New train speeds improvement

The new high speed trains that will be running between Detroit and Chicago will yield a bonus to Canton Township, improvements to rail crossings. Some crossings will be moved above or under existing roadways.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI « Staff Writer

A high-speed train will one day whiz through Canton Township on its way to Detroit from Chicago. But even better for the township are the accompanying improvements at railway-road crossings.

"To run trains fast, you have a major problem with how they interact with the existing grade crossings, said Scott Hercik, acting administrator for the intercity passenger division of the Michigan Department of Transportation. Those simple crossings, such as at Haggerty Road, will be improved in one of three ways. Either a crossing will be closed, consolidated with other crossings or will be separated where the railway will be above or under the road, Hercik said.

The need to improve the crossings along the Chicago-Detroit corridor is a safety essential with the fast-moving trains. The average train now travels anywhere from 50-80 mph. High-speed trains will travel at approximately 125-150 mph.

Township Supervisor Tom Yack acknowledged that the three township crossings - Haggerty, Sheldon and Hannon roads - in themselves aren't bad. "None of them are very well-traveled." The Haggerty crossing in fact has pretty good sight clearance.

Nonetheless, the thought of possibly separating the roadway from the railroad tracks pleases Yack. "I think that's the best thing."

Over a six-year period, state money will be used in conjunction with more than $7 million in federal money to make the necessary grade crossing improvements, Hersic said.

Pumpkins promote pizza

BY DIANE GALE STAFF WRITER

One good thing about all the rain this summer is that the free pumpkins Dale Mickelson is giving away, as a promotion to his pizza business, are bigger than ever before.

The small and medium pumpkins that he would have purchased in the past rotted from too much moisture, he said. Some of the big ones that survived made it to the front of "Dolly's Pizza" on Lilley south of Joy in Canton.

"The price almost doubled this year for the pumpkins," Mickelson said.

More than one ton of pumpkins, home grown from Bordine's farm in Canton, decorate the front window of his Golden Gate Shopping Mall business.

Everyone who makes a pizza order of more than $6 gets a free pumpkin. And those people who fill-out an application can win a painted squash in a weekly drawing. There's no purchase necessary.

Five painted pumpkins, with faces from the funny to the ghoulish, will be given away weekly.

'Everyone has a different preference," Mickelson said. "I try to keep a good variety. The oddest shaped pumpkins are the most fun to work with.

A grand prize 250 pound pumpkin will be picked randomly from the applications on Saturday. 'A lot of people stop and want to know how to get (the pumpkins)," according to Mickelson adding that he gave away 2.5 tons of pumpkins last year.

"I have to admit it's good for business, but it's a lot of fun," he said.

Mickelson paints the pumpkins along with his three children, Connie, 16; Scott, 14 and Tina, 12. They

Teacher charged with hitting student

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

Robert Gale, a veteran teacher, pleaded not guilty Tuesday in 35th District Court to charges he struck a student at Farrand Elementary School.

Judge John MacDonald set a pretrial hearing date of Nov. 9 and released Gale on $500 personal bond. The misdemeanor carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and/or a $500 fine.

"This involves a basic problem between a student and a teacher," said Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry. The mother of thirdgrader Alexander Parsons filed the complaint.

Ann Kuhn, Farrand principal, investigated the family's charges and found no cause for action against Gale.

"We must presume Mr. Gale is innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. That's what our system of justice is all about," said Errol Goldman, assistant superintendent for personnel and employee relations. "If he is proven guilty, we will take appropriate disciplinary action within our ability to do so.'

BILL BRESLER

Maryann Ligato-Freydl, Gale's union representative with the Michigan Education Association, said, 'Never has such an allegation been made about Mr. Gale in his 25 years of teaching, and he absolutely denies ever striking this child. Mr. Gale is looking forward to his day in court where he is confident his innocence will be established.

"The student claims that the incident occurred in front of the whole class. Mr. Gale says that he merely moved the student's desk away from his friend, which upset the student and his friend."

The incident allegedly occurred Oct. 1 and was reported Oct. 11.

The police report filed by the student's mother says the incident occurred on the way back from recess.

tech grant award gh

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, says he's satisfied there were no improprieties involved in the awarding of a $6 million grant to a Texas school district by the U.S. Department of Education

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools applied for the grant and was optimistic about its' chances of receiving it.

Among others, Plymouth-Canton Superintendent John Hoben contended the award was politically-motivated in an election year.

The General Accounting Office, a watchdog government agency in Washington D.C., has been asked by members of Congress to look into charges that the grant, and a second award that went to Ohio State University, was given on the basis of political considerations.

Diane Ravitch, assistant secretary of education for educational research with the U.S. Department of Education, denies the charge. She says the upcoming Presidential election played no role in the competitive bid process.

Plymouth-Canton ranked 37th among the 110 applicants.

Responding to criticism from the staff of Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Massachusetts, Ravitch acknowledged the grant was awarded in an unorthodox fashion.

She said the McKinney, Texas, proposal didn't receive the highest score from the peerreview panel analyzing the bids. It ranked fourth. The unidentified top-scoring district, in Rav-itch's view, wrote a weak proposal, according to "Education Week," a Washington D.C.-based publication.

Ravitch "decided to invoke her authority to select the grantee and selected the McKinney district after reading the top seven proposals," the paper reported.

The GAO was asked to determine whether the grant was awarded fairly.

House foes' spending report feud enters round 2 Barns missed came when

Republican state House nominee Steven Cabrera, under fire for accusations he lied about incumbent Justine Barns' campaign spending, has clarified his statements and lashed out anew at his Democratic opponent. Cabrera had claimed in campaign fliers that Barns received large sums of money from special interest groups and spent $120,000 in her 1990 re-election

But he has revised his accusations in an Oct. 16 written statement to the Observer, saying Barns has spent that amount during the last four elections. Cabrera has refused a demand from Barns that he apologize and said, "Our campaign staff arrived at these numbers in good faith without the intent to mislead, as my opponent charges." Barns' aide Eileen DeHart appeared pleased that Cabrera has clarified his statements about the campaign expenses, but added, "It doesn't explain why he lied about it." Moreover, DeHart noted that Barns has loaned $14,000 to her own re-election efforts during the last 10 years. "If indeed she were in the hip pocket lobbyists, she wouldn't have had to Cabrera accused Barns of voting 72 percent of the time against legislation to create jobs — a figure he said came from the Michigan Chamber of Commerce. DeHart blasted Cabrera and said Barns has "one of the best records" among state legislators 'in supporting union workers. "She's for the working people," DeHart said. "She's not pro-company or pro-business, but pro-worker." DeHart also noted that Barns has been endorsed by the Greater Detroit

Chamber of Commerce. Cabrera also lashed out at Barns' vot roll calls in the last 10 years and was rated one of the 15 worst state representatives in a 1992 survey reported in the Detroit News.

DeHart defended Barns' voting record, saying the roll calls she missed are few considering the "tens of thousands" of votes she has cast during the last 10 years. "I'd say she gets an A-minus,"

Retiring S'craft secretary served all 3 presidents

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAFF WRITER

Considering the sensitive information Schoolcraft College's Joyce Ludwig has seen, yet never talked about, it's no surprise that she would request the following angle for a feature story about her.

"Tell more about the accomplishments of the college than about me," she said. Well, Schoolcraft's story has

Well, Schoolcraft's story has been told rather well in a book by the late Samuel Hudson ("Reaching Out . . . A History of Schoolcraft College"), but Ludwig's 28year Schoolcraft career, mostly as secretary to all three presidents, has yet to be chronicled.

She hired on in June 1964, just two months before the first classes in Schoolcraft history convened. Schoolcraft's first president was Eric Bradner.

"I knew a college was starting and just for the heck of it I went down and put in an application," she said.

Twenty-eight years later, Ludwig is preparing for retirement (in December) and a trip to Raleigh, N.C. to visit daughter Barbara, who will likely have delivered Ludwig's first grandchild by then.

College president Richard McDowell thinks so much of Ludwig that he's planning a Dec. 3 retirement party for her. "Joyce is very competent, very personable, very organized and efficient, but also a good friend to many on the campus and will be very much missed by all of us," McDowell said.

Ex-college president Nelson Grote, a Kentucky resident now, hopes to attend the party for his former secretary.

"She's just a great person, a great human being," Grote said, "a good person to have in your office to give you that smile and comment on the brightness of the day. Sometimes that's just what you need." Grote was Schoolcraft's president from 1971 to 1981, and Ludwig worked with him throughout that span. "Her standards were extraordinary," he said. "If (a letter) wasn't perfect, she didn't mail it. I don't know if I had anyone else in my 21 years as a president or chancellor who was more productive."

Grote also noted that Ludwig could be trusted absolutely with the "extraordinarily sensitive documents" that often passed through her typewriter.

"(At times) we were bargaining with the very people she had lunch with," he said. And, at times, Ludwig's lunch companions tried to pump her for information they could use in the negotiations. "But Joyce was able to dance around those questions and still maintain the friendships," Grote said.

Hi there: Joyce Ludwig has been secretary to all three of Schoolcraft College's presidents, including the current one, Richard McDowell. Ludwig is retiring after Dec. 11.

Of course, we could build them faster. It's just that we won't.

If you've tried to get a Saturn recently, you may have been a little disappointed when you discovered there weren't as many on our lot as you had hoped to find. Frankly, you caught us off guard. Your demand has exceeded even our wildest expectations.

So, why don't we just build more? Well, when you take as much time as we do in building each car, you can't always make them as fast as people want them. Sure, we could make some compromises—even look the other way when things were less than perfect and make quite a few more cars. It's just if we did that, then they wouldn't be Saturns.

Ford, Geake square off in debate

The Ford versus Geake debate focused on jobs, education and health care. But for students in a special government program, it was seen though youthful eyes.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI Staff Writer

"I feel he offended all women," said the Close Up student, one of 15 who attended a debate between Geake and his opponent, incumbent U.S. Rep. Bill Ford, hosted by the Canton Economic Club Wednesday. Kacvinsky wasn't alone in her feelings. Fourteen of the 10th and 11th grade students in the special government class said Geake didn't address abortion in cases of rape

And the students were adamant: Abortion is the most important issue in this election year, followed by financing for public education. That's not so for fellow student Pat

That's not so for fellow student fat Russell, the only student who supported Geake's bid against incumbent Ford in the 13th Congressional District race. Jobs — not abortion are the most important issue for Russell, who's concerned whether he'll get a job when he graduates college.

"Ford spent most of his time defending himself," Russell said. "Geake was just trying to get to the truth of what Ford has done in office."

Criticisms or mudslinging bothered the majority of the students who say they want to hear how each candidate stands on the issues — instead of each other.

Geake who criticized Congressional spending, said Ford voted for a fish farm in Iowa, a ferry boat in Samoa and $25 million for franking privileges. "I thought we came here to talk public schools." about issues important to the coun-"I do not belie

"I do not believe it is appropriate to be giving out condoms," Geake said, referring to possible lawsuits when pregnancy occurs.

Ford put sex education in the local officials' realm. "Appropriate sex education is what the local board of education and parents who elect them determine is appropriate at that time."

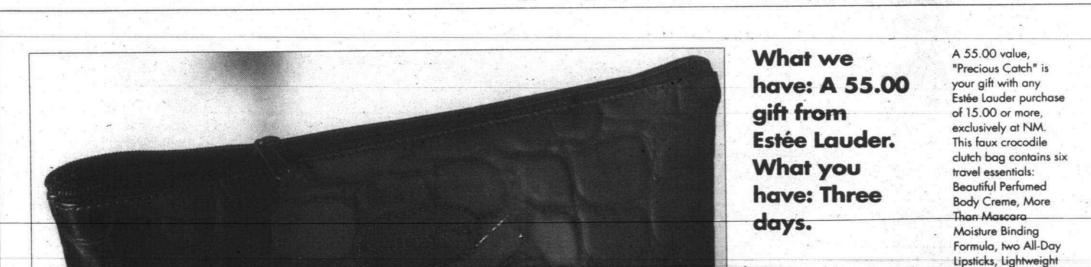

Geake told the audience his purpose in seeking Ford's longtime seat "is to clean up Congress." The public, he said, is "overregulated, overtaxed and under-served by Congress."

Ford, in his 28th year in Congress, said now is the time to keep him in office. As chairman of the education and labor committee, Ford said more, will now be done, particularly if Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton is elected.

"In very short order, I think we'll be able to deliver on what he (Clinton) has been saying on education," Ford said.

Student Dave Buzynski said he preferred Ford because he didn't have to criticize Geake to make his position clear. "He concentrated on issues." To Lee Bonner, Ford simply answered audience questions better.

"Ford has more substance to his answers," said Jaclyn Harder. "He didn't have to mudsling and accuse to get his points across."

Livonia man is angry: Home called dope den

Anger and fear are the reasons a strange sign now stands in the front yard of a house at 39130 Richland in Livonia. The sign reads, "We are the Wor-

The homeowner, Michael Worley, is angry that an anonymous letter left at about 300 houses in his neighborhood mistakenly identifies his house as being the site of a drug raid that took place last

Worley, a retired Detroit police officer who now is a local Realtor, also is angry that the letter writer goes so far as to urge residents to show up on Halloween — in costume and carrying picket signs to protest the alleged drug dealer's continued presence in the neighborhood.

Since the letter appeared last week, Worley says numerous cars have driven slowly by his house, both day and night. He erected the sign within minutes after reading the letter and noting that his house had been incorrectly identified as the house where the drug raid took place. Livonia Police confirmed there was a raid in the Worley's house is spotlighted in the letter when the writer incorrectly describes the suspect house as "the fourth house on the north side of the street." An Adams resident. Pat Howell, sent a copy of the letter to the Observer. Like Worley, Howell is fearful that the words used in the letter, such as "low-life sleazoids," coupled with the request to picket the house on Haloween, could lead to mob violence. "When I read the letter I thought there was the potential for danger," Howell said. "People shouldn't take the law in their own hands. It's Halloween, and there's a potential for danger to kids. And I feel sorry for Worley, that they (identified) the wrong house. He is simply protecting his familyand home.

Howell sent a copy of the letter to Mayor Robert Bennett and Livonia police. Worley also reported the letter to police, asking them to beef up security in the area, a request that police have agreed to. We want people to know there will be an increased police presence in the area and hopefully that will deter any problems," Murray said. Worley said his wife, who is recovering from surgery, is "scared to death" because of the cars that are stopping in front of their house at night.

Ford and UAW unite to set up child care center

BY TEDD SCHNEIDER STAFF WRITER

Livonia will be home for a first-of-its kind regional day care center for children of Ford Motor Co.'s hourly employ-

The UAW/Ford Child Care Center expected to open in September 1993 in a new building on Ann Arbor Road east of Eckles - is a joint project of Ford Motor Land Development Corp. and the UAW. It will be run by a non-profit organiza tion and will serve as many as 200 children from 13 plants in metro Detroit, including Livonia Transmission, Wayne "Assembly, Sheldon Road plant in Plym outh, and Parts Division plants in Livo nia and Redford Township. Currently, the UAW refers employees

The pilot project was negotiated in 1990 contracts between the UAW, Ford. GM and Chrysler and represents "a first step in what we think is going to be an expanding area," said Bill Corey of the UAW.

"Right now our membership is on the older side," Corey said. "But retirements are going to mean younger workers coming in, and you also have social changes like single-parent families to deal with."

Ford has about 17,000 UAW members working in western Wayne County, according to Corey.

"We believe the majority will be from mmediately surrounding plants like Livonia and Sheldon Road. At least that's where our surveys indicate the demand is," Ford spokesman Fran Englehart told the Livonia City Council Monday The 16,000 square-foot center will feature indoor and outdoor play areas and a staff of 30. It will primarily serve infants and toddlers. Initial hours will be 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday-Friday ...

"That's comparable with our first and second shifts," Englehart said Monday. "As we crank this thing up and determine the needs of our employees that could be subject to change." Employees will pay a fee on par with outside child-care agencies in the area, said the UAW's Corev. The Livonia City Council is expected to approve a waiver use for construction of the center at Monday's voting meeting.

The planning commission recommended approval at its Sept. 29 meeting. The waiver is necessary because the former Christenson's Nursery property has a split zoning — half designated commercial and half for office use.

Ford will buy four acres on the back half of the nearly 8-acre site and seek a rezoning for the project. Council members praised the project and Ford's efforts to work with nearby homeowners during Monday's study ses-

"I think you have an outstanding project here," said councilman Ron Ochala. "I'm very excited for the neighborhood and for Ford Motor Company. Some residents on Minton, Grandon and other area streets have requested a wall separating the center from area homes to the south and west Others favor the 4-foot berm with trees as originally proposed, said Dave Cisco, president of the Dover/Arbor Neighborhood Association.

The proposed wall was also part of a 1988 agreement between residents and property owner Antonio Scapatticci, who was planning a shopping center for the

Those plans never materialized.

"We spent a lot of time looking at the neighborhood, and we feel very strongly that we want to be a part of the community," Englehart said.

Archtitects worked hard to make the single-story building compatible with its surroundings, he said.

The money may not even cover the cost of materials, much less the labor. But the city got lucky, because teacher Monte Shettler and 13 students from the Livonia school district's Career Center have volunteered their time and labor to restore the brick school.

"I'm really excited about it," Shettler said. "So are the kids." On a recent day, the students worked on the foundation of the 936-square-foot school, which also has a 10-by-10-foot main entrance. The students - future builders who are receiving class ight years ago, Canton Township voters made a wise decision in electing James Kosteva to the state House. Intelligent and hardworking, Kosteva has been an effective lawmaker. He's recognized as a leader in the state House. His hard work, insight and legislative skill have earned him praise from Democrats and Republicans alike.

His support is widespread throughout the township and represents a cross-section of residents. It's significant to note that many Canton Republicans are supporting Kosteva, while others are sitting on the fence and not campaigning for GOP challenger Deborah Whyman.

Such support is an attention getter these days. But it's not suprising looking at Kosteva's stand on issues. He's a no-nonsense legislator able to reach a compromise that's in the best interest of Michigan taxpayers.

He's also a voice for the middle class. Unlike Republicans who parrot President George Bush's contention that more jobs have been cre ated, Kosteva takes a hard look at job creation and sees that most of those new jobs are low paying - not enough to keep people in the "middle class."

On education, he's impressive. He was a forceful leader in persuading colleagues to support Michigan's affiliation with the Midwest Compact on Higher Education in the 1990 session. He also sponsored the Michigan Education Trust Act of 1986.

As chairman of the committee on colleges and universities, he has urged schools to consolidate departments to save money.

After listening to the debate surrounding this campaign, we are convinced that Kosteva knows the issues and is well-prepared to tackle another two-year term in Lansing.

For voters looking only at the abortion issue as a litmus test in this race, there's no difference in the two candidates. Whyman is a vocal pro-life candidate, while Kosteva, the father of four, also is pro-life. Canton and Michigan are facing tough issues in the '90s. School financing is a mess and needs reform, our state's economy needs fixing and the environment needs protecting. To us. Kosteva is the person to deal with these issues on a bi-partisan basis. He has earned another term and is the best choice to represent Canton Township on Nov. 3.

Tax plan is bad for education n previous editorials, we have opposed Proposal C for two reasons. First, the "cap" plan will result in neighbors with similar houses paying different tax bills punishing young homebuvers.

Second, Proposal C promises the state will reimburse school districts for the revenue they would lose under the 30 percent "cut," but there's not enough money to pay them without (a) endangering public and workplace safety or (b) raising state taxes significantly, which Gov. John Engler refuses to admit will be necessary. There is a third set of reasons for rejecting Cap" provided by our local school districts.

Wayne County districts

Proposals A and C "promise little in the way of relief to the majority of our residents and will even further erode the foundation of funding for Clarenceville school board.

"That cut is supposed to be reimbursed by the state . . . Where is the state going to get the money to reimburse school districts? We beeve they are not going to get the reve would force local school districts to have millage elections to make up for losses" - Ray Hoedel, Plymouth-Canton associate superintendent for business.

"We'd still be at risk. Will they (state) stop paying in to the state pension fund? They stopped paying some Social Security for the first time this year. They can give it back and take it away again"- Joseph Marinelli, Livonia superintendent. "Both (A and C) would erode Redford Union's ability to sustain its property tax base, and neither would provide reimbursement for lost property tax revenue, lost administrative fees or increased administrative costs" - RU board resolution.

"Ninety-seven percent of our dollars come from local property taxes. I don't know how many financial losses like this our district can be expected to take" - Jan Jacobs, South Redford superintendent.

Anyone who is serious about cutting local. property taxes must spell out in advance what state taxes will be raised to pay for them. Proposal C fails dismally. "Cut & Cap" will cut the quality of life and cap Michigan's recovery.

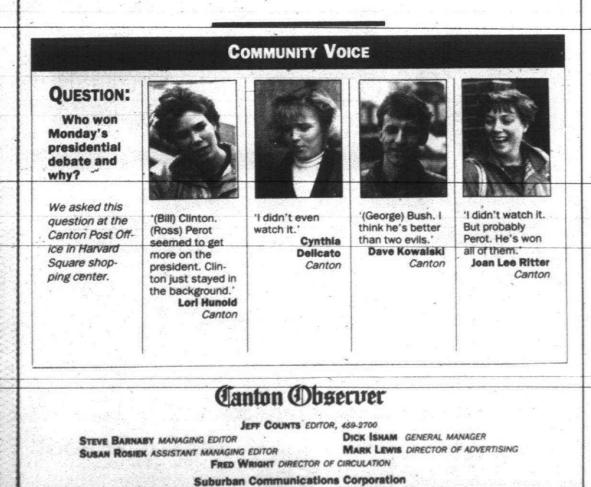

'No' on A, too

Proposal A is the orphan plan. It was placed on the ballot by the state Legislature, but its supporters have abandoned it, and no committee was formed to argue its case to voters.

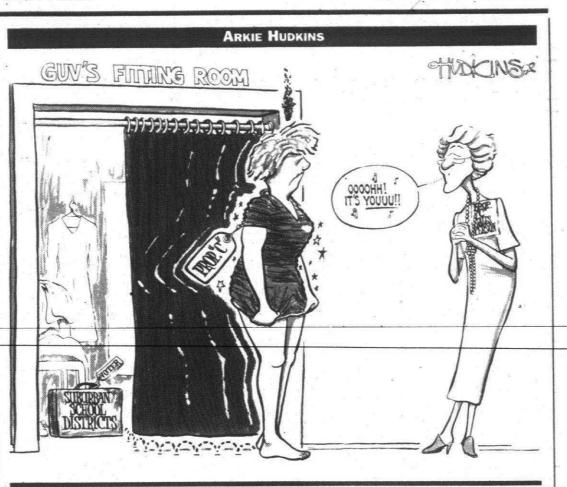

Proposal A would cap property assessments at 5 percent. The property would be reassessed n the home is sold

It has the same flaw as Proposal C - a homebuyer 10 years from now will pay higher taxes than a neighbor in an identical house who stays put. Proposal A is fundamentally unfair and potentially demoralizing to taxpayers. It, too, should be defeated Nov. 3.

Fence not solution

am appalled by the plans of the "friends" of Miller Woods to build a parking lot and ence in the woods.

It seems incongruous to me that the neighborhoods around the woods have chosen to preserve the beauty of their surroundings with deed restrictions on fences. Yet a group that says it wants to preserve this beautiful forest thinks the best way to do this is with a parking lot and chain link fence.

The problems the "friends" cite - people taking plants, littering or riding bikes in the woods - will not be resolved by a fence. Unfortunately, if someone is brazen enough to dig up trillium in a clearly marked nature preserve, that person will feel a right to go through a gate and do the same.

are damaging to the woods. I don't think the way to stop them is with an ugly fence. The "friends" would have you believe that just a handful of people are opposed to their plans. In fact, almost 100 have already indicated their opposition to the parking lot and fence. Let's think again about what we are trying to preserve here and find a better solution. Several have been proposed to the "friends" by concerned neighbors of the woods. Unfortunately, they are not interested. Barbara Korte, Plymouth

Proposal C cuts state revenue t's beginning to look as though the only close contest in Michigan's elections will be over Proposal C, cutely named "Cut &

If adopted, the proposal would cut local property taxes levied to support schools by 30 percent over five years and limit assessment increases to 3 percent a year. The state would automatically reimburse local schools for los revenues.

Supporters include Gov. John Engler and the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. Opponents include labor unions, school folks and a bunch of Michigan dignitaries, including former Gov. William Milliken. Despite a bunch of mutually misleading TV ads, polls so far indicate that likely Michigan voters are pretty much split down the middle on Proposal C, with a lot of folks undecided.

Everybody agrees that Michigan's property tax burden is too high, especially when compared to our Great Lakes neighbors. And when pressed, everybody even agrees that Michigan's total tax burden is no higher than our neighbors'

So if the effect of Proposal C were merely to shift the basis of taxation from real property to something else like income, there would be little debate

But it's not that simple. It now seems clear that Proposal C would cut, probably drastically, into state revenue. And nobody I have talked to in Lansing, Republicans or Democrats, has the slightest idea how to pay for it.

Watch the numbers for the first year Proposal C is in effect. Assuming no other big tax increase (Gov. Engler's vow), the state will have to reimburse local school districts nearly $420 million to pay for their lost revenue

Maybe that cost can be made up for by revenue growth. Let's get real optimistic and say the recession ends, so Michigan's revenues increase by $500 million in 1993-94. That leaves the state $80 million ahead.

But that $80 million won't cover the $342 million in one-time accounting gimmicks and fund raids approved by the Legislature to balance this year's budget.

So the state of Michigan will have to find something like $250 million to cover the difference.

Where? Oh, from non-essentials like the State Police or our state parks system. Or from appropriations to universities. Or from what's left of our mental health system.

The potential for truly serious damage to Michigan is so great under Proposal C that it's fair to ask, what's really going on here?

I think the answer is simple: Gov. Engler and others have looked with admiration at the number President Reagan and his crew did to the federal budget. Convinced that government itself was the problem, they figured that if taxes could be cut enough to provoke a horrendous deficit, the result would be a radical cut in the size of government.

Their only mistake was that Washington insiders (Congress, President Bush) were quite prepared to finance government operations by running up the deficit.

But Michigan has a constitutional prohibition against deficit spending. So if you cut taxes radically through Proposal C and can't have a deficit, you must cut the size of state govern-

What's really going on here is a radical attempt fundamentally to downsize Michigan's structure of governmental services, conveniently disguised as a proposal to reduce property taxes.

Radically cutting the size of state government may or may not be a good idea. But it's an idea that should be debated and voted on according to its merits, not through the fiction of a cutely named ballot proposal.

a member of the California State Legslature at the time.

It is designed to repeal the 16th amendment to our Constitution which s the personal income tax amendment. Stone could see in 1949 what was happening to our country and what is happening today concerning our economy He saw that the 16th amendment is a burden on the people.

The 16th amendment is not legal in he first place. It was put into effect by federal judge in 1913.

This is not legal according to our Constitution which our Masonic broth ers and all others who worked on the Constitution intended it to be. Has this federal court gotten so powerful that they can dictate their views or. their brother citizens? That is the next step to anarchy.

The elected officials of our governent all are sworn to uphold the laws f our Constitution. If this oath of office is taken 100 percent seriously then the 16th amendment would be found ull and void immediately.

The Constitution was written by lasons and others with the same concept in mind. That is a fact that I try to onvey to people who do not know why t was written as it stands. I believe our concept of liberty comes from the Maonic background which was worked nto the Constitution by Brother George Washington and all other Masons who helped write it. They did not want to see the economy held down by taxation. That is why Thomas Jefferson stated to the signers of the Constitution, "We have a Republic, if we can keep it.'

When the citizens' rights are impaired by personal income tax then it is not a Republic any more. We must repeal the 16th amendment using the liberty amendment" in its place to return ourselves to a republic and become a great nation again. I thank you Ronald L. Nickels, Plymouth

Rocks contend for district title SPORTS

Salem perfect in WLAA

lymouth Salem won its eighth game without a loss in Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball Tuesday, 46-34 over visiting Walled Lake Western.

The Rocks were outscored 13-8 in the second quarter and trailed 21-17 at halftime, but they rallied in the second half with a 29-13 advantage. Salem held the Warriors to four points in the final quarter while posting 15 for itself. Cyndi Platter scored 17 points and pulled in nine rebounds for the Rocks, 8-6 overall. Shelly Sockow added 12 points and Christy Parimucha nine. Sockow also hauled in nine rebounds, and Parimucha got six assists.

"We got it done in the second half," Salem coach Fred Thomann said, adding Western tried to run a delay offense the whole game. "We stepped up the pressure, got some steals and went to the free throw line.'

The Rocks made 19 of 27 free throws, the Warriors seven of 16. Erin Vicary scored 14 points for Western, 4-4 and 6-7.

Salem plays host to Westland John Glenn tonight before meeting Plymouth Canton and WLAA co-leader Livonia Stevenson in back-toback games next week on Tuesday and Thursday, respectively.

Agape rallies to victory lymouth Agape Christian stayed unbeaten in the Metro Christian Conference with a 45-41 girls basketball victory Monday over host Wixom Christian.

Tanya Gowen scored 20 points for Agape, 10-0 and 12-0 overall. K.C. Younkin and Terenah Baisch added 12 points apiece.

Agape trailed by eight points with two minutes left in the third quarter, but it turned the deficit into an eight-point lead early in the fourth behind the play of Gowen, Younkin and Baisch.

Amy Bell scored 12 points for Wixom, 8-2 and 8-5. Agape plays its final league game Tuesday at home against Garden City United Christian.

Salem save: Salem goalkeeper Paul Dood makes a leaping catch in front of Canton's James Bossieux in district tournament play Monday. The Rocks won 2-1. See story on Page 3B.

Plymouth Salem is experiencing a resurgence in postseason soccer play. With everyone but Jason Oberhelman (who had a season-ending injury) healthy again, the Rocks advanced to the district championship game Saturday at Northville High School.

BY DAN O'MEARA STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Salem is a muc' better soccer team when it has all its players healthy.

The Rocks demonstrated that Wednesday night by avenging an earlier loss to host Livonia Churchill, 3-2 in a second-round district tournament game.

For the first time in more than five weeks, Salem put its original starting lineup on the field. The Chargers won 4-2 two weeks ago when the Rocks were minus Tom Baker and Brian Spuck. "The starting 11 is like a machine," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "The motion, sequence and team work are there when we have all 11."

Unlike the first game, the Rocks had Churchill trying to catch them. Joe Perron's second goal eventually decided the issue with 21:51 remaining.

"The first time without Spuck we were able to go through them a lot easier," Churchill coach Mark Mason said. "Today, with Baker in there, it made it tough to keep track of all the quick players they have.

"They have a lot of speed that we don't have. We couldn't keep up with some of their faster players. It was hard for us to get behind, because we don't have that kind of speed and have to rely on short passes.

The Rocks (16-4-2) will play the South Lyon-Novi winner for the district championship at 2 p.m. Saturday at Northville High School. The Chargers finish 11-5-3.

"We played the two toughest (district) games in the state," Johnson said, referring also to a 2-1 victory Monday over Plymouth Canton. They were as good as any. These two teams could beat anyone.

On the winning goal, Spuck sent the ball to the opposite side, behind the Churchill defense. Perron was able to dribble up and score his 13th goal of the season before the defense could recover.

Churchill was awarded a penalty kick with 16 minutes left after a handball violation in the box. Salen goalie Paul Dood made a diving, game-saving stop on Vincent DeMassa's shot.

Churchill keeper Kal Kaliszewski kept the Chargers in it with saves on shots by Scott Buczek and Mike Kley. Salem's Chris Saline had a big takeaway with 11/2 minutes remaining, and Dood was called on to make another save in the last minute.

Perron scored his first goal with an assist from Buczek at 16:23 in the first half, but the Chargers tied a minute later when Pete Owens knocked in the rebound off a Charlie Roberts direct kick.

Jeff Kley gave Salem a 2-1 lead in the 51st minute, lofting a high shot from the left side. Kaliszewski leaped and tipped the ball, but it rolled backward into the net.

The Chargers tied again six minutes later when Vince Troiani's header kept the ball in the middle, giving DeMassa a direct line to the Salem goal.

After finishing fifth in the Western Lakes Activities Association girls tennis tournament. Plymouth Salem redeemed itself with a strong performance in regional play.

The Rocks finished behind host Dearborn and qualified to compete in the state finals for the second consecutive year Saturday. The Pioneers had 25 points, Sa-

Clack. "She's young, ambitious and determined. She's a neat kid."

Clack's only setbacks this year were a pair of losses to Stephanie Geelhood of Walled Lake Central. Where she is seeded will play a big role in determining how Clack does at state, according to Braun.

"Enough people have seen her play over the course of the last year who know her. She has some advocates," Braun said. "If they seed five and take Jenny into consideration, she stands a chance of having a good tournament. I think she will no matter what because she's a competitor.'

4 singles, and Ann Bartalucci represented Salem at Nos. 2 and 4 singles, respectively.

Kwak Jin Shin and Cindy Wierzbicki played No. 2 doubles, Amy Sullivan and Christy Moyer No. 3 doubles.

The Salem and Canton teams had hoped to qualify for state together, according to Braun, but the seeding outcome worked against that plan. The Rocks and Chiefs were on the same side of the bracket in every singles flight and had to play each other in earlier rounds.

lem 18 and Plymouth Canton 11.

"It shows the other teams we lost to that we're better than we showed," Salem coach Judy Braun said. "Salem traditionally peaks at the end of the season; that's what you're supposed to do. We came through when it counted.'

The Rocks had regional champions at two flights, including the prestigious No. 1 singles where sophomore Jennifer Clack defeated Livonia Ladywood's Liz Gunn in the final.

Gunn won the first set 6-4. Clack won the second 7-6 after prevailing 11-9 in a marathon tiebreaker and the third 6-3.

"It's always interesting to watch her play," said Braun of Salem's Melissa Kowalis and Natale Graves won the No. 1 doubles championship, defeating Dearborn in the final. Kelly Kirkpatrick earned three points for a second-place finish at No. 3 singles.

The Rocks were seeded at every flight, which gave them a firstround bye and at least two points from every singles player or doubles team when all advanced to the semifinals.

"We were rooting for each other," Braun said. "We had planned on decorating cars red, white and blue. We talked about wearing red, white and blue uniforms and going as (one) Canton-Salem (team),"

The Chiefs were second at No. 4 singles with Pam Reynolds, and the doubles teams of Shazia Ahmed/Kelly Caulfield and Kelly Reeber/Kara Fiegenschuh were runners-up at No. 2 and 3.

'We didn't let Salem or Dearborn get many easy points," Canton coach Barb Hanosh said. "We were right in there, and I think someday we'll be up there, too.

Spartans stun Chiefs, 48-43

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

Livonia Stevenson is no longer n unknown quantity in the Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball race.

The Spartans proved they are for real, pulling off a stunning 48-43 upset against a well-seasoned and veteran Plymouth Canton team, defending WLAA champi-ons and ranked No. 4 in Class A.

Stevenson is now 13-0 overall and 8-0 in the league (tied with Plymouth Salem). Canton, meanwhile, dropped to 12-2 overall and 6-2 in the WLAA.

Junior point-guard Mo Drabicki enjoyed her finest hour as a Spartan cager, lighting up the. Chiefs for a game-high 24 points to go along with five steals and five assists. She hit eight of nine free throws.

Stevenson also put the clamps on Canton's senior center Stephanie Gray. Smothered inside by a host of Spartans, led by 6-3 senior Julie Martin, 5-11 freshman Stacey Nichols and 5-11 senior Patty Diamond, the 6-1 Gray had only 11 points on threeof-13 shooting from the field.

"We wanted to deny them in-side and stop Stephanie," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said. "We decided that we were going to let somebody else win the game. "We knew all about their defensive pressure, but we had to play as good of defense as they play and I thought we did a decent de-fensive job."

The rest of the Chiefs were stymied as well with Christie Saffron with nine points. "We're not attacking the basket well and I was disappointed in our shot selection," said Canton coach Bob Blohm, whose team shot only 35.8 percent from the field (14 for 39). When we needed a rebound, or a stop on defense, we didn't get it.' Canton led most of the way except for the early stages of the game when Stevenson senior guard Lori Shingledecker, who also sang the national anthem, hit a pair of three-pointers to give the Spartans a brief 6-2 advantgae.

The teams were tied at 12 after one quarter, but Canton nudged ahead at intermission, 24-21, and carried a 35-30 lead into the final

If the Ocelots lose to Cuyahoga, they would have to beat Lakeland to force a playoff for the Region 12 title and a trip to the NJCAA Inter-regional Tournament.

SC seemed to be rounding into tournament form against Columbus, according to coach Van Dimitriou. "The guys were absolutely Dimitriou said ready to play adding that this Saturday "I really feel we'll be ready to go."

Cuyahoga won't be easy to beat. "They have individuals who can counter and are very dangerous." said Dimitriou. "They can match us (talent-wise) individually, but they can't match us as a unit."

Against Columbus, the Ocelots moved the ball as well as they have in any game all year. They were really working. They realize it's getting close to crunch time."

Dominic Vella (from Livonia Churchill) opened the scoring 12 minutes into the match, using a quick move to beat a defender and convert a cross from Wayne Worosz (Redford Catholic Central). Jeff Cardinal made it 2-0 at the 32-minute mark, heading in a cross from Bill Lanspeary (Livonia Stevenson).

SC upped its lead to 3-0 before halftime when Vella scored again, this time getting a through ball from Cardinal and beating two defenders at the 39-minute mark. The final score came 20 minutes coach Nick O'Shea of Krajewski.

SC WOMEN'S SOCCER

The Lady Ocelots' unbeaten streak reached five games before coming to a crashing close Sunday at Florissant Valley CC in St. Louis with a 3-0 loss. Still, they accomplished something first - they knocked off regional rival Central State (McPhearson, Kansas) 4-1 Saturday at Flo Valley.

The weekend split left SC with a 4-8-3 overall record. The Lady Ocelots will play Central State Nov. for the right to advance to the NJCAA Tourhament.

Amy Krajewski (Salem) was the difference for the Ocelots against Central. The sophomore sweeper twice defeated Central's efforts at an offside trap by dribbling through the defense and eventually scoring goals. Krajewski added a third score on a direct kick from 30 yards out that she planted into the upper right corner of the net.

Kara Kramer opened the scoring, intercepting a Central defender's pass intended for her keeper. Kramer stepped in between and knocked the ball into the net for a 1-0 lead.

Central tied it when SC defender Dee Lorenz put the ball into her own net while trying to play it back to keeper Kim Owczarzak (Farmington). But Krajewski righted that miscue, dribbling through the Central defense as it pushed forward in an attempt to catch SC offsides. Krajewski lost the ball, but it bounced to Joy Hosinski, who centered it back to Krajewski for the Kraiewski's direct-kick goal made it 3-1 at the half, and her steal and breakaway in the second half earned her a hat trick. "She was awesome," said SC

"She was on fire. But it wasn't like she was playing totally offensive. A team like that, that runs the offsides trap, you've got to take advantage of it. She did."

Although SC couldn't match Flo Valley Sunday - indeed, the Lady Ocelots scored again into their own net, Krajewski with the dubiou honor as she tried to clear the ball back to Owczarzak — it wasn't all

"We came out slow after playing the day before, but we looked pretty good at times," said O'Shea.

SC VOLLEYBALL

This streak continues. The Lady Ocelots ran their Eastern Conference volleyball record to 8-0 Tuesday with a lopsided 15-6. 15-4, 15-6 win over visiting Macomb CC. SC improved to 23-6-2 overall.

"I thought we played well," said Lady Ocelot coach Tom Teeters. 'Macomb played better against us than they did the first time, and scored less, so we must've improved."

Julie Wood led the attack with 11 kills (a .320 kill average). Dan Sheehy had nine kills (.350) and six blocks; Erica Edwards had seven kills (.266) and five block assists; Nancy Ehlert totaled five kills (.400), five block assists, 18 assiststo-kills and three service aces; and Tracia Clendenen collected 12 assists-to-kills and three aces.

SC's serving, which bothered Teeters during the Jefferson CC Tournament 10 days earlier, has mproved. Janine Sproul led with five service aces. Defensively, Shannon Capstick and Jennifer Damphousse each had six digs.

Last Thursday, SC managed to beat Henry Ford CC in threestraight, very tight games, 16-14, 15-12, 16-14 at SC.

Wood led the attack for the Ocelots with 16 kills (a .317 kill average). Ehlert had 22 assists-tokills and Clendenen added 10 assists and five kills.

Defense was the difference, and Edwards led the defense with four solo blocks and seven block assists. Sheehy added five total blocks, and Sproul, Capstick and Ehlert each had 12 digs.

Henry Ford CC slipped to 4-3 in he conference.

10-PIN ALLEY religion of bowl at one time or another have prayed for one more strike or that the last shot would stay on the lane. So many things can HARRISON happen on the lanes that can be onsidered just plain lucky.

Warren Teubert of Redford, a past president of GDBA and very active with the Lutheran League, tells a story of how one of the Catholic church leagues bowling at the Old Palace Recreation in Detroit had a strange incident when the priest was bowling and had a string of strikes into the 10th frame.

After he had the 11th strike, everyone thought it was 12 and started celebrating, picked him up on their shoulders and then found out it was only 11 strikes. They set the fellow back down so he could finish his game, and he calmly threw another strike for a perfect game.

If anyone who ever bowled at Mercury Lanes in Dearborn had some good luck on lane No. 10, here's why: They had to replace all of the old wooden lanes last summer and put in completely new lanes.

As they tore up No. 10, they discovered a cross had been buried there just beyond the foul line. Turns out that the original owner. Ted Hochstein, had for some reason placed it there when the lanes were first being installed.

It so happens that a few years ago one of his own grandchildren howled a 300 game on that very pair, 9 and 10. I wonder how many bowlers ever had a "Hail Mary" strike on that lane.

A couple of years ago, there was a funeral for an avid bowler named Bill Stewart of Farmington. While his bowling buddies came to pay their last respects, the widow asked his friend, Paul Koenig, if he would take Bill's place on the team in the Our Lady of Sorrows League. He agreed to

League football titles at stake a Willow Run team (4-3) that had a four-Raiders, but O'Meara sees By DAN O'MEARA

and BRAD EMONS

The Wayne-Westland School District could have two league champions in football Friday.

Westland John Glenn can win its first Western Lakes Activi ties Association title since 1987 Walled Lake Western, and Wayne Memorial can gain a share of the Wolverine A Conference crown with a win over Southgate.

Redford Catholic Central will earn another Central Division championship and Prep Bowl appearance Saturday if it defeats Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Crossover games in the WLAA and Metro Conference offer some even matchups this week, making the prediction game a bit difficult. Speaking of which, Dan O'Meara jumped in front after going 13-2 last week and pushing the season total to 76-26. Brad Emons was 11-4 and tands 74-28.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Lansing CC at Redford Union. 7 .m.: The Class B Cougars are having a appointing season at 3-4, according one insider. Coach Phil Booth has just one losing season in 21 years at the school: however, Catholic Central has ost back-to-back games for the first ime in a decade and falled to win the Capital Circuit Conference for the first me in five years. The Cougars are led y linebacker Scott Gillespie. The host anthers also have lost their last two ames and dropped to 3-4. PICK: The ougars win this version of Cats. Garden City at Willow Run: These Cougars — the Garden City variety are tri-champions of the Northwes Suburban League. Its the first title by a Sarden City team since old East High complished the feat 20 years age Bob Eisiminger's team has won its last wo and stands 5-2. The Cougars face game win streak snapped by a 28-14 loss to Dearborn Heights Robichaud PICK: The Cougars get a vote of confi-

Red. Thurston at Melvindale: The Eagles (5-2) had their hopes of winning a share of the Tri-River League title dashed as a result of a 9-7 loss to Tayr Truman. The defeat also ended Thurston's four-game winning streak Melvindale (3-4) has fallen on hard times after a good start. The Cardinals won three straight after a 7-6, overtime loss to Monroe St. Marv-CC in the opener but have lost their last three including a 20-10 loss to Crestwood last week. PICK: Thurston gets back on Southgate at Wayne Memorial: The Zebras (5-1, 5-2) must avoid an emotional letdown following their first win over Fordson since 1976. Wayne has its last five after losing to Adrian and Monroe and is entertaining thoughts of the playoffs. The Zebra can't afford to be looking ahead to that dramatic regular-season finale week against Glenn. The Titans (1-5, 2-5) have lost their last three games. PICK: The Observer duo stays aboard the Wayne Express.

Wsid. Glenn at W.L. Western: For the first time since the WLAA was creat ed in 1982, Farmington Harrison won't (7-0) played the Hawks five times and won titles in 1985 and 1987. Some sa the Rockets, ranked ninth in Class AA, have their best team since the late '70s- Western (7-0) is enjoying its fin est season and won its first Wester Division crown. Both have big, strong teams, but Glenn might be more explo sive and have a little more speed with the Besco brothers as wide receivers. PICK: The Rockets launch a successful mission

N.Farmington at Northville: The Raiders (4-3) snapped a two-game losing skid with their 33-6 win over Farm ington and still entertain an outside hope of making the Class A playoffs again. Northville (5-2) has won five of its last six, the only loss being an over time game with Western. The Mus tangs, who beat Harrison 24-21 with a field goal Saturday, seem to have as the season progotten better ressed. PICKS: Emons rides with the tangs riding off with a win.

Farmington at Liv. Churchill: One of the WLAA's winless teams will have a victory this week. The Falcons look stronger on paper. They were in close games with Walled Lake Central and Livonia Stevenson but lost by a TD o less. Farmington battled Plym lem two weeks ago before losing 21-13. The Chargers haven't scored a point since the second week of the sea son, and an 18-0 loss to Plymouth Can at week was their closest score. PICKS: Farmington gets the nod.

Liv. Stevenson at Ply. Canton: Both teams started with four straight losses and have won two of their last three games. With the Spartans leading 7-0 and driving for a second TD, a fumble proved costly last week against Salem The Rocks drove 92 yards, took an 8-7 lead and won 29-7. The Chiefs have momentum following their shutout wir over Churchill and won this game 9-7 last year. PICKS: With an election near, Adlai's boys rally to the cause.

Lutheran North at Clarenceville This Metro Conference crossover holds promise of being a fine game. North was beaten 22-6 by Harper Woods last week, dropping the Mustangs to 3-4. Clarenceville also is 3-4 but has won three of its last five, and a mere five points stood between the Trojans and (7-6) and Lutheran East (32-30). PICK: Chalk up another win for Clarenceville

SATURDAY'S GAMES

(all games 1 p.m. unless noted) Ply. Salem at Liv. Franklin: The Patriots (5-2) have lost two of their last three but still entertain hopes of making the Class AA playoffs. Franklin has a legitimate chance but must rebound from is loss to Walled Lake Western and avoid a Salem surprise. The Rocks (4-3) have won their last two and looked tough with junior Rob Shepley carrying the ball against Stevenson. Expect low-scoring game as both teams can get bogged down offensively but play good defense. PICK: Franklin stays on track for its first post-season appear. ance since 1975

W.L. Central at Farm, Harrison: After beating North Farmington three weeks ago, the Vikings (3-4) have been games by Stevenson and Glenn, Hamison's only win in the last five games was against Churchill. The Hawks (3-4) have been close in every game they've lost with the possible exception o Walled Lake Western, which scored twice in the fourth quarter for a 21-7 win. Two field goals and eight points separated Harrison from Franklin, Canton and Northville. PICK: The Hawks still have a lot of fight left in them.

Hamtramck at Lutheran Wsid., 2 p.m.: This Metro Conference crossover game pits a pair of 1-6 teams against each other. Lutheran Westland has lost six straight since winning the opener The Cosmos took their first win two weeks ago, 18-14 over Harper Woods, before getting crushed by Clarenceville 44-0. The Warriors gave once-beater Lutheran East a game but fell 28-24 last week. PICKS: O'Meara's fate hangs with Hamtramck; Emons hangs with the Home(town) Boys.

St. Agatha vs. St. Alphonsus, p.m. at Det. Lutheran West: The Aggies (3-1, 5-2) can catch their breath after that 14-7 loss to unbeaten and state-ranked Center Line St. Clement. St. Alphonsus (0-4, 2-5) has lost four in a row - all in the Catholic League C Section. The Arrows have scored points against every team except St. Clement but have a habit of giving up a lot more PICK: St. Agatha has the Arrows quiver Redford CC vs. Notre Dame, 7:30 p.m. at Liv. Clarenceville: First, the Shamrocks (3-0, 7-0) must take care of business, then plan for a trip to the Silverdome and rematch with DePorres next week. Notre Dame (1-2, 3-4) bea Southgate Aquinas in its last game 14 O but will have trouble matching up with CC. After tough games on four consecu tive weekends, the Shamrocks clobbered U-D Saturday, 34-6. PICKS: CC takes the fight out of the Irish.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Bishop Borgess at Cabrini, 1 p.m Two winless teams face each other here, also. Both are 0-4 in the Catholic League Tri-Sectional Division and 0verall, Comparative scores offer little help: both teams have lost games by big margins. PICK: The coin, please Cabrini wins the toss, maybe more.

Redford Catholic Central's 34-6 football victory Saturday over the University of Detroit-Jesuit was costly

The Shamrocks lost running backs Freddie Taylor and Jason Krueger to leg injuries and had to ask junior Jon Wolfe to carry the rushing burden in the second

Krueger sprained an ankle and Taylor aggravated a turf toe. Both are listed as questionable for Saturday night's game against Harper Woods Notre Dame at Livonia Clarenceville.

"We're going to practice with the idea that they're not going to play," CC coach Tom Mach said 10 yards on three carries and scor-Wednesday. "When you run the ing once. ball (like CC does), it does scare you. We think we'll be OK (with Wolfe and Tate Dobbs as League Central Division, scored backups) but it's hard to lose your two top backs."

Mach hopes Krueger and Taylor are 100 percent for the Catho lic League championship on Halloween night against Detroit St. Martin DePorres at the Silverdome.

Wolfe was impressive, scoring a pair of touchdowns and gaining most of his 74 vards after half time. Krueger, a senior fullback, gained 67 yards on four carries and scored once before leaving. Taylor left the game after gaining overall and 3-0 in the Catholic 20 first half points after falling behind 6-0 on U-D's first drive.

The Shamrocks had a pair of scoring drives to lead 14-6 after EMU HOCKEY one quarter. Krueger's 12-yard dash capped a 60-yard drive and Adam Borchert's first of four extra points made the score 7-6.

The Shamrocks went ahead 14-6 with 1:53 remaining in the opening quarter when quarterback Chris Barbara threw 28 yards to Joe Lopez for a TD.

CC defensive back Dave Morelli recovered a fumble at U-D's 35 and three plays later Taylor scored from the five for a 20-6

The Michigan Bear Hunters Association was established in 1946 by Carl T. Johnson, an avid hound hunter and former commissioner of the Natural Resources Commission. MBHA is dedicated to protecting Michigan's population of black bears and the sport of bear hunting.

You remember the guy groups, those close harmony Joe College types with the short hair, matching jackets or crew sweaters and voices that blended so smoothly they seemed Osterized. "Forever Plaid" is an affectionate

The book on this bright and giddy musical is simply a clever hook on which to hang a cabaret presentation of witty comedy and great songs. It seems that one night in 1964 the as yet unheralded singing group Forever Plaid was on its way to its biggest gig yet at an airport hotel when their car was hit by a bus carrying a load of appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show, h what symbolism.

Bruce Blanchard is Smudge, the deep voiced member of the group who gets to let loose on "Rags to Riches." Jonathon Brody is the well named Sparky, a bundle of non-stop energy with a constantly mobile and expressive face. He takes lead on the the mysterious "Perfidia."

Todd Heughens is the shy, younger tenor Jinx, subject to nose bleeds and and hilarious send up of this 1950s anxiety attacks who finally lets it all out in a Johnny Ray-like rendition of "Cry." Finally, the anchor of the ling comedy that kids the guy group group is the forever romantic Frankie (weren't all romantics named Frankie then) played with proper aplomb by Rick Meads.

He delivers a stirring tribute to harmony with deep sincerity. A nod also to the snooty piano player Kevin Cole who provides musical and comic accompaniment.

The show is continuously inventive. The group hails their personal hero Perry Como with twinkling stars and renditions of "Papa Loves Mambo" and "Catch a Falling Star."

They take a musical trip to the Catholic school girls to the Beatles Carribbean with banana lights and a singalong. They even get modern with "She Loves You, yes siree bob." But the comedy reaches its apex with a Plaids died only to find themselves three minute version of the Ed Sulli-

Theatre's production was directed by University of Michigan theater director Brent Wagner and conducted by MOT's assistant music director, Suzanne Acton. If you don't already know, "The Music Man" based on the book by Meredith Willson, tells the story of "Professor" Harold Hill (James Brennan) a quick-talking, slick co-artist who warns parents in the small town in 1912 Iowa, that "There's Trouble in River City," - a pool table, that will corrupt their youth.

He cleverly convinces townspeople that River City needs a boys marching band to keep the youth occupied, and charms parents into buying instruments and oand uniforms.

What he doesn't tell them is he can't tell one note from another, knows nothing about teaching music, and plans to skip town with their money.

To gain credibility, he tries to gain the confidence of town librarian, Marian (Jeanne Lehman) who also gives piano lessons.

As the story unfolds, the audience is treated to delightful toetapping music and lyrics written by Willson. Songs like - "Seventy-Six Trombones," "Wells Fargo Wagon," "Marian The Librarian" and "Till There Was You." Love conquers all, truth triumphs, and justice prevails as the professor confesses to Marian that he doesn't know anything about music, and plans to skip Before "My Fair Lady" there was "Pygmalion," George Bernard Shaw's slightly more acidic version of Professor Henry Higgins' transformation of flower girl Eliza Doolittle into a lady.

The Meadow Brook production is a fine reminder that the original play still has bite, wit and a musical quality of its own. But for those who love the musical, it is also an interesting opportunity to see how Shaw's political comedy was spun into the world's finest musical romance.

Is there anyone who doesn't know the plot. Higgins wagers caterwauling flower girl into a lady, or better yet, a proper shop girl

Still Kilburn gives us a lot of Shaw and several interesting character interpretations in the hands of a uniformly excellent cast.

Bill would toughen hunter trespass laws

The state Senate has passed mission. Sen. William Faust's bill to simplify and toughen the hunter trespass law.

"It should be good for both hunters and landowners," said Faust, D-Westland. His Senate Bill 808 will go to the House in-November.

If enacted, the bill would: Allow a property owner to give a hunter either oral or written permission to hunt. Currently, permission must be in writing

Increases the second-offense penalty for hunting without permission to $1,000 from the current $100. (A jail sentence of 90 days also is possible.)

Allow the court to revoke a violator's hunting and fishing license for up to three years.

Allow a peace officer to seize property, such as an off-road vehicle, of a trespasser tearing up another's land.

Supporting the bill were the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the Michigan Farm Bureau and the Michigan Forest Association.

As I stood in NATURE the grocery check TRAILS out line, I noticed the magazine Cosmopolitan. The first thing that came to mind was the osprev peregrine falcon. They are considered cosmopoli-

TIMOTHY tan, that is they are found in all the major biographical regions of the world, or almost all of them.

When osprey came to mind, it reminded me of the osprey I saw in August at Pte. Mouillee. That particular bird was migrating south for the winter. Osprey nest in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula and throughout the Upper Peninsula. When fall approaches, they migrate to the southern states or all the way to Central America and northern South America.

In the mid 1970s, there were only 80 pair of osprey in Michigan. Their numbers had declined markedly because of the DDT that was in their food. A breakdown product of DDT known as DDE caused their egg shells to become very thin. When an adult sat down to incubate, the eggs cracked and the embryo died.

Since the mid 1970s, though, their numbers have increased. As early as 1988, their numbers had doubled. But even today they are on the threatened list of Michigan's wildlife. So observing an osprey in Michigan is a thrilling sight because it is rare, but also because Osprey are magnificent birds.

They feed primarily on fish. Like terns, they fly 30-100 feet above the water and search for a fish. When a fish is spotted, they fold back their wings and dive toward the water. At the last moment before impact with the water, they rear their heads up and extend their legs and feet down into the water. A bird may go completely under water.

If it does go underwater and catches a fish, an ospsrey then has to pull itself up and get its wings above the water surface. Once the wings are above the water surface, the wings are pumped forward to get as much lift as possible. Not only does it have to pull its own weight out of the water, an osprey may also pull up to a four-pound fish, too. That is quit an accomplishment for a 2-3-pound bird.

Talons of osprey are designed for catching and holding slippery fish. Each talon measures about a third of a circle. On the bottom of each foot are spiny scales that help the bird grasp the fish. Unlike other birds of prey, the osprey have toes that are all the same length, which allows even grasping distribution.

Their long, angled wings and slim bodies profile the basic black-and-white coloration of the osprey and make them enjoyable to see at any season of the year.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia.

Rare and fine: Observing an osprey in Michigan is a thrilling sight because it is rare, but also because they are magnificent birds.

 How a company is perceived by its public often starts with a company image or logo. But translating a company's identity into a symbol that can be readily identified takes more than putting pen to paper.

But without it, businesses tend to have problems surviving, designers, public relations professionals and image consultants maintain. "Non-verbal communication can make or break a business," said Joyce Knudsen, owner of Image Maker in Bloomfield Hills. "The first thing you have to do as a reporter is get people to talk. As a consultant, the first thing I have to do is get people to know I exist."

"Everyone has to do something to set themselves apart from everyone else," said Beverly A. White, a marketer for Graphic Visions in Northville.

"Nowadays, CEOs are seeing that it's more important," said Dick Nicolson, president of Nicolson Design in Bloomfield Hills. "The logo sometimes is the first and only thing the market will see about your company." A good logo, image or identity won't guarantee more business, professionals say. But it's difficult to get invited to the dance if no one knows who you are. Nicolson designs logos and develops plans for the logos' presentation.

"When we look at image design, we try to portray what image a company thinks it should be," he said. "Big companies are so visible, they don't have to go into a detailed image. When you think of Chrysler and GM, you think about cars.

"A lot is input from client," Nicolson continued. "You research how a company is perceived by its market by talking to its clientele. Owners are probably the last ones to know how they're perceived in the marketplace."

Nicolson's own stationery consists of "Nicolson Design" printed in black letters in one corner plus the basic shapes — triangle, square and circle in the primary colors of red, blue and yellow in the other corners. He recently designed a logo to be used to promote the 1994 U.S. Figure Skating Championships. "We had to create an image that immediately told you it was skating, it's going to be in Detroit and it's going to be special."

His design — a pair of skaters as a hood ornament on a classic car. The philosophy is the same for business. "The basic goal in any logo is to give a clear, concise, simple message that can be identified almost immediately," Nicolson said.

Take, for example, a logo he designed for the former owners of Charley's Restaurant Group. "We tried to create a '40s tavern look with older style lettering and a plain, simple

Commercial trade exchange records growth in bartering

BY R.J. KING SPECIAL WRITER

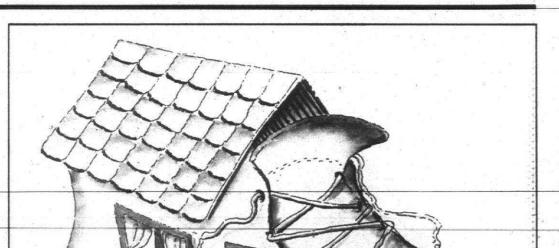

As a growing number of companies are being sent to the regulatory woodshed due to fraud, falsifying corporate data and outright embezzlement, commercial trade exchanges are moving in the opposite direction.

Bartering offers companies a way to increase sales, move surplus inventory and make use of excessive capacity — all priorities in a downturn. Many firms have even used bartering as a way to collect on bad debt or as a creative means of financing.

But even in good times, companies have quietly been discovering

Designing logos: Dick Nicolson helps companies develop images and identities through graphic representations. Businesses get a leg up with logos been turning to exchanges as never before, taking advantage of a stone-aged method of trade bartering — to fight off the economic slowdown.

But with the advance has come growing pains. Popular items that come up for trade on a limited basis, such as computers, fax machines or trucks, are often bartered away. While charges of favoritism have been rare, some trade brokers have taken pains to stifle such claims.

"When we have a high demand for a good or service, clients want assurances that I'm acting in an ethical manner,' said Daniel Blugerman, a Farmington Hills resident who is senior account executive for the Michigan Trade Exchange (MTE) in Oak Park.

"They want to know that I act the same way no matter what the product. Members, some of whom are competitors, want to make sure there are no tipoffs which go into processing a trade. When there is a waiting list for a particular item, we work on a firstcome, first-serve basis."

To add a measure of ethical standing to his profession, Blugerman was recently accredited a Certified Trade Broker (CTB) by the International Reciprocal Trade Association, the third barter professional in Michigan to receive the designation in the four years it has been offered.

"The certification is based on educational degree, years of experience, activism in the industry along with three client references," said Blugerman, who now lists CTB after his name on business cards.

Daniel Blugerman

"Once those factors have been met, you're eligible to take a comprehensive written and oral exam. The exam takes about half a day.

The questions center on ethical and business matters, with six essay questions and 50 multiple choice."

With 13 years of experience, Blugerman has 400 clients, 30 percent of whom are concentrated in the restaurant industry.

"Most of what I do is over the phone, encouraging members to trade," he said. "For all the technology out there today, this is still a personal-service industry."

Overall, MTE has 4,000 members which last year recorded $20 million in sales volume. Over the last five years, Fred Detwiler, president of the exchange, said annual sales have grown 8 to 10 percent on average.

"Companies have become so accustomed to exchanges that they've appointed bartering managers to keep track of everything," said Detwiler. "The minute we print a catalog, it's already out of date. Many of our members say they would never have been able to make improvements to their businesses without the exchange." the unique method of trade. Small firms can accumulate trade dollars, or credits, in return for products or services offered on an exchange. Using those credits, firms can then purchase goods and services offered by any other member of the exchange.

For instance, a printer may barter its services for office furniture, maintenance work on its delivery trucks or repairs on a leaky roof. While members pay wholesale for items bought through the exchange, they don't escape the Internal Revenue Service. Trade dollars are treated exactly like cash dollars for tax purposes.

"The trade exchange dollars have allowed me to remodel and expand my practice, as well as (buy) office supplies and furniture, said Dr. Michael McGrath, an optometrist and owner of the Farmington Vision Clinic in Farmington, an MTE member since 1981.

"It's also brought us business by bringing in new people, and I can use my trade dollars to advertise. We're even starting to use our dollars on the supplier side. It's a very creative network."

Most exchanges charge an average $500 membership fee and a 10 percent transaction fee — 5 percent to the buyer and 5 percent to the seller — on every deal. While complete figures on the dollar value of barter in the U.S. don't exist, the Reciprocal Trade Association estimates companies will trade over $1 billion in goods and services this year.

If non-exchange trading — primarily large deals between corporations arranged through trading companies — is counted, total barter volume would rise to over $6 billion, said the association.

Shell at one time spelled out the company name in its logo, but eventually revised the symbol to stand on its own. White said. "It had become so stable in the eves of people, they took the name off. Can you imagine how powerful that is?" she said.

It takes time to develop a logo and a commitment to consistent use for best results, White said.

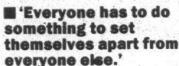

But even then, there's no guarantees.

Vehicle, or FEV, which is, if nothing else, one of the more elegant looking efforts to be shown so far. I was at the Farmington Nissan research center to drive the FEV, at least around the parking lot. It was a relatively pleasant car to buzz around in, with modest acceleration and reasonable corner-

Headlee family tries to help Romanian orphans

BY CASEY HANS STAFF WRITER

In these parts, the "Headlee" name often means politics. But it holds a much different meaning for 100 children in one of the many orphanages in Bucharest, Romania. Seventeen members of the Headlee family and friends from the area traveled to the struggling country for two weeks in April to take 40,000 pounds of donated clothing, food, playground equipment and other needed items and to work with the children there. They introduced music, dancing and playing to these children many who had been strapped to metal beds in ramshackle rooms all of their lives.

Included in the group were Mary and Dick Headlee of Farmington Hills, their eight children and spouses, and two older grandchildren. The family is spread throughout the country and decided to make the trip in lieu of a traditional family reunion.

"The people who grow up in America just really don't have a lently rocking themselves without clue," said son Doug Headlee, who lives in Novi, discussing the poverty, lifestyles and problems last spring asking for support for trip. Disabled people urged to cast their ballots

BY SUE BUCK STAFF WRITER

Everyone is important, and everyone's vote Forty-three million Americans are disabled, making up a large untapped group of voters.

Fear of rejection and physical inaccessibility keep many away from the polls. In Detroit alone, just 38 of the 309 polling sites are accessible to people who use wheelchairs, according to Awareness Communication Team for developmentally disabled people. "Everyone is important and everyone's vote is important," said Dzenowagis, a Farmington Hills resident and a "homefinder" in Family Foster Care at Michigan Department of Mental Health, Macomb-Oakland Re-

Last month, he received the EDI Award for best broadcast television feature story from the National Easter Seal Society for "You Can Vote," his 1988 documentary about voting rights for people with developmental disabilities. These are people who may have autism, epilepsy, mental retardation, cerebral palsy or be vision or hearing impaired.

ROLL CALL REPORT

Broomfield's with Bush for no abortion counseling

Here's how Observer & Eccentric-area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the Close of 102nd Congress

HOUSE

To Override Cable Veto: By a vote of 308 for and 114 against, the House defeated President Bush's veto of a bill (S 12) empowering federal and local authorities to regulate cable television rates and service standards. This followed a similar Senate vote (be low) and marked Congress's first override of a Bush veto.

Override supporter Steve Gunderson, R-Wis., said "this is note a vote to embarrass the president. This is a vote to support our constituents.

Veto backer Michael Oxley, R-Ohio, called the bill "a pre-election scam that is going to fool the consumer" when cable rates are driven higher by regulation.

A yes vote was to regulate cable television. Area representatives voting yes were: Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, William Ford, D-Taylor, Sander Levin, D-Southfield and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham. Voting no: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

Abortion Issue: By a vote of 266 for and 148 against, the House failed to achieve the twothirds majority needed to enact, over President Bush's veto, a bill (S 323) permitting federally funded clinics to provide abortion counseling as a family planning option. Override supporter Henry Waxman, D-Calif., said "this veto is callous to the needs of poor women around the nation.' In his veto message, the president objected that "the Congress has seen fit to entangle this family planning program in the politics of abortion.

A yes vote supported federally funded abortion counseling. Area representatives voting yes were: Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Sander Levin, Voting no: Broom

To Clear Tax Bill: By a vote of 208 for and 202 against, the House approved the conference report on legislation (HR 11) providing $27 billion in tax breaks over five years to spur personal savings and business growth and attract capital to urban and rural "enterprise zones." The bill remains deficit-neutral by raising an approximate amount of revenue, through hundreds of tax code changes pri marily affecting corporations and high-income individuals.

Supporter Charles Rangel, D-N.Y. said "members have said that we are raising taxes. Why do they not talk about the taxes that we are cutting?"

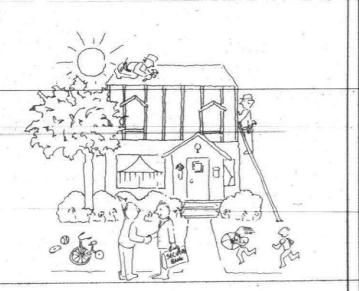

Opponent Bill Archer, R-Texas said "this country at this time does not need dozens of tax increases. A ves vote was to pass the bill. Area representatives voting ves were: Sander Levin. Voting no: Pursell, Hertel, William Ford and Broomfield.

Aid to Former Soviet Union: By a vote of 232 for and 164 against, the House approved the conference report on a fiscal 1993 aid bill (S 2532) for the former Soviet Union. The bill provides $505 million in development and humanitarian aid and $940 million for dismantling nuclear weapons, and increases the U.S. commitment to International Monetary Fund reserves by $12.3 billion. Supporter Harry Johnston, D-Fla., said "Russia's successful transformation to market-oriented democracy will yield bottom-line benefits for the American taxpay-

Opponent Maxine Waters, D-Calif., said ''I am not about to support anything for Russia or anybody else until we do something for our own in this country.' A yes vote supported the bill.

Area representatives voting ve were: Hertel, William Ford, Sander Levin and Broomfield. Voting no: Pursell.

Tobacco Policy: The House voted 338 for and 71 against to restore smoking rights at Veterans Administration hospitals, if confined to designated areas. This repealed a 1990 VA administrative ban on indoor smoking at the hospitals. The vote occurred as the House passed a bill upgrading veterans health programs (HR 5192). Supporter Don Sundquist, R-

Tenn., said "as long as smoking remains a lawful activity, hospitalized veterans should enjoy the same rights as every other American."

Opponent Jim McDermott, D-Wash., said "requiring federal hospitals to expose their patients to a carcinogen is not good public health legisla

A yes vote supported smoking rights at VA hospitals. Area representatives voting yes were: Hertel, William Ford and Sander Levin. Voting no: Pursell and Broomfield.

The Budget For Congress: By a vote of 253 for and 143 against, the House approved the conference report on a $2.27 billion budget for the house, Senae and congressional support agencies in fiscal 1993. SENATE

To Ratify 'Start': By a vote of 93 for and 6 against, the Senate approved the Strategic Arms Redúction Treaty (START). It is now up to the four former Soviet repub lics with nuclear weapons to ratify the pact. By 1999, the treaty would reduce by about one-third each side's existing stocks of long range nuclear warheads. Further cuts are expected from a follow-up agreement between President Bush and Russian President Boris Yeltsin.

Supporter Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., called the treaty "a very real step toward bringing an end to the global nuclear arms race."

Opponent Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo, said that if the United States ratifies START it will lose leverage for negotiating further arms cuts. A yes vote was to ratify START Michigan Sens, Carl Levin, D.

KIDNEY FAILURE. GANGRENE. BLINDNESS. HEART DISEASE

Just a few of the side effects a diabetic has to live with. Or die with.

Most of us know that diabetics must take daily insulin shots to control their disease. But what many people don't know is that even with the shots, a host of complications can arise. Like blindness. Kidney failure. Gangrene. Heart disease. And nerve damage.

If fact, it's these side effects of diabetes that are so brutal and often life-threatening. So please give to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Because there's only one way to eliminate the complications. Eliminate the disease.

GENERAL ELECTION ON

Companies find new ways to support favorite causes

With the recession cutting into corporate America's profit mar-gins, major businesses are finding new, non-monetary ways of sup-porting their favorite charities, according to the editor of "Corpo-rate Giving Directory," published later this month by the Washington-based Taft Group. Although total donations among the top givers remained relatively steady, corporations in-creased contributions of such items as computer equipment, food, clothing, even homes, by 23 percent.

"The increase in non-monetary donations is the most significant trend in corporate giving of the past several years and it shows no sign of letting up," said editor David Hicks.

Hart proposal would toughen insurance rule

Non-residents moving into Michigan will be unable to avoid buying vehicle plates and no-fault insurance if a bill sponsored by Sen. George Hart, D-Dearborn, becomes law.

The Senate earlier this month gave unanimous approval to Hart's SB 1173 and sent it to the House.

The bill would reduce in-transit registrations from 30 days to 14. It would require the owner to show a certificate of insurance when purchasing an in-transit or temporary permit. The permit fee would be raised from $5 to $10.

"This bill is intended to ensure that anyone who receives an intransit registration will use it for transporting a vehicle and not for driving without insurance or trying to avoid emissions testing or plate fees," said Hart.

The Senate also passed two other Hart proposals:

■ SB 1172 making it a felony to falsify applications for certificates of title, registration, plates, driver's licenses or vehicle inspections. Hart said making them felonies "should act as a deterrent to reduce these crimes."

SB 1174 allowing a manufacturer to purchase manufacturer plates instead of civic event plates when donating cars for civic parades. "The secretary of state estimates this bill will save the department approximately $22,000" in paperwork, Hart said.

Sheriff's union urges voters to reject Prop D

The Wayne County Sheriff's Union Local 502 is urging a "no" vote on Proposal D, the statewide ballot proposal to amend Michigan's insurance laws.

"For example, in 1992 about 20 percent of IBM's $18 million gift to the United Way will be composed of computer equipment,' Hicks said.

IBM isn't the only company looking for creative ways to support worthy causes. Foot Locker recently donated 1,500 pairs of miles to children's charities. The airline, which matches the donations on a 3-to-1 ratio, flies terminally ill kids for medical treatment or dream trips.

According to Hicks, nonprofits can benefit from this trend by approaching businesses with creative program ideas, not just a request for cash.

There's only so much cash that can go around, so a proposal that involves other types of company resources is much more likely to get a second or third look," said Hicks.

He also feels there's something for corporate America to learn from the trend.

"Corporate Giving Directory" is an annual publication of The Taft Group which identifies, tracks, and profiles America's leading philanthropic corporations. The 1993 edition includes 607 corporations which donated a total of $2.55 billion in 1991.

The executive board of Local 502 voted to oppose the proposal on Oct. 8. The union has 1,100 members.

The union says the proposal makes driving without liability insurance legal in Michigan thereby increasing costs for good drivers and shifts the costs of Bealth care to businesses.

The union officials also that under Proposal D insurance companies and their agents cannot be held responsible if they sell someone a policy with the wrong or inadequate coverage. The union says there is nothing that guarantees any rollback rate. and nothing to guarantee that rates will not go up if the proposal is adopted.

Creating library art delights fiber artist t's the lifeblood of a community, boasting all that's basic for people to nurture their heart and nourish their soul.

'The library gives the best impression of a community," says James Gilbert, a renowned fiber artist selected by a citywide fabric art selection committee from 10 sculptors for a $5,000 commission to create an aerial sculpture for the Livonia Civic Center Library Atrium.

"Because it helps inform tomorrow's adults as well as adults who want to better themselves, the library holds the key to how a community will survive," said Gilbert, who weaves his artistry in a St. Claire Shores home studio.

"When traveling, I go to the local library just to see what it offers. Without a good resource center, people don't get fresh ideas nor can they learn from proven ideas.

A fine arts graduate of Center for Creative Studies in Detroit and Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, Gilbert actively supports the Detroit Institute of Arts Founders Society and its Friends of Modern Art Auxiliary. He's the first of several fiber artists whom Friends of the Livonia Library will commission to do three-dimensional pieces for the Atrium.

The four-year-old library's two entryways lead to a sloping Atrium that rises to 40 feet. The Atrium is home to chamber concerts, used book sales, art exhibits and other community events.

Fiber art in the Atrium will play off a collage of brick, mortar, wood, steel, glass, natural light and trees visible through the northside windows. By floating in space, the fabric hangings will fill a sort of architectural void.

Gilbert's piece — abstract art painted and drawn on aluminum stripping woven into durable dyed rayon — will be unveiled by early spring. "It'll be abstract but if you study it," he said, "you'll pick up on the symbols and markings put into it on purpose.

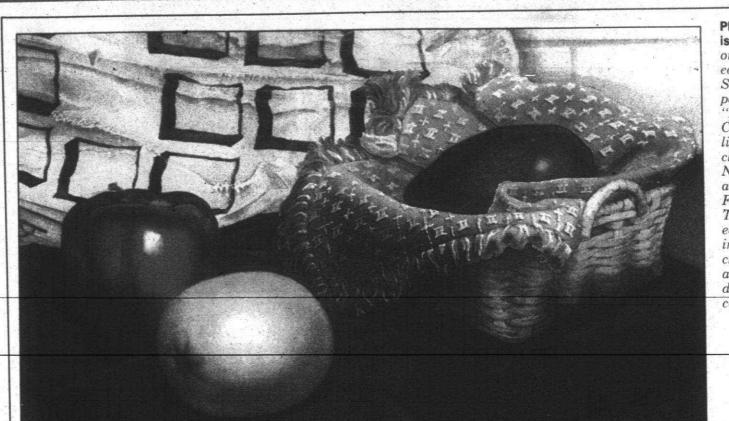

A theme of natural and human forces working in harmony is the common thread to his fabric art. "If nature and man can work together, if they can unravel a mood of sharing, everything works well. If one takes over, things get harried.

Gilbert is still shaping his design. But you can bank on sunlight penetrating the loosely woven fibers, reflecting off the aluminum stripping and inspiring some fanciful effects.

Multi-paneled sculpture

A professional artist for 22 years, Gilbert teaches watercolor and life drawing at Cranbrook and both weaving and arts and crafts at Oakland Community College in Auburn Hills.

Three colorful panels pulling apart from each other will make up his library sculpture. The piece stand 18 feet high and extend 30 feet wide. The higher-hanging outer pieces will start straight but curve as they flirt with the curved centerpiece.

alette and Brush Club's fall art exhibition, "Autumn Inspirations-'92, A Point of View," continues through Oct. 29 in the lobby of Livonia City Hall, Farmington Road and Five Mile.

The annual Livonia Arts Commission-sponsored show features 34 watercolor, pastel, acrylic, colored pencil, collage, oil and mixed media artworks by 29 club members.

First place went to watercolorist Toni Stevens of Plymouth for her subtly colored portrait, "Brendan." She painted it in a watercolor class at the Birmingham

Bloomfield Art Association with instructor Mary Aro. Colleen Hilz-inger of Royal Oak Toni Stevens took second placed for "Sun-sation," a Janus Benda of Farmington Hills for "Orchid," a watercolor; and Janet Storm of Rochester for Oranges," an acrylic.

Special mentions went to Jeri Fellwock of Farmington for "Urban View," a mixed media; Norma Goldsmith of Highland for "Sweet Sue, #a watercolor/crayon; and Lillian Rogers of Birminghqam for

"Roses," an acrylic. "It was gratifying to win first place this fall, after winning first place in the spring show," Stevens said.

Painted in shades of pinks and mauves, "Brendan" arouses curiosity in the viewer about the model. Shadows on the face, blinds in the background and a tropical plant on the right add to that.

Famed fiber artist

He's a marquee player on the fiber art circuit: Make no mistake about that. Gilbert's artwork hangs in hotels, banks, offices and homes throughout North America. Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum and the Detroit Institute of Arts have spotlighted his work. The people of Pontiac bought one of his pieces for the mayor of their sister city in Kusatsu, Japan. This winter, he'll show his work with other fiber artists at Prescott Fine Arts Gallery in Prescott, Ariz.

But this will mark his first fabric hanging in a library. "It's a nice opportunity to enhance my skills in a setting I'm not used to doing. I'm also very pleased that the library is thinking of art as an integral part of its being."

"I've seen his work at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids and it's just outstanding. It's such a beautiful piece," said Jack Olds, Friends vice president and arts commission chairman.

"Our committee was unanimous that his work had a sculpturalness to it and didn't represent just a flat surface against a wall. There was a certain excitement as soon as we saw it."

To which Olds added: "The piece he'll do for us not only will work with the architecture, but will add action, movement, color and another design element to a huge space that first catches the eye of visitors to the library."

The custom-designed home in Farmington Hills is bold and dramatic: an overstuffed black and white sectional dominates the living room, punctuated by strong colors and geometric shapes.

Both homes strike different notes on a comtemporary theme. They have in common large, open spaces, clean lines and lots of light. Window treatments are minimal or non-existent. Because there's little clutter, the unusual accent pieces stand out.

One day, she wandered into Laurel Park Place Mall in Livonia, looking for a small reading lamp to put next to the loveseat. There she met interior designer Barbara Steinert, who helped her pick out the lamp - and ended up working with her on the rest of the house. The two have been fast

"It's funny to think this all started from one little lamp," the woman said with a smile.

The house has a fairly large living room and dining room side by side, with just a narrow molding around the archway to separate them. In the living room , she and Steinert decided to buy a matching loveseat and place the two opposite each other on each

The walls are a soft white and the carpet beige, which makes the room light and open. The mauve, blue, jade and purple in the loveseats are picked up throughout the room: in the large wallhanging modeled after a Chinese cerermonial robe, in the mauve buffet in the dining room and in strking flower arrangements.

Slender glass candlesticks of different heights hold mauve candles on the square glass and brass coffee table between the loveseats. Propped against the fireplace mantle is an unusual piece: a carved wood square from a 16thcentury Chinese wedding bed.

The woman had to do a little finagling to get the large Chinese "fishbowl" pot, which holds an artificial tree on one side of the fireplace. She found the pot at an auction and was determined to buy it because it picked up the orange in the fireplace brick; a dealer also had his eye on it and kept bidding against her. Finally, she shamed him into giving up.

"I told him, 'You stop that. Do you really need that pot?" " Steinert took a more dramatic approach in the den, combining strong teal walls with black and gray. The den features a plush gray and black sectional that wraps around one corner, a black lacquer cabinet that holds the television and books, and "puddle drapes" that do fall to puddle on the floor.

Livonia Arts Commission presents an exhibition of repousse, one of the techniques used in the ancient art of enameling through Oct. 30 in the circular showcases on the second floor of the Livonia Civic Center Liels, sifters and tools necessary for repousse work. "Enameling has many techniques to it. Besides repousse, there's cloisonne and Limoges," Rothamel said.

Informative placards in the exhibit tell about the history of the art form. Enameling was first known to the Greeks in the Fifth Century B.C. Gold sculptures were inlaid with thin layers of enameling. Cloisonne originated in the Fourth Century. By the Third Century, enameling was being used in the British Isles. The French developed the technique known as Limoges, the Romans, the champleve.

BUILDING SCENE'S NAMES & PLACES

Excellence in building

Two area buildings were among the three selected as regional winners in the Pursuit of Excellence Office Building of the Year competition sponsored by the Building Owners & Managers Association of Metropolitan Detroit.

They are Brookfield Office Park in Farmington Hills, winner in the suburban office park category; and City Center in Southfield, winner in the 100,000- to 500,000-sqare-foot category.

Etkin Equities is the general partner and Equities Management the managing company for both properties.

The Fisher Building in Detroit was named best historical building.

The winners are eligible for honors in international competition to be held in Baltimore in June.

BOMA is associated with the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

State award winner

Joseph Benyai, an associate-broker with Signature Associates, Southfield, has been named the Commercial Realtor of the Year by the Michigan Association of Realtors.

Benyai also was named Realtor of the Year for the South Oakland County Board of Realtors. He is a founding member and current chairman of MAR's commercial industrial group and a member of the Detroit Metro Commercial Investment Division. He also is a member of the Commerical Investment Real Estate Institute, the National Marketing Institute and the Michigan Association of Real Estate Exchangers.

Morris & Berke VP

A. Lyle Beckwith has been promoted to vice president of property management at Morris & Berke, Bingham Farms. He is responsible for management of day-to-day operations, including maintenance, marketing, tenant relations and hiring and training of building staff.

Builders loath to cross county lines

Convenience and comfort are a couple of reasons you won't often see builders venturing outside of a base community to build new subdivisions. Here are a few exceptions.

BY GERALD FRAWLEY STAFF WRITER

Builder/developer Lawrence Cohen, president of Cohen Associates in West Bloomfield, is entering a new world called Western Wayne County.

Sure, for those of you who have lived there, this hardly equates with Columbus's discovery of the new world, but for a builder/developer who has made his name in the heart of Oakland County, it's a big step. Building is a parochial avocation. Of the literally hundreds of builders that work in southeastern Michigan, most work almost exclusively in one or two — generally nearby — communities.

Only a small handful build across county lines. With the grand opening of Meadowbrook — which he is both developing and building — in Canton Township this week, Cohen joins that number. Cohen has built in West Bloomfield almost exclusively, but several years ago branched out to Novi with Woods of Novi development.

Building in Canton

Cohen broke ground on the 33-acre, 77-homesite project south of Ford Road on Canton Center last February, he said, but planning began many years ago.

many years ago. Cohen said he doesn't think builders are territorial by nature; it's more a question of convenience and comfort levels.

'There are so many ways (to build a home) wrong and just a few ways to do it right," he said. "When you build in only one area, you learn what will fly and what won't."

Nor does he find builders are more competitive than normal when another enters his "territory."

"I've always found builders to be friendly competitors," he said.

When he began looking in other areas, he said he discovered most builders were more than willing to help him determine what would be appropriate for that area and what wouldn't.

Some were more helpful than others, but he said he came away with the general feeling that builders realize that the more diversity available in a marketplace, the better it is for all builders.

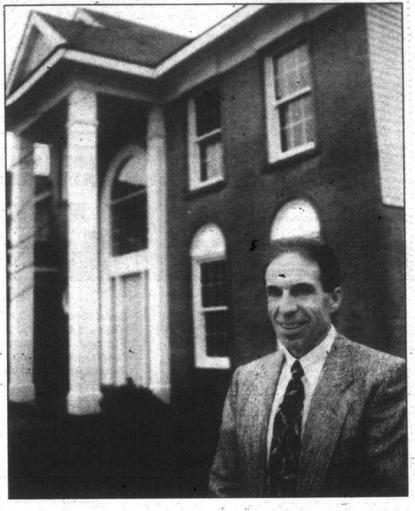

Added diversity

It's only natural that builders stick to areas where they've had success, Cohen said, because every time a builder enters a new community he has to start over again.

"For our company — we don't desire to be a huge company — but we need to maintain at least three subdivisions," Cohen said. That number keeps all of his employees busy and helps him to provide diversified products.

"I didn't feel comfortable doing it all in one community," he said. "If my homes aren't selling in West Bloomfield, they may be selling in Canton — it broadens my market."

We spent nearly two years going through models (of other builders in western Wayne) in preparation for this," he said. Cohen said he also made a special effort to solicit information from Wayne County residents who toured the model he built for last year's Homerama in Novi.

Well known in Oakland County, Cohen is trying his hand in Western Wayne County with the grand opening of Meadowbrook, his first project in Wayne County, joining a small handful of builders working in more than one county.

Cohen said one of the toughest parts of building in a different community is establishing oneself all over again. "We're the new kids on the block and we're not automatically

"From our point of view, there's an extensive lack of confidence and uncertainty out there,' Kaczmarek said. "We still are perceived as a high-cost, poor siness climate.'

Another bright spot - model ate infrastructure growth. "Espe-cially in the road area, a fair amount of dollars will be put into the area over the next five years.

Redevelopment opportunities are ripe in southeast Oakland communities such as Southfield, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Hazel Park due to favorable interest rates and land costs, Kaczmarek said. Whether it happens depends on availability of money.

Evaluation: Needed tool in child care

At some point or another, a child care professional, as well as entrepreneur, corporation or organization will have to systematically evaluate what it is they say they do. It would be difficult to continue input into any service without responding to feedback.

I have a legitimate concern about the competency of a person or persons at the helm of a business who's closed to systematic evaluation whether it's intentional or not. It is a sad epitaph to be a part of or associated with an early childhood education program that resists or put up barriers to paths of receiving valuable information and feedback.

It would be easy to describe a program that fails to view evaluation as integral part of operation and growth as one that walks a tightrope blinded. Each step taken could be hit or miss. There's no turning back, or standing still to regain balance. On the other hand, a competent child care professional can avoid the tightrope and turn the hit-ormiss method of operating around to their advantage.

- As children learn by doing and from "real experiences," child care professionals can do the same with their program - done in the systematic context. Evaluating what does and does not work and why is a necessity in every good program.

Evaluation is a method used to simply appraise or assess. It is a means to measure productivity.

I view evaluation and the re-evaluation process as a comma or period in a sentence. It gives one the opportunity to pause and digest what has been said. The importance as it relates to evaluation enables one to revisit, to see if goals are being met.

Is the environment safe, healthy and does it promote learning? Are there opportunities and activities that enable young children to feel good about themselves? Will parents have opportunities to really feel a vital part to the success or growth of the program? These are some serious questions that deserve realistic answers to.

How do you go about getting answers? You must first start by knowing and understanding the role of a child care professional.

The role of a child care professional is to be an extension to families. In family day care, the role might include being a surrogate parent or in some cases, a parent on call. In both commerical and home-based settings, the role of a competent professional would not include replacing the primary caregivers, the parents, but to serve as an adult contive for the nerent

Ready to dance: For Suzan Marzec, dancing is a way of life, so much so that she spent four summers in Lublin. Poland, studying Polish dancing. Now, she's teaching those dances to her troupe, Radomianie.

Troupe helps fulfill her dream

At age 38, Suzan Marzec is a college graduate, but her degree isn't the usual U.S. variety. It comes from the University of Marie Sklodowska Curie in Lublin, Poland, and shows she was excellent in her study of Polish folklore.

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

Suzan Marzec is your typical college graduate. She proudly shows off her degree, talks about the four long years, plenty of hard work and many hours spent getting it.

That's where the typicalness ends. The degree she shows you is a in small green book about the size of a passport. In Polish, it announces that she successfully completed the study of Polish folk lore music, dancing and costuming at the University of Marie Sklodowska Curie in Lublin, Poland.---

Marcez is one of a handful of Americans to complete the course work at the university, no easy task for a second generation American who spoke less than fluent in Plymouth, the adult dance troupe has been learning the finer points of Polish dance for three years. They have mastered five maior regional suites and four major polkas and will add two more suites to their repertoire this year.

Just people

The members come from as close as Livonia, Plymouth and Canton to as far away as Mount Clemens and have invested a lot of time learning the dance steps. And Mar-zec is confident that, after four years of training, the troupe will be ready to perform in Poland and, if the invitation comes, in Radom, the city the group is named after. (Radomianie means people from Radom.)

also were taught how to be choreographers. They had to write out a dance in words, by diagram and counts (for the beats) as well as prepare an uktad (pronounced ukewad), a three-minute suite.

Classes were in Polish and Marzec worked late into the night translating the lessons into English "so I would know what to say back in Polish."

Her finals were taken before a board of 18 people. Eight were the country's top choreographers and members of the Polish Folk Lore Society, another eight were choreographers from the different regions of Poland and two who specialized in singing and music.

There was a time Marzec doubted she could pass the final exam, but her husband, who flew to Poland with her two sons for her graduation, kept telling her she would be fine.

"I just felt I couldn't do it," Marzec said, "but my attitude was different when I finished. This was didn't expect an excellent because I couldn't speak the language good enough, even though I took (language) classes.

When they gave me a diploma it was like getting a gold medal." With school behind her, Marzec is focusing on Radomianie. The 20member troupe divides its time between rehearsing at the Oddfellow Hall in Plymouth and the old fire station on Farmington Road in Livonia.

When not rehearsing, the group is performing at Polish and international festivals, schools and the like. Their typical performance includes suites from the regions of Rzeszow, Krakow and Lublin, Polish national dances, background on their costumes and information about Polish traditions.

The troupe wears reproductions of regional costumes. Marzec buys the originals and has them copied because some of the Polish made garments can cost as much as $700.

The troupe does get paid for its

The family child care professional must recognize that their role as sometimes surrogate parent must blend well with the role of an educator.

A competent child care professional offers services that are in support of the family's philoso-phies. A happy, secure "kid's place" must be one that leads to a preparatory path to a more conventional institution of learning, kindergarten.

In an environment where a competent child care provider incorporates the child friendly techniques with good business strategies, evaluation is part of the process.

If you are a serious child care provider or professional who first takes pride in yourself and the profession/work that you have chosen, stagnation has no place in the program. Evaluation brings about growth.

Whether the evaluation proves to be one that suggests training is necessary, or perhaps pursuing the child development associate credential or the National Association of Family Day Care (NAFOC) accreditation, it is a tool to chart effectiveness, productivity and credibility.

In writing this article I can't help but think about a 80-year-old family child care provider. I had the priviledge of getting to know her while shne was enrolled in a class I taught and was sponsored by the Child Care Coorainating Council (4C) Detroit/Wayne County.

It was easy for me to admire and appreciate her commitment and energy she displayed while taking the six-week series. She had been providing child care in her home for more tnan 20 years. She obtained her registration shortly after the Act 116 of 1973 provided a statutory base for all child care organizations to provide child care in homes.

This dedicated provider, she saw a need to pause and acknowledge that re-assessment of her program was necessary in order to meet the changing needs of children and families.

As a result, she noted a deficiency in her family child care program which she felt could be remedied by taking training.

However, the need for this family child care provider to have formal training was prevalent, it was evident that her willingness to be open improvement, coupled with her zeal to learn, inspired her to take the necessary steps to grow.

"The first year an instructor told me I shouldn't be in the school because my Polish was so poor," she said. 'It was like a slap in the face, but I can understand why. Over there, dancing is culture, custom, and that's the way it should be. There's no compromising.

Little did that instructor know that four years later Marzec would complete the course work and graduate second in her class. Now she's using her new found training to ready her dance troupe, Radomianie, for a performance of a lifetime at the Rzeszow folk lore festival next summer.

Making the grade

Traditionally, the students receive grades of excellent, good and fair, the lowest acceptable grade for graduation. After the exams, the class was called together, with the top five students honored by Stanislaw Leszczymski, "the Gregory Hines of Lublin dancers."

That's when Marzec discovered she finished second in her class of 28 with a grade of excellent.

"They make a lot of sacrifices, Marzec said of her troupe. "When we perform, we have a lot of practices. There's a lot of commitment to learning new suites and reviewing old ones.

The troupe is always looking for new members and musicians to accompany the group. Some dance experience is necessary since Ra-domianie "isn't a dance school," Marzec said. Persons interested in the troupe may contact the director Cynthia Schertzer at 561-4391.

World specialists show mastery

Though there have been moments of chagrin in my checkered bridge career, I have learned much. Good breeding can best be displayed at the table by concealing how much you think of yourself and how little you think of others. ■ I truly hold in veneration that little band of world specialists who carry no banners, nor beat any drums for their presence, and play at the table is all that is required to substantiate their mas

I'm not sure which of these world masters is supreme, Georgia Belladona, Benito Garozzo or WOODY Pietro Forquet. Any selection process would re-BOYD quire considerable deliberation, for the evidence supporting each one's brilliance is considerable. For lack of the proper decision-making panel to call upon as I pen this, I would cast in favor of Garozzo. I have thrice had the amazing training to play against him, and it was an amazing incursion into the world of exceptional expert play. His partnership with fellow blue teammate Pietro Forquet was for years untouchable, which significantly contributed to seven consecutive Bermuda Bowl victories. Then in 1969, in tandem with the great Belladona, they were acclaimed the sovereign pair in the world and instrumental in Italy's Third World Olympiad victory. Maybe our illustrious couple of Bobbys, Hamman and Wolfe, are today their equal, but just maybe!

I first met Benito in '84 in New York after he had moved to the States. Our last close encounter was at Bal Harbour in the spring of '91 when he and Lea DuPont placed just ahead of Bobby Goldman

Declarer had two aces to lose, and what was he to do with the spade suit? He ruffed West's lead and played to dummy's trump queen and East ace. East wasn't stupid and played his spade ace before getting out with a heart, which was again ruffed. You say Benito was lucky to find the spade ace? I say he wasn't! Ask your-self whether West would double the three spade bid with three to the jack, 10, small? Obviously not! The spades had to be four/one with East holding the singleton ace or he wouldn't have had enough high-card stuff to warrant his bids. Now you say, Why did East prematurely play the spade ace? Benito concluded that East realized he would be end-played if he waited. At trick (5) was a diamond to dummy's 10, extracting East's last trump. Then, it was a club to the ace, and back to the king. While the jack could have been successfully finessed, experts prefer sure bets. At trick (8) dummy's small club was ruffed and the trump king was played. Here was the beautiful four-card ending.

When Benito played his trump jack, West had to unprotect his spades or throw his high club. Neither play could win for the defenders. Woody Boyd teaches local bridge classes and is a life master. He lives in Bloomfield Township.

Woman's Club celebrates its centenary anniversary

BY JULIE BROWN STAFF WRITER

The year was 1893, and a handful of Plymouth women decided the time had come to form a literary society.

"It started out with just a small group of eight or nine women," Grace Rix of Plymouth Township said of the literary society, which would become the Woman's Club of Plymouth. Today, the club has about 140 members, who are looking forward to the ongoing 100th anniversary celebration during the 1992-93 season.

"I've been in about eight years," said Rix, a retired executive secretary for Quanex Corp. who serves as club president. "Of course, some of them have been in for 40. So I'm just a beginner, I guess."

Each fall, Woman's Club members hold a kickoff luncheon, with any profits going to support civic giving. "This year is kind of special because this launches our anniversary year," said Mary Fritz, program chairwoman for the club.

Members decided a play/fashion show would be the perfect way to kick off the centennial season. Club member Mary Ellen Eckler wrote the "Scenes From Yesteryear" production, presented during the Oct. 2 meeting at the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth.

"It depicts activities of 100 years of the Woman's Club of Plymouth and it also depicts things that have happened in our world," said Fritz, a school administrator who joined the club in 1967. "Everybody pitched in. It's been really great."

The production covers the time span of 1893 to 1992, in segments of 25 years. Minutes of club meetings — including those of the 1890s — and other records helped in putting the production together.

Club members produced "Scenes From Yesteryear," with about 20 women involved as performers and behind the scenes. Rehearsals began in August, with Fritz and Rix doing the directing.

Some costume ideas came from the Plymouth Historical Museum, Rix said, and club members and friends provided clothing from different eras. "Those are the types of things we're wearing."

Woman's Club members have seen many changes through the years, and the organization isn't what it was 100 or even 25 years ago. "Their interests have changed from just getting together for tea," Rix said.

Each year at Christmas, club members have a "mitten tree," with mittens, hats and scarves donated to needy people. The club also sponsors an annual scholarship recognition program for outstanding high school seniors in the Plymouth-Canton community. An annual benefit card party/luncheon helps to support civic projects of the club.

Club members will celebrate their 100th anniversary during a special program next March 4. Rix isn't sure just what direction the Woman's Club of Plymouth will be headed in 100 years from now.

"I don't know what's going to happen, but it keeps growing." Some younger women are joining the club, and new members are more than welcome. (For membership information, call 455-7367 or 453-5178.)
