Boundaries set for DDA district

The intersection at Lilley and Ford Road is one step closer to getting reconstructed with left turn lanes.

Other north-south corridors along Ford Road will soon follow as part of improvements planned with Canton's expanded Downtown Development Authori-

On Tuesday the township board agreed to extend the DDA boundaries by 773 acres, stretching from the city of Westland to west of Canton Center Road. Some properties included in the DDA aren't contiguous to

The original boundary set in 1984 was limited to an 80-acre area along both sides of Ford Road from Morton Taylor to Sheldon, plus north along the Harvard Square shopping center on Sheldon.

The green streetlights, decorative walls, shrubberies and brick pavers in that area between Sheldon and Morton Taylor are a result of the DDA. They were purchased and installed with a portion of the property taxes collected from businesses within the

Although most of the improvements seen in the current DDA district are aesthetic, the taxes from the expanded DDA will be earmarked for infrastructure improvements.

"Due to the frustration of getting the north-south roads fixed by Wayne County this will capture new development and apply it primarily to infrastructure improvements," said Supervisor Tom Yack.

School officials and union negotiators have made progress toward a new contract for Plymouth-Canton teachers. They are expected to sit down today to hammer out an agreement.

BY M.B. DILLON

After more than nine months at the table, it appears negotiators for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and its 850 teachers have reached what one is calling a "meeting of the minds."

This, after a 14-and-a-half hour bargaining session that ended early Monday.

Negotiators bargained from 3 p.m. Sunday until 5:30 a.m. Monday, when Tom Cotner, chief negotiator for the Plymouth-Canton Education Association, had to go to work. Cotner teaches advanced math at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

"We think we can reach an agreement fairly soon," said Cotner. "We don't have a tentative agreement. It appears that we have a meeting of the minds in principle. Now we just have to hammer out the details and get it on paper, which is not always an automatic thing."

The two sides are scheduled to meet again today at 4 p.m.

Errol Goldman, chief negotiator for the district, says he is optimistic as well. "We've made headway. We both moved on positions.'

Cotner and Goldman declined to say anything regarding the terms of the settlement.

"I've seen it happen where you think you have everything wrapped up, yet there's a little thread. Someone pulls on it, and the whole thing comes apart," said Cotner, who got up at 4 a.m. Sunday to prepare for the day's bargaining. "No one got everything they wanted. It's way too delicate to say any more."

Said Goldman: "I'm not going to speak to that at this point ... First, we want to get it signed off and put away; and let the teachers' union communicate to their teachers.

Goldman said both sides "had to give, and it was painful at times for both of us. But that's what you need

Growth moves west

Township's largest development takes root

BY VALERIE OLANDER STAFF WRITER

The first bite has been taken from Canton's agricultural land as part of, a 680-acre subdivision that stretches from Beck Road to just west of Denton, between Cherry Hill and Geddes roads.

Two-years in the planning, the Central Park Planned Development District (PDD) is the largest development in the township acreagewise to date. The Pheasant Run and Sunflower developments both had more homes, although less acreage.

The Central Park PDD received recommended approval from the Planning Commission Monday. It will be up to the township board to make the final decision on the preliminary plan at its Oct. 22 meeting.

'I just want to say for the record that I don't take this lightly. The only reason this isn't done kicking a screaming is that it's part of a PDD," said Melissa McLaughlin, township board member and board representative on the planning commission.

A PDD allows developers some flexibility on setbacks and lot size requirements as credit for neighborhood parks or preserving certain areas benefiting the community.

In the Central Park PDD, the developers will dedicate to the township a nine-hole extension to the Pheasant Run Golf Club and a 39acre park for active recreational use. One of the unique characteristics of the proposed golf course extension is a tunnel under Beck Road that would connect the new nine-hole course with the already open Pheasant Run east of Beck. Wayne County approval is required for the tunnel.

After township board approval the "first thing we will be pursuing is the golf course," said Friedman.

The construction phase of homes will depend on the development of the utilities, such as water, sewer and roads. The developer has agreed to pay for water and sewer extension. The water and sewer treatment plant will have to be expanded

Area chamber will sponsor forum on stadium tax

The Westland Chamber of Commerce will host a legislative forum entitled "A Legislative Update on the Stadium Tax Balot Issue" on Tuesday, Oct. 22 at 11:30 a.m. at the Hellenic Cultural Center, 36375 Joy Road. Westland, located between New burgh and Wayne roads.

The event will feature a panel consisting of Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, Wayne County Assistant Executive Mike Duggan and Westland Mayor Robert Thomas.

The purpose of the event is to educate the business community and residents of western Wayne County about the upcoming ballot proposal on the stadium tax. Program and lunch is $15.

Checks should be made payable to the Westland Chamber of Commerce and mailed to 36900 Ford Road, Westland, 48185. Reservations are required and there is a 24-hour cancellation notice required.

Mr. Ager summarized the funding for the Historical survey. He stated that in 1995 the Township was awarded a grant from the Michigan Department of State, Bureau of History Division to complete a Historic Survey of Agricultural Properties within the community. The Township's Historic District Commission had developed a list of 25 properties that were included in the survey work. He said that the survey was financed in part with Federal funds from the National Park Service, U.S. Department of the Interior, through the Michigan Department of State.

Mr. Ager stated that the survey was conducted by Kosky and Glynn

Patient's rights bills get unanimous House OK

The state House of Representatives was one vote-short of unanimous as it passed a bill banning a "date rape" drug.

But it gave 100 percent approval to lame-duck Rep. John Jamian's "Patient's Bill of Rights" package. The bills go next to the Senate.

The House handed Jamian a going-away present by giving unanimous approval, on votes of more than 100-0, to a package of bills he steered through his Health Policy Committee. They

B eing part of a community is more than having an address in it. It means getting involved and doing things for oth-

Already the Salvation Army, which serves families in Canton, is preparing for its famous Red Kettle drive. Hundreds of volunteers are needed to ring the bells and ask for donations.

Proceeds from the Salvation Army's efforts help finance much of what the corps does for the community, such as its food cupboard, which provides nourishment to families in need.

At 7:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 11, the Salvation Army is hosting a breakfast for anyone - individuals, families and businesses - who wants to get involved in the Red Kettle drive.

It is a great opportunity to involve your family, especially your children in helping others. If you want to help, but can't make the Kettle Breakfast, call the Salvation Army, headquartered in Plymouth, 453-5464.

There are plenty of other, yet related, ways to help in the community, particularly as the winter holidays draw nearer.

The Canton Goodfellows annually make sure that no child in the community is without join forces to collect food and other items for a Christmas - meaning gifts and a nourishing holiday meal.

The Goodfellows work months to be able to deliver more than 80 baskets filled with gifts, needed items such as socks and mittens, and food, to needy families in Canton.

If you don't believe there might be needy families in the growing and seemingly prosperous Canton community, look up Nancy Spencer, president of the Goodfellows. She'll tell you about some families, including those who are temporarily on hard times, but nonetheless need help and to know that some- and improving the community.

Bring sanity to suicide issue

ne of the most debated and emotional social issues in recent years is whether people should have an unlimited right to decide how they should end their lives and if anyone should be allowed to help them.

Thanks to Dr. Jack Kevorkian, usually accompanied by his media-savvy attorney Geoffrey Fieger, the issue of assisted suicide has dominated the agenda of the state Legislature and has triggered numerous debates among health care professionals as well as individuals.

With the U.S. Supreme Court deciding to review two related cases and the state Senate initiating a bill to address a small segment of the controversial issue, it's time that a degree of sanity be brought into the debate.

The specific proposal before the Senate's Committee on Families, Mental Health and Human Services is a straightforward one which should be enacted into law. The proposal doesn't cut to the heart of the assisted suicide issue, but it does open the door for some direction for individuals and health care professionals. Basically, the proposal would do three things: assure that physicians tell their terminally ill patients their rights to accept or refuse treatment; given physicians immunity when they prescribe narcotics as pain-killers; and tell patients that state case law prohibits anyone from assisting in a suicide. While the Senate bill, sponsored by Sen. Dale Shugars, R-Portage, doesn't offer a comprehensive approach to the issue, it certainly provides a common sense solution on how to

There are new techniques in pain management. There are hospice organizations. There are a variety of counseling services available to patients who are depressed and see the ending of their life as the most attractive alternative to their situations.

Concerned about movies

fter taking in a movie with my wife at the A fter taking in a movie with my wife at the Penn Theatre in downtown Plymouth, my wife and I were faced with a situation we both felt should be discussed with the management of the theater.

The movie being shown titled "The Rock," stars Sean Connery and other well-known actors. It was a movie full of action, suspense, and drama. It was also a movie full of explicit violence, terror, and foul language. My wife and I admit that in today's society, a movie considered as "good" is usually going to contain some of the above-mentioned subject mat-

While exiting the theater after the first showing of the movie ended, we noticed the long line of movie-goers waiting to buy tickets for the second showing of the same movie. We wouldn't consider that to be abnormal.

However, we also noticed the number of young children being admitted to the theater. There were numerous kids being admitted who were obviously under the age of seventeen, even some who appeared to be between five and ten years old. After informing one of the movie-goers who was accompanying a very young child, about the content of the movie, I then asked to speak to the theater's manager.

I approached the manager and questioned him about the movies "R" rating, stating that it was my understanding that this rating restricted the people who were under the age of seventeen. He then explained the rating, stating that it is not a law, but rather a guideline that the theater can choose or not choose

I am aware that children can be admitted to "R"-rated movies along with a parent or legal guardian. I also believe that children don't deserve to have such morally damaging material handed them in the form of a movie ticket. I believe the theater should make every effort to inform their patrons of movie contents in future situations like this, and I hope that the owner(s) of the theater will think twice before sacrificing the ethical morality of our communities children for the cost of a t the recent Rotary Chicken Barbecue a A large number of high school student volunteers were working. Without them the barbecue could not be held. They often work long hours at difficult but important tasks. Each was supplied with a canvas apron and gloves, which they were expected to turn in after their task was completed.

A day or two after the barbecue a woman telephoned my home to say she had obtained my name from the chamber of commerce as a person to speak to about matters related to Rotary. She said her daughter had been one of our volunteers and at the end of the day her apron and gloves were accidentally mixed with some of her own things and taken home. When she found them she was embarrassed and chagrined. Wanting to immediately bring them back, she found there was no place to return them. The mother had promised to Having failed to get the girl or her mother's name, I told her to drop them at the chamber office where I would pick them up and get them to the proper person. I am now tempted to have them framed or mounted to remind us of what they represent.

I cannot address this letter to the young lady who made such a noble gesture, and this may be as well, since the only way to tell her how much we treasure what she did is to tell the whole community. The used apron and gloves are worth a dollar or so at most, but why they symbolize is worth millions. This act is equivalent to what Abraham Lincoln is said to have done when he walked five miles to return a few pennies to a customer. It was the honest thing to do!

We often speak and act disparagingly regarding our teenagers. We can't stand the way they dress, the way they spend their time, their study habits and on and on. How great it is for us to be reminded by an act such as this of the quality of character many of Blessings on the young lady, whomever she may be, who brought the things back and on her mother who supported her in doing the right thing.

It's time to care

Since I live in Plymouth, I find some comfort in the fact that Northville citizens are just as dumb as the folks in Plymouth.

On Tuesday, Sept. 23, Northville voters turned down two school millages, one for technology, and one for renovating and building schools. Until now, people who care about the quality of their children's education had begun to choose homes in Northville, over those in Plymouth and Canton, because of the schools.

Last year we briefly considered buying a house in Northville's Pheasant Hills, but decided not to because Northville schools had not yet made the investment in technology that Plymouth-Canton schools had. Also, since our neighborhood school has received summary accreditation, as have several schools in Northville, we saw no advantage in moving.

I hope the voters in Northville will not mind watching their property values plummet. Half a million dollars is a lot to spend to live in a town with a second-class school system.

Here's a postscript to the voters of Plymouth and Canton: soon the Plymouth-Canton school board will ask you to approve a bond issue to build more schools since our schools are overcrowded.

I urge everyone to attend the meetings of the school board on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month. They need to hear from you. The word is getting out that Plymouth-Canton schools are under-funded and overcrowded. Will you vote to improve our schools, or don't you care about your property values - or your

The Observer recently reported that Plymouth-Canton students scored near the top of the High School Proficiency Test. Only Bloomfield Hills, Grosse Pointe and Birmingham scored higher than Plymouth-Canton students in the metro Detroit area.

The fact that Plymouth-Canton student scores are exceeded only by students in districts spending two to four thousand dollars more per student, per year, clearly indicates that this community is getting much more value for its educational dollar. The

The correlation between property values and the reputation of the community's schools is irrefutable. Improving property values attracts new residents generating more tax revenue. This cycle can be maintained only by retaining the high caliber of teaching professionals we currently have. Just as in the business world, we compete with other communities for the best educators. We can retain the best only by providing an attractive working environment.

Three years ago Plymouth-Canton teachers voted to give up their raise so that extracurricular activities in the district would not be eliminated. I believe it is time for parents to repay the favor and demonstrate our appreciation and support of the teaching staff. If parental support of our teachers has decreased then our expectations for excellence should decrease also. Education is not much different than other things in life: You get what

Election times should push to get out the vote

ou wouldn't know it happened if you get your news from the big city papers or TV. But the House Local Government Committee recently held a hearing in the State Capitol on a timely topic - school elections and It's important because holding elections costs money, and when elections are held often decides turnout and, thus, the outcome.

Currently, school districts have the option of holding elections whenever they choose. Here's a sample of comment from the hearing about why this system is wrong:

Former Ingham County clerk, Rep. Lingg Brewer, D-Holt: "We have almost endless, ongoing elections with turnouts of 3, 4 or 5 percent."

Tony Brehler, a retiree from Livonia and spokesman for a letter-writing group, "Grumpies": "It's kind of sad" that most elections are held on a June Monday. In Livonia, an election costs $32,000; with 4,120 voting, the cost is $7.77 per vote.

■ Brewer again: "When you have 70 percent voting for president and 7 percent voting for school board, something is wrong. I've seen school people as cynical as Chicago ward heelers. They say, 'We've got a multi-million dollar project. Let's sneak this through with Monday What to do?

First, urge your local lawmaker to support HB 4447, introduced by Rep. Beverly Hammerstrom, R-Temperance, which would allow Michigan elections to be held on just three dates: Tuesdays after the first Mondays in 1) May, 2) August (i.e., the August primary election); and 3) November (i.e., the general election).

School people don't like the proposal, on the stated argument that restricting school elections to certain dates reduces local control. Popdycock! Having a uniform speed limit on expressways limits local control, but it also profides a consistent speed standard for all drivers to follow, regardless of destination.

I suspect the fascination with local control has far more to do with the common practice of school boards (often in conspiracy with teachers inions) sliding big ticket items through an election held at a time specifically designed to ensure low turnout and disproportionate effect from a committed (self-interested?) minority.

Second, urge your local lawmaker to mutter words of encouragement to Rep. Bob Brackenridge, R-St. Joseph, the thoughtful former Berrien County clerk who is pushing an overdue reconsideration of Michigan's election schedul-

Suggest that while our lawmakers are considering rationalizing school elections, they should widen their focus to include also elections for statewide education posts and judges. Surprise! These folks are also elected in November! But you sure wouldn't know it by reading a big city newspaper or watching TV. These folks get elected essentially at random by an almost totally uninformed electorate.

One can argue that we should appoint our udges and university board members. But we n Michigan have chosen to elect them, and the odds of our changing the Constitution in this regard are negligible.

So we should consolidate voting for these posts with the proposed school elections in May. That way, we'd get the news media off their butts and have some searching coverage of people and issues - school boards, millages, university boards and judges - that might inform voters in a democracy.

Family Room surfs the Net

Surfing the Net. Downloading. Clicking the mouse. Uploading. Webs. Bytes. Fatal errors.

These things sound terrible, don't they? Like one of those "Indiana Jones" movies where he goes to some far-off land across the sea and spiders and rodents and evil scary things lurk in dark places like caves and pits.

That's what all that sounds like. But it really isn't any of that. At least that's what my husband says, it's just Internet stuff. And I'm just now learning about "Internet stuff" because last Friday husband Ron got me in line, or on-line, or

So, let's see. The Internet. It's a spider web sort of thing. I think. And it's all woven together by computer cords and telephone wires, and somehow they get crisscrossed and connected up across town, across the country, across the planet. And people communicate that way. It's very big and very mysterious.

Truly mystifying

And I don't get it. It mystifies me. But, to tell you the truth, doorbells and toilets mystify me. Self-sticking postage stamps mystify me. Most everything mystifies and amazes me.

Being amazed to this degree is rather embarrassing. How could anyone my age understand so little about so much? And then, here comes this Internet thing. It stuns me. It stuns me in aflabbergasted, awestruck sort of way.

I mean, who could've ever thought of this? This is really cool! People actually "talk" to each other all over the planet and it's not a long distance

And then it stuns me in the stun gun, frozen in your tracks, sort of way. I wonder how those things work anyway? Stun guns. Do you get "shot" by something or other and that makes you just stand there, not moving, and you're frozen? Or do you fall over? Or what? I've never had this experience, so I don't know, and I certainly hope I never will, but the point is this ... What was the

See? I'm stunned and all frozen up just thinking about this, this Internet. That's because I worry I'm going to break it. I'll goof something up out there in the spider web of telephone wires and computer cords. And I'll get in big trouble.

Well, anyway. I'm on-line. The "Family Room" lady is on-line. So if you've an idea, thought, complaint, suggestion, question, answer, whatever, for the "Family Room" column, send me a message on the Internet.

Ron told me to let you know I have my own 'address" on this Internet. This address looks like what Joey (who is 4) "types" on our computer (a bunch of willy nilly gobbledygook), but here goes. Here's my "address:" FamilyRoom@world-

Ron assures me that these letters placed in this way with those punctuation marks will work, they will get your message to me so long as you have a computer, a modem, access to the Internet, and, of course, a message.

Exciting proposition

Now, I'm pretty excited about this - this new way of communicating. I love communicating. With you. And I love when you communicate with me. It keeps me on my toes, it keeps me humble, it keeps me going.

Over the years, the calls I've retrieved from the Observer phone message system and the cards and letters forwarded to me from the Observer office have provided me with lots of incentive and ideas. People have told me the "Family Room" is a "coffee break column," they sit down with a cup of coffee and the paper and read the "Family Room." And I've been told the "Family Room" is "easy to take," it's "comfortable," it's "ordinary life," it's a "simple break from serious business and rotten news.

And one reader recently wrote, "The Family Room' reminds me ..." Or is it "The Family Room rom ..." something? "Roams?" Or "ram ...?" "Rambles?" I can't quite make out the handwriting. Anyway, in some way it's like "a conversa-

And that's good. But up till now it's just been me talking and talking and talking, and you just having to sit there listening and listening and drinking coffee, but now you can jump in, you can actually "talk" back, right away and I'll "hear" you right away, that day.

Now, if I'm to understand this E-mail process, there'll be no delays in getting your message directly to me, at my house, to my very own computer, in the den upstairs. No mail delays, no orwarding delays, no phone message retrieval snafus. Ron tells me the whole thing's easy as

Moms find support with FEMALE

When working moms decide to stay home and raise their children, they can face conflicts and feelings of isolation. But thanks to FEMALE, athome moms have a place to turn for information and support.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Macinkowicz's son Matthew, 7, and daughter Megan, 5, were born, she felt isolated and alone.

Two years ago, she heard about the support group FEMALE, an acronym for "Formerly Employed Mothers at the Leading The national non-profit organization is aimed at women, most of whom have left the full-time paid work force to raise their families at home.

Until the birth of her children, Macinkowicz had worked full-time as a secretary for Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Thrust into the role of full-time motherhood with little or no training for the job, she had no one to turn to when problems or questions arose about child-

"In society today, you don't have a mother or grandmother living with you," said Macinkowicz who first belonged to the Warren chapter before moving to Livonia. "Most of the neighbors work and your pediatrician can only give you so much time and usually only deals with ill-

Macinkowicz now belongs to the Novi-Area Chapter that meets 7-9 p.m. twice monthly on the second Wednesday and fourth Tuesday at the Mission Health Professional Center on Ten Mile and Haggerty roads in Novi.

Social opportunities included in membership are a monthly mom's night out and play groups; the last one in late September provided mothers and children a chance to visit the Detroit Zoo as a group.

Difficult choice

For a woman dealing with transitions between paid employment and at-home motherhood, the choices are never easy; problems involving losses of identity and financial autonomy are many.

A September meeting of the FEMALE group covered topics ranging from job-sharing to how long is too long to breast feed. The members took turns telling their stories.

"We support all women whether working or staying at home with their children. Besides the regular meetings, our mom's night out gives table where no food is being thrown and initiate friendships," said coleader Dawn Fraser of Novi.

Fraser, who runs an in-home monogramming business, has four children between the ages of 21 months and 11 years. She began the meeting by informing members she had a broken arm at her house this week. She sees that as one good reason among many to belong to FEMALE.

"You need a buffer board; someone to ask, 'What do you think?' Raising children is a real challenge. You don't know if you're overprotective or underprotective," Fraser said. "When you have very small children, from mid-October to May, you don't see another adult human being during the day. In FEMALE, we trade ideas, take the ideas and try them

She is grateful to GM in Pontiac for allowing her to work flexible hours, so she can be there to provide guidance for her children. She agrees with Fraser about the need for FEMALE.

"It's a support system. It gives you the chance to get out with other women and swap information. It's moral support until the whiny stages end," said Sidock of Water-

Tremendous pressure

Added Fraser who just like Tracy Feliksa of Wixom struggles with tremendous societal pressures on a daily basis, "My daughter came home saying her teacher told her she couldn't be just a stay-at-home mother."

Janet Caldwell of Farmington Hills chooses to stay home with her two daughters, ages six months and 2 1/2 years, instead of returning to her full-time position at a brokerage firm. One of the main reasons she joined the group was for companion-

At the national level, FEMALE, which held its first Midwest conference Oct. 4-5 in Illinois, advocates changes to make business communities, government and society more accountable to families' needs and well-being by conducting letter-writing campaigns and drawing media attention to work/family issues. While some mothers prefer not to work at all, others wish to work part-time or job share as Gale Crowley and Deanna McDermott do as executive secretaries in the legal department at Waste Management in Livonia. Gale had worked fulltime for nine years, Deanne for five before approaching management with the idea that also allows them to share child-caring responsibilities. The company benefits because the two have 14 years combined experience in the position, and management did not have to train a new

OBSERVER SPORTS

Canton, Salem netters tie

Plymouth Canton ruled in singles, but Plymouth Salem was better in doubles.

Canton won three of the four singles flights, while Salem did the same in doubles -- resulting in a 4-4 tie in their tennis match Friday.

Canton winners in singles play were Laura Belisle, 6-0, 6-3 over Amanda Miller at No. 1; Mai Lam, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 over Vicki Anderson at No. 2; and Patty Snook, 6-1, 6-0 over Sonal Shah Salem's Kathy Clawson defeated Jessica Dumas, 5-7, 7-6, 7-5 at No. 3.

In doubles, Salem got victories from Sarah Mateer and Suzanne Theodore, 6-4, 7-5 over Anjali Shah and Jennifer Leonard at No. 2; Janel Davis and Danielle Winkler, 6-4, 6-3 over Melissa Robbins and Natali Gut at No. 3; and Abbey Hermans and Krystin Durrer, 6-4, 7-6 over Carrie Kovachevich and Lizzie Brown at Canton's Shreya Shah and Liz Elsner beat Kelly Kubeck and Yuka Kurisu, 6-2, 6-1 at No. 1.

Chiefs fall to Huron

Wins were hard to come by for Plymouth Canton's swim team Tuesday against visiting Ann Arbor Huron. The River Rats won 11 of 12 events and the dual meet, 129-57.

The loss left the Chiefs with a 2-5 record. Teri Hanson was the only event winner for Canton, taking first in the 200-yard freestyle (2:02.22). The Chiefs did have five second places: Lisa Sabina in diving (187.15 points); Amy Sonnanstine in the 100 free (58.20); Meagan Dowd in the 100 backstroke (1:09.50); Kate Jackson in the 100 breaststroke (1:18.46); and Angie Frost, Sonnanstine, Sue Fanning and Hanson in the 400 free relay (3:54.63).

SC women runners 4th

In a nine-team field that included just two other two-year schools, Schoolcraft College's women's cross country team finished a respectable fourth at the 16th annual Roadrunner Invitational, hosted by Southwestern Michigan College Friday.

SC scored 99 points. Hope College was first (33), followed by Hillsdale (43) and Cornerstone

The Lady Ocelots who scored were Stacy Moore, 13th overall (20:12); Cris Lawrence, 18th (20:25); Kelly Passino, 21st (20:32); Tera Teran, 29th (21:17); and Kelly Prais, 33rd (21:31).

Young Rocks shine

Plymouth Salem's younger cross country runners turned in strong performances at the Westland John Glenn freshmen-sophomore invitational Tuesday.

Northville won the meet, scoring 71 points. Next was Belleville with 86, followed by Livonia Churchill with 92 and Salem with 93.

Leading the Rocks were Rachael Moraitis, who was ninth (21:18); Lisa Jasnowski, 16th (21:53); Shae Potocki, 18th (21:57); Becky Phelan, 24th (22:24); and Miranda White, 26th (22:33). Moraitis, Jasnowski and Potocki all medaled.

Lions win 2nd

The Canton Lions freshmen football club got their second victory of the season, beating the Northville-Novi Colts 6-0 Sunday.

The only score of the game came in the first few minutes, when quarterback David Thomas tossed a 52-yard scoring pass to Tony Barth. Jonathan Wood led the Lions' defenders, forcing two fumbles.

Sharp shooter

Nick Cabauatan, an eighth-grader at West Middle School, placed eighthout of 80 boys competing at the Super Shootout in Fort Wayne, Those participating were seventh, eighth and ninth graders from Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. The top 10 finishers received trophies.

Indoor soccer sign-up

The Canton Soccerdome is accepting registration for the upcoming seasons, offered from Nov. 1 through March 30, 1997.

Team registration fees are $695 for the first nine-game season (Nov. 1-Dec. 22), and $650 for the second (Jan. 3-Feb. 28) and third (March 1-30) seasons, which are eight games each. Age division start at 8-and-under and go through 30-

Call (313) 483-5660, ext. 2 or 3 for more information.

Nothdruft 2nd

Nothdruft Tool, led by four area players, finished second in the Senior Players Association 55-and-over men's softball tournament Sept. 28-

29 in Dayton, Ohio. Team members include pitcher Cliff Mayo (Roseville), first baseman Steve Bienkowski (Center Line), shortstop Sam Lopiccolo (St. Clair Shores), Milo Karhu of Farmington Hills, John Upham of Windsor, Ontario, Chuck Hebestreit of Livonia, Bob Delfgauw (Redford) and Pete Woodard (Plymouth), the latter whom led the team in runs with 10.

Champions!

All-conference: Brian Fox posted the best score among Salem golfers -- a 77, which put him among the WLAA's top five golfers.

Once again, Plymouth Salem was in the thick of things. And once again, the Rocks emerged with a league title.

Here's how two-day golf tour-naments like the Observer & Eccentric's seem to work out:

 The first day is a barometer a trial to see just how well you're playing. Either your in the hunt, hoping to finish in the money, or just playing for the fun of it. If you're more than five strokes out of first after the opening round, you're probably relegated to the last of those

The second day - if you're in the hunt, then comes the challenge. The second day's best scorer is often the winner. Can't play too cautious, can't play

Best of the day: Alan Menzies, of Plymouth, was in contention after Saturday's round. But it was his Sunday score that won it.

Canton rallies to tie up Salem, 2-2

It was, when you come down to it, a hard-fought, emotional, two-hour struggle between two evenlymatched and excessively-talented

And it ended as one might figure: Plymouth Canton started hard but fell behind by two goals before stag-ing another rally (remember the Livonia Churchill game?), scoring twice in the final 13:14 to forge a 2-2 tie Monday. The outcome makes Salem 10-3-2 for the season, Canton is 9-2-4.

The tying goal was scored with just 2:17 left, with Canton's Kevin Gniewek getting a centering pass from Mike Bennett, beating two defenders and drilling a shot off the keeping your composure." post and into the corner of the net.

For Salem, the final result had to be a bitter disappointment. For Canton, it was better than what they were looking at for the first 66 minutes of the match.

"They finally quit talking and started playing," said Canton coach Don Smith of his team's comeback. "We talked for 20 minutes yesterday about keeping your composure,

That was something both teams struggled with at times during the match. And yet, the rally showed something to Smith...

"It showed a lot of heart," he said. "I don't want to rely on it, though. This was almost as ugly as the Churchill game (a 2-1 Canton win, in which the Chiefs scored twice in the last 10 minutes)."

Chiefs put it all together in 2nd half to roll to victory over Rocks

BY C.J. RISAK SPORTS EDITOR

The first half was a struggle. The second half was a struggle too, but more so for Plymouth Salem.

The Rocks had a three-point halftime lead over rival Plymouth Canton, but let the game get away from them in the second half as the Chiefs first took control, then took the game, 44-34 Tuesday at

The win pushed Canton's record to 6-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association, 11-1 overall. Salem is 9-3 overall, 4-2 in the WLAA.

"I thought they did a little bit better job executing (in the second half) than we did," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "It became a game of not making a mistake, and we made more of them than they did." That certainly was accurate. In the first half Canton made 10 turnovers to Salem's seven, one reason the Chiefs trailed 20-17 at the intermission. But in the second, it was reversed. Salem seemed to lose its composure in the third quarter, committing seven turnovers to Canton's one.

The result: a 16-7 spurt for the Chiefs, including a 10-2 run in the last 4:35. That gave them a 33-27 advantage going into the final period, a cushion too big for Salem to overcome.

Indeed, the closest the Rocks could come was four, early in the fourth. Defense was one of the key factors for Canton, of course.

"I think this team is a good defensive team," said Chiefs' coach Bob Blohm. "I've felt that all along. At the beginning of the season I was concerned with our offense, but our offense is getting better."

Defining roles is something Blohm does well, and it's something the current Chiefs are getting accustomed to. Their top offensive threat, without a doubt, is Kristi Fiorenzi -- something she proved against Salem, pouring in a game-high 17 points (including 9-of-10 from the free throw line). She also tied Nkechi Okwumabua for top team honors in rebounding, with five.

But also emerging as a valuable offensive weapon is Kristin Lukasik. The junior guard's three-point shooting -- she nailed 2-of-3 from that range against Salem en route to scoring eight points -allows her teammates to do what they do best: Go to Getting into an offensive flow was something Canton had trouble doing against the bigger Salem defenders in the first half.

"The No. 1 thing offensively, we have to get into a half-court game, make five or six passes and play that way," Blohm explained. "And I think we have to be able to take the ball to the basket." Canton followed that formula in the second half

When we asked Brad Emons what he enjoys most about covering community sports, he told us, "The people we deal with, from the coaches to the student-athletes, they truly appreciate the coverage—we cover a good group of schools from the smallest to the largest."

Brad began reading the major league box scores when he was still in grade school, wrote in high school and earned a degree in journalism from Franklin College in Indiana. He's been writing for your hometown newspapers since he graduated in 1977.

How does our coverage stack up? Brad says that unlike the metropolitan newspapers, "We cover a variety of prep sports and do it in-depth-both boys' and girls'. We're able to hit more than the highlights. We get to know nearly every high school coach and athletic director by their first names."

FLUID SITUATION

One commonly overlooked maintenance procedure involves the brake fluid. The reason that brake fluid is one of the most neglected animproperly serviced components is that many autoservice manuals suggest draining and flushing the brake system only if there is evidence of fluid contamination or observable deterioration.
Contamination and fluid deterioration, however, are inevitable and usually unnoticeable. By the time their effects are noticeable, damage has already occurred. Brake fluid is exceedingly hygroscopic meaning that it absorbs moisture from the atmosphere, likely through microscopic openings in flexible brake hoses or through openings aroun rubber seals. Once the brake fluid is contaminated by moisture, it begins to break down and its abilian point and lubricating properties. This increases the likelihood of dragging brakes and lost braking power.

STUDENT TEACHER NAMED

Kathleen Boyd, a 1996 graduate of the University of Michigan-Dearborn, was named the first recipient of the 1995-95 National Student Teacher of the Year award by the Association of Teacher Educators and Kappa Delta Pi, an international honor society in education.A resident of Wixom who majored in science and minored in mathematics, she was selected for the award from among 100 entries, based on her student teaching at Bentley Elementary School in the Plymouth-Canton School District. Her winning entry was a third-grade science lesson on sound. Criteria for the award included a 30-minute videotaped lesson with an introduction and reflection components. In addition, entrants identified critical issues facing education, created teaching metaphors and submitted information on their professional backgrounds. Teaching is like gardening. Every plant has the ability to bloom, yet not every plant will bloom at the same time," according to Boyd's teaching metaphor. "Each plant will need personal attention and special handling to reach its full potential. And all flowers are not alike; yet, every flower has something to offer the garden." Boyd, who is the mother of four boys, was selected 1995-96 Outstanding Michigan Student Teacher of the Year by the Michigan Association of Teacher Educators before winning the national honor. She teached now at Novi Meadows School in Novi.

MEDICAL BRIEFS

New cancer funding

Legislation passed by the State Senate gives additional funding breast and prostate cancer research through a new check-off box on state income tax returns.

Senate Bills 740, 741 and 1181 establish the check-off box which gives taxpayers the option to donate $2 or more from their tax refund to go towards the Breast Cancer and Prostate Cancer Fund. The new box is expected to raise up to $20 million over the next few years. Funds will be used to develop statewide plans to control these cancers and provide information on cancer screening and early detections through the Michigan Department of Community Health.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. It is estimated that this cancer kills 1,600 women annually in Michigan and that prostate cancer kills approximately 1,500 Michigan men annually.

Solving problems

Parents of children two to 12 years old can learn about discipline, self-esteem, communication and family enrichment as part of the Oakwood "Active Parenting Today" program.

The program includes six two-hour sessions and is designed to help parents develop responsible, cooperative and courageous children. Cost is $35 per couple and registration is required. Call (800) 543-WELL for information.

Free drugs

A 32-page booklet is available to those looking to get drugs free, or at a discounted price.

"Free & Low Cost Prescription Drugs" is published by the Cost Containment Research Institute in Washington D.C. at a cost of $3 for postage/handling. "Many major drug companies provide free or low-cost medication, but rarely, if ever publicize the programs," said Heather Kerrigan, director of the Institute. "We've published an A to Z listing of all the drugs that are available to certain qualified groups for free or at very low cost directly from the manufacturer.'

Consumers can receive a copy by sending $3 to: Free & Low 'Cost Prescription Drugs, Booklet #PD370, 611 Pennsylvania Ave. SE, Suite 1010, Washington, D.C. 20003-4303.

Trainer volunteers

Jeff Kline, a Redford resident and Oakwood employee, recently participated in the Paralympic Games volunteering his medical skills and services at the 1996 Atlanta Paralympic Games in Atlanta over the summer. The games, designed for elite athletes with physical or visual impairments, includes many sports similar to the Olympic Games. The event, held in August, has more than 3,500 athletes from 127 countries.

These athletes were sincere, intense and the desire to compete and win was overwhelming, more so than some of the disabilities," Kline said. His primary assignment was at the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, the site of swimming competition for Olympics and Paralympics. There he spent a week evaluating and treating athletic injuries, aiding in the rehabilitation of injuries, acute trauma, modalities, massaging, assisting in stretching and general medical care for the swimmers.

Kline is a Central Michigan graduate who works at the Oakwood Sports Medicine and Physical Therapy Center in Dearborn and also is an athletic trainer at Divine Child High School.

Hemophelia settlement

"The people are friendly. You don't have to wait in line for the machines like a health club," said Hotz. "We're right in the hospital so if something happens they can deal with it."

Monitoring the patients physical condition is an important aspect of the cardiac rehabilitation program, especially for phase II patients who have recently had a heart attack, angioplasty, by-pass surgery or some other cardiac event, said cardiac rehabilitation nurse Marianne Couchman.

Phase II patients must be referred by a physician to participate in the six week program of exercise, nutrition and educa-

Participants in this program are thoroughly screened to determine current cardiopulmonary status, fitness level and blood cholesterol profile. A graded stress test is required before beginning the program.

The 12-week phase III program is open to people who have completed the phase II program and those who haven't had heart problems.

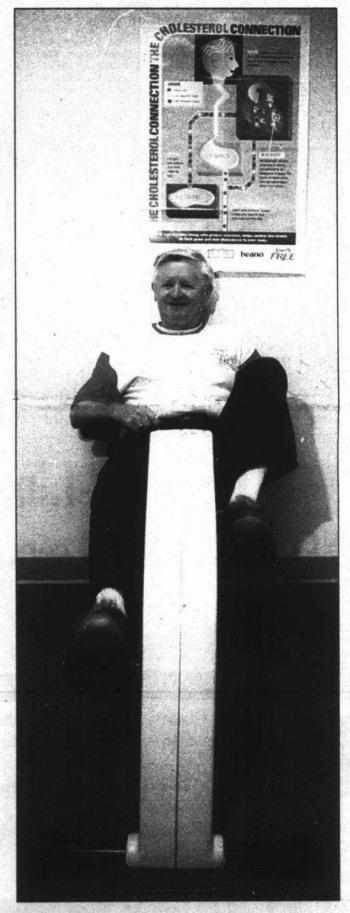

"Anyone can come into phase III, you don't need to be a heart patient," said Couchman. "Some come because they want to keep from having a heart attack. They might be at-risk and want to make some changes.'

Patients participating in the two programs range in age from 29 to the oldest patient at 88

"Phase III patients want to learn what to do to be healthier. They feel safe exercising here. We monitor their blood pressure and pulse," said Couchman. They also get a lot of support. They exercise with the same people all the time. It's kind of like a club."

Between half and one-third of the participants aren't Garden City Hospital patients, she said, having been referred by outside physicians.

The hospital also offers Heartpals, a cardiac support group that meets 7-9 p.m. the first Monday of each month in classroom No. 5 in Harrison School, on Harrison at Maplewood in Garden City. For more information, call 458-3242.

Madonna, St. Mary's the latest to join the Web

he real Madonna now has a site on the World Wide Web. Internet users outside this area probably will continue to arrive at the Material Girl's site when instructed to visit Madonna. But southeast Michigan netters have an alternative destination — the new Web site of Madonna University in Livonia. The address for Madonna University is http://www.munet.edu/. A quick look at the address will tell you that this site was designed by put together by the university staff and students. The hint is that the URL (Universal Resource Locator) has the .edu extension rather than .com. This indicates the Web site is on a server at an educational institution rather than on a commercial server.

From the message below you learn that Madonna is the second-largest Catholic university in Michigan, is the largest Franciscan independent university in the U.S., and has a student/faculty ratio of 18:1.

Surf through the Web site and you will find links to the university's 50th anniversary events - Homecoming Weekend which was Sept. 27-30 and the Madonna University Golden Golf Classic which was Sept. 30 at The Golden Fox in Plymouth.

Other links include "About Madonna University." "Events at Madonna University," "Schools and Colleges, "Admissions," "Student Life," "Faculty, "Library Services." "Academic Computer Services," "Special Programs," and "Alumni Information.

The site also has a link to an Information Center which allows you to fill out a request for information about whatever program you are interested in and a search engine to search the Web site by using keywords or words describing a concept.

Andrea Nodge, community relations director Madonna, helped oversee the Web site which was developed by technology staff and computer students at

St. Mary Hospital

St. Mary Hospital in Livonia also has its on site on the World Wide Web.

Because the hospital doesn't have a pool of computer students to develop a Web site for them, the hospital asked O&E On-line to handle that task for them and Sue Dorris and Greg Day gladly agreed.

Community Health Services is loaded with information on such classes and activities as The Back School, CPR, weight management, CareLink, screenings for cholesterol, depression, or blood pressure andothers.

To visit St. Mary's site point your Web browser to http://www.stmaryhospital.org/. Upon arrival you will find a very colorful home page that includes an aerial view of the hospital at Five Mile and Levan. Visitors reading the text on the home page learn St. Mary is a 304-bed acute care community hospital sponsored by the Felician Sisters and affiliated with Beaumont Hospital. Links on the home page include "Our Mission," "Medical Services," "For a Physician Referral," "Community Health Services," "Location and parking guide," "Frequently Called telephone numbers," "Building the Future," and "News and Information."

"Community Health Services" is loaded with information on such classes and activities as The Back School, CPR, weight management, CareLink, screenings for cholesterol, depression, or blood pressure, Eating Disorders Clinic, Home

Health Care, Medicare assistance, Health-O-Rama, speakers bureau, volunteers, the Wonder Walkers Club, women's and family health programs, support groups, and much more.

The "news and information" page contains announcements such as the "Hollywood Nights IV" fund raiser set for Oct. 17 featuring The Diamonds and Johnny Trudell. Trivia experts will know that The Diamonds had such hit tunes as "Silhouettes" and "Little Darlin'." The site also has a listing of fall activities at the hospital.

Speaking of hospitals, the Internet now has its own Hospital Locator which can be accessed at http://www.medaccess.com/hospitals/s-hospt.htm.Stop by and search for U.S hospitals by type, city, state or by zip code.

Canton Township

Canton Township has a local government page on the Web on a trial basis. The test program consists of non-interactive web pages with detailed information about the Canton communiy and the Canton Police Department. The page can be accessed at http://www.cantontwp.org. The site has links to "Fire Station Report," "Officer Profile," "Community Policing," and "Our Mission." The page was created and designed by Ken Voyles, a former journalist now working as communications coordinator for health care agencies.

Canton Township

The main focus of the township government pilot program is to find out how many people visit the site and whether there is interest by the general population. If the trial is successful, a permanent municipal-wide home page will be developed.

"Unlike most communities I have checked on," says Voyles, "we did it all in-house. I learned the software, our computer guys took care of the technical questions and we worked closely with the Canton Library and folks at Metronet" (the net consortium of libraries in Michigan). Voyles learned how to build a Web site in about nine" weeks. Take a look at http://www.cantontwp.org and see for yourself how well

The Canton Public Library uses the MetroNet service to provide a link to the Web. The library Web site has established a center with general infor mation on Canton Township. Point to http://www.metronet.lib.mi.us/CANT/T WP/home.html and you will find links to public safety, municipal government and community information, a community calendar and to the Canton Public aking music magical is the secret to their success, and Livonia and Plymouth Symphony Orchestras have a few tricks up their sleeve this season, which begins Oct. 19.

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

Livonia Symphony Orchestra is presenting a "Magical Musical Christmas" program Dec. 14 featur-ing Magician Al the Only and Young Artist competition winner, vocalist Kimberly Haynes.

Follow the sorcerer on a magical musical adventure Feb. 16 when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presents "Family Fantasia," featuring the winner of the Youth Artist Competition. On the program is "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," by Dukas and Williams' "Star Wars."

"I am excited about helping the Plymouth Symphony take on new challenges and grow as it begins its 51st year as a community orchestra," said Bonnie Holyoak of Canton, symphony executive director. "I want our symphony to continue as a well-loved community resource that will serve to ignite desire in people of all ages to love music, encourage musicians, and push for music and cultural programs in the schools and the com-· PSO, under the direction of Russell Reed, begins its season 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, in the auditorium at Plymouth-Salem High School with a "Grand Opening" concert featuring cellist Robert Reed performing Haydn's "Concerto in C." Also on the program are Wagner's challenging "Flying Dutchman," and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5.

A Gala Afterglow will be held after the concert at Damon's - The Place for Ribs, 43750 Ford-Road in Canton. Afterglow admission is $5, call (313) 451-2112 for information.

In addition to the "Family Fantasia" concert in February, season highlights are "The Nutcracker" Ballet presented Dec. 13-15 by the orchestra and Plymouth-Canton Ballet Company, and the Caribbean Cruise Pops concert with the PSO and Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band at Fox Hills Country Club in Plymouth.

Get your Nutcracker tickets early," suggested administrative assistant Pat Derderian, "we always sell out."

"A Spanish Connection," on Nov. 16 showcases popular Spanish classical music, including Bizet's Carmen Suite No. 1, and renowned guitarist Philip Candelaria.

 The Livonia Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Volodymyr Schesiuk, former resident conductor of the Bolshoi Theatre in Moscow, will present an "Evening Fantasy," the first concert of their 24th season, 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 19, in the J.P. Carli Auditorium, Churchill High School, Livonia. Schesiuk, and guest soloist Yuri Mazurkevich, are childhood friends. "He's a beautiful violinist, and professor of violin at Boston University," said Schesiuk. The program includes music of Paine, Tchaikovsky, Bilik's "American Civil War Fantasy," Chabrier's "Espana Rhapsody," and "Scottish Fantasy," by Bruch.

"Behind the notes must be life," said Schesiuk. "Like a picture, music can help you imagine the scene. Espana Rhapsody has a Spanish theme."

Because of popular demand, the LSO is bringing back its Chamber Music Series at the Civic Center Library with concerts on Nov. 15 and Jan. 24. "An Evening of Classical Guitar," on Nov. 15 will feature guest artist Victor Sakalauskas performing Vivaldi's Guitar Concerto. Audiences will be treated to performances by Schesniuk on violin, his wife, Luba, an accomplished pianist, and James Poe, bassoon, on Jan. 24.

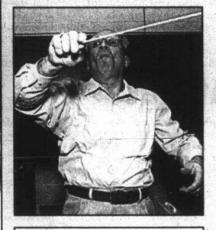

"James Poe has been in the orchestra for a number of years," said Schesniuk. "He's an executive at Ford Motor Company, and plays to relieve stress. He donates his time to the orchestra, and is a very good musician."

Bringing together some of the finest musicians in metro Detroit, the Livonia Symphony Orchestra presents programs that appeal to a variety of musical tastes, and encourages young musicians through its Young Artist Competition. Last year's winners — Kimberly Haynes, vocalist, Benjamin Robison, violin; and Karl Shymanovitz, piano will be featured at concerts on Dec. 14, Feb. 8, and

March 15. "Dance Internationale," Feb. 8 features a variety of spirited and entertaining international dance selections including Chopin's Polonaise, and "Symphonic Dances from West Side Story" by Bernstein.

Join the symphony after the March 15 Spring Concert celebrating the music of Wagner, Khatchaturian, Von Suppe and Dvoorak at an afterglow at DePalma's, Ristorante in Livonia. The afterglow cost is $10 per person, call (313) 421-1111 for details.

LSO "Season Finale" on May 2 features works by Bach/Stokowski, Beethoven, Bizet and Brahms. Featured soloist is Ukrainian pianist Anna Sorohtej. An afterglow follows at Water Club Grille in Plymouth. The cost is $10 per person. Call the symphony for details.

Dynamic Portralts: At the Wayne County Jail in downtown Detroit, Clay Monte is known as the artist-inresidence.

Police officer captures athletes in action

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Although Clay Monte enjoys creating action-packed portraits of professional sports figures in colored pencil, the real challenge begins afterward when he sends or takes the artwork to the athlete, stadium or team and asks them to autograph it for him. Barry Sanders, Steve Yzerman, Chris Spielman and Michael Jordan are part of a 15-piece exhibit of portraits by Monte in the Livonia Arts Commission's showcases at the Livonia Civic Center Library.

"The fun part is getting it autographed. I tell the athlete that the autographed picture will remain in my possession and will not be sold," said Monte, a 25-year-old Livonia resident whose first love is working for the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

Monte admits to being a sports junkie. He frequently attends hockey, Detroit Lions and University of Michigan games. Mornings seem incomplete until he reads the sports page, but he is no couch potato. He runs two miles a day, works out several times a week at the Powerhouse Gym in Livonia and plays on the sheriff department's softball

All of the artists owe a heartfelt thank you to the more than 100 volunteers at the church who made the show possible. Venues for local artists showing work are few and far between The church's Visual Arts Committee should be applauded.

Sharing fine art is nothing new for the church. In fact, "Sharing the Gift" is but one of many programs being presented during its sixth annual Fine Arts Series which includes concerts featuring piano, organ and brass. The church initiated the series in 1991 after installing a new Casavant Organ in the renovated sanctuary. It was a time of celebration and sharing.

The art show originated after an idea from former church member Judith Sechler who had heard of the "Celebrate Life" show in Birmingham. The name and concept for the Northville church's exhibit "Sharing the Gift Within You" comes from the

"We saw Sharing the Gift as an outreach to the community and the artists" creativity as a gift from God," said promotion person Norma Peltz. Hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and until 8 p.m. Friday.

Corsi's serves homemade dishes with pride

There's a lot of pride and hard work behind the Corsi name, and after 30 years in business, they're still trying to do things better.

Since opening Corsi's Italian Restaurant in 1966 they've expanded three times, and recently remodeled their banquet center, which also provides overflow seating for the restaurant, which seats 75-80 people. Because customers requested booths, they got rid of the tables, and put in more booths.

Corsi's caters parties large and small, ranging from 50 to 400 people - weddings, reunions, funeral lunches, business meetings, retirement and holiday par-

If everyone's coming to your house for dinner, but you don't have time to cook, Corsi's can help. Homemade pasta dishes, including lasagna (serves 10-12), salads, meatballs, chicken, and other items can be ordered for pick-up. They'll also help you put together a buffet menu with choice of meats, pasta, salad, and bread. The delivery fee is $25 for

Married in 1954, Adelia and her husband Rocco immigrated to the U.S. from Italy with nothing but dreams. Rocco worked at the Ford Rouge Plant in Dearborn, and when he got laid off, Adelia worked nights parttime in a pizzeria.

They talked about owning their own restaurant some day, and opened a pizzeria on the corner of Eight Mile Road and Grand River in 1959. In 1966 the couple moved their business to its present location on Seven Mile Road (between Inkster and Middlebelt) in Livonia.

Rocco is retired, but still makes the spaghetti sauce. "I learned from my mother in the old country," he said. "I still use my mother's recipe, and go by texture, and taste.

"We were brought up here," said Louie. After school the brothers would go to the restaurant, eat dinner, do their homework, watch TV, and when they got older, help out before going

Dean is still single, but Louie is taken. "She came in for a job," said Louie explaining how he met his wife Penny who grew up in Redford. "We were eating lunch. My mother said 'there's a nice looking chicken, give her a job.' We called her a week later, and hired her."

Penny worked at the restaurant as a waitress while attend-Michigan Eastern University. She and Louie have been married 17 years, and have two daughters ages 14 and 11. Penny supervises waitresses, is banquet manager, and special events coordinator.

"We're all here, we don't count the hours. We work hard," said

"A lot of people have managers who run their restaurants, we're here all the time. This is a hands-on family operation. There's a lot of pride, this is home," adds Louie.

Corsi's is well-known for their delicious pizza, pasta dishes especially gnocchi and lasagna. For those who can't make up their minds there's a combo plate — lasagna, gnocchi, spaghetti and ravioli. Pasta is also available in half orders with meat or tomato sauce.

Specialty entrees include tripe, Veal Parmesan, Veal Scaloppini, and Chicken Cacciatore. The Greek salad is an often-requested item. Corsi's also offers an 8 ounce New York Strip Steak, chicken dinner, roast beef dinner, pork chops, and barbecue ribs. Be sure to ask about daily spe-

The recipes are winners, and most haven't changed in 30 years. "We put a marinara sauce on the menu for people who don't want meat," said Dean.

"We know our customers, and they know us," said Louie. "We have people who have been coming here 30 years." Many have moved to South Lyon, Brighton, and Howell, but they come back for the pizza and pasta.

'We use stick pepperoni and fresh ingredients," said Louie, the sauce is not out of a can, everything is homemade."

Adelia enjoys gardening in her spare time. Her family says she can grown anything, and that's how she relaxes. She tends a garden at home, and in addition to vegetables, grows basil, parsley, sage and chives.

Adelia loves flowers, especially colorful unusual ones like the purple rooster crown. When she's not in the kitchen, you might find her outside taking care of her flowers - mums, roses, moonlight, and dahlias, which decorate the front and side of the restaurant.

NEW HOMES

West Bay offers luxury on lake setting

Luxury appointments in spacious units with spectacular views

All of that - and more describes West Bay on Pine Lake, 10 attached condominiums in three buildings on Orchard Lake Road just north of Eong Lake Road in West Bloomfield.

John Richards Homes, a Birmingham company whose custom-built offerings can be found throughout the northern and western suburbs, has nurtured West Bay on Pine Lake.

"We're on one of the most premier, all-sports lakes in the area at a price under $600,000," said John Shekerjian, president and CEO for John Richards. "It can't be duplicated.

"I like to do things first class," he added. "I think what distinguishes us is attention to detail."

Prices go from $526,000 to $566,000 depending on square footage, location of the unit and view. Available space including the main living area, second-floor bedrooms and lower walk-out ranges from 3,796 to 4,166 square feet.

All units will include as standard features fireplace, air conditioning, whirlpool tub in the master suite and double oven, cooktop, dishwasher and microwave in the kitchen.

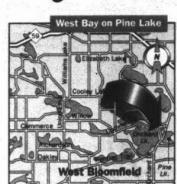

Also included at base price are a two-car garage (three-car garage in Unit 3), first-floor laundry, walkout with roughedin plumbing and drywall, deck off the family room and a boat slip.

slip.
"Empty nesters who like to be by water and want to downsize will be looking in here ... plus young professionals who like to have everything taken care of and be by water," said M. Louis Sabatini, vice president of sales and operations for John Richards.

Lisa Seal, a sales representative, has taken several people through the units now under construction.

"The view is probably most impressive," she said. "Also, ceiling height gives a feeling of volume and spaciousness inside. The elevator (option) has been a real plus. And, of course, the pond and gazebo area."

"Imagine waking up every morning and looking at the lake," Sabatini said from a master suite.

"And the sounds of a waterfall and fountain," Seal added.

"It's a beautiful view summer and winter," Shekerjian said. "The lake changes daily."

Different units provide different floor plans. However, a view of the water is available from the foyer of every one.

Unit 1 under construction features a library with a 10-foot ceiling and great room with two-story ceiling.

The master with cathedral ceiling and balcony has two walk-in closets and separate his and her bath areas with vanity, toilet and entrances to the shower. Two secondary upstairs bedrooms share a jack-and-jill bath.

"When the leaves drop in winter, from this (back) bedroom, you have a full view of Orchard Lake." Seal said.

Unit 3 under construction features a walk-up master with pan ceiling, a dressing/make-up area and two walk-in closets.

A room next to the master can be used as an additional bedroom – two others are upstairs along with a full bath – or it can be opened to the master and used as an exercise room, media room, craft room or office.

"Even in this back bedroom, look at the view of the lake," Sabatini said. "It's unbeliev-

... this new kitchen ... this new bathroom ... THE HEIGHT OF GOOD REASON

The height of a countertop should be determined by the tasks performed on the surface and the comfort of the user. Standard kitchen countertop height is 36" above the floor. This dimension accommodates appliances such as dishwashers and ranges, and is a comfortable standing height for most people. Table, desk, and special activity counters (pastry -making) are usually 30" above the floor.

Higher and lower heights are appropriate in some instances by Jeff Beuckelaer ning to look like Ruffles. You think you may have heard that terrible "drip, drip, drip" sound last night and you've decided it's time to have that new roof installed. The questions are many. How much? Whom do I trust? How do I know I'm getting a good job?

The questions are important. Many of the homes we inspect have new roofs and many have defective workmanship. One brand-new roof we reviewed was missing some roof flashings, had the wrong type of flashings in areas and had improperly installed valleys, and the shingles didn't even come to the a lien being placed on the home. edge of the roof!

then insist the roof needs immediate replacement. Never ever have a roof reshingled under these conditions.

The following checklist should help you along the path of hiring the right contractors.

Guide

1. Use only licensed contractors. The salesperson should have a copy of state licensure with them.

2. Ask who will be doing the work an employee or a part-time subcontrac-

3. Find out how long the company has been in the roofing business and ask for references from two or three years ago. Check them out.

4. Ask for the company's insurance company to send you current proof of insurance. You want to see both liability and workers compensation insurance. Without it, if a worker falls off the roof, you become liable. It is important that the insurance company send the document directly (don't worry, they do this all the time); otherwise the insurance may have expired for non-

5. Obtain a copy of the roofer's warranty. Make sure it is specific. Insist that the contractor be responsible for workmanship problems should the shingle manufacturer state the job wasn't installed according to its specifications. 6. Ask the company to agree, in writing, to meet National Roofing Contractors Association and the shingle manufacturer's standards of practice. This is it establishes a written standard of ingham 48009.

The roof is 20 years old and begin- practice by which the job can be judged. It eliminates subjective notions that you or the contractor may have.

7. Insist that the contractor pull a city permit. A contractor who doesn't pull a permit, or worse, asks for the homeowner to pull a permit is likely not reputable and increases the likelihood that you will be unhappy.

8. Don't pay more than 25 percent down on the job. A roofer who asks for more may not be financially sound and may walk away before a satisfactory job is completed. Obtain a Full Waiver of Lien, once the job is paid for, to avoid

9. Don't worry about claims about In some cases, fly-by-night companies asphalt vs. fiberglass shingles. > 10. Ask that the roofer install ice and weather shield at the roof edges, around through roof projections such as chimneys, and in any valleys or difficult-to-seal areas on the roof. This remarkable product has prevented more roof leaks than any other roofing innovation in decades.

11. Have the roofer calculate the need for new vents. The majority of roofs we inspect are underventilated. Adequate ventilation can help to protect the roof from decay and extend the life of shingles. In Michigan's hot, humid climate, proper ventilation is a

12. Develop a checklist like this and present it to the roofer. Tell the roofers that their quote will be compared against others on the same basis.

By following a few rules of practice, you can lessen the likelihood of getting an unsatisfactory roofing job. By using a checklist to compare all companies who bid, you will quickly eliminate some of the fly-by-night companies and provide an advantage to the reputable companies from whom you really want

Granite makes an excellent countertop

Q: I am having a new home built and cannot decide on which type of countertops to put in my kitchen. We are looking at solid surface materials such as granite. Any suggestions?

A: There are two types of solid surface materials. Man-made and natural. Although both types of materials are good, you need to be sure of the advantages and disadvantages of each mate-

Solid-surfacing synthetic materials are all similar in their characteristics. The man-made materials are softer and therefore scratch easily. Hot pans cannot be set on the surface and household appliances such as a coffee-maker can burn and discolor the counters. Staining is also highly probable. Many homeowners do not like the look of a matte finish. Homeowners do like the fact that many sheets can be molded together and create a countertop without seams.

Staining on most granites is almost impossible with an absorption rate as low as .01 per-

Unaffected by acids or caustic agents and the ability to set hot items directly on the surface are some great reasons to consider granite. Cleaning granite is made easy because of the bright polished surface.

Both granite and solid surface materials come in a range of colors, although their looks are very different. The cost of granite is always a factor, but because of new mining methods and handling procedures, as well as the increase in volume buying, granite has become much more economical. Certain color varieties of granite are more available and may be less expensive than the norm.

ennifer Freece, a fourth year student at the University of Michigan, has had compatible roommates and incompatible roommates. But this year she's going it

The Canton resident, who graduated from Ann Arbor Green Hills, has created her own special place at the University's Bursley Hall that expresses her interests and creativi-

"I have a huge construction paper tree outside the door. I'm involved with a lot of Christian groups on campus and the tree has leaves with different parts of scripture on it," she said.

"When you step inside I have warm rose-colored carpeting. I like to have people in to talk, so I have two bean bags, pillows, TV, VCR, stereo. The major colors are rose and forest green."

Her wall posters, a constant with all college students, show her dual concerns. They are either about her Christian faith or her devotion to music. Freece is a music major. One poster shows an old man playing piano and speaks about the spirit.

"My desk is special," Freece said. "We went to property disposal and bought the desk. My father, who's a mechanical engineer, cut a hole in the desk and put my computer in it so the monitor sticks through and there's a CD and tape deck. It's prettv high tech

Freece said she had a roommate her freshman year who came from a different background and had different interests. It didn't work out. The next two years she had a roommate that she really got along with. This year her parents suggested that a single would be best for concentrating on her studies.

Every year thousands of college students are faced with the problem of making a comfortable home away from home. They often have limited budgets, limited space in dorm rooms or shared houses and limited privacy. Most also have to learn the fine art of compromise in dealing with roommates and house rules.

Kmart Corp., recognizing the budget problems faced by students, hired a design consultant to decorate a dorm room at Eastern Michigan University.

"When we were interested in working on a dorm room proiect, we went to Eastern because we already had a relationship with the university through NICE (National Institute for Consumer Education) at Eastern," said

Kmart spokeswoman Laura Mahle. "I called the director of housing and since they already have showcase rooms, they thought it would be nice to have a room designed by Kmart."

Kmart hired Jodi Anger, a 24-yearold Eastern graduate, to do the decorating in a standard 12-by-18-foot two-person dorm room.

Anger said the biggest problems were the tight space and the strict dorm codes. She said the codes prohibit removing window treatments and painting the walls. She said that using prints and coverups solve the code problem and creative storage makes better use of space.

Storage is a major problem for students who bring their clothes, books

Here are some tips from Kmart design consultant Jodie Anger on how to decorate a college dorm room economically:

- Purchase space-saving containers to conveniently store your most prized possessions. ■ Invest in a Multi-Use Cart with storage bins. Anger selected one equipped with wheels so that it could easily be moved around the room. She placed a microwave on top of the cart and stored food and supplies in the bins.
- Coordinate a student's work area with a desk organizer lamp that has compartments to hold desk supplies like pencils, pens and post-it notes.
- Consider a futon which serves as a couch by day and bed by night.
- Use the colors in your comforter as a starting point to color coordinate your room.
- A dome-touch lamp with a three-way lighting feature sheds just the right amount of light especially when one student burns the midnight oil while roomies sleep.
- Transition a dorm room decoratively with area rugs.
- Change the curtains supplied by the housing office, but be careful not to break hous-
- When it comes to appliances, pool your resources. If you don't continue to live with your roommate(s), buy the other partner(s) possession at the end of the year.

GARDEN SPOT

Winter nurturing saves plants

ums been outstanding this year? We enjoy the bright as well as the pastel colors of the olooms, but they haven't always been the main attraction.

As early as the 1800s geraniums were used as "carpet bed" plants and were prevented from flowering because the foliage was the most important component in these gardens. The fancy leaves had bands of colors in gold, cream, green and red that provided wonderful contrast to other foliage in the design. One of these old plants still survives, a hybrid, "Madame Salleroi," which never has bloomed!

These geraniums belong to the genus Pelargonium and, although they are still called geraniums today, should be called by their botanical name. When the plants were taken from South Africa to Britain, they were called geraniums because they resembled the hardy, herbaceous species of the genus Geranium, used extensively in Europe

The pretty ivy-leafed one, P. peltatum, reached England in 1701, while P. zonal (the plants with horseshoe markings on the leaves) arrived in 1710. It is the principal parent of the bedding geraniums - oops! pelargoniums.

It's about time to bring our pelargoniums indoors and I am excited about the successful way Ivan Zador of West Bloomfield has overwintered his plants for four years.

Ivan and his wife, Veronica, grow many beautiful, healthy pelargoniums with different bloom colors on and around their sunny raised deck during the summer. They are all grown in pots or window boxes attached to the deck railing and began their life in four-inch pots. Sometimes Ivan rescues "orphaned" plants and brings them back to luxuriant growth.

Ivan is in no hurry at this time to take the plants indoors. He traditionally waits until after Halloween, unless the temperature drops to 20 degrees, then it's "emergency time." Veronica, their children and friends help carry the pots into the basement and/or to his

Other than that time, Ivan said, "It's a slow process." Before the move, he cuts back the dead branches and fading blooms but leaves the buds. The pelargoniums growing in the window boxes are transferred to others already in place in the basement. The basement is unfinished, with a cement floor and no additional heating, but it does have a large doorwall that lets in a lot of light, as do the windows in the basement and in Ivan's office where the overflow is stashed. No artificial lighting is used. The pots are turned regularly so that the growth is changes as he cares for the flowers throughout the year. The first Sunday of each month the plants are fertilized with Miracle-Gro, mixed according to the package directions, and watered when needed. The plants, he said, "absolutely don't know what they're getting," and apparently aren't aware of the changing seasons.

The Zadors caution readers that the plants do go into a temporary decline and he believes it is caused by the photosynthetic change of less light; they look their worst about Christmas time.

don't worry, January/February they say 'Hey, spring Ivan keeps a strict routine that never is coming' and they start blooming.

The photographs I saw were amazing; a riot of colorful blooms filled the They have also noticed the bloom colors are deeper with a different color cast and even the foliage is darker, with no zonal markings when they are growing indoors. When the plants are returned outside around May 15 - "not before" - the colors are more natural and the zonal markings are again evi-

Ivan uses potting soil from Kmart and has found it quite sufficient. All of the containers have drainage holes, which is very important.

"I do this by intuition. I am from Czechoslovakia and everybody does it there. I remember everybody brings their plants in. I'm choosing to keep and nurture rather than destroy or replace continually.

"The idea is, with just a little involvement and concern things can stay beautiful and alive," Veronica said. "It's pleasant for the children to see their father have a deep respect for these beautiful flowers."

Marty Figley is an advanced master gardener based in Birmingham. You can leave her a message by dialing (313) 953-2047 on a touch-tone phone, then her mailbox number, 1859. Her fax number is (810) 644-1314.

"You have a lot of great storage units available," Anger said. "We put them under the bed and around the room. We had a futon with a big drawer under it and used space saver units in the closet, under the bed and under the microwave.

Mahle said Rubbermaid's Keeper boxes are great stackable storage units. Mahle said lighting was used to create private sectors. Three-way lights can be dimmed for use by late night scholars while letting tired roommates

Anger said the most important thing about living with a roommate is communication.

"Some have hand-me-downs, objects that have been passed down from someone else. It's important to call before you move in, maybe going shopping together or waiting until you move in, Anger said

She emphasized that this is especially important with electronic equipment to avoid expense and duplication.

Mahle said the project was to show a typical room with suggestions for things a student would need to live and study comfortably. She said they tried to keep items at a reasonable price and were aware that in a real life situation students would be bringing many used items from home.

"We assume that people will bring their own things from home," she said.

'The first day that you move in, get to know people. Make the room the way you want to make it. I'm creative, I like a lot of posters, a big fish tank. I'm a colorful person. Some people think it looks gaudy, but I like color. It has to look like life, like it's lived in. But the best part of college is to take part in campus activities'

> Lynette Buffa Oakland University

"Only a few things are what students roommate is into exotic animals. I have will need but we wanted to show the a poster of a frog. We have tigers and whole picture. Mixing and mingling what you have from home."

Comforters and rugs were used to bring the room together in a bright but coordinated color scheme. Anger chose a strong berber rug to add warmth to the linoleum covered floors. (See a list of other ideas on this page.)

Not all Eastern students are in tiny two-person rooms; Catherine Ghrist, a junior from Westland and graduate of John Glenn High School, shares a suite with two bedrooms and a living room with three other coeds at Goddard Hall.

"The room is very big. We have a huge living room, two bedrooms,"

She said she and her roommate have had no problems agreeing on decora-

Ghrist said storage is a problem, but a big bookshelf helps. The roommates have the requisite electronics microwave, "big TV," VCR, Sega-Saturn, stereo-radio, three refrigerators and numerous alarm clocks.

This is Ghrist's first year at Eastern and she said the biggest adjustment has been personal

"I didn't go here last year and it was hard to get to know people," she said. "My first week I kind of hated it, I'm much more comfortable now."

At Oakland University, roommates Lynette Buffa of Canton and Emily Maderal of Bloomfield have found that getting to know each other is a good start in compatible room sharing.

"We met last year and became good

"We don't have a great deal of space, but we don't feel crammed," Buffa said.

"I have a bulletin board. We will be putting up posters. We have some surrealist posters up and a movie poster, but we'll be adding more after we put our couch in '

The couch is a loveseat from Buffa's proved unsturdy.

Buffa said she loves college life and the secret to making a dorm room "homey" is to fill it with people and ✓ Don't leave lights on when you're away on a trip—burglar will watch for homes that have lights burning at odd hours or on successive nights, clues that you are trying to outfox him.

✓ A nosy neighbor is a good neighbor, so let them know whether you're expecting anyone while you're out.

✓ If you go out for a short period of time, leave a radio on. Tune it to a talk show or all-news station if there is one in your area. The burglar will have a hard time deciding if the voices are coming from the radio.

✓ Never hide a key under the doormat, above the door, in the flower pots or window boxes, or in low shrubbery around the front door or porch.

Cut breaks in your shrubbery. Prune the shrubbery well so a burglar will find it difficult to hind behind it.

Gorget acted as battle protection

BY NANCY AND FRANK BOOS

Dear Nancy and Frank:

I bought this at an antique show. It is about five inches high, three inches wide and 1/8-inch thick. Please tell me something about it. Daniel.

Birmingham

Dear Daniel:

What you have there is probably an American Indian gorget (pronounced

A gorget is a piece of armor or some other protective device or crescentshaped ornament worn around the throat. It originated with medieval armor and at that time consisted of a neck defense made in two halves that wrapped around the entire neck just under the helmet and just above the torso armor. Often the two halves were again made of several parts to allow flexibility and movement of the neck. The halves were fastened with pins or studs to hold them in place.

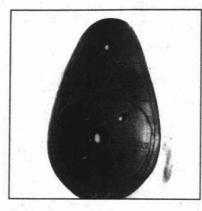

Obviously, the purpose of the gorget was to protect one of man's most likely areas to receive a death blow in battle, his throat. As a point of interest, these suits of armor were heaviest in the parts covering the most vulnerable areas and would weigh between 25 and 100 pounds, requiring the knight to have a valet's help to put it on and take

The American Indian also had some protective battle devices, such as shields, helmets of wood (painted with designs meant to frighten the enemy), bows and arrows, knives, clubs and the well-known tomahawk. Around the 1880s, they began to acquire rifles. Some tribes also had wooden slats tied together and wrapped around their bodies and held up with shoulder straps. Some used carved wooden collars (gorgets) that they wound around

As the Europeans began trading with the American Indians in the 17th century, they began influencing the Indians in their dress styles. By the 19th century, many Indian garments were copied directly from European dress.

However, there was one major exception, that being that the Indian refused to copy Western European style men's trousers. Leggings were de rigeur leg wear for the American Indian male, which makes sense. It would be difficult to wear form-fitting trousers to ride bareback, sit cross-legged on tepee floors, run in the woods, fish in the streams, etc.

We believe the gorgets worn by American Indians at this time were mostly of silver, mostly decorative and received in trade with the Germans. Your piece, however, could be a pre-European gorget, probably of slate. It is possibly pre-Columbian (before the time of Columbus) or prehistoric (for our purposes meaning before the time of written history in the United States). It has absolutely no European influence that we can see.

You'll notice the use of words like 'could be," "probably," "possibly." This is because this is all conjecture, as there is no written or visual record of this time in our history. In talking with Joe Rivera, director of the highly respected and renowned American Indian gallery, Morningstar Gallery in Santa Fe, N.M. he absolutely agreed that conjecture was the best we could do.

It is also conjecture as to the purpose of this gorget. It seems to us that when suspended from the neck, it would be too small to provide much protection in battle. We therefore believe that it was ornamental and strictly a personal enhancement. We think it's possible that the engraving represents someone's status or a historical happening in the wearer's life, but the engraving looks somewhat contemporary compared to the piece and may have been a ater addition.

We know one thing: You don't see gorgets of this type every day. If it's real and in good condition, we think a good auction value would be around $300 to $400 and possibly somewhere double that at retail.

Nancy and Frank Boos are with the Frank H. Boos Gallery, an appraisal firm and auction house at 420 Enterprise Court in Bloomfield Hills that has been in the auction business for more than 30 years. Making friends: Realtor Sheila Clark often brings treats for clients' pets so they can get used to her and her scent.

Pets don't belong at showings

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

A dog may be man's best friend, but the family pet can become a complicating factor when it's time to sell.

"I've, worked with buyers who wouldn't go into houses when they heard a dog barking," said Tom Tedesco, a Realtor with RE/MAX Executive in Troy.

Jane Solomon, a Realtor with Chamberlain in Birmingham, was once bitten by a dog while doing an inspection. "I was told the dog was friendly," she said. "When I went to take him, he lunged and bit me. I was furious.

I'm more wary now. Then there are experiences with more exotic pets.

Sherry Hetkowski, an associate broker with Remerica Country Place Realtors in Canton, found the perfect house for a client except for two things - a family of boa constrictors and a tarantula in separate aquariums on the premises. "It was unbelievable," Hetkowski

"I had a house once where a bird said, 'Bird shit," said Sheila Clark, a Realtor with Century 21 Today in Livonia. "I guess the bird picked it up from the owners. The prospects laughed. They weren't that offended.

Problems are with animals that are

Most folks are comfortable with their own pets and their pets with them. Owners are used to the smells, noises and the wear-and-tear generated by their animals.

The same isn't true for prospective buyers, strangers who show up with their own expectations and sensory awareness.

"Pets tend to have odors," Solomon said. "We tend to live with them and not notice."

"Cat odor is a big turn-off," Tedesco said. "A lot of people have allergies. I recommend they (sellers) call a professional company to try and eradicate that odor, if possible, and put potpourri through the house." 'I had a condo listing that had a good-size dog," said Carol Copping, a Realtor with Real Estate One in Northville. "The sellers replaced carpeting that had smells and dog hairs and, during the time it was on the market, took the dog to a brother's house in the country. That was just great."

But Copping and her colleagues acknowledge that not everyone is willing or able to do that.

"Dogs to most people are like children," Solomon said. "It's hard to talk with people about pets."

Containment is the key

"People need to make arrangements for a showing," Hetkowski said. "Either they put the dog in a cage in a utility room or get a neighbor to come to take the animal to their house. And out of sight isn't always out of

"I had a client once who had a dog in a cage, but it wouldn't stop barking," Copping said. "I suggested they take the dog for a walk when I have a showing.

"Then some people will take the dog for a ride - which is a nice thing to do but leave a huge food bowl halffilled in an obvious place," she added.

Scratch marks around doors and windows also are telltale signs of pet on premises, Copping said.

Clark, who owns a Dalmatian, parsalt-water fish that sellers with pets hire a Realtor who either lives or has an office near-

"I have shoveled and cleaned dog poop before showings," Clark said. "I keep an air freshener in the trunk of my car. If I took a listing in Canton, Redford and Plymouth and all had dogs, I'd be in trouble."

Birds can present special problems. "Most larger birds are likely to bite a stranger," Clark said. "You have to put a note on the cage, 'Please don't put fingers near the bird.' You shouldn't spray an aerosol around a bird. It could kill it."

Clark has techniques she uses to make friends with dogs.

"One thing I do is give people (sellers) a T-shirt or sock I've worn," she said. "I also rub a rawhide bone on my sock to get a scent on the bone.

"I always keep bones in my car that have my scent. When an animal sees me, it always seems to know me."

It also pays to be on friendly terms with neighbors and their pets.

"If neighbors have a yapping dog, hopefully you can get their cooperation and have the dog inside during a showing," Copping said.

"Give the neighbor's dog a bone so it knows you," Clark said. "If you give him a chewy, the dog will hide, go eat and won't bother you."

There are services that will up after pets in yards which may come in handy for a listing, a neighbor or both. Sometimes, it's worthwhile to spend the money. "I've even had to take a dog to a groomer myself because it was so dirty," Clark said. Empathy is the watchword.

"Think about it in the eyes of the buyer," Solomon advised. "You want them to be as comfortable as in their own home. Do you want someone coming in and playing with the dog or looking at the house?

Condo owners pay more than their fair share

Q. Our city is proposing a tax increase to fix the roads. We live in a condominium and maintain our own streets. I do not think it is fair to be taxed by the city and not benefit as do all the other taxpayers.

In fact, do you agree or disagree that many condominium owners pay more taxes proportionately than individual homeowners on city services received?

A. This is one of the major disparities among condominium owners that needs reevaluation by the municipalities. Unfortunately, the municipalities may not readily accept a determination of this disparity in treatment and, ultimately, only litigation may remedy this inherent

I have been approached on occasion by several associations desiring to commence legal proceedings to seek to remedy this wrong. However, the costs may be prohibitive for one association to defray, and it would appear that a concerted effort among many condominium association will be necessary in order to take on the Municipal League as well as any individual municipality.

Political pressure should continue, however, in behalf of condominium associations to address what would appear to be total inequality in regard to the costs of services being provided.

Q. I am a real estate broker who is distraught at the actions of some of my compatriots in this clearly seller's market. Some listing and/or selling brokers are lying to other brokers and their customers regarding simple matters of communication to provide information and to communicate offers in an effort to make sure that they get the very best offer in a competitive situa-

What can be done to ensure that a buyer's agent and customer are protected against unscrupulous selling and listing brokers who may lie and be deceitful in order to maximize the benefits inuring to them and their client.

A. Unfortunately, I have not only heard about this problem in today's environment from clients, but have personally experienced it on several occasions. Obviously, the listing broker has a fiduciary responsi-bility owed to the seller to maximize the return to the seller on the property in question.

However, the listing broker has a fiduciary and legal responsibility owed to other brokers and to the public in connection with their conduct, including honesty and integrity.

If a selling or listing broker promises to be available to negotiate a transaction or to accept an offer and does not do so, or intentionally becomes evasive so as the broker is unable to reach the listing broker with an offer, that, in my judgment, is actionable conduct that can be pursued both legally and administratively through the various state agencies, local boards and/or the courts.

Brokers are going to incur the wrath of the public in increasing numbers and litigation unless they stop and recognize that even in a hot seller's market, they owe fiduciary responsibilities to their fellow brokers and customers
