Parks to run new golf course

Canton parks and recreation services will run the new township-owned golf course. The department was among nine which bid to run the $6.2 million course.

By Joanne Maliszewski

Canton Township's own parks and recreation services edged out other proposals for the chance to operate and manage the $6.2 million township-owned Pheasant Run Golf

"Our projections show it making money after the third year," said Mike Gouin, parks and recreation su-perintendent. "There's no reason it von't make money unless the golf business dies.

Parks and recreation services submitted one of nine management proposals for the 18-hole golf course that meanders through five subdivisions, including Fairway Pines and the Fairways of Pheasant Run. Parks and recreation services was chosen from among three finalists, including MSI Total Golf Management and Fellows Creek Golf Club of Canton.

"We really believe the public sector (township) needs challenges from the private sector," said Supervisor Tom Yack, referring to seeking bids from private companies.

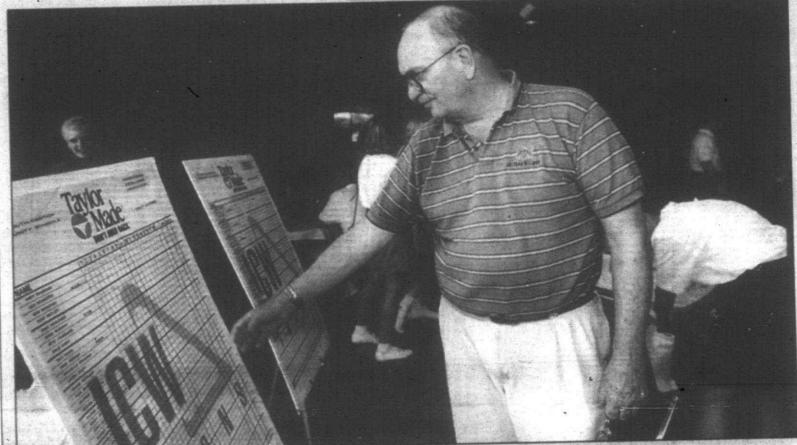

Trustee Bob Shefferly opposed giving municipal services, of which parks and recreation is a part, responsibility for Pheasant Run. "I have confidence in them (parks and recreation), too. But I would like to see someone come on with experience in golf courses and then turn it over to municipal services," Shefferly said. "We in Canton have a great deal riding on this." Unlike a private company - which would get a management fee for operating the course, west of Canton Center Road and south of Cherry Hill the township will keep revenues from the course. In-house management of the facility also will give the township control over its own golf course, al-

Golf outing

Surveying the scoreboard: Superintendent John Hoben checks out the scores at the golf outing held in his honor. Hoben's foursome — which included Jim Doyle, Larry Masteller and Craig Flemming — made a fine showing in the best ball event with a four-under-par 68. Ray Hoedel, who organized the tourney, praised those who helped him, and Mother Nature. "The day turned out well. It was sunny for at least nine holes and there was no lightning. So all in all it was very enjoyable."

Entrants in the John M. Hoben golf outing at Canton's Fellows golf course had a ball Wednesday, honoring Plymouth-Canton's cutgoing school superin-tendent and raising $5,000 for the school district's Educational Excellence Foundation in the process.

Eighty-two golfers took part in the 18-hole scramble, vying for a donated Honda and trophies. No one, unfortunately, scored a hole-in-one on the seventh hole, which would have reaped a Sunshine Honda for a lucky golfer.

"It was a huge success," said Judy More member of the Educational Excel-lence Foundation. "We've already scheduled the second annual for June 28 at Fellows Creek."

The winning foursome in the best-ball tournament was comprised of Greg Murphy, Mike Schlenke, Pete Taormina and Dale Goby. They shot 63, nine under par.

Closest-to-the-pin honors went to Jim Finn, the school district's assistant athletic director. Capturing longest-drive accolades were West Middle School Principal Judy Stone, Plante & Moran's Diane Wells, Rodney Patterson and Mur-

Hugh Harsha, chairman of the educational foundation, said the outing was designed to raise money for the Plymouth-Canton foundation and at the same time honor Hoben. "We plan to continue to do this. It'll always be called the John M. Hoben Golf Outing," he said.

"It was a fun day, even though the group I was with tied for last place," Harsha said. "We won some golf balls. Actually, I thought we played better than that." Hareha did his best to win the car. "I tried to carry my ball up there (for a hole-in-one), but it didn't work," he joked.

The honoree enjoyed himself,

For more than a year this newspaper has operated the O&E On-Line electronic newspaper, which offers computer access to all 12 Observer & Eccentric newspapers, daily stock prices, daily news summaries from USA Today, local discussion groups, chat, games, electronic magazines, e-mail, a software library, and shopping features. That on-line service, also user-friendly and highly graphical, has been available for $4.95 a month.

Beginning today, the much-acclaimed Internet is being offered as a supplement to O&E On-Line. The full O&E On-Line service — including internet access — will cost as little as $9.95 a month,

Cleveland faults McNamara for high staff salaries

Detroit City Councilman Clyde Cleveland, a candidate for Wayne County executive, has charged incumbent Edward McNamara with responsibility for excessive staff salaries, the poor condition of the county youth home, and secrecy surrounding the activities ber of the Detroit City Council since 1974. In a June interview he checked off a list of items in making a case for himself and against McNamara.

The overcrowded youth home in Detroit, where juvenile offenders are held, is in a disgraceful state of disrepair, Cleveland said. "Children are sleeping on the floor, being sexually and physically abused.

McNamara has too many relatives and elected officials working for him, Cleveland said. "Wayne County is full of cronyism and nepotism," he said. "Why, in the name of God, should the mayor of Lincoln Park (Frank Sall) be serving the executive of Wayne County?" Sall is McNamara's deputy director of management Cleveland also noted that McNamara employees Patricia Kukula, director of the Health-Choice program, and Hanson Clark, purchasing director, are running for political office this year. This is an example, he said, of McNamara extending his influence into areas far beyond his realm of responsibility.

McNamara should also be criticized, Cleveland said, for recruiting and running candidates against political enemies. Like in 1990 when McNamara backed then-Westland .. councilwoman erate with them." Terri Reighard-Johnson against

"As a Wayne County executive, I would not run somebody against Kay Beard," Cleveland said. His other complaints are:

band can make it on its own. Last year, the ancouver-based band produced its own nine-song tape and a video for the single "Push" - all without the help of a record company. The video went number one on Canada's Much Music

It started a whole story up here that it can actrally be done," said lead singer David Usher. That started a feeding frenzy among record labels, but Moist eventually signed with EMI Records Group in May. This August, they will release their debut album, "Silver," and video, "Push." in the United States.

As part of the prerelease promotion for "Silve the band will return to the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward, Detroit, to play a Club X gig Saturday

STREET SOUNDS

The Mask and the Mirror Loreena McKennitt

. Generally regarded and widely hailed as a "folk" singer, I don't know if that's how I would define this wonderful musician and her blend of Celtic, African and Middle Eastern sounds with a voice that brings to mind, variously, Enya, Kate Bush and the Cocteau Twins' Elisabeth Frazier.

Here is a woman who clearly stakes claim to an ethereal category wholly and uniquely her own. Born and raised in Manitoba (her parents are vestock dealers), she now calls Stratford, Ontares, home, and has contributed music to that city's famed Shakespeare Festival over the years. In the early 1980s, when her financial situation

Was vastly different, she and her harp spent many mn hour shilling for spare change on the streets of Toronto. In short order, however, she was writing film music and headlining concerts throughout In 1985, she cut her first album, for her own company. Two more, enormously successful in the independent music world, followed, and when "The Visit" was released a couple of years ago, it was on the Warner Bros. label. No one, apparently, was prepared for its sales (more than 500,000).

The Celtic themes are still here, as is that angelic, crystalline and other wordly vocal magic that is hers. The scope is, perhaps, broader, but this is not meant as a change in direction, just an expansion of vision.

The song titles tell the story: "The Mystic's Dream," "The Bonny Swans," "The Dark Night of the Soul," "Marrakesh Night Market," "Full Circle," "Santiago" (a song waiting for radio to embrace it, thanks in large part to the violin work of longtime Bruce Cockburn sidekick Hugh Marsh), "Ce He Mise Le Ulaingt? The Two Trees" and "Prospero's Speech" (from "The Tempest" of

The titles don't tell of the luanness of her voice and keyboard work, nor of the production and soi-id meshing of the performers. Perhaps it is folk music. It certainly is music that, above all, moves the soul.

Speaking by phone from his New Bethlehem, Pa., home last week, Gorka allowed that "I don't run from that word" when I asked how it struck him to be lumped in with the broad-based "folk" category "I don't know what I am," he said.

Max, a hip "twentysomething" with oversized jeans and a base-ball hat perpetually worn backward, wants a girlfriend. When she first meets Ely, a shy and gauky older woman, she's not interested, but soon discovers they may be compatible after all.

The hilariously agonizing chain of events that leads to their rela tionship comprises "Go Fish," s wise and wonderful new comed at the Main Theater in Royal Oak. Filmed in black and white on a shoestring budget, it may do for gay films what Spike Lee's "She's Gotta Have It" did for black-made movies a decade ago.

What we're talking about is attracting a mainstream audience to a film told completely from the lesbian point of view. "Longtime Companion" did it to an extent for gay men. The well-intentioned "Philadelphia" felt it had to water its message down to play the ing high school next year, and we believe she should take a foreign language. She is not sure which language to take. It is difficult to work it into her schedule with all the other requirements. How many years do you think she should take, one or two years?

Answer: Your daughter should take four years of a foreign language, if available ... and if she goes on to college, as you indicated, tell her to continue mastering the foreign language of Foreign language has struggled for its legitimate role in the school curric ulum for as long as I can remember. Indeed, the legitimate role of foreign language in the curriculum in this country is pitiful if you wish to com pare us with other emerging nations.

English classes start at the early elementary level in most nations includ ing China and Japan and, I believe, also in Russia and Germany. English is required at the secondary level (7-12) for all students in many countries. Indeed, in many countries, students speak the language (English) from the time they walk into the classroom until the class is over. Sort of when you walk into this room so speak English. Many of our quality foreign language teachers in this country use this concept.

Historically, foreign language teaching in this country got off to a poor start. Foreign language was originally taught, back in my school days, as a mental discipline. The concept was to have a better grasp of grammar through Latin and Greek and in the process gain a bit of the history and glory of Greece and Rome.

When we entered World War II and the GIs went overseas, it was soon discovered that even two years of French, German or Spanish did little or noth ing for fluency in the language. The U.S. Armed Forces did a study and determined that at least 840 hours of foreign language training is minimum for any proficiency. That translates into about five years of foreign language for our students, or foreign language being a required subject from eighth grade through their

The United States has an elitist attitude when it comes to foreign language. Our national egotistical attitude is . let them learn English if they want to U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, D-Illinois, in his book, "The Tongue Tied American" said, "It is not uncommon that when our nation must formally or informally engage in dialogue with the Chinese or Soviets and other countries, we are dependent on interpreters provided by the other side . . . lacking language skills, we lose this advantage in tough bargaining."

Your daughter's fluency in a foreign language is not a suggestion by me, it is essential for her in this shrinking world. A world in which English, by the late 21st century, could become the second language. Just how tragic is the archaic thinking in Michigan? The Michigan Department of Education, in its infinite wisdom, dropped foreign language from its core curriculum - essentially saying foreign language is not of value.

That is prehistoric thinking. I know the problem. Too many core room in the schedule . . . not a requirement for graduation.

It may never become a requirement for graduation, but it will be a require ment for those students who want an edge on those who graduate without foreign language as a part of their resume and portfolio.

This is the same advice I gave my daughter, who took Spanish in high school and college . . . many years ago. My daughter ended up in Arizona and interviewed for the teaching job she wanted. The school district served many Hispanic children and families he old order passeth. Plymouth/ Canton Schools Superintendent ohn Michael Hoben is finally abdicating his throne. So, coincidentally, are the great Bill Keane of Oakland County Schools and Bob Docking of Bloomfield Hills.

I have worked for some of the best superintendents ever to grace a board room - men like Keane, George Garver of Walled Lake and Livonia. Norman Drachler of Detroit and John Schultz of Rochester. I've interacted professionally with other top school hieftains such as Docking, Mike Flanagan of Farmington and Wayne County, George DePillo of Warren Consoliiated, and Marian Ginopolis of Oxford. worked with Center Line's, Terry Folibaum, Berkley's Sam Flam, Farmington's Bob Maxfield, and Bloomfield Hills' new appointee Gary Doyle before they became superintendents. None of them ever held or will hold more absolute sway in a school district or a board room than did Dr. Mike Hoben. To begin with the man stands 6-feet, 5-inches and weighs 240 pounds. He turns heads by merely walking into a room. If that weren't enough, he also coached champion football teams in Plymouth when the district had only one high school rising to become superintendent.

His resume reads like an adventure novel. Wounded and combat-decorated as a Marine captain in Korea, he played basketball for the Boston Celt ics and was inducted into Adrian college's Athletic Hall of Fame.

My favorite Hoben story occurred when he was called to the home of one of his former football players who ipset over a personal problem - had emolished most of his parents' basement with a pool cue and was up there orandishing it against anyone who might venture down.

Summoned by the athlete's father. the old coach promptly came over and

Mot only would Mike Hoben listen — he would offer advice. If I didn't accept it, he usually made me follow it anyway. Usually, but not always - and that was the key to his characwent downstairs. Seeing the distraught young man clutching the cue, Hoben picked up one himself and said, "You set 'em up and I'll break." The tensions thus eased, he was able to get his former player to drop the stick and God knows I fought many battles with big Mike over funding for curricula or the handling of some other issue. Once I stalked into his office with a problem and found him listening to one of Tiger outfielder Alan Trammell's motivational tapes. When he didn't look up in about 20 seconds, I hollered, "Dammit, Mike, turn off that tape and listen to me!" Mike had a deep fascination with gadgetry, but he did turn off the tape and listen. Actualy, he listened a lot more than I probably deserved, because I never made his Cariera said she guards each customer's privacy and gives her all when selecting and sizing clothes for elderly customers and shoppers who have had recent surgeries.

"I send cards. I call and chat if they haven't been into the store in a while. You see, they really are more than customers friends," she repeated.

Cariera said her sales expertise is self-taught, following a divorce that brought her into the business world seven years ago. She raised

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Shower pasta with fresh herbs, veggies

f pasta isn't "fattening," why does it have the reputation for being so? It's not the pasta itself that's high in calories, quite the centrary Commercial boxed spaghetti contains only 200 calories per two ounce (dry) serving with just one gram of fat. In most cases, the calorie culprit is the sauce we shower our pasta with.

Most restaurants and home cooks start a sauce with several tablespoons of olive oil or other fat to brown garlic, onions and other vegetables that go into the sauce. If ground beef is added to the sauce for flavor and texture, hundreds of calories quickly accumulate just in the sauce

On top of all these calories, grated cheese, and even more olive oil is customarily sprinkled liberally over each serving. A small plate of pasta, with all the accourrements, can weigh in at a hefty 750 calories per serving.

Some chefs create pasta sauces with loads of butter, heavy cream and grated cheese. Fettucini

Alfredo is an example A five ounce cooked portion of plain pasta equals 200 calories. It swells to over 1,000 calories when you add the cream sauce But you don't have to go through life pretending to like plain pasta. What adds calories to otherwise healthy pasta is fat.

It tastes so good because it has twice the calones of proteins and carbohydrates. Drenching pasta in fat, no matter if it's healthy canola oil or a grassy scented imported olive oil, is not necessary

Fat can be easily omitted and when used, should be measured by the teaspoonful. If you must cook with ground meat, cook it, and drain it well in a colander

Look for low-fat cheeses in the dairy case at your favorite grocery store. Parmesan cheese isn't the healthiest choice. Buy a high quality, imported Parmesan cheese. It has more flavor than the stuff that comes with a shaker top in a can. You'll use less, reducing the amount of calories in your pasta dishes without sacrificing taste

Flavor enhancers

Enhance the flavor of your pasta sauces with herbs. Fresh herbs and spices can boost the flavor and aroma of an otherwise plain dish. Splurge and purchase fresh herbs whenever possible. Fresh basil, a hint of oregano and a tablespoon of minced garlic can do more for a plate of plain pasta than any clam or tomato ever could.

This is the season for fresh vegetables. Chopped parsley and freshly ground pepper will heighten the taste and aroma of a cup of freshly chopped garden tomatoes beyond belief. Saute an onion until golden brown and allow a fresh chopped green, red or yellow pepper to "sweat" over the onion and toss in some pasta for a dele table light summer dish.

Another tasty dish is fresh steamed Swiss chard tossed with some pasta, chopped tomatoes and a smattering of fresh ground pepper.

Use ground turkey instead of hamburger to cut the fat in hearty meat sauces. Try tofu (soybean curd) in rich, tomato-based pasta sauces flavored with fresh herbs. Finely crumbled tofu has the texture of ground beef and will absorb the garden-fresh flavor of the tomato sauce.

Leftover cooked pasta can be reused in cold salads. Reheat the pasta by blanching it for 30 seconds in boiling water.

At our house, we use leftover pasta to make crusts for savory spaghetti pies and in lasagna. If you'd rather leave the cooking to someone else, when you go to a restaurant, ask to have your pasta dish prepared with less oil. I recently ordered a dish that I thought would be low in fat - linguini tossed with a sauce made of mussels, chunks of shrimp, scallops, salmon, fresh basil and olive oil. The dish would have been outstanding had it been highlighted with only a splash of olive oil. There was easily four to five tablespoons of oil covering the bottom of my dinner plate. If you crave cream sauces, there are ways to cut the fat. I picked up a copy of "The Pasta Lover's Diet Book," by June Roth (Bobbs-Merril Publishers, 1984) at a garage sale. The book is now out-of-print, but you'll find recipes inside.

American tradition: Celebrate cherries by baking a star-spangled cherry pie. It's an all-American tradition worth repeating.

"In a normal year, we'll sell out of cherries in a couple of days," said Bob Long, the fifth generation owner of the Long Family Orchard and Farm in Commerce Township. The farm has an acre of tart cherries, all of which are sold on a you-pick basis.

"People come from all over to pick cherries. They freeze or can them and make cherry pies all year. A lot of people are buying dehydrators and drying cherries. And, of course, some people make jam or cherry cordial, said Long.

At the farm, Long doesn't alw cherry pickers to use lad ders. When he sees broken branches at the six-foot level, he stops selling. The cherries at the top of the trees go to the birds. Long said he doesn't grow sweet cherries because the birds would get most of them.

In Traverse City there are so many sweet cherry trees that the loss from birds is evened out.

Due to the cool spring weather this year, cherries should be ripe by the second week in July, a little later than

"With only an acre of cherry trees, we don't have to spread the season out, so our cherries are big and juicy and ripe when we start picking. You can't beat the flavor of tree-ripened fruit," Long said.

many years, and Strong suggests it is the same with wine. In 1961, when Strong moved to California's Sonoma County, there were 12 wineries. Today, there are over 150. Strong is considered a pioneer in the California wine industry and his expertise is recognized and respected.

During a recent meeting, Strong shared his ggestions for one of life's most enjoyable undertakings - starting a personal wine cellar. A visit to any one of the metropolitan area's larger wine shops makes one conscious of the sheer breadth of choices. It makes the task of beginning a wine cellar seem intimidating.

"A basic wine cellar should contain representation from a variety of wine types," Strong said. "Once a person knows his or her personal wine preferences, both practical and affordable choices for cellar wines should be made. Start with a classical foundation that allows building a comfortable base from which to make further additions to the collection."

Strong's starter suggestions include 18 wines that are good values and offer unusual quality for the price. "I have personally tasted each of these wines and found them to be honorable examples of winemaking," Strong said. As any good marketer would, Strong includes suggestions from his winery, but he has chosen others with vision and scope.

When we first reviewed Strong's wine cellar recommendations, we echoed his sentiments and agreed to meet with him for further amplification of his ideas.

We, too, have tasted all 18 wines and fully agree - a good start on a sound collection without the need to secure a bank loan!

"In selecting the wines, I took an eclectic approach," Strong said. 'I consider the wines good values and a catalyst for questioning a retailer about additions to a personal cellar."

Before purchasing in quantity, Strong suggests buying and tasting one bottle. Then, according to your means, purchase more. Our personal preference is the purchase of four and no more than six bottles for our cellar.

There are many good wines and purchasing cases soon takes its toll in space and money. And what if the particular recommended vintages are not available? "In selecting the wines, I chose

Healthy sauces make for healthy pasta dishes

According to figures supplied by the Cherry Marketing Institute in Okemos, Michigan produces 70 to 75 percent of the tart cherries grown in the United States. The 3.8 million tart cherry trees in our state harvested 270 million pounds of fruit in 1993.

"A cherry tree can grow any where, but the success of a cherry orchard depends on specific climatic conditions." said Jane Baker director of domestic marketing for the Institute. To freeze cherries, Bob Long recommends using ¼ cup sugar to 1 quart of whole, pitted cherries. Mix with juice retained from pitting process until sugar is dissolved. Be gentle when stirring. Pack into containers, leaving adequate head space for expansion when freezing.

To use frozen cherries in pies or other cooked products, thaw until cherries can be loosened. Then cook as you would fresh fruit. If your recipe calls for sugar, allow for sugar that was added before freezing. Frozen cherries will often have more juice than is called for in a recipe. If that is the case, use only the part of the juice, or add thickening to compensate for the extra juice.

If you haven't, you may not recognize us.

We've added some great new features:

complete access to the Internet and every Internet feature-Gopher, FTP, Telnet, Internet, email, WWW, Relay Chat, etc. lots of local phone numbers so that reaching us is a local call from nearly anywhere in Michigan

And all of our original features are still going strong:

a new menu-driven, easy-to-navigate interface

- · stock quotes
- · electronic editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers
- · local chat and discussion areas
- · free and unlimited email

You can access On-Line! with just about every communications software-PC or Macintosh.

All of this costs a bundle, right?

Nope, doesn't even come close.

How does $9.95 a month sound? That's the tab on a one-year subscription. Six-month subscribers pay $14.95 and On-Line! runs 519.95 by the month.

Of course, there are never extra charges for connecting to "special" areas or exceeding a pre-set quota time limit.

Cobras collect

he Canton Cobras opened their season in the Incredible Girls Softball League by sweeping a doubleheader from the Livonia Lasers, 11-2 and 8-2, Tuesday at Livonia Franklin. On Thursday, they continued their winning ways by ripping the Broncos 11-3 and 20-4 at

Jackie Nicastri was the winner in Thursday's opener, tossing a no-hitter. The offense was paced by Denise Butske's five stolen bases; Tara Biro, Amber LaGrow and Shelley Butske had two steals

In Thursday's second game, Jenny Sikora got the pitching win, surrendering just one hit in six innings. Sikora also had two hits and two runs batted in. Other offensive standouts were Amy La-Grow with a three-run triple; Nicki Kovachevich, a solo home run and three steals; Kari-Jackson, two hits and two RBI; Amy Price, a double and two RBI; and Kelly Nelson, two hits.

In the sweep of the Lasers, Nicastri was the winning pitcher in the opener, striking out seven. Price was a menace on the base paths for the Cobras, stealing four bases and scoring three runs. Laura Logsdon had a triple and two stolen bases.

Sikora got the win in the second game, fanning four. Biro had two hits (including a triple) and drove in three runs, Shana Bidwell had two hits and two RBI, and Amy Sinclair contributed two here certainly has been no scoring drought thus far in the Metro Summer Hockey League.

In two games played last Wednesday at Plymouth Ice Arena, a total of 34 goals were netted after a comparatively low-scoring nine-goal affair Tuesday at Plymouth.

In Wednesday's first game, the Broncos used five-goal explosions in both the second and third periods to dispose of the Wolverines 12-7. Tom Larson, Mark Pietila and Chris Archer each scored twice for the winners, with Pietila assisting on three others.

Other Bronco goal scorers were Jim Storm, Keith Pietila, Eric Laho, Kevin Pietila, Ron Pietila and Bob Kangas. Ron Pietila added five assista and Storm collected four.

For the Wolverines, scorers Scott Lock and Eric Bilyeu had two goals apiece; Daryl Schimmelpfenneg, Adrian Straka and Tony Guzzo each had one. Guzzo and Jim Hubenschmidt had two assists

In Wednesday's second game, the Wildcats scored seven unanswered goals to pull away from a 2-2 tie late in the first period en route to an 11-4 victory over the Lakers. James Mitchell ignited the Wildcats, netting his team's first three goals; Ian Crockford and Bobby Davis added two goals

Brady Priest, Jeff Mitchell, Kevin Berger and Rick Lance added single goals. Jeff Mitchell add-ed five assists; Davis had three and James Mitch-

For the Lakers, goal scorers were Phil Saunders Jason Weber, David Scott had two assists.

On Tuesday, the Broncos got a goal from Storm - whose game Wednesday was his last before returning to Hartford (he plays for the National Hockey League Whalers) - with 2:26 left to edge the Huskies 5-4 at Plymouth Ice Arena.

Storm had two goals and two assists in the win.

Peter Bourke also had two goals; Ron Pietila scored the Broncos' first goal, in the opening period. Brad Cook had two assists for the winners.

Josh Wiegand scored twice for the Huskies and had one assist, and Pat Dakhi and Rich Kelly also netted goals for the Huskies. Joe Sellers (Plymouth/Ohio State) had two assists.

Canton Ice Cream melted

psilanti One offset a two-run rally by Canton's Ice Cream Center in the top of the fifth with a three-run rally in the bottom half of the inning to post a 3-2 victory in a Little Caesars Connie Mack Baseball League game Tuesday at Ypsilanti HS.

Anthony Pastor took the loss for Canton, surrendering just four hits without issuing a walk in six innings. Two of those hits came in Ypsilanti's three-run fifth; Pastor also committed an error in Canton, which had five hits in the game, got a run-scoring single from Bryan Kwaitkowski and an RBI double from Brian Kovach in the fifth. Both teams were 1-3 through Tuesday.

No-hit triumph

rian Paluk hurled a no-hitter Wednesday, carrying Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury to a 4-0 Livonia Collegiate Baseball League win over Wendy's at Ford Field.

Paluk, a Redford Catholic Central High product from Plymouth and incoming sophomore this fall new Valley State, struck out five and walked four as Hines Park improved to 12-4 over-

"He had a great curveball going and a great split-fingered fastball," Hines Park manager Dave Carroll said.

Chris Kirkey (ex-Westland John Glenn) led

Hines Park with two hits.

Trio earn spots among stars

Plymouth Salem won the Western Lakes Activities Association title due in great part to the performances of Mike Marsella and Dave Knight. Together with Canton's Ryan Ostach, they are honored as all-Observer.

Redford Catholic Central High baseball coach John Salter is no stranger to success on the diamond.

He has recorded 14 straight 20win seasons to go along with nine district, two regional, and three Catholic League titles, not to men-tion a state Class A crown in 1987.

His career winning percentage is .727 (280-105).

Despite a team batting average of only .255 this season, the Sham-rocks finished 25-9 and won a district in what might have been Salter's finest coaching job since he began running the CC varsity in

For his efforts, Sal by the sports staff as Observerland Coach of the Year.

"We really didn't hit the way I thought, but we played pretty good defense and got outstanding pitch-ing from Dave Susalla and Andy Kummer," Salter said.

The CC coach was also forced to juggle his lineup after Mike Brusseau, the team's top returning inseau, the team's top long the cam-fielder, missed most of the campaign with an injury.

Westland John Glenn, the area's
No. 1-ranked team, leads the way with three All-Area selections. The Rocketa, who finished 27-4 overall, also placed two on the second team.

11 homers (tied for the area lead) and 39 runs batted in. The Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association All-Star pick also collected 10 doubles and three triples. He scored 36 runs.

"I feet Bryan is a diamond in the rough," Glenn coach Norm Hoenes said. "He has good size, good control and good speed. I think he's an accellent pitcher and someday he'll be a pro prospect."

Besco is a two-time first-team All-Area pick in both baseball and football. He and his brother Darek (see below) carry 3.8 and 3.9 grade-point averages, respectively.

Dave Sesalia, pitcher, Reafford CC: The senior left-hander, who recently signed with the University of Detroit-Mercy, enjoyed a banner season with an 11-1 record.

In 83 innings, Susalia struck out 120 and waited 34. He posted an ERA of 1.36.

When he wasn't pitching, Susalia played the outlied (hitting, 247 with 22 hits).

"He was our workhorse," CC coach John Gravin said of his three-year starter. "He won at the big games for us this season.

"His sophornore and junior years he had a sore arm, but this spring he worked on strengthening and conditioning, and it helped. He didn't mas any tof his 14) starts.

"Dave often pitched on two days" rest. He was dominant at times, and I think he'll be better in college. He doesn't have the biazing speed, but he's tricky with a good breaking ball. Just a great kid to coach because he listens."

Susalle is also attentive in the of He finished with a 4.2 GPA.

Brian Berryman, pitcher, Redford Unio The only junior to make the squad, the right hander shows enormous potential as Marsella, Selem's co-MVP, also pitched in the Coaches Association All-Star Game on June 23 at Tiger Stadium.

"Mile showed flashes of brillance in his junior year (7-4 record) when he shut down Royal Oak Kimball in his first game and had a no-hitter against Livonis Franklin in the district finel," Selem coach John Gravlin seid. "He's a guy who matured the most of anyone I've coached."

Marsella is undecided about his college choice, but may be leaning toward Henry Ford CC, according to Gravlin.

lowed 35 walks.

"He came in here this year as a question mark at number two, but he came through and became a solid number-two guy," Salter sald. "He also played basketball, but he's someone who worked hard and got serious about baseball the last 1½ years.

"His curve ball was his best pitch, but he also had a good split-finger and fastball. He was not overpowering, but a smart pitcher. Just another great kid to coach."

Kummer, also an excellent student with a 4.2-plus GPA, is undecided about his college choice.

His brother Bob is a starting forward at the University of North Carolina-Charlotte. His fa-ther also pitched at the University of Detroit.

Ocelots attract big numbers for rebuilding job

It was a great season, 1993. With the emphasis on was.

Schoolcraft College men's soccer coach Van Dimitriou knows duplicating a season in which his team won 19 of 21 matches will be next to impossible. Making the task increasingly difficult is the loss of 10 - perhaps 11 of the 16 players used most often in '93.

Two-year standouts Bill Lanspeary, Billy Joker, Matt Stabile, Andy Cosenza, Adam Carriere and Matt Lividini are gone. Stabile and Joker are headed for Northeastern Illinois University in Chicago.

Others won't be returning. Matt Lee suffered a compound fracture in his leg playing summer soccer for the Wolves and will be lost for the sea son; others Dimitriou was hoping to have back, notably Vince Troiani and Joe Perron, are possible academic

That leaves just five experienced players returning for certain: forward Padi Bazzi, midfielders Tim McCar-ley and Tom Kuzak, and defenders Ryan Piper and Bill Binkiewicz.

We've got a rebuilding job to do,"

said Dimitriou, then added, "but we have the people to do it."

Although faced with new challenges from new programs - notably Madonna University's first-year team, which starts this fall - Dimitriou said he has had more players call him this season than ever before.

"My main concern was replacing our goalkeeper," he said, referring to the loss of Stabile, a two-year standout. "And we got the No. 1 keeper in

That's Ariel Mechlowitz from Warren DeLaSalle, one of the state's best. Dimitriou was able to attract him through several of his current players, who play with Mechlowitz's summer league team, the Wolves. "He decided to come here, and we're glad he did," said Dimitriou.

Mechlowitz isn't the only member of the Wolves convinced by fellow Wolves to sign with SC. Chris Hayes (from Plymouth Canton) and Jeff Kley and Ryan Phipps (both from Plymouth Salem), all defenders, have signed. "All three will be starters or first off the bench," said Dimitriou.

Not just Wolves were pitching in in the recruiting effort. Bazzi, the Ocelots leading scorer last year, talked to several players he knew from his hometown of Dearborn.

Mohamed Hijazi, who played forward with Bazzi at Dearborn High School, could end up at stopper for SC. He's 6-foot-1, 180 pounds, and "the best leaping player I've seen in a long time," said Dimitriou.

Four Dearborn Fordson graduates are also coming: Nasser Salame, a versatile midfielder who's "quick as a cat"; Oussams Rahal, a forward/midfielder who possesses "a great shot and excellent acceleration"; Wissam Fardoun, a left-footed midfielder; and Wissam Haidar, a defender/midfield-

All four are exceptional ball handlers, according to Dimitriou. "They play well together," he said. "I'm looking forward to seeing them play together (for SC)."

Of course, no positions are assured among the Ocelots, especially for the

Like Mario Piacentini, a 6-2, 175-pound center midfielder at Royal Oak Kimball who scored 40 career goals and was all-conference in the Metro

Suburban Activities Association. And Alex Dzyngel, a tough mid-fielder/forward at Farmington Harrison who's recovering from a broken

And keeper John Hunter ("He's very interesting," said Dimitriou) and midfielder Chris Wedge, co-captains at Redford Union.

Others who very possibly could make a strong impact: Eric Stoeck-lein, a defender from Canton; Chris Graczyk, an outside defender from East Detroit; Jeremy Kurtinitis, an all-conference midfielder/forward at Dearborn Edsel Ford; Todd Villanueva, a tough midfielder/forward from Walled Lake Central; Jim Weber, a midfielder/forward from Brighton; Rick Fernandez, a defender from Taylor Truman; Robert LaFrance, a defender from South Lyon; Mike Hatfield and Darrin Wolfe, both from Tecumseh; and Doug Walters, a midfielder from Belleville who — like Bazzi — will also play basketball at SC.

So many interested, and Dimitriou said there could be more. Which means anyone interested in unseating the reigning NJCAA Region 12 cham-pions will face an uphill struggle.

Barbara Walters puts AIDS 'In a New Light' on ABC

By JOHN CROOK

If Barbara Walters, the host of ABC's "In a New Light" special on Saturday, July 9, seems unusually persuasive in her narration, there's a good reason: When it comes to AIDS, she walks the walk and talks the talk, says executive producer Joe Lovett

"The fact that Barbara is hosting this year is just wonderful to me. because she really is the godmother of the project," he says. "It was her matchmaking that made it happen."

The two-hour information/ entertainment program, the third in an annual series from ABC, originated when Walters, who knew Lovett from his tenure as a producer on "20/20," came to him with a requst from a colleague, an ABC executive.

"She said to me, 'Phil Beuth, the head of "Good Morning, America," wants to get involved in a project about AIDS in which he can make a difference," Lovett recalls. He later found out that Beuth recently had been devastated by the loss of a son to acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Lovett, an openly gay man credited with some of the earliest network (especially prime time) coverage of the AIDS issue back when the syndrome still was "a gay disease," had been at work on a documentary covering the annual AIDS-related "Heartstrings" tour He offered the documentary to

No. More, Beuth said. Soon. Lovett realized that ABC wanted a major "infotainment" special that was even bigger than the national tour of "Heartstrings."

"In a New Light," which features an address by President Bill Clinton and is part of a National Night Against AIDS program that has been heavily promoted by Walters and a number of AIDS-related agencies, is only one of the prizewinning newswoman's many attempts to educate the nation about AIDS. Lovett says.

"Her commitment to AID6 has been incredible," he says, "Back in '85 I did a story called 'AIDS in the Heartland,' about a young woman in Indiana who had gotten AIDS from a transfusion. At that point, non-gay people weren't coming forward very much. (That woman) really helped change the face of AIDS and show how it can really affect everyone. And she also was a member in a born-again Christian church that had embraced her.

"After that show aired. Barbara said, 'We really have to do a primer on AIDS.' And I said, 'Oh, Barbara everyone knows what AIDS is about.' And Barbara said, 'Joe, you know what AIDS is about, no one

"So we did a very simple, you know, 'What is AIDS?' And it started with her holding a baby with AIDS and saying, 'You cannot get AIDS by holding or touching this child.' That was a very brave thing for her to do. because in all the emotionallism about AIDS (at the time), how was she going to be seen? But she didn't care about that," Lovett says. "All she cared about was getting the message across. This is a lady who really cares about our world."

Walters drives home her message to the public in her final remarks during the special.

"I want to leave you with one thought: AIDS is not a fad." she says. "It is not the disease of the year. It's the disease of the century and, for the most part, preventable. If each and every one of us doesn't face the facts heads on, we will have lost millions more men and women tragically - and, even worse, unnecessarily."

And, with a rising rate in teen-age pregnancies and a soaring rate in sexually transmitted diseases. Lovett reminds viewers: Every one of the initial encounters was a potential AIDS transmission

"Last year more than 100,000 people called the CDC's national AIDS hotline (1-806-342-AIDS)," he says. "Almost 50 percent of them did not understand that they themselves were at risk for AIDS until they saw the show."

SOAP WORLD

Cousins moves on from 'One Life'

BY CANDACE HAVENS

Dear Candace: 1 miss Tina (Karen Witter) and Cain (Christopher Cousins) on "One Life to Live." The show seems so boring without them. I think the writers tried to make Blair (Kassie Wesley) and Max (James DePaiva) take Tina and Cain's place to create excitement for the show, but it didn't work.

Max's cheating on Luna (Susan Batten) is just disgusting. Luna is supposed to be the one true love of his life. There are no other couples on the show that are as interesting to watch as Tipa and Cain

I loved watching their crazy antics, and their love affair really heated up the screen. Is there any chance they could return? Also, I would like to know more about Cousins. He is one of my all-time favorite actors. - J. D. in New York.

Dear Reader: There have been rumors floating around that the role of Tina would be recast, but nothing has happened so far. There has been no mention of Cain returning to the show.

Cousins was raised in Norman, Okla., and early on in life he had ambitions to be a painter, not an actor. He got his first taste of theater in high school.

"I took acting classes because every one knew they were the easiest classes to take in high school," says Cousins. He later attended Boston University During his summers, Cousins trained horses on a Colorado ranch.

After college, Cousins packed his bags and moved to Mexico to try his hand at painting. After eight months he decided that maybe acting wasn't so bad after all and headed for New York

Cain was not Cousins' first role on a soap opera. He played Greg Houston on "Another World" and Colin Crawly on "As the World Turns.

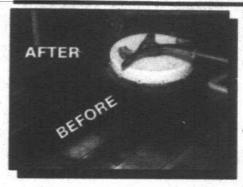

Cousins left "OLTL" because he wanted to pursue other interests, which generally means he is looking for work in prime-time television, feature films and theater. He and Witter chose not to renew their contracts. Cousins is actively seeking work on both coasts.

When he is not working, Cousins enjoys painting, sketching and doing wood carvings.

Festival offers pleasure for young and old

Hot summer nights, junk food smells drifting in sultry air, the clanking and whirring of carnival rides.

Expect the magical lazy days of summer to return with a passion as the community celebrates the sixth annual Garden City Festival July 7-10 at Garden City Park

There'll be something for everyone: cookie stacking contests for young ones still in diapers, a petting zoo for kids, hair-raising rides for teens, a beer booth for adults, bingo for well, people who like bingo, music for everyone and much, much more.

A calendar that begins on the following page lists specific events and when they begin. Other attractions are described throughout this publication

Festival hours are 5 p.m. till it peters out on Thursday, noon to midnight Friday and Saturday and noon to 11 p.m. Sunday. Garden City Park is at the northeast corner of Cherry Hill and Merriman roads.

The festival is organized by the Garden City Festival Committee, 15 or so residents who meet throughout the year to plan the four-day celebration. It receives support from numerous local businesses, which are listed on page 7.

So, be a part of the community. Bring your family Meet your neighbors. Indulge in the idle pleasures of summer Enjoy the Garden City Festival!

About parking . . .

For safety reasons, driving in Garden City Park will be prohibited during the festival. and parking will be restricted to the main lot, which can be accessed from Cherry Hill Road.

When the main lot fills, festival goers should park at the Farmer Jack grocery store on Cherry Hill immediately west of Merriman. A free shuttle bus will run continuously between the Farmer Jack and the festival site at Garden City Park

Dunk tank to benefit vest fund

Here's your chance to soak a cop - and contribute to a good cause.

The Garden City Jaycees are sponsoring a dunk tank at this year's Garden City Festival and the dunkees are none other than city police officers.

Who could resist?

A dollar buys three balls and three chances to hit the target that dunks the cop. Proceeds will be contributed to the police department's bulletproof vest fund.

"I think that would be wild," said festival committee chairwoman Jill Mikolajczyk. "I would love to see that. In fact, there's a couple of them I would pay 20 bucks to dunk."

The dunk tank will be up and running 5-8 p.m. Friday, noon to 8 p.m. Saturday and noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. It should be located somewhere near the city pool.

Festival fun: Friendly Frank's Wade Shows returns to the Garden City Festival this year with 22 carnival rides. Armbands that allow festival goers to ride all day cost $10 on Thursday and $12 on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Gently down: Some of the rides at the Garden City Festival are slow and easy, some aren't.

Rides return

Any kid will tell you it's the carnival rides that make summer festivals something to get excited about.

Lucky for them, Friendly Frank's Wade Shows will return to the Garden City Festival this year with 22 rides — some of them slow and easy, some of them fast and scary.

But don't expect a repeat of last year's rides. "He (Friendly Frank) switches the rides every year, so you don't have the same ones," explained Jill Mikolajczyk, chairperson of the festival committee.

Festival goers can ride all day by buying an armband from Friendly Frank. They cost $10 on Thursday when the festival hours are shortened and $12 Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

If you're a kid, or if the kid in you is looking for a thrill, the Garden City Festival is the place to be this week end.

Want to jump 20 feet into the air on an outof the ordinary trampoline, clobber your little brother with a jousting pole, or wrestle your mother-in-law Sumo style?

Now's your chance.

ACME Partyworks will be at the Garden City Festival offering - for a price - these opportunities and more

Take the Trampoline Thing. This is what the Farmington Hills-based company calls a contraption that lets you bounce - strapped safely in a harness suspended between two upright poles - more than 20 feet in the air. And then you come down. And then you go up again. It's something like a round-trip bungee jump. Too cool

Then there's the Gladiator Pedestal Joust where helmeted contestants stand on opposing three-feet pedestals and try to knock each other off with padded jousting poles. If you've watched the American Gladiators spectacle on television, you know what we're talking about.

By the way, an air-filled mat catches those who fall; but, hev, you can imagine that they fall into a shark-infested moat.

O'Rourke, who has been instrumental in organizing the annual Garden City Festival since its inception, will retire Aug. 12. She and her husband. Tom, plan to move the next day to a new home in the Canadian Lakes area near Mt. Pleasant.

The move will end the couple's 31 years in Garden City but will hardly sever the ties O'Rourke built during as many years of community involvement.

She's coached softball teams for the Garden City Youth Athletic Association; been a PTA mom, a substitute teacher, and a building supervisor at the Community Center, served on the recreation commission and, of course, served as the city's liaison to the Garden City Festival Committee

She was named director of the parks and recreation department in 1991.

"I've really enjoyed my recreation work," she said recently at her office above the ice arena. "I enjoy the people you get to meet. It's a real people-oriented job."

At festival time O'Rourke coordinates li-

O'Rourke is quick to return the compliment - not only to Mikolajczyk but to all the people who make Garden City the nurturing community it is.

"I think there's a very strong sense of community in Garden City," she said. "People don't take things for granted; they're willing to volunteer."

O'Rourke, the mother of five, plans to approach retirement with the same vigor she's shown on the job and in her volunteer efforts. She and Tom, a retired engineer for the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, expect to do a lot of golfing and some traveling.

"My whole life has been fun," she said. "I just look back on my life and think I've just been the luckiest person."

Festival: Games, music, carnival rides, food and drink - the Garden City Festival is an annual feast for the senses and a time for friends and neighbors to get together and have a good time.

The '50s live on

Remember: Saturday, July 9, is '50s Day at the Garden City Festival.

The Latin Counts will perform '50s and '60s music with a Motown feel from 2-6 p.m., and the Larados will perform doo-wop from 7-11

Nostalgic cars will be there for viewing. If you have a classic car, cruise over to the festival site at Garden City Park and show it off. Special parking will be available.

Maybe you can't go back, but you can pretend for a day!

WSDS to broadcast

Here's one for country music fans: WSDS, the country music radio station found at 14.8 on the AM band, will broadcast live at the Garden City Festival 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

They'll be taking personal requests, giving prizes and generally having a good time.

The Suds Mobile, the station's mobile broadcasting van, will be open for visitors.
