Skateboarders grind police

BY VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITER

When classes end at Lowell Middle school, Canton seventh graders Adam Secord, Ryan Morse and Nick Noel can likely be found "grinding a curb" somewhere in Canton.

Although a seemingly innocent recreational activity, the three boys said police seem to single them out whenever they're skateboarding. Often they're told not to skateboard in business and school parking lots. On occasion police have threatened to hand out $70 tickets for trespassing.

"I don't think we cause any trouble," said Secord. "The worse thing we do is put wax on the curbs. They get mad because they turn black."

Noel added, "We don't do drugs. We don't steal."

From March until November Canton Police had 55 calls for skateboarding complaints, said Capt. Laura Golles. Most of the calls were from businesses and schools, although a handful were from residents complaining about the noise. Business owners claim skateboarders block doors and sidewalks.

Principals at Tonda Elementary school in Canton and Central Middle School in Plymouth have already banned skateboarding due to vandalism. A district-wide ban is being considered by Plymouth-Canton Public Schools, said Golles.

"Benches have been damaged from them jumping on them. Curbs have been damaged and darkened with wax," said Tonda principal George Belvitch. "Skateboarding is a fine thing, but I don't want them to do it at my school because they've destroyed property and have been verbally abusive to people trying to enter the building."

Seniors remain divided

Senior citizens in Canton are getting feisty over a proposal to split programs between the old and new facilities. The plan has polarized seniors, many of whom only wanted closer parking at the Summit on the Park.

Township officials are considering moving club activities, the Meals on Wheels lunch program and some senior enrichment classes back to the Recreation Center at Michigan Avenue and Sheldon. Senior activities director Dianne Neihengen also would be moved to the old facility. A

Canton police respond to Ford plant

■ WIXOM SHOOTING

BY KEVIN BROWN
AND VALERIE OLANDER
STAFF WRITERS

After two shootings in two years at the Ford Motor Co. Sheldon Road plant, the shootings Thursday at a Wixom Ford plant prompted strong feelings here.

"I think everyone was shocked," said Jack Schertel, Ford Sheldon Road Plant security section supervisor.

Asked if the shootings in Wixom will have an effect on security at the Plymouth Township plant, Schertel said, "I don't really have any comments. We'll continue to do our security operations as we normally do."

Early Friday, Schertel said he had yet to collect the details of the Wixom shooting, or to determine how security could be affected at the Plymouth plant.

"Probably over the next couple of days things might sift out and we'll be able to do some comparisons," he said.

Bill Carrol, Ford regional public affairs manager, said Friday, "We've got a committee of security and plant people assembled right today. They're going to review the whole situation from top to bottom and see what new procedures might be implemented."

"We think our security is pretty good," he said. To illustrate, Carrol said the gunman arrested by police on Thursday had twice earlier last week tried to get in the plant. Each time he was rebuffed by security.

"The third time he literally shot his way in," Carrol said.

While the Wixom plant was closed after the shootings and reopened today, there were no shift interruptions in Plymouth.

Two Canton Township police officers, Todd Mutchler and Craigen Bauldry, were called to the scene Thursday afternoon as they are members of the Western Wayne County Special Operations Team. Both were on-duty when the incident occurred, said Capt. Laura Golles. Other off-duty officers assigned to the

LightFest brightens holiday skies

Wayne County parks officials may want to consider putting new deer crossing signs on Hines Drive.

It's not that Hines Park is experiencing an influx of these animals. But motorists can expect to see one light up the sky, above their cars, near Middlebelt Road.

That's just one of the new holiday displays offered at the fourth annual Wayne County LightFest, a group of exhibits all aglow for the yuletide season.

The displays are set up throughout Hines Park and scheduled to light up evening hours 7-10 p.m. Nov. 21 through Jan. 1. The display will be closed Christmas Day.

County Executive Edward McNamara, LightFest sponsors and county commissioners will pull the switch at 7 p.m. Nov. 21 to kick off the light show at the LightFest entrance. Fireworks will fill the sky on opening night.

People who want to view the display will enter Hines Drive at Merriman Road in Westland 2 1/2 miles south of I-96 and proceed eastbound, one way, exiting at Warren Road east of Telegraph in Dearborn Heights. Motorists will be asked for a $5 per vehicle donation.

Westbound Hines will be closed during the display hours.

Parks officials boast that the LightFest is the Midwest's longest drive-through holiday light show. More than 35 displays with 750,000 lights will be powered by more than 400,000 watts of electricity.

And as it does every year, the display has added some variety with new exhibits and twists for the 70,000 cars expected to drive through the display area.

A poinsettia ribbon arch display will be shown near the Merriman Road bridge, lit by 20,000 watts of electricity.

Motorists will be able to drive right through the lights of the poinsettia and under the deer leaping over the road.

Jaycees lend a hand to help

FUND-RAISER

Area Jaycees are planning a bowling fund-raiser to help 8-year-old Stephanie Amber Smith, a Belleville girl suffering from a rare auto immune disorder that is attacking her bones and joints.

Jaycees from Westland, Livonia, Redford, Garden City, Plymouth and Canton will help to raise part of the $500,000 that Stephanie's family needs for a stem cell or bone marrow transplant, Westland Jaycees treasurer Mark Schutze said.

Doctors believe the treatments will stop her disease. However, the treatments are considered experimental and aren't covered by insurance.

To help Stephanie, Region H Jaycees will sponsor a bowling fund-raiser at 7 p.m. Nov. 24 at Town & Country Lanes, 1100 S. Wayne Road near Palmer, in Westland.

Registration will begin at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 24; entry fee is $10.

However, the entry fee will be reduced to $5 for participants who bring in at least $25 in donations.

The fund-raiser will include three games of bowling, a 50/50 ticket, first and second high games, king/queen of the hill, and high series.

part-time employee would staff the Summit's Parkview room.

The newly constructed facility at the Summit opened in March, but some have complained the walk from the parking lot to the main entrance is too long. Colder weather has mounted concerns.

About 50 seniors showed up at a township board meeting Oct. 22 to request that the west entrance doors be opened to them for easier accessibility from the parking lot. Officials declined the proposal, claiming it would interfere with those renting the banquet halls.

Some of the seniors said they wanted to go back to the old facility because parking was closer to the door.

But last week a different group of seniors were at township hall asking the board of trustees not to move senior programs back to the Recreation Center where they long were headquartered.

"We're being divided and we don't want to be divided," said Jean Kowalski, a participant in a number of senior programs, including the Pioneers, Kitchen Band and senior advisory board.

Lillian Brogan of the Canton Senior Singles called it a "step backwards."

There is still a group of seniors who would rather move back to the old facility, said Esther Sprengle, an attendee of the first meeting.

"Some of them told me the only reason they said they wanted to go back to Michigan and Sheldon is because they wanted to put pressure on the board so they'd give them the parking," she said. "I am really disappointed in the whole group. They should have said what they wanted."

Sprengle added, "If it was up to me I'd stick with demanding closer parking and opening the banquet doors."

Several seniors said they repeatedly asked about parking and the accessibility to the senior center during the construction phase.

"Some would say we didn't do our homework. Some would say we should have designed the building differently and I personally can't dispute that," said township Supervisor Tom Yack.

However, officials have attempted to address the problem by offering other options, he said. A plan to buy an $11,847 multi-passenger vehicle to shuttle the seniors from the parking lot to the main entrance was shunned by seniors, who said it was difficult to get in and out of a vehicle. They preferred to have their own independence.

"We're definitely caught in the middle of something here and some people are not going to be happy," said Yack.

The township board will meet at a study session 7 p.m. Tuesday to discuss the issue further.

"The feedback I'm getting now is they're not sure they want to make a move until after December. So I guess it gives us more time to be confused," Yack added.

unit were also called in, she said. However, she didn't know how many as of Friday afternoon.

"Our SWAT officers work regular shifts and when something like this happens they change their clothes, get their gear and go," she said.

The absence of the two officers didn't put a strain on Canton's patrols, she said.

"Due to the size of the area they had to contain at the Wixom plant they need as many officers as they could get. That's why Western Wayne volunteered to go," she said.

Three Plymouth Township police also are members of the Western Wayne County Special Operations Team. A fourth member of the department joined the hostage negotiation team. Three Plymouth city police officers were also called to Wixom as part of the special operations team.

Township Police Chief Carl Berry said no matter what is done to beef up security, a plant can't be made totally safe.

"It makes no difference as to where it could occur within the Ford plant or any other plant. If somebody is intent on creating havoc they're going to do it," Berry said.

"The only way to prevent it is to create a police state at every individual plant. The cost would be prohibitive, and it wouldn't be the right thing to do," he said.

On August 18 at the Sheldon Road plant, an employee who had been reprimanded shot and killed a plant security supervisor, then killed himself.

In January 1995 at the plant, an estranged husband shot and injured his wife and killed her boyfriend, then shot and killed himself.

Having fun: Canton middle school student Nick Noel shows just how agile you have to be to make a skateboard do what you want.

A coalition representing police from Canton and the Plymouths, the school district, Canton Parks and Recreation and Dale Yagiela, executive director of Growth Works social agency, met last week to discuss youth crime and common areas of concern. Skateboarding was on the top of the list.

"I don't think skateboarders themselves are the problem. I think at times they can be very destructive of property. They wax curbs, steps, tear up benches," said Yagiela. "For some it's a recreational activity. For others it's a safe way to be an outlaw."

Some municipalities across the county have adopted ordinances banning skateboarding within the community, said Golles.

Canton isn't ruling out the possibility, but is looking at stricter enforcement of ordinances that are already on the books, such as trespassing or underage smoking, she said.

Building a facility for skateboarders is another consideration, she said. Brighton is in the process of building a skate park, although South Lyon and Redford both took theirs down due to vandalism. But liability is another issue, Golles said.

Easyrider Bike Shop in Canton is the newest member of the coalition.

The addition of Easyrider provides the coalition with a potential source of funding activities that may be coordinated by parks and recreation deparmtents of the three communities.

Corporate sponsorship is one of three areas members of the coalition are exploringin their efforts to resolve the issue of youth crimes to what is otherwise viewed as a harmless recreational activity.

"These kids live and breathe this," said parent Margie Grutza. "They just get discriminated against and get a chip on their shoulder. I'm sure if the kids played baseball or were on the pon pom squad it would be a different story."

The parents of the three boys also realized that a lot of time was spent skateboarding and formed a uniform curfew for all of them. They also try to meet one night a week for a study group, she said.

Secord, Noel and Morse said Canton should build a skate park if they don't want them on the streets.

"They tell us to go home and skate. That gets boring." said Noel.

Morse added, "I don't know what the big deal is all we want to do is have some fun."

The drive is organized by the Brandy Memorial Fundraiser, a non-profit organization. For questions on other ways to help Mott kids or for tax information, call organization founder Kathy Mount in Plymouth Township at 459-9780.

the past three years, said Class-Size Action Partnership representatives. In its annual report to the board, CAP told trustees that while class sizes have decreased in grades kindergarten through five, they're still too high in the district's middle and high schools, and in some elementary classrooms.

Large class size was identified in a community survey as one of parents' biggest concerns. "Respondents were willing to spend more to attain acceptable class sizes," CAP reminded the board.

Paul Schrauben, a CAP member who ran for school board, said, "The hot spots have been worked on district-wide. But overall, you can see we still have a number of classes that are going to need some work. CAP is dedicated to looking into solutions."

Lowell Middle School has the greatest number of classes with 30 or more students: 72.

West Middle School has 60 classes with 30 or more students, followed by Pioneer Middle School with 46 "hot spots;" Central Middle School with 23; and East Middle School with 11 classes of 30 or more students.

CAP reported that at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park, there's a total of 1,219 sections, or classes. Classes with 30 or more students represent 37 percent of all sections.

Of the 450 classes with 30 or more students, 287 are core academic classes, while 163 are elective courses.

In the district's 14 elementary schools, there are still a total of 19 "hot spots."

CAP defines a hot spot as a classroom with 26 or more students in kindergarten; 28 or more students in grades one-two; and 30 or more in grades three-five.

Judy Mardigian, co-founder of CAP, commended the administration and board for hiring teachers and reducing class sizes.

"We know we have a lot of work to do in middle and high school, while keeping things going in the elementaries."

Mardigian noted that since 1994-95, enrollment in the district has increased by 764 students.

"In 1996-97, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will finalize plans for a construction program. We recommend that class-size goals be integrated into space planning for all future school building programs," she said.

Classes that begin the year with an optimum number of students experience "creep" during the year, as families move into the district, Mardigian noted.

"In schools located in high-growth areas, fall classroom loading should allow room for the expected growth."

Mardigian also urged that members of the district's long-range planning committee "specifically address class-size reduction for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. The plan should define specific class-size goals at elementary, middle and high school levels."

As the district looks to a bond proposal and the construction of new schools, "we recommend future space planning. Space considerations have to be carefully considered. You have to take class size into account with planning, or we won't be able to meet our goals."

Lucy French of CAP said, "We come with recommendations, but not without commitment to reaching the goals. We're willing to work toward that, and for that."

A second CAP legislative forum is being planned for the spring. "We will invite our elected officials to come back and discuss school funding. We want to try to change that in a positive vein," she said.

CAP is now publishing a monthly newsletter, French said.

"We are trying to empower parents at all levels."

School Board President Mark Horvath thanked CAP, noting that the group continues to welcome new members. "We look forward to your continued research on middle-school data and appreciate your work."

Sheriffs celebrate bicentennial

Renovated facility for road patrol opens in Westland

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

The Wayne County Sheriffs Department celebrated a milestone Friday by recognizing its 200th anniversary and dedicating the reopening of its western Wayne County Road Patrol facility in Westland.

The oldest law enforcement agency in Michigan, the sheriffs department has come a long way since 1796 when Herman Eberts was the first sheriff and the department consisted of a sheriff and posse, according to County Sheriff Robert Ficano.

"The anniversary really shows the professionalism that has evolved with the sheriffs," said Ficano. "The first sheriff probably dealt with illegal fur trading, while today we have to have extensive training, hours of seminars and education."

In a tradition set in England, the early sheriffs also collected taxes and kept a percentage for themselves, Ficano said. That tradition obviously does not continue today.

This year's sheriff's bicentennial was also celebrated with the reopening of the road patrol facility at 3100 Henry Ruff Road in Westland.

Ficano reviewed the facility's history for several police chiefs from Wayne County who joined sheriffs in the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

The facility closed in 1981 and 220 officers were laid off, Ficano said.

"Some (officers) suffered, and careers were set back," Ficano said. Ficano said the department managed to work the facility and officers back into the budget.

In 1983 about 540 people were employed by the sheriffs department. Today that figure exceeds 1,500 with 1,186 sheriff's deputies, 85 sergeants, 27 lieutenants, nine executive lieutenants, seven commanders and 345 civilian employees. Today's budget totals $55 million.

The building's renovation cost $400,000, and took about 18 months to complete. The facility will house a detective bureau, a records bureau, identification bureau and special units, including a drunk driving enforcement team. It also houses a small lock-up "bullpen" area, and the first shooting range housed inside a sheriff's facility in the history of the department, Ficano said.

"We're proud of it. It symbolizes a presence in the community and a source of pride in the community."

Lieutenant named to lead DEQ's investigations section

The Department of Environmental Quality has tapped an experienced law enforcement professional to lead its Criminal Investigations Section.

Lt. Milton Scales II of East Lansing has been named chief of the 17-member section by DEQ director Russell Harding. He has served as acting chief since February.

"Our criminal investigations section has many accomplishments to its credit," Harding said. "Chief Scales' emphasis on teamwork, innovation and professionalism will enhance those successes. Under his guidance, the DEQ's well-trained and highly motivated enforcement arm will be an important force in protecting Michigan's natural resources.

"Milton is dedicated to the protection of Michigan's environment and families. His record of public service and standing within the law enforcement community ensure his success in this role."

A Detroit native, Scales began his career in 1977 as a Detroit police officer. He earned a chief's citation for alertness and quick action for disarming a suspect during a robbery, and a commendation for the immediate arrest of a burglar.

Scales joined the state of Michigan in 1980 as a conservation officer in Jackson County. He was later promoted to sergeant in the Department of Natural Resources' Environmental Investigations Section, working in the Lansing, Saginaw and Shiawassee County areas. In May 1995, Scales was appointed supervisor of the Southern Michigan Unit.

Scales led investigations in Michigan's first "polluters pay" incarcerations, and decertification of Michigan Underground Storage Tank Financial Assurance Act contractors. Scales also was appointed facilitator of the Environmental Protection Agency's Common Sense Initiative air permit work group, a diverse group of industry, union, governmental and environmental groups which he helped bring to consensus.

The DEQ's criminal investigations section has launched 81 new cases, conducts scrap tire sweeps in Detroit, directs enforcement actions to protect Michigan against illegal waste importation, aggressively polices urban and rural areas, and is building partnerships with communities.

Ameritech opens 32 payment locations

Ameritech now has 32 new payment locations in metro Detroit for customers who pay their bills in person. The new locations are in areas where Ameritech receives most of its customer payments via its payment agents.

"The new locations allow us to increase our presence in high volume areas," said Jeff Swindler, manager of strategy and planning at Ameritech Consumer Services. "This will allow us to better accommodate customers who like to make their payments in person."

Over the last year, Ameritech has increased the number of payment locations in the Detroit area from 130 to 422. The payment locations include retailers, banks and savings and loans.

New area locations for Ameritech payment include:

•Meijer, 45001 Ford Road, Canton Township

•Andrews Drugs, 29436 Ford Road, Garden City

•Redford Food Center, 24250 Five Mile Road, Redford Township

•Ameritel Inc.--AmCom, 5730 S. Middlebelt Road, Westland

Ameritech also is notifying customers that Farmer Jack locations will no longer act as payment agents for Ameritech beginning Dec. 1.

The Farmer Jack locations are being replaced by the 32 new agents Ameritech announced today and about 20 additional agents Ameritech will bring on board by Dec. 1.

"We will end up expanding the number of payment agents in the city of Detroit from 165 to 182, so that we can accommodate our highest-volume areas. We'll still have 240 payment locations in the suburbs," said Swindler. "We'll continue to add payment agents in order to bring locations within reach of more of those customers who choose to pay in person."

Ameritech is telling customers about the changes in payment locations via bill inserts, ads in community newspapers and signage provided to new locations.

Ameritech's payment agents offer convenient locations, longer hours, faster processing of payments and more convenient parking, making it easier for customers who pay in person.

In addition to paying phone bills in person or mailing their payments, Ameritech customers can participate in the company's direct payment debit program in which their monthly phone bills are automatically debited from their checking account.

Michigan customers interested in signing up for Ameritech's Automatic Bill Payment Plan can call Ameritech at 221-4455 (toll free in any Michigan area code).

Ameritech serves millions of customers in 50 states and more than 40 countries. Ameritech provides a full range of communications services, including local and long distance telephone, cellular, paging, security monitoring, cable TV, electronic commerce, on-line services and more.

Madonna learning center enrolling for winter term

Madonna University's Learning Center is accepting applications for its winter term, which begins in January. Applications should be completed as soon as possible to allow time for an assessment of each student.

The tutorial sessions are designed for first through 12th grade students who are experiencing difficulty with reading and related skills. Individual or group sessions, consisting of two students, are available.

Classes run from Jan. 20 through April 17. Parents may choose the day and time that best fits their needs: Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday from either 4 to 5 p.m. or 5 to 6 p.m.; or Thursday from either 3:55 to 5 p.m. or 4:55 to 6 p.m. The extra five minutes added to Thursday classes are to make up for Holy Thursday when there will be no class.

Prior to admission, each student will be informally assessed, and a tailored remedial plan will be designed. Instruction will include strategies for reading, process writing and study skills, and emphasis will be placed on text comprehension.

Fees include $20 for registration, $20 for materials and $85 for an informal assessment (students continuing the program do not need an assessment). Tuition for group sessions is $168 and for individual sessions, tuition is $204.

Madonna University's Learning Center has assisted thousands of children, from public and private schools.

For more information, contact the Learning Center at 432-5586.

Holiday lights: A variety of displays will greet visitors to the annual Wayne County LightFest. Kathy Lewand, executive assistant for resource development for Wayne County Parks, says the lights are sure to bring some "oohs" and "aahs" inside vehicles.

looking forward to seeing it," said Kathy Lewand, executive assistant for resource development for Wayne County Parks. "It should be interesting and should be cool."

Another display promises to bring some "oohs" and "aahs" inside vehicles.

"This year we have a toy land at the North Pole, which is a combination of a couple of different displays," Lewand said. "There are some neat toys and it's really cute.

"It's the first time we've had that theme."

That display is located at Perrin Field, just west of Inkster Road.

The event makes about $50,000 annually for the county parks, but that's not the purpose of the display.

"We don't do this as a moneymaker," Lewand said. "We do it as a benefit for the public."

The $5 donation helps support parks maintenance, Lewand said. That support includes picnic tables, playscapes, picnic areas and baseball diamonds.

Lewand expects large crowds again. "It's becoming a family tradition," Lewand said. "Just like the Thanksgiving parade and fireworks downtown."

Food concessions, gift items and Photos with Santa are available at "Santa's Shelter" at the Warrendale picnic area at the exit. Santa won't arrive until Nov. 28. Photos with Santa will be $5.

As a special treat for AAA members this year, Michigan Living will feature a $1 off coupon good any night at the LightFest. AAA Michigan's Antique Auto Parade display features a waving Santa reminding drivers to play it safe during the holidays.

Other displays and sponsors include: poinsettia ribbon arch, NBD Bank; poinsettia wreath, Blue Care Network of Southeast Michigan; American flag, Ameritech; nativity scene, Melody Foods and Ring Screw Works; leaping reindeer, Friends of Wayne County Parks; Parkway express train, NTH Consultants Ltd.; elves' village, Torre & Bruglio; menorah scene, Arbor Drugs and The Farbman Group; gingerbread village, Detroit Edison; Santa's Golf Cart, Friends of Wayne County Parks; and Kwanzaa scene, Lewis, White & Clay, Avis Ford, Lewis & Thompson Agency, First Independence Bank, and Coopers & Lybrand.

Dentistry in the 90s

DRYING TIMES FOR MED USERS

It has been found that certain medications may not directly lead to tooth decay, but they can put users at higher risk for enamel erosion which can pave the way for cavities. That was the finding of two English doctors who noticed a drug/cavity link when two patients with histories of good dental hygiene developed new cavities within a year or two of taking prescription antidepressants. These medications often have "dry mouth" as side effects. As a consequence of being deprived of the saliva's natural cavity-fighting ability, tooth enamel becomes more vulnerable to cavities. Other (non)prescription medications associates with dry mouth include antihistamines, antidepressants, and non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs).

If you are looking for a family dentist who understands the needs of everyone in your family as individuals and as patients, we hope you will consider us. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we believe in preventive care for the whole family. Teeth are meant to last a lifetime. They will take care of you, if you take care of them. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we emphasize preventive, functional and cosmetic dental care. Let us help you keep that smile! Please call 478-2110 to schedule an appointment. Smiles are our business.

Faux fur fuels the coat trade

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Fake fur outerwear is fast becoming this year's fashion best seller. Already on its second order of faux fur jackets and coats, Jacobson's at Laurel Park Place in Livonia is solving the wonderful retail "problem" of keeping the items on the racks.

Faux beaver: Paula Lishman sheared, knit beaver $5,500; Bricker Tunis at Orchard Mall.

"Last year was the first big season for faux fur. Our biggest request is for the solid black and brown. They're calling brown, a key fashion color, the new black this season" said department manager Julia Brim.

From parkas to full length dress coats, today's fake furs make a woman look stylish even when topping a pair of jeans. While St. John makes a black 3/4 length swing coat priced at $1,050, most of the fake furs at Jacobson's cost between $200 to $300. Ultra Fur's full-length faux beaver coat at $275 is affordable chic.

"I think they're so moderately priced, that's why they sell so well. A faux fur does not cost more than a regular winter coat," said Jacobson's spokesperson Peggy Tobe.

Warmth is one of the reasons Linda Mehnert of Plymouth was considering her second purchase of a fake fur at Jacobson's last week. She bought her first five years ago and found the deep pile wards off cold winter winds.

"A lot of people don't want to buy real fur. With the technology now, they look so great," Mehnert said.

In the last few years, manufacturers have become more responsive to consumer requests for fabulous-looking fake furs. They have developed new fabrics and weaving techniques allowing faux furs to be softer and lighter in weight. "Plush as a teddy bear" is how Jacobson's pearl-colored stroller ($480) looks and feels when wrapped around the body. Besides being fun, a green faux mink jacket by Tissavel ($355) resembles the real article except for the color.

"They're so fashionable and easy to care for," said sales associate Hana Yono. "And it makes a fabulous gift for Christmas – a husband to his wife, a mother to a daughter, a working woman to herself."

Today's sporty designs are one reason the younger set chooses fake furs. Animal print parkas and reversible microfiber jackets offer versatility as well as practicality. On the racks at Loehmann's in Farmington Hills, customers will find two-button leopard bolero jackets by Maria Dionisiou for Olympia ($99), shiny fake seal skin parkas ($79) in black or brown, and reversible black acrylic fur/nylon and polyester strollers ($169).

"These coats sell well because animal prints are so hot right now. And many of these coats are reversible as well," said associate manager Jane Corcoran.

The real thing: Natural blackgama ranch mink with lynx trim $15,000 at Bricker Tunis.

At Hudson's Westland, a black parka fake fur with a hood lined in cheetah by Style VI ($225) is a glamorous way to add warmth to a Michigan winter day. In February when temperatures drop to 20 below with the wind chill, you'll be glad this number is yours.

The Cover-Up in West Bloomfield offers a four-button chocolate brown or black jacket, $375 as well as a denim jacket with leopard collar, $310. by Charta.

Deck the malls with memories

Holiday shopping season is here ! Santa arrivals this week mark the beginning of all the magic malls mix up for customers. This year many centers are rolling out new displays for kids of all ages.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

It's time to deck the halls of the shopping centers as Santa Claus prepares to touch down at most malls this weekend.

The magic of miniature Christmas villages is captured at the Oakland Mall in Troy with a Department 56 replica of the North Pole set up throughout the center. Santa is surrounded by a 26-foot Lookout Tower, complete with snowmen, elves, snow-laden evergreens. Special display cases around the mall feature exhibits of Department 56 miniature villages.

Shelley Darmetko, Oakland Mall's marketing director, said the idea behind the holiday decor is to "take adults back to the memories of the villages they played with as children, and create memories for their children."

"The mall's holiday festivities are a gift to our customers to show our appreciation for their business and also make the holiday shopping experience as pleasant as possible," she said.

Oakland Mall also plans a holiday story hour for children with pennies for admission to benefit Children's Hospital of Michigan; a drawing for a 5-day stay in a real Snow Village, Stowe, Vermont; and a Gingerbread House Auction Dec. 8-21 to benefit the Ronald McDonald House.

Here's a peek at the holiday plans at other malls:

• Fairlane Town Center, Dearborn presents "A Child's Dream Brought to Life." The skies of the mall will be filled with balloon gondolas laden with toys. Santa Claus visits begin Nov. 23. First 5,000 shoppers on Nov. 29 get a Fairlane Fanny Pack filled with treasures. Friday/Saturday evening concerts. Free valet parking daily 6 p.m. to closing.

• Laurel Park Place, Livonia, fills shoppers' ears with "The Sounds of the Season." Strolling carolers serenade shoppers every weekend from 1-4 p.m. and the Livonia Civic Chorus performs at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 11. Santa strolls into the mall 1 p.m. on Nov. 24. Laurel Park again participates in the Angela Hospice Light Up A Life campaign. Donations can be made in memory of a loved one.

• Livonia Mall pulls out all the stops with "Santa's Spectacular Reindeer." Giant plush reindeer are featured throughout the center. Santa mans his giant 14-foot sleigh beginning Nov. 23. Annual Mall/Chamber parade kicks off 9 a.m. at Six Mile and Middlebelt Rds. bringing Santa Claus to the mall. Complimentary hot chocolate follows. Concerts/choruses through the season.

• Northland Center, Southfield, guests can "Journey to the NorthStar." The mall's decor centers around figures from "The Boy and the Bear," ceilings/skylights draped with stars and lights. Giant 12-foot snow globe. Santa Claus visits from Nov. 18 with a free, original storybook for kids. Focus: HOPE wraps gifts Nov. 29 to Dec. 24. Holly Jolly trolley shuttle Dec. 2-23 to area businesses.

• Somerset Collection, Troy, hosts "The Giving Season" with the Grand Court in the new North-end hosting the centerpiece, a three-story Medieval-style castle. A tale about the mythical kingdom was penned by Franklin author/illustrator Matt Faulkner. In Somerset South, marionettes perform the tale. Life-size costumed characters are suspended from the ceiling throughout the mall.

• Tel-Twelve Mall, Southfield, takes shoppers across the globe with the theme "Holidays Around the World." Displays feature 47 animated figures from the seven continents of the world, sharing their holiday traditions. School groups can tour the exhibit with Mother Universe offering a 20-minute program. Santa Claus arrives 1 p.m. on Nov. 23.

• Twelve Oaks, Novi, presents its award-winning "Crystal Forest" complete with life-size replicas of giraffes, lions and bears. Santa arrives Nov. 23 at noon via theatrical performance and puppet show to stay at his wood side cottage.

• Westland Center insists "We Need A Little Christmas" so Santa Claus arrives 11 a.m., Nov. 23 with the Mopo Bears. Shoppers can help the needy during the Share the Warmth program, co-sponsored by the Salvation Army. For each $150 spent in the mall, a blanket will be donated to a local shelter in the shopper's name. Concerts through December.

• Wonderland Mall, Livonia, celebrates a "Merry Krismouse." Santa Claus visits from Nov. 18. Holiday train rides. To benefit the Metro Detroit YMCA, shoppers can drop off new toys, non-perishable food donations and children's clothing at several mall stations. Special events include Q Crew broadcasts, pet photos with Santa, Black Nativity performances, Girl Scout gift wrap for community hospice.

Elsa Klensch paints rosy picture of spring

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

Fresh from the runways of Paris with the first report on spring '97, CNN's style editor Elsa Klensch told an audience at Nordstrom that "designers have reached a turning point in fashion."

Elsa Klensch

Speaking at a breakfast/fashion show on the store's third level last Saturday, Klensch said that the newest materials and designs provide women with clothing choices that "allow you to see all the possibilities in yourself."

"These designs will reveal the other, more womanly, side of you," she insisted. "Lots of choices in colors and prints. Lots of different skirt lengths to offer options for women with different lifestyles."

Klensch christened spring designs "edgy" and predicted asymmetrical necklines and hemlines would be the rage - "it's a look that's modern, new."

She said the line between day and evening wear is erased for spring, "Daytime and After Five clothes are one and the same for a full expression of this concept."

Klensch said she started out in journalism wanting to "cover wars and hard news" but found it hard for a woman to break into the profession. "So I gradually drifted into feature reporting."

Marriage to an American brought her to New York and by chance she ended up with a job at Women's Wear Daily.

"I've discovered that fashion is a very big industry," she said. "It's not fluff. It's full of very creative, hard-working people, very dedicated to their profession."

Klensch named Bill Blass, Sonia Rykiel and Donna Karan as the fashion folk she most admires. She concluded that department stores need not worry about losing customers to home shopping shows on television.

"I can't see buying clothes from a TV screen," she insisted. "The color reproduction is a long way from accurate and a person really needs to feel the fabric and try the garment on before buying."

Her spring forecast:

• Brown continues as the new black; other strong colors include pastels, earthtones, navy, Chinese lacquer red

• Prints make a big comeback

• The pant suit is dominant, but with smaller shoulders and narrow slacks for a young, feminine look

• Knits are important; the cardigan replaces the jacket

• Shoes include wedges, platforms, high heels; the square toe, chunk heels will still be around for a young look

• Silhouettes remain long and lean; slim pants, longer jackets

• Clothes will hug the body, fashion is fitted

Katharine Keeble of Bloomfield Hills and Alexis Frazier of Milford agreed that Klensch was worth the rush to the mall on a Saturday morning. But their strongest praise was saved for the fashion show that followed.

"The clothing was so colorful, such fresh designs. The opera gowns were stunning," Frazier opined. "Nordstrom has such wonderful fashions."

Keeble added, "I just had to see the show, I worship at the shrine of Nordstrom."

Walk Somerset

Just as fall's unpredictable weather begins to cramp Michiganians' exercise plans, The Somerset Collection introduces the Walkabout Club, co-sponsored by Blue Cross Blue Shield and Blue Care Network of Michigan.

For walking the halls of the Troy mall, Walkabout Club members earn participation credits toward gifts from Somerset Collection stores. Tallies are kept when walkers check in at the North Concierge Desk 7-10 a.m. Wednesdays.

In addition, members are invited to attend informative health seminars. Some planned for 1997 are: Walking for Fitness, Walking in the Right Shoes, Fit Forever, Beat Stress, Smart Eating, Cooking Low Fat Meals for Children, How Does your Health Rate? and Massage Therapy. Members will receive seminar details as well as recipes, health tips and equipment updates through a club newsletter.

Applications to join the Walkabout Club are available at one of the Somerset Collection's concierge desks, located near the elevators on the main floors, or call (810) 643-7440 for more information.

Oakland welcomes Perfumania

On the mall's lower level near the JC Penney wing, Oakland Mall shoppers will find a new Perfumania store offering designer fragrance at disount prices.

Tender a sweater

This Thanksgiving season, Birmingham retailer, Tender, will host its Second Annual Sweater Trade-In in an effort to warm up the lives of those less fortunate.

The public is encouraged to trade-in any sweater to Tender and receive 20-percent off the purchase of a new sweater from its extensive selection. Sweaters collected will be donated to KADIMA, a non-profit, non-sectarian mental health agency which offers innovative programs to mentally ill adults and help them re-enter the community as productive, wage-earning citizens.

Tender is at 271 West Maple in Birmingham. For more information, call (810)258-0212.

Jewelry studio a gem

The Halina Fuchs Jewelry Studio, 222 E. Maple in Birmingham, was recognized as one of the up and coming businesses in metro Detroit by Gov. John Engler. He named it as one of the 1996 Future Fifty of Greater Detroit because of its creative, original jewelry designs.

Halina and Waldemar Fuchs custom design, redesign, restore, repair and set gems for their clients.

Author, author

Stephanie Mellon, Troy author and illustrator, will be autographing copies of her latest release "The Golden Angel" at Waldenbook Stores throughout November. It's her fourth book in three years. Call Waldenbooks for her schedule of appearances.

Old fragrance new at Neiman's

When Cary Grant romanced Audrey Hepburn in Charade, most likely they were both wearing Acqua di Parma, their favorite cologne. The classic Italian unisex scent, first introduced in the 1930's, was the rage among Europe's fashionable and wealthy set as well as Hollywood's glamorous taste makers. Sixty years later, Acqua di Parma is still being produced in limited amounts and will be newly available at all Neiman Marcus stores, including Somerset Collection in Troy. It still comes packaged in the same distinctive Parma yellow cylinder.

Sicilian citrus, essence of lavender, rosemary, verbena and a Bulgar rose combine to create a scent that compliments both men and women. It will be available in soaps, bath gels, cream, powder and cologne ranging from $35 to $90.

New at Summit Place

A variety of new retailers and an emphasis on providing a range of children's programs and entertainment-type services are part of Summit Place Mall's effort to add to the family-shopping experience at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake in Waterford.

Stores that opened in 1996 include: Bhogalli Leather and Sportswear; Pia's Boutique (out-of-the-ordinary clothing, jewelry and accessories); Corey's Jewel Box; Thailand Gifts; Palm Springs Spa (outdoor furniture, including swings, hammocks, tables and hot tubs); The Learning Tree (educational books, equipment and toys); Fashion Kids (holiday and special event clothing and accessories) and Jarman Shoes.

Also opening were: That's Sharp (name cutlery, engraving and sharpening); Novelties Unlimited (from watches to fragrances); Southwest Imports (Indian motifs); San Francisco Music Box; King Dollars (bargains for a buck); Heidi's Salon; The Glass Gallery (sculptured figurines); Christmas by Franks (holiday decor); 5-7-9 (junior specialty clothes); Chaddaus Leather, Little Bits and Crafter's Corner.

New food shops and restaurants include: Hickory Farms (gift cheeses, smoked meats, nuts); Hot Zone (over 500 types of sauces); Hot Stix (pizza, salads) and Don Pablos (tex-mex and Mexican food).

Dayton Hudson aids UW

Dayton Hudson's family of stores, Hudson's, Mervyn's and Target, has raised more than $730,000 to help support local United Way agencies. The contribution includes donations both from the corporation and its local stores through pledges and special fund-raising events.

The contribution enhances Hudson's Circle of Giving, in which the company donates 5-percent of its federally taxable income to non-profit organizations in the communities in which its stores are located.

Outlet mall opens in Howell

Kensington Valley Factory Shops, a $25 million manufacturer's outlet mall, officially opened Saturday at I-96 and Highway M-59 in Livingston County.

A joint venture of Fru-Con Development Corp. and Howard & Rice, the 65 factory outlets planned for phase one are owned and operated by nationally recognized manufacturers. Tenants include: Mikasa, The GAP, Adidas, Detroit Pistons, Kasper, Peter Nygard and Olga Warner.

The Country Victorian architectural center was designed to be in keeping with the rural spirit of Howell Township. Covered walkways shield shoppers from inclement weather and link the shops.

Mickey Mouse Meals debut

Hudson's now offers a special Mickey & Co., meal menu for kids10 and under. Each meal includes an activity placemat with stickers. Sample entrees include Macaroni and Cheese, Chicken Fingers and Peanut Butter and Jelly. Available at Hudson's restaurants and Marketplace Delis.

Commissioners OK contract for Cherry Hill resurfacing

Wayne County commissioners provided the final link recently for the county and local communities to receive federal funds for the resurfacing of Cherry Hill Road.

Commissioners approved a Michigan Department of Transportation contract between Wayne County and the cities of Garden City, Inkster and Westland for $1.4 million.

Cherry Hill will be resurfaced next year from Inkster to west of Merriman Road.

The project will cost $1.2 million in federal funds. Wayne County will finance $148,984, Garden City, $58,635; Inkster, $39,289; and Westland, $19,343. These communities already have approved their shares of that project.

The contract provides for the construction of pavement widenings for right-turn lanes at the Cherry Hill and Merriman intersection and any needed revisions to drains.

"The most important aspect of this project will be a left-turn signal at Cherry Hill and Merriman," said Eric Candela, legislative aide to County Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Westland. "The widening for right-turn lanes will help traffic continue on its way at the corner."

Some preliminary work may be completed this year, but the actual construction probably won't begin until spring or summer, Candela said.

CWW narrows search for new director

The chairman of the Conference of Western Wayne has received about 65 applications for CWW's vacant executive director's position.

That field recently was narrowed to about 12 people by a CWW committee.

Daniel Gilmartin resigned in October to accept a new job as a lobbyist with the Michigan Municipal League. Assistant CWW director Marcia Bianconi has acted as an interim director until a new one is chosen by the CWW.

The director will be responsible for legislative updates, communicating the CWW's position on legislative matters to city, county, state and federal officials and work for the CWW board.

CWW chairman Tom Yack said a questionnaire was to be sent to those finalists. Yack expects interviews to follow soon.

"Our intent is to screen down to four, then interview," Yack told the CWW.

Yack said Friday he hopes to return to the CWW board in December with a recommendation. Yack, who is also Canton Township supervisor, Northville supervisor Chris Johnson and Westland Mayor Bob Thomas serve on the committee.

"I can't say when we'll come back (to the CWW members) with a recommendation," Yack said.

Foster families needed locally

Open your heart and home and become a foster parent.

The Society is again campaigning to recruit foster families for children aged up to 14.

Shortcuts make up for lost time while preparing dinner

Some time ago, when I was younger and had much more hair, I had endless time to cook, and endless time to shop for ingredients. Anyone delivering a package to my house on the afternoon of a dinner party would have found me in the kitchen dicing or slicing, trussing a chicken, clarifying butter or whipping egg whites in a copper bowl. Those days are long gone.

There is nothing that puts a crimp in your cooking style than the addition of a family. It's hard to whip egg whites when at any moment your kid(s) will wake from a nap, the school will call and say they just threw up after recess, or you have to make 29 (why not an even 12, 24 or 36?) cupcakes for the next days bake sale. It's also not easy to stuff a chicken breast when your $80 French knife has just been used to cut 2-inch Styrofoam or corrugated cardboard into the shape of a nucleus. Have you ever tried to concentrate on a recipe while your kids calls out a thousand times from the dining room table "dad, what does intrigue mean?" Once you have kids, speed and convenience is definitely the name of the game.

Roast chicken

Take for example roast chicken, which is almost everyone's favorite dish. In the old days I used to slip fresh snipped herbs under the skin and baste the chicken constantly. Now I don't even tie up my bird (the kids used the string to make Halloween spider webs). If I can find an onion that hasn't sprouted six inches of green under the grocery bags under the kitchen sink, into the chicken it goes. I rub the chicken generously with bottled lemon juice and shake on some cheap Italian seasoning that I picked up at the dollar store. My kids will be studying English 101 at community college before I'll have the time to make a wonderful mixture of chestnuts and diced prunes again, I suspect.

Butter flavored with microscopically minced garlic is also great if you have the time. Now when I need garlic butter to spread on Wonder Bread and pop under the broiler, I open a jar of chopped garlic and mix in a few tablespoons of margarine.

Easy potatoes

Scalloped potatoes go wonderfully with roast chicken. Scalloped potatoes were a signature dish, made with a real roux, hand shredded cheddar cheese and a fresh bread crumb crispy top. I have since learned a trick from a now-unrecalled magazine article and I can make them in nothing flat. I slice up about 2 pounds of potatoes (skin on, of course) and then plunge them into cold water. Simply bring 2 cups of milk to a boil in a large saucepan (skim or low-fat will suffice) pat the potatoes dry, and boil them in the milk until barely tender. Add salt to taste and then tip the entire mixture (the sludgy milk and half cooked potatoes) into a buttered casserole dish. Scatter a handful of bread crumbs on top (the more seasoned the better) and bake the potatoes in a 400 degree F. oven for 20 minutes or until bubbly. You will have to soak and scrub the saucepan – that's boiling milk for you – but it's worth it!

For people who are constantly on the lookout for kitchen help, I highly recommend children for such menial jobs as cutting up carrots, onions and peppers. These vegetables, when scrubbed, peeled, cut into big cubes (even a 7-year-old can do that!) and then tossed into a pan and drizzle with olive oil can roast next to the chicken for about 45 minutes to an hour.

Even picky eaters love roasted carrots as they really cook up sweet and tender.

Yes, even busy cooks can make the time to have dessert. After the chicken and vegetables roast, brownies always make for the ideal dessert. I used to serve them with poached pears, sugar glazed strawberries or real whipped cream. Some people like their brownies on the cakey side and some feel they should be more like fudge. My opinion is that they should be happy I made them.

A dinner of roast chicken, roasted vegetables, scalloped potatoes and brownies is a festive meal. In certain lights, it even could be elegant. To make it so, I put aside the Corelle and haul out the Lennox. Everyone thinks I'm wonderful for making such a monumental effort. I sit back, with a smile and say "oh, it was nothing."

Thanksgiving Dinner

Chefs bring family favorites to dinner

BY RENEE SKOGLUND • STAFF WRITER

We asked area chefs what they planned to bring to their mom's or sister's house (the usual Thanksgiving destinations), and the replies were surprisingly simple and straight from the heart.

While the turkey may be the focal point of Thanksgiving dinner, it's the colorful, savory side dishes that make the table sparkle and guests salivate.

I love to make green beans with mushrooms and bacon or baby carrots cooked in chicken broth then bathed in butter, fresh lemon juice and chopped chives. We asked area chefs what they planned to bring to their mom's or sister's house (the usual Thanksgiving destinations), and the replies were surprisingly simple and straight from the heart.

Chef Bill Dembiec of Westland who works at Greenfield Village will make his grandmother's recipe for creamed onions. "Oh, it's really good. It's a semi-sweet dish. The onions are sweet and the cream tames the sweetness. The potato chips add a saltiness. When you bake the dish you have a collaboration of flavors

The Dembiec clan, seven siblings and an assortment of nieces and nephews, will gather around sister Cherise Lambert's table this year and tell lots of stories. "We tell a lot of 'remember whens.' We grew up with a lot of respect for seniors. There were always stories about past events. They were always brought up at the dinner prayers."

Some of those stories are bound to be about his grandmother, who helped raise Dembiec and taught him and his sisters how to cook. "I remember making the creamed onions with her," said Dembiec.

Although Dembiec has added his own personal touch to the creamed onions, only his grandmother could make the perfect lemon meringue pie, another Thanksgiving favorite. "I really miss that lemon meringue. No one had her touch," said Dembiec.

Chef Louai Sharkas of the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham will be making "French Bread and Sweet Corn Pudding," a Southern-style dish he originally created as an accompaniment to lobster. It became an instant hit at the Townsend and will be part of their Thanksgiving buffet.

"Although it has a slight sweet taste, it's more savory. It's not a dessert," said Sharkas who lives in Southfield. "I think it will be perfect on the Thanksgiving table. It's a nice substitute for dressing."

Sharkas and his mother, Amelda, who share a home, expect a large crowd for this year's Thanksgiving feast, which will include two or three turkeys, a ham and two roast legs of lamb.

"Just about every member of my family will be there. About 35 to 40 people. We never count. There's too many, an army of relatives from every area in the country."

Like most good chefs, Sharkas credits his mother for his love of cooking. "She's a great influence in my taste. My first classes in cooking were when I was four-years-old in her kitchen. Every holiday, I was the only one of the kids who went in the kitchen and helped out."

There's always room for Jell-O, right? Chef Michael Hunter of Botsford Inn in Farmington continues the inn's decades-old tradition of making "Sherry Cherry Jell-O." And he's not been tempted to change the recipe one bit.

"I don't change things that aren't broken. People love it the way it is," he said. "It's a real popular item at Botsford. We have to make three or four pans every week."

While Hunter said he definitely would bring the Jell-O if invited to a Thanksgiving dinner, he would also bring his mother's baked sweet potatoes cooked in cider. "It's very good. She slices the potatoes really thin and bakes them with dried fruit, cider and cinnamon," he said.

Fortunately for people planning to eat out this Thanksgiving, Hunter will be cooking in Botsford's kitchen. Guests will be able to sample the sweet potato dish, which will be part of dinner buffet. Hunter knows it will be a hit. "It's a 10, definitely."

When asked who is the better cook, he or his mother, Hunter said: "She thinks I cook better, but I know she cooks better."

MacRostie dedicated to Carneros wines

BY ELEANOR & RAY HEALD
SPECIAL WRITERS

Steve MacRostie, owner and winemaker at MacRostie Winery in Sonoma, California has a passion for wines from the Carneros appellation. When he launched his winery in 1987 producing only 1,300 cases of Chardonnay, his commitment was to the Carneros region of southern Sonoma and Napa counties because of the area's ideal combination of climate and soil.

MacRostie is convinced that great wines begin in the vineyard. "A winemaker's job is to control what happens in creation of his raw materials," he contended. "It's relatively simple to make a good wine. Just select the best grapes then let the fruit speak for itself in the wine. I've learned the importance of a wine's flavors and mouthfeel and strive for a careful balance between fruit and oak without letting either dominate. I take every measure to avoid the astringent effects of grape skins and oak tannins from barrel aging."

The Carneros appellation is blessed with a maritime influence creating persistent morning fog and afternoon breezes during the height of the growing season. This climactic condition affords Carneros more moderate temperatures and a longer growing season than any other north coast California wine region. With a longer growing season, grapes have more "hang time" to mature on the vine developing more flavors and complexity in the wine.

Carneros soils are dense and shallow with moderate fertility restricting development of a vine's root system. The vine gets only the water and nutrients to sustain growth, and retard vigorous foliage development. In this condition, grapes are smaller and have less but more concentrated juice with flavor intensity.

Today, about 6,200 acres of vines are planted in Carneros with chardonnay and pinot noir the most widely planted. MacRostie along with a few other wineries in the region have discovered that Merlot grows well on specific sites. There is definitely a Carneros regional identity for wines from all three grape varieties.

MacRostie now produces about 10,000 cases of chardonnay, pinot noir and merlot which is not keeping up with increasing national demand for his wines, but unlike a few years ago, more cases are available to our market. There are ambitious plans to increase production to 25,000 cases by the year 2000.

"It will be a challenge to find the grapes," MacRostie admits. "I look for operating control of a vineyard before I will buy the grapes. This is my grape quality assurance."

Current MacRostie releases include 1995 Chardonnay, Carneros $18, a blend from six vineyards, the largest percentage coming from the renowned Sangiacomo Vineyards. Fermented in French oak barrels, 27 percent new, the wine was aged in these same barrels for seven months. About 88 percent completed malolactic fermentation. Overall, the wine sports appley, citrus aromas complemented by toasty oak with hints of butterscotch. Broad and texturally palate pleasing, the finish is lengthy with fruit, oak and acid in balance.

There's also a Reserve Chardonnay $27.50 from the 1995 vintage. "Each year, the Reserve is our benchmark Chardonnay," MacRostie said. This wine is highlighted by baked apple, citrus and butterscotch notes. It has exceptional length and creamy texture.

The 1994 MacRostie Pinot Noir, Carneros $18.50 showcases a broad spectrum of red fruits with vanilla and slightly toasty oak accents. On the palate red fruits are in the forefront with a solid middle and well rounded, structured tannins. It's juicy, delicious and immediately appealing. Fruit is sourced from two vineyards with an esoteric clonal mix that MacRostie believes gives him a good number of blending components for the bottling. The wine was aged 10 months in French cooperage, 43 percent of which was new. It was bottled unfined and unfiltered and will undoubtedly throw some sediment in the bottle with extended aging. Because pinot noir needs gentle handling to retain its flavors and nuances, the best pinots are frequently not fined nor filtered before bottling.

Blended with 19 percent cabernet franc, the 1994 MacRostie Merlot, Carneros $22 is highly perfumed with red roses, bright cherry and blackberry. Spicy anise and allspice notes add complexity to ripe, high-toned red fruits. Toasty oak elements from aging 16 months in French oak, 31 percent of which was new, are in harmony with a broad, full, rich fruit palate experience.

"Where merlot tends to have some tobacco and weedy elements, cabernet franc pulls the wine away from those less desirable qualities to elevate the focus of black fruits in the wine," MacRostie noted. "It harmonizes well with each, merlot-like tasting elements."

Brownies, roast chicken sure to please

See related Taste Buds Column on Taste front.

The best recipe I have for brownies comes from a friend who got it from a magazine article about Katharine Hepburn. It is, apparently, her family recipe. If there is no other reason to admire Katharine Hepburn, this pan of brownies is enough to make you worship her.

KATHARINE HEPBURN'S BROWNIES

Melt one stick of butter and 2 squares of unsweetened chocolate and take the saucepan off the heat

Stir in 1 cup of sugar, beat in 2 eggs and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Beat well.

Stir in 1/4 cup all purpose flour and 1/4 teaspoon salt. If desired, stir in 1 cup chopped nuts, (but we don't have any as the kids ate them for an after school snack 2 days ago).

Bake the brownies in a lightly buttered and floured 8-inch cake pan at 325 degrees F. for 40 minutes. Makes 1 pan of brownies.

ROASTED ONION — LEMON CHICKEN

- 1 lemon or 1/4 cup bottled lemon juice
- 2 medium onions, peeled and quartered
- 1 (4 pound) chicken, rinsed and dried with giblets removed

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Remove the zest from the lemon with a fine grater or zester. Chop fine. If using bottled juice, measure out 1/4 cup juice. Season the cavity of the chicken with salt and pepper. Carefully loosen the skin of the chicken by running your fingers under the skin of the breast and the legs, separating it gently from the meat underneath without tearing it. Rub the lemon zest or the juice under the skin.

Rub remaining juice or zest over the entire outside of the chicken. Insert onion quarters in the cavity. Place the chicken, breast side down, on a rack set above a baking dish and roast for 30 minutes. Turn the chicken breast side up and continue roasting for 30-35 minutes longer or until the thigh juices run clear. Allow to rest 5 minutes at room temperature before carving. Serves 4-6.

If you have kids and they don't go for the roasted vegetables mentioned in the article, every parent has a package of carrots hiding in the fridge. The little sweet ones that go in lunches are best but you can use the big ones too.

HONEY-GARLIC GLAZED CARROTS

- 1 pound carrots, peeled and cut into 1/4 inch thick diagonal slices
- 1 tablespoon minced garlic
- (preferably in oil, the jarred type)
- 2 tablespoons honey

In a large non-stick skillet, toss the carrots and minced garlic in oil over medium high heat until thoroughly mixed. Add 3/4 cup water and bring to a boil. Add the honey and season with salt and pepper. Simmer, stirring occasionally, until all but a thin film of honey glaze is left, about 7-10 minutes. Serves 4.

Holiday rush: Arnold Schwarzenegger as Howard Langston races across a huge mall on Christmas Eve in a madcap search for the hottest toy of the season in "Jingle all the Way."

Share your toy search story

It's Christmas Eve and Howard Langston is frantically searching for the toy every child's wish list — Turbo Man, in "Jingle All the Way," opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters.

Who hasn't braved the last-minute Christmas Eve rush to buy something that's long disappeared from store shelves?

Parents, share your "Holiday Toy Search," story with us to win a "Jingle All the Way," prize package for your child. What toy did you look all over town to find? Were you successful? Was your child surprised, or disappointed? Deadline to enter is Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Twenty-five prize packages containing a "Jingle All the Way," memo board, T-shirt, stocking cap, and coloring book, will be given away. Send entries to: Keely Wygonik, Taste/Entertainment Editor, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150. To fax entries, call (313) 591-7279.

We'll share excerpts from your holiday toy search stories in an upcoming issue of Arts & Entertainment.

Arnold Schwarzenegger who stars in "Jingle All the Way," is a high-powered businessman, hard at work. Now he's going to miss yet another of his son, Jamie's (Jake Lloyd), karate awards ceremonies. Howard loves his family, but he just can't seem to find enough time for wife Liz (Rita Wilson), and Jamie. This year he's going to make it up to Jamie, he'll buy him the toy on ever child's list to Santa — and the hottest action figure of the season — Turbo Man!

Unfortunately, Howard is facing one big problem: It's Christmas Eve, and Turbo Man has been sold out since Thanksgiving.

Howard's down-to-the-wire trek to find Turbo Man quickly turns into an odyssey wilder than he could have ever imagined. In the course of his Yuletide misadventures, he finds himself in a no-holds-barred fight-to-the-finish with a pesky postman named Myron (Sinbad), who is out to claim the last Turbo Man for his kid. Also standing in Howard's way is a shady Santa (James Belushi), and a tough policeman, Officer Hummell (Robert Conrad).

To make matters worse, while Howard is scrambling across the city for the prize that will redeem him in the eyes of his family, neighbor Ted (Phil Hartman), the so-called "perfect father," has made himself at home — in Howard's home, relieving Liz of her baking duties, and taking it upon himself to put up the Langston family Christmas lights. It's enough to scare away even the bravest of men. But to Howard, this is war — and he's determined to win.

In addition to "Jingle all the Way's" easily recognizable themes, the Twentieth Century Fox film also features non-stop action and laughs.

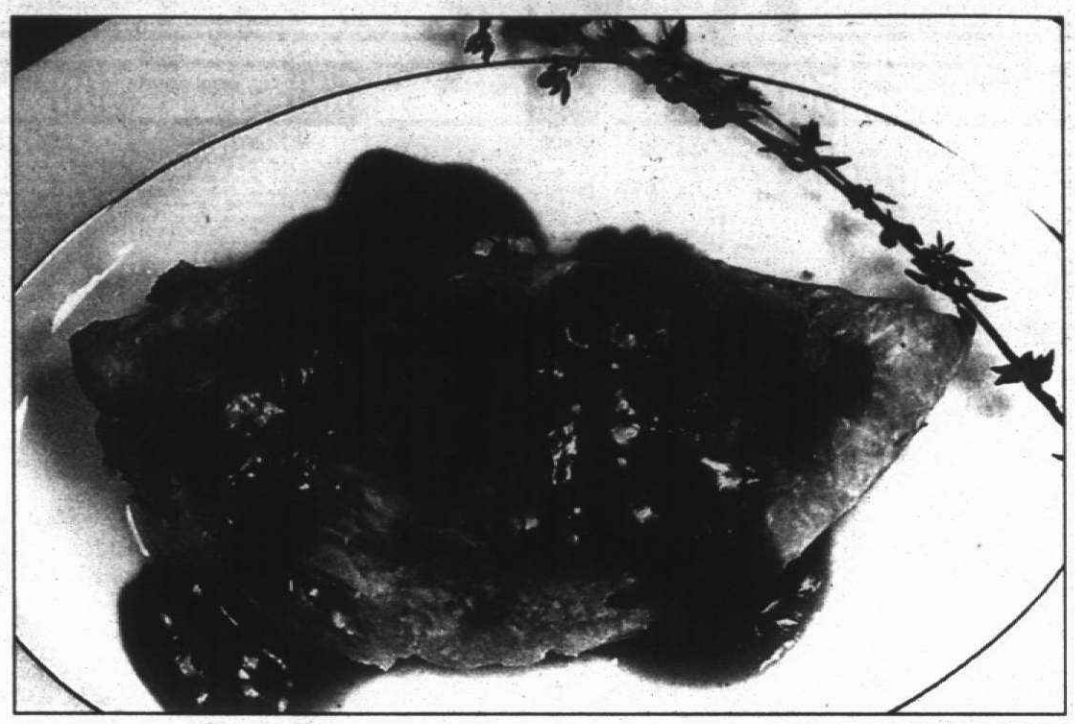
Turkey entree cooks quickly



AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR CANCER RESEARCH

Dinner entree: Apricot stuffed turkey tenderloins are a non-traditional Thanksgiving dinner entree made easily and quickly in your microwave.

As traditions go, the turkey as the centerpiece of Thanksgiving dinner is hard to resist. Roast turkey is a satisfying lean meat that goes well with a table full of wholesome fresh fruit, vegetable and whole grain side dishes. But when large Thanksgiving gatherings are impossible, how can you enjoy this annual feast with all the flair and flavor of years past?

Turkey is an amazingly versatile food, made even more so by a variety of new cuts. If you don't need a whole bird, half or quarter turkeys provide an economical option. White meat lovers can choose between half-breasts or whole breasts, with the bone or boneless. Supermarkets now also offer turkey cutlets, extra thick turkey steaks and delicate tenderloins.

Tender, juicy turkey breast cutlets can be prepared in many different ways for special occasions. Sprinkle them lightly with salt and pepper and saute them in a skillet over medium-high heat with one tablespoon of margarine for one to two minutes, or until cooked through. Create a light sauce by mixing two teaspoons lemon juice, one teaspoon soy sauce, one teaspoon honey and one eighth teaspoon pepper and pour it over the cutlets in the pan. heat the entire mixture evenly and serve each cutlet with sauce and garnished with one tablespoon sesame seeds.

Turkey gains foreign flavor when cooked with international seasonings. Cut a half pound of turkey breast cutlets in one half inch strips, and combine them in a small bowl with one half cup of cubed apple and one quarter teaspoon of curry powder. Let the mixture stand for 10 minutes. Add the turkey mixture to a medium size non stick skillet and stir fry over medium high heat in one and one half teaspoon margarine for two or three minutes, or until turkey is no longer pink. Stir in one quarter cup mango chutney and continue to cook until heated throughout. Serve over rice.

If you think the holidays means a meal that takes hours in the oven, try this non-traditional Thanksgiving dinner entree made easily and quickly in your microwave.

APRICOT STUFFED TURKEY TENDERLOINS WITH CREAMY MUSTARD SAUCE

- 1/2 cup dried apricots, chopped
- 2 tablespoons raisins, chopped
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 green onions, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 celery stalk, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 2/3 cup plain dry bread crumbs
- 1 pound turkey breast tenderloins
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 cup low-sodium chicken bouillon
- 1 tablespoon country-style grainy mustard
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 2-1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/3 cup reduced-calorie mayonnaise

Combine apricots and raisins in a medium-sized microwave-safe bowl and cover with water. Microwave on HIGH (100 percent power) for 1 to 1/2 minutes. Drain the fruit and set aside.

Mince garlic in a food processor. Add the onion and celery and process the entire mixture until finely chopped. Combine the vegetables with the fruit mixture. Microwave on HIGH (100 percent power) for 1-1/2 minutes.

Cut a length wise pocket in the tenderloins, being careful not to cut all the way through to the other side. Spoon half of the fruit mixture into each tenderloin pocket and secure with wooden toothpicks. Place the turkey in a 9-inch microwave-safe dish and set aside.

In a large, microwave-safe bowl, mix cornstarch, bouillon, mustard, honey and lemon juice. Microwave on HIGH (100 percent power) 1-1/2 to 2 minutes, stirring every 45 to 60 seconds. Fold in the mayonnaise.

Pour the sauce over the tenderloins and cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power) for 10-15 minutes, rotating the dish 1/4 turn every four minutes until the turkey is no longer pink in the thickest part.

Each of the four servings contains 360 calories and 6 grams of fat.

Local grads excel

The University of Michigan women's soccer team ended its season Nov. 9 at the Big Ten Conference Championships with a 2-0 semifinal loss to top-seeded Wisconsin.

A pair of local graduates -- Mari Hoff (Plymouth Salem) and Jori Welchans (Plymouth Canton) -- made strong contributions in the Wolverines title run.

In the tourney opener against Ohio State University, Hoff, a freshman midfielder/forward, scored U-M's first goal in its 2-1 victory.

Facing the Badgers, ranked 10th in the country, Welchans, a senior goalkeeper, replaced Jessica Jones in the nets early in the game after Jones suffered an injury on Wisconsin's first goal. Welchans, who compiled a 2-1 record this season, limited the Badgers to just one goal in her 60 minutes of action.

Hoff was one of three Wolverines named All-Big Ten, and one of only two freshmen in the league to receive the honor. She finished second on the team in points with 17, but recorded a team-high eight goals.

The Wolverines finished 10-7-3 overall and 4-4-1 in the Big Ten.

Lightning claim first

The '84 Plymouth Lightning, an under-13 girl's soccer team, claimed first place in the Little Ceasars Premier Soccer League by going undefeated with a 9-0-3 mark.

The Lightning outscored their opponents 25-2 this season, which was their first in the league. Earlier this fall, the Lightning took first in the Waterford Cup Tournament.

Team members are: Nicole Anderson, Shanna Barkume, Sarah Broniak, Arielle Bryant, Megan Coultas, Cassis Earel, Megan Gourley, Shara Huggins, Jenny LaMasse, Lindsay Lasher, Nicole Marrone, Ashley Rosaen, Brittany Shepler, Kelly Solano, Kristen Steineachs and Briana Wolcott.

The team was coached by Brian LaMasse and John Nickel, and conditioned by Dale Lasher.

Keeper records victory

The Eastern Michigan University men's soccer team won its first Mid-American Conference game of the season Wednesday as it defeated Western Michigan 3-1.

Key to the win was the play of goalkeeper George Tomasso (Plymouth Canton) who stopped 11-of-12 Bronco shots.

The Eagles improved to 6-11-2 overall and 1-3-1 in the MAC.

Sills leads in blocks

Shellye Sills (Plymouth Salem), is making a name for herself on the University of Toledo volleyball team. The freshman middle blocker leads the Rockets in blocks.

Sills has registered 29 block assists in the last 18 games for an average of 1.61 per game. She ranks fourth in the Mid-American Conference with 1.18 blocks in league play. Overall, she averages .84 blocks per game.

The Rockets are 12-16 overall and 5-9 in the MAC with three conference matches remaining.

Goalie stellar in nets

The Bowling Green State University hockey team came one game short of setting the school record for most victories to begin a year as it fell to Michigan State University 8-2.

The Falcons, now 6-2, have received strong play in goal from Canton-native Bob Petrie, who has recorded three victories in his four starts. The senior, who made 25 saves in the loss to MSU, was credited with an assist on Bowling Green's first goal.

Cheerleaders take first

The Steelers varsity cheerleaders fared better recently than the Steelers football team.

The gridders were thwarted in their effort to win a sixth Superbowl in seven years, losing to the Ypsilanti Braves 31-16.

On Nov. 9, the Western Suburban Junior Football League held their Cheerleading Rally and the varsity Steelers posted the highest score of the 42 teams who attended to win the gold medal in the varsity division.

All three Steeler cheerleading squads were Blue Ribbon winners.

Members of the varsity squad are: Courtney Akers, Andrea Alberty, Kayln Angell, Kelly Angell, Kayle Evans, Heather Flynn, Rachele Frusti, Ann Gardner, Tricia Gardner, Kara Gross, Rachel Hardy, Lindsay Heimerl, Chelsea Jeffery, Kristen Manoogian, Sarah Urban, Alix Willman and Emmy Willman.

Casey Gibson, Amanda Johnson and Christie Nicoloff coached the team. Co-cheerleading directors were Tanya Akers and Wendy Roberts.

"Voice of Drag" returns

Jon Lundberg, also known as "The Voice of Drag Racing," will be the featured speaker at 7 p.m. Nov. 20 at the Motorsports Hall of Fame in Novi.

The Speaker Series is held the third Wednesday of every month at the Motorsports Museum. Admission is $6. Call 800-250-RACE for more information.

Madonna stars seek a fitting finish to careers

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

STAFF PHOTOS BY BILL BRESLER

So much has changed.

When Kelly McCausland and Julie Martin joined the Madonna University volleyball program more than three years ago, they were quickly labeled prodigies. They would be the key components in Madonna's search for national prominence.

They met those lofty expectations in their first seasons. They helped the Lady Crusaders attain something that had previously eluded them: a berth in the NAIA National Tournament.

There have been precious few detours for either of them since. McCausland and Martin have provided the foundation for Madonna's program, serving as the propellant for a team bordering on greatness.

Now seniors, they have one remaining objective, and it's one they will tell you quite frankly -- without hesitation, without blinking -- they fully expect to realize in the coming weeks

A national championship.

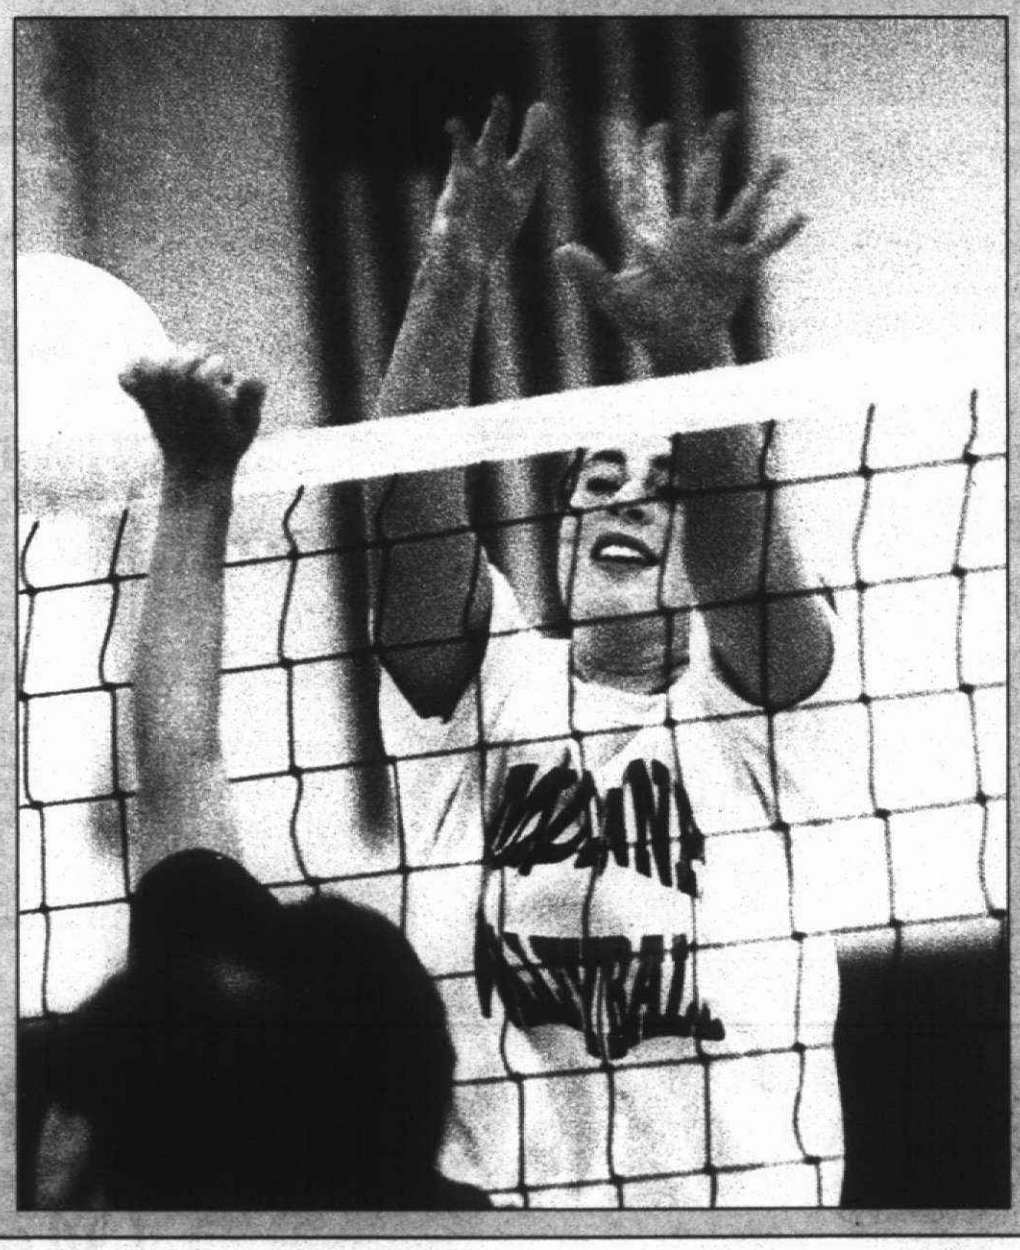
"This has been a goal of mine since I've been here," said McCausland, a Redford Union graduate. "Yeah, I want to go out with another (national tournament) appearance. This is my last chance to try this.

"And before, just making it was nice. But this year I think we can compete. It's not just getting there anymore, it's coming home champions."

Added Martin, a Livonia Stevenson graduate: "Everyone (on the team) wants to go all the way. And we've got the talent to do it.

"As a freshman, going to nationals was very big for me. Now I'm a senior, and we want to go all the way.

"I feel this team is the best since I've been here."



Considering that team their freshmen season finished fifth at the NAIA Tournament, such a statement seems overly zealous. But then again, consider this season's team -- 43-3 going into last weekend's Great Lakes Sectional Tournament and ranked 14th in the NAIA.

Should the Crusaders reach the lofty heights they're aspiring to, they will set a new record for match wins in a single season.

But that's not surprising. Since McCausland and Martin joined the program, one record after another has tumbled.

Through this regular season, Madonna has posted a 165-45 record when both are playing. They have made two NAIA Tournament appearances, won one District 23 title (the district format was abandoned after their freshmen season) and made two regional appearances, winning one.

They have been, according to Madonna coach Jerry Abraham, the Crusaders' catalysts.

"When they signed here, I called them the dynamic duo," he said. "Out of high school, I thought they could be two of the nation's best middle hitters.

"We really built our program around them."

Knowing the two players who have been the team's foundation for the past three years will be around for just a few more weeks is not easy for Abraham to face.

"They're not only great players, but they're great team leaders. They've worked all year round and they've been perfect people to coach.

"They have high expectations. The few matches we've lost, they take it real bad. Heck, they take it bad when we don't play well and win."

Since coming to Madonna, McCausland and Martin have provided a one-two punch most teams find difficult -- if not impossible -- to counter.

"They're different types of players," said Abraham. "Julie's a power-type player. She plays high over the net.

"Kelly relies more on movement, a slide attack. She can hit from anywhere on the court and be effective. She's a bit more versatile.

Late rally beats PCA

Southfield Franklin Road Christian rebounded from a 10-point deficit through three quarters to overtake -- and defeat -- visiting Plymouth Christian Academy 27-26 Thursday.

PCA (10-10) outscored Franklin Road 10-1 in the second quarter to open up an 18-7 lead at the half. They still led 23-13 through three quarters.

But Franklin (14-6) hit 6-of-8 from the line in its fourth-quarter rally. Sarah Whitney, who led Franklin with nine points, hit a free throw with a minute left for the game-winning point.

Elizabeth Pugno's 10 points and 12 rebounds led the Eagles.

Last Tuesday, Pontiac Notre Dame Prep outscored PCA 22-8 in the second quarter en route to a 59-41 triumph.

Sarah Sumner had 14 points and eight rebounds for PCA. Bobbie Bieszki's 13 points topped Notre Dame (9-10).

Quenching district thirsts

BRAD EMONS

"OK, kid, what would you like?," smiles the man behind the counter in the wire-rimmed glasses.

"What kind of flavors do you got?," the freckle-faced youngster responds.

Without going through the list of all those Faygo Pops, it's a good bet you'll find at least one flavor to your liking, you know, the kind that's a "prodigious, protation of sun-ripened citrus."

No red pop or rock & rye in this group of girls basketball teams, however.

We'll stick mostly with the name brands, the kind of stuff you like to drink come girls basketball tournament time.

November Madness is here once again and I'm running out of ideas for this twice-annual theme.

But here goes, time to give you a few refreshments to wet your appetite for this year's tournament.

MOUNTAIN DEW
(my favorites)

Redford Bishop Borgess (14-5): The Spartans have motivation, getting clipped in last year's state Class C final by Lansing Catholic Central. Frankenmuth, Lansing CC and Detroit DePorres could be stumbling blocks. But these girls have been battle-tested.

Plymouth Salem (17-3): The Western Lakes champs must get through a tough district (Plymouth Canton and Northville) and a mean regional (Birmingham Marian looms), but this team appears to be up to the task. This could be a breakthrough year for coach Fred Thomann.

DR. PEPPER

Plymouth Canton (16-4): A late-season tailspin, due to a lack of offense, could put these guys out early. But with a week off, coach Bob Blohm could get things ironed out in time for the third and deciding game Wednesday with rival Salem.

PEPSI WILD CHERRY

Wayne Memorial (15-5): The Zebras have had a nice season, gaining a co-share of the Mega Conference-Red Division title. The Garden City district is very winnable and a spot in the regional finals is highly probable.

MUG ROOT BEER

Farmington Hills Harrison (13-7): Came on strong during the latter portion of the season, reaching the WLAA championship game. The district at Bloomfield Hills Lahser is intriguing, and coach Pete Mantyla's Hawks are capable.

SUNKIST

Livonia Ladywood (3-14): District championship? It's possible for the Blazers at Southfield. Then they can go home to the regional. If only Leigh Kennedy could suit up and shoot the three.

MINUTE MAID

Farmington Hills Mercy (10-10): The Marcus have a tough road to hoe in the Lahser district with Lahser, West Bloomfield and Harrison, all decent teams with good records. But who knows?

FAYGO MOON MIST

Livonia Stevenson (8-12): The Spartans haven't won a big game all season, but Wednesday's potential matchup against Ladywood at Southfield could put them in the regional. Not out of the possibility. If only Mo Drabicki had some eligibility left.

HAWAIIAN PUNCH

Lutheran Westland (19-1): The Warriors started their season with a loss (Detroit Benedictine), and it could be over tonight against state-ranked Riverview Gabriel Richard. But whatever comes up, a lot of good happened in between for coach Dan Gentz's team.

Redford Thurston (16-4): The Eagles tied for the Mega-Blue Division co-championship with Taylor Center, but tonight's Class B matchup with host Detroit Renaissance, another state-ranked team, is difficult. Regardless, it's been a nice season for Thurston.

ALL-AREA BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Fast afoot

Moore, Little rank with area's best

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK
STAFF WRITER

Repeat selections Rob Block of Livonia Stevenson and Jared Roth of Farmington Hills Harrison highlight the 1996 All-Area Boys Cross Country team.

Block, a junior, was the Observerland's top cross country runner and has won his city meet for three straight years. He is hoping to repeat his trip of last year to the United State Track and Field finals.

Roth, who started running as a sprinter, made the All-Area team last year in his first year of competitive cross country running.

Shaun Moore
Plymouth Canton

Moving up from second team honors a year ago are Mike Felczak of Livonia Stevenson, Joe Wojtowicz of Westland John Glenn and Jon Little of Plymouth Salem.

Also on the boys All-Area team are John Griffin, Chris Laney and Dan Danic of Redford Catholic Central, whose 17th place finish in the state meet led Observerland schools.

Rounding out the team are Shaun Moore of Plymouth Canton and sophomore Josh Burt of Livonia Franklin.

FIRST TEAM SELECTIONS

Rob Block, junior, Livonia Stevenson: "Rob knows how to race," said his coach, John Gores. "He knows how to read his body and is able to combine that with a fierce competitive attitude." Block led area runners in the state meet, finishing 17th in 16:27.47. His best time was 16:17 at Cass Benton. He was undefeated in dual meets and captured the Western Lakes conference championship. Block has run in the state meet since his freshman season.

Jared Roth, senior, Farmington Hills Harrison: "Jared is the finest runner I have ever coached," the Hawks' John Reed said. "He has a terrific future of running ahead of him. He's very coachable and competitive – and a terrific person." Roth finished 23th in the state meet individually, was second to Block in the Western Lakes championships and placed sixth in his regional. "A lot of colleges have shown interest in him because he's accomplished a lot in a short time," Reed said of Roth.

Mike Felczak, senior, Livonia Stevenson: "Mike is a runner who is very competitive," Spartans' coach Gores said. "He has a very good sense for pace and has been able to use that ability successfully in his races." Felczak ran second to teammate Block in the Livonia city meet and was seventh in the Western Lakes meet. He was 39th in the individual race at the state finals.

John Griffin, senior, Redford Catholic Central: "Although quiet by nature, John has manifested remarkable leadership qualities, Catholic Central coach Tony Magni said, "not only academically, but also in his capacity as leader of our team. He endures to his maximum potential and participates with selfless concern, dedication and loyalty." Griffin was second in the Haslett Invitational, third in the Catholic League championship, fourth in the Operation Friendship meet and third in the state regional.

Chris Laney, senior, Redford Catholic Central: "Chris is an excellent example of running in the summer and hard work paying off," Shamrocks' coach Magni said. "He steadily improved each year to become one of the elite runners in the Catholic League and in the area. He was our most consistent runner." Griffin and Laney gave CC an excellent 1-2 combo. He finished fourth in the Haslett Invitational, fourth in the Catholic League championship, eight in the Operation Friendship meet and eighth in his state regional.

Moore turned in his best run of the year in the state finals, where his 16:56.29 put him 48th. He was No. 1 in every meet but one this year. Spitz laid out what Moore had to do to become a top runner – and the youngster went out and did it. He finished fifth in the Western Lakes meet and 15th in his regional.

Joe Wojtowicz, senior, Westland John Glenn: "Joe provided outstanding leadership this season as co-captain," Rockets coach Jess Shough said. "He was very consistent, scoring as a medalist in every invitational in which he ran. He is an outstanding individual." Wojtowicz established the John Glenn course record with a personal best time of 16:55 at Central City Park. He was 13th in his regional.

Josh Burt, sophomore, Livonia Franklin: "Josh developed into an extremely competitive and consistent runner," Patriots' coach Bob Holmes said. "He never had an off race during the entire season and peaked for the big races at the end." Burt was 52nd individually at the state meet, was fourth in the Livonia city meet and 16th in his regional. His best time was 16:57.

Jon Little, sophomore, Plymouth Salem: "Jon has a great desire to win," Rocks' coach Geoff Baker said. "He is a hard worker and will be one of Salem's best." Captained the team as a sophomore. Best regular season time was 17-minutes flat but lowered that to 16:44.6 in the USTAF state meet, where he ran fifth overall. Was ninth in the Western Lakes meet and 24th in his regional. Was fourth in the Crestwood Invitational.

Dan Danic, senior, Redford Catholic Central: "A great example of perseverance," coach Magni said. "Being injured his sophomore and junior years, Dan never gave up. He matured into a very competitive runner. Despite his own personal achievements, Dan is a team player at all times." Danic placed ninth in the Catholic League championship, 10th in the Operation Friendship meet and 15th in his regional.

Shaun Moore, junior, Plymouth Canton: "Shaun is the kind of kid who will listen to what you have to say, contemplate it and in a relatively short time take action on it," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "He started out as a middle-of-the-pack JV runner last year. But he kept on working, and by the end of last season he was No. 3 on the varsity."

CANADA DRY

Farmington (7-13): The play this season of Amanda Porter gives the Falcons reason for hope, but the Lahser district draw is not favorable.

North Farmington (8-11): The Raiders missed the WLAA playoffs and it appears they will miss out on the district fun at Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

7 UP

Redford Union (7-13): The Panthers are in position to play for the district championship because first-round opponent Detroit Redford has really struggled this season. Can they beat either Stevenson or Ladywood in the final?

CREAM SODA

Livonia Churchill (5-15): The Chargers showed some promise earlier in the year, but couldn't get into the WLAA playoff dance. Tonight's foe, state-ranked Northville, is too good to beat.

Livonia Franklin (5-15): Coach Gary Warner's Patriots could reach the Garden City district championship game with a little luck. Too bad daughter Dawn is not around to complete the job.

ORANGE CRUSH

Garden City (3-17): The Cougars are at home, that's the good news for the district. The bad news is that somebody else will be playing for the championship come Friday.

SQUIRT

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (12-7): The division champions of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference reached the district final a year ago, but can they get over the hump? The door is open at Taylor (You Light Up My Life).

CRYSTAL LIGHT

Westland John Glenn (0-20): The Rockets, in search of their first win, could break out tonight against Romulus, the last place team in the Mega-White Division.

St. Agatha (10-10): The Aggies are to be commended for playing .500 ball, but winning the Southfield Franklin Road Christian district, with state-ranked Auburn Hills Oakland Christian as the favorite, is a tough task.

COUNTRY TIME

Plymouth Christian (10-10): Greenhills, Whitmore Lake, Grass Lake? Sounds more like an outdoor hunting and fishing expedition than a district girls basketball tournament. PCA gets to bring the country to the city. Who has the better game? Who knows?

DIET SQUIRT

Livonia Clarenceville (3-17): Thanks to a redraw in the Class C district at Dearborn St. Alphonsus, the Trojans got a reprieve. The business at hand for Clarenceville tonight is Detroit Commerce. Originally, the Trojans would have played Borgess. Now they played the winner of St. Al's and Detroit Communication & Media Arts.

Plymouth Agape Christian (12-1 record last report): Truly the area's mystery team. That one documented loss came at the hands of Plymouth Christian. I need a root beer.

"Opponents don't know who to fear."

Or defend. And that spells trouble.

Which is what the pair have been for Madonna's foes. Both have phenomenal stats: Martin with 2,664 kills and 1,435 blocks in her career, McCausland totaling 2,581 kills and 1,005 blocks.

With Martin bothered by a shoulder rotator cuff injury all last season, McCausland was pushed to pick up some of the slack -- which she did with tremendous results. She had 893 kills with a .462 attack percentage, 390 blocks and 901 digs, numbers that earned her NAIA All-American status.

McCausland's development was a key factor in Madonna's return to the NAIA Tournament in '95. But with Martin's injury keeping her from playing to her full potential -- Martin's attack percentage for the season (.388) was the lowest in her collegiate career -- the Crusaders were unable to forge too far against the tough tournament field.

The soil was sowed, however, for this year in that short tournament run.

Good opponents or bad, the Crusaders have been able to maintain their concentration through most of this season. It's evident in their record against NCAA Division II teams; Madonna had 11-straight match wins against NCAA II teams before falling to Oakland University last month.

Staying focused during such a season, with road trips most weekends to play colleges most Detroit-area natives have never heard of, rests with the coaches, yes -- but not just them.

Seniors must help. At Madonna, they have.

Which is evident by the Crusaders' record. McCausland, Martin, setter Meg Paris and outside hitter Heather Steinhelper -- Madonna's four seniors -- have all filled the leadership roles.

But it's not over yet. The biggest challenge awaits.

"It's not pressure," was how Martin described her feelings toward the tournament ahead. "It's more confidence. I feel more in control now, as a senior."

Their destiny is in their hands, this season more than ever. "I think we're more in tune, like a desire we all have," explained McCausland. "I don't feel pressure -- it's more a sense of urgency to get there.

"It's kind of like closure. Sure, it would be a great season if we didn't make it (to nationals). But getting there and winning would be a nice closure to our careers."

Is such a thing possible, against teams with tremendous volleyball traditions and talents?

Don't put it beyond these Crusaders.

1997 Buick Park Avenue Ultra changes for the better

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

ROAD TEST By Anne Fracassa

Change is good, some say.

When it comes to the 1997 Buick Park Avenue Ultra, change is really, really good. And change is what this car really needed.

Its updated exterior look, modern interior and strong engine make the Park Avenue Ultra signal a new turn for Buick. Until recently, many thought Oldsmobile was the General Motors senior citizen in need of retirement. Olds was, well, for the old.

But Buick's cars were just as stagnant. Out of date. Old.

This new Park Avenue Ultra brings Buick into the 21st century. The styling is a little better, at least. It's still not what the 20- or even 30-year-old would readily order. But it's a beginning.

Let's start with the inside. The interior is roomier than last year's model and it's brighter, too. Larger instrumentation — you know, the knobs and buttons — is welcomed for anyone's hands. Seating is comfort-driven for all five passengers.

There's a neat console in the middle of the front two seats that accommodates a writing surface and storage compartment. The power outlet in the middle of the instrument panel is nice for the cell phone or laptop, of course, but there should be a place to store the cell phone. Putting it on the floor board just causes problems during hard cornering. And you don't want a phone slipping under the gas pedal — or worse — when it's ringing.

The Park Avenue Ultra comes equipped with the 3800 Series II Supercharged V6. A strong engine it is and it gets you there when you punch it. Horsepower is rated at 240. And fuel economy — 18 mpg in the city, 27 on the highway — lends itself to no worries about taking this smart touring car on long trips.

The size of the Park Avenue has also changed. The wheelbase is more than 2 inches longer. What that gives you is more room on the inside for your head and hips. A little more than a cubic foot has been eliminated from the trunk volume (now 19.1 cubic feet), but the lift-over height is lower and the opening is larger for easier access.

The new seat-mounted safety-belt system in the front are really neat because the design allows anyone to have the shoulder belt come comfortably across your shoulder. It's a real nice fit.

Quiet, this puppy is.

Buick engineers used sophisticated engine mounts, triple door seals and a one-piece cast magnesium cross-car beam to quiet both the exterior and interior.

Some neat trivia about the Park Avenue Ultra: If the air bag deploys, the doors will automatically unlock in 15 seconds. The use of electrical multiplexing (that means fewer wires can perform more jobs) reduced the number of wires that go into a door by 75 percent. The same key opens the car's locks and is also used in the ignition. There's even a damage-resistant radio antenna in the rear window.

Climate controls are really handy and there are dual front controls and adjustable rear-seat vents. That means when your spouse is cold and you're not, you can adjust the climate controls for your side of the car. There's a replaceable filter in the system that removes pollen and other stuff from the air before it's circulated to the inside of the car.

Park Avenue Ultra comes equipped with 4-wheel-disc anti-lock brakes, variable-effort power steering, aluminum suspension components, 10-way power driver and front passenger seats, PASS-key III theft-deterrent system, power operated lumbar support adjustment, "flash-to-pass" and daytime running lamps.

The remote keyless entry not only opens your door and trunk, but it also can do a bunch of stuff. It can be programmed to remember mirror and seat positions, automatic door lock operation, perimeter lighting, delayed lock and security feedback.

At first, I thought the Park Avenue had a mind of its own. I started the car and the windshield wipers turned on. And the turning stalk said the wipers were "off." I turned them on, off, on, off. Still kept running. Got to my destination, turned the car off and back on and they stopped. Hmmmm.

Later in the week, driving down the highway, it started to sprinkle. All of a sudden, the wipers turn back on. Now I think the Park Avenue is possessed.

Not at all true. Buick engineers found a way to design moisture sensing windshield wipers that are triggered automatically according to the level of moisture detected on the windshield. There's even a tire pressure monitoring system that alerts you if your tire needs a bit more air. Neat features.

Other stuff you'll like: dual air bags, anti-lock brakes, power windows, door locks and mirrors, delayed entry and exit lighting, gradual "theater dimming" interior lights, battery rundown protection, lockout protection on power door locks, chimes to warn of parking brake engagement, turn signal and headlamps left on after you turn the car off, 100,000-mile platinum-tipped spark plugs, transmission fluid that requires no change under normal operating conditions and traction control.

The all-new Park Avenue Ultra should get your attention when choosing a sedan that's long on comfort and features. This car is perfect for the business executive as well.

WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results–whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise–is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in-kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.
