It's a first for Canton Township. Two couples plan to open bed and breakfast inns soon. The owners don't plan to compete with hotels or motels but to offer a different type of home-style accommodation.

By JOANNE MALISZEWSKI

In the near future, two Canton couples will open up their farmhouses as bed and breakfast inns - the first in the township.

"Bed and breakfasts have been able to come in and preserve our history," said Bernadette Van Lenten, who with her husband, Michael, owns the Willow Brook Inn, expected to open in November.

Laura and Dave Johnson, who own the Sheldon Road Inn, also known as the historically-designated Hoops house, probably won't open until early spring 1995, because of the need to build additional bathrooms in the five-bedroom house.

"Our long-range goal is to have one bathroom with each bedroom," Dave Johnson said.

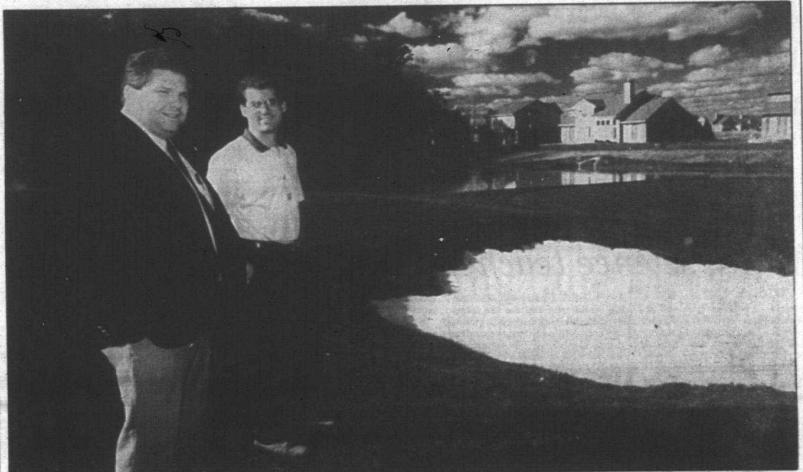

The Van Lentens must wait until they provide the township with a revised site plan and approved building inspections - not to mention approval by the Canton Township Board Oct. 25 - before they open next month.

But they will have an open house Oct. 22-23 to which the public is invited to get a glimpse of what a B&B is all about. The Canton Historical Society will participate in the open house. A $2 donation will be accepted at the door with all proceeds going to the society. Folk singer Dusty Rhodes will provide entertainment. Door prizes will be offered. "The local businesses I went to were so generous, Bernadette Van Lenten said.

Planning commissioners recommended approval of the site plans and special land uses for both B&Bs Oct. 3. Both couples must make some Kevin Mill and Gary Johnson are here to tell you that they will do all it takes to make the Canton-owned Pheasant Run Golf Course top notch and renowned.

"It can be as difficult as a major tournament or as easy as a nicer upscale course," said course operations manager Mills, about the $5 million 18-hole championship course now under construction immediately west of Canton Center, south of Cherry Hill.

Mill, a veteran Canton parks and recreation supervisor, will oversee golf course operations, as well as grounds maintenance for township parks. Johnson is the new grounds superintendent, who will be responsible for course maintenance.

"He was highly recruited by us," Mill said of Johnson, who came

Police plan to continue seat belt crackdown

By Joanne Maliszewski Staff Writer

The special enforcement program may be over, but Canton police will continue to keep their eyes — and their ticket books — on motorists who aren't using their safety belts.

"Officers will continue to look at safety-belt enforcement. Safety belts save lives. They cut down on loss to life, families, businesses and in-come," said Canton Sgt. Ed Tanner, who is in charge of the Canton Police Department's selective enforcement Canton Township recently completed a program of enforcement and education in the use of safety belts for adults and children. The township was one of 10 communities plus the Wayne County Sheriff's Department to receive a federal highway safety grant through the Office of Highway Safety Planning. Canton got $2,855.69 out of a total of $30,000 grant money.

Canton got the fourth highest amount of grant money because Ford Road and Michigan Avenue were among the four major thoroughfares with the greatest number of traffic crashes and the most injuries. Eight Mile Road and Telegraph were the

During the four-hour blocks of time, police in specially marked patrol cars enforced the state's safetybelt law. Of the 257 citations issued, 158 were for seat-belt or child-restraint violations, 79 for speeding and 20 for miscellaneous traffic violations. Six arrests were made. Fifteen warnings also were issued, but not all verbal warnings were recorded. Tanner said.

"Non-compliance (with safety-belt laws) is still a problem for Wayne County," Tanner said. "Because we found low compliance, we will actively continue enforcement."

In 1992, 132 crashes were reported on Canton's part of Michigan Avenue. That same year, 260 crashes were reported on Ford Road in Canton.

The grant money was used to pay officers for 92 hours of enforcement

Hopefuls split on Proposal C

By LEONARD POGER

There are major differences be ween state Senate nominees Charles Griffin, a Westland Dem ocrat, and Loren Bennett, a Can ton Township Republican as revealed at a Westland Chamber of Commerce candidates' forum Wednesday night.

The candidates seeking the open Senate seat on the Nov. 8 ballot disagreed on the merits of a major auto insurance proposal on the ballot, compulsory arbitration for public school employees to resolve salary disputes, and whether state services should be handled by private companies.

Office gift shops aid busy workers

ast week I took you inside two unique shops that prosper in unusual locations, a public library and a hotel lobby. I so enjoy ed making these discoveries that I scouted out several more hidden treasures for today's column.

Next time you need a gift, try shopping at your community hospital, the local art association, a neighborhood church or synagogue, or even the office building on the corner. Often, the most intri guing retailers operate without the advantages of neon signs or glitzy window displays. It's up to

Judy Franker & Associates is one such gem. Located in a nondescript office suite at 2900 Maple Rd. in Troy, this antiques and decorative arts gallery makes the most of its inconspicuous space. Franker fills the showroom with affordable antique accessories and furniture, vintage toys, textiles and architecturals. A quick tour will give you a sampling

The business men and women who spend their days in the Travelers Tower building at 26555 Evergreen in Southfield, are all very familiar with Potpourri Gifts and Books on the first floor. Manager Dede Andreas greets her customers by name and often acts as their personal shopper, or dering favorite books and expediting their gift lists. Her shoppers know they can breeze in on their lunch hour, choose a baby gift for the shower after work, and Dede will have it wrapped and ready to go at 5 p.m. On the spot service

The need for personal service and convenience is what prompted owner Susan Maxwell, a teacher at Berkley High School, to open her store in an office building, catering to nine-to-fivers. "Women often run in in the morning needing a pair of earrings for a meeting because they forgot theirs at home," says Andreas. "We just let them borrow a pair for a few hours, and they usually like them so much, they end up buying them."

Lunch hours and afternoon breaks fill the shop with those looking for a greeting card, a bestseller (all discounted up to 40-percent), stationery, business-related books, stuffed animals (the $30 Igusns is a top seller), candles and children's toys. Store hours are Monday-Friday, 10 a.m. to around

Northville artist exhibits her work

Artwork created by Johnnie Crosby, a Northville water color painter formerly of Plymouth, will be on display at the Our Town Art Exhibition and Sale at the Community House in downtown Birmingham at 380 South Bates. Our Town, now in its ninth year, is a juried exhibition featuring 350 pieces of art from 230 Michigan artists. The exhibition opens 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, with a private preview, and is then open to the public Thursday, Oct. 20, through Sunday, Oct. 23. There is no admission fee. All artwork is for sale.

Partial proceeds from the sale of the art will benefit The Community House, a nonprofit organization established in 1923. It is a multi-purpose facility that provides educational, social and cultural programs, child care, employment assistance, meeting rooms, banquet and catering services, and group travel activities.

Five days of programs, speakers and awards have been planned beginning with the Gala Preview at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19. At 7:30 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 20 Julie Dawson, a Birmingham artist, will speak at the Professional Women's Breakfast. The title of her talk is "The World Through the Heart of an Artist." The tickets are $5. At noon that day, there will be a luncheon and speaker held at The Community House. Tickets for this events are limited, cost is $20.

Wake up with coffee brewed to perfection alleyrand, the noted French diplomat, described the perfect cup of coffee as "Black as the devil, hot as hell, pure as an angel, sweet as love.

Americans, though somewhat less vehement, also take their coffee seriously; we drink an astonishing two-thirds of the world's supply. Excuse the pun but specialty coffee shops are the "hot" items at every mall you walk through. Good old Gloria Jean, the metro area's coffee queen, had better be prepared because rumor has it that we're about to be tempted with another major coffee retailer.

I'm one of those people who can't seem to function without my morning wake-up coffee. Lately, with prices envying that of choice meat, I've cut back to two big cups per day, but have been know to put away much more. Like wine grapes, coffee beans vary in quality from year to year, and that's why prices skyrocketed about 3 months ago. They will stay that way until late spring or summer of 1995 when the new harvest begins.

Coffee is the world's second largest commodity, right after oil, but it's a much more fragile and delicate product than most people think. Coffee beans are not beans at all, but the pits of a cherrylike fruit from an evergreen tree grown in many parts of the world.

Coffee is imported from Central American and South America, notably Brazil, Costa Rica, and Guatemala. It's also grown in East and West Africa, Ethiopia, Indonesia and the West Indies. We've all heard of Kona which is grown on the slopes of Hawaiian volcanoes. Trial by fire in a roasting machine produces roasts from the lightest cinnamon color to the blackest espresso. The more versatile and most blended coffees usually are roasted a chestnut color with the fuller flavor Viennese, French and Italian roasts coming in

For those of us who have a tendency to shake a bit after the first cup, decaffeinated coffees have been freed of their stimulating effect by a chemical or organic solvent which reduces the kick, but supposedly preserves the taste.

To make a perfect cup of coffee, whether from commercially vacuumed packages or freshly ground beans, you should follow certain rules

First, match the grind of the coffee to the method of brewing. Percolators use a regular grind while automatic drip and filter cone makers take a drip grind; vacuum coffee makers use a fine grind as does espresso makers. Always use two level tablespoons of coffee to six ounces of freshly drawn cold water newly brought to a boil.

Those coffee makers you program the night before to be ready with the smell of fresh coffee are not what they're cracked up to be because the fresher and colder the water, the better the coffee. The best way to make coffee is with the quick and easy drip method, while the ubiquitous American percolator wins the prize for making the absolute worst. It either boils the coffee or fails to heat it enough and usually extends the brewing cycle, extracting oils mercilessly from the beans producing a bitter, parboiled liquid.

No matter how careful your preparation nor how fine your machine, it will all be for naught if the beans or ground coffee aren't fresh. Once beans are roasted, they usually maintain their freshness for only about three weeks.

Once ground, all beans begin to lose their flavor immediately and are at their best for only 4-5 days. For the freshest coffee, buy the coffee in small quantities and store the beans or ground mixture in an airtight canister at room tempera-ture or in an airtight glass jar in the refrigerator or freezer. This method should keep them as fresh as possible for at least 2-3 weeks, but remember that everytime you open the lid, a little freshness es-

So now you have the freshest beans, the colde water and the right measurements. What you need to realize now is that the pot itself must be absoto realize now is that the pot itself must be absolutely clean and free of any oils and residues from previous batches. The pot should be washed in hot soapy water and meticulously rinsed and drained on a daily basis. The pot itself should never be allowed to sit on a heater element for longer than one hour. Leftover coffee grounds, by the way, make an excellent compost and mine occasionally end up around the rhododendron and azales bush in the backyard.

Americana are known to have the himset offer.

Americans are known to have the biggest coffe habit in the world, so you might as well uphold to national average of 2.06 cups a day with blends that please you. No matter what, it is unlikely that your consumption will match Voltaire's 72 cups a day or that your cup will equal the "bath-tub sized" one favored by Teddy Roosevelt (who spoke softly and always carried a big mug.)

Restaurants pitch in to feed hungry

Eat out on Oct. 13 to support Michigan's campaign to fight hunger. Participating restaurants will donate up to 7 percent of their gross receipts hunger relief.

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT SPECIAL WRITER

If you've ever walked past a restaurant dumpster on a sweltering summer day a question might come to mind. How much food gets thrown out, and isn't there a better way?

Closer to home, plenty of food gets wasted in our houses and apartments, from the moldy tomatoes to the rotted lettuce to the chocolate cookies gone soft. It wouldn't hurt any kitchen to get more efficient and less waste-

The issue arises because Oct. 13 is World Food Day, and it's worth thinking about such things, for one day at least.

It is also worthwhile to note that dozens of Detroit-area restaurants again are taking part Oct. 13 in the Seven Percent Solution, a pledge on the part of restaurant owners to donate seven percent of their gross receipts to the Food Bank Council of Michigan. The organization is a statewide network of food banks that supplies soup kitchens, shelters and other non-profit feeding agencies.

"We're in the food business and this is our way of giving back to the community," said Robert Jacobs of Buddy's Pizza, who is participating in the event with over 100 restaurants throughout the metro area. "We're trying to raise money, and generate an awareness of world hunger. The problem is much greater than you might think," said Jacobs, a resident of West Bloomfield.

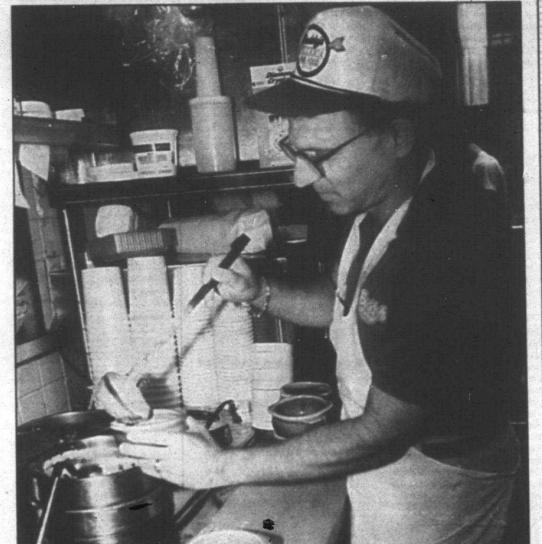

Gleaners Food Bank in Detroit is one of the food banks who will benefit from the event, and president Jean Gonya said the Seven Percent Solution helps increase awareness of the problem of hunger and that the money raised "feeds a lot of hungry peo-

The Gleaners Community Food Bank's member agencies serve about 150,000 meals per year.

But back to the question of efficiency. Ifendu Nnanna, associate professor of food and nutrition at Wayne State University, said he has observed that restaurants in America can be wasteful places.

"You see people go to a restaurant, order something, take a bite, then leave it to be thrown away and still pay for it," said Nnan-na, a Nigerian native. "That is not some-

They have dinner ready and waiting for mom

BY SANDRA DALKA-PRYSBY SPECIAL WRITER

While many parents have a chagrin look on their faces when talking about their teenagers, Ka-thy Barton of Troy smile when she men ns Karie, 16, and Marcie, 14. There are many reasons for this, one of which is that the two girls make dinner for her that the two girls make dinner for her just about every night.

"After working all day it's great to come home to a hot meal that's ready to go on the table," said the single morn. "And it's usually a good meal. As the girls get older, their cooking and baking gets better."

Marcie, a freshman at Troy High School, is the main chef in the family. She picks the recipes, add the needed ingredients to the shopping list, and prepares the dishes. Her sister, Karie, a sophomore at the same school, helps by making salads, dishing up desserts, and setting the table.

"If I do making something, it's usually cookies," she said. "I just don't like cooking as much as my sister

According to the girls, they make dinner, not because it's an assigned task, but because they want to show their mother how much they appreciate all she does for them.

'She works real hard to give us the things we want," said Marcie. "Mak-ing dinner is just one way we can thank her.

Karie added that there is an advantage to having dinner ready when mom arrives home. "We don't have to waste time waiting for mom to make dinner. We eat right away then and we have the whole evening to do other things, such as homework and talking to friends on the phone." Other things include babysitting and work-ing on SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving) projects.

Barton said that she feels fortunate to have such caring daughters. "I'm also glad that I taught the girls basic cooking and baking skills when they

While they had a foundation of cooking from their mom, the girls said that home economic classes that took in middle school gave them the confidence to prepare and serve "whole"

"In school I learned what to serve with main dishes and what should be included to make the meals healthy," said Marcie.

Some of the recipes Marcie uses came from her cooking classes. Others are family favorites. Also, all three Barton women look for new recipes in newspapers and magazines.

"I try to make a variety of dinners. so that they are not the same thing night after night," said Marcie. "Ba-sically, I make a meat, a potato or rice and vegetables, unless I make a pasta dish."

Karie said that her sister is usually a good cook. "There were just a few times that her meals just didn't make it, including the bright pink chicken (it was undercooked) that she recently served."

Barton said that she is happy that the girls, especially Marcie, have be-come more proficient in the kitchen. "When Marcie first started to cook she would cut herself regularly. Now she is much better with kitchen uten-sils."

Michigan is the second largest producer of parsnips. Turnips come from California, Colorado and Indiana, while Canada supplies most of the rutabaga! All three of these are available year

A parsnip resembles a top heavy, ivory carrot with a mild celery like fragrance and a sweet nutty flavor. Parsnips are a member of the carrot family but unlike carrots, parsnips are always eaten cooked. Cooked they have a texture and flavor somewhere between carrots and sweet potatoes. Parsnips have no beta carotene but are a good source of vitamin C

Parsnips can be left in the ground even after a hard frost. The cold air starts the conversion of starch to sugar which gives the parsnip a sweet flavor. The ones purchased, have been stored in cold storage after harvesting to make the starch to sugar conversion. Some gardeners leave parsnips in the ground and dig them the next spring.

Parsnips keep best in perforated plastic bags in the refrigerator crisper. Remove tops before storing in refrigerator and store up to four weeks.

Look for parsnips that are small, the larger ones may have

Canton running well

lymouth Canton's girls cross country team kept its dual-meet record perfect with an easy 18-44 win over Walled Lake Western Thursday at Willis Park

Canton improved to 3-0. Becky Wolfrom and Beth Knight led the onslaught with a one-two finish, Wolfrom finishing first in 21:14 and Knight second in 21:57. Other scorers for the Chiefs: Jamie Vergari, fourth (22:37); Casey Swanson, fifth (22:58); and Tracey Cavin, sixth (23:11).

Salem sabotaged

wo quick strikes by Walled Lake Central in the first half put Plymouth Salem into a hole it could not clamber out of Wednesday at Central, as the Rocks lost 3-1.

The defeat dropped them to 8-3-3 overall, 5-3-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division. Central is 9-4-1 overall, 4-3-1 in the Western Division.

We dominated the first 20 minutes and couldn't score," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. Then they scored twice to make it 2-0.

Salem cut the deficit to 2-1 at halftime when Scott Buczek took control of a loose ball and netted it just before the intermission.

"We pressed in the second half but just couldn't score," said Johnson. "We felt we could come back at the half but it got too crowded and we couldn't get a good shot off (Central plays on a smaller field)."

Eagles soar

unior Shaun Walker gave Plymouth Christian Academy a 2-0 lead, and the Eagles went on to defeat visiting Dearborn Fairlane Christian in soccer Friday, 4-0.

Walker scored his first goal on a header off a corner kick by senior Dan House, and he lifted a shot from 30 yards to score his second. Junior Biran Fair converted a penalty kick to give Plymouth Christian a 3-0 halftime lead, and House accounted for the fourth goal.

Junior Jamie Neil played three quarters of the game in goal for the Eagles before freshman Ben Davis finished it. Senior center-halfback Ryan Thomason, a four-year starter and three-year captain, was a standout for Plymouth Christian, according to coach Gregg Gustafson.

For a school like us, we don't get too many players like him too often," he said. The Eagles are 6-2-2 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and 7-3-2 overall.

Madonna rules at home

he Madonna University soccer team made its home debut Thursday a successful one, blanking and really dominating Lawrence Technological University 3-0.

The win, in the school's first season of soccer, raised the Fighting Crusaders' record to 4-5.

Their current pitch may not be the best, but it is centrally located - just northwest of the pond behind the school - and it is in a picturesque setting, surrounded by trees.

But a beautiful setting isn't the reason coaches like having a home field. Madonna showed its val-ue with Thursday's win, which although one-sided could have been far more lopsided. The Crusaders led 1-0 at the half on a goal by Christian Emert, who put in a rebound of a Nate Stovall shot. Nick Matovski made it 2-0 early in the second half, popping in a loose ball from right in front of the LTU net.

Stovall capped the scoring with his fifth goal of he season, converting a cross from Emert. Dan McEvilly was in goal nearly the entire game to claim the shutout, but he was hardly tested. Indeed, LTU hardly penetrated Madonna's end of the field in the second half.

"That's what I told them I wanted them to do in the second haif — keep the ball down in their end the whole time," said Crusader coach Pete Alexander. "We weren't really with it too well in the first Madonna, which originally was scheduled to use Livonia Ladywood's new field (it hasn't been com-pieted), has three other home matches slated: De-troit College of Business Thursday, Tri-State Uni-versity next Monday, and Ferris State Oct. 23. All will start at 4 p.m.

Clinic at Garden City

wo U-Can-Shoot clinics, sponsored by Big Bill's Sport Shop Inc. and Little Bill's Tro-phies, will be held Saturday, Oct. 15, at the larden City Junior High School. Pat Miller, former men's basketball coach at forthwood University, will be instructing the suc-essful shooting methods taught to numerous

NBA players.
Interested boys and girls aged 10-18 can attend either three-hour clinic (noon to 3 p.m. or 4-7

Players can register the day of the clinic but are urged to register early because enrollment is limited. Cost is $20 per player and all registered youngsters receive a free basketball.

Salem qualifies for Class A finals

It's been a week of close calls, and fortunately for Plymouth Salem's golf team, the results have all favored

The Rocks made the cut Friday at the Class A state regional at Brighton's Oak Pointe - but this time, they didn't need their extra golfer to decide it. Salem advanced by virtue of its four best scores, which happened to be one stroke better than the fourth-place (and non-qualifying)

And who would that be? None other than Livonia Churchill, the team Salem edged for the Western Lakes Activities Association championship last Tuesday - on its sixth golfers' score, which was one better than Churchill's sixth man.

Brighton finished first at 302, with Howell - paced by medalist Shawn Koch's one-under par 70 - second at 309. Salem secured the final qualifying spot for the state tournament with a 320; Churchill was next at 321.

Other local team scores at the 18team regional: Walled Lake Western, ninth (333); Westland John Glenn, 12th (344); Plymouth Canton, 13th (345); Farmington, 14th (347); Livo-nia Franklin, 15th (348); Garden City, 17th (366); and Livonia Stevenson, 18th (370).

Salem now advances to the Class A state tournament Friday and Saturday at Forest Akers Golf Course. The two-day championship starts at For-est Akers East Friday; the top 10 teams then advance to Saturday's final at Forest Akers West.

"I never, never thought it would be one stroke again," said Salem coach Rick Wilson. "Somebody's looking after us. It must be those guardian an-

Those "guardian angels" were pins designed by members of the team pri-or to the WLAA Tournament, aimed at bolstering team confidence. It seems to have worked.

Only this time, instead of getting that boost from an unlikely source junior Ryan Andrzejewski, the team's No. 5 golfer at the end of the dualmeet season, was co-medalist at the WLAA Tournament with a 74 - the seniors led the way.

Mark Wesner, whose sixth-place 82 led the Rocks this time with a 76. Brian Covington, who also had an 82 at the WLAA, was next at the state regional with a 79. Both are seniors.

Next for Salem was Mike Hielmstad's 81 and Andrzejewski's 84. Unlike the dual-meet season (five play, four count), a team plays its top five golfers, with its best four scores counting.

Churchill's scorers were led by Dave Higham with a 77. Gary Kraus shot 78, Chris Kiehler had an 82 and Jason Kiehler scored an 84.

By a single stroke, the Rocks got what they wanted. "We sure did," said Wilson. "And we're pretty excited about it. We just want to go up to the state meet and do well."

And if it's close, bet on the Rocks.

Canton outplayed Northville, but couldn't win

The chances were there, more than one, to put this one up in the victory column. The effort was there, too, and all the numbers favored Canton - except the one that mattered most: the score.

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

One of two things would have saved Friday's homecoming football game against Northville for Plymouth Canton:

Make just one more big play; Make one fewer mistake

In the end, the combination of the two proved too much to overcome for the Chiefs, who lost a game they should have won, 14-9 at PCEP.

Domination? That's what Canton was on offense. The Chiefs ran off 63 plays, gaining 303 yards; Northville managed just 37 plays, gaining 119 yards.

The first half told the story. Northville managed to make one first down the entire half. And still, the Mustangs led 7-3 at the intermission. Mistakes, mistakes, mistakes.

There was little Canton coach Bob Khoenle could say. The Chiefs had posted three wins in a row coming into the Northville game; they should have been rolling onward with No. 4, heading into a Western Division showdown with Farmington Harrison.

Instead, they're 3-3 and battling to stay above .500.

Two blocked punts. Two interceptions. A fumble. An opponents' offense doesn't have to be exceptional when it's given that many chances. The pivotal drive, fittingly, did not result in any points. It started at the Canton 21, the Chiefs in possession, in the closing seconds of the third quarter. It lasted 13 plays, including me very, very big ones.

Rob Johnson was quarterbacking for Canton, in place of starter Brett Elledge, who suffered a concussion late in the first half and was transported to the hospital at halftime. The Chiefs faced a third-down-and-7 from their own 24; they converted, Len Gardner gaining 11.

They faced a third-and-10 at mid-field; Johnson's pass completion to Mike Musser gained 12.

They faced a fourth-and-1 at the Northville 15; Johnson sprinted around right end, outlegging the Mustang defenders and diving for the first

Gardner followed with a 4-yard gain to the 10. Then, on second-and-6, Johnson faked a handoff and zipped a pass over the middle, a quick post route.

Intercepted by Garrett Carter with 7:31 remaining.

"That throw down here - God," mumbled Khoenle afterwards. Later, he elaborated: "That was not a good call. Never mind it being intercepted. It was not a good call."

Marathon - a plain near the village of East Attica in Greece on which the Athenians defeated a superior (in size) force of Persians in 490 B.C.; also, a footrace of 26 miles, 385 yards, the supposed distance a Greek runner traveled to announce the above historic victory — before falling dead.

The lesson of the marethon, one always as-amed from ancient history, was that it killed the first guy to ever try it.

In more recent times, people would train for a full year or more for a single marathon. Travel back in time just a couple of decades and one would discover that this race was the elite of en-

But that was then. And two or three decades is ancient history in endurance racing.

Last month, Tom Taylor of Plymouth showed just how ancient. Taylor ran, and won, the 24-hour National Championship at Olander Park in Sylvania, Ohio. The 39-year-old ran for the first 22 hours and opened up such a large lead — by his estimate, he was up by 11 miles — that he slowed to a walk the final two hours.

His final distance didn't match the world

In the end, what convinced him was some of his fellow Redford Roadrunners, the club he runs with. The idea intrigued him; soon, he was in training.

But it wasn't for this 24-hour test. First on Taylor's agenda was the 100-mile Leadville Trail run, through the Rocky Mountains in Colorado. The objective: Complete the 100-mile run in the 30hour time limit. On a course that was oftentimes over mountain trails, and ranged from 10,000 to 13,000 feet in altitude, that was quite a challenge.

But Taylor met it. Only 156 of the 315 runners who started the race finished in the time limit;

Taylor was eighth, completing the course in 20 hours, 51 minutes.

That got him ready for his next test - the race in Sylvania. "It's amazing what you can get your cupid on the clock you're selling plays a tin whistle. It's a good selling point, so you punch up our wait for the operator to steps for changing your ad. Have in mind the exact information you want to give us, speak clearly and usually do. And that's it. If it's after 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, your changes will be made for the next Monday paper. Or, if it's after 5:00 p.m. on a Friday or the weekend, your changes will hit the Thursday papers. Pretty neat, huh? Of course, our Classified

Ad Takers are here every

from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. But now, if you miss them, you can still do something about your ad - at your convenience.

Lamb Chop adding segment on numbers series for children ages 2-9 that encourages viewers to stretch their minds and bodies with games, songs and good conversation. It airs weekdays on PBS (check local listings).

"I have been off the air for many years in America because I would not do a junky show," Lewis says. "I believe that children deserve the very best. That's how taste is developed." Currently Lewis uses proceeds from the sale of Lamb Chop toys to offset the cost of the show.

PBS' new Ready to Learn initiative, a unifying principle for all its children's educational programming, "has clearly focused me on letters and numbers," Lewis says. In Play-Along episodes for 1995, Lewis will add a segment called Fun With Numbers.

"As we learn to read," Lewis notes, "we're motivated by our curiosity. What does the street sign say? What does the cereal box say?"

Finding the same "comfort with numbers," she believes, is more difficult. "We find that comfort by using them again and again in playful ways ... giving kids a sense that numbers are fun and useful tools at our command."

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

You may find you have made a mistake There are times when you wish you that will be difficult to rectify. Someone close to you might offer assistance, but it may be too late.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20) It is important to open your mind to change. You may think twice about being part of an organization just for the sake of belonging.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20) A karmic lesson has been completed, and you should have learned from the experience. There will be improvements in business and health.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20) It seems as though something is out of sequence, and it will not be easy to get it straightened out. Take another look to see if your original goals are on course.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21) Someone who opposes your ideas could delay your plans. It is imperative that you put a stop to any unnecessary spending.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

There could be problems with relationships at home and work. Getting away from it all, even for a day, will help you see the situations more clearly.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18) If it seems like no one understands you, only make things worse later.

it is probably because you never let anyone know how you feel. Talk to those closest to you.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20) Your position is stronger than you think, and you can't let others take advantage of you. Be patient; everything will work out in the end.

Life's too short to miss out on moments like this.

Are you missing out on more than you'd like to? Not satisfied with the things you can't do because you can't hear well enough? You owe it to yourself to try

Things looking Hope-ful in Chicago on CBS

BY JEFF PLASS

Chicago Hope, airing Thursdays on CBS, is a fine medical drama.

Unfortunately for both the program and the television viewing population, the show goes head to head with NBC's ER on Thursdays. And as long as the two programs air simultaneously, viewers will be forced to choose between the two. and both shows will suffer.

Hope stars Mandy Patinkin. Adam Arkin, E.G. Marshall, Roxanne Hart, Peter MacNicol, Roma Maffia and Hector Elizondo. The program examines the all-toohuman sides of the people who practice contemporary medicine within the walls of Chicago Hope Hospital.

The show's creator and executive producer, David E. Kelley (L.A. Law Picket Fences), admits that while the medical profession is changing by leaps and bounds every day with the discovery of genetic breakthroughs and much more, "we are really only beginning to discover the beginning of discovery."

What really drew Kelley to the subject matter was the role that doctors have to play in today's society while wielding such awesome responsibility.

"Doctors today have to function as both practitioners and pioneers." Kelley states. "They live in a world where the Lazarus Syndrome is there very day, where they're caught between their human emotions and having to play God.

"That was the seed of the idea that drew me to the subject matter. It does get away from the law, but a lot of the ethical arguments that I found fascinating in the world of law are also prevalent in this world

The show's ensemble cast boasts a slew of multitalented, award-winning (and numerously nominated) actors. Indeed, the show seems to be getting some substantial mileage out of Tony Award-winner Patinkin's virtuoso vocal chords.

His character, the brilliant, forceful and somewhat egomanical Dr. Jeffrey Geiger, often is featured crooning in various settings that range from the operating room to behind the wheel of his BMW.

'Normally," Patinkin jokes, what will happen is for most of the show, if it's 45 minutes of show time, I sing for about 42 minutes. and there's a small, little operation "

Patinkin, who recently released his third solo album, "Mandy Patinkin: Experiment," began his concert singing career in 1989. Since then, he has toured across the United States and Canada, performing songs from the stage by writers such as Stephen Sondheim, Rodgers and Hammerstein and Kander and Ebb. among others.

"There (was) a certain amount of discussion whether or not a doctor. like the one I play, would be able to sing the way I sing," Patinkin adds. "Maybe I would have to not sing that way. Sing rotten is the idea. So I (needed) to speak to David (E. Kelley) about that."

Evidently, Patinkin's pleas pleas didn't fall on deaf ears - Dr. Geiger has appeared singing beautifully on the show, most touchingly in a scene in the second episode, where he sings to his institutionalized wife, comforting her through her straight lacket.

It really is a crying shame the powers that he decided that competing for the almighty advertising dollar is more important than bringing quality television to the masses.

Goodness knows the world could do without programs like Walker. Texas Ranger and umpteen different Dateline programs per week. Why not submarine one of these shows in order to free up a nonconflicting time slot?

Obviously the answer to that question lies buried in a sea of numbers, ratings, points, shares and the like, but it would be nice to live in the kind of world where some of the best shows the networks have to offer didn't have to cannibalize each other and everybody could just get

Boxing back on CBS: Buddy vs. Barry on Fox BY JEFF PLASS

Ring the bell. The sweet science has made its way back to CBS, as the network's Eye on Sports presents world championship boxing on Saturday. Oct. 15.

CBS debuted the pugilistic addition to Eve on Sports last Saturday, Oct. 8.

This week's matchup pits IBF World bantamweight champion Orlando Canizales (37-1-1, 28KOs) against 1992 Olympian Sergio Reyes (10-0-0, 3KOs) from Laredo, Texas. When the bell rings, Canizales will break the alltime record for consecutive defenses of the bantamweight title.

In other sports action this week, it's the Buddy vs. Barry Show on Sunday, Oct. 9, as the NFL on Fox presents a showdown between NFC East rivals. the Arizona Cardinals and the Dallas Cowboys. New Cardinals head coach Buddy Ryan looks to steal one at Texas Stadium from first-year Cowboys coach Barry Switzer. On TNT. the Washington Redskins take on the Philadelphia Eagles in another NFC

East divisional duel

Monday Night Football, the Minnelands to visit the New York Giants.

TNT also offers a special Thursday night matchup of AFC Central opponents on Oct. 13, as the Cleveland Browns travel to the Astrodome to face the Houston Oilers Mondays on Fox, Heather Locklear stars as Amanda Woodward in Melrose Place.

On the Oct. 10 installment of ABC's sota Vikings set sail for the Meadow-

Michigan's 127th Fighter Wing featured on Discovery Channel

GUARD BASE, MICH. - On the 23rd of October, 1994, the Discovery Channel's "Discovery Sunday" program will air a 30-minute documentary on the Michigan Air National Guard's 127th Fighter Wing.

This action-packed show will highlight Selfridge-based F-16

SELFRIDGE AIR NATIONAL Fighting Facions with many flying scenes. It also features the many men and women of the Michigan Air Guard who keep these high performance aircraft in the air.

The 127th Fighter Wing, commanded by Brigadier General Allan W. "Elliott" Ness, is made up of over 1,000 Air Guard members from the Detroit area as well as all over Michigan. It's a good bet you may see one of your neighbors in action doing the work of your nation's de-

Once again, this show will air on cables' Discovery Channel on the "Discovery Sunday" program, October 23, at 10:30 p.m EDT.

SOAP WORLD

Couple needs new place to reside on Y&R BY CANDACE HAVENS

Dear Candace: I have been watching The Young and the Restless for 20 years. The living situation for Cole and Victoria does not make sense! Why don't they have a nicer, more private place to live, especially now that Cole and Nikki's secret is out?

It doesn't seem too likely that this young couple would want to continue living on the ranch. Let's get real. -Diane S., Chillicothe, Mo:

Dear Reader: Few things are making sense on Y&R these days. The excuse in the beginning was that Vicky and Cole wanted to stay close to family, and they didn't have much money. But Cole's book was a success and Victoria can't stand her mother, so there isn't really a reason for them to stay in the tack room. Most likely it is convenient for the writers and set designers to leave the couplewhere they are. Developing a new set for the couple's home would be very expensive.

Dear Candace: I really like the show One West Waikiki. I was wondering if the actor who plays the police detective was ever on the soaps. He seems very familiar but I can't place him. -T.M. in

Dear Reader: It is quite possible you have seen Richard Burgi, who plays the detective, on several soap operas. The actor was most recently Philip on Days of Our Lives. He was also Glen on As the World Turns and Randy on One Life

Dear Candace: I agree with those folks who wrote into you. I am also mad at the writers for All My Children. This whole Erica/Dimitri/Jack thing has gone on way too long. Jack should have stayed with Laurel. They were wonderful together.

I have to admit that when the writers first put Erica and Dimitri together I didn't care for them much. But I grew to love seeing them together.

I am also upset about Jane and Trevor. Hasn't that poor man been through enough? Trevor is one of my favorite characters and I would like to see him happy for just a little while. -J.R. in Georgia.

Bon Jovi masters drop cloths; Masters drops Domingo into season

Rocker Jon Bon Jovi will make his acting debut as the romantic lead in Moonlight and Valentino, with Whoopi Goldberg, Kathleen Turner and Elizabeth Perkins.

The rock star plays a house painter who sweeps a young widow off her feet.

HBO's current production slate includes The Celluloid Closet, a feature-length documentary set to air in late 1995. The film is based on the Vito Russo book about the portrayal of gay and lesbian characters in mainstream movies.

Meanwhile, HBO Showcase is developing Atomic Mafia, a two-part dramatic miniseries about a plot to smuggle nuclear materials out of the former Soviet Union and what might happen if they fell into the hands of terrorists.

Material for the script is being gathered from eyewitnesses with links to Scotland Yard, Interpol, the CIA and the KGB. Atomic Mafia is also set for a 1995 debut.

Next on HBO's to-do list is Going, Going, Almost Gone! Animals in Danger, a family special being produced in cooperation with the World Wildlife Fund.

Slated for a November debut, the half-hour special will feature voiceovers by Phil Hartman, Bernadette Peters, Ed Asner, Jasmine Guy, Judd Hirsch and Geoffrey Holder.

The Kennedy Center Honors, presented as a gala two-hour special each holiday season on CBS, is scheduled to be taped in early December in Washington, D.C. The honorees are Kirk Douglas. Aretha Franklin, Pete Seeger, composer Morton Gould and producer/director Harold Prince.

Kathleen Turner

And speaking of people outstanding in their fields, PBS' American Masters begins the season in November with a tip of its 10-gallon hat to cowboy humorist Will Rogers.

Also on tap are retrospectives of the work of Tennessee Williams, Edgar Allen Poe, Rod Serling, Richard Avedon, the comedy team of Mike Nichols and Elaine May and "adopted American" Placido Domingo.

Adam Arkin plays a doctor at a large hospital in Chicago Hope, Thursdays on CBS.

Fridays on Fox, Gillan Anderson plays FBI agent Dana Scully in The X-Files.

Charlotte Ross plays newlywed Bree in The Five Mrs. Buchanans, Saturdays on CBS.

No commercials. No static. No interruptions.
