Satellite dish review planned

Nothing has been scheduled yet, but the Canton Homeowners Advisory Council would like the township board to review the satellite antenna ordinance after complaints were received about a neighbor's satellite dish on his garage roof.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

The Canton Homeowners Advisory Council would like township officials to review the satellite television antenna ordinance.

"What we're asking for is consistency and enforcement," said Nancy Spencer, council vice president. "We don't want Gestapo units walking the streets. But if you're going to have rules everyone has to follow them."

The council requested a review of the ordinance after the Cavalier Village Homeowners Association raised concerns about a satellite dish installed on the garage roof of a neighbor's house.

Homeowner Jim Tackett said he checked with the homeowners association and township before buying his Cavalier Village house. He already owned a satellite dish and wanted to use it.

"They (homeowners association) had no problem with it until someone complained," Tackett said. "I've been through damnation over this thing."

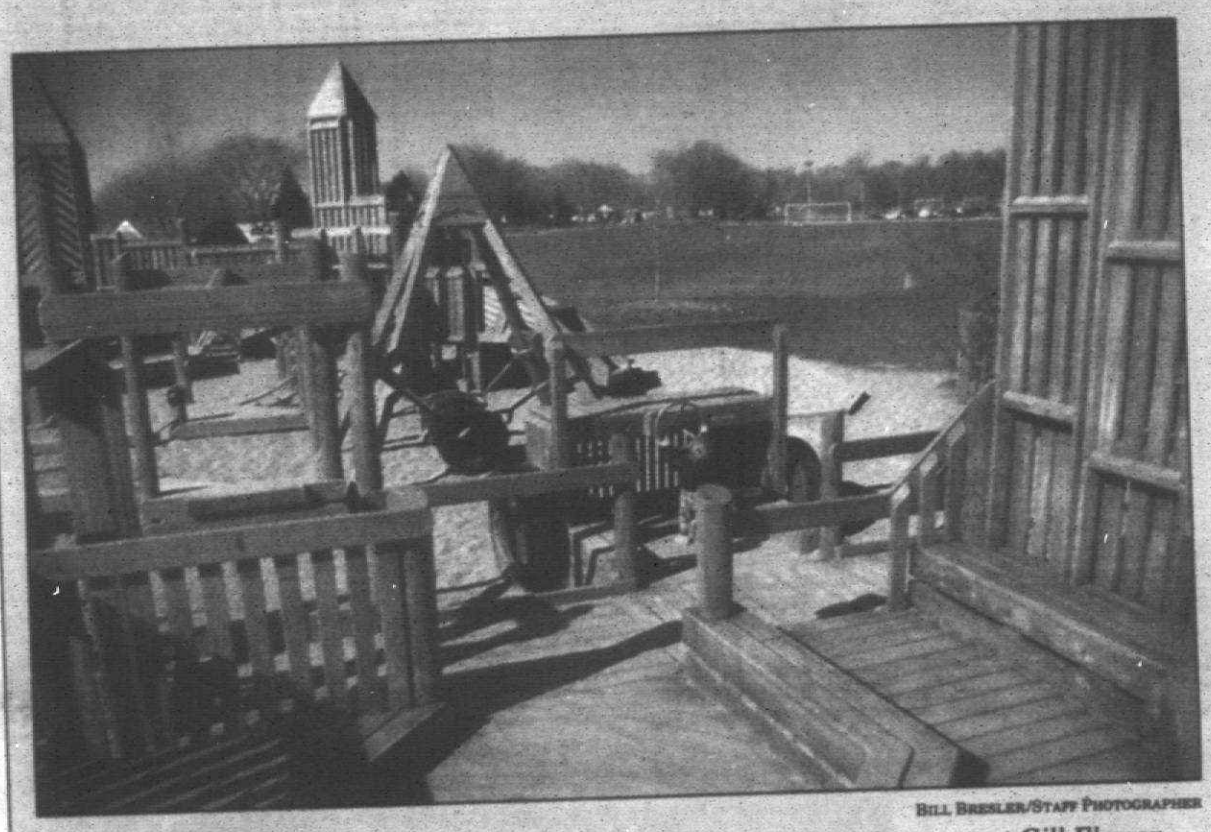

Despite complaints, Tackett is in compliance with township ordinances. But he makes it clear that his satellite dish is 7.5 feet in diameter — not 12 feet as has been told to the township board. Tackett started out with a 10-foot dish and got a smaller one when he heard complaints.

"We have no complaint with this person. If he did something perfectly legal, it's his prerogative to do it," said John Cozzi, Cavalier Village association president.

But concern remains about the future. "Theoretically every house in the subdivision could have a 12-foot

Playscape design day a family affair

Organizers of the Canton Community Playscape have big plans for the October day when a design is hammered out for the planned unique wooden playground in Heritage Park.

"We want 600 people at this meeting at the end of the day," said organizer Christine Donaldson.

On design day, drawings submitted for how the playscape should look and what it should include will be brought together, and — with the help of a consultant from the Leathers Company, the firm that has worked on more than 1,000 playscapes around the country — a design will be finalized.

Design day is expected to be an all-out event with entertainment and a chance for volunteers and others interested in the effort to get together. Donaldson said tentative plans include putting up a giant tent for the event.

Design day will be followed by another special day when designs are further refined with the help of a Leathers architect. The ultimate plan is to construct the playscape — ideally, with donated materials — by early June 1995 with construction completed by June 19, a week before the 1995 Canton Liberty Fest.

Judge hopefuls stress legal experience

BY KEVIN BROWN

Ten of the 11 candidates running for district judge in the Aug. 2 primary took turns touting their strengths and answering questions in a two-hour program Thursday at the Water Club Grill in Plymouth Township.

The candidates, before about 100 supporters and members of the Plymouth Republican Club which sponsored the forum, sought to impress voters with why they should be picked from the wide field.

Voters will choose one candidate and two will survive the primary to run in November for a spot on the 35th District Court bench.

Each candidate responded to four questions they were given in advance, and took written questions from the audience read by moderator Charles Kaufman, who serves as a part-time 35th District judge.

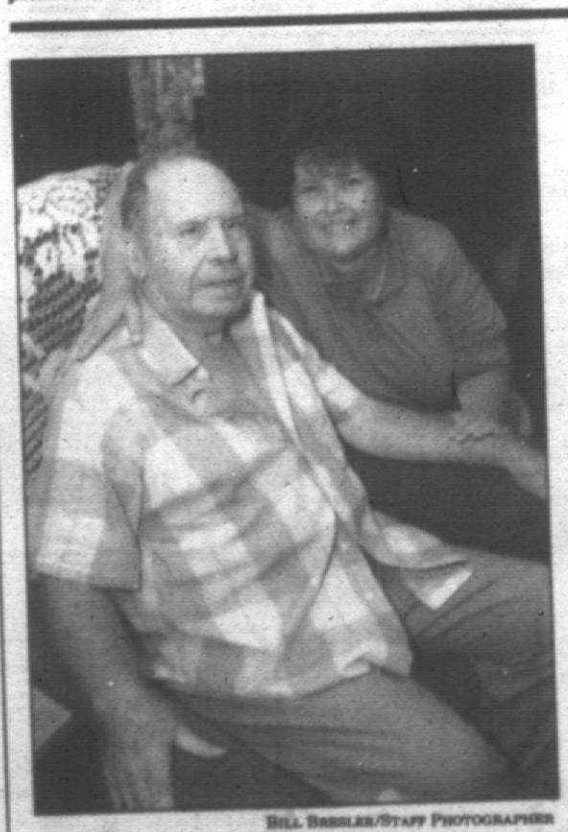

Michael Gerou stressed his experience as a private attorney working in "virtually every court in Wayne County," said he would also draw from life experience to make a well-rounded judge, cited extensive community involvement and said he understood business as he established his law practice from the ground up.

Ron Lowe, Plymouth city attorney, told the audience he was the candidate who had worked most extensively in the court. Asked if he'd favor the city in cases before the court, Lowe said that in his private practice, "I've represented clients before other district courts, arguing against municipal ordinances."

Stephen Boak, now in private practice but a former administrator with the Wayne County prosecutor's office, compared his 27 years' experience to other candidates. Referring to other candidates work, he said, "I've done all that plus 10 years . . . The difference between an exceptional judge and a mediocre one is experience."

Maria Petito stressed 10 years of experience as a Wayne County assistant prosecuting attorney who has Helping out: Canton Place manager Ginny Hauck helps out her father in his Belleville garden. Hauck oversees 118 senior residents at the Ford Road apartment complex.

Caregiver's proud to call complex her second home

BY JILL HALPIN
STAFF WRITER

On a recent Tuesday afternoon, Ginny Hauck of Canton took a long-awaited day off. Instead of heading north to a beach or toward a local mall, she headed south to her father's home in Belleville. There, she spent the day tending his garden: weeding, raking and hoeing in the hot sun . . . all the things that her father can no longer do.

It wasn't so different from her daily job as manager of Canton Place senior citizens apartments, where she oversees the lives of 118 residents, planning activities, visits from medical professionals and helping some with grocery shopping. It's hard work at times, but for Hauck it's a labor of love.

"I love my job. Life has trained me for this. This job uses all of my skills, it's the culmination of my lifelong learning. It all comes together in this job," said Hauck.

Hauck has an extensive background in caregiving. She was trained as a medical assistant and worked in clinics servicing patients from "age 3 to the grave," she said. Seeking a career change, Hauck signed on as youth director for St. Michael's Church in Canton. It was there that she became aware of a plan for subsidized apartments for senior adults.

"They were developing the concept for Canton Place, and going around to area churches looking for people to get involved. I knew that this was something important in this area. There needed to be a place for seniors," said Hauck.

She committed herself to the project, joining Canton Place's Board of Governor's, involving husband Al and daughter Lynette, now 20. Soon, Canton Place became a family project.

Even this wasn't enough involvement in the project for Hauck. After a manager left the position, Hauck took over as interim manager, and ended up staying permanently. She has now been in the position for 3½ years and is still loving it.

"Just being able to make a better quality of life for people. It's like having one great big family," she said.

Meeting the needs of 118 people can be difficult. Like a large family, the residents present a variety of unique challenges on a daily basis. Although Canton Place residents have their own one-bedroom apartments or efficiencies, each with their own kitchen, bathroom, bedroom and living spaces, it's not much different from a college dorm at times, Hauck said. Keeping harmony, making sure that people aren't getting hurt are all in a day's work.

"Whenever you have a large community of people, keeping the peace is important. All 118 of the residents here are unique. They all have their own needs and problems. It is important to maintain a balance," said Hauck.

School decision expected on antitrust violations

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Plymouth-Canton school officials will discuss tonight whether to join class action lawsuits stemming from antitrust violations by school bus distributors and certain Michigan dairies.

The school board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the E.J. McClendon Educational Center, 454 S. Harvey in downtown Plymouth.

Plymouth-Canton purchased buses through Hoekstra Truck and Equipment Co. of Grand Rapids, one of six Michigan distributors that pleaded guilty last August to bilking districts by rigging bids for buses. Plymouth-Canton has purchased 35 Thomas MVP buses at a minimum cost of $65,276 each from Hoekstra.

Philip Erickson, an attorney representing Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and other districts, said 75 of Michigan's 580 districts have joined the bus suit thus far. "We expect to have hundreds of districts participating eventually," he said.

"I think we should join if enough money is involved," said school board member Barbara Graham.

It's unclear whether Plymouth-Canton has been serviced by the dairies indicted for price-fixing. "It's my understanding that the school district is planning to recommend that the board adopt a resolution to join the bus and milk cases; however we don't yet have the documentation we need," said Erickson. "When we do, we will make a determination."

The indicted firms include McDonald's and Bareman's dairies of Michigan and Allen Dairy of Indiana, Erickson said. A federal grand jury investigation is ongoing in the Eastern District in Flint.

John Klopstein is district manager for Marriott School Services which supplies Plymouth-Canton. He's handled the account for nearly four years and said Plymouth-Canton buys Melody Farms milk.

"Over the last four years, I'm not aware that any of those dairies provided service through Marriott," he said. "We have actively participated in other states with investigations initiated by attorneys general. We have not been contacted regarding Melody Farms, so we don't have any reason to believe they're under investigation at this point," said Klopstein.

Erickson said antitrust violations involving dairies occurred in six counties in Michigan. "The question is how far do the violations extend beyond those six counties?"

Sales by the indicted companies were made in four counties in western Michigan and two counties in south central Michigan, said Erickson, of the Lansing-based firm of Thrun, Maatsch & Nordberg.

Erickson said it's difficult to estimate the amount districts have been overcharged. He declined to speculate on the amount of money involved, but said based on discussions with clients, Michigan's experience is similar to that of other states. "In aggregate, there've been a lot of bus sales and a lot of milk sales. If you look at the situation in aggregate, the sums are very substantial, we believe."

Other items on the agenda include at-risk students, Reading Recovery; Lowell Middle School technology update; textbook adoptions; computer purchases; chain link fence contracts for Tonda and Bentley elementaries; and continued discussion of the board's goals. The board will meet in closed session to discuss labor negotiations.

Man pleads not guilty to charges related to argument

Listed below are some of the Canton police incidents, fire calls and court cases reported during the past week.

■ MAN WITH A GUN

A 20-year-old Canton man pleaded not guilty to felony charges over the weekend in connection with an argument with his 21-year-old girlfriend at Canton Commons Apartments early July 16.

At 4:45 a.m., police received a hang up 911 call about a man with a gun. Their investigation revealed that the man began arguing with the woman at her apartment on Stacy. When the argument became heated, the man got a .22-caliber Jennings semi-automatic handgun, threatened the woman and fire shots into the front door of her residence.

The man was arrested as he was attempting to flee. Police recovered the handgun. He was charged with felonious assault and felony firearms.

■ TWO APPREHENDED

Two Canton men were arrested in connection with malicious destruction of property incidents and possession of stolen motor vehicles.

The two 17-year-olds pleaded not guilty to charges, which included two counts each of unlawful driving away of an auto and one count of receiving and concealing stolen property. The charges involve a vehicle and a moped.

The men were arraigned before 35th District Court Judge James Garber July 19. Garber set bond at $20,000 cash for one of the men and $5,000 or 10 percent for the other. Preliminary exams are scheduled for July 29.

■ ASSAULT AND BATTERY

A 75-year-old Canton man was charged with assault and battery following a July 20 fight with his neighbor. Police say the man, upset because his neighbor parked her car in his parking space in the 46000 block of Geddes, struck her 19-year-old son with a closed fist. The man then hit the woman's grandmother over the head and pushed her to the ground. When police arrived, the man was uncooperative and denied involvement. Police brought him to the station but later released him due to his age and health problems.

■ FELONY WARRANT

A 34-year-old Canton man, stopped by police for a license plate dangling by wire from his car, was discovered to have an open warrant for possession of cocaine in Washtenaw county. Police stopped the man after noticing the condition of his license plate. The man was able to produce both a valid drivers license and certificate of insurance. After running a check on the license, police discovered the warrant for cocaine possession. The man is currently being held without bond.

■ LARCENY

A 16-year-old Inkster youth was arrested July 20 after stealing a merchandise valued at $121 from Meijer in Canton. Police were called to the scene after store security watched a youth stuff a leather coat, a sweat shirt and socks under his coat and attempt to leave the store without paying. Store security apprehended the youth, who was later found to have stolen credit cards in his possession. He was released to the custody of his father.

Funeral home plans grand opening

The new L.J. Griffin Funeral Home, 42600 Ford Road will open its doors for a grand opening 5-7 p.m. Thursday, July 28.

The public is invited to the grand opening ceremonies conducted by the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

The new single-story structure will have three viewing rooms, which can be expanded or contracted, a chapel, lounge, offices and restrooms of more than 11,000 square feet.

The chapel, which will seat 150, rises 22 feet above ground level and features stained glass windows.

Bible school

Geneva Presbyterian Church, 5835 Sheldon in Canton will be transformed into Son Country Farm for Vacation Bible School, 6:30-8:30 p.m. Aug. 8-12.

Children preschool through fifth grade are invited. Registration is $3. Early registration is recommended. For information and registration call the church, 459-0013.

Golf outing

It's time again for the annual Canton Chamber of Commerce Men and Women Golf Outing Tuesday, Aug. 9.

The outing includes 18 holes of golf, cart, continental breakfast, lunch and refreshments on the course. The outing will begin with a shotgun start at 8 a.m., with registration at 7:30 a.m. All area businesses are invited to attend. Sponsorships are available. Registration is $450 a team and $120 per single.

Two major sponsors of the event are First of America Bank and Blackwell Ford. For more information contact the chamber, 453-4040.

Playscape contest

Canton youths younger than 18 are invited to participate in a contest to develop a name and logo for the volunteer-designed Canton Community Playscape targeted for Heritage Park.

The winner of the contest will receive a $100 gift certificate from Play It Again Sports in Canton. The winner will be announced on or near the day volunteers will get together in the fall and work with a Leathers Company architect to design the playscape.

Anyone with entries should send them to Christine Donaldson, 43764 Yorktown, Canton, Mich. 48188.

Feeling proud

Diploma has special meaning

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Bessie Wallace had every reason to give up on life. Instead, she worked to make her dreams come true.

So poor were Wallace, her sister, and her mother, that they subsisted on biscuits and lard and lived in a two-room house with tar-paper walls, no indoor plumbing, and no electricity in their native rural Tennessee. The family did have chickens and hogs, but that was before Wallace's father deserted them when Wallace was 14. From the time she was 10, Wallace picked cotton, earning just $2 per 100 pounds.

"My mom's goal was to complete her education," said Wallace's daughter, Pam Chaney. "She wanted to be a teacher, but there literally was no money." They didn't even know people who had indoor plumbing.

"The Sears and Roebuck catalog could come, so they knew there must be a better world out there," she said. "But they didn't know where it was, or how to get there."

Wallace's mother had little education. To scrape by, "she took in people's laundry and scrubbed on a washboard. She was determined to keep her girls together," said Chaney. "I don't believe there were government aid programs, and when they were initiated, they didn't reach into the isolated rural areas."

When Flora Wells, Wallace's mother, learned there was work in Detroit, she saved enough for bus fare and moved. The family settled in Plymouth, where, at age 17, Wallace went to work instead of finishing school. She earned much-needed money waitressing at the D&C dime store lunch counter on Main Street.

Before she was 18, Wallace married a young man she'd known since they were kids in northwestern Tennessee. She and William, her husband of 46 years, raised two sons and a daughter.

Wallace — who says commitment, to each other and their children, saw the couple through — always had a job outside the home. She worked at Burroughs, a Sheldon Road box factory, in child care, in a Saline factory, and at Industrial Strainer before her recent retirement.

But always, a feeling of emptiness lingered.

"I've always, down through the years, had a feeling within me of leaving something undone," said Wallace. "One of the things we were taught in my family is: When you start a job, you finish it."

Not until she was in her 60s was there the opportunity to return to school. Two years ago, the Westland resident enrolled in Plymouth-Canton's adult education program. On June 9, at age 64, she received a state-endorsed high school diploma at ceremonies staged at the Salem High School auditorium.

A 4.0 student, Wallace was chosen to speak to the class of 1994. She addressed her remarks to young people.

"You may feel you've faced adversity. Things may not have gone so well. I know; I was there. But I want you to know you can make dreams come true, regardless of who supports or doesn't support you. I'm living proof.

"If there is something you really want to do, whatever it is, pursue it. Good jobs aren't out there any more for the uneducated. Hang in there and get an education. Because without it, you will never have anything."

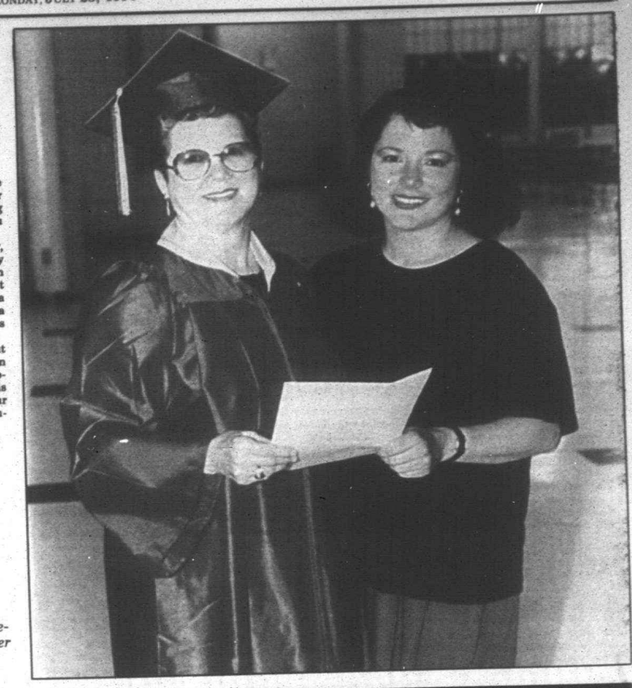

Wallace received a standing ovation.

"I've never been so moved or felt so proud as when I was sitting there and the whole audience, including Superintendent (John) Hoben, rose to its feet for my mom," said Chaney.

A letter Chaney wrote to her mom was read by a faculty member at graduation. "In a world where mommies and daddies live happily ever after and 17-year-old girls don't have to worry about enough food to eat, or where they'll sleep at night, you would have graduated from high school on a shiny June day in 1948. At a dime store, as a child care provider, at a Saline factory, and a Plymouth factory where you became powerful presence in the union and an inspiration to your daughter who was ever watching you, you worked. And you dreamed.

"Here we stand, your family, deeply moved and inspired by your courage and determination to make life turn out the way it should have 46 years ago. It's a shiny June day and you are a member of the newly minted class of 1994," wrote Chaney.

"It's been a long journey, but you continued to put one foot in front of the other, despite the obstacles, until you reached this place on this day where your dream is coming true. Congratulations, Graduate!"

With honors: Bessie Wallace, 64, graduated from high school with honors last month, fulfilling a lifelong dream. Sharing in her joy is daughter Pam Chaney of Ohio.

Class of 1994: Bessie Wallace (third from left, front row) was one of 31 adult education students to earn her high school diploma in June. The graduates were honored at commencement exercises at Salem High School auditorium.

Programs available

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools offer a wide range of adult education classes.

Students may earn GED certificates and high school diplomas by enrolling in day, evening or weekend classes starting in September.

Tuition is free for those who qualify, and free for classes including GED preparation, English as a second language, adult reading improvement and others. Fees range from $125 to $400.

In addition to academic subjects, students may enroll in computer science, practical law, parenting, phlebotomy, auto body, cosmetology, and small business management.

Most classes run for 15 weeks. Higher-level classes are seven and a half weeks. Child care is available for day classes. For more information, call the adult ed office at Starkweather School at 416-4900.

Airport fixup under way

BY JILL HALPIN
STAFF WRITER

Canton residents may start to notice some differences as they drive past Canton-Plymouth Mettetal Airport. Improvements are already under way as the finalizations are made on a five-year airport improvement plan.

Pilots, tenants and users of the airport met with state officials July 21 at a special meeting to discuss proposed airport rules and regulations and a five-year development plan for the airport.

Some of the work has already been started: workers are slated to begin paving the airport's now-gravel parking lot in August. A new fence around the parking area, paved sidewalks and lighting will also be included in this first in a series of planned improvement projects for the airport.

Randy Coller, acting airport manager, said the improvement projects show the state's commitment to making the airport an important asset to the community.

"We want to be good neighbors. The parking lot is a mud lot. It makes a bad impression on people and we want to change this," said Coller.

The meeting was held to help airport officials prioritize planned improvements. Adding a Precision Approach Path Indicator (PAPI), which will provide pilots with visual vertical guidance to the runway, is planned for the north end of the runway closest to Joy Road. A similar project is currently under way on the south end of the runway.

Other planned improvements include a four-foot split-rail perimeter fence along Joy Road, a new fuel storage facility and the reconstruction and relocation of taxiways. Improvements that will bring the airport up to building codes and the resolution of electrical problems are also planned.

"There are some problems here that need to be corrected as soon as possible," said Coller, adding that the airport has been in the sales process for the past four to five years. "Things fell by the wayside, and no one was complaining. But there are things that the state has to bring up to standard."

Coller said that it may take up to five years to complete the improvements, depending on funding availability. Local, state and federal monies are used to fund such projects and are divided as such on the plans.

According to Coller, the local money is generated by the airport users and is obtained from hanger rental fees and fuel sales. The state money used to fund the projects is obtained from the state's aeronautics fund, revenue derived from aviation users. The federal portion of the improvements will be paid for by the aviation trust fund. Revenue for the fund is derived from airline ticket tax and aviation fuel tax.

The projects cannot be started until the local portion of the money is available for use. Some pilots at the meeting discussed the idea of donating $3,000 to get the projects under way as opposed to waiting for the airport to generate the revenues.

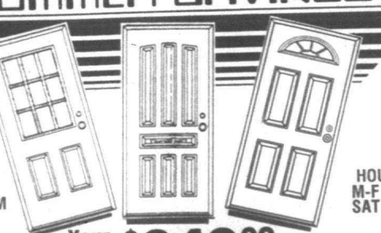

But one local pilot who has flown out of the airport for 25 years said he would not be willing to make such a donation. "Sure, I could give you $3,000. But many of the pilots here are over the age of 60. We don't know where we will be in five years," he said.

CLARIFICATION

A July 21 story about Bruce Patterson, candidate for Wayne County Commission 11th District, should have said that Sumpter Township had a host agreement for a landfill from which royalties and tipping fees would help pay on bonds for infrastructure improvements. The county failed to act on legislation that the state Department of Natural Resources trusted them to enact, leaving the township in the lurch if the royalties are suspended.

The story also should have said that Patterson did not speak with the Wayne Chamber of Commerce about the paving of a portion of Michigan Avenue. Rather he has talked with a Wayne City Council member, involved with the chamber, who is making efforts to organize a petition drive for the paving.

(in diameter) dish on their roof," Cozzi said.

Specifically, the council and Cavalier Village association are asking whether minimum and maximum sizes should be established and whether the permitted location of the dishes should be more clearly defined.

The township ordinance allows satellite dishes up to a maximum 12 feet diameter and may be located in a side yard no closer than five feet to the side property line. The antenna also may not exceed the height restrictions in the zoning district where it is located.

The ordinance also states: "All antennas shall be located to reduce as much as possible, the visual impact it has on surrounding properties and from public streets."

This provision of the ordinance is what some homeowners are wondering about. The neighbor's dish is visible from the street. "We all agreed that if this is in fact how the ordinance reads, is this what you mean or do you want to redraft it?" Cozzi asked. "The advisory council feels the township should address these issues especially where we have populated areas."

The homeowners council is also concerned because Tackett obtained a permit from the township after the dish was installed. The homeowner was not ticketed for violating the ordinance because he failed to obtain the permit first.

Tackett said his permit application was initially denied because of township building department concerns about the weight of the 77-pound dish on the garage roof. He had to hire someone to double-check the structure. "Then they found something else wrong," said Tackett, who added that he threatened to go to court. When it was determined he met the ordinance, he was issued a permit.

"The goal ultimately is to get compliance," said John Weyer, township building official, explaining why the homeowner was not ticketed. "He worked with us."

The Canton Township Board of Trustees gave playscape organizers a maximum $30,000 to pay for the Leathers architectural consulting services.

A contest is now underway for youths 18 years and younger to submit their ideas for a name and logo for the playscape. The winner, who will be announced on or near design day, will receive a $100 gift certificate from Play It Again Sports. "I have two submissions so far," Donaldson said, adding that the sports store also sells new equipment.

Contest entries may be mailed to Donaldson, 43764 Yorktown, Canton, Mich. 48188.

When the consultant arrives, he will help finalize just where the volunteer-designed and built playscape will be in Heritage Park. "It needs to be basically a flat site," said Mike Gouin, Canton parks and recreation superintendent.

One of a number of sites considered is near the Summit on the Park community center now under construction near the south pavilion (picnic shelter). But it's uncertain whether the site is large enough to accommodate a playscape that could run a minimum of 10,000 square feet.

Another site is suggested by the south picnic shelter. Some organizers were ready to vote on the site because it is close to the shelter and restrooms, as well as parking.

Anyone who would like to volunteer or specifically join a committee, such as children, child care, donated and purchased materials, for example, should call Donaldson, 397-5909; Lynne Eckardt, 454-9745; or Jan Pickard, 416-9428.

worked in district court. "That makes me very familiar with these procedures," she said. In domestic violence cases, "There are no competing interests," she said. "It is a crime and it must stop."

Kevin Simowski cited 12 years' experience as an assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney who has prosecuted homicides and won more than 20 murder convictions. "I'm tough, fair and effective . . . I've raised no more than $1,000 (to campaign)," he said, adding, "A judge shouldn't be looking at the ledger books but the law books." Simowski said he would have "zero tolerance" for defendants in domestic violence cases.

Carol Levitte cited 15 years experience practicing criminal and civil law, service as a deputy racing commissioner and extensive work in the 35th District Court. "I'm the only candidate with judicial decision-making experience," she said. Levitte suggested adding evening or Saturday morning hours to the court schedule to relieve the crowded docket.

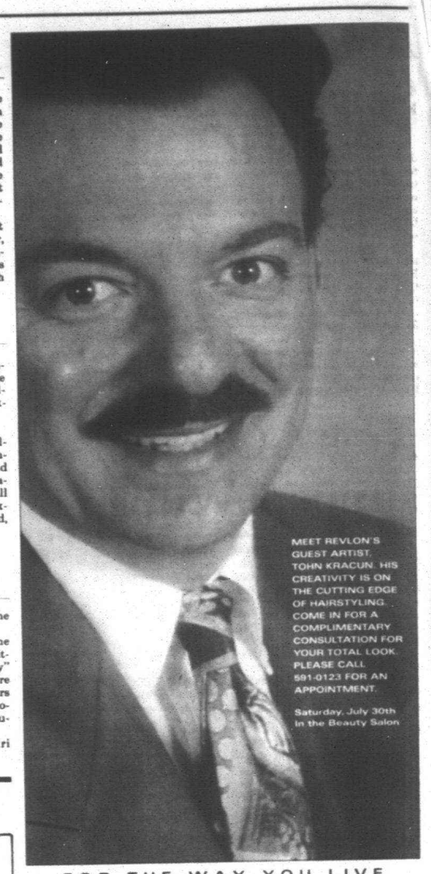

Edward Zelmanski stressed a temperament made for the job, service as a lecturer on legal topics, working up from a staff attorney to become manager of two law offices, and said to better meet the heavy district court caseload pre-trial conferences could be handled by telephone to save time.

Dennis Shrewsbury, a city commissioner and private practitioner for 12 years, cited experience as a public servant. "I have the experience, temperament and fairness to be a good judge," he said. He said that while there are competing interests in domestic violence cases, "We need to protect the children involved," adding restraining orders should be swiftly and fairly enforced.

Jacqueline George, an attorney for 18 years, stressed a desire to be a public servant. "I'd appear on the bench on time, put in a full day, no unnecessary delays, and give fair and just consideration before litigants before me," she said.

Karen Woodside, a Wayne County assistant prosecuting attorney, touted "a no drop policy" in cases of domestic abuse before the courts. "Family members must be safe in their home. Violence often spreads to the community," she said.

Candidate Victoria Hariri didn't attend the forum.

Area mayors back Schall in primary

John Schall, an Ann Arbor resident and Republican candidate for U.S. Congress in the 13th District, has announced endorsements from Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett, Belleville Mayor Glenn Silvenis, and Inkster Mayor Ed Bivens Jr.

The 13th District includes Canton and Plymouth townships, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City, and the southeast quadrant of Livonia.

The primary vote is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 2.

"John Schall was born and raised in Livonia and he understands the needs and concerns of the families in our community," Bennett said in a press release.

"He will fight to get the economy moving and create jobs," Bivens said.

"John Schall best represents the values of the families and the hard-working men and women in our area," Silvenis said.

Schall is also endorsed by Wayne County Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, Livonia Treasurer Robert Bishop, Plymouth Township Trustee Charles Curmi, Schoolcraft College Trustee John Walsh, the Police Officers Association of Michigan, the Washtenaw County Deputy Sheriff's Association, Right to Life of Michigan, the National Right to Life Committee, and Citizens for Traditional Values.

Area GOP leaders support Wilbanks

Cynthia Wilbanks, a Ypsilanti Township resident and Republican candidate for U.S. Congress in the 13th District, has announced endorsements from 74 current and former officials, including former congressman Carl Pursell of Plymouth Township.

The 13th District includes Canton and Plymouth townships, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City and the southeast quadrant of Livonia.

The primary vote is scheduled for Aug. 2.

"Cynthia Wilbanks has spent more than 20 years working in this district with local government officials and residents as my district director here in Michigan, and before me, with Congressman Marvin Esch. She knows the needs and concerns of our area and has a proven record of getting action out of the federal government," said Pursell in a press release.

"While we often stay neutral in our own party's primaries, we feel strongly that Cynthia Wilbanks has the very best chance of winning this seat in November," said Ypsilanti Republican Chairman Peter Fletcher.

"Few people realize this but our 1992 Republican candidate (state Sen. Robert Geake) won the Wayne County portion of the district, but lost the election with a very poor showing in Washtenaw County. Cynthia has deep roots and experience in both counties and is the best candidate to emerge."

The other people to endorse Wilbanks are:

Former U.S. Rep. Marvin Esch, state Reps. Lyn Bankes of Redford Township and Jerry Vorva of Plymouth, former state Sen. Gilbert Bursley.

From Plymouth Township, Supervisor Kathleen Keen-McCarthy, director of public services Jim Anulewicz, trustees Kay Arnold, Ron Griffith, K.C. Mueller, clerk Marilyn Massengill, planning commissioner Donald Skinner, former clerk Esther Hulsing and former trustee Abe Munfakh.

From the city of Plymouth, Mayor Doug Miller, city councilman John Voss, library board members Sheryl Khoury and Janet Campbell, former mayors James Jabara, Joe Bida and Dennis Bila.

From Plymouth-Canton schools, board President David Artley, former board presidents Carol Davis and Kenneth Hulsing.

From Canton Township, Supervisor Tom Yack, treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter, trustees Melissa McLaughlin, library board president James Gillig and former trustee Robert Padget.

From the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, chairman Steve Ragan, vice chairman Harry Greenleaf, secretary Patricia Watson, trustees Mary Breen and Richard DeVries.

From the Ann Arbor School Board, trustees Chris Argersinger and Jim Cameron.

From the Ann Arbor City Council, Mayor Ingrid Sheldon, trustees Jim Stephenson, Jane Lumm, Julie Creal, former mayor Jerry Jernigan, former trustees Kirk Dodge, Bob Henry, Terri Martin, Jeannette Middleton, Mark Ouimet, Ed Hood, Jim Blow, Joyce Chesbrough, C. William Colburn, Roger Bertois and Lou Velker.

From the Ypsilanti City Council, former trustees Scott Woods and Nathalie Edmunds.

From the Ypsilanti School Board, President Marilyn Goodsman, trustee Diane Kerr, former trustees Doug Harris and Marcia Harrison.

Other endorsers include Garden City Councilman Ed Juarez, Ann Arbor Township Supervisor Elizabeth Langford, Ypsilanti Library Board Trustee Helen Vick, Ann Arbor Republican Party chairman Clement Gill, former Ann Arbor Republican Party chairwoman Virginia Johansen, former Suburban Republican Women president Joy Hartmann, Eastern Michigan University regents Gayle Thomas and Robert DeMattis, former Northville Township supervisor Betty Lennox, former Washtenaw Community College trustee Ann Kettles, Scio Township trustee Jerry Schleicher, Wayne County School Board Association President Flossie Tonda and Pittsfield Township trustee Doug Woolley.

Wilbanks has also been rated "well-qualified" by Civic Searchlight.

Step back in time at antiques fair

Huge brightly striped tents lend a festive atmosphere to the countryside as they welcome scavengers to the Ann Arbor Antiques Market on the third Sunday of the month at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds.

Crowded inside horse barns, fragrant with the smell of hay, over 400 dealers from across the country display their second hand wares. Savvy collectors mark their calendars for this popular market and thousands converge on the 80 acre site, hoping to snag the treasure they've been searching for.

I donned my walking shoes and headed to Ann Arbor on July 17, hoping to scout out our local dealers and to inquire about this summer's hot test collectibles. Of course, I knew I wouldn't leave empty handed. Rustic painted furniture and fun '40s textiles seem to call to me from among the more formal and sophisticated Americana.

Thrill of the hunt

Martyn Hessey's beautifully refinished antique furniture caught my eye as I entered the first tent. Several of Hessey's bedside tables and bookcases ($200-$265) sported bright red "Sold" tags. Though he displays oak tables and chairs, beds and dressers, it's the smaller, occasional pieces that sell the quickest. I admired the Victorian washstand, inlaid with Majolica tiles ($565). It also captured the attention of Ann Croft of Detroit, a novice antiquer. See Hessey's entire inventory at the Plymouth Antique Emporium, 13101 Eckles Road.

The red painted kitchen scale with shiny brass tray ($115) drew me to Marcia Petrella's booth. Petrella shares space with other dealers at Troy Corners Antiques, 90 E. Square Lake Rd. Included in her selection of 19th century American country furniture and accessories were a brass desk lamp ($485) and candlesticks.

Edna Tillman has set up shop at this megamarketplace for over 20 years. She recently closed her downtown Birmingham store, but is still in business at 1255 Villa. Tillman's unique architecturals and 1920s iron floor lamps ($125) were popular items at this show, as were a wicker side table ($245) and painted iron park bench ($495).

I encountered the Scheets of Rochester admiring Tillman's wares. "I'm looking for blue and white porcelain and something wonderful to set the microwave on," said Mrs. Scheets who likes functional pieces, not just decorative knick-knacks. The Scheets have also been looking for the perfect wood box, a quest that's lasted for years. "I like to browse until I see something that brings back memories. I'm in it for the nostalgia," she added.

Familiar faces

Other local dealers with secondhand sensations included Big Beaver Antiques of Troy, Lulu's of Royal Oak (I saw a great vintage croquet set in a painted box, $38), B.L Nowka Antiques in The Barn on 8 Mile Road in Northville (a blue reen butler tray, $95 and a Victorian calling card basket, $35), and Cowboy Collectibles and Western Memorabilia, 195 Liberty in Plymouth. For me, the "Best of Show" were a faded blue Amish rocker and a pair of green plantation shutters that hang on the wall as art ($150). And what did I happily carry away through the big farm gates? A weathered green metal sap bucket that is filled with dried flowers, a gorgeous floral-design hooked rug, circa 1930 from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and a terrific three-legged footstool.

Mall courts wee ones

■ More than 400 moms and tots came to see the prince rescue Snow White with a kiss at Oakland Mall's Giggle Gang Theater. This week watch the miller's daughter try to guess the name of you know who.

Lisa Kedrow took some time off from her job at the center's Big Boy's to bring a few little friends to the 11 a.m. opening performance of the Giggle Gang Theater at Oakland Mall in Troy, July 20.

"It's great to see so many people at the mall on a Wednesday morning," she said eyeing the crowd for a spot up close. "The restaurants are giving away free children's lunches after the shows so it'll be a busy day."

Parisian opens with week of fun events

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Puppets, strolling robots, fashion shows and the chance to win a trip to England await shoppers during the grand opening week at Parisian Department Store Aug. 1-6 at Laurel Park Place in Livonia.

If you've never visited the shopping center some consider to be "Somerset West," Parisian's opening might be the right opportunity.

Three-years-in-the-planning, Parisian at Laurel Park will be the first Michigan store for the Birmingham, Ala.-based retailer. Laurel Park Place is at Six Mile and Newburgh, just east of I-275 off the Six Mile exit.

"I can't believe it's finally opening," said Judith Wise of Livonia, a regular mall walker. "I'm anxious to shop Parisian and see what it's all about. I hear they have lower prices than other department stores."

Parisian is a clothing store which also sells shoes, accessories and cosmetics for the family. There are no home furnishings or small electronics at Parisian. The Laurel Park store is on two-levels covering 150,000 square feet of retail space. The aisles are wide. There is a central escalator so every department is visible for quick inspection.

Parisian shoppers browse from these merchandise lines: Liz Claiborne, Jones New York, Ellen Tracy, Karen Kane and Rafella for women; Polo Ralph Lauren, Tommy Hilfiger, Timberland and Alexander Julian for men; Cole-Haan, Nina, Enzo and 9-West shoes; Coach, Dooney & Bourke, LJ Simone accessories; Clinique, Lauder, Elizabeth Arden and Lancome cosmetics.

"You're Somebody Special," is the company's motto and customer service that goes that extra mile is their claim to fame. Parisian operates 30 stores throughout the southeast, Ohio and Indiana.

Parisian is owned and managed corporately by the Hess and Abroms families of Birmingham, Ala. The name Parisian comes from the 107-year-old store's original title: The Parisian Dry Goods and Millinery Company.

Carl Hess (grandfather of present CEO Donald Hess) purchased Parisian in 1920 with a partner. His son, Emil, is chairman of the board. Harold Abroms is vice chairman. In 1968 Parisian was named "Brand Name Store of the Year" by the Brand Names Foundation.

The Livonia store manager Elliot Marcus wants shoppers to know that any similarities between Parisian Department Store and the city of Paris are coincidental — "We're just plain old Parisian," he said when first arriving in Michigan.

Marcus' first task was to build a service force of 275 employees. He said he does whatever it takes to make customers and staff feel special — even ordering three $200 foot massagers for the associate's lounge.

Parisian offers its customers a proprietary credit card with a no-interest credit plan, a liberal return policy, a diaper changing area accessible to moms and dads, a cartoon corner in the children's department, free customary alterations for men and women, extra large fitting rooms and a coffee bar.

Annually, each Parisian store awards $10,000 to a local community service agency that serves families. The announcement of the first winner in metro-Detroit will be made at a special pre-opening party on July 31.

■ PHOENICIA AT FAIRLANE
Phoenica, featuring Middle Eastern fare, opens a west-side location at the Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn this fall. Restauranteur Sameer Eid's other Phoenica is in Birmingham. The Mediterranean fare includes falafel, hommus and taboulee as well as pita sandwiches, daily specials, soups and salads.

Eid said diners at his new Dearborn location will feel like they are on a mini cruise to Lebanon, viewing the ocean through seven seascapes painted on windows. Eid hopes to also offer name entertainment, music and dancing at Fairlane as well as a 40-seat banquet facility for private parties.

■ NEW AT LAKESIDE
Macomb County's only Tastee-Freez opens at Lakeside Mall in Sterling Heights. The Tastee-Freez formula offers customers a dairy treat that is almost 98-percent fat free according to company spokeswoman Deanna Erickson. The company will use the Lakeside location to experiment with new flavors and products. Tastee-Freez also offers ice cream cakes, hot dogs, nachos and popcorn. The company is headquartered in Utica with 250 locations in the U.S. and Canada.

Also at Lakeside, i Natural, a beauty and body care shop is open. The store's totally natural product line includes cosmetics, body and bath oils and cream and gels made from vegetables, fruits and herbs. They contain no perfume and are never tested on animals.

Besides over-the-counter products, i Natural offers full-service salon treatments including pedicures, manicures, acrylic and gel nails, nail art waxing and facials.

■ HUDSON'S GRANT
On behalf of Hudson's, the Oakland Mall store manager Jean Sinclair recently presented several checks to benefit local non-profit programs. A check for $16,000 was awarded to support student musician performances during the Montreux Jazz Festival; a check for $25,000 was presenetd to Channel 56 to support the "Great Performances" series; and a $4,500 grant was awarded to the Arab-American and Chaldean Council to sponsor a high school drop out program.

■ JACOBSON'S MASSAGES
Jacobson's Salons now offer 20-minute Shiatsu massages in all their styling salons. A scalp massage is $5, a scalp and neck massage is $15, and the works, everything from the shoulders up, is $25.

According to the history of Shiatsu, the body's energy, "Ki," flows in central meridians through the body. This flow can be blocked at the nerve points, "Tsubo." By massaging correctly at these points, energy flows again to promote overall well being.

Additionally, two other special treatments are available with a massage; a light conditioning treatment and a intensive heat treatment.

Here's a rundown of opening week festivities: Visit with Angela Beasley's adult-size Puppet People and Puppet Monsters 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. throughout the week. There will also be weeklong Teddy Bear Teas at 4 p.m. in the Children's Department.

On Aug. 1-5, attend a Fashion Impressions Show at 1 p.m. in the Parisian Room. Also on Aug. 1 and 2, meet accessories designer John Michael Richardson 10-5 p.m.

On Aug. 5, meet jewelry designer Ian Pennell from 10 a. m. to 9 p.m. Parisian Woman wardrobe expert Denise Burros offers fashion tips and informal modeling from noon to 4 p.m.

On Aug. 6, attend a XMI Neckwear Trunk Show from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Meet children's clothing designer Judy Lynn Barranco from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and attend a Sassy Magazine Fashion Show for Juniors at 1 p.m.

Parisian's construction paved the way for an 30,000-square-foot addition to Laurel Park Place and eight other new stores are in various stages of development: Ritz Camera, M-Den, J. Murphy Shoes, Travel 2000, Easy Spirit Shoes, Limited Too, The Disney Store and Northern Reflections.

To celebrate the changes, Laurel Park Place is also holding special promotions and events for shoppers.

Aug. 1-14 customers can enter to win a trip for two to London, England, including accommodations at the Vanderbilt Hotel. On Aug. 1, shoppers spending $150 receive a $15 Parisian gift certificate. On Saturday, Aug. 6, the Bob Durant Jazz Quartet performs from noon to 1:30 p.m. in center court during an informal fashion show of clothing from the center's boutiques.

For more information about Parisian, contact the Laurel Park Place store at (313) 953-7500.

Next to the regal-looking purple and gold stage, mall officials were happily handing out Giggle Gang buttons and certificates for complimentary lunches to all children interested in becoming members of the center's new Giggle Gang.

Giggle Gang members will be notified of special events and sales throughout the year. Officials hope they discover that Oakland Mall is a fun place to be.

"All our guests get cards and buttons," said Shelley Darmetko, marketing director at Oakland Mall. "After the show they can get an autographed picture of Snow White to take home."

Diane Johnston and her daughter Kaitlin, 5, of Troy, planned to lunch and shop after the show.

"It's a real cute idea," Johnston said. "I heard about it from my boss who read about it in her Birmingham Eccentric."

Two more Giggle Gang shows are scheduled. Rumplestiltskin on Wednesday, July 27, and The Emperor's New Clothes, Wednesday, Aug. 3. Performance times are 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Henry K. Martin of Birmingham and his theater troop, The Children's Entertainment Company, perform the fairy tales with some modern twists.

When we first meet the dwarf, he is not hi-hoeing it off to work, he's singing "Working 9 to 5, what a way to make a living. . . ."

Next he holds a pow-wow with his six audience-selected dwarfs to see if a "girl" can join the ranks. There is a moral to this fairy tale: When you're home alone, never open the door to a stranger. The audience sees what can happen when Snow White lets in the beggar woman with a poison apple.

Following a kiss from Prince Tom, also chosen from the audience, the impending royal wedding has the dwarfs running off to Oakland Mall to shop for new clothes.

Students from the Happy Time Day Care Center in Berkley munched on p.b. and j sandwiches after the show, turning rest benches in center court into their lunchroom.

"They are all behaving so well," their teacher beamed with pride. "We may come back next week."

Music fest provides fun for families

If you'd like to treat your palate and your ears to a festival of foods and music, mark your calendar for the Fourth Annual Plymouth Music Celebration.

A host of the area's finest musicians and chefs will offer delights for listening and eating pleasure July 29-31 in downtown Plymouth at Kellogg Park and the adjacent Gathering.

Festivities begin at 5 p.m. Friday, with the "Taste of Plymouth" in the Gathering featuring tastes from some of the community's finest restaurants. Participating eateries and businesses include Absopure Water, Applebee's, Bennigan's, Bettermade Potato Chips, Daly's Drive In, Ernesto's, Mr. B's of Plymouth, Olive Garden, Outback Steakhouse, Plymouth Coffee Bean Company, Side Street Pub, Porterhouse Meats, Silverman's, Main Street Catering, Station 885, Take Out Taxi, and T.C. Gator's.

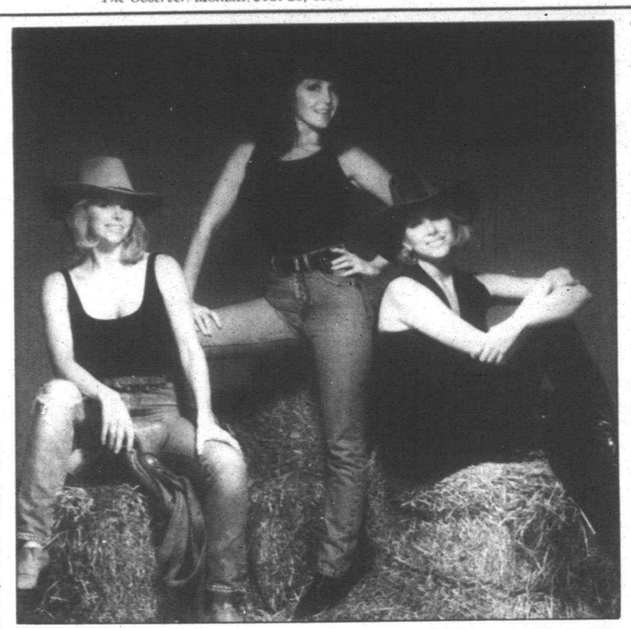

Tickets are $7 for adults, good for seven tastes, while children receive four "tastes" for $4. Additional samples will be sold for $1.

Accompanying the "Taste of Plymouth" will be the free "Blues in the Park" concert at Kellogg Park featuring the Chisel Brothers with Thornetta Davis, the Motor City Blues Project, Jeff Grand and the Grand Masters, and Robert Penn.

"Family Fun Day" is set for Saturday. Activities starting at noon will appeal to the younger set. On tap are futuristic video games, "Jeri's Jamboree," "Oral Magic" storytelling, the "Carousel Petting Zoo," "Bicycle Safety" and children's fitness and aerobic demonstrations.

Starting at 3 p.m. Saturday, festival goers may try their luck at the Plymouth Community Family YMCA Millionaires' Party at the Gathering. Games will include blackjack, roulette and big six wheels. Chips will be sold for $1, and there'll be a personal limit of $500 in winnings. Proceeds will benefit the YMCA.

Joe's Girls: Entertaining at the Plymouth Music Celebration Sunday will be Joe's Girls, as well as the Wild Sheep Riders, Johnny Powers, Gunslinger and Bustin' Loose. Country Class Dancers will perform and teach throughout the day.

Music for the evening, starting at 5 p.m., will feature reggae artists Black Market, and rhythm and blues artists James Wailin and Zoom.

From 1-9 p.m. Sunday, the Plymouth Music Celebration presents the Young Country (WYCD-FM) Plymouth Country Music Festival.

Local country artists including the Wild Sheep Riders — featuring the Observer's Kevin Brown, Joe's Girls, Johnny Powers, Gunslinger and Bustin' Loose will headline the stage. Country Class Dancers will perform and give dance lessons throughout the day.

In addition to entertainment, a variety of food and drinks is on tap.

Sponsoring the event are Blackwell Ford, Don Massey Cadillac, Johnson Controls, Labatts Blue, Morse Dental Group, the Plymouth Observer, the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, Select Care, Toyota and WYCD Young Country.

Sunday's activities also will feature a 50-50 bingo at the Plymouth Community Family YMCA.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
ORDINANCE NO. C-94-02
CHAPTER 21
ELECTRICAL CODE

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH CODE BY AMENDING CHAPTER 21, ELECTRICAL CODE; PROVIDING FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE OF 1993, AS ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL FIRE PROTECTION ASSOCIATION ON MAY 21, 1992, BY REFERENCE, AS THE ELECTRICAL CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP; PROVIDING FOR PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF THE ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR SAVINGS CLAUSE; PROVIDING FOR EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

SECTION 1.
Chapter 21, the Charter Township of Plymouth Electrical Code, is hereby amended to read as follows:

21.010 Adoption of Code. The National Electrical Code of 1993, as adopted by the National Fire Protection Association on May 21, 1992, is adopted by reference as the Electrical Code of the Township.

SECTION 2. VIOLATION AND PENALTY.
Any person, corporation, partnership or any other legal entity who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance or any of the regulations adopted in pursuance thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned not more than ninety (90) days, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

SECTION 3. SEVERABILITY.
If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalid the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been included in this Ordinance.

SECTION 4. REPEAL OF CONFLICTING ORDINANCES.
All Ordinance or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION 5. SAVINGS CLAUSE.
All rights and duties which have matured, penalties which have been incurred, proceedings which have begun and prosecution for violations of law occurring before the effective date of this Ordinance are not affected or abated by this Ordinance.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.
This Ordinance shall become effective upon its publication.

Cruisers and car lovers find their way into local eatery

BY JILL HALPIN
STAFF WRITER

Mike Pruzinsky of Plymouth was looking for something to get his business going when he hit on a great idea. Why not stage a 1950s-60s style "cruise-in" complete with classic automobiles?

After all, A.J.'s Restaurant, the Plymouth Road eatery that he manages for his parents, Jerry and Ann Marie, is built around the era. A large Wurlitzer jukebox, decor featuring Elvis Presley and Marilyn Monroe, and record-shaped menus are only part of the ambience.

"It took me a while to organize it, but I called the oldies station, WHND (Honey Radio), sales department and we set it up," said Pruzinsky, who has been involved with the restaurant since it was built in 1989.

After four months of planning, the first "Classic Cruise In" was held in early June. Judging by the 250 autos that converged on the restaurant parking lot, it was a success. So much so, in fact, that Pruzinsky held a second cruise-in, setting a record with 300 automobiles. Inspired, he decided to make it a weekly event. From now until the end of the summer, A.J.'s will be a scene right out of the television series "Happy Days." Classic-auto fans are invited to bring their cars to show or just come up and check out other cars from 5 to 9 p.m.

"This has really taken off. I expected it to be successful, but this is really amazing," he said, still reeling from the over 300 cars that jammed the lot July 13. As a show of public appreciation, Pruzinsky offers free hot dogs and other treats.

Mark Horvath of Canton is one of the classic auto enthusiasts who recently showed up for the cruise-in with his coral-colored 1947 Ford Coupe. For Horvath, the cruise-in was a family affair: His wife, Karen, and son, Justin, 12, joined him in checking out the old-time hot rods.

"This is a great chance to get out and meet some people with the same interests. That's why we're all here. You get to meet new people and talk about the cars," said Horvath.

Justin agreed. "The cars are pretty cool." When asked which one was his favorite, Justin said, "The Mustang Cobras — and my dad's."

Meanwhile, Pruzinsky, a 1989 Plymouth Salem High School graduate, is still feeling pleased with the success of his first marketing attempt, and is loving every minute of running the bar and grill.

"I'm having a ball. Last week it was free hot dogs and pizza. Next week — who knows?"

Head Start offered

The Head Start program, offered by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools in conjunction with a grant from the federal government, is accepting applications for the 1994-1995 school year.

A child is eligible for the free program if the child lives in the Plymouth-Canton Community school district and will be 3 or 4 years old by Dec. 1.

Additional eligibility qualifications include income (an annual income of $14,800 or less for a family of four or public assistance), foster child status or a handicap.

The Head Start program is at Central Middle School, 650 Church St. in Plymouth. The program uses the High-Scope curriculum. Breakfast and lunch are served to children each day. Bus transportation is available for Head Start students on established bus routes.

Three-year-old children will be part of a Home Visit Program. Visits are made to the home one day a week by a staff member. During these home visits, the home visitor works with parents and children to plan activities the family can practice at home.

For more information on the program or registration, call 416-6190.

Madonna University offers program

The daily operations of private practice and quality health care service often place increased demands upon physicians and dentists to know more than just how to diagnose and treat patients. "Medical professionals need to understand, control and manage their practice," said Charles Stahl, accounting and finance chairman and professor, Madonna University School of Business.

This specific business knowledge can be acquired through Madonna University's Medical and Dental Practice Executive Fellows Program, which will begin in September.

The only one of its kind in the United States to focus exclusively on private practice leadership, the program is conducted over a 20-month period. Participants will earn 30 semester hours in credits and upon completion will receive a master of science in business administration (MSBA) degree.

"Our first class to graduate from this program this past May consisted of 22 medical professionals," Stahl said. "This was a 100 percent retention and graduation rate. Based on the comments we received from assessment questionnaires, the participants were especially pleased with the applicability of the course content to their office practice."

Dr. Babu Paidipaty, director of Special Care Units and Respiratory Therapy at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia and a graduate of the first Executive Fellows Program, said that the course is an excellent one for any physician or dentist and better prepares them for changing health care in America.

"This is a comprehensive course on practice management. Medical schools, dental schools and residency programs do not touch on anything about management skills, leadership training, interpersonal relationships and patient satisfaction," said Paidipaty.

With a focus on the entrepreneurial aspect of private practice, seminars cover a wide range of business-related areas including economics and U.S. health care policies, computer applications, accounting and taxation, the legal and risk aspects of business, and the ethics of managing the practice.

To learn more about Madonna University's Medical and Dental Practice Executive Fellows Program, contact the School of Business, (313) 591-5117.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
ORDINANCE NO. C-94-04
MECHANICAL CODE*

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH CODE BY AMENDING CHAPTER 25 TO PROVIDE FOR THE ADOPTION, BY REFERENCE OF THE BOCA NATIONAL MECHANICAL CODE, 8TH EDITION, 1993, AS PUBLISHED BY THE BUILDING OFFICIALS AND CODE ADMINISTRATORS INTERNATIONAL, INC., AS THE MECHANICAL CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP; TO PROVIDE FOR STANDARDS GOVERNING THE DESIGN, INSTALLATION AND CONSTRUCTION OF MECHANICAL SYSTEMS.; PROVIDING REASONABLE SAFEGUARDS TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY AGAINST THE HAZARDS OF INADEQUATE, DEFECTIVE OR UNSAFE MECHANICAL SYSTEMS AND INSTALLATIONS; PROVIDING FOR PRINTED COPIES OF THE BOCA NATIONAL MECHANICAL CODE TO BE AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION BY THE PUBLIC AT THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT DURING REGULAR BUSINESS HOURS; PROVIDING FOR PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF THE ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY; PROVIDING FOR SAVINGS CLAUSE; AND PROVIDING FOR EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

SECTION 1.
Chapter 25, the Charter Township of Plymouth Mechanical Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

25.010 The BOCA National Mechanical Code, 8th Edition, 1993, as published by the Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc., is adopted by reference as the Mechanical Code of the Township (with the additions, insertions, deletions and changes, if any as prescribed in Section 25.020 of this Ordinance) governing the design, installation and construction of mechanical systems, providing reasonable safeguards to protect the public health and safety against the hazards of inadequate, defective or unsafe mechanical systems and installations. Printed copies of the BOCA National Mechanical Code are available for inspection by the public at the Building Department during regular business hours.

*State Law Reference: MCLA 42.23

25.020 Changes in Code. The following sections and subsections of the BOCA National Mechanical Code are hereby amended as set forth. Subsequent section numbers used in this Chapter shall refer to the like numbered sections of the Mechanical Code.

M-101.1 Section amended to add:
Charter Township of Plymouth for name of jurisdiction.

M-113.2 Section amended to read:

M-113.2 Periodic Inspections. The fees for all periodic inspections shall be as set by the resolution of the Township Board.

M-113.3 Section amended to read:

M-113.3 Fee Schedule. The fees for all mechanical work shall be established by resolution of the Township Board. All fees shall be paid at the time of application to the Township Treasurer or in such other manner as the Township Supervisor shall direct.

M-116.4 Section amended to read:

M-116.4 Penalties. Any person who shall violate a provision of this Code or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements hereof or who shall install mechanical work in violation of an approved plan or direction of the Code Official or of the permit or certificate issued under the provisions of this Code shall be penalized as prescribed in Chapter 1 of the Township Code.

M-117.2 Section amended to read:

M-117.2 Unlawful Continuance. Any person who shall continue any work in or about the structure after having been served with a stop work order, except such work as that person is directed to perform to remove a violation or unsafe condition, may be liable for penalties as prescribed in Chapter 1 of the Township Code.

SECTION 2. VIOLATION AND PENALTIES.
Any person, corporation, partnership or any other legal entity who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance or any of the regulations adopted pursuant thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished as provided for in Chapter 1 of the Code.

SECTION 3. REPEAL.
All other Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. SEVERABILITY.
If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court on competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalid the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been include in this Ordinance.

SECTION 5. SAVINGS CLAUSE.
The repeal provided herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any ending fee, assessment, litigation or prosecution of any right established, occurring prior to the effective date hereof.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.
This Ordinance is to be given immediate effect upon publication as required by law.

CERTIFICATION
The foregoing Ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Plymouth at a meeting of the Board duly called and held on the 19th day of July, 1994 to be effective upon publication as provided by law.

Judge declares candidacy for state Supreme Court

Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge Donald Shelton has announced his candidacy for the Michigan Supreme Court.

Shelton, 50, is currently serving his fifth year on the Washtenaw Circuit Court bench. He is perhaps best known for his ruling a few years ago that General Motors had a legal obligation to keep its Willow Run plant open and provide jobs in exchange for the tax breaks it received from the township.

In a press release, Shelton said the Supreme Court is out of touch with ordinary people. "We need justices who have the courage to stand up to large corporations and powerful special interest groups in favor of the rights of the people."

As a visiting judge on the Michigan Court of Appeals, Shelton was the only dissenter in the Dr. Jack Kevorkian case in which he concluded that terminally ill people have a constitutional right to physician-assisted suicide.

Shelton is a former Eastern Michigan University regent, former Saline mayor and has served on the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

He received his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and his law degree from the University of Michigan.

Hospital, Epilepsy Center combine for new treatment

The Epilepsy Center of Michigan and Henry Ford Health System have launched a new epilepsy treatment program to provide high quality, comprehensive care for people with epilepsy.

Under the program, medical issues will be handled by Henry Ford Health System and its team of neurologists and other health care people.

The Epilepsy Center will provide nursing assistance and handle psychological and social concerns with its team of psychologists and social workers.

Patients can receive treatment at two locations: Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit and the Epilepsy Center in Southfield.

"Both groups have an interest in developing a full-service epilepsy program for patients and their families," said Henry Ford neurologist Gregory Barkley in a press release. "This is definitely a strengthening of programs already in place at both institutions."

"Together, we can better help people with epilepsy and their families increase their quality of life," said Epilepsy Center director Arlene Gorelick in a press release. "This program also will allow the center to expand its services in the areas of family support, employment and advocacy."

The epilepsy program at Henry Ford Hospital, the largest in the state, is one of approximately 150 centers worldwide to offer surgery as an alternative treatment for patients. Among its highlights are:

- The surgical program has been able to eliminate seizures in 80 percent of patients who have received surgical treatment. More than 30 patients had surgery for epilepsy at Henry Ford Hospital in the past year.
- A team of six neurologists, with two specializing in pediatric epilepsy.
- Ten ongoing research studies to evaluate new drugs as well as research the basic mechanisms of epilepsy.
- A dedicated inpatient Epilepsy Monitoring Unit that allows physicians to evaluate detailed computer-tracked and videotaped epileptic seizures in an attempt to pinpoint specific areas of the brain responsible for seizures.
- Research studies utilizing new diagnostic techniques in Magnetic Resonance Imaging and newly developed Magnetoencephalography. MEG noninvasively tracks very weak magnetic fields that are generated by electric currents inside the brain and aids in the determination of the site for epilepsy surgery.

Epilepsy affects more than 90,000 Michigan residents. It is a common neurological disorder marked by sudden, brief changes in brain function that result in seizures of various types.

Most people with epilepsy are otherwise normal and healthy. With regular use of medication, many can live completely free of seizures.

In nearly three quarters of epilepsy cases, there is no known cause. It can strike anyone.

Of cases with a specific cause, the most frequent are the result of head trauma, brain tumor, stroke, infection and maternal injury.

The Epilepsy Center of Michigan, headquartered in Southfield, was established in 1948. It is the only statewide nonprofit organization dedicated only to epilepsy, providing medical, counseling, informational and advocacy services for people with epilepsy and their families.

Look like your pet? Read on

Do you bear a striking resemblance to your favorite pet? Or vice versa?

If so, you could win some exciting prizes in the first annual Pet/Owner Look Alike Contest sponsored by the Michigan Humane Society and Pet Supplies Plus.

Contest participants should bring one photo of themselves and their companion animal to any Michigan Humane Society location or any Pet Supplies Plus store beginning Aug. 1. Contest deadline is 5 p.m. Aug. 17.

Twenty-four finalists and their pets will be invited to appear at the 1994 Animal Care Fair on Saturday, Aug. 27, at the Southfield Civic Center.

Final judging will take place at noon, center stage.

The first-place winner will receive a $500 Pet Supplies Plus gift certificate.

The second-place prize is a $250 gift certificate, third-place $125, and fourth-place $75.

More than $300 in Pet Supplies Plus certificates will be divided between all remaining finalists.

The top three winners will also be featured in the winter '94 Michigan Humane Society Newsletter.

Photos may be color or black and white. All entries must include name, address and daytime phone number.

Photos will become the property of the Michigan Humane Society and cannot be returned.

The Society offices are located at the following locations: Detroit, 7401 Chrysler Drive; Rochester Hills, 3600 Auburn Road; Westland, 37255 Marquette; and Royal Oak, Paw Pourri Gift Shop, 817 N. Main St.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Salads are refreshing on sultry summer eves

During the summer, this cook's fancy turns to salads. While hearty warm suppers are a must in the dead of winter, in July they're too much trouble. Who wants to sweat over a hot stove?

Salads are perfect. They're refreshing and quick to prepare, and with the right combination of ingredients, they're a healthy crowd-pleasing meal-in-a-dish.

For great tasting salads, choose greens that are brightly colored, crisp looking and unblemished. Store greens in a closed plastic bag in the crisper drawer of your refrigerator for up to three days unwashed. Greens will keep better unwashed, but should you wish to wash them ahead of time, roll them in paper towels to absorb moisture.

If you're in a hurry, and who isn't? here are some time-savers that work for us.

In our refrigerator there's a dish of cut vegetables including carrots, broccoli, celery and radishes. The dish is filled with water to keep the veggies crisp and cold. You can see them as soon as you open the door. The veggies are salad ready and make healthy snacks.

Good salad extenders include these items that are in just about everybody's pantry — canned water chestnuts, pineapple tidbits, olives, pickles, baby corn and tuna fish.

Lively leftovers

Every family has leftovers, and when you're considering tossing up a salad, try to take advantage of all the leftovers in your refrigerator. Cooked potatoes, a leftover grilled chicken breast, some steamed green beans and corn on the cob make for a cool addition when tossed with some bottled salad dressing spiked with a tablespoon of good mustard.

Leftover pasta, rice and beans taste better the second time around when they're tossed with Italian dressing, a fistful of fresh herbs, and chopped or steamed vegetables.

If you need something a little heartier on a rainy day, combine leftover pasta, rice, beans and vegetables with a dash of salad dressing and microwave the mixture on high for 2 to 3 minutes or until just heated through.

Grocery stores and fruit and vegetable markets are making it easier than ever for the over-heated cook to prepare cool summer salads.

You'll find salad bars that offer fixings by the pound, and packaged salads, including Caesar, shredded coleslaw, baby carrots, chopped broccoli, and even cubed, ready-to-eat fruit.

These convenience items cost more, but they're great time-savers and cheaper than eating out.

Fresh fruit and vegetable salads are always appreciated on muggy summer nights. They're easily packed into picnic baskets for nights when you want to escape the heat and dine alfresco in a cool, shady park.

Ripening fruits

Peaches, nectarines, avocados, tomatoes and mangoes are terrific in salads. Don't fret if the peaches you brought home from the store are rock hard.

Put under-ripe fruit in in a closed brown paper bag at room temperature.

Avocados, mangoes, nectarines, peaches, papayas, pears and tomatoes all give off ethylene (a natural gas) which builds up in the closed bag, and helps promote ripening.

Plastic bags are not recommended for ripening fruit mainly because they retain moisture and this encourages rotting.

If you're looking for a new idea try a fresh mango. The juicy, somewhat stringy orange flesh has a sweet, melon-like flavor with nuances of tropical tastes and aromas.

A ripe mango will be soft and fragrant and benefits from an additional day or two ripening in a brown paper bag.

When the mango is ripe, cut it in half lengthwise as close as possible to the large flat pit. Pull the fruit away from the pit, as with an avocado, and slice or cube it.

Try tossing some mango into your next fruit, chicken or turkey salad. It's a luscious addition.

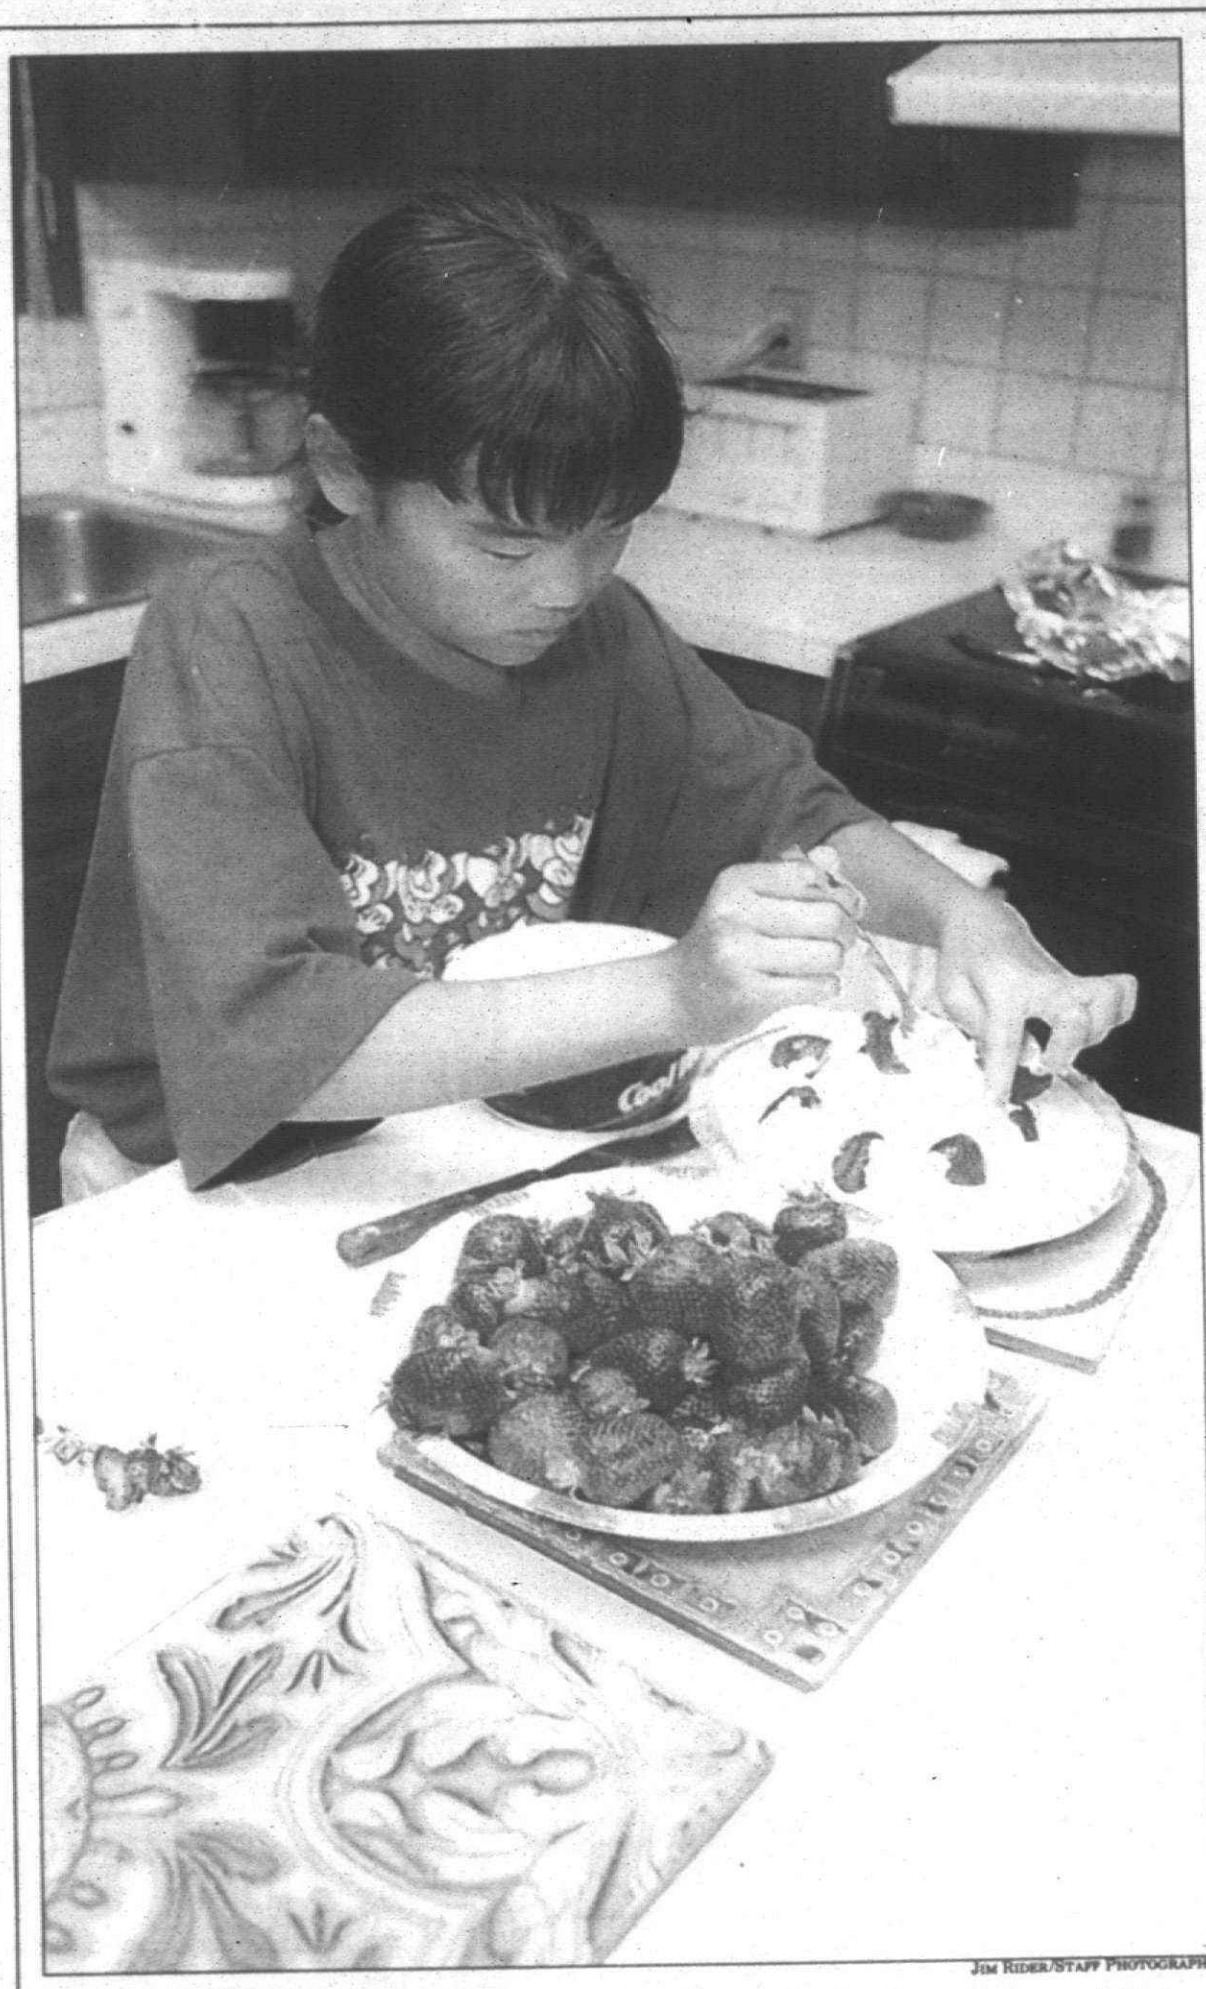

Fresh herbs and spices will also make your summer salad memorable. Sesame seeds and a splash of sesame oil will do wonders with leftover roast beef.

Play around with NO BAKE desserts

■ It's too hot to bake cookies, but there are other cool ways to introduce your kids to cooking this summer. Desserts are easy and fun.

BY GERI RINSCHLER
SPECIAL WRITER

Well it's official! Summer vacation is half over. Many kids are back from camp, they've been out of school since June, and as they say, "there's nothing to do." Now is a great time to introduce them to the kitchen.

Sixth grader Julie Faust of Troy doesn't need coaxing, she's been cooking and baking since kindergarten. "Desserts are fun to make and eat," said Faust. Over the summer she's tested a few no-bake desserts for a neighborhood picnic. To keep her endeavors hassle free, she chose to work with ready-made graham cracker pie crusts.

After reading a number of recipes in her mother's cookbooks, Faust selected three no-bake pie recipes to test — chocolate-peanut butter ice cream, citrus fruit pie and strawberry. She took a vote at the picnic, and the pie made with strawberries, gelatin and whipping cream was the favorite.

Marilyn Faust, Julie's mom, believes that making desserts with kids is a good way to introduce them to the kitchen. "Most of the recipes are failure-proof, and when they're done they have a reward that's appealing."

Substitute turkey to cut fat in stew

LAURA LETOBAR

If you need a quick meal that is easy, low in fat, and great tasting, just follow this recipe.

Dorothy Couse of Bloomfield Hills serves this stew in bowls or over rice. She shops at Kroger and Felice Family Food Center. Both stores, she believes, provide the freshest produce along with fast and friendly service.

When you're preparing any dish that calls for ground beef, I always suggest substituting Turkey Store Brand 100 percent ground turkey breast. The difference in fat quantity between ground beef and ground turkey is unbelievable. Regular ground beef has 120 grams of fat per pound! While 100 percent ground turkey breast has only 5.3 grams of fat per pound.

If you have a die-hard beef eater in your family there is still hope for drastically reducing the fat in their diet. Healthy Choice brand lean ground beef can be found in the meat or freezer section of your grocery store. This product is a wonderful alternative to ground beef. It is very lean ground beef that has only 16 grams of fat per pound. Use and season this beef the same way you would regular beef. It is exceptional in casseroles, stews and sauces.

Labels can be deceiving! When you're using ground turkey be sure it is 100 percent ground turkey breast meat. If the label only says "lean ground turkey" this is about 43 grams of fat per pound. Ground beef that is "85 percent lean" has a whopping 64 grams of fat per pound. Also, the word "lean" can be associated with a wide range of fat percentages. Eighty-five percent lean ground beef has 64 grams of fat per pound while, 73 percent

Over the years Julie and her mom have worked together in the kitchen Julie's learned the difference between a liquid measure and dry measure, and how to read a recipe.

When you're working with kids, Marilyn advises parents to "let them do the work." It may not always be as neat a project as you might like it to be, but they're learning.

"Kids at 11 years of age don't have total dexterity, so when they spill, you just say 'oh well,' and show them how to clean it up."

When it comes to working with kids in the kitchen, Marilyn Rudick of West Bloomfield is a veteran. For the past 13 years she has been teaching youngsters ages 5 to 10 as part of the Super-Summer program offered by Birmingham Schools Community Education.

"In this program we need to keep kids busy all the time," said Rudick who works with about 80 students a day. Because of time restrictions, she needs to find cooking projects which do not require baking, yet allow students to participate in the project from beginning to end.

One of her most popular cooking projects is a marshmallow cat.

There really isn't a recipe to follow, because it's so simple to make.

In a small saucepan melt a cup of semi-sweet chocolate chips. Take two large marshmallows and attach them together with a toothpick in the center to make the cat's body.

Dip the marshmallows in the melted chocolate and set on a plate in the freezer for 5 to 10 minutes to set. To make the tail, use pieces of skinny licorice about 2 inches long and poke them in the back of one of the marshmallows. Then dip the ends of two candy corn pieces to the melted chocolate and add to the top marshmallow for ears. A few more pieces of licorice are used to make whiskers, and some small candy bits or icing for eyes.

"You don't always need to work with a recipe which cooks from scratch," said Rudick. "I will often use ready-made items such as frozen puff pastry and pudding to make Napoleons."

Rudick never overlooks the opportunity to use cooking as a learning tool, and has kids count the layers of frozen pastry when they go into the oven and come out.

She believes the key to cooking with kids is to keep it simple. Don't ignore a project such as dipping a plain waffle cone into melted chocolate and then rolling the cone into colored sprinkles. Rudick chooses sprinkles over nuts because some children are allegic to nuts.

The Gibson School in Redford is twice blessed. They not only offer cooking in their summer program, Kids in the Kitchen, but their class is taught by artist Paula Zaks who likes to combine the two subjects in her classroom.

In addition to teaching cooking, Zak loves to blend a recipe lesson with an art project or give the historical background of recipe to her students who range in age from 4 to 6.

"It's important for a teacher to be motivated," she said. "If the teacher or parent isn't motivated about the recipe or food lesson, then the students won't be either. Kids can do anything, but they need assistance."

When working with children ages 4 to 6, Zaks, like Rudick keeps things simple. She likes to improvise standard cooking projects such as Fruit Loop necklaces. Zaks' will string dried fruits including raisins, apples and apricots on a piece of dental floss to make a necklace.

Zak suggests investing in a good children's cookbook. When selecting books for young cooks, look for ones printed in large type.

After a few summer experiments, cooking will be a postive and fun experience for your child. As you experiment with recipes, you might want to copy them for future reference.

Julie's Strawberry Pie

1 (9-inch) ready made graham cracker crust
½ cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup water
1 (10 ounce) package frozen strawberries
Juice of ½ lemon
½ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped or Cool Whip

In a saucepan stir sugar together with gelatin. Stir in water. Cook over low heat, stirring until it reaches just below boiling Remove from heat. Add unthawed strawberries, lemon juice, almond extract.

Stir, breaking up berries with a fork until fruit thaws and mixture thickens. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into pie crust. Refrigerate 4 hours until set.

Garnish with dollops of whipped cream or Cool Whip and fresh strawberries.

Recipe submitted by Julie Faust

Cool Ice Cream Crackle

½ cup peanut butter
½ cup corn syrup
2½ cups Special K or crispy rice cereal
1 quart ice cream (any flavor, choclate is delicious!)

In saucepan heat peanut butter and corn syrup on low heat just until blended. Add cereal and mix thoroughly. Put into a 9-inch pie plate, firmly pressing cereal to bottom and sides of plate.

Freeze for 20 minutes. Add ice cream which has been softened enough to gently swirl. Cover with plastic wrap and return to freezer. Remove 10 minutes before serving.

"Snacks 'N' Celebrations," recipes and activities by Oregon Elementary Teachers.

Chocolate Banana Shake

1 cup milk
½ ripe banana
2 tablespoons sweetened cocoa
3 ice cubes

Combine all ingredients in the blender. Cover tightly, and blend until smooth ("until the very loud crunching noise stops").

Pour into tall glass and drink! Makes 1 generous serving.

Recipe from "Pretend Soup and Other Real Recipes. A Cookbook for Preschools and Up," Mollie Katzen and Ann Henderson, (Tricycle Press, 1994, $14.95)

Tropical Fruit Sherbet

1 (3 ounce) package strawberry gelatin
½ cup boiling water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 (20 ounce can) pineapple chunks in juice, undrained
1 ripe banana
1 (10 ounce) package frozen, sweetened strawberries in quick-thaw pouch

Combine gelatin and boiling water in glass measuring cup. Stir with mixing spoon until gelatin is dissolved.

Pour into electric blender. Add lemon juice and pineapple chunks with their juice. Peel banana and cut into chunks with a table knife. Add to blender.

Put lid on blender. Turn on high speed. Blend ingredients until they are liquefied, about 45 seconds. Turn off blender.

Remove container from base of blender. Remove lid from blender and pour mixture into 11 by 7-inch baking pan or individual plastic containers (may be an ice cube tray) with wood, paper, or plastic dessert sticks.

Place pan directly on shelf in freezer. Freeze uncovered for 2 to 3 hours, or until mixture is firm.

Defrost strawberries in pouch according to package instructions (this usually takes about 15 to 20 minutes in warm water.)

Remove sherbet from freezer 15 minutes before serving to soften slightly. Scoop or spoon sherbet into 4 dessert dishes. Top each serving with ¼ cup strawberries in juice. Serve immediately.

Chef Larry helps you enjoy summer salad days

See Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

Cinnamon Cream Chicken Fruit Salad

Dressing:
½ cup light sour cream
¼ cup apple juice
1 tablespoon sugar or honey
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
Salad:
6 ounces (2½ cups) uncooked spiral pasta or shells
2½ cups cubed cooked chicken
1 cup sliced strawberries
2 plums, sliced (about 1 cup)
½ cup seedless red grapes
½ cup seedless green grapes
1 small red onion, sliced thin
6 large lettuce leaves

To make the dressing, in a large bowl, combine all dressing ingredients and mix well. Cover and refrigerate while making the salad.

To make the salad, cook pasta to desired doneness as directed on the package. Drain, rinse under cold water. In a large bowl, combine all the salad ingredients except lettuce leaves. Toss gently to mix. Pour dressing over the salad; toss to coat. Place lettuce leaves on six individual salad plates. Spoon 1½ cups salad onto each plate. Makes 6 servings. Each serving has 330 calories.

Warm Thai Beef Salad

¾ pound lean top sirloin steak (about 1-inch thick)
½ teaspoon fresh ground black pepper
4 cups torn romaine lettuce
4 cups torn savoy cabbage
1 medium red bell pepper, cut into strips
1 small cucumber, seeded and cut into strips
1 cup fresh sugar snap peas
Dressing:
1 tablespoon oil
¼ cup sliced green onions
2 teaspoons sesame seeds
½ cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons hoisin sauce
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon crushed hot red pepper flakes

Heat a grill and cook top sirloin to desired doneness. Slice into strips and keep warm.

Meanwhile, in a large salad bowl, combine remaining salad ingredients. Toss to mix.

To prepare dressing, heat oil in a medium skillet over medium heat. Add onions and sesame seed; cook 2 minutes. Add remaining dressing ingredients. Pour warm dressing over the salad mixture. Add beef and toss to coat. Best if served warm, but it's also tasty served chilled. Serves 8. Each 1¼ cup serving has 110 calories.

Minted Couscous Vegetable Salad

Salad:
1 cup uncooked couscous
2 cups frozen baby peas, thawed and drained
1½ cups diced fresh tomatoes
½ cup diced red onion
½ cup diced celery
Dressing:
2 tablespoons fresh chopped mint leaves
3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons olive oil
Dash salt and pepper

Cook couscous as directed on package. Cool. In a large bowl, combine all salad ingredients. Toss to mix well. Cover and refrigerate while preparing the dressing.

In a jar with a tight fitting lid, combine all dressing ingredients; shake well. Pour over salad and toss to coat.

If desired, line the bowl with salad greens and garnish with fresh mint leaves, if desired. Makes 11 (½ cup) servings. Each serving is 110 calories.

Make Over

lean ground beef has 90 grams of fat per pound.

Dorothy Couse suggests using beans as a substitute for meat. The beans also supply additional protein to the dish. If it's too hot to cook, toss up a pasta salad and add beans to turns this side dish into a main course.

Other low-fat alternatives to high fat foods include rice, yams, raisins and dried fruit morsels. One quick word of advice regarding salad bars. Most of us think of cottage cheese as being low-fat, but the cottage cheese offered at salad bars is usually the "regular" kind. There is approximately 5 grams of fat per ½ cup.

So, remember to read your labels carefully to make wise choices.

Update: You can pick berries and veggies

KEELY WYGONIK

It's near the end of the raspberry season. Fall berries will be ready for picking the first week of September.

I've received quite a few calls from readers inquiring about peaches. I'm sad to report the news is not good. Farmers throughout Macomb and Oakland counties told me that this year's crop was devastated by frost.

Westview Orchards south of Romeo lost their peach crop, but they will have apples, pears and other vegetables in August. It was the same story at Southview Orchards in Romeo: no peaches.

Peaches will be available in small quantities at Blake's Big Apple Orchard in Armada and Ashton Orchards in Ortonville beginning in August. I'll keep you posted.

Here's a u-pick update. They're still picking raspberries at Driver's U-pick Berry Farm in South Lyon. For more information about Driver's call (810) 437-8461 437-1606.

Creamy pasta's easy

Everyone is talking about low-fat cooking. But, oh, yuck, the texture, the taste! Delicious recipes can be low in fat with some tricks in cooking with low-fat products. The makers of Pet Evaporated Skimmed Milk, have developed just the tips needed to enjoy familiar, favorite foods while reducing the fat.

■ Use evaporated skimmed milk for low-calorie and low-fat cooking.

■ Do not dilute evaporated skimmed milk when using in recipes. Use it straight from the can.

■ Recipes that work well include creamed soups, white pasta sauces, breakfast drinks, ice milks, ice creams, gravies, salad dressings, candies, puddings and pie fillings.

■ Add to coffee, scrambled eggs and pancakes for a richer flavor without adding fat.

■ An unused portion can be transferred to a covered container and stored in the refrigerator for 5 to 7 days. It also can be frozen and used later.

A new recipe booklet from the Home Economists at Pet Incorporated has been created to mark the new name for Pet Evaporated Skimmed Milk, first introduced 25 years ago as "Pet 99" and most recently known as Pet Light Evaporated Skimmed Milk. The booklet, "Quick & Creamy Dairy Goodness," which includes main dishes, side dishes and desserts, is available free to consumers.

To send for Pet's "Quick & Creamy Dairy Goodness" recipes, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and mail to: Quick & Creamy Dairy Goodness Recipes, Pet Incorporated, P.O. Box 66718, St. Louis, MO 63166-6718.

This quick and creamy pasta can be prepared in less than 20 minutes.

Quick And Creamy Pasta Primavera

2 tablespoons margarine
1 bag (16 ounces) frozen stir-fry vegetables (any combination), thawed
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 can (12 fluid ounces) Pet Evaporated Skimmed Milk
½ teaspoon minced garlic
½ teaspoon salt
8 ounces (3 cups) dry rotini pasta, prepared according to package directions
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

In 3-quart saucepan, melt margarine over high heat. Add vegetables; cook until heated through.

Stir in flour until well blended. Add evaporated milk, garlic and salt. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add pasta and Parmesan cheese to vegetables and sauce; toss to coat well. Makes 6 servings.

Tips for healthy barbecuing

Nothing epitomizes summer more for Americans than firing up the grill for a backyard barbecue. Unfortunately, the traditional steaks, hamburgers and hot dogs that people grill are not the healthiest choices due to high fat and calorie contents.

To make barbecuing a healthier alternative, registered dietitian Fay Fitzgerald, coordinator of Henry Ford Hospital's Heart Smart program, offers these grilling guidelines.

"Grilling can be a very healthy and tasty way to cook, if you choose the right foods and preparation methods," said Fitzgerald. "You need to be careful because the way you grill can increase health risks such as cancer."

■ Choose lean cuts of meat, which are lower in fat and calories. Marinating the meat before cooking will make it more tender.

■ Reduce the amount of fat dripping onto the hot coals by trimming all fat and removing skin. The burning fat and resulting smoke produce potentially harmful substances.

■ Minimize the meat's exposure to smoke and charring flames. You can do this by choosing thin cuts that cook quickly or by precooking meat in the oven or microwave.

■ Use foil to protect the food during most of the cooking time.

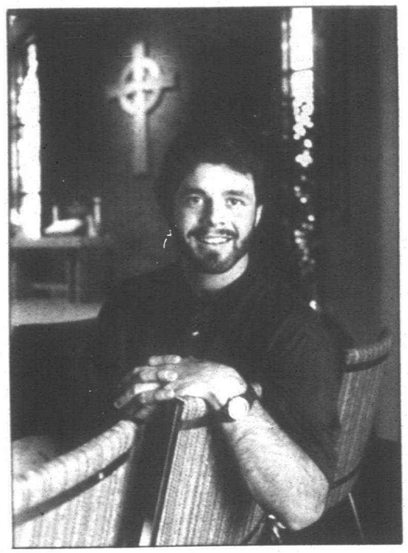

■ Clean the grill rack of charred meat and fats after each use.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION
Health enthusiasts may be interested in the fact that the first vitamin was not isolated in a scientific laboratory until 1911. The vitamin involved was thiamin, a B vitamin. Prior to that time, people simply noticed that some foods possessed qualities that enabled them to prevent disease. Such was the case when it was discovered that eating limes or lemons helped British sailors ward off scurvy while at sea. Today, not only are scientists able to identify 13 vitamins, but they are producing scientific evidence of their specific effects in disease prevention. This leaves consumers with more than a general feeling that vitamin supplementation is doing them good. It imbues them with a sense of control over their own health by preventing life-threatening disease.
When it comes to vitamins, minerals, and supplements, you won't find an assortment any larger or better priced than our stock at the GOOD FOOD CO. As Michigan's largest discount natural food supermarket, we carry a bounty of organic fruits and vegetables, chicken and beef without hormones, whole grains, cereals and much, much more. Divine inspiration

Seminary intern hopes to make his year one of learning

Learning the ropes: David Willerup is the new seminary intern at Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton.

When David Willerup starts work as a minister, he'll have some pretty good experience to draw on.

Willerup, 25, is a second-year student at New Brunswick Theological Seminary in New Jersey. He'll be spending the next year at Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton as a seminary intern.

"It's something I elected to do," said Willerup, who's originally from Wappingers Falls, N.Y.

Students working on their master of divinity degree have the opportunity to work at a church while in school. That mandatory program's a good one, Willerup said, but it wasn't meeting his needs in the same way an internship can.

"I want to develop my pastoral identity. I want to see what I'm good at and what I need work at. I hope to grow in my understanding of how the Holy Spirit works in God's people."

He's been in school since kindergarten, and wanted to experience full-time ministry. He started at Geneva on June 20, beginning with a Habitat for Humanity mission trip taken by senior high students to Apollo, Pa., near Pittsburgh. "I thought that was a lot of fun. The trip itself was really very good." The trip, which included housing rehabilitation work, gave Willerup a chance to get to know the students. Students had a chance to see him somewhere other than the church.

"I've always been on the East Coast, and I wanted to go somewhere else," he said of his decision to come to Michigan. He wanted to live among those in his ministry as well.

"Primarily, I'll be working with the senior high youth group." He'll have adult education responsibilities as well, along with doing some preaching and visitation.

Willerup's been getting help from the Rev. Bryan Smith, Geneva pastor, and from Eric Oliver, the outgoing seminary intern who's been helping Willerup get acclimated to the community. "He's leaving me a strong legacy and a good foundation," Willerup said of Oliver.

Willerup, who is single, earned a bachelor of arts degree in English education from Grove City College in Pennsylvania. His older sister, who has a 1½-month-old daughter, also studied at Grove City College, and his younger sister is a student there.

■ He has a year and a half to go in school before he earns his master of divinity degree. Willerup's committed to being ordained in the Reformed Church in America. He was raised in the United Methodist Church, and has been in the Reformed Church in America for about four years. The Presbyterian Church is quite similar, he said.

The Presbyterian Church is quite similar, he said. He appreciates the warm welcome he's received at Geneva.

"It's been wonderful, it really has. The people are very friendly.

"I am looking forward to a good year" full of challenges. "But it will be a good one. I have faith that the Lord brought me here."

ORDINANCE NO. C-94-01
CHAPTER 20
BUILDING CODE

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH CODE BY AMENDING CHAPTER 20, BUILDING CODE, PROVIDING FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE BOCA NATIONAL BUILDING CODE, TWELFTH EDITION, 1993, AS PUBLISHED BY THE BUILDING OFFICIALS AND CODE ADMINISTRATORS INTERNATIONAL, INC.; TO PROVIDE FOR THE TOWNSHIP GOVERNING THE DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, ALTERATION, REPAIR, DEMOLITION, REMOVAL, MOVING, MAINTENANCE AND USE OF ALL BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES AND TO PROVIDE FOR PRINTED COPIES OF THE BOCA NATIONAL BUILDING CODE TO BE AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION BY THE PUBLIC AT THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT DURING BUSINESS HOURS; PROVIDING FOR PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF THE ORDINANCE; PROVIDING FOR THE REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY. PROVIDING FOR SAVINGS CLAUSE AND PROVIDING FOR EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:
SECTION 1.
Chapter 20 of the Charter Township of Plymouth's Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

20.010 Adoption of Code. The BOCA National Building code, Twelfth Edition, 1993, as published by the Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc. is adopted by reference (with the additions, insertions, deletions and changes, if any, prescribed in Section 20.020, et seq, of this Ordinance) as the Building Code of the Township, governing the design, construction, alteration, repair, demolition, removal, moving, maintenance and use of all buildings and structures. Printed copies of the BOCA National Building Code are available for inspection by the public at the Building Department during business hours.

20.020. Changes in Code. The following sections and subsections of the BOCA National Building Code are hereby amended or deleted as set forth and additional sections and subsections are added as indicated hereafter. Subsequent section numbers used in this Chapter shall refer to like numbered sections of the BOCA National Building Code.101.1 Section amended to read:

101.1 Title. These regulations shall be known as the Building Code of the Charter Township of Plymouth (hereinafter referred to as "the Code").

104.1 Section amended to read:

104.1 Building Official. The Township Department of Building and Code Enforcement shall administer and enforce the Code and the administrative official in charge of the department shall be known as the Building Official.

104.2 Section amended to read:

104.2 Appointment. The Building Official shall be appointed and may be removed with or without cause and with or without notice by the Township Supervisor with approval of the Township Board.

104.3 Section amended to read:

104.3 Organization. Any inspectors or other employees of the Department of Building and Code Enforcement as shall be necessary for the administration of this Code shall be appointed and may be removed with or without cause and with or without notice by the Township Supervisor with the approval of the Township Board.

104.4 Section amended to read:

104.4 Deputy. A Deputy Building Official who shall exercise all powers of the Building Official may be appointed and may be removed with or without cause and with or without notice by the Township Supervisor with the approval of the Township Board.

104.7 Section added to read:

104.7 Reports. The Building Official and members of the staff of the Department of Building and Code Enforcement shall make such reports and engage in such work as the Township Supervisor or the Township Board may from time to time direct or request. The Building Official shall report and be responsible for the administration of the Department to the Township Board through the Township Supervisor.

105.6 Section added to read:

105.6 Upon preparation of a rule or regulation by the Building Official, the proposed rule or regulation shall be posted in the Township Hall for four weeks and shall be submitted at the next regular meeting of the Township Board occurring after said four week period at which meeting the public shall be heard concerning the proposed rule of regulation. Upon approval of the proposed rule or regulation by the Township Board, the rule shall be published in the same manner as Township Ordinances and shall take effect upon publication.

113.3.1 Section amended to read:

112.3.1 Fee Schedule. A fee for each plan, examination, building permit, bond and inspection shall be established and may be changed from time to time by resolution of the Township Board. All fees shall be paid at the time of application to the Township Treasurer or in such other manner as the Township Supervisor shall direct.

112.3.2 Section added to read:

112.3.2 Building Clean Up Bond. Upon application for any building permit, the applicant shall deposit with the application a building clean up bond, being a sum in cash in an amount to be specified by resolution of the Township Board to guarantee (a) the completion of the work called for by the application during the life of the permit and any authorized extensions; (b) the removal of all debris, rubbish and trash from the building site; and (c) install any sidewalks, street trees, ditches or culverts in accordance with requirement of the Township. The building clean up bond shall be returned to the applicant after final inspection and approval by the Building Inspector and issuance of a final certificate of occupancy.

112.3.3 Section added to read:

112.3.3 Forfeiture of Clean Up Bond. The building clean up bond shall be forfeited and deposited in the general fund of the Township when work is commenced under any building permit and the conditions of the building clean up bond as set forth in the preceding sections are not fulfilled during the life of the permit or any authorized extensions.

116.3 Section amended to read:

116.3 Prosecution of Violation. If the Notice of Violation is not complied with promptly, the Building Official, Deputy Building Official, Building Inspector or Code Enforcement Officer is authorized to issue and serve an appearance ticket for the violation.

116.4 Section amended to read:

116.4 Violation of Penalties. Any person who shall violate a provision of this Code or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements or who shall erect, construct, alter or repair a building or structure in violation of an approved plan at the directive of the Building Official or of a permit or certificate issued under the provisions of this Code shall be punished as provided in Chapter 1 of the Township Code. Any building or structure erected, used, moved, demolished, occupied or maintained in violation of this Code is hereby declared to be a nuisance per se. Each day that a violation continues shall be deemed a separate offense.

117.2 Section amended to read:

117.2 Unlawful Continuance. Any person who shall continue any work in or about the structure after having been served with a stop work order, except such work as that person is directed to perform to remove a violation or unsafe condition, shall be punished as provided in Chapter 1 of the Township Code.

3408.2 Section amended to read:

3408.2 Applicability. Structures existing prior to March 1, 1956, in which there is work involving additions, alterations or changes of occupancy, shall be made to conform to the requirements of this Section or the provisions of Sections 3403.0 through 3407.0.

The provisions in Sections 3406.2.1 through 3408.2.5 shall apply to existing occupancies that will continue to be, or are proposed to be, in Use Groups A, B, E, F, M, R and S. These provisions shall not apply to buildings with occupancies in use Group H or I.

SECTION 2. VIOLATION AND PENALTY.
Any person, corporation, partnership or any other legal entity who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance or any of the regulations adopted in pursuance thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned not more than ninety (90) days, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

Section. 3 SEVERABILITY.
If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalid the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been included in this Ordinance.

SECTION 4. REPEAL.
This Section provides that all Ordinance or parts of Ordinance in conflict herewith are hereby repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION 5. SAVINGS CLAUSE.
The repeal provided for herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any pending litigation or prosecution of any right established or occurring prior to the effective date of this Ordinance.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE
This Ordinance, as amended, shall take full force and effect upon publication as required by law.

CERTIFICATION
This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth at its regular meeting called and held on the 19th day of July, 1994 to be effective upon publication as provided by law.

CHAPTER 27
PLUMBING CODE

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH CODE BY AMENDING CHAPTER 27 TO PROVIDE FOR THE ADOPTION, BY REFERENCE OF THE BOCA NATIONAL PLUMBING CODE, 9TH EDITION, 1993, AS PUBLISHED BY THE BUILDING OFFICIALS AND CODE ADMINISTRATORS INTERNATIONAL, INC., AS THE PLUMBING CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP TO PROVIDE FOR STANDARDS GOVERNING THE DESIGN, INSTALLATION AND CONSTRUCTION OF PLUMBING SYSTEMS BY PROVIDING REASONABLE SAFEGUARDS FOR SANITATION TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC HEALTH AGAINST THE HAZARDS OF INADEQUATE, DEFECTIVE OR UNSANITARY PLUMBING INSTALLATIONS; TO PROVIDE FOR PRINTED COPIES OF THE BOCA NATIONAL PLUMBING CODE TO BE AVAILABLE FOR INSPECTION BY THE PUBLIC AT THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT DURING REGULAR BUSINESS HOURS; TO PROVIDE FOR PENALTIES; TO PROVIDE FOR REPEAL OF INCONSISTENT ORDINANCES; TO PROVIDE FOR SEVERABILITY. TO PROVIDE FOR SAVINGS CLAUSE; AND TO PROVIDE FOR EFFECTIVE DATE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:
SECTION 1.
Chapter 27, the Charter Township of Plymouth Plumbing Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

27.010. Adoption of Code. The BOCA National Plumbing Code, 9th Edition, 1993, as published by the Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc., is adopted by reference as the Plumbing Code of the Township governing the design, installation and construction of plumbing systems by providing reasonable safeguards for sanitation to protect the public health against the hazards of inadequate, defective or insanitary plumbing installations. Printed copies of the BOCA National Plumbing Code are available for inspection by the public at the Building Department during regular business hours. Additions, insertions, deletions and changes, if any, to the National Plumbing Code are prescribed in Section 27.020, et seq, of this Ordinance.

27.020. Changes in Code. The following sections and subsections of the National Plumbing Code are hereby amended as set forth below. Subsequent section numbers used in this Chapter shall refer to the like numbered sections of the BOCA National Plumbing Code.

P-101.1 Section amended to insert "Charter Township of Plymouth" for name of jurisdiction.

P-104.1 Section deleted

P-113.2 Section amended to read as follows:

P-113.2 Fee Schedule. The permit fees for all plumbing work shall be as established by resolution of the Township Board. All fees shall be paid at the time of application to the Township Treasurer or in such other manner as the Township Supervisor shall direct.

P-116.4 Section amended to read:

P-116.4 Penalties. Any person who shall violate a provision of this Code or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of the Code or who shall install plumbing work in violation of an approved plan or directive of the plumbing official or of the permit or certificate issued under the provisions of this Code shall suffer penalties as prescribed in Chapter 1 of the Township Code.

P-117.2 Section amended to read:

P-117.2 Unlawful Continuance. Any person who shall continue any plumbing work in or about the structure after having been served with a stop work order, except such work as that person is directed to perform to remove a violation or unsafe condition, may be liable for penalties as prescribed in Chapter 1 of the Township Code.

P-304.3 Section amended to read:

P-304.3 Public Systems Available. A public water supply and/or public sewer system shall be deemed available to a building when the building is located within such limits as are established by resolution of the Township Board.

P-309.4 Section amended to read:

P-309.4 Freezing. Water service piping shall be installed below record frost penetration but not less that five feet below grade. Plumbing piping in exterior building walls or areas subject to freezing temperatures shall be protected against freezing by insulation or heat or both.

P-309.5 Section amended to read:

P-309.5 Sewer Depth. Building sewers that connect to private sewage disposal systems shall be a minimum of 42 inches below finished grade at the point of septic tank connection. Building sewers shall be a minimum of 42 inches below grade.

SECTION 2. VIOLATION AND PENALTY.
Any person, corporation, partnership or any other legal entity who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance or any of the regulations adopted in pursuance thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be fined not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisoned not more than ninety (90) days, or both, in the discretion of the Court.

SECTION 3. REPEAL.
All other Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. SEVERABILITY.
If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this Ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, firm, corporation, legal entity or circumstances, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or invalid, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalid the remainder of this Ordinance. It is hereby declared to the legislative intent of this body that the Ordinance is severable, and that the Ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not have been included in this Ordinance.

SECTION 5. SAVINGS CLAUSE.
The repeal provided herein shall not abrogate or affect any offense or act committed or done, or any penalty or forfeiture incurred, or any ending fee, assessment, litigation or prosecution of any right established, occurring prior to the effective date hereof.

SECTION 6. EFFECTIVE DATE.
This Ordinance is to be given immediate effect upon publication as required by law.

STREET SOUNDS

Jammin' in Vicious Environments (J.I.V.E.)
— Shootyz Groove

Listen to this album and you'll regret missing the handful of Detroit shows Shootyz Groove did before the release of their debut full-length album "Jammin' in Vicious Environments" (Mercury Records). The 13 songs on this CD live up to the word "jammin' " in the title, that's for sure.

The Bronx-based band's meld of heavy metal guitars and House of Pain-like rapped vocals may not be anything new, but nonetheless you'll find yourself bobbing your head to the beat as soon you put the CD in the player.

You have another chance to see Shootyz Groove in Detroit. They will play The Ritz, 17580 Frazho, Roseville, on Wednesday, Aug. 3, with Monster Magnet. Call (810) 778-6404 for more information.

Wonderful
— bukimi 3

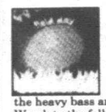

The trip through "Wonderful" by Detroit-based bukimi 3 rides like a rollercoaster. A sampled voice over heavy drum beats kicks off the CD proclaiming " . . . we're going to have a wonderful time together. Today we're going to move in rhythm to music." You might expect a hypnotic heavy dance track to follow, however, what we get is a cliche rave sample.

The rest of the release is filled with light-hearted synthesizer pop reminiscent of early Depeche Mode, Ministry and Erasure. Steve Sholtes' vocals sounds so much like Depeche Mode's Martin Gore that it's hard to see what bukimi 3 itself has to offer.

The record by bukimi 3, which also includes keyboardist Mitch Hoffmeyer, is available through Rave Records, 14750 Puritan Ave., Detroit 48227, or by calling (810) 540-RAVE.

Field Day
— various artists

This CD is exactly what the title says — a field day for fans of Cleveland-based alternative rock bands on that city's Sound of the Sea recordings.

A variety of genres are represented on the 19-song CD from the heavy bass and distorted vocals of Coltrane Wreck to the folk-inspired rock of The Waynes. Frequent Detroit visitors Jehova Waitresses kick off the release with their ethereal, horn-laden rock. Toronto's 49 Acres, an honorary Cleveland band, according to a Sound of the Sea recordings rep, also makes an appearance.

The release is available through Sound of the Sea recordings, P.O. Box 18078, Cleveland Heights, Ohio 44118.

Pain
— Oriental Spas

This 10-song release by the Novi-based Oriental Spas is a "journey through life, loss, sin and death," according to its press materials. The "pain" that is supposed to be felt here isn't convincing though. Vocalist Laura Ruby forces her quivering, raw vocals to sound pained which strips the songs of their emotions.

The opposite is true for her band's rocked-out version of Tori Amos's song "Crucify." Ruby holds back on the vocals but they get lost in the swirling guitars.

"Pain" is by no means a bad album. The funky groove of "Big Book" is one of the highlights of the release. The guitars that kick off "My God Is Dead Now" rivals anything you'd hear on rock radio.

With a little push, the Oriental Spas could find their ideal sound with the next record.

"Pain" is available through Overture Records, 23309 Beck Road, Novi. (810) 349-0115.

LIVE REVIEW

Pink Floyd at the Pontiac Silverdome

Pink Floyd once again proved that their ethereal classic rock is timeless. Packed with laser beams, endless hit songs, and one animated percussionist, Pink Floyd showed a new generation what their music is all about.

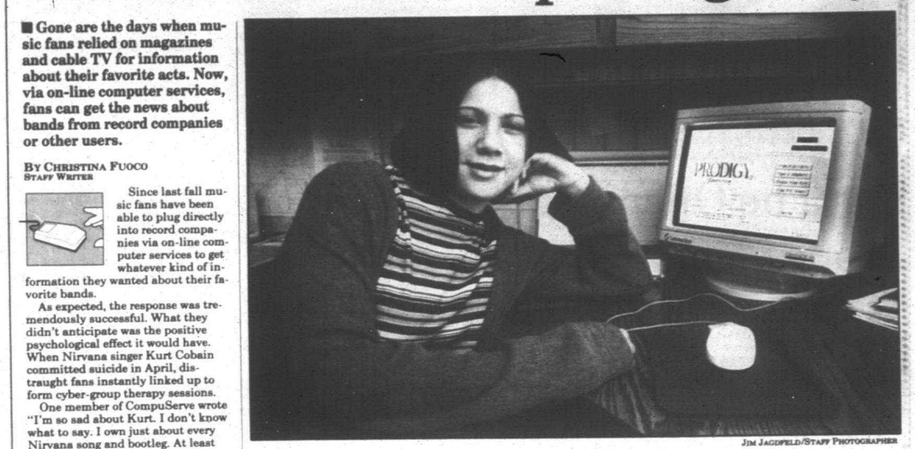

Primarily filled with "twentysomething" fans who weren't even born when the band released its first album, Pink Floyd's July 15 show at the Pontiac Silverdome was, ironically, a learning experience for fans. By performing in front of a young crowd, Pink Floyd reinforced its position as one of the chief influences of this generation's musicians.

Musics hits the 'super highway'

■ Gone are the days when music fans relied on magazines and cable TV for information about their favorite acts. Now, via on-line computer services, fans can get the news about bands from record companies or other users.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

JIM JAGDFELD/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Plugged in: For the past 1½ years, Laurie Chakel of Livonia has learned about music from interactive services like Prodigy.

Since last fall music fans have been able to plug directly into record companies via on-line computer services to get whatever kind of information they wanted about their favorite bands.

As expected, the response was tremendously successful. What they didn't anticipate was the positive psychological effect it would have. When Nirvana singer Kurt Cobain committed suicide in April, distraught fans instantly linked up to form cyber-group therapy sessions.

One member of CompuServe wrote "I'm so sad about Kurt. I don't know what to say. I own just about every Nirvana song and bootleg. At least those will always live on, but I guess, I just don't understand . . . I hope he rests in peace and his family is able to carry on. You touched my life Kurt, and I appreciate it."

Others were less compassionate: "So I guess I didn't realize the profound effect on the American record-buying public of recycled Replacement riffs, Killing Joke copies and hokey adolescent angst. Sorry."

Nonetheless, group conferences and public postings provided an outlet for teens who may have been dealing with death for the first time. Cobain's death was a tragedy, but it helped accomplish the basic goal the record companies set when initially going on-line — to get closer to the fans.

"People have used on-line services for a long time to dial up and get information for just about anything," said Robert von Goeben, one of the managers of the Geffen section on CompuServe's Music Vendor Forum. "It only seemed natural that people dial up and get information about record companies as well."

Luke Wood, director of marketing for Geffen Records, added: "One thing is that it's a truly democratic means of communication between fans and labels."

New 'addresses'

Besides Geffen, users can receive tour schedules, facts about the South by Southwest Music Conference and musicians, their releases and lyrics from RCA and Warner Bros on CompuServe.

Labels like Rounder, Astralwerks, and PolyGram records as well as MTV have addresses on the Internet. Cyberden BBS links together fans of Cleopatra Records acts, hard rock band ChemLab and those who prefer industrial, gothic, techno, ambient, noise and experimental music. Soundbites from Astralwerks groups are also available in the Cyberden.

Sometimes, members can "talk" with artists like X, Depeche Mode and Peter Gabriel who have participated in on-line interviews. On other services, they can leave electronic mail for staff members or bands. The technology makes sending fan letters to P.O. boxes look prehistoric.

"It's changed from where you were uncool if you have a computer to where you're uncool if you don't," said Wood, who has addresses on CompuServe and the Internet.

A few musicians have found it so intriguing that they answer mail on a regular basis. Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore signs on to CompuServe when he's not on tour. Toad the Wet Sprocket makes its address available to members of its fan club. Billy Idol had an Internet address but the volume of mail was so great that he was forced to cancel his account.

On the boards, users can talk about any genre of music from classical to punk rock, or about a specific band.

"You don't have to talk about music or alternative music (in general). You can talk about Sonic Youth — you can get that specific — or even an aspect of a specific band like Sonic Youth lyrics. You can't get more specific than that." von Goeben said.

More specific is what Gary Gilmore of Dearborn wants. A guitar technician for the English band Bad Company, he has tapped into the Internet super highway through O&E On-Line to communicat with crew members in Phoenix, Atlanta and England about scheduling and upcoming tours.

Others have used the service to download music titles and lyrics and album covers. One user has collected more than 300 music titles he's found on On-Line. A popular Internet site is MTV (mtv.com) by Adam Curry, an MTV video jock. It has music news and Curry's daily "Cybersleaze" celebrity report. It can be accessed through O&E On-Line.

Most record companies don't have accounts with Prodigy, but the service brings in special guests like Chris Cornell of Soundgarden, Rob Zombie of White Zombie, Neil Peart of Rush, and Nick Rhodes of Duran Duran, to answer a select number of questions sent electronically from subscribers.

Twofold benefit

It's a twofold benefit. For fans it's a dream of a lifetime to get mail from their idols. For record companies, it can be profitable, especially for up-and-coming bands like Geffen's Weezer, or RCA's Lisa Loeb and Nine Stories.

"The promotional aspects of this are considerable; it's a modern-day, electronic version of the radio call-in show or in-store record signing," said Lisa Robinson, Prodigy's Music Bulletin Board leader.

Laurie Chakel, 14, of Livonia, hasn't been lucky enough to have her questions answered from musicians, but she has learned a lot about music from other fans. Music fans from around the United States post notes about concerts they've seen, import or bootleg tapes they found, or musicians they met.

Bands like Nirvana, the Violent Femmes, They Might Be Giants, Hole and the Meat Puppets have become some of her favorite bands as a result of reading about them. Chakel said that public postings about bands from regular fans gives her a better idea of what a band is about than if she watched MTV or listened to the radio.

"With Prodigy, it's more interactive, definitely; you can type questions. With radio and TV you can call them up but it doesn't work. It's more fans talking about bands," she said.

Reaching out

Last September, PolyGram took a different angle with bulletin boards. In an effort to reach out to teenagers, Davitt Sigerson, a now former president of a division of PolyGram, created a computer bulletin board and accompanying newspaper called "Bark."

"He conceived the idea as an alternative to reach out to people who are in high school as an alternative to the usual avenues," said editor Parker Reilly who formerly worked for Cosmopolitan magazine. "If you're selling to teens which is what our company is doing, it's relevant to know a lot about them. You're supposed to know your customers so you can sell to them."

The newsletter is written and illustrated entirely by students, including contributor Christen Kinsler of Sterling Heights, and distributed to 9,000 high schools nationwide. In a recent issue, students discuss topics like the death of Cobain, music, homosexuality, African-American issues, witchcraft, fashion, fast-food restaurants and favorite hangouts.

The newspaper, which is received by about 384 Michigan high schools, sometimes picks up material written on the BBS. Most of the time, the bulletin board serves as a library containing students' works.

"It's also a place where we can make available much more writing than we can fit in eight pages," Parker said about the BBS.

In the future, Parker said, soundbites from PolyGram albums will be available.

Late last month, Geffen Records took on-line information a step further when it became the first major label to enable CompuServe members to download for free a previously unreleased track from Aerosmith called "Head First." "The rock band waived their royalties for the song and CompuServe waived connect-time charges.

"If our fans are out there driving down that information superhighway," Aerosmith's Steven Tyler said in a statement to the press, "then we want to be playing at the truck stop. This is the future — so let's get it going."

Information on limited engagements only should be submitted two weeks in advance to: Christina Fuoco, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150, or by fax at (313) 591-7279. To ensure publication, the venues' addresses and phone numbers with area codes must be included.

Inseparable: The Offspring's single "Come Out and Play (Keep 'Em Separated)" has become a big hit for the Southern California-based punk rockers.

For The Offspring: Alone is way to go

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Dexter Holland, vocalist and guitarist for the punk rock band The Offspring, is a little groggy having just woken up. For that reason, we'll have to forgive him for espewing the understatement of the year.

"Our tour's going really good; all the shows have been sold out. We're pretty big, huh?" he asked over the phone.

With its surf-rock guitar licks and hook-laden chorus, The Offspring's single "Come Out and Play (Keep 'Em Separated)" has become a huge radio and video hit for the Southern California-based band. Their album "Smash," positioned at No. 20 on the Billboard charts, is the top-selling album of all time for the independent label Epitaph Records, owned by Bad Religion guitarist Brett Gurewitz.

Once appealing predominately to punkers and skateboarders, The Offspring is now getting the attention of major record labels. The quartet has turned down all the offers choosing to stay staunchly independent.

"We told them (major record labels) that we didn't want to do that," he said. "Maybe we won't stay there (Epitaph) for 10 years. We may outgrow them or they might outgrow us. We started the record with Epitaph and we plan on finishing it with Epitaph."

Other than record deals, The Offspring turned down a spot opening for the Stone Temple Pilots during their summer tour of arenas.

"We didn't want to jump into arenas just because something's on the radio. We're doing what we're capable of doing alone on tour," Holland explained.

Touring with the Stone Temple Pilots and signing with a major record label means "overexposure" to The Offspring. They would rather stay relatively unknown.

"For us, it's not about having a hit, being on the radio, or being 'successful.' We're a punk rock band. For us it's about putting out music we like playing."

The Offspring and special guest Big Drill Car play an all-ages show at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 3. Tickets are $7.50 in advance. For more information, call (313) 961-MELT.

For nearly 3½ hours, Pink Floyd coasted through songs mostly from "The Wall," "Dark Side of the Moon" and their recent album "The Division Bell."

The crowd remained tame until the middle of the second set when they played the anti-education anthem "Another Brick in the Wall Part II" as selected lyrics lit up across the front of the stage.

The show, in turn, was anything but tame. Flailing his arms around, percussionist Gary Wallis hopped back and forth between his instruments. Unlike the Rolling Stones show at the Silverdome four years ago, the immense stage didn't swallow Pink Floyd. The band was backed by a retractable round movie screen with elaborate film clips accompanying some songs. Two large inflatable pigs fell from the top of the stage at the end of the first set.

In one of the shower moments, a plane flew across the Silverdome and crashed into the seats during "Breathe in the Air."

The show was flamboyant but not overdone. It's not that Pink Floyd had anything to prove, but the whole package showed that the band is a voice of many generations.

'Forrest Gump' falls short of a classic

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
STAFF WRITER

"Forrest Gump," about a man with a low IQ who reaches amazing heights, is an epic treatment of an old Frank Capra aesthetic: Even the under-average Joe can make it in America, if he follows the basic Boy Scout principles of truth and stick-to-itiveness.

The sentiment almost works. Depending on your tolerance for sap, this most manipulative movie of the year may actually have you grabbing for a Kleenex box. It plays at the Main and Maple theaters among others.

Tom Hanks, fresh from winning an Academy Award for "Philadelphia," plays the title character, the kind of part that usually catches Oscar's eye. He's the Alabama-based simpleton, IQ 75, who starts his life with a spinal disorder and a very caring mother (Sally Field). She'll do anything, including sleep with the school superintendent, for her boy to get the same chances as others.

Because of the heavy metal braces on his legs, Forrest is taunted by the other boys. During one of his attempts to escape from them, the braces shatter and he runs and runs and runs, and doesn't stop. The denizens of the local barber shop call him "a running fool."

MOVIES

His athletic prowess lands him a football scholarship; his ability to follow orders and perform menial tasks makes him the ideal soldier in Vietnam. The movie spans the decades from the 1950s through the '80s, so Forrest is seen meeting (through special effects and archival footage) Presidents Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon along with John Lennon and George Wallace. The gimmick was handled much better in Woody Allen's "Zelig."

All the while Forrest keeps pining away for Jenny, the childhood sweetheart who becomes a folk singer, go-go dancer, hippy, political activist, disco queen and waitress. Between the two of them, Forrest and Jenny follow every conceivable path the Baby Boom generation might have taken. With the help of pop music snippets (it seems like well over 100 tunes are used in the film), the movie plays like an MTV documentary about the past three dcades.

Let's put it this way: if the filmmakers could have figured a way to get Forrest out to Woodstock, they would have.

In a rather ghoulish take on nostalgia, director Robert Zemeckis focuses on assassinations to strike the proper chord of "where were you when." Strangely, while the movie tries to remain politically correct, it never even mentions Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

This isn't all that's missing. Although the movie runs well over two hours, Forrest is still nothing more than a goofy Everyman symbol by film's end. Of course, "Forrest Gump" is a comedy, though true laughs are few from the usually funny Zemeckis, who launched the "Back to the Future" movies and "Who Framed Roger Rabbit?" among others.

There are clever flights of whimsy, like the blink-and-you'll-miss-it flashback to the ancestors of Lt. Dan (Gary Sinise), Forrest's Vietnam commander, who has the dubious distinction of having relatives who died in each American-involved war. Each soldier falls back dead, identified by his uniform.

The interpolation of Forrest with now-deceased historical figures, though clever from a technical standpoint, loses any charm when words are clumsily inserted into their mouths. When Forrest and John Lennon appear together on the Dick Cavett show, there's some silly dialogue that mirrors the words of "Imagine." The bit with Lyndon Johnson is even more embarrassing.

"Forrest Gump" does make some grand use of the wide screen, from the harrowing scenes in Vietnam to dreamy dusk-and-dawn shots of the rambling white-painted Gump home on the banks of an Alabama river. Strangely enough, an 8,000-acre plantation in South Carolina served both settings.

There's also fine acting here, not only from Hanks, but from Sally Field, who ages convincingly even when Forrest doesn't. Robin Wright's Jenny undergoes her own amazing transformation, including some unattractive turns as a prostitute.

With its epic scope and universal message about "making the best of what the good Lord gave you," "Forrest Gump" struggles hard to be recognized as a movie classic. But how clever can a movie be when, more than once, audience members vocally anticipate the next line of dialogue?

SCREEN SCENE

A sampling of what's playing at alternative movie theaters across metro Detroit as reviewed by John Monaghan.

■ DETROIT FILM THEATRE
Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call (313) 833-2323 for information. ($5)

"The Boys of St. Vincent" (Canada — 1993), 7 and 9:30 p.m. July 29-30; 4 and 7 p.m. July 31. Made for Canadian television, this riveting documentary focuses on sexual abuse at a church-administered orphanage in Newfoundland.

■ FOX THEATRE
2211 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call (313) 396-7600 for information. ($3)

"Lawrence of Arabia" (Britain — 1962), through July 31 (call for show times). It's always great to see David Lean's desert epic on the big screen, but after the third time in the past five years, can't the Fox find other titles to show?

■ HART PLAZA PYRAMID THEATRE
Downtown Detroit near the riverfront. Outdoor screenings of black-related films begin at dusk, following live music at 8 p.m. Call (313) 224-1184 for more information. (Free)

"Say Amen, Somebody" (USA — 1963). July 28. Gospel music is the subject of this spirited documentary, featuring Willie Mae Ford Smith and Thomas A. Dorsey, the "mother" and "father" of Gospel music.

■ KINOTEK
Capitol Theatre and Arts Centre, 121 University Avenue W., Windsor. Call (519) 971-5160 for information. ($4)

"Inframan" (Hong Kong — 1976), 9 p.m. July 31-Aug 1. In this badly dubbed, thoroughly hilarious superhero epic, the bionic superhero battles endless incredible monsters — Octopus Man, Beetle Man and several robots — sent by Princess Dragon Mom from Inner Earth.

■ MAIN ART THEATRE
118 N. Main St. at 11 Mile, Royal Oak. Films play through at least Thursday, unless noted otherwise. Call (810) 542-0180 for information and show times. ($6.50; $4 students; $3 twilight/matinee)

"Salmonberries" (Canada — 1993), through July 28 (call for show times). Pop singer k.d. lang makes her feature film debut in Percy Adlon's ("Bagdad Cafe") near turkey, set in a dreary Alaskan town. Assumed to be a man because of her androgynous appearance and job as a pipeline worker, she soon reveals her true sex to a German woman she falls in love with. Nice cinematography and some fetching lang songs.

"White" (France/Poland/Switzerland — 1993), July 29-Aug 4 (call for show times). A successful Polish hairdresser tries to win back the beautiful wife who divorced him after six months. The second film in director Krzysztof Kieslowski's acclaimed "Three Colors" trilogy.

■ STATE THEATER
2115 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call (313) 961-5450 for information. ($1)

"Jurassic Park" (USA - 1993). 9 p.m. July 25. Steven Spielberg's dinosaur epic looks great on the theater's massive screen.

Hines Park clinches title on forfeit

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

■ COLLEGIATE

This wasn't the way Dave Carroll envisioned winning the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League's regular-season championship.

Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury won by forfeit when Wendy's of Ann Arbor, dressing only six players, couldn't come up with a full lineup Friday at Ford Field.

"It's garbage the way it turned out," said Hines Park manager Carroll, who also learned that Wendy's would be forfeiting Sunday's season-ending double-header, too. "Try to tell those guys from Westland (the second place team) that they're happy. But at least those other teams — Westland, Delwal and Caesars — are still playing for something.

"I'd rather play, and get beat going into the playoffs, than not know how good we are."

For the second year in a row, Carroll's club (20-8 overall for 40 points) will be the No. 1 seed entering the first round of the playoffs, which begin July 29 at Ford Field.

Westland (16-11), Delwal (14-14) and Caesars (14-13) were also jockeying for the final three places in the four-team tournament, which will send a representative to the All-American Amateur Baseball Association (ages 20-and-under) regional Aug. 5 in Altoona, Pa.

Garden City Collegiate (14-10-1) is also vying for a playoff berth pending an appeal about a roster rules infraction. GC manager Fred Holton, who was temporarily suspended, will plead his case before LCBL directors Gary Gray and Lyle Trudell Wednesday afternoon at Livonia's Department of Parks and Recreation.

"Even if the coach makes a mistake, the kids shouldn't have to suffer," Carroll said of GC's plight. "The kids are the ones who pay the price and they really didn't really have anything to do with it. I'd like to see Garden City given a chance because they play hard."

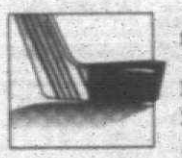

As for action on the diamond, Hines Park clinched a share of the title by outslugging Walter's Appliance, 10-7, Wednesday at Ford Field.

Winning pitcher Brian Paluk, a Redford Catholic Central High product now at Saginaw Valley State, survived a five-run second-inning to raise his Collegiate record to 5-0.

Broncos unbeaten — and best

■ Game scores have often reached 20 goals during the Metro Summer Hockey League season — until last week, when no team in the first three games reached 10 goals. There was even a shutout.

What's this? Defense?

Two games played Tuesday, and another on Wednesday, and not a single team scoring 10 goals in any of them? The average number of goals scored in a game by two teams had been close to 20 goals prior to this sudden discovery of defense.

To punctuate it further, the Spartans posted the first shutout of the Metro Summer Hockey League season when they blanked the Bulldogs 5-0 Tuesday at Plymouth Ice Arena — in the 29th game of the campaign.

The other story of the week — the Broncos, who continued as the MSHL's only undefeated team by beating the Wolverines 6-5 Tuesday and the Redskins 6-2 Wednesday, both at Plymouth.

The win over the Wolverines, who had been red-hot with third-period comebacks in their previous four games (three wins and a tie), was a challenge for the Broncos all the way. The Wolverines' Stefan Teitge scored the only goal of the first period, but the Broncos got four in the second period — two by Tom Larson — to take a 4-3 lead into the third.

The Wolves tied it at 4-4 on a goal by Scott Lock with 13:38 left, but the Broncos used two scores by Jim Pietila — the last coming with 7:46 remaining — to pull away.

Pietila added an assist to his scoring totals. Kurt Pietila had a goal and two assists, Bob Kangas had a goal and an assist, and Mark Pietila contributed three assists.

For the Wolverines, both Lock and Mike Kneiding had a goal and two assists, and Tony Guzzo and Jesse Hubenschmidt each chipped in with a goal and an assist.

Dave Roach and Jim Sexsmith split time in goal for the Broncos; Derek Billis and Thomas Best were in goal for the Wolverines.

On Wednesday, the Broncos improved their MSHL-best record to 7-0-1 by rolling past the Redskins, who fell to 1-7. Six different players scored goals for the Broncos, led by Kevin Pietila's goal and two assists and Larson's goal and assist.

Kangas, Mike Nicholas, Steve Bartshe and Eric Laho each added single goals. The Broncos scored the game's first six goals before the Redskins netted two in the final minute of play, by Jack McCoy and Chris Regner (assisted by McCoy).

■ SPARTANS 5, BULLDOGS 0: Rich Nagy proved unbeatable in goal for the Spartans, who upped their record to 4-3-1 with the win Tuesday at Plymouth.

Steve Nelson accounted for two of the Spartan goals, both coming in the first period as they built a 4-0 lead. Nelson also assisted on a first-period goal. Tim McConnell added a goal and an assist in the opening period, and Dan Hunt (from Redford Catholic Central) netted a goal and assisted on Kris Kane's third-period score. Dave Issel contributed two assists for the Spartans.

Shawn Greene and Brian Guillery divided playing time in goal for the Bulldogs, who managed to retain the lead in the Bakes Conference despite falling to 5-2-1.

■ LAKERS 10, WILDCATS 6: Coming into Thursday's game at Plymouth, the Lakers had just one win in seven games and were languishing in last place in the Bakes. The Wildcats needed only to defeat these cellar-dwellers to take over first in the conference.

Indeed, it seemed the Wildcats would do it. They led 5-4 entering

Wheelchair-bound no more, Morrison battles back

By Steve Kowalski
Staff Writer

Bryan Morrison went to a movie in Westland last November, but was turned away at the door.

It had nothing to do with his age, rather a flight of stairs.

With no ramp or elevator for the handicapped, Morrison knew his odds of making it while sitting in a wheelchair were pretty steep.

"I had no way to get in because the show was upstairs," said Morrison, a former all-state swimmer who graduated in 1992 from Livonia Stevenson. "They told me to call before I leave home next time so they can let me know what's playing downstairs."

Morrison has been busy ever since writing his own script on how to recover from a neck injury that not only threatened his life but had doctors wondering if he'd ever walk again.

Morrison, a member of the Michigan State University swimming team in the 1992-93 school year, broke the fifth and sixth vertebrae in his neck after diving into surf off the coast of France last summer.

■ 'You don't realize how much handicapped people are put down until you try to go places in wheelchairs and can't do it . . . I plan on walking without a limp. For the most part it's in my hands. It depends how much I want to do it.'

Bryan Morrison

For several months the wheelchair was his best transportation. Paralyzed from the neck down immediately following his injury, Morrison has slowly regained movement and is walking with a limp on his left side.

Morrison is still considered a paraplegic because of lack of motion in his left hand. He also has trouble walking, but his progress has been nothing short of amazing.

After spending four months at a world renowned hospital for spinal chord victims in Denver, Colo., Morrison returned to work on an engineering degree at Michigan State University last semester.

He has been busier than most students this summer, starting his day at 7 a.m. and returning at 7 p.m.

Morrison swims twice a day at the Botsford Pool in Livonia, and in between works four hours as a research analyst in Southfield.

One of Morrison's companions in the Botsford Pool is his cousin Matt McCowan, who says he wins some of their races. Morrison isn't embarrassed about losing to the 9-year-old.

"I'm slower than I'd like to be, but at least I'm swimming again," Morrison said.

After his afternoon swim, Morrison heads over to the Livonia YMCA to lift weights. Morrison doesn't need the wheelchair anymore but the thought of using one will never leave

Finn leaving

Since Jim Finn graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1973, he has been a part of the Plymouth-Canton school district educational system.

That will end Aug. 8.

That's when Finn, who for the past four years has served as assistant athletic director in charge of Plymouth Canton HS, will leave the district to accept a position as assistant principal at Redford Thurston HS.

"It's unnerving, after 21 years here," said Finn. "But it's something I always wanted to do.

"This position," he added, referring to his assistant AD's job under athletic director Paul Cummings, "has given me a different perspective. It's given me a firmer grasp of administrative duties."

After graduating from EMU, Finn began his student teaching at Pioneer Middle School. He got his master's degree and kept expanding both his level of expertise and his horizons.

At Thurston, Finn will be in charge of discipline and student activities.

"It's a different capacity of the educational system," he said. "It will provide me with a broader base if I continue to pursue other opportunities."

He won't have the same responsibilities regarding athletics he had at Canton, where he was often on duty five nights a week during the winter months, but Finn will provide assistance to Thurston athletic director Jim Urick.

Janson junior champ

Danny Janson of Grand Rapids, who shot a low two-round total of 146 (75-71) last week at Cadillac Country Club, is among six state qualifiers headed for the Independent Insurance Agent Junior Classic, Aug. 11-16 at Barton Creek in Austin, Texas.

Area players failing to qualify included Joe Hamo (Wayne), ninth, (75-78) 153; Stephen Polanski (Livonia), 27th, (79-80) 159; Brad Kaminski (Garden City), 42nd (84-82) 166; Matt Snow (Wayne), 47th, (86-83) 189; and Craig Piscopink (Wayne), 57th (95-90) 185.

Katy Loy of Ann Arbor shot a 71 to win the girls division. Jackson's Kellie Dennis also qualified with a 77.

Plymouth's Katie Collins was 12th with a 92.

Softball openings

There are a series of tournaments coming up at the Canton Softball Center, for all kinds of players.

There are USSSA Men's C and E qualifiers slated for Saturday and Sunday.

There is a USSSA Men's D qualifier, and something new, a "My Sponsor drives a Lincoln Mercury" Tournament, on Aug. 6-7.

The USSSA Church State Championship, the Men's C, Women's D and Men's E "last chance" qualifiers, will be Aug. 13-14.

And the USSSA Men's D state championship tournament will be Aug. 20-21, and the Hochman's E One-dayer will be Aug. 21.

For information regarding any of these events, call Robert Hope at 483-5600, Ext. 102.

Corporate Macker back

The sixth annual Oakland University Gus Macker 3-on-3 Basketball Tournament returns to campus Aug. 27-28, and with it comes the Corporate Macker, making its second appearance.

The Corporate Macker will be played completely on Aug. 27. Corporate players receive T-shirts, sponsor recognition in the Macker program, and winners receive trophies.

All proceeds go to the OU athletic department. To register a corporate team, call Leslie Sapp or Stacy Mayy at Events Marketing, (810) 540-6688.

But hurry — registration deadline is Aug. 5.

Men's 35 tennis

Prize money is available for a U.S. Tennis Association men's 35 tournament, Aug. 5-7, at the Livonia Family YMCA, which is located on Stark Road, just west of Farmington Road and two blocks north of I-96.

The tourney is sponsored by the Livonia Y and Las Vegas Golf & Tennis of Canton.

The entry deadline is Wednesday, July 27. Fees are $35 for singles and $34 for doubles.

For more information, call Jean Carman at 261-2161.

Red Wing Fan Fest

Red Wings Fan Fest, featuring players Steve Yzerman, Sergei Federov, Paul Coffey, Chris Osgood and Mike Vernon, will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 27, at Joe Louis Arena.

Tickets are $5 per person. Concession stands will be open and merchandise will be on sale.

Coach Scotty Bowman is also scheduled to make an appearance for the Fan Fest, which also includes seminars on Red Wings topics; fantasy play-by-play booth; Hockey Hall of Fame display; games/raffles; special kids' attractions; and photo opportunities on the Red Wings bench and Zamboni.

For more information, call 396-7600.

To submit items for Sports Scene, send them to C.J. Risak, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, Mich. 48150, or fax them to (313) 591-7279.

the third period — which the Lakers dominated, scoring six straight goals to pull away to victory while improving their record to 2-4-2.

Carl Schumacher and David Scott each scored twice in the Laker third-period rampage. Brian Halas and Andrew Perry also netted goals. Scott added two assists to his scoring total, while Perry finished with two goals and two assists, and Halas had a goal and three assists.

Brett Williams added two goals and two assists, Matt Allen had a goal and an assist, and David Lambeth collected five assists.

The Wildcats, 5-4-0 and still second in the Bakes, got four goals from James Mitchell, a goal and two assists from Rick Lance, four assists from Jeff Mitchell, three assists from Ian Crockford, and a goal from Kevin Berger (Livonia Stevenson).

■ WOLVERINES 11, HUSKIES 5: The Wolverines got back on track Thursday at Plymouth, pulling away from a 5-4 lead after two periods by outscoring the Huskies 6-1 in the final period.

The victory improved the Wolverines' record to 5-3-1 and cemented their second-place positioning in the Eagle Conference behind the Broncos. Eric Bilyeu and Tony Scott each contributed three goals and two assists to lead the Wolves.

Paul Schloss had two goals and two assists, Mike Kneiding had a goal and three assists, Jesse Hubenschmidt collected a goal and two assists, Jim Hubenschmidt netted three assists, and Daryl Schimmelpfenneg scored a goal.

The Huskies (1-7-0) got two goals from Joe Sellers (Plymouth/Ohio State). Chris Smith, Dominic Catanzarite (Livonia Franklin) and Josh Wiegand each scored single goals.

his mind.

"You don't realize how much handicapped people are put down until you try to go places in wheelchairs and can't do it," he said. "I plan on walking without a limp. For the most part it's in my hands. It depends how much I want to do it."

Helpless feeling

Morrison was vacationing in France with friend Kamp Purdy of West Bloomfield, an MSU swimmer, when the accident happened around 2 a.m. June 17, 1993.

Morrison said he doesn't remember anything three to four hours before the accident and anything a week after the accident.

His mother Bonnie Morrison remembers getting the phone call about the bad news, then after the flight overseas, seeing her son lying helplessly on a hospital bed.

Morrison, 6-foot-5 and 205 pounds before the accident, had about as much control of his body as a new-born baby.

"Can you even imagine going to France and seeing the unbelievable trauma he was going through, his body shaking uncontrollably?" his mother said. "His eyes were so red I didn't even know who he was. And today, he's so normal. Every time someone calls and asks about it I have to cry."

Doctors took a bone from Morrison's hip and fused it in surgery with his fifth and sixth vertebrae, which were shattered.

Morrison didn't suffer any lasting head injuries and he remained in the hospital 31 days before being transported home on an airplane.

The Morrison family had to pay for eight seats to fit Bryan in a horizontal position on the flight home.

Morrison spent a month at University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor before being taken to Denver for continued rehabilitation at Craig Hospital.

Morrison's weight dipped to about 160 pounds, but he's back up to 185 pounds with his ambitious regimen.

His Christmas present was being with the MSU swim team on the Christmas Training trip to Coral Springs, Fla. He'd always try to be in the stands cheering on his former teammates last season.

"Just his recovery in general surprised us," said Alec Mull, co-captain from Lansing Eastern and Morrison's former roommate. "He was so close to dying and now he's up, walking around. He was a hard worker, but bad things always seem to happen to good people. He's one of those people that will go out of his way for you."

On the job

When he returned from MSU this spring, Morrison was hired at Chrysler Service Contracts, where his mother works.

"My boss is so happy with him," Bonnie said. "The first day on the job he was able to accomplish some research that three others hired before him were unable to do."

Morrison's biggest problem has been typing with his left hand.

"I use my whole right hand and whatever I can with my left," he said. "I just peck at it."

Come to think of it, a lot of people with two healthy hands use the hunt and peck method.

Driving isn't a problem, since his right leg is near its normal strength. Morrison said he has a handicapped sticker in his car but usually avoids parking in handicapped spots "so people who need them more can use them."

When at home in Livonia, where he stays with his uncle and aunt Jack and Carol Gatewood, Morrison does his share of chores.

He also acts as the family's personal trainer, outlining the workouts on the treadmill and stretching exercises in the basement.

"Since the injury, Bryan's become more outgoing and driven, and does lots of errands," Carol Gatewood said. "Last week, we were going out of town, going to be real busy, and Bryan took care of the pool for us. He makes my husband's lunch every day, grills chicken, cuts up fresh vegetables, because he wants to make sure everyone's eating right. He really does pitch in."

Morrison said sometimes he has to remind himself his left leg isn't moving in sync with the right at home.

"I have to remember to hold on to the hand rail (going downstairs)," he said. "My left leg forgets to go."

Almost unbelievably and just as tragically, one of Morrison's roommates last semester at MSU, Ryan O'Donnel, was injured critically earlier this month in a car accident. Morrison feels a lot like his friends felt for him a year ago.

"A lot of people just give up," Morrison said. "I'm going to make sure he doesn't."

Collegiate

Paluk, a 6-foot-5 right-hander, scattered seven hits and one walk over seven innings. He fanned seven in going the distance.

"Craig Benedict (Friday's scheduled starter vs. Wendy's) has been our best pitcher since the Fourth of July weekend," Carroll said. "He's had the best control and he's one of the guys who's worked the hardest.

"And I know Brian has struggled to get his pitches where he wants, but he's worked extremely hard, too. I expect us to be solid there when the playoffs start."

Hines Park, despite three fielding errors, got contributions from several people on the offensive end.

Charlie Winstel (Plymouth Salem/Oakland University) broke open a close game in the sixth with a two-run double.

Ed Gundry (Salem/U-D Mercy), Brian Burns, Heath Fowler, Benedict (Canton/Madonna University) and Aaron Rumberger (ex-Redford CC) each added two hits. Burns and Fowler each knocked in a run.

Ed Valdez, the Walter's starter, took the loss.

Brad Jones belted a two-run homer for Walter's. Craig Petersen (Madonna) and Danny Taylor each contributed two hits.

It was Hines Park's fifth straight win after losing four straight.

"When we were losing, our pitchers were not make the right pitches in certain situations and we weren't moving the runners along when we had people on base," Carroll said. "Lately we've made good plays in the field and hitting. I think we're a good team. When the games are on the line I think we'll get good pitching. And we've got some clutch players."

At least Carroll could talk about his team.

Meanwhile, Dr. Brien Lang, manager of last place Wendy's, left the diamond Friday disgusted over his team's lack of loyalty. On Wednesday, Wendy's suited up only nine players in a 9-5 loss to Garden City.

"I'll tell Gary Gray we're finished for the year, even if I have to pay the fine," Lang told his six troopers. "And we won't have a banquet either. Why should I spend $600 when guys don't even show up? I'm thinking about not coming back with this program next year, too."

No, it wasn't the way Lang envisioned the season would end either.

Subdue injuries with prevention

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

What's a bowler to do when the aches and pains make it less than fun to go bowling?

Dr. Warren Schildberg of Garden City has the answers.

He is a sports medicine specialist who has worked with many of the area's top keglers, some of whom have credited him with their ability to be competitive bowlers again after suffering various physical setbacks.

Among those are Livonia's Mary Mohacsi and Bill Funke, Lee Snow of Farmington Hills and Tom Relich, an all-star from Garden City.

My name is added to the list after foolishly trying to play some softball earlier this season. According to Dr. Schildberg, "Bowlers should be aware of any possible injuries that can effect performance on the lanes."

Of utmost importance is the prevention of injuries, followed by the correct treatment should an injury occur.

The smart bowler, or person engaged in any other sports activity, would take measures to prevent injuries before they happen. According to Schildberg, pre-season conditioning is vital.

Work on strength, balance, flexibility and endurance. The training must be Sport Specific, that is, to work on those muscles that are used in bowling rather than, say, football, skating or tennis.

The key to good training is Neuro Muscular Training, also known as practice.

Be very careful not to overtrain as this could be detrimental.

"Do not use any body part in excess of its capacity," Dr. Schildberg said.

It is also known as the "SAID" Principle: Specific Adaptation to Individual Demand. When you exceed this rule, you usually get an injury.

For bowlers, each body part is involved starting with the fingers as they are most susceptible to injury from over-practice.

Blisters, abrasions, sprains, strains and tendinitis may occur if you overdo it. Next, the wrist has several tendons which can be abused or over-used, particularly by the crankers. Forearms are susceptible to muscle strains and the elbow can develop tendinitis.

Not to be confused with "tennis elbow" it is "bowler's elbow."

Shoulders are not usually effected by the bowling delivery.

Lower back pain is something else, as it can develop in all people engaged in just about any activity. Another potential trouble spot is the knee.

The non-dominant side can develop tendinitis, pulled ligaments or cartilage problems. Any of these will really mess up your game, and in many instances knee problems can be traced to previous activities from other sports, especially damaged ligaments.

So in dealing with any of these problems, proper diagnosis is important for the way to handle aches and pains from bowling or any other sport.

It is vital that an accurate diagnosis is made so the proper therapy can be applied. There are two basic forms of treatment: conservative and radical or surgical.

Conservative means getting relative rest or off-loading the effected body part.

Medication generally involves use of SAID's such as motrin or aspirin. Therapy would include use of ice packs, compression, elevation support and modalities that include massage, accupressure, high volts, and ultrasound treatments.

Now, you ask, "When am I ready to go back into competition?"

This is where bowlers must be sure they are ready so that he or she is not re-injured. The healing process should have been at least 90 percent prior to re-entering the game.

It all sums up to asking, "What do I do if it hurts?"

Bear in mind that 90 percent of injuries can be cared for adequately by simply using ice packs four times a day, 20 minutes at a time.

Always use a towel between ice and skin to prevent "ice burn" and then begin a slow load return to practice.

In bowling, we can have a little fun or a whole lot of fun, but overdoing it could mean risking an injury and that wouldn't be any fun at all.

Dr. Schildberg also recommends the use of mental imaging to enhance your game. It is something that top competitors do almost automatically.

Simply draw a picture in your mind of yourself delivering a perfect strike. Do this 10 times before going to sleep and again when you wake up. It will help your bowling and result in higher scores. It may take a while to develop this technique, but it works.

Cobras suffer 1st loss of season

The Livonia Gators gave the Canton Cobras their first loss in an Incredible Girls Fast-Pitch League doubleheader played Thursday at Plymouth Canton.

The Cobras won the first game 7-2 before the Gators came back to win the nightcap 5-1.

The crossover doubleheader outcome gave the Gators a 10-4 overall record. The Cobras are 13-1.

Alicia December suffered the loss in the first game, allowing nine hits with one strikeout and two walks over six innings.

Jessie Jenkins earned the victory in the second game, allowing only one hit which came with two outs in the seventh inning. She struck out six and walked five.

FAST-PITCH

Jenny Clulow was 3-for-4 with two runs scored and Stephanie Nelson also scored twice.

■ HORNETS 21-12, STINGERS 6-8: The Farmington Hills Hornets won both games of a doubleheader Thursday against the Garden City Stingers at East Middle School.

In the first game, a 21-6 victory by the Hornets, Angela Hudson suffered the loss for the Stingers. Hudson walked 10 batters, contributing to the Hornets' run production.

The Stingers are 6-8 overall.

Becky Day and Stephanie Smith had two hits each for the Stingers. Smith had a double and three RBI and Hannah Ault of Livonia was 1-2 with a run scored.

Kelly Shanks walked three times and scored two runs.

Mindie Chapman suffered the loss in the second game despite allowing only three walks. Shanks again had three walks and Smith was 1-1 with a steal of home.

■ ASTROS 14-7, FANTASTICS 3-3: The Astros broke a 3-3 tie in the top of the fifth inning of Thursday's second game at Livonia Franklin and swept a doubleheader against the Farmington Fantastics.

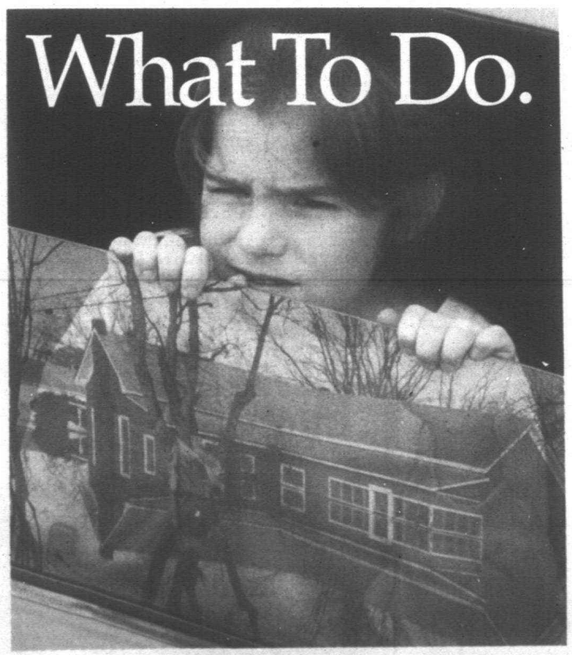

Jami Grigal had two hits, including a triple with two outs in the fifth. Grigal scored the eventual winning run on an overthrow at third base.

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 20)
There could be some problems concerning money. If you are bored, it may be a good idea to involve yourself in a community activity.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)
Someone will present thoughts or ideas that could help you in a business endeavor. This could be the start or finish of something important.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)
You may be involved in a futile disagreement. Thoughtless actions could cause tears. You will get through this time of difficulty.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)
There is good news on the way for you. It is important that you be patient and wait for the proper time to ask questions. Don't rush things.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)
A pessimistic attitude could ruin a relationship and cut off any possibility of reconciliation. It would be wise to put past mistakes behind you.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)
Whatever happens, do not be influenced by a persuasive talker. You should know from experience that only you have your best interests at heart.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
You can be assured you will find much happiness and material gain sometime soon. Reaching for new heights will seem much easier now.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)
There are many good things on the way for you, even the possibility of some type of promotion. You will receive what is rightfully yours.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)
Good news concerning a work situation is coming. You will receive either a letter or telephone call confirming what you have known for a while.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)
Don't waste your energy fighting for a lost cause. See life as it is and not as you want it to be. It is important to know when to move on.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
Guidance and help are available if you need it, but you must take the initiative to find the answers on your own. Use discretion in matters of the heart.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)
You should investigate every area of a new project before becoming involved with it. Future plans may have to be canceled.

'Waikiki' draws Cheryl Ladd back to network series TV

By JEFF PLASS

Former "Charlie's Angels" cast member Cheryl Ladd makes her return to series television after a 13-year hiatus in "One West Waikiki," premiering Thursday, Aug. 4, on CBS.

Ladd has kept busy over the past few years working in made-for-TV movies such as "Dead Before Dawn" and "Broken Promises: Taking Emily Back," feature films such as "Lisa" and "Poison Ivy."

Her decision to return to series TV came about when her husband, producer Brian Russell, who is serving as executive producer for the show, handed her the script for the pilot of "One West Waikiki."

"It's kind of like a combination of 'Quincy,' 'Magnum P.I.' and 'Moonlighting,'" Ladd says.

She was so intrigued with the possibilities the show offered, she reversed her mind-set against doing a series.

"I had been telling (my husband) that I didn't want to do a series for the longest time," Ladd states. "He said 'I really think you should check this one out.' So I read it and was fascinated by the character and the show's idea.

"On top of all that, I thought, 'Not only was it a great script, but it's filmed in Hawaii.' So the decision became an easy one."

In the show, Ladd portrays medical examiner Dr. Dawn "Holli" Holliday ("And I love her name, too, Doc Holliday," Ladd jokes).

Ladd admits to having more than a passing interest in the field of forensic pathology.

"With everything that's going on in the news today," she says referring to the O.J. Simpson murder case, "it's just fascinating to see the kind of role forensics plays in the solution of a crime."

Sent to Hawaii to deliver a speech at a forensics seminar, Holli encounters a homicide involving an old flame (Doug Barr).

When she goes to the local police, she encounters roughneck, renegade detective Lt. Mack Wolfe (Richard Burgi).

Mack recently came off departmental probation following an investigation where he was framed to look like he had killed innocent people. He supplements his income as a detective by doing everything from selling toothbrushes to lounge singing.

In one scene, Mack jumps a fellow police officer who is following him and asks the bewildered officer at gunpoint:

"Have they told you some of the names they call me around the office? Like Mortuary Man and Lead Head and Trigger Mortis? Is there anybody who'll miss you if you disappeared for a long time?"

"I got a wife and three kids, man. And a dog!" his hapless victim replies.

"Well if you're as reckless with their future as you are with your own, "Mack growls, "your wife's gonna be a bag lady, and your kids are gonna be eating recycled tacos. Have you even got insurance?"

"No," is the reply.

"Really?" Mack croons. "How'd you like to buy some homelife? Or I can get you into a really nice term package for very little down..."

The show moves along quickly, due largely to the on-screen chemistry between Ladd and Burgi, stirring up a sexual tension between the two principal characters reminiscent of "Moonlighting."

"I'm not going to say they'll never get together," Ladd intimates. "But, for the show's sake, it's a lot more interesting if they maintain the kind of relationship they have in the pilot at least for a little while. Kind of a mutual respect and admiration, bordering on an attraction."

CBS will couple the two-hour premiere of "One West Waikiki" with the debut another "sunshine" show, "Motel Malibu." It stars Joanna Cassidy as the widowed proprietor of a hotel who would sacrifice everything to keep it in business.

HIGHLIGHTS

Lindsay Frost stars in "Palomino," airing on NBC Saturday, July 30.

Frost portrays Samantha Taylor, a successful photographer who travels on assignment to a California horse ranch. She meets and falls in love with a ranch hand (Lee Horsley), but when their affair doesn't last she returns to her life in New York City.

When a tragic riding accident suddenly leaves her partially paralyzed, she returns to the ranch only to find renewed romance and intrigue.

Eva Marie Saint co-stars.

Lundquist tries hand at two new posts

BY SARA BENNETT

Remember "Bowling for Dollars," the 1970s syndicated game show?

Remember the host, Verne Lundquist? Since those days, Lundquist has stuck primarily to play-by-play in a number of sports. But Sunday, July 24, CBS' "Eye on Sports" broadcast marks his return to the host post. Lundquist will anchor live coverage of the Go For Wand Stakes, a Thoroughbred race from Saratoga Race Course, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

"That's a fairly uncommon role for me to play," Lundquist says of his host assignment.

The broadcast also marks Lundquist's first time covering the sport. "I'm really excited about it because I do enjoy the sport. It's, I think, the 21st sport (he has covered). This adds a new one, and I didn't think at my age that they could find another one that I hadn't done."

"Usually I'm just doing play-by-play," he says, adding that "they're not going to ask me to call the race, because that would be disastrous."

So, which of the 20 sports on Lundquist's resume has he enjoyed broadcasting most?

"I'd have to say football, because it's the easy answer to give, but figure skating and golf would be a close second and third," he says.

Hmm ... Sounds like Lundquist has been brushing up on his racing lingo.

Mondays on CBS, Harry Anderson stars as syndicated humorist Dave Barry in "Dave's World."

Sundays on ABC, It's true love in Metropolis for "Lois & Clark: The New Adventures of Superman."

TRIVIA

The salary for the original "Saturday Night Live" cast members, "The Not Ready for Prime Time Players," was only $750 per week.

SOAP WORLD

Nice guy Dattilo enjoys playing bad guy

BY CANDACE HAVENS

For Bryan Dattilo the phrase "tough day at the office" has a special meaning.

"It was April Fool's Day and my first day on 'Days of Our Lives' and my first time on a soap ever," Dattilo says. "I walked in and they threw me into bed with this girl. I had to kiss her, and I was wearing nothing but these little nude-colored briefs.

"I was meeting everyone for the first time. I am so nervous, and I'm supposed to be so suave and calm kissing this woman. After that I was ready for anything."

For nice guy Dattilo playing a bad guy on "Days" is just fine.

"Lucas is interesting to play as a character because he is not boring at all," Dattilo says. "You can get away with being a little devious and bad, which is interesting to watch. He stirs things up for the perfect couple, Austin (Patrick Muldoon) and Carrie (Christie Clark).

"But he also has some heart, and I enjoy playing both sides of the character. When someone is too nice, it kind of gets a little boring."

As a newcomer to the soaps, Dattilo was a little taken aback by the attention he received from fans.

"It is all still kind of weird to me. It is hard to get used to people making a fuss over who I am, but they do," he says. "I've been lucky. Most all of the fans I've come across have been respectful of my privacy. They are very nice. To be honest I have trouble saying no to anyone who wants my autograph, because I'm like, 'You want my autograph?' It is really flattering, because when you are here working day to day you don't have any idea what people think of you."

Dattilo has grown to appreciate his time off.

"I enjoy doing the things that I used to do too much of, like watching TV, hanging out with my friends and playing basketball" he says.

Unmarried, Dattilo says he used to have an image of the perfect woman.

"Now I'm looking for someone who is nice and that I am comfortable spending time with. I don't have all those expectations anymore."
