Low voter turnout in the Plymouth-Canton school election and the result school officials feared - a defeat of the millage renewal - didn't materialize Monday, as voters instead approved a 17.74-mill renewal, 4 359-1 966

Of the district's 55,000 registered voters, 6,513, or nearly 12 percent, cast ballots. Re-elected to four-year terms were incumbents Dean Swartzwelter and Roland Thomas. Swartzwelter was the top votegetter with 3,797 votes. Thomas was runner up with 3,208.

Third was Deborah Lynch of Canton with 2,329. Bobbie Cleary of Canton received 1.766 votes.

"We're appreciative of the continuing support of the voters of this community, who by their vote have recognized the educational excellence which is made possible through this millage," said Superintendent John Hoben.

We urge those who did not support this millage renewal to get to know their schools and to thereby be able to fully appreciate how effectively their tax dollars are being

"The renewal passed by a pretty overwhelming margin; that's the most important thing that came out of the election," said an electionweary Swartzwelter. "No. 2, considering the issues the district is going to be facing in the future, I'm personally extremely gratified that both incumbents were returned to the board to provide experience and expertise in going through very difficult times, considering the chaotic state of K-12 school financing in

The board president said he also is looking forward to working with the 'blue ribbon committee, and keeping current on anything related to the committee." The proposed $59.9 million bond issue is another top concern, he said.

Swartzwelter views the totals as a vote of confidence.

"The margin of victory by the two incumbents seems to indicate the citizens have endorsed what the district and administration have done in the past year. Personally, I don't view any major strategy or approach changes in looking to the future," Swartzwelter said.

THOMAS RANKS the proposed bond issue as his top concern as he enters his second decade on the board.

Voters confused over election polling places

Kathleen Hurley, precinct worker at Isbister School, counted the voters she had to turn away Monday because they'd come to the wrong polling place.

"Between noon and 8 p.m., we counted 120 people, including a few school administrators," said Hurley, a substitute teacher. A to-tal of 420 people voted at Isbister.

Hurley was willing to look up voters' proper precincts, but many weren't interested. "One lady said, 'Aw, screw it. The schools don't need my vote.'

"People just don't have the energy any more after they get disgruntled," said Hurley. "Something's got to be done. If people don't understand we need their vote, they're not going to make the effort. I'm sitting here saying, 'Please, please vote.' We shouldn't have to do that," she said. 'Each year it's the same

Citizens group pledges fight against property taxes

staff writer

A grass roots group made up of Canton residents wanting to reduce property taxes in Michigan is meeting for the first time tonight.

Citizens for Tax Responsibility will meet 7-8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 13 in the Canton Public Library meeting room to talk about tax reform. The public is invited.

We're concerned about ever increasing property taxes," said Canton resident Lana Mayfield, director of Citizens for Tax Responsibility. "The group's goal is to gain more information about property taxes and to learn what we can do to support change.

SHE DESCRIBED Citizens for Tax Responsibility as a small group of residents that formed early last month.

The guest speaker Thursday is Pat Anderson, who will talk about the Headlee proposed 20 percent tax cut initiative. Last year 224,000 signatures were collected to get the Headlee issue on the ballot.

However, the state board of canvassers deadlocked on a 2-2 vote and the issue has been in limbo ever since.

Meanwhile, tax reform groups have sprouted up around the state, he said. "I'm very hopeful those members of the Canton citizenry, who have approached me about tax limitation and burgeoning property taxes, will form an effective group and this is part of a pattern across the state

Residents say township stinks on handling of smelly compost

staff writer

Residents near a new compost facility in south Canton packed the township hall Tuesday demanding that something be done to stop the odor that one woman described as smelling like dead animals.

A man who was among the 80 some residents said the odor was stifling.

"I can not breathe. You're choking me to death," he said.

Residents complained that the township was not doing enough to that Wayne County Health Department violations against Compost Systems Inc., south of Michigan Avenue between Sheldon and Morton Taylor, didn't insure that the odor would be eliminated anytime soon.

Residents were skeptical, too, when Supervisor Tom Yack said Canton would issue ordinance violations Wednesday for the off-site odor

They suggested that since Canton leases the land to CSI an eviction notice would be a strong sign of their dissatisfaction with the way the company is operated.

Emily Brock complained that in addition to the compost facility, the area is surrounded by a landfill at Lilley south of Michigan. And at Haggerty north of Michigan, there's a sewer pump station that acts as a receiver for sanitary sewer flow before it goes to an Ypsilanti treat-

Thomas said he'd like to see the district devote six months to a campaign explaining the need for the ond issue. But because the need for elementary space is so pressing, "I'd like to see us split the bond issue into two pieces. Then we could look at something in January or June of next year. That would give us time to really explain to people what we really, truly need.

"The other thing I want to see us do is to continue to focus on administrative objectives. I think with the leadership we have on the board we will be able to do this this summer. "It's disappointing more people don't exercise their right to vote. On the other hand, it's very gratifying to see people in south Canton beginning to express their feelings as to who they support and how they feel about schools in terms of millage support." Voters pass tax increase; major budget cuts avoided

A jubilant crowd of 300 tax supporters cheered and applauded as Superintendent Dennis O'Neill declared the victory shortly before 10 p.m. at election night headquarters in the Dyer Center on Marquette near Carlson.

"The real winners of the community are the young people," said O'Neill. He commended student activists for building the momentum needed to pass the tax proposal, in the aftermath of three previous consecutive proposals that failed.

Voters favored the tax 52 to 48 percent, casting 15,608 votes in a dramatic, record turnout that met school officials' expectations. In unofficial totals, the tax plan won by a 620-vote margin, 8,114 to 7,494, as 25 percent of the district's voters cast ballots.

The approval of the tax increase means an annual property tax in-crease of about $233 for a person in a $60,000 home. Mental health budget changes anger Geake

By Tim Richard staff writer

Gov. John Engler will have a harder time shutting down mental health facilities under a budget bill amended by the state Senate.

"I can see a coalition of minority (Democrats) and those whose districts are threatened," protested Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, who fought the amendment.

"It's not good policy ... No institution will ever be phased out — it's another stumbling block to deinstitutionalization," said Geake, chair of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on mental health.

BUT THE BIPARTISAN coalition gave 27-9 approval to the amendment of Sen. Jim Berryman, D-Adrian. It requires the Department of Mental Health to make a plan before moving to close any institutions, giving communities time to prepare for the influx of former patients.

"It takes 18 months to plan one group home," Berryman said. "We don't want the homeless mentally ill wandering the streets. This doesn't stop closings."

"It's definitely an impediment," Geake replied. Supporting Berryman were area Republican David Honigman of West Bloomfield and Democrats, Jack Faxon of Farmington Hills and George Z. Hart of Dearborn.

Siding with Geake was Republican Mat Dunaskiss of Lake Orion. Absent was William Faust, D-

THE SENATE gave 33-3 approval to the final bill.

-At $1.3 billion, it's 0.4 percent higher than the current budget. Because the Senate version is $30 million less than the House's, the bill will go to a conference committee.

HERE ARE the fates of some southeastern Michigan institutions: • Lafayette Clinic in Detroit — closure in August of 1992. A research and teaching institution, the Lafayette proposal is particularly controversial. With $18 million, it serves about 100 patients.

• Reuther Psychiatric Hospital in Westland — phased closing by June 1992. "The Reuther Center has a boiler that needs to be replaced at a cost of $1.5 million," said Sen. Joe Conroy, D-Flint. In recent years, the Reuther has been funded at $21 million and served 275 geriatric and other special patients.

Hotel owners say tax will hurt business

Hotel and motel owners throughout Wayne County are protesting a proposed 5 percent county tax, though western Wayne innkeepers could be the most concerned.

"It will hurt business, that's for sure," said Ray Arnold, general manager of the Holiday Inn at Laurel Park, Livonia.

The tax will mean an increase in room rates. Western Wayne hotel and motel owners said they were especially worried because competitors in nearby Oakland County wouldn't have to pay the new tax.

"This is a competitive area," Arnold said. "When people can go two miles up the road and not have to pay the additional 5 percent, that's what they're going to do."

THE NEW hotel/motel tax is among the financing options that could be used to build a new Tiger Stadium. Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara officially backed the new tax last week, in anouncing the county would seek to build a baseball stadium in Detroit.

County officials said they intended to tax hotels and motels under a 1970 state law. That law, drafted before the Headlee Tax Limitation, wouldn't require a vote of the people.

County officials said they intended to meet with hotel and motel operators to come up with a plan to ease the new tax burden. They added, however, that Detroit area room rates were below those in other major metropolitan areas.

"Some major hotel operators will be coming out in favor of it," deputy county executive Michael Duggan said. "But most probably will be opposed. When you look at it, it means a $30 hotel room would now be $31.50. That's 'hardly a make-orbreak proposition."

An area trade association, however, said occupancy rates for Detroit hotels and motels was about 49 percent — fairly low by industry standards.

While in agreement the Tigers would help boost business in Detroit, the Hotel Association of Greater Detroit said its members wouldn't stand to benefit.

As a matter of fact, you won't even have to have a blue book to value a Saturn SL2. Just slip behind the wheel and you're bound to notice the difference in off-the-line pickup and ride between an SL2 and other cars in its class.

A direct result of things like a powerful dual-overhead-cam-engine, a long 102-inch wheelbase and large 15-inch wheels. And while we could go on, perhaps the best idea is to stop by for a test drive and make your own valued appraisal

To begin with, most physicians and researchers consider obesity to be the major cause of diabetes in adults. Up to 90% of adults diagnosed as having diabetes, in fact, are overweight.

Of course, once you have diabetes your chances of developing heart disease, kidney disease, or going blind increase dramatically.

As a person with diabetes you'll be twice

Obesity can start a chain reaction to poor as prone to heart disease. 17 times as prone to kidney disease. And 25 times as prone to blindness, if you are insulin-dependent.

Training programs are over regulated - Beard

Programs to help needy residents find jobs won't work unless more can be spent on support services, Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard said in recent testimony before the U.S. House Education and Labor

"Support services will become increasingly important as we make the transition to serving a larger share of the most needy individuals," Beard said. "Without increased support for transportation, child care, meals and other personal needs, to avail themselves of training."

Beard, whose district includes Westland and Garden City, testified in her role as chairwoman of the National Association of Counties Employment Steering Committee. Her comments concerned proposed changes to the U.S. Job Training Parternship Act that are currently being debated in Congress.

NACO favors increasing the cap on support services from 15 to 20 percent of total program costs. In other comments, Beard said job training programs in Wayne County, and other communities, are hindered

Senate OKs bill for job-expense tax deductions

The Michigan Senate gave business a $35 million tax break when the money could have gone to the poor. - Democratic version

On nearly a party line vote, the Senate last Thursday passed a bill to bring the state income tax law into line with the federal tax code by allowing deductions for work-related expenses.

Besides job-related moving costs, taxpayers also could deduct "a fireman's boots, a nurse's uniform and salesman's travel" from taxable income, said Senate Finance Committee chair Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale.

"It's Joe Six-Pack's deduction for a work uniform. It's senior citizens' car expenses for Red Cross volunteering," said the sponsor, Sen. Vern Ehlers, R-Grand Rapids.

"I OPPOSE a $22 million giveaway to business when the governor says we are broke," said Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit. "The only thing see coming out of Republicans is tax break after tax break for business. Added Senate minority leader Art Miller, D-Warren, "I would like to sponsor this when the timing is right. I have constituents who are worried, not about travel expenses, but about making mortgage payments and finding a job." Senate Bill 93 won on a 21-16 vote Thursday:

Election Issues raised, but no interest

T'S TIME to get on with the job of educating the students in the Plymouth-Canton com-

To us that's the message voters sent to the school board in Monday's election.

We agree. We supported Bobbie Cleary and Deborah Lynch in their efforts to unseat incumbents Dean Swartzwelter and Roland Thomas. Our contention was that the board needs some fresh thinking. We still think that.

But while we supported the newcomers, we acknowledged that both Swartzwelter and Thomas were well qualified to serve on the

Both incumbents won overwhelmingly. There were several reasons. The most important was that there just weren't enough people in the school district who were disenchanted with the way things were going. There's also the incumbency factor. It's hard to unseat an incumbent.

Like juries, voters are a tough sell. And there's a beauty in it. After all the fancy political terms have faded into the wind, the voters head to the polls and cast their ballots.

Cleary and Lynch questioned the way education is working in the Canton-Plymouth area. And voters just didn't buy it.

HERE'S THE way we see it. Newspapers, educators and others are saying there's a crisis in education. Our kids aren't as smart as the Japanese and school financing isn't equal around the

But while there are Chicken Littles talking about a crisis, kids still graduate from high school, go on to college and somehow make it through and learn enough skills to get a job.

That confuses voters. And when voters are faced with the devil they know versus the one they don't, they opt for the incumbent.

We identify with the confusion of the voters about the state of education. We keep hearing the word crisis applied to it. Financing and what and how kids are taught are the main issues. We doubt those will ever go away. People don't like to pay taxes and parents are always concerned

We would hope that both incumbents learned something on the campaign trail. There is disenchantment with the district. It's a closed, old boy, Plymouthbased club that's hesitant to let Canton members in. We hope Roland Thomas and Dean Swartzweiter heard some of that.

And the best part of our election process is that incumbents like Swartzwelter and Thomas have to go out and listen to those tax and educational concerns when they seek re-election.

And we would hope that both incumbents learned something on the campaign trail. There is disenchantment with the district. It's a closed, old boy. Plymouth-based club that's hesitant to let Canton members in. We hope Thomas and Swartzwelter heard some of that:

We also hope that Lynch and Cleary don't disappear. Both had important concerns about changes going on in schools.

CLEARY QUESTIONED developmental education, claiming that it fails unless class sizes are Lynch pointed out that educational researchers often forget that just because it's new doesn't always mean it's the best way.

Both of those points of view should be expressed as the Plymouth-Canton schools look at building a new high school, going high tech with computers in the classrooms and putting developmental education into practice.

We think that Lynch and Cleary should attend school board meetings and make their voices

The discussion called for by the NAACP scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, June 20, at Birmingham's Baldwin Library - will bring together area business and civic leaders and, it's noped, the public. been said again and again, but apparently some people haven't gotten the point: Fear, hatred and ligious groups is insidious. Bigoted expressions reverberate a long time and come back to haunt us in many ways.

Most people know this. Still there are fears and prejudices that don't quite qualify as bald-faced bigotry, but which result in the ugly little injustices that occur everyday in places like Birmingham, Farmington and Livonia, and which pos pone the eventual day when racism will no long-

We ask not that our neighbors in the Wayne and Oakland County suburbs tolerate, as some sort of good deed, blacks and other minorities. But if that's not persuasive, there's the simple distrust directed at broad racial, ethnic and re- matter of justice. If America means anything at all, it means people have a right to pursue their happiness in any community without having epithets painted on their garages or being made to feel uncomfortable on suburban streets and

> OVERCOMING PERSONAL prejudice in the rbs however, solves only part of the problem. It also may be pervasive in the ranks of suburban police departments who often are said to target minorities in the guise of doing their job. Talk to blacks who live in the suburbs. Without urgent attention from all levels of government, the nation's cities will continue to be home to an increasingly worse-off black underclass. We all have an interest and a responsi-blity in preventing this from happening.

Much is needed, more than can be addressed here, but nothing is needed more than a widespread understanding of the role racial injustice has played in our society.

For that, the NAACP dialogue seems a good starting point. We hope to see you and your fami-

Deficit spending increasing

I am sure you are aware that despite Congress' promises to use the new tax revenue to reduce the federal deficit, it did the opposite. Congress enacted the second larg-

Legislators face tough choice on 'no-fault' law

By Tim Richard staff writer

State lawmakers face a tough auto insurance choice: Repair the no-fault law by tightening the rules for lawsuits, or throw more cases to juries.

Asking for fewer lawsuits is AAA Michigan, largest insurer in the metro Detroit area. "Liability litiga-tion under no-fault is out of control," legal director Ron Hanlon told a legislative committee last week.

"No-fault rewards the careless, drunk and reckless," replied Tom Hay of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association, the attorneys who file damage suits. "We'd love to get rid of no-fault."

"Four hundred thousand are driving with no insurance," added Southfield attorney Larry Gursten, representing the American Trial Lawyers Association, who criticized insurers for failing to offer adequate cover-

Each chamber passed a different version of a token measure called Senate Bill 154. On paper, the joint panel is a "conference committee" to compromise the differences. In reality, members are trying to write a bill from scratch — together. "Under Michigan's no-fault law, all drivers are required to purchase residual bodily injury liability insurance," said AAA's Hanlon. That coverage protects them in case they are

THE ORIGINAL 1973 no-fault law restricted lawsuits to cases resulting in death, serious permanent disfigurement or serious impairment of bodily function.

In 1982 the Supreme Court decided the "Cassidy" case, reducing the number of suits. "A threshhold injury had to be objectively manifested, it had to be an important body function, and it had to affect a person's ability to lead a normal life," AAA's insured vehicles prior to Cassidy, 1.506 after Cassidy and 3.335 after DeFranco.

They could save another $10 million, he said, by preventing people who were more than 50 percent at fault in an accident from suing. "It stretches reason to permit individuals to cover in litigation for injuries sustained principally through their own negligence," Hanlon said. He cited the drunken young man who climbed on the trunk of his father's car, ordered his fiance to drive, fell off, injured his head, and then sued both his father and his Trial attorneys argued for a lower threshold and more lawsuits, saying insurance companies wrongly cut off benefits to the badly injured. Said Daniel Traver of the St. Clair County Trial Lawyers Association:

"If they think your doctor charges too much, they don't pay. You sit there without care. A certain percentage of people they say 'no' to will just go away. They (insurers) will win some. If they lose, they lose only what they owe.

"Make 'em pay — for pain and suffering, emotional distress, ruined

BRIAN JOHNSON of the Michigan Consumers Alliance said his group fears it will get only a cut in benefits but no rollback in auto insurance premiums. Representing Mothers Against Drunk Driving, handicappers and retirees, Johnson called for controls on insurance company operating costs.

Sen. Wartner clearly disagreed. "I hear you saying you want to abandon the free market and institute a socialistic system of wage and price

Salem focuses on 'A' baseball crown

Rocks play G.P. North in semifinal

staff writer

Coach John Gravlin wants the words "stay focused" resonating in the ears of his Plymouth Salem baseball players this week.

The Rocks reached the semifinals of the Class A tournament for the first time in eight years, but Gravlin doesn't want them to be content with Salem, which won its first regional championship since 1983 with a 5-3 victory over Redford Catholic Central, will play Grosse Pointe North at 1 p.m. Friday in Battle Creek.

"We got on the bus and congratulated them but told them not to be satisfied," said Gravlin, who took over as the Salem coach in '84 and won his first regional title in four attempts

'We won't be happy with ourselves unless we go into the Final Four intending to win two games. We've come too far to not go there and play well. I'd like to see us stay loose this week but keep our focus."

THE ROCKS are 25-6, North 21-14. Midland Dow (33-8) plays Rochester (27-5) in the other semifinal Friday. The final is slated for 1 p.m. Saturday. All games will be played in Bailey Park. Salem faces an opponent that. being the only remaining team with double-digit losses, figures as the underdog, according to veteran North coach Frank Sumbera, who has a 419-163 record in 19 years. But the Norsemen, who state championship in 1980 and are making their first semifinal appearance since then, have as much going for them as any of the four teams.

Dan Hutchinson (17) and Tom Davey (11) exchange high-fives with Salem teammates during an emotional moment after Davey scored the go-ahead run in the sixth inning of the regional final against CC.

"They're on a roll," Gravlin said. They were 15-14 at the start of the tournament and have beaten some pretty good people. Their coach al-ready is in the Hall of Fame, has hundreds of wins and probably knows every trick in the book. You have to be prepared for a wellcoached team."

A victory over Harper Woods Notre Dame and its ace pitcher, Ray Ricken, in the predistrict game pro-vided the spark North needed to make its tournament run.

Ricken has signed to play for the University of Michigan and was drafted by the Detroit Tigers last week. The Norsemen's four runs and seven hits were the most ever allowed by Ricken.

"AFTER WE beat him, we started clicking," Sumbera said. "It was a big game for us, and the kids rallied around Marc Adams after that."

open to controversy This issue was brought home to me over the weekend.

Basically what has transpired is that Dearborn High athletic director Gene Snell recently fired a letter to Bill Bupp, assistant director and supervisor of officials for the Michigan High School Athletic Association, charging that umpire Charles Sor-rentino "breached ethics" for accepting an assignment to call balls and strikes behind the plate during Saturday's Class A regional baseball semifinal between Redford Catholic Central and Dearborn in Wvandotte.

Snell also charged that Sorrentino, a CC graduate, former assistant baseball coach and ex-teacher at the school, left himself open "to partialities and biased umpiring." He went on to say that Sorrentino should have notified the MHSAA and been reassigned to another regional.

'No question it was unprofessional not to disqualify themselves," Snell added. "He created a situation by taking the game."

What was the situation?

DEARBORN, ranked No. 1 in Class A and rated among the top 20 teams in the nation by USA Today, was one strike away from reaching the regional final.

Brad Emons

With a two-strike count in the bottom of the seventh inning, CC's Bob Kummer lined a two-strike pitch over the left field fence for the game-winning three-run homer in a 6-4 victory.

Earlier in the inning, Dearborn complained about a balk called by Sorrentino (which ultimately had no bearing on the game-tying or winning runs).

Stunned after blowing a 4-0 lead, coupled with Kummer's dramatic shot, Dearborn players reportedly did not take the sudden turn of events well.

Witnesses say one Dearborn player had to be restrained from going after Sorrentino, who did not take kindly to the post-game harassment. "I'm not responsible for their feelings," Sorrentino said. "When things don't go your way, somebody else is responsible.

"If they (the Dearborn AD) had a problem, why did they hire us on April 18 for the Dearborn-CC game (won by Dearborn 4-1)? They were happy to hire us for their football games, too. They can't have it both

ADMITTEDLY, I had questions in my own mind when I arrived at the Wyandotte regional and discovered that Sorrentino was working a CC

Lally has triumphant return

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Brett Lally's homecoming lasted longer than expected Tuesday night at Livonia's Laurel Manor Conference Center

Lally, in his first hometown fight since 1983, won a 10-round unanimous decision over unranked challenger, Anthony "Hard Puncher" Ivory, of Chicago, Ill. Lally, the North American Boxing Federation junior middleweight champion. wasn't as sharp as normal but he didn't let the crowd of 1,200 go home disappointed.

The fight was one of seven on the card in the first-ever fight night hosted by Laurel Manor.

Lally won all three decisions on counts of 97-93, 98-92, 97-93, and moved his professional record to 29-5. The 1981 Westland John Glenn graduate, who makes his home in Plymouth, was happy with the judg-es' decision, but he's even more pleased about what his brother Bradd had to announce afterward.

Bradd, Lally's trainer and manager, said a title fight with the World Boxing Council's No. 1-ranked junior middleweight, Terry Norris, been scheduled for Aug. 17 in either Las Vegas or Palm Springs, Calif. The fight, which will be televised on HBO, will easily be Lally's biggest payday in 10 years as a professional.

BESIDES CURRENTLY being ranked No. 1 in the WBC, Norris' claims to fame include wins over former world champions Donald Curry and "Sugar" Ray Leonard.

"It'll be close to a six-figure payday," Bradd said. "I really believe Brett can beat Norris. The Brett Lally who fought tonight can't, but the guy I bring up to Porcupine Mountains (in the Upper Penninsula) to train for the next couple months can. I'm not happy about tonight's bout, but hey, he got through it.

Brett could have fought better tonight, but he fought a good fight. Ivory is a runner and a holder, and those guys are tough to fight. No one can accuse me of putting Brett in the ring with a stiff tonight.' Lally knocked out his last five opponents and had not gone 10 rounds with another fighter since Sept. 26, 1989, when he decisioned Tomas Perez, of Las Vegas. Lally wore his NABF belt on his way out of Laurel Manor, but also wore a cut over his left eye, signifying the kind of fight Ivory gave him

Ivory, 27, fell to 9-3 overall. Lally said he appreciated the hometown crowd, which began several rounds with chants of "Lally, Lally."

Teresa Sarno, shot put, Stevenson: Sarno, in her first year of throwing the shot put, stayed at or near the top of the individual standings in Observerland all season. She had a personal best throw of 37-4½ inches and was undefeated in eight dual meets. Sarno won the Warren De LaSalle and Clarkston invitationals and was third in a Class A regional. Also an excellent discus thrower, she took fourth in that event at the state meet.

"This was Teresa's first year of shot utting and she worked very hard at perfecting her style," coach Paul Holmberg said. "She was often the first one at prac-tice and the last one to leave. She will be one of the best throwers in the state next

Debbie Wroblewski, discus, Stevenson A Class A regional champion, the senio also won three separate invitationals Wroblewski was second at the WLAA meet and overcame a back injury to finish seventh at the state meet.

Her personal best toss was 128-7, by far the best in Observerland.

"Debbie has been one of the area's best throwers for four years," Holmberg said.
"She is a real student of the event and willingly spends hours each day to im-prove herself."

Rebeccs Willey, high jump, Ladywood: The multi-talented senior finished her career with a Class A state championship in the high jump, clearing 5-5. Willey, who jumped 5-5 or better on five different occasions, won the high jump, discus and shot put at the Catholic League meet and took fifth in the long jump. She was first in the high jump, second in the shot and third in the discus at the Operation Friendship Meet.

Her best leap came at the Chippewa Relays where she cleared 5-7. Willey is headed to the University of Detroit-Mercy on a basketball scholarship Solid pitching, timely hitting and strong defense - what more can a high school baseball coach ask for? How about a little luck?

Rochester baseball coach Bob Dieters has been the recipient of all the above, including the good fortune, during the 1991 campaign. As a result, his Falcons, 27-5 overall, have earned the school's initial berth in the Class A Final Four field

The Falcons will get their taste of Final Four baseball competition Friday when they take on Midland Dow (33-8 overall) in one semifinal matchup at Bailey Park in Battle Creek. The other semifinal clash will nit Plymouth Salem against Grosse Pointe North. Both games will begin at 1 p.m.

I was even more suprised to learn that Frank Corej, the former CC head coach who led the Shamrocks to the state Class A baseball championship in 1979, was also part of the rotating three-man crew which worked the three games. He was on the bases during the championship game between CC and Plymouth Sa m (won by Salem 5-3).

During my tenure as a sports writer, I've often questioned in my mind whether it was proper for athletic directors to hire ex-players as officials. Should they hire former athletes, including those they may have coached or enjoyed close relation ships with at one time?

I also wondered if it was ethical for a school board member to officiate a game at his children's school, or was it proper for a booster club member to referee a game between city rivals? Should coaches, working as officials during the off-season, take games in their own league? Even when I was playing high school basketball, I questione whether it was proper for the father of our student manager to officiate some of our games. I also wondered why the dad of one of our cheerleaders was assigned to our gym.

THESE ARE simply perceptions and we should not assume, even if

Some may perceive that Sorrentino, who, along with Corej, severed their ties with CC years ago, might try to go the other way and show they're not showing favoritism toward their former employers.

"The fact that we worked there (at CC) is no more important than the fact that I grew up in Dearborn. said Sorrentino, a trained psychologist. "I have no association now with CC none at all, zero. We left because we could no longer function within their (CC's) organizational limits.

"I'm a highly trained, professionally trained umpire. My integrity is intact and I'll never compromise that fact. We work very hard at trying to do a great job. We don't see whether the uniforms are blue or white, we react to the play, the ball.

"I don't feel our being assigned affects the outcome of a game," Corej said. "People don't know us. The first thing I'm concerned with is getting in position to make the call and then getting it right." Corej is adamant about the fact

"IVORY DID A hell of a job. It just goes to show you, don't underestimate the guy with a low record. I caught him with a lot of shots that would have buried a lot of people. I wanted him to know he's never been in a ring with a guy the likes of me

Ivory, who turned pro in December of 1989, had trouble believing he lost on an unanimous decision.

"Most fans I talked to told me, 'I love Brett, he's my neighbor, but you won the fight," said Ivory. "It should have been a draw, or a majority decision. I won the fight, and if anything, I should have gotten the unani-Lally's bout wasn't the only one involving local fighters. Welterweight

Jeff "Sweet Ice" Styers, making a comeback after a 2½ year layoff, knocked out Milwaukee's Donald Tucker at 2:10 of the second round. Styers, a 1984 Wayne Memorial graduate, was in a joking mood after-

"I told everyone, 'Don't blink in the second round, I'm going to knock him out," said Styers, who leveled Tucker with a right hook. Styers, now managed by the trio of Ernest Houser, Johnny Moore and Marvin McDonald, credited his corner for the knockout.

"I wasn't 100 percent coming in; the Jeff Styers of 1988 wasn't there," said Styers, undefeated in 10 bouts. "I kept reaching for him and he wasn't there. My corner just told me to settle down a little more. That right hand I landed was something I've learned since Day 1 in boxing."

IN THE HEAVYWEIGHT division, the Livonia Boxing Club's Kermit Fitzpatrick fought to a draw with Robert Smith, a huge man from Chicago. Fitzpatrick, now 4-1-1 as a professional, was knocked down early in the third round by a flurry of punches thrown by the 322-pound Smith. Fitzpatrick's trainer Paul Soucy said he did not know Smith was his fighter's opponent until the two arrived for the weigh-in Tuesday morning. Soucy said K.P. Porter, a lighter heavyweight, was originally sched-

What did this dynamic dozen have to do to become proud owners of brand new ten-speeds?

They had to bring their collections for their Observer & Eccentric newspaper routes in on time.

Sounds like a simple thing, but with everything young people are into these days—getting anywhere and doing it right after they get there—is a real challenge.

These carriers and a lot of others met that one requirement and each time they did, their names were entered in a lotto contest. On April 9, we held the big drawing and these 12 are the lucky winners—one from each of the communities we serve

All of our carriers are challenged to meet goals—things like handling their routes in a business-like way, being conscientious, delivering correctly and on time, and settling their accounts promptly. And when they measure up, they have an opportunity to earn some neat prizes.

So, if you're a parent and want your son or daughter to be part of our carrier family, show them this page, if they think it sounds like a good idea call one of the numbers below and learn more about our carrier program.

Walt Whitman is his newest role

FTER A six-and-a-half month sic," Thomas Fiscella of Birmingham will be coming home to take the role of Walt Whitman in "Leaves of Grass," a one-man show debuting in Ann Arbor during Art Fair week.

On tour with "The Sound of Music," he played Captain von Trapp in 90 American and Canadian cities, including Kalamazoo and the Macomb Center for the Performing Arts when the company toured Michigan. Now Fiscella is preparing to switch from the stern, Austrian military man to Whitman, the dynamic American poet/philosopher known as a champion of the common man.

In a phone interview from Atlantic City, N.J. where he is winding up his current tour, Fiscella called "The Sound of Music" "a well-written, powerful play" and spoke with respect for his character, Captain Von Trapp. "You'd think I would easily get tired of the captain, but I continue to discover things about the man, about the depth of his compassion for his family and about his

After 175 performances, the 23year-old actor is nevertheless ready to move on. "As we speak, I'm growing a beard to play Whitman," he said of the transformation in prog-

"THE SOUND of Music" adds to Fiscella's list of professional credits that is impressively long for such a young performer. At Seaholm High School, he was active in forensics and in musical and drama productions. Fiscella praises the four levels of drama courses at the school, the "exceptional opportunity" offered to students. Encouraged by Seaholm's program, he went on to major in the-

"My training was largely in classical plays," he said, mentioning Chekhov and Shakespeare. Like all unknown actors, he started in professional theater playing small parts. "Everybody starts out in Shakespeare carrying spears or dead bodies," he said, recalling one such role in "Julius Caesar" where he had to speak his few lines in praise of Marc Anthony while hefting a "big guy and carrying him offstage." "Leaves of Grass," which Fiscella calls "an exploration of Whitman's philosophy through poetry," blends live performance with literature, a combination well-suited to Fiscella's double major in theater and English.

Kenn Pierson of the Serpent's Tooth Theatre Company, which is producing "Leaves of Grass," adapted Whitman's poetry into a play and set some of the poems to music. Whitman thought of his verse as more than literary, as language meant to be heard.

'As we speak, I'm growing a beard to

'play Whitman.'

'HE WAS FOND of borrowing slang from the gritty working people," Fiscella said, and Whitman incorporated the language of ordinary speech into his verse. Fiscella believes if Whitman were alive he would heartily approve of his poems being adapted to a dramatic, theatrical experience and his poetry being put to music. In fact the title of one of Whit man's most famous poems, "Song of Myself," suggests the rhythmic, musical nature of poetry. Pierson has taken the next step and literally made songs of some poems. one-woman shows on and off-Broadway in recent years attests to their last fall as it was being developed.

The setting is the hotel lobby on a tropical island. A large overhead fan, wicker and fish netting remind one of a steamy Somerset Maugham story. There is, alas, one serious flaw. We're told the place is dilapidated. You could have fooled me. It looks freshly painted.

The hotel staff is an eccentric lot. This motley crew works without pay. The staff loves to serve the Paradise's guests. One suspects early on (later confirmed) that "The Paradise" is an allegorical tale about neaven and the Garden of Eden.

We've gone soft on self-defense. expert maintains

Michael St. James of the St. James Academy in Birmingham readily acknowledges that the business of selfdefense is a tough way to earn a liv-

A former music teacher turned anti-crime and counter-terrorist authority, St. James has been spreading the technique of self-defense for 20 years, since first enrolling in a karate course after narrowly avoiding a bomb explosion in the Los Angeles International Airport.

Since that terrifying moment, "people who instigate violence against innocent people have occupied a special place in my thoughts," St. James said, adding he has become a "perennial student of any form of harm."

But aside from his clients who include both individuals and corporations, most Americans apparently fail to share St. James' passion based on lack of interest in public seminars on the issue

He speaks of the time he rented the Birmingham Community House and publicized a course on defensive lifestyles, a nine-hour course costing $125 that St. James designed. He planned for an audience of 300; not a single student enrolled.

In addition, international opportunities to ply his trade, once a fertile arena for lectures, demonstrations and specialized training, are also drying up to small entrepreneurs as individual nations build their own police and military defense teams.

"IF IT WEREN"T for the love I feel for people, I wouldn't be doing this," St. James said. Sometimes costs of advanced training in such ever-changing fields as sophisticated weaponry is more than what he

St. James discusses the natural reluctance of most people toward defensive living in a training manual he designed.

"The very subject . . . is either foreign or downright repugnant to most people. The idea that someone feels they have the right to attack us is difficult to fathom. The idea that a drug addict might be stalking us, willing to kill us for the change in our pockets, is horrifying.

St. James' "90-percent list" counters such reluctance. Among more salient facts:

• 90 percent of all violent attacks outside the home are by ambush.

• 90 percent of those who commit such acts are under 21 years of

• 90 percent are armed or profess to be armed. • 90 percent of all violent sexual assaults are unreported • 90 percent of all victims say an attack may have been avoided had they been better trained in survival. St. James cites a survey of 1,000 police officers injured in the line of duty. Incidents of violence, according to officers who were interviewed, are quick (three seconds on average) and frightening. The single most important act of survival during violence is reaction, the poll said. "Do something, anything Don't just sit there," St. James advises, and the better trained the person, the more effective the split-second reac-

Fringe benefit packages drawing extra close look

In the years ahead, local companies will continue to offer generous benefit packages despite rising costs. The reason? They'll have to.

"Companies better assess the values of their employee groups and try to support those values," said Joanne Start, senior vice president of human resources at Kelly Temporary Services in Troy. "Employees do take jobs and stay on jobs because of benefits.

at U.S. Chamber of Comn rce ngu that benefits, averaging 37.6 percent of payroll in 1989, are increasing at a faster pace than pay. At the same time, health insurance and health-related costs are increasing three timeas as fast as pay. The wave of the future, according to most local human resources and benefits directors, is flexible benefits or cafeteria plans.

Employees can choose among benefits, even opting for cash instead of benefits in some cases. This is especially attractive to dual income families who can choose the best of two health care plans.

Valassis Inserts in Livonia started its cafeteria benefits plan in 1983. "It wasn't designed as a cost savings, but a benefits package to match the lifestyles of each individual," said Valassis spokeswoman Kathy Backus.

BUT FLEXIBLE benefits may also gain favor in an attempt to contain payroll costs In Redford, Detroit Diesel's flexible benefits plan for salaried employees is a cost-cutter, according to Paul Ellis, manager of employee benefits.

Flexible plans have the hidden advantage of heightening employee awareness of benefits as they make choices, Ellis added.

St. Mary Hospital Livonia is considering a flexible benefits program for next year.

"Not everybody needs the same type of benefit package," said Robert Godek, director of human resources. More and more employers are considering it or moving toward it." Under flexible benefits plans, Godek said, employees can allocate pre-tax dollars toward dependent care or special health care expenses. The current IRS limits are $2,000 per year for dependent care and $5,000 per year

"IT IS MEANT more to help people with bills not covered by insurance get a break," he said, cautioning that flexible plans may not be a cost-cutter for compa-

Flexible spending accounts make sense for those with income of more than $22,000 per year, Godke said. Those making less than $22,000 per year do better by taking extra child or health care expenses as a credit when they file tax returns.

"Insurance companies aren't that fond of cafeteria plans because of adverse selection," Godek said. This occurs as people tend to choose the benefits they are more likely to use. As a result, the average claims experience for a specific program will increase, hurting the insurance company bottom line.

Unions are also leery of flexible benefits plans.

	Cost containment	96%
	Substance abuse	73%
	Flexible benefits (Cafeteria Plan)	67%
	Government mandates	66%
	Post-retirement medical care	64%
(5)	Long-term health care	56%
	Mental health care	52%
	AIDS policies/practices	48%
	Pre-employment physicals	33%
	Medicare/Medicaid	23%
	Pre-existing condition clauses	23%
	Portability of group benefits	22%
	Other	4%
	Number of respondents	213

The priority status given to health and welfare plans is noted in a Buck Consultants employers' survey. No other area scored such consistently high percentages as areas of concern.

"We are not considering a cafeteria system;" said Michael Schinella, director of benefits and compensation at Ameritech in Troy. "The Communication Workers of America are vigorously opposed; they feel it is a costshifting plan.

"CAFETERIA PLANS do give companies the ability to cap amounts," Schinella added

Union differences are also the reason why Detroit Diesel's workers do not have a flexibile benfits plan.

Most benefits directors expect pension plans to continue, but companies may ask employees to take lump sum buyouts instead of monthly payments.

The buyout sum can be substantial, said Ameritech's Schinella, but it eliminates survivor plans and puts the burden of money management onto the individual. Detroit Diesel's Ellis said that employers facing an increasingly mobile work force are anxious to develop benefits plans that are transferable between companies The sharpest thorn among any rosy benefit picture is the so-far unending yearly increase of 10-20 percent in health care costs. Family insurance plans can cost companies more than $5,000 per year. IN OCTOBER Ameritech will try a Blue Cross-Blue Shield-managed care program that features a single point-of-contact HMO. The program cost is negotiated each year and the company anticipates aggressive cost management by BCBS.

Schinella said his company "didn't want to go to cost sharing," which he expects other companies will adopt. Overall, Schinella, like other benefits directors, is still

"Ît's just a Band-Aid; no one knows what the anwser

He found that God had a better idea

When he was entering the seminary, the Rev. George Charnley was asked "Why do you want to become His answer was straightforward: "It would open up many doors and I would be able to touch people's lives in a way that could not be done any other way." In his 15 years as a priest, that opportunity has become a reality.

"It's an honor to be a priest in a parish like this because people do accept you and do love you, and they're As pastor of St. John Neumann Catholic Church in John Neumann has 3,100 registered families, and some 1,600 children in the religious education program. Charnley didn't harbor a lifelong ambition to become a priest. He was born May 12, 1941 — one day late for Mother's Day that year - as the fourth of what was to be a family of 11 children, seven girls and four boys.

THE CHILDREN grew up in a close, loving family. Their father had a business as a roofing contractor and their mother was busy at home caring for her family. Education was a priority. Eight of the 11 children went from first through 12th grade at St. Gregory's. The last three graduated from St. Mary's after the family moved to Redford. Eight hold college degrees, and they were expected to help pay their way in school. basketball. Charnley has coached basketball teams. His busy schedule precludes that now, although he plays golf in the summer and plays racquetball in the winter. Faith was the backbone of the Charnley home. "Church was always an important part of your life, and There wasn't any question about going to church, and

George and the others served as altar boys. The second oldest in the family, George's sister Joanie, entered the convent at 21 and is now principal of Bishop Borgess High School.

For Charnley, the decision to become a priest was a gradual one. "I used to go to church in the morning beore I went to work and was always trying to figure out what it was the Lord was calling me to do.

"They used to call me the old man all the time," he said with a laugh. After his ordination, Charnley was assigned as associate pastor at St. Joan of Arc in St. Clair Shores for three years, then as associate at St. Ann's in Warren for three years. He was named pastor at St. Dunstan's in Garden City and was there 41/2 years before accepting the pastorship at St. John Neumann in March 1987. CHARNLEY WON the Cardinal Dearden award in 1988 for his work on vocations. Each year, one priest is given the award for excellence in that area. That involved three months of study, an updating on theology, in Ireland. Charnley enjoys traveling. He's been to many European countries and to Israel, and is planning an Alaskan cruise this year. Visiting with his family is also a priority. His mother, now widowed, lives in Redford, and only one of the 11 children lives out of state. "Mom certainly is a saint, raising all of us, and she is still the center of the family. The deep faith that she has certainly has rubbed off on all of us. I think we've learned how to love and to forgive and to move on with life, not to be burdened with the hurts of the past." Life as a priest has been challenging and rewarding for Charnley, and he highly recommends it. It is not, however, without its humorous and memorable One amusing thing is that people often think priests in 1987, the Rev. George Charnley has witnessed tremendous growth in Canton and at the church.

The 3.100 registered families at St. John Neumann have necessitated an additional two (from five to seven) weekend Masses since Charnley arrived. With people now standing at four of those services, the need for additional space was evident.

After more than a year of study and prayer, and for financial reasons, it was decided to add on to the original structure.

> I felt like standing up and saying Justice and mercy are being done

We must keep reminding ourselves and others about what constitutes a good attitude and what constitutes a bad attitude. Prejudice against a person because he or she is poor or of a different race or culture is a bad attitude. It should to point out the wrong value.

Rev. David Strong Years ago, I remember visits to relatives who believed that white people were superior to people of other races. This is a wrong attitude. Usually, we were instructed not to object when such a view was stated by persons we loved and respected. Yet I believe that this was wrong. Religious people have a responsibility to point out values that are just, equal, right.

TOO OFTEN, religious people fail to speak out in matters of justice and mercy. Too often, religion in America is considered to be a private matter. This in itself is a wrong attitude.

If anyone must be responsible world, it must be religious persons. Religion enshrines values. It is the responsibility of religious persons to state these values and do things which will further these values.

Here's how Observer and Eccentric area House members were recorded on major roll call votes in the week

WATER & ENERGY SPENDING - By a vote of 392 for and 24 against, the House sent the Senate a bill (HR 2427) appropriating $21.5 billion for water and energy projects in fiscal 1992, up about three percent from the

The bill funds agencies such as the Army Corps of Engineers, Department of Energy, Bureau of Reclamation and Tennessee Valley Authority. It provides money for nuclear waste clean-up and the superconducting su-percollider, and funds hundreds of public works projects broughout the nation.

Supporter John Myers, R-Ind., called it "the allmerican bill" that "touches every individual regardess of age and what section of the country he may live

Opponent Robert Walker, R-Pa., said "some members do not really care about balanced budgets."

A yes vote was to pass the appropriations bill.

TO PRESERVE ATOM SMASHER - By a vote of 165 for and 251 against, the House refused to kill the Energy Department's superconducting super collider (SSC) project. The amendment sought to strip HR 2427 (above) of $390 million for continued development of the 54-mile circular tunnel in which high-speed collisions of electrons would yield major scientific advances. The estimated cost of the project at Waxahachie, Texas has more than doubled to over $8 billion.

Amendment supporter Sherwood Boehlert, R-N.Y., predicted "the SSC will make the infamous $600 toilet

ENERGY & WATER SPENDING - By a vote of 92 for and 320 against, the House refused to trim $107 million from the $21.5 billion cost of HR 2427 (above). The amendment sought to reduce the annual growth rate of energy and water appropriations to 2.4 percent. Some fiscal conservatives say the federal budget can be balanced in five years if spending growth is held to 2.4

Sponsor William Dannemeyer, R-Calif., called this "the defining vote on whether or not members want . . .

A yes vote was to slow the bill's rate of spending

Here's how to tell exact time summer arrives

June 21, at 5:19 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. On this day the sun will be rising at its farthest point north of east, have its highest altitude in the sky, and set at its farthest point north of west for the entire year.

The sun appears in different parts of-the sky at different times of the year. Remember where the sun was rising back in December? It was risfar south of east and setting south of west. The days were short and cold and we had winter. The difference in the sun's position is not due to any movement on the part of the sun. Instead it's due to the tilt of Earth's axis of rotation.

We orbit around the sun, but our axis is tilted 23.5 degrees. It just happens to be pointing toward a star named Polaris, the North Star. In summer, when the North Pole of the earth is pointed toward Polaris, it is tilted 23.5 degrees toward the sun as well. Six months later the earth is on the opposite side of the sun. The North Pole is still aimed toward Polaris, but now it tilts 23.5 degrees away from the sun. Therefore the sun appears in a different part of the

The moment when the earth reaches the point in its orbit, where the North Pole is at the greatest tilt toward the sun, is the exact moment of summer. At least it is for the Northern Hemisphere. When the North Pole is tilted toward the sun. the South Pole is tilted away from it. We may be enjoying the start of summer, but for people south of the equator the days are short and cold and it's the start of winter.

If it were not for the tilt of Earth there would be no change of seasons. If the earth's axis was straight up and down, everyone would have March-type weather year-round. That may not be bad if you live in the tropics, but it's not so great in Sun Deer® campers are happy campers and it's no wonder because most severely asthmatic kids are forced to spend their summers indoors. At Camp Sun Deer* asthmatic kids ages 9-12 participate in a variety of outdoor activities, but they can't do it without your help. The limitations and doubts they face can be diminished by a volunteer who cares. Your participation at Camp Sun Deer* can make all the difference in an asthmatic child's summer.

Girl Scout earns her Gold Award

Meghan Anne Lynch of Canton recently received the Gold Award, the highest honor in Girl Scouting. She is the daughter of Kathryn and Terrence Lynch.

She received the award at a ceremony held at the Ann Arbor City Women's Club. In addition to a certificate of recognition from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, she received a framed tribute from the Michigan Legislature presented by State Rep. Susan Grimes Munsell. Lynch also received letters of congratulations from Michigan Gov. John Engler and President George Bush.

The award is given for outstanding accomplishments in the areas of leadership, community service, career planning and personal development. She was one of 10 young women from the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council who earned the award this year.

Each Girl Scout creates a plan for fulfilling the requirements of the Gold Award. That plan is carried out through close cooperation between the girl and her leader.

A service project incorporated into that plan provides a contribution to the community. For her project, Lynch was co-director for the July session of the Plymouth-Northville-Canton day camp in 1990.

"Although planning for it had its merits, the best reward of all was to work with the younger girls. I think they all enjoyed themselves and learned a lot at day camp," she said. "I know I did."

In high school, Lynch was involved with theater and student government. She was a member of the National Honor Society for two years and president of Girl Scout Troop No. 501.

She is now a Michigan State University student and holds the office of floor president for Rather Hall's fourth floor.

Balustrade restores turn-of-the-century look

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

A dedication at the Farmington Historical Museum last week marked the end of a long restoration project and the return of an architectural feature missing from the Victorian-style house for some time.

The addition of the balustrade adds a kind of charm and dignity to the house," said Dick Carvell, curator of the museum, popularly known as the Gov. Warner Man-

The mansion was built in 1867 by P.D. Warner. It later was the home of P.D. and Rhoda's adopted son, Fred M. Warner, Michigan's first three-term governor (1905-1911) and a major turn-of-the-century civic and business leader in Farmington. In 1980, the family donated the house to the city of Farmington. Restoration of the balustrade was a joint effort of the Quakertown Questors, the Farmington Historical Society and the city. Total cost for adding the balustrade to the first-floor roof line was $6,050.

THE QUAKERTOWN Questors applied for and received grants from the International Organization of Questors for $3,000 and the Michigan State Organization of Questors for $2,000. Quakertown Questors, the 22member Farmington Chapter, supplied $1,050.

Farmington architect Carl Gaiser donated his services for the balustrade project and worked with contractors to ensure its success.

"Carl donated his services so that the balustrade could be authentically restored," said Ann Pettersson, Quakertown Questors president.

"It's sort of a strange story because when the city acquired the house, the balustrade was gone. They think it had rotted and fallen down. No one missed it. When it was put up, we realized what a pleasing design it add-ed," Pettersson said.

"We raised the money through antique auctions," said Pam Correll, a member of the Quakertown Questors, the Farmington Hills Historical Commission and second vice-president on the state level of Questors.

The (Quakertown) Questors is a study group whose main goal is historical preservation and restoration," she said. "We hope to preserve as many of the historic sites around the state as we can by earning money to

Greenmead: a historic jewel Livonia's lucky to have

SLOWLY BUT surely, Livonia's Greenmead Historical Village is taking shape as a historical jewel.

A trip there takes you back to when plank floors and spinning wheels filled homes, Greek Revival architecture, ice boxes, root cellars and carriage houses were commonplace, a roadside waiting room meant a Detroit United Railway depot and general stores carried dry goods, hardware and elixirs.

Since 1976, more than $1 million in city, donated and grant money has been spent developing Greenmead, a terrific tribute to Joshua Simmons' 19th-century homestead.

THE LIVONIA Historical Commission, Greenmead's overseer, re-cently unveiled plans to stabilize 10 farm buildings. The 11th building, a ramshackle carriage house, will be dismantled and rebuilt with original materials.

Detroit architect Mike Kirk, noted for historical restoration, has drawn up plans for the $70,000 phased stabilization project.

The Hill House is the farmsite's centerpiece. The Greek Revivalstyle house, a national historic site, dates back to 1841.

That's when Livonia Township pieer Joshua Simmons, a maste builder himself, commissioned Farmington architect Sergius P. Lyon, husband of his niece Lucinda, to design and build it.

landmark home was Simmons' third residence on his 160-acre farm, Meadow Brook. The farmsite, including a barn built in 1829 and a farmhands house built about 1930, stayed in the Simmons family until

In 1920 Sherwin and Jean Hill acquired the farmsite to raise dairy cattle. They renamed it Greenmead, after her childhood home in Baltimore, and hired Farmington architect Marcus Burrowes to remodel the main farmhouse.

I'M LOOKING ahead to when restoration work is further along so more emphasis can be put on programming, including more varied school programs like nature study.

As Sue Daniel, Livonia Historical Commission president, put it: "It's a chance for us to be able to tell the story of what Livonia has been, to show what life was like for the people who came before us." In that perceptive light, I urge commissioners to pursue a local Native American exhibit. Heck, American Indians were the first inhabit-

With 1991 the 150th anniversary of the Hill House, the city will dedicate Greenmead's gravel entrance off Newburgh as Joshua Simmons Drive in ceremonies Sunday, June 30.

Livonia's commitment to Greenmead as a local museum of living history is a lasting salute to the pioneering spirit that Joshua Simmons showed in bringing his new wife, Hannah Macomber, here from New York when he was just 25 and built a three-sided log shanty

How does Sue Daniel rate Greenmead? "I think it's a major accomplishment. I do, too.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Bargain-hunters, 1st-time buyers enter market

Who's buying what today?

A mixed bag, with lots of first-time buyers and others looking for bargains, say area real estate agents describing shoppers in Oakland and Wayne county suburban communi-

"It's a real variety of buyers," said Doris Engler of Merrill Lynch Realty in West Bloomfield. "They range from one end of the spectrum to the other. I have homes from $79,000 to $3 million."

"People seem to be looking for ev-erything," concurred Shally Wil-liams of Red Carpet Keim in West Bloomfield.

Sales among lower-priced homes are particularly active. "If something is priced right in the lower price range, it's gone," she said.

Sue Thompson of Real Estate One in Livonia said inquiries in her office also reflect "a wide range of interest. And there's lots available, a lot of new developments.

Among those expressing interest are many first-time buyers, young couples interested in homes priced from $58,000 to $70,000.

IT'S A SIMILAR story in Rochester, according to Liz Schindler of Prudential Great Lakes. Many of her clients are shopping for their first

The reason? "It's the best time in the last 15 years to buy. Low interest and low prices," Schindler said. Her clients, many of whom are currently renting, are interested in homes un"Their biggest concern is price,"

In Canton, homes priced from $100,000 to $125,000 are of particular interest, especially if they have an attached garage, according to Ray Glandon of Century 21.

Other priorties - fireplaces, updated kitchens and master bathrooms. "There has to be at least a bath-and-a-half, and preferably a master bathroom or at least access swimming pools. "It's that time of year. The rest of the year, pools are a detriment," Glandon said.

Barbara Spencer of Weir Manuel Synder & Ranke in Birmingham said many shoppers are looking for bargains. "They're looking for a good buy. They're expecting a good buy. Younger buyers because of excel-tent interest rates and older people looking to scale down on housing also are pouring into the market, she ket in Plymouth as a result of recent development in the area, according to Darlene Schmanski of Quality Real Estate, Better Homes & Gardens. For the first time, there is a large inventory of expensive homes priced from $200,000 to $300,000.

"We've never experienced this price range on the market before," Schmanski said, adding that sales of those units are sluggish. "Houses for $150,000 are selling quickly," defects Directors have duty to pursue developer on

We are preparing a claim against the developer and have just gotten involved in getting an idea of what we need to document our claim. We really don't want to spend any money, as one of the directors is on a fixed income and does not want to raise the assessments at the association. How can we deal with this question? We believe our damages are in excess of $300,000.

This is the age-old issue of a board of directors recognizing that it has construction defects and deficiencies for which it should pursue the developer but is not willing to pay the price by trying to cut corners or not do anything at all in dealing with the problems. Directors have a fiduciary duty to do whatever is necessary to pursue the developer, particularly when there are sufficient damages involved to justify the retention of competent consultants and attorneys. If you wish to attract the talent necessary to pursue these claims, you will have to be prepared to pay are sometimes unwilling to do so, but they are not cloaked with the fiduciary responsibilities vested with the board that has to make the tough decisions regarding pursuing a claim against the developer and getting the personnel necessary to assist in that pursuit. It is important as this early stage to educate the directors for the need to adequately document the claims against the developer. If you don't have that attitude or willingness on the board to do so, your claim against the developer will suffer accordingly. In the final analysis, members will get what they served and what they paid for - little or nothing from the developer.

At our condominium project in northern Michigan, we meet as a board of directors only three times a year. We have various delinquency roblems but can't seem to find a management company or lawyer to assist us in the north area. Some of the co-owners live in the Detroit area and others live in parts of southern Ohio. What can you suggest Recreational condomimiums have the normal problems of other residential condominiums, plus the additional problem of the difficulty in having meetings of the board of directors on a regular basis and sometimes obtaining people to help assist the association in an area where there are few lawyers familiar with. condominium laws and operation.

I would first explore whether there are any management companies and attorneys who concentrate in condominium operation in your area. You may also consider hiring an attorney or management company in another locale with the idea that they might be able to obtain enough clients in your vicinity to justify their involvement with your condo project.

Generally, condominiums of your type have meetings in the vicinity where the majority of the board of director meets, if not at the site, during off times of the year when they are not at the condominium project. Or meetings can be held in various locations to accommodate board

Can you tell me whether the developer can obtain any escrow monies from the title company when these deposits are made? I have seen situations where the developers seems to be having the escrow monies released from the title company and I am wondering how that can be done.

The condominium act indicates that when a deposit is made on a unit, the monies must be maintained in escrow for the completion of that unit or any other "must be built" items in the project unless alternative security is provided to the escrow agent at which time the monies can be released. But there are certain developers who apparently are abusing this prerogative, and escrow agents are releasing monies to the developer without the benefit of adequate security or other lines of cred-

This is a a violation of the condominium act and speaks badly of the developer who is apparently not willing to meet his obligations under the condominium documents. If that comes to your attention, I would immediately notify the developer and the escrow agent as to your concern. If the problem is not remedied immediately, I would consult with an attorney to assist you in insuring that your monies are properly pro-

Out-of-towners nudge way into local office scene

By Gerald Frawley

Office development in Michigan has tended to be a parochial busi-

That's not the case in other major markets. Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia. New York - chances are good that if there's a new building going up, it's being built by an out-ofwn developer. But in southeastern Michigan, lo-

Hillman Properties Inc., the most recent out-of-state developer to enter the southeastern Michigan marcompleted the first of planned office projects at Victor

Corporate Park in May.
Vice president of development Raymond Hildreth said Hillman Properties, a national developer of office and commercial projects, had little interest in this market until a parcel in western Livonia at I-275 and Seven Mile became available

That parcel, which is now Victor Corporate Park, was too good to pass up, Hildreth said. The property was originally going to be developed by Hines Interests, which opted to develop in Detroit instead Hildreth said even without extensive research and Hillman Properties' past experiences, it was obvious the site on Seven Mile Road and I-275 had potential.

"Location," he said, "was what brought us here."

WESTERN LIVONIA, with its prestigious office buildings, high-tech industries, upscale housing and distinguished commercial developis bound to be attractive to potential lessors, he said.

Besides location, southeastern Michigan was attractive for several other reasons, Hildreth said. "An obvious reason is the lack of national and regional competition." But just because there is a lack of national and regional developers doesn't mean a national firm will have an easy time. Hildreth said. Local developers and a competitive office environment make an out-oftowner's job difficult.

One of the greatest obstacles for these builders is establishing a presence in a community, Hildreth said. Many buyers and lessors purchase or rent space based on a builder's previous accomplishments.

Builders without a track record in an area have a harder time selling themselves and their products - es pecially in southeastern Michigan,

Hildreth said. "This is a real tire-kicker town

To get a foot in the door, Hildreth explained Hillman Properties had little choice but to build its first building on speculation. Now that the company has a finished product, Hildreth said future projects will be significantly pre-leased before construction begins.

Another way out-of-state developers will come into a new area is to find a local development partner, Hildreth said

"We do a lot of local partnering we've found it to be a formula that works well for us.'

In the case of Victor Corporate Park, Hillman joined forces with the Southfield-based Victor International Corp., a residential and commercial/office developer.

"I think that can be very important - a local partner knows the area and can help smooth over the rough spots," he said. A local partner can also watch over the site more closely and knows the local labor force, Hildreth said.

WILLIAM HORN, general mana ger of Duke Associates in Southfield, said an out-of-state developer is much more likely to be attracted to an area that makes it feel welcome.

"The city of Southfield did a lot to help entice us to come."

Duke Associates built the Southfield Technecenter and Seven Mile Crossing in Livonia. Duke Associates, headquartered in Indianapolis, Indiana, is a regional Midwest developer that builds mainly office buildings and office parks. We work mainly in the second-tier markets," he said. After projects in Indianapolis, Columbus and Cincinnati. Ohio, and Nashville, Tenn., Duke Associates felt it was ready for a major market and came to southeastern Michigan about five years ago.

"We liked Detroit because there was still need for office development and because there wasn't a lot of national competition," he said. "I think the Detroit market has been somewhat overlooked - which is good for ANOTHER DIFFERENCE between southeastern Michigan and other markets are the number of brokers found here, Horn said. Comtends to keep lease rates relatively low in this area, he said.

Dennis R. Burnside, senior vice president at Grubb & Ellis - an international real estate brokerage, investment and property management firm with offices in Southfield said the lack of interest from out-oftown developers in the southeastern market can be attributed to a couple

"One, there were opportunities that presented themselves in other areas," Burnside said. Developers are going to build where they see the least risk and the best chance for profit, he said, and that hasn't been the Detroit market.

"Detroit has always been considered a boom or a bust town," Burnside continued. "Why develop here when Phoenix, Houston, Boston and markets like that are perceived and I emphasize perceived - to be

The other reason national and regional developers have passed by the southeastern Michigan market is that local developers the best parcels and had already established good relationships with the primary users.

Out-of-state developers that have succeeded have done so because they did their homework, he said. "There's no magic to it — you target the market you want to be in and

Chemical warfare waged in battle for perfect lawn

(AP) - Fussing over a lush green lawn has become a rite of homeownership, but the pursuit of the perfect yard has turned into a sort of compulsive chemical warfare for millions of people.

"Part of it is pride of ownership, part is not wanting to let the neighborhood down, and I think the idea that perfect is better," said Mary Bauer, a certified advanced master gardener who works part-time for the Oakland County Cooperative

We all strive for perfection no matter what sacrifices we have to make along the way."

But some lawn-care products can be harmful if used incorrectly, said Bauer. Bauer pointed to the case of an Oakland County man who continued using a chemical to kill maggots in his basement even after he discovered the hemical was causing nausea among his family.

THE PROBLEM was found to be a dead raccoon in the chimney: Once it was removed, the maggots disappeared, she said.

"A lot of times people refuse to use common use," she said. "People won't take the time to find out what actually is the problem. They often look for a magic pill or chemical to solve their

Officials say most lawn-care chemicals pose no health or environmental threats if used correctly. The keys, Bauer said, are to pinpoint the prob-lem, pick the correct product and follow the directions. "As long as you use a good healthy dose of common sense first."

Some homeowners use lawn-care chemicals recklessly and in unsafe amounts, officials say, posing threats to human health and the environment. The end, they say, doesn't always justify the

"I have very little confidence that homeowners are putting out chemicals at the proper rates," Bruce Branham, an associate professor in Michigan State University's Department of Crop and Soil Sciences, said recently.

"I have a hard time doing it in my own lawn, and I know what I'm doing." Dr. David Wade, a Michigan Department of Agriculture toxicologist, said a nationwide Environmental Protection Agency well-water study found the lawn-care chemical Dacthal was more prevalent than chemicals used by farmers. He said Dacthal "doesn't pose a significant threat to health, but it is there," proving lawncare products can percolate through soil and reach ground water.

THERE ARE ABOUT 3.3 million homes and 647,000 acres of lawn in Michigan, and Branham estimated half or more use some type of lawn

The use of pesticides and other chemicals are a post-World War II phenomenon, Wade said. A green lawn "has sort of become a tradition," he Garden City's Community Festival in the Park planners are gearing up for fun-filled four-day weekend Thursday through Sunday.

There will be carnival rides, food booths, free entertainment, free square dancing, pony rides, bingo games, diaper derby, clowns, flea market, and arts and crafts displays.

The festival, initiated in 1981 by the

The first festival was held as a "fun event" to attract residents to the downtown business section and show off its renovations and improvements.

At first, it was called the Flower and Garden Festival to reflect the city's name and the spring season.

A few years later, it was renamed the Garden City Spring Festival and attracted tens of thousands of visitors to the downtown area. It was in 1989 that it was renamed again and called by its current name - the Community Festival.

Initially, it was planned by the chamber board of directors who also served on the festival committee. Several years later, the committee began branching out with representatives of community service clubs and associations serving as members.

Besides Mikolajczyk, other committee members are Bob Kleinbrook,

Kathleen Acosta, Patricia Valentine, Vivian Jeziorski, Frank Mikolajczyk, Tony Graham, Greg Price, Fred Pfromm. Tim Graham. Ron Hughes. Val O'Rourke, Peter Tavormina, Michele Szczepanik and Michael Fitzpa-
