Salem student, 15, dies in pool

Fifteen-year-old Paul Robert Back died Monday of undetermined causes after experiencing difficulty breathing in the Plymouth Salem High School pool.

Back, a Salem High School freshman, was swimming laps during his third hour class about 9:45 a.m. when his swimming teacher, Chuck Olson, noticed he was having trouble.

"He saw him stop and make a face. He thought he was trying to attract someone's attention," said Salem Principal Gerald Ostoin, adding that Olson and physical education teacher Fred Thomann "were cognigant of the situation from the begin-

Chuck told him to grab onto the lane marker. Paul looked at him; and the next thing he was under water. Chuck dove in and within seconds was delivering CPR. Fred gave him mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.'

Olson expected Back would "spit up some swallowed water, come to, and be fine, but things didn't look right," said Ostoin. "They called 911 and they (Canton EMS) were there in three minutes. They were very Back was dead on arrival at Oakwood Canton Health Center.

'The cause of death was not drowning but probably cardiac arrest, but that's not confirmed," Superintendent John Hoben said.

Ostoin said Back knew how to swim and that the family has a backvard pool.

Back, who lived in Canton, was a defensive tackle on Salem's freshman football team.

iner's Office would not confirm the cause of death, saying results of an autopsy conducted Tuesday won't be available until after a toxicology report is completed in four-to-six

"PAUL WAS A GOOD student who was well-liked," said Ostoin. "He had a lot of friends. Students and teachers are in a very somber mood. This has been a concern of the whole student body.'

Ostoin said a crisis team of counselors, psychologists and speciallytrained teachers has been made available to students and staff.

"Members of our response team were in the gym every hour of the day yesterday," Ostoin said Wednes-"And we have counselors visiting Paul's individual classrooms to discuss death and dying issues."

Canton police spokesman Pat Nemecek said the department expected information from the medical examiner's office Wednesday, "but we called down there this morning and were told it's still pending. We're trying to find out just as fast as everyone else. Everything is still pending, there's nothing we can do."

Back was born May 13, 1975 in Michigan. He is survived by his parents, Robert and Jacqueline Back; sisters Jennifer and Melissa; brother Michael; grandmothers Dorothy Mohr and Marian Back; great-grandmothers Alda Dowell and Bernie Olson; aunts; uncles and cousins.

Visitation at John Santeiu and Sons Funeral Home at 1139 Inkster Road in Garden City will be noon to 9 p.m. Jan. 31. Funeral services will be 11:30 a.m. Friday, Feb. 1 at the Santeiu Chapel with the Rev. Roy Forsyth of Newburgh United Methodist Church officiating.

Airport group wants recall

By Diane Gale staff writer

A citizens group fighting public ownership of Mettetal Airport has launched a recall campaign against five city of Plymouth commission members

Plymouth Concerned Citizens has targeted Plymouth Mayor Dennis Bila, Mayor-Pro-Tem Ralph (Jack) Kenyon; and commissioners John Vos III, James Jabara and Ronald Loiselle.

Plymouth commissioners voted 6-1 to join Plymouth Township in forming an airport board that would run the airport. Plymouth Commissioner Jerry Vorva cast the only dissenting vote. He is not a recall tar-

"Our recalling them is to make them realize we can't afford city commissioners who disregard the residents of the city," said Bill McAnnich, Plymouth Concerned Citizens member.

EMU president to address economic club

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

William Shelton, president of Eastern Michigan University will speak on "Trading on Public Assumptions: Their Uses and Effects on Higher Education," when he addresses the Canton Economic Club Tuesday, Feb. 5.

His talk is scheduled for noon at Geneva Presbyterian Church on Sheldon just north of Ford

A motivational speaker and former sportscaster, Shelton oversees a $145 million budget and a student body of 25,000. He has experience as a marketing and planning consultant for non-profit organizations Obviously today there is a great deal of attention paid, both internally and externally, as to what is or should be the business of higher education," said Shelton, named EMU president in July

"We will be looking at public assumptions and what those implications might be. We do know there is a widening gap between public assumptions and the higher education community's assumptions. I think that has some sobering implications."

Shelton said he will address the challenges presented by the nation's current economic situation. As we read the papers, listen to the radio and watch TV, it's difficult to believe it's business as usual," he said. "We do face major economic chal-

Shelton said he'll also discuss ways higher education is assessed and measured, and the intended outcomes of higher education.

A native of Memphis, Tenn., Shelton earned a bachelor's degree in history in 1967 and a master's degree in American history from Memphis State University in 1970. He received a doctorate from the University of Mississippi in higher education administration and has done advanced

Airport controversy simmers Recall takes time

Lawsuits, counter lawsuits, finger ointing and name calling have taken the forefront in a question of whether there should be public ownership of Mettetal Airport. And the common thread is that nost of the parties agree the issue has been blown out of proportion.

It began when a group, mostly composed of pilots, launched a campaign to save Mettetal. They asked Canton Supervisor Tom Yack to consider buying the airport, using mosty federal and state funds.

said steps continue to be taken for a public purchase of the airport. Gov. John Engler must approve the joint board and a request is currently sitting on the governor's desk.

Meanwhile, Plymouth commis sioner John Vos, III predicts that counter lawsuits, regarding the injunction and petitions, will be filed against the individuals who filed them. And he predicted, before the issue is settled, that more than six attorneys could get involved.

Plymouth Township resident and developer, Robert DeMattia, has alluded to a possible lawsuit regarding statements, in the injunction and by Yack, about his connection with the tia's developments would suffer from the competition at an industriinvolving Mettetal has evolved to al park that would be developed at

County census shows decrease

Wayne County is shrinking, according to recently released U.S. Gensus Bureau figures, and decreases are not limited to Detroit. County population shrunk by slightly less than 10 percent over the past decade, from 2,337,891 in 1980 to 2,111,687 today. Population in Detroit remained above the 1 million level, at 1,027,974, though the city lost 175,395 people since the 1980 census. Population also shrunk in most western Wayne County cities and

Livonia, Redford and Garden City all lost roughly 4,000 residents. (See chart for details.)

Persian Gulf info day is set

An information day for those whose family members are stationed in the Persian Gulf is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 10, in the Ann Arbor Regent Hotel, on the grounds of Domino's Farms. Family members can have their vestions answered by representatives of numerous government, military and service agencies. Representatives of each agency will meet with family members from 11 a.m.

Family members can get tips on dealing with topics ranging from anxiety to government red tape. The event features a trade show format. Groups scheduled to participate include the Michigan State Bar,

Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, American Red Cross, Internal Revenue Service, Michigan Treasury Department and USO. Psychologists, family counselors and child counselors will also be on hand, as will representatives from Selfridge Air Force Base. The event is sponsored by SOS

Mettetal

Drop the suit; stop the recall

/ Airport issue has sparked one of the biggest political battles in the Plymouth-Canton area in recent times. We're afraid both Canton and Plymouth will come out the losers. There has been and probably always will be some sniping along the border between Plymouth and Canton. Neighbors aren't always going to agree. But this is no ordinary

CANTON TOWNSHIP has joined a lawsuit aimed at stopping Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth from buying the airport. Most of the money for the purchase would come from federal and state grants

And on top of the suit, a recall campaign has been mounted against several city of Plymouth

We suspect that by the time the smoke from the legal guns clears, more will have been spent on those battles than it would have cost Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth to buy

We also suspect that the bad feelings coming out of the looming legal battle will take years to heal. And as with any battle, the price of victory is usually more costly than the object of the bat-

So far we have been lukewarm about the proposed purchase of Mettetal Airport. To us it would be a nice addition to the menu of activities available in the Canton and Plymouth communities. However, it's not a mater of financial life

We'll continue to be lukewarm to the proposed purchase. But at the same time we're opposed to the recall drive in the city of Plymouth. We think recalls should be reserved for extreme cases. This isn't one of them. Politicians are elected by the public to make decisions. They often take heat for those decisions. And that's what our system of government is all about. However, that all seems to go out of the win-

We suspect that by the time the smoke from the legal guns clears, more will have been spent on those battles than it would have cost Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth to buy the dow when there's an issue like Mettetal. A small cadre of Plymouth residents thinks they have been alienated from the political process.

WE HOPE THEY don't obtain enough signatures. A recall clouds a governmental unit. If it were for a worthwhile reason, we could go along with it. But when it involves Mettetal Airport, we

And as for Canton Township joining the lawsuit, we think it's a bad move. Now should be the time for Canton and Plymouth to be making peace, not getting into a border war.

The lawsuits and recall will also hurt the Plymouth community. They are coming just as the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township are looking to consolidate some police and fire ser-

We support such talks, and wish they would move forward. However, we suspect that they, along with other projects, will be placed on the back burner while the city and township take the initial hit from the recall and lawsuit.

It's too bad. Sharing services can save city and township residents money in the long run. And that's much more important than the Mettetal

Canton should back off from the suit and le 'the citizens' group go it alone. This is not a border war. It's a spat over a small airport. And as for the recall group, we hope they stay home. Mettetal just isn't worth it. It's not the issue they

EFLECTIONS on Gov. John Engler's rad- Democrats want to use $333 million of it. There ically different view of state government is room for Engler to compromise. as shown in his budget:

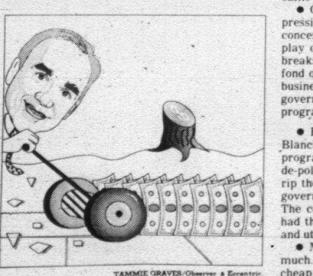

Budget time

• The House Appropriations Committee has rejected his $265 million in cuts and executive order changes. Michigan government runs like labor-management relations in the auto industry - much negotiating, much tedious

· As the first genuinely conservative governor since World War II, Republican Engler has bles up the lion's, tiger's and elephant's share of won three major concessions from Democrats in the House, his major source of opposition. First, he has insisted that education take almost no cuts: Democrats buy that. Second, he wants no tax increase; all but a handful of Democrats option. concede that point. Third, Democrats are openly talking about such "short-term strategies" as "sale of assets" - meaning the Accident Fund, an agency that they had argued for years belonged to the state, and the state liquor business.

Engler should plan to give, too. • The budget problem is not a matter of principle, like abortion or police searches. Engler wants to correct the $1 billion problem by dipping into the "rainy day" fund, 10 percent; spending cuts, 80 percent; and short-term strategies, 10 percent. House Speaker Lewis Dodak asks a one-third, one-third, one-third solution.

Numbers are negotiable; no need for an impasse. • There is $420 million in the "rainy day" fund, nickname for the budget stabilization fund. It is to be used during adversity. Engler wants to tap barely $100 million of it. Most economists, particularly at the University of Michigan, say the recession will be short and mild.

Both sides must compromise

 Despite this newspaper's strong coverage of fine arts, the case against Engler's slashing of state arts funding isn't clear. Arts patrons portray Engler as a Beal City bumpkin. Those of us living south of M-59 and east of US-23 have no idea how furious outstate Michigan is at the way southeastern Michigan - alias "Detroit" - gobthe nearly $50 million in "equity" grants.

There are two ways to compromise: Either give outstate (particularly Grand Rapids) more, or give "Detroit" less. Engler seized the second

Let's look harder at the biggest single state grant - for the Detroit Institute of Arts, $16 million-plus. That isn't really "arts" money. It goes to operate a department of Detroit city government, under Detroit political control. For more than a decade, Detroit's priorities have been elsewhere than a 1929 marble building dominated by EuroAmerican art; that's Detroit's right. We have a dilemma. We need to rethink which level of government should fund — and operate — the DIA. Maybe it should be a tri-county · Suburban groups - in fine arts, symphonic music and historical museum - may be in trouble as far as state money is concerned.

 State policy in the 1980s was to "de-institutionalize" mental patients. The result was to shove the responsibility onto community programs, and many fell through the cracks and became homeless · Candidate Engler last fall gave us the impression he didn't like programs of property tax concessions for business. It's clear big companies play one small town against another to get tax breaks. The net increase in jobs is nil. Engler is fond of saying that "the state shouldn't be in the business of picking winners and losers." State government needs to think about halting those programs.

• Engler accused his predecessor, James Blanchard, of using Commerce Department ad programs for political propaganda. Rathér than de-politicizing them, however, Engler wants to rip them out. We suggest there is merit to state government promoting our industrial climate. The community growth alliances, in particular, had the effect of getting groups of governments

• Much is said in Lansing about spending too much. It would be just as bad, however, to be too

State's deficit certain, but cure stays elusive

quires a balanced budget: "The governor, with the approval of the appropriating committees of the House and Senate, shall reduce expenditures . . . whenever it appears that actual revenues . . . will fall below the revenue estimates."

This requirement is producing the first fight between the newly elected Republican governor, John Engler, and battered but still spirited Democrats in the House.

Nearly everybody agrees the state faces a $1.1 billion deficit this fiscal year in a $7.4 billion general fund. But agreement on the cure will be tough to reach.

ENGLER WANTS to cut $537 million by eliminating general assistance welfare payments for roughly 100,000 able-bodied folks, dropping most state funding for the arts (including the Detroit Institute of Arts tra, both of which face closure) and cutting job training programs. Suburban programs facing the ax

Choice implies diversity and, when it comes to schools of choice, diversity is rampant.

Ask any proponent - or opponent - to define what schools of choice means, and you're likely to come up with many, varied responses. For some, choice means magnet schools for the gifted and talented on the order of Detroit's Cass Tech or New York's famous High School for the Performing Arts.

For others, choice means special programs for students who are barely scraping by.

Some see schools of choice as a way to bring urban and suburban students together, or, at the very least, help equalize education among rich and poor school public districts.

Others, however, fear choice will prompt segregation, not only by race but by economic background: Some also see choice as just another attempt for a voucher system, giving tax credits to parents who send their children to private schools.

If there's one thing supporters and detractors agree upon, however, it is that choice means nothing without

THE QUESTION is what do you want to do?," said Mike Boulus of the Middle Cities Education Association. "If you're simply moving kids around, that's not choice."

Many local school districts have already been implementing innovathe schools of choice banner.

Bloomfield Hills has recently implemented a model high school classroom, giving students freedom to help create their own study plan.

Plymouth-Canton Schools is exploring team teaching for select middle school students and also considering creating a "school within a school" for some academic disciplines

In Oakland County, plans are underway for a countywide magnet high school for mathematics and science students.

Such efforts are cheered by Donn Shelton of the Metropolitan Affairs Corp., a research agency financed by area corporations and unions.

"Public education is about the last the way they were done a half century ago," said Shelton.

Choice would give parents and students greater input into education, Shelton said. Demand alone would determine which school programs were successful and which weren't.

At the same time, Shelton notes not without irony - that schools of choice is more enthusiastically promoted by parents, government offi-cials and business leaders than by educators themselves.

"The system is very defensive," he

A spokesman for the state's largest teachers union, however, said teachers aren't opposed to the concept, but they are cautious.

"At this point, we don't support cross-district programs (sending students from one public school district to special programs in another)," said Allan Short, director of governmental affairs for the Michigan Education Association. "We think it should be implemented within districts first.'

Equality, Short said, should be the

"That's not going to help at all," Short said.

Who participates in schools of choice programs - and who doesn't is a major concern for even the staunchest supporters of the concept.

"Certainly, you can't have segregation," said Boulus, whose group includes the Plymouth-Canton and Southfield districts, as well as near two dozen other suburban, urban and rural districts throughout the state.

Though the group initially opposed choice, Boulas said he'll soon ask member districts whether they are interested in reconsidering that posi-

The board has approved "incentive funds" to create test programs in individual school districts.

While the test programs are expected focus on transportation, counseling and racial balance, they're also expected to focus on athletic recruiting.

"That's a big problem in Minnesota, especially for hockey," Beardmore said.

Programs in other states, however, offer some clues.

Minnesota's open enrollment plan, allowing students to attend any public school in the state, has already been widely discussed among Michigan government officials and educa-

At that, it's uncertain, whether the plan will prove effective. Less than one tenth of 1 percent of all students eligible to change schools actually did in 1987-88, the program's first year of operation.

"One positive thing that has come out of the Minnesota plan is that school districts have become more attuned to the needs of their students and parents," Beardmore said. "But it's not all about quality education.' In Michigan, Beardmore said, state board of education members decide up to 100 property transfer cases a year - allowing children from one school district to attend school in a bordering district. "Not once, in all those cases have I heard anything about academics, she said. "It's about societal things - where mom or dad works, where the baby sitter lives and, in some cases, one school district having a pool while another one doesn't.

Other states, however, have implemented programs widely different from Minnesota's open enrollment model, according to information compiled by the Denver-based Education Committee of the States and by the New Jersey Department of Education.

State and regional schools for gifted have been established in several southern states, including North Carolina and Virginia. Boulas, at least, thinks something similar could hap-

Students offer their views on war

staff writer

For students at East Middle School in Plymouth, the Vietnam War's something they've read about in books. The students haven't had to deal with the day-to-day realities of war - until now

"I think it's what we had to do," said Caroline Curtiss, 13, a Plymouth resident. "The situation needed to be taken control of by somebody. I don't think people should be allowed to walk all over other people like Saddam Hussein has."

Curtiss and five of her classmates at East recently gathered in the school library to offer their reactions to the outbreak of war. All are eighth graders in the Talented and Gifted (TAG) program, and none have family members in the Middle

"I think it's kind of tragic that all of this is happening," said Sara Sabo, 13, of Plymouth. She supports the actions of President George Bush.
"I guess that's what he felt he had

SABO FEELS for those who have family members in the Persian Gulf. She respects the men and women who've chosen to serve in the military during Operation Desert Storm. I admire them for their desire to fight for their country," Sabo said. Chris Land, 13, of Plymouth believes it was smarter to begin with the use of air attacks rather than ground fighting.

"I think it's unfortunate, but I think it was called for," Land said of the outbreak of war. He's been watching the TV news as much as possible to keep up with developments in the Persian Gulf.

Jason Danely, 13, of Canton has also been keeping up with the news from the Middle East.

"I think it was well-planned," he said of the allied assault. "I think the war's the only way we're going to get Saddam out of Kuwait."

Justin Palk, 13, of Canton would have preferred continued sanctions.
"I think we should have waited a

Hayes said. "I support the troops in every way possible. I think that war was the only answer left."

MOST OF THE students would serve in the military if necessary. Hayes would sign up as a volunteer, but some would go only if drafted.

"I think there are people more qualified than me," Danely said. "I might. It depends on what the situation would be in five years or so.

Every class has taken time to talk about what's happening," Sabo said. "There are some adults that aren't even sure what's going on.'

Sabo's considering serving in the U.S. Air Force a few years from now, and may seek admission to the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado. She and her classmates reject the idea that middle school students are too young to know what's going on halfway around the world.

"If they say that, I don't think think they really know what they're talking about," Hayes said. "There's a lot of kids that want to learn more about it.

THE STUDENTS have seen peace protesters, and have mixed feelings about those protests.

"They're doing a good thing, but they're just doing it at the wrong time," Palk said.

PERFORMANCES WILL be held 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 1-2, 8-9 and 15-16, in the Water Tower Theatre, on the campus of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital in Northville Township. The campus is at 41001 W. Seven Mile, west of I-275 between Haggerty and Northville roads, and the Group rates are available. Regular ticket prices are $6 for adults, $5 for senior citizens and students age 18 and younger. For reservations or ticket information, call 349-7974. Tickets will be sold at the door, (Reservations are required for group rate admission.)

The play's story begins with the youngest sister having shot and injured her husband. The three sisters, who live in Mississippi, must deal with the crisis and with the pains of the past. The women are all different and yet have certain things in common.

"It's the kind of show that makes you stop and think," said Lenhoff, a personnel for the Ford Motor Co. The play has its share of humor but isn't uproariously funny.

This is Lenhoff's first time directing a Plymouth Theatre Guild show, although she has directed productions for the Spotlight Players in the Wayne-Westland area. She's found it fulfilling to direct.

Islamic philosophy, traditions often misunderstood

By Arlene Funke special writer

Did you know that Muslims have reverence for Abraham, Moses and Jesus Christ?' Are you aware that Muslims hold sacred the city of Jerusalem, as do Christians and Jews?

The three monotheistic faiths -Christianity, Judaism and Islam are joined under one God and message," said Imam Muhammad Karoub, 66, of Farmington Hills, a spiritual leader in the Islamic com-

Islam means "submission to God." Those who believe in Islam are Muslims, meaning, in Arabic, "one who has given himself to God."

Islam is a multifaceted religion, rooted in Jewish and Christian theologies. Founded in 622 A.D. Arabia by the prophet Muhammad, Islam is based on an intense prayer life and acceding to the will of God - Allah

THE KORAN, the holy book of Islam, contains divine revelations and rules for daily life.

Few non-Muslims understand Islam, said Rabbi Sherwin Wine of the Birmingham Temple in Farm-

Wine has made numerous trips to Islamic countries. When he speaks to groups about his travels, "I find that people are sometimes amazed. They aren't aware of certain realities.'

Islam claims 800 million adherents worldwide. Predominant in the Middle East, it also has followers in large portions of Africa, Malaysia, Pakistan and Bangladesh. Sizeable numbers of Muslims live in Turkey, the Balkan states and portions of the Soviet Union.

Around 4 million Muslims live in North America, said Nihad Hamed, of the Federation of Islamic Associations, based in Redford. The FIA is an umbrella group of some 40 Islamic organizations.

Approximately 160,000 Muslims live in metro Detroit.

They come from all backgrounds and ethnic groups," said Hamed, 62, secretary-general of the FIA.

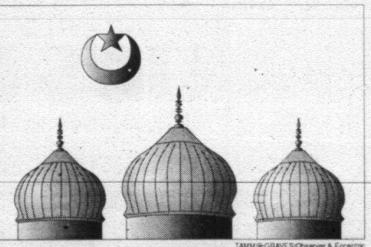

THE FEDERATION, founded in 1952, promotes the ethics and philosof Islam. It raises money to uild mosques, distribute copies of the Koran and award scholarships. It tries to promote good relations between Muslims and non-Muslims and to correct misconceptions about the Political concerns have taken prominence since the rise of Muslim fundamentalists such as the Ayatollah Khomeini of Iran.

"It subdivided the community," said Hamed. "It has polarized the Muslim world and more polarization is coming.

Many local Muslims are native Americans. Karoub, who conducts prayer services and teaches Islamic law, was born and reared in Detroit. Others are naturalized American cit-

"Islam is an accumulation of ideas drawn from Christianity, Judaism and Islam," Hamed said.

The Prophet Muhammad, at age 40, had a religious experience. The Archangel Gabriel appeared to him in a dream. The angel said Muhammad must preach the divine word of the one God. Revelations would come in a series of visions.

MUHAMMAD EXPERIENCED persecution in Mecca, where many people were pagans. He fled to Medina and formed an army. He eventually triumphed over his old adversaries in Mecca. Within 100 years, Islamic warriors and missionaries conquered much of the world.

Mecca and Medina are Islamic shrines. Jerusalem also is a holy city for Muslims. The Dome of the Rock a shrine in Jerusalem, marks the place from which Muhammad ascended into heaven to receive instructions, according to tradition.

Muslims must follow the six-Articles of Faith, outlined in the Koran. These include belief in God, the prophets, the scriptures and angels, all of whom have specific duties.

The Articles of Faith also decree a Judgment Day, when human deeds are weighed. And, finally, Muslims believe in predestination. Human life is decreed by Allah. However, since humans cannot know their destinies they must make their own choices for good and evil.

When things go badly, Muslims may say "It is the will of Allah."

The Five Pillars of Islam outline religious duties required. These are: Reciting the Creed, or Declaration, that there is no God but God, and Muhammad is' his prophet, praying five times a day; giving alms to the poor, fasting from dawn to dusk during the Holy Month of Ramadan; and, if feasible, making one pilgrimage to the holy city of Mecca, where they must perform certain religious

More products, outlets to chart Ziebart's future

By Doug Funke staff writer

Ziebart International can be seen as a classic example of a business that broadened its product line and distribution system rather than stagnate or shrivel when competition heated and the economy cooled.

Now, the privately owned company headquartered in Troy with a manufacturing/warehouse facility in Redford, is poised for explosive growth not only in the United States, but around the world.

"By having a broad range of services, we're not dependent on how well the car is made," said E.J. Hartmann, a Birmingham resident and Ziebart chairman. "We provide a service that adds value or more enjoyment to a car.'

Ziebart used to be exclusively a rustproofer and probably still is perceived that way by most people, Hartmann said.

But in mid-1970s, Ziebart purchased Arndt Palmer and started offering paint and fabric protection treatment for vehicles. In the early 1980s, the company began selling accessories like sunroofs, running boards and grill guards.

ZIEBART BOUGHT a rustproof-

ing competitor, Tuff-Kote Dinol, in 1988, and most recently purchased Tidy Car, whose franchises provide an elaborate interior and exterior cleaning service.

"We hope to communicate that Ziebart is more than a rustproofing company," Hartmann said. "We have a broader range of service we're offering, a cleaner image."

All Ziebart and Tidy Car franchises eventually will offer the services provided by the other, Hartmann said. Upwards of half of all dealers are expected to do so by the middle of this year. A success ful test marketing was conducted last summer.

"We contemplated keeping them as two separate franchises, but as we looked at it, we saw more po-tential combined," he said. 'Ziebart needed further diversification. Tidy Car needed diversification even more."

Convenience for customers, onestop shopping, is a drawing card.

BUYERS OF new cars most likely would use the rustproofing and decal/accessory part of the business. Professionals like lawyers, sales people and doctors are likely candidates for the car care Kote Dinol franchises in Livonia and Wodhaven to Ziebart about a year and a half ago.

"I think it (car cleaning) is a good area for us to expand into," he said. "I think it complements the first part of the business (rustproofing), making the car last longer. When it lasts longer, it needs to be cleaned.

Hartmann, 61, acquired controlling interest in Ziebart from a group of owners in 1970. He had come aboard as a vice president in charge of administration the previous year and was impressed with growth potential.

"I found out after I was hired that the principal owner was interested in selling," Hartmann said. "I made presentations to interested parties. I found that if I wasn't successful. I would be out looking for a job again.

SO HE bought the company. There were 150 franchises in the United States when Hartmann acquired Ziebart. Now, there are some 380 franchises and 20 company-owned dealerships. Tidy Car had about 100 franchises in the United States and another 100 in Europe and Canada when acquired by Ziebart, he said.

The goal is another 400 com-bined Ziebart/Tidy Car franchises in the United States during the 1990s. The Southwest and Pacific Northwest will be especially tar-

Potential also exists for advances in foreign markets, especially in Europe, and expansion of markets in the Far East.

For example, a Ziebart franchise in Jakarta, Indonesia, averages 500

Will diesel get another look?

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

The word conjures images of sluggish, noisy and unreliable engines. But as far as today's diesel engines are concerned, nothing could be further from the truth.

In fact, if auto manufacturers are to succeed in meeting ever-restricting emission standards, brought on by the increased environmental awareness, the once-maligned diesel engine may be a best bet for the Maurice wing, operat ger for diesel systems of Troy's Lucas Automotive Inc., said advances in the diesel engine and changes in the diesel industry and the world are so pronounced that the 1990s may well be the decade of the diesel.

Lucas Automotive, in addition to manufacturing conventional automotive parts, makes diesel fuel injection pumps Methanol, electricity, natural gas, solar powered, hydrogen and ethanol — cars powered by these alternative fuel sources have received the lion's share of attention even though there may be a better, proven alternative right under our very noses.

The diesel engine. Although automotive research and development has focused almost exclusively on the gasoline engine forthe last 100 years, the diesel engine has made great strides since the last energy crisis in the mid 1970s, Wing ENGINE NOISE, sluggishness, reliability - all problems when automobile manufacturers first began touting the diesel engine - have been largely resolved, Wing said.

"I could put you inside a car with a diesel engine today and you wouldn't know it," Wing said.

Significant research on direct injection diesel engines - in which fuel is burned inside the cylinder instead of in a separate chamber has significantly improved the performance of diesels, Wing said

Two spring fuel injectors, which introduce fuel in two stages, and turbo-charged engines also offer hope for higher-performance diesel en-

"You haven't heard about the major players doing a lot of research, but their European counterparts are," Wing said.

In the 1970s, he said, diesel engines were rushed onto the market before they were ready for widespread auto use. "Before the product, before the market, before the oil companies - no one was ready for the diesel.

"(And) that's unfortunate, because (the industry) is going to have to sell (the idea) of the diesel all over

JAMES BRITTON, director of services for the Association of Diesel Specialists, said that while diesel engines have several advantages over the conventional gasoline engine, the price of diesel fuel - which can range anywhere from 20 to 50 cents above the price of gasoline - will prevent its widespread use.

The initial purchase cost of a diesel engine — generally $2,000 to $4,000 more — is also an obstacle to wider use of the diesel.

"I'm a confirmed diesel addict myself, but (in light of these two points) even I'm-hard pressed to purchase a diesel.

There is growth in the North American diesel industry, but most of it's coming from offshore buyers," Britton added. Italy, France, Germany and England are all seeing an increase in the use of diesel engines in passenger cars.

But Lucas' Wing said other factors will force the automotive industry to take a second look at the industry. In addition to changes that have improved the reliability of the diesel engine, modern diesels are more efficient and burn cleaner than the gasoline engines.

Conventionally powered gasoline engine cars will have a difficult time meeting the corporate average fuel economy (CAFE) ratings currently under review by the government, he said. Under proposed (but not adopted) requirements, some cars would be required to exceed 50 miles per gallon.

Modern diesel engines are more fuel efficient, burning 25 to 30 percent less fuel than conventional engines, Wing said.

In the United States, where gasoline has been consistently cheaper than diesel fuel, this hasn't been as great a concern. But in Europe, where the two fuels are comparably priced (between $3.75 and $4 per gallon) that 25 to 30 percent is substantial, Wing said.

We will be seeing, in the future, a significant penetration by diesel engines in the (passenger car) market more in Europe at first, but the United States will follow," he said.

DIESEL-POWERED cars already comprise 25 percent of the automobile market in Europe, he said. In the United States market, the diesel engine has captured less than 1 per-

Another accelerating factor in the acceptance of the diesel engine is a growing consumer awareness of the environment brought on by acid depletion, Wing said.

Automobile manufacturers can expect increasingly strict auto emission standards - standards today's gasoline powered cars are already hard pressed to meet, Wing said.

Similar standards designed to upgrade European air quality have also been enacted.

The diesel, Wings said, is inherently cleaner than its gasoline counterparts and does not require the expensive catalytic systems to remove pollutants.

Today's diesel engines, he added, would fare quite well against everrestrictive emission standards that conventional gasoline engines struggle to meet.

What you have to remember is that it's not what you see that is necessarily harmful to the environment," Wing said.

CARBON DIOXIDE and carbon monoxide emissions from a diesel engine are 30 percent less than those of a similarly sized gasoline engine fitted with a catalytic converter, he Britton, of the association of diesel specialists, said emissions and minimum mileage requirement regulations may not be enough to spur a significant increase in the use of diesels.

Automobile manufacturers will resist stricter regulations - and in fact, several cars already exceed 50 miles per gallon - and technological advancements may help the dirtier gasoline engines

There will continue to be a market for diesel trucks. Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all offer full-sized, diesel-powered trucks. But to convince the mainstream public to take a real look at the diesels, fuel prices are going to hav to come down, he said. Diesel fuel prices are typically higher because of federal taxes - which are higher than gasoline taxes - and higher refining costs.

MORTGAGE REFINANCING... A

Chances are you've heard consumer loan interest is no longer deductible. Well, with the Comerica Mortgage refinancing plans of your choice, it still could be

Mortgage refinancing means you can use the equity in your home to pay off your consumer loans. And this means you can convert consumer loan interest to mortgage interest and deduct it from your income tax.

What's more, when you refinance your high interest, adjustable or fixed rate mortgage, you may end up with a shorter term mortgage - with a lower interest rate and a smaller payment - than you now have. You even may be able to finance your closing costs.

Refinancing to pay off high interest loans just may be the smartest move you could make. Especially now, when mortgage rates are at an all-time low and Nancy Gurwin just completed their umpteenth revival of the Tom Jones/Harvey Schmidt musical "I Do! I Do!" at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield.

"I Do! I Do!"

The play, produced by Birmingham-based Janus Productions chronicles the 50-year marriage of Michael and Agnes, a late 19th/early 20th century couple. The production is lively, light and funny. Songs are well sung and jokes HOWEVER, THE warmth, drama and complexity of the script and characters are ignored, resulting in a sort of junk food theater experience - tasty but empty. "I Do! I Do!" is one of those small, intimate musicals that tells a story, establishes characters and uses songs to punctuate moods of joy, sadness, humor and bitterness.

Here, however, it comes off as a song and dance revue with snippets of dialogue thrown in.

THE PROBLEM, I suspect, is that this production was intended to provide Nancy Gurwin with a star vehicle rather than render a serious interpretation of the play.

The playbill describes Gurwin as "Detroit's first lady of the musical Gurwin is unarguably a talented performer. She can belt out a song with the best of them, and her comic timing is keen. At her best she is a combination of Ethel Merman and Carol Burnett, with a little Lucille Ball thrown in. Here, however, these qualities simply overwhelm the material, leaving the audience wondering what the point was.

THE MUSIC of "I Do! I Do!" while pleasant is not powerful enough to stand on its own. Most of the songs are catchy, but few are memorable. The notable exceptions include "My Cup Runneth Over." a lovely review

duet in which the husband and wife express their mutual gratitude; 'Where Are the Snows?" which finds the once-active couple too tired to go out on New Year's Eve; and "The Father of the Bride," in which Michael (Lannen) laments that "my daughter is marrying an idiot." Lannen is likeable and engaging on this song and throughout the show. He manages to play a fairly pompous and overbearing character without losing the charm that attracted Agnes (Gurwin) to him in the first place. Edgar Guest's direction moves the show along at a brisk pace. The best moments are the comic ones, especially those dealing with the trials of Musical accompaniments are han dled nicely by Barbara Gowans at the piano and Bruce Ryding on drums. Their enthusiastic playing complements the singers without overpowering them. The set, a Victorian bedroom with four-poster bed, works well until a door is shut, at which point the rickety walls shake distractingly.

WHILE "I Do! I Do!" is a pleasant, warm little musical, it is not the right medium for a belting vaudeville comedian such as Gurwin. She also lists "Funny Girl" and "Gypsy" in her extensive resume. These loud, brassy shows would seem to be more the right speed.

Salem wins despite Canton comeback

Chris Tebben is guarded by Canton's Mike Stafford in the annual meeting between basketball rivals Tuesday. Tebben and his

Salem teammates held on to defeat the Chiefs 56-53 despite a

Rocks weather 2nd-half 'storm'

There was more at stake on the basketball court Tuesday night than first place in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The top teams in the WLAA are located in Centennial Educational Park, so campus pride was as much a motivating factor in the clash between league heavyweights.

Plymouth Salem, the first-place team, managed to retain the title belt but only after it withstood a relentless second-half counterattack by Plymouth Canton, 56-53.

The Rocks almost ran away with the game early, leading 31-21 at halftime, but Canton rallied to win the second half 32-27 and nearly the

"They were two separate halves of basketball," Salem coach Bob Brodie said. "We told the guys at halftime This is a good basketball team, and they're going to make some great runs at you.' We say it all the time, but you have to weather the storm.

'CANTON IS the team to beat in this league. Playing in their gym and with the nice winning streak they had going, it took a great effort to win the game.

Salem, rated No. 6 in the state, is 6-0 in the WLAA and 11-1 overall. The Chiefs, who had a five-game win streak snapped, slipped to 6-1 and 8-

K.C. Kirkpatrick came off the bench in place of freshman starter James Head to score 18 points and lead the Rocks. Central Michigan recruit-Jake Baker tossed in 16 points, which included 7-of-8 free throw shooting, with CMU coaches Charlie Coles and Bob Sippell looking on.

only Canton player in double figures with 15 points, which included three triples, but the Chiefs had good balance. Kevin Holmes added nine points, Derrick McDonald eight, Brett Howell seven, Jon Paupore six and Karl Wukie five.

A PAIR OF three-point baskets by Stafford and one by Paupore kept the Chiefs within a point or two down the stretch, 48-47, 52-50 and

Following the Paupore basket with 12 seconds to play, Kirkpatrick took a feed from Baker on the break for a slam dunk and a three-point margin. But he was given a technical foul for hanging on the rim. Stafford missed both free throws but still had a chance to tie the game with a triple that rimmed the iron at the 'Nine times out of 10, he makes that last shot," Van Wagoner said. We had our best three-point shooter coming off a screen, and that one was half way down. The next one he's going to make.

Canton outscored the Rocks 12-3 to begin the second half and closed to 34-33. The Chiefs never had the

Salem stages late rally to earn volleyball victory

Plymouth Salem rallied in the fifth and final game Monday to defeat North Farmington in a Western Lakes Activities Association volleyball match.

The teams split the first four games, and the Raiders led 12-5 in the last before host Salem began its comeback and eventually won 15-13. games 15-4 and 15-10, the Rocks the second and fourth games 15-13 and 15-11.

Salem is 4-2 in the league, 2-2 in the Lakes Division and 6-6-3 overall. The Raiders are 3-3 and 2-2 in the WLAA and division.

"I really thought we were two evenly matched teams," Salem cocoach Allie Suffety said. "It could have gone either way.'

"THIS WAS a tough loss, and the players felt it as they walked out," North coach Sandy Lubieniecki said. "It was not that we weren't going for it. They were playing very well, too.

had is an indication of how even the match was, Suffety said. Salem had 224 spike attempts, the Raiders 223.

Shelby Carey was the top hitter for the Rocks with 14 kills and 41 attacks. Andrea Welling had 11 and 53, Amy Krajewski nine and 47.

The Rocks also recored 15 aces 94 serves. Krajewski put 95 percent of her serves into play, Sarah Krieger 94, Caryn Tatterton 90 and Welling 81. Julie Thomas was a perfect 8-of-8.

Krajewski led the team with five aces. Carey had four, Thomas three, Tatterton and Welling two apiece.

We're trying to emphasize geting the ball in play and raising our number of good serves," Suffety said. 'We were trying to get aces for a while, and it brought our number of serves down. We want to get the transition game going instead of playing for points off serves."

SALEM GRADED 95 percent on serve reception with Thomas (22-of-22), Welling (21-of-23) and Krajewski

(14-of-15) being the most efficient. The Rocks had 54 errors on attack reception, however, and were only 76 percent effective.

We were getting tipped to death; we weren't doing bad with the spikes," Suffety said. "We were having a hard time protecting the floor from tips. It's all foot movement and anticipating play, so you can bet that's one thing we'll be working on tomorrow.

Salem might have found another good defensive player, however. Jenny Emmett was injured before the game, and that forced Thomas into additional playing time. She was one who did well on attack receive, digging up 33 of 37 chances. She also had seven blocks. Welling was 33-of-34 on attack receive.

For the Raiders, Eve Claar served 15 points and 21 kills. Eleven kills came off spikes, another 10 on tips. Sarah Lungren also had 15 service

Shamrocks tie Trenton

Redford Catholic Central's offensive pressure finally paid off with 40 seconds to go Saturday when Scott Johnson's goal from Bill Baaki and Paul Schloss enabled the host Shamrocks to earn a 3-3 tie with Trenton in a battle of state-ranked prep hockey teams at Redford Ice Arena.

The tie leaves CC at 3-2-1 in the West Division of the Michigan Metro circuit. The Shamrocks, rated No. 8 in Class A, are 8-4-1 overall. "It was a total team effort, we really forechecked in the second and third periods," CC coach Jack Gumbleton said. "Every line seemed to want to outdo the other. The kids are really progressing. I'm pleased with the way we worked. If we keep it out of our end, we'll be even better.

Trenton outshot CC 9-3 in the opening period, grabbing a 2-0 lead on goals by Paul Withee and Joe Chappelle Baaki broke the ice for CC at 8:50 of the second period, scoring from David Gallagher and Jesse Hubenschmidt.

Trenton's Tom Babcock then answered at 12:04 to increase the Trojans' lead to 3-2, but with just 41 seconds left in the period, CC's Pat Casey cut the deficit to one on a goal from Kevin Donnelly and Jeff Wollschlager. Despite outshooting Trenton 20-8 over the final two periods, the Shamrocks could not score the equalizer until they pulled goalie Mike Brusseau (17 saves) for the extra attacker in the final minute, setting up Johnson's gametying goal that beat Trenton netminder Dave Johns (23 saves). Trenton was ranked No. 3 in latest Class A state coaches poll.

What a life, fishing for a living

ERRY LEE has the type of job most anglers dream about. He fishes for a living. What started out as a hobby - like it usually does - has evolved into a full-time occupation for the ivonia resident "I started salmon fishing about 15 years ago with a friend," explained Lee, who managed an auto body shop at the time. "I had a small boat and fished in a few tournaments and gradually grew into a bigger boat."

Through the years, Lee increased his knowledge on fishing and refined his techniques. His tournament sucless culminated in 1980 when he was the top money winner in the state of Michigan in steelhead tournaments. "There were always people around that wanted to go fishing with me," Lee said. "It got to be a pretty expensive hobby so I decided to make it a business.

You can ward off PMS blues by avoiding certain foods that contribute to water retention and bloating. Try a good low fat healthy diet, avoid caffeine, reduce salt, protein foods (animals), alcohol and sugar, increase carbohydrate intake, eat fruit and leafy green salads, never go hungry (eat several small meals rather than one or two big ones). Another little helper might be Vitamin B6 to calm the PMS jitters.

Exercise programs may ease PMS time

Dear Myrna: Can you explain PMS? I've had problems with it the last few years. I am 31 years old and I exercise already. Does exercise help PMS or should I not exercise during my PMS time?

PMS - what a time! What a time! I probably wouldn't be doing it." The major PMS (premenstrual syndrome) time occurs during the last two weeks prior to the onset of menstrual bleeding. This 14-day period occurs after ovulation and rarely varies in length. PMS symptoms are absent during the two weeks after the start of menstruation and recur at least thre months in a row. That leaves two weeks on and two weeks off, if you are a heavy PMS person.

Nearly 90 percent of all women experience premenstrual syndrome at sometime or another and 40 percent claim it disturbs their lives. Yet, there is no definition, no cause, and no cure for PMS: We don't know whether it is psychological, hormonal, normal, abnormal or a vitamin deficiency. We do know that while you can't cure it, you can control or even eliminate some of the symptoms through diet and exercise. By planning ahead, your PMS times and adjusting a bit can

There have been furious battles between the American Psychiatric Association and feminist organizations. Psychiatrists claim that PMS should be categorized as a psychiatric disease suffered by nervous women. Feminists charge that PMS is too widespread, therefore, being something physical.

For those lucky women out there who do not suffer from PMS, let me briefly touch on some of the symptoms (and men you just might recognize these symptoms also). They include: tension and sometimes nigraine headaches; depression - crying spells for no reason; backache a feeling of losing control and anxiety, weight gain; food cravings - salt and sweets; acne and allergies; and bloating and breast

I have read that it helps. ercise stimulates the production of beta-endorphins, it can help reduce the anxiety and depression common to PMS sufferers. Of course, exercise at least three times weekly (five or six times being best). On those PMS times, make sure you push a little harder. Whatever you choose - speed walking, swimming, aerobic class, etc. - many doc tors highly recommend an exercise program as an important part of

In my opinion, labeling PMS a psychiatric illness is dangerous and

State income tax checkoff benefits wildlife programs

At the beginning of each year we receive financial statements about our income from the previous year. We organize them in preparation for paying our taxes.

When you fill out your Michigan tax form consider making a contribution to the Nongame Wildlife Fund. There is a loon next to the space where you can indicate your contribution.

Since 1983 the Nongame Wildlife Fund has been using money received for many worthwhile projects throughout the state. These projects are monitored by the Wildlife Division of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Several grants are awarded each year to people or groups who are willing to help study, restore, improve, survey, or educate about wildlife and their habitats in Michigan. All these projects are aimed at non-game species, but just as game species management increases nongame species, so does non-game management often increase game

Non-game species account for far more species than game species, so monies are dispersed for a variety of needs. Peregrine falcons now nesting in Michigan's Upper Peninsula - for the first time in 30 years - , was accomplished with Nongame Wild-

Not all species helped by the fund are large with feather or fur. Bog habitat of the Mitchell's satyr, a brown butterfly originally discovered in Michigan in the 1880s is rapidly disappearing. A study was conducted to determine the extent of the existing population and to recommend habitat management plans.

Plants also are included in fund projects. Populations of dwarf lake iris, a beautiful blue iris that grows about four inches tall, were saved from destruction.

Wildlife officials realize that efforts to preserve a species will fall short if habitats suitable to the species are not preserved. Money from the fund also goes to restoring or managing habitats.

Introducing once native species to Michigan and preserving the natural heritage of the diverse flora and fauna of our states is an immense task

Most of this year's contributions are put into a permanent trust fund, because after the 1994 tax year, the

With the right combination of vision and vigor, aging downtowns can spring back to life, shedding the tired, old veneer and sporting a fresh, new look.

In today's third installment of a three-part series tracing downtown historic architecture in Observerland, the spotlight is on downtown Garden City. Over its 159-year-old history, Garden City, part of what once was Nankin Township, grew from forest, to farms to cityhood.

The downtown area sprang up in the 1920s around the country crossroads of Ford Road and Middlebelt, then served only by two stores, a city hall and a 14-

Raising money through increased property values within the development district, the DDA has spent $1.5 million on streetscape improvements. In 1987, it developed a commons area replete with gazebo at the main intersection.

Meanwhile, the Kroger-anchored Town Center, opened last year, is a byproduct of the DDA's desire to inspire private invest-ment through public redevelopment. The city's purchase of the old La Parisienne theater lot pro-vided not only increased exposure but also increased parking for the planned new center.

Garden City leaders call a healthy downtown integral to the city's well being. The city has a tax base that's 86 percent residential, 12 percent commercial and 2 percent industrial.

"We hope to expand or, at the very least, maintain that commercial percentage so we can take those revenues and provide services to our residents without hav-ing to increase the residential tax burden," said Terry Carroll, community development director.

RCHITECTURE MIRRORS the time period or era of a civilization, revealing beliefs, principles and dreams held and cherished by a society of people or its ruling

The turn of the century brought a cry for relief from the industrial way of life. Forced to work hours upon hours in dark factories at repetitive jobs, the masses, in the beginning of the 20th century, sought a return to the land, where sunlight, fresh air, and green living things abounded.

Across the waters in 1898 England, Ebenezer Howard proposed the idea for the creation of a "Garden City." Located outside a metropolis, Howard sketched a cluster of homes and gardens, planned around a central

In the mid-1920s, Nankin Township farms, of which part was later incorporated in 1927 as the village of Garden City, were subdivided and plotted for sale as private "farmlets" by land speculators and real estate developers making Ebenezer Howard's dream a reality.

In October 1923, a roadside sign read "40 foot lots, $1 a week." An ad for The Folker Co., which called itself the "developers of Garden City," referred to Garden City as the "Sun Parlor" of Detroit. Arnold Folker offered buyers with the sale of a "square half acre of Garden City, the opportunity to live much better for less cash outlay."

THE AMERICAN dream slowly began to evolve: to own a little house in the country with enough land for a garden. When World War I ended in 1918, the dream became reality. A revolution in transportation hastened the death of a day-to-day life of drudgery in the dismal and stifling industrial surroundings

American cities and architecture would never be the same after the privately owned automobile became affordable.

Henry Ford I revolutionized the automobile industry and, in turn, American architecture with his invention of the assembly line. The technological discovery of the line, coupled with the creation of the standardized model of automobile, Ford's black Model T, brought prices of mass produced transportation within the range of the working man. "The automobile brought freedom, and that freedom brought the longing for space, wide open spaces," said architect Betty-lee Sevdler-Sweatt.

Downtown HERITAGE

Seydler-Sweatt is an associate professor of architecture at Lawrence Technological Institute in Southfield, where she teaches two different courses in historic preservation. She also operates Preservation Planning Inc. in Franklin.

The automobile connected large industialized cities with the space of the suburbs. Within these wide open spaces, soon filled with tracts of homes, came the need for downtown commercial architecture.

IN 1928, Arnold Folker built The Folker Building on the southeast corner of Ford Road and Middlebelt. "The architecture is in the style of Classic Revival, but it's been simplified," Seydler-Sweatt said. "It has renaissance detail (the clock) at the top."
A parapet where the facade continues up, beyond the edge of the roof, marks the corner facade as does a single row of dentils above the main entrance. "The way the architecture occupies the corner identifies this as the center of the city," Seydler-Sweatt said. The architecture is talking this way."

"This is the way, many banks were built in the 1920s," she added. The massive architecture of the Farmington State Savings Bank, built in 1922, occupies the corner of Joyce Pappas, whose father ought The Folker Building in 1964 to house a jewelry business, said her family has not changed the building in any way except to add a sign, which reads, Orin Jewelers, and awnings. They had the exterior stone cleaned.

"The building is a wood structure with a limestone face,' said Joyce's brother, Orin Mazonni Jr. He along with his brother, Encasing the church's entrance is a tudor arch: a wide, low pointed arch, commonly used in the architecture of Tudor England.

American religious architecture during the late 19th and early 20th century used an immense amount of revival styles, or as Seydler-Sweatt lightheartedly refers to them, "revivals of revivals"

Other Garden City residents built "garage homes on the backs of their lots" with the intention of building a "proper house" in front, at which time, the rear structure would revert to a garage. In 1941, the Garden City

Presbyterian Church began to build an addition to the church to accommodate its growing flock. Then the U.S. entered World War II. By 1943, the only portion compléted was the "two-sto manse" to house Pastor Robert, Rives' family.

A comprehensive collection of Amish, American Country and newly designed quilts will be exhibited at the 10th annual "To Warm Your Heart" Quilt Show, 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, Feb. 7-9, at the Village Barn in Franklin Vil-

Sponsored by the Village Barn, the show will feature 100 pieces, including full-size handmade quilts and wall hangings, as well as crib-sized Quilt enthusiast Gail Hurn will be available throughout the show to provide information and to suggest ways to preserve and restore quilts.

This year's show will feature the traditional can Country quilts, characterized by floral prints, and Amish quilts featuring solid colors in deeper tones. The Baltimore pride appliqued quilt, considered to be one of the most difficult and rare designs, will also be on display.

There is no charge for admission to the show; refreshments will be served.

Debugging your plant world Our last topic was the environment in which ing houseplants a less than happy experience. Examine your houseplants very closely, for aphids, white flies, springtails, spider mites, mealybugs and scale and treat them now to bring them back to good health.

our plants live. Now it's time to address the problem of little critters that can quickly make own-

If the plant growth is stunted or the foliage has begun to curl and become distorted, suspect aphids. These tiny plant lice, either green, red, pink, brown or black are sucking insects that secrete honeydew (a sticky product), which harbors a sooty black mold.

If the leaves have turned yellow and dropped, look for white flies. They look like tiny white moths and are also sucking insects, which fly when disturbed. The larvae, which hatch from eggs laid on the underside of leaves, do the most damage.

Springtails often "spring" up from the soil when it is watered. They usually feed on fungi and decayed vegetation. Sometimes they eat the plants. In this case, good hygiene around the base of the plants is essential.

IF THE leaves have a speckled, mottled appearance, spider mites may be the culprit. They spin fine webs on leaf undersides and multiply quickly in dry air.

Watch the cacti. If they become grayish looking, spider mites may be doing the dirty deed. If you see a cottony mass on leaves or stems, sucking insects known as mealybugs, tiny, crawling, pinkish pests may be present. They seem to prefer the "joint" areas. Dabbing them with an alcohol soaked cotton swab will destroy them.

An irregular pattern of yellowish-green, brown or black spots or blisters on the underside of leaves is caused by scale, tiny oval-shaped insects.

On ferns the scale are white. Swabbing the scale with denatured alcohol will

to earth

AND FINALLY, fungus gnat - these are soilbreeding insects that look like tiny black flies, while the larvae look like tiny worms. Look for them on the soil surface and in the top inch of soil. A gentle washing with warm, soapy water followed with a clear rinse will often take care of most of the problems (other than the cases where alcohol is recommended). The most conservative approach is always best. When you do need to use pesticides, follow the directions exactly, and use those recommended for the specific insects that you need to control. Our next subject will be diseases or "hurts" your plants may have.

A SPECIAL series of classes to provide an overview on starting and maintaining a plant nursery is being offered in response to numerous in-quiries at the County Extension Offices. The four-part series is scheduled for Feb. 12, 15, 19, and 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at a location near I-75 and US-23. Cost: $35 each, or $120 for the series. Lunch and refreshments are For further information, call 858-9887 (Pontiac) or 732-1474 (Flint). The series will be pres

"We purposely have not set qualified or measureable criteria," said James Kostrava, chairman of CAM Expo '91. "It really is a subjective thing. Whatever their opinion is — this is an excellent project in Michi-- is good enough for us.

"It's our top award. This is the one award given from the whole broad scope of the industry."

All of the association's more than 3,000 members, plus several hundred architects and engineers were asked to list three projects. Ballots were tabulated, winners announced. Descriptions of the buildings were provided by CAM.

They include:

BASF Corp., Coatings & Colorants Division, Southfield.

A total of $43 million was spent on 228,000 square feet of new research and development space, renovation of 45,000 square feet of existing space and a new 332-car parking structure.

The exterior of the building re-flects the high-tech image of BASF through a sleek network of smooth, square bricks, ribbons of glass and punched windows. The entrance is accented by a blue-tinted glass curtain wall curving toward the center of the building.

· Philip A. Hart Middle School, Rochester Hills.

This project, 160,000 square feet costing $13 million, includes classrooms, media center, lecture hall two gyms, cafetorium, special ed facilities and provisions for electronic dissemination of educational information.

Outdoor facilities include a track and field complex, football, baseball, three softball fields and tennis

Tons of plastic material are lost or dumped into the oceans each year, imperiling the lives of hundreds of thousands of aquatic animals.

Plastic bags, six-pack yokes, fishing nets and other materials can trap fish, mammals, turtles and birds, causing death by drowning or strangulation. Sometimes animals get sick or starve when they eat plastic that they mistake for food But plastics pollution is preventable
