Doubt greets plan

■ Gov. John Engler's plan to finance schools and reform their operations was met with "show me" comments from Plymouth-Canton school officials. Republican Canton Supervisor Tom Yack is all for the new plan.

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

In his address before the Legislature Tuesday, Gov. John Engler unveiled plans for establishing "new schools for a new era." Plymouth-Canton school superintendent John Hoben was among those in attendance, and like others, he has questions and reservations about Engler's proposals

To fix what he calls "an inadequate, inequitable and antiquated structure for financing schools" that has Michigan on a course bound for educational disaster, the governor wants to remove schools from the millage business.

Schools will no longer be funded with property tax revenue, the result of a recently enacted law. Instead, schools will be funded, if voters agree, with a 2-percent sales tax increase, a 4-percent real estate transfer tax, sin taxes and other revenues. Educational reforms the governor is pushing for include schools of choice and charter schools

Said Hoben: "This still has to go through the legislative process. A lot of concerns have to be shared, the foundation grant for instance. What Engler doesn't speak to is additional costs we'll have to cover, such as Social Security and retirement, which is about $4 million in our case.

Plymouth-Canton coffers next year have the potential of growing to $79 million from $77 million, allowing per pupil spending of $5,300, up from $5,124 this year. "The potential increase is eaten up in terms of Social Security and retirement, so it's really not a gain. It's a flat curve for us,' said Hoben, who noticed the Democrats listening to Engler "were sitting on their hands, pretty much.

The greatest majority of Michigan's school districts will benefit financially, said Hoben. But, he said, "if money were the factor that brought quality. I'd go along with it. But I don't see equity, and certainly not quality, being built upon dollars.

"Engler is a very forceful leader. He will work very hard to make this reality," said Hoben, noting with concern that the governor did not address curriculum or content.

The schools of choice proposal left unanswered questions about transportation and school capacity, he added. "Who determines when a school is at capacity? As I see it, this is just another log on the fire."

Voyage takes kids back in time

On a recent brisk, sunny autumn day at Metro Beach on Lake St. Clair, 60 students from Fiegel and Allen elementary schools weren't merely fifth graders. With a little help from their teachers and interpretive naturalist Mary Wise, their imaginations took them back to the 1600s and Detroit-area waterways, where stu-dents became French voyageurs, canoeing and trading with hostile and friendly Indians.

HUD grant helps build senior housing

By Joanne Maliszewski Staff Writer

Ginnie Hauck got the news early Monday morning. The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development came through with a $3.4 million grant to build a 56-unit apartment building for lowincome senior adults next to Canton Place.

"It really was down to where I knew there were four other projects in the Detroit metro area. I was beginning to feel they wouldn't go with us even though our application was second to none," said Hauck, Canton Place manager.

National Church Residences, which owns Canton Place and applied for the federal financing, also received $224,000 for operations for what will be called Canton Towers, to be built immediately west of Canton Place at Sheldon and Ford roads.

Supervisor Tom Yack was pleasantly surpised with the news. "That's tremendous," he said. "Apparently, the application they put in is going to be used as a model."

Canton Township officials are asking property owners fronting congested Canton Center Road if they're interested in participating in a special assessment district to buy right-of-way for the proposed widening of the thoroughfare.

"The only way we're going to get a federal grant to pay for the road is for us to have the right-ofway," said Tom Casari, township

The problem is that the township cannot afford to buy the right-of-way from property owners along Canton Center, to widen it to five lanes, from Cherry Hill to

"If the township had to buy it, they would have to spend $2 million, which they don't have," Casari said.

Instead, township officials want to know if property owners would be interested in setting up a $2-million special assessment district to buy the right-of-way needed before the township could get county and federal financing

Lions Club celebrates milestone

By Joanne Maliszewski

In 1968, a group of residents got together and formed a new group - the Lions Club of Canon. They're still going strong and in fact, five of the current 18 members are charter members.

The club just celebrated its 25th anniversary, "We've eached a significant milestone in our community. To my knowledge, there isn't another civic club that's served as long as the Lions," said Canton Township Supervisor Tom

The supervisor presented Lions president Art Winkel, Canton Township fire marshal, with a resolution honoring the club on its 25th anniversary.

In its tenure, the club has raised approximately $72,700 to help a variety of programs, including the Eye Bank of Michigan, the Leader Dog for the Blind program, the Welcome Home for the Blind and the Penrickton Center in Taylor. The club also started, with the Canton Fire Department, a loan closet for medical/handi cap equipment, such as wheelchairs. The Lions also help needy local people who need eye exams and classes, said Winkel, Grant Campbell, Donald Roche-George Simons, Ron Loughran and Andrew Smith."One hundred percent of the money we raise goes to projects," Winkel added.

Anyone who is interested in oining the Lions should call Winkel at 397-5348. Winkel said he also wouldn't mind calls for help with the Goodfellows, of which he is also president.

Local legislators react to Engler's school reform plan

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Tax differences can be ironed out, but Gov. John Engler's plan for non-union "charter schools" is in big trouble with some members of the Michigan Legislature.

"Buzz words," scoffed Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chairman of both the House Edu cation Committee and a Democratic task force on school reform 'Our survey showed 74 percent don't want to use public tax dollars to fund charter schools. The voucher plan may drain taxes into

Engler plan stresses 'choice'

Gov. John Engler Tuesday came out swinging against publicschools as a failure, a "gulag," a monopoly," a "Berlin wall," the company store . . . holding kids hostage" as he advocated competition through charter schools.

The first-term governor spoke to a national television audience as well as 148 legislators. He said local school districts should be, empowered to grant charters to groups of teachers, a business or other entities to operate a school specializing in math, history, the arts, technology or even preschool. Charter schools would be free Communication Is The Key To Any Good Relationship.

Especially This One . . .

Your relationship with your obstetrician/gynecologist is one of the most important ones you'll ever have. Good communication with your doctor is the key to making your pregnancy and the birth of your baby one of the most special times of your life.

You want a doctor sensitive to your beliefs, yet professional enough to make medical decisions quickly and responsibly. At Meadowbrook Obstetrics and Gynecology, Dr. Steven J. Friedman believes in giving careful consideration to your needs and desires while doing everything possible to ensure a smooth, safe pregnancy and delivery.

He encourages discussion of any prenatal and birthing concerns ranging from cravings and varicose veins to amniocentesis and epidurals. He pays close attention not only to your body and the baby growing inside, but also to your thoughts, feelings and questions too.

Dr. Friedman will communicate various birthing and prenatal options, ensuring that everyone — doctor, patient and family — has all the information necessary to make educated decisions at this momentous time in your life.

Why not get the latest relationship in your life — the one with your new baby — off to a great start? Select an obstetrician/gynecologist who cares about communicating with you.

"Admissions directors and teachers told us they wanted something that tests how well a student can think critically and pany that writes the questions. 'It's the '90s, and to survive, students need to know how to think and solve problems logically."

The move to allow students to use calculators on all sections of the math test was also made to shift the focus away from basic arithmetic - a basic skill that must be mastered by college and toward problem-solving techniques, Pert added.

Think it through

"Students will still have to think through the steps of a problem — a calculator won't help them in the slightest if they don't understand the concepts we are esting," Pert said. "It will speed up things in one respect and help prevent careless errors.'

Changes in the verbal portion of the test are also included, making it the most significant SAT facelift in 20 years. The verbal section measures a o acknowledge National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10, the Canton Chamber of Commerce and Canton Fire Department are sponsoring a poster contest for elementary students in private and public schools.

Contest posters due

Chamber officials expect about 800 entries from students who are asked to stress this year's theme of "Get Out! Stay Out!" McDonald's of Canton, Livonia Trophy and Screen Printing and The Art Store will donate refreshments and services for the awards ceremony Oct. 19.

Posters should be submitted to the classroom teacher by Friday, Oct. 8. Winners and secondand third-place finishers in two grade levels will receive $50 savings bonds. Frank McMurray of State Farm Insurance is the chamber fire prevention/poster contest committee chairman.

For more information, contact the chamber at ull speed, so it's time for Canton Township residents to remember that The Canton Community Foundation provides many services used by local residents. The foundation is now involved in a $200,000 fund-raising drive.

In the past, much of the foundation's money came from business donors. Now, the foundation is looking to turn it into a neighborhood

Money donated to the Canton Foundation finances Canton Family Services, which provides counselors and therapists to residents. Also, contributions are made to the March of Dimes, Friends of the Canton Library, Literacy Council, Substance Abuse Task Force, Hospice, Canton Gardens Apartment rent assistance, education grants, summer camp grants, Catholic Social Services and Woman's Support Group

The foundation came under scrutiny earlier this year by Canton Township Trustee Bob Shefferly, who questioned why the foundation is not listed in the Michigan Tax Return booklet as a tax credit organization.

The answer is that the foundation doesn't have a large endowment that would qualify it as one of those organizations listed in the booklet. The money collected by the foundation, about $160,000 last year, goes directly to services. The

our Sept. 2 editorial seems to portray the lymouth-Canton teachers as noble maryrs. The 3-percent deferral must have been welcome news for the teachers whose jobs were saved; however, before marking down dates and making comparisons with Mother Teresa. it should be noted that the teachers were the people who skimmed off a 22-percent increase (approximately $9 million) during a three-year period when the people paying their salaries were probably averaging less than half of 22 per cent and many retirees were experiencing a substantial drop in income due to constant pensions and the sharp reduction in short-term in-

My pension amount in 1993 is the same as it was in 1988 and, if I'm lucky, it will be the same in 1998. I would be pleased to have a 3-percent increase that I could defer.

School goals

et us hear from the teachers. The governor's goals are to reform schools with higher quality and for less money, funded to create an atmosphere that will attract industry to Michigan

If we want quality, listen to the teachers, not necessarily the Michigan Education Association (MEA), but your every day classroom teacher. If teachers could teach without their hands tied, we would have quality education.

I am taking a survey asking teachers if they would take a little less pay if they could have what they want in the classroom, which by the way is exactly what we all want in schools smaller class sizes, teaching within their own specialty, the best curriculum, removal of disruptive students, etc. So far 100 percent say yes, if they could have that wonderful dream come true classroom. And we can during this window of opportunity created by Senate Bill No. 1.

So get together teachers and tell us what real excellence in education should look like in the 1990s. And then help us do it for less. I pray for lots of cost cutting in our Michigan schools but the classroom should not bear the brunt of cost Redistricting of schools could cut administrative costs in half. If that works, cut the number in half again in a few years. We need more teachers not less, but that means most teachers will have to be happy with a little less wage. There is lots of money to be saved on busing, maintenance and administration, but a third of our $9 billion school bill is teacher wages.

Impossible you say? Maybe there is hope. This is the first school year since I was a child in the 1960s that not a single Detroit area school district is on strike.

And better yet let us acknowledge the wonderful teachers and staffs of West Bloomfield dedication to our children that these teachers granted in a time of crisis. Thank you, there is

I challenge the teachers to take control of the MEA union and vote in cooperation with the governor, the parents and the taxpayers. Thanking you in advance for the dedication and sincere interest in children that you have and need to compromise on high wages. Teachers n the Sept. 2 Plymouth Observer, you ropolitan area cable TV companies' rate games. I agree completely, and I think that the whole affair is another sorry mess that our glori ous representatives in Washington created.

Unfortunately, you don't include Omnicom of the Plymouth-Canton area. Currently, I don't know if my next charges will be more or less, and honestly, I don't mind a few dollars one way or

And then comes the wise-guy advice, "You will be able to view the channels by using an antenna and an A/B switch." How convenient. They will charge the same amount as listed in the letter but drop the major networks. And we'll have the honor of buying a new antenna for about $50 plus an A/B switch, and I am asked to crawl all over my roof or pay another $50-$70 for installation.

I find the whole story disgusting, and I hope that a general wail of major proportion will tell the management of Omnicom Cable TV that we won't take a treatment like this after so many years of paying their charges.

We urge them to come to an agreement with the channels in question. Peter Attalai, Plymouth

New sod worth wait; CC-Traverse City should meet halfway or one Saturday in August, the boys and girls soccer players from Plymouth Canton and Salem forgot about being rivals.

Players and parents from both schools worked together in the scorching heat, laying down the new sod on the soccer field at Centennial Education Park. The finished product is a great improvement over the old turf, which would become a sloppy mess after a little rain.

It's hoped the new sod will make the facility, which is only a couple years old, one of the best in the state. A hefty donation from the Canton Soccer Club and fund-raisers by the soccer teams helped pay for the sod.

And some people paid the price for helping put

A couple of fathers told me the next day they couldn't get out of bed," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "A lot of work went into it. There's a big affection for it.'

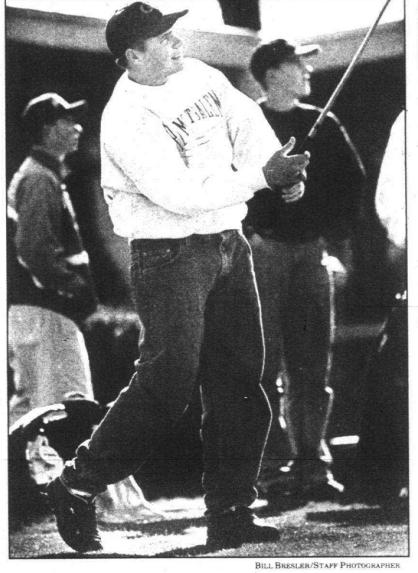

"I kept looking up to see if we were getting closer (to being done) — that's one big lawn," said Canton coach Don Smith, whose sodding experience is limited to his own yard. "It'll be worth it. It's a beautiful field."

Let's just hope the new sod wasn't forced into action too soon. Several games, including junior varsity, have been played on the new turf. But a few were postponed after a steady rain for fear that the field would be torn up.

So far, so good.

Salem 3rd in Western Lakes meet

By Steve Kowalski Staff Writer

Livonia Churchill found a fall sport in which low scores can produce positive results.

Churchill's football and girls basketball teams are struggling to put points on the board but the golf team is experiencing success while keeping its scores low. The Chargers on Tuesday capped a successful Western Lakes Activities Association season with a league championship at Brae Burn Golf Course.

Churchill, with three players in the top 12, took first place with 418 strokes, three less than second-place Walled Lake Central. Churchill was tri-champion of the Western Division along with Northville and Plymouth Canton at 4-1.

The league championship was the first for Churchill since 1986 when the Chargers took second in Class A.

"We don't get a whole lot of trophies (as a program) in the fall, so this is good for the school to pick up two trophies (league and division) and three (individual) medals," said Churchill's fourth-year coach Kirk Osler. "We knew we had as much depth as anyone and it showed since we were the only team in the tourney with six players breaking 90.

Salem was undefeated in 12 duals and the favorite to win the WLAA after going 11-0 in league play.

home medals. But the next two Rocks, including Mark Wesner, finished the course with 90s.

A 90 was uncharacteristic of Wesner, who had a string of five meets where he broke 40.

"If everyone had shot their average, I felt we had a pretty good opportuni-ty to win tourney," Salem coach Rick Wilson said. "That happens in a oneday, one event kind of thing.'

Central's Jason Malczewicz took medalist honors, shooting an 18-hole total of 76 (39-37). North Farmington's Drew Sopha was one shot off the pace, followed by Churchill's senior Jason Samelko with a 79.

"Drew had a pretty consistent round," said North coach Daryl Case, whose team placed sixth with 461 points. "The way Drew played today it would be an outside possibility he could qualify for the state meet (at

But the Chiefs' next best scores were a trio of 90s from senior Adam Gilles, sophomore Brian Carlson and senior Todd Blakeney 90.

"Kids didn't play real well," Canton coach said. "Four matches last week really dragged them down and dragged me down with them. They probably just weren't up to it today.

Double dose

Salem wins 1st; Canton wins again

Plymouth Salem's girls cross country team won its first championship of the fall Saturday, taking the Pioneer Invitational at Ypsilanti's Buhr Park.

The Rocks had seven of the top 16 runners to take first place with 42 points. Utica Stevenson placed second with 54 points, and host Ann Arbor Pioneer was third (57).

Salem coach Mike Krafchak said the Rocks haven't done as much speed work in practice and their rested legs allowed for faster times at the invitational. Leah Retherford showed the most improvement over last year, taking third place overall in 20 minutes. 17 seconds, exactly a minute faster than 1992.

'We don't usually run very well at that course, but we ran very, very well this time," Krafchak said. "We changed our workout scheme a little, were a little less intense in practice, and the kids made nice adjustments during the middle of the race."

Krafchak praised Stacy Moore, Emily Farrell, Kathy Jost and Lyn Sebestyen for holding off challenges from opposing schools. Moore was seventh overall (20:27), followed in eighth place by Farrell (21:17). Jost took ninth (21:20), and Sebestyen came in 13th place (21:48).

Kelly Stankov took 15th place

The Rocks ran their dual meet record to 3-1 with last Thursday's 15-50 victory over host Walled Lake Central Salem had the top seven runners.

Retherford was first (19:55), followed by Moore with a personalbest time (20:02).

Farrell was third (20:31), followed by Stankov (20:38), Jost (20:44), Sebestyen (21:00) and Sheldon (21:04).

Chiefs reign

Senior Lana Boroditsch placed first by one second Saturday, leading Plymouth Canton to a landslide victory in the nine-team Gibraltar Carlson Invitational.

The Chiefs scored 25 points, 20 fewer than second-place Brighton. Wyandotte Roosevelt was third (81), and Livonia Churchill finished fourth (131).

Boroditsch won her first invitational by finishing the course in 19 minutes, 26 seconds, one second faster than Roosevelt's Becky Caldwell.

Boroditsch's time was a personal best and the Chiefs' best ever time at Lake Erie Metro Park, according to coach George Przygod-

"It was a four-person race for 500 meters," Przygodski said. "They (Boroditsch and Caldwell) were side-by-side the whole race. Lana was just stronger at the finish, and she kept her form. That's what made the difference.

Canton's Kathleen Landelius placed fourth (19:43). Laura McWilliams was fifth (20:03), and Becky Wolfrom sixth (20:10).

Beth Knight took ninth (20:35). Meghan Barresi placed 16th (21:40), and Tracey Cavin came in 18th (21:42).

CC takes 3rd

Redford Catholic Central earned third place out of 21 teams in Saturday's Haslett Invitational boys cross country meet.

State-ranked Brighton took first with 37 points, followed by Ann Arbor Huron (87) and CC

Joé Leo finished fourth for the Shamrocks with a time of 16:34 in the 5.000-meter race.

Other CC finishers included Jeremy Short, 20th (17:34); Matt Sroczynski, 22nd (17:37); Phil Camilleri, 24th (17:42); and Brian Smith, 26th (17:42).

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

This is the bye week for the Detroit Lions

Good thing, because if they were playing this Sunday in Pontiac, it would be only the second most important game in town.

It's Wisner Stadium, not the Silverdome, where the action will be as Boys Bowl foes Redford Catholic Central (4-1) and Birmingham Brother Rice (5-0) meet for the 27th time. Kickoff is 2

Needless to say, this is the top game this weekend in Observer-

GRID PICKS

Rice, considered the state's topranked team in all classes, leads the series 14-13. (There was also a 0-0 tie in 1968. CC also won a state playoff game).

CC, however, has captured seven of the last eight meetings, including the last three.

Rice won the 1989 encounter, 31-14, with a star-studded cast that included Steve Morrison and Gannon Dudlar, both defensive starters at Michigan; tight end Pete Mitchell, an All-American candidate at Boston College; Bob Utter, the starting quarterback at Iowa State; and Chris O'Brien, a starter at offensive tackle for Central Michigan.

As for the prep prognostication race, yours truly correctly picked 13 of 15 games last week to raise his overall season record to 60-14 (a blistering 81 percent).

Meanwhile, arch-rival Dan O'Meara went 11-4 to slip to 55-19 overall (74 percent). O'Meara is on vacation this week (he needs it), but he still faxed in his picks from way out in Westland. Which way to the heach, Dan?

The coach, Tom Teeters? The athletic director, Marty

The assistant dean in charge of athletics, Midge Carleton?

The player, Danielle Pfeffer The trainer, Kim Kotlewski'. All could, and probably should, share in the responsi bility (except of course Kim, who has nothing to do with anything that goes on at SC; at least that's what he insists).

But it's strange. When someone knows they could be, at least in part, the reason for a major mishap, their finger is far less pointed. They say something generic, very much like what Carleton said Tues day as we watched Pfeffer warm up for SC's match against Oakland CC: 'I'm not going to blame any one person. It was a combination of factors.

Funny how that works, isn't t? Don't misunderstand me what Carleton said was absolutely accurate. What ultimately caused SC to forfeit all the wins it recorded in its first 11 matches was a first-class bureaucratic bumbling, one that touched everyone, but one that nobody got involved with enough to correct.

Pfeffer and SC teammate Kristen Barnes transferred to SC in January from Henry Ford CC, where they played for coach Gary Gray last year Both had told Teeters, the SC coach, they had received their releases from Henry Ford, giving them immediate eligibility Immediately eligible?

In Barnes case, it apparently wasn't needed. She had committed to Henry Ford for only one year when she signed her letter of intent.

Pfeffer was another story. She had checked a tiny box tying her to Henry Ford for two years. Therefore, she needed a release to become eligible at She never got it Pfeffer had to sit out two Eastern Conference matches last week, a loss to Delta and a win over Mott. She also was on the sidelines during the Schoolcraft College Invitational last weekend; the Ocelots went 4-2, finishing fourth.

Henry Ford finally forwarded her release, clearing Pfeffer to play in Tuesday's conference match against OCC.

As it now stands, the Ocelots can still go all the way to a national title. And as Teeters pointed out, "This kind of feelng helps you close ranks."

Who's to blame for this de bacle? Being a lifelong underling. I've always believed the buck stops at the top. That would mean Carleton should have been more aware.

However, in my mind, that's a reach. She's too far removed from the situation. But even if you can expunge her, it's more difficult to do the same with Nowak. Transfers are a special case; my feeling is he should investigated further, made certain of the paperwork.

Craven wins gold

Charlie Craven completed a successful first year of roller speed skating by winning a gold medal at the national champion ships in Pensacola, Fla.

Skating on in-line skates, the Elementary Four Mixed relay of Lyndsay Cobb (Roseville), Angie Cruice (Troy), Alex Seczney (Leslie) and Craven won the gold and established a national record with a 3:25.66 time.

The 12-year-old Craven qualified for the Standard and Junior Olympic championships as member of the Great Skate Wolverine Speed Club. The team tied with Iowa for the nationalpoint championship in the Standard Division.

At the Great Lakes Regional in the Standard Division, the four person mixed and four-boy 2,000meter relays finished first. In the JO Division, the two-person mixed and two-boy teams that in cluded Craven finished first. Craven was second in individual competition.

Craven, a seventh grader at West Middle School in Plymouth, is the son of Charles and Gail Craven of Plymouth Township.

The Plymouth Symphony Orches tra's 1993-94 concert season promises to be a season to remember with an eclectic array of musical selections, and guests artists that range from soprano, Glenda Kirkland to flutist, Alexander Zonjic.

In celebration of the arts the orchestra, under director/conductor, Russell Reed opens its 48th season with the 19th century romanticism of French, German and Norwegian composers 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9 at Belleville High School Auditorium, 501 W. Columbia.

Internationally recognized pianist, Flavio Varani of Birmingham takes for the late 19th century and a great center stage as featured artist in Edvard Grieg's "Piano Concerto in A minor, Op. 16."

"The Joy Luck Club." She susly compared to "cousin" Waverly. the chess-playing prodigy who makes the cover of Life.

In one of the movie's funniest scenes, Waverly's proud mother walks through Chinatown streets with her daughter in one hand and the Life cover very conspicuously propped against her chest. When the bratty Waverly refuses to compete one day, she and her mother launch a lifelong game of emotional chess where the older woman invariably wins.

In this and the other two fam lies, the mothers can't understand why their daughters, who seemingly have everything. should botch their lives so terribly. Flashbacks reveal turbulent times back in China, where June's mother was forced during wartime to abandon her twin babies by the side of the road. Ultimately, "The Joy Luck

Get organized

Take time to discard the clutter

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

This is Get Organized Week. Sponsored by the National Association of Professional Organizers, the observance is designed to motivate us to streamline our lives by clearing off our d purging files, getting rid of clutter and better planning our time and priorities.

Taking control involves both the broad picture and small details, organizing experts maintain.

'One of the great problems is being overwhelmed with too much to do," said Dorothy Lehmkuhl, proprietor of Organizing Techniques in Bloomfield Township and national coordinator of Get Organized Week.

Her big point - you can't be all things to all people.

"Everyone wants to be successful...by saying, 'Yes, yes, I can do it,' "Lehmkuhl said. "The more you say yes, the more you ultimately say no because you can't do everything.'

Most of us recognize that we can take steps to improve organization in the workplace, said Ann Savell, a Birmingham consultant who specializes in office organizing, space planning and corporate relocation.

"I gave a talk recently to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce

Katz will host the champagne and hors d'oeuvres fund-raiser to about cleaning off the desk and the office and people were sitting there nodding in agreement," she

So why is it difficult to translate thought into action?

"We'll find little ways to avoid things until it's serious, Savell said. "We say to ourselves, 'I'm kind of disorganized, but still functioning.' When the cost of a problem is big time, then there's motivation.

"It's not fun," Lehmkuhl said of the procrastination. "It seems, and emphasize the word seems, a low priority. People tend to gravitate to work that is enjoyable.

Before we know where we're going, we have to know where we are, organizers said.

"I think the main issue is lack of thinking through an entire process or what is to be accomplished, what is to be done," Savell said.

"Learn your capabilities," Lehmkuhl advised. "Use a Daytimer and block out all your tasks not just appointments — when you do what, how long it takes." Michelle DuMouchelle, a certified public accountant who operates Simply Organization in Northville, continued in that "People need to schedule time to get their thoughts together either at the beginning or the end of a day," she said. "Things happen so fast in the workplace and people are always pulling at you.'

Physical clutter can hurt business performance.

"I've seen it happen," Du-Mouchelle said. "People miss appointments if they don't write on calendars. It could be a big money

"It's too easy not to follow up on a good lead, too easy not to process an order that gets lost in papers on a desk," Lehmkuhl

When it comes to organizing, one size or plan apparently doesn't fit all.

"Organizing isn't always neat, but a system that works for you and your company and you can monitor," Savell said.

"The individual situation dictates what has to be done and I think the simpler the better," Du-Mouchelle said.

A few general organizing tips from the experts: Throw out what you don't

Organize files and tools vertically rather than horizontally so they're more visible and accessi-

 Organize supporting work materials so you don't have to physically get up and walk to get them.

Know what to look for in child care

Like millions of parents, arranging the best possible child care for their child, many concerns come to mind. One concern is what questions to ask and what responses to expect.

A friend of mine from high school days, whom I haven't seen or heard from since graduation, looked me up because she had heard I could help her with some of the concerns she had regarding child care selection. This friend has a toddler of 18 months, her very first child, and she like many others pondered over where to look for care . . . quality. Actually, my friend admitted to having some fears about not finding the "right one.

What's out there? How can I be sure the center or family day care home caregiving staff will do the right things for and with my child? Will they have the necessary skills or training to work with my child? There are so many centers listed in the Yellow Pages. How do I choose? HELP!!!

My high school chum told me that she had heard some horror stories, and how trendy sales tactics like declaring quality through their particular program can make selecting even more difficult. I listened very closely and between a few OKs, uh uh, right, let her know I understood.

I assured her that there's a good and practical way of selecting child care. One thing I did tell her was most parents want the best for their precious little person, and that the best may vary from parent to parent, family to family.

Around this time of the year when parents are scouting around town in search of child care, I find that information on "What to Look For" is always helpful

So what do you look for? Does the child care provider:

Seem calm and gentle?

- Seem to be in tune to the environment and the children?
- Take time and respond to children's questions and concerns? Have specialized training in child development?
- Talk in a voice that is child friendly, yet has a tone of being able to handle discipline problems? Does the child care facility have:
- A license or certificate of registration with the Department of Social Services Child Day Licensing? Is it posted where you can see it?
- Adequate lighting, fire exits, heating and venti-
- Fire, tornado and emergency injuries procedures posted?
- Staff persons who can explain the procedures? A clean, comfortable look and space that is easi-
- Appropriate child/staff ratio-center base one adult to every 10 children ages 2% to 5 years; for in-
- fant care one adult to every three or four infants? Clearly written and defined policies and guidelines and parent handbook?
- Enough equipment, supplies and toys accessible to children?
- Safety devices such as outlet caps and other deterrence to help minimize accidents?
- Planned activities/schedule posted as well as nutritious menus? Do you feel that

- You can possibly trust the caregivers to meet your child's needs based on what you see, hear and feel while being in the environment (first
- The program will meet your child's needs developmentally and will be a happy, non-stressful
- You can develop a positive relationship with the caregivers and your input would be welcomed and valued?
- The center's or family day care home's rules are realistic and fair?
- The center's philosophy on child development, care and child rearing practices complements
- Before making arrangements, make sure you understand:
- Total fees to be paid and when. How? By check, money order, cash?
- Who's providing the meals, including snacks.
- What forms need to be completed and/or nota-
- Illness and health policy. What arrangements are made for the children should they become ill
- That you need a backup person to care for your child when they are too ill to participate in daily
- What your child needs to start extra clothing, blanket or sheet, towel, etc.

On the job:

Bryan Walters has proven he's up to the task in the workplace even though he is mentally challenged.

Retarded prove their job ability

Life can be a challenge if you're able-bodied. It's even more of challenge if you have a disability. But employers are finding mentally challenged individuals with some help can be some of the most reliable employees.

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

Bryan Walters admitted he was a bit afraid at the thought of changing jobs. But two months after the fact, he wouldn't think of going back.

Changing jobs is difficult for the average person, but more so for Walters. Mentally challeneged, his change was from a sheltered workshop to an hourly job at a small aviation-related business.

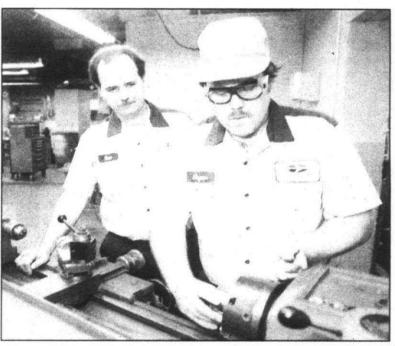

"I love it," a smiling Walters said. "At first I felt lost and scared, but after I got used to it and started talking to the guys . . . I love right where I'm at. I wouldn't want to go back.

Walters is a success story that the Wayne County Associations for the Retarded and the Michigan Rehabilitation Services hope will catch the attention of corporate leaders.

Those are the people who can find jobs for the handicapped cially during this week, named Investing in Ability Week in Michigan. The week has been set aside to promote handicapped employment by encouraging employers - and people in general - to focus on their abilities not their perceived disabilities.

"If I had a wish list at the top of the list would be employer awareness," said Kim Wells, an employment training specialist. "We need to see this marketed at the corporate level. We can hit the managers but they won't make the decision. It has to be done at the corporate level.

The message WCAR wants to get to potential employers is that it can lower their personnel costs (recruit- Walters for employment, finds the ment, hiring, training and supervi- job, helps with the interview and does sion) and reduce the time spent training new workers by using the supported employment program.

The organization also tosses in a few buzz words that businesses look for in new hirings - "motivated, successful, capable, stable and dependable"- and tax credits and deductions for hiring and accommodating the handicapped.

Supported employment

Walters is part of the Western Wayne Supported Employment Project, a joint venture of MRS and WCAR, soon to be known as STEP (Services to Enhance Potential).

WCAR targets a person like mining who gets placed, only a desire the paperwork. MRS, a part of the state Department of Education, then steps into provide an individual written rehabilitation program - the job goal and services necessary for successful employment.

If the employee needs work clothes, help with transportation or in Walters' case, work boots, MRS takes care of it. WCAR then comes up with a job coach that helps the employee's on-the-job training.

The joint venture is about to wrap upits second year and has successfully placed some 70 percent of the 41 individuals identified for employment.

"There's no real criteria for deter-and a reasonable expectation of their ability to work with support or without support," said Dan Dankoff MRS rehabilitation counselor. "Our goal and mission is to get these individuals out of the work shop and into community-based jobs.

"This is the first program of this nature and it's been incredibly successful because of the people involved and their dedication.

The program offers both individual employment prospects as well as enclaves so "people with needs" can get out into the community. The enclaves include a supervisor and at least three workers who may need prompting to move to the next task or help with the toileting or the like.

The enclaves are "a good stepping stone" to individual employment and generally the crews go from place-toplace doing maintenance of office cleaning. The supervisor provides the crew's mobility Walters had been doing maintenance work at the Livonia Skills Center when the opportunity to work for Approved Aircraft Accessories Inc. in Romulus surfaced. The company had approached WCAR in hopes of finding some temporary workers.

But the agency shuns such assignments because of the costs involved in training the employee, preferring regular employment of at least 15 hours a week. That was no problem for Approved Aircraft, which offered placement of 15 hours a week and up to 40 hours during busier times

Wells helped Walters with the job interview and paperwork and even to break the news to his mother that he had a new job - sand blasting landing gears of aircraft.

"When he first called, he couldn't talk to her," she said. "He called, said 'I got the job' and that was it. He was crying so hard he couldn't talk.

"My philosophy is, we've done real good in business," she said. "Business should give back to the community."

Acting on that theory, Cassie has organized "Hollywood Nights," a fashion show benefiting women's, children's and infant's health care at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. The hospital recently joined forces with William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The fashion show will take place at 6 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 21, at Laurel Manor Banquet and Conference Center, 39000 Schoolcraft Road.

Specifically, the money made from the event will fund the building of the state-of-the-art women's center, slated to open 1996. It will provide a wide variety of programs ranging from education, treatment, and maternity care.

Few things you can wear feel this good.

When you wear this pin it means you have chosen to contribute generously to the United Way. It means your money is working hard to help 1.7 million people in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Unemployed people. The elderly. The abused. Troubled youths. Homeless people, too. By contributing to the United Way, you help all of them-and many more-make their lives just a little better. And nothing else feels as good as that except, perhaps, your favorite pair of slippers. So please give generously

> When the nest gets very large, there is more activity because there are more insects inhabiting the nest. This is the time when most people notice the nest and want to eliminate it. All summer long, the hornets have not bothered anyone, but just before all the hornets, except the queen die, many feel the nest has to be destroved.

> Wait until cold weather sets in and the nest will become vacant. The only insect of the colony to survive will be the queen. She will not use the nest again because in most cases it will have been destroved before spring.

Many caterpillars become large in late summer because of their developmental period. Large tobacco hornworm or tomato hornworm caterpillars are largely unnoticed until they become very Actually, for many days they eat in a garden, but only when they become as big as your finger do they become noticeable. Often by that time, tomato plants have stored enough energy to have developed fruit and the loss of a few more leaves will not likely affect the plant. If the caterpillar is left to pupate it will develop into a beautiful shinx moth or hummingbird moth.

During late summer and early fall, patches of oak trees become stripped of their leaves. Only the main veins remain. This is the work of the orange-tipped oakworm moth caterpillar. They are black caterpillars with longitudinal orange stripes. Their gregarious behavior causes large noticeable areas to be defoliated. Generally it's a small area on a large tree but even small defoliated trees have stored enough energy by his time to survive this Pandora's sphinx moth caterpillars also increase to a noticeable size in fall. These caterpillars may be the size and length of a man's thumb. Like the hornworms and oakworms they will form a pupa in the soil after they have grown to adult size.

Campus literary mag marks 10th birthday id you know that "The MacGuffin" is alive and well and about to mark a 10th anniversary at Schoolcraft College in Livonia? What's a MacGuffin?

Well, it's not a strange animal or an exotic, rare plant. And it's not another rendition of a fast-food restaurant, either.

It's a lively literary magazine, fast-growing in popularity with students and other readers across the United States.

In addition to selected Michigan bookstores, it can be found in shops as far away as Chicago and San Francisco. It counts among its contributors such literary luminaries as Diane Wakoski and Jim Daniels, together with many new, yet-to-be-

In the pre-MacGuffin days, literary journals at the college were essentially put together by students, and circulated mostly on-campus, according to editor and Schoolcraft College English professor, Arthur Lindenberg. When the veteran creative writing teacher was approached to lead the staff of the new, school-funded magazine, he had several ideas about what direction he wanted it to

"Basically, what I wanted to do was develop a magazine accessible both to students and to people on the outside - a quality magazine in which we'd publish the best work we could find," Lindenberg siad. "I wanted to give writers the kind of exposure they wouldn't get if they were published just by an in-house journal. I wanted a magazine that would circulate nationally.

Along with that, Lindenberg emphasizes, he wanted to give staff members a real opportunity to gain editorial experience.

'Students can work on the staff of 'The MacGuffin,' and get credit for doing that," he said. 'It's a general requirement that they attend at least a semester's worth of meetings and that they participate not just in manuscript consideration and selection, but in some of the other labor, too."

Spare beginnings

In the beginning, the small staff worked out of a tiny, all-purpose, "spare room" just around the corner from Lindenberg's office in the Liberal Arts Building, producing a 64-page magazine twice

Today, the 10-member staff (Lindenberg, assistant editors, editorial assistants, and a business manager) do their thing in the much-larger meeting room otherwise designated for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

"The MacGuffin" is published three times a and runs to 144 pages (although the spe cial 10th anniversary issue, now on sale, contains 160 pages of poetry, short fiction, and artwork). The 500-copy run, in contrast to sales 10 years ago, practically sells out every time, Lindenberg said. (Perhaps at least part of the magazine's success can be attributed to the fact that, except for some time off at Christmas, "The MacGuffin" crew - unlike many literary journal staffs - operates year-round.)

Anyone interested can submit work to be considered for publication in the periodical. Lindenberg says he and his staff look for work that is "especially well-crafted."

"With a poem, for instance, we look closely at the way it is developed, at its focus, at the kinds of images the poet uses. With short fiction, we look for strong characters, plus a situation that is welldeveloped and defined.

"But we also look at something else - a more difficult thing to find. It's almost a mystical thing, really. Is some (work) crying out to be published? Or is it so much like so many other things that have already been published that it doesn't need to have its face shown among readers?"

Annual poet search

Through the years, "The MacGuffin," with help from the Michigan Council for the Arts and the Detroit Council for the Arts, has sponsored an annual "Poet Hunt," a statewide competition that awards cash prizes to three winners. Their work is read at an awards ceremony held on campus every spring, and the prize-winning poems are subsequently published in "The MacGuffin."

The mortality rate of literary journals across the country is notoriously high. Lindenberg says he's not always sure himself what the real secret is behind the magazine's health and longevity.

Developers strive to keep historic feel

Developers have typically been stereotyped as insensitive to all things historical . . . after all, it's just an old piece of property. In reality, however, developers often have a keener sense of history than they are given credit for.

BY GERALD FRAWLEY

o one really expects developers and builders to care about his-

Heck, they have bulldozers. That's why it's surprising to learn that developers and builders do have a sense of history. In the most rudimentary sense, many suburbs are named after previous landowners, features of the property or original flora and fauna.

Sometimes, builders go further. Max Elbaz, owner of Adel Homes in Farmington Hills, developed Yerkes Manor in Novi with one foot firmly planted in the past. First, a little history.

Yerkes Manor is being built on the former homestead of the land once owned by one of the original settlers in the Novi/Northville area. The French Second Empire-style house built by Joseph Yerkes was destroyed by fire in 1989.

'I wanted, and I think people want, a little more character.'

Max Elbaz Adel Homes owner

When Elbaz obtained the site, he wanted to - if not pay tribute to Yerkes Homestead and history in Novi — at least do something a little

"Because of the history of the site, I felt we should keep the name and, if possible, carry the concept throughout," Elbaz said, adding he had even hoped to retain the existing Yerkes homestead or renovate it before it was burned by fire.

In addition to more traditional Victorian-influenced homes, Yerkes with a boat in your backyard.

Island living is unique. The act of crossing a waterway to your home separates you from the hectic pace of mainland life. At Island Harbor the separation is complete since arriving home and arriving at your boat are one in the same Island Harbor is a residential/marina slip condominium community on the south end of Grosse Ile. Twenty four townhouse and ranch units are planned to surround the just completed 32-slip marina, which handles boats up to 30 feet. The marina provides Island Harbor residents unobstructed access to the Detroit River and the ability to literally dock boats at their back doors.

Geothermal heating and cooling, the technology on the gap. It offers up to $3,400 in cash incentives for energythreshold of replacing conventional systems, is more than efficient insulation, windows, lighting, major electric appli-

"This results in substantial savings for homeowners over the lifetime of the equipment," said Jerry Goetz, a Detroit Edison heating and cooling expert.

In the air conditioning mode, the system performs at a seasonal efficiency rating of 16; federal law requires a minimum of 10 for air conditioning.

Operating costs are up to 30 percent less than those of a high-efficiency natural gas system, and up to 60 percent less than those for high-efficiency oil or propane systems, when used in conjunction with Detroit Edison's low timeof-day rate, Goetz said.

'Homeowners in a well-insulated, 2,400-square-foot home could expect to pay $527 annually to operate a geothermal system, compared to $801 for natural gas, $1,315 for oil or $1,420 for propane," Goetz said.

Geothermal, like refrigerators and conventional air conditioners, is a heat transfer system. The system uses an electrically powered heat pump to collect and concentrate heat from the water in your well or from piping buried in the ground.

In winter, the concentrated heat is transferred indoors through a forced-air heating system. In summer, the system reserves the cycle. It extracts heat from the air inside the home and moves it, via the well water or piping buried in the ground, back into the earth. The earth's temperature remains constant year-round. The system also can supply

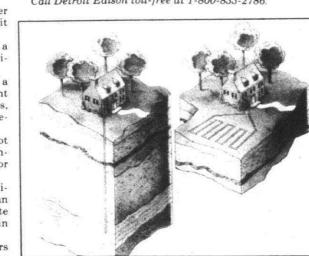

"Since geothermal systems use the earth's natural resources as a renewable source of energy, they help protect the environment." Goetz said.

Initial installation costs for a geothermal system are typically higher than those of a conventional furnace or central Sorry about the delay. We're making them as slowly as we can.

Demand for the new Volkswagen Golf, and Jetta,,, has been-drumroll please-nothing short

In fact, in just 12 months, the Golf has become the best-selling car in the world. If we hurried things up to keep up with demand, maybe we would be making cars. But we wouldn't But now they're here. And you can see the pains taking care and obsessive attention to detail

It would be a good idea to do it today. Because the pains due to the way we make Volkswagens, supplies are naturally limited.

The most loved cars in the world. due to the way we make Volkswagens,

And to thank you for waiting, the new Golf and Jetta have a special lease rate and the longest limited powertrain warranty in the business
