Residents challenge incumbents

SCHOOL BOARD

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Voters in the Plymouth-Canton school district will go to the polls June 10 to elect two school board members to four-year terms.

Residents who would like to vote but aren't registered may do so be-fore 5 p.m., Monday, May 13 at the board office, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth during business hours. For more voting information, call elections clerk Bernice Nichols at 451-

Vying for two four-year terms are incumbents Dean Swartzwelter and Roland Thomas, both of Plymouth Township, and Canton residents Bobbie Cleary and Deborah Lynch. See candidate profiles on page 3A.

Also on the ballot will be the renewal of 17.74 mills, representing nearly half the district's $74 million

One four-year seat and two sixyear seats are open on the Schoolcraft College board.

The crowded field for the four-year Schoolcraft seat includes Plymouth resident Steven Ragan, the college's newest trustee and a Detroit Metropolitan Airport administrative assistant: Ronaele Bowman of Livonia, director of Garden City Youth Assistance; Willis Brauer of Livonia, a principal at Coolidge Elementary School in Livonia; Paulette Cebulski of Plymouth, assistant director of physical therapy at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, Robert Gordon of Plymouth, an osteopath with a family practice in the city; Bruce Patterson of Canton, a Canton Township merit commissioner and a partner in a Southfield law firm; M. Andrea Taylor of Livonia. owner/operator of Andy's Cakes and Catering and an employee of Fonte Restaurant in Livonia: and Patricia Watson of Northville, a clinical supervisor at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital who has a private practice.

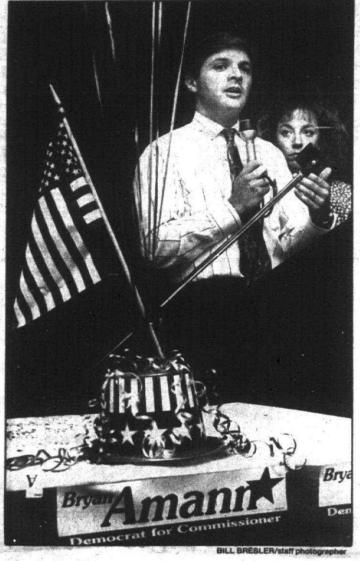

Candidate Subramanian Ramamurthy of Canton will oppose incumbents Michael Burley Jeanne Stempien in the race for two six-year Schoolcraft seats.

Ramamurthy is president of Optimum Management, a Plymouth consulting firm.

Burley is a teacher in the Northville Public Schools. Stempien is a partner in a Livonia law firm.

There are 55,000 registered voters in the district and 15 polling places. Voters wishing to cast absentee ballets can do so by calling elections clerk Bernice Nichols at 451-3135 or

Amann defeats Poole in commissioner race

By Wayne Pea

It was the second victory party in two months for new Canton-area county commissioner Bryan

Amann, winner of the Democratic Party primary in March, defeated Republican candidate James Poole, 4,167-1,612, in the general election Tuesday.

The Wayne resident carried Canton, 1,360-653.

"In Canton, it wasn't so much a victory for us as a loss for (former township supervisor) Jim Poole," Amann said. "I had a lot of Canton people telling me they wanted to put the final nail in his political Poole, who served two terms as supervisor until a 1988 election defeat, said campaign spending was the main reason for his defeat.

"I spent $5, he spent thousands," Poole said. "I really appreciate the fact that about 1,900 people did come out and vote for me.

Future races "haven't crossed my mind," said Poole.

AMANN WILL take office next week as the new 11th District commissioner. He replaces interim commissioner Shirley Poling, who he defeated in the primary. He also replaces longtime commissioner Milton Mack, who resigned from the board late last year to become a Wayne County pro to Canton police reports.

'Typically our experience is that crime committed in Canton tends to be crime against property and not crime against people," Santomauro said

Larceny was up in 1990 comparêd to 1989. However, the number of vandalism reports fell.

Larceny reports rose 4 percent, from 1,913 cases in 1989 to 1,995 cases in 1990. Vandalism reports, fell 9 percent from 1,164 cases in

The crime figures are the local version of the FBI crime statistics recently released for communities with at least 100,000 residents. Canton has 57,000 residents.

From 1989 to 1990 serious crime was down 1 percent in Canton, police reports said.

Even though police reports show that drunk driving arrests rose 14 percent from 275 cases in 1989 to 313 cases in 1990, it doesn't mean there are more drunks on the roads.

Board deadlocks on Headlee petition Michigan voters will have to let the court decide whether they can vote on the Headlee 20 percent property tax cut initiative.

The state Board of Canvassers deadlocked 2-2 Wednesday on whether to accept the staff report that the petition drive was 7,000 signatures short.

Members are Republicans Jim Alexander, a Birmingham attorney and Oakland GOP chair, and Gail Torreano, a Senate staff member, and Democrats Mike Pyne, a UAW official from Lansing, and Bernice Shields of Detroit.

The two Democrats Pyne and Shields voted to accept the staff report and the two Republicans Alexander and Torreano voted against accepting.

The Democrats have disenfranchised thousands of voters. We'll be in the Court of Appeals within two weeks," said Richard Headlee, chairman of Taxpayers United and a Farmington Hills

He complained that Secretary of State Richard Austin's staff allowed the Michigan Education Association to prove people aren't voters.

"They won't let us prove people are voters," Headlee said.

He said the election staff would not allow TU to submit affidavits from city and township clerks verifying that signers were indeed registered voters. "Taxpayers United took six months last year to collect 224,000 petition signatures for the Headlee tax cut initiative. But it took the Secretary of State and the four-member Board of State Canvassers eight months to certify them. The process usually takes two months," publicist Bill McMaster said.

TU needed 191,726 signatures. The Secretary of State staff used a sampling method to determine that only 184,390 were valid.

Earlier Wednesday, the state Senate did not vote on this resolution urging the canvassers to place Headlee II on the ballot

Gov. John Engler last week issued a statement urging the canvassers to "move swiftly" in certifying the proposal.

IF APPROVED by voters, the Headlee initiative would create a new state law that will:

· Cut property assessments for all taxes a total of 20 percent - 10 percent retroactive to Dec. 31, 1990 and 10 percent more on Dec. 31, 1991.

· Force the Legislature to make up lost revenue to all local units from the state general fund at an estimated second year cost of $1.5 billion, · Allow any taxpayer to sue in circuit court to enforce the statute.

Houses in Livonia are the biggest competition, Halso said, crediting the Livonia school system. Statistics show that the Plymouth-Canton Schools have "a little higher rating." Novi is another big competitor, he said. Again he pointed to the school district.

"But in Canton you get more house for a little less money and comparable quality of life," he said.

CANTON IS going in a new direction toward bigger and more expensive housing, Halso said. Canton Supervisor Tom Yack has been "beating me over the head.

Halso applauded Yack for seeing a need for bigger houses before builders identified the market. However, he predicted that there won't be a dramatic swing to even bigger houses in the near future.

Yack has predicted a "right turn up the road," Halso said. "The only issue is the speed in which we drive our car to make the right turn so that we don't screech off

He said that the market is changing. For instance, more single people are buying houses. Halso said he was concerned about continuing to build bigger and overshooting the market.

Mayapples provide protection for moths fy many of the basic principles of nature. Animal camouflage, habitat preference, succession, and territory are just some of those principles. A basic knowledge of these principles is very helpful when observing the natural world.

But basic principles are just that, they are basic. Most of these principles are manifest in many different ways in various plants and animals For instance, numerous research projects have illustrated the unique ways in which camouflage is achieved. Crab spiders that rely on quickness and patience, and not a web for catching food, are able to change from white to yellow, depending on the color of the flower they are on. Frogs typically found on the forest floor are not green, they are brown and black - to match the dried leaves they hide among.

Last spring I discovered an inter esting way a moth protects itself from predators during the day While examining the spring wildflower mayapple. I was surprised to see several moths resting on the downward facing flower. It took me by surprise, because I did not notice them at first. Their creamy white coloration blended in perfectly with the shaded white petals of the blossom. Though the blossom is only two to two and a half inches across, there were as many as five moths positioned like petals around the flower.

Those creamy white moths were identified to be white slant lined moths. I do not know if they had been feeding on the flower during the night and then just settled on the edge when daylight came, or if they always come to this flower for protection when it is in bloom.

No matter what the reason, they were very well hidden. The palm tree/umbrella like leaves of mayap- in Oakland County. He lives in ple completely cover the flower

"Public service is an admirable calling," said Blanchard. "But it's a very consuming lifestyle, There's no such thing as privacy."

Paula should know. She saw plenty of politics when she was Mrs. James Blanchard — wife of a U.S. repre-sentative who was in Congress for eight years before being elected governor for two terms. She, too, was suprised when Jim Blanchard — then Mr. Democrat in

Planner helps people find the right career fit

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

The new world economy is alive and well in Plymouth; Jim Danielski

Danielski, creator of Career Planning Specialists on Main Street, and a motivational speaker, is working with AT&T long distance operators and support staff in a program to help employees explore career options

As part of AT&T's joint management/union program, Danielski is conducting seminars for 165 long distance operators and support staff—many of whom work in offices on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth—on all shifts. His visit to AT&T facilities is followed by four-hour sessions at Career Planning Specialists for job counseling, Included is access to a computerized network featuring 20 million pieces of information, including descriptions and requirements of 13,000 occupations.

"This is a program to help operators look at their long-term careers and decide what is going to make them happiest in life," said Mark Trierweiler, AT&T division mana-

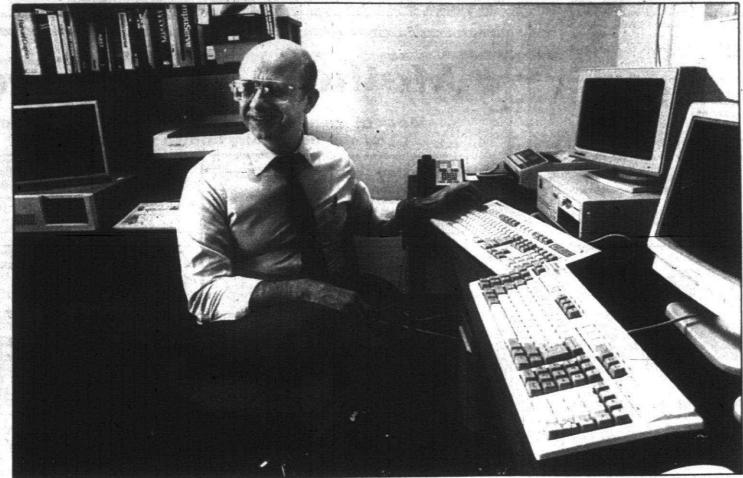

"Our industry is going through enormous change. Before the break up, we were essentially a monopoly. Now we're competing with more than 400 companies nationwide. We don't have the market share we once had, and more and more people are dialing direct. Some long distance companies are even mechanized. All of that leads to less need for as many operators.

AT&T employees working with Danielski join 57,000 counterparts across the country exploring further education and relocation options.

In Danielski's view, being bumped out of a job, or the prospect of it, is cause for excitement, not depression. In fact, he says, too many of us end up in jobs for the wrong reasons, and are unhappy to book and are unhappy, to boot.

"Sometimes we can be very threatened at funerals, regardless of our chronological age. We haven't figured out what we what to do when we grow up," said Danielski, who hosted his own "Success" show on Omnicom's Channel 20. "If people liked their work, the Lotto wouldn't stand a chance. "Everyone's talking about the new world order and the new economy; we have a new one, and a lot of people don't even understand the old one yet. We shop for a new watch, or a can of beans, but when it comes to work, we just kind of fall into it. It's absurd." It's especially absurd when you consider "we spend 45 percent of our lives working," said Danielski. "Even if you're a thief you still spend 45 percent of your time working. I don't think thieves realize they're working overtime to get themselves in trouble.

"We spend all this time working, yet we don't plan it."

Planning is the key to surviving the new economy, Danielski says.

"The clock is ticking, it's not like you have forever. The idea is to have a Plan B in the event the unmentionable happens; that you are laid off. "Part of what we are doing is looking at their lives as a business. We're creating a career plan. In the new economy, you see yourself as a business, and you have a business plan."

It comes as a shock, even to some MBA's, that the library is the best place to start the search for a new career, says Danielski, who counts among his clients a doctor who decided to quit practicing medicine.

"The library is the last place people think of, but it's the first place they need to go." The Plymouth library is helping out by creating "career maps" that can be used by anyone, he said. "The idea is to help people help themselves."

Is there such a thing as job security?

"No, and that isn't bad," says Danielski. "It's an illusion to think you're going to work for a place for 30 years and have a gold watch. In the new esonomy, change cycles occur at a more and more rapid rate. American is no longer in a national economy; we are in a global economy."

Danielski, who formerly worked in biological research and has a graduate degree in clinical psychology, says customers from across the country access his computerized career network via multiple phone lines. Danielski put the data bank together with help from the Department of Labor.

The department had a plethora of information, "but no one knew it existed, and no one could manipulate it," said Danielski, who designed the user-friendly system. His brainchild gives job descriptions, qualifications and lists employment opportunities, even helpful phone numbers, in answer to keystrokes on a computer terminal. It also quizzes users to help them decide whether they'd like the work and can afford the necessary training.

"It's not a glamour field; it's not like forensic psychology, but I'm fascinated with the world of work," Danielski said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 22, 1991, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1991 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.0925 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1991 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1991 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated seven percent (7%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valua-

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of which tried to sort out whether Gov. John Engler was more like Ronald Reagan (passionate and committed ideologue) or Richard Nixon (hang the ideology; do what you must to get re-elected).

I concluded Engler was more like Reagan - only a flaming conservative ideologue would accept the flak he was taking and carry on with

Just like Nixon and his celebrated conversions (remember the "New Nixon" or even the "Newer Nixon"?), Engler is showing signs of tactical flexibility Nobody in the governor's office in Lansing is issuing press releases, but it's clear the new policy is: Do whatever has to be done

MANY OF ENGLER'S friends think it's about time. They worried as his overall con-

They grew alarmed as Engler the ideologue seemed to develop true originality in angering nominally

1. On April 30, Engler agreed with Michigan Council for the Arts chair Leon Cohan to hold a "summit meeting" to resolve differences over pubc funding for the arts.

2. Engler agreed to quit insisting on a property tax cut this year and bought into a freeze on assessment levels that was cooked up in the Legislature. Color tells a lot about stars

A star's color tells us a lot. A red star is like the red part of a gas flame; it isn't very hot. A red star is also very old, nearing the end of its life cycle. As stars age they cool down, sweil up and become giants.

Betelgeuse is a supergiant among giants. It is so huge that, if placed where our sun is, it would extend out to the orbit of Jupiter.

The name Betelgeuse is roughly translated as the "armpit of the giant." The giant in question is the mighty hunter Orion (oh RYE yan) and Betelgeuse marks the location of his right, "shoulder." This star is the 11th brightest in the sky and one of the best examples of a red giant type Observe the moon drift through the gathering cluster of planets on the evenings of May 16-18. On the 16th the moon is three degrees below Venus. On the next evening the moon is located midway between en Venus and Mars. On the 18th the moon is three degrees below Jupiter. Jupiter passes the southern edge of the 'Beehive" star cluster in the constellation of Cancer the crab on the 18th.

This cluster looks like a swarm of bees when viewed through a pair of binoculars. It is one of the closest and brightest of the star clusters. Galileo, the first person to observe the cluster with a telescope (probably around the year 1610), counted 36 bright stars; observers with bet-

(Obviously the light that reached Galileo's telescope had left the clus-ter 525 years before his observations in 1610.) The Beehive cluster is a naked-eye object, but bright lights in metropolitan areas make seeing is difficult. Having bright Jupiter as a beacon makes locating the Beehive very easy.

The moon has passed Jupiter on the evening of the 19th and is four degrees to the left of the star Regulus (REG u lus) on the 20th. Regulus is the "heart" of Leo the lion. Regulus is about 85 light years away. That's much closer than Beise, but Regulus is not as bright. Regulus is only the 21st brightest star in the sky. It is a bluewhite star and, like the blue part of a gas flame, much hotter than a red star. (Cooler Betelgeuse looks brighter because of its great size.)

SATURN begins retrograde (backward) motion on May 17. It has been drifting eastward through the stars of Capricornus all year, but will now appear to back up and move westward from night to night.

Retrograde motion is an optical illusion caused when the faster movMars, Pollux and Castor form a straight line on the evening of the 21st. Also note the large triangle formed by Castor, Pollux and bright Venus. In two weeks Venus will be located where Mars is and Venus will form a line with Pollux and Cas-

The moon is approaching the star Spica (SPY ca) in Virgo on the evening of the 23rd. On the 24th the moon is three degrees directly below Spica. Spica, a blue-white star like Regulus, is the 16th brightest star in the sky. It is about 275 light years away from us. Since it's much far-ther than Regulus, but appears brighter, it must be a very hot and Jupiter, Mars and Venus are within 20 degrees of each other on the evening of the 25th. Just a little more than three weeks until their spectacular grouping!

The moon is approaching the star Antares on the evening of the 27th. Look toward the southeast about one hour after sunset. Antares is the 15th brightest star in the sky and is also a supergiant like Betelgeuse. It is also the same distance from us, about 520 light years. On the following evening the moon is past Antares.

ASmall Price to Flay

Venus is four degrees to the left of Pollux on the evening of the 29th. Jupiter is still easy to identify above and to the left of Venus; Mars is still midway between the two, but the distance is closing. In fact, on the evening of the 30th, the three objects are within 15 degrees of each other. Have a look at the moon on the evenings of the 30th and 31st. Once again it is in Sagittarius, close to the same position it had at the start of the month, but there is a big difference; at the start of the month Sagittarius was due south, now it is in the south southwest. When the moon passes this way in another month, Sagittarius will be too close to the sun to be visible.

Chiefs add 2 victories

The momentum Plymouth Canton generated in its tie with defending Class A champ Livonia Stevenson carried the Chiefs to victories in their next two games.

Canton, which entered the state ranking as the No. 8 team this week, won both by shutout - 4-0 over Livonia Ladywood on Satur-day and 7-0 over North Farmington on Monday.

Senior Leah Hutko and fresh man Mandi Salin scored two goals apiece in the latest game, which extended Canton's unbeaten streak to five.

The Chiefs are 8-3-1 overall and 5-2-1 against Western Lakes Activities Association teams.

Freshman Britta Anderson, sophomore Amy Westerhold and junior Christina Stansell scored the other goals, and sophomore Jori Welchans got her second straight shutout in goal for the

"We wore them down," Canton coach Don Smith said. "They don't have a lot of kids, and we're playing very well

Senior Ayana Nash, junior Arny Tortora, junior Danielle Meyka and Salin scored one goal each in the win over Ladywood. The Chiefs led 3-0 at halftime.

Coach Nick O'Shea served a spaghetti dinner Sunday night and his Livonia Churchill girls soccer team burned off plenty of carbohydrates the following day. The result was a 2-0 upset victory

Monday over Plymouth Salem, the state's top-ranked team in Class A.

"It (the spaghetti) gave us a power boost," said senior Kristy Thurston, who scored the Chargers' second goal with 21:55 left in the first half. 'It's called 'team bonding.' It helps when you get everybody together. Everybody kind of laughed when (O'Shea) stirred the spaghetti with a O'Shea may not have enough cooking utensils in his kitchen, but his Chargers sure had the right recipe in beating Salem, a team that had captured nine straight wins and allowed only one goal.

"It's the first time I've ever had the team out together beside a banquet," said the Churchill coach, a former professional player. "I did the cooking myself. It was an Irish spaghetti. Maybe I should do them over more often. The team was pumped up for sure. They were into more than they have been in the

"It was a good foot race to the ball and she (Pososki) made a beautiful shot," Salem coach Ken Johnson

Thurston then stunned the Salem secondary again, breaking behind the defense to score only 46 seconds later on a long, high-bounding pass from Lori Place.

'We had two great goals," O'Shea said, "even though they (Salem) had more of the play up until that point."

Salem coach Ken Johnson had nothing but praise for the 7-2-1

"Churchill played the long ball very well," Johnson said. "They hit the shots when they needed them even though I thought we had a lot more chances. When we were attacking, they were doing a good job of packing it in."

Johnson was referring to Churchill's tight defense, led by sweeper Stephanie Speen, along with Fran

Plymouth Canton proved to be one of Observerland's best girls track teams during the first month of the season, but the Chiefs hadn't won an invitational until Sat-

Canton dominated the Stafford Relays in Walled Lake, finishing first or second in eight of the 12 events while accumulating 75 points

The Chiefs, who were second in the Lady Chief Relays and the Lyle Bennett Relays at Central Michigan University, were 17 points ahead of runner-up Milford. The top six teams included Livonia Stevenson (49), Pontiac Central (40), Farmington (30) and Plymouth Salem (29).

"We were happy to finally win a relay meet instead of finishing, second," Canton coach George Przygodski said. "We were tired of being bridesmaids.

"Once again, we were fortunate in that we wanted to score in a lot of events and we did that in 10 of the 12. Anytime you score in that many events you're going to have a good shot at winning.

THE CHIEFS won two field events, the high jump and Canton's Aleah Collier, who had the best individual effort in the shot put with a throw of 35-1/2, combined with Ifeoma Okwumabua and Selena Bastine to set a school record in the latter at 94-0.

Stephanie Gray (5-0), Ndu Okwumabua (4-10) and Aimee Lanzon (4-7) won the high jump with a combined

Ifeoma Okwumabua, Bastine and Dawn Kersten also set a school record with a second-place distance of 292-6 in the discus. Bastine threw 102-3, Okwumabua 101 and Canton's remaining victory was in the distance medley in which Kim Gudeth, Christie Saffron, Lana Boroditsch and Amy Smith had a time of 13:36.3.

The Chiefs had five seconds places, including the discus. Heather Pastor went 14-101/4 in the long jump. Gray 14-3 and Cathy Koshizawa 14-% for a total of 43-2.

Good pitching key to Canton success

Senior pitcher Scott Kennedy was at his best Saturday, and that helped the Plymouth Canton baseball team to be at its best in the Redford Union tournament.

Kennedy pitched a one-hitter and struck out 16 in the opening game as the Chiefs blanked previously No. 1ranked Southgate Anderson 4-0.

Canton won its next two games, including a 10-4 victory over rival Plymouth Salem in the semifinals, and the tournament championship.

The Chiefs are 13-4 overall after beating Livonia Churchill 5-3 Monday in a Western Division game in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Kennedy (5-2), who walked three, had a no-hitter with one out in the seventh inning against Southgate when he surrendered the lone hit. Roger Bodinus went the distance for the losers and allowed four Canton hits.

MIKE STAFFORD hit a two-run homer for the Chiefs, and Mike Wougamon had two hits and scored Todd Pniewski drew a bases-loaded walk, and Chris James knocked in the other run with a sacrifice fly. Jason Crain and Jason Riggs scored the other runs.

Canton, following a comparatively slow start for one of its teams, is beginning to realize its potential, according to coach Fred Crissey

We knew it would be this way at the beginning of the year, because we're starting six underclassmen and it takes you a while," he said. "We're beginning to play with confidence and enthusiasm.

We got the pitching when we had to have it, clutch hitting and defense. Those are the things you need to be a contender. John Stimac (2-0) pitched 61/2 innings to win the game against Salem. Riggs worked two thirds of the seventh and came back to win the championship game, 3-1 over Wayne Memorial at Capitol Park in Redford.

"STIMAC DID what we asked him to do and that was the key," Crissey said. "He threw strikes and went after people. We had a big enough lead (10-0 after three innings) that we could allow people to hit the ball and let our fielders catch it."

Riggs had two hits in the Salem game, a bases-loaded double and a two-run single, and five RBI Stafford was 3-for-3 and singled home a run with the bases full. James added an RBI double.

Riggs, an outfielder who turned in a solid performance on the mound, went the seven-inning distance in RIGGS WAS 3-for-3 and scored a run, and Frank Learned had two hits and two RBI. Bob Coppola hit a two-run homer for Churchill.

Awrey pastry to disappear from local stores

By Doug Funke staff writer

14B*(R-12B)

Cookies, cakes and other sweets produced by Awrey Bakery will be available in only one retail location—the company's thrift store in Livonia—after Saturday.

Plans announced by Awrey in March to freeze pastry as it came off the line, then wholesale to an independent distributor for delivery to 800 retail outlets in Michigan never materialized.

"In exploring the economics of the whole program, it wasn't feasible for the distributor, retailer or us," said Rick Pedi, Awrey president.

No additional job losses beyond the 95 announced in March will result from plans to cease retail operations, said Betty Jean Awrey, spokeswoman for the familyowned company. More than 400 will continue to work at Upwards of 80 percent of Awrey's sales in recent years has been to national chains in the hospitality industry. Major customers include Marriott Foodservice Management Corp. and American Airlines.

AWREY HAS been looking for ways to streamline its production process and better incorporate its local business into an expanding national line. A distribution change was a big part of that strategy.

"Our primary objective was to merge production systems," Pedi said. "It's a bittersweet decision. Obviously, t is difficult to leave behind our retail tradition, but the market has changed.

"Our national foodservice and contract manufacturng businesses have evolved to the point where they repesent a majority of our overall business. We are now eady to focus all of our efforts and resources on these areas." he said

Only products Awrey bakes for foodservice clients will be available in the thrift store The keepers include Long John Coffee Cake and Date Nut Bars. Sugar cookoatmeal cookies and fruit coffee cakes will be dis-

Gilbert Borman, spokesman for A&P/Farmer Jack, said that while displaying Awrey brands in-store wouldn't be consistent with that company's practice of paking from scratch internally, he wouldn't speculate on what the future might hold.

"I know there's a demand for Awrey products. It's a good name in the marketplace," Borman said. "We've only done business with them for 60 years. There's a strong relationship there."

Veri-Best of Ferndale has been producing, marketing and distributing bread and bun products with the Awrey label since November after acquiring licensing rights.

"The company is profitable, and has been for 15 or 20 years and today (Monday) as we speak," Pedi said. He declined to reveal sales or income figures, but Crain's Detroit Business reported 1989 sales of $53 million.

Aim for quality as total package, expert maintains

By Doug Funke staff writer

Quality is more than the sum of the parts.

That's the philosophy of John J. Knappenberger, a Birmingham resident who's president of the American Society for Quality Control.

"Quality used to be defined in most peoples' minds as form, fit and function - meeting the customer's expectation," he said. "The whole idea now is total quality management, focusing on a total company approach - everybody - not only satisfying customers but delighting them

Quality involves first establishing a mind set, then a process, Knappen-berger said.

"It's a strategic issue. Everybody in a company is an external and internal customer. We're all customers and suppliers. Quality is an enabler for a company. To be very good at what you do, you shouldn't be able to dissect it (quality) out."

That's why Knappenberger prefers the word quality to the term quality control.

HE ILLUSTRATES some of his points with stories.

"Take a restaurant dinner. If you're satisfied and pay a fair price, by the old definition, it was good quality. By the new definition, it must not only satisfy you, but you must go out and tell your friends.

"The whole issue in quality is not to just satisfy the customer, but take it one, two or three steps beyond to delight. That's the best sales market to future business."

He offered an example involving the baking of bread. Some manufacturers anxious to stand out from the pack, may get the idea that icing the product is the way to go. So quality control and marketing efforts are geared toward the end part of the

All wrong, Knappenberger said. "It looks good, but when you cut it, it's the same old stuff. Good quality companies today are defining quality as yeast. You know it's there in the bread, but you can't really taste

Then there are the sports metaphors that apply across the board. Baseball teams are buying superstars, but whatever sport, you need total team involvement to win," he Empowering workers at all levels to solve problems rather than mandating procedures from on high is the best way to get everyone on the quality bandwagon, Knappenberger said. An experience of the ASQC illustrates his point.

Phone operators not only suggested working hours to accommodate clients on both coasts, but also received permission to devise a staffing schedule that would please everyone.

"People don't understand how actions way upstream can affect customers," he said of pronouncements. Words used in dealing with people reflect a mind set and probably behavior patterns as well, Knappenberger said. He was stunned - and delighted - recently to hear himself referred to as a customer rather than a passenger on an airline flight. On another occasion, he suggested that a public official would enjoy better relations with his constituents by referring to them as customers rather than taxpayers.

"THE WAY we treat people is what we can expect from people. That's part of quality," he said.

Knappenberger, 44, until recently was vice president of quality for TRW automotive operations. He learned about the ASQC in the mid-1970s when directed to join by his boss and became active several years later as he progressed through management training.

"The more I looked at it, the more I saw quality touched everything," he said.

The ASQC was founded in 1946 to bring standards required by the war effort to general industry, Knappenberger said. The professional, nonprofit organization serves some 80,000 individual and 700 corporate members from its headquarters in Milwaukee.

"We're in an outreach mode now." Knappenberger said, "The biggest advantage of the quality movement is not I win, you lose, but if we both win society improves as a whole.

Customers like these dealers

By Darrell Pressley staff writer

Two area car dealerships recently won top honors for sales, service and customer satisfaction - Bob Jeannotte Pontiac and Fox Hills Chrysler Plymouth, both of Plymouth.

Bob Jeannotte Pontiac received a No. 1 rating in March for 1990 by the Pontiac Division.

The rating, which is based on customer responses, is a combination of service, sales and overall dealership satisfaction, said Russ Baltazar, sales manager for Jeannotte Pontiac.

The Customer Satisfaction Index is a questionnaire customers fill out after buying a new car. Jeannotte Pontiac, a Master Level One dealership, scored 92.4 percent by customer response in 1990 among Pontiac dealers in Michigan.

One of the main factors in the rating is customer satisfaction, said tions for Pontiac Division.

"If the customer isn't satisfied he won't come back to the dealership. And may not buy a Pontiac." The rating gives the dealership a gauge of how it is treating customers Raltazar said

At one time, the foreign car industry and consumers felt American car dealers could not compete with them. Foreign cars were so much better, their packaging was so much better, Baltazar said.

"We got basically tired of hearing

So Jeannotte went on a mission two years ago to change that perception by starting from the ground meeting and greeting people, Baltazar said

After the customer buys the car, the salesperson makes a follow-up call, and the customer later receives a second call from Bob Jeannotte's personal secretary, Baltazar said. "It's a team concept - it starts with our cashier all the way up to

FOX HILLS Chrysler Plymouth won an Award of Excellence for sales, service, facility, customer relations and community involvement among the 5,000 dealerships nationally, said Tom Jakobowski, a Chrysler Corp. spokesman.

This award is earned by the top 10 percent of dealerships nationally," Jakobowski said. In its nine-year existence. Fox Hills Plymouth has received this award seven times.

Jim Schebil, owner of Fox Chrysler, said while he is proud of the award, taking care of the customers' transportation needs is what really is important.

Providing a customer with a car. making sure that parts are available and that any problems with the car are fixed quickly are just a few keys to their success, Schebil said.

"Awards are nice, but customers are better." he said.

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

There's only thing worse than buying a car and finding out you're stuck with a $15,000 lemon. Buying a house and finding out you're stuck with a $150,000 lemon Home buyers should always remember the first rule of consumers: caveat emptor - let the buyer beware. Or more appropriately, perhaps, let the buyer be aware.

Home inspection companies and real estate attorneys are hesitant about labeling homes as lemons they don't tell people to buy or not buy a house. Home inspectors say anything made by man can be fixed by man - it's just a question of how much money you're willing to spend to fix the problem.

Janet Compo of Americomp Home Inspectors Inc. in Farmington Hills said it is penny wise and dollar foolish to not hire a home inspector when purchasing a home.

A home inspection cost is negligible when compared to the overall in-

Compo said complex problems are beyond the scope of most home buyers, but there are still certain things homeowners can look for in the initial stages of house hunting to help trim the possibilities. "One of the most obvious things to ment," Compo said.

DAMP SPOTS, a musty odor or standing water - particularly near the base of basement walls - may not necessarily be expensive to repair, she said, but home buyers should be aware of them. Some water seepage problems may require light interior work or regrading outside, which is also relatively inexpensive, she said, but severe seenage may require extensive digging and foundation work.

Home buyers should also view the grading around the home, she said Grading that directs water toward the home should be altered to avoid future problems.

The roof also warrants buyer attention. Compo said.

"If it has three layers of shingles, the next time the roof needs repairing will mean removing the existing layers," she said. Also check areas around roof pipes, chimneys and roof fleshing sealed. Homeowners should also check wiring - are plugs three-pronged and polarized? - and plumbing old galvanized piping should be replaced with copper or high grade

GROSSE POINTE real estate attorney Ronald Barrows said homeowners should never assume the obvious. "Many disputes can be avoided if home buyers ask themselves the right questions before buying."

Barrows said too often people buy homes without considering the obvious and sign purchase agreements thinking that any problems can be resolved before the home closing. 'That's not the case."

Barrows said it is wise to retain an attorney before the purchase agreement is signed. "By statute, (real estate agents) are employed by the Barrows said real estate agents are not out to cheat home buyers problems arise out of lack of knowledge. "There's no intent to do anything wrong, they just don't know and don't know they don't know.'

One of the problems he encounters most often, Barrows said, is a home location relative to potential headaches that may not be immediately evident. "Is the property located near an airport, sanitation facility (landfill or wastewater treatment plant) or near a gas station?"

Environmental issues like these. as well as standing pools or large areas of plant life, could indicate expensive cleanup or health problems later, he said.

Fifth grade, Farrand Elementary WHO'S THAT CAT!

One hot summer day Jacki, the cat, was sprawled across the moist green grass listening to the cheerful chirping of two robins in the pine tree nearby.

The robins sounded good, and they looked good to eat, too. Jacki was hungry! The smell of the next door neighthe Andersons, loading their car! They were carrying flags, lawn chairs, and a big picnic basket!

"Food!" thought Jacki. "Picnic baskets always have food in them." Jacki couldn't bear the smell of chicken and tuna sandwiches any longer. She thought she would just hop in the car trunk and see if she could steal a bite to eat. So she did.

After eating three chicken legs and two tuna sandwiches, Jacki fell asleep curled up in the back of the The Andersons looked all over for Once upon a time there was a princess that had a unicorn who could fly. And, there was a mean pirate who had a cat.

The pirate took the princess and she screamed, "Help, help!" The pirate took her to an island and put her in a cage. And the pirate's mean cat was watching her in the cage.

Once there lived a leprechaun named Sami who lived in Ireland He had orange-red hair and he always wore a plaid green shirt and striped pants. He lived with his father and mother. Sami always had bad luck.

One day Sami's father said, "Sami, I would like you to go and bring me my pot of gold. It is hidden in the secret passageway by the cherry

"Okay," Sami said, sounding very proud. So off he went to the secret passageway by the cherry tree. After a while he came to the tree. He pushed a tree branch and went down the long skinny stairs. Soon he found the pot of gold. He carried it up the stairs very carefully. After carrying the pot for awhile, he came to a gi-gantic acorn tree. The tree was as tall as a three story building. Sami yawned and said, "Boy, I'm sleepy. I think I'll take a snooze." And with that he fell asleep.

Once there was a family of flamingoes. There were four flamingoes in the family. Their names were Freddy, the dad's name, and Betty, the mom's name, Kerry, the girl's name, and Jonathan, the boy's name. They lived in Greenland. They liked to eat green things. One day they went to Purpleland.

There were no green things to eat so they couldn't eat. They only liked to eat green fruit, and they looked for green fruit, but they couldn't find any green fruit.

And they only liked to eat green vegetables so they looked for green vegetables, but they couldn't find any green vegetables.

They got so hungry, they decided to try the purple food. They were surprised that it tasted the same as the green food. For the rest of the vacation they felt good and they enjoyed the purple food.

When they returned to Greenland they got so hungry for purple food

Hi! I picked Triceratops to tell you about because I know him the best and he's my favorite dinosaur.

Who discovered Triceratops? Two scientists discovered Tricerator's bones. They discovered it 100 years ago. Their names were Edward Cope and Othniel Marsh. They were friends until they both wanted to be the best at bone collecting. Edward is the one who named him. The name he picked was "Triceratops." It means 3 horned face. Here's how to say it - (try SARE a tops).

Where Triceratops lived: Triceratops lived in Montana, Wyoming and Canada. He died 70 million years

"There we go again, signing the declaration of independence from God. We are paying for that," Dishnow said. For many, religion is no longer recognized as a positive force in everyday life.

In 1940 or thereabouts, major problems in school included talking, gum chewing, running in halls, litter ing and wearing inappropriate cloth ing. In 1991, drug and alcohol abuse, regnancy, teen suicide, rape, robbery and assault have replaced those as major problems.

"One generation in time," Dishnow said. "That's where the slippery slope is taking us.'

The situation's grim but not hopeless. It's essential to become a mature, informed activist, he said. One grand illusion "is the myth of human self-sufficiency.

Praying - for marriage, children, work, government leaders and an eternal relationship with God - is important. Prayer's vital and yet can be difficult. "It's because it goes against our "Heaven is a gift to be accepted, because of what Jesus Christ has done. We have great hope, great hope, because we've got a great God who has given us great promises.'

Honest reporting: It's what we need

Our recent war highlighted a number of lessons that apply to life in general as well as the battlefield in particular. One such lesson was reiterated in the wake of another recent battle. This one was fought with golf clubs rather than war machines. The arena was the sandtrap land of the Masters Tournament in Augusta, rather than the sands of the Middle The lesson that came from the golf in Augusta was, however, akin to the one that came from the Gulf in Arabia: If one would like the publie to cheer, then paint the picture in least in the short run. TREATING OTHER people as objects is as wrong on a golf course as it is in a desert. Both aggression, the likes of Saddam Hussein and racism, do just that. They cause people to be treated as objects. Ask Isiah Thomas about his recent shopping trip. Places are not sacred. Neither are traditions. The people whose lives revolve around events, and places, and traditions bring the sacredness with them. When it is denied them, regardless of the arena, something inhuman is happening.

Some suggested that this sort of thing does not belong in a sports column. Perhaps that is part of the reason why various forms of man's inhumanity to man are allowed and helped to continue. We divide life into neat compartments. We have sports perspectives and economic perspectives. We consider social perspectives and war perspectives.

WE ALSO are willing to discuss, at least sometimes, moral perspectives. But in doing so we often forget that life loses something when we insist on leaving the moral perspectives out of those areas of life where their discussion may cause discom-

Science offers fun, challenges for kids

By Julie Brown staff writer

Science is a challenging field, but local middle school students are up to the challenge.

This is the third year a Science Challenge has taken place for sixth through eighth graders from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. This year's district finals were Wednesday, May 1, at Central Middle School in Plymouth.

The program's primary goal is to encourage students to get interested in science, "seeing that it can be fun," said Vicki Maciag, a science teacher at East Middle School in Plymouth and Science Challenge committee chairwoman.

More than 250 students from Central, East, Lowell and Pioneer participated in last week's district finals. Different events are developed for each grade level, and planning goes on throughout most of the school year.

TEACHERS CONDUCT events in the classrooms and choose class representatives. Students are then chosen from each school to participate in district finals.

"Now they're here to represent

DURING ONE event, eighth graders measured a variety of items using metric units. In another, sixth graders played "Science Art," a game similar to the popular "Win, Lose or Draw." They drew pictures while teammates did their best to come up with the correct scientific terms.

Different events were designed for each age group. Sixth graders participated in a team relay in which they answered science questions. Seventh graders got more difficult questions, and the eighth grade relay required student teams to build functioning electrical cir-

Science Challenge financing comes from grants given to imscience opportunities in school, including money from the Talented and Gifted program. Science Challenge is designed to be fun, but it also has a message, said Maciag, a Canton resident.

Students learn about how math and science relate to career choices later in life. They learn of the benefits of continuing with math and science studies through high

"I think it is very important. They have to realize there are a lot of choices out there," Maciag said.

ADAM De GIORGIO, 12, a sixth grader at Lowell Middle School, found some of the science questions were tough. He liked participating in the Science Challenge relay.

'You get to get out and walk around while you're learning." Adam is considering a career in science, and got a head start on that at last week's district finals. 'My teacher, he's really helped us," Adam said of Lowell teacher Daniel Carr. "He's given us time to study. He's been like a coach.

Kim Reeder, 13, a Lowell seventh grader, enjoyed the session in which students propelled balloon rockets down a string. She's not thinking about a career in science, but enjoyed Science Challenge.
"I think it's very good," Kim said. "It's a lot better than a regular school day."

SIXTH GRADE winners are: Brandi Bernard, Melissa Dziekan and Angela Smith of Lowell for "Science Art"; Otto Geiseman of Pioneer for "Microscope Mastery"; Eric Belcher of Lowell for "Mighty Millimeter"; and Bettina Huffer, Greg Cieslak, Brian James, Karen Karr and Amy Sonnanstine of Pio-

Seventh grade winners are: Dave

Funding woes

Detroit Public Library's future shaky

By Ralph R. Echtinaw staff writer

The Detroit Public Library may have to close this year if a bill sponsored by state Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port Huron, becomes law.

Republican Gov. John Engler recommended that the state give $6.488 million to the Detroit Public Library in fiscal 1992 (down 9.2 percent from fiscal 1991).

DeGrow hopes to cut it to about $1.4 million to subsidize all state libraries, according to the terms of a library funding plan that has never had as much money in it as it's "supposed" to have.

In essence, money not given to the Detroit Public Library would go instead to other state libraries.

DeGrow's plan, part of a general government budget bill, was approved by the Republican-controlled Senate

Seeing as how the Democratically controlled House will almost certainly disagree with the Senate's budget bill, a compromise is expected to be worked out in the next few months in a conference committee comprised of members of both chambers, said Joe Kheder, an aide to state Rep. D. J. Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, House appropriations committee chairman

COMPOUNDING THE Detroit Public Library's headache is a proposed reduction in Detroit's general fund fiscal 1992 subsidy from almost $2 million to $135,000. Should the DeGrow and Detroit proposals bear fruit, the Detroit Public Library will be out almost $7 million in fiscal 1992

However, Detroit voters approved a 1 mill levy on city property owners last November that will kick in next July. The levy will bring $5 million a year to the Detroit Public Library. That mill complements a second mill approved earlier by Detroit voters. Together, they will generate $10 million.

The Detroit Public Library's whole budget, which runs the main branch on Woodward Avenue and 25 satellite libraries, is $23 million.

Private donations raised by the Friends of the Library, traditionally a small part of the Detroit Public Library's budget, generally fall between $500,000 and $1 million a year.

Friends director Paul Scupholm, a Redford Township resident, said Detroit and state officials are trying to reduce the library's subsidies because the extra mill was passed last year.

Museum unveils fashion room; fine art show a winner

ARTBEAT INSIGHTS:

· Without fanfare, a turn-of-thecentury fashion room has opened in the Farmington Historical Museum, former home of Fred Warner, Michifirst three-term governor

It mainly boasts donated women's fashions from 1850 to 1930 - 20 pieces of clothing and 40 accessories.

The wardrobe display includes two 1910-era dresses that belonged to Gov. Warner's wife, Martha, and eldest daughter, Edessa, and one fancy 1930-era dress that belonged to his daughter-in-law, Dorothy.

The fashion room is in the old master bedroom, once targeted for a museum library. The $2,000 project was paid for through contributions from Quakertown Questers and the Farmington Winery.

"We're still adding to the room but we're basically done," said Dick Carvell, museum curator, "We've changed the wallpaper, changed the fixtures and bought new mannequins. We're waiting for drapes."

In addition to dresses, fashions include wedding gowns and a variety of accessories, including beaded purses, gloves, hats, dickies, even some undergarments.

The only men's wear is a long coat, once part of a lodge uniform and maybe worn by a chaplain. It belonged to a ML Botsford, but it's not known if he was a member of the Botsford family in Farmington, Car-

'We're always looking for more donations," he added. The idea for turning the old master bedroom in the 124-year-old mansion into a library faded as interest grew in the museum's old

Garden City has never been widely thought of as an artistic hotbed. But the Garden City Fine Arts Association has fought valiantly to slay that misperception. Consider its ninth annual juried art show, "Spring '91," which runs through Saturday in the Garden City Public Library, 2012 Middlebelt.

The 69-piece exhibition features the work of 23 artists, roughly half the GCFAA membership. Media range from acrylic to charcoal, watercolor to pencil. Subjects include landscapes, seascapes, florals and abstracts.

"It seems to me each of our exhibits is improving qualitywise," says Norma McQueen, who should know She's association president and its goodwill ambassador.

A trip to the library reinforces the artistry that sprouts from the easels members.

ink drawing, Muriel Linton of Livonia, a professional artist, and Marie Tuthill of Livonia, who excels in paintings fashioned in realism and Exhibiters can't just reach into their closet and pull out a dusty can-vas to display. Only new works not previously shown are permitted.

That helps keep the brushes moving," said McQueen, who's exhibiting four colorful pieces in acrylic.

Association members come from Westland, Livonia, Redford, Wayne and Dearborn in addition to Garden City. They find the GCFAA an unimposing outlet for their creativity in the visual arts.

As McQueen, ever the optimist, put it: "When you're surrounded by other artists who share your excitement, who share your positive approach, it's really inspiring, really encouraging."

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- The selection is excellent.
- Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move. Now is the right time to buy a home.

NOW is the right time to Buy A Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- · 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- · First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- · Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise investment.
- · Equity in your home can be used as collateral, thus providing you with additional financial
- · Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

available. No strollers or cameras are allowed.

MOT BOOSTERS

Michigan Opera Theatre has a new outreach group, dubbed the Bacchantes, announced David DiChiera, general director.

The group's objectives are both to educate and attract younger audiences and help them feel comfortable with the notion of attending and sup-

The group is "innovative, full of exciting, fun ideas to introduce people to opera and provide them with the information to fully enjoy MOT productions," said Sharon Gioia, who chairs the Alliance of Volunteers of Michigan Opera The-

The name Bacchantes is based on the mythological tale about the followers of Bacchus, the Greek god of wine and revelry, who is often associated with theater.

"The intention is to bring the young professional types to the opera and to make them both comfortable with and excited by the prospect," said Rick Carmody, who is co-chairing the "Madama Butterfly" reception and is a steering committee member for the new volunteer gorup.

"Some people have an impression that opera is stuffy and inaccessible. That is just not true."

The group's first major event has been sched-uled in conjunction with the upcoming MOT pro-duction of "Madama Butterfly."

This event provides the Bacchantes with preferred seating for the Friday, May 17, presenta-tion at the Masonic Temple Theatre and includes a pre-performance reception at the Detroit Art-

The reception begins at 5:30 p.m. and the performance is at 8 p.m. The performance is sung in Italian with projected English surtitles.

In keeping with the Oriental theme of the popular opera, Japanese foods and music will set the stage for the event, which will also serve to familiarize patrons with the story and music of Puccini's "Madama Butterfly."

· ART AUCTION

The Scarab Club annual art auction will be Sun-

The silent auction will be 5-7 p.m. The live auction will start at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $25 per person (a $10 rebate may be applied to any art purchase). Contributions to the auction will be accepted 1-6 p.m. now through Thursday, May 16, or by special arrangement. The Scarab Club, at 217 Farnsworth in Detroit's Cultural Center, was founded in 1910 as a fellowship of the arts. It receives no government financing. The annual art auction is the primary fund-

Sales generated by contributions to this auction will be used to support ongoing programs and continuing restoration of the historic clubhouse. Call Darlene Carroll, executive director, 831-1250.

VISUAL VOICES

The Wayne County Council for the Arts is showing Visual Voices, a collection of works from 15 local artists, through June 16 in the Third Floor Conference Room of the Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph, Detroit.

Featured are paintings, sculpture and photography. Painter and art professor Gilda Snowden curated the exhibition. Works from Wayne County Youth Home residents are shown.

ANTIQUE SHOW

A Spring Antique Show and Sale will take place at Universal Mall at Dequindre and 12 Mile in Warren Thursday-Sunday, May 23-26. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

Area residents exhibiting at the show include Ruth Heremann, Mary Haggerty and Gloria Siegert, all of Livonia, and Barbara Rudes of Redford. Among the items offered will be tea leaf ironstone (a popular kitchenware from the 1880s), Depression-era collectibles, early 20th century Michigan postcards, and oak furniture once sold through early mail-order catalogs.

The International Society of Poets is accepting poems for its "World's Largest Poem for Peace."

The document is expected to be longer than several football fields. It will be presented to the Secretary General of the United Nations after the

For Mother's

A garden patch of gift ideas

Sunday is Mother's Day. When I lecture, I find a book or a plant is more "wished for" than something fattening!

Other items, which will help Mother in the garden, will make her think about the giver as she uses them. So, for a memorable gift, here are some suggestions:

· A set of four small Flower Fairies books, by Cicely Mary Barker, first published in the 1920s (Warne, $5.95 each) will provide quiet moments for reflection.

The illustrations of the plants include a fairy representing each one. Accompanying each Flower Fairy is a poem relating to the plant Also available is a set of Flower Fairies postcards, lovely enough to be framed (Warne, 30

 One of the prettiest books for recordkeeping, "An Island Garden Daybook," (Houghton Mifflin, $9.95), includes Celia Thaxter's writings while she gardened on Appiedore in New England. The paintings by Childe Hassam are equisite.

"The Unicorn Alphabet" (Dail, $14.95) was inspired by the medieval Unicorn Tapestries.

Marianna Mayer has translated the symbolism, lore and mystery of this animal from A to Z, while the pictures by Michael Hauge illustrate the stories splendidly.

ON TO garden helpers:

A 6-foot snake suspended in a tree is sure to frighten birds from the ripening fruit. An owl may deter rodents. ($5.99 each). Perhaps a lifelike, handpainted housecat will do the trick and make a cute ornament, too. ($15.99)

Dalen Products Inc. makes these and other scarecrow devices, as well as the Trellis Plus, made of heavy-duty nylon netting, which can be positioned for climbing flowers or vegetables so the vines will be supported as they grow. A good idea if space is limited. A hose-end sprayer to water and feed the lawn and flowers (hanging baskets are sometimes difficult) would be a welcome gift.

One that you might consider, by Miracle-Gro, is called the No-Clog-2 Garden and Lawn Feeder. ($11.95, which includes a pound of plant food).

What about Ortho Whirlybird? This lightweight gadget will scatter seeds, fertilizer, etc. in an even pattern throughout the garden ($9.99).

OF COURSE, a big bouquet of flowers will please. What about packages of seeds (and the promise to help plant them) to provide enjoyment as the months roll by? A living plant for the house or garden will bring a smile. In that regard, Cranbrook Garden Auxilary is having its 19th annual spring plant sale 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 15, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, May 16. Michigan wildflowers, greenhouse plants,

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Build up a nest egg for after-purchase expenses

This is a continuing series of buying and selling real estate.

You decide that you want to live the great' American dream of home ownership. Before embarking on the quest, know that there's more to buying than coming up with the monthly payment.

Deposit money, down payment, mortgage application fees, points, and closing costs including the escrow account can quickly add up to a mind-boggling sum.

An example Louise and Chris find a starter home in Livonia. They make an offer of $70,000 and include a check for $2,100 as earnest money to show the seller they're serious about the bid. The seller accepts, so Chris and Louise apply for a mortgage. Application and processing fees vary among institutions. First Federal of Michigan, for instance, charges a non-refundable application fee of $250 and a reservation/commitment fee of $300 when ownership transfers at closing.

The couple wins approval for a 30year fixed mortgage at 9/5 percent with a cash down payment of 20 percent. The down payment in this case is $14,000 which includes the earnest money.

MANY MORTGAGES today come with points, essentially lending fees, payable at closing. A point equals one percent of the mortgage. First Federal of Michigan charges 2 points on the mortgage terms selected by Louise and Chris. That down payment of less than 30 percent, First Federal of Michigan requires an escrow account at closing to ensure payment of property taxes and homeowners insurance.

Thirteen months of taxes for a house worth $70,000 in the Livonia school district is $2,091. Add another $300 for a homeowners policy to round out the escrow account.

So here's what Chris and Louise will pay in a few short weeks from the time they make an offer through · Earnest money when extending purchase offer - $2,100. Application fee for mortgage · Balance of down payment for mortgage - $11,900.

• Points with mortgage

Loan reservation commitment

That's a shade more than $18,000 and doesn't include extras like a home inspection, strongly advised for buyers. Figure on a couple of hundred dollars for that.

Exact application/closing fees will vary and points can be avoided for a higher mortgage rate. But now you get an idea of what you need up front to buy a house. But that's still not all.

YOU HAVE utility connection fees. Michigan Bell charges $42 payable in advance if you've never een a customer. Detroit Edison requires an advance deposit of $25 to $100 if you've never done business with it or another electric or gas

To save everyone a lot of time and disappointment, know what you can afford and have the cash to nail down a deal.

"Some know, others kind of learn it from a Realtor, some don't know, said Al Marshall, vice president and manager for business development at First Federal of Michigan.

Many financial institutions will pre-qualify buyers before they start their housing search and even guarantee a mortgage rate for a few weeks - all at no charge.

"The amount of housing dollars shouldn't exceed 28 percent of gross monthly income," Marshall said. That includes principal, interest, taxes and insurance.

ALL INDEBTEDNESS including mortgage, car payments and credit charges shouldn't exceed 36 percent of monthly income, he added.

Another general rule of thumb ac-cording to Marshall — buyers should zero in on houses which don't exceed 24 times annual household income.

That means Louise and Chris should have household income of at least $31,100 to buy a $70,000 house.

The biggest mistake most firsttime buyers make is getting too much advice from well-meaning friends, relatives and co-workers, said Bob Ogg, an agent with The Prudential Great Lakes Realty in

'It really confuses them." Ogg said. "They're talking to people not in the field. It could be they're talking to parents who haven't been in the market in 30 years. I always recommend they search out a good

elements defined in condominium master deed Common

I am a member of the board of directors. Recently several of our co-owners have had problems not specifically addressed in our bylaws. In one instance, an exhaust fan in the bathroom was dripping condensation back into the room. The fan is not vented outside but extends into the attic. The association paid for wrapping the exhaust pipe, but now the question has arisen as to who is responsible for the area between the ceiling and the roof. Also, we have a problem with a smoke alarm that is electrically powered that needs re-placement. Who is responsible for owner? The co-owner replaced the smoke alarm with a hattery-operated smoke alarm and then informed the association. We want to get the best protection for the complete building. Should we get the electrical smoke alarm fixed and pay for it?

It is difficult to determine the responsibility for these items without reviewing your master deed documents as condominium documents vary from project to project. In most cases, in a traditional condominium, the area between the ceiling and the roof is a common element for which the association is responsible, but that is not always the case. I can tell you safely that the association should assume responsibility for insuring that the smoke alarms are operating properly to the extent that they affect the entire building. They should not rely on a co-owner to maintain these smoke alarms to the extent that it is within the purview of the responsibility of the associa-

I am wondering if you have any suggestions concerning what senior citizens can do in a social manner at a condominium. The board seems to be somewhat unresponsive to our

One of the benefits of living in a condominium can be the social interaction between the members of the association. Many condominium associations have social committees. In some communities, additional activities are ofen set up for senior citizens. I am even aware of a condominium where there is a condominium chorus comprised of senior citizens. Frequently the community facility or other condominium building is used for card playing or other recreational activities. I would recommend that each condominium establish a social committee and consider whether specifically organized activities for senior citizens is appropriate depending on the composition of the condominium.

Manufactured housing leads sales rebound

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Manufactured housing may or may not be a barom-eter for the the rest of the single-family housing industry, but sales for the two housing segments have closely paralleled each other for more than a decade.

Manufactured housing starts racked up staggering numbers during the 1980s when one might think traditional, or site-built, single-family housing starts — that surpassed even the building industry's expectations would have squashed competition.

Instead, manufactured housing sales retained their share of the housing market as manufactured home community developers and the makers of manufactured homes thrived

Manufactured housing took it on the chin during the recession with a drop in sales (although in many ca the drop was less severe than in the rest of the market).

Sales of manufactured housing historically rebound first, mainly because of price, but also because of im-proved quality of the product, Tim DeWitt, president of the Michigan Manufactured Housing Association, said. Manufactured homes have one distinct advantage they are relatively inexpensive, DeWitt, said.

Approximately one-third of all housing starts during the 1980s were manufactured homes with a recordbreaking 10,054 manufactured home sales in 1989, he said. The manufactured housing industry saw steady increases from 1982 on, he added.

Greg Christopher, president of Christopher Invest-ments Co. in Auburn Hills recently broke ground on Independence Woods, a new 300-unit manufactured housing community near Clarkston.

CHRISTOPHER SAID he believes manufactured housing will lead the housing industry out of recession for several reasons, but mainly because it is less expen-

Auburn Hills developer Greg Christopher is Woods near Clarkston. confident the recession is coming to an end and is moving ahead in with his 300-unit manu-sive. "Manufactured housing is more affordable to more people," he said.

People in the industry are optimistic about the chances for a good year, he said. "I think we're on the bottom

As evidence of this optimism, he said manufactured homes dealers have already leased more than 80 lots to show their 1991 models at Independence Woods and that development isn't scheduled for completion until Aug. 1 (maybe sooner), he said.

Christopher also pointed to the sale of older homes as evidence of a strong manufactured home selling season.

A cursory review of real estate sales clearly shows that the low end of the market - homes selling for less than $100,000 — are selling well, Christopher said. "The million dollar sales are practically nil."

If the under $100,000 market is doing well, the manufactured housing market should do even better because homes can be purchased for significantly less, he said.

According to the manufactured housing association, the average price of a double section manufactured home - a 28-by-70-foot model of nearly 2,000 square feet starting as low as $25,000 - is less than half of the average existing site built home.

With mortgage and lot rental costs, Christopher said the average resident of an upscale manufactured home community like his new project will pay approximately

John Guequierre, chief financial officer of Schult Home Corp. - one of the nation's largest manufactured home producers - said increases in orders for manufactured home may signal a turn around in the econo-

"It's difficult to say because of differences throughout the country (in sales)," he said. "In the Midwest, we saw a recessionary drag in November and December

ORDERS REBOUNDED in January and February and have really begun moving since the end of the Persian Gulf conflict, Guequierre said. "As soon as hostilities were over, it was like turning on a light switch."

Actually, the sales slowdown in the manufactured housing industry occurred later in the Midwest than other parts of the country, where orders were down several months earlier, he said.

"Sales were fairly good for the six months previous to November and December," Guequierre said, adding that in general, the housing recession has been less severe for manufactured homes.

"It's too soon to tell whether we're seeing a flash in the pan or if this is the start of a return to better times, he said. "If we're still up in three months, then we'll know we're through it."

Orders may be encouraging, he said, but there are still some worrisome signs that may abort an economic comeback. Unrest in the financial network, and an overall decrease in the sale of durable goods could have a drastic effect on manufactured home sales.

Steven Adler, director of operations at Uniprop in Birmingham, said it's difficult to tell whether the recent improvements in manufactured home industry are a result of better times or just the annual release of pent-up demand from the winter down cycle.

The industry seems to be picking up a little earlier than usual, he said, but the traditional housing cycles of the past have little bearing today, Adler said.

AS FOR WHETHER the manufactured home industry can be used as a barometer for the housing industry, Adler said there are still some significant differences despite the similarities between site-built and manufactured housing sales.

"We fared better in the recession than the site-builts," Adler said. In fact, Uniprop had a more profitable year in 1990 than it did in 1989. "That's because we're more affordable than the site-built industry - I wouldn't say we're recession proof, but the Michigan market is still pretty strong."

But despite these successes, DeWitt of the manufactured housing association said the industry still suffers from the same problem that has hounded it for decades public perception.

DeWitt said he cannot recall how many times he has debated the worth of the manufactured home, which is built with the same materials found in site-built home and must meet federal quality, durability, energy efficiency and safety standards.

"That may have been true (that manufactured housing didn't match up to site built quality) years ago, but

Do the current staffing cuts in the DNR threaten the existence of the state's wetlands act? If the DNR is unable to enforce the act, the possibility exists that the authority to protect the environment will revert from the state to the federal government.

State budget cuts lead to delays in wetlands permits

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

When Gov. John Engler ousted then-Gov. James Blanchard in the election last November, builders were more than a little pleased.

A pro-business, pro-economic development, Republican governor was running the state and the possibilities for an improved develop-ment and building environment were, they thought, assured.

But then came the budget cuts and staff reductions in the Department of Natural Resources: and staff reductions mean delays in processing wetlands and other construction per-

Now, the word out of land and water management division - the division that handles construction and wetlands permitting is if a builder hasn't already applied for a permit, he probably won't get one for this building season.

The Engler administration, business leaders and developers say the permit delays are little more than

Engler spokesman John Truscott said there has been a reduction in DNR staffing, and it is leading to delays, but the fault lies within the

DNR, not with the Engler adminis-"David Hales has done some things in his last days that we don't agree with and are causing problems," Truscott said. Staffing could have been retained with existing

TRUSCOTT SAID Hales' contract with the state to run the DNR expires at the end of May, and an interim director will be appointed. "Several names have been tossed out but we don't know who that will be."

Truscott said the interim director will be someone from within the DNR but will be "someone we can work with.'

Once a new DNR director is installed, Truscott said the Engler administration will focus its energies on reorganizing the DNR, improving the permitting process, consolidating responsibilities and reducing bureaucracy

Under the previous administra-tion, the DNR operated with few concrete rules. "We're going to define the department's mission so we don't have situations where a permit's approval is dependent on which staffer gets it." DNR budget division chief Dennis Adams said budget cuts approved by the legislature and signed by former Gov. Blanchard last fall created across-the-board 9.2 percent cuts resulting in 14 permitting staffers in the land and water division being

That is approximately half of the 30 permitting staff positions in the division, he said.

A subsequent funding increase approved by the legislature would have retained the positions, but Engler vetoed the proposal, Adams said.

A SECOND PROPOSAL that would have allowed the department to shift funds from other areas to pay for permitting was approved by state senate but was rejected by the state house, he said.

"Without the approval of the legis-lature, (Hales') hands were tied," Adams said

Donald Pratt, president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders and a Troy builder, said the association has been trying to come up with a solution since the DNR lavoffs were announced

Environmentalists salute Oakland Technical Park

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Development and nature have come full circle in recent years - from combatants to partners

Environmentalists would probably prefer unspoiled land to development, but reasonable development with respect for the environment is becoming an acceptable alternative.

The Clinton River Watershed Council, an environmental study and watchdog group, has long observed the effect of development on the watershed that encompasses much of eastern Oakland County.

Many of the projects of the past have caused numerous problems for the watershed, but one that stands as an example of how development and the environment can coincide is the Oakland Technology Park overlapping Rochester Hills and Auburn Hills.

Clinton River Watershed Council executive director Peggy Johnson said the Oakland Technology Park - developed by Shostak Brothers in Southfield - is one of the most environmentally friendly commercial developments in southeastern Michi-

"Its size makes that designation even more impressive," she said.

Johnson said the Oakland Technology Park is sique because it incorporates many of the ideas that environmentalists have been pushing. "It's encouraging to see those things that were ideas actually being built in the real world '

THE PROJECT is so notable that a Grand Rapids-based environmental group filming a docume tary on storm water management, spent several days at the park, she said.

Phil Houdek, vice president at Shostak Brothers in Southfield, said it is no accident that projects in the 1,800-acre park respect the environn

As the developer, Shostak was very exacting in what the park would be, he said. "We're not leaving anything open because we want it to remain undeveloped - we're leaving it that way because it serves a valuable purpose

Back when the Oakland Technology Park was just an idea, Shostak Brothers undertook a study of local and national firms on what type of concerns they had and what they would like if they should decide to build a new facility.

"Their chief concern was to get best emplo and to build the best staffs," Houdek said. And the best way for companies to attract good employees, according to the survey, was to provide an exceptional work environment.

"We wanted a park setting rather than an industrial park setting," Houdek said.

Cobo show merges home, leisure interests

Two Oakland County couples are banking on more than two years of planning and 200 exhibitors signed to contracts to make their new trade

The result is Michigan's Home and Leisure Show, which will run May 18-27 at Cobo Center, and emphasize retail sales by exhibitors.

It is the creation of Jim Wilson and Christina Wilson-Molinaro of Waterford Township and Ray

"There's been nothing done here like this," said Wilson-Molinaro of Associated Exhibitors, West Bloomfield. "There are plenty of single-theme shows, Builders, Boaters, Campers, but people have never had the chance to come down and see something for everybody."

Nearly 100 home exhibitors will include Royal Palace Homes from Plymouth, Gemini Construction and Vitex from West Bloomfield, Custom Design Pools from Troy and Guardifrom Southfield.

Windows, aluminum siding, heat-ing and cooling systems, carpeting, china and dinnerware, stereo and video systems and furniture will be displayed and on sale at the show. Nearly half of the exhibitors are from out of state.

Wilson, a corporate pilot, and Wilson-Molinaro are veterans of the trade show circuit.

"In the past, we would buy up bulk space at shows and resell it," Wilson-Molinaro said. "We did very well in

The Observer Academic All-Stars, Class of 1991, are the best and the brightest of local public and parochial schools.

The Observer thanks the schools who nominated students. A note of special thanks to the committee of secondary school principals who selected the students.

Chairing the committee was Robert Schramke, principal at Redford Union High School. Other committee members were Dale Coller, Stevenson High School: Geraldine Kiessel, Garden City High School, Larry Boehms, Troy High School; Gary Faber, West Bloomfield High School, Clayton Graham, Harrison High School; Gerald Ostoin, Plymouth Salem High School and Dennis Connolly, John Glenn High School.

The students are selected based on high school grade point average combined with national test scores.

John A. Richards

JOHN A. RICHARDS Catholic Central High School

John A. Richards is a senior at Catholic Central High School, where he maintains a 4.0 grade point average. This is the second year he has been named to the Observer All-Star team.

The son of John and Marilyn Richards of Clairview Drive in Dearborn Heights, he plans to attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology and pursue a career in engineering.

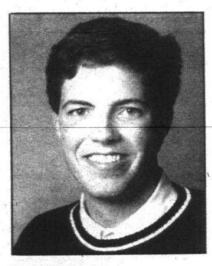

He is co-captain of the Quiz Bowl team at CC and participated in the Michigan Math Competition. He belongs to the computer club and National Honor Society.

His academic honors include the Gabrief Richard Honor Roll and National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

Richards' parents have influenced his academic career by their encouragement and example, he said.

Richards believes everyone owes it to society to use his/her talent's and abilities.

"If I, as a human being, can truthfully say that I have used my innate abilities to their highest potential, then I can say that I have fulfilled my obligation to society," Richards wrote.

We make dreams come true.

Register now for our Third Annual Scholarship Drawing. You could win $500...$1,000... $1,500...even $2,000!

Don't miss your chance to win one of four educational scholarships from John Darakjian Jewelers. They're good for tuition at any accredited lower, middle, high or trade school, college or university.

To enter, just stop in at either John Darakjian location. Winners can be any age, so register yourself or someone you love. (No purchase necessary.)

On June 1st, four entries will be drawn. You can use your winnings toward current or future tuition. For example:

- You're in school now. Just present a tuition bill for anytime in 1991. We'll write you a check!
- You're starting college next year.
 We'll open a short-term savings account for your winnings. When you get your tuition invoice, we'll transfer the money to you-with interest!

- Your child or grandchild will enter college sometime in the future.
 We'll buy them a long-term Certificate of Deposit, which they can cash—with interest—when they start college!
- You've got a Michigan Education Trust account. We'll deposit your winnings directly into that account for future use!

Remember, all winnings are transferable, so you can register yourself or someone you love.

So don't delay. Enter John Darakjian's big Third Annual Scholarship Drawing by May 31st! You could put $500...$1,000...$1,500...even $2,000 toward your education.

It's our way of helping make your dreams come true.

The jewelry dreams are made of

JESUS CHRIST IS COMING SOON, BUT — BEFORE HE COMES, LOOK FOR THE FOLLOWING KEY EVENTS TO OCCUR

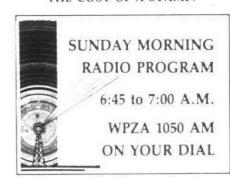

- 1. Peace Initiatives Will Succeed In The Middle East.
- 2. The Soviet Union Will Again Become A Major Player In That Region, Counting Iran, Ethiopia, Sudan, Libya, Iraq And Syria As Her Client Nations And Allies.
- 3. An Accord Will Be Reached Between Turkey, Continental Europe, Armenia And The Soviet Union.
- 4. Just As World Peace Seems Imminent, It All Falls Apart.
- All Nations, With The Possible Exception Of A Handful Of Western Nations Will Unite Against Israel. A Large Scale Military Confrontation Will Take Place Focusing Upon Jerusalem.
- 6. Jordan And Egypt Will Fall To The Soviet Coalition.
- 7. With The Jews On The Brink Of Destruction, Jesus Christ Will Come With His Armies To Defeat Israel's Enemies.
- 8. Then, And Only Then Will There Ever Be World Peace.

ALL OF THE ABOVE IS FOUND IN THE BIBLE. IT WILL HAPPEN AS SURELY AS THERE IS DAY AND NIGHT. THE REALITY OF THESE EVENTS MAY BE IGNORED FOR NOW IF WE CHOOSE...ONE DAY SOON, THAT WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE.

The Problems of suffering: Why me? What does the Bible Say?

Have you ever questioned why unfortunate things seem to happen to you?

The Bible says:

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose." Romans 8:28

Have you ever heard the expression "The patience of Job"? It is actually a Biblical expression concerning a man in ancient time who endured many heartaches and trials because of his faith toward God and God's love toward him.

The Bible says:

"Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience. Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy." James 5:10-11

Does God really care about me and what happens to me?

The Bible says:

"God... Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." 1 Timothy 2:4

Come and hear a Bible explanation about individual suffering and find out that God does REALLY care about you. There will be no collection taken before or after this event. You are invited to pose your own questions to the speaker after the lecture and take any free literature concerning this and many other Bible subjects which will be made available.
