Plymouth approves JOA for Mettetal Airport

By Kevin Brown staff writer

The effort to keep Mettetal Airport open passed a big test Monday, as Plymouth commissioners voted to join an airport governing board.

Before 200 citizens interested in the issue, the Plymouth City Commission voted 6-1 to join the airport board touted by Plymouth Township trustees. Commissioner Jerry Vorva cast the only dissenting vote.

'We would be making a tragic mistake if we let this opportunity pass by," commissioner John Vos said.

We're happy that they've decided to join us on it," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

"This issue is very, very simple. The will of the vast majority of people in this community is that we do not enter into this con-tract," Vorva said. "The vast numbers of people who are proponents could put together a corporation and run it very well."

It will be at least nine months before the operating board begins running the airport, Breen said.

WHILE THE decision sparked applause from supporters, several in the audience spoke against the effort.

The airport board could come looking for taxpayer money to settle lawsuits or improve Mettetal, they said.

"Is it desirable for the city to take on the financial risks of a small recreational airport?"-asked Bill Mcaninch of Plymouth.

"The city is in serious financial difficulty." He also presented 900 petition signatures from city residents against the city and township seeking federal and state money to buy Mettetal.

"We found almost no one in favor of buying the airport," he said. **

After several non-city residents spoke in favor of the airport, some opponents from Plymouth urged commissioners to heed their wishes and vote against the joint operating agreement with the township.

CITY MANAGER Gordon Jaeger addressed some questions raised by JOA opponents.

He said the city would have some government immunity from lawsuits related to the airport, and that the joint agreement called for operations to be paid from airport profits - not from local taxes.

"To me the basic issue is that Mettetal is primarily a recreational facility," commissioner Ron Loiselle said

Residents recall where they were at start of war

It seems that when tragedy strikes and the world stops, we're left with a vivid memory of where we were at that instant, regardless of how much time goes by.

Folks can tell you what they were doing when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor. We can remember where we were when JFK was shot; when the Challenger went down; and now, when the Persian Gulf War began.

Outward Bound-type activities, incorporated into the physical education curriculum, encourage Suzy and her classmates to tackle increasingly difficult tasks - both individually and in teams.

Initially, the team is given a single board and instructed to figure out a way to get everyone over a fence. The team ultimately is faced with the voluntary challenge of rappelling down the side of the school building.

Suzy spends part of her day working the cash register in the school

Sounds far-fetched?

MIDDLE SCHOOL TEACHERS attending staff development sessions like the ones held throughout the district Monday learned through presentations and a handout reprinted from Phi Delta Kappan magazine that that's what's happening at a growing number of schools across the country.

Plynouth-Canton Community Schools has received $91,000 in state grant money over the past two years to study and begin implementing some of the described changes.

At their workshop Monday night, Plymouth-Canton school board members heard from administrators working to restructure middle school education.

Team teaching is being tried on an exploratory basis in many of the district's middle schools.

Educators are examining at-risk students; the relationship between schooling and jobs; new choices facing today's students; the empowerment of teachers; and matching educational opportunities with students' social, emotional, and academic needs, shid Tom Tattan, executive director for secondary education.

Commission hopeful wants more industry

By Diane Gale staff writer

Tom Sullivan, a Canton resident and president of Cleary College, has been nominated to serve on Canton's planning commission.

Supervisor Tom Yack nominated Sullivan, but the final decision, which is usually automatic, lies with the Canton board of trustees.

With the board's approval, Sullivan will fill the post vacated by Sandy Preblich, whose term expires at the end of January.

"I serve at the pleasure of the board," Preblich said. "I've done my best and I hope that in the future I can serve Canton again.

"I'm fortunate I'm being replaced by such a tal-ented person," said Preblich, who also served on the Canton Zoning Board of Appeals. That term also expires at the end of the month.

TERMS FOR planning commissioners Vic Gustafson and Dick Palmer expire at the end of the month. Yack nominated both men for reappointment

"I've said right along I'm committed to involving new people in Canton government and yet at the same time I recognize boards and commissions need stability," Yack said.

He stressed that Preblich put forth a lot of effort and sacrificed a lot of time while serving on the planning commission.

Sullivan served on the Plymouth Township planning commission and comes to the new post with "experience and a different perspective," Yack said.

Sullivan has lived in Canton for 15 years. He moved from Plymouth Township.

"I believe, as I think Tom (Yack) does, that we need to expand the economic base in industry and commercial," said Sullivan.

The extra tax revenue from the new business will help residents afford to live in Canton, Sullivan said.

Yack said Gustafson was nominated because he was appointed to the post mid-stream to finish the term vacated by Loren Bennett when Bennett was elected Canton clerk. Gustafson should be given the opportunity to complete at least one full term, Yack said.

Palmer, a Canton planning commissioner for more than 30 years, brings a perspective of histo-ry to the commission, Yack said.

Jack Bologna of Computer Protection Systems Inc. in Plymouth was teaching his entrepreneurship class at Siena Heights College in Adrian Wednesday night.

"At 7:15, someone in the hall who'd heard about the bombing alerted the teachers. Two of the women in my class were very distressed," Bologna said. "I don't know to the news," he said. "It was a surprise that if they had kin there, but it was obviously very emotion- but if it's got to be done it's got to be done." al and traumatic for them.

"I released them immediately and dismissed class early. Who wants to talk about entrepreneurship when a war is breaking out?" Bologna noticed on his drive home that far fewer cars than normal were on the road, he said.

"WE ARE NOT proposing a paint and fix-up but a total restructuring of middle school education," said Pat Patton, Lowell Middle School principal. "We are truly looking at all elements of our school day. We feel it's important that we have a vision. We can no longer deliver just the basics. We need to go beyond that." Plymouth-Canton is looking at ways to create "a school within a school" to do a better job of meeting students' needs.

Specific recommendations will be presented to the board in early March after teachers and ad ministrators refine the proposal. Trustee Les Walker said he

Lasers brighten ice fest

War and a Saturday warm-up reduced the turnout for the Ninth Annual Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

Area troopers aid U.S. military in Persian Gulf

Thursday, January 24, 1991 O&E

The western Wayne County chapter of Friends for Freedom continues to work for troops stationed in the Persian Gulf

And that work has been made easier by the donation of a packaging center by a area businessperson and by the creation of a logo.

The government has asked that Americans temporarily stop sending packages to the Middle East, said Yvonne Zapinski, Friends of Free dom chapter chair, but that order is expected to be lifted shortly and the chapter will resume sending packages. "Donations of cash and food/non-food items are being collected," Zapinski said. "Our troops need our support now more than ever. Mail is an important part of their morale needs

"Each service person I write to" tells me you can't imagine how they hate not getting mail from home." IN LATE December, the Friends of Freedom was displaced when the warehouse it was using in Wixom was sold. Although the sale did not stop the operation, being displaced did hinder packing efforts. But the organization now has a new home, thanks to Walter Samuels, owner of the Shelden Center at Farmington and Plymouth roads in ivonia, who donated use of a 2,800quare-foot building.

The chapter does need 10 to 15 banquet tables and could use donations of printing material. Anyone who can help with these needs is asked to call Friends of Freedom at 422-2036.

The chapter needed a special logo so the public could recognize its work. The design selected as the official logo of Friends of Freedom was drawn by Thomas Gess, an 11th grade Creative and Performing Arts student from Livonia Churchill High.

INDIVIDUALS INTERESTED in writing troops in the Persian Gulf may send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with a note requesting a pen pal to Friends of Freedom, P.O. Box 9503, Livonia 48151, and a name will be furnished "With war under way, there are no onger PXs around for them to pick up the necessary items the service does not furnish," Zapinski said. "Because they were given a small raise in the past, the services stopped furnishing their necessary items and they now have to buy them. There are no drug store supermarkets or such in the Saudi esert, so how do they get them?

Suburbanites keep Lithuania's fight for freedom alive

By Susan Rosiek staff writer

Media attention is focused on the Persian Gulf but a small, committed group of young suburbanites from Wayne and Oakland counties are working hard to make sure people don't forget what's happening in the struggle for independence in

"We wish and pray the world would take notice. We want people to be aware of what's going on (in Lithuania)," såid Taura Underys, 31, of Redford Township.

Taura and her husband Vitas, 32, a special education teacher in Farmington Public Schools, along with Dana Petrulis, 25, of Franklin and Linas Orentas, 28, of Redford Township, were among a group of some 250 Americans of Lithuanian descent protesting outside the McNamara Federal Building in downtown Detroit on Jan. 15.

The group was protesting the Soviet army's attack Jan. 13 on unarmed Lithuanians seeking to keep their European nations and of which Orendemocratically elected government from toppling.

"Afterall, what's going on in Lithuania and the other Baltic counties is no different than what happened in Kuwait or Tiananmen Square. It's naked aggression on the part of the Soviet Union," said Orentas, who is an engineer at Ford Mo-

S'craft braces for cuts

Business and women's programs could be curtailed at Schoolcraf College in the wake of Gov. John Engler's proposed budget cuts. Schoolcraft could lose as much as $310,000 in state money, with business procurement and displaced homemaker programs in specific danger of closing. As with all community colleges,

Schoolcraft would face a 1 percent cut in general state appropriations, losing an estimated $80,000. Cuts still loom as a possiblity even though House Appropriations ommittee members rejected Engler's budget package Tuesday. The college's business center stands to lose a $190,000 state grant - and a matching $110,000 federal money - for programs used to promote business in southeast Michigan.

The procurement programs help sinesses gain government and overseas contracts. They have helped area businesses secure 2,601 contracts for a combined $235 mil lion, since 1985, college officials said

More than 400 businesses cur ently use the procurement ser vices, college officials said.

"IF WE could come up with a way to match the federal grant we might still be able to keep going, but it's awfully short notice," co lege spokeswoman Saundra Florek

In addition: the Livonia-basedd mmunity college stands to lose a $40,000 grant for its Women's Resource Center.

Sleep Problems: One Out of Three Suffers

Roughly one-third of the population experiences some type of sleep problem. Statistics indicate that about half of all of those who have insom nia, the medical term for sleep disturbances, take some type of medicine for the problem at some point in their lives. According to a recent article in Pharmacy Times, physicians write more than 20 million prescriptions each year for hypnotics - sleep medicines.

Nonprescription sleep-aids may be helpful in relieving certain types of insomnia. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recently determined that three sleep-aid product ingredients are safe and effective for general use. These ingredients are doxylamine succinate, diphenhydramine hydrochloride, and diphenhydramine citrate. Alcoholic beverages should be avoided when taking prescription or nonprescription sleep-aids. Before using a sleep-aid consider these suggestions: · Avoid stimulants such as caffeine and nicotine. Avoid daytime naps and heavy meals just prior to bedtime.

· Relax prior to bedtime by reading or listening to easy music.

Even Republicans are wary of budget cuts

By Tim Richard

staff writer

On paper, it looked as if House Democrats rejected Gov. John Engler's budget revisions Tuesday on a party-line vote.

In fact, some Republicans, too, had problems with Engler's cuts. At week's end, leaders of the three factions - the executive office, Republican-led Senate and Democratled House — started negotiations on how to close a $1.1 billion gap in the $7.4 billion budget.

"There are several items I do not upport," said Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, told the Senate Appropriations Committee. He cited Engler's planned closing of the Lafayette Clinic, a mental health service and research facility on the Wayne State University campus.

Less than an hour later, in the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, made almost the identical remark. "The mental health cuts weren't that bad except for the Lafayette clinic," said Berman, a new member of the Appropriations panel,

Mettetal

Jeff Counts editor / 459-2700 O&E Thursday, January 24, 1991

It's time to move forward

THILE MOST OF US have been watching the war in Iraq, a border war between Canton and Plymouth has hit an important juncture and we suspect we'll need a peace conference to sort it out. This week the city of Plymouth voted 6-1 to approve a plan to buy Mettetal Airport and operate it jointly with Plymouth Township. This comes much to the chagrin of Canton Township, which sees the action as an invasion by Plym-

The move by the Plymouth commission approves the formation of an airport authority that will apply for state grants to buy the airport from a private firm.

Basically, the decision means Mettetal will stay as it is, a small airport, mostly for recreational flying.

We really can't object to that.

However, we understand that a group of Plymouth area residents will go to court in an effort to stop the purchase. Enough is enough. The airport just isn't worth all the fuss it's creating. Commerce and development in the Plymouth-Canton area isn't going to come to a halt if there isn't an airport, and there won't be a big economic boom if it's purchased.

Faced with government buying Mettetal versus its development as an industrial park, we'd rather have a freeway. Mettetal just isn't that important either way.

BUT BACK TO THE folks who may be filing the suit. They are people who don't want Mettetal to become a tax burden on the community. Well, we suspect that by the time they finish paying the legal fees they'll have paid more than if the airport did become a tax burden

Another complaint often heard about Mettetal is safety. People would have us believe that and Canton Township. It's a border war that just planes will be falling from the sky on children on a regular basis. We suspect that driving down Michigan Avenue once a week is more dangerous that standing by the airport for an entire life-

This week the city of Plymouth voted 6-1 to approve a plan to buy Mettetal Airport and operate it jointly with Plymouth Township. This comes much to the chagrin of Canton Township, which sees the action as an invasion by Plymouth.

The arguments against not buying the airport just don't hold water.

But it isn't just the folks in Plymouth who are opposed to buying Mettetal. "There's Canton Township, where the board and Supervisor Tom Yack have opposed such a purchase on a regular

We just hope the board and Yack can accept the decision and move on. Yack's argument against the proposed purchase is that a government in one community shouldn't be buying property in another. That's pretty thin.

The city of Detroit has owned land in Plymouth Township. But that's not the only example. The city of Dearborn has long owned Camp Dearborn near Milford

WE COULD UNDERSTAND Yack if Mettetal was one of the last undeveloped tracts of land in the township. But let's face it, there's plenty of land available in Canton.

We think it's time for a peace conference between the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township isn't worth it, especially if it ends up in court. If that happens, the taxpayer will be the big loser. It's time to accept the decision by the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township and move forward

Fun for kids Actors agree: the play's the thing

By Julie Brown staff writer

"IDS IN THE Plymouth-Canton community don't have to travel far to see live drama. Members of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women have been presenting children's plays for a number of years.

'Our main purpose in putting on this production is to bring live drama to the children in the community," said Pam Dean, director of this year's play, "Sleeping Beauty."

AAUW members appear on stage in the production each year. Many also work behind the scenes, selling tickets, making costumes and taking care of other tasks.

"A large percentage of the members try to do something," said Dean, a Canton resident. "We try to make it a branch effort.

AUDITIONS ARE held each year for the play. Some AAUW members have worked on the productions for a number of years.

"They like being involved in having this opportunity for the children," said Dean, who teaches language seminars for the Grammar Group Inc., a Chicago-based consulting firm. Many cast members also enjoy their time on stage.

"Sleeping Beauty" performances are scheduled for: 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30, (group night); 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 31; 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1; 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 2. In case of cancellation due to inclement weather, a special performance will be held 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3. All performances will be in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, on Joy west of Canton Center in Canton.

Ticket price is $2. Tickets are being sold through the Plymouth-

We're busy taking care of all the last-minute things.

THE PLAY tells the story of Rosalinda, a daughter born to the King and Queen. Three good fairies come to Rosalinda's christening, but an unwanted guest, the wicked witch Blackheart, also makes an appearance Blackheart says that Rosalinda will prick her finger on a spinning wheel and die.

"Of course, everyone's aghast," Dean said. One of the good fairies is able to soften the dire prediction; Rosalinda won't die but will sleep for a long time until awakened by the kiss of a prince.

We did rewrite the script a little bit, but it's basically the standard story." The play is designed to appeal to children age 4 on up to 8 or AAUW members choose a different play each year, and try to wait at least seven years before repeating a production. That helps to guarantee that children won't see the same production twice.

Repeating productions periodically also helps to keep costs down, as scenery, props, costumes and other items can often be used again.

Youngsters in the audience each year recognize some of the actors. Some cast members teach in local schools and some have children who come to the play. Even so, there hasn't been a problem with kids shouting "Hey, Mom" during performances

"We really don't have to control the kids," Dean said. "They're good.

CHILDREN GET to meet the cast members after each performance. Some are a bit timid, but many like meeting the actors, she said.

Seeing live productions is enjoyable and educational for kids, Dean said.

Donna Keough's role as exhibits chairwoman at the Plymouth Historical Museum is a new one, but her interest in history isn't of 1990s vintage

'I've always been interested in history," said Keough, a Canton resident.

She has enjoyed collecting crystal and other items from the Victorian era for a long time, and is pleased to be working at the museum.

"This is just a natural for me. I feel really comfortable about being here.

In her new role, Keough will work on exhibits at the museum, which is operated by the Plymouth Historical Society.

Keough, museum director Beth Stewart and others are preparing the upcoming Victorian "Tea Time" exhibit featuring teapots, tea caddies, linens, silver and other items used for serving tea.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT has been a way of life for Keough for years. She and her family have lived in the Plymouth-Canton area since 1968 and used to live in Plymouth Township's Lake Pointe.

Her sons went to Geer when that one-room schoolhouse was used as a regular elementary school for Plymouth-Canton students. In recent years, Keough has been involved in activities of the Geer School Preservation Society.

She's a charter member of that group, which has sponsored fundg projects to support restoration of the school.

"We're restoring it back to 1880." Plans are to have fourth graders from the Plymouth-Canton schools spend a week at Geer, learning about school days and life in general in that era. Those involved in the efforts hope to have a small pilot program this spring and officially open the school in fall 1991, Keough said.

'That really took a lot of involvement. It was such an intensive effort that I could only do so much."

It wasn't a breeze crossing the ocean

By Julie Brown staff writer

People who go on luxury cruises don't usually have to worry about much of anything. Their days are filled with eisurely activities - and plenty of time to enjoy the ample supply of carefully prepared food.

William Kaericher, a junior at Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, sailed across the Atlantic under considerably different circumstances. He spent six weeks at sea as part of a Sea Education Association Inc. program. "It's tremendous," said Kaericher the son of Michael and Meroe Kaericher of Plymouth. "It's a very difficult thing to describe. It was probably one of the most incredible things I've done in my life." Kaericher, 20, had sailed some small sailboats but hadn't participated in anything comparable to the pro-

Carol Hay, who counsels small businesses on public relations and advertising, finds that approaches like fliers, direct mail and church bulletins often are effective communications strategies.

Advisers busy during recession

By Doug Funke staff writer

You hear that economic times are worsening on the business front by talking with people like Carol Hay, Kenneth Posner, James Maiani and Don Wertman.

Hay, a consultant with Universal Software Solutions of Canton, specializes in advertising and promotions for smaller busine

Posner, a lawyer in Troy, repre-sents both landlords and tenants in various matters including bankrupt-

Maiani, president of Data Techniques of Farmington, is a consult-ant to busineses for computer hardware and software systems.

Wertman, president of Syschk Inc. of Northville, runs a temporary employment service for business data processing software users. Their observations give some insight into where businesses go wrong — as well as right — when the good times stop rolling.

For example, the start of a downturn is the absolute worst time for a small business to cut back on promotional activities. Hay maintained. Unfortunately, many do just that.

"PEOPLE'S ATTENTION span is gone over elementary-type things, she said. "We go over who the client is, identify customer profile, who they are, where they live, why they buy from your competitor."

Promotions don't have to be costly, she said. Fliers, direct mail and church bulletins are relatively cost effective

"Small businesses don't have as much play as to how much they can take home or ride through on," Hay said. "A 10-percent decrease to them is phenomenal. It could kill them."

COMMUNICATION IS the key to a good business relationship, attor-ney Posner said, especially when the nomy begins to sour.

The most important thing in the tenant/landlord area in a recession is to keep in contact with each other and share information," he said. "If you get to a problem early, you can work it out. Bankruptcy is a tool of last resort."

A good lease from a landlord's perspective allows for periodic review of financial statements, Posner said. Tenants should strive for exclusivity and escape clauses in lease negotiations.

"If I were the landlord of a small office or small strip center, I would consciously sit down, perhaps with ant and do an audit of how well each tenant is doing . . SO I don't have any surprises," he said. 'To the extent you have the right to ask for questions and reports, ask for them. If you know who the tenant's customers are, talk to them to get a feel for how the tenant is doing. "You don't want to let a tenant get

And Posner's current view of the economy? "If this isn't a recession, I don't know what is."

The behavior of business users now is typical of a recession, said computer consultant Maiani.

"WE ARE VERY busy on custom programs now. There's three months of work out there. Companies will lay off people and come to us to get services done. We are not busy at all selling hardware."

Wertman, who provides software specialists to mid-sized businesses on a temporary, as-needed basis, elaborated.

"They have to let go of their own people. After they lay people off, they need something done. We go in for a month or so and they say goodbye. They can get rid of us quick. "It's the old story - when you hire someone, you make a commitment, his medical (benefits)," Wertman said. "When you hire us, you pay one fee and don't get involved in all that stuff." Also, budgets can more easily accommodate temporaries than full-time personnel, he said.

"In my experience, they're doing what they have to do," Maiani said. 'They have to cut costs somewhere. They stay in business."

Investing in war risky

By Doug Funke staff writer

Interested in making a quick killing in the stock markets with war raging in the Middle East?

Forget it, said several professionals in the brokerage business. Speculation isn't highly regarded as a suitable strategy for most investors even under much more stable international circumstances, they said. Besides, the entire investment community had five months to gauge potential profits of defensecontractors during the U.S. military build-up in the Middle East. Speculating now almost would be like closing the barn door after the horse has run away.

"We're not really interested in trading accounts," said Craig Fleming, Plymouth branch manager at Prescott, Ball & Turben. 'It's too difficult a game to play and constantly be a winner. "The winners I've seen are people who bought quality, held on for the most part and ignored short-term trends," Fleming added

DEAN GULIS, research director for Roney and Co. was more blunt in his assessment of people who want to play investment roulette with military industrial companies now.

'Good luck," he said. Since the United States attacked Iraq Jan. 16, stocks have soared and the price of gold and oil has dropped - all contrary to what might have been expected to happen in that war situation, Gulis said.

So what's an investor to buy? Companies that cater to ongoing needs of consumers, analysts agree.

But what of defense issues, specifically?

"I don't think they're over-priced," Calice said. "Additional gain depends on the outcome of the war and the rebuilding that needs to be done.

McDonnell Douglas, a major defense contractor, was mentioned by Calice as a possible speculative buy.

Sixty-six percent of sales are to the U.S. government, 20 percent to foreign countries," he said. "I'm willing to bet the government's not going to let them go broke.

Raytheon, listed on the N.Y. Stock Exchange, manufactures the Patriot anti-missile missiles which have proven to be effective against Iraq's SCUD missiles, Gulis said.

"If you knew a week ago they would be effective and bought then, you got a very good buy," he "Now, everybody knows said. about it. It's kind of late in the game pretty short, she said. Consum aren't loyal to the places where they buy. They go for the best price or the latest name on the brain.

"In recessionary times, people hold back. They're scared. You have to keep your name out there, keep promoting in good or bad times." Hay has worked with smaller business - dry cleaners, carpet cleaners, electricians, specialty stores and other consultants. Most have been in business two to eight years when they seek her services.

They have never sat down and too far back on what he owes," Posner said. "If you identify a problem early before it gets out of control, maybe there's something you can do to save the relationship.

But the long-term picture often is ignored in both good times and bad, he added

"Small businesses, when things are busy, don't seem to take the time to upgrade or automate functions they should be automating," Maiani said. "During a recession, when things are slow, they should take the time to go ahead and spend a few dollars. But they don't.

"Small business owners can't see past their noses in some instances. They can't see the long term."

Athens graduate hosts PBS business program

By Geraid Frawley staff writer

Cassie Seifert likes to give people the business

But then, that's her new job Since Jan. 6, Seifert, a Troy Athens High School graduate with family members still in the area, is the new co-anchor of the Nightly Business Report - the business and economic news broadcast that's been called television's answer to the Wall Street Journal.

"I would have to say this is the big leagues," Seifert said. "We have more viewers than any other business news program, and the Nightly Business Report (which appears on 260 public broadcasting stations across the country) is one of the most respected business shows on television.

"As far as business on television is concerned - this is it," Seifert said. Seifert's becoming co-anchor is part of the program's overall revamping that includes a more visible nce in New York, new bureaus in Chicago and Los Angeles to provide more regionalized business coverage, and new technology to meet viewer's information needs in an increasingly global economy.

Seifert, 28, is quite naturally elated at the opportunity to be a co-anchor on a national business news team. "Sometimes - even when I'm caught up in something important and my mind's on other things, I get a warm feeling and just have to smile."

STEPPING INTO a national anchor's seat could be a daunting experience, but she hasn't allowed herself the time to stop and think about it, Seifert said. "I appreciate the fact this doesn't happen every day.~

"I am proud of myself - I worked very hard to get where I am, but there was also some luck involved," Seifert admits. "It's an absolute thrill for me, but I can't allow myself to get giddy aboutit."

Seifert said she concentrates on achieving a balance between sophistication and information in her

Cassie Seifert business news anchor broadcasts. Although achieving balance is never easy, it helps her to remember what she learned in Journalism 101 in college: "You should never underestimate the intelligence of your audience, but never overestimate the amount of information they have.

In addition to being fun and challenging, being an anchor is an enor-mous amount of work. "Typical day" doesn't exist in broadcast anchors' vocabulary, Seifert said, but there is a basic framework.

Sex doesn't sell cars, marketing folks have decided

Events in the Mideast have diminished, if not eliminated altogether, attention to events of lesser significance that otherwise might have deserved our attention.

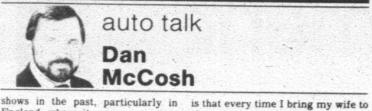

OK, so maybe even if there hadn't been a war, not too many people would have noticed Ford and Che vy's apparent threat to a fine old tradition at the North American International Auto Show - namely, the substitution of actors in so-called "real life" situations posing alongside cars on display, rather than the blatantly sexist habit of past years of having nice-looking young women ride the turntables. The theory behind this is that people are tired of looking at nice-looking young women wearing about seven hundred bucks of clothes and would rather see articulate couples wearing, for example, a tweedy suit that goes well with a station wagon. Frankly, if the people responsible for marketing cars really believe this, the auto business is in worse rouble than I thought.

ONE OF THE ironies to all this is that the "new" North American International Auto Show is supposed to be a "European"-style event. Does anybody at Ford or Chevy really think they do this kind of thing in Paris?

Actually, they have been carried away a bit at some of the European with cars. The flaw in this reasoning

Inflation could kill safe T-Bill

By Sid Mittra special writer

Recently John Jones, one of the long-time readers of my column, came into some money (approximately $1 million). When we got together to discuss the currently available investment opportunities, he had all but decided to invest the entire sum in T-Bills.

"Why shouldn't I take that route," he argued, "since this investment is safe, solid, guaranteed, and hasslefree?

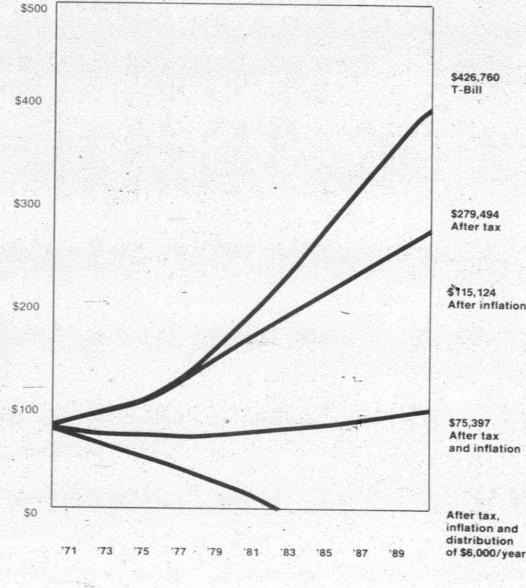

Jones was right, but only partially Risk has many faces, and it is unwise to make firm decisions about investing large sums of money without a proper understanding of the complicated risk-reward model.

During the course of our discussion, I presented to Mr. Jones the accompanying chart, which I use in my graduate-level investments course at Oakland University. The chart reveals the following facts:

• If you invested $100,000 in T-Bills in 1971, by the end of 1989 you will have accumulated $426,760, ignoring taxes and inflation.

· When adjusted for taxes and inflation, your $100,000 would be

It was at a post-concert house party in Detroit that Seeley, then a skinny kid learning piano licks off records, gained a friendship with the legendary boogie pianist Meade Lux Lewis Lewis had invited the autograph-seeking Seeley and some friends back to the party. Seeley arrived before Lewis and was persuaded to play some piano. He was charging through Lewis' "Chicago Flyer" when Lewis finally appeared.

Initially impressed with Seeley's playing of the technically difficult iece, Lewis and Seeley enjoyed a close friendship until Lewis' death in 1964. The vagaries of being a boogie woogie musician were evident Lewis' life. "Lux Lewis used to blow my mind," Seeley recalls. "He'd sell out the Embers in New York and go back to L.A. and play in the corner

THE HISTORY of boogie woogie is confused, romantic and brief. As jazz splintered into the progressive and traditional camps, boogie woogie, with its walking left-hand bass and stomping, climactic structure, deeply influenced the seminal rock 'n' roll of Little Richard, Jerry Lee Lewis and others

Boogie woogie was intensely popular for a short time in the '30s, but only a handful of pianists - Albert Ammons, Pete Johnson, Lewis and Jimmy Yancey - continued with it. "Commercial interests got ahold of it and watered it down," Seeley says. Pretty soon it was very elementary and people lost touch with the real item. It didn't have the impact and the power. Guys like Meade kept playing it, I kept playing it, and now there are quite a lot of people around who like it.

Today, however, boogie woogie is almost unanimously performed by sound recently was cited in a book says, "is that white people now listen

OCONUT Grove guidebook author Jean-Pierre Haynes calls them "come-overs, stay-overs and wheneyes." The come-overs are ivy league transplants in Gucci sweatclothes, biking the brick streets, eating yogurt ice cream or sipping beer at the sidewalk cafes.

The stay-overs have been in Coconut Grove long enough to be season ticket holders of the Coconut Grove Playhouse, to remember when there were no sidewalk cafes and when all the phone numbers began with the word Highland. But it is the when-eyes that connect us to the mansions of the "old grove," the opulence of Vizcaya and the history of a town that was the biggest in south Florida when Miami was only an army post.

According to Haynes: They start every sentence with, When I . . . "For example, 'When I was young . . . ' or 'When I first

"The when-eves also know that the most infamous day in history was Sept. 2, 1925. the day the city of Miami annexed the grove despite the near unanimous opposition of the residents

You may not have heard much of Coconut Grove recently, but it is one of three Miami suburbs of special interest to travelers daytripping or overnighting in the city.

The other two are the restored Art Deco district of Miami Beach, where people once more sit in the sun outside of small pink and yellow hotels, and Key Biscayne, where you can frolic on park beaches within sight of the city skyline

I thumbed several guidebooks and settled on one called Cocoanut Grove by Jean-Pierre Havnes. $12.95. No. the spelling of the title is not a misprint. That's what Dr. Horace Porter called it when he named the post office after the cocoanut trees he planted here in 1873.

The Indians called it

Ground. Pirates moored their ships in Sailboat Bay. Bahamian seamen lured ships to their death on the reef nearby, and the Peacock family built a hotel that lured wealthy families from the north.

I was there on a Saturday, when the Chamber of Commerce was closed, but the sidewalk cafes were already serving coffee and Perrier on the few blocks of Main Highway that anchor "the village." I joined a lot of people eating breakfast outside the tiny Cafe Terrace and got some local lore from tablemates who drive 25 miles from Hollywood, Fia., every weekend with their bikes on the roo

They have often visited the opulent villa and gardens at Vizcaya, built in 16th-century style by farm equipment industrialist James Deering, and now the biggest tourist attraction in Coconut Grove. They also like to tour the streets around the "old grove" mansions and sit in sidewalk cafes and watch the town's busy young tourist life.

The old trees led me out of the world of Ralph Lauren into the world of Ralph Mid dleton Munroe, the most important early settler, whose 19th century wooden house looks across a natural hammock of mown grass to the sea.

A girl was on her stomach reading a book in the sunshine and three young sailors walked single-file past a restored historic ship exhibited on the lawn. Herons sat in shallow waters by the boat dock.

Couples tie nuptial knot in Caribbean

By Vera Hogan special writer

What will we do about our fami-

This is the big question couples face when they decide to marry on a tropical island in the Caribbean. Many of us share fond memories of our more traditional weddings, where moms and dads and a collection of relatives and friends gathered for the happy event.

Other, perhaps more adventurou couples, decide to leave family, friends and often unpredictable weather behind to exchange their vows among swaying palm trees overlooking the clear blue waters of the Caribbean Sea.

Does that sound romantic, but you're still wondering what to do about mom and dad? According to Norma Kennedy, bridal consultant for the Frenchman's Reef Beach Resort and Morning Star Beach Club in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands, couples who marry at these resorts

Coconut Grove a hot spot in Florida

It is only a two-minute walk from there to the bars and restaurants and busy street life of the village, where the best-known names are characters: John Baltz giving neck therapy, Peter Rabbit weaving leaf hats, bar tender Beamer Warren costumed and theatrical behind the bar at the Taurus Steak House.

It is only a short drive from Coconut Grove to the heart of Miami. There were lots of cars and taxis, but the mood of the day was more in tune with the Old Town Trolley which lets you sit in an open-sided car and tour the whole city. You can get off for as long as you like at Vizcaya, at the Miami Seaquarium near the entrance to Key Biscayne You can even visit another old world settlement at Coral Gables.

I highly recommend a day at the city and state parks on Key Biscayne and a day trip to the Art Deco dis trict of Miami Beach, but for the moment I am happy to walk out under the century-old trees of the Barnacle, back to a sidewalk cafe on Main Street and watch the world go by in Coconut Grove.

The come-overs are here. A few stay-overs may be found. But most of the when-eyes probably stay home on weekends.

Keith and Kim Cotcher of West Bloomfield were married at the Morning Star Beach Club on Nov. 20, 1990. Although they admit that families were a little upset about their plans, all was forgiven when they returned with a videotape to share at the Dec. 28 reception.

Keith and Kim highly recommend getting married in the Caribbean. Norma's help, everything went off without a hitch," Keith said "She handled all the arrangements and made sure everything was perfect '

The happy new couple took advantage of the resort's "Royal Wedding" package, which included a half-day beach excursion via helicopter to an ininhabited private island.

Ellie, offers a two-for-one special on four-night cruises good through March 30. Prices start at $299 per person for the cruise only.

Rose Laudicina of Travel Max in Farmington Hills said "the best bargain for a deluxe all-inclusive trip would be a cruise to the Caribbean. If the weather happens to be bad in one spot, you're sure to find good weather in another port."

We also asked Maureen Litten of Book Couzens Travel in Rochester what the best travel value is now and she said "anywhere in the Caribbean" and "definitely cruises."

Julie Gigliotti of Sunshine Travel

n Rochester Hills said Jamaica is the best warm-weather bargain this winter. She can offer a package rate for seven days that includes airfare and hotel for as low as $599 per person. Paula Sucaet of Only By Sea. Inc., a new division of Royal International Travel in Birmingham, recommends the Celebrity Cruise on the Meridian mentioned above, and Costa Cruises, offering 50 percent discounts Debi Steele of Travel Agents In-

Charley Farritor of Milford Travel and Leslie Koehler of Brighton Travel also said the best bet for bargain hunters in search of the sun is a last minute cruise. Charley and Leslie told us that since tour operators and cruise lines are offering terrific deals, now is the time to contact your travel agent.

If all this talk of cruising makes you seasick. Charlene Sinelli of Howell Travel recommends the following destinations for landibbers looking for a bargain.

If your shopping list includes beach parties, underwater sports, fine dining, nightclub dancing and entertainment such as the colorful folkloric ballet, Cancun offers all this and more. According to Charlene, prices for a seven-day stay in Cancun start as low as $499 per person including airfare, hotel accommodations and airport trans

The Cayman Islands offer not only miles of beautiful white beaches and warm sunny weather but diving and snorkeling as well Experienced and novice divers can experience the beauty of marine life and coral formations beneath the clear blue waters of the Caribbean Sea.

Prices to the Caymans start as low as $679 for seven days including airfare, hotel accommodations and airport transfers.

Whether you enjoy sight-seeing playing golf, river-rafting, shopping, or simply basking in the sun, there is no lack of things to do in Jamaica. Known for its cultural and natural attractions, Jamaica is also home to reggae music and restored historic sites. Charlene recently booked a trip

Canton wins 1st gymnastic invitational

By Dan O'Mear staff writer

Plymouth Canton achieved a first in gymnastics competition Saturday. The Chiefs won their first invitational championship in school history by taking top honors in the annual Rockford meet.

"We won the regional last year," Canton coach John Cunningham said. "Otherwise, we've been the Avis of high school gymnastics.

"It should definitely build confidence. It's our first first-place trophy. Everyone felt real good about it."

Canton had a 131.65 team score, which might normally be considered low but that was the same for every team. The host team had a runner-up score of 128.85, and the top five included East Kentwood, Holland and East Lansing

"THE WEST Side judges tend to score low, and they tend to be nasty," Cunningham said. "They take a tenth off for every little thing. It was the same thing we ran into last year.'

While he thought many of his team's individual scores were low for the difficulty of the routines being performed, Cunningham said he could accept that since the scoring was balanced.

"The only fair thing is they scored it the same way for all the teams," he said. "Last year they didn't and we lost the meet. But if they're fair, I can handle those scores.

"Last year we had a good meet, too. This year it went better in that I thought we were judged fairly.

The Chiefs, rated No. 2 in the state, were led by sophomore Kim Rennolds, who was eighth in all-around competition with a 33.4 total. She placed fourth on vault (8.8), ninth on bars (9.0) and beam (9.0) and 11th in floor exercise (8.4)

The top 10 individuals in each event received medals. Canton also received key contributions from Jenny Tedesco, who was fourth on beam (8.9) and fifth on bars (8.35), Johanna Anderson, eighth on floor (8.55); Dawn Clifford, seventh on beam (8.6); Danielle Mirto, ninth on vault (8.55); Laura Anderson, 11th on bars (7.95); and Heather Murphy, 11th on floor (8.2).

"I THOUGHT we had some exceptional routines," Cunningham said, citing the combined floor performances. "Kim Rennolds, Danielle Mirto, Johanna Anderson and Heather Murphy each of them did an exceptional floor routine. That was probably the best team event. Dani did her absolute best routine of the year. She deserved a 9.1 but got an 8.4.

'We scored 8.2, 8.35, 8.4 and 8.55 (on floor) and if we had been in our gym or even (the Troy) Athens (gym), the scores would have been close to nine." No team had any margin for error since only four gymnasts could compete in each event, and all four scores counted. In dual meets, six compete and four scores are counted.

"To make a meet run, they can't put more than five in," Cunningham said, "but that allows one girl to make a mistake and not feel like she's letting everyone else down.

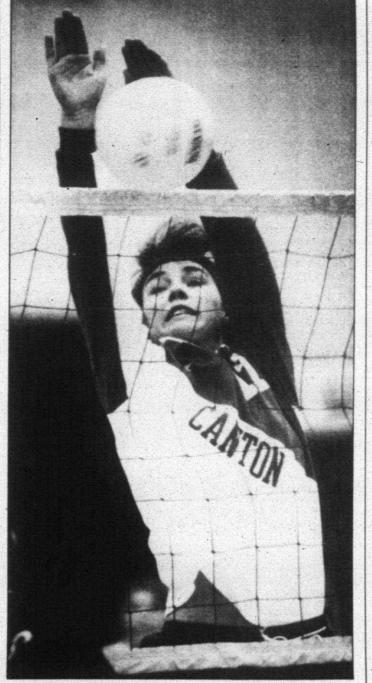

"It puts too much pressure on one individual. If you make a mistake, you hurt the team. We were fortunate that we were far enough ahead and it was not that big a deal."

BEFORE THE season began, Cunningham said his team would start slowly and make strides as it progressed. Winning the Rockford title was a step in that direction.

'We're getting stronger is what it is," Cunningham said. "We're getting stronger physically, and our routines are getting stronger.

"Jenny Tedesco and Kim Rennolds are coming back from injuries. As they get better, the team is getting better."

Canton's next competition will be Monday when the Chiefs visit Northville for a Western Lakes Activities Association dual meet at 7 p.m.

Victory goes to Stevenson in showdown

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Livonia Stevenson had a tougher time starting its volleyball match Monday night against Plymouth Salem than finishing it.

The match was delayed at least a half hour because the net had to be replaced, but once it started, Stevenson took care of Salem with ease, 15-3, 15-9 and 15-4.

The quick win left the Spartans atop the Lakes Division (Western Lakes Activities Association) at 3-0 and allowed them to go home early and get some rest.

With this being finals week at Stevenson and several of the Spartans slowed by the flu, rest is what they needed. Stevenson coach Lee Cagle made only one substitution during the match, but running up the score, he said, was not his intention.

"Tonight we started late and with this being finals week I wanted to get out of here as soon as possible," said Cagle, whose team is 4-0 in the WLAA and 10-3-4 overall. "We've been cranking up for this week. We have to be outstanding in both practices and games because we have our most important tourney Saturday (hosting the Stevenson Invitational).'

SALEM, MEANWHILE, fell to 1-1 in the Lakes, 3-1 in the WLAA and 3-2-3 overall. The Rocks' setters, Carvn Tatterton and Sarah Krieger, played well according to coach Allie Suffety, but the rest of their attack was dominated.

'We got blown away," Suffety said. "We were pretty intimidated by their speed and quickness and weren't making blocks (only six as a team for the match). We didn't run our offense. Our setters did their best job all year, but we just had a difficult time getting passes to them. Our biggest problem was serve receiving.

Salem returned only 70 percent of the Spartans serves, opposed to their typical percentage of 85. The Rocks, who averaged in the mid-20s for kills this year, collected only 17 in 68 attempts against Stevenson.

Leading the Rocks was junior middle blocker Martha Bol with five kills, while Andi Welling and Jenny Emmett had three kills each.

Salem's top threat at the net, senior Amy Krajewski, had only one kill along with two service aces.

Senior Laura Zatorski gave the Spartans momentum in Game one with five straight service points. Then, after battling to a 9-9 tie in Game two, the Spartans scored six straight to put the Rocks away.

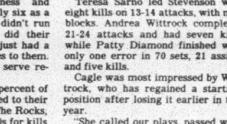

SALEM NEVER threatened Stevenson in the final game as serving and net play seemed to be the difference. For the match, Zatorski was good on 14-of-15 serves with four aces, with teammates Alicia Smith and Sue Bell (overcoming the flu) collecting three aces each. Bell contributed 13 digs.

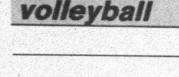

Teresa Sarno led Stevenson with eight kills on 13-14 attacks, with nine blocks. Andrea Wittrock completed 21-24 attacks and had seven kills, while Patty Diamond finished with only one error in 70 sets, 21 assists

Cagle was most impressed by Wittrock, who has regained a starting position after losing it earlier in the year.

"She called our plays, passed well and her defense was really an asset tonight," Cagle said. "Her hitting was terrific. It was her best match of the season.

Big 2nd half leads to easy Salem win

By Neal Zipse staff writer

Walled Lake Western's strategy was to shorten Tuesday's Western Lakes Activities Association basketball game by controlling the tempo against powerful Plymouth Salem.

But for the overmatched Warriors, the game couldn't be short enough, as the host Rocks pulled away in a dominating second half to win 72-38.

Western (1-3 in the WLAA and 4-6 overall) stayed relatively close in the game with a strong second quarter performance and trailed 32-21 at halftime. However, Salem held the Warriors scoreless for the first five minutes of the third quarter and outscored the visitors 40-17 in the second half.

The Rocks stayed on top the WLAA, improving to 4-0 in the league and 9-1 overall.

"We knew their strategy was to hold the ball and control the tempo of the game, so we did some things like trapping to force them into doing things they didn't want to do." Salem coach Bob Brodie said.

"THEY COME after you so hard offensively and defensively," Western coach Chuck Henry said. "They have the ability to control the game just with their de fense. We came in trying to show them something and thought if we could do something like hit a quick layup, we could get rid of our jitters."

The Rocks didn't let Western hit the game's first basket or let the Warriors get a lead to go into their stall offense. Instead, senior forward Jake Baker nailed a three-pointer just 10 seconds into the opening quarter to put Salem ahead for good.

Baker finished with 14 points, and made all six of his shot attempts. The Rocks held a 28-19 rebounding ad-vantage behind Baker's 10 boards.

The score was 9-0 after two bankers by senior center Cliff Lee and a layup from Baker. With 3:04 left in the first quarter, Western got on the scoreboard after a short jumper by Jeff Kubik. The senior forward accounted for all seven of Western's first-quarter points.

SALEM LED 16-7 after the first quarter by converting on seven of its eight field goal attempts. The Rocks threatened to make it a rout early in the second quarter by jumping ahead 23-9, after senior K.C. Kirkpatrick made a steal, drove the length of the floor for a layup ad was fouled.

basketball

The Warriors kept the game close by outscoring Salem 12-9 in the final five minutes of the first half and trailed by 11 at halftime

"I was happy with our first-half performance," Henry said. "(Salem) came out in the third quarter and played extremely hard on defense and we again had trouble with that.

"I think we got tired in the second quarter," said Salem senior guard Chris Tebben, who finished with 13 points, eight assists, six steals and five rebounds.

The Rocks crushed all doubts of an upset by scoring the first 15 points of the third quarter to build a 26-point lead. Kubik ended the run with a three-pointer with 3:00 left in the quarter. Three-pointers later in the quarter junior Jason Benshaw and sophomore Brent by Mackowiak cut the Rock lead to 22, but Kirkpatrick stole the ball and brought the crowd to its feet with a thundering jam to end the third quarter.

SALEM WENT on a 13-4 run to begin the final quarter and was able to play its substitutes for most of the quarter.

Brodie was pleased with the performances of Baker and Tebben.

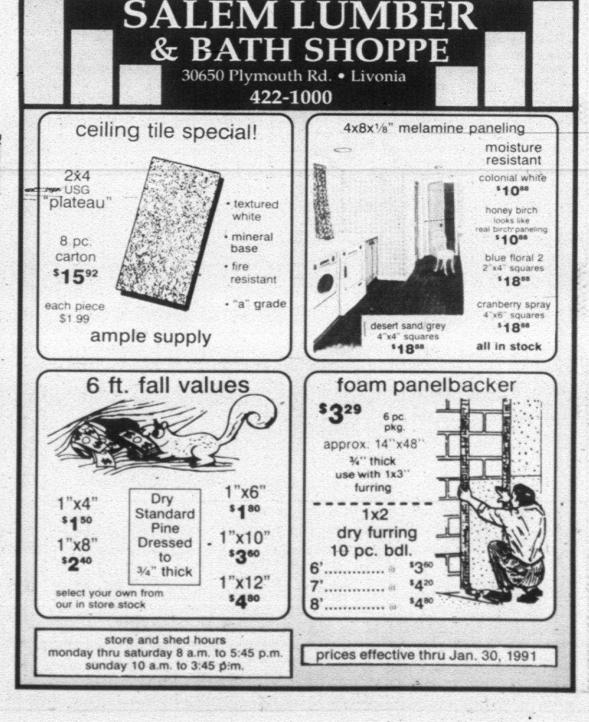

"They played on both ends of the court tonight," Brodie said. "Some players play that way on some nights, but they gave their full effort and they do that regularly Henry was impressed with Salem's performance and had nothing but praise for the league leaders.

"They are easily the best team we've played this year," Henry said. "Tonight they showed their dominance like good teams do."

"We started out the season playing well and then got complacent and went into a lull," Tebben said, "We now realize that we have to come out and play hard all the time

Kirkpatrick scored 11 points and pulled down six rebounds for Salem. Senior forward John Hoffmeyer poured in 10 points and Lee added nine points and six rebounds for the winners. Kubik and Mackowiak added 14 and 12 points, respectively, for the Warriors.

When Sue Nissen began her basketball career at Central Michigan University 3½ years ago, she had a reasonable goal.

"I wanted to make an impact," said Nissen, a Redford resident who graduated in 1987 from Dearborn Divine Child. "I didn't want to be just a name and number going through the system. I didn't have any specific guidelines as to how I was going to make an impact, but if it included setting records then that means it's been a success." A huge success.

With 11 regular-season games remaining in her senior year. Nissen already owns the CMU record for points in a career (1,703) and twice has been named to the Mid-American Conference's first-team. A leading candidate for this year's MAC's 'Player of the Year" honor, Nissen is one of three players scoring in double figures for the Chippewas.

CMU, 12-3 overall and 4-1 in the Mid-American Conference, is off to its best start since 1983-84. And that's the best news of all for Nissen a 6-foot center who first earned a reputation in 1986-87 as the state's unnerup for Miss Basketball.

"WE HAVE A very good team that plays very well together," said Nissen. "We all get along and have great chemistry. It's the most fun I've had in my four years.

She's already drawn enough of that with her play at CMU.

Estey keeping Illinois rolling

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Perhaps Jill Estey's reply when asked how well her University of wants her point guard to be," said Illinois women's basketball team is Estey. "Run the offense. If the doing can best describe her atti- shot's there, then take it. tude toward her own game. Said

"We still have a lot of room for keep working." Estev has been working on her statistic-minded followers may not think so. After all, the former Plymouth

Salem standout is averaging just 4.1 points a game. And even though she's just a sophomore, Estev did start 19 games at point guard last season - and she averaged 4.1 points a game then.

So where's the improvement? FIRST. CHECK the team's record. There's a new coach. Kathy will use 9-foot-2 high rims instead of Lindsey, who takes over for Laura 10-feet, and the players will wear Golden. A year ago, the Illini finshed 11-17 overall, 5-13 in the Big Ten; so far this year, they're 7-9 overall and 4-2 in the Big Ten.

> "We play a lot more together this year than last year," said Estey. "It's so much better than it was. There's no such thing as an easy practice. It's the way it should other statistics. Like assists - she led Illinois last year with 97, an average of 3.4 a game. She's dishing out 5.9 a game this season, which is near the pace to set a new Illinois single-season record.

Then there's defense. "I think my lefense has (improved most)," she thought about blocking out and getting rebounds."

AT 5-FOOT-4, Estey isn't going get a lot of rebounds. But her efense has improved to the point where she leads the team in steals, averaging 2.5 a game. And finally, check Estey's goal sheet. She admits "I never really considered myself a pure scorer,

Which is what her coach wants "This year, I think we have enough scorers."

pass the ball."

Estey was at her best in Sunday's improvement. We've just got to 81-66 win over University of Michigan at Illinois' Assembly Hall. Yes. she scored just four points, but also game. It shows, too, although passed out 11 assists, made three steals - and did not have a turn-

What has helped Estev acclimate herself to the college game most is her physical conditioning. "Last year, after a weekend of games, I could hardly walk up the steps, she said. "I don't care what anyone says, there's no way to prepare for college basketball after high school baskethall.

INDEED, HER defensive play can be traced to her improved conditioning - which is a good thing, since Lindsey likes her guards to apply full-court pressure throughout the game. Estev said many of her steals come when "people get tired at the end of games."

None of this should be mistaken as meaning Estey has made the jump from high school star to college standout. As she said when Second, check some of Estey's asked about the team, there's still much work to be done.

> "Definitely my shot," she swered when asked what she had to work on. "That's probably the most inconsistent part of my game. It's one more aspect I have to work

But that will come later. So, too said. "I'm really happy with my de- will the other goals Estey has ense. Last year, I never even mapped out - namely, a Big Ten title. Illinois graduates just one senior starter after this season.

"I don't think a Big Ten champ onship is a realistic goal this year she admitted. "But I'd like us to get into the upper echelon - the top

That undoubtedly will happen, if Estey can keep the Illini on schedule with the same precision she ex hibits passing the ball.

Ocelots aren't in Macomb's class yet

First, understand that, yes, School-craft College's men's basketball team is better - much better than it's been in years. Then, understand that the Ocelots still aren't that good. How good? Good enough to challenge the top teams in the Eastern Conference. Those are Mott CC. Oakland CC and last Saturday's opponent - Macomb CC.

The Ocelots were hurting, sure. Their depleted backcourt - they had already lost starting point guard Lynell Collins to academics at the semester break - was dealt another low when Kwesi McGill suffered an ankle sprain last week. He should be back by Saturday, but played only a couple of minutes against Macomb. With reserve William Dawson also out with an ankle injury, only seven Ocelots were able to play against the Monarchs, who entered the game as the only unbeaten team in the conference. They ended it the same way, with a 94-85 homecourt victory bol stering their record.

ALL FACTORS considered, it wasn't too surprising to hear SC coach Dave Bogataj proclaim, "I thought we played very well. (Ma-comb is) a very good basketball It's just that, even when they play well, the Ocelots aren't in that class yet. They made a battle of it most of the way against Macomb, however, trailing just 47-44 at the half. In the second half the deficit grew to 14 before SC rallied. With just under a ninute to play, the margin was down o four.

But the Monarchs made their free throws - 11-of-12 in the second half - when they had to. And SC didn't. In fact, the Ocelots never got the chance to prove themselves at the line in the second half. They did not get an attempt. For the game, SC was 12-of-16 on free throws (75 percent); Macomb was 15-of-18 (83 per cent).

Randy Watters was again "tough as nails," according to Bogataj: He scored 32 points, nailing 5-of-8 three-pointers, and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Mitch Fyke scored 24 points and Barry Quayle totalled 14 points and nine boards. Troy Wilcox led Macomb (7-0 in the conference) with 22 points, 14 coming in the first half. Marty Kohler had 19. Ken Stanley netted 16, Mike Gorney got 14 and Karl Williams had 10.

ON MONDAY, SC faced Spring Arbor's junior varsity and rolled to a 114-70 victory. The outcome was never really in doubt; the Ocelots led 61-31 at the half.

Wrestlers began arriving at Redford Catholic Central just after dawn on Saturday. For many, it was their first time nals - senior Rusty Fowler (119)

In its 27-year history, the CC Invitational has had Temperance Redford as the champion 11 times. This season was no different, as the Mules accumulated 184.5 points en route to the title.

seconds left in the second period. "I beat him with an ankle pick and followed it with a cradle." Fowler said. "I worked hard this week in practice and it paid off today."

Fowler finished third at 112 in last year's tournament. Krueger, a sophomore, was not as fortunate. He was pinned by top seed Robert Dunham of Holt with 1:06 remaining in the third period, after "Krueger is a fine young wrestler." CC coach Mike Rodriguez said. "I think he got uncomfortable with "Jason is finally making a name for himself and not living off the suc-

Lincoln had three individual champions. Greg Mayer (103), Tom Costello (135) and Jeff Mayer (140) all won their final matches. Greg Mayer defeated Mark Williamson of Bedford 9-7 in overtime Costello pinned Ben Hatt of Mount Pleasant in 5:31 and Jeff Mayer beat Kevin Klebba of Howell 4-3.

lafrate finds trade is liberating experience

HE WIDE SMILE on Al Iafrate's face said it all. No, Kuwait hasn't been liberated yet, but for the new def enseman of the Washington Capitals, it was a personal liberation of sorts. Ironically, it came just days before our nation honored another great libertarian, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "It feels good, all the equipment even feels lighter," said the 24-yearold Livonia native. "It feels stable here. The tension is not there. It's an atmosphere of contentment

It was a bitter cold night Tuesday outside Joe Louis Arena, but inside the Caps' dressing room, following their come-from-behind 2-1 overtime win over the Red Wings, lafrate projected a warm glow. He had a right to feel euphoric. After 61/2 painful years with the Toronto Maple Leafs where he was dogged by innuendo and whispers of off-ice personal problems, lafrate was set free last week, traded to the

Caps for a guy named Zezel and another called Rouse. It was only the second game with his new teammates, but the Iafrate deal appears to be already paying dividends. Displaying the moves that made him an All-Star in 1990, Iafrate was selected as the game's No. 3 star

THE NEW, more physical-minded No. 34 also delivered a strong message in the third period, swatting Detroit star Steve Yzerman against the boards like a mosquitó.

There was no mistaking that the new lafrate is going to throw his 6foot-3, 215-pound frame around NHL rinks with more authority this sea-

Woodpile provides home for interesting creatures

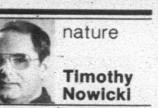

Cold temperatures do not recognize the official beginning of winter. The season seems to slowly shift, and as early as October we experienced winter conditions. Man's artificial time table is just a general guide to follow.

Regardless of the official season, when the temperatures drop it is time to stoke up the wood burning stove. Splitting logs that were cut a couple years ago is always easier in cold weather. What water is left in the dried logs freezes, and when hit with an ax splits, like ice cubes shatter when they fall.

Splitting wood has many advantages and reminds me of Thoreau's statement that went something like ... chopping wood warms the body twice. Even on cold days wielding an axl can work up a sweat, while burning the wood also keeps the body warm.

But I found that my wood pile warms me in other ways. Last summer while replacing a fence near my stacked wood, I noticed the transparent capsule of an empty butterfly chrysalis. It could have been from a painted lady, a mourning cloak or maybe even a fritillary. All these species of butterfly have a chrysalis with a saw tooth edge to it.

I would like to have seen both the caterpillar and the adult, but I was satisfied that my wood pile provided a safe retreat.

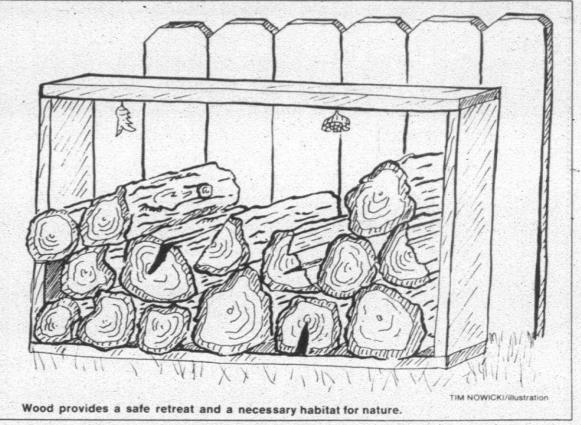

AS I SHIFT and shift through the logs at different seasons, evidence of other inhabitants unfold. Not far from the butterfly chrysalis was a paper wasp nest that had been abandoned the previous year. It too was attached by a single pedicle, which supported an open umbrella of neatly arranged hexagonal columnar cells.

Attaching their nest in the wood pile was like building a log house in the middle of a forest. Dried wood is the source of the paper which makes their nest. These wasps did not have to expend much energy traveling from the source to their nest

Providing or maintaining habitats for animals is necessary for their survival. Habitats do not always have to be large, but the fact that they allow creatures to exist warms me in addition to the wood.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence-Oaks County Park in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia.

Tinsmith artists make early American wares

Bob Sklar editor/591-2300

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

PON BARREN, snowcovered landscape near the city of Plymouth sits the mid-1800s tinshop of Bob and Anita Horwood, otherwise known as The Horwoods' Country House

As you enter the warmth of the shop from days past with teeth chattering from the cold, a woodsy, welcoming aroma of kindling wafts. through the air from the antique cast-iron woodstove to greet you.

Here in the tinshop with their antique tools, the husband and wife tinsmith team create reproductions of lamps, lanterns, sconces and chandeliers typical of those used by early American settlers during the 1700s and 1800s.

"Our products are authentically handcrafted of tin, copper, brass and terne, a pewter-look type of tin," said Bob Horwood during an interview at the tinshop. "Terne was used over a hundred years ago on barn roofs."

"We do everything by hand, from lanterns to outfitting whole houses with light fixtures," Anita said. "All of the (reproduction) items are from original patterns, from Williamsburg to Europe."

THE EARLY American tinware on the walls, ceiling and shelves of the tinshop hold stories of our nation's history. The art of tinsmithing has been around for hundreds of years.

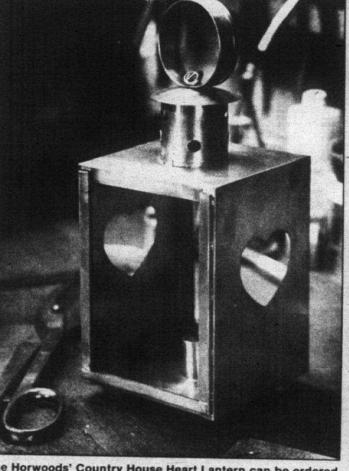

"The oldest item we make goes back to the 1560s," Horwood said. There's a lot of crafts that come and go, but this (tinsmithing) is and go, but this (tinsmithing) is part of our heritage." Horwood took the art of smithing quite naturally since his background lies in industrial arts. "I taught woodworking and metalworking for the better part of 30 years in the Plymouth schools," Horwood said. "So when my wife asked me to make her an item asked me to make her an item from tin for her rosemaling class, I did. That's how it all started.' Before long, the Horwoods were heading north to Cass City in a truck to buy smithing tools from the heir of a tinsmith. They even dragged home the old, wornsmooth-from-years-of-use log with the hollowed, bowl-shaped forms, which the tinsmith used to hammer, shape and round the tin. 'Bob does all the punching." Anita said.

FOLLOWING A pattern made of punched hundreds of ice pick-sized holes in a sheet of tin to create the eagle on the front of the lantern that he sent to President George Bush, a year ago in September.

The Horwoods' Country House Heart Lantern can be ordered in copper, brass or antique, and electrified if the buyer so chooses

"The 13 stars which round the lantern stand for the 13 colonies," Anita said. "Congressman Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) walked it over to the White House for us. We received a nice letter back."

The Horwoods crisscross the United States, showing their tinware at shows in Connecticut, Maine, Virginia and Texas. "We do a lot of folk art shows," Bob said.

Entered in the tinware and Scandinavian decorating category, the Horwoods don colonial costumes to exhibit their tinsmithig skills about 15 times a year.

During the long hours on the road while Bob drives, Antia twists and turns the shiny tinstrips into icicles. "They're reproductions of icicles made in Germany around the 1890s," Anita said. "There are about 300 different items that we make.

Items authentically handcrafted by the Horwoods include replicas of a wrought-iron, trotting-horse weather vane; a tin kitchen oven from around 1850 that used heat at the front of a blazing hearth to roast everything from apples to tarts; a Liberty tree Lantern said "to have hung in the trees at town meetings during the Stamp Tax Rebellion;" tin 10th anniversary items given "to couples in the old days on their 10th anniversary;" a 6-foot-long coach horn used to warn pedestrians that "two or three hitches of horses and coach were coming around the corner, and "a match holder used in the old days to hold colonial clay pies."

PRICES IN the Horwood's catalog range from $3 for a baker's dozen of icicles to $250 for a chandelier.

The Horwoods are partners in a love affair with the art of tinsmithing.

"When we're getting ready for a show, we put in 14-hour days,' Horwood said.

This is our hobby, our livelihood, our joy," Anita said. The visitors head out into the cold Michigan winter, warmed inside by visions from our nation's past.

Non-profit gallery perseveres; cheers for LSO's efforts

SCANNING THE artscape

· Without fanfare, the Garden City Fine Arts Association (GCFAA) has made The Art Gallery at Sheridan Square on Ford Road a storybook success

Opened in 1989 as a fragile cultural experiment, the non-profit gallery, nurtured by plenty of TLC, has grown to showcase a range of art forms, from watercolor to pencil to sculpture.

Realism is the typical theme of the 14 exhibits.

Artists from Garden City and nearby communities are invited to sell their wares at reasonable prices in exchange for a commission fee of 20 percent, well below the average.

The lower prices put quality original art within reach of more Garden City residents. The average price tag: $80 to $125.

I salute Norma McQueen, the gallery's tireless curator, and Bob Sheridan, Sheridan Square's arts-minded owner, for the invaluable roles they've played in making the gallery work.

McQueen, in her first year as GCFAA president and herself an accomplished artist, sports the hat of goodwill ambassador for the gallery, a job she does with aplomb.

A charter member of the 40-member association, founded in 1982, McQueen took an early retirement from Henry Ford Hospital's administrative staff to "be more active in the art world.'

"I don't think the community recognizes the artistic talent we have in Garden City," says the 27-year resident. "We're adding a touch of culture to the community."

Sh ridan, . budding sculptor and painter, sought out the GCFAA when a vacancy popped up at his shopping center. The artists had exhibited at the sidewalk sales and the spring festival there.

The all-volunteer staff at The Art Gallery is a fitting tribute to the GCFAA's tenacity in finally bringing a fine arts gallery to Garden City.

· Plaudits are in order for the Livonia Symphony Orchestra. Its Young Artists competition drew a record 46 contestants to Madonna College Ja .-13.

Competitors came from such renowned music hotbeds as Julliard, Curtis, Oberlin, even Leningrad.

"I'm real pleased with the four winners," said Francesco DiBlasi, LSO conductor and a professional musician for 44 years. "They're first class.'

He attributed the record turnout partly to $3,000 in prize money.

A special thanks to Nancy Richard, an LSO board member who has chaired eight of the 13 Young Artists competitions. Her behind-the-scenes efforts are invaluable.

 The long-awaited balustrade now adorns the front porch overhang at the Farmington Historical Museum in downtown Farmington. And it looks terrific

A Farmington Historical Society member, I truly appreciate the pursuit of the Quakertown Questers, who secured a major grant for the historical restoration project.

Adding the new wood railing makes the 124-year-old, two-story mansion appear the way it did in 1910. That's when Gov. Fred Warner, Michigan's first three-term governor, called it home

The history-minded Questers not only provide docents for the museum but also are regular contributors.

They landed a $6,000 grant from the International Organization of Questers to add the railing, a Victorian architectural feature. The local chapter chipped in $50 to meet the $6,050 cost.

Following the Questers' lead, the Farmington City Council ticketed $4,400 to improve the roof and cornices to accommodate the balustrade. Local architect Carl Gaiser donated his professional services.

What's next up for the museum? Changing the tile covering of the everyday parlor's fireplace to wood to better reflect the 1870s. Also in the works is a room of late-1800s fashion upstairs, says Dick Carvell, museum curator.

Fund raising is the hitch.

"Improvements inside have to be done through money the historical committee raises," Carvell said. 'City support more or less is for building improvements, mainte-nance and repairs."

Bob Sklar is assistant managing editor for special projects.

An editor from Harlequin, one of the world's largest publishers of romance fiction, spoke to Myers' local chapter of RWA. Myers took copious notes and hung on every word.

THEN, SHE sat down and wrote the first three chapters of a teen romance she titled "Just Like Jessica." Shortly thereafter, she sent the chapters to Crosswinds, a division of Har lequin that specializes in Young Adult books.

All her homework apparently paid off. Crosswinds bought the book, on the strength of those first three chapters.

Since then, Myers has proposed four more books to Harlequin, and Harlequin has bought them all. "Face to Face" was published in 1989 and "In the Cards" in 1990. "Comfort and Joy" and its sequel, "Body and Soul," will be out early next year.

"You can read a story from any primary source and make it your own," she said. "And once you know the pattern, you can make up stories too.

much of the art scene from 1890 to 1930," she said An opening reception will be 7:30-10 p.m. Fri-

MOSCOW THEATER

The famed Moscow Studio Theatre begins its first American tour in Ann Arbor's Michigan Theater, Friday-Saturday, Feb. 1-2. This Soviet ensemble has played arts festivals across Europe, under the direction of Oleg B. Tabakov Feb. 1, the troupe will present "My Big Land," a touching play by Jewish dissident writer Alex-ander Galich. The play is a 20th century look at the Russian themes of fatherhood and motherland, paternity and place.

Banned in 1958 by Soviet authorities because of its Jewish characters and political content, the play today is popular in Moscow, where a younger generation sees it as a commentary on their own lives

Feb. 2, Soviet actress Maria Mironova stars in Alexander Buravsky's "The Teacher of Russian."

The modern allegorical tale is set in a contemporary Soviet hospital in a popular seaside resort. The hospital is run by a corrupt and scheming doctor who rents the patents' rooms to vacationing tourists, pocketing the profits.

Two tourists, a young man and an elderly woman, are roomed together in one of the wards. The doctor, hearing rumors of an official investigation of the hospital, falsifies the medical records of his guests

When an onsite probe is ordered, he tries to legitimize his practices by making his records accurate. For the young man, it means the doctor must break his legs.

The script uses adult themes, partial nudity and satire to comment on modern Soviet life.

Tickets to any Moscow Studio Theatre perform-ance are $24.50 for Michigan Theater members, $26.50 for non-members.

Showtime is 8 p.m.

Call the box office, 603 E. Liberty, 1-313-668-8397, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays or noon to 4 p.m. Saturdays.

In the class, Masters will present a logical study of color theory and the basics of mixing pigment color.

There will be a series of exercises to aid in understanding the properties of color pigment, how pigment colors interact, how to test various kinds paint and how to control color in art.

Masters, a member of Birmingham Women Painters and Ann Arbor Women Painters, has had work in shows at the Rubiner Gallery of West Bloomfield, Detroit Artists Market, Detroit Insti-tute of Arts and Birmingham Bloomfield Art As-sociation and in many regional and national exhibits.

WINTER ARTFEST

The University of Michigan-Dearborn Fine Art Associates will present the winter art exhibition, "American Prints: 1920-1940," Feb. 1 through March 1 in the Mardigian Library on campus.

"The exhibition pieces were selected to stress homegrown American graphics," said Electra Stamelos, art exhibitions and acquisitions director

"Prior to the 1920s, American artists' work tended to reflect European and other outside influences. The prints in our exhibition were inspired by purely American sources - people, places, landscapes - and from influences other than Whistler, who with his followers dominated

But commercial painters and contractors aren't the only folks who can benefit from the workshop.

"Designers are interested in these finishes so they can better serve their clientele and be more familiar with the finishes they specify," said Charles Soberman, company president.

"And artists take this course to learn more about the decorative painting skills that have been taught through the centuries.

Utah-based Rocky Mountain Painting, co-sponsoring the workshop, is an establshed leader in decoration and restoration. Since 1971, it has specialized in decorative graining, marbling and gilding as well as artistic stencil work.

The workshop fee is $795 per person. It includes instruction, materials and supplies, videos, samples and a catered lunch each day. Call Rocky Mountain Painting toll-free: 1-800-527-9284.

New builders say there's room for them even in times of economic uncertainty.

2 leave Farbman/ Stein

Marsha Fischer, a vice president for the commercial real estate firm of Farbman/Stein in Troy, figured last month that the time was right to start her own firm.

So she did, — Fisher Real Estate — in Farmington Hills.

"Good brokers will always do well, and I pride myself on being a good broker," Fischer said. "The past nine years, I developed my own clientele. I've always had a great reFischer expects to service both landlords and tenants.

"We will lease and sell commercial property, general office space, medical space, office space, industrial," she said.

CURRENT CLIENTS include Morris Margulies, owner of the Franklin Savings Building in Southfield, and Harold Beznos, owner of Troy Venture Plaza, Fischer said.

"Everyone goes through passages," she said. "I have gone through many passages. I started off as teacher, then stayed home 10 years raising children. Then I went into brokerage.

"I'm very competitive," Fischer said. "I enjoy real estate — live, eat and sleep real estate. It's not a job. It's part of my life."

Eric Stein, a sales agent at Farbman/Stein for 4½ years, has resigned the firm co-founded by his father, Lee, to join Fischer. "It was a difficult decision to make, obviously," Eric Stein said. "There's some good people there, friends of mine. I found an opportunity to go to a new company where I could grow within."

Poor economy fails to deter new builders

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

The area's big builders, despite the economy, remain optimistic that the coming year holds a lot of promise for the industry.

Most of them have been through the economic recession of the early 1980s. They've been around for years, survived the economic cycles, and their corporate leaders have the savvy to plan through the hard times.

They may not make a lot of money, but builders are confident they will somehow make it through.

But what about the small builders or the young builders who got into the business at the tail end of the 1980s' building boom? What do they about the future?

Terry Nosan, the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan's young builder of the year, said that despite what people see in the media, new house construction is still a very viable industry.

"It's really not that bad out there." Nosan, a vice president with Nosan/Cohen Associates in West Bloomfield, said even though it may not be growing, the housing market in southeastern Michigan remains strong.

"Most people are optimistic despite what you may have heard."

Housing starts this year, according to the Builder's Association of Southeastern Michigan, were expected to rise by 9.5 percent from 10,500 to 11,500 depending on what happens in the Middle East, according to projections of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

That increase would follow a decline of 15 percent from last year. A record 12,400 single family units were permitted in 1989.

NOSAN SAID THERE aren't many new builders, but then, there are relatively few people who go into building even during good times.

"But in a manner of speaking, yes, it could be a good time to become a builder — if you come in on a conservative basis."

There may be some good opportunities for the new builder. Buying land at a reasonable price is one of the toughest jobs facing builders, Nosan said. During slower economic times, the small builder may be able to buy land from the larger builders who have over-extended themselves ping a large land inventory. Other problems encountered by builders working on large sites wetlands, woodlands and the no growth/slow growth movement may also not be as big a problem for the small builder working on one site.

There may be some good opportunities for the new builder. Purchasing land at a reasonable price is one of the toughest jobs facing builders. During slower economic times, the small builder may be able to buy land from the larger builders who have overextended themselves by keeping a large land inventory.

has been building new houses throughout Oakland Country for about two years, but has been in the building business in one form or another since he was 17 — said with the exception of a couple of weeks in December, he's been extremely busy.

Todorovich is both a home builder and a general contractor working for other builders.

Todorovich's company completed seven or eight custom homes and 15 speculative homes (homes built without a specific buyer). Homes built by Todorovich ranged from $80,000 to $300,000 last year.

"Tve already (this year) been contacted about doing four or five new custom homes," Todorovich said.

FOR A SMALL company with only five full-time employees, 20 homes a year is a good year. Even when he wasn't building new homes, Todorovich found plenty of work building home additions and garages, he said.

Todorovich said he doesn't mean to infer that being a new home builder is easy in slowing times - or in good times for that matter - but it is not impossible.

"I think it's_tough to get started right now — you need a lot of good contacts."

Todorovich said in order for a small builder to succeed, he must be flexible. "We'll go everywhere and anywhere, and build anything," he said. A small builder has that option because it's easier for him to move from place to place for individual projects. A good reputation — with customers, tradespeople and building inspectors — is also an absolute must for the small builder, he said.

lationship with developers. I just had very, very good feedback from everybody.

"Farbman/Stein is a wonderful place to work," she said. "I couldn't have stayed there nine years if it wasn't. It was like a family.

"The timing (to leave now) was good," Fischer said. "I wasn't really in the midst of any big deals whatever. It's a wonderful feeling to walk into your own office."

Several leasing and sales agents have left an employer/employee relationship to start their own businesses the past couple of years.

Marsha Fischer and Eric Stein, formerly of Farbman/Stein, team up at Fischer Real Estate.

Stein worked on both property management and brokerage while at Farbman/Stein.

"When I was in (property) management, the learning curve had pretty much flattened out," he said. "Fischer Real Estate is really focused on real estate brokerage. It's a dynamic company. It's exciting to be in that environment.

"We complement each other very well," Stein said of his working relationship with Fischer. "If we get into a meeting together . . . we're used to every situation.

Take emotion out of house hunt

You can avoid the "emotional pitfalls" of buying a new house by following a well thought-out plan, says' the chairman of a national home inspection company.

Falling in love with a particular house is not a good enough reason for buying it, according to Ken Austin, chairman of HouseMaster of America.

"Of course, you must like the house a lot, but buying a house is no longer an emotional event. Today, financial considerations play an expanded role in the purchase deliberations.

"It helps to set some guidelines so that you can conduct your house hunt with realistic expectations."

To begin your personal analysis, it is necessary to determine what is an affordable amount to spend each month on housing.

"Review your monthly bills for the past year and estimate a typical month's budget. This should help you arrive at an amount that is available to you each month for housing costs." Austin said.

From this figure, subtract your estimated monthly cost of real estate taxes, home insurance, utility bills and repair and maintenance costs. The amount that remains is what is available each month for basie mortgage payments that include principal and interest.

The next thing to decide is how much money is available for a down payment, which is paid upon the signing of a contract, usually several weeks or even months prior to closing. Closing costs should also be calculated because these must be available at the time of closing. A rule of thumb for calculating closing costs is to estimate 3 to 5 percent of the purchase price. TO DETERMINE what price house is affordable, Austin suggests multiplying your annual gross income by 2¹/₄. Next, determine the amount of annual income that is required to handle mortgage payments. Most banks and mortgage companies generally follow the rule of thumb that "monthly mortgage payments, including real estate taxes, should not exceed 25 to 30 percent M annua Sincome".

cent of annuarincome." -Most banks and real estate brokers can provide a mortgage payment table with different interest rates to help determine monthly costs. In all calculations, Austin advises to factor in estimates of present and future personal considerations and expenses that may have an impact on monthly budgets. These might include tuitions, medical expenses, child care costs, pay raises, bonuses and job security. "Though the banks might use the 25-30 percent calculation, you need to add in these other items to be sure you will be able to make the monthly outlay of cash."

ONCE A buyer has analyzed his or her financial status, the next step is to seek out qualifica professionals to assist in the house hunt.

"It is a tremendous help to know who the individuals are that you are able to call on throughout the various stages of house hunting. This way, you have the emotional security of knowing that there are people out there who can assist you and are just a phone call away," Austin said.

Some of the professionals who take part in the home-buying process are real estate brokers, lawyers,
