School tax base gets subdivision

Plymouth-Canton Schools appear likely to gain 80 acres of valuable land without paying a penny or lifting a finger.

The south Canton property is part of Van Buren School District. Officials there sought the land transfer at the request of developers, and the county's intermediate school board approved the move Wednesday. None of the governments involved opposed the change.

"They are giving us land," said Richard Egli, a spokesman for Plymouth-Canton

I think we went from a no-win to a win-win situation," said James Richendollar, superin-tendent of the 6,300-student Van Buren

Pheasant View subdivision, part of Canton's 600-acre residential and golf course development, is to be located on the property. The land borders Beck Road between Proctor and DEVELOPERS Jan Masciulli and Bob Paciocco want the change to keep their planned upscale subdivision in a single school district, said Bryan Amann, the lawyer who represented Paciocco and Masciulli.

"You can't divide a neighborhood between school districts," seid Amann, who is a Wayne County Commissioner representing Canton. The school districts have different tax rates.

But Amann said the issue isn't that property in Plymouth-Canton Schools is more valuable than property in Van Buren Schools.

In exchange, what the developers agreed to do for Van Buren Schools is to place in escrow a five-lot parcel of land worth $250,000. The property would be deeded to Van Buren Schools if Paciocco and Masciulli didn't develop homes on a separate site by 1996. The developers already had an option on other land in Van Buren Schools, Amann said.

"IT'S A GOOD DEAL for Van Buren Schools," said Amann. "They get a guarantee for development, but they don't really give anything up.

He said the land to be transferred to Plymouth-Canton Schools, would eventually contain 162 homes, and that the district could collect up to $5,000 in tax revenues per home.

The proposal still needs approval from the state Board of Education, which is expected, Amann said.

'No one has objected and I don't think anyone will."

Richendollar said that if Van Buren Schools had wanted to play "hardball," the develop-apartment complexes.

Typically, the trucks were broken into through the passenger door. In some cases, cassette tapes were taken as well.

All the vehicles were late model Ford pickups, Rangers, Explorers and Broncos. Canton detectives could not be reached for comment Friday, but an investigator with a regional anti-theft unit called the incidents puzzling.

"They're doing something with them," said Sgt. Harold Mosher of the Western Wayne County Auto Theft unit. Similar reports have come from as far away as the northwestern lower peninsula and elsewhere in the Detroit area, he said. At least one area auto dealer has been struck. In Canton alone, more than a dozen trucks were struck last Wednesday and Thursday, said Det. Roy Schroeder.

The component controls the truck's electrical system, but it's not clear what their use is outside the truck. Inside the non-descript metal

Ham it up Easter and later

Anyone who thinks that the traditional Easter ham Momma prepared, studded in glory with cloves and dripping with a glaze of brown sugar and molasses was something "thrown together" hasn't visited a good butcher shop or deli lately.

Nowadays, consumers are faced with the choice of buying a ham either fresh or smoked, canned or country, sliced or boned, glazed or grazed, steak or

Barring game, pork is North America's oldest meat. Pigs came with the earliest settlers, and were set loose to fatten in the Most pork comes from pigs less than one year old, so the meat is naturally tender. Ham is a processed pork product. Smoked hams can be fully cooked, ready-to-cook or country style.

THE FULLY cooked ham can be simply heated and served cube it and throw a handful into the scalloped potatoes or enjoy a paper-thin slice slathered with ustard on a fresh slice of rye.

Ready-to-cook ham can be glazed, covered with pineapple and cloves and then slowly baked. These less costly varieties are generally cured by injecting brine into the blood vessels and then are lightly smoked over sawdust.

Country hams hail from the hills of Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, and come complete with a strong

It's been said that beef is beef and pork is pork wherever they hail from, but a Virginia ham is about as different from most other hams as chalk is from

UNLIKE THE pinkish soft meat of ordinary hams, the truly aged Virginia ham has a rich mahogany color, is firm and highly flavored. To get even more technical, a Smithfield Virginia ham is one of the most prais hams in the world. Seems that a fellow by the name of Arthur Smith owned a big farm, and, because the soil was too poor for raising tobacco, he farmed

The early settlers let their hogs roam wild and it didn't take them long to discover the richness and intense flavor came from hogs raised on peanuts.

If that wasn't enough, the curing process involving salt and slow smoking over smoldering hickory wood added the final touches that made this ham a favorite of Queen Victoria who was said to request 10 hams from every voyage from the New World upon their

IF ALL these different varieties and cuts haven't confused you, wait until you hear about the pork shoulder. A harn is a whole back leg of a pig, but a picnic ham comes from the shoulder. Add to this the Boston butt, which is really the remainder of the shoulder.

The muscles in the shoulder are separated by membranes and fatty tissue whch makes the meat juicy and flavorful. The meat has the same uses as ham, but if you prefer your pork lean, you will prefer the meat from the ham. Boston butts are great for making sausage and grinding.

A good ham can be one of those dishes that grace an Easter buffet and can keep on giving all week long. Budget stretchers can use whole bone-in hams long after Easter has departed. A great budget stretcher that won't remind us of "leftover ham" is scalloped potatoes laced with Another great budget stretcher is soups made of the ham bone, which should be simmered for hours with beans, onions and carrots. Leftover ham can be ground and tossed with pickle relish, mayonnaise and finely chopped onion for a great sandwich spread. Imported and specialty hams can be expensive but never underestimate the cost-cutting abilities of preparing a whole ham or pork shoulder from a reputable market.

"Brunch doesn't cost as much as dinner," said Bridget Moran of Canton Township. "You can set a real nice fancy table and feel really good.

"You accomplish a lot and you still have the rest of the day," Moran

BRUNCH CAN be economical because eggs and bread, the foundation for many brunch dishes, are cheap and plentiful.

A casserole with a little bit of meat can be stretched to oserve many people. Sausage and bacon cost less than a fancy ham, a large turkey or a beef roast

Holly Giannola, 34, of Farmington prepares a rich, oven-baked french ast when she has guests for brunch.

Giannola's recipe, called praline brunch toast, is made with eggs and thick-sliced bread. It is enriched with maple syrup, chopped pecans, butter and brown sugar.

"I cut it out of a newspaper a long time ago," Giannola said. "I like it because you do some of the preparations the night before."

The praline brunch toast has been a big hit with husband, Lance, and the couple's two sons, ages 7 and 10 years. Giannola has taken the dish to church functions as well.

While some people stick to breakfast fare, others branch out to other dishes, such as shrimp-and-rice casserole, or chicken in cream sauce.

Moran especially likes to serve a breakfast quiche, made with sau sage, cheese and refrigerated crescent rolls. But she is flexible.

"IT'S ALWAYS whatever I am in the mood for," Moran said. "If I want to go 'all out' I fix shrimp. I have even had lasagna or macaroni and cheese

Because turkeys are low in fat and calories, it is easy to understand why turkey producers jumped on the heart-healthy bandwagon and began to offer turkey in many different ways and for everyday meals, rather than exclusively for holiday fare. Whether roasted, grilled, sauteed or baked, turkey, in any form, is so good it makes you want to bow your head and give thanks.

This week's Winner Dinner, submitted by Ann Wassell of Livonia, offers a delicious, low-fat, low sodium menu that includes a favorite re-

She earned her undergraduate de gree in foods and nutrition at Madonna College in Livonia and then continued her studies at Eastern University where she received a master's degree and became certified as a registered dietician.

During this busy period of her life, Wassell shuttled her children to and from soccer games, attended their school activities, studied hard and worked part time counseling diabetics for two and a half years at what was then called Mt. Carmel and has recently been renamed Grace Hospi-

Czech up on Prague

City evokes image of pre-World War II days

number of theaters, though

By Brenda Fowler New York Times Syndicate

For at least the past few decades Prague, Czechoslovakia has inspired the sense that travelers were rediscovering an esthetic that Europe lost long ago The crooked lanes largely free of traffic, the pastel-colored houses with crumbling facades, the flowing street lamps that illuminate their little patch of street and no more, the scent of burning coal in the crisp night air all evoked an image of what Central Europe must have been like in its pre-World War II days.

The knowledge that the city's charm had not been orchestrated by capitalist tourism officials or had succumbed to the mediocre tastes nurtured by 41 years of communism amplified the marvel.

But more than two years after the Czechs and Slovaks showed their Communist leaders the door and elected the dissident playwright Vaclav Havel to the presidency, tremendous changes are under way.

Not so obvious to short-term visitors is the economic misery of the country's 15 million people, who are struggling to manage fast-rising inflation with wages that have gone up little or not at

Immediately evident, however, is that Prague, and the whole country, is trying to spruce itself up, putting on fresh coats of paint and setting up touristic conveniences - such as newspaper stands with postcards and stamps - that make the city more welcoming.

New neon-lighted moneyexchange shops stay open until midnight and the country's first McDonald's has just opened. In the eyes of many Czechosolvaks these are signs of progress in the race to join the West

But to some Westerners it was the very shabbiness, the artful neglect, that made Prague so special.

Still, it will take a lot more than umsily placed billboards and st-dog stands to wreck the enticements of the city. One only has to look up and across the skyline of copper domes, Gothic towers and steeples flying tiny flags; or look down to the pink-and-gold cobbles that pave many streets like flowers in a garden.

The Prague Post, an Englishlanguage paper put out every sday by a band of American expatriates, contains a complete listing on entertainments. The city has a remarkable Praguers complain that much of the drama and comedy has lost its satirical edge since democracy rolled in. The Post places an asterisk next to the plays that it thinks are comprehensible for those who don't speak Czech or Slovak. Accessible to everyone is Prague Spring, an international music festival from May 12 to June 1. The site for many of the concerts is the Rudolfinum, a 19th-century building that has been under renovation since 1988 and will be opened for the first time for the concert May 14 by the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra under the baton of Jiri Belohlavek. The all-Czech program, with the 80-year-old Czech-born pianist Rudolf Firkusný, includes works by Dvorak and Leos Janacek.

Wallenstein (Valdstejn), Palace, a Baroque residence built at the foot of Prague Castle, is normally not open to the public, but its Knights' Room is the setting for several Prague Spring performances, including one by the Prague Madrigalists, a choir

The clock in Prague's Old Town Square displays the 12 aposties, Jesus, a skeleton and a cockerel every hour.

Yet another impressive setting is the Estate Theater, formerly called the Tyl Theater, the place where Mozart directed when he was in Prague. Manfred Hemm will sing the role of Figaro in Mozart's opera "The Marriage of Figaro" in one performance only, on May 18.

Mozart's "Don Giovanni" will be performed May 24 and 26. Tickets for all concerts, between $6 and $55, can be ordered through most travel agencies or by sending a request by fax to

SIGHTSEEING

Prague is best understood on foot. One can spend days or weeks tracing the city's history through its neighborhoods — tracking down, for instance, the Cubist villas built under the influence of the Parisian movement in this century's teens (such as the one by the architect Josef Chochol at 30 Neklanova or his villa at 49

A traditional and more defined walk that takes not more than an hour starts on the Old Town (Stare Mesto) side of the 14th-century Charles Bridge, which during the day is crowded with young musicians and artists selling their crafts.

The walk goes through the Gothic tower at the other end and up Mostecka Street to Malostranska Namesti, the square with the Baroque St. Nicholas Church. Cutting across the square to the right, you then take Nerudova, an ancient street lined with Renaissance, Barogue and rococo houses that leads up to the castle.

The huge castle complex is filled with interesting museums and other diversions, including the newly renovated Belvedere, Prague's most important Renaissance building, at Chotkovy sady. The Belvedere, a summer bo that the Austrian Emperor Ferdinand I had built for his wife Maria, now houses traveling exhibitions. It is worth going inside no matter what's on.

The Belvedere is open Tuesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Wednesday to 7:30 p.m.. Admission is 30 cents. For more information call 206780

One of the city's most interesting parks is the Zahrada na valech (Garden on the Ramparts), accessible at the top of the stairs from Nerudova and open daily from dawn to dusk April to October.

The park was designed by the long-neglected Slovenian architect Joze Plecnik in the 1920s, The ramparts, which just skim the redtile roofs and trees of Mals Strana below, offer fine views.

Coupon clippers cut vacation costs

Despite hopeful words and wishful thinking, the re-cession is still very much with

Most travelers are hunting down hotel and restaurant bargains like their vacation dollars. But trying to find the best deal takes time and effort.

An increasing number of consumers are turning to hotel-discount programs — among them Entertainment, Concierge and Hotel Express.

Typically, these programs provide lists of hotels and motels throughout North America and at certain locations abroad. The hotels and motels provide rooms at half price, with certain restrictions.

Generally, the 50-percent discount is applied to the top-rack room rate, also known as the room's list price.

In some cases, member hotels will not reserve rooms at 50-percent off when the hotel is projected to be full, which for many properties means 80-percent occupied. Only a limited number of rooms is generally available at the 50-percent discount at any given time. And there are blackout dates just as there are for fre-

Simply put, the chance of getting into a popular hotel for 50-percent off — even through a discount pro-gram — at peak travel time is slim. Flexibility is the key to getting the best value on these discount plans.

The Potikers were sitting in their kitchen in Detroit one evening in 1960 when they came up with the idea of a coupon book that would offer two-for-one values good for local recreational activities.

The first year in business their fledgling company sold 20,000 coupon books. This year the company projects selling 6.5 million books.

The coupons in Entertainment publications offer dining, shopping and leisure discounts as well as halfprice hotel rooms.

There are now 157 editions of Entertainment coupon books covering various cities and regions of the world. The company operates 83 customer-service offices around the United States.

"We've seen a sharp increase in business this last year," said spokes-man Robert McHenry. "Our 1991 revenues were $96.9 million, up 13 percent over the previous year.

McHenry attributes the rise to consumers who are looking for greater value during the recession.

The defending Class A champion defeated Lakes Division rival and nemesis Westland John Glenn 4-3 Thursday in eight innings at Glenn.

"This was a real big game for us," Salem coach John Gravlin said, adding Glenn has won five of the last seven.

The win kept the Rocks unbeaten at 2-0 while the Rockets, defending champs in the Western Lakes Activities Association, slipped to 0-2. Salem won the game despite making three errors and leaving 13 ers on base. Glenn was outhit 9-6 and committed two errors.

CANTON 5, FRANKLIN 1: Plymouth Canton hurler Dan Conrad allowed only two hits and struck out seven Thursday as the Chiefs beat visiting Livonia Franklin in a WLAA Western Division game.

The Patriots led 1-0 after one in-ning, but Canton tied it in the third and knocked Franklin starting pitch-Jesse Gerwatowski out of the game with three runs in the fourth. Gerwatowski, who drove in his team's run with a single, exited with one out in the fourth. He allowed four Canton runs and six hits with three hits in four at-bats and two RBI. The Chiefs took a 2-1 lead on an RBI single by Jason Kovach, who had two hits and scored a run. Frank Learned also had two hits and one RBI. Jon Paupore added an RBI single.

The Chiefs are 1-1 in the division and 1-1 overall.

CC 10-10, U-D 4-0: Opening day for Redford Catholic Central's baseball season wasn't perfect, but it was close as the Shamrocks swept University of Detroit-Jesuit Wednesday at Capitol Park.

Ace Scott Kapla, a senior righthander bound for Eastern Michigan, needed relief help from Dave Susalla striking out eight.

five of the six batters he faced. CC trailed 3-1 midway through the second inning of the opener before rallying with a four-run second. Kapla ignited the outburst with a tworun single; Dan Gusoff added a runscoring single.

"We got down early and came back," said CC coach John Salter. "Kapla was a little shakey for his first start. He couldn't get his curve over and they were waiting on his fastball.

Still, CC's offense was more than enough to compensate. Paul Kuhn had three hits and a pair of runs batted in, and Gusoff had two hits and two RBI. George Charnley added a two-run single in the fifth; he totaled three RBI.

In game No. 2, Brian Paluk bene fited from Gusoff's run-producing single in the fifth, which delivered

Kirk Douglas stars as dyslexic grandfather

"The Secret" sheds light on important problem

By Steven Alan McGaw

Be it exploitative, violent escapist fare or lurid sensationalism masquerading as news, there's no shortage of inconsequential, dubious programming on contemporary TV. From shirtless, tropics-based private eyes to alleged news programs that focus on murder-forhire in the nation's high schools, cheap thrills appear to run rampant.

It is, therefore, all the more laudable when a series, special or telefilm not only aims to entertain its audience without aid of leggy blondes or ample gunfire, but address an important issue or cause as well. Such is the case with "The Secret, premiering Sunday, April 19. on CBS. Anchored by the fullbodied performance of Kirk Douglas (in a rare TV appearance), the movie sheds sympathetic light on the problem of dyslexia and the ways in which misplaced pride and lack of communication can augment its sufferers' woes.

Douglas stars as Mike Dunmore, the affable co-owner of a general store in a sleepy Cape Cod community. Bruce Boxleitner plays Dunmore's son, Patrick, who felt his father was inattentive while he was growing up and now resents his dad's warm relationship with his grandson Danny (Jesse Tendler.) Laura Harrington is Meredith. Patrick's mild-mannered wife, who tries to orchestrate peaceful relations between her sullen, complicated husband and her father-in-law.

In his third-grade class, Danny is known as a talented artist, a good athlete and a likeable playmate. His low grades, however, are a source of concern to all but his dad, who dismisses such worries, saying, "he's a jock." When a teacher suggests testing Danny for a learning disability, Patrick is outraged and overrules his wife.

Mike, on the other hand, seems sadly sympathetic to Danny's problems and comes up with $1,200 to have Danny tested in Boston. When Patrick learns of the plan, he retrieves his son just moments before the test begins.

Meanwhile, Mike has agreed to run for the town council, urged by friends who believe he can be an effective mediator between landhungry developers and the Cape's downtrodden fruit growers. Showered with praise, he decides winning and serving in such an office would help to fill the void left by the death of his wife.

At a candidates' debate, however, it becomes painfully clear that Mike has his own secret handicap. The proud, gregarious man now faces a decision that can affect his relationship with virtually everyo he knows, especially his cherished grandson.

Douglas is endearing and effective as Dunmore. In the early part of the movie, he substitutes his trademark intensity for a winning, appropriately grandfatherly quality. When, however, Dunmore's longhidden handicap threatens to become public knowledge, Douglas vividly captures the old man's error Boxleitner is similarly ontarget in the difficult role of Patrick, a man shackled by resentment and insecurity. Harrington gives Meredith an edgy anxiety and Brock Peters lends find support as Thurgood, Mike's longtime business partner. Tendler is likeable as Danny, if a little too Admirable in its structure and character development, Cynthia A. Cherbak's script suffers, at times, from case of corniness and a Arthur eases past most of these moments, however, and emerges with an enjoyable film that addresses its topic well. Additionally, Fred Karlin's music is nice and the scenery (the movie was filmed largely in Nova Scotia) is

-'Ask Mr. Wizard' for science in small doses

By Chris Carpenter

Realizing even a few seconds of unintriguing airplay may prompt youthful viewers to abandon ship, Fox Children's Network plugs the leaky areas between shows with more than commercials. Crammed between the ads and a range of public service announcements is Ask Mr. Wizard, a worthwhile 60 seconds of applied science. A public TV and Nickelodeon veteran, Mr. Wizard (Don Herbert) is heard but not seen in this series of quickie experiments covering topics from astronomy to zoology.

The tidbits of technology explained on Ask Mr. Wizard demonstrate the human ability to overcome obstacles through careful thought. Though some of the examples are indeed cutting edge, such as the computerized apple that measures when the most bruising occurs during shipping, the answers to other scientific puzzles are often surprisingly low-tech. (How are scientists able to monitor an individual ant working among thousands of others? Mr. Wizard claims that a simple dot attached to our industrious insect makes him stand out in a crowd.)

For children who can spend half a Saturday glued to the television while cartoon rodents perform slapstick, Ask Mr. Wizard will come and go painlessly enough. For those who dream of walking on Mars or finding a cure for cancer, 60 seconds of Mr. Wizard won't be nearly enough. TV Louing in

Will hand-me-down roles fit Mel Gibson?

Everything old is new again, at least for Mel Gibson. Not only does the actor have another film sequel for his signature role in Lethal Weapon 3 coming out in May of this year, but the word is that Gibson may sign on as the new James Bond. While his screen image may be tougher than the Bonds of Roger Moore or Timothy Dalton, some would argue that the Road Warrior is still quite a stretch from 007 as defined by Sean Connery

And it seems that Gibson is reaching even further than a license to kill how about a license to deal? Believe it or not, Gibson will play Texas gambler Bret Maverick in a film to be produced by Gibson's own Icon Productions for release by Warner Bros. James Garner, who created the comedic role in the TV western series of the '50s and '60s, will have a supporting part in the picture. Incidentally, Roger Moore also played a Mayerick on the old series - Bret and Bart's English cousin, Beau.

It's prime time, do you know where your children are? Production has been completed in San Jose, Calif.; for the made-for-CBS movie Baby Snatcher. starring Veronica Hamel and Nancy McKeon. Another harrowing drama. thing played a professional child based on a true story, Baby Snatcher concerns a desperate woman (Hamel) who fakes a pregnancy to save her failing marriage to a much-absent Air Force captain. When it's time for the blessed event, she poses as a baby sitter to abduct the newborn baby of a divorced mother of three (McKeon). While the psuedo-mom tries to explain her absence of stretch marks, the real Marco. Angela Lansbury, of CBS' pure quity searches with a pure Landson. low for her missing infant.

Baby Snatcher may establish a role trend for Hamel, who in 1991's made-for-cable drama Stop at Nostealer involved in a parental kidnapping. No word yet on the air date for Baby Snatcher.

Tony Danza

doches, Texas.

N.Y., 10023.

A: Both are on Fox, so write to each show in care of Fox Broadcasting

Company, P.O. Box 900, Beverly Hills,

Q: Please print the addresses for the Chicago Bulls and the Detroit Pistons.

Pistons is The Palace of Auburn Hills,

3777 Lapeer Road, Auburn Hills,

O: Has ABC canceled The Young

Riders? The way they keep changing their programming, it is hard to keep up.

My family really loved the show and missed seeing it. It was a nice-change from all the look-a-like sitcoms and soap opera-ish dramas that prevail on the tube. Where can we write to express our views? - C.B. Norman, Nacog-

A: The show has been canceled. I agree, it's difficult'to keep up with the network shuffle. For example, Homefront has only been on a short while, but already it has been moved from Tuesdays to Wednesdays. ABC isn't the only network that moves their programs around, but they do seem to be one of the worst. It's too late for The

ABC at 77 West 66th Street, New York,

By Taylor Michaels

O: I was wondering if you could give me an address for Tony Danza, my favorite actor. - Adam Greenly, Cottonwood, Ariz.

A: Write to him in care of Who's the Boss?, ABC-TV, 77 West 66th Street, New York, N.Y., 10023. This, the final season for Who's the Boss? on the ABC lineup, ends in a one-hour finale episode on Saturday, April 25.

Q: I'm really hoping you can help me out. I'm a big fan of Linda Hamilton, and I have not been successful in obtaining her fan club address or obtaining any kind of address to send her some fan mail. I've seen her on Late Night With David Letterman and she talked about how she enjoyed receiving things from her fans, and I've written and recorded a song for her. It's just my way of saying thanks for her talents and for entertaining me in her movies and the now defunct Beauty and the Beast series. - Mark Flora, Grant, S.D.

A: You can write to the actress in care of Triad Artists, 10100 Santa Monica Blvd., 16th Floor, Los Angeles Calif., 90067.

O: I would like to know what movies Keith Coogan has been in and what the movies were about. - Elizabeth Cease, Columbus, Miss.

A: Coogan's list of credits includes Adventures in Babysitting, which is about a baby sitter and her charges who run into trouble; Cheetah, concerning two kids visiting their parents in Kenya, where they adopt an orphaned cheetah; Hiding Out, the story of a young stockbrocker who testifies against the Mafia and goes to a high school to hide; and Toy Soldiers, about a prep school taken over by terrorists; and Under the Boardwalk, a tale of star-crossed teenage lovers and their struggle to overcome their problems in 1980s California. All of these are available on video.

Q: Who plays Wilson, the neighbor of Tim Allen on ABC's Home Improvement? -Beth Wessel, St. James, Minn.

A: Wilson, the across-theneighbor who's heard but never seen, is played by Earl Hindman.

Q: I would like the addresses of the television shows Get a Life and In Living Color. - Seth Paulanski, Norwood, N.J.

Discover 'Truth' about TV lies

Masters tourney an American crusade

By Steve Paschal

Throughout its 55-year history, the Masters golf tournament has yielded some of the most dramatic moments in PGA history. However, few have equalled last year's improbable finish. Five American challengers fell to Augusta's treacherous back nine, while Ian Woosnam held on to make it four straight years that the traditional green vinner's blazer was worn by a player from the United Kingdom.

Eagles flew with astounding regularity during the roller coaster final round. But both the brilliance and the bungling displayed on those decisive final holes were overshadowed by the wave of anti-European sentiment that swept the gallery at the supposedlystaid Augusta National Golf Club. Fans, frustrated with America's poor showing, vented their emotions on the man his countrymen call "Wee Woosie

This year's Masters has become somewhat of an American crusade. Encouraged by a field that includes the red-hot Fred Couples and reigning PGA champion John Daly, the Americans are poised to retake Augusta and apply some salve to their wounded pride with Billy Connolly in Billy, a comedy about a divorced mother who enters a marriage of convenience with an immigrant professor in order to supplement her income. Billy airs Saturday nights on ABC.

Airing Sunday, April 12, for the 37th consecutive year, CBS Sports will broadcast live the Masters final round, with Pat Summerall heading the team of TV Listing Inc. of commentators.

The acting bug bit Marshall early in life. "when I realized you could choose that as a career. 'Wow, this is fun,' I thought, and if you take it in school there's no homework."

After studying theater at the University of North Texas, Marshall moved to New York, where she worked odd jobs while making auditions and hoping for that hig break. Her persistence won her parts in commercials and on daytime dramas, plus roles on the stage:

The 10 years spent in New York had a surprising effect upon Marshall.

"I auditioned for the Oliver Stone movie (JFK), and I realized that I'd been in New York too long when I could do a Brooklyn accent better than my native Texan accent. It crushed me. I thought, 'Oh no, I've lost my

The same casting director who got her a guest shot on NBC's Wings set her up with the audition for Billy, which Marshall describes as more realistic than The Cosby Show. She believes that "comedies are strong this year because people need to to come home and be able to laugh and be distracted from what's going on in the workaday world." e) TV Listing Inc.

Jennifer and Jack By Candace Havens

Reader sick of

Dear Candace: How much longer do we have to put up with Jennifer and Jack on Days of Our Lives? Please help! I want them off the show. -M.R., Novi, Mich.

Dear Reader: Jack (Matt Ashford) and Jennifer (Melissa Reeves) are one of the most popular couples on daytime TV, especially among the younger viewers. You will get a reprieve soon though, as Melissa Reeves will be leaving in June to have her baby.

Dear Candace: I would like to know more about Ricky Pault Goldin. He plays Dean on Another World. I would like to know his birthday and marital status. What did he do before AW? How old is he?

I would also like to know whatever happened to Robert Kelker-Kelly, who played Sam Fowler on AW. -Ketta Mays, Texarkana, Texas.

Dear Reader: Goldin began his acting career in the theater. He made his stage debut in 1977, starring opposite JoBeth Williams in the long-running production of Three Plays by Thornton Wilder. He has also starred in the stage version of On Golden Pond, with Frances Sternhagen and Tom Aldrege, the off-Broadway hit Feathered Serpent and several other plays.

Before accepting the role of Dean Frame, Goldin appeared on a variety of television sitcoms and movies. His first soap opera part was on Ryan's Hope, where he originated the role of Rick. He has also been in several feature films including One Cup of Coffee, Mirror, Mirror, Lambada, The Unsinkable Schecky and the remake of The Blob.

Goldin is dating One Life to Live's Yasmine Bleeth. He has never been married. His birthday is Jan. 5, and he is in his 20s.

You can now see Robert Kelker-Kelly as Bo Brady on Days of Our Lives. He has done a terrific job of stepping into the character of Bo after the departure of Peter Reckell, whom he greatly resembles. When he left, Reckell made the comment that he didn't think anyone could take over the part he created, but Kelker-Kelly has proved him wrong.
