Weekend tournament a real kick

Every soccer field from Canton to Plymouth will be occupied this weekend for the 16th Annual Memorial Invitational Soccer Tourney sponsored by the Canton Soccer Club

"We have 288 teams this year playing on 30 fields," said Dave Foess, organizer of this year's event. "We had to turn 100 teams away."

The tournament is for boys and girls ages 10-19. They come from Ohio and all over Michigan. Approximately 10,000-15,000 people are expected to attend, Foess said.

Aging school buses prompt bond

A $500,000 bond proposal will be added to the ballot in October as Plymouth-Canton school officials seek to replace older buses in the district's fleet. Voters are also being asked to approve construction of a new middle school.

Plymouth-Canton school transportation officials say the district needs new buses to replace an aging fleet, and that's the reason behind adding a $500,000 bond proposal on top of a proposed middle school bond issue in Octo-

However, transportation administrators are emphasizing that the 100 buses in the district, while in constant need of repairs, are safe to be on the road carrying children back and forth to class, as well as on field trips and athletic events.

"The buses are absolutely safe," said LuAnn Grech, director of transportation. "We've had an excellent rating from the state police inspections, and the buses don't go on the road unless they're in good working order. Safety is a priority here."

The average age of the 100 buses at the garage is nine years. However, Grech says at the high end, some buses are 15-years-old.

"Think in terms of having a vehicle that is eight-to-15-years-old, most people are putting a lot of money into those vehicles," noted Grech. "And that's what we're doing. We have a lot of wear and tear on the vehicles, and our spare fleet is on the road."

Grech said the older vehicles are the buses that are experiencing greater breakdowns on the road.

"That would be our vehicles in the 13-15-year-old range," she said. "The fact that we've gotten so much longevity from them is a tribute to our

The district's transportation department has eight mechanics, who Grech says are busy from 5 a.m. to 7 p.m. every weekday.

"We really count on them to keep the buses running," added Grech. "We were very blessed with a mild winter. But, we did have one cold day when things just got crazy and the staff was working hard just to keep up."

Greg Pirtle, the fleet service manager, says things happen when you get temperature extremes, whether it be cold or warm.

About 100 Canton residents blocked Farmer Jack from receiving needed approvals to build from the township's planning commission Monday night.

However, Farmer Jack isn't going

"We're reviewing our options right now. Certainly, we plan to come back to the planning commission as soon as possible," said Attorney Bryan Amann.

The grocery store is planned at the southeast corner of Cherry Hill and Canton Center, next to the Amoco gas station. The proposed 59,800-squarefoot grocery store would face Canton Center while a planned 12,000-squarefoot retail center would be adjacent to Cherry Hill.

In comparison, the Kroger store at Ford and Canton Center is 65,000square-feet.

The planning commission tabled the issue after 90 minutes of debate from residents. Planning officials said they

Watts sees three issues as top school priorities

Darwin Watts says it's the parent- and teacherinvolvement he witnesses at Bird Elementary that convinced him to enter the race for a four-year term on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Educa-

"I've got twin sons in kindergarten at Bird, and the parent- and teacher-participation I saw was motivation for me," said Watts, 38, of Plymouth. "I feel I can take the lead in helping the district get through some of the issues to keep that kind of quality."

Watts, manger of operations at Absopure Water Company, says his business experience would be a plus for the board.

"I see myself as a good communicator, a person who knows how to work within the system," said Watts. "I have a good level of understanding of how financial systems work, as well as 'people systems.

Watts believes there are three major issues needing to be addressed in the district: labor relations, school buildings and funding.

took them directly onto battlegrounds, delivering food, bandages and medical supplies to the wounded. She also helped document the 22,000 men killed or missing in action so their families could be notified.

Man treated for injuries in neighborhood fracas

A 22-year-old Wayne man was taken to Annapolis Hospital Saturday night by Canton Fire Rescue after a fight with neighbors in the Sheldon and Saltz area. The assault started from a dispute earlier in the day over children playing with water.

Police were first called to a home on Brookline Street when a 9-year-old boy was allegedly slapped on the back and chased home by a 34-year-old man. The boy apparently threw water on the man's niece, making her cry.

Dan Gilmartin, manager of federal and local affairs for the Michigan Municipal League, a lobbying group representing municipal governmental units, and Livonia Mayor Jack Kirk-

Both officials believe the proposal will disproportionately distribute money to rural townships, communities that traditionally do not levy taxes for infrastructures or water and sewer service.

"Stockbridge Township receives 50 percent of its revenue from state shared revenue, but its fund equity is 277 percent,' Gilmartin said.

That means the township's cash reserves far exceed the total expenditures, but the township levies just 0.88 mills, because rural townships traditionally do communities, Gilmartin said. The township receives $100,315 in state shared revenue to cover $166,724 in expenditures, Gilmartin said. Livonia received $9.4 million in state shared revenue or 20.47 percent of its revenue in the 1996 fiscal year. Its cash reserves was $3.9 million or 8.4 percent. Livonia's tax rate equaled 10.42 mills in 1996. Rural communities should not receive more money that otheraging infrastructures if these Gilmartin believes.

Some cities 'lose'

The MML predicts less-developed townships like Stockbridge would receive $144 million. while cities would gain $36 mil lion. The state's 50 largest cities and villages would lose $180 million needed for their current infrastructure and services, the MML reports.

"That will impact infrastructure and urban sprawl, Gilmartin said. "Not only will it have a negative effect on the state and not only will it take money from urban areas, it has a real impact on these urban Kirksey said sales tax revenue distributed as revenue sharing payments has increased from $9.9 million to an estimated $10.4 million in the 1997-98 budget under the old formula. State shared revenue comprises 21.2 percent of this year's revenue, surpassed only by property taxes as a source for the city.

"The total of gross revenues distributed to municipalities that is a moving target, statewide reflects a reduction of $83 million from the total amount the previous formula not supply the same services of could have yielded," Kirksey

Wants change

Steil's package is expected to leave alone the 41.3 percent of state shared revenue, or the sales tax distribution, split among governmental units based on population. That is required by the state constitution, meaning it can't be revised without a vote of Michigan residents. But Steil wants to revise the remaining 58.7 percent, which wise would go to cities with would be distributed based on average property tax values and tructure and tax residents, expected to introduce legislation some time this spring or summer developed from a joint Senate and House task force's study that was completed in March.

By statute, cities, townships and villages currently receive revenue from the sales tax according to a formula currently based on "relative tax effort," which is based on the amount of services a city, town or village offers its residents, and what its residents pay in taxes for those

Gilmartin said on average cities depend on revenue sharing for 20 percent of their general fund revenue, but townships derive 40 percent of their revenue from revenue sharing. Shifting to per capita makes rural townships less self-sufficient and more dependent on the state for their budget needs, Gilmartin said. Gilmartin called the revenue

Expansion rewarded

The study found that if distribution of state revenues to locals shifts to a per capita basis or growth-in-population basis, jurisdictions with rapidly expanding populations and service needs are rewarded. It also found that communities with declining populations or belowstate-average rates of growth have fixed costs, thus the tax price of services rises with population declines.

SB 963 - to lower the age for obtaining a deer hunting license from 14 to 12 - is awaiting Senate action.

Other bills OK'd

Here is the status of other bills in the "hunters' rights" package:

■ SB 493 - Allow a registered beagle club to live trap and release up to five rabbits per year on club property - passed

■ SB 968 - Allow a person with a pistol license 30 days (instead of 10 days) to buy a pistol before the license becomes void - passed 35-0 and sent to House. Sponsor is Mike Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

SB 965 - Allow the Natural Resources Commission to establish an extended Canada goose season from the first Saturday of January to the first Sunday of February - passed 32-3 and sent to House. Among the opponents was Geake of Northville.

Senate Resolution 154 -Asks the U.S. Department of the Interior to expand the boundaries for the late-season Canada goose hunt - passed.

■ SB 974 - Allow firearm hunting from raised platforms passed 30-5 and sent to the House, Schwarz of Battle Creek and Smith of Salem voted no. Smith made a formal protest, accusing lawmakers of bypassing Proposal G of 1996, which gave game management rules to the Natural Resources Commission.

■ SB 975 - Allow transportation of firearms without a license during big-game season - passed 35-0 and sent to the House. Currently, an unlicensed person may carry an unloaded rifle, shotgun, bow or crossbow only to a shoot-

■ SB 966 - Allow a firearm to be loaded to capacity on state shooting ranges - passed and sent to the House

■ SB 978 - Allow the taking of nonmigratory game birds with a single-shot pistol loaded only with shot shell - passed 30-5 and sent to the House. Among the no votes were Geake of Northville, Schwarz of Battle Creek and Smith of Salem

SB 981 - Prohibit a state agency from allowing a burn of more than 40 acres unless notice were provided in a newspaper at least two weeks before the first permissible date of the burn (SB 981) - passed 35-0 and sent to

■ SB 1052 - Require police agencies who have seized a firearm for forfeiture to check the LEIN network to determine if the gun had been stolen and then to inform the rightful owner - passed 32-2 and sent to the House. Schwarz voted no.

Police would have to exercise reasonable care to protect the firearm from loss or damage while it had custody of the weapon. Jaye is the sponsor.

ford and Tom Middleton of Ortonville signed a protest that said the bill "would impose a significant new burden and liability on small businesses owned by women and minority businesspeople.

Dobb said "comparable worth" is too subjective a concept to define in statute, adding, "The only thing this comparable worth bill guarantees is a lawsuit. As a small-business owner, I can't afford to have a judge take years and years to decide an issue."

"Wage rates, in a market economy, are determined by numerous market forces," said Rep. Greg Kaza, R-Rochester Hills.

The Small Business Association of Michigan called the bill "another unwarranted government intrusion into the private marketplace." SBAM said the result would be that "employers will surely be forced to reduce the number of those jobs they can afford to fill."

Mike Flanagan, RESA superintendent, is enthusiastic about the new project and called it a great opportunity to showcase the artists' and children's talents.

"I encourage the public to join our children and their families in this unique exploration of the arts," Flanagan said. "By teaching the arts in school, we develop children's creativity and help them learn

Representing nearly 500,000 children, RESA provides a wide variety of services to 34 public school districts, 34 public school academies and 212 private schools in Wayne County. RESA also provides services to community colleges and other regional educational Participating artists include: Judy Nelms and Fred Acerri of Livonia, and Michael Tavares of Redford.

ey came with high hopes clutching race cars painted and decorated in their own personal styles. It's not Indy but the enthusiasm of the young Cub Scouts getting ready to race in this year's Sunset District pinewood derby is catchy.

Some 270 Cub Scouts representing packs from throughout western Wayne County participated earlier this month in races set on a mini-track inside the gym at St. Robert Bellarmine School in Redford Township.

Scouts included Tigers, Wolves, Bears, first year Webelos and second year Webelos

The district includes 100 packs from Canton Township, Garden City, Inkster, Livonia, Westland, Plymouth, Redford Township, Wayne and Westland.

The pinewood derby is a cub scout tradition. The race cars come in a kit and sell for about $2.50. Race cars have a 5-ounce limit and scouts are allowed to paint their cars, add decals or other decorations outlined under the rules. However, they can't alter the position of the wheels.

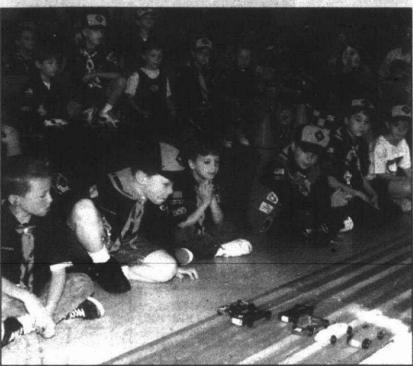

"It's a fun competition and scouts build their cars under the supervision of a parent, scoutmaster or other adult,' said Dan Beyer, a Garden City resident whose two sons, Kyle, 13, and Chad 15, are active in scouting. Chad earned his Eagle rank earlier this spring.

TAKE NOTICE that a special assessment roll has been prepared and is on file in the office of the Township Clerk for public examination. Said special assessment roll has been prepared for the purpose of assessing the cost of the following described improvement to the above property

Improvements for the Tonquish Creek Storm Sewer Special Assessment District consists of design and construction of a letention basin with a restricted outlet to the Tonquish Creek along with storm sewer to serve proposed industrial lots. There are estimated to be 741 feet of 72-inch storm sewer, 320 feet of 66-inch storm sewer, 685 feet of 54-inch storm sewer, 625 feet of 48-inch storm sewer, 352 feet of 30-inch storm sewer, and 352 feet of 15-inch storm sewer along with the detention basin, the restricted outlet and all appurtenances. Project also includes acquisition of land for the detention basin, 3% fee for selling bonds, and a contingency.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the Township Board will meet at the Township Hall, at 7 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Tuesday, the 9th day of June, 1998, for the purpose of reviewing said special assessment roll and TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that appearance and protest at this hearing is required in order to appeal the amount of the special assessment to the State Tax Tribunal if an appeal should be desired. A property owner or party with an interest, or his or her agent, may appear in person at the hearing to protest the special assessment or may file his or her appearance by letter delivered to the clerk by 5 p.m. on June 9, 1998 and his or her personal appearance shall not be required. The property owner or any person having an interest in the property subject to the proposed special assessment may file a written appeal of the special assessment with the State Tax Tribunal within thirty days after confirmation of the special assessment roll if that special assessment was protested at this hearing.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

On or about June 9, 1998, the above named Municipality will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release federal funds under Title I of the Housing & Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93.383) for the following projects located in the Charter Township of PROJECT A: Harrison Drain Improvements, south of Michigan Avenue between Haggerty and to a point east of Lotz Road, for the purpose of clean out of an existing open drainage course alongside railroad tracks; FY 1998, $260,000. This is the final year of a multi-year project.

Estimated total project cost: $300,000.
PROJECT B: Housing Rehabilitation, for income-qualified ownercupied single-family detached housing, FY 1998, $44,540. "Continuing PROJECT C: Retrofit of north doors at Summit building, 46000 Summit Parkway, for automatic operation ("removal of ral barriers); $6,000. New project. DETERMINATION: It has been determined that such request for release funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and, accordingly, the Charter Township of Canton has decided not to prepare an Environmenta Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190). The reasons for such decision not to prepare such a statement are as follows: Project A has already been environmentally assessed (1997); Projects B and C are categorically excluded. An Environmental Review Record respecting the above projects has been made by the Charter Township of Canton which documents the ental review of each project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmenta Review Record is on file with the Charter Township of Canton and is available for public examination, and copying (for a fee), upon request, at he office of the Resource Development Division, 1150 South Cantor Center Road, Canton Michigan 48188-1699, (734) 397-5392, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. No further environmental review of the projects is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of federal funds. All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the Resource Development Division at the above described address. Such written comments must be received on or before June 8, 1998. All such comments so received will be considered and the Municipality will not request the release of federal funds or take administrative action on the within projects before the date specified in the preceding sentence.

CERTIFICATION: The Charter Township of Canton will undertake the project with Community Development Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1974. The Charter Township of Canton is certifying to HUD that the Charter Township o Canton and Thomas J. Yack, in his capacity of Township Supervisor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, Township of Canton may use the Block Grant Funds and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases: (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the Chief Executive Officer of the Applicant; or (b) that the Applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding or step applicable to the project in an environmental review process.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to HUD at: McNamara Federal Building, 17th Floor, 477 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Objections to the release of funds on the basis other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after June 25, 1998 will be considered by HUD.

Laser an option in declawing cat | Board meets Tuesdays your pets, but that's a good

The Canton Center Animal Hospital is reportedly the first veterinary clinic in southeast Michigan to use lasers to de-claw cats and operate on birds and other exotic pets.

Laser surgery means cats can often go home the same day they're de-clawed. And because a laser cut cauterizes tissue, there is minimal blood loss during surgery on birds.

That's especially important with small birds, said Dr. Ken Haar, who specializes in the care of birds and other exotic species. "I get nervous if they lose even one drop, they can't afford it," he said. Haar has bloodlessly removed tumors from birds with Laser surgery has been used successfully in human medicine for years. Haar saw the Luxor

Laser surgery de-claws cost $55 more than the traditional surgery $50 two-leg de-claw or the $75 four-leg variety.

Tinker said de-claws are favored by owners who don't want their cats tearing up furniture. He doesn't recommend them for outdoor male cats.

Report: Air bags offer quick cash for thieves

The good news is that the number of cars and trucks stolen is dropping. But the theft of car parts isn't slowing down.

"There is a decline in vehicle thefts - complete vehicles," said Michigan State Police Lt. Edward Gerds. "There aren't déclines in (thefts of) air bags and tires." The Western Wayne Auto Theft Team, headed by Gerds, continues to work on a case in which thousands of stolen air bags were recovered from a Detroit business "Air bags are quick money for a street thief. They can get $25 up to $125 for a pair of air bags," said Gerds. "The shops will sell them for a 300 percent mark-up. They get shipped out of state and they're hard to trace back." Another problem for investigators is that repair shops installing stolen air bags tend not to keep the air bags in stock, he said, instead ordering the part for a specific vehicle being s. grviced. "Ten years ago, hubcaps were

th e thing. Now the manufacturer has changed them so they don't corne off as easily," Gerds said. While the fair market value of pas senger vehicles recovered by the auto theft unit was lower in 1997 than in the prior year, the value of recovered parts jumped from $46,256 in 1996 to $199,590 in 1997.

One area of complete vehicle thefts that has seen an increase is fraucl, Gerds noted. "When we deal with fraud, anyone doing that is claiming something occurred that didn't happen," he said. "Like a car- in other states and identifying is on our sheet. We've got to ser-insured and reported stolen. The auto theft unit receives 75 percent of its funding from the Automobile Theft Prevention Authority, which receives $1 from each insured passenger vehicle in Michigan. Staffing comes the state police, along with officers from local departments including Van Buren Township, Romulus, Detroit and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. The unit works with federal agencies including the FBI, Drug Enforcement Administration and Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

With the use of local officers and cooperative relationships with local police departments, the auto theft unit is able to respond to local problems along with larger cases.

"For example, if Van Buren has a rash of car larcenies they can turn it over to us," said Gerds. "We find out who is getting the air bags and fencing the stolen property. The guy that affects you is the one the who is stealing from your driveway You don't care if the case is broken with the FBI in California."

Which agency handles a case isn't a big concern. Gerds said noting close relationships with area law enforcement agencies.

"We share information so that we don't waste time working the same individuals. There is no problem if Westland has a case with the same suspects. We'll work with them if they request it or we'll give them what we've got," said Gerds. "We've got to look beyond whether a statistic

While Watts sees the need for additional buildings, he stops just short of saying the district has an overcrowding problem.

"I think 'overcrowding' would be an extreme term," he said. "We need to be really careful as to where our classroom sizes are headed. I think anytime you have portables, you're touching overcrowding.

When it comes to a new high school, Watts isn't convinced about the location.

"I'm not set on Joy and Beck even though it was implied it was going there," said Watts. "So much time has passed in between the bond issue and its eventual resolution, so public opinion may be different now than it was then. We need to provide a format to let the public tell us that "We really need to make sure the community schools are a true flavor of the community's wants and needs." he added.

State funding is also high on Watts' list of priorities, but he realizes fiscal responsibility stops with the district.

"We need to continue to inform our legislators to make sure we send our message of unequal funding," he said. "Right now, it doesn't seem that we have a very loud voice in Lansing. We need to be actively involved to show why current funding isn't fair. "I think Plymouth-Canton has

"If we don't change Proposal A and pass bonds, we'll have some serious questions to deal with,' Watts said. "However, Proposal A is not itself a make-or-break deal. We have to learn to live within our budget. We do it at home all the time.

"Sometimes it's hard to see beyond all the perceived current issues," said Watts. "However, I think if we take a real view of the situation, we'll see there are a lot of opportunities. We need to have a level of trust among teachers, the administration and the community to get through this. Everyone needs to be actively involved in the process."

Motion carried.

PADDITIONAL PUBLIC COMMENT Darrin Lee, 40469 Worthington, addressed the Board regarding the Summit on the Park policy allowing children in opposite sex locker rooms. Mr. Lee was opposed to this policy because the Summit has family locker rooms. Director Durack had been in communications with Mr. Lee and had previously surveyed Summit guests. As a result, the age of children allowed in opposite sex locker rooms was lowered from 5-years to 3-years.

Motion by Bennett, supported by LaJoy, to adjourn the meeting at 10:40 P.M. The above is a synopsis of actions taken at the Regular Board meeting held on May 12, 1998. The full text of the approved minutes will be available following the next regular meeting of the Board on May 26, 1998.

Congratulations

Students turn their lives around

heir stories pull at your heart strings. But what makes them all the more touching and inspiring is that these stories have been told by children and teens about their own lives and their obstacles.

Twenty-seven students, ranging from elementary to high school in the Plymouth-Canton school district, talked of the struggle to mprove their young lives at the recent third annual Turnaround Achievement Awards sponsored by Super Bowl Lanes.

Achievement is an understatement for these kids. For an adult to change his or her life and pull from under the weight of a problem is monumental at best. For young people to do the same is not only inspiring, but something for which we must all take notice. -And that's what this annual awards program is all about. These are the kids who can so easily fall through the cracks. These are the kids the public would never hear about unless something dreadful happened.

But through their own tenacity and the lesire of those whose lives they affect these young people have achieved great things at such a young age. They are as deserving of recognition as those students who regularly achieve honor roll status or rank among the stars as athletes

Thankfully the Turnaround Achievement Awards brings their struggles and their successes to light and provides the public, parents, teachers and peers, not to mention the media, a chance to celebrate with the stuM Achievement is an understatement for these kids ... something for which we must all take notice.

The 27 students who were honored have taken their troubles and clearly turned

Some of these young people have overcome behavioral and academic problems, as well as family problems, while others have fought and are winning - their battle with substance

We are honored to recognize these students. And we must also recognize the effort and support given these young people by their parents, teachers, school officials, counselors and peers. The achievements accomplished by these young people clearly show that no one is alone with a problem and that turning around can be done.

27 young people stand as testimony to what the younger generation can overcome and accomplish. There is no doubt they are role models for their peers who may be suffering in similar circumstances.

Super Bowl Lanes also must be commended for their initiation of the Turnaround Achievement Awards and their continued support of the program and the students involved. Congratulations!

Not a good idea

There has been much talk at recent board meetings regarding the use of technology in teaching our district's students.

Specifically, the concept of distance learning has been mentioned as a viable alternative to standard classroom teaching. Distance learning involves the video taping of a teacher presenting a lesson to a class with the intention of sending that taped lesson to another class off site. The thought is that through technology, i.e., video camera and television monitors, two separate groups of students may be taught by one teacher at the same

Of course, the group of students viewing the lesson off site would be monitored by a paraprofessional and would be given the opportunity to "participate" by sending e-mail inquiries to the teacher at the video-taped

The reason why distance learning has been proposed as a viable alternative to our current standard of classroom teaching is because the location of the proposed new high school at Joy and Beck, and its relative distance from Canton and Salem high schools would preclude students from traveling between buildings to take courses in their home school. If students are not allowed to travel from one school to another, the impact would be greatest on those classes that could be taught via a distance learning program. There are more than 60 classes at the Park, serving the needs of more than 2,500 students.

Although I'm not opposed to change and I encourage the use of technology in classroom instruction, as a foreign language teacher I'm concerned that the proficiency of my students would decline if their instruction were to be delivered in this manner. Foreign language learning is a discipline that involves sight, sound, hearing and speaking. It is crucial that opportunities be provided for students to listen, recite and be actively involved in the learning process. This cannot be accomplished via the dynacom system. Students need immediate feedback from their instructor regarding pronunciation, grammar and syntax. Interaction between student and teacher is vital. Moreover, students at the third, fourth and AP levels need the personal contact of experienced teachers who are specialists in their field. I'm also concerned that the academic success of our students would be severely impacted and their ability to place highly on a university entrance exam would be compromised. If this is something that concerns you also, then I would urge you to contact members of the board of education, voicing your concerns personally and directly.

Bad move by MediaOne was deeply disappointed to learn of the cancellation of one of the few cable channels that concerned itself with science, math, future technologies, history and space exploration. MediaOne's replacement of the NASA channel with a 24-hour real estate program is sure to be a blow to science and math educators in the community and those who enjoy watching the shuttle missions. Mars exploration and programs that encourage young minds to embrace the future.

It is sad to see that special commercial interests mean more than being a corporation that makes a contribution to the education of young people. That excuse about the FCC requiring you to provide a channel seems implausible. It appears you have plenty of channels available. Look at all the home shopping and infomercials you have now! We

Plesident Clinton is encouraging the nation's youth to become technologically literate, and be first in the world in math and science education. The programming on the NASA channel might not be razzle-dazzle all the time, but the material they present is both historic and unique. My children enjoy it and so do ', and I encourage them to watch it whenever they can. I am requesting that MediaOne reconsider this decision. It makes the company look like it is more concerned with a shallow commercial enterprise instead of community education. I realize MediaOne has a limited number of channels. But it shouldn't sacrifice one that provides educational benefit; there are not enough of them

POINTS OF VIEW

Circuit, probate court divisions are largely artificial sk yourself: What's the difference between Michigan's circuit court and probate court? Um, ah, probate court does wills and, uh, circuit does divorces ... and,

And we have to elect people to both. Most of us aren't quite certain what they do, but gosh, all you have to do is figure out who isn't awaiting an indictment, and if in doubt, vote for the Irish name, right?

This week - perhaps by the time you have read this column - the state Senate Judiciary Committee will have held public hearings in Lansing on combining the circuit and probate courts. Western Wayne's Bob Geake, Oakland's Gary Peters and Detroit's Virgil Smith will join four others in hearing the experts and deciding whether to report the proposal out of committee

My ultimate boss, Phil Power, has lamented the length of Michigan's ballots, proposing putting all the educational elections into a separate pot. A natural corollary, I think, would be to shorten and simplify the judicial

The judiciary's thinkers - specifically Chief Justice Conrad Mallett Jr. and Justice James Brickley, among others - are pushing the idea. Combine the courts into a single trial court, they say.

The old answer to my opening would have gone like this:

Generally speaking, the circuit court has original jurisdiction in all civil cases involving more than $10,000, in all criminal cases where the offense involves a felony or certain serious misdemeanors, and in all domestic relations cases, including divorce and paternity actions." Circuit court also hears appeals from lower courts and some administrative agencies of the state. A "circuit" is one or more counties: Michigan has 56 circuits and some 200 judges.

■ Probate court handles juvenile delinquents and dependents; neglect, abuse and adoption cases; and supervision or "probating" of wills and administration of estates and trusts of deceased persons. There are 78 probate courts with 107 judges.

That, as I said, is the old answer from the Michigan Manual.

Gov. John Engler has been hot to merge courts, and for a very good reason. The Legislature has added judge after judge as population has grown and shifted, but it never seems to abolish judgeships where population is lost or the caseload doesn't justify

We wind up with a court structure that is rigid both horizontally (between types of courts) and vertically (between counties). The western Oakland and Wayne suburbs, in particular, have been big losers because Engler has threatened to veto new judgeships for our growth areas until there is some "reform."

The kind of reform Mallett was due to outline to the Senate panel this In part, said Mallett, the Legislature did the job in 1996 when it gave circuit court power over 80 percent of the probate court caseload. It could do that by statute (PA 388). But it can't abolish probate court by statute.

That will take a constitutional amendment. The Legislature, by twothirds vote in each chamber, will have to put a proposal on either the Aug. 4 1881. or Nov. 3 ballot for voters to approve.

The division between circuit and probate court is largely artificial. A trial court is a trial court, or should be. A judge is either fair and knowledgeable or unfair and dumb. We can do without the artificial distinction between circuit and probate courts. The courts could assign judges more readily to where they are needed. "By allowing judges in the smallest counties to conduct all trial work

"This would eliminate part-time probate judges, who now may practice law as well as serve as judges, resulting in the appearance of a conflict of

Cause for concern

As a junior at Plymouth Salem High School, I have had many concerns regarding the MEAP (High School Proficiency Test). It has caused much stress and anxiety for the current junior class along with their concerned parents.

I myself opted out of the test after many lengthy discussions with my parents, teachers, and counselors. In order to justify my reasoning for opting out, I would like to explain: I have a career GPA of 3.9 and have hopes of attending the Universi ty of Michigan Nursing School. My father called both of the admissions offices of the U of M Dearborn and Ann Arbor, and they said that they were not requiring the test at this time for admission

Many of the administrators and counselors have shown concern due to the fact that so many students have opted out. They claim that for college acceptance we will more than likely need this test score. I personally do not see how this could be possible. In order for a college to require this test, it needs to become standardized nationwide

I would also like to comment on the inconvenience of the time in which the test is offered. Many members of the junior class are engaged in taking other such tests as the ACT and SAT. If the state and school expect a peak performance of their students, they need to understand the other aspects that are currently involved in their education. If this test is going to continue being offered to the up-and-com ing classes, the state Department of Education needs to get its act together and work with the students, not

Candidate speaks out

As a concerned community member and candidate for the Plymouth-Canton school board, I am writing in regard to two issues that were addressed in a recent Canton Observ er: First, the letter to the editor "Armstead defended" by Leigh Sauchak and second, the third high school location issue.

I do not pretend to know everything related to the issue of the sexual assault case of Chris Armstead, but I like to respond to is the third high do understand and commend the comschool location. I agree with the ments made by Leigh Sauchak, Chris' teachers' concerns for placing the classmate. Sauchak was defining the third high school at the corner of Joy basic premise of which our legal sysand Beck roads. I do not believe that sationalized news, the sanctity of due process has been deteriorated, and we all jump to predetermined conclusions based on the scraps of information that the media provides us. We need to leave our presumptio and decisions in the hands of our peers, jurors and the judicial system which we have cherished for over 200 years. If we are called upon to be jurors, then we have an obligation to be impartial and to give our peers a fair trial, based on all the evidence in a case. Then, and only then, can we pass judgment on alleged criminals The final important issue I would provided if the additional high school is to be placed too far away from the main campus. Busing students and faculty back and forth is not a costeffective or productive way to utilize an additional facility. Also, I understand the teachers' statements about distance learning. I feel that this is the last opportunity for students to get personal attention and assistance, which they need before going on to college or whatever career path they hat a mess! Responding to complaints about last year's Michigan High School Proficiency Test (remember, the one with "novice" and "not yet novice" ratings for those who performed poorly), the Legislature and the State Board of Education rushed to make changes. They shortened the test from 505 to 370 minutes. They eliminated the pejorative rating nomenclature. They even changed the name of the test to Michigan Educational Assessment Program High School Test (MEAP).

ber of juniors in Michigan high schools skipped the MEAP test when it was given last month. In Livonia, 50 percent skipped; in Farmington, only 18 percent took the test; in Birmingham, 90 percent skipped; in Bloomfield Hills, nobody took it. In Northville, where the boycott

So what happened? A shockingly high num-got a lot of publicity, only 92 out of a junior class of 310 took the test. The MEAP test is a key part of the effort to reform Michigan schools. The idea is to set out what kids are supposed to learn and then test them on it. Scores would not only help parents and taxpayers decide which schools were doing a good job, but they would also help employers figure out which job applicants were up to the job and assist colleges and universities in making admissions decisions. To have such a high percentage of no-shows casts serious doubt on the entire school reform

In all this, there is plenty of blame to spread

Start with the State Board of Education, already badly split between moderates and radical right-wingers. In hindsight, it now seems clear the board fooled around with the test too much and too late, thereby confusing students, parents and teachers. And the board failed to set out compelling reasons for students to take the MEAP test, when lots of juniors are already taking the ACTs and SATs for college admis-

Far worse, the State Board tolerated uncertainty about whether taking the MEAP test was required. In the January 1998 issue of "MEAP Update," the board proclaimed, "high school students must take the high school assessment . the current policy of opting out is only to be used by parents of students with disabilities and limited English proficiency."

But State Board spokesperson Deb Small then conceded that "the law says you (the schools) must give the test, but there's no law that says you (the students) have to take the test ... We have a policy of encouraging all students to take the test because we believe it is the best way to measure what students know according to state standards. But the State Board has no authority to make laws; that's why it's a policy." Schools were put squarely in the middle, required to give the test but denied the hammer to require kids to take it. The flier put out by kids at Northville High School was tellingly to the point: "As of March 5

ments that state we must take this test to grad-

1998, there were no school or state requireuate high school. If the school board changes the requirements to make it mandatory for graduation after our testing, we will be exempt: we cannot be punished in retrospect." Of course, the fundamental reason there is no law requiring students to take the test is because the Legislature is terminally scared

(especially in an election year) to require anybody to do anything. Some parents might wish to consider whether it's rank hypocrisy to argue, on the one hand, that it's unfair to force their kids to take the MEAP when it will have no effect on college admissions and, on the other, loudly to insist that local schools be held accountable for the quality of the education they provide. The business community has much to answer for in failing to require MEAP test scores be part of every job application. The universities, too, have been whining about poor high school preparation for incoming freshmen. But Michigan college presidents, when asked by Gov. John Engler to request MEAP scores on college admission forms, declined. Enough is enough. Too much is at stake here to let the current round of finger-pointing go on The Legislature should pass promptly a law requiring completion of the MEAP test for graduation from Michigan high schools. Phil Power is chairman of HomeTown Com munications Network Inc., the company that owns this newspaper. He welcomes your com-

Observance asks people to take stand

eople will stand in line for concert tickets, tickets to sporting events, to see a famous person. But on June 1, people will be asked to take a stand for quality child care as part of the third annual Stand For Children Day.

Created by Marian Wright Edelman, founder of the Children's Defense Fund, this year's stand will focus attention on the importance of quality, affordable child care and after-school activities for all families who need them.

According to CDF statistics, each day 13 million preschoolers, including 6 million infants and toddlers, are in child care, according to CDF statistics Millions more school-aged children are in after-school and summer activities, and nearly 5 million children are left home alone after school while their parents work.

Full-day child care can easily cost $10,000 a year, yet half of America's families with young children earn less than $35,000 a year. And a family with both parents working full-time at minimum wage earns just $21,000

'The best antidote'

Edelman believes that after-school care is "the best antidote for teen pregnancy and youth crime." That's why she is pressing for passage of a bipartisan bill in Congress that would provide $20 billion increase in guaranteed money to the Child Care and Development Block Grant to help states meet the needs of working families and improve the quality of child care and after-school programs.

People can show their support for the legislation by call-ing their U.S. senators at (888) 387-8263 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. now through June

After a short child care, the call will be switched to the U.S. congressional switchboard where an operator can help callers identify and put them in contact with their senator to deliver their message.

Stand For Children Day got its start on June 1, 1996, when 300,000 people gathered on the grounds of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. for a nationally day of commitment. CDF said the size of the demonstration affirmed its belief that improving children's lives is the common ground on which people from all walks of life can come together to, in turn, improve the quality of community and national life.

Grassroots effort

Since then, 200 grassroot Stand For Children collaboratives, called Citizen Action Teams, have been formed throughout the country to raise awareness in their communities, encourage church congregations, businesses and concerned citizens to do more, persuade policy makers to subsidize child care and meet the needs of children directly.

In Michigan, three CATs have been established in Flint, Kalamazoo and Clarkston.

People interested in organizing CATS can get more information by sending e-mail to cats@ stand. org , by writing Stand For Children at 1834 Connecticut Ave., Washington, D.C. 20009, or by calling (800) 663-4032. Stand For Children also maintains a Web site at www. stand. org

As Edelman sees it: "If we don't wake up and take care of our children, the country is going to go to hell. This is our moral and practical Achilles heel."

'Orphan' cars get chance to show their style

■ Mark Douglass's seaside light aqua 1965 440 Convertible Rambler will be there. So will Jerry Szostak's burgundy and brass 1912 Overland. Orphan cars because they are no longer manufactured or imported into the United States, they will be among similar cars on display at the Ypsilanti Orphan Car Show next weekend.

Mark Douglass admits that he can sometimes be a road hazard.

Driving his seaside light aqua 1965 440 Convertible Rambler throughout Plymouth and Canton with his eighttrack blaring Elvis is enough to distract other drivers

"I've had people going nuts going down the road and almost hit the car. People tell me all the time that they've only seen hard tops. They can't find a convertible," an enthusiastic Douglass

A former collector of football cards and Joe Montana collectibles, Douglass put that hobby aside when the car rambled into his life. He and his wife were looking for a classic car for about a year when they saw the Rambler parked in a lot off of Plymouth Road. The owner was selling it for $7,000 because she was moving to Florida.

Douglass bought it for $3,500. "I've always wanted to have an old car. It's like going back to my youth. It's ironic because I graduated from Taylor Center in 1965," he said.

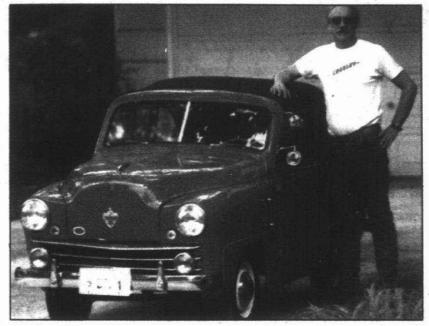

Fans of 1965 Ramblers and other collectible cars can gawk within the safe confines of the Ypsilanti Orphan Car Show from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 31, at the city's Riverside Park along the Huron River.

"An orphan car is a car no longer produced or imported into the United States," explained Jerry Szostak, one of the event's organizers. "They allow for cars like Citrons and MGs because they are makes of cars no longer imported into the United States.

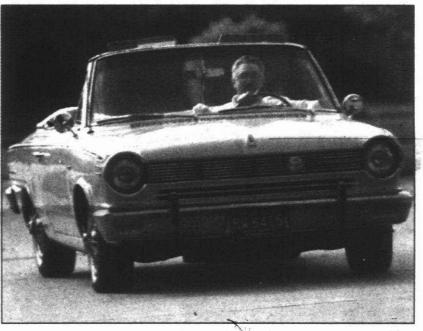

Car enthusiasts can stroll among automobiles made by the likes of Preston Tucker, Joseph Frazer and Henry Kaiser. AMCs, Auburns, Austins, Cords, Crosleys, Davises, Grahams, Hudsons, Packards, Ramblers, Studebakers, Triumphs and Willy's will sit along the Huron River.

Well-known automotive historian Jeff Godshall, the design manager of small and intermediate car interiors for Chrysler Corp., will host the driveby narration with the help of Bob Casey, curator of transportation at Henry Ford Museum, Randy Mason, former curator of transportation at the museum, Bill Tilden, a Kaiser-Frazer and Studebaker expert from it bowed. Now in its second year, the Ypsilanti Orphan Car Show attracted more than 200 cars in not-so-great weather when

"Last year in the rain we had 224

Admission to the show is $2 and the show is still accepting applications from owners of orphan cars. The proceeds go toward efforts to connect the Ypsilanti Heritage Museum and the Hudson Dealer.

Douglass had registered to bring his Rambler to the show last year but decided to keep it at home when it rained. This year he'll have it there rain or shine, he said.

The second event is a picnic at the Ypsilanti Automotive Heritage Collection Museum. The picnic is open to all show participants at $8 per person.

Mission trip takes volunteers to the Congo

Last year, Noreen Owens spent a night on Alcatraz Island with former inmate Jim Quelin. This year, she plans on spending two weeks in the politically unstable Congo, formerly Zaire.

Owens of Livonia and Detroiter Karen Shaw are part of a team of volunteers who will work with people living in villages along the Sankuru River who are infected with onchocerciasis, also known as river blindness, which affects 18 million people in Africa,

The trip is one of many organized by Rivers of the World, an international exploration and development agency that targets the world's most remote rivers. Committed to eradicating river blindness in the world, the agency was founded by Ben Mathes.

"Ben follows the rivers in Third World countries and treats the leading medical condition in those areas," said Owens, a Livonia resident. "He did it for 20 years with other medical groups before starting ROW about three years ago."

The two women are members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia. Neither knew each other until Shaw's boss at a restaurant where she worked pointed out that Owens, a regular customer, was also going to the Congo.

Shaw is the veteran when it comes to mission trips. She went to Holland for Habitat for Humanity while in high school, and just recently finished a oneweek adult church mission with ROW in Belize. A junior at the Center for Creative Studies, she helped build cabanas at a camp the agency is starting there.

"My parents probably think I'm nuts, but everyone is very supportive although I haven't expressed everything that's involved in it," said Shaw of her trip to the Congo. "I found out yesterday (May 6) I would be going on this trip. Everything has been falling into place like my Belize trip. It's kind of been

She decided to sign on after hearing Mathes speak about ROW at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia. While she wasn't sure what ROW did, she was inspired by Mathes's "passion and enthusiasm,"

"I picked this (ROW) because it's very service oriented and works with people," said Owens, who says her husband "is scared and nervous but supportive" of her. "He wants it to be over with. My mom is excited for me, and my dad will be relieved when I get

Isbister Brownies go green

Environmental work: The first-grade girls of Girl Scout Brownie Troop 898 from Isbister Elementary School have been studying different kinds of pollution and their effect on our planet. Troop members did several experiments showing the effect of acid rain on plants and landfills. They made terrariums to study how Earth's water cycle works and how plants grow. Using books from the Plymouth and Canton Public Libraries, they researched the different types of pollution and made a poster about air pollution which is currently on display in the children's section of the Canton Public Library. They also studied endangered species and are putting together a scrapbook of current events about such plants and animals to help remind themselves that the struggle to save endangered species never ends.

4,000 participants make Michigan parade a success was the place to be May 16 for the ninth annual Michigan Parades into the 21st Century

Part of a series of 11 annual statewide parades to celebrate the past 100 years in the state and to usher in the 21st century in the year 2000, this year's parade saluted the 1980s and eatured entries from many of the state's 83 counties.

Kicking off the 2 1/2-hour parade was a flyover by UH1 Huey rescue helicopters from the 238th Unit of the Michigan National Guard and other air

More than 4,000 people, including 36 equine units, comprising 150 horses, 40 canine heroes representing service, therapy, police and rescue dogs and other animals participated.

In addition to 18 bands, mili tary and veteran units, fraternal and service clubs, historical units, floats, festival queens, antique farm tractors and equipment and clowns, the parade also featured the annual Salute to Michigan Mothers, recognition of Michigan's horse industry and a tribute to state law enforcement agencies

Honored American sports heroes with Michigan connections participating in the parade were Chad Alban, All-American goalie, Mateen Tleaves, All-American basketball player of the year, former Detroit Tigers pitcher Milt Wilcox and Bob Revnolds. WJR-AM radio sportscaster who was recently inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame

The equestrian grand marshall leading the new equestrian legend unit was S.A. Darrigrand of Onsted, portraying Tom Mix Parade circuit rarity and his wonder horse Tony, an Arabian gelding. Since 1981, Darrigrand has appeared in numerous rodeos, wild west shows and festivals, including the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Calif., with the Roy Rogers and Dale Evans Museum

Representing English dressage riders were Karen Hopkins of Durand, a graduate of Livonia Churchill High School, riding her Arabian gelding, and Colleen Whitlow of Garden City on her buckskin stallion Lotsa Cotton.

The Black Western Historical Society of Michigan portrayed historically correct military, law enforcement and cowboys of the 1870s and was represented by Lorenzo Veal, a Michigan State Police trooper, and his wife Fran of Ypsilanti.

The historical black Buffalo Soldiers 10th Calvary Calico troops who fought to settle the western frontier were represented by horses and costumed riders, led by Jimmy Buchanan of Detroit.

Equestrian ethnic groups brought colorful authentic tack and costumes from other countries into this year's parade. Among the units was Harmony Acres Arabians, owned by parade equine coordinator Nancy Harm brought her Arabia geldings, Harmony Diamond and Harmony Tarifa, veterans of mere than 130 parades and part a volunteer group that has participated in high school and college equestrian team activities and therapeutic riding programs. The horses and riders Harm and Laura Roberts of selem were attired in authentic monted tack and costumes m Saudi Arabia and Egypt.

Liberated Wailing Wall visits Livonia For most people, Jews and Jesus go together like matzo balls and Christmas. If you agree with that notion, Jews for Jesus' music team. The Liberated Wailing Wall, is out to prove you wrong. This group of traveling musi cal missionaries will be coming to Livonia on Tuesday, May 26, to present a program of music, drama and testimony at 7 p.m. at Christ Our Savior Lutheran Church, 14175 Farmington Jews for Jesus developed Jewish gospel style music more than two decades ago. They wanted music with a harmony and rhythm that could blend their Jewishness with a message proclaiming Jesus as Messiah. Jews for Jesus say they were surprised and delighted to find that others enjoyed their minor key music, too.

"Our music reflects many styles of Jewish and Christian worship," said Joe Bell, Liberated Wailing Wall team leader. "Some songs capture the poignant longing that has been part of our synagogue worship throughout the years.

Some are in the style of the Eastern European klezmorim. Others are bursting with the same joyful exuberance you expect to find at an American Jewish wedding

"All the lyrics are taken from the Bible - the Hebrew Scriptures as well as the New Testament portion." The team uses a variety of instruments to achieve its sound, including the piano, guitar, clarinet and dunbek, a Middle Eastern drum. Jews for Jesus is an indepen dent missionary organization founded in 1973 by Moishe Rosen. It has a staff of more than 100 workers, based in the United States, Canada, Argentina, Great britain, France, Ukraine, Russia, South Africa, Australia and Israel. The goal is to let Jewish peo-

Near perfect: Canton's Gretchen Hudson was in trouble in just one inning against Central.

Chiefs win WLAA title

These two had met before. Earlier this season, Walled Lake Central edged Plymouth Canton by a run. But now, in the WLAA title game, Gretchen Hudson had returned for the Chiefs — and she was the difference.

Good pitching, excellent defense

That's the formula Plymouth Canton used Wednesday to beat Walled Lake Central 2-0 for its second-straight Western Lakes Activities Association softball championship Wednesday at Canton.

Junior hurler Gretchen Hudson tossed a two-hitter and struck out eight Viking batters. In supporting her, the Chiefs played flawless defense, committing no errors and making several key plays.

"We pride ourselves on having a good defensive team," Canton coach Jim Arnold said.

So does Walled Lake. But it was a miscue in the field that started Canton's winning rally in the second inning.

"We've been a great defensive team this year," Vikings' center-fielder Kelly Burt said. "But not this game.

Central coach Gordon Glennie was proud of his team despite the loss.

"It was the eighth time in nine years we've played for the cham-pionship," he said of his team, which finished its regular season 18-12 overall and 14-3 in the WLAA. "I'm proud of what these girls have accomplished.

Canton, 14-3 in the WLAA and Chiefs.

24-8 overall, plays the winner of the North Farmington-Farmington pre-district game May 30 in the state tournament.

The Chiefs narrowly missed scoring in the first inning against the Vikings. Paula McKernan led off with a single and moved to second after a throw from the outfield sailed into Central's dugout. The sophomore then hustled over to third base after a Kami Scott wild pitch.

Sara Freels followed with a walk. But Scott got tough and struck out the next two Chiefs to stop the potential rally.

Canton did break through in the second inning. Erica Hancz reached base on an error to start the uprising. Walks to Becky Mize and Christina Kiessel loaded the bases.

With one out, Scott uncorked a wild pitch. Catcher Laura

Salem outscores Canton

Two weeks earlier, these two rivals battled on the same field in a game one of their coaches described as "much better than this one."

But in the more recent meeting - last night at CEP - Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem's soccer team clawed away at each other until the final buzzer in a match that carried much more consequence, a game that produced nine goals compared with zero netted by the two opponents in the first meeting.

The winner: Salem, by a 5-4 count, in a state district semifinal at CEP.

The Rocks, now 14-1-2, advance to Friday's district final against the South Lyon-Novi winner. That match will be at 7 p.m. at Northville. Canton bows out at 12-3-2.

"I don't know about (Canton)," said Salem's Doug Landefeld, the aforementioned coach who felt the scoreless tie was a better-played contest, "but I knew our emphasis after the game two weeks ago was more on offense, because if we were going to do anything in the tournament, we were going to have to score some goals.

"But we were talking about a 2-1, 3-2 game." 2-1? 3-2? Heck, these two surpassed those numbers in the first half. And it was Salem, led by their senior co-captains

- Missy Simons and Mia Sarkesian - that led a supercharged attack, one that netted the Rocks two goals in the game's first 10 minutes. Simons finished with two goals and an assist, while Sarkesian had a goal and two assists.

After its early onslaught, Salem was never tied and never trailed. Indeed, the Rocks twice built three-goal leads, the last with 36:13 left in the

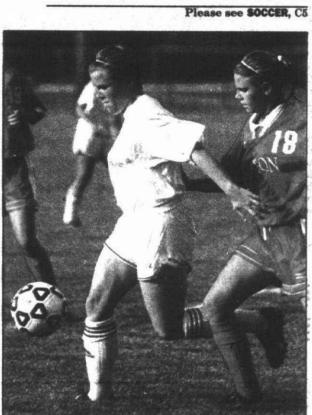

But was it easy? Not at all.

The Chiefs never relented. Less than five minutes after Simons had increased Salem's lead to 5-2 on a shot that seemed to spin away from Canton keeper Kristin Lukasik (Sarkesian assisted), the Chiefs again trimmed the lead to two as Beth Sandusky punched the ball into the net after it got past the Salem defense and keeper Jill Dombrowski.

The tension mounted.

It reached a near-unbearable level when Melissa Marzolf, one of Canton's three co-captains, finished a ball headed into the area in front of the Salem net by Lisa Reissenweber. The goal, with 18:18

The work, the joy, the sorrow: All three are a part of the game, particularly when Canton and Salem clash. Salem's Mia Sarkesian, at the far right, and Missy Simons, above being pursued by Canton's Kristin Mayer, were the sparks behind the Rocks' state district tournament victory, combining for three of their team's five goals. Their performance left several Canton players, including senior co-captain Kristin Lukasik (center, in white), in tears.

Running away with it

Rocks roll to conference title; Canton takes 3rd

Isn't this the time of year teams are supposed to be peaking?

And doesn't that mean a team should have its best lineup already determined and ready to go? The shuffling should be done by the time the league meet comes up; everybody should know what they'll be doing and be ready to go, right?

Which makes Plymouth Salem's rather methodical victory in the Western Lakes Activities Association boys track and field championships Tuesday at Salem and Plymouth Canton a bit BOYS TRACK startling, particularly in light of something the Rocks' coach, Geoff Baker, said afterward:

"At state meet, we'll do things a bit differently.

Don't misunderstand - Baker put together a pretty strong lineup for the WLAA meet. How else could Salem win by more than 50 points, scoring 153 to runner-up Walled Lake Central's

PCA qualifies 7 for state

In the previous 17 years Plymouth Chris-tian Academy had fielded a track team, a total of two Eagles had advanced to the state

Last Saturday at the Class D state regional at Whitmore Lake, PCA's boys and girls teams rewrote that record book. The Eagles will send seven athletes in six events to the state finals, scheduled for May 30 at "Our school's pretty excited," said Steve Bauslaugh, a coach who was equally excited. It was the PCA girls team that was most impressive, qualifying two relays and two individuals. But the best individual performance by an Eagle belonged to a member of the boys' squad: sophomore Jordan Roose, who qualified for state with a pair of secondplace finishes, both in school-record times.

Roose was runner-up in the 1,600-meters (4.47.1) and in the 3,200 (10:38.4), breaking his own school records (set earlier this season) in both. With temperatures ranging in the mid-80s, it was not an easy accomplish-

TRACK REGIONAL

"That was a tough double to do, especially on a hot day," said Bauslaugh. "He's just a tough competitor, and he ran two smart

For the PCA girls, the best performance was turned in by sophomore Taryn Moran, who qualified for state in the 400 by finishing second in a school-record 1:04.8. What makes that even more astonishing - it was the first time Moran had ever competed in that event this season.

Moran also anchored a pair of relays that made state meet. PCA's 1,600 relay team of Sara Harris, Colleen Kimberlin, Rachel Sumner and Moran finished first (4:44.0), and the 400 relay of Heather Vargo, Harris, Heidi Yonkman and Moran placed second

The PCA boys placed sixth in the 10-team field, with Bishop Gallagher winning with 131 points and Detroit Loyola finishing second with 93. The Eagles scored 29.

Day 11, May 7: Today we are leaving our Mediterranean port on our way to Hamburg, the secand largest city in Germany located on the Elba River some 40 miles inland from the North Sea. When we arrive at the airport there's a light rain, but the sun is already shining when we reach the hotel. We have had amazingly beautiful weather on this trip. Our hotel is situated adjacent to the beautiful botanical gardens of Hamburg and is only a short distance from the famous downtown shopping area. There are also many lakes and canals in the area, and one large lake in the center of the city. Our concert is at the Musikhalle, which is one of the most charming places we will play on our trip. The entire hall resonates with each chord.

SRO's 'Crossing Delancey' is charming

SRO Productions presents Susan Sandler's "Crossing Delancey," 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, 2 p.m. Sunday through May 31 at the City of Southfield's historic park, "The Burgh" on the northeast corner of Civic Center Drive and Berg Road (one block east of Telegraph). Tickets $8 general admission, $7 senior adults and children age 12 and younger. Call (248) 827-0701. BY BOB WEIBEL

SRO's "Crossing Delancey" by Susan Sandler asks the question: Just how does a modern young woman meet the man of her dreams? There are, of course, scores of possibilities, unless you have a lovable, old world Jewish grandmother. This wise lady is taking no chances - she calls the matchmaker! And the fun Director, Ves Spindler, has fashioned a charming, romantic comedy for SRO. The characters are likable, their relationships are authentic, their differences in values deftly portrayed.

"We try to make everyone happy," said Pam Tiano of Livonia who operates the deli with her son, Scott Williams of Westland. "We use fresh, quality products."

Ten years ago they weren't that big into catering, but that business, and their deli business, have expanded. In 1993 they opened a second store in Plymouth, and their catering menu is quite extensive.

N.Y. Deli & Catering offers customers "A Little Bite of New York." Their corned beef is cooked in house, and they make their own double baked sourdough rye bread.

Stop in for a cup of coffee, or fresh bagel in the morning. A limited breakfast menu -Omelet of your choice, lox bagel & cream cheese, fried egg with ham & American cheese on a bagel, or bagel & cream cheese is served 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. You can also get toast, muffins and mixed fruit cup or bowl.
