Patterson: Politics got Warfield job

It's a year away, but it appears that the 1996 county commission race for a seat that includes Canton Township may be heating up already for incumbent Wayne County Commissioner Bruce Patterson and former opponent Ken Warfield.

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW

Wayne County Clerk Teola Hunter has created a new job and hired Wayne Mayor Ken Warfield — who ran unsuccessfully for county commissioner against Bruce Patterson of Canton last year — to fill it.

In the $46,000 per-year job, which Warfield started Sept. 11, he is to serve as a liaison between the clerk's office and western Wayne and Downriver communities, Warfield said.

Hunter said Warfield will also co-chair her Space and Quality Assurance committees, and help in the elections department in statistics and records.

Warfield is running for re-election this year as Wayne mayor, and said he has "no idea" if he will run for a two-year term on the county commission again in 1996. Warfield is no stranger to Canton Township. He is often a participant in community events, such as the Canton Economic Club.

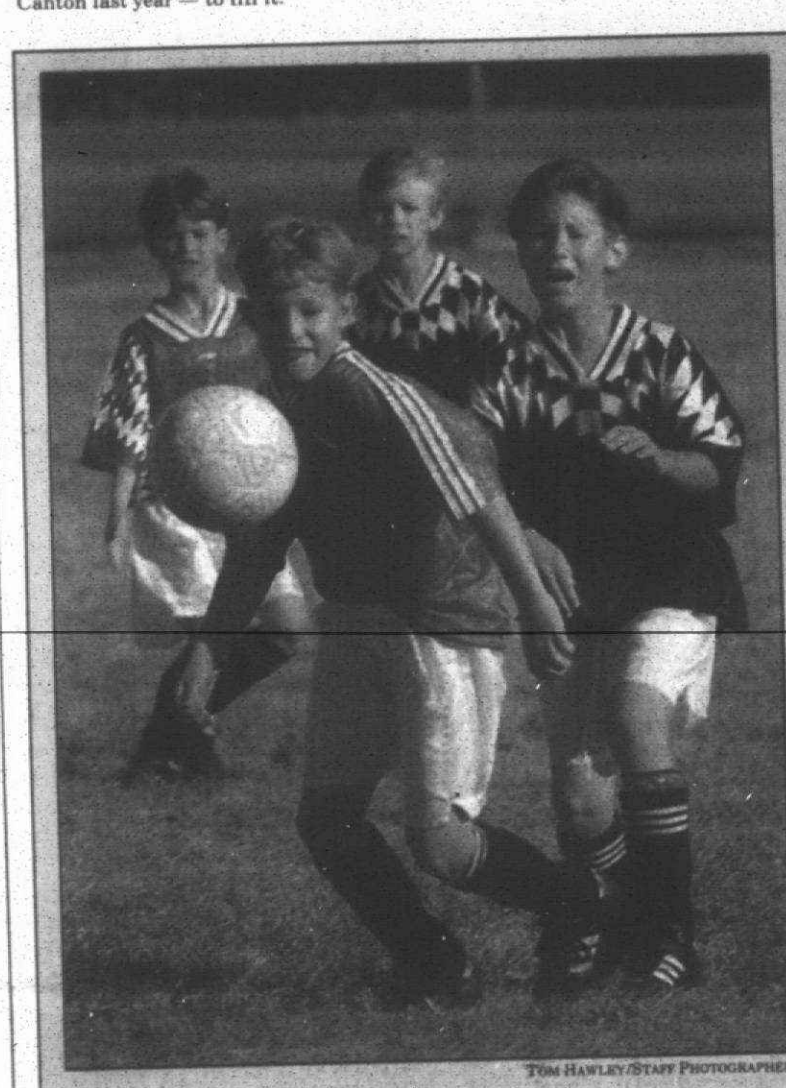

Patterson says Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara arranged Warfield's new job to prepare him for another commission run next year.

"I'm sure this is to assist (Warfield) in gaining notoriety and community activity recognition. This is all orchestrated obviously . . . by McNamara," he said. "No question about it. He's got a kill sign on me."

Warfield, Patterson said, "will be every place he can to try and build support for his candidacy. That's the only reason he would get off his retired bottom to go and do anything in the communities."

Warfield said McNamara had

Canton chock-full of soccer lovers

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW

Although many hockey parents will likely give you an argument, Canton Township is a hotbed of soccer.

For example, a one-year-old team of 10-year-old boys called the Vipers has become a powerhouse already, having recently bested 23 other area teams in a Dearborn tournament.

Coached by Canton residents Dave Foess and Mark Zemanski, the team is comprised of 16 boys from the Plymouth-Canton school district.

When tryout were held to form the team, 75-80 boys competed for the honor of being a Viper, Foess said. "Soccer is probably your fastest growing sport in the U.S. today."

The Vipers play almost year round. Currently they're amidst the nine-game fall schedule, then play

Former resident faces third murder trial

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

It may seem like O.J. Simpson's murder trial is the longest on record. But O.J. is a legal lightweight compared to former Canton resident Dr. Charles Fisher, accused in the 1984 murder of his wife, Ella Maria Mercado Fisher.

Currently in the Saginaw Regional Correctional Facility, the microbiologist will stand trial for the third time Oct. 9 in connection with the asphyxiation death of Mercado.

Mercado, a nurse, was suffocated with duct tape in the living room of the couple's home on Thornwood in Canton. Fisher was found guilty of first-degree murder by two juries. The first trial was ruled in error based on a comment made by a prosecutor. In late 1991, the Michigan Supreme Court reversed a second conviction, ruling that a diary kept by Mercado should not have been admitted into evidence.

The state Supreme Court ruled Aug. 9 that evidence regarding Mercado's state of mind is admissible. "We can bring in nine classes of information," said Wayne County assistant prosecutor Bob Donaldson. The evidence can include portions of Mercado's diary, letters written by Fisher, as well as statements from others who spoke to Mercado before her murder.

Donaldson and Canton Detective William Keppen are in the process of tracking down 41 witnesses all over the U.S., as well as overseas. The jury trial before Wayne Circuit Judge Thomas Roumell is expected to last

Some residents on Registry in Sunflower subdivision have just about had it with two weeded and wet vacant lots that back up to their houses.

"This has been a problem for five years. They dug a hole for a basement. When I got home that day they had backfilled it. We have a skating rink every winter," said Registry resident Linda Dugan.

Neighbor Kurt Kachin recalls the day his son was chased out of the weeds by a skunk. "An area like this attracts rats," he said. "When I first moved in, this was completely underwater."

The two lots — numbers 1220 and 1221 Gunnery — stand between two houses and are clearly visible to neighbors in the area. "All other commons areas have trees and they are mowed," said resident Gale Marcos. "If this was private property, we would be fined for the weeds."

Canton financial services manager leaves

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

Canton's financial services manager will become the new Wayne County director of management and budget for airport operations in mid-October.

"It's a new position. I'm the first one," said Susan Kopinski, who will work for the Wayne County chief financial officer.

Kopinski will work in a satellite office at Detroit Metro Airport and her duties will also include Willow Run Airport. "This is going to be 'create as you go,' " said the Canton resident. "I will be hiring a staff."

Kopinski was recently honored by the Canton Township Board of Trustees with a special incentive award for her work. "She has been a very valuable employee for us," said Dan Durack, administrative services director. "She has been our only financial services manager. She has done a great job putting the department together."

She was recruited for the new position in which she will be responsible for airport finances. "My work will include purchasing and contracts," she said. "I will be doing financial statements."

'She has been our only financial services manager. She has done a great job putting the department together.' Dan Durack, administrative services

Kopinski has a bachelor's degree in public administration with a concentration in financial administration from the University of Michigan-Dearborn. She is also working on her thesis for her master's degree. "All the research is done. It's a question of sitting down and doing it," Kopinski said.

Before coming to Canton Township, Kopinski worked as a supervisor of student accounting and budget analyst at U of M-Dearborn, as well as a cost accountant at Cadillac. Kopinski is also the immediate past president of the Michigan Municipal Finance Officers Association.

"This is a very exciting move for me. But it is also sad for me to leave the township," Kopinski said. "The hardest thing is to leave the people I work with. That is the hardest thing."

Kopinski and her husband, Jim, an engineer with Ford Motor Co., and their 10-year-old son, Christopher, will continue to live in Canton.

Durack said that Kopinski's job won't be filled immediately. "We're taking a look at the whole financial operation. We'll see if we can move the duties around.

Billiards business aims to succeed

The revitalized pool hall of the '90s, now called a "billiards room," has arrived in Canton Township in the form of the newly opened Shark Club.

Situated in the Ford Road strip mall east of Lilley that is anchored by New York Carpet World, the 12,000-square-foot Shark Club is separated from the parking lot by nothing but glass from one end to the other.

With 24 top-of-the-line pool tables, 15 25-inch television sets, three 10-foot TVs, several dart boards, food and a bar, owners Michael Mazzy and Joseph Puertas are ready to entertain from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. "You can do just about anything here," Mazzy said.

The establishment is an exact copy of the Shark Club in Waterford, which is owned by Puertas and has hosted the annual Women's Professional Billiards Association tournament for three years running. It's hoped the tournament will land at the Canton Shark Club next May.

Mazzy plans to attract an upscale crowd to the Shark Club and has furnished it accordingly. A full-service bar sits in the center of the single large room. On either side of the bar are waist-high gray tables equipped with four stools each. On both ends of the room are the $4,000 pool tables, 12 on each end.

"It's upscale," said manager Jim Wiseman. "Something you might find in Las Vegas."

Added Mazzy: "We want people to know when they come here that they get the best service."

The place is designed so that patrons may put their names on a waiting list for a pool table at the front desk, then sit down and have something to eat and drink while awaiting the table. The menu includes Mexican food, steaks, chicken, deli items and appetizers.

Just don't try to call the Shark Club a pool hall. It's not a dimly lit, testosterone-filled hustler haven, Mazzy said, but rather a bright, cheery, non-threatening multi-entertainment center where both sexes feel at home.

"When you make them like this, women feel comfortable coming in here," Mazzy said.

Marching Band kids show their stuff at competition

By Diane Hanson
Special Writer

The Plymouth-Canton High School Marching Band swept the field of 18 competing bands at the Laker Invitational at West Bloomfield High School the evening of Saturday, Sept. 16, with an overall highest score of 70.2 for their performance of "Prophecy of the Earth."

Band director David McGrath was pleased with the score and the band's performance this early in the season.

"We did some things very, very well," he said of the show. "It had its rough spots but we learned almost half of the show in the past week. Considering how difficult the show is and how much we threw at them this week, we feel good."

The band performed about two-thirds of the total show on Saturday but, according to McGrath, members will have completed nearly the entire show by the time of their next competition, Toledo Regionals, on Sept. 30.

Members will have completed nearly the entire show by the time of their next competition.

"We will have all but about 40 seconds of the show by Toledo," said McGrath. "We'll have everything but the end."

There is good reason, according to McGrath, for putting the show together section by section.

"You know, it's a different philosophy," he said. "Some people want to get everything done up front and then try to clean it up. To me, I don't want them (the band members) to develop bad habits. It's an educational philosophy. I don't want them to feel like they're being pushed so hard to get things done without having it explained thoroughly, without the thorough understanding on their part as a performer.

"We make sure they have good basic fundamental training because, to me, we are about teaching the kids."

And those kids have learned well. In addition to achieving the overall high score for the evening, they captured the first-place trophy for Flight I competition as well as Caption Award trophies for Best Winds and Best Marching and Maneuvering in that division. Other Flight I bands competing on Saturday were Davison, Livonia Franklin, Heritage from Saginaw, Milford, Southgate Anderson, Troy Athens and Waterford Mott. The West Bloomfield band, also Flight I, played in exhibition as host of the Laker Invitational.

The second highest score for the evening, 66.7, was achieved by the Lakeland High School band from Milford in Flight II competition.

Pat Ruddy, associate director in charge of marching for the Plymouth-Canton band, was very happy with the recognition the band received for the challenging marching performance.

"We still have another two and a half to three minutes left and we already have more drill spots than we did last year in our whole show," said Ruddy. "They'll get close to 88 different spots in the field that they need to memorize in about a nine-minute section.

"It was one of our strongest first shows that we've had in quite some time. They worked extremely hard all year, especially the last two weeks and I'm just happy when they're recognized for it."

Agricultural land rezoning denied by commissioners

By Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

Too early.

That's the consensus for a request to rezone agricultural land west of Beck Road to medium-density residential. "The staff has some concerns on the general development in this area," said Jeff Goulet, Canton community planner.

Tammie Graven/Staff Artist

Planning commissioners denied a request by developer Richard Schram to rezone little more than 50 acres on south of Geddes Road, west of Beck, to a residential designation allowing a maximum of three units per acre. The township planning staff recommended denial because the request is incompatible with the existing agricultural area. So far, R-3 (maximum three units per acre) has been limited to the east of Beck Road.

Schram told commissioners he wants to build two or three units per acre. "But I don't want to be limited. Otherwise this piece is not buildable. It won't be something slapped together. We just don't do that," Schram told commissioners Sept. 11. He reminded them that about 12-15 of the acres cannot be built on because of wetlands.

The township's future land use plan shows Schram's parcel as R-3, which allows a maximum three units per acre, as well as light industrial. But commissioner Melissa McLaughlin, a Canton trustee, told Schram that the future land use plan doesn't guarantee land will be rezoned accordingly.

"There has been no rezoning history west of Beck Road over R-2 (a maximum two units per acre). I don't want to reverse that trend," said McLaughlin, adding that the medium-density zoning is too premature in what remains an agricultural area.

The property also lacks utilities. "This piece has to wait until water and sewer is brought across," Goulet said.

Commissioner Tom Sullivan reminded planning staff that their recommendation was contrary to the master plan. "I'm not sure I understand the leapfrogging you describe," he said.

Goulet told him that agricultural is on three sides of the Schram piece. "How premature is it? Time will only tell the direction of development in the township."

Goulet said he discussed development options available to Schram. "It sounds like he wants smaller lots than R-3," he said, adding with R-2 zoning, which provides half-acre lots, septic tanks would be allowable.

"We were hoping for sewer and water to come up. That's one reason we tabled it," Schram said, referring to his request that was tabled May 1, following a public hearing.

He told commissioners that R-2 leaves him no flexibility. But McLaughlin responded: "We have to make our decision not on what Mr. Schram will or won't do, or what his development will be. It is rezoning."

Sport appeals to him

Livonia native Steven Dell, who was born with cerebral palsy, will travel to Sydney, Australia in October to play in the World Boccia Cup.

Dell, 26, has difficulty talking and making his arms and hands do what he wants them to do. Yet the wheelchair-bound athlete has played a specialized form of boccia ball since 1991.

The boccia player begins by tossing a white ball on the floor. Then six black balls are thrown, the intention being to land as near the white ball as possible.

Dell practices his craft three to five times per week for 60-90 minutes per session on the Village Green apartments racquetball courts.

Last July, Dell competed in the Victory Games, a national athletic event for individuals with cerebral palsy held in Connecticut.

Dell placed second in categories called "High Toss, Soft Discus, Soft Shot" and "Boccia," earning the privilege of representing the U.S. in Australia next month. The High Toss, Dell said, "is like the pole vault, but I don't go over the bar."

A 15-year member of the United Cerebral Palsy Athletic Association, Dell has accumulated 106 ribbons and medals between his boccia ball and swimming endeavors.

Bill Bresler/Staff Photographer

Look out: Canton Township resident Steven Dell practices boccia ball three to five times per week for 60-90 minutes per session on the Village Green apartments racquetball courts.

Dell raised $4,500 to pay for the Australia trip by soliciting area business owners for help. The Westland city employees union raised $2,200 in a raffle.

Dell grew up in Livonia and attended John Glenn High in Westland. Currently he shares an apartment off Haggerty Road with another man who has cerebral palsy.

Wayne Community Living Services, the largest social-service agency in southeast Michigan, pays the bills for Dell and his roommate through Frederick Family Homes, said Maxine Orr.

Orr works with a staff of three individuals to keep a 24-hour/day watch on Dell and his roommate and drive them wherever they need to go in a specially equipped van.

Dell had a job in a warehouse for six months last year, but was let go in January. "Too long ago," he said. "I'm looking for a job."

While he's looking, Dell attends Schoolcraft College in Livonia, majoring in business. He has 39 credit hours behind him at present and needs 21 more for his associate's degree.

Local students aiming high in national scholarship program

By M.B. Dillon
Staff Writer

Good news has arrived at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park from Evanston, Ill., home of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Eight seniors, six from Salem High School and two from Canton High School, have been named semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Canton students Albert Hamood and Jeremy Stillings, and Salem students Jahi Chappell, Steven Decker, Jessica Engle, Andrea Frey, Heh Shin Kwak and Erin Reid are among 15,000 high school seniors chosen as semifinalists in the 41st annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

"It's very exciting, because this is a national competition," said Salem counselor June Swartz. "If you are a merit scholar, you're known everywhere."

Said Salem counselor Jan Dersey, "We have an unusually high number of semifinalists this year. Last year we had none at Salem; this year we have six. We are pretty proud of that. Generally speaking, the kids are really outstanding and wonderfully well-rounded, in both academics and athletics."

Juniors in more than 19,000 American high schools entered the 1996 merit program by taking the 1994 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, taken by more than one million program entrants. The highest scorers — about one half of one percent of the state's high school graduating class — were designated semifinalists.

Finalists are considered for one of 2,000 National Merit $2,000 scholarships within each state. Some 400 corporations, company foundations and organizations will support about 1,100 merit scholarship awards for finalists who meet the award sponsor's preferential criteria.

"Semifinalists advance to the finalist level by fulfilling additional requirements that include having an outstanding academic record, being endorsed and recommended by the high school principal, and submitting SAT scores that confirm the student's earlier PSAT performance," said Elaine Detweiler, public information director for the National Merit Scholarship program.

"Other important information about the student's educational interests and goals, as well as participation and leadership in school and community activities, is provided in the application the semifinalist and an official from the high school must complete."

"As long as they give us some money, it's worthwhile," joked Stillings, who plans to study government, politics or law at Georgetown or Tulane universities. "It's really a great honor to be picked for something like this," he added. "I know a lot of colleges take a look at this award. It should help out with college."

About 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists, based on their "potential for success in rigorous college studies, given the professional evaluations of their academic abilities, skills and accomplishments," said Detweiler.

About 200 colleges and universities are expected to sponsor more than 3,800 merit scholarship awards. Scholarship winners will be announced beginning in April. The scholars will join some 20,000 others enrolling in 600 higher-education institutions in 1996-97.

"It's a big deal," said Frey, who's thinking of majoring in engineering. "There aren't that many people who get this." Frey said she's excited about college, "but a little scared, because I like it here."

Chappell is also thinking of an engineering career. Being named a semifinalist is "great. I can use any help I can get getting into college. It's so crazily expensive. It's $3,000-$5,000 just for tuition. To go to U-M or MSU, it's $12,000 a year."

Engle plans to go to Vanderbilt University to major in special education. "Hopefully this will increase my chances," she said.

Residents lose electrical power

Some Canton residents were without electrical power for about 12 hours Saturday, Sept. 16 when overhead equipment malfunctioned and an underground cable failed.

Fifty-nine customers in the area of Keystone and Manton, south of Ford Road, lost power about 9:50 p.m. Power was restored by 9 a.m. the next day, according to a Detroit Edison spokesman.

Canton firefighters made three outage-related runs that evening, including one to the Olive Garden restaurant on Ford Road after a power surge was reported.

District reports enrollment drop

Student enrollment continues to decline in the Wayne-Westland school district.

The district's fourth Friday count of 14,709 pupils on Sept. 15 marked a 185-student drop in enrollment from the previous year, said Terry Wood, the district's community relations coordinator.

The student count reflected a tally of pupils from the district's 24 schools. It encompassed students in kindergarten through 12th grade, including special education students.

The fourth Friday count reflects a continuing decline in enrollment, which was as high as 23,916 in the 1971-72 school year, Wood said.

Are you a Compulsive Overeater?

If you answer "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may be a compulsive overeater. You are not alone. Millions of Americans suffer from this disease.

Compulsive overeating is a painful, relentless illness that interferes with every aspect of life. It is a disease that gets progressively worse if left untreated.

Weight gain often accompanies this illness. But not always. Many compulsive overeaters maintain normal body weight by strict diets, fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting, or excessive laxative use. These methods are ineffective and medically dangerous.

Weight is not the problem, and dieting is not the solution. The problem is the disease of compulsive overeating, and the solution is a program of treatment and recovery.

The Eating Disorders Clinic (EDC) of St. Mary Hospital offers an outpatient treatment program that leads to lasting recovery. Our approach is comprehensive. We help our patients make lifestyle changes that give them renewed confidence in themselves and more control over their lives. Gradually, the chronic binge/diet cycle is replaced by a healthy, more satisfying, and more productive way of life. With food in its proper place, weight normalizes.

At EDC, we work as a team -- psychologist, psychiatrist, physician, nutritionist, and specially trained therapists -- to diagnose and treat eating disorders. This experienced staff provides treatment with understanding and sensitivity.

nothing to do with his new job. "I'm not even sure McNamara knows I'm on board yet," he said.

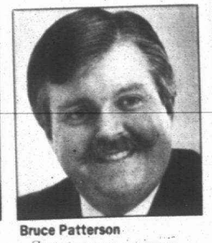

Hunter said she has wanted to hire Warfield since she was elected in 1992. "This has absolutely nothing to do in the world with Ken running against Bruce Patterson," she said. "It had slipped my mind that Ken had ever run for county commissioner."

McNamara spokeswoman Irma Clark said McNamara said "he had absolutely nothing to do with Teola Hunter hiring Ken Warfield. If Bruce Patterson is that paranoid about anyone running against him, then he ought to move to another city."

Patterson's response: "What a crock."

three weeks.

"I've practiced for 12 years, and this is the only case I know of with this type of procedural history. I've never heard of a case like this," said Donaldson.

Keppen says the Fisher case is by far the most expensive in Canton history. "I don't know of a trial that has lasted longer than this one," said Keppen, who extradited Fisher from St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands following the murder. "It's unusual that it would hang on this long, and that they would be successful in so many appeals."

Traveling to Michigan will be Mercado's parents, Evelyn and Manuel Mercado, who live in Florida. Coming the farthest will be a friend of Ella Maria Mercado's, now living in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. The two attended Wayne State University together, and the friend now heads an Arabian hospital research education program.

Other witnesses include Dr. Joanne Bulley, formerly of St. Joseph's in Ypsilanti and now working in New Hampshire. Relatives from Huntsville, Ala., Lewisburg, Tenn., Hopkinsville, Ky., and Columbia, Mo., also will take the stand.

"It's been very time-consuming. As of now, we've probably gotten in touch with 85 to 90 percent of the witnesses. They're scattered all over," said Keppen.

Surprisingly, said Donaldson, most of the witnesses are still alive, healthy, and able to make the trip.

"I think we are going to be able to put it together," he said. "I know one witness had a severe stroke, but it's one of the attending physicians who did not provide pivotal testimony."

The prosecution also plans to call as witnesses police officers from Missouri, where the Fishers lived before moving to Michigan. "Charlie claimed to have made a report, saying his wife's life was threatened while they lived there. Iranian men were the culprits," said Keppen.

While Donaldson and Keppen agree the case has cost taxpayers plenty, it's nearly impossible to assign a dollar figure.

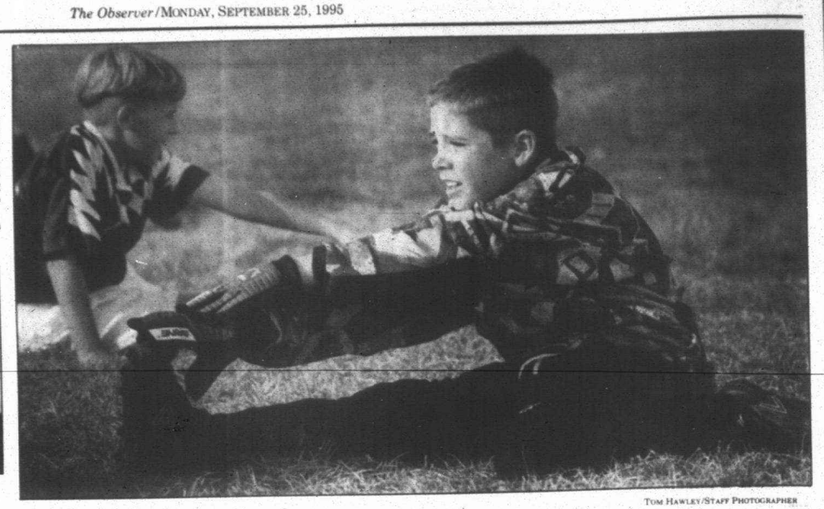

"Anytime you fly witnesses in or out of state, it's more expensive," said Donaldson. "The bottom line is, it's our belief he is responsible for this. If we have to keep on trying it, we're going to keep on trying it. I don't care about expense. I care about justice."

Keppen clearly remembers the night of the murder.

He responded at about 3 a.m. to a report of a burglary, following officers George Sharp and Robert Sidor to the Thornwood home.

Fisher testified intruders gagged and bound both him and his wife, and that he was unable to revive her once he freed himself. He currently is doing time for solicitation of perjury.

The court has appointed two new attorneys for Fisher, formerly represented by Ken Mogill.

15 indoor games during the winter. Then the spring/summer play begins again. "Soccer here now goes 11 months a year," Foess said. "It's quite a commitment for the kids and the coaches."

Canton resident Kurt Johnston coaches another youth soccer team comprised, of 11-year-old boys in the Little Caesars Premier Division.

Johnston's team, the Predators, took second place at the 20-team Dearborn Invitational Soccer Tournament Aug. 27, besting everyone but the only other Canton team at the event, the Lightning.

"Between the two of us we beat 10 teams," Johnston said.

Team members of the Predators are Ben Brockschmidt, Brady Burns, Michael Cizewski, Kevin Coxford, Eric Durance, Keith Fukuda, Brian Gawronski, Steven Johnston, Scott Koehler, Jared Lamborn, Nick Oswalt, Tavio Palazzolo, Kevin Peurassari, Jason Poniatowski, Mark Reid, Jeremy Schwartz, Carl Space and Jeremy Stanko. The team is coached by Kurt Johnston and Paul Palazzolo.

Although many kids play recreational soccer, where showing up qualifies one to play, the Predators are the elite of Canton soccer for 11-year-olds. When Johnston and assistant coach Palazzolo held auditions in June for four openings, 147 boys showed up. "It takes me three days to do tryouts," Johnston said. "These kids all had to make the team. It's not like rec (soccer) where you show up and they put you on the team."

It's not cheap either. Start with the $100 registration fee, then add $100 for a uniform, $30 for an equipment bag, $65 for a warm-up suit, the cost of lodging and meals at tournaments, the cost of soccer shoes, the $300 tournament entry fee (split among all the parents), and you've got a major expense on your hands.

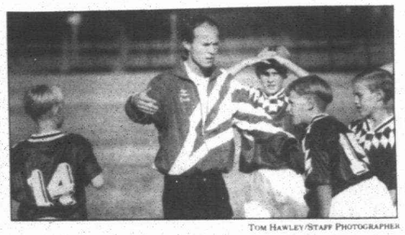

And still Johnston gets five to 10 phone messages per day from kids who want to play soccer.

"Our big problem is we don't have enough soccer fields in Canton," he said.

■ Regardless of who owns the property, nearby residents take exception to the lack of maintenance the property receives.

But according to John Esser, association president, the lots do not belong to the association and are not association parks. "We've been taking care of it and it's not our property," said John Esser, association president.

Sunflower developer Dick Lewiston was unavailable for comment.

The tax bills — taxes have gone unpaid since mid-July 1992 — for the two lots have a Gunnery mailing address, according to Elaine Kirchgatter, Canton treasurer.

Esser said he believes the developer still owns the lots, which cannot be built on. "Those two lots couldn't be built on because they were a pet cemetery for a farmer who owned the property before," he said.

Esser said he isn't sure the association is interested in buying the lots, either. He would have to get permission from association members to make such a move. "Why should we buy lots that are useless?"

Regardless of who owns the property, nearby residents take exception to the lack of maintenance the property receives. A contractor has mowed — except for a large grouping of weeds some 3-5 feet high in the center of the lots in a wet area.

Residents also called the township for help. Ordinance officer Gil Kohls checked out the lots. "They inherited a park or whatever they want to do with it," Kohls said. "Obviously, there has been a grading problem."

He said that while the weeds need to be cut, he would not issue a violation, based on township regulations. "Complaints should be taken to the Sunflower association. I don't feel this is any complaint I have to take to the developer. I'm not taking the volunteer (association) president to court," Kohls said.

Kohls said it is not a question of avoiding responsibility, rather difficulty in cutting because the area is so wet.

"They have to wait until it's dry to mow," Kohls said. "He (contractor) can't get in there with the mowers or it would be cut."

That's not good enough for the residents who back up to the lots. "Everybody we try to call passes the buck and doesn't want to be bothered," said resident Sue Emens. Marcos tells a similar story. "They kind of act like, 'oh, this is a problem?' They act like I am the only one who ever complained."

When a contractor recently mowed portions of the lots that were dry enough to accommodate the mower, the machine stalled. "He went all the way to the street and turned around to get into this. Then he totally stalled out," Emens said. "But he didn't even use a weed whacker."

As residents suspected, property taxes on the lots have not been paid since July 1992. On both lots, back taxes are $444 in 1992, $664 in 1993, $579 in 1994 and $337 for 1995. "It will go to the county," said Canton Treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter.

She said the lots are close to a tax sale. There are two options for the lots. The first is that they will be put up for sale. If no one is interested, they go to the state Department of Natural Resources and are then first offered to the township for purchase. "They still have one year to pay them off once a sale is finalized," Kirchgatter said.

Esser said concerned residents should contact the association and attend a meeting to discuss the vacant lots. "They should pitch their case," Esser said. "We are asking for people to make an appearance or to write a letter."

Kohls suggested the same. "They need to deal with this problem."

Class helps expectant, new dads

A class for new and expectant fathers, "Just for Dads . . . Childbirth and Beyond" helps new or expectant fathers better understand feelings and changes associated with the birthing process, how to become active participants in childbirth, and the new role of fatherhood.

The next class will be 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 5, in the Marian Pavilion Conference Room A. The format includes open discussion on attitudes and beliefs about fatherhood and lifestyle changes. Instruction on baby care includes a demonstration.

The charge is $10 per person and registration is required. To register call 591-3314.

Tax suits, protests are alive and kicking

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

■ Rose Bogaert of the Wayne County Taxpayers' Association has filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court to block collection of 4 percent tax on telephones for 911-emergency service.

Tax protesters are fighting Wayne County's 911-Emergency service, Oakland Community College, suburban buses, overall state spending and a new Tiger Stadium.

Here is your guide to who's suing whom, who's threatening and who's petitioning in Wayne and Oakland counties:

911-E in Wayne

Rose Bogaert of the Wayne County Taxpayers' Association has filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court to block collection of 4 percent tax on telephones for 911-Emergency service.

Her suit was filed by Ron Chapman, a Troy attorney and former Dearborn school board member. It contends the tax was passed without a vote of the people as required in the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment (Art. IX Sec. 31) to the Michigan Constitution.

The county board imposed the tax in 1987, nine years after voters approved the Headlee Amendment.

Chapman's brief, filed Sept. 19, says the revenue is a tax and not a fee because it's paid by everyone with a telephone while the service is used only by those needing emergency ambulance, fire or police service.

"They're very much concerned about this," Bogaert said Tuesday at a joint meeting in Pontiac of Michigan Taxpayers United and the Oakland Taxpayers League. "There's never been an accounting of this 911 service. The county has never done one. Ameritech (telephone company) has refused.

"The towers used for 911 will also service garbage trucks and recreation (department) vehicles. They (governmental agencies) won't pay," added Bogaert, a Dearborn Heights resident and Crestwood school board member.

Chapman's suit also names Ameritech as a defendant, asking the court to enjoin the telephone company's collection of the county tax.

OCC, SMART

Voters in June approved 0.8 mill for Oakland Community College, lying mostly in Oakland County, and a fraction of a mill in May and June for SMART, the suburban bus service in suburban Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Bill McMaster, Michigan Taxpayers United chair ("volunteer"), told a group of 40 that "we have found a way" to rescind both property tax increases.

The tool: a recall. "There are recalls of public officials. Well, we can recall a tax increase," said McMaster, pointing to the general election of 1996 as a target date.

Petitioning for a tax recall will be more complex with the SMART proposal because it was levied in only 20 of Oakland's 40-plus communities.

Contact: Bill McMaster, public relations, Southfield, (810) 443-5533.

State spending

McMaster is working with Detroit attorney Peter Macuga II on a suit that says Gov. John Engler and the Legislature are levying taxes beyond the income limits allowed in the Headlee amendment (Art. IX Sec. 26-27).

"Sue the bastards!" is how McMaster headlined his announcement of the meeting. He argues that total state revenues of $26.4 billion are 13 percent higher than in March 1994, when voters approved the Proposal A school funding plan, and that the increase is "four times the rate of inflation."

The Headlee Amendment fixes revenues at a percentage of total personal income of Michigan residents. "These weasels have not put in certain things," said McMaster, citing University of Michigan football revenues. "We're going to hang them on their own audit."

U-M handles about $2 billion a year, according to the Michigan Manual. On the revenue side, "auxiliary enterprises," which appears to include athletics, brings in nearly $120 million, and its hospitals' revenues are $822 million.

Macuga is the attorney who won a 7-0 State Supreme Court decision overturning Wayne County's surtax on real estate property transfers. People who sold their homes since 1990 are entitled, under the class action suit, to recover the overpayment, amounting to $60 on a $150,000 home.

Macuga told the taxpayers group the research will take some months. McMaster is a plaintiff, and Macuga said he wants up to 15 individual co-plaintiffs. "In this scenario, we want government looking at individual taxpayers," Macuga said.

The attorney said he expects state government to use "the Thieves' Defense: 'Your honor, you can't make us pay it back — we already spent it.'"

Contact: Bill McMaster, (810) 443-5533.

Meanwhile in Lansing, state Sen. Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, released his letter to state Treasurer Douglas Roberts saying "state revenues (are) over the constitutionally established Headlee limit by $220 million. As you know, this will exceed the Headlee one percent trigger level by $42 million and force the Legislature to take action to refund the excess funds."

Peters, a member of the Senate's tax-writing Finance Committee, referred to Art. IX Sec. 26 which says the state must refund, pro rata, the personal income tax and single business tax when revenues exceed the constitutional limit.

Peters asked Roberts, the Senate Fiscal Agency and House Fiscal Agency to convene promptly to propose a remedy.

No to stadium

Sen. George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, blistered the Sept. 20 decision by Gov. John Engler and the Michigan Strategic Fund board to put up $55 million in land acquisition and infrastructure for a new Detroit Tigers baseball stadium in downtown Detroit.

"We are blowing all of our economic development money for more than one year on this one project," Hart said in a news release in Lansing. Hart, whose district includes Garden City, said the fund has put up only $30 million for everything else in the state.

Hart said he and several unnamed lawmakers are considering both legal and legislative action.

Dentistry in the 90s
by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S

THE SERIOUS SIDE OF SNORING
While there are many jokes and funny stories about snoring, this disruptive sleeping condition can be indicative of a serious problem known as sleep apnea. This condition involves throat and tongue muscles that relax too much during sleep to create an obstruction of the windpipe. Sleep apnea victims are then left gasping for air up to 100 (or more) times nightly. These momentary wakings serve to tighten relaxed muscles and restore their airways. The toll taken by these recurring nighttime episodes usually manifests itself in terms of daytime fatigue. Once the problem is properly diagnosed, mild cases of sleep apnea may be treated with a dental device that brings the jaw forward, holds the tongue back, raises the soft palate, or does one or more of these things in combination.
Do you have a problem with snoring? Perhaps a dental device could be of help to you. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we are committed to saving your teeth and hope you will seek our help for any problem. Good oral hygiene and regular checkups can make a difference in your life. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where our services include all routine care, dentures, cosmetic dentistry, as well as crowns & bridgework. Smiles are our business. Canton residents report seeing cougar on the prowl

Staff Writer

Canton Township resident Debbie Mackinder became an inadvertent big-game hunter last week as she nearly ran down an animal she identified as a cougar on her way to work.

The St. Joseph Hospital nurse said she spotted the animal standing in the southbound lane of Ridge Road between Cherry Hill and Ford at about 5:45 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 21.

Mackinder, 41, barely swerved in time to miss the animal, she said, which had suddenly appeared in her headlights.

"He just kind of looked at me as if to say, 'What are you doing here?'"

Asked if the animal might have been a bobcat, Mackinder said it was too big for that.

"He took the whole half side of the road. His head was the size of a nice-size pumpkin."

Mackinder said she spoke to a Canton Township police officer when she returned home from work Thursday. The officer, she said, asked if she might not have seen a dog.

"No," she said. "I am real sure it wasn't a dog. I was wide awake and sober. I can close my eyes and see his eyes looking right at me."

A Department of Natural Resources spokeswoman who declined to give her name said that, if there is a cougar in western Canton Township, it's probably a pet that got loose.

However, it is also possible that the animal Mackinder saw is wild. A wild cougar "can survive out there for quite some time," the DNR spokeswoman said.

Dona Strang, who lives on Ridge Road, said she and her husband and children have also seen and heard a cougar around their property. "We know this thing is here," she said. "Nobody believes us except all the people who've seen it."

Robert Strang, his wife said, estimated he came within 20 feet of the animal last year behind the barn. The beast emitted an "enormous growl" that awoke others in the house, and Strang backed away slowly, his wife said.

Ella Dawn, who lives with her daughter and son-in-law on Ridge Road, believes she and her daughter, Laura Kosteva, may have seen a cougar last July.

"We were out in the back yard and saw a strange looking animal that just didn't fit in with the countryside," she said. "Whether that was the cougar or not, I don't know. It was a big animal, whatever it was."

Veterinarian Richard Kirchgatter, who farms along Ridge Road, said he hasn't seen or heard a cougar, but it might not be so bad to have one around. "If they eat woodchucks, I'd be all for keeping them around," he said.

Board grants tax abatement to company

By Ralph R. Echtinaw
Staff Writer

More than 50 new jobs are expected to be created over the next two years with the planned expansion of the Miesel Sysco Food Service Co.

The Canton Township Board of Trustees gave unanimous approval Tuesday, Sept. 12, to a 12 year, 50 percent tax abatement that will help Miesel Sysco build a $9.3 million 128,000 square-foot expansion of its facility at 41600 Van Born.

Miesel Sysco was previously granted two abatements in Canton, one of which expired in 1992, while the other expires at the end of this year.

The new abatement is expected to take effect Dec. 31.

In other action, the board voted unanimously to permit the following:

- Rezone 140.55 acres south of Geddes and east of Beck from agricultural to residential. The property owner is Dearborn Real Estate.
- Rezone 12 acres north of Palmer between Lotz and Hannan from R-2 residential to R-3 residential. This permits a greater number of houses to be built on the property. Owner Creekside L.C.C. plans to build 17.
- Approved the tentative preliminary plat for a subdivision on 64 acres west of Beck and north of Geddes. South T. Development plans 92 lots each with a minimum lot area of 14,000 square feet. The developer must now gain final preliminary plat and final plat approvals.
- Approved a preliminary planned development district for three subdivisions on 110.52 acres east of Beck between Cherry Hill and Geddes. Owners Claudio Rossi, Angelo Constantine and Tony Naurato plan 46 lots on 30.37 acres in North Woods Place, 52 lots on 40 acres in Huntington Place and 37 lots on 20 acres in Hidden River Estates. The developer must now gain final planned development district approval, then run each subdivision through the platting process.
- Agreed to pay Thompson-McCully Co. $1.8 million to pave Beck from Cherry Hill to Geddes. The project will be paid for by special assessment of the following Beck property owners: Fairway West Associates of Oak Park, Proctor Road Holding Limited of Birmingham, Pheasant Run Golf Course (owned by Canton Township), Sunflower Seven Associates of Oak Park, Mirage Development Co. of Novi, Newton Siever of Ann Arbor, Julie Winshall of Farmington Hills, Frank Igliowski of Dearborn Heights and Marjorie Winshall of New York.

Awards program back from hiatus

The community will once again have a chance to nominate residents for the Canton Hall of Fame or for a Community Achiever award with the return of the special recognition awards following a one-year hiatus. An awards reception is being planned for Sunday, Dec. 3, in the Summit on the Park banquet center.

Nomination forms for both the Hall of Fame and the Community Achiever awards are now available for residents or local supporters at the Canton Administration Building, the Canton Public Library, the Canton Chamber of Commerce office and the Canton Foundation office. The nomination deadline is set for Oct. 23.

Canton Hall of Fame honors go to individuals who have made a longtime, long-lasting contribution to the Canton community, while Community Achiever awards recognize those individuals who have realized an outstanding achievement in the past year. Because there were no awards presented in 1994, achievements will be recognized for both the years 1994 and 1995.

Some of Canton's previous Hall of Famers include: Joan and Richard Palmer, John Flodin, Bart Berg, Flossie Tonda, Tillie Schultz, Bob Padget, Phil Dingeldey, John Schwartz, John Hoben, Wallace Baker and Cathy Johnson.

Canton's Hall of Fame committee will meet in late October to make the selections for this year. This year a special reception, "A Salute to Canton's Celebrated," is being planned as a part of the "Community Holiday Celebration at the Summit" during the weekend of Nov. 30 through Dec. 3. The Hall of Fame/Community Achiever reception will help close out a special weekend full of planned activities. The reception is tentatively planned as an invitation-only event and is to include light refreshments, music and the awards program. Residents seeking further information or a nominating form can contact Ken Voyles in the supervisor's office, 397-5472.

Subgroups to study recreation concerns

The Canton parks and recreation task force subgroups will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27 in Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

The subgroups include cultural arts, sports and aquatics, health and fitness, and community and special events.

The groups have met once already. Participants of "Strategy 2000" are developing ideas for programming, activities and facilities in the parks and recreation arena. For more information, call parks and recreation, 397-5110.

Remodeling show

Heat 'n Sweep and Walter's Home Appliances of Canton will be among more than 200 exhibitors at the third annual Fall Remodeling Show, Sept. 28-Oct. 1, at the Novi Expo Center at I-96 and Novi Road. The nonprofit Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan sponsors the event.

Looking for volunteers

Anyone in the community who would like to volunteer as a host, even those who just have a few hours to give, is asked to call Kathleen Salla, Canton volunteer coordinator, 397-6450.

Salla has an office in the township hall and maintains an extensive data base of opportunities for volunteers.

Evening at the Summit

The public is invited to attend a preview gala at the new Summit on the Park community center Saturday, Dec. 2. The event will benefit the Canton Historic District Commission and the Canton Historical Society.

Tickets are $40 per person or $75 per couple. Admission includes a dine-around that will feature food stations and champagne and wine.

Dad wants S'craft to admit his 10-year-old daughter

BY MARY RODRIQUE
STAFF WRITER

A Farmington Hills man has filed an age discrimination complaint against Schoolcraft College with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission after his 10-year-old daughter was refused admission to the school.

Warren Schroeder wanted to place his daughter Stacey, a sixth-grader at Our Lady of Sorrows, in Schoolcraft's weekend college program specifically for a Saturday morning pre-algebra course which started this month.

Stacey took a remedial math course in Farmington Public Schools' high school summer program and earned a B grade, according to her father. She has taken Saturday enrichment programs through Schoolcraft's program for talented and gifted children (TAG).

"The college recommended someplace like Cranbrook, or Detroit Country Day School," said Schroeder. "That's expensive and far away. Schoolcraft is in our back yard and Stacey is already comfortable there."

Schroeder's admissions application was returned by John Tomey, dean of student services, who stated that "Stacey is more than welcome to continue in the TAG program, but as a 10-year-old, she would not be admissible under our guidelines."

Conway Jeffress, vice president of instruction and student services at Schoolcraft, said that had Schroeder's request for his daughter to take the pre-algebra course been simply for enrichment, "Then as a single course, this would be a different issue and we could have talked about it."

On the application form, Schroeder checked the box indicating the primary educational goal in attending Schoolcraft is to take classes to earn a certificate or associate degree.

"She is not a high school graduate, doesn't have a general equivalency diploma, was not recommended by a high school principal, has no ACT or SAT college test results and is not eligible for admission," said Jeffress.

In a letter to Schroeder, Jeffress suggested that Stacey should be in classes with people her own age and of her own ability.

"This will allow her to acquire both knowledge and social maturity at a rate consistent with her ability to handle it," he wrote.

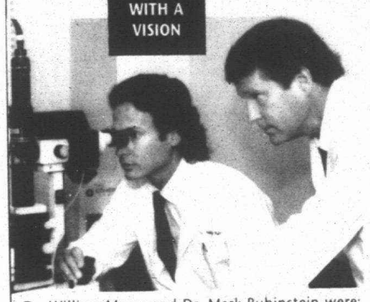

Schroeder has cited age discrimination statutes in his complaint before the civil rights commission. As compensation, he is seeking that Schoolcraft admit Stacey.

"It may take a long time, but I'm going to win this fight," he said.

LEARN TO READ THE BIBLE EFFECTIVELY

AN EXCITING 6 WEEK SEMINAR

The Quality Inn
40455 E. Ann Arbor Road
Plymouth (W. of I-275)
Across from Don Massey Cadillac
October 10- November 21st

Attend this seminar and learn to read the Bible effectively !
If you find reading the Bible difficult or frustrating at times, then this seminar is for you. Six concise and informative sessions are delivered in a friendly, comfortable environment. They are aimed at equipping you with the skills and determination to understand scriptural doctrines for yourself and benefit from a new appreciation of the Bible. Whether you are familiar with the Bible or not, you will walk away with loads of information and new energy to begin reading more effectively.

Here's what you will learn..
- Who wrote the Bible - where did it come from?
- How to use cross references and a center margin.
- How to learn more in less time with effective study tools.
- How to get past the sometimes difficult language used in the Bible.
- An overview of each book of the Bible in a concise easy-to-understand manner.
- History and chronology (the order of events) in the Bible.
- How to read carefully (e.g. Adam and Eve didn't eat an apple).
- Prove for yourself the Bible is not a work of fiction.
- How science is reconciled with the scriptures.
- Why quoting a single scripture is dangerous (how to keep passages in context).
- Who are the Jews? Why are they so important in the Bible?
- Why parts of the Bible are so difficult to understand and how they can be simplified.
- How did so many interpretations of the Bible develop?
- When and how to understand the book of Revelation.
- Why does God allow so much suffering and wickedness?
- What are the differences between Bible versions?
- Why is there an Old Testament and New Testament?
- How to use a concordance and a lexicon.

Q's & A's

Q. What if everyone there knows more than I do?
A. The classes are paced in such a way to make everyone feel comfortable. No one is ever put "on the spot."

Q. Why are you doing this?
A. The Bible is scarcely read in our fast-paced society. Our faith and belief in God propels us to expound His message and Truth. We believe the Bible and what it teaches is right and good in directing our lives and families.

Q. Will I be asked to be saved" or "join" the Christadelphians at the end of the seminars?
A. No! Our hope is that the classes will encourage you to draw your own conclusions about God and His plan. Our goal is to equip you with the necessary tools to make your own decisions about what you have learned.

Q. Who are the Christadelphians?
A. The name implies "Brethren in Christ." Christadelphians are found in countries all over the world and are bound together by a common faith in God's plan of salvation as revealed throughout the Bible. We do not believe that any of our members have received any special revelations directly from God and our faith rests squarely and soley on the Bible as the inspired word of God.

Schoolcraft College's Culinary....

EXTRAVAGANZA

It was a gastronomic feast for the 700 guests who attended Schoolcraft College's fourth annual culinary extravaganza last Sunday afternoon in the college's Waterman Center.

The fund-raiser for scholarships raised over $60,000 and was the most successful effort to date.

Detroit Edison's chairman and chief executive officer John Lobbia and Detroit's Joe Muer served as the event's honorary chairs.

More than 60 of the finest restaurants and beverage corporations in the Detroit area offered samples to taste or drink. An expanded wine auction was held. Entertainment was provided.

Northville resident and Livonia businessman Larry Bennett bid $2,000 to secure the winning bid for a dinner to be prepared by restaurateur Joe Muer.

Flying away with the grand prize will be Joan Noricks of Canton Township, who won two roundtrip tickets on Northwest Airlines to anywhere in the continental United States.

Joe Boros of Allen Park won roundtrip airfare to Chicago and accommodations in the newly restored Whitehall Hotel. Dorothy and Alva Gay of Northville won season tickets to the Fisher Theatre. Jeanne Hildebrandt of Livonia walked away with a gold necklace from Orin Jewelers.

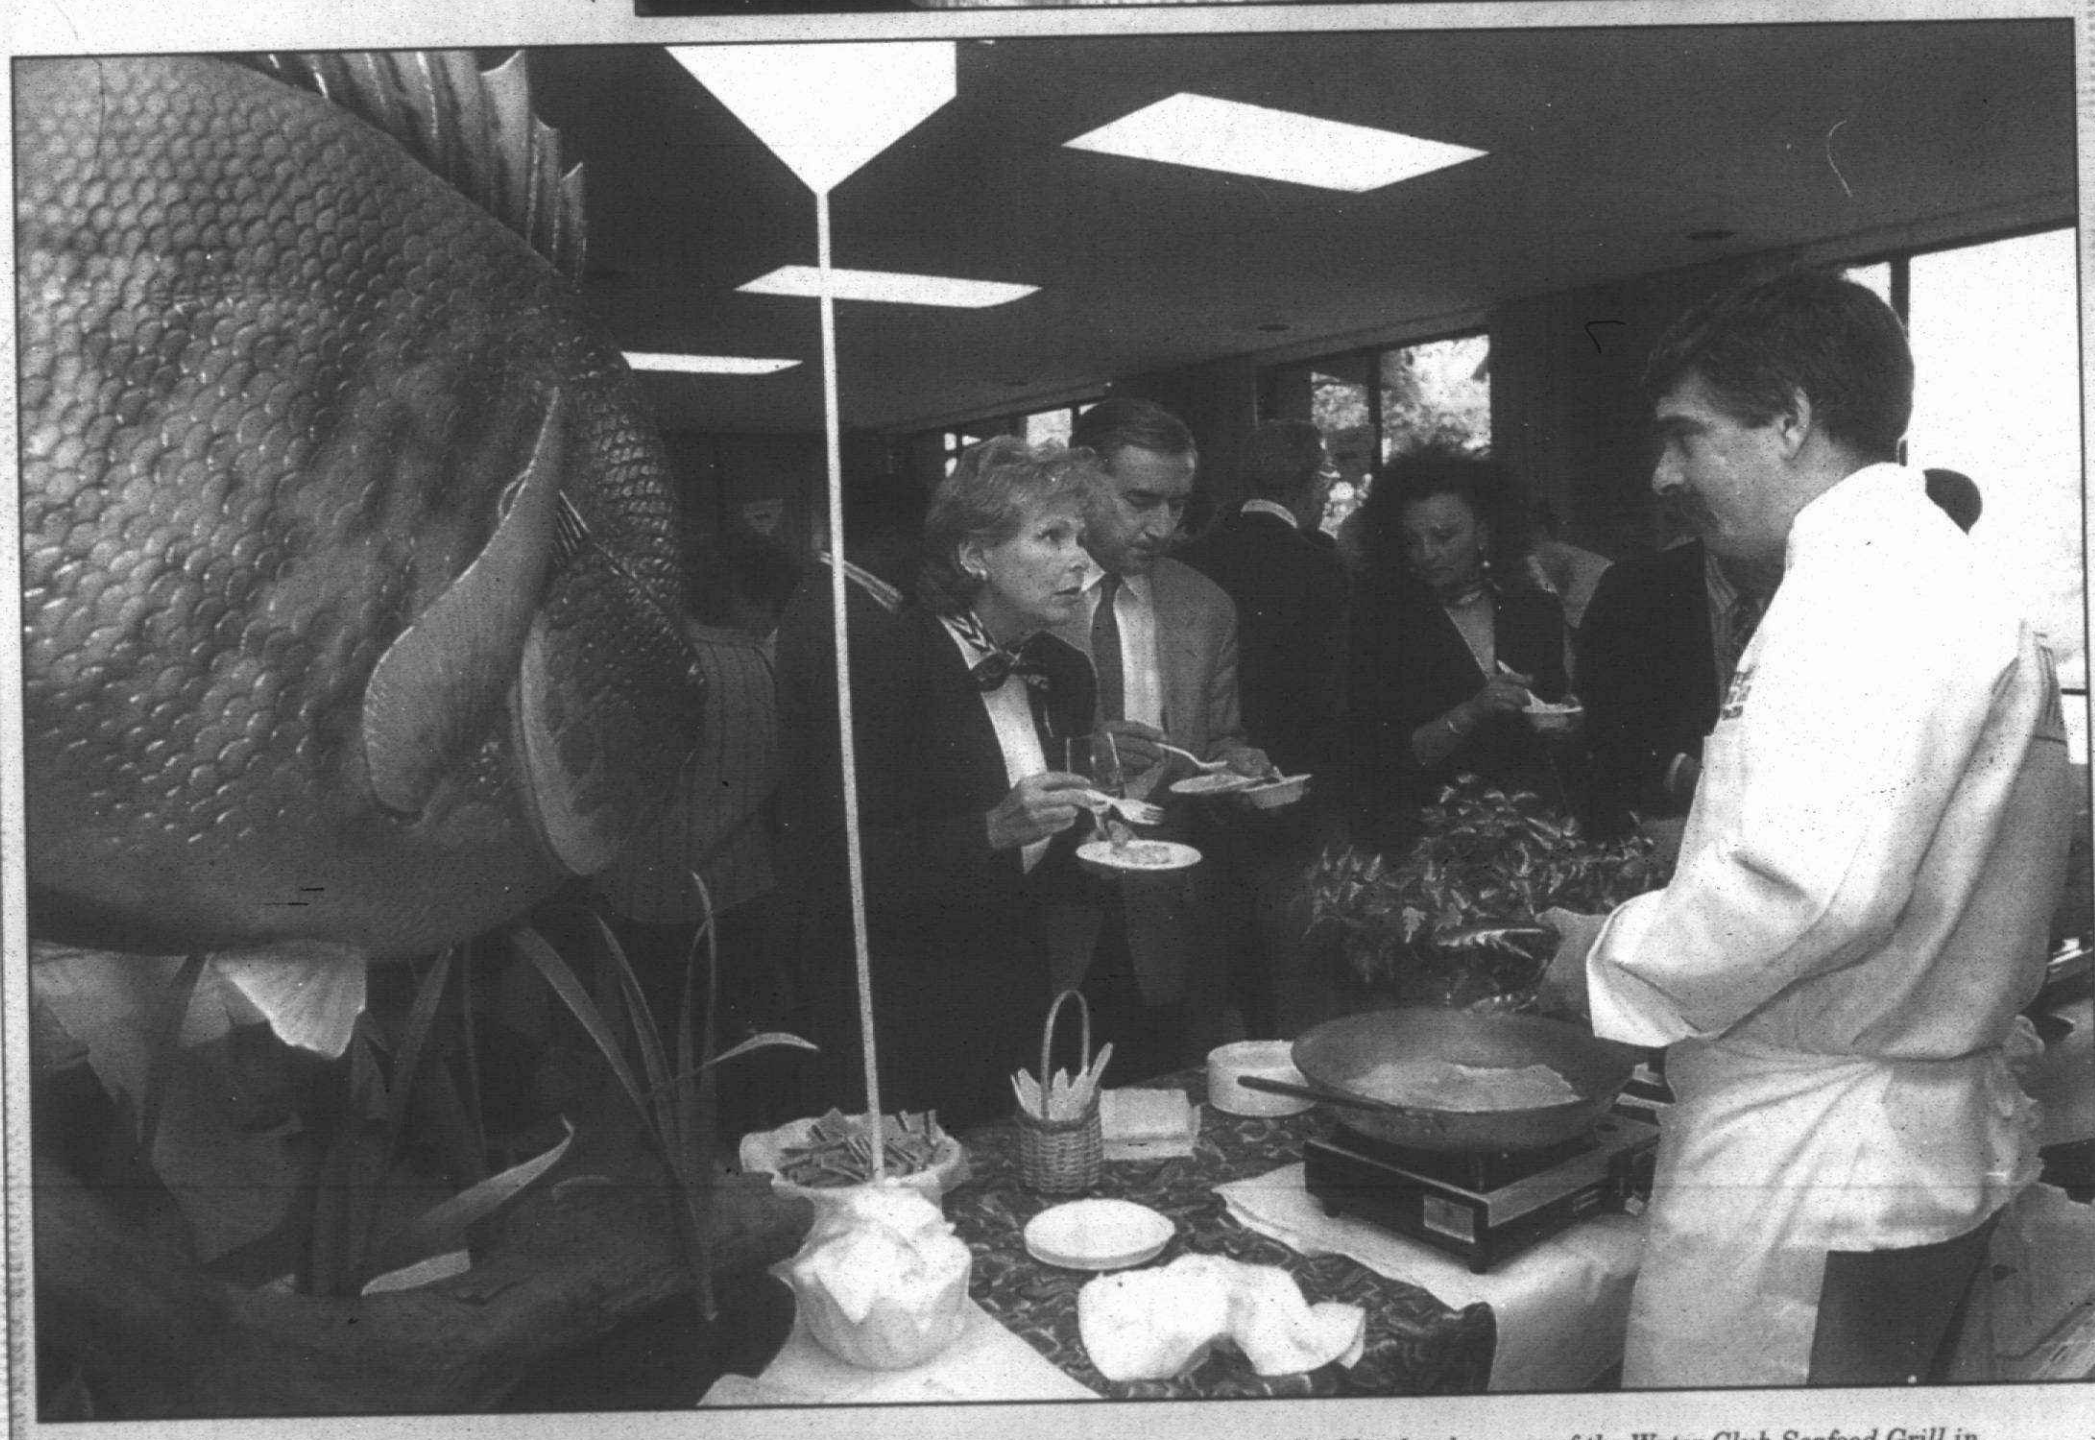

Soft sided leather luggage was won by Kurt Kitchell of Northville. Pat Bettis of Westland won dinner for two at Tres Vite. Beverly Farley of Farmington Hills won a coffee basket from the Beanery.

"We are so thankful to all of our wonderful sponsors who got restaurant personnel to come out on a Sunday," said Saundra "Sam" Florek, a Schoolcraft spokeswoman.

"We are so appreciative of their wonderful generosity."

Sampling: More than 700 guests turned out for the fourth annual Schoolcraft College Culinary Extravaganza Sept. 17 in the Waterman Campus Center.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Chicken soup, cookies are comforts of fall

Fall is one of my favorite seasons. I love watching leaves slowly change from green to yellow, orange and red. Apples are ripe for picking, and cider is flowing at local mills. As nights get colder we yearn for comfort foods — chicken soup and homemade cookies.

Speaking of soup, Donna Cash of Plymouth recently enjoyed a bowl of Greek Chicken and Rice Soup with Lemon at a local restaurant and wanted the recipe.

Well Donna, it doesn't get any easier than this and I hope you enjoy the results!

AVGOLEMONO SOUP

2 quarts strong chicken stock or broth
1/2 cup raw short grained rice
4 eggs
Juice of 2 large lemons (about 1/2 cup)

Bring the stock to a boil and add the rice. Cook, uncovered, until the rice is tender, about 20 minutes. Remove the stock from the heat.

Beat eggs with a beater until they are light and frothy, about 1 minute. Slowly beat in the lemon juice. Slowly beat in 2 cups of the warm soup, beating constantly until well blended.

Add the egg-lemon-soup mixture to the remaining soup, beating constantly. Heat but do not boil. Serve immediately. Serves 6-8

Chef's secret: we made this at the Janes Gang dinner table and added some chopped chicken meat to the soup and it was great!

• Joanie Kimball of Birmingham is hoping to find the reason why all of her cookies turn out crispy and hard. Joanie says she'd treasure the secret for soft, chewy cookies.

Well Joanie, to answer that question, I called momma, and checked with the folks at Pillsbury who wrote "The Complete Book of Baking," (copyright 1993, Viking Books, $25)

The word from the pros is that the softest cookies are made with a 60-40 blend of solid vegetable shortening (i.e. Crisco) and butter or margarine. Make sure the fats are "creamed" sufficiently with the sugars so the final product is light and fluffy.

The pros also recommend not using dark cookie sheets. They prefer "air cushioned" baking pans covered with a sheet of baking parchment for best results. Check your oven temperature, and make sure the racks are in the center of the oven for optimum results. Good luck!

• Mary Fieber called with a question that gets repeated monthly. She wants to know the recommended apple sauce substitute for oil in a recipe.

Anytime you see a recipe that calls for oil and is baked, you can easily substitute half the oil with real applesauce. For an even better taste, try a thicker fruit puree. The 50-50 ratio remains the same.

• Rosalie Sea of Redford wanted a recipe for Key Lime Cake. Well, since Aunt Edna and Uncle Orin used to have a trailer in Marathon, just north of Key West, momma found this easy-to-make tea cake that's just perfect for an afternoon repast.

KEY LIME CAKE

1/2 pound butter (2 sticks)
3 cups granulated sugar
5 egg yolks, beaten
4 cups all purpose flour
1 cup milk
The grated rind and juice of 2 key limes, (about 1/3 cup of lime juice and 1 tablespoon grated rind)
5 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Confectioners' sugar

Preheat the oven to 325 degrees F. Cream the butter, adding the granulated sugar gradually, until light and fluffy. Add the remaining ingredients except the egg whites and confectioners' sugar and mix until well blended.

Gently fold in the beaten egg whites. Divide the batter between 2 loaf pans (9 by 5 by 3-inch). Bake for 1 hour at 325 degrees F. Remove from the oven and cool. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Best when served with ice cream. Makes 2 loaf cakes.

GARDENERS CULTIVATE COMMUNITY TIES

JERRY ZOLTYNSKI/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Rooted: John Webb supervises the Southfield Community Gardens on the former Mary Thompson farm. Some gardeners have used the same plot for 20 years or longer.

BY JOAN BORAM • SPECIAL WRITER

There's a common belief that modern society has "lost touch with its roots," and that cyberspace has replaced wide open space as our natural milieu.

But a look at the number of community gardens in the area proves that there are still a lot of people who could certainly afford to buy tomatoes and green beans growing vegetables for the opportunity to dig and weed and water, and for the joy of sharing the experience with their neighbors.

While some of the gardens limit access to senior citizens, most of them are inter-generational, with gardeners of all ages swapping hints and vying for the earliest tomato. There are more people who "put foods by" i.e., can or freeze their harvests than you might think. And the folks in West Bloomfield, Troy, and Southfield donate their extra produce to those who are less fortunate.

"Our gardeners have a wonderful time," said Sue Wagner, of the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation. "There are no age restrictions so we have seniors and families with small children mingling and exchanging advice in the 250 plots. There are no fences, so its a very informal family atmosphere." The Livonia community gardens are southwest of the Greenmead historical buildings at the intersection of Eight Mile Road and Newburgh.

The Southfield community gardens are on the former Mary Thompson farm; Thompson willed the farm to the city of Southfield, to be used as gardens by senior citizens.

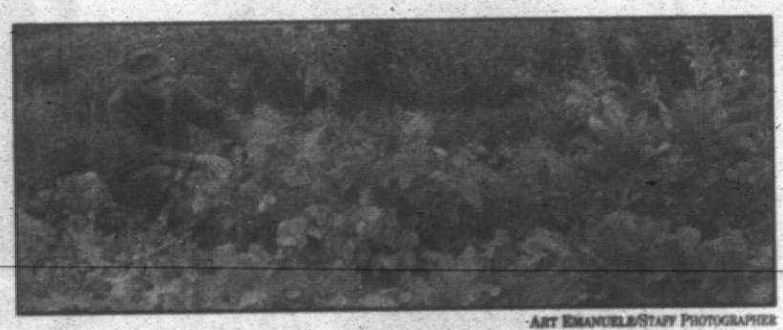

"There are just over 100 plots, and they're always fully used," said John Webb, who supervises the gardens on Evergreen, between 10 and 11 Mile Roads. "Some gardeners have been in the same plot for 20 years or longer."

Everybody agrees that the summer of 1995 was tough on gardens, and, therefore, gardeners. The spring was long and cool. The summer was either hot and dry, or hot and wet. Weeds thrived, and so did bugs.

"The torrential rains and extreme heat just traumatized a lot of plants," said Webb, whose hobby is unusual vegetables. "The corn stalks were tall, but there were no ears. It just couldn't take the rains. And my white pumpkins got rained out, too.

"Tomatoes were good, though; they like heat and water. I grew a white tomato this year — it's traditional red on the inside, but white on the outside. They're very striking when sliced on a plate."

Webb also grew a yellow pear-shaped tomato, sweet, beautiful, and a lovely dish when sliced and arranged alternately with red tomatoes.

Gardening: Bob Kline, a master gardener, works in his plot at the Livonia community gardens.

"I grew a yellow beet, but I haven't tasted it yet," said Webb. "The top of these beets looks like grass, and when they first came up, I pulled them out. Luckily, when I realized they weren't grass, I had enough seeds left to re-plant."

The Southfield gardens are adding a drainage system as insurance against another wet summer. "The ground was just saturated, and the roots rotted," explains Webb. "The cantaloupes that survived had no flavor. It's the worst year we've ever had for cantaloupe," he says sadly.

"But," he adds, with the optimism that every gardener needs, "I planted sweet potatoes, which don't usually grow this far north. The rain and heat were good for their growth, so I guess it's not a total disaster."

Webb used to can, but now he, like many of his fellow gardeners, gives his surplus to

Recipe collection includes local cooks

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Seven local cooks are featured in "No Jacket Required" the latest in a series of cookbooks from Neiman Marcus. The collection of recipes submitted by the store's InCircle customers was chosen by five prominent American chefs.

From the 1,500 recipes submitted, the team of chefs collaborated to select more than 250 of the best in seven categories — breakfasts, hors d'oeuvres, salads, soups, salads, entrees, breads and desserts.

The new cookbook is now available in all Neiman Marcus stores and in bookstores across the U.S. for $25. A portion of proceeds from "No Jacket Required" will be donated to Literacy Volunteers of America, Inc., a national non-profit organization that teaches people to read through a network of community volunteer programs.

Here's a taste of recipes from Brenda J. Pangborn, Rona L. Freedland and Charlotte A. Elwert of Bloomfield Hills; Jane Jobst, Rochester Hills; Gail L. Coleman, Farmington Hills; Linda Underdown, Birmingham; and Suzanne Mitchell, Southfield.

"I was determined to find a delicious, low-fat alternative to the common bran muffin," said Brenda J. Pangborn. She succeeded with her Fruit Bran Muffin recipe, a composite of several others she tried.

Jane Jobst's recipe for Little Cuban Sandwiches was also chosen. She discovered these tasty sandwiches made with Swiss cheese, ham and dill pickles, on vacation at Annabelle's restaurant on St. Croix in the Caribbean.

Friends ask for Gail L. Coleman's recipe for Black Bean and Rice Salad at parties. "So now I'll share it with Neiman Marcus and countless others who will enjoy the recipes in this book," she said.

The Freedland family is passionate about their ribs. "When my daughter became engaged, her fiance, now our son-in-law, insisted on a pre-nuptial agreement that I would give him my recipe for Korean-Style Short Ribs," said Rona L. Freedland. "We all like to marinate it overnight and cook it outside on the grill in the summer."

Charlotte A. Elwert shared her Banana Cream Pie recipe. "My family has long been engaged in the wholesale food business, and I have always had a great interest in cooking as an art," she said. Her pie is made with a no-roll crust.

Suzanne Mitchell's bachelor neighbor loves her Pistachio-White Chocolate Chip Cookies so much that he brings her white chocolate whenever he comes over for dinner, just so she'll make him a batch.

"Every year, a group of my high school friends meet for a reunion in Naples, Florida," said Linda Underdown. "It was there that I learned the recipe for French Fresh Fruit Flan, a delicious and colorful dessert. It's always the piece de resistance at any meal. Now, even my daughter, Amy, has made it for her high school French class."

The chefs who selected recipes for the book, and added favorites of their own, are: Joyce Goldstein of Square One in San Francisco, Matthew Kenney of Matthew's in New York City, Mark Militel-

McDonald Tower, a Southfield residence for seniors.

Bob Kline, a master gardener who has cultivated four plots in the Livonia community gardens for "15 or 20 years," cans and freezes his produce, in addition to making his own wine and jelly. "I brought home enough produce yesterday to feed half of Livonia," says the ebullient Kline. "I spent the afternoon shelling lima beans and preparing broccoli for the freezer, and I'm trying to figure out what to do with all those tomatoes."

One of the things he does with them is make tomato jam. Kline grows over 30 varieties of tomatoes. "I get my seeds from the Seed Savers' Exchange, and most people wouldn't recognize the tomatoes I grow."

One of Kline's favorites is Hawaii, a tomato the size of a pea that grows in clusters, like grapes. It's very sweet, and one of the reasons Kline grows it is that people always ask him for the seeds.

Kline grows hot peppers, because "they're cute." He doesn't eat them, but he does use them as a natural insecticide. "Just grind them enough with enough water to make a liquid," he explains, "And spray it on the plants. It really keeps bugs away."

Kline makes a couple of dozen loaves of zucchini bread with cranberries, some of which he donates to St. Genevieve's (Catholic) Church bake sale in Livonia. He buys cranberries and freezes them, so they'll be on hand when zucchini is in season. He also freezes zucchini so it'll be on hand when cranberries are in season.

Carl Sibert has had a garden in the Livonia community garden as well as in his backyard since moving to Livonia in the early 1960s. Kay Sibert doesn't garden herself, but she cans and/or freezes the green beans, tomatoes, acorn and butternut squash, snow peas, and other good things that Carl harvests.

"In 1994, Carl planted 72 broccoli plants, and I froze broccoli," said Kay. "But in 1995 we have hardly any broccoli at all. It was just too hot."

Like Kline, she freezes grated zucchini, to be substituted for potatoes in potato pancakes. "There's more moisture with zucchini than with pancakes," said Kay, "but I just add a little more flour.

"We really like zucchini — I invented a tasty dish with young zucchini and Parmesan cheese. My husband and children and grandchildren love it, and even my son-in-law, who gags at the mention of zucchini, likes it."

Another favorite of the Siberts is a zucchini pie that Kay swears tastes exactly like apple pie.

Wine recommendations from Sommeliers Piero Selvaggio and Stacy Dalgleish Selvaggio of Valentino restaurant in Santa Monica, Calif., accompany many of the recipes. For each entree and many of the dessert courses, two wines are recommended: a premium label for major occasions and a more moderate vintage for minor occasions.

"No Jacket Required" is beautifully illustrated with color photographs of some of the featured recipes and chefs. A picture of Suzanne Mitchell's cookies is on page 159. Look for Linda Underdown's French Fresh Fruit Flan on page 160 and Brenda J. Pangborn's Fruit Bran Muffins on page 164.

Pistachio's the word for this dessert

PISTACHIO-WHITE CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

1¼ cups (2½ sticks) butter
2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
2 large eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup old-fashioned rolled oats
12 ounces white chocolate chips
1½ cups pistachios, coarsely chopped

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. With an electric mixer at medium speed, cream butter with sugar in a large bowl. Beat in eggs and vanilla. In a medium bowl, combine flour, baking soda, baking powder, and oats.

Gradually add the flour mixture to the butter mixture and combine. Stir in chocolate chips and pistachios.

Drop batter by heaping teaspoons about 2 inches apart onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake for 8-10 minutes until light golden brown. Let cool slightly on cookie sheets; remove to wire racks to cook completely. Makes 4 dozen.

Suzanne Mitchell, who created this recipe, recommends serving these cookies with pistachio ice cream.

Now is the time for good zucchini recipes

See related story on Taste front.

BOB KLINE'S ZUCCHINI BREAD

3 eggs
1 cup cooking oil
2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups grated zucchini
2 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons cinnamon
½ cup chopped nuts
½ package cranberries

Beat eggs until light and foamy. Add oil, sugar, zucchini, and vanilla. Mix lightly. Combine dry ingredients with nuts and cranberries, and add to oil mixture. Stir just to blend. Divide batter between two greased and floured loaf pans. Bake in a preheated 325-degree F. oven for one hour, or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. (This bread freezes well)

BONNIE KICHAK'S ZUCCHINI PIE

Filling:
8 cups zucchini, peeled and sliced as thick as pie apples
1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup lemon juice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon
Raisins (optional)
Crust and topping:
4 cups all purpose flour
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 sticks cold margarine

To make filling: Cook zucchini and lemon juice on top of stove until tender. Add sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and raisins, if used, to hot mixture. Set aside to cool. Mixture will be moist. Do not drain.

To make crust and topping: Blend flour and sugars. Cut in margarine with a pastry blender.

Press half of mixture in the bottom of a 9 by 13-inch baking pan. Bake in a preheated 350 degree F. oven for 10-15 minutes, until slightly browned.

Spread zucchini mixture with juice on top of cooked crust. Add the 1 teaspoon of cinnamon to the rest of the crumb mixture and sprinkle over zucchini. Pat down lightly. Bake 40 minutes in a pre-heated 375 degree F. oven.

GINGERED TOMATOES

4 large ripe tomatoes, cut crosswise into thick slices
1 tablespoon freshly grated ginger
1½ tablespoons fresh lime juice
2 scallions, with tops, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste

Arrange tomatoes on a serving dish or individual dishes. Combine ginger with lime juice and spoon mixture evenly over tomatoes. Sprinkle with scallions and seasonings, and serve at room temperature.

Reader requests

See Taste Buds column on Taste front. Here is another reader-requested recipe.

■ Gloria Marshall of Canton wants to know how to roast red peppers. She has an abundance of them from her garden.

HOMEMADE ROASTED RED PEPPERS

6 red peppers, split, seeds and veins removed
¼ cup olive oil

Place red peppers directly on a vegetable grill over hot coals or a preheated gas grill. Brush with olive oil.

If you don't have a grill, peppers can be placed on a baking sheet, brushed with oil and placed 4 inches from the broiler.

Cook until skin chars and turns black, about 8-10 minutes depending on how hot your grill or broiler is.

Remove from grill, rinse under cool water to remove blackened skin. Pat dry. Place in a bowl with just enough olive oil to cover. If desired, a small amount of garlic or onion can be added, but it is not necessary. Refrigerate until ready to use. Makes about 1½ cups roasted red peppers.

■ Doris Allen of Livonia called to find out where she can get extra heavy whipping cream. Well Doris, whenever I need extra heavy whipping cream I head out to Guernsey's Farm Dairy on Novi Road, just north of Eight Mile Road for some of the best whipped cream money can buy. For more information, call (810) 349-1466.

■ Nancy of Farmington wanted to know if she could ripen zucchini on the window sill. Well Nancy, you'll be happy to know that you can't pick an unripened zucchini. The smaller they are, the better they are and the less seeds they have.

"Unstrung Heroes," opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters, is a bittersweet drama about a young boy baffled by the tragedies occurring in his home.

Steven Lidz (Nathan Watt) is 12 years old. Overwhelmed by his life with an ailing mother (Andie MacDowell) and an emotionally distant father (John Turturro), Steven runs off to live with his two uncles Danny (Michael Richards) and Arthur (Maury Chaykin). Steven finds solace in the idiosyncrasies of his uncles' strange and wonderful world. It is there that he begins the journey from boyhood innocence to a young man's understanding of life.

"Unstrung Heroes," directed by Diane Keaton from a screenplay by Richard LaGravenese, is based upon the book by Franz Lidz. It is rated PG.

We asked readers to tell us about a relative who had a positive influence on their lives. Those who wrote in received two tickets to see a preview screening of "Unstrung Heroes." Here are some of their stories.

■ "I had an aunt who was very overweight," wrote Ronda Lepetz of Southfield. "She decided to do something about it and she went on a low fat diet and exercise program. Before she started the diet, legend has it that she ate 11 Sanders hot fudge sundaes in one sitting. This showed me you can work toward a goal and have fun, too."

■ Harry D. Pevos of West Bloomfield has fond memories of his grandfather who came from Poland with little money and worked his way through law school teaching Hebrew. He graduated from Wayne State University Law School's first class. "He taught me you can be anything you want to be," wrote Pevos. "My grandfather was very health conscious when eating, years before it was fashionable. He did not want to put fatty salad dressings on his salads, so he would put ketchup on his salads. We used to laugh at him for doing this, but it was probably much healthier than using regular salad dressings."

■ "My mom taught me to laugh at adversity," wrote Jennie Lenzi of Bloomfield Hills. "Once, she took a trip to Italy with my dad and aunt. While riding a train there, mom left her seat to use the bathroom. Before she had a chance to sit down, the train lurched and she fell backward into the commode. The fit was tighter than a cork in a bottle. She couldn't move. After a long wait, my aunt went to check on her. Well, the conductor had to unlock the door. There was mom with her knees up to her chin. And what did she do? Laugh!"

Comfort quests inspire sleepwear designs each year

OK. Let's get personal. What do you wear to bed? I know it's none of my business but I'm curious, well, nosy. I posed this question to several unsuspecting souls and warned them that I'd share their comments with you.

Said Jack Reinig of New Baltimore, "I've slept in the nude all my life." Then he took that statement back, remembering that he was forced to wear shorts in boot camp.

His wife, Karen, wears flannel nightgowns all year round. She's always cold because Jack keeps the window open even when it's freezing outside.

Walter Damien Strong of Ferndale, sleeps in solid color flannel pajama bottoms and white T-shirts. "If there's a fire, I don't want to run out of the house in my underwear," he explained. Hope there's no fire at Jack's house!

Kelly Kurek models glamorous clothing during the day, but at night she opts for huge, baggy T-shirts. She has a collection of different logos, from Disney to corporate giveaways. Kelly's husband Don, a photographer, prefers Calvin Klein boxer briefs, the kind with the longer leg. The Shelby Township couple are into comfort, not frills.

Abbie Dawson of West Bloomfield, on the other hand, likes to "dress" for bed. She often buys lacy gowns and teddies from Victoria's Secret or silk pajamas that she shares with her husband. "I wear the top and he wears the bottom," she says. "We share in the investment."

Old-fashioned flannel rompers with buttoned seat flaps are popular with the high-school set. My daughter Mary-Brennan, has a favorite blue plaid pair that she loves almost as much as her J. Crew flannel pj's.

Where to shop for cozy sleepwear?

If you're looking for something special, Harp's Lingerie, 265 S. Woodward in Birmingham has a wonderful selection of glamour gowns, robes and lounging pajamas.

Lori Karbal's shop at 554 N. Woodward in Birmingham has a new collection of sleepwear, including flannel pajamas and nightshirts ($52-$55), unbleached cotton drawstring pajamas with tartan piping ($88), La Gionconda robes, and pj's of the softest finest flannel imaginable ($104), terry-lined robes by Lucine Almas ($115) and cotton chemises with matching panties ($35).

For the guys (or gals), jersey loungewear ($24-$34), like grandpa's longjohns from J. Crew in the Somerset Collection, Troy. Or the two of you can share silk pajamas from Saks Fifth Avenue ($165) or pima cotton pj's also from Saks ($95).

DKNY offers an embroidered terry bathrobe ($300) and black cotton logo shorts ($65) for stylish lounging around. And look to Neiman Marcus for his-and-her nightshirts by Joe Boxer ($34), holiday boxers from Joe Boxer featuring reindeer on motorcycles or happy faces wearing Santa hats ($12), matching teddy bear mother/daughter flannel sleepwear ($18-$38) and a luxurious cashmere and silk lounging ensemble ($710).

Night-night. Sleep tight. And thanks for sharing your bedroom secrets.

Virtual Reality comes to the mall

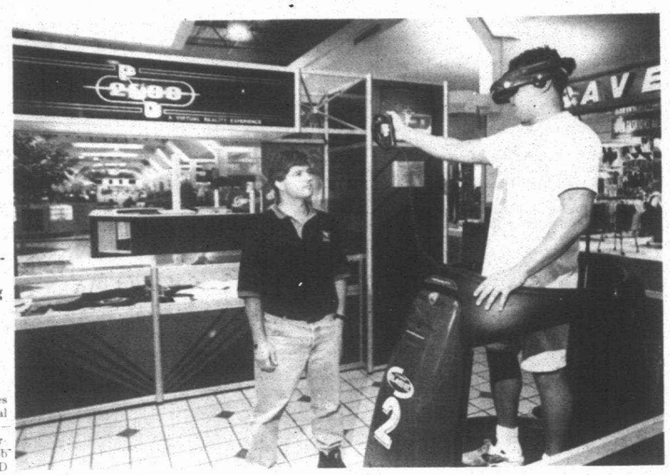

■ To keep the consumer's interest, shopping centers must always offer something new. At Wonderland Mall, it's an experiment with 3-D video games.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Curtis Hamilton of Novi hopes the public's curiousity about virtual reality makes him a wealthy man.

Banking on the hope, the 34-year-old quit his automotive engineer job and spent $100,000 to open POD 2000 in a court area at Wonderland Mall in Livonia. Here shoppers can put on a computer guided headpiece and do three-dimensional combat with monsters for $5 a game.

Department store blues

Discounters deliver brand names for less

GUEST COLUMNIST

STANLEY WINKELMAN

■ COMMENTARY

While change is fundamental to life, the changes in retailing in the last 20 years have been extremely troublesome to large department stores especially, and, to a lesser degree, specialty stores and discounters.

Macy's, Hudson's and Marshall Field were the venerated department stores of the 1950's and 60s. They represented quality of merchandise, selling services, and prestige that only a Bloomingdales retains today.

Kmart arrived in 1961 with a discount store concept that capitalized on the weakness of department store basements and laid the ground work for the discounting of nationally advertised labels that prevails today.

Department stores hurt themselves badly by overemphasizing the pressure for advertising money, for money to offset markdowns, and for merchandise return privileges from brand manufacturers. While these same stores were building up the value of brands, the discounters negotiated a much better deal for the same merchandise.

At the same time, the discounters created stores with checkout counters and very little service. The result — a selling price for identical label merchandise that is significantly less, the same for everyone. No wonder stores are boring!

Notable exceptions are Nordstroms, (due to open at Somerset North in Troy next year), which emphasizes service and depth of stock, and Bloomingdales which emphasizes fashion and a creative approach to merchandising.

As a final indication of the rate of change, it should be noted that Kmart has been upstaged by the very profitable Walmart stores, and is currently battling to restore its profitability and share of market.

"My booth is the first of its kind in Michigan," the young entrepreneur explained. "I picked Wonderland Mall because the start up rent was low and I wanted to be somewhere with a lot of foot traffic."

If all goes well, Hamilton plans to expand POD 2000 to other malls in the metro area. Naturally, he's busiest during the after-school hours and on Friday and Saturday nights, but from time to time, a mall walker wants to "hook up" to check out this 21st century form of entertainment.

"My grandkids really get into these computer games," said John Vaughn of Livonia eyeing the attraction. "Maybe I'll have a try one day to see what it's all about. I've seen reports about these kind of machines on television, but I thought they were a few years away."

Made in Great Britain, Hamilton's two state-of-the-art pods feature two games: Zone Hunter and Dactyl Nightmare. Zone Hunter puts a solo player or partners, in a race for survival against evil and the clock. With one hand on a trigger mechanism, the player moves forward and through a three-dimensional playing ground, shooting bad guys.

"Not bad guys, actually," Hamilton corrected. "Monsters."

Players move their heads up and down while "virtually" falling through the floor and ascending to the rooftops during the game. The speed of play is matched to a player's expertise. It's not a game for the self-conscious, and it's as much fun to watch people playing the game in the middle of a mall, as it is personally blasting away at the monsters.

"The Zone Hunter and Dactyl Nightmare games are just like the latest arcade games you would find at Cedar Point," Hamilton said. "But now you don't have to travel far to try them out."

Mall spokeswoman Cathy Peters said offering shoppers entertainment opportunities is a growing trend in the mall business.

"Providing entertainment venues is a new thing for the shopping centers," she said. "Virtual reality games are very popular with teens today, so Wonderland is excited and happy to have these games for them."

POD 2000 is open during regular mall hours in the court near Montgomery Wards. Sometimes, there are waiting lines to play after the mall movies let out on weekends. For more information call (313) 513-6989.

CANTON SPORTS SCENE

Canton Lions

The Canton Lions football teams won two of three contests against the Westland Meteors Sept. 17. The varsity was the lone loser, dropping a 12-6 decision.

The Lions junior varsity posted an 18-14 victory, scoring on passes from Doug Flateau to Brandon Ellison, Russell Scott and Kerry Mills. The Lions freshmen also won, 12-0, scoring on a 20-yard run by Reginald Joyner after a fumble recovery and a 28-yard run by Chad Fuller with 1:45 left to clinch it.

Collegiate notes

It's been a rough start to the season for Siena Heights College's women's soccer team — 0-5, without a goal scored.

However, not all is doom and gloom. The Saints lost twice at the Mello Classic, both by 2-0 scores — to Northeast Missouri State and to Luther College Sept. 17. But two team members were named to the all-tournament team, including senior defender Ayana Nash, a Plymouth Canton graduate.

University of Detroit Mercy's men's cross country team got some strong runs from several sources to finish third out of 10 teams at the Wright State Invitational Sept. 16.

"This was a very good run for us," said UDM coach Guy Murray. "We haven't had three people finish under 27 minutes in a long time. This should give us confidence to be a bit more competitive the remainder of the season."

One of those finishing under 27 minutes was Jeff Keith, a Plymouth Canton graduate. Keith placed 16th overall in 26:54.

"They trained hard all summer and it is paying off," said Murray.

Morehead State won the Invitational, with Xavier second and UMD third.

The Kalamazoo College women's golf team finished in sixth place at the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association Jamboree, hosted by Alma College Sept. 13 at the Pine River Country Club. The Hornets team score was 451 strokes.

Leading Kalamazoo was freshman Kelly Collins, from Plymouth Salem. Collins shot a 99.

The ballots have been cast, at least the initial ones, and both Schoolcraft College soccer teams are listed.

The SC men's team, which took a 5-0-1 record down to Cleveland to play Cuyahoga Metro CC Saturday, is ranked sixth in the NJCAA men's soccer coaches poll (Division I). The Ocelots were one of only four unbeaten teams that was ranked.

In the women's poll, SC was tied with Alfred State College for 10th. SC is 2-3 (through Sept. 18); Alfred State is 4-0. The Lady Ocelots' leading scorer, sophomore Holly Kimble (from Livonia Stevenson), was tied for eighth in scoring with eight points (three goals, two assists).

Youth flag football

Registration is on for a pair of Livonia area flag football leagues (grades 3-4 and 5-6) from 6-:73 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, and 9-11 a.m. Saturday at the Knights of Columbus, 19801 Farmington Road, Livonia.

The cost is $50.

Teams will be limited to 20 players and placed according to school area. There is no residency requirement.

All equipment is provided, including jersey and mouth guards. Games will be scheduled twice per wekk, Mondays through Thursdays (eight games total, plus playoffs).

For more information, call (313) 266-0597.

Men's basketball signup

The Livonia YMCA adult men's basketball league has a few openings for the season, which begins Oct. 15.

Registration, on a first-come, first-serve basis, ends Oct. 2.

League play is Sunday afternoons and evenings. The 12-team league offers a 15-game schedule.

The cost is $500 per team.

For more information, call Ron Scott at (313) 261-2161, Ext. 318.

Last chance softball

The final tournaments of the softball season at Canton Softball Center have been extended by a week. This weekend (Sept. 30 to Oct. 1), there will be a coed tournament in A-B, C and D divisions with a World Series berth awarded. Cost is $175 per team. Also, there will be a men's "Last Swing II" tournament: four games, open rosters, $125 per team plus umpire fees.

On Oct. 8, there will be a "Last Hoo-Rah" tournament: three games, $125 per team which includes umpires fees

For information regarding any of the above events, call (313) 483-5600, ext. 102.

Handling adversity

Salem, Canton vie in a different kind of meet

■ Emotions run high when Canton and Salem teams tangle, but the emotions were different when the two swim teams met at Canton Thursday. The competitive edginess was tempered by an event outside the sport — the tragic loss Canton coach Ron Krueger suffered when his son, Dan, was killed.

Double-winner: Yvonne Lynn finished first in both the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard individual medley for Salem.

It's always an occasion both teams' swimmers focus on: The dual meet between Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton.

But so much had happened since Canton's last dual meet, Sept. 12 against Monroe.

Chiefs' coach Ron Krueger had endured perhaps the most difficult five days of his life — his 18-year-old son, Dan, had been tragically killed in an auto accident the previous Sunday.

Suddenly, the importance of the meet shrunk. Emotional support for the Krueger family poured in from throughout Plymouth and Canton communities, and beyond.

There were doubts that the meet would take place at all. But it did, and Krueger was there. And once in the water, girls from both teams directed their energies toward their competitions — and that worked well for a solid Salem team that prevailed 120-66 in Canton's pool.

Each team is now 2-1 in dual meets.

"The kids handled it very well," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "Ron wanted the meet to go on — that's why we had it. That's the way he is. It definitely wasn't easy for him, but he did a great job. And the girls swam well for him.

"Initially, there was a moment of silence for Danny. There were a lot of people there who weren't at the funeral because they couldn't be. But once that was over, it was all business. It was back to work."

Although the score indicated a

Krueger takes coaching future 'a day at a time'

The questions couldn't help but surface, quietly, from the periphery.

What now?

What would Ron Krueger do? His 18-year-old son, Dan, a standout wrestler at Redford Catholic Central, had been killed in a car accident last Sunday (Sept. 17).

All Plymouth and Canton seemed to mourn with the Kruegers — a tribute to someone so young, who had had such a positive and far-reaching influence on so many.

"The funeral was incredible," Krueger said. "The people at Schrader's (Funeral Home) said they never had a bigger one."

But now, what about Ron?

What would he do?

The answer was quickly forthcoming. One of the teams Krueger coaches, Plymouth Canton's girls swim team (as well as Salem's wrestling team), hosted its biggest rival, Plymouth Salem, in a dual meet Thursday.

Many doubted the meet would take place. Salem coach Chuck Olson, one of those who urged Krueger — a wrestling coach — to take the Canton swim job when it opened last summer, had his doubts.

The meet was held. And Krueger was there, with his wife, Dolores.

"He was there for them," said Olson. "They were there together."

To many, their presence was shocking. But Olson, who wasn't entirely sure what Krueger would do, wasn't surprised by his decision, either. "It's the way he is," he said.

The night wasn't easy for Krueger, certainly. "I was pretty stiff, cardboardish," he said.

But coaching has its own rewards. When Canton's Angie Frost splashed to a first-place finish in the 100-yard freestyle, Krueger said it gave him something that had eluded him since the tragedy — peace of mind, if only for a brief moment. "When she won, I was just so happy for her," he said. "I had it out of my head for awhile."

How long can that kind of therapy be effective? No one can answer that. Krueger makes no predictions regarding his coaching future: "I'll take it one day at a time, that's all I can say."

Qualifier: Canton's Terri Hanson finished first in her specialty against Salem.

When he doubts his own abilities to coach — "When I feel it's not right, when I'm not helping," Krueger said — he'll give it up.

In simple terms, the loss of Dan was a tragedy for many; he had touched so many lives in his 18 years.

That loss would be compounded if his father left coaching — because he, too, has had such a far-reaching, positive effect on so many young lives.

Final-play stop gives Salem an OT victory

By Richard L. Shook
Staff Writer

You don't get points for failed gambles in football games, but perhaps they count for something in life.

Coach Lauri Niskanen made a mild departure from the conventional Friday night when he went for two points instead of settling for a second shot at a tie-breaker series, and it cost Farmington a chance at a victory.

Lineman Tom Bish and linebacker Tim Kocoloski of Plymouth Salem wrapped up Farmington upback Wesley Cornwell, who received a flip from the Falcons' holder on a fake extra-point try, to give the Rocks a 35-34 victory and snap a season-long three-game losing streak.

Cornwell never had a chance to move because Bish and Kocoloski had the play so well sniffed out, they almost beat him to the toss.

Jake Siskosky, who carried 34 times for 227 yards in the game, had just scored for the fifth time in the game on a one-yard sweep of right end to pull Farmington, also 1-3, within a point.

Farmington rallied from a 28-7 halftime deficit on Siskosky's 17 carries for 155 yards. He scored on runs of 22-, 54- and 45-yards in the second and third quarters as Niskanen ran him again and again.

Quarterback Nathan Gray started the overtime with a 6-yard option run, and then made it into the end zone on his second squirm to break a 28-28 tie. Brian James kicked the vital extra point to make it 35-28.

Siskosky ran three times to the one before Farmington called timeout.

"We told them on fourth down we were going to go for two after we scored," Niskanen said. "We were going for a win. We didn't want to drag it out.

"I don't care what level you're at, you're going to be second-guessed. 'Why don't you line up in a formation and run a play?'

"Well, first of all you can't fall behind 28-7 and expect to win. We've practiced that play all season. And you've only got about 30 seconds to lopsided victory. Olson insisted "there were a lot of close races. We couldn't hold anything back.

"We hadn't swam very well Tuesday (in a loss to Ann Arbor Huron), and that was in our pool. This was in Canton's pool, and we swam real well. Go figure."

The Rocks got two individual wins from junior Yvonne Lynn, in the 200-yard individual medley (2:24.05) and the 100 backstroke (1:04.46), and from sophomore Audrey Hala, in the 200 (2:03.09) and 500 (5:28.45) freestyles.

In all, they collected wins in seven of nine individual events, and swept all three relays. Other individual winners were Carrie Dzialo in the 50 free (26.05), Zoe Yockey in diving (251.40 points) and Kate Bonner in the 100 breaststroke (1:17.06).

Canton's winners were Terri Hansen in the 100 butterfly (1:01.98) and Angie Frost in the 100 free (58.29).

Lynn, Bonner, Sara Casillas and Dzialo combined to win the 200 medley relay for Salem (1:58.27); Andrea Bein, Casillas, Dzialo and Kellyann Williams were first in the 200 free relay (1:47.16); and Casillas, Bein, Williams and Hala took the 400 free relay (3:58.85).

"We knew Salem would do really well," said Krueger. "(Olson's) got a real, real good team.

"The thing we told our girls last night was try and swim your best times. You can't ask for anything more."

For both teams, it was a good finish to an otherwise trying week.

make these decisions."

The decision sends several messages to Niskanen's kids — and their parents.

By gambling, he let them know it's okay to take a risk — even if you don't make it. And he showed them something else with his willingness to accept responsibility for the consequences.

Farmington had Salem fans moaning about the prospect of a fourth-straight loss when it took the opening kickoff and marched 71 yards to a touchdown, Siskosky scoring on a 4-yard run. Siskosky carried 12 times for 60 yards in the drive, including bursts of 11 and 19 yards on his first two rushes.

"They marched right down the field," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "But they've done that twice already this season and both times the teams they did it to came back to win.

"I told our kids we could do it, too. They'd just seen that happen on film."

It took the Rocks three plays (one a penalty) to knot the score.

Matt Johnson went left with a pitch, thanks to a nifty block in the backfield by Kevin Grim, and swept 58 yards to score.

A roughing-the-punter call gave Salem the ball on the Farmington 39 early in the second quarter and Gray hit Randy Mack with a 19-yard pass before Grim followed a penalty with a 28-yard romp.

Gray scored on a 4-yard run with 4:54 left in the half and hit Mack with a 41-yard pass that put the ball on the three with less than a minute to play. Johnson was stopped twice at the one before Gray snuck it in to make it 28-7.

"We should never have let them back in the ball game," Moshimer said. "I'm disappointed that we did. I told our kids you can't be a good team and let people back in the game.

"I think what happened was they took control of the line of scrimmage in the second half. But we threw more in this game than we might have in the past and I think that helped."

The misdirection and pitches that worked for Salem in the first half were not there in the second. Salem also turned the ball over twice while the Rocks' defense was suffering from a near-terminal case of Siskosky-itis.

Farmington fans who might want to chide Niskanen might want to remember he made a successful gamble in the last minutes that kept Plymouth from getting the ball until only 48 seconds remained.

On 4th-and-3 at the Farmington 45, the Falcons snapped the ball to upback Nick Latra and he gained 10 yards to help his team maintain possession for three plays and a punt.

The next gamble failed, however, and sent Farmington to another loss.

"I never suspected it," Moshimer said of Farmington's failed two-point fake. "Not a bit."

His kids were ready, though. And there is nothing lucky about that at all.

Chiefs battle back to edge Franklin in triple overtime

By C.J. Risak
Staff Writer

Big plays — the team that makes the most, wins.

It's often just that simple.

Plymouth Canton and Livonia Franklin found themselves mired in a game full of big plays and missed opportunities. Something had to give as the end of the third overtime approached, and Canton defensive end Jason Masur provided it, knocking down David McMullen's fourth-down pass to preserve Canton's come-from-behind 26-20 victory.

"That was just a great play," said Franklin coach Rick Lee, adding, "for Canton."

The win improved the Chiefs' record to 2-2. Franklin fell to 1-3.

The Patriots had the early lead, scoring with 1:50 left in the opening quarter on a 23-yard option pass from Brian Facione to Paul Terek. It was the first of two TD catches for Terek; he finished with seven receptions for 115 yards.

Giving Canton quarterback Rob Johnson too many chances can be a mistake. Johnson collected the bulk of the yardage in the Chiefs' game-tying, fourth-quarter, 65-yard drive, 39 of them coming on an option play that reached the end zone. Jason Pennebaker's extra-point kick tied it at 7-all with 6:48 remaining.

The Chiefs put together another drive late in the game, thanks to a 27-yard run by Mike Rener (65 yards on 10 carries) that got them to the Franklin 21 and a 16-yard Johnson scramble that put the ball at the 6 with 25 seconds left. But Pennebaker's 22-yard field goal try bent wide left with 10 second to go, forcing OT.

The Chiefs got the initial possession (each team starts with a first down at the opponents' 10-yard line) and capitalized, with Johnson completing an 11-yard pass to Eric Sarrault at the 2 and Rener scoring on the next play. A bad snap on the extra point try left Johnson to scramble, short of the end zone.

Franklin scored on its first play, a McMullen 10-yard pass to Terek. But 5-foot-7, 160-pound noseguard Shaun Dyer busted through the line and blocked Brandon Bell's extra point, leaving it tied at 13.

The Patriots got first possession in the next round and scored on a 4-yard swing pass from McMullen to Brett Karwowski. Bell's placement made it 20-13. The Chiefs also converted, Johnson passing 11 yards to Pennebaker on a post pattern. Pennebaker's placement retied it at 20-all.

Canton started with the ball in the third round, and the possession was a short one: a 10-yard TD pass from Johnson to a wide-open Nick Belyk in the middle of the end zone. Another bad snap caused Pennebaker's placement to go wide right, making it 26-20.

Franklin's Jeremy Betley lost 5 yards on first down, but a questionable interference call on a Johnson interception gave the Pats another first down at the Canton 7. However, two runs sandwiched around an incomplete pass garnered just four yards.

Chiefs collect 1st dual triumph

GOLF

The winning streak didn't last long for Plymouth Canton's golf team.

The Chiefs collected their first victory Wednesday, beating Westland John Glenn 212-221 at Brae Burn Golf Course. The win ended a three-game skid for Canton.

Brian Carlson and Scott Belisle paced the Chiefs, each shooting 41. Miles Meibers and Dave Dismondy followed with 43s, and Zach Lindke fired a 44.

It was Canton's overall balance that beat the Rockets. Craig Piscopink earned medalist honors for Glenn with a 40. Chris Tompkins and Kevin Kossel added 43s. Then, however, came Justin Lienthal at 45 and Brian Bridges at 50.

Glenn slipped to 0-4 on the season.

Unfortunately for the Chiefs, the win streak ended Friday when they hosted a tough Farmington Harrison team at Brae Burn and dropped a 220-225 decision. That left Canton with a 1-4 record.

Carlson's 41 led the Chiefs. Belisle and Lindke each had a 45, Meibers shot 46 and Adam Allen scored a 48.

Harrison (4-1 overall) was led by Kevin Horton and Jeff Boxman, each with a 42. Kris Jovan shot 43, with Muhamet Suligman at 45 and Jeff Moscow at 48.

Canton hosts Farmington at Brae Burn at 3 p.m. Monday, then plays Livonia Franklin at Idyl Wyld at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Plymouth Salem

Plymouth Salem continued its torrid — and unbeaten — ways Friday, in anything-but perfect conditions.

The Rocks ripped Livonia Stevenson, 204-236, at Hilltop Golf Course. The win pushed Salem's dual-meet record to 7-0 overall, 5-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Stevenson is 5-3 overall, 4-2 in the WLAA.

"It was cold out there today, too," said Salem coach Rick Wilson. "It was frigid. Those scores are exceptional for those conditions."

Mike Hjelmstad continued to lead the Rocks, posting his fourth-straight sub-40 score with a 39. Ryan Andrzejewski and Ryan Deschaw were next best for Salem, each with 40s. Jeff Lear was next at 42, with Adam Wilson fifth at 43.

Only three Spartans beat 50: Steve Polanski, 41; Anthony Durso, 45; and Kevin Raycraft, 49.

Salem is idle until Wednesday, when it hosts once-beaten Farmington Harrison at 3 p.m. at Hilltop.

Canton clobbers Harrison, 7-0

SOCCER

To say things aren't going well for Farmington Hills Harrison's boys soccer team is to say there's a chance for earthquakes in San Francisco.

Plymouth Canton handed host Harrison its fifth loss in as many outings Wednesday, 7-0.

"They've got problems," Canton coach Don Smith said charitably. "We played well. But we're going to have to play much better when we see better teams down the road.

"This felt like a day off, which we didn't need."

Smith, whose team raised its record to 5-3-1 with its fourth win in a row, took advantage of the opportunity to give two goalies some work, playing Jason Meagrow in the first half and Joe Gasiewicz in the second.

Anthony Riemma scored four goals and added an assist for Canton, which also got goals from Jacob Rea, Tim Parent and Shawn Walker.

Rea and Walker also added assists, as did Ryan Meath, Mike Elsner, Tom O'Rourke and Kevin Gniewek.

■ Redford CC 2, A.A. Pioneer 1: On Friday, host Redford Catholic Central (7-1-1 overall) won the non-leaguer against Ann Arbor Pioneer (6-3-1) behind goals from Dan Mulvihill and sophomore Bill Scherle.

Mulvihill struck first at the 18-minute mark of the first half on an assist from Mike Martin for the No. 8-ranked Shamrocks. Scherle added the second at 56 minutes from Tony Moucoulis to make it 2-0.

Pioneer got a goal back at the 63-minute mark, but CC goalkeeper Travis Miller held off Ann Arbor the rest of the way.

"It was a good win for us and we played well all the way through," CC coach Phil LaJoy said. "They (Pioneer) are good and they're quick.

"The wind was awful the first half and our goalie was busy, but we hung in there."

■ Athens 2, Churchill 1: Troy Athens, ranked No. 4 in the latest Class A boys soccer poll, rallied for a pair of second-half goals to beat No. 5 Livonia Churchill Friday at Churchill.

Athens is 8-0 overall, while Churchill is 5-1-2.

Brian Zawislak gave the host Chargers a 1-0 lead on a goal with 43 seconds left in the first half from Matt Buzewski.

But Athens, which had allowed only one goal previous to the non-league encounter, struck twice early in the second half.

Robert Hilliard, a senior forward, scored at the 44:54 mark from Dan Dembiec. Hilliard then added the game-winner, squirting a shot by Churchill goalkeeper Bryan Stramecki off a scramble at 55:46.

"The second half we didn't play with the intensity that showed in the first half, but we still played hard enough to win," Churchill coach Chad Campau said. "In the first half we kept it on the ground and controlled the ball. But Athens uses those long throw-ins and it's such a weapon."

Luke Spreitzer, a sophomore, was the winning goalkeeper.

"He did a great job, and you've got to have a good goalkeeper when you're playing the elite teams," Athens coach Tim Storch said. "He doesn't give up any bad goals."

Storch also praised the play of his four defenders, including sweeper Jonathan Wells, senior Krzysztof Zaryczny, Jeff Wenskay and sophomore Mike Weslosky.

"I was happy with those back four, especially with the outside marking backs," Storch said.

On Wednesday, Churchill and Northville battled to a scoreless draw.

The Chargers missed several good scoring opportunities. Stramecki posted the shutout.

■ Stevenson 8, John Glenn 0: Livonia Stevenson received a breather Friday, after Wednesday's challenge from Plymouth Salem, which the Spartans won 3-0.

Stevenson, the state's top-ranked team in Class A, led the Rockets 5-0 at halftime.

The Spartans are 8-0 overall and 3-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. Glenn slips to 1-6-1 and 0-3.

Junior forward Jim Misajlovich scored two goals and assisted on another.

The other goals belonged to seniors Jeff Urbats, Matt Quinter and Steve Ingrao and juniors Mark Dietrich and McNiel.

Senior Todd Smith was the winning goalkeeper, playing each half.

On Wednesday, the Rockets lost to visiting Farmington, 10-2.

Sven Leise and Jim McPartlin scored one goal each for Glenn. Kevin Costantine and Matt Hebert had assists for the Rockets.

Farmington led 4-1 at halftime.

Simon Juncaj led Farmington with four goals and two assists.

Randy Sage had two goals and two assists. Matt Hankins, Chad Kotrba, Chris Meyer and Tim Rais had one goal each. Meyer contributed four assists.

■ Franklin 3, N. Farmington 0: On Wednesday, host Livonia Franklin (7-3 overall) scored three unanswered goals in the second half to beat North Farmington (3-4).

"It's the best I've seen Franklin play in a long time, they gave Stevenson and Churchill all they could handle," North coach Ron Meteyer said. "They passed the ball well. We had some lapses in the second half and Franklin capitalized on it."

Schoolcraft hangs on to beat Mott CC

VOLLEYBALL

It wasn't pretty, certainly not after the first couple of games. But it was a win, and that was something positive.

Schoolcraft College's volleyball team struggled but succeeded Thursday, edging Mott CC 15-7, 15-5, 11-15, 15-12 in an Eastern Conference match at SC.

"I think we collapsed in that third and fourth game," said Lady Ocelot coach Tom Teeters, his team now 13-5-3. "We started making a lot of unforced errors. I think we were one serve away from losing the match.

"But I don't want to take anything away from (Mott). They really turned it around and played very well. It was a gutsy comeback for us. There was a tremendous momentum change against us, but we were able to come back."

Indeed, the Ocelots trailed 9-4 in the fourth game before battling back for the win. Jamie Clark and Tracy Sledz (from Livonia Clarenceville) paced SC with 17 kills apiece; Sledz also had five blocks and four service aces, while Clark collected three aces.

Andrea Greer totaled 38 assists-to-kills, while Michelle MacRae had seven kills and three aces. Defensively, Julie Schmidt had 22 digs and Hermina Angeles got 21.

Greer's performance continues to impress Teeters. "She's doing a great job, ala Jenny Sproul," he said, referring to the Livonia Churchill graduate he successfully moved from outside hitter to setter. "She's making the transition from outside hitter, too, and she's never set before.

"The coaching staff is very impressed."

SC has a pair of tough conference matches this week, playing at Oakland CC Tuesday and at Henry Ford CC Thursday. Both begin at 7 p.m.

1st-quarter surge carries Chiefs

The first quarter told the story.

In fact, it was something Plymouth Canton girls basketball coach Bob Blohm could not remember ever happening, certainly not against a Livonia Stevenson squad.

"That's a first — 29 points," the Chiefs' coach said after his team bombarded the Spartans, 72-27, Thursday at Canton.

The first quarter was indeed the difference. a 29-6 Canton advantage. By halftime, the Chiefs led 46-16.

"We came out and shot well vs. their zone," said Blohm, his team now 5-2 overall (1-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association) after breaking a two-game losing streak. "(Sarah) Warnke got to the glass and scored and we scored off transition from defense.

"Their ballhandling was not as good as last year. We played man-to-man half-court pressure and went to work. It was a pretty good game for us."

Indeed it was. Warnke, a senior center, finished with 17 points and five rebounds. Becky Vachow, a senior guard; also had 17 points, converting 4-of-6 three-pointers. Junior forward Kristi Fiorenzi and sophomore forward Nkechi Okwumabua each netted 12 points, with Okwumabua grabbing seven boards.

Jenny Dulz and Katie Downarowicz each scored eight for Stevenson (5-2 overall, 1-1 in the WLAA).

■ Salem 68, W.L. Western 25: From one end of the spectrum to the other.

■ BASKETBALL

Last Saturday, Plymouth Salem entertained Flint Northern, the state's top-ranked team and the defending Class A champion.

On Thursday, the Rocks traveled to Walled Lake Western, another team with a perfect record that was not threatened by the visit. Salem's lopsided victory improved its record to 4-2 overall (1-0 in the WLAA), while Western fell to 0-5 overall (0-2 in the WLAA).

How bad was it? At the end of the first quarter, the score was 23-4. Indeed, before Western got off its first shot at the basket — which, by the way, the Warriors made — the score was 12-0.

By half, the Rocks had a 33-12 lead, and by the end of the third period it was 50-18.

Just about everyone played and contributed for Salem. Janelle Sterling collected 15 points, four assists and three rebounds; Angie Sillmon had 13 points and three boards; Amanda Abraham got 10 points, five rebounds and four assists; Shellye Sills totaled seven points and four rebounds; Andrea Pruett finished with five points and nine boards; and Merriti Walker grabbed nine rebounds.

No one scored in double figures for Salem.

■ PCA 53, Zoe Christian 13: One team could score and one team couldn't Friday when Plymouth Christian Academy visited Warren Zoe Christian.

The Eagles rolled to a 20-4 lead after one quarter and a 30-7 advantage by halftime. It never got any better for Zoe Christian, which fell to 3-4.

PCA (now 4-3) got 14 points and nine rebounds from junior forward Sarah Sumner. Senior guard Lisa Erickson chipped in with 12 points, and sophomore Amanda Clark dished out seven assists.

■ Mercy 49, Ladywood 47 (OT): Fans had to be turned away at the door Thursday, but those able to get a ticket watched host Farmington Hills Mercy beat Livonia Ladywood in an overtime barn burner.

"We're building character over here, just like the Citadel," said Mercy coach Larry Baker, whose team is 2-5 overall and 1-1 in the Central Division of the Catholic League. "We hope this really gives kids faith in themselves.

"I think this was a big character-builder."

Mercy led 4-2 in the early stages, but never led again in regulation.

Kisha Brooks, who finished with nine points and 11 rebounds, scored on a drive with just under a minute left to force OT at 40-all.

In the overtime, senior Jenny Brennan's two free throws with 2:30 left gave Mercy the lead for keeps.

Freshman Jessie Brennan led Mercy with a game-high 21 points.

Ladywood got 16 points from senior Katie Law. Senior Kathy Dankert added 12 points and nine rebounds, while senior Erin LeSage added 11 points.

Salem fast enough; Canton catches up

It starts with the anchors, they came through.

Next comes the reserves, whose importance magnifies when there are injuries.

For Plymouth Salem's girls cross country team, the lineup worked Thursday in its season-opening dual meet against an intense North Farmington squad.

The Rocks used a first-place performance from senior co-captain Leah Retherford (one of the aforementioned anchors) and a bunch of other strong efforts to edge the Raiders 27-28 in a Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division meet at Cass Benton.

"We have a lot of injuries, and that made us run reserve runners," said Salem coach Dave Gerlach. "They came through for us.

That they did — like sophomores Erin Lang and Jenny Burke, who finished eighth (21:53) and ninth (22:32), respectively.

But it still started for the Rocks with Retherford, who finished first in 20:06. And with junior Kristie Giddings, who was third in 20:55. Senior Liz Peltice took sixth for Salem (21:48).

"Retherford and Giddings paced us," said Gerbach. "They're the ones who anchor our line-up."

North got season-best runs from Becky Naglik, who placed second (20:30); Amanda Hough, who was fourth (21:14); and Kerrie Simpson, who took fifth (21:23). Still, it wasn't enough — the Raiders dropped to 2-2 overall, 0-2 in the Lakes.

Salem runs against Farmington 4 p.m. Thursday at Cass Benton.

■ X-COUNTRY

Plymouth Canton

Teamwork.

That's what Plymouth Canton's girls used to collect a victory in their first dual meet of the season — 24-31 over Northville Thursday at Cass Benton.

Although the final outcome may indicate an easy victory for the Chiefs, the winner wasn't always so certain.

"We ran a real strong pack," said Canton coach George Przygodski. "At one mile, they had eight girls ahead of our third runner. We were fortunate to chase them down."

Four Chiefs finished in the top six, led by Becky Wolfrom, who was first (20:07). Beth Knight placed second (20:43), Christiana Bradford was fifth (22:40) and Becky Uryga finished sixth (22:41). Canton's final scorer was Rachel Burt, in 10th (23:08).

Canton runs at Livonia Franklin 4 p.m. Thursday.

Hyundai targets value-driven buyers with upgraded Sonata

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. -- Hyundai has aimed its 1995 Sonata at family buyers who are driven by price, safety and value considerations.

The South Korean carmaker, which has struggled to grab a stronger hold in the U.S. market, has redesigned the $13,299 Sonata inside and out for 1995 so it provides improved handling, performance and safety features.

The Sonata, equipped with dual air bags, has more interior room than any other car in its class -- and that's saying a lot since it includes the Honda Accord EX, Nissan Altima, Toyota Camry, Pontiac Grand Am and Mazda 626.

Although the Sonata's overall length is more than 5 inches longer than the Altima, the turning radius is almost a foot shorter. During hot laps and a slalom course set up by the Phoenix-based ProFormance racing school in suburban Chicago, the Sonata handled better and delivered quicker acceleration in head-to-head testing than the Camry, Grand Am and Accord.

The 1995 Sonata has changed considerably over the 1994. Small pillars and more glass allow the driver more visibility -- 108 degrees of vision. It's 20 percent stiffer and has less body roll than the previous model.

Standard: The double overhead cam 2-liter 4-cylinder powerplant provides 137 horses when mated to a 5-speed manual transmission. The 4-speed automatic transaxle is a worthy option.

Also optional is a 3.0-liter V6 that provides 147 horsepower, a definite improvement over the 4-cylinder.

The Sonata rates high as a quality family-car option. It has enough interior room to hold three passengers in the back and trunk cargo room for anything from luggage for four to a month's worth of groceries.

The base Sonata comes standard with air conditioning, power steering, tilt steering wheel, tinted glass, full wheel covers, dual remote mirrors and an AM/FM cassette stereo.

The V6 engine is not an option on the base model, but is available on the GL and GLS trim levels. The Sonata GL package adds automatic transmission, power windows, power door locks and heated power mirrors. The GLS trim includes the V6 engine, automatic transmission, dual body color power-remote mirrors, deluxe grille treatment with bright accent, gas shocks, alloy wheels with high performance radials, cruise control, overhead map lights, premium AM/FM cassette stereo and a six-way adjustable driver's seat.

Hyundai also offers a 24-hour roadside-assistance program.

Safety equipment available includes anti-lock brakes, four-wheel disc brakes, child-proof rear door locks, enhanced side-impact occupant protection, an energy absorbing steering column, and reinforced side pillars and roof for rollover protection.

The ABS system incorporated in the Sonata is one of the best, with sensors located independently in each wheel for optimum driver control and function.

The dual air bag system has an incident recorder -- much like the black box on airplanes. It will provide critical impact data for later analysis.

Hyundai has discontinued its free three-year bumper-to-bumper servicing contract in 1995. The contract, which Hyundai officials say has helped build consumer confidence in the company's cars, had given buyers free oil changes, tune-ups and other maintenance.

A two-year option is being offered for $250.

"We have great confidence in the quality of our cars and we're not opting for the service to maintain the lowest cost of Sonata in its segment," said Doug Mazza, chief executive of Hyundai's U.S. operations.

"Research showed us owners wouldn't opt for the service, but would rather have a lower-priced car."
