring to a boil again. Stir in creamer, and simmer (do not boil) for five minutes. Add salt, pepper and nutmeg to taste. Pour into an unlined pumpkin shell.
Sprinkle with chopped green onions for garnish, and serve hot.

MUSH-NACH A LA CREME

This is my son's fancy name for a quick and easy but different, homemade cream of mushroom soup with spinach. Made in minutes, it is absolutely delicious. Even people who as a rule don't like spinach eat it — and ask for more. This soup looks beautiful served in a hollowed-out (unlined) pumpkin.

Melt 1 stick of butter (1/2 pound) in a heavy pan. Add 2 cups sliced button mushrooms and saute. Add 2 crushed Knorr's beef bouillon cubes. (You may substitute another brand, but it won't taste as good.) Add 1 can chopped spinach, liquid and all. Add 1 quart liquid non-dairy creamer

Cut fat by using meat as flavoring in sandwich

AP — To trim the amount of fat you eat, use meat to add flavor, not as a main ingredient, recommends Martin Yan.
Yan, one of TV's most popular cooks, is a member of the Project Lean team of cooking professionals, who are encouraging Americans to lower their fat consumption. Yan's lean-fry recipe uses small amounts of lean ground beef in a flavorful sauce, making a terrific new bean-and-beefburger with just 25 percent of calories from fat.

ZIPPY BEEF AND BEAN SANDWICHES

(any brand, but thaw first if frozen). Or use one quart of coffee cream (too expensive and not as healthy). Season to taste with pepper and seasoned salt and heat to very hot but do not boil. Pour into your pumpkin shell and serve at once.
I doubled this recipe and served it to 18 people for dinner Sunday. There was not one drop left over, and everyone wanted more.

WITCH'S BREW

A really good fall punch. Use dry ice to create an unusual smoking effect.

1 gallon sweet cider, the unstrained kind, for better taste
2 quarts cranberry cocktail juice (unsweetened)
1 large package frozen orange juice — straight from the container — do not add water
1 large (2 liter) bottle of Vernor's ginger ale

Mix together in an unlined pumpkin shell and add one jar spiced red apple rings, juice and all.
Tie a piece of dry ice in a small net bag. Cut up an old onion bag or the like and drop it in the punch just before serving. It will chill the punch and give off a beautiful (harmless) spooky mist at the same time.
Dry ice can be bought at Joe's Ice on Plymouth Road in Detroit or at most ice cream stores.

STEAMING HOT SPICED CIDER

This is the easiest and tastiest recipe for hot spiced cider I have ever come across.

Make a very strong brew of hot Constant Comment Tea (no other kind). Use 3 bags for every pint of water. Add tea to an equal amount of juice (unstrained type is the best). Heat mixture to just below boiling and sweeten to taste. Pour into a pumpkin shell and serve hot. Ladle into mugs or cups and serve with real or candy cinnamon sticks as stirrers.

CARMEL CORN
1/4 cup white Karo syrup
1 stick (1/4 pound) margarine or butter
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 1/2 quarts popped corn
1 cup peanuts or other nutmeats (optional)

Place margarine, syrup, sugar and salt in a pan and bring to a boil. Boil five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add baking soda and vanilla.
Pour over popped corn. Mix well and spread onto a cookie sheet.
Bake at 250 degrees for 30 minutes, stirring every 10 minutes.
Cool before storing in airtight containers.

Spoon meat mixture into rolls. Top with alfalfa sprouts or shredded lettuce, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Halloween do-ahead: Try mostaccioli meal

Of all the holiday celebrations held throughout the year, Halloween is the one for which I am always the most organized.

Rather than wait until the last minute, I plan and shop ahead so as to avoid any last-minute disappointments. Now I must confess, this planning has nothing to do with costumes as the boys are old enough to do that on their own and, besides, they never like my ideas anyway. To be more specific, I'm referring to the "treat" part of this much-anticipated day which I, as the mother of this family, have taken upon myself to be in charge of.
Having stockpiled candy since mid-September, I have only had to replace one or two bags for those that somehow mysteriously disappeared. Hmm, now who could have eaten all that candy? In any event, we are ready for the onslaught of trick or treaters who will be knocking on our door in only two more days, and I hope you are ready, too.
This week's Winner Dinner was selected with the thought in mind that it would be a great menu to serve on Halloween. In addition to being delicious, everything on the menu can be made in advance, a real plus for what is always a fun but hectic evening.

SUBMITTED BY Joyce Temple of Canton, who has collected recipes for years, her menu for mostaccioli, herb sour cream bread, home-style salad dressing and cookie pudding parfait is "most-a" delicious. Mother of three children, Temple participates in an interdenominational Bible study group and teaches a Sunday school class as well. She also enjoys quilting, cross-stitching and craftwork and likes to go antiquing.
With her two oldest children involved in the Plymouth-Canton Marching Band, she is on the Band Booster Board and volunteers her time to help support this competing band, currently ranked seventh in the nation. In two weeks, the band will host the state marching band championship. It hopes to hold on to its first-place title, which it has held for the last four out of five years.

Observer & Eccentric Winner Dinner

MOSTACCIOLI

An easy-to-make one-dish dinner, this recipe serves 6 and can be made ahead and frozen.

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1/2 cup green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup onion, chopped
- 2 cups tomatoes, 16-ounce size
- 1 can tomato paste, 6-ounce size
- 1/4 cup water
- Grated parmesan cheese
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 4 cups cooked mostaccioli (8 ounces uncooked)
- 1/2 pound Velveeta cheese

Brown meat slowly. Add green pepper and onion and cook until tender. Stir in tomatoes, tomato paste, water and seasonings. Allow to simmer 15 minutes and remove bay leaf.

Layer noodles, meat sauce and Velveeta chunks in a 2-quart casserole. Repeat layers 2 or 3 times. Top with grated Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Serves 6.

HERB SOUR CREAM BREAD

- 1/4 cup flour, divided
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon marjoram leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 2 packages fast-rising yeast
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup water
- 6 tablespoons margarine
- 2 eggs, at room temperature

Set aside 1 cup of flour. In a large bowl, mix remaining flour, sugar, salt, marjoram, oregano, thyme and yeast. In microwave, heat sour cream, water and margarine to 125-130 degrees. Stir into dry ingredients. Mix in eggs. Mix in only enough reserved flour to make stiff batter, cover and let rest 10 minutes. Stir batter down; turn into 2 greased 1-quart casseroles. Cover and let rise in warm, draft-free place until doubled in size, about 30-40 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes. Remove from casseroles; cool on wire racks. Makes two loaves.

HOME-STYLE SALAD DRESSING

- 2 teaspoons fresh or instant minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon parsley flakes
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup buttermilk (or use 1 tablespoon vinegar plus enough milk to make 1 cup)

Combine all ingredients and stir until well-blended. Chill before serving over mixed greens of your choice. Makes 2 cups.

COOKIE PUDDING PARFAIT

- 1 small package instant chocolate pudding
- 2 cups milk
- 5 Chips Ahoy cookies
- 1/2 cup CoolWhip, thawed

Prepare pudding as directed on package, using the 2 cups of milk. Break cookies into small pieces and mix with the CoolWhip. Divide 1 cup of the pudding between 4 dessert dishes. Place 1/2 of the CoolWhip cookie mixture on top of the pudding in each dish. Top with the remaining pudding. Chill 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- Dash of cayenne
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons unsalted butter

Pick the crab carefully to remove the cartilage. Keep the meat in as large pieces as possible. Soften the green pepper and onion in the 1/2 cup of unsalted butter for a few minutes. Mix the crab, softened vegetables, parsley, sherry, cayenne and cream. Season lightly with salt and pepper.

Butter 6 to 8 cleaned crab or scallop shells, or ceramic baking shells. You may also use a 1-quart baking dish that can withstand very high heat. Mound the crab mixture in the shells. Sprinkle the bread crumbs over the crab. Bake for about 10 minutes, until the crab is bubbling and golden brown. Serve hot. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Shopping List

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 green pepper
- 1 onion
- 16-ounce can tomatoes
- 6-ounce can tomato paste
- Grated Parmesan cheese
- 8 ounces uncooked mostaccioli
- 1/2 pound box Velveeta Cheese
- Flour
- Sugar
- Salt
- Pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- Marjoram
- Oregano
- Thyme
- Garlic powder
- Fresh or dried parsley
- Minced onions
- 2 packages fast-rising yeast
- Margarine
- 2 eggs
- Sour cream
- Mayonnaise
- Buttermilk
- Milk
- CoolWhip
- 1 small package instant chocolate pudding
- 1 small package instant chocolate pudding
- 2 cups milk
- 5 Chips Ahoy cookies

COOKBOOK HIGHLIGHTS FOODS FROM EAST COAST REGION

AP — There just is no thinking of the Chesapeake Bay without thinking of crabs. Unless you think of oysters. There are plenty of other foods typical of this East Coast region — cole slaw, stewed tomatoes, baked fish, ham, rabbit, black walnuts — but it is the crabs and oysters that are so alluring to the diner and to anyone fascinated with a way of life that has become endangered. Soft-shells and boiled crabs, crab imperial. Raw oysters and oysters roasted over an open fire, scalloped oysters, oyster stew, oyster stuffing.

These are the gems of the Chesapeake. All of these are in "The Chesapeake Cookbook," (Clarkson N. Potter, New York, $30), along with much more. More than 150 recipes take the cook from the first settlers of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware to today's innovative dishes.

THE LAND and water have provided residents from pre-colonial times to the present with an abundance of provider, both cultivated and wild, say authors Susan Beisinger and Carolyn Dille

Recipes in the cookbook are divided into two sections. First is a series of menus for Chesapeake-style feasts, a crab feast topped off with a skillet peach cake, warm goose salad and oyster chowder for a holiday dinner and Joyce's vinegared ham for a hunt breakfast. The second is organized traditionally, by course. The authors say Chesapeake cooking is based on three tenets — Respect for local ingredients; close observation of the matter at hand, whether it be bread or goose, and a regard for the taste of things themselves.

Among the recipes in the section are pickled oysters, cornmeal waffles, soft-shell clam chowder, crab cakes, smoked bluefish and rabbit fraicasse.

THE DISHES ARE influenced by immigrants from Germany, Italy, Poland, Africa and other places.

A peachy recipe for Classic Peach Melba

AP - Nationwide, peach production is a $360 million industry, turning out an average of nearly 1.3 billion pounds per year over the last six years.

Peaches originated in China and were introduced into ancient Persia. Confucius referred to peaches, or tao, in his writings from the fifth century B.C.

In keeping with their delicacy, it's best to resist the temptation to squeeze peaches in the market. They bruise easily. Don't place great emphasis on red color, looking instead for a creamy or gold undercolor and a sweet fragrance, both more reliable signs of ripeness.

The following recipe for Classic Peach Melba is provided by the National Dairy Board.

CLASSIC PEACH MELBA

Water

4 large (about 1 1/4 pounds) fresh peaches

1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 cups water
Raspberry Sauce (recipe follows)
1 cup Vanilla Yogurt Sauce (recipe follows)
1 pint premium vanilla ice cream

Fill a large saucepan halfway with water; bring to a boil. Add peaches; simmer until the skin loosens, about 1 minute. Remove peaches with a slotted spoon; rinse with cold water. Drain peaches; cut in halves and remove pits.

In a large saucepan bring sugar, lemon juice and the 4 cups water to a boil. Add peach halves; simmer, covered, until tender, about 5 minutes. Place peaches and liquid in a covered container; refrigerate until ready to serve.

To serve: On an individual dessert plate spread one-half of the plate with raspberry sauce and the other half with vanilla yogurt sauce; top with a peach half. Garnish with fresh berries, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Nutrition information per serving, including sauces: 244 cal., 7 g fat. (Recipe from: The National Dairy Council)

Raspberry Sauce
One 12-ounce package frozen unsweetened raspberries, thawed (about 2 cups)
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In the bowl of a food processor fitted with a metal wing blade or in the container of an electric blender, process raspberries until smooth. Place a fine sieve over a small bowl. Press raspberry puree through sieve, discarding seeds. Stir sugar and vanilla extract into raspberry puree. Makes about 1 cup.

Vanilla Yogurt Sauce

1/2 cup vanilla low-fat yogurt
1 tablespoon granulated sugar

In a small bowl combine yogurt and sugar. Makes 1/2 cup. Nutrition information per serving, including sauces: 244 cal., 7 g fat. (Recipe from: The National Dairy Council)

A sweet and tangy Peach Corn Chutney provides the perfect accompaniment for peppery Cilantro Grilled Chicken.

CILANTRO GRILLED CHICKEN WITH PEACH CORN CHUTNEY
1/4 cup oil
2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro
2 teaspoons dried cilantro
1 clove garlic, chopped
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
Salt
Pepper, freshly ground

4 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves
Peach Corn Chutney (recipe follows)

For marinade, in a blender or food processor combine oil, lime juice, cilantro, garlic, cumin and cayenne pepper; salt and pepper to taste. Blend until smooth. In baking dish, arrange chicken in single layer. Pour marinade over chicken. Cover and refrigerate, turning once, about 1 hour.

Prepare grill or heat broiler. Grill or broil chicken 4 inches from heat, turning once, until lightly browned on the outside and just cooked through, 3 to 4 minutes per side. Serve with Peach Corn Chutney. Makes 4 servings.

Nutrition information per serving: 175 cal., 65 mg sodium, 73 mg chol., 7 g fat.

Peach Corn Chutney
4 fresh peaches, pared, pitted, cut into 1/4-inch pieces (about 2 cups)

1 cup corn kernels
1/2 cup diced red bell pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 jalapeno pepper, seeded and diced
2 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
1 teaspoon grated lime peel or zest
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg

In medium saucepan, combine all ingredients. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Reduce heat to low and simmer until mixture thickens, about 20 minutes. Cool to room temperature and serve with Cilantro Grilled Chicken.

Nutrition information per 1/4-cup serving: 70 cal., 25 mg sodium, 0 mg chol., 1 g fat.

Bake, sauce, juice, freeeze or dry Michigan apples

Colored leaves, cool days, crisp air and football games remind us it is perfect apple-eating time.

And, of course, fresh Michigan apples are the best. Bake them, sauce them, juice them, freeze them or dry them — just eat them and enjoy them. There are apples for all meals and they can be fixed in a variety of ways.

Apples are filling, not fattening. One medium apple contains about 80 calories. An apple is about 85 percent water and low in sodium, and contains a little potassium, vitamin A and ascorbic acid. The skin is high in pectin and a good source of fiber.

Apples are a primary source of quick energy from their natural fruit sugar to satisfy your sweet tooth without adding empty calories. Another big advantage to apples is that they help clean teeth and breath and massage the gums. Eating a raw apple for dessert will aid in removing food particles from your teeth.

BAKE THEM. Use apples for special occasions, or any time, in pie, dumplings and cobblers, and numerous other ways.

For a pie, allow about two pounds (six to eight medium-size) apples for a 9-inch pie.

A baked apple need never be plain. Core the apple, fill cavity with orange juice, cinnamon or nutmeg and raisins, and bake. Microwaving baked apples is a quick and easy dessert, or the leftovers are perfect for breakfast the next day.

Try poaching, apple wedges in cider and season with nutmeg. Perfect for dessert!

SAUCE THEM. Hot applesauce with chopped walnuts served with a warm bran muffin and hot coffee for breakfast — what could be better? Applesauce can be added to meat loaf, breads, brownies and cakes, or made into butter.

Make applesauce a la mode by putting chilled applesauce in a sherbet glass, sprinkle with nutmeg and top with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

TRY FRESH blender applesauce.

It's easy and quick to make. Place about four large apples, peeled, cored and quartered, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup water and low in sodium, and contains a little potassium, vitamin A and ascorbic acid. The skin is high in pectin and a good source of fiber.

Apples are a primary source of quick energy from their natural fruit sugar to satisfy your sweet tooth without adding empty calories. TRY FRESH blender applesauce.

Peel, core and slice apples, and soak them in lemon juice to keep from browning. Drain. Dry in food dehydrator until no moisture is left in the fruit.

These can be eaten for snacks or rehydrated for pies, or whatever, later.

FOR APPLESauce, pies and desserts, choose a firm, tart apple.

Apples that hold their shape are best for baking. Some great snacking varieties are Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Jonathan, Northern Spy, Winesap and Northern Spy.

Good choices for freezing are Cortland, Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Winesap.

This is not an all-inclusive list of the varieties available. There are many more.

What better, easier snack can there be than an apple? They transport with no fuss or mess in a briefcase, pocket, bag or purse.

Today, as in colonial times, the apple is still one of America's favorite fruits. Don't forget, buy Michigan apples.

Now, it doesn't make any difference what time it is.

You can place an Observer & Eccentric classified ad 24 hours a day!

Here's how it works: First, you must have a touch-tone telephone. Then, all you do is call us — remember, it doesn't make any difference if we're not here — to place an ad, cancel one or change something on one you've placed earlier. Let's say it's eight o'clock at night and you've just realized that the cupid on the clock you're selling plays a tin whistle. It's a good selling point, so you punch up our classified number and wait for the operator to guide you through the steps for changing your ad. Have in mind the exact information you want to give us, speak clearly and a bit slower than you usually do. And that's it. If it's after 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, your changes will be made for the next Monday paper. Or, if it's after 5:00 p.m. on a Friday or the weekend, your changes will hit the Thursday papers. Pretty neat, huh? Of course, our Classified Ad Takers are here every Monday through Thursday from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and until 5:00 p.m. each Friday. But now, if you miss them, you can still do something about your ad — at your convenience.

Good values from Cru de Coudelet in Rhone

Midway between Avignon and Orange on the Rhone River's left bank, Chateau de Coudelet's approximate 7,500 acres produce some of the Southern Rhone's best red wines.

The appellation draws its name from the ruins of a castle built during the 14th century. The Chateau de Coudelet is the flag of the Perrin line.

Cru de Coudelet comes from an extension of the Beaucastel vineyard on the east side of the two-lane Route Nationale No. 7, which divides Chateau de Coudelet from the Cotes du Rhone. It is made from identical

With 100,000 cases exported to the United States annually, La Vieille Ferme is the largest-selling Rhone wine brand in this country.

As a negotiator, Jean-Pierre is adept at selecting proper fruit and well-made young wines for blending to make consistent quality wines regardless of the vintage characteristics. He has achieved this, and the La Vieille Ferme wines exhibit fresh fruitiness and charming appeal at a modest price.

"The future of French wines lies in the Southern Rhone region," says Jean-Pierre. "Great Burgundy and Bordeaux wines can be purchased by the wealthy. They can afford to buy most anything. The great value wines come from the Rhone. My aim is to produce a big mouthful of wine for the money."

After graduation from the enology school at the University of Dijon, Francois' brother, Jean-Pierre Perrin, founded the negociant firm of La Vieille Ferme and set out to produce inexpensive, well-made Rhone wines to sell by direct mail to French enophiles.

This idea grew with the years and today Jean-Pierre has received acclaim for the value-priced Rhone wines shipped to the United States.

WINE BULLETIN BOARD

Support public radio station WDET by attending Festival Espanol from 5-8 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4, at Too Chee Restaurant, 27155 Sheraton Drive, Novi. Chef Ed Janos will prepare the Spanish taste treats to accompany wines from the cellars of the Merchant of Vino. Cost is $35 per person, with all proceeds going to WDET. Tickets available at all "Merchant" stores, Too Chee restaurant or by phoning 354-6505.

WINE OF THE WEEK

We have tasted the current release of all the La Vieille Ferme wines. They are flavorful wines that represent a quality pour for the money. In the main, these wines are meant to be consumed, not cellared.

1989 Cotes du Luberon Blanc ($6); 1988 Cotes du Luberon Blanc Reserve ($8.50); 1988 Cotes du Ventoux Rouge ($6); and 1988 Cotes du Rhone Reserve ($8.50).

The wines of La Vieille Ferme come principally from the Cotes du Rhone region, a 140-mile extension of sun-drenched cliffs along the Rhone River valley from Lyon to Avignon. As the river flows south, the red wines, in particular, become meaty, big, rich, robust, and structured to match the hearty food of the region.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out — STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

- You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.
1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
 2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
 3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
 4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
 5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
 6. Phone a friend.
 7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
 8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
 9. Hug a pillow.
 10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
 11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
 12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866, Chicago, IL 60690.

THIS WINTER, THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN WILL BE STRICKEN WITH DIABETES. THE REAL TRAGEDY BEGINS WHEN THEY'RE TREATED FOR THE FLU.

During flu season thousands of children are stricken with insulin-dependent diabetes. These children are usually between the ages of 5 and 16.

Unfortunately, many parents and emergency-room personnel often confuse the warning signs of diabetes with the flu. Or, in some cases, urinary tract infection.

The major warning signs for diabetes to watch out for are: frequent urination, excessive thirst, extreme hunger, dramatic weight loss, nausea and vomiting. As well as irritability, weakness and fatigue. Generally, these symptoms appear over a three or four-week period, but don't appear as suddenly as flu symptoms.

If the child is not treated immediately, his or her blood sugar can go out of control leading to what is called diabetic ketoacidosis. Which in turn can lead to diabetic coma. The warning signs for diabetic ketoacidosis include excessive urination, great thirst, stomach pain, nausea and vomiting, dehydration which can lead to dry lips and sunken eyes, rapid breathing, followed by sleepiness.

So this winter, do something to really protect your child during flu season. Learn the symptoms of diabetes.

Chiefs on warpath slam Salem, 34-0

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Karl Wukie figures he and his Plymouth Canton teammates received some justice on the football field Friday night.

The senior quarterback atoned for his junior-year performance while leading the Chiefs to a surprising, 34-0 rout of Plymouth Salem in the annual clash between rivals.

Wukie threw three touchdown passes to Jason Riggs and ran for another, helping Canton to finish 8-1 and remain in the running for a possible Class AA playoff berth.

He ended the game with 224 yards in total offense, putting on a display that contrasted with last year's game when he threw four interceptions and lost a fumble in Salem's 25-6 victory.

"Last year I made the big plays for them; this year I made them for us," Wukie said. "It's a whole different feeling. After the way I played against these guys last year, I've been waiting all year for this game."

THE CHIEFS, who have beaten Salem in two of the last three games, might have qualified for the playoffs last year, but the season-ending loss gave them a 7-2 record and knocked them out of contention.

Canton prevented a repeat of that occurrence, but the team getting the fourth playoff spot was dependent upon the outcome of the Redford Catholic Central-Detroit DePue game Sunday night at the Silverdome.

The Chiefs, who were fifth in the region entering the final weekend of the regular season, were optimistic about their chances after winning Friday.

But, according to unofficial tabulations by the Observer, if CC and five of its opponents were to win, the Shamrocks would qualify ahead of Canton despite being 7-2. Playoff football

pairings were not released by The Michigan High School Athletic Association until Sunday night.

"Salem got ripped off last year, and there's a chance we could this year," said Riggs, recalling the Rocks were 8-1 but stayed home while Ann Arbor Pioneer got in with two losses.

"No matter what happens in the playoffs, we can say we beat Salem in the last game," Wukie said. "I would have to go the rest of my life knowing I had lost to Salem."

"IT'S BEEN great regardless, but one of our goals was to go to the playoffs."

While the Rocks made all the big plays last year and dominated that game, Canton did likewise this year.

Riggs, who carried much of the rushing load when fullback Chris James suffered a bruised knee and left the game late in the second quarter, rushed for 108 yards on 18 carries and caught TD passes covering 3, 51 and 4 yards.

Canton's defense also held Salem tailback Leon Hister, who needed 32 yards to reach 1,000, to 13 yards on seven carries — all of it coming in the first half.

Facing a 21-0 deficit before it got the ball in the third quarter, the Rocks were forced to throw and unable to use Hister.

Canton's offense controlled the second-half clock, furthermore. Salem ran only three offensive plays and had zero yards in the third quarter and 35 yards for the half.

"WHEN THEY got us down, they took us right out of what we wanted to do," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "They dominated the football game. What else can I say? They were physically stronger than us."

"I was impressed with their quickness, that more than anything. They were very, very quick and were beating us off the ball."

Wukie's first pass was intercepted by Scott Rodgers, but the Canton defense stopped the Rocks at its 8-yard line when Gordon Gibbings stepped in front of a Chris Tebben pass.

That was the springboard for a 14-play, 87-yard scoring drive by the Chiefs, ending with Riggs' first TD reception.

Canton went 62 yards in 11 plays to take a 13-0 lead with :07 left in the first half. On fourth-and-1 at the Canton 48, the Chiefs got the first down when Wukie drew Salem off-sides with a long cadence.

A 35-yard reception by Brett Howell (three catches for 57 yards) set up Wukie's 1-yard dash around end. Howell had two defenders on him but still caught the ball while tightropeing the sideline.

The Chiefs squashed any hopes of a Salem comeback when they scored on the opening possession of the second half.

"I REMINDED the kids in the locker room we were up 14-0 on Northville at halftime and blew it," Khoenle said. "With the nature of this game, that took care of itself."

The Chiefs, who punted on fourth-and-9 at their 46, got a break when Salem was penalized for having too many players on the field and kept possession. But the Chiefs were penalized twice for holding, and an illegal-receiver infraction nullified Mike Wougamon's 35-yard TD catch.

"This is one of the best games we've played except for the penalties," Canton guard Bill Zachary said. "Coach (Ernie) Krumm said we had better start playing our game."

Brett Howell made an outstanding, 35-yard pass reception on this play, which put the ball on the Salem 21-yard line and set up Canton's second touchdown just before the end of the first half Friday. The Chiefs won 34-0.

CC eliminates defending champ in district final

By Bill Parker
staff writer

With eight minutes remaining in Saturday's district soccer championship game at Royal Oak Kimball, Redford Catholic Central coach John Boots was slapping five with his starting forwards Scott Leadbetter and Dana Orsucci. The celebration had already begun.

Catholic Central exploded for six goals Saturday as the Shamrocks won their second-straight district championship with a 6-1 victory over Class A defending state champion Troy Athens. (CC won the Redford Union district title in 1989.) CC, 13-5-2 on the season, advances to the Troy Athens regional while the Red Hawks finish the year at 14-4-3.

"These are both very good high school soccer teams," Boots said. "It came down to emotion, or a break. The last time we played Athens (earlier this year) it was a 1-1 tie. It just so happened that we were luckier today. The next time they may beat us 6-1."

CC GOT A huge emotional boots less than two minutes into the game when goalie Jeff Sawicki came up with a big save on a point-blank shot by Athens' Dan Dubeck. Moments later, with the Shamrocks on the attack, Matt Kopmeyer punched in a CC goal off a scramble in front of the Red Hawk net for a quick 1-0 lead.

Catholic Central made it 2-0 with 7:49 remaining in the first half when Brendan Sullivan hit Joe Sebestyen with a pass in front of the Athens goal and Sebestyen beat Athens keeper Matt Cooper with a shot to the right corner of the net.

The Red Hawks finally got on the scoreboard with 3:28 left in the half when Jeff Eckhout redirected a corner kick from Todd Peterson past CC keeper Jeff Sawicki.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL broke any momentum the goal may have given Athens seconds before the half ended when Kerry Zagagnin lofted a free kick in front of the Athens net and Dana Orsucci banged a header into the back of the goal for a decisive 3-1 lead.

Rocks can't turn heat high enough on NF

Nicole Bosse of Salem was runner-up in the 200-yard freestyle Thursday in a Lakes Division meet with visiting North Farmington. The Raiders won 111-75 to put themselves in line for the division title.

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

About 15 minutes after North Farmington's girls swimming meet Thursday at Plymouth Salem, the two coaches shared a conversation.

"It was a good meet," Salem coach Chuck Olson said.

"Yeah," replied North coach Pat Duthie. "I was sweating a lot, and I'm not kidding."

It was warm inside the Salem pool, and that's probably why Duthie was sweating. Surely, he didn't have to sweat much about the final outcome, which showed the Raiders ahead 111-75.

North led from start to finish and won all but one event in staying undefeated in eight dual meets. The win improved the Raiders to 4-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

With only Walled Lake Central remaining on the Lakes Division schedule, North has virtually clinched the division title. Salem is 7-3 overall and 3-1 in the Lakes Division.

"This was probably our best meet of the year, front to back," said Duthie, who guided North earlier this month to the Oakland County championship. "Salem has got a lot of nice swimmers and has very good depth, but our front line swimmers we kind of felt were better than theirs. Our goal is to finish as well as we can in the league meet (Friday, Nov. 9), and be a contender in the state meet."

THE RAIDERS have only five seniors on their 21-girl roster, but they played important roles. Karrie Kranz and Kerry Doran, a pair of seniors, won two events each.

Doran, keeping her unbeaten streak alive in dual meets, placed first in the 50-yard freestyle in a time of 25.85, and she later took first place in the butterfly in 1:00.02. Kranz, meanwhile, was first in the 200 freestyle (1:59.26) and the 100 freestyle (55.60).

The two also combined with fellow senior Julianne Markey and freshman Sherri Richardson in winning the last event, the 400 freestyle relay (3:50.83).

Doran, who swam with a slightly injured shoulder, didn't appear bothered by it during the meet.

"She's had quite a swimming career, and I can't remember if she's ever lost a dual meet," Duthie said. "She's good for 16 points a meet, and that's the maximum you can get. She's the best, without a doubt, female swimmer ever at North and to say the least it will be a real adjustment next year without her."

Despite North's domination of first place, Olson was pleased with the Rocks' performance. Swimming its fourth meet in the last six days, Salem managed to sweep the top three diving places and corral five second-place finishes.

ALYSIA SOFIOS won the diving with 206 points, while teammate Kim McCormick took second (190.85) and Shelly Rodgers third (157.45). Salem trailed 45-33 after the diving, but that's as close as the Rocks got.

Earning second-place finishes for the Rocks were Nicole Bosse, 200 freestyle (2:04.44); Mandi Ras, 50 freestyle (26.49); Candi Bosse, butterfly (1:03.35); and Kristin Stackpole, backstroke (1:05.90).

"We didn't have a bad meet," Olson said. "We just didn't have a good enough meet to beat North. Under the circumstances, I'm pretty pleased. There's no reason to be discouraged. Doran, Kranz, (Anna) Palmer and Markey are pretty impressive."

"They're the team to beat in the conference. But we're really looking forward to the conference meet and our swimmers are going to have something to say about what happens there."

North began the meet impressively as its 200 medley relay team of Amy Duthie, Carrie Worthen, Shannon O'Brien and Colleen Harrison won in a time of 1:57.15. Jenny Wagner, Worthen, Richardson and Kranz later combined to win the 200 freestyle relay (1:47.01) to give North a commanding, 84-56 lead.

INDIVIDUALLY, PALMER, only a sophomore, helped keep up the pace for North, winning both the 200 individual medley (2:18.63) and breast stroke (1:11.22).

Winning one event each were Richardson and Markey. Richardson took the 500 freestyle (5:38.42), and Markey's win came in the 100 backstroke (1:03.40).

Markey's time in the backstroke was her best in the event this year, which Duthie was glad to see because "she's one of the hardest workers we've got going for us."

"I feel comfortable in the Salem pool," Markey said. "I've always done well in it and last year my time in the IM (1:02.8) at Salem broke my own varsity record. I'm used to the turns in this pool, the flags are about the same as the ones in the North pool."

Spartans, WLW win titles

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Surprise, surprise, surprise. All three were lacking at the Western Lakes Activities Association cross country championship meet Wednesday at Cass Benton.

The closest anything came to what might be termed an upset was in the girls' race, in which favored Livonia Stevenson had a longer-than-expected time before claiming the title.

As the totals were being calculated, Spartan coach Paul Holmgren was visibly worried. He wasn't ready to accept a victory until all the results were in — not after his team posted 71 points, far more than he anticipated.

"We've got a chance," he said. "But we weren't supposed to have just a chance."

No, indeed. Stevenson was supposed to win handsily — more like Walled Lake Western did in the boys' meet. To say the Warriors dominated wouldn't do them justice; they treated the 12-team race like a dual meet.

Seven of their runners finished among the top 21, thus reaping either all-WLAA or all-Western Division honors.

WHICH MEANS two all-division runners (Brandon Keeney, who was 16th, and Art Schuetzler, who was 21st) didn't even count in Western's team point total. The five Warriors who did count all finished in the top 13.

Bill Crosby led Western, placing second (16:19). He was followed by teammate Jeff Grosso in third (16:28). The rest of the Warrior point-scorers: Jim Sweetman, fifth (16:57); Chris Crosby, 12th (17:21); and Matt Wright, 13th (17:24).

Farmington's Ben Goka was an easy winner in the boys' individual race in 16:00. The top two runners in the girls' race were no surprise: Jennifer Ray (19:15) and Wendy Pross (19:44), both from Western. They were the only two girls to crack the 20-minute barrier.

Western's overwhelming dominance left boys' coach Dennis Keeney searching for motivational tools prior to the meet. He finally hit upon something.

"We talked about having all seven (runners) up in the top 21," Keeney said. "That's what I fired them up with. But I didn't know if that was really attainable."

His runners proved it was. They scored just 35 points, easily outdistancing runner-up Plymouth Salem, which scored a very respectable 66.

PLYMOUTH CANTON was third (85), with defending champion Farmington fourth (137), Livonia Franklin fifth (144), Livonia Stevenson sixth (167), North Farmington seventh (173), Northville eighth (190), Farmington Harrison ninth (223), Livonia Churchill 10th (267), Walled Lake Central 11th (276) and Westland John Glenn 12th (329).

In the girls' meet, Canton — the defending champ — challenged the Spartans but couldn't overtake them. The Chiefs finished 13 points behind, with 84.

Next was Salem, third (101); Central, fourth (120); Western, fifth (124); Farmington, sixth (129); Northville, seventh (149); North, eighth (181); Franklin, ninth (196); John Glenn, 10th (232); Harrison, 11th (238); and Churchill, 12th (321).

Stevenson's close call was in part due to Carrie Creehan's unexpectedly poor showing. "Our No. 3 girl (Creehan) was in the top 10 last year," said Holmgren. Creehan placed 24th Wednesday, with good reason. "She was sick last week, but I thought she was recovered," explained Holmgren.

As the runners crossed the finish line, Holmgren's concern grew and grew. "I was a little worried, especially where Carrie placed," he admitted. "Actually, I was quite a little bit worried."

BUT EVEN though she was under-par, Creehan's showing (21:43) was good enough. Stevenson's top runner was Stacy Prais, who finished fourth (20:31). Other Spartan scorers were A.J. Kortnik, sixth (20:46); Gail Grewe, 18th (21:29); and Becky Adamczyk, 19th (21:34).

Other top-10 finishers in the girls' race were Central's Tabatha Belcher, third (20:09); Franklin's Stacy Henet, fifth (20:46); Canton's Heather Meyer, seventh (20:51); North's Tracy Mitchell, eighth (21:00); Franklin's Lana Boroditsch, ninth (21:01); and Salem's Corey Gurewicz, 10th (21:02).

Western's showing in the boys' meet carried more frustrating news to the rest of the WLAA. Only one of the Warriors' runners (Jeff Grosso) is a senior, meaning six will return and, no doubt, dominate next season's meet.

"This is probably the best team I've ever had," said Keeney, who coached two previous WLAA champs. "This is the first time we've ever had seven people this good."

Other top-10 runners in the boys' meet were Canton's Michael Ream, fourth (16:35); Franklin's Eric Curnow, sixth (17:05); Salem's John Thomas, seventh (17:08); Salem's Mike Patterson, eighth (17:16); Stevenson's Rodney Westlake, ninth (17:16); and Northville's Steve Coon, 10th (17:17).

Mike Ream of Canton was fourth among individual runners Wednesday. Salem finished second and the Chiefs third in the WLAA boys race.

GOLF HONORS

Senior Kevin Holmes and junior Jon Paupore were named co-most outstanding players on the Plymouth Canton golf team. Freshman Andy Uthoff was the most valuable newcomer.

Paupore was fourth in the Western Lakes Activities Association and fifth in the regional, qualifying him for the state tournament.

Canton was 7-5 in dual meets, 5-4 in the league and 3-2 in the division. The season highlight was a 217-227 victory over Livonia Churchill on the opponent's course.

GRID CONTEST WINNER

Tim Hayes of Canton won a regional championship in the 9-year-old division in the annual Pump, Pass and Kick contest Oct. 20 at Central Middle School.

Hayes will compete in the state finals on Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Pontiac Silverdome.

SOCCER TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the boys 1976 premier Wolverines of the Livonia Youth Soccer Club, coached by Ed Christie, will be at noon Saturday, Nov. 3, at Bicentennial Park (field No. 7) in Livonia. For more information, call 464-0906 or 478-5416.

FOWL SHOOTING

The Canton Parks and Recreation Services will sponsor a "Fowl Shooting" contest at Boken Elementary School on Saturday, Nov. 10.

The age groups are 9-under, 10-12, 13-15, 16-18 and over-18. Contestants may compete any time between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Registration will begin at 9:45 a.m.

Winners in each category will be determined by who makes the most "fowl shots" (free throws) out of 10 attempts. The first 10 are free, but each additional set of 10 will cost $1.

Each age group winner will receive a Thanksgiving turkey and a plaque. There will be special prizes for anybody who makes 10 of 10 shots. Call 397-5110 for information.

COED VOLLEYBALL

A coed volleyball league will meet Friday evenings for 14 weeks, beginning Nov. 9, at West Middle School.

The fee is $160 per team plus $15 for each player who lives outside the Plymouth-Canton School District. There is a limit of 16 teams.

Teams can register at either the Canton or Plymouth Parks and Recreation offices. Call 397-5110 for information.

Lady Ocelots romp in volleyball

There really is nothing left for Schoolcraft College's volleyball team to do except try and stay sharp for the National Junior College Athletic Association Region 12 tournament it will host Nov. 8-11.

Other goals, like wrapping up another Eastern Conference team championship with another unbeaten season (the Lady Ocelots have not lost a conference match since Tom Teeters became coach in 1985, a string of 53 straight), are worthwhile but haven't been too challenging.

For example: SC hosted Delta CC, the third-place team in the conference, Thursday. Teeters thought it might provide a test. It didn't; the Lady Ocelots romped, 15-3, 15-1, 15-2.

"We played very well," said the SC coach. "They were not strong, no doubting that. You'd think they would score more points than that just on our errors, but we just didn't make many."

Elena Oparka, Angellette Love and Karl Domanski paced SC's attack with five kills each. Love also had four service aces and Domanski collected four assists-to-kill. Jennifer Sproul had three kills, 19 assists and two aces, and Lisa Domke got three aces and three kills. SC is now 30-3 overall and 9-0 in the conference. Against NJCAA opponents the Lady Ocelots have a 15-1 record. Currently ranked fourth in the NJCAA, only one team — Miami Dade-South — has had a more consistent record in the NJCAA in the past five years.

MADONNA VOLLEYBALL: Dana Hicks was unstoppable Thursday for Madonna College, which toppled the University of Windsor 15-1, 12-15, 15-8, 15-9 in a non-district match at Madonna.

Hicks, a freshman, collected 28 kills (a .523 kill average) in the victory. Kristy McAdams added 13, Evette Stoder had nine and Melissa Mars finished with eight.

and we turned on the burners and kicked it in gear.

"We were fired up all week. We wanted to play the game Monday after our practice."

On fourth down at midfield, Wukie was nearly snatched while rolling right, but he wiggled free of the defender's clutches, cut back to his left and saw a wide-open Riggs up field. Riggs ran another 25 yards after the catch to make it 21-0.

"At first I was going to run, but he was so wide open," Wukie said. "He was waving his arms like he wanted the ball. I gave it to him."

"OUR LINE held them off and I had a lot of time to run around in the backfield. When you do that, somebody is bound to get open, and tonight it was Riggs."

"Karl and I have played together for nine years, and I know his scrambling pattern," Riggs said. "He keeps his eyes open and his head up. I know if he gets open he's going to look down there."

"After the Rocks were three-and-out on their only possession of the third quarter, Canton drove 70 yards in 13 plays for their fourth TD. Riggs taking his third scoring pass at 11:16 in the final period. Back-up quarterback Steve Hohl ran 11 yards to finish the scoring with 2:58 remaining.

"We finished (the season) strong," Khomein said. "The kids really came to play. We had a lot of intensity, and the defense rose to the occasion. We had our down years, and it's about time we enjoy this."

Wukie was 6-of-15 passing and carried the ball 12 times. James had 25 yards on seven attempts before his injury. The Chiefs had 405 total yards to 85 for Salem, outrushing the Rocks 290-37. Tebben was 5-of-20 passing for 48 yards, and fullback Dan Burke had 33 yards rushing on nine carries.

"Our defensive coaches, Craig Bell and Rich Barr, did a helluva job getting ready for this," Khomein said. "Karl and I have played together for nine years, and I know his scrambling pattern," Riggs said. "He keeps his eyes open and his head up. I know if he gets open he's going to look down there."

"After the Rocks were three-and-out on their only possession of the third quarter, Canton drove 70 yards

Playoff-bound CC rips DePorres

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Redford Catholic Central earned a little redemption, a Catholic League title and a berth in the Class AA football playoffs Sunday night at the Silverdome.

Could CC coach Tom Mach think of a better way to spend an evening? "It was a great night for us, a super night," said Mach after CC overwhelmed Detroit St. Martin De Porres, 31-0. "We can call ourselves Catholic League champions, which is the best feeling and our number-one goal. And getting a berth in the playoffs is just frosting on the cake."

The win pushed CC's record to 7-2 overall and sends the Shamrocks into the first round of the Class AA playoffs. CC, like south-rated team in Region 2, will play No. 1-seeded Ypsilanti (8-1 overall), either Friday or Saturday at Ypsilanti. Plymouth Canton, despite an 8-1 overall record, must wait for its side lines after finishing behind CC in the region.

De Porres beat CC, 8-0, earlier this year and that's what made this victory even sweeter for the Shamrocks. It was the sixth Catholic League championship for Mach, tying him for third on the all-time coaching list with Walt Bazylicewicz and Mike Boyd.

The Shamrocks played without tailback Mike Thomas, out with an ankle injury, and wide receiver/defensive back Jack Davidson (broken collarbone), but one could hardly tell. Senior Arshon Stewart stepped in and gained 124 yards on 25 carries and scored one touchdown for the Shamrocks.

CC, playing with three new starters in the secondary (Brett Walter, Frank Yokum and Matt Roney) managed to outgain the Eagles, 270-130 in total yardage. The Shamrocks ran 62 plays from scrimmage to only 36 by De Porres and the Eagles were straight up to the district final in Region 2, will play No. 1-seeded Ypsilanti (8-1 overall), either Friday or Saturday at Ypsilanti. N. Farmington cagers s rock Rocks

The week began with the North Farmington girls basketball team controlling its own destiny.

All the Raiders had to do was win both games last week to qualify for the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs.

North handled Livonia Churchill easy enough on Tuesday, but the Raiders had to face WLA power Plymouth Salem on Thursday. The mighty Rocks entered the game undefeated in the league, but North senior Eve Clair had thoughts of an upset.

Clair scored 30 points to lead the host Raiders to a shocking, 37-34 victory over state-ranked Salem. With the win, North qualified for a spot in the conference playoffs.

North will face the Rocks again this week in the first round of the WLA playoffs Thursday night at Salem.

"We needed two wins this week, and the girls got the job done," North coach Lance Davis said. The Raiders improved to 7-9 overall and 4-7 in the WLA.

The teams were tied 13-13 at the end of one quarter and 23-23 after two.

"We went into halftime happy, because we could play with Salem," Davis said.

Gray paces Chiefs

Sophomore center Stephanie Gray led three players in double figures Thursday as Plymouth Canton defeated Livonia Churchill 59-36.

Julie Nicastri, a junior forward, added 16 points and had 10 rebounds, and senior guard Mary Barra had 11 points and 12 assists for Canton, 11-5 overall and 9-2 in the WLA.

Christina Garry, a senior center, led Churchill (7-9 and 4-7) with 15 points. The Chargers missed the eighth and final playoff spot in the WLA, losing a tiebreaker with North Farmington.

Canton outscored the Chargers 13-7 in the second quarter and 20-7 in the final period for the win.

"The kids used the same game plan that they've used all year," Canton assistant coach Leigh Langkabel said. "They got the ball into the post."

On Thursday, Canton will host Walled Lake Western in the first round of the WLA playoffs.

The third to take a 28-23 lead into the final quarter. Salem closed the margin to 30-28 with just over two minutes left and put on a full-court press. But North's Carey Perkins caught a long pass and made a basket to put the Raiders up by four.

"That gave us a big boost defensively, because we were struggling on offense at the time," Davis said.

"We were able to execute on offense and get Eve some shots. In the third quarter she scored two quick baskets after they changed defenses and I think it may have rattled them."

MERCY 47, AQUINAS 33; MERCY

coach Larry Baker was concerned about the Raiders because they were coming off an 88-point scoring total Tuesday.

But Baker's worries were eased by the Marlin's defense, which held Aquinas scoreless until there was a minute and a half left in the opening quarter. The Marlin's jumped out to a 16-4 lead en route to the victory Thursday.

Mercy, 13-4 overall, played Central Division champ Birmingham Marian in the Catholic League semifinals at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Calihan Hall. Aquinas fell to 11-5 overall.

Senior forward Carrie Wallon led Marlin's with 15 points. Junior center Laure DeMatteis added 14 points, converting eight of 10 free throws, and also grabbed 16 rebounds. Junior guard Kathleen Bergan scored 10 points and dished out nine assists.

"We struggled to score until the third quarter," Baker said. "Bergan did a good job controlling the tempo."

SHIRINE 58, LADYWOOD 41: It was a frustrating night for the Blazers in the first round of the Catholic League basketball playoffs.

Ladywood couldn't overcome foul trouble Thursday, falling to AA Division champion Royal Warner and Shea's defense on Holy Miller. She's a great shooter and penetrator.

"(Clair) clearly dominated the game. She made all the big shots. We played our zones like we usually do. We played her straight up; we put pressure on her, and nothing worked. She took us out of our rhythm."

points. Tracey Moon added 10.

The Knights jumped out to a 35-21 halftime lead and led 50-28 before coasting home.

Ladywood scored a year coach Toni Gasparini said, there was a discrepancy in fouls called.

"It was 12-4 (fouls) against us in the first quarter and it was 23-13 for the game," she said. "We had two starters in foul trouble, and we were trying to be aggressive, but we couldn't."

FRANKLIN 49, W.L. WESTERN 38: Livonia Franklin used a 21-11 first quarter advantage Thursday to hold on to a 10-point win against Walled Lake Western.

Junior guard Dawn Warner scored 19 points and 12 rebounds, while senior forward Julianne Stasiak chipped in 12 points for Livonia Franklin (13-3, 5-3).

For Walled Lake Western (8-9, 5-5), junior forward Dawn Godfrey scored 13 points and junior center Jeni Gross added 11 points.

Last seasons all-conference player Holly Miller was held to seven points.

"We jumped on them right away," said Franklin coach Dan Freeman said. "The key was Patty Warner and Shea's defense on Holly Miller. She's a great shooter and penetrator."

"We have one more non-league game at Churchill and we want to win that one for the city championship. After that, it's the conference playoffs and it will be a dogfight. A lot of teams are playing well."

Ladywood, which slipped to 5-12 overall, was led by sophomore Mary Jo Kelly and Rebecca Willey, each scoring 11

S'craft chooses new legal counsel

By Janice Brunson
Staff writer

In spite of strong objections by two trustees and the announced resignation of one, members of the Schoolcraft College Board appointed a Plymouth firm the college's legal representative in a 5-2 vote Wednesday.

Law, Hemming, Essad & Polczyk was approved from a field of four firms, over objections by trustees Jack Kirksey and Harry Greenleaf who supported the larger firm of Plunkett & Cooney of Detroit.

Kirksey, who serves as board treasurer, announced his resignation effective March 29, 1991. The announcement came prior to the vote because "I have little doubt how the vote will go, and I don't want it seen as 'it didn't go my way.'"

Board vice-president Jeanne Stempien moved to approve Law, Hemming, Essad & Polczyk. "I feel strongly about a local firm and I feel the qualifications are there," she said.

Board president Mary Breen and trustees Wendell Smith, Michael Burley and Thaddeus McCotter, a law clerk for the consulting firm of Brashear, Tangora and Spence of Livonia, supported Stempien's move.

In comments prior to the vote, Burley said he considered size and local ties of the Plymouth firm.

Smith said he also considered size, local ties and the firm's former experience in educational matters.

a year to get to this point. We reluctantly entered into the process." At an Oct. 17 meeting, each firm was granted a half-hour interview with trustees.

Based on the interviews, Greenleaf said that while he favored local firms, the "strength, diversity and depth of experience" displayed by Plunkett & Cooney convinced him to support the firm.

Law, Hemming, Essad & Polczyk is expected to assume legal duties "as soon as feasibly possible," according to Schoolcraft spokeswoman Sandra Florek. Concern about legal representation during earlier land development negotiations led trustees to consider new representation, she added.

Kirksey also expressed "regret" with board procedures in securing new legal representation. "It took us played by the one of the four competing firms.

"THERE IS NO conflict. I have nothing to gain," McCotter said, adding he intended to support the Plymouth firm over the Livonia employee.

Other trustees concurred. "If there is no personal compensation, I see no conflict," Burley said.

Representatives of each firm were present Wednesday. Breen thanked each for their earlier presentations.

Unions back Metro Airport bond issue

In a joint meeting Wednesday, the AFL-CIO and the Michigan Trades Council pledged support of a request by Wayne County to sell $100 million in bonds for improvements at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

The issue will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot.

The Metro Detroit AFL-CIO supports the bond sale, president Ed Scribner said, because it believes the economic future of southeast Michigan hinges on airport expansion.

"No single operation has such enormous impact on the entire region as the airport. And in a slumping economy on the verge of recession, I think gainful employment should be at the top of everybody's wish list," Scribner said.

"A lot of people are talking about quality-of-life issues concerning the airport. But you can't approach a quality of life without a job," Scribner said.

The Metro Detroit AFL-CIO has 400 local affiliate unions with over 340,000 members in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Bowling to honor standout performers

THE DETROIT BOWLING Council will host the Hall of Fame awards dinner on Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Polish Century Club, located on E. Outer Drive in Detroit.

Awards will be presented to Terry Grant, Marge Lewis, Harry Campbell, Bob Kwiecien, Jim Bennett, Richard Maher and Ron Seibel. The annual event is always one of the highlights on the local bowling scene and just about everybody who is anybody from the sport will attend to help honor those who have earned this award.

Cocktails will be served 5-6 p.m., followed by dinner. Tickets are $25 and can be purchased from the GDBA/DWBA office, at 22601 Greater Mack, St. Clair Shores. For more information, call 773-3554.

Terry O'Neill, a masonry contractor from Southfield, took home the first place money in the Mid-States Masters, held Oct. 7 at the Avon Recreation Center in Rochester Hills.

O'Neill beat Lou Dupuis of Windsor 210-190 in the finals to receive the winner's check of $1,500 and the bragging rights as champion. To obtain information on competing in future Mid-States, call Al Bielawski, tournament director, at 774-4148.

The Yellow Sheets are on the bowling counters for the 1st annual Hamtramck Singles Classic. However, things are different this year because it will take place in Hazel Park - not Hamtramck.

Unique about this tournament is the enormous prize list, with more than $280,000 paid out so far in 1990. First place is $50,000. The ABC/WIBC sanctioned tournament runs through June 30. For more information, call 546-0070.

The Scheffer Beer Michigan Majors Tournament in Grand Rapids was well-represented by some of our local heroes on the prize list. Those observed/learned representatives included: fourth place ($600), Troy Stus of Garden City, seventh ($300), Jon Reed of Redford, 13th ($100), Tony Slipcak of Redford, 14th ($100), Ken Kosciak of Canton, 19th ($100), and the local bowling scene and just about everybody who is anybody from the sport will attend to help honor those who have earned this award.

20 MOT director reminisces, looks ahead

By Mary Jane Doerr
special writer

MICHIGAN OPERA THEATRE is 20 years old and general director David DiChiera wanted to reminisce.

His eyes lighted up as he mentioned Gerald Scarfe's "Orpheus in the Underworld." He is proud of the sell-out Pavarotti concert at Joe Louis Arena. His favorite production in the last 20 years? David Alden's 1977 "Faust" or perhaps it was Rhoda Levine's "Magic Flute."

"This is going to be a year like 1976. There are so many artists on this roster on the threshold of major careers," said Dr. Di (as he is affectionately called) over tea in the breakfast room of his Bloomfield Hills home. He has a little less gray with a new short hair cut.

DiChiera earned his reputation for discovering talent in 1976 when Leona Mitchell, Marianna Christos, Catherine Malfitano, Neil Shicoff, Kathleen Battle and Rockwell Blake debuted in the same season.

"I have only heard one 'Butterfly' I enjoyed — that was Korean soprano Kyu Do Park who sang for us in 1978. I hope this one is of that quality."

DYNAMITE JAPANESE soprano Yoko Watanabe won a 15 minute standing ovation at the Kennedy Center recently and is singing "Madama Butterfly" in Michigan Opera Theatre's production at Masonic Temple this spring. Alessandra Marc proved sensational last summer in Santa Fe in "Ariadne auf Naxos" which she is singing for the opera theater this spring.

For the season opener "Rigoletto" Friday, Nov. 2, another new star Maureen O'Flynn will sing Gilda. DiChiera is convinced of Romanian emigre Florin Georgescu's talent and has him cast as the Duke.

"I think of all the artists I have worked with, I have enjoyed (Joan) Sutherland the most," said DiChiera who just returned with his daughter, Lisa, and 90-year old mother from a family reunion in Australia.

George Gaynes played the role of Horace in the 1977 production of Blitzstein's "Regina," one of the many American operas which MOT has championed.

There he visited the legendary singer for her final stage appearance in "Les Huguenots." Last spring, he especially liked "Romeo et Juliette" and is bringing "Les Huguenots" to Detroit.

"French opera has been underrated," said DiChiera whose first language is Italian. "We have been overwhelmed by singing in the Italian style coming out of the Caruso era. We have lost appreciation for the stylistic singer, where there is real balance between words and mu-an incredibly magnificent production to Masonic Temple."

Stage and screen star Eddie Bracken will play the role of Cap'n Andy Hawke in "Showboat" Nov. 16-25 at the Fisher Theatre.

MICHIGAN OPERA Theater actually began in the early '60s, when DiChiera joined the Oakland University music faculty after earning his doctorate in musicology from UCLA. His Overture to Opera series took one act operas to schools and communities. He convinced Barbara Williams (famous for her Toscanini recordings) to sing the mad scene from "Lucia Di Lammermoor" and daringly toured an anti-war Kurt Weill opera "Der Yasager" during the Vietnam War.

Against the backdrop of the Detroit riots, DiChiera and his wife, Karen, founded the opera theater. The company debuted Maria Ewing at the Detroit Institute of Arts in an English version of "Barber of Seville." A budgeted $80,000 and 700 subscribers formed the bases for the company.

"The amazing part was that we had a second season," said DiChiera. "The DIA proved problematic for security reasons. We had the good fortune of getting Music Hall. Karen always tells the story about taking some volunteers to the second balcony to take up the rug. They found 30 years' accumulation of dirt."

There were few employees other than Bob Heuer (now general manager of the Miami Opera). Karen was a full-time volunteer.

"As I look around the country at the opera companies all I see is my former employees. I feel like the San Francisco Opera is the MOT outpost," he said referring to former Michigan Opera Theatre employees now working for the country's third-largest opera.

Sal Mineo's direction of Menotti's "The Medium" (1973) is one of DiChiera's most cherished memories.

"When he got here, the 'Mary Doerrs' were out interviewing him," said DiChiera smiling. "I was still chairman of the music department at Oakland University. After one of those interviews Muriel Greenspon called complaining that Mineo said he was going to teach her how to act. The two tolerated each other, but the effect on stage was so wonderful."

David DiChiera, founder and general director of Michigan Opera Theatre, now celebrating its 20th birthday, was surprised when it made it to a second.

Joan Sutherland and her husband, conductor Richard Bonyng, and the DiChieras became close friends through her appearances in "Norma" and "Anna Bolena" with Michigan Opera Theatre.

"Tosca" is the "Othello" of the opera stage, an opera often plagued by mishaps. This was true for the 1972 "Tosca."

"We were having dinner at the DAC when I got a phone call from the truck driver bringing the percussion instruments from Flint. The lights had gone out and he could not continue down the expressway. Bill (Byrd) said we could re-orchestrate the percussion music into the trombone section. That's what we did an hour before curtain time. I remember thinking 'so this is how this business operates.' Little did I know."

THE CURSE OF TOSCA hit the 1987 production. Three sopranos and two tenors were hired before final casting. Opening night, Charles Long took ill. DiChiera told the audience in his front-of-the-house comments to enjoy "Tosca" because it would be a long time before he mounts it again.

"I decided to share the drama. I had a sick baritone on the stage, a baritone on a plane, and a baritone on the way to the theater. People have told me that performance was one of our most exciting."

Of the many American operas the opera theater has championed, Blitzstein's "Regina" (1977) is a favorite.

"It is a bittersweet memory. I had put so much work into making it special. The cast was for my thoughts perfect except for one person — Joan Diener (Lalume in "Kismet"), the title role. I chased her all over Europe to sign her with us. I heard she was a nightmare, but I hired her anyway. She caused so much agitation I had to let the stage director go, whom I greatly respect. It was such an unhappy experience."

Partyin' on the river

Michigan Opera Theatre will continue the celebration of its 20th birthday and the upcoming production of "Showboat" with a party, "Natchez in November," 7-10 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, aboard the Star of Detroit.

"Showboat" opens Nov. 16 at the Fisher Theatre and members of the cast, including Eddie Bracken and Ron Raines, will be on hand to greet guests. The Star of Detroit will remain docked throughout the evening.

so no one will miss the boat.

Local radio and TV personalities will attend, the Red Garter Band will be playing and numbers from "Showboat" will be presented. A menu of southern specialties will be served. Attendees are encouraged to wear festive summer attire; the ship will be completely enclosed and climate-controlled.

Tickets are $35 per person. To order, call MOT Special Events, 874-7850.

Jukeboxes bring back the sounds of the past

By John Monaghan
special writer

When the neon lights are shining and the mirrored ball is turning in Ed Blain's showroom, you may think you've stepped into jukebox heaven. A nickel or a dime is all you need to fire up Glenn Miller or The Supremes.

But walking away with a jukebox for your own home requires a bit more capital.

Blain, Detroit's king of jukeboxes, has been tracking down, restoring and selling vintage jukeboxes for 20 years. He began his career in a Pontiac flea market and now works exclusively out of several storefronts on Gratiot Avenue near Six Mile in Detroit.

Over the years, he has restored close to 2,000 jukeboxes, servicing restaurants, homes and even customers as far away as Berlin, Germany. According to Blain, more than half of his sales are to people in Oakland County suburbs like Rochester, Birmingham and the Bloomfields.

"My wife and I went to this place looking for an inexpensive newer model machine," said Gus Doerfler, a paper sales manager from Rochester. "But then we saw this and knew we had to have it."

THE CENTER piece of Doerfler's basement rec room, it is surrounded by a black-and-white tile floor, a soda counter and pictures of Elvis and James Dean.

For him, the jukebox recalls his childhood.

"We used to go to a pizza place about as big as this room and, of course, it had a jukebox," he said.

A similar sense of nostalgia got Blain into the business.

"When I was a teenager, my mother had this restaurant with a big wooden jukebox in it," he recalled. "I wanted to find one just like it. By the time I had found it about eight years ago, and just a mile away from here, I already had hundreds of machines."

With his slick black hair and gravelly, tough-guy voice, Blain, 65, is a perfect compliment to the machines he sells. He estimates that he has 800 machines in

'When I was a teenager, my mother had this restaurant with a big wooden jukebox in it.'

— Ed Blain

his 18,000 square feet of storefront and warehouse space.

Pointing to one of 50 machines that line his paneled showroom, Blain conducts a brief history of jukebox styling.

"The value of a machine doesn't depend on how old it is," he said, explaining why the '30s models, similar in design to an old radio cabinet, can be obtained for considerably less than the neon and chrome gems from the 1940s and early '50s.

PERHAPS THE best known of these is the Wurlitzer 1015 of 1946. The crowning achievement of famed designer Paul Fuller, this bullet-shaped steple of wood houses glass colored by green, blue and red flashing neon. An electrically operated bubble device runs up tubes along the sides.

Jazz guitarist Earl Klugh bought one for his home in Bloomfield Township and stocked it with 78 RPM recordings of Count Basie, Duke Ellington and other jazz greats.

"There's something intangible about the sound," he said. "It's certainly more fun than playing your stereo. As a musician, I appreciate that unique, bassy sound."

Perhaps the last great jukebox design was 1961's AMI Continental, a futuristic bubble-topped model with aquamarine accents. Hotel manager Bill Kirkhuff has one in his Art Deco-style basement in Birmingham. He's got it filled with everything from Patsy Kline's "Crazy" to the Pet Shop Boys' "Opportunities."

"I originally bought it as an investment, but it's grown into something more," he said.

Unlike earlier models, the '60s and '70s machines no longer allowed the player to see the record selections spinning.

'White Palace:' Hollywood cooks up a romantic tale

Can a polite, upward mobile, successful professional fellow find love and happiness with an older woman who sells hamburgers at "The White Palace" (A, R, 100 minutes)?

You betcha, friends, anything is possible in this mad world of ours, particularly when Hollywood tells the story.

Max (Baron James Spader) is a conventional young man whose wife, Jane, was killed in an auto crash two years ago. Aside from his work, he's reclusive and still mourns her despite the efforts of his mother and friends to fix him up with all the eligible young ladies in St. Louis.

A few missing hamburgers lead to a confrontation between Max and Nora Baker (Susan Sarandon), a waitress at The White Palace, the local hamburger joint which is much more like the White Tower than the Ritz to which Max is accustomed.

Despite the argument over greasy beef, Max and Nora quickly find themselves enjoying her bed in a one night stand that is both erotic and humorous as well as extremely satisfying for both of them. Quite unexpectedly, however, Max returns for more and more.

What began as a drunken quickie evolves into a serious relationship complicated by Max's upper-middle class Jewish background and Nora's wrong-side-of-the-tracks Christianity.

This may all sound rather trite, but superb performances by the entire cast, an appropriate musical track and disciplined direction of an excellent script equal a fine production which has a lot to say about obsession, social roles and the ways in which people torment themselves and one another.

WITH THE exception of the leads and Eileen Brennan as Nora's sister, Judy, a clairvoyant, the cast is largely unknown but far from unaccomplished. Their long lists of credits reflect considerable experience and it shows in the strongly realistic appearances they make.

Often film characters, however interesting, appear unreal. Not so in "The White Palace" where all have a

'Woman' is a Soviet treat

A good man is hard to find. For Klavdia, the 43-year-old seamstress heroine of "Lonely Woman Seeks Life Companion," the statement couldn't be more true. Tired of clattering around her apartment, she posts signs throughout Moscow, advertising for love.

Her first respondent is no Prince Charming, but an alcoholic ex-circus performer named Valentin who shows up on her doorstep. Even though she bops him on the head and throws him out, he's persistent, and a relationship slowly develops.

Made in 1987 at the dawn of glasnost, "Lonely Woman Seeks Life Companion" is a charming, intimate comedy that proves that shortages of love know no boundaries. It plays Friday at the Detroit Film Theatre.

Even after Klavdia and Valentin get closer, society frowns upon the relationship. Friends say she can "do better" and call Valentin "a social parasite."

She starts to have doubts also. "I don't know what to save any more," she cries. "I need to be saved."

Then she considers the alternatives. A sort of Communist scout troop called the Young Pioneers decides to take the lonely woman under its wing. In one touching and funny moment, the squeaky clean Pioneers even serenade her.

At the core of the film is Irina Kupchenko's performance. She captured the best-actress prize at last year's Montreal Film Festival for her portrayal of a prim, well-dressed woman with a good job and a large apartment in overcrowded Moscow.

"Lonely Woman" predates and also complements "Little Vera" (1989), the equally insightful look at a restless teenager in a small Soviet industrial town. Both characters could easily exist in Western cities.

Depicting the horrors of the Holocaust or of any other genocidal tragedy is a difficult task. How can you unspeakable be spoken or shown? Is it possible to represent visually atrocities that the mind cannot comprehend?

The best efforts in this regard focus their energies on the calamities visited upon a few individuals. One man who has suffered and stands as a symbol for millions is a character to whom all viewers can relate.

"Murderers Among Us: The Simon Wiesenthal Story" (1989, color, 157 minutes), to be released Wednesday by HBO is a docu-drama recounting Wiesenthal's (Best Kinship) search for justice following his May 1945 liberation from the Mauthausen concentration camp.

The film chronicles Wiesenthal's story from that time as he began working with the U.S. Army War Crimes Investigating Division, his founding of his now-famous Documentation Center in Vienna and his devotion to tracking down Nazi war criminals and seeing that they are tried for the atrocities they had committed.

A valid film about the Holocaust must avoid trivializing characters by giving them a commercial, Hollywood-like appeal.

What this film does quite successfully is show us people in hell, and the devils that put them there for no good reason.

Many punk groups have disappeared, some have mellowed and some have died, but Social Distortion is cranking out the same amplified snarl.

Social climbers Distortion outlasts its punk beginnings

A chunk of his left ear is chewed off. A scar on his left hand reminds him of a self-inflicted knife wound. He's been in jail and through treatment for drug and alcohol abuse.

The punk lives, which is quite remarkable 10 years later. Many played the part of the anarchic, venom-spewing musician, but Mike Ness of Social Distortion lived it.

Ness' career was marked by a long list of bar brawls and run-ins with the law.

Then the punk met the Godfather of fate. Ness got clean, but Social Distortion on the road again and signed a record deal with Epic.

movement, Social Distortion is cranking out the same amplified snarl that put the L.A.-based group with the ranks of the Sex Pistols, Clash and the Ramones.

Many have disappeared, some have mellowed and some have died like Sid Vicious. Yet, one of the punk period's most virulent outfits continues — on a major label no less.

"Yeah, it's weird for a band of our caliber to be signed to a major label," said Ness in a telephone interview. "Out of the hundreds of bands that came out of Orange County, (Calif.) ... I don't know what to attribute it to. All I ever wanted to do is be in a band. I don't question it. I'm just grateful."

NESS HAS said thanks — not by turning gratuitously sentimental — but by being the truculent frontman that brought Social Distortion out of the Los Angeles punk scene and into the forefront.

The band released "Prison Bound" (Restless/Enigma) in 1988, marking a comeback of sorts.

Until then, Ness' life remained a sordid tale of drugs, alcohol and bust-ups. His most notable bar bout took place outside of a Costa Mesa club when his left ear was bitten off. Ness' wild mood swings could partly be attributed to a heroin addiction, which he kicked nearly five years ago.

In the recovery process, Ness learned a true rebel didn't need to be high on smack or stumbling drunk to be an outlaw in the eyes of others. "Prison Bound," in part, chronicled those self-discoveries. But Ness wasn't happy with the outcome, deeming the 1988 release as "too mellow."

Before he talks, Chad Smith wants to know one thing. "Did my mother call you?"

Well, err, she did. But any mom would want to brag about her son who's a drummer with one of those long-haired, funk-punk ensembles whose last record went gold, every collective mugs are plaster on every music magazine and whose videos radiate on MTV.

The drummer of the Red Hot Chili Peppers breaks out in laughter. The past year, well, has been a rock'n'roll odyssey for the Bloomfield Hills native.

Smith, 28, a 1980 graduate of Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School, found his way into the music business as a drummer with several local bands, most notably with Detroit rock'n'roll war horses Toby Redd from 1984-88.

"I've played in lots of bands and stuff and I paid my dues, to use a cliché. I wasn't like, 'Wow.' But, in a way, it was like that. I was ready for it."

— Chad Smith

But like many a local rocker, Smith grew tired of the smoke, haze and general malaise associated with the bushes of the local beat. He scrambled.

Smith loaded up the truck and moved to Beverly Hills (actually Los Angeles) to attend the Musician Institute. He found hills, swimming pools and movie stars.

A month later, the Red Hot Chili Peppers were in the studio recording what would be their most successful album to date, "Mother's Milk."

Then Smith and the group were whisked off to a year-long tour, including stops in Europe and Japan.

EVERYTHING HAPPENED fast. Smith could handle the pace.

"I've played in lots of bands and stuff and I paid my dues, to use a cliché," Smith said. "I wasn't like, 'Wow.' But, in a way, it was like that. I was ready for it."

The question, though, was more like were the Red Hot Chili Peppers ready for Smith? After all, his prior experience was with straight-ahead hard rock bands. The Chili Peppers — albeit quite loud — are a funky, punky outfit appealing to more of an alternative/college crowd.

Smith was venturing into uncharted territory. He heard of the band, but wasn't particularly a big fan of theirs.

"I just went in and jammed and rocked out," Smith said. "They just started laughing hysterically. They couldn't figure out if I was good or just wild."

REVIEWS

DREAMLAND — Black Box

"Every so often, into the life of an album reviewer there comes an album that truly pleases the senses. "Dreamland" by the Italian band Black Box is such an album.

Soulful singer Katrin Quinol has a refreshing exuberance in her voice. The first two tracks are entitled "Everybody Everybody" and "I Don't Need Nobody Else," and they kick off this album with spice and zeal. They're classic dance tunes. If you go to a dance bar, you're bound to hear them, and if you've been to one recently, then you already know what I mean.

Katrin Quinol was once a French model. But her musical influences are taken from English and American pop culture.

Yet the band's first hit single, called "Ride on Time," off the "Dreamland" album, was not sung by Katrin at all, but by Loleatta Holloway, who first surfaced during the American disco craze of the late '70s.

"Because 'Ride on Time' took off so quickly, we didn't have time to re-

HEAVEN OR LAS VEGAS — Cocteau Twins

To the first-time listener, the Cocteau Twins provide a dazzling atmospheric array of gorgeous sound. The music is accessible, but are the Cocteau Twins?

Beyond the swirling, multi-colored cover art work, little information is available about the vaunted new music outfit. This is by design, of course.

The more obscure, the more mysterious, the more from which legends are made. And, deservedly so, the Cocteau Twins have gained exalted status for their music.

At what point, though, does being coy cross into being a snob? By purposely portraying yourself as an enigma stem from trying to hide the fact you're really quite ordinary?

Better yet, how much are Cocteau Twins really Cocteau Twins or the creation of AAD mastermind Ivo Watts-Russell? These are not criticisms, mind you, just mere questions.

Musically, Liz and Robin are flawless. "Heaven or Las Vegas" (Capitol/AAD) is swirling, orchestral and lovely with a brooding undertone that leaves Cocteau Twins whole-somely intriguing.

"Heaven or Las Vegas," the title track, shimmers with brilliance as Liz's ethereal vocals provide an equinox of tranquility. Like many of the numbers here, the sound is both surreal and uplifting.

"Fotzopolitic" reveals somewhat of an introspective side to the Cocteau, at least the closest thing to it on this LP. The echoed nature of the music can lend itself to interpretation as far as lyrics are concerned. And, of course, the words are not provided with the package.

In the Cocteau's mind, ours is not to ask but rather to enjoy.

DREAMLAND — Black Box

"Every so often, into the life of an album reviewer there comes an album that truly pleases the senses. "Dreamland" by the Italian band Black Box is such an album.

Soulful singer Katrin Quinol has a refreshing exuberance in her voice. The first two tracks are entitled "Everybody Everybody" and "I Don't Need Nobody Else," and they kick off this album with spice and zeal. They're classic dance tunes. If you go to a dance bar, you're bound to hear them, and if you've been to one recently, then you already know what I mean.

If anything, Smith provided some comic relief to a group enduring a tragedy. Guitarist Hillel Slovak died of a heroin overdose in June 1988.

The band was still in shock over the death.

Red Hot Chili Peppers are anxious to put the past behind them. The band is busy writing songs for a soon-to-be recorded new album.

Chad Smith, (lower left) a 1980 graduate of Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School, toiled as a drummer with several local bands, but now is making a name for himself as the drummer for Red Hot Chili Peppers.

Rick Rubin (Slayer, Danzig) will produce the project. Also, the band has left EMI and is negotiating with several major labels.

"With 'Mother's Milk,' we were just getting to know one another," Smith said. "It's a whole different thing now. We're a band. We're writing songs together."

With the release of this next album, Smith will have come full-circle with the Chili Peppers and his music career. He's considered one of the top drummers on the circuit.

As a result, people like Smith and groups such as Second Step have to move to California or New York in hopes of making it. Smith has. So, his parents can stop worrying.

Smith recently flew his mother, Joan Smith, out to New York for a party celebrating the band's gold record. He also recalls how his father, Curt Smith, used to go behind

Those themes of emerging at the end of the tunnel of a turbulent past persist on Social Distortion's self-titled LP on Epic. To Ness' liking, the release is anything but tame. The album includes a cutting cover of Johnny Cash's classic "Ring of Fire," revealing Ness' love of country music.

Like country, Ness spews out some vivid lines about dancing in life's darkest corners in his distinct nasal growl.

"DRUG TRAIN" is a bitter number about the realities of substance abuse. Ness sings with the voice of experience. "The train passes through the graveyard/May the loved ones rest in peace/For the last stop baby is a violent crash/And hard times, they may never cease."

Against the cascade of Ness' crashing guitar work, the number has bite and echoes punk music's better days 10 years ago.

"Something has definitely been lost in the transition throughout the years," Ness said.

STREET SENSE

Don't let criticism be guide

Dear Barbara,

My husband has been ill for many years. I am a young woman only in my 40s. Recently, I met a man that I like very much and have spent a little time with him.

It would be impossible to divorce my husband. How much of a role should I allow this other man to play in my life? I am lonesome for male companionship.

Sad

Dear Sad,

It is sad that life presents us with dilemmas like this one. Readers have often written despairingly of their less than satisfactory options.

Reading only slightly between the lines of your letter, I surmise that, because of his illness, you and your husband are unable to have a physical and emotionally intimate relationship.

As long as you know that you are doing the best that you can do for you and your husband, then the criticism of those who are incapable of understanding should not control your life.

GRADING THE MOVIES

This compelling and endearing realism as if they were actual folks next door or down the block.

That quality taken with the strong performances by a Sarandon and Spader result in a compelling portrait of two unlikely lovers for whom audiences will root. Bridging social and cultural gaps, to say nothing of 17-year disparity in their ages, is no mean task but doing so speaks volumes about the power of love.

That's what "The White Palace" does so well.

Kirstie Alley is developing an unfortunate knack for appearing in slow-paced, humorless comedies with unbelievable characters and exaggerated plots. The strain of accepting the Turner family of doctors in "Sibling Rivalry" (C, PG-13, 87 minutes) is almost as much as accepting the relatives that visited Kirstie in "Madhouse."

MARJORIE TURNER (Alley) is married to Dr. Harry Turner (Scott Bakula) the youngest of a medical clan composed of a father, Dr. Charles Turner Sr. (John Randolph), mother, Dr. Rose Turner (Frances Sternhagen) and sister, Dr. Iris Turner-Hunter (Carrie Fisher).

Iris has in tow a husband, Dr. Casey Hunter (Matthew Laurance). She's a particularly obnoxious and pretentious little snit. When the family isn't demeaning Harry (the youngest), they're busy treating Marjorie worse than hired help. But it's OK, she's not a doctor. These stereotypes — characters and situations — are so overdrawn that they're simply ridiculous and not at all humorous.

The Turner family busily prepares for the return of the favorite son, Dr. Charles Jr. (Sam Elliott) who has been off somewhere in South America doing medical research. He's the oldest and favorite.

Meanwhile, Marjorie's younger sister, Jeanine (Jami Gertz) is a free-spirit who counsels Marjorie to have an affair and loosen up. One thing and another, she does and you'll never guess who she picks, albeit unknowingly.

The complications are unbelievable and include an incompetent blind salesman, Nick Meany (Bill Pullman), whose older brother, Wilbur (Ed O'Neill) is in line to become the town's police chief. These two are embarrassingly slow and simple in everything they do.

MANY OF Jones' family and friends, including Ray Charles, Miles Davis, Ella Fitzgerald and Ice-T, contribute to the image of Jones as a musician, composer, producer and writer.

The numerous cuts to performers singing and to old footage of brass bands playing provide an upbeat tempo. The quick cuts and frenetic camera movements add to the film's kinetic energy although at times the pace is too rapid for clarity.

Overall, "Listen Up: The Lives of Quincy Jones" is full of style and substance and proves the song true: Quincy Jones is "Back on the Block," both personally and nationally.

Goich's goal: TV stardom

By Lorraine McClish
staff writer

HER GOAL IS to star in a TV situation comedy and she's climbing up that ladder by way of the local comedy clubs.

"That's how it's done. Bill Cosby did it that way along with dozens of others," said Lisa Goich, while trying to laugh about the cold she has. "Some clubs are harder and take longer than others, but the (comedy) clubs are where the TV talent agents come to look."

"They're looking for the next Rossano, so that's where you've got to be."

Goich was born and raised in Warren. Single, she lives with her parents and uses her life "as a single girl trying to save enough money to buy my own house" as the basis for her after-hours life as a stand-up comedienne.

"I write all of my own stuff," she said. "It's all stuff from real life. That's what I know and that's what I write about."

"Married women can relate to it and so can men. It's become like a signature."

And what does Goich have to say about her life?

"I TALK ABOUT what a drag my life is, she said. "I'm so lonely I don't have anybody to see 'Ghost' with and everybody tells me that's not a movie to see by yourself. When I say something like that everybody in the club gets single-oriented with me."

Goich gets her highs from making people laugh, or if not laugh, then second best, making them feel better than before.

"I've had people come up to me after the show and say 'thanks for making my day better,'" she said. "People who are in the middle of a divorce — or a bad affair — have told me that they were able to forget it for at least for a couple of hours."

"I do a bit about Pop Rocks (can-

For Lisa Goich, doing the club shows gives her immediate feedback. People come to laugh and "that's what we do," she says.

Doing-the-club-shows gives me immediate feedback, she said. "People come to laugh and that's what we do."

Her biggest successes with the most fun crowds has been in the Looney Bin, she said.

Her favorite comedienne is Paula Poundstone who she watched every time she played in Chaplin's and is now climbing up that comedy ladder while living in Los Angeles.

Julie Graham of Royal Oak and Barbara Bocci are all smiles after successfully solving a soiling problem the former was having with her 4-month-old Highland terrier, Abby.

Putting problem pets in their places

By Joanne T. Sobczak
special writer

"I have potty trained three kids," said Julie Graham of Royal Oak in a breath of frustration over her unsuccessful attempt to train her fourth.

Graham has three children ages 10, 8 and 4, but it is her 4-month-old white Highland terrier, Abby, that was the problem "child."

A dozen pet owners as well as Graham sat around a table one Wednesday evening at the Trainers Academy for Obedience and Behavioral Sciences in Madison Heights to learn and discuss why their dogs just can't control the urge to urinate wherever they want.

Barbara Bocci, owner and instructor, knows exactly how it feels to be driven mad by such pet problems. She has raised many dogs, and her dedication to these animals developed her present career.

"We must learn how dogs think rather than expect them to understand how we think," said Bocci at the beginning of the bi-monthly house soiling-chewing clinic, one of several services offered by the school. "These puppies come into a foreign environment when they come into our home. It's up to us to be the teachers."

She breaks down the problem — "However, it is perceived, what is desirable to humans may not be desirable to dogs. And what is often undesirable to humans is often very desirable to dogs. To them it feels absolutely wonderful to urinate and defecate on your dining room floor."

EVERYONE, including Graham, is laughing as Bocci adds: "It is desirable to them because it is out of their way and out of your sight and probably because you are a crazy person for yelling at them."

Bocci, whose academy has eight other locations and graduates 2,500 dogs annually, instructs the anguished owners about the crate training method which usually solves the problem in most cases.

It reinforces appropriate behavior while preventing the undesirable.

Graham was already familiar with crate training but was following the instructions of a pet store salesperson. It worked for their now deceased cocker spaniel but not for Abby because she was also soiling in the crate.

According to Bocci, crates are not useful correction tools if the pet was bought from a pet store (where Abby was bought) or kennel because the animals have lived in in cages. If the pup's first weeks were initially in a cage, the crate becomes nothing more than a similar environment.

Following Bocci's suggestions, the next evening Graham attached a six-foot leash to her waist with Abby at the other end of it. Together they spend three hours every night, at half hour intervals, going outside to assure elimination occurs there and not in the home. Graham has been keeping a schedule in addition to this "umbilical cord" technique. There has been some success but the road is going to be long . . . and wet.

TRAINERS Academy not only offers clinics on house soiling, but also conducts home and show obedience classes, behavioral counseling, in-home training, instructor programs and most recently Pets in Pictures, a talent agency for "star" pooches.

Tom Maxey watched with amusement as his wife Alecia and their dog McDuff participate in an advance show class. McDuff, an 11-month-old Bichon Frise, was worrying the couple. He would generally ignore their commands even when it meant his life. McDuff passed beginner level classes and now was entering canine collegiate turf.

"McDuff is a very docile, nice dog, but we live in Franklin where there are no fences," said Maxey.

"He wasn't listening to us; he wouldn't come," his wife said. "There were situations where he would be in danger like going near the street. We wanted him to be more obedient for safety."

Maxey isn't worried about his macho image as he gives McDuff a complimentary big smooch.

"He's great now, big difference," he said. "That's why we went on to take an advance class. He was able to understand us and we were able to understand him."

TROY RESIDENT Phil Jannes was teaching McDuff and Alecia Maxey as well as 15 other dogs and masters that night. Jannes spent seven years learning the dog obedience trade after his dog chewed up the family couch. Along with two assistant trainers, Jannes demonstrated leash correction.

"Timing is crucial to all exercises you teach because when the dog makes a mistake, you have to be there to correct it," he said. "Once you correct, you have to praise the dog as soon as it is doing it right. If you miss it by half a second, it's too late."

Barbara Ellico, administrative manager at the Michigan Humane Society's control location, took advantage of a free training gift certificate she received from David Gustner, director of behavioral counseling at Trainers Academy.

Ellico was shelter manager at MHS-North when Gustner, who is also director of public relations, visited the organization to explain the center's programs.

WITH ALL HER years of experience as a humane society employee, Ellico admitted being at wits end with Ginger, a German Shepherd-Husky mix that MHS rescued from a playground in Pontiac. The wiggly female was 8 eight days old when found under a slide. Ellico took her home and went through the exhausting hand-feeding route.

"We had her in a shoe box with a heating pad," she said. "She would cry just out of lack of companionship, so I got her a couple stuffed baby animals. I also began bringing her to work." Ginger spent its first four months in her office and then in MHS' kennels.

Ellico thought she knew everything about crate training. She certainly read plenty of brochures and books on the topic. And this wasn't the first dog she fostered. But regardless of all her knowledge and efforts, Ginger was a mess.

"She was unsocialized; she had very few manners and lacked so much confidence that when you walked up to her, she would roll on her back, put her feet up in the air and urinate," she said. "Sometimes all you had to do is come through the door and she would urinate everywhere."

Ginger's bad habits included urinating and defecating in her crate and chewing an area of Ellico's sofa and the leg off the kitchen table. Ellico was planning to put the foster pet up for adoption, she felt the dog definitely deserved the free offer.

Perhaps you are lucky. Your dog may be close to perfect and just needs some polishing to smooth out the "ruff" edges. Trainers Academy has the staff of 50-plus instructors.

But an important ingredient for Fido's success is the owner's commitment. If you are willing to work with your pet, the sky's the limit.

Tom Maxey of Franklin turned to Barbara Bocci for help with McDuff, an 11-month-old Bichon Frise who had a tendency to ignore commands even when it meant his life.

Jukebox: A brief history

With a swift smack, The Fonz could make the Seeburg Model C jukebox in Arnold's start to play in the television show "Happy Days." Tunes like "Blueberry Hill" and "One, Two Three O'Clock Rock" would fill the hamburger joint.

The crackling sounds of 45s playing on the jukebox have become a thing of past. Today, jukeboxes filled with compact discs give the customer a choice up to 1,200 tunes rather than the 100 The Fonz had to select from.

The first modern era jukebox was built in 1934, but the music machine's popularity didn't take off until 1950-60. In its heyday, 50,000 jukeboxes were manufactured annually and there were 500,000 in distribution.

The "granddaddy" of jukebox manufacturers is Wurlitzer, which dominated the jukebox industry through the 1940s. Wurlitzer manufactured classic jukeboxes, including its highly prized 1015.

But even though the 1015 was a classic, it had a few drawbacks. It played clumsy 78 rpm records and its selection was limited to 24.

In 1951, Seeburg introduced 45 rpm records. They were smaller than their cousins, the 78s, and cheaper to manufacture. They also spawned Seeburg's Model A jukebox, designed to play 100 selections.

The Seeburg Model A soon rendered the Wurlitzer jukebox obsolete and within a short time gave rise to the B and C models.

Jukeboxes were the mainstay of coin-operated businesses until video games came along. Between 1972 and 1982, the demand was for video games as opposed to jukeboxes.

Today, jukeboxes are becoming collector's items. It's estimated that there are 20,000 private collectors in the United States.

And for collectors, the cost depends on the jukebox being bought. When it was first made, the classic Wurlitzer 1015 cost between $700-800. A few years ago, one in mint condition had a value of $15,000 to $20,000.

Collectors save 'musicmakers'

"The companies thought the public was too sophisticated to be enthralled by a piece of mechanism," Blain said. "Actually, it was just a cockamamie excuse for building cheaper machines."

NOW, WITH THE price of a vintage jukebox rivaling that of a new car (a clean Wurlitzer 1015 sells for about $13,000), customers are looking to the newer, less expensive alternatives. A model from the '60s or '70s can be obtained (including delivery) for around $500.

Christmas is an especially busy season for Blain. Last year he was making deliveries at 11 o'clock on Christmas Eve. He remembers one clever customer who hid a jukebox behind a paneled wall in his basement. When it came time to open gifts, he simply removed a bit of panelling and revealed his surprise.

The dimly lit back rooms of Blain's operation are overflowing with machines, some completely stripped for parts. Others wait for a finishing touch to make them operational again.

"They're like a fine cheese or a bottle of wine maturing with age," he said. "I'm just waiting for them to reach the point where they become collectible."

Long before a builder finishes a house, efforts have been in the works to sell it.

Boom or bust: Builders rely on marketing to sell houses

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

Homes are still selling — albeit at a modest rate — but builders are working harder at it than during the building boom of only a couple years ago.

Scott Jacobson, president of S R Jacobson Development Corp. in Birmingham, said home sales today start before the first two-by-four stud is nailed in place.

Builders rely on marketing research firms to provide information on what customers are looking for, demographic studies to indicate where the people are or where they're going. And even in today's high-tech information age, they rely on years of experience and the intuition that comes with it, Jacobson said.

The key to selling in any market — depressed or booming — is to find some way to create excitement for the product, he said. "Find something or do something — below-market interest rates, no mortgage payments for three to four months, anything — to get people to look at your product."

AND THE PRODUCT is always a good place to start, according to David Botsford, the sales and marketing director for the West Bloomfield-based Classic Construction.

"Do we need another apartment building in this area? Do we need another luxury development? Do we need another luxury condominium development?" he asked. Answering a few simple questions leads the builder to what type of product will sell.

In the past, builders let the economy dictate when they could sell, he said. "Builders go into business during good times and go out of business during bad times. Builders think, 'I'm a builder, not a marketer.' Well, I'm saying you have to be a marketer if you're going to succeed," Botsford said.

Positioning, Ronald Stone, chairman of the advertising and public relations firm Stone, August and Baker in Troy, said is one of the most critical aspects when selling a home, regardless of whether it's a boom or bust economy.

"If you can build up your credibility, you will get people to come out to your product," Stone said.

POSITIONING, quite simply, means placing a product in the public's mind and giving that product a good perception, he said.

Stone said positioning requires two things: knowing a product and targeting an audience desirous of that product. "Look at it this way, you're obviously not going to sell a $60,000 car to a guy who makes $20,000 a year."

"Once you identify your target, it's relatively easy to reach them," he said.

The tools are many. Demographic studies, focus groups, post-purchase interviews, and even direct mail to areas with people in the target income bracket, Stone said.

Radio advertising, for example, gives a product frequency and reminds people the product is out there, Stone said. Radio, also allows an advertiser to focus more and direct advertising to a very select audience.

NEWSPAPERS, on the other hand, offer more permanence and immediacy, he said. Newspapers can offer maps to the development, provide a permanent record of the product and help people draw comparisons.

Television, Stone said, is rarely used in advertising home sales because of costs and difficulty in targeting an audience, but it has a similar effect to that of radio — frequency creates familiarity.

Product advertising, Botsford of Classic Construction said, has a place, but is not the only way to sell homes. "If I want to get someone to look at my product, I have to sell a lifestyle."

Advertising that stresses features, prices and location are frequently used, but may not be effective, he said. "Ads with floor plans and square footage — that's really builder language being sent out to non-builders."

Showing what living in a community means — golf, swimming, nature trails and location relevant to shopping, business and recreational amenities get people to take a look at a development, Botsford said. "They double my traffic flow."

ADVERTISING MAY get people out to the homes, but getting people to the door is only half the battle, John Sheehan, sales and marketing director for the Brody Group in Bloomfield Hills, said.

Sales people have come a long way in the last decade and what they've learned, is being put into practice now, he said. With fewer buyers and more builders in the market, competition has changed the market over the years.

In the past, home salespeople had a price and stuck to it, Sheehan said. "Now builders are willing to take an offer on their product."

These changes have changed the sellers job from that of basically taking orders to actually having to sell, he said. "(Home) salespeople have to sell themselves, their product and their price."

To be successful, salespeople must transmit honesty and integrity, Sheehan said. "You can't come across like you're going to take their tennis shoes."

THE ABILITY to listen to the customer and get to know him/her is probably the most important quality a salesperson can ask, Sheehan said. "You don't talk about yourself or your product until you do that."

When the time comes for salesperson to begin talk, he or she should be well-versed in the product and able to demonstrate a home's features, he said.

In the past, it wouldn't have been uncommon for a sales person to sit at a desk as the potential home buyer wandered aimlessly about the home, Sheehan said.

Jacobson agreed. "You just can't sit in a chair and wait for a house to sell itself."

In addition to having enough salespeople on hand, homes and developments are designed to guide people through and give ample opportunities for interaction between salespeople and customer, he said. But it takes more than skilled salespeople to sell a home, Jacobson added.

THE MODEL home is still an essential selling tool, he said. "It's part of the overall presentation — people want to walk into a house that looks like someone is living there."

"My merchandise costs have gone up dramatically," he said. But it's worth it, he added, because today builders strive to not only show their homes off, but to show the homes possibilities, he said.

"People can't visualize as well as a professional decorator can," he said. "Decorating can make or break a sale."

Botsford of Classic Construction said in addition to sales people and dressing up a home, the home sellers have to be more customer friendly. "We're open every day from noon to 6 p.m. or we can set up private appointments," he said. "A lot of builders are open different hours each day, are closed some days — that not only makes it difficult for the customers to buy, but it can also be confusing."

The more inconvenient a home is to buy, the less likely people will buy it, he said, adding it's easier to go to a builder who is convenient.

Taxing situation

Maybe you can help me clear up some tax questions I have regarding our home. My wife and I sold our home about 11 months ago and bought a more expensive home, in part, to avoid having to pay a tax on the profit of our home. We have now found that we may want to buy a larger house. We are concerned that if we sell our new house now we will have to pay a tax on the deferred profit because we have owned our new house less than 24 months.

When you sold your first home, you correctly deferred the profit tax by purchasing a replacement principal residence of equal or greater cost within 24 months before or after the sale as is permitted under the Internal Revenue Code, Section 1034. But the code provides that you can only use this once every 24 months with one exception. There is a tax deferral on a sale in less than 24 months if the sale is because of a job location change that qualifies for moving expense tax deduction. That means that your new job must be more than 35 miles further away from your old home than was the old job.

Finally, to avoid having to pay the tax, you are advised to wait to sell your current home until you have owned it at least 24 months. If you cannot do so, you may lease your current home to a tenant, perhaps with an option to buy, until after your 24 months expires or you may buy or lease a larger home so you can move now.

I am advised that several tax court decisions indicate that a temporary rental of your old home, while it is available for sale, will not convert it into a rental property and you will not lose a tax deferral of Section 1034 of the tax code, the "roll-over resident rule." You are advised to contact your tax adviser concerning these transactions.

We are interviewing management companies. Four of the five bids we received were within $1.50 per unit of the other. The fifth management company is $3.75 cheaper per unit based on specifications for the management contract that our lawyer prepared. The board, to no one's surprise, is gravitating toward the cheapest one. I am wary because I believe you get what you pay for. How do I convince the other board members of this?

There is always the school of hard knocks that will serve to teach directors that your belief is correct. Unfortunately, too many hard knocks can ruin a condominium association. Moreover, because of the frequent condo queries

turnover of directors of the association, what one board learns is not always transferred to the succeeding board. Simply put, some management companies, like some lawyers and CPAs in the field, intentionally bid in at prices well below the market to get the account.

Then either the management agent does not deliver the services promised (because it realistically cannot afford to do so because of its low rate) or it raises the fee after it has gotten in the door of the condominium. The management company may even have many accounts (about which it boasts) that it has obtained because it appeals to the frugality of many community association boards. But can it and will it be able to deliver the services? probably not in the long run. He who charges less knows best what his services are worth.

We have an opportunity to buy a timeshare that gives us the chance to travel to Maui in Hawaii. We have heard it is a beautiful area, but I'm wondering about the liability of having a condo there. What do you think?

A timeshare in Maui, a beautiful but expensive island, as in any other place, should be reviewed carefully by you before purchase.

Check to see whether you will be able to trade the use of your timeshare for other locales in the world.

The state of Hawaii has a condominium statute regarding condos, and there are lawyers who specialize in condominiums throughout the islands.

There is a substantial condominium boom in Honolulu with the attendant condominium association problems, including multi-million dollar construction defect litigation.

Kitchens, retirement topics of 2 seminars

What's cooking in kitchen designs and retirement planning are topics of upcoming seminars offered by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

The New Generation Builders Council of BASM will host Bonnie Upton from Kitchen Suppliers, Brian Burke from The Burke Agency and Tina Funni from Beaver Distributors.

The seminar will be from noon to 2 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Guest Quarters Hotel, 850 Tower Drive (off Crooks below the I-75 interchange) in Troy. Registration fees, including a buffet lunch, are $10 for BASM members, $15 for non-members.

The retirement seminar will be offered on Thursdays, Nov. 1 and 8.

Each program will be held 8-9:30 a.m. at the Clarion Hotel on 12 Mile Road at Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills. Registration fees, including continental breakfast, are $10 per session for members, $20 for non-members. Package rates for both sessions are $15 for members and $35 for non-members.

For information on either program, call 737-4477.

Pollution solution: Take it personally

Don't be part of the problem of pollution, global warming and the greenhouse effect: be part of the solution.

You can appraise your habits and how they affect the environment, according to an article in Country Living, and follow the conservation motto to reduce, recycle and reuse.

You can make a difference by making changes in your home, on vacation, at work, in the yard, when shopping and in your free time. Among the things you can do at home:

Recycle everything you can — newspapers, cans, glass, aluminum foil and pans, motor oil, scrap metals, used automobile tires — and investigate local recycling centers that take items your garbage hauler does not.

Use phosphate-free laundry detergent and dish soap, avoid pesticides when you can use a flyswatter and clean windows with vinegar, water and yesterday's newspaper. Use cold water in the washer until it is essential to use hot.

Opt for cotton dish towels and napkins instead of disposables and give cotton diapers a try.

Dispose of hazardous substances such as paint thinner and furniture polish on designated hazardous-waste-collection days instead of putting them down the drain.

STORE FOOD in reusable containers and return extra coat hangers to the dry cleaners.

Get an energy audit from your utility company, have your water heater insulated and set at 130 degrees. Lower your house temperature by one degree per hour for every hour you are away or asleep.

When on vacation, turn down the heat and turn off the water heater before you go. Make sure plastic trash doesn't end up in the ocean and cut the rings of all six-pack yokes. Leave animals and plants where you find them. Don't buy souvenirs made from wild animals. Stay on trails and don't litter.

At your business, start an office recycling program. Use scrap paper for jotting notes. Reuse manila envelopes and folders. Use ceramic coffee mugs instead of throwaway cups.

In your yard, cultivate plants that provide food and shelter for birds and other wildlife. Put up bird feeders and birdhouses.

Pull weeds instead of using potentially toxic herbicides. Learn about natural insect controls as alternatives to pesticides. Use natural fertilizers such as organic manures.

If you must use pesticides, herbicides or fungicides, don't throw leftovers in the trash, down the drain or into a storm sewer. Dispose of them on hazardous-waste-collection day.

ADD LEAVES and yard debris to your compost heap or take them to a yard debris recycler. Burning refuse creates air pollution.

Plant short, dense shrubs close to your home's foundation to help insulate against cold.

When shopping, avoid one-time-use goods such as paper and plastic plates and cups. Don't buy items with excess packaging such as individually wrapped cheese slices.

HOROSCOPE

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Work matters will require your full attention. Read the fine print on contracts or legal papers. A family member will bring you great joy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

It will be easier for you to relax, especially when you spend time with family members and close friends. Stay away from those who gossip.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

If all is calm on the domestic front, romantic sparks could fly. Focus on a particular project, and it will go faster for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

A friend needs your undivided attention more than you know. While it may seem an imposition, talking will actually help you, too.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

Your career will take a turn for the good and you will fall upon some new alternatives. Keep a sense of humor when arguing with loved ones.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

It seems like the problems at work will never go away. But actually the business can take care of itself. Don't let co-workers get on your nerves.

By C.C. Clark

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

If the other half of a love relationship is giving you trouble, tell that person immediately. Do not put up with mistreatment from others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

You will feel a burst of energy that will help on the domestic and business fronts. Travel beyond the regular routine, and try something new.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Hidden talents will come to the forefront. Someone close to you will bring out the best in your personality. Deal fairly with co-workers.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

This is a very social time for Leos. Be spontaneous and create your own party. Children will play an important part in your happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

You will be straightening things out domestically and in business this week. Keep an open mind, and let those creative juices flow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Work out business deals to the last detail. It seems like communication is hindered, but persistence pays off.

'Dallas' enters 13th year with plenty of intrigue

Honeymoon not blissful for Bobby, April

By Mary Ann Townsend

In 1980, the question was "Who shot J.R.?" This season's question is more apt to be "Who shot J.R. with Thorazine?"

As the 13th season of CBS' Dallas begins on Friday, Nov. 2, J.R. is fighting off attempts at shock and drug therapy while trying to find a way out of the insane asylum which he checked into at the end of last season.

How will he free himself? And if he does, how will he seek revenge on his estranged wife, Cally (Cathy Podewell), and illegitimate son James (Sasha Mitchell), who helped to keep him there?

Meanwhile, Bobby and April (Patrick Duffy and Sherie J. Wilson) have left the trials and tribulations of Ewing Oil at home to celebrate their marriage with a romantic Paris honeymoon. But tensions rise when they keep running into a wealthy Texas widow played by guest star Susan Lucci.

Rumor has it that the honeymoon is disrupted by a kidnapping.

"Um hmm," Lucci confirmed, "but that's all I can say."

In addition to Bobby and April's disrupted honeymoon, this season will feature other exciting plot twists and turns.

* J.R. (Larry Hagman) will discover that he has sired another child, this time with his estranged wife, Cally.

* Miss Ellie (Barbara Bel Geddes) and Clayton (Howard Keel) are traveling in Europe, with Clayton weighing Carter McKay's (George Kennedy) offer to become part of Weststar. (Bel Geddes is caught in a contract dispute and may not return to the show.)

* Cliff and Liz's relationship is blossoming despite her previous involvement with gangster Johnny Dancer.

* Barbara Eden, who reunites with former I Dream of Jeannie co-star Larry Hagman, will guest star as a billionaire out to get J.R.

* April's sister Michelle, who was packed off to a tropical island last season by J.R., will return "with money in her pocket and vengeance in her heart," said Kimberly Foster, the actress who portrays her. © TV Listing Inc.

Craig T. Nelson stars as the irascible but lovable Coach, Tuesdays on ABC.

Cable Comments

By LARK L. SAMOUELIAN
Executive Director,
SW Oakland Cable Comm.

What do the Botsford Hospital, Plymouth Symphony and the Salvation Army have in common? They all appreciate the importance of initiating publicity through cable television.

Botsford Hospital has participated in local programming since Russ

Botsford General Hospital presents

Tuttle introduced the staff to the opportunity. Currently, Sandy Baumann, Edwina Eggeston, Sandy Plumer and Chris Koricki are part of a Health Access Advisory Committee. This committee is comprised of organizations and residents who are particularly interested in encouraging more local health programming on television. Residents Betty Schelling and Steve Myers will be working with staff to produce a documentary on a Stroke Victim. Recently their monthly Elmered group has been hosting a program entitled 'Table Topics'. Residents, Vita Accioli, Fran Dudas, Bob Carlson, Ken Glide and Betty Schelling have volunteered to tape the program. Botsford Hospital looks forward to include Community Television in their 1991 agendas. Our television viewing audience will be enriched by such television viewing.

Botsford has encouraged programming within their hospital as well as participated in large community events which have been cablecast. They will be preparing public service announcements along with their programs so that viewers will have reminders to watch the programs.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra produced a Public Service Announcement to encourage anyone who is within driving distance to attend their 45th Anniversary concert season. The Orchestra is also receptive to videotaping at a rehearsal to enhance the television viewers understanding of the dynamics of an orchestra. As I sat in the audience last Friday evening listening to two hours of Beethoven played by the Symphony and special guests, the St. Clair Trio, I imagined having programming of such fine quality available to those who are unable to go outside of their homes. They played so beautifully that I closed my eyes to enjoy the visuals my imagination was creating as a result of the music!

Everyone is invited to enjoy an evening with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. I would encourage especially those who have community television experience to consider working with the non-profit organization.

The performances are held in the Salem Auditorium off Joy Road in Canton. They begin at 8:00 p.m. For ticket information call 451-2112. November 9, "Jazz It Up!" Alexander Zonjic, jazz flute; December 14, "Messiah," Plymouth Community Chorus & Sing Along; March 15 & 16, "Solid Gold Pops," "Phantom of the Opera," (location Fox Hills Country Club), "Les Miserables" and more; and April 12, 1991, "Cello Primo," Norman Fischer. Their Music Director and Conductor is Russell Reed. He takes a moment at the beginning of the concert to cite historical dialogue which lends a personal touch to the concert.

"I realized how many people watch the local channels when year after year the Omnicom Telethon raised enough money to feed the hungry for a full year!" exclaimed Linda Price who is the Salvation Army Community Center Director for the Plymouth Area. Since the Salvation Army is a religious organization there are restrictions on how they may raise funding. They appreciated the years that Omnicom hosted the "Baskets Filled with Love" Telethon.

Linda Price

Linda Price continues to be involved with cable television, by taping local hockey and basketball games as well as excerpts from their day camp. Her goal is to create an awareness of the available active services through the Salvation Army. Her video outreach reinforces the purpose as recognized by its founder William Booth, "That physical, emotional, and social restoration must go hand-in-hand with spiritual rebirth. He believed in a balanced ministry where spiritual and physical support are united."

Through the involvement for the entire viewing audience to watch. She uses Omnicom's Super VHS Camera. "It was very easy to learn as Kelly Wingo took me through it step by step. She transfers the 1/2" footage to 1/4" and then edits the programs for cablecasting on Channel 15.

Not only does the Salvation Army help people directly but they also have organized activities such as Tiny Tots Pre-School, Sun Beams & Girl Guards, Basketball, Ceramics, Floor Hockey, Womens Home League, Sr. Volleyball and Sr. Shopping. They even rent their gym out six days a week!

Linda Price's advice would apply to any non-profit organization who may enjoy Community Television. "Learn how to use the television equipment! Have a goal to reach and know what you are trying to say!"

We salute Botsford Hospital of Farmington Hills, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, League and Society, and the Plymouth Salvation Army for having such progressive attitudes about Community Television.

'thirtysomething' troupe used to yuppie criticisms

Show polarizes audiences

By AMY SCHMIDT

"Not again," said the stars of ABC's "thirtysomething," when producers Marshall Herskovitz and Ed Zwick asked them to appear at their last TV critics press conference.

Once again the troupe would have to face criticism that the show is "yuppie-ish," that the characters are agonizingly self-concerned, or just plain "whiny."

"You behave like you're the first generation who ever had a baby, or ever had to do a number of other things. In Shakespeare's phrase: 'Why all this muling and puking,' you know?" blasted one critic. Another suggested that perhaps the show was "much ado about nothing."

This was no revelation to "thirtysomething's" stars, Patricia Wettig, Timothy Busfield, Mel Harris, Ken Olin, Peter Horton, Polly Draper and Melanie Mayron. "We hear this all the time," said Horton. "Over and over. We hear it over and over. It's not a surprise at all," reiterated Wettig. Mayron joked that perhaps they could have a show of hands from the critics, and the ones who didn't like the show could beat it.

It probably would have been a split vote. People either seem to like "thirtysomething" or they don't. The show targets female viewers ages 18-49 — and does a good job of it. Ad time for the hour-long program is consistently sold out. Additionally, "thirtysomething" was the first freshman drama ever to win an Emmy for Best Drama. During its four-year run, the drama has received a fair share of the industry's honors.

The big winner among the cast is Patricia Wettig who's captured two Best Actress Emmys. Her husband on the show, Timothy Busfield, has been nominated twice for Best Actor. Busfield had this to say in defense of the show:

"I thought, 'Gee, you know. I guess I should be maybe addressing more world rights or world peace or whatever it is.' And then I thought for a second, 'I think about myself most of the time... you know, does my wife love me, does my son, who lives half-way across the country, does he feel close to me? Am I doing a good job at work?'" Wettig has suggested that the in-depth writing makes "thirtysomething" what it is.

But some people don't care for in-depth self-examination. It's as if on the one hand you have the Lennon fans — on the other, the McCartney crowd.

"It was never our intention to make a show that 200 million would embrace and take to their hearts," said Herskovitz candidly. I don't think that's necessary in order to do a television show."

The "thirtysomething" cast doesn't seem to think so either. The close-knit group seems to be having a lot of fun with the show, anyway. And "close-knit" is no understatement. In real-life Ken Olin is married to Patricia Wettig. (Mel Harris plays his wife.) Coincidentally, both Harris and Wettig are Pennsylvania natives. Wettig and Busfield both were one-time members of the prestigious Circle Repertory Company in New York. Additionally, Horton, Olin and Mayron each have begun directing "thirtysomething" episodes.

"We're trying to do a good show, and if people don't want to watch it, we would think that by now they'd be aware that there's two other networks, and they're both programming 24 hours a day," said Olin. Story lines for the drama's 1990-91 season include Gary's wedding, the birth of Hope and Michael's baby, and the continuation of Nancy's bout with cancer.

STAR NOTES

Ken Olin sensitive on-screen and off

By Amy Schmidt
thirtysomething star Ken Olin is not so different from his character, Michael Steadman. The 36-year-old Chicago native recalls a particular low point in his career: "I had gone into my little boy's room when he was two months old and apologized because his father was a failure." Sounds like something Steadman — that soul-searching, sensitive yuppie — would do, doesn't it?

It seemed that in real-life Olin was destined to become a yuppie, too. The son of the president of a pharmaceutical company, Olin was sent to a Vermont prep-school before attending the University of Pennsylvania.

Olin went to New York and took acting lessons. At a train station on his way to Portsmouth, N.H., he met his soon-to-be wife Patricia Wettig. They were both on their way to do Tennessee Williams' A Streetcar Named Desire.

Wettig also stars on thirtysomething, playing Steadman's best friend's wife, Olin, on the other hand, plays the husband of actress Mel Harris. This can, and has, made for professional jealousy. "I'll see Ken do a scene and think 'Can I trust this woman?'" says Wettig.

When Wettig won her second Emmy at this year's awards, Timothy Busfield, her thirtysomething husband, stood up and cheered. Olin sat poker-faced. That's Hollywood. © TV Listing Inc.

TIME OUT

CABLE NEWS

NBA coverage begins on NBC

By Steve Paschal
The National Basketball Association makes its 1990 debut on NBC Saturday, Nov. 3, when the Los Angeles Lakers take on the San Antonio Spurs.

The Lakers, who spent last season trying to adjust to life without Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, are trying to regain the form that saw them win five NBA titles in the 1980s. The Lakers should be favored to win the Pacific Division.

There's also a full schedule of professional football Sunday, Oct. 28, with NFL doubleheaders on both NBC and CBS. In addition, the Los Angeles Rams will take on the Pittsburgh Steelers on ABC Monday Night Football.

NBC starts its Sunday double-dose with either the Miami Dolphins at the Indianapolis Colts, the Buffalo Bills visiting the New England Patriots or the New York Jets taking on the Houston Oilers. Then, the entire country will be able to see the AFC Central champion Cleveland Browns take on the Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers.

CBS will serve up two regional telecasts beginning with either Philadelphia at Dallas, Detroit at New Orleans or Minnesota and Green Bay. Then, most of the country will see the Washington Redskins battle the New York Giants, while the rest will see either Chicago at Phoenix or Tampa Bay and San Diego. © TV Listing Inc.

Marlon Brando film makes pay cable debut

By Christy Bergslien
Marlon Brando makes a career comeback with A Dry White Season, Sunday, Oct. 28, on HBO. Brando won a 1990 Best Supporting Actor Oscar nomination for his role as a South African schoolteacher pitted against apartheid.

The Bear, an international box-office hit, airs on Cinemax Thursday, Nov. 1. It is the heartwarming story of an orphaned bear cub's survival in 1885 British Columbia. This innovative wilderness odyssey is shown from the point of view of the cub.

Eddie Murphy and Richard Pryor play prohibition-era nightclub owners fending off a mob takeover in Harlem Nights. Arsenio Hall, Redd Foxx and Jasmine Guy also star in this jazzy crime comedy, airing Saturday, Nov. 3, on HBO.

Close Relations telecasts Thursday, Nov. 1, on the Arts & Entertainment Network. James Hazeldine plays Trevor Orwin, and Clare Holman is Jenny, the sister he never knew he had. When they meet, a passionate and violent relationship ensues.

The NBA Hall of Fame Game broadcasts Tuesday, Oct. 30, on TNT.

Kennebunkport, Maine and Oregon's scenic Columbia River Gorge are TNN destinations on Thursday, Nov. 1. Jim Ed Brown and his wife, Becky, travel coast to coast every week on Going Our Way. © TV Listing Inc.

BITS AND PIECES

Clint Eastwood not planning anymore 'Dirty Harry' films

The bad guys couldn't kill off Dirty Harry, so now Clint Eastwood is doing the job. Eastwood doesn't plan any more sequels to his popular Dirty Harry movies. "I don't know where you would take him," said Eastwood at a recent press conference. "You'd have to have an awfully good script to take you away from self-imitation."

The one-hour dramatic series formerly titled Paradise, starring Lee Horsley and Sigrid Thornton, has been retitled to Guns of Paradise. The series, filmed on location in Los Angeles, has begun production for its third season. John Terlesy joins the cast as Dakota, a rugged and independent gambler who rides into the exciting but potentially dangerous boomtown that Paradise has become.

When Dallas begins its 13th season on CBS on Nov. 2, Miss Ellie (Barbara Bel Geddes) will not be there. The first 12 episodes of the new season will explain her absence by saying she is in Europe. Her departure, however, is rumored to be part of a contractual dispute. A Lorimar spokesman has said she may show up later. This marks the second time she has left the series. In 1984, a heart attack kept her off the show for an entire season.

Clint Eastwood

Bob Newhart has been chosen grand marshal of the 102nd annual Tournament of Roses New Year's parade. The 61-year-old master of deadpan comedy will oversee a parade with the theme Fun and Games.

HBO has announced that it will do a made-for-cable movie on the true story of former presidential press secretary James Brady. Brady was severely wounded in John Hinckley's 1981 assassination attempt on President Ronald Reagan. Beau Bridges has the title role in The James Brady Story.

John Buchanan plays the eldest son on The Family Man, Saturdays on CBS.

SOAP TALK

Actress' suicide a mystery

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: Please help! I am a senior citizen and watched Days of Our Lives until the very beautiful and talented Brenda Benet, who played "Lee," committed suicide. I still think of her and wonder why she chose to end her life and how she did it. —Yours truly, D.S., Plano, Texas

Dear D.S.: There is no concrete evidence as to the exact reason Benet (Lee Carmichael, Days) committed suicide. Her son, Christopher, had died a year earlier of acute epiglottitis, a dangerous infection that causes the throat to swell. The child was only 6-1/2 years old.

His parents, Benet and Bill Bixby, were divorced at the time, and they both took the death very hard. But sources close to Benet say that she did not shoot herself over her son's death. They said that it was more likely because of a romance gone wrong.

Dear Candace: Why did Nikki on Santa Barbara have to die? It took forever for her and Michael to get together. And when they finally do, they kill Nikki off. I am very disappointed. I also hope Gretchen gets what is coming to her. Hopefully Mack doesn't take the fall.

Also, on Another World, I would like to see Evan exposed and Sam not take Amanda back. —Thanks for listening, Ruthie, Coming, N.Y.

Dear Ruthie: The writers were wanting to delve into other storylines, and there simply wasn't anything left to do with Nikki. By now you know that you've gotten your wish concerning Evan Bates on Another World. Charles Grant, who plays Bates, taped his last show on Sept. 28. Steve Bond's character, Mack Blake, has been written off Santa Barbara.

Dear Candace: Is the guy who plays Wally Denny's twin in real-life? They look so much alike. —KP, Trinity, Texas

Dear KP: Actor Walter Bobbie plays both characters, Denny and Wally. Bobbie enjoys playing the two brothers. "As an actor this is a fantasy... A wonderful opportunity," said Bobbie.

I want to hear from you! If you have a favorite soap scenario you would like to sound off about, or a question about the soaps, write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, TX 76102-0748.

FAMILY FARE

CBS spikes week with 'Beetlejuice'

By Amy Schmidt

On Halloween Eve, Tuesday, Oct. 30, CBS airs the ghostly blockbuster comedy Beetlejuice. Michael Keaton, Alec Baldwin, Geena Davis, Jeffrey Jones and Catherine O'Hara star. A pair of honeymooners (Baldwin and Davis) are killed in a car accident and return in the afterlife to find their home overrun by new tenants. The pretentious Deetzes are in the midst of redecorating when the spirited Maitlands scheme to scare off the intruders. The plan backfires, however, when the Deetzes decide to turn the house into a paranormal theme park. Enter Michael Keaton, a maniacal "free-lance bio-exorcist" whose antics are certain to rid the house of the intruders. The film's special effects make for great fun.

The Family Channel broadcasts a compelling drama of courage and endurance Thursday, Nov. 1, when Keith Carradine stars in A Winner Never Quits. Set during World War II, this true story is of a one-armed man's aspiration to play professional baseball. Pete Gray (Carradine) must overcome his physical limitations in pursuit of an athletic goal. Beating the odds, Gray is signed by the St. Louis Browns as an outfielder. Mare Winningham, Dennis Weaver, G.W. Bailey and Dana Delany also star. Burt Prelutsky is the author of this well-written, well-acted and inspiring saga. Actor James Keach co-produced the drama.

Joe Penny stars as detective Jake Styles on CBS' Jake and the Fatman, Wednesdays.

Quiet, rural life in Holland keeps Rutger Hauer out of tabloids

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I would appreciate any information on Rutger Hauer you have — his age, films and marriage. Why do we never see him mentioned in the tabloids? I know he's been in the business for quite a while. —Sandy Young, Cottonwood, Ariz., and Juanita Justus, Hurley, Va.

A: Since you both requested this information at the same time, I took the liberty of combining your names. Rutger Hauer was born in Amsterdam, Holland, on Jan. 23, 1944. He is 6 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 220 pounds, and has white-blond hair. He is married to the Dutch artist Sien Tencate, and when not in Hollywood, they make their home in northern Holland in a 200-year-old farmhouse that he gutted and renovated himself. Besides the house, Hauer has put together two trucks — engines and all. He loves to build things with his hands for relaxation. His theatrical film credits include Soldier of Orange, Nighthawks, Blade Runner, Eureka, The Osterman Weekend, A Breed Apart, Ladyhawke, Flesh and Blood, The Hitcher and Wanted Dead or Alive. There are many fine actors and actresses in Hollywood who are never mentioned in the tabloids. Many of them shun the glamour and glitter of Hollywood life, resulting in "dull news items" for the tabloids.

Q: I would like some information on the star Alan Autry, who plays Bubba Skinner on the show In the Heat of the Night. Is he Gene Autry's son? Has he played in other movies? Where and when was he born? Where can I write him? —Bunny Albert, East Palatka, Fla.

A: Alan Autry was born in Shreveport, La., on July 31. His family later moved to California, where he attended Riverdale High School. After graduating from the University of Pacific, he was drafted by the Green Bay Packers and played professional football for three seasons. Director Robert Altman, a football fan, met Autry and encouraged him to try acting when his playing days ended. His first film was Remember My Name, with Alfre Woodard. Other films include Amazing Grace and Chuck, O.C. & Stiggs, At Close Range, North Dallas Forty and Popeye. Divorced, he is the father of a daughter. He is not related to Gene Autry. Write him c/o In the Heat of the Night, Fred Silverman

Rutger Hauer

Productions, 12400 Wilshire Blvd., Suite 920, Los Angeles, CA 90025.

Q: I really enjoy the music to Anything But Love. Could you please tell me who wrote it and how to get a copy of it and other work by that artist? —P.J. Ranigan, Rosebush, Mich.

A: The theme music for Anything But Love was written by J.D. Souther. To find out more information write to: Anything But Love, c/o Adam Productions, P.O. Box 900, Beverly Hills, CA 90213.
