Woman, 48, dies following two-car accident

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI STAFF WRITER

A 48-year-old Canton woman died en route to the University of Michigan Hospitals near midnight Friday following a two-car accident at Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads.

Mafalda M. Brito of Canton Crossings Apartments died while being transported to the University of Michigan Hospitals from Annapolis Hospital in Wayne where the Canton Fire Department took her following the accident, said Canton Fire Chief Mike Rorabacher.

Three people were also injured in another two-car accident just before 7 p.m. Friday, on railroads tracks on Warren Road, west of Hix.

An initial investigation showed that Brito was traveling in her 1989 Chevrolet Cavalier eastbound on Cherry Hill when she apparently disregarded a flashing red light at the Canton Center intersection and was struck by a 1982 Ford Mustang driven by a 50-year-old Canton resident who was traveling southbound on Canton Center. The Canton Fire Department also transported him to Annapolis Hospital.

This was Canton's eighth fatal accident this year, an increase over 1993. A majority of the accidents occurred at intersections. At least one other accident involved a driver disregarding a flashing red light at the intersection of Canton Center and Warren roads in August.

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro asked Wayne County to review the flashing red

Employers control tax costs, says study

According to a recently issued federal study, Michigan's unemployment tax system gives employers greater control over their unemployment tax costs than systems in most other states.

Can Democrats Represent The Suburbs?

Yes, if we remember the following

1. The Democratic Party's purpose is to represent the interest of people who work for a living, their families and retirees. Most people in the suburbs fall in this category. If an issue concerns this group, it is a partisan issue for Democrats. If it doesn't concern this group, it is not.

constituents. We have recently seen the Republican Party make refinancing of schools a party issue even though it pitted the interest of the suburbs against outstate areas. The suburbs wanted to keep their tax dollars at home. Outstate areas wanted to tap in on the suburban wealth. Because it was a partisan issue to Republicans, we saw the suburban . Republican legislators vote against the interest of their own constituents. Democrats should never do this

3. Democrats must recognize that the suburban voters want value for their tax dollar and do not believe they are currently getting it. Suburban voters are justifiable critical of small things such as legislators using the taxpayers' money to send out "constituent newsletters" that look like campaign pieces. And large things such as a welfare program that doesn't work very well.

4. Democrats must recognize that, as a general rule, the suburban taxpayers pay more taxes than their counterparts in the core cities or outstate. Their tax dollars go in part to support these other area. Before they are willing to send their tax dollars out of town, they must see that they are getting government services at home. They want and deserve to have safe streets and good schools before they start paying for

Miller stumps to bump secretary of state Austin

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

"Austin has grabbed the Miller Action Plan," chuckled Candice Miller, the 40-year-old Republican who wants to replace Secre-tary of State Richard Austin, 81. "I'm not interested in legisla tive work. I'm a hands-on administrator. You're gonna see Candice Miller behind the counter occasionally," said Gov. John Engler's hand-picked choice for the No. 3 job in state government.

Miller spent 12 years as super-visor of Harrison Township and the past two as Macomb County treasurer. Her political claim to fame is defeating incumbent Democrats.

Technology is the theme of her campaign for a post that rarely involves partisan philosophy questions. Items in Miller's plan:

Renewing vehicle registration by Touch-Tone telephone. "It's already available in Wisconsin for vehicle registration and changes of title. It's available 24 hours a day in your home, and it takes three minutes. He (Austin) is now saying they're looking at it."

Installing automatic teller machines at malls and high-traffic shopping areas where people can renew their driver's licenses and pay for services by credit card. Reporting election results by computer. She announced her plan some weeks before Austin's office announced 1994 results would be available on Internet.

Austin on Oct. 7 announced a new service for Eaton, Clinton and Ingham counties, surrounding Lansing: renewing license plates by fax. He expects to expand it statewide. Motorists with a valid credit card number and access to a fax machine can renew a vehicle registration by sending it to 322-6TAB (517-322-6822), he issue whether his opponent stresses it or not. Some top Democrats wanted Austin to step down this year, but Attorney General Frank Kelley, 69, convinced his running mate to stay on the ticket.

Austin, the first black to become a certified public accountant and to be nominated for mayor of Detroit (1969), likens remarks about his age to the racial crimination he has known. "I believe in term limits," Milsaid. The candidate elected Nov. 8 will be the first secretary of state affected by the state constitution's new two-term limit. A Presbyterian, Miller took the eligious right's oath of opposition to abortion - an issue on which the Secretary of State's office has no impact - before winning a contested nomination at the GOP State Convention. Republican county clerks ganged up behind Ottawa County's Dan Krueger. But Engler wanted a southeastern Michigan suburbanite on the ticket. Miller won the nomination easily.

She tours the state, knocking on newspaper doors, particularly in the suburbs. The Democratic slate is concentrating on getting out the vote in Detroit and outstate urban areas.

Married to the retired commander of Selfridge Air National Guard base, Miller has a teen-age daughter, who gives her mother insights into young people's attitudes toward politics ("jaded") and drunken driving (they've been educated against it). Miller wants to do a voter education project in high schools.

The office she seeks has 2,075 mployees and 181 offices, many of which Miller intends to visit and take a turn at the counter. The secretary of state also is a member of the State Administra-

Polls show Austin ahead but with a dwindling lead. Inside Michigan Politics newsletter says "at least one (survey) indicates he's perilously close to the margin of error." IMP expects a GOP landslide that might bring Miller to Lansing in 1995.

Her hopes have brightened since Austin, in a public TV appearance, became confused over whether he's pro-life or prochoice. (He decided he's pro choice on abortion.)

A yes vote was to remove inflation indexing for counties from the bill. Area representatives voting yes were: Carr, Kildee, Lovin. Voting no: Knollenberg and Ford.

Property Rights: By a vote of 234 for and 187 against, the House adopted an amendment on the issue of compensating certain private property owners. The vote occurred as the House passed the American Heritage Partnership Program (HR 5044) authorizing publicprivate compacts to preserve historical and cultural areas. The amendment killed a proposed adninistrative procedure for compensation in cases where property values are substantially diminished by the law. It reaffirmed the traditional recourse of aggrieved parties seeking compensation in court under

That dreaded grocery store

h-oh. There goes my heart. It's racing. Oooh, now I'm woozy, too. And look at this, right here, teeny tiny sweat beads forming on my lip. Can you believe this? This happens to me every single time. Well, I just better get going and get it over with.

Say, maybe if you come with me, it won't be so bad All righty then. Here we are. The dreaded grocery store. NO! I DON'T KNOW HOW MANY BOTTLES

AND CANS I'M RETURNING TODAY. I. Don't. Keep. Track. I refuse. I won't tie a ratty old piece of string to a pencil and tack it up on my laundry room wall next to a sheet of paper so I can force everyone, including company, to tally their cans as they throw them in the paper bag sitting next to a pile of dirty socks. That's crass.

And, no, I haven't considered just dumping the bag on the laundry room floor and getting everything gunked up with splatters of pop so I can count all the cans myself before heading over here.

Why do you always ask me, "How many?" What if, right now, I told you some really stupid number like 2,782. Would you just ring it up and say, "Thanks for knowing how many cans you have"? (Boy, don't you wish you could really say stuff like that when somebody is actually around to hear it? Oh. well.) Now. Look over here. Look at these chees prices. Why aren't they marked in a way that

Celebrities take walk for Hospice

There will be plenty of people walking in the woods on Nov. 15, but there also will be plenty walking the aisles of Jacobson's Laurel Park store during a benefit for Angela Hospice's new pediatric program.

Several metro area media and orts celebrities will walk down the fashion runway on Tuesday, Nov. 15, for the Angela Hospice "Light Up a Life" benefit.

Area celebrities donating their time for the benefit sponsored by the Italian American Club of Livonia and Jacobson's of Laurel Park Place are WXYZ-TV reporters Cheryl Chodun and Dan Springer, Amyre Makupson, co-anchor of WKBD's "Ten O'Clock News" and Jimmy Launce of WJR radio.

Springer, a Detroit native, is a graduate of Michigan State University. He's been a general as-signment reporter at WXYZ since October 1992.

Chodun has been a reporter at Channel 7 since May 1988. An Emmy Award-winning reporter, she previously worked as a writer and producer at Channel 7. She's a graduate of Wayne State Uviversity.

In addition to her duties as co-anchor, Makupson serves as host of the annual "Children's Miracle Network Telethon" on WKBD. She has also hosted "Second Chance: The Road to Recovery," a series of programs focusing on the recovery from alcohol and drug abuse.

WJR radio listeners know veteran Jimmy Launce for his off-beat sense of humor, his unusual program features, such as "Gee, I didn't know that," "Guess who's singing in the shower" and "Guess what I'm holding in my hand."

Also appearing will be Paul Gross of WDIV-TV Channel 4, "Captain" Rick Jagger of WHYT-FM 96.3, Bob Rathbun and Rick Rizzs, Detroit Tigers announcers, and former Detroit Tigers pitcher Milt Wilcox. The benefit is scheduled 6:30-9:30 .m. in Jacobson's at Laurel Park Place, Six Mile and Newburgh roads, Livonia.

Proceeds go to support a new hos-pice pediatric program, "My Nest Is Best," which is set to begin in 1995 the same year Angela Hospice celebrates its 10th anniversary.

Tickets for the fund-raiser are $35 per person and include a "strolling supper" of gourmet appetizers and refreshments from more than 20 area restaurants, and a fashion show featuring men's, women's and children's clothes

Tickets are available from Angela Hospice at (313) 464-7810 or Loretta Bruni at (810) 473-9464.

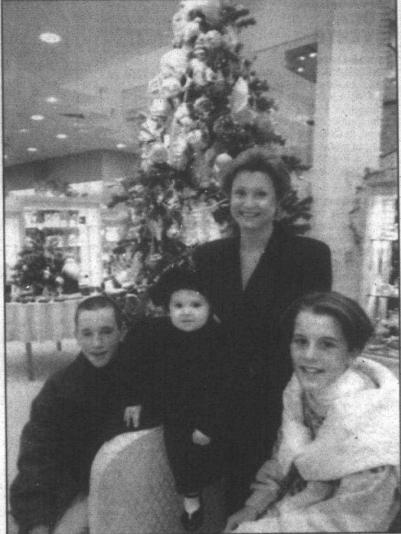

The event will also feature a chocolatier preparing specialty desserts and a raffle with prizes that include airline tickets, a $1,000 shopping spree at Chris Furniture in Livonia and a northern Michigan getaway weekend.

Carolyn DiComo, event chairwoman from Northville Township, said the group hopes to raise $40,000 for the pediatric program at the Livonia-based hospice, which serves western Wayne County and Oakland County.

Italian American Club members come from Livonia, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Westland, Northville, Novi, West Bloomfield, Rochester, Howell, Brighton, Canton Township and Plymouth.

I don't like that. I don't like surprises when it comes to prices. As a matter of fact, I intensely hate it. You know what? I won't buy the cheese if I don't know its price. And if it means homemade pizza with no cheese on it, then, oh, well.

The New Life Center at Providence Park Where families are born...close to home

A COMFORTABLE ATMOSPHERE Imagine giving birth in a comfortable, home-like atmosphere where you make many of the decisions about your birth experience. And then, think about being able to go home within 24 hours after your baby is born. Well, the New Life Center at Providence Park in Novi offers all that, and it's just minutes from home.

A UNIQUE APPROACH

It's a new beginning. A new way of thinking. And an alternative to traditional hospital births*. The New Life Center at Providence Park was born from the success of the New Life Center at Providence Hospital, where for generations, thousands of women have had wonderful, nurturing, family-centered birth experiences.

THE CHOICES ARE MANY

From the moment you choose to have your baby with us, many decisions are yours. You may choose to go natural or to have an epidural. You may also prefer to share the event with your loved ones. But the best part is giving birth in a relaxed, home-like atmosphere and having your baby by your side. What's more, a nurse will come to your home for private, follow-up visits. Because that's the kind of extra care, attention and education people expect from Providence.

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF

But don't take our word for it. Call 1-800-806-BABY for an appointment to see what the New Life Center at Providence Park has to offer expectant families.

Vote Nov. 8 Return Whyman to the House

C anton Township has been well-repre-sented by Deborah Whyman, P.C. sented by Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, and she should be returned to the job of 21st District state representative.

Whyman has grown in the job during her first term and has focused on serving residents well, which is a major portion of the task in Lansing Also, she is no stranger to the local communities. She regularly attends Canton Township meetings and has visited many of the schools in the district, a goal she set for herself two years ago. When first elected, Whyman was perceived as a single-issue, anti-abortion candidate who would walk lock step with the most conservative element of the Republican Party. But that hasn't proved true In an abortion-related vote. she walked away from the anti-abortion side. Like many legislators, Whyman has expanded her political base during her first term in office by attending community events and talking to residents.

Ballot proposals should follow the KISS formula: Keep It Short and Simple. But, like so many statewide ballot questions over the last few years, Proposal C is no KISS.

It is a referendum on the state Legislature's Public Act 143 of 1993, a revision of the auto insurance law. PA 143 is horrendously complex.

Bennett responds

e must be getting near election day because Democratic state Senate candidate Trav Griffin is taking a more and more negative and personal attack posture toward Republican Loren Bennett. And a more false posture. Reluctant as the Bennett campaign is to join the mudslinging battle, it is appropriate to at least clean off the mud that's been thrown. The latest Griffin ad contains three "charges" against Bennett, all easily refuted. Before we return to discussing the issues, please let us respond to the follow-

The Griffin ad claims Bennett voted himself $20,000 in pay increases. This is not true. In six years as clerk, Bennett's pay has risen $13,800, the same as the pay for the Canton treasurer. At an average of $2,300 a year, that's just slightly above the rate of inflation during the 1988-94 period. By contrast, Griffin voted in 1987 to give himself a pay raise of $12,302 in one year. His prerogative. He was mayor. But look who's talking.

The Griffin ad claims Bennett has been "charged" with making $95,000 in a "land deal." If that's the way they want to describe selling your house for $95,000, then we suppose it's true. Has Griffin ever sold a house? Did he consider the entire purchase price he received for his house a profit? That's an interesting style of accounting, but now you know the whole story. No one ever presented this as a "charge," as far as we know, until Griffin's employer, the Michigan Education Association, started making the "charge" in phone calls to its members. And yes, a legal rezoning was required to facilitate the sale. ted all the relevant back ground on this to local media, but will be happy to answer more questions.

The Griffin ad claims Bennett "chose to put a landfill in a Canton neighborhood" to get campaign contributions. Bennett was an ardent opponent of a landfill in Canton until he realized he had no choice. How did he find out he had no choice? When Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan, a Democrat, walked into a meeting with Bennett and Supervisor Tom Yack and said, "We've decided the landfill's going in Canton Township, and there's not a damn thing you can do about it." As for the "neighborhood," the property is industrial and the neighbors are Procoil and Arctic Cold Storage.

We realize truth in a political year is defined as whatever you can get people to be-lieve, we thought you'd like to know the real story. We now return you to our discussion of the issues, already in progress. Loren Bennett, Canton

Tim Richard's article was highly offensive. Richard defines the religious right as follows: Those who are against abortion.

Those who do not agree homosexuals require special rights on par with African Americans, Asian Americans, Native

May I suggest that there are a significant umber of people who believe in the above who are Democrats. Richard goes on to say those who believe these things want to ram fundamentalist Protestantism in everyone's face. We have 30 years of the pagan left agenda in our public schools, which has brought generally ower SAT scores and other problems.

Let's analyze Richard's statements. First of all, student-initiated, student-led school prayer in public schools is a constitutionally protected right for students. This is true for student-led Bible study as well. This message needs to get out to all students, and we need to encourage them to exercise their rights. Separation of church and state provides protection for the church from state corruption. Few want state-inspired and -initiated school prayer and Bible study.

A significant percentage of Canton residents are either Christian, Jewish, or are followers of Islam. All these religions profess a belief in a creator God. If most of a community believe in a creator, why not formally study it in a scientific way in their local government schools? Creation thought has been around for thousands of years and is much more scientifically sound compared to evolution thought. Evolution rests on transitional species which have not been found after 100 years of search.

Also, Joyner might check his ballot. There are five people on the ballot for issue only. Lack of gatekeepers opens world of talk radio to no-basis views

guess it was two or three years ago that I first went on talk radio, first on Denny McLain's show and then several times on David Newman's

I had written something or other inflammatory in this column, and the producer called me to arrange a broadcast time. I sat in my office, on the phone, with McLain or Newman in the studio fielding calls and turning them over to me. I remember being surprised at how free the callers - mostly white males, I gathered, in many cases on car phones — felt to express their anger about what was going on. Part of it, I suppose, came from the liberating effect of anonymous distance that a call-in show provides

But part is something much deeper, something that has increasingly been on my mind as we come down to the last few days before the 1994 election.

Talk radio is a new medium, just as new as radio was in the '30s and TV in the '50s. And a big part of the history of politics in this country is the story of smart people learning to use a new medium for maximum political effect.

Consider President Franklin Roosevelt, who mastered radio and personally entered into every living room in the country in his fireside chats. Or think of President John Kennedy, who combined a nimble wit with the new medium of television to create a national impact with his press conferences, only to be outdone by Ronald Reagan's acting talent (not to mention his handlers' exquisite skill at arranging media events, perfectly made for TV).

So when I first stumbled onto talk radio, I indered how long it would take for somebody to figure out how to exploit it politically. Then I istened to Rush Limbaugh sometime in 1992. It didn't take long to figure the 1994 election would be a doozy.

It has turned out that way, but with a very pecial quality of personal savagery that makes this campaign certainly the nastiest I ever have

Here's why: It isn't that the politicians sud-denly are nastier. It's the underlying effects of a Talk radio is remarkable for many reasons, but especially so because there are no gate-Geopers standing between the emotions and ions of ordinary folks and the awesome disbutive power of a mass medium.

Think about it. The only people who got on dio in the old days were those the producer ght were newsworthy. The only way to get onto TV is for a news director to consider you

PHILIP POWER

(or the event in which you are involved) important. And, of course, the way stories get into newspapers like this is for editors to make a judgment that the story is newsworthy enough to print.

Producers and news directors and editors all function as gatekeepers to the media. As such, they not only make judgments about who and what are important, but they also perform a moderating role. Somebody who has a history of lying just won't be allowed to appear on traditional news media. A person who makes a perfectly absurd charge or passes a violently personal remark will quickly find a gatekeeper setting the record straight or finding an authoritative person to rebut it.

But with the new medium of talk radio, there are no gatekeepers. Certainly the host of the show answers the calls and cuts off any obscenity. But the host does not pretend to judge the accuracy of the claims, nor the legitimacy of the charges, nor the factual basis for the emotions expressed.

This has brought a fundamental change to a growing part of our national discourse. The opinions of any person, informed or not, are as valid on talk radio as the whimsy of anybody else. Some may think this has democratized our politics; others may think it has debased them. But it is certainly different.

Which is why this campaign keeps sounding a lot like a cross between The National Enquirer and an argument between 6-year-olds: "Liar!" "No, you're the liar!" The medium is the message.

Tomorrow's leaders are in today's Salem Executive Forum.

On any given Monday, stop by Room 2401 at Salem High School and you'll see 30-some freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors planning the social and philanthropic activities that fill out the school calendar.

We want students to learn about leadership and become leaders," said Gerry Burnside, Forum adviser for eight years. "Evervone is asked to chair a function. Students also have the opportunity to go to various conferences. I'm very much concerned that they are in good standing with the community and administration, and that people know what we're up to."

Eligible for Forum membership are students who maintain a high grade point average and are willing to volunteer considerable amounts of time.

Students must know this takes time. It's not something you can do now and then," said Burnside, under whose direction the Forum has grown from 12 to 30 student council members.

The community is welcome to participate in ongoing Forum activities

Headed up by Forum mayor Sarah Volaric and secretary Leah Rutherford, the Forum's Thanksgiving food drive to assist Salvation Army will run the through Nov. 17. Anyone wishing to donate canned foodstuffs may drop them off at the Salem High School office between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday-Thursday through Nov. 17. Salem is on Joy Road west of Canton Center.

The Forum's Karen Springsteen also has organized an "Adopt-a-Family" program for the holidays. "We collect money and gifts that will be given through a church or the Salvation Army to a needy family in the area. This is a generous group," said Burnside. "We're going to go for a big family, or perhaps two to four small families."

Jennifer Schroer and Holly Hanka are heading up the Toys for Tots Drive, run in conjunction with the U.S. Marine Corps. 'We'll accept any new unwrapped toy or money through Dec. 16." said Schroer, the Forum's Board of Education liaison. "We want to get the word out to all students and have some competition. The group with the highest participa-tion will win a breakfast or a pizza party," she said.

Nathan Rozof, vice mayor of the Forum, is working on the Western Lakes Activities Association daylong leadership confer-ence, set for Nov. 17 at Churchill High School. Participating will be schools in western Wayne County that belong to the same athletic conference.

"It's a chance for students not involved in athletics to experience what it takes to be a good leader, said Rozof. A dinner dance with other schools in the WLAA also is planned.

The Forum organized Spirit Week and a weekend of wellreceived homecoming activities. The group also assists other organizations. "If there's an organization that needs a financial boost, we give them money to get started," said Burnside. "This group wants to make sure we do positive things.

Sarah Hamilton serves with Rutherford as co-secretary. Michael Dahn is treasurer. For more information on how to participate in Forum activities, call Burnside at 416-7715.

Allen brings 'Santa' to town early

In Santa Claus like fashion, comedian Tim Allen of Birmingham returns home 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, for a benefit premiere of his new family comedy film from Walt Disney Pictures, "The Santa Clause" at the Fox Theatre in Detroit.

Co-hosted by Laura and Tim Allen, and chaired by Q95 FM's Dick Purtan, event proceeds will go to The Salavation Army and Forgotten Harvest. Tickets are $20 (general admission), and available at all Ticketmaster outlets, and through the "Santa Clause," Premiere Hotline at (810) 552-8989. Hurry, the reserved patron seats that cost $125 are sold out!

Divorced dad Scott Calvin (Tim Allen) stars in "The Santa Clause" as the father who is determined to win back the affections of his son Charlie, from the boy's new stepfather.

from the boy's new stepfather. While investigating a clatter on his roof Christmas Eve, Scott discovers Santa Claus, who, taken off guard by Scott's presence, falls off and mysteriously disappears, leaving behind an empty Santa suit.

Scott puts the suit on and both father and son are whisked off by Santa's reindeer. It's only when they reach the North Pole and meet Elf Judy (Paige Tamada) and discover "the clause" in dad's pocket stating that whoever puts on the Sanata suit takes on the responsibilities that go with it.

Over the course of the year, Scott puts on more than 100 pounds, his hair turns white and he grows a wonderful beard, which, no matter how often he shaves, reappears almost instanteously. This new image does not appeal to his boss, Mr. Whittle (Peter Boyle) who eventually fires him. His worried ex-wife Laura (Wendy Crewson) and her new husband (Judge Reinhold) think Scott has lost his grip on reality and have Scott's visiting rights suspended despite the fact that Charlie and his father have grown closer.

Area producers lampoon moving making process

BY JOHN MONAGHAN SPECIAL WRITER

Teachers always urged Arthur and Mark Borman to write about things they knew. It's not surprising that the Birmingham-born orothers' first feature, "... And God Spoke," should be about the behind-the-scenes world of making movies.

"Working on movie sets," said co-producer Mark Borman, "you get to see a lot of money spent very quickly and a lot of mistake made. We thought this was a good idea for our movie."

Their "mockumentary," which opens tomorrow at the United Artists Theatres at Oakland Mall, follows a low-budget film company as it tries to create a Biblical epic. Soupy Sales (as Moses), "The Brady Bunch's" Eve Plumb (as Mrs. Noah), and "Incredible Hulk" star Lou Ferrigno (as Cain) appear in cameos.

Director Arthur Borman graduated from Cranbrook in 1985, Mark from Seaholm in 1986. After pursuing film careers in college and on Hollywood movie sets, the brothers hooked up again in Chicago a couple of years ago and started kicking around ideas for a feature film.

Much of the movie was shot on the Raleigh Film Studio lot, across the street from Paramount Pictures. They worked with about a half-million dollar's worth of services, many of which they got

'Mockingbird': Revival is rich, worthy production

adapted the play of the same CATHIE name, confronts injustice, racism, hope, and human nature. Some might try to diminish Meadow Brook Theatre's fine revival of "To Kill a Mockingbird" and say it's a nice, dated play from the Civil Rights era, and the story line - about a black man tried for raping a white woman - belongs to a distant, more bigoted time in American history. What a mistake it would be to put the play in a historical pigeonhole because at its heart the drama asks the still-urgent question -- "can a black man get a fair trial in these United States?" In the dusty provincial town of Maycomb, Alabama, back in 1935, a jury of white men passes judgment on a black man named Fom Robinson accused of beating and raping a white woman. Justice does not prevail. Racism does, but so does hope.

The small-town jury grounds its verdict, not on evidence, but on persistent stereotypes about black men and white women. The hope comes with Atticus Finch, the lawyer who dares to defend Robinson in a town torn by racial ty check on the state of American justice. This warmly-human production takes an uncompromising look at who we were then and who we are now. Meadow Brook's sensitive, funny, gentle, and fine production may well stand as a benchmark for this theater season. In a southern gentleman white suit with a bit of tummy beneath his vest, Michael Kevin plays an almost-grand fatherly Atticus. He looks more like Teddy Roosevelt than like Gregory Peck who played Atticus in the Academy Award winning 1962 movie. Kevin's calm baritone, however, emanates a similar compassionate wisdom to Peck's as he helps his children, Jem and Scout, and their friend Dill understand, but not despair, of events during that horrible summer of 1935 when two men died.

Director Randal Myler doesn't let the children usurp more attention than they should just because they're talented and cute. Maggie Keenan-Bolger, as the spunky Scout, struts around stage with her platinum pig tails bouncing, yet even when she wears a ham costume to the school pageant, she doesn't act like one. Neither does her real-life anger. He emerges as a hero, a brother Andrew who plays her a newly-revised script, still in loose leaf form, for the Meadow Brook production. The new script wisely cuts two peripheral neighbors, eliminates distracting plot detours, and generally streamlines the play - except for a clos ing speech that seemed superflu ous. On opening night, the audience assumed the play had ended and began to applaud enthusiastically, then had to stop to hear the closing words. But that's a small objection about an overall rich and worthy production. Cathie Breidenbach of West

STREET SOUNDS

The next Hundred Years — Ted Hawkins

In 1986, Ted Hawkins released his second album on the Rounder label. Entitled "Happy Hour," it featured a marvelous song that te called "Bad Dog," having to to with noticing, upon his release rom jail and moving back home, that his dog barked at everyone who came to the house except one particular man. Funny, savvy, and delivered in his Harry Belafonte rasp, I was hooked.

Now that he's signed to the David Geffen Company label, his fortunes are on the rise. The label wants nothing less, it seems, than to make him a household name. Dave Marsh wrote the liner notes, and heavyweight rock critics Kurt Loder and Peter Guralnick are quoted as pretty much declaring Hawkins to be the new Messiah.

Through it all, the Venice Beach, Calif., street singer of some 30 years duration, has managed to sidestep the hype and just go on about his business which, coincidentally, pretty much lives up to the hype, in spite of it.

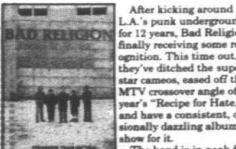

No, it's not the greatest album ever recorded. It may not even be the best Hawkins album. It is, though, unquestionably powerful and born of the soul. Blues and country (which are much more commonly rooted than most folks appreciate) share space in his universe

Listen to the pedal steel on "Afraid" and then cue up the bluesy treatment given to Jesse Winchester's "Biloxi." His covers of John Fogerty's Long as I Can See the Light", one of the cleanest and most startling ever recorded, and Webb Pierce's "There Stands the Glass," an emotionally draining reading, are equally powerful.

But it's more than the words; it's delivery, These are, perhaps, the songs of a blues man as much as of the modern day troubador. They are the works of a brilliant artist and stand among the testaments to life that have made Ted Hawkins an indispensable part of the musical landscape Mark E. Gallo

Stranger Than Fiction - Bad Religion

L.A.'s punk underground for 12 years, Bad Religion is finally receiving some recognition. This time out, they've ditched the supe star cameos, eased off the MTV crossover angle of last year's "Recipe for Hate," and have a consistent, occasionally dazzling album to show for it.

The band is in peak form on "Stranger Than Fiction" ntic), burning through 15 quick and bruising songs, the best of which are the raging opener "Inlete," the catchy title track, and the slower (only by Bad Religion standards) "Infected," with its pleasantly melodic chorus.

In fact, the songs are all so fast that it becomes wightly repetitious. When the tempo slows down, a on "Infected," and "21st Century Digital Boy," "the songs greatly benefit from the extra space As with many albums today, there are simply too many songs included. Three or four could have been cut for a more streamlined, consistently thrilling package. But at its best, when "Stranger Than Fiction" is cooking, turn it up and get out of the way.

Cover Girl

- Shawn Colvin

Having established a rep as one of the singer/ songwriters to keep a close ear on over the past few years, this collection of songs by other people will, undoubtedly, catch more than a few Shawn Colvin loyalists off guard. Not to worry, though. This hardly signals a dry gulch in her creative pool. Paying homage to singers past and present, fa-mous and obscure, "Cover Girl" (Columbia) is a mous and obscure, "Cover Girf" (Columbia) is a tribute to the process. Some of the material you'll recognize, like the Police's "Everything (He) Does Is Magic," the Talking Heads' "This Must Be the Place (Naive Melody)" and Tom Waits' "Heart of Saturday Night." Certainly, the older folkies will give up a smile for her verion of Dylan's "You're Gonna Make Me Somesome When You Go," and fans of the Band will be impressed with her take on "Twilight," one of their more obscure gens. "The best songs are from the pen of Greg Brown, a relatively well-known modern folk singer, who contributes "One Cool Remove," and from the wholly out-of-the-blue Roly Salley, whose "Killing the Blues" should be all over the radio in an ideal gurid. ### Cranberries: 'Doing it' again

There was a point where it seemed like The Cranberries' hit song, "Nothing Left at All" described their future. But with a new manager and a new outlook, the band has spawned two hits that have moved it close to the top on the charts.

brother Mike and drummer Fergal Lawler formed the group -- original ly known as The Cranberry Saw Us - as teenagers in their hometown of Limerick in 1990. When the quietly intense church choir member Dolores O'Riordan joined the band and released the single "Nothing Left at All" they became the darlings of the finicky British press.

But a possessive manager left the band broke and emotionally distraught. The fanfare surrounding The Cranberries began to fade as well. After much deliberation which included possibly ending the band — the group fired their manager and learned a valuable lesson.

There's a lot more to the indus try than playing the songs," said Lawler via telephone from Paris, France, "It definitely helped us learn a lot about the business. At first we thought you write your songs and that's it. You don't worry about nobody else. "There are so many bands through the years that didn't make t because they didn't have the right people working with them. They ended up getting screwed basically and it affected their career. We don't want that to happen to us.'

So far it hasn't. The band is now managed by former Rough Trade executive Jeff Travis, who signed The Smiths, and O'Riordan's billowing yodels on their debut "Everybody Else Is Doing It, So Why Can't We?" spawned two major hits, "Linger" and "Dreams."

Their new record "No Need to Argue," produced once again by Stephen Street (The Smiths, Morrissey, Psychedelic Furs), has proven even more successful. The distorted guitars coupled with O'Riordan's captivating vocals on the single "Zombie" have catapulted the band near the top of the charts.

Even after the band conquered their management problems, the ac-ceptance of U.S. audiences was still an uphill battle. It took almost two years of incessant touring to reach the peak of their popularity here. "The whole last year was a mindblowing experience. We went to the States thinking we'd play small gigs," Lawler said. "It took off so well that we just kept going and going. It was a big surprise - a bit reaky for awhile. It was weird people asking us for our autograph. With all the touring, it's amazing that the Irish quartet found the time to record a follow-up so quick-

"When we were writing new songs we were playing them live as well wanted to do." Despite the immense popularity, the hunky bespectacled Lawler, who was prominantly featured in a Cranberries fashion spread in "Rolling Stone" magazine, is determined to keep a good head on his shoulders.

"I don't want to be famous; I want to be Fergal who plays the drums and stuff. . . (I try to remember) you're not any different than any body else. It will go to your head. You have to stick to your roots and remember why got in the business. Don't ever go to your head."

Jesus and Mary Chain — 10 years later

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO

The Jesus and Mary Chain is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year and to member William Reid, it really isn't a big deal.

"It's the 10th year of The Jesus and Mary Chain, but we've been together since he was born," he said about his younger brother and partner Jim Reid, in a rare bout of humor. The release of "Stoned and Dethroned" not only marks the anniversary but a departure from the usual fuzzy guitars and down-and-out lyrics. The dreary lyrics and music have been replaced by peaceful, elegant, upbeat songs that may alienate longtime Jesus and Mary Chain fans. Reid is just happy that they recorded the album their way.

Holidays are a great time to explore New York

BY BARBARA MICHALS SPECIAL WRITER

notiday style, — while hordes of travelers head for warm destinations during the helidays, confirmed urbanites like myself head for New York "City side-

City. From Thanksgiving weekend through New Year's Day, the Big Apple is at its most polished. Whether for a quick weekend getaway, or a holiday vacation between Christmas and New Year's, November and December are the most exhilarating time to be in New York, especially for firsttime visitors of any age. For a start, there's the lavish

For a start, there's the lavish holiday decorations adding sparkle everywhere one looks. In the don't-miss category are the giant snowflake strung across Fifth Avenue, the incredibly huge lighted tree towering over the skating pond at Rockefeller Center, the animated Victorian figures in the Lord & Taylor windows, and the lush baroque tree and creche at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Even the Empire State Building is lit up in red and green.

If you need to do some Christmas shopping, it's hard to comprehend the vast selection at Macy's and Bloomingdale's. Shoppers of all ages, but mostly adults, come to marvel at, and play, with the unique toys at F.A.O. Schwartz. Take a jaunt through the dazzling gemstone counters at Tiffany's, where selling a home so easy!

there's no charge for dreaming. Ogle the European designer boutiques on 57th Street. After Christmas sales are nice too.

Amidst all the hustle and bustle, the air seems crisper and cleaner than at any other time in the city, and there really is a pervasive spirit of good cheer. New Yorkers seem extra-friendly during the holidays.

Entertaining options

This is also a great time for entertainment in the city. "The Nutcracker" is performed amidst the splendid setting at Lincoln Center, and many new shows open on Broadway between now and the holidays.

Popular shows that need to be booked as far ahead as possible, are Disney's enchanting "Beauty and the Beast," "The Kiss of the Spider Woman," and "The Phantom of the Opera."

Also, going strong are revivals of "Damn Yankees," "Carousel," "Grease," and "Guys and Dolls," plus "The Who's Tommy," "Miss Saigon," "Les Miserables," and "Crazy for You."

Though not as well-publicized a hit here as in its native London, "Blood Brothers," is an emotionally moving musical currently starring Carole King. The only non-musical going strong at the present is the two-part "Angels in America," the Pulitzer Prize winning drama about AIDS in the Reazan era.

The best way to book Broadway shows in advance is to pick up a copy of the "New York Times," or

"New York" magazine, both of which list the shows, prices, and toll-free numbers to charge tickets by phone.

The holidays are not the best time for using the half-price TKS booth at Time Square, but if one is very open as to choice, it certainly is worth a try. The booth opens at noon for matinees, 3 p.m. for evening shows. There are lots of extra matinees scheduled during the holidays.

From Detroit Northwest Airlines runs nearly hourly flights into LaGuardia, New York's most convenient airport. Flights take 1½ hours and currently run $266 with 14 days advance purchase, and a stay over Saturday night. Frequent sale prices have been hovering around $188 to $214. A taxi into mid-town runs $20 to $25 depending on traffic, and shuttles run about $15 per person.

Where to stay

New York has hotels in all price ranges, but the expensive ones heavily predominate. Hotels in the Theater District tend to be the most convenient. Even if one is not going to the theater a lot, this area is centrally located, and both east side and west side destinations are easily reached by bus or taxi.

New York subways are confusing at best, hot, dirty, and dangerous at worst. They are best explored in the company of a native or at least a seasoned visitor. Of course, to best savor the sights, sounds. and smells of the city, nothing beats walking.

If one is going to the theater in the evening, remember that taxis are plentiful in New York, except during morning and evening rush hours, whenever it rains or snows, and after the theater. A very good reason to be within walking distance of one's hotel.

Among the moderate-priced hotels in the Theater District, my favorite is the small, little-known President on 48th Street, where the staff is exceptionally friendly and helpful. Like the President, the Consulate Hotel on 49th Street is small and popular with young Europeans, singly and in groups.

The Days Hotel at Eighth Avenue and 48th Street offers excellent value, as does the Park Central Hotel at Seventh Avenue and 56th Street.

All of the above-mentioned hotels are clean, but not spacious, and cost between $99 and $125 a night for double occupancy. Decent hotels in this price range are an endangered species in New York, although many of the higher-priced hotels have good week end rates.

One last asset of New York at holiday time — celebrities abound. Forget about going to Hollywood to see stars! In New York one sees them in shops, restaurants, theaters, and just walking along the street. They've got Christmas shopping to do too!

It's true: Novi could hardly be considered the same caliber as the teams Canton battled through in the districts. Still, the Chiefs knew what to expect from the team that eliminated them last year - and they got it.

BY C.J. RISAR

A little over a year ago, when Plymouth Canton was knocked out Plymouth Canton was knocked out of the state soccer tournament in the district semifinals by Novi in what many considered an upset, coach Don Smith said his team had an annoying habit of playing to the caliber of its opponent. The informer then was clear. Al-

Caliber of Hs opponent. The inference then was clear: Al-though Novi was state-ranked, it had failed to prove itself against the type of competitior. Canton had faced each and every week of the season. Smith might say the same thing today, but his words would carry a completely different meaning after the Chiefs survived their biggest scare of the tournament, edging the Wildcata 1-0 in a regional semifinal at Walled Lake Western Wednesday. The victory pushes Canton's record to 17-1-3 (the Chiefs are unbeaten in 20 games) and carries them into Saturday's 2 p.m. regional final against the winner of the Ann Arbor Pioneer-Belleville match, also Arbor Pioneer-Belleville match, also played last night at Western. The game-winning goal — the game's only goal — came with 14:46 left to play. A throw-in reached Jeff Fliss to the right of the Novi net. Fliss beat one defender with a quick move toward the end line. From there, he simply flicked the ball in front of the net, where Chad Dale met it and punched it past keeper Dave Hart. Dave Hart.

It wasn't a set play off the throw-in, according to Dale. "When Fliss gets the ball, you just go to the net," the senior striker explained. "(Fliss) does that very well." The goal ended an evening of frus-tration for Canton, which had pressured throughout but could not convert. It wasn't due to failings of their own, although the Chiefs did not ap-pear as sharp as they were in wins over Livonia Stevenson and Livonia Churchill.

"There was nothing wrong with the way we were playing," insisted Smith. "They were being physical .... We went after them, too. But they defend well and sit back in that zone defense." zone defense.

Novi coach Larry Christoff, who served as head coach at Schoolcraft College a decade ago, inspired his team into an emotional effort. Their aggressiveness matched Canton's, catching the Chiefs offstride.

"That was our whole plan," Christoff said. "We knew they had a good passing game. We had an ad-vantage in the short width of the field, and our kids played very ag-gressively."

It wasn't something that should have caught the Chiefs unprepared. "Small fields — they hurt us," said Smith. "But I told our players a Smith. But I told our physics a long time ago, if you're going to do anything (this season) you'll have to learn to play on a small field." ### Chiefs qualify for state

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

Perhaps expectations were a bit higher, but the performance of Plymouth Canton's boys cross country team can hardly be frowned at.

The Chiefs did, after all, qualify for the state finals by finishing third at the Class A regional at Marshbank Park.

"You can't really expect every one on the team to turn in a PR (personal record) every time out," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "We did have high expectations, and it was a good run by the guys.

"Everyone's pretty excited." And why not? The Chiefs are headed to Saskatoon Golf Course in Grand Rapids, site of the Class A state finals. Canton may not be able to win the meet, but the Chiefs should make a strong showing.

"It's a fast course," said Spitz. "We're looking forward to it." Redford Catholic Central emerged with the regional crown, scoring 73 points. North Farmington finished second with 119, just edging its Western Lakes Activities Association rival Canton (the two-time league champ), which scored 122.

Walled Lake Central was fourth with 154, with Plymouth Salem fifth at 170 (complete stats, 5C).

Pack up the trick plays and leave them in the trunk. Forget about style and finesse. Just lace the pads up tight, buckle the chin straps and brace yourself for a big-time headbangers ball.

Livonia Stevenson and Howell two big and powerful football teams from rugged conferences, will clash at 7:30 p.m. Friday night in the first round of the Class AA Region II playoffs at Howell.

"We're watching the films and it's like watching ourselves in the mirror," said Howell coach John Dukes, whose team is 8-1 and cochampions of the Kensington Valley Conference. "I guess you could say we both play a little smashmouth football."

A little? Both teams feature offensive and defensive lines that average well over 200 pounds per man. Howell goes about 220 and Stevenson about 235. 'Stevenson has a bunch of big.

strong kids, the kind I like to have on my team," said Dukes. "You win games in the trenches, and the more big guys you have, the better off you'll be.

Each team features a trio of running backs and they love to pound the ball on offense. Howell runs a split-back wishbone with

STEVENSON three backs averaging better than 5.3 yards per carry: senior Mark Eros. (567 yards) 6.1; senior Tom Dell (450) 5.4; and sophomore Ryan Arnold (400), 5.3. The quarterback is Marcus Dukes, the coach's son, who has completed 41 of 85 passes for 592 yards and nine touchdowns.

Stevenson actually counters with a foursome: senior Scott Goldman (691 vards, 8.0 per carry, 6 touchdowns), senior Craig Mar tin (533, 6.1, 6), senior Chris Mul lett (353, 10.1) and sophomore Gade Clark (397, 5.3). The four some has shattered the school's single-season rushing record with 2,277. The quarterback is junior Dean Bacheller (36 for 73 for 357 yards and 5 touchdowns).

On defense, both teams are mean and stingy. Howell, led by tackle Joe Adam (6-3, 260), a ma jor college prospect who is averaging 10 tackles per game and has 12 sacks, has allowed just 57 points this season and has four shutouts.

"Defense has been our strong point for many years, but, really, I think this is the best defense we've had in my 20 years here," Dukes said.

Stevenson's defense - led by senior linebacker Mike Redington (53 first hits and 57 assists with can, we do pretty well four sacks and an interception), lefensive end Martin (33 first hits, 37 assists, 6 sacks), safety Mullett (42 first hits, 38 assists, three pass deflections, three caused fumbles and two intercen tions) and defensive back Gold man (53 first hits, 36 assists) has posted four shutouts and has yielded more than one touchdown only twice. "Their offense just tries to pow er the ball," said Mullett. "And our defense is our strength. We should be able to shut their of fense down."

Oh, and did we mention that the two teams like to hit?

"There haven't been too many teams that have been able to real y beat us up, physically," said Dukes.

We think we can outhit just about anybody," said Mullett. So you have two big, strong teams that love to power the ball on offense and overpower you on defense. Something's got to give. "The wishbone worries us a lit-

In fact, there's a penalty to pay for any Grubber who is recognized

A Grubber who gets his name in the newspaper has to do 10 downups at the next practice.

What about a second reference? "Then it's 20," said Harrison utistant coach Bob Sutter, who is not exempt from the rule. He dis 120 one day last year. The term Grubbers was first rillied in 1973, and a tradition ithin the budding Harrison foot ball tradition was born. But why Doe day Sutter had them down there in the mud and he salid: 'We're grubbers; we ge down and grub in the mud," Harrison head coach John Herrington "From that day on, were Grubbers."

Grubbers pride themselves on geffing down and dirty, literally, tile fighting the battle in the bial trenches and opening a the in the line for the running harks.

Strong bond in group Thus, they have their own

esprit de corps, their motto being Grubber Pride. The top lineman in each game reseives a T-Shirt with those words, and a caricature of a Gibbber — a player with a muthful of turf holding a piece of soil triumphantly overhead and standing over a prostrate oppo-- drawn by former player Pile Thompson. "It's just like our own an at Harrison," Shaieb d. "When you're a Grubber, it's anners to state as individual impetitors. In addition to Pen-like your own family. I'll remember the rest of the guys on the line the rest of my life."

"There's a lot of pride in knowing the guys on the line are all working for the same goal," senior tackle Brian Gurwin said. "We don't usually get the coverage, so we take pride in knowing we get the job done whether it's known or not.

When it comes down to it (coaches and teammates) know who's doing the job," senior tackle Evan Jefferson said. "You know when the job is done you've done your part. For (the backs) to get credit, someone has to be block ing for them."

The Hawks, who have won six state titles and made the secondmost playoff appearances (13) in tournament history, have certainly had their share of great skill

But the amazing part of the Harrison success story is the Hawks have continuously turned. out winning teams with what many would consider average high school linemen in terms of size and talent.

Harrison linemen are generally 6-feet tall on average, weighing 180 to 200 pounds. Many bigger schools have huge lines in comparison, but few can match Harrison's success.

Grubber tradition

"A big part of it is our tradition Pride and getting the job done with the tools we have," said Sutter, who participated in his 200th victory as a varsity coach last week. "We have the attitude we're going to get the job done and get after it."

The current group of Grubbers fits the mold perfectly, according to Sutter, who has been Herring-ton's assistant for 23 years and gets a large share of the credit as line coach and defensive coordi-

Junior Brad Donahue (6-0, 190) plays center. Shaieb (5-10, 197) is a three-year starter at guard, and senior Tony Valdez (5-11, 190) plays on the opposite side. Seniors Jim Struble (6-1, 195), Jefferson (6-1, 202) and Gurwin (6-2, 195) rotate at the tackles, and senior Dave Wolff (5-11, 190) is a blocking tight end and also qualifies as a Grubber. Most of them do double duty as defensive linemen or linebackers, also 'We've been blessed with some good kids," said Sutter, referring this time to skill players. "We have some kids who make our linemen look like NFL players, but most of the time we getting on people and getting the job done. "This is a good group. We're not big but fairly quick. Day in and day out they work hard and keep their mouthes shut. Occasionally, Brian Gurwin thinks he's a lawyer for the Grubbers union and makes a comment.

Sutter is recognized as a good tactician on line play, but while teaching technique certainly plays a role in the line's perform ance that might not be the main eason for its success

"I think it's more of an attitude." he said. "I don't think we do things much different than other people. Our blocking schemes aren't much different. 'We communicate and help each other out. We try do as much 2-on-1 blocking as we can and bounce to a linebacker. If we get two small guys on one big guy, we figure we can neutralize him." The attitude comes from 20-plus years of winning and wanting to be part of a tradition within the bigger Harrison tradition.

An offseason program provides degree of continuity. That explains why guys who didn't play as juniors end up being fine line men as seniors.

"As soon as the season is over the kids set goals for next year, Sutter said. "We talk to them about building a unit up front and what we expect them to do next year.

"They pay their dues in practice and when the season is over they start building for next year. They don't want to let the team down; they want to keep the tradition going."

Sutter players coach

Sutter demands dedication and a high-level performance from his linemen, but he also has great rapport with the players. "I love playing for him," Shaleb said. "He gets on everyone, but he's a great coach. That helps. If he gets on you, he makes you a better player." "He loves high school football, and it kinds rubs off on his play-ers," Gurwin said. "He's tough, but he demands that you be tough as well, which helps with mental Don't try to sell Chuck Gordon on all the psychological advantag-es his Westland John Glenn football team has going into Satur-day's Class AA Region II playoff game against unbeaten and No. 1anked Belleville (1:30 p.m. at Relleville).

All the pressure is on Belleville. The Tigers are not only expected beat Glenn, but to go all the of the Rockets, who snuck into the playoffs despite a 6-3 record. They're pressure-free. They can ion to be in.

So, how do you defuse speed? Former Illinois coach John dackovic used to say there was only one way to beat speed: 'Cheat. Get a head start.' Gordon has a different method:

You have to be tough and hit hard." If you hit a guy hard enough, so the theory goes, maybe that 10.8 speed will be more like 11.2 next time he hits the hole. "You have to mix your defenses

Michigan boasts 96 state-owned parks featuring more than 300,000 acres of recreation land, 200 miles of scenic inland lakes and 115 miles of prime Great Lakes frontage. More than 20 million people visited the parks last year and numped $260 million into Michigan's economy.

But the state parks have fallen on tough times in the last 10 years or so. Operating costs have soared while state-funded support has drastically decreased. Subsequently, user and camping fees have increased, staff has been cut by almost 30 percent, facilities have deteriorated, seasonal closures have been implemented and educational programs have been eliminated In 1976 the Natural Resources

Trust Fund was created. The NRTF, which is funded through gas and minerals extracted from state-owned land, was set up to provide funds for acquisition of ands for public use such as state parks, state recreation areas, state same areas, bike trails, fishing docks and boating access sites.

Over the years the NRTF has been raided. Money from the NRTF has been diverted into unrelated programs such as the Michigan Strategic Fund, which finances economic development programs. The Strategic Fund has aned up to $20 million annually from the NRTF. Proposal P will provide constitutional protection against fur ther such raids and will establish a State Parks Endowment Fund. Ten million dollars of the $20 million diverted to the Strategic Fund each year would go directly into the State Parks Endowment Fund and the other $10 million will go back into the Natural Resources Trust Fund.

SC faces a rough road in regional

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

Tom Teeters' coaching often seems mosaic in form, bits of color which are nothing by themselves - but when the combining process is completed, the artwork is masterful

Perhaps another masterpiece is now taking shape. Although Teeters would never admit it, this season has been a struggle for his Schoolcraft College volleyball Eelam.

For one thing, they failed to even pose much of a threat to the Eastern Conference's regular-season champion, Henry Ford CC. SC played seven matches against the Hawks; they lost all seven, winning just one game.

Which is one very good reason Henry Ford is the No. 1 seed entering this weekend's Region 12 Tournament, hosted by SC. A total of 15 teams are slated to vie for the title, with first-round play beginning at 6 p.m. today. The douelimination tournament continues through Friday and Saturday, with the finals slated for 2 p.m. and, if necessary, 4 p.m. Sat-

The Ocelots, who have won the last six regional titles, come into this tournament seeded fourth. The question is, even if they do get past such tough challengers as sixth seeded Vincennes (Ind.), second-seeded Kellogg and thirdseeded Lansing, can they finally subdue Henry Ford?

"I can't say we've gotten closer them," Teeters replied when asked if his team had gained any ground on the Hawks. "We have gotten smarter. We're starting to earn them a little better. "That's why we played them a ot. We knew they'd be the team to beat - they have the most talent in the region, by far. That's the best way to learn a team, a way to put something in our cor-

Leading the Hawks are setter/ middle hitter Mikki Smith, middle hitter Carri Crumbliss and right-side hitter Jeni Basse Which of them concerns Teeters the most?

"They all do," he answered "We look at them as a group and try to play to their group's weaknesses

The Ocelots have progressed nicely after their slow start (they were a .500 team entering October), thanks in great part to the strong play of hitters Julie Campau (from Livonia Churchill) and Shannon Gottschalk, and the development of setter Janet Zabivnik (Plymouth Canton).

Others who have defined and filled their roles nicely are Jannel Hemme (Livonia Ladywood), Vicki Rohraff (Wayne Memorial) and Sarah McDowell. In Tuesday's surprisingly easy 15-6, 15-3, 15-3 win over Lansing CC, Campau had 16 kills, Gottschalk had 4 and two service aces, and Hemme had three aces.

Set up: Schoolcraft's Jannel Hemme (8) drops to her knees to dig up a kill attempt by Lansing's Kay Van Ells (14)

It was a nice completion to the regular season, pushing SC's record to 29-13-3. Last Saturday, the Ocelots captured their own tournament title with straight-set wins over Oakland CC (15-3, 15-13), Kellogg (15-10, 15-7), Kalamazoo Valley (15-7, 15-3) and Delta (15-5, 15-7). Hemme had six blocks and 34 digs in the tournament, with Campau adding 42 kills; Gottschalk getting 39 kills; Zabiv nik dealing 82 assists-to-kills; and McDowell contributing seven kills and four blocks.

What SC would like most right now is to assure its season contin ues beyond this weekend. That indeed would secure the final piece in a beautiful puzzle of a season in place.

Lady Ocelots' strategy is built around bypass plan

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

Unlike its male counterparts when Schoolcraft College's wom en's soccer team meets its rival from the College of DuPage in an NJCAA Inter-regional first-round match Saturday, there will be several factors favoring the Lady Ocelots. Like

The SC men are going against the No. 1-ranked team in the NJCAA; DuPage's women's team is good, but not that highly re-

The SC men must play DuPage on its home field; the women are meeting at a neutral site, in Dayton. Ohio

The SC men haven't seen Du-Page play this season at all; the women have played DuPage twice, losing 2-0 and tying 3-3 and coaches Nikki Johnson and Joe Hall scouted them once, so they are familiar with their oppo-

Yes, those can be considered advantages, particularly the last: When the Lady Ocelots hosted DuPage Oct. 1, they came back from a goal down in overtime to forge the tie - and create some omentum.

Of course, there is a major dis advantage SC's women must deal with As with the men, this, too, is a two-game tournament: SC plays DuPage at 1 p.m. Saturday at Mi ami Valley HS in Dayton, with the winner going against whoever emerges from the Anderson-Brevard-Spartanburg three-team playoff.

SC lost 5-0 to Anderson and 5-1 Brevard earlier this season. Which means the second match figures to be rougher than the first.

Still, the Ocelots have been peaking in the last two weeks.

And Johnson, in her first year of coaching, has done well, posting a 10-6-3 record against an extreme difficult schedule.

She knows where and how to attack DuPage.

"Our biggest concern is their midfield players," she said. "That's where their strength is, in the midfield. "We watched Meramec play them (at the DuPage Tournament), and they beat them b making DuPage play a long-bal game. They had to go from the very back to the very front, which eliminated their midfield."

Cindy Reyes is DuPage's top midfield threat ("That, for one, in who we're trying to avoid"); others watch are Angie Williams, Debbie Markovich and Debbi apenbrook.

Johnson's strategy is set: "Feed quickly, pass and move it to work around their midfield Against Lewis and Clark, both Holly (Kimble, from Livonia Ste venson) and Erin (Stacherski from Livonia Churchill) were doing a great job feeding the ball the outside (at midfield).

"We're not going to beat Du-Page going through the middle.'

The task of avoiding DuPage's potent midfield will rest with Kimble, Stacherski, Colleen Con nell (Plymouth Canton) and An drea Zawislak (Churchill). Other key performers for SC are sweeper Danielle Priebe (Churchill) and keeper Jenny Mansfield.

The two are quite different in their levels of performance. Priebe, a sophomore, anchors the defense with exceptional speed and talent, and she rarely makes a mistake.

Mansfield, on the other hand, plays with a split personality. A reshman, she can be both unbeatable and easily beaten sometimes in the same game.

No. 1 DuPage: tough opener

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

The cast has changed, but both coaches know what to expect when the men's soccer teams from Schoolcraft College and College of DuPage (from Glen Ellyn, Ill.) clash Saturday in the first round of the NJCAA Inter-regional Fournament, hosted by DuPage. It's doubtful there is another match of equal significance anywhere in the NJCAA's opening round. DuPage comes in ranked No. 1 in the country; SC is No. 8. Although they haven't faced each other this season, the two powerhouses are old rivals. They met in last year's first round (also hosted by DuPage) when both were ranked in the NJCAA's top 10. DuPage boasted one of the nation's best defenses, but the Ocelots scored twice.

It wasn't enough, however, Du-Page won in an overtime penaltykick shootout, extending SC's Inter-regional miseries. Since Van Dimitriou took over as coach, the Ocelots have been to the Inter-regional 10 times. But they have adanced to the NJCAA Tournament just once in that span.

Both teams have dominated their foes this season. Whoever wins Saturday's match (noon CST) will play for the tournament title against the winner of the Springfield (III.) College-Moraine which will follow the SC-DuPage same Saturday.

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU TESTED YOUR SMOKE DETECTORS?

Last month? Last year? Can't remember. If you're not sure your smoke detectors are working, then how can you be sure you'll be protected if a fire breaks out? Don't gamble with your life and assume your smoke detectors are working. Test each one, every month, so you'll know they'll be ready to protect you and your family if there's a fire. Test your detector for life.

Isle Royale mystery never lets you go

uperior Death," by Nevada Barr. (303 pp., Putnam's, $19.95) Set mostly in and around Michigan's primeval Isle Royale National Park, "A Superior Death" is one of those seductive mystery novels that reaches out and gathers you in from the very start, and never lets you go.

Off Isle Royale lie the remains of many ships that have succumbed to Lake Superior's deadly whims over the years. Scattered about the barren lake floor, each of these is exceedingly wellpreserved in its chilled and watery tomb.

According to Barr's briskly paced tale, the deepest is the "Kamloops," a cargo ship which went down in 1927. Now, her stern rests at 175 feet, her bow at 260, making her remains far too deep and dangerous for all but the most experienced or determined of divers.

Five luckless sailors still stand guard in her engine room, by the way. " . . cold, protected from currents, no creatures to eat them, they , in the dark .n. . translu-(swim) like ghosts cent as wraiths."

Enter Anna Pigeon, a middle-aged U.S. park ranger recently assigned to Isle Royale. Fresh from her last assignment among the fence lizards and sagebrush of West Texas (in Barr's acclaimed debut novel, "Track of the Cat"), she is still trying to acquaint herself with this misty, watery area when, one day, she makes a startling discovery.

Seems the five legendary sailors have been joined by another body. Turns out, it's not another ghostly crew member of the ill-fated ship who's somehow wended his watery way to the engine room after nearly 70 years. Turns out, it's a diver from the island, an acquaintance of Anna's, very recently dead, and very definitely murdered. In and around this highly unusual crime scene, several rather quirky characters appear (and sometimes disappear), many of them seeming to have something to hide, some secret to keep. (Barr has much to say here about surfaces and appearances, and what lies beneath disguises, costumes, and other "armor" we may take on. She also likes to emphasize that not only can our eyes deceive us, but our ears as well.)

There's the spritely Tinker, who seems sometimes to be made of nothing but light, so change able is her appearance. There's her soulmate, Damien, who not only cloaks his body, but also his voice. There's Frederick (the Fed) Stanton, who may be a slightly dorky '50s freak (and then again, maybe not). There's Patience Bittner, whose expensive "costumes" always complement the color of her hair. There's Hawk Bradshaw, a "lovely" man, who hides a terrible secret. And then, of course, there's Oscar, who just pretends he's a bear stuffed full of sawdust.

Perhaps Barr's most special talent is her gift

t. Mary Hospital in Livonia joins forces with the Visual Arts Association of Livonia (VAAL) to exhibit paintings Nov. 6-19 in the Marian Pavilion Lobby adjacent to the hospital at 36475

Five Mile Road and Levan. A reception for the artists and an awards ceremo ny will take place 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6 in the lobby. The public is invited.

Forty area artists exhibiting media from oil and watercolor to pastel and colored pencil will be on dis play as well as for sale in the show. Hours are 1-6 p.m. daily.

"It's something new and different for us," said Julie Sproul, community relations director for the hospital. "It gives out-patients waiting for tests a diversion and it's a way to bring the public into the hospital while they're well."

The concept for the Autumn Art exhibit at St. Mary's was born one year ago when VAAL member, Shirley Bishop brought her mother-in-law to the Mar-ian Pavilion for cataract surgery. It was then, she noticed that the lobby's large windows and atrium provided a light and airy atmosphere , a. fect for dis-playing artwork. That's when she contarted Sproul.

"It exposes us to a whole new audience and pre-sents our show in a different setting," said Bishop, an award winning watercolorist in the show

"A good reason for visiting the show is that we have a lot of good painters in the area, and it's one way to introduce your children to art without traveling a long distance. Also, It would be really nice to purchase a piece of art in memory of someone and donate it to the hospital. There's so many people wandering around waiting."

Although St. Mary's has shown a smattering of art and photography before, they went all out for the VAAL fall art show. Staff carpenter, Dennis Manteuf-fel even built new display panels for the exhibition. "St. Mary's works with the community organizations and clubs in outreach programs. We're always

"My art and design background helped with my designs. The beads are little mini pieces of art. I like wearable art and seeing people wearing my work," said the 31 year old Livonia resident.

Sold in galleries from Wisconsin to the West Coast, Fine's jewelry starts out as plain gray clay. She transforms it into striking beads accented with decorative lines, swirls and circles of color. The beads are fired twice in a large kiln, once after painting with an underglaze, and a second time after a glass coat is applied.

# ZERO-DOWN MORTGAGE

Shore Mortgage of Birmingham has responded to rising rates with the zero-down mortgage plan.

"For no money down, prospective home buyers can get into their home by paying only the closing costs," says Jeff Jannett, loan officer. On a $100,000 house, that means coming up with not $10,000 under a conventional mortgage but about $4,000.

"Our conversations with buyers tell us accumulating the down payment is the most difficult problem," Jannett said. The only requirement of this plan is that it's for mortgages above $50,000. A VA mortgage provides similar savings for those who qualify. Shore also has put in place a number of new low down-payment, buyer-friendly mortgage plans designed to help every type of borrower enter the market.

These plans help buyers avoid finding their di am home and then getting caught in the nightmare of a failed financial transaction. Shore specializes in niche buyer products. Call (810) 644-5140

Realtor's Index compares home prices

BY JANICE TIGAR-KRAMER SPECIAL WRITER

If you're considering a short-distance move from Livonia to Rochester Hills, for example, you'll want to compare home prices in both areas. Until now, buyers had a few time consuming options in which to comparison shop - look through multiple listing information with a real estate sales agent, check newspaper ads or race around to open houses in different market areas. Sterling Heights-based Coldwell Banker Schweitzer Real Estate, with offices in nearly every Observer & Eccentric community, has simplified price comparison with an uncomplicated chart. The Home Price Comparison Index was conceived by Coldwell Banker Corp., whose initial guide compared home prices in 251 market areas across the country. Coldwell Banker Schweitzer localized it so metro-Detroit buyers could find out what their current home would sell for in any one of 39 Michigan communities, including Birmingham, Bloomfield Township, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth, Royal Oak, Troy, West Bloomfield, Southfield, Novi, Rochester Hills and Farmington Hills The index is based on the price of a 2,200-square-foot, colonial-style home with four bedrooms, 21/4 baths, a family room and a two-car garage. The average price for the subject home in each town is based on homes sold Jan. 1 to Aug. 1, 1994. The home and neighborhood are typical for a middle-management corporate transferee.

"It's a great tool. It's designed to make it easier for clients to househunt," said Kathy Schweitzer, administrative and public relations director for Coldwell Banker Schweitzer. "You can either sit down at a computer to look at listings, run around to different areas to look at ing the index, but it's easy enough for open houses or use the index."

Here's how the index works: An index number has been assigned to each community. Multiply the market value of your home by the index number for your destination city. Divide the answer by the index number for the city in which you currently live. The result is roughly what you'll pay for a similar home in the new area.

For example: you live in a $110,000 home in Southfield and want to move ly, an $89,258 home in Oklahoma to a similar home in Farmington City might get a whopping $920,000

Hills. Multiply $110,000 by 87 (Farmington Hills' index) and divide the answer by 67 (Southfield's index). A corporate transferee can do the same sort of calculation to compare the price of similar homes in Livonia and suburban Chicago, for example. "The index is also helpful since making a move, especially to a more expensive area, can have a direct ef fect on your cost of living," said Paul Schweitzer, Coldwell Banker

Schweitzer president. Since the real estate market fluctuates, the broker will update the local index quarterly or semi-annually. Coldwell Banker sales agents and relocation specialists are already ushouse-hunters to use themselves, says Kathy Schweitzer.

"The index makes life easier for sales people and for clients who won't have to drive to several different areas o compare home prices," she said.

The national index includes price information for markets in all 50 states, Canada and Puerto Rico. The broker's literature also includes a striking example of how market areas around the country vary. SurprisingUsing the index Multiply the market value of your current home ew town. Divide that result by the index for your current hometown. The result is estimated cost of a similar home in your new town, Example: Moving from Roches-ter Hills to Plymouth with your current home valued at $200,000 - $200,000 times 88 divided by 86 equals $204,651 (est. cost similar home in new town). allarkat Ava. Price In Car wash: The design and construction of this building in Bloomfield Hills puts commercial car washes in an entirely new light.

car wash? You've got to be kidding

Not all car washes today sport a dark, squat, cinder-block look. A new structure in Bloomfield Hills may set a new construction standard not only in affluent Oakland County, but throughout the metro area.

By MARY RODRIQUE STAFF WRITER

By night it looks like an illumi-nated block of ice. By day the sleek glass block building with the wavy esign looks more like a Henry

Moore sculpture than the newest car wash in Bloomfield Hills. When Bloomfield Hills developer Tim Driscoll bought the former Rally Car Wash on Telegraph at Long Lake Road two years ago, he envisioned a major remodeling job. "It did a good business." said

Driscoll, who owns Troy Auto Wash. "I had my eye on that corner for quite some time.

The poor condition of the 36year-old building, and even worse condition of the soil underneath, made Driscoll scrap his initial plan

Instead, he hired Bloomfield Hills architect Todd M. Young, of Young & Young Architects, Inc., to create a totally new bold look.

The site, set back from the southeast corner of the intersection, is only visible to commuters along northbound Telegraph. The view from Long Lake is obstructed by a brick wall from a neighboring ervice station.

The only entrance to the car wash had been off Long Lake Road, from behind the gas station, making it a fairly local business. Driscoll wanted to capture the huge potential customer base motoring by on Telegraph. "Because the city only allows a four foot by by seven foot sign, I wanted to make my building a sign, something eye catching." Driscoll said.

Thus two years and $300,000 later (about twice the price of a standard car wash), Driscoll is ready for business. He was ready to open Oct. 15.

"You have to catch the person driving down the road," said Young, who had designed superstores for retail groups but admits this project was his first car wash.

"These buildings have come so far," he said. "We have the latest and greatest in technology here.

Women must make money work harder

"Women need more money and the money ments first from your paycheck, before daily needs to work harder," maintains Phyllis living expenses. Expenses will diminish to fit a Plymouth financial planner who ncial education classes for women. Eliminate life insurance if there's no need teaches financial education classes for women.

"Due to the fact that women usually enter the job force after raising children, typically earn less than their equally educated male counterparts, and statistically live longer, the amount of money they'll need to save for retire-ment is greater than the males," she added.

Many women don't start thinking about their own financial security until after their children leave home, Wordhouse said.

"Many women in their early fifties have only $2,000 saved for retirement when they come to my class or office. This procrastination is financial suicide."

Wordhouse gives these tips to women

Set up an individualized specific plan to give yourself a focus to strive for. Stop going with the flow Control impulse spending and emotional money decisions. Future wealth or poverty is determined by today's actions. Income is what you spend, wealth is what you invest.

Save $5,000 in a municipal bond fund to provide burial expenses.

Understand how inflation is your enemy. Investments must generate a total return beyond inflation and taxes, otherwise, you're going backward.

Compound interest can make more money than you can make. Knowledge is useless, uness there's action. Start saving immediately.

Playing the lottery or gambling is not sound retirement planning. Unrealistic expectations and get-rich-quick schemes don't work. Invest each payday in diversified equity assets and be patient.

Keep your investments diversified, no matter what the market does. Each year a different investment does better than the rest. Diversification cuts 60 to 70 percent of your risk.

Understand the tax laws and use them to your advantage.

Use investment professionals. A professional retirement portfolio is more aggressive.

You've probably heard the horror stories aiready

For college bound students this fall, the four-year cost including tuition, room, board, books and other expenses will average $77,400 at a private university and $36,030 at a public school.

cars waiting to enter and also elongates the building. The pre-wash rinsing off area is situated inside the building. In this sec tion, cathedral ceilings give the appearance of more space. Because the entire building is small, roughly 100 feet long by 30 feet wide, a small cylinder shaped glass block enclosed section at the rear will serve as the only office space.

"The original entrance was very unfortunate," Driscoll said. "Eighty percent of the traffic moving down Telegraph didn't know it was here; the other 20 percent didn't know how to enter.

So plans were made to change the entrance. Several layers of bureaucra cy later, the car wash entrance is off Telegraph.

The amount of willpower it took to get this project from start to finish was phenomenal," Young said. "There were highs and lows. It's a piece of poetry."

James Scott, a Bloomfield Hills landscape architect, provided the trees and shrubbery and coordinated efforts with city hall.

Another feature - all the equip ment that doesn't need to be exposed such as electrical wiring, is buried underground. Thus the effect is a clean look and a light look - thanks to the 100 foot long by 10 foot high glass block outside wall.
