A winner

Let's hear it for Doris Balconi. Lowell Middle School teacher and a winner in Michigan's Second Annual Outstanding Teacher Awards program.

The program honoring teachers who have made significant contributions to education is sponsored by the parents' magazine "All Kids Considered" and "The Class of '95," a joint venture between WJBK-TV2 and WTVS/Channel 56.

Balconi was nominated by Lowell valedictorian Mike McConnell, who said Balconi "made history come alive for me."

."Because the nomination came from one of my students, it is very special to me," said Balconi. "As a teacher it's easy to do good when you work with so many good

Registration

Parents of students in the Plymouth-Canton school district may register their children now for the 1991-92 school year. Parents of elementary and middle school students may register their children at the school they'll be attending, said Ginnie Murdoch, supervisor of pupil accounting.

Parents also may register their children at the pupil accounting office in the board of education building at 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth. All high school students must be registered through the pupil accounting office. Parents must furnish their child's birth certificate, immunization record, proof of residency and social security number

"It's important for parents to register their children as soon as possible to provide sufficient time for the district to plan student transportation routes," Murdoch said.

For more inform accounting office at 451-3137 between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

Kernel of comedy

Produce stand customers get earful of corny humor

By Diane Gale staff writer

Visit the produce stand at Ford and Ridge and you're bound to take home a bag of fresh corn, a pocketful of earthy jokes and, if you like; some down home talk.

When Duane Bordine isn't in the fields plowing, planting or picking, he's serving up as much conversation as produce. And he plans to keep up the routine until the "For Sale" sign at the corner brings in developers. But like everything else, Bordine greets it with a laugh

IF YOU NEVER MET him, read the cardboard signs at the stand and you'll get an idea of what he's like. One misspelled sign put up by an employee said: "No Smokeing." Bordine added: "Don't blame us, we're only farmers."

Another sign gives simple, tongue-in-cheek cooking instruc-tions to all those folks who might overcook their kernels: "Bring water to a full boil, drop corn into water for one minute only. Take out, butter and enjoy. Optional, if you eat the cob, cook corn longer than

BORN TO a Canton farm family 49 years ago. Bordine lives only a couple of miles away with his wife, Sharon, a medical technician supervisor at the University of Michigan Hospital. In five years, Bordine guessed, the farm will be gone.

But he's got so many side lines he might not notice: He digs graves, "moves snow," owns a saw mill with a partner, plans to repair farm equipment and he just might raise escargot.

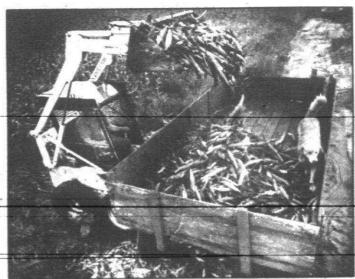

"It's the changing of times," he said. "The encroachment of city life onto farming life. There's not a whole lot of good farming property left. There might be a lot of open space, but not fertile ground When you come right down to it, I probably don't have to farm. I farm because I enjoy it." That usually means starting at 5 a.m. and eating supper at 11 p.m. "And probably because I'm half way stupid. You have to laugh at yourself in this business.

And laughing is a must at Bordine's Farms. A retiree, who asked to be referred to as Bill, minds the stand and if Bordine's around they go into their comedy act. While one Witnesses said Hollis didn't seem to slow down before hitting the truck. Canton's accident investigation team confirmed that Hollis apparently didn't apply the brakes before the accident. The speedometer on the Cutlass was stuck at 52 mph.

After the accident, the truck driver told police that he left the truck in the roadway to make a telephone

He said he got back into the truck, felt something jar the back of the truck and saw smoke in his rear view mirror. He was hauling a 41,600-pound load from Chicago to the Ford Motor Co. in Wayne.

IN ANOTHER CASE, a 25-yearold South Lyon man, who died May 11 on Ford Road, had a 0.16 blood alcohol level, according to a medical examiner's autopsy report.

He died when the 1983 Ford Escort he was driving west on Ford near Ridge crossed the center line and collided with a Chevrolet Blazer traveling in the opposite direction.

WHAT TO BRING WITH YOU

When you initially see your doctor because of an arthritic problem, come with the following information.

First, bring all your medicines, as one of your current medications could be causing your problem. For example: gout can occur after using diuretics to control heart failure or hypertension.

Your present drugs inform the doctor what medication to avoid in treating your arthritis. If you are already on an antacid, your physician would use caution in Your present drugs inform the doctor what medication to avoid in treating your arthritis. If you are already on an antacid, your physician would use caution in prescribing an arthritic medication such as Indocin.

Second, bring laboratory studies, but only if those studies are less than 6 months old. Blood tests that doctors consider important such as the rheumatoid factor, adimenation rate, and serum uric acid level, often reflect changes in your general atus. Blood studies older than six months may need repeating, particularly if your arthritis has flared recently.

Thirdly, bring x-rays of your involved joints. Again, the six month rule-of-thumb holds. Older x-rays are not likely to reflect your joints as they are now.

Finally, come with previous medical reports. This information expedites the doctor's understanding of your overall health, and brings down costs by negating the need to repeat blood tests or x-rays.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

Patterson, Ragan spent big in Schoolcraft race

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Schoolcraft College's recent board election was one of the costliest in school history, with two candidates topping or approaching five figures in campaign fund raising.

Runner up Bruce Patterson and winning candidate Stephen Ragan both neared or exceeded the $10,000 mark in campaign spending for the four-year board seat.

Patterson's final filing shows the Canton attorney raised $17,239, including $4,564 of his own money for his campaign.

Patterson received $1,000 contributions from James and Jocelyn Lange, Ronald and Sharon Mack and David Winkler.

Lange was identified as "auto dealer, James Martin Chevrolet, Detroit." Mack is an electrical contractor. Winkler is a senior financial consultant with Merrill Lynch, Farmington Hills.

Outside contributions show $50 from Wayne County Commissioner Bryan Amann and his wife, Mary and $150 from McNamara Band credited to "McNamara Bank" -600 Randolph, Detroit. McNamara Band is the political action commit-tee founded by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara. In addition, the Canton community activist received $150 from Canton Township Supervisor Thomas Yack and $100 from state House candidate Jerry Vorva of Plymouth.

Patterson also received $75 from the Michigan Bell Political Action Committee.

Pretzels add twist to picnic

If you are planning a Germanstyle picnic, besides rolling out the barrel and having a barrel of fun, add to the festivities with homemade pretzels.

Who in the heck makes homemade pretzels in the middle of summer? I do, and I learned from my momma.

Every now and then, during summer vacation, the heat and humidity have a tendency to clash with god-knows-what and produce a day of rain.

Not just any rain, mind you, but a mini-gully-washer day that has a tendency to freshen the air, water the grass and cool down the environment, if all but for very short time.

Having six kids, Momma was a pro at keeping us busy on those rainy days.

I don't remember malls or video arcades, so if we had already seen the movie at the neighborhood theater and didn't have enough money to go bowling, Momma would get out the flour, yeast and herbaceous seeds for a fun afternoon of pretzel making.

The only thermometer we had was the one outside the kitchen window that told Dad how well to dress for the day at work.

Nowadays, equipment-shocked cooks wouldn't think of proofing the yeast without just the right (103 degree) temperature water for optimum results.

Momma's thermometer: her pinky finger and the line, "That feels just about right."

I REMEMBER that wait for the yeast to proof was as long as the intermission on a doublefeatured Saturday afternoon.

If it didn't start bubbling within 10 minutes, we would try again. While the yeast was proofing, the argument about hand washing was always prevalent.

After Sissy and I had already washed once, we were instructed to do it again and "this time with

It was then that Momma would get down on her hands and knees and search the bottom cupboards for two equal-sized pans and cookie sheets.

Momma knew that if Sissy's bowl was slightly bigger than mine, a battle would take place that could never be resolved.

After sifting the flour and salt with our hands, of course, we would scream in unison, "Eeeeeuuuuuuuuuu" as Momma poured in the lukewarm water, oil and yeast mixture. No wooden spoons here. "That's why the Lord gave you hands" was all we remember.

After combining the mixture and being sure to "clean the sides," we turned the dough onto a homemade kneading board that Dad assembled out in the garage.

breadboard, for it even had a little lip that wrapped precisely around the dining room table so as not to slip while working the dough Dad made two. I still have mine, I wonder if Sis still has hers?

meaning of "knead until smooth and elastic." For some odd reason, Mornma could tell with the punch of a finger. We divided the dough into 24 pieces each, then proceeded to roll each piece into strips, about a foot long, give or take a few inches.

I MUST HAVE been 17 before I realized how to twist the dough into pretzel shapes. Now I will never forget and someday hope to teach my kids the same.

teach my kids the same.

Before baking, a fight always ensued about what to cover the pretzels with.

Our favorite was salt. Momma like poppy seeds while Dad always loved caraway, especially with his beer. Speaking of beer, that was one of the few times I ever recall Momma sitting down with a can of Pabst, us with our Kool-Aid, all sinking our teeth into pretzels hot from the oven.

That was one lesson that could never be repeated in a culinary

Party hearty

German food

By Geri Rinschle special writer

UST ABOUT this time every year I begin to plan our annual, summer, backyard party for family and friends. The menu usually features a variety of cold appetizers made up of vegetables, a platter of chilled poached or smoked fish fillets, grilled veal bratwurst (which is then steamed in dark beer), a noodle or spatzle salad, assorted vegetable and mixed green salads, a baked fruit tart and traditional German spice cookies.

German spice cookies.
You may think the menu was inspired after a pleasure trip through Germany, a few years ago, and you're right. It was during that trip, when I became reaquainted with the fact that German food is healthy, fun and quite diverse.

Although most of us think of German food as one continuous sausage and schnitzel feast, German cuisine is nearly as diverse as our own. In the same way many tourists keep a journal of their travels through museums, galleries and historic menuments, a food writer records the elements of every meal accompanied by little sketches of the placement or arrangement of food presentation, along with comments about the flavors, visits to food markets and names of wines, beer and other beverages.

WHILE REVIEWING and reminiscing through my gourmet journal it was as if I was sampling the splendid cuisine of Baden and Wurttemberg all over again. On this particular trip, my culinary adventures began in Frankfurt, then south to Rothenburg on the Tauber River, Hildeberg and then to Stuggart.

Rothenburg oder Tauber, which is just a leisurely drive from Frankfurt, is one great array of breads, cakes and other sweet, buttery pastries.

At the Goldener Hirsch Hotel, an old inn built in 1500, with a spectacular view of the Tauber Valley, one finds Kalbsteak Zurich a veal steak served with fried potatoes and steak cordon bleu, wiener schnitzel, masthuhnchen (pullet chicken), rebhuhn (partridge) and reh-rucken (saddle of venison).

Later I ventured through the town to sample and ogle the many elegant pastries in the numerous konditorein. These offerings still constitute the most interesting part, by far, of German cuisine: tortes, marzipan candies, fruit tartlets, and trays of pfeffernusse, lebkuchen (gingerbread) hearts and springerle.

At the Baumeisterhause Cafe, a most picturesque building near Marketplaz in Rothenburg, supper began with a semolina soup made with a light, velvety broth. This was followed by bratwurst, a grilled pork and veal sausage cooked over an open wood-fired grill

MEMORIES OF these and other specialties of Tothenburg and my other travels along the Rhine River encouraged me to cook up all sorts of German delights when I returned home.

Grilled bratwurst and weisswurst can be a great focus for a backyard barbeque menu. Any accompanying chilled vegetable salads can be made in advance, as well as most desserts. The only challenge you may face will be locating top-quality German sausages.

Bratwurst a specialty of Nurnberg, is made of pork and veal. The filling is ground and flavored with nutmeg, caraway, marjoram, salt and pepper. Caraway and marjoram are commonly used in flavoring vegetable dishes, as well as sausages in and around Baden.

If you are traveling to Frankenmuth, Kern's Sausage shop on Main Street almost always has freshly made bratwurst and other traditional German sausages. Just remember to bring along an ice chest to keep the sausage cold. Locally, there are a number of butcher shops in the Detroit area. Here are my personal favorites: Hans Delicatessan, 1049 E. Long Lake Road, Troy, an authentic German food shop, which carries both precooked bratwurst and weisswurst, along with lots of imported German goodies such as Westphalian ham, traditional German hard rolls, smoked meats, desserts and Rittersport chocolates.

FOR AN UNCOOKED bratwurst made with 85 percent veal and 15 percent pork meat, try Torpey's Meat Market, 3336 Rochester Road, Troy. Torpey's makes bratwurst and other sausages fresh daily.

Conrad's Sausage Co., 28974 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington, and at 27470 Schoolcraft, Livonia, makes a pre-cooked bratwurst, which is mostly veal with a bit of pork. Whether you choose the uncooked or the precooked bratwurst, it's a matter of personal taste. I generally buy some of both to add a bit of interest to the meal.

Beer lover makes own home brew

By Larry Janes special writer

What used to be "A loaf of bread, jug of wine and thou" has taken a turn, not necessarily for the worse.

Cutting-edge culinarians are hopping on the microbrew rage with homemade lagers, ales, stouts and pilsners in record numbers threatening to change the jugs of wife into barrels of brew.

Brian Hassell of Livonia was so impressed with his first batch of homemade dark amber ale that a second batch of Canadian ale is brewing as you read this. Hassell is even beginning to ask friends and neighbors to start saving the brown long-neck bottles for next month's batch. A senior this year at Eastern Michigan University, majoring in Food Systems Management, Hassell is a night sous chef at MacKinnon's Restaurant in Northville.

When asked what prompted him to get into home microbrewing, Hassell claims that it's simply his "love for the stuff." Working as a chef in a few Washtenaw County watering holes exposed Hassell to different brews from around the world and began kindling his interest in making homemade brew. Hassell's fellow chef, Steve Shaughnessey, told him about Mark George, owner of the Wine Barrel in Redford, a beer/wine/deli operation that offers an extensive assortment of home brew kits.

It was here that Chef Hassell picked up a home brewing kit consisting of a fermenter, air lock, syphon, hydrometer, capper, sanitizer, thermometer and all the necessities to begin bottling his personal favorite, a dark amber ale.

A quick trip over to the Wine Barrel turned into an afternoon discussion with owner Mark George, who seemed to know (and stock) just about everything the home brewer would need to get started. George stocks kits that allow the home micro-brewer to invest as little as $13.99, plus starters, to get brewing. "After a recent PBS special on home brewing, requests for brewing supplies shot off like a rocket," said George, who answered the call with his own boxed, brewing kit, self-assembled, consisting of all the professional equipment for $65 and change.

But what about the taste, you ask? I've been known to tip a few brews in my day and have tasted various restaurant micro-brews from the Traffic Jam and even coerced a taste from master brewers George and Hassell. The home brews I sampled were very tasty, with little after-taste, some sediment and what seemed to be a little more fizz. I found that pouring the home brew into a pre-chilled beer mug and allowing it to sit for a few minutes before tasting improved its character tenfold.

But before you set off with cash in hand, and dreams of owning your own Clydesdales, you should know a Federal statute states, "Any individual head of household is allowed to brew a maximum of 200 gallons per year." If your visions of brewing include Clydesdales, you first must be qualified as a micro-brewery from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

For additional information on home brewing, write Mark George at the Wine Barrel, 25303 Plymouth Road, Redford 48239, or call him at 533-wine.

CITY OF PLYMOUTH SIGN ORDINANCE AS ADOPTED BY CITY COMMISSION July 1, 1991

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 5.202 OF CHAPTER 52, ZONING, OF

The intent of this ordinance is to regulate the location, size, construction and nanner of display of signs and outdoor advertising in order to minimize the harmful effects on the public health, safety and welfare. It is intended by this ordinance to give recognition to the legitimate needs of business, industry and other activities, through appropriate guidelines, in attaining their identification and informational objectives. It is a basic tenet that failure to regulate them may lead to poor identification of neighboring businesses, deterioration and blight of the business and residential areas of the City, conflicts between different types of land use, and reduction in traffic safety to pedestrians and motor-

Unique geographical characters, a marine influence and the elevations of the Santa Cruz Mountains combine to yield distinctive wines not duplicated in other California wine

Although virtually all winegrowing in the Santa Cruz Mountains ceased with Prohibition, there were a few local vintners who continued to believe in the future of the region. Two among them were brothers Philip and John Bargetto, emigrees from the renowned mountainous winegrowing region of the Piedmont

Because of their understanding of the quality of grapes grown in the Santa Cruz Mountains, they decided to establish a winery in the region, in 1933, at the end of Prohibition. By the mid-1940s, American wine consumers had become more knowledgeable about wine. Consequently, in 1946, John Baragetto launched a major winery expansion which was to become the winery's main storage cellar. It is still used

The Bargetto family winemaking traditions continued with John's son Lawrence, after whom the winery is named. Through the mid-1960s, the winery was able to produce all its wine from Santa Cruz Mountain is difficult work and a labor of love. By the late 1970s, the Bargettos realized the mountain grape supply had so diminished that they had to source grapes outside the region. However, by the mid-1980s, new vineyards came into production and the winery returned to its roots with the production of wines with the Santa Cruz Mountain appellation.

Today, the Lawrence J. Bargetto Winery continues to be owned and operated by the Bargetto Family. Limited annual production enables the winery to produce vineyard-desgnated wines from the unique Santa Cruz Mountain and other select viticultural areas.

Wine selections from Bargetto fall into three tiers. In the lowest tier, with pricing about $7, are sauvignon blanc and cabernet sauvignon with a California appellation. Priced midrange, about $11, are chardonnay and carbernet sauvignon with a "Cypress" designation. These wines are produced from grapes grown in California's Central Coast.

Bargetto's super-premium offerings bear the Santa Cruz Mountain designation and carry a price tag around $20 for chardonnay, cabernet sauvignon and pinot noir. "It's Bargetto's aim to make elegant wines from mountain-grown fruit," John Bargetto states. "Without special care, mountain grapes can end up as a clumsy, angular pour. We're looking for a generous palate impression from well-extracted fruit. We want the wine to come across rich, finesseful and ageable."

Flavorful fruit wines constitute about 15 percent of Bargetto's production under the Chaucer's label. Among these, the Plum Wine ($9.75) is fragrant and delicious. Serve it chilled after dinner. The method of producing this wine from Santa Rosa plums has not changed from the original created by John's father

IT IS PRODUCED utilizing whole fruit without the addition of artifiWINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

1989 Bargetto Cypress Chardonnay ($11) offers lemony and citrus impressions in the aroma and on the palate. Vanilla accents add an attractive touch. This fruity, crisp, light and appealing chardonnay is perfect for summertime drinking with seafood salads.

1988 Bargetto Santa Cruz Mountain Chardonnay ($20) makes a bold statement and is a perfect accompaniment for lobster with drawn butter. Concentrated and extracted with depthful flavors, its creamy style will match well with any buttery sauce preparation for seafood We like this wine because it is big and rich without being overoaked cial flavorings, concentrates or colorings. Although exhibiting a richness similar to a fine liqueur, this specialty dessert-style wine is not fortified and contains only 10 percent alcohol.

Like most unfortified fruit wines. it should be consumed shortly after purchase to enjoy its natural, rich

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON-A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named produce Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food

Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight bat-tle for 12 years used the product on endation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry. Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a perscription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Black Tie Affair prevails

Pat Day, who will be inducted into the National Museum of Racing's Hall of Fame next month, said he was just along for the ride.

All those who bet on Black Tie Affair could have said the same thing. Heck, they might have been able to play pilot in this Michigan Mile that's how easy the win came.

A heavy favorite with the bettors, the gray horse burst from the gate out of his No. 4 slot to grab the lead instantly. He fought off a pair of challengers down the backstretch and pulled away over the last halfmile to post a convincing victory in the 43rd running of the Mile in front of 11,759 Saturday at Ladbroke DRC

Black Tie Affair's winning time of 1:49.8 over the 1 1/4-mile course was far off the Mile record of 1:47.4, first set by Calandrito in 1969 and equalled by Fast Hilarious in 1970. But had Affair been pushed over the last half of the race, he might have chal-

"HE DID all the work. I was just the passenger," said Day of his "I encouraged him ever so mildly (midway through the race) and he finished very strong.

"He was a pleasure to ride wasn't sure how fast (the field) would want to go early and when I found us in the lead, he relaxed and just went with it."

Which pinpointed one of the qualities that has endeared Affair to bettors - his ability to adapt to any type of race.

Every time he runs, he goes with whatever develops," said owner Jeff Sullivan, an auto dealer from Arlington Heights, Ill. "He runs well off the Affair had no such worries in this race. Rain threatened throughout the afternoon but never developed, and the Mile was run on a fast track. Be-fore he reached the first turn, Affair had opened up a full-length lead over

Black Tie Affair, ridden by future Hall of Fame jockey Pat Day, became the first horse since 1977 to lead wire to wire in the Michigan Mile.

Black Tie Affair's time of 1:49.8 Saturday also made him the first favorite to win the race since 1988.

could pull closer than a half-length. Lotus Pool faded midway through the race, but Whiz Along kept pace until the final stretch.

Affair proved to be too much, though. Whiz Along dropped back, too, finishing 21/2 lengths behind. Solo Matt, the only Michigan-bred horse in the race, came on to place third, ahead of Private School.

"Hey, we gave it our best shot," said Whiz Along jockey Carlos Marquez. "What else can you do? The winner was too much."

Unfortunately for bettors, Affair didn't pay too much - $3.20 to win. tying for the second-lowest payout for a winner in Mile history. Whiz Along paid $20.60 to place and $9.40 to show, while Solo Matt paid $5.80

AFFAIR WENT off a 3-5 favorite, which might have been perceived as a jinx, considering recent Miles. The last time a favorite won was Lost Code in 1988. Present Value was the unset winner in '89, with Beau Genius doing the same in '90.

Indeed, one must go back to 1979 to find the last wire-to-wire winner in the Mile: Sensitive Prince.

Affair's owner had his concerns coming into the race, even though his 5-year-old had 13 triumphs in 40 starts. "I was a little concerned about the track," said Sullivan. "I was told it was kind of sandy. He ran on a sandy track in Louisiana without too much success Of course, putting Day in the saddle - the 37-year-old is one of only 12 North Americans to post 5,000 career wins — helped allay many con-cerns. "He was the best 'passenger," I think," said Sullivan. As for Affair's future, Sullivan couldn't be specific. "For the first year, I thought we had pretty much a sprinter," he said of Affair. "But he's shown he can stretch it out in the last year and a half."

Affair not only stretched it out, he outdistanced the pack in the Mile

Scholarship offering tribute to Fitzpatrick

ILLY JOEL'S song may have said it best: "Only the good die young.' State trooper Kermit Fitzpatrick, a member of the Livonia Boxing Club, was a good man and only 30 when he was slain a week ago Sunday morning after he pulled over a motorist on I-96 near Joy Road in Detroit. (A suspect being held by Ohio police, is await-

Eulogized before over 1,000 mourners Friday at St. Stephen AME Church in Detroit, Fitzpatrick was described as someone you could look up to, a positive black role model.

"You wonder why these things happen, I just could not believe it, said Livonia Boxing Club director Paul Soucy, who was Fitzpatrick's manager and coach. "We had a lot of good times together. Kermit wanted to be coach at our club after his (boxing) days were over. He had good rapport with the kids."

FITZPATRICK got a late start in the sport of boxing, but the 6-foot-3, 235-pound Highland Park native was an accomplished enough as amateur to place second in the National Golden Gloves and earn a berth in the 1988 Olympic Trials.

He turned professional last year and was 4-1-1, but unhappy with his most recent result, a draw at Livonia's Laurel Manor Conference Center against Chicagoan Robert Smith, a man who outweighed him by nearly 100 pounds.

'Kermit was very disappointed, he thought he should have won that fight," Soucy recalls. "He was a very proud man. I didn't hear from for two weeks, but then he came over my house to watch the tapes. He was still convinced he won the

A captain in the army reserve, Fitzpatrick led a disciplined life-style, but he always had a soft spot in his heart. Soucy also recalls the time Fitzpatrick wrote a letter for leniency to a Detroit judge for a defendant, a fellow boxer, who was

To be part of the solution, not part of the problem.

Times change. There was once a time when we thought that providing the very best community news coverage was enough

Today it's not. Today we have a responsibility not only to our readers and advertisers, but also to our environment

That's why 30% of the newsprint we put on our press has been recycled. This will increase when our other suppliers bring recycled newsprint on line later this year.

Our communities and the entire State of Michigan face a solid waste crisis.

There used to be 624 Type II landfills in Michigan*. The trash from your home, your neighbor's homes and the businesses in your town goes into a Type II landfill. As you read this, there are only 71 of them still open and licensed to do business. That's 71 in all of Michigan's 83 counties. Estimates say one-third of these will be out of business in less than five years.

So what can a business like ours do to be part of the solution and not part of the problem?

We're buying and printing your newspaper on recycled newsprint. We're looking for other recycled products to use in our business. We're recycling all of our newsprint and office paper. We're working to increase public awareness and participation. We're encouraging our readers to recycle.

How can you help? Why not begin with this newspaper; recycle it along with others you may have collected. Then start buying recycled products. Spread the word about those landfills and recycle this page by sharing it with a friend.

And if you are already recycling-thank you.

care specialist at Sea World Ohio "I saw an ad in the paper for a isfy my curiosity," he said. He has been managing the ducks ever since supervising the breeding program at the farm just out of town, where the original five ducks and their descendants now number 30

Lauby has been through two generations. "These ducks are not pets. We don't give them names. They're trained, but they still do everything that ducks do in the wild."

"Ducks are very color conscious and the drake thinks I'm his competition when I wear my green jacket,' Lauby says, laughing. "He has had his head down in a defensive position several times, because he thinks I'm trying to lure his females away from

THE PEABODY ducks continue all their other mating rituals too, so guests are sometimes startled to see hem mating in the fountain. They are not potty-trained and they are very territorial, so they stay in the fountain most of the time. Observant guests notice that a housekeeper approaches the fountain every 15 minites or so to clean up what the ducks have left behind.

"The water is changed daily, it is not recycled," Lauby said. People come to see the ducks, but love to see the people. We have a ot of conventions here so there's the

The ducks are used to this royal adulation. They don't pay any attention. They swim in the fountain, or march around its marble lip, for the rest of the day, until the "King Coton March" plays again.

The crowds gather again. The lashguns explode. The audience claps its hands. And the ducks march back to the elevator. Up, up to the Royal Duck Palace on the fourthfloor roof. The palace has fresh running water spurting from brass duck fountains into a black marble pool, a fire-prevention system, track lighting and a ceiling fan for hot summer

It's a tough job for a duck, but somebody's got to do it.

IRIS SANDERSON JONES

Couple finds travel in Romania easy

"It was hard to believe that we were in Romania once again.'

That was John Schroth of Redford, who spent three weeks this summer traveling through eastern Europe with his wife Mary. Mary's family comes from Hungary. John's family comes from Romania. They traveled to both countries two years ago, before the wall came down in Berlin and things began to change in eastern Europe.

The State Department has issued a travel advisory about Romania, which means that they don't recommend travel there, but Schroth didn't know about that until after he got home. It probably wouldn't have stopped him anyway.

When we went to Romania in 1989, before the revolution, we had a hard time getting in," he said. " The border guards searched everything. We had to take everything out of the car. They even made us open the hood. It was the same way going out.

"But this time, in 1991, we had no problem at the border of Romania. I paid $63 for a visa for my wife and myself. The border guard gave me a small form to be filled out, and that "If you drive into Romania as we did, you must buy coupons at the tourist office to purchase gas. Usually there are about 20 or more cars in line for gas, but foreigners are allowed to go ahead of the line.

We visited my cousin in a small town called Deta, and had a very good time. They seem to have everything but on a smaller

I love to hear stories like that about readers who travel. Governments and public relations professionals give us the factual information we need to plan trips, but there is nothing like a personal experience to make that information real.

If you have a brief experience to share with us, in or out of the country, send it to me at 22000 Springbrook, Suite 206C, Farmington Hills 48336. Feel free to include one color print of yourself in a travel setting, as long as it does not need to be returned.

THE MIDWEST is more likely to be on your calendar this month. If so, here are some of the events that may brighten your summer:

• Nautical festival - The Rogers City Nautical Festival has been chosen by the state for its special list of festivals celebrating the Great Lakes this summer. It will be July 31 through Aug. 4.

They are advertising it as a real homecoming. Lake Huron style. There will be brass bands, polka music, ethnic foods, a kiddie carnival, a children's parade, fishing and softball tournaments, grand prix bike race, 10K run and fireworks

Rogers City, in the northeast Lower Peninsula 255 miles from Detroit, is known for its beaches, boating facilities, fishing and for the world's largest limestone quarry. Offshore shipwrecks are accessible to scuba divers.

The twin 7-foot Ocqueoc Falls cascade over fossilized coral limestone into natural wading pools 12 miles west of town.

 Michigan Festival — You can now buy a $12 admission button for the fun and games scheduled for the fifth annual Michigan Festival in East Lansing Aug. 9-18. The button, which saves on the gate charge of $14, will buy you four weekend days of music, dance and folklife activities as well as general admission to 10 evening concerts.

Outdoor concerts on the Oldsmobile Main Stage include Bonnie Raitt and Chris Izaak Aug. 9, country singer Reba McEntire Aug. 10; folk musicians Leo Kottke and Don McLean Aug. 11; Michigan Chenille Sisters Aug. 12; jazz guitarist Earl Klugh and guest Tim Cunn-Detroit's jazz singer Norma Jean Bell is on stage Aug. 14; the Latino rock quartet Los Lobos Aug. 15; rock performer Robert Palmer Aug. 16; Motown's Spinners Aug. 17 and two soft rock bands - Air Supply and Little River Band - Aug. 18.

You can buy the button at Kroger stores or AAA Michigan branches or telephone (517) 351-6620 for more information.

ORLANDO, FLA. - The hum of voices gets louder as the moment arrives. They'll be here soon, stepping out of the elevator, following the red carpet into the glare of flashguns. "What time are they coming?"

"They're supposed to be here at 11."

Suddenly the music starts, the "King Cotton March." Heads turn. Voices drop to a whisper. 'Here they come!

every evening at exactly 5 p.m., so that they can spend the night in their $100,000 Royal Duck Palace beside the tennis courts on the fourth floor.

The march of the Peabody ducks began in Memphis in the 1930s, when hunters typically used live ducks as decoys, known as "call ducks." The general manager of what is now the Peabody Memphis came home from a hunting trip one day and put his call ducks in the lobby fountain as a prank.

The guests loved the joke. In 1940 the Peabody Memphis hired former Ringling Brothers animal handler Edward Pembroke to formalize the duck march. He is 82 now and is still the duck master in Memphis.

Dining at Billingsgate — like being a guest at an estate

Billingsgate restaurant resembles an estate and dining there is like being invited by the family (who happen to have a wonderful chef) as guests for dinner.

By Phyllis Kreger Stillman special writer

A weekend in the country. Frazzled by the hectic pace of everyday life, getting away for a day or two of rest and relaxation appeals to many of us. But we don't know where to go, and we don't have the time to plan our escape.

Raymond and Cynthia Holland, who own Billingsgate, a fabulous restaurant in rural Horton about 15 miles southwest of Jackson, have heard this before. They have put together an overnight package with local bed and breakfasts so people can experience a relaxing getaway, and dinner at Billingsgate, without having to increase their stress level to plan the trip.

Billingsgate - the name conjures up the image of a wealthy family's estate, set back in the woods, surrounded by a high, wroughtiron fence. The restaurant resembles that estate and dining there is like being invited by the family (who happen to have a wonderful chef) as guests for dinner.

There is a reason why patrons feel like guests. "This is a passion that both Ray and I have. We've put a lot of love into this place, and we want to see people enjoy it," said Cynthia Giles Holland, who was born and raised are mostly antiques, but not just any antiques. They are the Hollands' own collection, as well as antiques inherited from their grandparents You seldom wait for a table. As a general rule, each table is reserved for only one party per evening. "It's all part of our philosophy of a special evening. It's the kind of place where you can relax and forget the world," said Ray Holland, who has lived in several southeastern Michigan communities including Canton and Milford.

The menu, which changes every month, is somewhat eclectic. "We wanted to give people a mix between classic French and comfort food," said Cynthia, who is head chef.

Dinner is five courses, with a set price of $25 per person, plus tax and 15 percent gratuity. It was quite a dinner. A choice of three appetizers: country pate, mushrooms burgundy or cream of vegetable soup. A house salad or a Caesar salad. A choice of three entrees: beef Wellington, amaretto shrimp or chicken breast in phyllo.

And three desserts: a meringue shell filled with ice cream, cheesecake, or a densely chocolate creation called "chocolate suicide" which was so good we decided it should be called "chocolate reason to live." The meal ended with a specially blended hazelnut coffee which is good enough all by itself to ensure a return visit.

EVERYTHING WAS beautifully presented and perfectly prepared, with staff continuing to make diners, like Shirley Geggie of Troy, feel like special guests. "Very personal ser vice. I asked them to make a variation on the dessert, and they did. I was also impressed that the chef came out to talk with us," said

I was also very impressed with the service. On one of my visits to Billingsgate I ran out of gas and had to coast into a parking space. I told the staff about my problem, and some-

Tasteless lawyer joke No. 532: How do you get a lawyer to start acting like a human being? If you believe the premise of "Re-with the closing statements of highpowered attorney Henry Turner (Harrison Ford) during a controversial court case. He, of course, is defending the hospital charged with negligence for allegedly disregarding a patient's diabetic condition.

And though he hates to bring it up again, Turner delves into ancient history and the man's previous bout with alcoholism. He deftly turns the jury over to his side and wins the

Dear 32-year-old mother: Your letter is very interesting be cause it illustrates how different people can view the same scene and have opposing reactions to it.

To illustrate this point, I asked two mothers of young children how they would feel if the experience had happened to them. Tim 'Men are Pigs' Allen goes prime time

Metro Detroit has been grunting with Tim Allen for years, as the local funnyman's career has gathered momentum. The way things have been progressing lately, the phrase that would most accurately describe Tim Allen's career might be runaway freight train."

He's certainly not our little secret anymore. When we last checked in with the self-proclaimed "masculinist" one year ago, the Birmingham resident had recently completed taping his irst Showtime special - the appropriately titled "Tim Allen: Men Are Pigs." He was a few months away from receiving an ACE Award, the cable equivalent of the Emmy, for his performance at he 1990 International Comedy Festival in Monreal, also on Showtime

A national commercial for GMC Truck, featuring Allen, had just been taped for air during the fall and winter sports programming. Finally, he had just signed a development deal with Disney's Touchstone group to produce a weekly television

Now it's only a matter of time before the rest of America joins the ride. Allen's series, called "Home Improvement," will premiere this fall on ABC on Tuesday, nestled gently into the schedule between "Full House" (moved from its Friday

IN OTHER words, ABC wants the show, in which Allen plays a "Bob Vila on steroids" local cable television host, to be a hit. Early screenings of the pilot have predominately been received favorably by ABC affiliates and ritics alike. The premise for "Home Improvement" is partially derived, of course, from Allen's comedy act, and he knew exactly what he wanted when adapting the idea for a weekly sit-com. 'We wanted a show that celebrated families.

Home Improvement" doesn't mean, however, that Allen has been ignoring his stand-up act late y. In fact, a performance last month in Ann Arbor was taped for his second Showtime special, entitled "Tim Allen Rewires America." The special is scheduled to air in November or December, ecording to officials at the taping. It would be easy to think that someone as bus as Allen might be content to put his stand-up work on cruise control while developing the television series. Certainly, one could understand the amount of time it takes to sign a development deal and tape a pilot might not leave a great deal call 533-8866.

WELL, IN taping the Showtime special, Allen remained true to the masculine subject matter that put him on the map (grunt grunt), but did it with fresh material and a few surprises

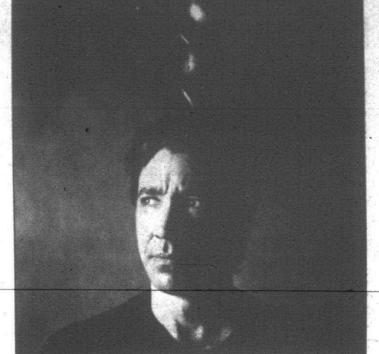

"I worked harder than I've ever worked." Allen said about putting together the new material for ance) than I thought I was going to be."

Now, standing on the threshold of potentially greater fame, Allen acknowledges that he is taking on network television. For all the Roseannes and Cosbys there have been over the years; there also have been other stand-up comics who have seen their sit-coms end up in the rubbish heap. "I'm at the top of my game right now doing stand-up, so I am risking something," Allen said. On the other hand, if "Home Improvement" makes him a household name, Allen will be in the enviable position to pick and choose his stand-up appearances and play larger venues. It's a chance he's willing to take. "It's a great challenge," Allen said. "I'm going to give it my best shot."

Tim Allen will appear Tuesday, July 16, at Chaplin's West, 16890 Telegraph, one block south of Six Mile Road. Show times are 8 and 10:30 p.m. Tickets are $15. For information,

A native American who was raised in Wayne County, Cyr, a handsome man with shoulder-length gray hair, sings lyrics he has penned.

'I know freedom isn't for me," he croons Billy Zook, a former trucker and Alaskan fisherman, now from Oakland County, plays a baritone ukulele and warbles country western tunes.

A metal cup dangles from Zook's frayed belt, holding up faded jeans over shoeless

"Haven't used Styrofoam in years, out of love and respect of the planet," he says. Bruce Jenvey, a Bloomfield Hills advertising executive who was once a member of the underground poets workshop at Michigan State University in the 1960s, studies the stage technique of Cyr and Zook. It's been years since Jenvey, a guitarist, has performed in public and this is the perfect opportunity — before a "low cost, forgiving audience."

It is a gathering of metropolitan Detroit's counter culture, the people who live alternative lifestyles as well as those who, now ensconced in suburbia, harken back to days past when social change was in the air.

THE EARTH Community Concerts and Coffee House, a monthly evening of per-forming arts staged at the Northwest Uni-tarian Universalist Church in Southfield, is the '60s revisited, but with a decided differ-

"Different approach, new energy, less naive," observed Farmington Hills attorney Gary Colbert, a former 1960s university ac-tivist who now dresses in business suits. He embraces the message of the Earth Con-prevalent issues of the '60s.

An outgrowth of the Art Center Music

School in Detroit, Earth Concerts is a collective effort that provides a smoke- and alcohol-free "art space" where seasoned and novice performers do their own thing with-out censorship. Concerts benefit such diverse groups as St. Dominic's soup kitchen and Victims of War.

Cyr, a professional musician, performs periodically, on request during the programmed portion of the show that starts promptly at 9 p.m. Zook, an amateur, is a regular. Jenvey is new, performing during "open mike" when anyone who wishes may appear between 7:30 and 9 p.m. Nobody is paid.

"IT'S THE entire spectrum of humanity; every race, creed, non-creed, anarchist, any point of view," said Craig Schenk, a 1969 graduate of Seaholm High School in Birmingham and a member of the collective that produces Earth Concerts. "In a nutshell, we support anything that's good. We oppose anything that's bad."

Another is Charlie Gee.

"We present a stage for a diverse group of visionaries," he said. "It's an offensive to the Rambo-Reagan definition of art."

A self-employed Wayne County busin man and the father of two teens, Gee said he accommodates work to his lifestyle, wearing to the office what he has on now - sandals, a tie-dyed T-shirt and cut-off Levis.

John Blake, a 1975 graduate of Livonia Stevenson High School who operates the col-lective's coffee house, serves a strict vegan (vegetarian sans dairy products) menu that uses only foods from the plant kingdom. Even honey is excluded because its production "enslaves bees."

King Richard III fans aim to lift his image

By Ralph R. Echtinaw staff writer

ING RICHARD III's perceived villainy has endured centuries, thanks to Henry VII, William Shakespeare and a cast of

Like the erudite scholars and amateur sleuths that many of them are, Richard III Society members work diligently to prove their hero was no more a human ogre than Winston Churchill, but rather a victim of a heinous Tudor effort to malign his character.

In brief, Richard was framed! Or so say the Ricardians, as they call

The English king's detractors, including no less a respected figure than St. Thomas More, claim the last Plantagenet king was a hunchback with a withered arm who ate live frogs and had two young nephews smothered with pillows to neatly negate any claim to the throne they might have.

Canton Township resident Mary Miller, who grew up in the Texas panhandle, gained interest in English history in her salad days, earned a history degree from Texas Christian University and joined the Ricardian ranks 20 years

She formed the local Richard III Society chapter a year ago after her husband, a General Motors employee, was transferred here.

WITH JUST 20 members, the local chapter will never be accused of especial prominence. However, the devoted Ricardians gather four times a year to discuss their namesake and refute those who would damn Richard.

'His people were completely out of power for 100 years and the Tudors wrote the history," Miller said.

"It was more than 130 years (after Richard died) before any historian wrote a sympathetic history."

SHE SHOULD know. Miller, a Plymouth library clerk, owns more than 100 books on Richard III.

"You sometimes think you're the only one who has read these books," she said.

While Miller admits Shakespeare

'It's not just Richard III. Although he's a very enigmatic character. I don't consider myself to be on a mission from God to defend Richard's reputation. I think we are all just basically armchair scholars.'

> - Barbara Bluford, member Richard III Society is the society's "nemesis" for writing "Richard III" (a decidedly uncomplimentary vision), she has seen the play four times.

"If you read the play a lot, you begin to see a lot of it is tongue-incheek," she said. "Sometimes, it's played for comedy almost."

Troy resident Barbara Bluford, a University of Michigan graduate with a degree in history, joined Richard's society six months ago

Interested in English history from farther back than she cares to admit, Bluford "quickly went through every book on English history, the medieval period, in the Troy Public Library (and still) consider myself to be a neophyte."

THE NATIONAL society maintains a Richard III library in California for its 750 members, so Bluford now gets her history fix from that direction.

Like many society members, Bluford's interest is broader than Richard alone, encompassing the entire English medieval era.

"It's not just Richard III," she said. "Although he's a very enigmatic character. I don't consider myself to be on a mission from God to defend Richard's reputation. I think we are all just basically armchair scholars.

Bluford said her husband of 20 years, Alan, is "mildly amused" with her hobby/obsession and that some day she'll take him with her on the society's annual trip to England.

An attorney for nine years,

Bluford wasn't sure about giving her employer publicity in a Richard III context.

"I don't know if the firm wants to be mentioned," she said.

PLYMOUTH RESIDENT Sara Fiegenschuh, whose ancestry is German, majored in biology at Gettysburg College (often studying on the Gettysburg battlefield), yet had been interested in English history since the dew was fresh on the lawn of her life.

In 1981, she wrote to Sharon Penman, author of "The Sunne in Splendour" (a fictional Richard III biography) and Penman put her in touch with the society, which she promptly joined.

"(Richard) was very young (32 years old) when he was killed, so it was kind of romantic," she said. '(Ricardians) just don't want to believe anybody could be that ruthless."

Fiegenschuh said the society's goal is to burnish the tarnished image of Richard, perhaps in the same way historians have come to approve more of Dwight Eisenhower's presidency since BRIAN MURPHY, an Oakland University English professor and Shakespeare expert, has tremendous respect for the Ricardians, saying they have a 'very good case" for Richard's innocence.

"They tend to be real literary historians."

Steven Claypoole, Oakland Community College history professor, agreed in part.

In Richard's favor, Claypoole called him a "loyal brother, capable king, courageous warrior and agreed "there's no hard evidence that he was hunchbacked" or that he killed his nephews.

. But Claypoole, a remarkable scholar with reams of history seemingly at his fingertips, called the society "a bit whimsical. It's the whim of the people who want to defend Richard."

People interested in joining the Ricardians can call Mary Miller at 459-8948. Dues are $5 a year for the local chapter and $25 a year for national society membership.

Canton Township resident Mary Miller, who chairs the local Richard III Society chapter, sits before a portrait of the maligned king in her study. Her three children, she said, "call it my Richard III Room."

Jackunas, Michelle Kalt and Doree Schwartz. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday, until 9 p.m. Thursday, 32430 Northwestern, Farmington Hills.

WOODS GALLERY

Photography by Mark Diem, Carol Johnson, Co Volkers and Tracy Murrell is on display through Aug. 19. A children's photographic craft session for grades 2 and up will be held 6:30-7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 25. A reception to meet the photographers will be held 7:30-8:30 p.m. same evening. The gallery is in the lower lever of the Huntington Woods Public Library, 26415 Scotia, Huntington Woods. Closed Saturday and Sunday.

DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

"Collaboration in Print — Stewart & Stewart Prints: 1980-1990" is on exhibit in the Red Carpet area through Aug. 18. Then this show of 56 prints by 20 artists (six from Michigan) from the only professional workshop in this state goes on tour to Michigan, Ohio and Missouri. The screen process, cliche-verre, high relief intaglio and lithography are represented. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday, 5200 Woodward, Detroit.

PARK WEST GALLERY

"Erte - The Estate Collection" features paintings, sculptures, serigraphs and jewelry from the estate of Romain de Tirtoff (Erte, 1892-1990). Erte was a highly productive artist until he died. He produced some of his greatest works in his last decade. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, until 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, 29469 Northwestern, Southfield.

© CRANBROOK ACADEMY OF ART MUSEUM

Student Summer Show, 70 works by recent graduates, continues through Sept. 15. "The Vessel Aesthetic: Ceramics by Maija Grotell" continues through Oct. 27 and "New and Notable Acquisitions" runs through Oct. 27 as well. Summer hours are 1-5 p.m. Wednesday-Sunday, 500 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

O HILL GALLERY

Sculpture by Sandra Osip is on display through July 20, 163 Townsend, Birmingham.

Be rational in how you use your time time: 24 hours per day. Some spend that time wisely and some don't. The question is: "What is wisely?"

Everyone decides the value of things from their own perspective, from their own paradigm. Unfortunately, these decisions are sometimes rationalized instead of being

I excerpted the following from 'Something to Think About" (author unknown) in our church bulletin. It illustrates the different ways people look at the same thing:

"FUNNY - a 10 dollar bill looks so big when you take it to church, but so small when you take it to the store. FUNNY — an hour seems long when you consider giving to the work of the church, but short who spent for fishing, playing golf, watching TV, etc. FUNNY — it's difficult to find time to read a chapter in the Bible, but we can manage several hundred pages in a current novel. FUNNY - it's such a task to fit a few church events into our busy schedules, but a social invitation can often be worked into them at the last

In the fifth grade, I learned an axiom that repeatedly pops back into my mind: "Every person makes the best decision they can, based on what they have to work with at that time" (their attitudes, personal experience, pressures, current environment, etc. - their paradigm.) Whether it's how to deal with a situation or how to spend money, each person makes the "right" decision at that moment.

(Sadly, when a person doesn't know a better way to handle a situation, too often these days the result is murder. That's not to say it's right, acceptable or excusable from society's point of view, but using a gun is the "best" way a murderer knows to handle the situation at that moment.) AND SO it is with the way we spend our time. Although we'd be loathe to admit it, most of us choose what to do acDorothy Lehmkuhl cording to whether we want to do it or not - which means it's the 'right" decision for us.

This includes everything from outof-town business trips to exercising, from what we eat to which papers on our desk to handle next. Although these decisions are the best we know how to make them, too often they are not correct from an overall per spective and will not lead us toward achieving our goals.

The next time you decide how to spend your time, ask yourself if you are rationalizing or if you're being rational. Will you make a knee-jerk excuse based on doing what you'd rather do, or will you base your decision on what's best for you and those around you, and spend your time wisely?

Dorothy Lehmkuhl is a time management consultant based in Birmingham. Her column runs regularly.
