Do Plymouth-Canton students and the district - really benefit by taking the MEAP, High School Proficiency and other standardized tests? Candidates in the June 9 school board election have different views.

seat on the board of education in the June 9 election, the candidates discussed the subject in recent interviews with the Observer.

The three were asked about the Michigan Educational Assessment Program, or MEAP test, and the High School Proficiency Test. Said Bollman: "Who are we testing? Should we test kids or the teachers? If a third-grader can't read, how do we teach them again?

"We don't teach grammar, vocabulary or phon-ics - unless you are lucky enough to have a Bentley teacher who believes you teach it in addition to sight reading. We don't have a cur-riculum that is consistent."

Bollman said she's not opposed to standardized testing, however "fourth-grade teachers are forced to spend far too much time giving the test. Teaching kids how to pass the test doesn't teach them how to learn.

Four sexual assaults were reported to Canton Police last week, two of which involved children. The assaults were not related, police said. All four cases do have one common link: the alleged attacker was an acquaintance of the victim. As of Tuesday no arrests have been made, although police are continuing their investigations.

A freshman at Plymouth-Salem High School told a school guidance counselor that she was raped by a fellow 17-year-old student, police said. The alleged assault occurred at the girl's home in southeast Canton on May 19.

The 17-year-old boy admitted to assaulting the girl - and other girls in a similar manner, police said.

The girl claims she told him six or seven times to stop while he had her pinned to the floor. The boy claims he didn't have her pinned down, but "she may have been so scared she might not have been able to move," the police report said.

There also were conflicting accounts as to whether the sexual assault included penetration.

In the other attack involving a minor, the victim was a four-yearold boy who was visiting a neighbor's house in the northern portion of Canton.

A 12-year-old boy who lives at the residence offered to play with the young boy in his bedroom while the victim's mother was at the house May 20.

The mother noticed the boy's pants were undone went he left the older boy's room. Police officers questioning the four-year-old were Forty-eight Plymouth and Canton seniors from seven schools are smiling - not only about graduating because they are now the recipients of merit awards and scholarships, thanks to the Plymouth Woman's Club and community contributors.

The event is sponsored by The Woman's Club of Plymouth and supported by the Plymouth Manor and the Observer.

"Our first scholarship awards dinner (in 1983) was actually a ball," K.C.Mueller, chair of the scholarship ball committee, told guests and students at The Woman's Club of Plymouth Invitational Scholarship Awards Dinner May 20. "It was under suspicion. Was this undercover for a debutante ball?"

At first, only women applied for the merit awards and scholarships. But as the annual event grew in popularity, more men joined in and walked away winners.

Scholarships are donated by area corporations and individuals. Merit awards are of lesser amounts. Both are awarded to students based on academics and community and school involvement.

"In the community, we really need to be involved," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen-McCarthy and Woman's Club member. "You are active, committed and involved young people.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Superintendent Charles Little recognized the winning students' abilities to set goals and follow them.

"A prefound and deep congratulations. You have mastered the work of young people in the 1990s and that's schoolwork," he said. "You had clear goals. As oung people you have already identified the things hat are important in your life."

A piece of Canton's history has been preserved by a devel-oper who expects to put the old Hough School - now a threeom vintage home - on the

We reatored it to what it looked like in the 30s," said Belovicz. The front half of Hough School is built of a beam strue-ture. Three hand-hewn trusses approximately 10 to 12 inches thick run across the length of the building.

Squadron storms Willow Run

o matter what my knees were doing, when the offer came to ride with the Red Baron Stearman Squadron - Four Ship Aerobatic Team, my mouth piped up "I'll do it!"

PHOTOS

Aerial showmanship or "barnstorming" began prior to World War I but flourished in the 1920s when thousands of surplus military planes became available at bargain prices. Traveling across the countryside dozens of barnstorming pilots earned money by performing at fairs and taking adventurous passengers for rides.

Continuing the tradition, the Red Baron Squadron is flying for charity at the Wayne County Air Show this weekend with proceeds going to the American Cancer Society with the focus on children.

At 8:30 a.m. Wednesday morning I arrived at Willow Run Airport to preview the activities. Having been somewhat shaken on a simple Ferris wheel a few days earlier, I realized this could be trouble.

A tall, dark man came into the room wearing a Red Baron jumpsuit with the name John Bowman printed on his lapel. John is the lead pilot of the formation aerobatic team and has flown for the Red Baron's since 1982. Although he has more than 10,500 hours flying time to his credit he confesses to a fear of falling off a ladder while cleaning his plane.

The four bi-planes were walked from the hanger and arranged in a row. John instructed me on how to get into the plane and carefully explained the procedure to follow in case of an emergency. Of course, I wasn't paying too much attention as he was strapping me into my parachute and headgear with earphones and microphone. Through the headset John explained every movement as we were positioning for takeoff. The plane engine was loud and rumbled as we bounced down the runway.

We were in the air in a flash. The ride was a bit bumpy though John said it was a pretty decent day for flying. Having only a small windshield for protection, I was surprised to learn I didn't need my goggles. We were up in the air approximately 2,200 feet (aerobatics need to be performed at least 1,500 feet in the air).

Of the four bi-planes, John and I took the lead formation and it was difficult to see what the others were doing. John's voice came through my headset and said "Tammie, are you ready for a little aerobatics?" I said, "go for it!"

Having never flown in this type of plane, I barely knew what to expect. I'm not quite sure what we did but I saw the horizon line every which way and the G-forces gave me an instant facelift and pressed me backward into my seat. All I could do was laugh and yell wo-o-o doggie!"

"You'll notice we don't talk to each other a whole lot up here," John said.

"Most of the communication is with head and hand signals. Sometimes I have both hands and feet on the controls and it's hard to give hand signals so I use my head to indicate a turn or when we're rolling out of a turn.'

We did the "loop," "hammer-head turn," "barrel roll" and "quarter clover." Then indicating that we were heading for home, he did a sharp turn to the right and came in for a very smooth landing.

Unable to see in front of the plane, John shimmied back and forth along the runway to

Whatever the future may bring, this is what will bring it. The fact is no one really knows for sure what the future will bring. It's the reason 1984 wasn't like "1984." And why 2001 will be nothing like "2001." But there is one thing we do know - in the future, our entertainment, our information and our communications will all come from Broadband. • OK, so what is Broadband? Simply put, it's a wire with enormous capacity, a wire with two-way capabilities. The wire you now think of as bringing you cable TV is being transformed into something that can literally bring you the future. Broadband will give your computer the power to be as entertaining as your TV. Your TV will become as smart as your computer. And you will be able to communicate in ways you never imagined. O Right now, in communities around Boston, Detroit and Jacksonville, where our networks are already in place, Broadband is allowing people to download from the Internet up to 50 times faster, providing the fastest Internet connaction to the home. A supersonic speed that is changing the way people are using the Net. O Broadband is making ideas travel faster. The exchange of knowledge is increasing exponentially. Once you are connected, you will no longer merely be entertained; Broadband's unique twoway capabilities will let you send home videos through your computer, entertaining others. You won't just sit back and be informed. You will inform. Nothing will remain static. • Over the next few years, a whole new culture will emerge. Not just through our computers, but through our TV as well. Broadband is about a new level of involvement and interactivity. You will no longer be strictly on the receiving end of genius. And once your big idea connects with your friend's amazing inspiration, there will be no end to the brilliance that can come from Broadband in the next hundred years. ## Police presence Increased patrols make sense igh school seniors, their families and friends will notice additional police offi-ers around the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park and at traditional activities as the school year draws to a close. That beefedup police presence shouldn't be taken by students as a lack of trust in their judgment, or by the community as a sign that trouble is expected.

A12(C)

The joint effort by the school district and public safety departments in Canton Township and the Plymouths is simply common sense.

Having a combined high school campus in a large district presents unusual challenges for school officials - one of which is how to maintain safety and order during major events. Kids are by nature going to be pumped up for prom night, the last day of school and commencement. Some will undoubtedly "enhance" their celebration ritual with alcohol and other substances. But most, we hope, will be exuberant and sober at the same time Still, when thousands of celebrating stuA year-end tragedy or disturbance-marred graduation is something nobody wants and everybody remembers.

dents - many with cars - are confined to a relatively small area, there is the potential for problems.

That's why nearly a dozen officers from three departments will be assigned to the campus on June 4, the last day of school for seniors. A similar police detail is expected for commencement on June 8, which will be held locally for the first time at the Compuware Arena in Plymouth Township. Uniformed officers do act as a deterrent. More importantly, any small incident can be handled immediatebefore things get out of hand.

A year-end tragedy or disturbance-marred graduation is something nobody wants and everybody remembers. If extra police officers can help ensure safety and order, we say bring them on.

Liberty Fest offers family fun

he Liberty Fest - like Canton itself - is in a | display and a pie-eating contest co-sponsored growth mode these days. This year's festival, scheduled for June 19-22 at Heritage Park, boasts a number of new events including a laser-light show, more varied musical entertainment, a Friday-night road rally and free outdoor showings of major family films (including Disney's live-action

"101 Dalmatians"). They join well-established festival favorites like the midway, fireworks

by the Canton Observer.

Organizers expect the sixth annual festival to draw 45,000 visitors from Canton and neighboring communities. Free admission and (hopefully) good summer weather make the festival ideal family entertainment. And the expanded schedule makes the Liberty Fest truly a community event with something for

Rouge Rescue is model project

We hear a lot about "volunteerism" these days. It's become the buzzword of the late '90s, a newly discovered concept. And that's fine But to the Friends of the Rouge, "volunteerism" is nothing new. They've been relying on volunteers for the past 12 years in their efforts to restore the Rouge River to an unpolluted state. And on Saturday, June 7, Rouge Rescue '97, the 12th annual cleanup, will take place. More than 2,500 people are expected to take part. Indeed the entire Rouge project has been a classic example of volunteerism and cooperation. From the $1 billion Rouge River National Wet Weather Project - the federally funded project to build retention basins to treat stormwater before it flows into the river - to the volunteers fishing old tires and downed trees from the water, the Rouge cleanup project has involved all levels of government, businesses and private citizen volunteers.

But much remains to be done. And local governments and citizens can play a major part. An Environmental Protection Agency official says local communities should take active roles in clearing logjams and managing stormwater flow and runoff. That, according to Tim Henry, associate director for watershed and community environmental protection for EPA Region V, is due to the "variability" of stormwater flow from one community to another.

Henry also urged local communities to "work together on watershed management." We're seeing a cooperation now between local communities, federal, state and county agencies and U.S. District Court on watershed management. Communities were encouraged to participate in the drafting of stormwater permits required under the Clean Water Act and use voluntary methods, such as street sweeping and downspout disconnection programs, originating from the local communities and not as a federal mandate. In these voluntary programs, communities are left enough room to meet Clean Water Act guidelines so they and residents aren't bankrupted by federal court rulings, which would happen if sewer separation was required in these local communities. Residents, even those who do not take part n the annual cleanup, can do their part to keep pollutants out of the Rouge. Since many of the contaminants flow into the river as part of the runoff following rainstorms, residents should avoid washing such things as fertilizer or oil and gas spills into storm drains. Home septic systems should be properly cleaned and maintained. Even something as simple as washing your car on the lawn instead of the driveway can help keep pollutants out of the sewer system. More active roles include joining Friends of the Rouge or taking part in Rouge Friendly Neighborhood programs.

The entire Rouge project has been a classic example of volunteerism at work. And it has worked. But there is still much to be done.

Freedom of speech

love living in this country because it allows publicity seekers such as Jerry Vorva to say whatever they want even though it doesn't make sense or what they say is incorrect. But freedom of speech also allows citizens, like myself, to debate people like that.

Mr. Vorva, in his lawsuit against the school district, indicates that the March vote was held on a Saturday so people would not have an opportunity to vote. If he was at any of the school board meetings or at any of my presentations on the bond election, Mr. Vorva would know that the exact opposite was true. We make it very clear in these open, public meetings that the purpose of a Saturday election was to allow more voters the opportunity to vote. In fact, the March election had the fourth highest voter turnout since at least

He also contends that the election was held in March so senior citizens would not be afforded the opportunity to vote. Again wrong!

The Citizens' Election Committee intent was to go after the Senior vote by educating senior citizens on the state of our school district and what the bond issue was about. We had two well respected senior citizens, Dr. E.J. McClendon and Ms. Esther Hulsing, on our committee and they made presentations to the senior citizens at a number of meetings. A luncheon was also held at the high school for seniors to attend to see the high school and hear information regarding the bond issue.

I also take issue with the newspapers that report Jerry Vorva was a former this and a former that in our community. Tell the readers his true background. He was a former police officer with a controversial past, a former state representative that was voted out of office, a current real estate agent, and a cur-

Mr. Vorva does not know what he wants to be when he grows up and, yet, he is attempting to ruin educational progress for my son and all of our children.

Voting for Dershem

On Monday, June 9, the voters of the Ply-mouth-Canton Community School district will elect a new school member. The new member will be part of a team that bridges our district to a new millennium. As an individual concerned with the direction of educa-

Dershem. Suzanne Dershem repeatedly demonstrates her involvement and concern with the future of our school district. She is a consistent and active participant in school board meetings. Suzanne is well-versed with the ins and outs of Proposal A and its affect on our district (via her position on the PCCS Legislative Action Committee). Suzanne also is involved on a personal level through her son's PTO at Bentley Elementary School. Does the Plymouth-Canton school district need individuals who are forward-thinking? Does our district need individuals who will work toward equitable funding from the state? Does our school district need individuals who are involved day-to-day with our schools? If your answer is yes, then I urge you to vote for Suzanne Dershem.

We need a representative who is dedicated, involved and informed. And Suzanne Dershem is all of these. This is your opportunity as citizens, parents and responsible individuals to vote on June 9 and have a positive impact on the future of the Plymouth-Canton School District

Sale was a success

The Friends of the Canton Public Library Annual Big Used Book Sale was huge. We made in excess of $11,600 in book sales and memberships. Amazing.

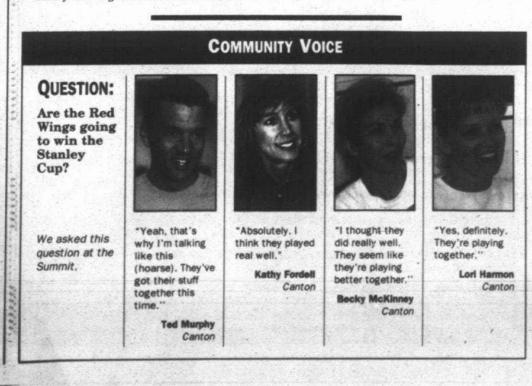

We want to sincerely thank everyone involved - the people of Canton who donate all the books, the ones who visited our sale and purchased the books, and especially the Friends members who sort, haul and sell the books. It's a big job, a cooperative effort by all and certainly a worthwhile venture. Our wonderful library and the entire community will benefit by all we will be able to accomplish this year because of the sale.

Remember, too, our Unbook Sale on Friday and Saturday, June 20-21, during the Canton Liberty Fest. If you have CDs, audiotapes, videos, computers, monitors, keyboards, mouses (mice?), modems, etc. to donate, or would like to help with the sale, please call the library at 397-0999. Thank you in advance for your participation

The problem here is what economists call a mismatch in local labor markets. he recent articles in the Observer regarding domestic violence are certainly a reflection of increased public awareness brought about by the media and very public O.J. Simpson trials. Domestic violence is a serious problem in our society with predominantly male defendants. However, female on male violence is neither miniscule nor without serious consequences. State police figures for 1995 report male victims in 45 percent of domestic homicides, 32 percent of aggravated assaults and 18 percent of simple assaults. These statistics strongly suggest that female on male domestic violence is much greater than the 5 percent commonly reported by women's groups. Recognizing that female on male domestic violence is significant does not negate nor dilute the seriousness or magnitude of the male on female domestic violence problem.

The articles also quote comments by several police officers such as "taking the complaint out of her hands" and "protecting women from boyfriends and husband." These quotes serve to foster the stereotype of the male aggressor. In particular, these comments indicate a prejudice against the male by the officers who are interested in carrying out a proarrest policy - a policy that dictates that police must determine who is at fault and who is the aggressor.

ANDREW KOPYSTYNSKY

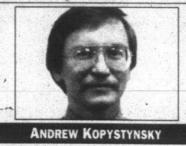

Limited comment was reported regarding false arrest reports to gain leverage in custody oridivorce proceedings. There was no comment regarding false reports to deflect responsibility for initiating physical violence. In a basically he said-she said scenario with no physical evidence or witness, there is a prejudice against the male. Allegations are easily made. The state takes over the prosecution. If the defendant chooses to contest the charge, even successfully passing a polygraph unequivocally is of no help since this is not admissible in a criminal assault trial.

The costs to the defendant are significant regardless of the final out-come. Even though a substantial number of these cases are dropped or found not guilty, there are serious social, professional and financial repercussions to these defendants. There are no repercussions in the domestic violence statutes for false allegations. It would be naive in the extreme to suggest that this male prejudice and the lack of legal consequences are not used to gain advan-

The 1994 amendments do address some deficiencies in the domestic violence statutes. Legal consequences for false allegations would go a long way toward reducing the incidence of manipulation of the legal system for personal gain. Increased awareness of the general public especially the police, attorneys, judges and female prosecutors of both sides of the domestic violence problem would certainly help to make the judicial system impartial. The fines do need to be raised. As many police departments will tell you, it's worth the risk to deny you information because, if you sue, it costs them only $500. Our public officials need to be punished much more severely for their planned sins of secrecy

Good as those changes are, I have others in mind that may be more important.

The first has to do with committees. The Open Meetings Act says a public body's committees and subcom mittees are also public bodies and subject to OMA.

But suburban government and uni versities slither around the law by appointing committees that include elected officials, administrators and the public. The Ionia school board appointed a committee to look at athletic standards that included students.

Any committee that deliberates public policy, even for a mere recommendation, ought to meet in public. Shunning daylight, Ionia shut the doors on its committee, and Attorney General Frank Kelley upheld the Ionia tactics - a bad ruling.

Any student of government will tell you that the real work is done in committees. Anyone who suggests that a committee can be closed because its decisions "aren't final" is joshing you, as well as proving Richard's First Law of Government.

The law needs to be repaired to cover any committee appointed by a public body such as a college board, school board, intermediate district board, county commission, municipal council, township board or special authority board - whether or not the board members are part of the committee

Another change would be to cap fees that public agencies may charge under FOIA. When (for example) police departments want to hide their ineptitude, they don't deny access but delay their responses and discourage you with atrocious copying fees. Governmental price-gouging should be stopped tough times. Moreover, the composition of the auto work force in Michigan has changed significantly over time. While auto assembly remains an important part of the economy, the auto industry has built lots of assembly plants around the country, leaving at headquarters in Michigan a disproportionate share of white-collar labor force of engineers and managers, folks who are unlikely

Worse, many banks that used to have their corporate headquarters in Michigan have been bought out - NBD is now headquartered in Chicago, Michigan National has been bought by an Australian bank holding company and Standard Federal's takeover by a Dutch concern has just been finalized. Although there is little current evidence this change of focus has had much effect, I cannot believe that we will see in the foreseeable future the sort of local focus and concern that existed while ownership was firmly rooted in the state.

But, according to the experts, Michigan has become a pretty secure place to find work and raise a family. For those of us who remember the 1970s and 1980s, that's a big and welcome change.

Head of anti-tax group raps fuel tax hike plan

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

State budget makers got $83 million of good news when the House Fiscal Agency reported a rosier-than-expected revenue picture.

The agency told lawmakers the state was $1.2 billion below the limit of $21.7 billion imposed by the 1978 Headlee amendment to the Michigan Constitution.

That failed to stop Bill McMaster, chair of the gadfly Michigan Taxpayers United, from blistering the "ambush plan" of top Republican officials to raise fuel taxes about $200 million. "Any increase in gas(oline) taxes will have to be decided by taxpayers and not the governor or state legislators," McMaster said at a May 20 news conference in Pontiac.

He blistered Gov. John Engler, Oakland Executive L. Brooks Patterson and Brent Bair, managing director of the Oakland road commission, for seeking the fuel tax increase as part of what the governor calls his "Build Michigan II" program.

But the HFA report, released two days later, said the applica-, ble limit is $21.7 billion, based on 9.49 percent of state total personal income of $228.4 billion for the current fiscal year, while revenue is projected at $20.4 billion.

For fiscal 1998, beginning Oct. 1, the limit will be $22.6 billion. while actual taxes are projected to be $1.4 billion less.

The HFA report came as legis lators put together school aid, university and community college appropriations bills that are tens of millions higher than recommended in February by Engler's Department of Management and Budget. In short:

Baseline general fund revenues on May 22 were estimated at $8.82 billion, or $83 million higher than estimated last January

School aid fund revenues are estimated at $8.66 billion, or $68 million higher than the January estimate. The school aid fund consists of much of the 6 percent sales tax, lottery and other revenues dedicated to K-12 public schools.

Mitchell Bean, senior economist for HFA, forecast a rosy picture for the Michigan economy during the rest of 1997 but a slower growth rate in 1998. Highlights:

Personal income rose by 4.4 percent last year, will go up 5.4 percent this year, and taper off to 4.6 percent in 1998.

I Unemployment, after hitting a low of 4.4 percent last month, will average 4.7 percent for the entire year and 4.8 percent in 1998.

Inflation, as measured by the Detroit consumer price index, will drop from last year's 2.7 percent to 2.6 percent this year and 2.5 percent in 1998.

Michigan's "rainy day fund," an accumulated surplus to be used in times of recession, rose to $1.15 billion for fiscal 1995-96 (which ended last Sept. 30). The fune will grow to $1.23 billion this Sept. 30 and $1.31 billion for fiscal 1997-8 (beginning Oct. 1).

The HFA forecaster assumed a federal budget deal between Congress and the Clinton Administration that will result in a balanced budget by 2002.

Poor little robin is gentle victor

nce upon a time, a week ago Wednesday, a schoolgirl walking past our house called out, "There's a sick bird over here, in the bushes, I think it's hurt or something, it's not moving.

Carmen, my 10-year-old, just minutes home from school herself, heard this cry for help. She burst out the door, ran across the street to the grassy boulevard where the other little girl stood. I saw the two talking, I saw their hands expressing concern and helplessness.

And then Carmen came running back home and asked if she could have the towel hanging in the bathroom. A cold May drizzle had begun to fall. I said, "OK." Away she dashed, with towel in hand.

Her older brother, Tony, and the three little ones looked on as she scooped the bird up, carefully, and brought it into our home. It was a robin, a quite fat and healthy looking robin except it was lying quite still on its side on the towel.

I'm not an ornithologist, I don't know from birds, but this, to me, did not look good at all. No matter. My children wanted things to be right for this creature. A small dose of comfort and care would help.

I choked back my skepticism as those five pairs of eyes met mine. A box was found and Carmen very gently laid the bird, still wrapped in the towel, inside the box.

I shook my head, it was a subtle shake, one that spoke of futility. Carmen saw it; I didn't mean for that to happen. She began crying. I told her we'd keep the bird dry and warm and safe, we'd put the box up high enough so our cat and the nosy, curious younger brothers wouldn't bother. And then she got ready for her gymnastics practice.

I took Carmen to her practice and returned home. While I was gone, Tony had set up a warming light over the bird box. I looked inside expecting to find the limp form of a near dead bird. Instead, I saw a robin standing up, on its own two feet and making a cheep noise

I couldn't believe it, I called the little boys and Tony over and said, "Look! She's feeling much better! Look how she's standing there!" They

Bit of relief RLS sufferers find support in new group

With the help of her second husband, Lillian Eory has found some relief from a motion disorder in her legs that has at times forced her to eat dinner standing up. Now, she hopes to help others with a new support group.

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

As she talks, Lillian Eory presses the palms of her hands into her thighs, moving them up and down in hard continuous strokes.

She's not certain if she does the hand movements out of need or out of habit, but it is a home remedy that seems to give her some relief from the twitchy, itchy feeling in her

"I can feel it coming," she said. "I have to take my pills on time, so I don't get started, because if I don't, I'm in for a good 30-45 minutes of it until the pills take effect."

The Westland resident is among an estimated 3 million Americans diagnosed with Restless Legs Syndrome, a motion disorder characterized by uncomfortable sensations that usually occur in the calves, but can be felt anywhere from the thigh to the ankle.

Eory's first brush with RLS was at age 35, but it took 28 years and the help of her husband, Frank, before she found "the right kind of doctor" and some relief two years ago

"I'd been going to a doctor all along, but when I married Frank seven years ago and he saw what I was going through, he decided we would find a doctor," Eory said. "I went to 12 doctors before I found the right kind. I went to chiropractors, neurologists, psychiatrists and endocrinologists until I final found what I needed, a neurologist specializing in motion disorders.

Lifelong condition

RLS was first described by Thomas Willis in 1685. A lifelong condition, it has no cure. Its cause is unknown, although it can run in families. Symptoms gradually worsen with age and are worse in the evening and at night, making sleeponset insomnia its most disabling feature, according to the Minnesotabased Restless Legs Syndrome Foundation.

While Eory uses words like itchy and twitchy, others describe the sensations as creeping, crawling, tin-gling, pulling and painful. The symptoms worsen during periods of relaxation and decreased activity, making riding in a car, watching a movie, going to dinner or sleeping difficult because of the irresistible urge to move the legs when the sensations occur. Eory has had to stand up in a restaurant to finish dinner, to play cards and even do crafts. "Even taking a plane," she said. "I had an attack and it pushed me into a panic attack because I wanted to get off. I pushed my head into the corner and cried, then I took two Tylenol 3s and fell asleep."

ago. Compounding the RLS, is diabetes-induced neuropathy that is slowly killing the nerves

"If we went from here to Chicago, we'd have to stop a half dozen times; it was aggravating," added Frank. "But the frustrating part is that doctors don't understand; they would just give her a bunch of bull.

That was until they found Dr. Jay Garol, a neurologist specializing in motion disorders, at Henry Ford Hospital. With Garol's help, Eory has been able to manage her symptoms and get some sleep - "I slept from 11:30 to 6 a.m., my longest sleep for God knows how long."

"I never got a whole night's sleep," Eory said. "I get four-five hours and then I'd get up and walk or do the laundry, As long as I was on my feet, I was OK."

A combination of dopamiergic agents to reduce symptoms and nighttime leg movements, benzodiazepines to depress the central nervous system and allow her to sleep even through movements and sensation, and opiods to kill pain and relax have given her relief.

"My husband travels a lot with his work and with Dr. Garol's help, I can go with him now," she said. "I take my medication just before we leave and stay up all night so that I get in the car and fall asleep. The best trip was when I slept all the way to Chicago."

Washington's newest memorial honors women in military service

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

Like the E.F. Hutton advertisement, when Wilma Vaught spoke, Congress listens.

In 1986, the retired Air Force brigadier general went to Capitol Hill to ask for a lasting tribute for women veterans. Congress listened and came up with three different sites for the memorial. Two were unsuitable, but the third - the gateway to Arlington National Cemetery - was just right.

Eleven years later, women around the country are literally beating the bushes to get information on the estimated 1.8 million women who have served - and are serving - in the military since the Revolutionary War.

"It's fun; it's like throwing a rock in the pond," said Dorothy Dabe, fresh from working a booth at the Women's International Expo in Novi. "It's the ay women have been passing the word around." The Clawson resident is one of 82 women across the state who serve as field representatives for the Women in Military Service for America Memorial. Across the country, field reps are helping to raise the money needed to construct and maintain the memorial and to find and encourage women veterans or their families to participate.

When completed, the memorial will be 272 feet wide, the largest memorial in Washington, D.C., dedicated to the military. Unlike the black granite walls of the Vietnam War Memorial or the towering statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial, the WIMSA memorial is a complex, using the cemetery's hemicycle wall, built in 1933, as its facade.

The memorial will house an education center with a display of uniforms, theater, chapel and Hall of Honor which will have a computerized registry of women who have served in the armed forces, past and current. The database will include.

Tight all the way Canton clips Blazers in state tourney opener

BY C.J. RISAK SPORTS EDITOR

Really, what happened in Tues-day's Class A pre-district softball qualifying game between Plymouth Canton and Livonia Ladywood asn't shocking.

Or jolting. Not even stunning. That lack of surprise didn't lessen the drama, however. When two league champions face off in a qualifier, one anticipates a high gree of tension. And that's what Ladywood and Canton supplied in quantity Tues-day at Ladywood. The Blazers struck first, but the Chiefs answered their one-run rally in the bottom of the second by pushing across two runs in the top of the third, and that's all that was needed.

Canton's 2-1 victory completes Saturday's district bracket. Can-ton, now 29-5, will play Livonia Churchill at 10 a.m.; Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem play at noon.

The winners of those games will meet to decide the district title at approximately 2 p.m. All the games will be at Ladywood.

The Blazers will take an 18-15 record into Thursday's Operation: Friendship game against the champion of the Detroit Public School eagu

"That was a helluva game," said Canton coach Jim Arnold. "It could have gone either way. It's unfortu-nate the two best teams in the dis-trict played each other first."

Arnold's final sentiment was echoed by Ladywood first-year coach Bob Lulek, who resigned himself to the early meeting of the two championship teams. Canton won the Western Lakes Activities Association title; Ladywood was best in the Catholic League. "We were going to have to face them sooner or later," he said. "That's the way it goes. Someone's got to win, someone's got to lose. "This game could have gone either way. It was just a matter of who got the breaks."

At first, it seemed that honor would go to Ladywood. An error by Canton shortstop Nikki Canton shortstop Nikki Kovachevich allowed Sara Thies-meyer to reach first base to open the Blazers' second inning. Danielle Raub followed with a single, and Cathy Hermann beat out a grounder for another hit, loading the bases with Blazers. Margaret Day then grounded back to Canton pitcher Gretchen Hudson, who went home for the force out. But when Chiefs' catcher Amy Lagrow fired to first to try for the double play, the ball got past first baseman Kristin Witt. That allowed Raub to score the game's first run. Hudson got the damage being done, and she was nearly untouchable the rest of the way. Ladywood managed just one other hit and had only three baserunners over the last five innin

The Blazers' 1-0 lead didn't last, however. Hermann, the all-Catholic League pitcher, ran into trouble after walking Kovachevich with one out in the third. A sacri-fice bunt moved Kovachevich to second, with two out.

Tara Biro followed with a grounder to the mound, but Her-mann couldn't pick it up and both runners were safe, Kovachevich moving to third. Biro stole second uncontestedly, putting runners at second and third.

Angela Litwin followed came Angela Litwin forlowed came through with the first Canton hit of the game, a blooper that popped out of first baseman' Melanie Grewe's glove. Kovachevich scored and, when the Blazers tried to nail Litwin at first, Biro raced home with the go-ahead run.

"Aggressive baserunning by Tara Biro got us our winning run," said Arnold.

There was still a long way to go, but it belonged to the pitchers. Hudson, just a sophomore, finished with a three-hitter; the only run allowed was unearned. She walked just one and struck out seven.

Hermann, a senior, nearly matched that effort. She surrendered two unearned runs on five hits and two walks, striking out four.

"We didn't really make a mis-take,"said Lulek. "We had a ball go off of a glove and they scored two runs on it.

"My seniors, I'm not happy for then

Almost every season ends that way. This one deserved to be a district final, at the very least; but as Lulek said, "That's the breaks."

The senior left-hander did hit part, allowing just one hit and four walks over seven innings, and was also supported by a 13-hit attack as the Spartans eliminated Salem in the first leg of the state tournament, 8-2, in a game played at Redford Catholic Central.

The win moves Stevenson (13-9 overall) into a 10 a.m. Saturday's semifinal at CC against Livonia Churchill (7-13). The other game, starting at noon, pits CC (18-13) against Plymouth Canton

Stevenson's 1st-half onslaught is too much for Canton to overcome

BY C.J. RISAE SPORTS EDITOR

Two weeks ago, in winter weather conditions, Livonia Stevenson dominated Plymouth Canton in the Western Lakes Activities Association soccer final.

Despite their mastery, the Spartans had to settle for a 1-0 victory. Last night in a Class A regional semifinal played on Southgate Anderson's smaller field, but in perfect weather, Canton turned in a better game against their nemesis. The Chiefs got more scoring opportunities and didn't allow Stevenson ownership of the midfield.

The result: worse, at least for Canton. Stevenson pumped in three goals in the first half, two coming off of corner kicks, and although the Chiefs had more chances, they didn't capitalize on any of them.

Stevenson's 3-0 victory, in a match played at Southgate Anderson, makes for an all-Livonia regional final. Livonia Churchill routed Woodhaven 9-1 in Wednesday's first game at Anderson.

Churchill and Stevenson play at 11 a.m. Saturday at Anderson. The winner advances to the state semifinal, which will be at Jackson's Mehall Field at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The state final will be 1 p.m. Saturday, June 7, at Plymouth Canton's field.

"They took it to us," said Canton coach Don Smith, his defending state champions finished for the season with a 14-2-2 record. "If we could have got one in early on, it might have changed the complexion of the game

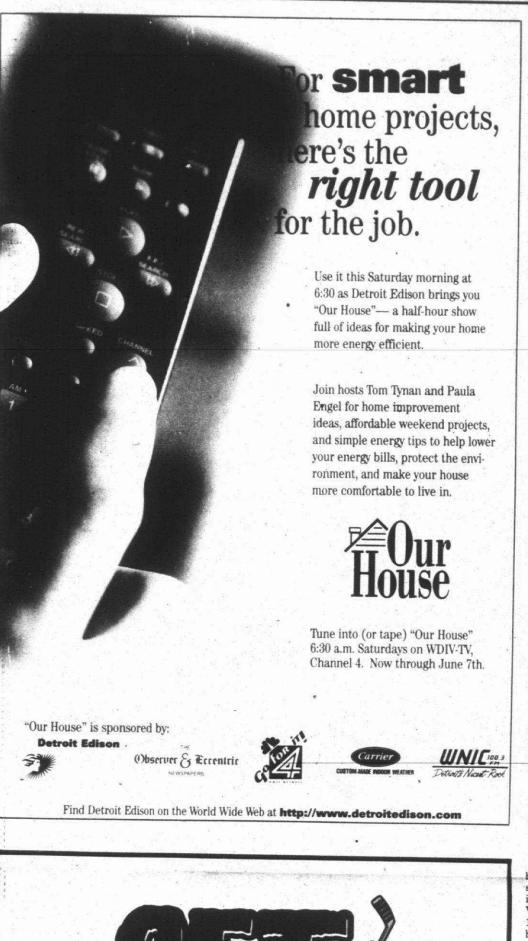

Of course, getting one in the net against Stevenson is no easy chore. The Spartans' incredible streak continues - they have surrendered just one goal in 20 games (they are 18-0-2) this season, that coming in a 3-1 regular-season triumph over Northville.

The Chiefs have had their shots at Stevenson, that's for sure. Wednesday's match was the third time the two have met this season; Stevenson has two wins and a tie.

Canton has been blanked all three

Cougars jolt Franklin BY STEVE KOWALSKI STAFF WRITER

What's worse than an early exit from the Class A girls softball state tournament? One that happens earlier than expected.

Livonia Franklin, playing four days sooner than it originally anticipated, lost to Garden City, 4-0, in a Class A predistrict game Tuesday hosted by the Cougars at Garden City Park. The game originally was scheduled for Saturday, but the draw was re-done after the late addition of Detroit Cody to the district field following some confusion about an eligibility list. The new draw had the Patriots and Cougars meeting Tuesday, instead of Saturday as originally drawn.

Neither coach complained about the new setup, which changed the practice schedule for both teams.

"It was kind of hard going through school today knowing you had to play the game,' Franklin coach Linda Jiminez said. "But if we had won, it would have been fine."

Garden City coach Barry Patterson asked his players to set aside some of their time over Memorial Day weekend to practice. It turned into a wise investment.

"It was equal for both teams, one of those freak situations," but we had a whole week of praccancel plans to go out of town. Right now it's well worth it."

scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday. Patterson laughs at the irony that his team could be a district champion and still have a sub .500 record. It's a testament to the Cougars' competition in the Mega Conference Red Division. "We knew the winner of today's game would be the favorite," Patterson said. "But you've still got to come out and play every game."

Garden City senior pitcher Angie Hudson won a pitcher's dual against Franklin junior Lori Jendrusik. Hudson scattered five hits.

walked none and struck out four. Jendrusik allowed six hits, walked two and hit two batters, and struck out five. Garden City sophomore Kelly

Sylvester, recently called up from the junior varsity, had two hits, scored a run and drove in a run in her second varsity start. Sarah Lewis had two RBI, one on a "swinging" bunt.

The Franklin players and coaches were teary-eyed afterward. They'll remember their 22-8 overall record, but mostly some growing pains that turned out or the best in the end.

It was the final high school game for seniors Missy Blanton, lessica Sabbadin, Randi Wolfe, Margaret Schultz and Melisa

"These five seniors came a long way, became role models, maturing, and their sportsmanship improved," Jiminez said, "We had a lot of talks last year. I've coached teams where we've been successful but it's like 'Bye, bye girls.' I've never cried before this team had a .328 batting average through the year. The other three Franklin hits. came by Jackie Ziem, Schultz and Kelly Young.

Garden City scored two runs in the third inning, one in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Sylvester led off the third with single. Lewis ground out sent her to second base and a passed ball to third. Danielle Biegas's single scored Sylvester with the first run. Missy Bako singled to get Biegas to third and Biegas came home on a ground out by Brandy Mulvaney.

In the fourth, Katie Kendrick reached base on an error. She got to second on a passed ball and scored on a double by Sylvester for a 3-0 lead.

Talbot's triple in the sixth was followed by Lewis' bunt single , that gave the Cougars a 4-0 lead. Patterson said the play of Sylvester and the breaks the Cougars are now receiving are welcomed at this time of year.

"It's only the second game she started for us," Patterson said. She's been-swinging the bat good of late, gotten an opportunity to start, and will probably get another one.

"Mike's always been a control pitcher and today his fastball was working," Stevenson coach Mike Keller said. "Today we got a little hitting, a little field, good pitching and good defense. It was a combination of things." Stevenson scored four times in

They did Wednesday. "Execution was the key tonight," said Stevenson coach Jim Kimble.

It didn't take long, either. With just 5:18 elapsed, Sarah Wittrock angled her corner kick into the middle of the box, in front of the Canton goal. Allison Campbell, the key to the Spartans' offense, headed the ball to the far corner of the net — right where Brianna Roy was positioned for the tap in. The second goal looked similar, only from the other side of the Canton net. Melissa Jacobs took this corner, putting the ball into a spot populated by Canton defenders. But Campbell charged through the tangle of players, chested the ball to the ground and poked it past Chiefs' keeper Kristin Lukasik, making it 2-0.

"Surprisingly enough," said Kimble, "we worked on corner kicks for two days after our last game with them. It was one area we felt we could be better at.

"Sometimes things work." The 2-0 lead, considering the Jacobs in front of keeper Jenny Barker, must have seemed insurmountable to Canton.

It soon expanded further. Jacobs got control of the ball late in the first half and took it toward the corner, to the right of the Canton goal. She unleashed a shot that somehow squeezed between Lukasik and the post, and into the net, to make it 3-0. "I can't say we didn't lose some heart," Smith admitted. "When you're down 3-0, it can be hard to stay enthused.

Expose yourself to all the information you can garner, because you cannot buy good taste. Acquiring this knowledge should be fascinating. I have never tired of pursuing it; whether through current or outdated magazines; whether through books on related subjects; whether visiting museums; or whether attending lectures by knowledgeable people.

Our local Detroit Institute of Arts has remarkable displays of interiors for your edification. You will love it! What you learn will depend on how you relate to the objects, and how they relate to your needs.

Early American, Colonial, 17th century Spanish or English or German, and 18th century and 19th century and 20th century etc., etc., etc. Endeavor to learn a little about each era. Your knowledge will pay off if you make fewer costly errors when assembling your interiors.

It is hoped, if you have retained an interior designer, he or she has also accumulated cultivated taste. If this sound pretentious I regret it, but too many of us aren't thoroughly educated.

There are many styles of furniture and accessories that are eclectic, and happily mix together. There are a few that don't

Do you know the difference between a 17th century Windsor chair and a 17th century French bergere? Who was Thomas Chippendale? Necessary information.

Acknowledging architectural detail is another element needed to execute an inordinate job. Crown moldings, dentils, columns and pilasters are a few of the items you should be able to recognize.

Execute your interior with accouterments that are harmonious with all of the foregoing. You will be so proud of the final outcome.

Write on: Books offer adventure

"Book Nook" column runs the gamut from personal gardening experiences and advice, specialty gardens and John Muir's nature writ-

Muir

"Iohn

Nature Writings" MARTY FIGLEY (The Library of America, $35), should be on every bookshelf. Muir (1838-1914) was instrumental in reating our national parks system and was a founder of the Sierra Club.

The book includes a collection of ome of his best-loved compositions, beginning with "The Story of My Boyhood and Youth" in which he relates his oung boyhood in Scotland, the family's nove to America and his enthusiasm for he wilderness of nature.

In "My First Summer in the Sierra," e shares his experiences of being in central California, and in "The Mountains of California" his lyrical words evoke the beauty that he found there. "Stickeen," his most popular book, is the story of his Alaskan adventures while accompanied by a faithful dog.

Some of the essays that are included reveal highlights of his long, fascinating and varied career.

Specialty gardens

"The Self-taught Gardener: Lessons From a Country Garden," Sydney Eddison (Viking, $24.95), is a down-to-earth book for both novice and experienced gardeners. It is a no-nonsense approach to this popular activity and she makes it sound easy.

Eddison gives information (such as what deciduous means) and other advice she couldn't find in other books when she began gardening, and covers all aspects: tools, division, basic design, paths, winter interest, soils and more. She describes her 10 favorite plants for sun, shade and other situations and suggests companion plants to carry the garden through the season.

Eddison lives in Connecticut and writes from experience covering questions that gardeners (especially new ones) need to know and often don't know who to ask.

The small book "Catfish Ponds & Lilv Pads: Creating and Enjoying a Family Pond," Louise Riotte (Storey, $12.95), tells all about the subject and the Riotte family experiences.

Even though you don't have the land on which to build a pond, the recipes that are included may make it worthwhile

Recipes for catfish, turtle soup and fried frogs legs may not be in your repertoire. Hearty Fish and Vegetable Chowder, Southwestern Style Baked. Beans, and Baked Trout will make your family ask for more.

Riotte's book is both witty and fun to read, but it also includes practical information about the subject, pond construction, plants, fish and wildlife, maintenance, and the pluses that the pond

"Japanese Gardening in Small Spaces," Isa Yoshikawa (Joie/Japan Publications, distributed by Kodansha America Inc., $28), is the definitive book for those who want an authentic Japanese garden.

The author explains the principles behind each style of garden, how to place the stones, water basins, lanterns and accents to best interpret the designs. He also discusses the use of trees and shrubs, stones and gravel.

The directions for constructing a kinkakuji-gaki (bamboo fence) are very complete, with excellent illustrations. Line drawings of detailed explanations will result in an authentic garden of which the owner can boast.

Family values

"Landscaping Makes Cents: Smart Investments That Increase Your Property Value," Frederick Campbell and Richard Dube (Storey, $16.95), is an invaluable guide.

The authors explain in great detail about the value of landscaping, perceived and real. If you are planning to improve your property, buy or sell, this book is an important tool that will help in many decisions.

"Green Fun: Plant as Play," Marianne Haug Gjersvik (Firefly, $7.95 soft, $19.95 hard), is the perfect book for youngsters as summer vacation begins.

The author shares how to make playthings with leaves, flowers and weeds, using just your hands. No other equipment or supplies are required.

Color photos of each project illustrate just what to do. Tuck this into a picnic basket and enjoy the experience!

House given special treatment

BY MARY KLEMIC At Home Editor

"If these walls could talk ... " the expression goes.

You could say the walls, treated with luscious colors and fabulous faux finishes, almost sing in the Mark and Lisa Sanderson home in Plymouth.

The house is one of 10 in the Plymouth-Canton-Northville area that will be featured on the Symphony of Homes tour sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony League. The tour will take place 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday, June 6, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 7.

Each house on the tour has something unusual to offer, such as historical value, creative decorating or beautiful gardens.

In the Sanderson residence, the walls often draw attention, Lisa Sanderson said.

"They're all different colors," she said.

The shades include soft gold and gentle peach. The hues - from a warm, appealing palette - and open, beckoning archways contribute to the welcoming flow between the rooms.

Lisa, who does faux finishes professionally, gave special treatment to various walls.

The house was built in 1927; Mark and Lisa think it is possibly a kit house as they discovered all of the boards in a room were numbered.

The couple has lived in the house for three years and did renovation work that brought out or enhanced its beauty. Leaded glass doors and cove ceilings are among its style.

"It's been a lot of fun," Mark said. The work included removing the acoustic tiles from the living room ceiling. The living room features a brick fireplace, a large armoire and a rose sofa on an area rug; the walls have a European distressed plaster finish. As elsewhere in the house, the wood floor has a natural finish. Raised designs form a border around the arch outside the adjoining sun room.

"The sun room is where we hang out," Lisa said.

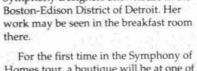

Walls in the sun room have a Venetian plaster finish, a touch of Old World charm.

The walls in the dining room had been covered with dark paper. The Sandersons removed the wallpaper and painted the walls sage.

Shutters along the bottom of the windows bear floral fabric that matches the backs of the slipcovers Lisa made for the chairs. The slipcovers also have offwhite skirts.

The kitchen, which the couple enlarged, includes a fan on the white wood ceiling and green tiles on the counter space. Painted bunches of grapes accent one wall.

Lisa Sanderson has decorated rooms in three showhouses in the last three years, including this year's Detroit Homes tour, a boutique will be at one of the houses. It will feature items from The Velvet Plum, Traditions, Friends, Debbie Malek, Carolyn Still and more. Station 885 will be there with beverages, light lunch food and desserts available for purchase.

Many area businesses - including Sideways, Ribar Florist, The Velvet Plum, The Ritz Carlton, Heidis, Emerald City and Jewel - have donated raffle prizes, floral arrangements and other details. Local musicians will perform in the houses.

Pre-sale tickets are $15 and available at Frameworks, Beitner Jewelers, The Velvet Plum, Friends and Coldwell-Schweitzer Realtors. Tickets will be available tour days at any of the houses for $18.

Columnist takes on small appliances

from IOF GAGNON

I had lunch the other day with Bill Damman and he was asking what I'm going to do with my life once I retire Carmack Appliance. nformed him that I wanted to write a book about a certain school principal I know and that I'd like to devote the rest of my time to expanding my radio show to other parts of the country

He asked if the money-was good at my current position with WJR Radio and if I was pleased with what I was doing. I replied, "I work for the best radio station in this country and they pay me much more than I'm deserving. I enjoy helping consumers become more aware and saving a lot of money, and I constantly want to reach more people."

You know how it feels to do something good for someone else, well, imagine how it must feel to do it for several 4 hundred thousand people. Now, you can understand the happiness that I feel.

Bill's conversation went a lot further until he brought up a good point. "Why don't you become a total appliance expert by expanding into the field of small appliances like irons, toasters, breadmakers etc.? Imagine how many people you will be able to help with vour knowledge."

Well, folks, he didn't have to say more because at that point he had me hooked. I have already begun the process of getting information from manufacturers about their products and how they are made etc. I am asking that they send me a new product that I can tear apart and put back together. I will not pay for these products but I will donate them to someone needy in their name, provided it still works once I'm done taking it apart. I will interview these manufacturers on why their product is worthy of mention and we as consumers will gain information that makes us better shoppers.

Now, let's get into the unwritten which many of you can already figure out. I'm not shy to say what's on my mind because the end result is helping consumers. Damman Hardware stores sell a lot of small appliances and it would benefit them greatly to have this writer as a spokesperson for their 18 stores. I personally would be pleased to play that role and it might even help the producers of such products to advertise, especially if the show was syndicated. I'm certain that Dammans' would become a major advertiser on WJR Radio and therefore the station would benefit as well. This great newspaper that you're reading today would also benefit from more advertising and more readers.

All in all, everybody would share in the talents of the Big and Small Appliance Doctor. More important than all of the above, the essence of everything I do, you the consumer would benefit most Sometimes we all need a wake up call to remind us or awaken us on a given subject. You may thank Bill Damman for hitting me on the head and starting me on this new venture. I will return the example to other business people already associated with me on radio.

Joe Gagnon, the Appliance Doctor, will answer your questions about maintaining and repairing large appliances. Gagnon is president of Carmack Appliances in Garden City and does a weekly radio program on WJR-AM. He is author of "First Aid from the Appliance Doctor," available at area bookstores.

Special showings at 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday, May 30-31; Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 5-7. It seems that his majesty

King Arthur has temporarily moved his monarchy, elot, to a very enchanting, prime piece of real estate - the Greek Theatre in Bloomfield Hills. Located at 400 Lone Pine Road, behind St. Dunstan's Playhouse on the grounds of Cranbrook Educational Community, the 600-seat Greek Theatre has been the site of St. Dunstan's Theatre Guild's summer show for 59 of St. D's 65 seasons. One of only six outdoor amphitheaters of its type in the country, the Greek Theatre will be home to Alan Jay Lerner's and Frederick Loewe's musical "Camelot" when it opens May 30 for a five-perfor-mance run. Directed by Birmingham resident and 28-year St. D's member Nancy Brassert, "Camelot" reunites several cast and crew members from another Lerner and Loewe musical that Brassert also directed at the Greek Theatre in 1991, "My Fair Lady." Among those are Birmingham residents Richard Hartle as King Arthur and Edgar A. Guest III as Arthur's trusted advisor Pellinore; and Bloomfield Hills resident Marlene Loucks as music director. "Camelot" pits chivalry against deceit and revenge when King Arthur's bride Guinevere (played by St. D's newcomer Jan Casai of Bloomfield Hills) falls in love with Lancelot (Chris Steinmayer of Bloomfield), a knight of the Round Table. Their affair is exposed by Arthur's illegitimate son, Mordred (John Marshall of Pleasant Ridge) who attempts to dishonor King Arthur and overthrow the throne. That "one brief shining moment" is shattered forever. "'Camelot' is a show of dreams and hopes and human frailty," said Brassert, who worked very closely with set designer Bob Raisch of Lathrup Village to ensure an authentic backdrop to the musical, which Brassert has set between 1250 and 1300 A.D. "I think it's a show that displays forgiveness and tolerances for human mistakes. Look at this day and age. There's so much nastiness going on," adds Brassert, who's directed five outdoor shows for the Greek Theatre and worked on more than 80 sets in her 20 years as chair of the Set Production Committee. "There's a feeling of compassion between Lancelot, Guinevere and King Arthur. Arthur loves Lancelot as a son. He also loves Guinevere and doesn't want revenge on them. He wants them to be safe. But, at the same time, Arthur knows that his Round Table fell apart because of Guinevere and Lancelot. So he's forced to go to war because of tradition."

Now, you can't exactly go to war without the proper gear. And it's just so hard to find comfortable armor these days. So, St. D's Wardrobe Mistress and "Camelot's" costume designer Roz Basherian of Bloomfield Hills took a very 1990s approach to a very medieval problem: She surfed the net. Her detective work uncovered that there was a way to knit chain mail, a flexible armor made of linked metal circles. Ultimately, Basherian was led to Tobin Lakes Studios, a theatrical supplies distributor, in Brighton. "I commandeered my mother to follow the directions in the kit and knit a chain mail set out of cord to see if it would work" says Basherian about the costume dilemma ably solved by her 82-year-old mother, Margaret Melikian, a St. D's season subscriber and former professional dressmak-er. Basherian wanted her mother to knit with thenylon cord because Basherian felt cord would be more realistic looking than yarn. "Then, I ran an ad in St. D's newsletter: 'Join the chain mail gang. Chain mail knitters wanted."

That led Basherian to a knitters group within Birmingham Area Seniors Coordinating Council), including one 90-year-old nimble fingered woman. Four BASCC members and several St. D's volunteers produced 12 sets of chain mail. With six pounds of white cord per hood and tunic set -that's 36,864 feet of cord for all the costumes the knitted chain mail was then spray painted with a black matte finish and finally shaded with silver metallic paint to create a genuine armor effect. In addition to their hoods and tunics, Arthur, Lancelot and Pellinore wear knitted chain mail leggings.

"The biggest challenge when costuming a show is to bring about a look that's in

Original Lancelot returns to star in 'Man of La Mancha'

Robert Goulet who made his debut as Lancelot in the 1960 original production of "Camelot," stars in "Man of La Mancha," opening for a three-weekend engagement June 3-22 at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit.

The show by Dale Wasserman and songwriters Mitch Leigh and Joe Darion opened on Broadway in 1965 and became one of the biggest hits in New York history. It played in New York for seven years and won five Tony Awards.

The story of Don Quixote is told by its author Miguel de Cervantes to prisoners in a dungeon during the Spanish Inquisition. It is a tale of a man striving to pursue the dream of his attaining his ideal – "The Impossible Dream." The show captures the bold spirit and gallant absurdity of its hero Don Quixote.

Goulet received a Tony nomination for his role in "Camelot," and a Tony Award for best actor in the musical "The Happy Time." He returned to the musical "Camelot" in the role of King Arthur which played at the Fisher Theatre during its national tour in 1992.

In "Man of La Mancha," Goulet becomes the ultimate idealist, the deluded Don Quixote de la Mancha who, with his faithful squire, Sancho Panza, crisscrosses the Spanish countryside in pursuit of "The Impossible Dream." "Man of La Mancha," opens 8

I'm very fortunate that Nancy [Brassert] and I were on the same wavelength," says Basherian, whose art history and research librarian background proved very helpful on the project.

"Nancy kept asking 'How are you going to do this?" Basherian laughs. "But, actually, it turned out to be the easiest thing because the kit worked and I had so much help. The knitters were so enthusiastic, and the guys love wearing the stuff

New owners give historic mill breath of fresh air

The Observer & Eccentric/THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1997

Paint Creek Cider Mill has long been a late summer and early autumn destination for lovers of fresh cider. Now, this historic mill, built in 1835, has been given new life by restaurant owner Ray Nicholson and his wife, Mary. Under the management of Norman and Bonnie LePage and after extensive renovations, Paint Creek has reopened its restaurant for yearround dining in a scenic "Up North" atmosphere. There's nonsmoking only seating for 100 indoors and smoking permitted for about 60 on the deck with its creek view.

The Nicholsons explained that Paint Creek is one of the historical spots to which they brought their children when they were growing up only about a mile away. When the property came up for sale, they wanted to preserve it for their grandchildren and made the decision to purchase in 1996. Last November, the cider mill reopened with new equipment. Efforts then concentrated on the restaurant which had a soft opening mid-April. Despite this, locals have found the bar areas a place to meet friends after work and Oakland County foodies are filling up tables on weeknights and weekends

"While the mailing address signals Rochester, Paint Creek Cider Mill Restaurant is technilocated in Oakland cally Township," Ray Nicholson point-ed out. "The Township is 36 square miles with a population of 10,200 and 3,800 homes. We own the only restaurant and the

A bike rack out front signals welcome to walkers and bikers using the 10-mile long Paint Creek Trailway running alongside the property. Not only is their attire appropriate, but the menu reflects healthful choices for trail people.

An extensive menu is capably engineered by corporate chef Jeff Baldwin, Culinary Institute of graduate and America Commerce Township native, who has been with the Nicholson-owned and LePage-managed restaurants for more than 10 years.

"I created the Pecan Trout (pecan herb-crusted boneless rainbow trout topped with apple brandy sauce) $14 for this restaurant," he said. Broiled Planked White Fish $13 and tender, tangy Beef Short Ribs $10 are also Baldwin signatures.

Keeping an eye on diner preferences, Nicholson said the most popular starters are fried calamari, spicy chicken quesadilla and smoked rainbow trout. Falling-off-the-bone Bar B Que'd Spare Ribs (half slab $10 and full $15), Baked Vegetarian Lasagna $9 and Smoked Turkey Penne Pasta tossed with fresh basil, artichokes and roasted peppers topped with gorgonzola and Parmesan are also favorites. He's also noticing that many diners are opting for wine and the short but savvy list will be expanded.

Dress your house for success

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

Realtors agree that a well-presented house is a quick sale.

Sarah Parsons Zackheim, a writer and Birmingham native who now lives in Connecticut, and Martha Webb, a marketing consultant and former film producer, have taken presentation to a higher level with their book "Dress Your House for Success."

Although neither is a Realtor, they offer a five-point plan for prepping a house, which they say will blow away the competition and bring offers thousands of dollars higher than a typical, as-is listing.

"When you have a house for sale, it has a completely different purpose than a home for living," Zackheim said. "Its function is completely different. It's a product. It should be packaged and presented in the best possible light.'

The Webb/Zackheim plan is relatively simple - uncluttering, cleaning, repairing, neutralizing and dynamizing.

Sellers don't need to spend a lot of money. But they should plan on spending elbow grease and a great deal of attention to detail. They want neat, clean and a state of repair they may never have experienced before.

"Unfortunately, most people ... do superficial cleaning," Zackheim said. Here's what "Dress Your House for Success" advises: Take everything out of every drawer and cupboard, wash them inside and out, then re-arrange things in perfect order. Throw things out.

Dust or replace light bulbs in lamps. Polish plumbing fixtures, even those hidden behind vanity doors. Organize the garage and laundry. Sweep the attic. Throw things out.

You might set a cookbook, a loaf of bread on a cutting board or a tray of vegetables on the kitchen sink. Place an afghan over a chair, book open, lamp illuminated on a nearby table in the living room or family room.

Dynamizing is the icing on the cake. But uncluttering, cleaning, repairing and neutralizing come first. And if you choose to do just one thing, the authors

A. At the risk of sounding factitious, you can run for the association's board of directors and try to change their ways in a positive fashion. As many condominiums are coming of age after 20-25 years in existence, the concerns that many of us in the community association field have expressed are coming to fruition in connection with the unavailability of adequate reserves to meet the needs of these associations.

Associations should undergo reserve studies and build up adequate reserves from the beginning.

Boards should meet their responsibilities in terms of maintenance and repair to the common element in an honest and forthright manner.

Management companies should discharge their fiduciary responsibilities, which they own to the association and their members, not showing favoritism to one merely because he or she is on the board of directors.

Courts should look to these abuses and provide stern penalties to the associations and their board members who partake in these acts or omissions.

Talk to your neighbors and take political control of the association and the try to straighten things out.

Gordon E. Fox, a Realtor with Hall & Hunter in Birmingham, has been in the business for 27 years.

Roof can improve home's appearance

BY POPULAR MECHANICS FCR AP SPECIAL FEATURES

Most people give little thought to their roof until one of two events occur: it starts to leak or it looks so shabby it needs to be replaced.

In one sense, this is how it should be. There's enough to maintain in a home without worrying about your roof. In another sense, it overlooks the fact that a roof can go a long way toward improving or changing your house's appearance, and this has never been more true than today.

There are more roofing materials than ever - you don't have to settle for standard black shingles. You have your choice of color, texture and, of course, price. Furthermore, there's no reason your roof can't be worry-free. Today's roofing products combine durability with good looks.

OK, so we've settled the fact that need a new roof. With a little research.

you can install an asphalt shingle roof yourself. On the other hand, it's hard work. Besides, other types of roofs require professional installation, so you may have to hire someone. Picking a contractor is as important as choosing the right roofing. Here's a few words of advid

Ask for as many references as you can get. Check that the contractor has a license if you live in a state that requires it (not just a business license but a license for the trade). Ask to see insurance and bonding certificates.

Review the contract carefully. Any home-improvement contract should be pecific. It should cover when the work will start and when it will be completed (depending on weather), the complete cost (including the disposal of roofing debris), and the type and color of roof-ing should be specified in detail. Inci-dentally, the word "square" will probably come up in the contract or in your discussions. A square is 100 square feet of roofing.

Ask the contractor if the existing roofing needs to be torn off because some communities allow no more than two layers of shingles on a roof. Also ask if the deck or portions of it need to be replaced.

Finally, ask about the roofing's fire rating (Class A is most resistant to flame spread, Class B is next, followed by Class C). Some communities permit only Class A and B roofing.

All this makes the process sound more complex than it is. It all boils down to this: if you are going to go through the expense and the mess of having your house reroofed, you want the job done right.

Speaking of mess, make it clear that the job site be as clean after the job as before it. This includes using a magnetic sweep or dragging a magnetic bar over the driveway to catch roofing nails.
