"The radio on the wall started moving and my vision started going a bit blurry."

That was Mike Laird's reaction from feeling the aftershocks of an earthquake Friday afternoon.

Laird said he was working at his Needles 'N' Pins computerized embroidery shop on Main Street in Plymouth when he felt things shaking.

"The machines started to move while I was working. At first I thought it was a semi rolling down Main Street."

Justin Richardson of Canton said he at first thought it was a truck going down his street.

"I was sitting on the couch watching TV and felt it for about ten seconds," said Richardson. "I saw the lamp shaking back and forth."

There weren't too many calls to the area police departments.

Canton teen fondly recalls summer Down Under

BY KIMBERLY A. MORTSON STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Salem High School senior Cathie Kowalski didn't spend the summer like most of her friends - she went Australian.

Selected by the Plymouth Rotary Club, Kowalski was chosen to spend eight weeks this past summer in Australia as part of the Rotary's Youth Exchange Program.

"I had about a week to prepare after school got out in June then I left for Australia," said Kowalski from her Canton home. "I returned on the 18th (August) just in time to start school again."

A busy teen from Canton, Kowalski spends her free time teaching Sunday school at St. Michael's Church on Sheldon, performing with the Chamber Orchestra and maintaining a 3 4 grade point average.

"I've always loved Australia," said Kowalski. "As a child it was the animals that caught me but now that I'm older it's the people. I'm really interested in the Aborigines and took a cultur al anthropology class right before I left. That was really cool."

Marching band begins season on high note at Novi Fanfare

BY DIANE HANSON SPECIAL WRITER

The Plymouth-Canton Marching Band began its season of high school competitions with a grand sweep of Flight I awards on Sept. 19 at the Novi Fanfare. Twenty-five Michigan bands performed their programs of music, color, dance and drama before a packed Novi High School stadium of several thousand spectators.

"We were a little nervous going into this one because we have been pushing them really hard to learn as much of the show as they can," said Plymouth-Canton Band Director David McGrath. He said the band has completed all but about two minutes of the nearly 10-minute show, which is further than they normally are at this point "I thought, for this early in the season, they did a fantastic job," said Rob Myers, assistant musical director. "I guess the most important thing is that they looked like they had a good time. They looked happy, and they knew they did good too." Indeed they did. Of the 10 Flight I bands in the competition, Plymouth-Canton took the first place trophy and achieved the highest overall score - 71.5 out of 100 points - of all Flights in the competition. Flights I, II, III and IV are determined by the enrollment the largest schools.

Milford earned second place awards with a score of 67.45, and Troy Athens placed third "America, Land of the Free."

Drivers' union voices concern over buses

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

The union which represents nearly 120 Plymouth-Canton school bus drivers is voicing its concerns about the lack of safe buses being driven by its members, and what it calls "dangerous" and "crisis" situations for

And their concerns seem to born out by breakdowns with children on board, including wheelchair students, and no spare buses to pick them up.

The International Union of Operating Engineers, in a letter to business and operations executive director John Birchler, says it has "concerns regarding the serious conditions in the Transportation Department."

The union notes the buses are getting crowded because "the number of students assigned on the routes is becoming dangerously high ... We have little or no room for the predicted growth It is clear we do not have enough buses to cover all the routes."

Dearborn mayor co-hosts 'Friendraiser' for Power

Dearborn Mayor Mike Guido and Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village President Steve Hamp are co-hosting a "friendraiser" for Phil Power, Democratic candidate for reelection to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

The event will take place at 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Henry Ford Centennial Library on Michigan Avenue between Greenfield and the Southfield Freeway.

Power is known for his support for U-M regional campuses such as U-M Dearborn.

"The U-M is literally owned by the people of Michigan," Power said. "This means it has an important mission in serving all particularly important in this regard, because it plays such an important role for non-traditional and cooperative students in southeastern Michigan and works so closely with area businesses.

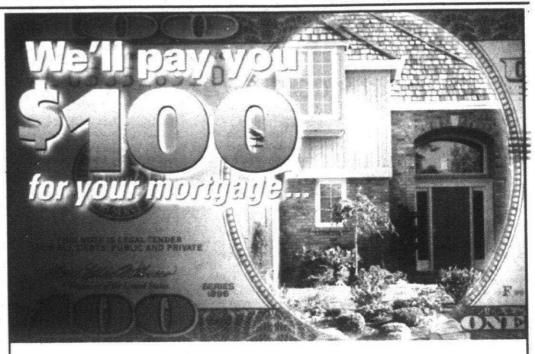

Power was elected in 1990 to the board of regents, winning more than one million votes statewide. He is now the senior regent of the board. Power is a U-M alumnus and successful businessman and newspaper publisher, whose newspapers include the Observer & Eccentric group

"I don't think it's exaggerating to say that my reelection is important to the continued bipartisan progress of public the people of our state. The higher education in Michigan," branch campus at Dearborn is Power said. "That's why I'm

Be a sport, treat fans to pretzels, hot mustard

ell, here it is the end of September already. Football is in full swing, the Red Wings are winding down training camp, and it's time for that time honored weekend tradition of sports, beer and eating way too much.

There are a few things in life that go together as well as fresh soft pretzels and mustard - the Red Wings and Lord Stanley's Cub, the Detroit Lions and breaking your heart (I wrote this on Sept. 17).

About 15 years ago, a friend's grandmother, Frau Blücher, gave me her soft pretzel recipe so she would not have to make them for us all the time. Now, whenever I get a chance to go to Gustav's house to watch a game, I whip up a batch of these puppies, along with a mustard. He has to supply the beer. The best beer to match soft pretzels and mustard are the malty German lagers such as the Oktober-fest of Spaten and Paulaner, Ayinger Maibock and Fest Märzen. From the U.S. August Schells Maibock and Shmaltzs Alt.

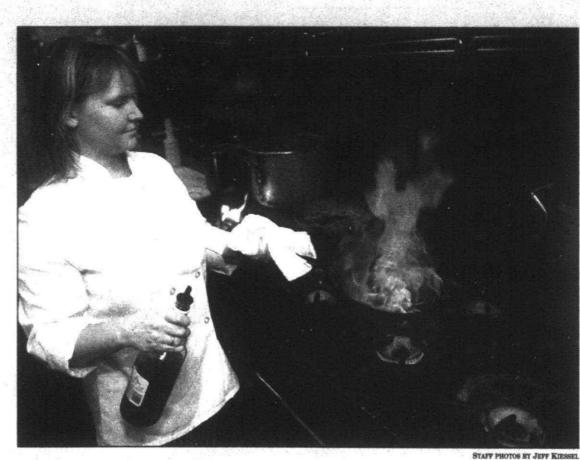

Mustard

The mustard is just a basic whole grain mustard that will be very hot. Feel free to add just about anything you want to flavor it - herbs, fruit, spices - go for it. If you leave it out 7 to 10 days the heat will mellow out some, but if you want the hot to stay, put the mustard right into the fridge. If you don't want it so hot from the start, use 1/4 cup light mustard seeds and 1 tablespoon of the dark mustard seeds.

I put my mustard in those little 8 ounce Ball jelly jars because the recipe makes just under 1 cup. Mustard seeds can be purchased at Rafal Spice Co. 2521 Russell St. in the Eastern Market area of Detroit. If you have never been there before, do yourself a favor and go. You start smelling spices 10 feet from the door, and they have every herb and spice you can possible think of. Where else can you go to buy frankincense and myrrh? Ya gotta love it.

omen find their place restaurant kitchens

"A woman's place is in the kitchen." This sentence, once a blanket statement for a woman's role, has come full circle to include a professional career outside the home. As in most professions, the culinary field has come a long way in admitting women into what was once a mainly male profession. Women chefs are cooking up a storm and loving it.

In 1971, Random House Dictionary defined a chef as "esp. male head cook." National Restaurant Association statistics reveal that in 1992, 128,000 women owned food and beverage establishments with an annual combined income of over $27 billion. The association also reported in 1994 that 65 percent of all food service workers in the U.S. were female (although less than 10 percent hold the rank of executive

KELLI LEWTON .

Let me introduce you to a few of our local wonderful women chefs.

Chef Sharon Juergens - Sous Chef Streetside Seafood, Birmingham

I met Sharon a few years ago when she was a culinary student at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. They say people are drawn to energy, and that is how I first took notice of Sharon. She reminds me of a simmering pot that is ready and willing to boil.

Sharon happened onto the culinary profession by way of waitress-ing. When she was in her late teens, her sisters told her waitress ing was the fastest way to make good money. She soon noticed the people in back of the restaurant were having more fun. Sharon picked up a pair of kitchen tongs, and a chef was born. She fell in love with cooking, and enjoys the gratification of creating something, seeing it served, and appreciated by customers. She likes the quick pace and high energy of the kitchen, and is driven by her passion of food. Her background includes sous chef at Diamond Jim Brady's in Novi where she praises Mary Brady as her mentor, and Emily's in Northville.

Lorraine Platman - Chef/owner Sweet Lorraine's, Southfield, Madison Heights and Ann Arbor

I had the privilege to work with Lorraine about five years ago on a woman's charity cookbook and fund-raiser. She struck me then. and still does, as an exciting innovator and culinarian. You have to be doing something right to be in the restaurant business for 16 years. Lorraine's menus are always cutting edge, encompassing unique flavors, spices and combinations. After emigrating to the United States from Essex, England, she studied art in college - watercolors and drawing. She managed an art gallery, and moonlighted as a caterer and wholesale baker. Lorraine soon discovered the plate would be her palate and food the medium to express her passion. She put down her paintbrush, and picked up a knife. In 1982 she opened Sweet

Mary is chef and co-owner of Diamond Jim Brady's with her husband, Tom. This Irish family tradition has taken on many new colors with Chef Mary at the helm.

Mary is my oldest friend in the culinary profession. We met at Schoolcraft College, and have been partners in crime ever since. We have earned many accolades, as well as bruises, in our years of competing together in culinary salons When you are the only two women on the team, you tend to count on each other for many things. Wine notes: The classic wine for shellfish is a crisp white wine with good acidity from either France or Italy. This dish possesses strong seasonings such as anchovies, garlic heat, add a scant drop of corn oil and fresh herbs, which calls for a wine with sufficient body.

My first choice would be an Arneis from Italy. Arneis is fresh and lively enough for seafood, and the acidity is there to give it power. Bruno Giacosa makes an example of Arneis. My second choice, almost tied for first, would be Viognier from the Rhone Valley in the

St. Joseph's opens treatment center for non-healing wounds

The Wound Care Center at St. Joseph Mercy Hospi-tal has opened in the Reichert Health Building to offer comprehensive, interdisciplinary therapy for treating chronic non-healing wounds. Nearly five million Americans suffer with chronic open sores as a result of diabetes, pressure ulcers or circulatory problems.

Patients at the center are evaluated to determine any underlying condition, such as diabetes, that might inhibit the natural healing process. After the assessment, an individualized treatment program is planned that addresses the multiple factors which influence wound healing, including nutrition, pressure relief and care of the wound at home.

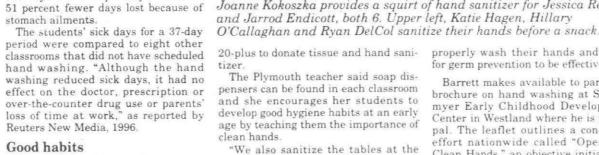

"Our average patient is about 65 years old and has suffered from a chronic wound for approximately nine months," explained Wound Care Center Director Molly Rikas. "The center helps patients recover from their often-debilitating wounds and reduces the need for hospitalization or intensive outpatient care. Our healing rate is very high."

The center is part of a nationwide network of wound care centers operated by Curative Health Services of Hauppauge, New York. under a contractual agreement, staff at the Wound Care Center will be employed by Curative, with St. Joe's handling support services.

campsite, which brought the Highway Patrol on a routine check. When the two officers looked around, they spotted Berry's tent.

And when they went to investigate that, they found Berry. The tent was furnished with a ratty old mattress and a couple of boxes containing some wellworn clothes. And over in the corner they found 13 heavy-duty batteries stolen from a California Transportation Department work site nearby.

They arrested Berry on theft and possession of stolen property charges and were stunned to find that this was no typical homeless person they were dealing with. Berry, who had a clean police record, chose to live that way ... with his state-of-the-art laptop computer, a high-speed modem, and a cellular telephone. The batteries, each weighing 50 pounds, powered the cellular telephone and computer ... which, in turn, kept Berry connected to the Internet.

Living by choice

Polite, shy and obviously intelligent, Berry said it was his choice to live that way. "People don't understand why I chose to live on the streets, but I don't understand why they're willing to pay $500 a month for a place to live. After all, a house is a glorified cardboard box."

Berry said in a jailhouse interview with the Associated Press that he had all he needed in his $50 tent and that the Internet was helping prepare him for the solid future. He earned enough doing odd jobs and temporary labor to pay for the cellular phone and the access charges to the 'Net.

"With me, instead of watching TV six hours a day, I'm on-line talking to real live people."

And he learned enough, he said, to carve out a career as a computer network specialist, something he planned to actively start pursing in Oregon just as soon as his legal difficulties in San Rafael were straightened out.

I tell the story of Neal Berry at all my computer and Internet seminars (the next one Oct. 31, call (248) 423-2721 to reserve a spot) to illustrate how the Internet has become a way of life for many. And while Berry's story is far from typical, I am amazed every day by some of the ways people are using the Net. For example, here's some stories from my e-mail:

Two brothers, 17 and 15, wrote to tell me that they are attending school – in their Orlando, Fla. home – on their computer. The school they attend is 3,000 miles away, in California (http://www.laurelsprings.com/), and the teenagers have never set foot inside it.

The brothers told me they spend about four hours a day hooked up to the Laurel Springs High School on the family PC, communicating with their teachers via e-mail and doing their research for class projects on the Internet.

■ A Madison, Wis. man emailed me to tell me that he was watching a series of pictures sent over the Web of a funeral (http:// www.skc.com). Every 30 seconds a new picture appeared of the funeral service, and other mourners were exchanging messages of condolences.

The images are from the off-Broadway play "Grandma Sylvia's Funeral" and are being sent to demonstrate the feasibility of having "Cyberfunerals."

"If everyone lived in the same town the way it used to be, they would all be together and then have dinner and cry," explains Jack Martin, whose Simplex Knowledge Co. is experimenting with the concept.

"This way, they get to be connected with their family and friends again and still have their lives."

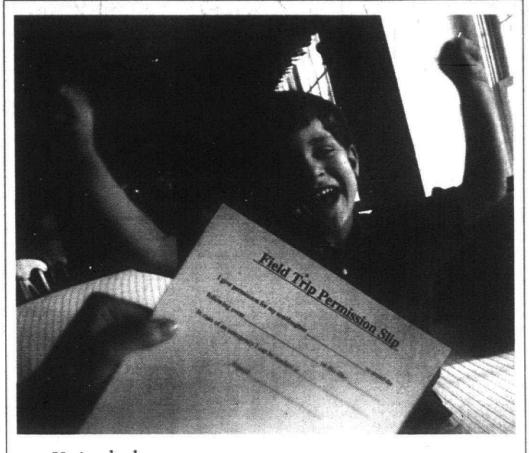

A middle-aged man in Texas told me how he was tracing his family roots from Germany by searching data banks of immigration statistics and 100-yearold marriage, birth and death certificates, online, through genealogical sites on the Web. So far, he's gone back four generations and thinks he is the descendant of the Germanic equivalent of royalty.

Two best friends in a tiny little town in North Dakota shared with me how they did work, for extra credit in their eighth-grade science class, by looking at pictures being sent back from space and sending email to orbiting astronauts on Space Shuttle flights (http:// www.shuttle.nasa.gov).

A man who recently lost his middle-management job at a big Chicago consulting firm sent me a thank-you note to say how he had found a new job, online (http://www.careerpath.com).

And in Alaska, with the sun still visible in the sky at midnight — a high school English teacher told me how he unwinds each night before going to sleep by logging on to the New York Times where he reads the latest theater news (http://www. nytimes.com).

Mike Wendland covers the Internet for NBC-TV Newschannel stations across the country. His "PC Talk" radio show airs Saturday and Sunday afternoons on Detroit's WXYT-AM 1270. He is the author of a series of Internet books. You can reach him through his Web site at http://www.pcmike.com

a) Why is he so happy? I never liked asking for permission.b) I still don't.

c) Is there a healthcare company out there that'll let me see a specialist —without asking for permission?

At HAP, we've partnered with Henry Ford Medical Centers to create a breakthrough new program called SelfDirect. SelfDirect gives people the freedom to refer themselves to most specialists. So, when you need to see a specialist, you can. It's as simple as that. SelfDirect is an idea that's the first of its kind in Michigan. And now, it's available to HMO members who use Henry Ford Medical Centers. For more information, call us at 313-872-8100. Or, visit us at www.hapcorp.org.

Orchestra celebrates with song and food he 11th annual "Sunday, Songs & Symphony" promises to top last year's fall fund-raiser for the Livonia Symphony Orchestra. Cochairs Sister Francilene and Ken Kelsey are pulling out all the stops. They moved the event to a new location, and are holding a special raffle in addition to offering the customary performances by the orchestra, tasty samplings from area restaurants, bakeries and businesses, and dozens of items in a silent auction Sunday, Oct. 4.

The spacious mall will provide plenty of room for the estimated 1,000 guests to wander past tables of Maryland crab cakes, chocolate mousse, halibut bisque, breads, cookies, tortes, pastries, and other delights too numerous to mention.

"It's the social, musical event of the season," said Kelsey. "If someone's not sure if they'll like symphonic music this gives them a chance to hear the orchestra. The price of the ticket pays for their food and it's a chance to try different foods.

Sister Francilene VanDeVyver stresses this a fun evening and the orchestra program reflects that by featuring selections from "Phantom of the Opera," "My Fair Lady," and alltime favorites such as "I Could Have Danced All Night." Joining the orchestra will be vocalist Darlene McMullen

Old Village spotlights fine crafts

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

When most people hear the word crafts they think of cute knickknacks, but not Diane Quinn. She had the time-honored arts of glass blowing, spinning wool, jewelry making, scrimshaw, and quilting in mind when she founded the Old Village Craft Fair in 1996.

The fair is the exact opposite of the expansive Art in the Park, Quinn produces in July in Plymouth. Instead of fighting their way from booth to booth, shoppers enjoy a relaxed ambiance while strolling down Liberty Street where in the 1800s village shops housed a collection of groceries, dry goods and general merchandise. If you see Bonnie Schlosser spinning wool on her "gossip" wheel stop by and say hello. Schlosser spins the wool, dyes it then knits or handweaves scarves, hats and vests. She used to raise the sheep and goats for the wool when living on a farm in Fenton. The 8- to 12 - pounds of wool sheared from one sheep yields three to six adult-size sweaters. The labor involved in crafting a single item is almost immeasurable, but Schlosser's sense of humor keeps her spinning. "After I mayed to town, I couldn't pass them off as little dogs," said Schlosser, "so now, I purchase my wool from Michigan farmers.

SURREAL DEMONS

Cheryl Whyte Conlin calls herself a "work in progress.

Abandoned at age four by her father, Conlin lived as a prisoner of fears until music and painting helped her overcome the demons inside her.

A rock guitarist since she was 19, Conlin traded in her guitar for brushes and paints two years ago. Armed with an upbeat attitude, Conlin's ready to show the world her darkest, deepest secrets in "The Emotions Collection," a one-woman show at the Wyland Gallery in Birmingham. me," said Conlin. "I've gone through bouts of depression throughout my life. I decided to change my life.'

Until a few years ago, Conlin played lead guitar and sang in Damzel. Now 35, Conlin has set aside her guitar to paint, although she still does studio work, and readily admits music's influence on her art. Music seemed a natural career choice for Conlin since she grew up listening to her mother Sophie Whyte sing and play country music in a band. Released in 1993, the rock group's last CD "Castle Walls" (on Premier Records) deals with a "World of Broken Dreams" among other subjects.

Artists stitch up imaginary worlds

One day in the midst of hand engraving magnesium plates to emboss quilt designs on greeting cards, Diane Lewis thought why not use the same process to create dolls' faces.

Fabricating ideas is nothing new for Lewis. She's made a career of coming up with concepts for novelties such as recycled fruit cake ornaments, Critter Capsules and Money To Burn, fireplace starters in the shape of a roll of $100 bills

After years of baking fruit cake in dog food cans before encasing the sweet treat in Lucite. Lewis thought enough is enough. She's traded in the novelties to make art dolls.

"April in May," Lewis's white fabric art doll, is one of more than two dozen on display along with fiber art by Saundra Weed of Westland in a show sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commission. "In Celebration of the Doll- the Figure in Cloth" features artists from across the U.S. and Canada

And all that jazz! Kander and Ebb

BY HUGH GALLAGHER STAFF WRITER

"Chicago - The Musical" is a bitterly cynical and highly entertaining concoction.

"Chicago" is a stripped down musical revue that spotlights music, dance and performance in the raw, framed around a musical comedy plot that is almost irrelevant.

Director Walter Bobbie, who originally revived the Bob Fosse, Kander-Ebb musical as a concert piece for New York's Encores series, has created a production in stark black and gold. Though the story of two murderesses and their lawyer takes place in the 1920s, the set is 1998 backstage with an on-stage ersatz jazz band, ladders and simple chairs. The women are dressed in sexy black lingerie meant to display lots of leg and the men, mostly, in vests and tight dance pants.

The songs are introduced and staged as vaudeville routines. John Kander's music borrows from the variety of musical styles in the 1920s from Dixeland to tangos to crooning to Jeanette MacDonald trilling. The Fred Ebb lyrics are about as leep-down nasty as recent news reports. The Ann Reinking choreography, in the style of her mentor Fosse, is energetic, sinuous and sensual. This touring production at the Perfectly platinum: A platinum and diamond ring from Modern Art Jewelers.

Just ask the Jewelry Lady

The Jewelry Lady is an expert on all aspects of fine jewelry - dia monds and fine gems, colored gemstones, gold, silver, platinum, fashion trends, suitability, insurance, care and cleaning, birthstones, anniversary gems, history, legend, lore and more. Whereas Jewelry Woman may be more politically correct, the Jewelry Lady, a devout feminist, prefers the title because "Jewelry Woman" sounds like someone you hire out to scrub your diamonds after garden-

The Jewelry Lady gained her wealth of knowledge by growing up in a family of jewelers, working the counter, cleaning customers' rings, designing remounts, buying from vendors and continuing on to a more formal education through correspondence courses with the Gemological Institute of America and the American Gem Society She keeps her ring finger on the pulse of what is happening in the world, jewelry-wise She shares her wisdom, expertise and opinions with you in this guest

Dear Jewelry Lady (J.L.),

I am a 5-foot-10-inch woman and I've been told that I shouldn't wear stud earrings because they make me look too tall. Is this true? Basketball Jean, Southfield.

Dear Basketball

What you really need is assertive ness training - not a jewelry adviser. Take a good look in the mirror. I've never met a woman who didn't look richer, smarter, sexier and downright happier in a pair of diamond studs

That said, there are official guidelines to help the uncertain among us choose and wear the appropriate accessories. And your fashion critic was right. Apparently, tall women are told to wear long, dangling earrings, as they are the only creatures on earth fortunate enough to look great in them Just how great these dangles will look depends, of course, on the length of your neck, your hair and the shape of the earring itself. As spokeswoman for the short people, the Jewelry Lady encourages you to enjoy your height — and the official right to wear long earrings. But if you have diamond studs or your mind, from one diamond-lover o another, the only proper advice is go for it!

Dear J.L.

I've noticed lately that all the fashion magazines show engagement rings in platinum. Is this a must-have for brides of the '90s? Curious about White in West Bloomfield

Dear Curious This is a classic case of what goes around comes around. Time was, before WWII, platinum was all the rage in fashion circles. But because of the war, platinum was banned for all uses other than defense, and it didn't pick up steam again until the '90s, when the Platinum Guild International put on a media/publicity blitz to be admired

The Jewelry Lady is old enough to have a mother who wears her original white gold, diamond-set wedding hand. So a simple platinum engagement ring looks a lot like her moth er's Oldsmobile, if you catch her drift

However, designers have gotten creative with this new challenge and there are a lot of white on white designs (as in diamonds on platinum) that look new, fresh and cutting-edge. Some have even tempted the Jewelry Lady herself. Platinum is also heavier than gold and 95 percent pure, as opposed to the 75 percent purity of 18-karat gold.

Unlike silver, platinum doesn't dream of tarnishing and it wears much better than gold. The official edict, therefore, is that the bride of the '90s should wear whatever type of engagement ring she likes - platinum, gold or a combination of the two. Just be sure to bring your credit card, the platinum one.

The Jewelry Lady awaits your questions and comments. Contact her by fax at (248) 542-4012.

Where to find the one-of-a-kind

Do you believe in magic?

ix a lot of imagination with a little bit of magic and what do you get? Imajica, of course - a fanciful treasure chest of ourse – a fanciful treasure chest of a shop in Pleasant Ridge, filled with Christmas spirit, collectible toys, porcelain boxes and fairy tale tea sets. In fact, it's the stuff that childhood dreams are made

Marcia Kopman opened her playful store when her garage became so filled with finds, she could no onger park the car inside. She and partner Janet Kurylo set up shop in Ferndale for two years, then moved into expanded space, just up the street on Woodward, a couple of weeks ago. "We're housed in a space that was originally a gas station and later a golf store. There are holes in the ceiling from errant golf balls

Though it's difficult to uncover all of the shop's surprises in one visit, a quick stroll through the space immediately reveals a Christmas tree-filled holiday room. The tree branches sparkle with blown-glass ornaments, while display shelves overflow with chubby Noel Santas dressed for their everyday lives as anglers, even surfers.

In the store's main room, antique dressers and tables hold lamps topped with Kopman's silk flower shades; wind-up toys (some from the former U.S.S.R.); nursery rhyme teapots; an old magic set; replicas of actual diners and restaurants (Remember when Howard Johnson was an ice-cream shop?); and lots of miniature cars. "We're on Woodward, we have to have cars," says Kopman. Also find cabinets filled with all kinds of jewelry.

The two friends often haunt flea markets and local dealers on Sundays and during the summer months. Otherwise, they attend the major toy and gift shows and buy only those things that tickle their fancies.

Remember those little pressed metal animalshaped clacker toys and the wooden push-up figurines that appear to dance? They're here - at Imaji-

Sofia Loren, Audrey Hepburn, Brigitte Bardot, Elizabeth Taylor, Grace Kelly, Diana Ross and Liza Minnelli, For years, major cosmetics companies have requested that he create exclusive lines for them, and international fashion magazines and photographers have offered him collaborations.

Recently, Cagne decided to launch his own cosmetics line with the Jean Klebert label, a premier Italian cosmetics company. The new makeup and skin care products are available for the first time in the United States at Florence in Livonia.

Lucky for owners Jim Batterson and Tom Drummy, former Jacobson's execs, they were acquainted with Ann Arbor massage therapist Christina Hibbs and relied on her energy and expertise to help open the exclusive Laurel Park Place skincare center. Hibbs jumped in with both feet, sponge painting an interior wall to look like stone, and traveling to Italy to watch chemists stirring vats of spa mud and to get personal makeup application technique instruction from Cagne.

The Klebert product lines are extensive and specific to skin type. Hibbs highlighted a few of the key products, including Iridium for eye care, Dr. Schon for hand and foot care, and Club delle Terme treatments with Porretta Spa Mud, an ancient Italian restorative. Following Italian tradition, each end use product has its own name.

The star of the makeup line is sericin, a special silk protein that gives foundations, eye shadows and lipstick a rich texture that locks in moisture, "like a second skin," says Hibbs. The staff at Florence is trained in makeup application and offer complimentary makeovers. Hibbs also continues to ply her trade, giving facial, neck and shoulder, and hand and foot massages. The "quickie" massages are $10-$20, a dollar a minute.

As Hibbs ends her knowledgeable repartee about skin care, she kneads the back and shoulders of a lunch-hour massage client. "Wow," says Keith Fig-Hibbs knows the product lines and easily con- urski of Canton, as he groggily stumbles from the

How to make the most of the Great White Way

BY CINDI COOK SPECIAL WRITER

Planning a great evening at the theater would make even the most seasoned chorus girl swoon. The Great White Way is experiencing a boom it hasn't seen in years, with 20 broadway shows now listed and 11 soon to appear. Shows like "Cats" and 'The Phantom of the Opera' (each with runs of over a decade) continue to play to sold out housand lines continue to form es nightly outside of "Les Miserables.

So how do you get to Broadway?? It will take more than a plane ticket, or a song in your heart. Since Times Square can be daunting for even the most native of New Yorkers, let alone those from out of town, auditioning all your options will give you a star-studded evening.

Just the ticket

Only Lady Luck or the Leading Lady can land tickets to some shows. Tele-charge and Ticketmaster, those blessed creations of theater producers, are the most convenient methods of purchase. Friendly operators are there 24 hours a day, every day, to take orders (credit cards only) for the shows they handle. Performances are Tuesday through Sunday evenings, with matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays (Monday being "dark"). The hitch: nominal service and handling charges ranging from $4.25 to $9 are added to ticket prices which can range from $55 to $80.

About town:

Tele-charge (212-239-6200/ 800-432-7250 or 800-223-7565; HYPERLINK http:// www. telecharge. com www. telecharge. com) handles 20 Broadway and 34 Off-Broadway shows. Tickets are mailed if placed within 10 days of the performance, held otherwise. Ticketmaster (212-307-4550/7171; www.ticketmaster.com) oversees ticket ordering for 11 Broadway shows and eight Off-Broadway shows. Unfortunately, there are no refunds or exchanges.

Other routes are The Broadway Line, an automated phone service with detailed information on purchasing, show dates and times, and TKTS, the booth in Duffy Square, just north of Times Square, and at 2 World Trade Center (212-768-1818 for information on both). TKTS offers shows at a discounted price for that day's or evening's performance only-often at half off. Sorry, only cash and travelers checks accepted and theyire are not open Sunday.

The best shows

New York Theater is at its pinnacle right now. In a recent The New York Times "On Stage and Off," columnist Rick Lyman states, "There are 38 Broadway theaters and every one is booked. Solid." The choices, it seems, are bigger than the last casting call for "A Chorus Line." There are revivals "The Sound of Music," "Cabaret," and soon "Annie Get Your Gun"; there are plays about old New York "Ragtime" and new New York "Rent. There are plays about animals "The Lion King" and something beyond animal "Beauty and the Beast"; there are plays from movies "Footloose." There is pure dance: "Fosse" and pure song, "Smokey Joe's Cafe"; there are felines "Cats" and phantoms "The Phantom of the Opera": British imports "Art" and down and dirty American originals "Bring in Da Noise, Bring in Da Funk." Too many to mention and more on the way. Look for reviews in The New York Times, The New Yorker, and Playbill •magazines.

Dinner for two or more

Steps from the stage door lie a myriad of restaurants. Chez Josephine, named for ex-pat cabaret lovely Josephine Baker at 414 West 42nd Street (212-594-1925) dishes up diverse French Bistro fare.

Fill your pasta bowl and your stomach at Carmine's, 200 West 44th Street (212-221-3800). Extremely popular since its opening six years ago, Carmine's traditional family-style fare (read: lots of food on big plates) are more suitable for groups, but one or two dishes will satisfy you, your dinner companion and your doggie bags.

To see Gotham in all its glory, try The View, atop the Marriott Marquis (1535 Broadway, 212-704-8900). This restaurant is not for the easily queasy; as you dine, it rotates (slowly). Keep looking out the window, though; you might be able to see Maple Avenue if you look closely enough.

If nothing but a New York steakhouse will do, there are plenty. One of the best is Gallagher's, on West 52 Street, just off Broadway (212-245-5336). You know you're in business when a freezer full of meat stares you in the face upon entry. The portions aren't skimpy nor the prices. Slabs of filet mignon and swordfish, creamed spinach, and footballsize baked potatoes with all the trimmings make it worth every penny getaway.

One spot exudes cabaret more than any other: the Algonquin Hotel (59 West 44th Street, 212-840-6800). The hallowed halls have been privy to the biggest names in show biz John and Ethel Barrymore, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. (who spent his honeymoon there), and Dorothy Parker, George S. Kaufmann, famed members of the legendary Algonquin Round Table. Catch Andrea Marcovicci and the like in the cozy Oak Room.

Cafe Carlyle in the Carlyle Hotel (35 East 76th Street, entrance on Madison between 76th and 77th Streets, 212-744-1600) is an exquisite spot. Legend Bobby Short holds court for charge just for stepping inside.

The best guides

It was no surprise that my mother, theater maven and veteran of 30 years of Birmingham community theater, brought to my attention probably the most comprehensive guide to New York theater: Applause: New York's Guide to the Performing Arts. This slim volume lists it all. It opens with a map of the theater district and lists music, theater, dance, opera, jazz and cabaret, childrenis events, environmental and performance art, festivals and seasonal events, and free events. One almost need look no further, it is that great.

If you're interested in seating only, the folks at Tele-charge offer Stubs, a 5-by-7 publication that provides seating charts for all Broadway theaters, Off-Broadway theaters. Chiefs even record

The Plymouth Canton girls swim team bounced back from a disheartening loss last Tuesday at Saline to win its Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division opener, 101-85 at Walled Lake Thursday.

"It was really exciting and close and the girls swam real well," said Chiefs' coach Sarah Eubanks after her team evened its dual-meet mark at 2-2.

Canton had just five first-place finishes, instead relying on its superior depth to upend Walled Lake.

Teri Hanson led the way for the Chiefs, winning the 100-yard butterfly in a state-qualifying 1:01.26.

Other Canton winners were Danielle Drysdale in the 200 freestyle (2:06.35), Kim Weaver in the 500 free (6:00.36), Erin Rogala in the 100 breaststroke (1:17.29), and the team of Drysdale, Meagan Dowd, Chelsea Opdyke and Jaclyn Bernard in the 200 free relay (1:46.67).

The Chiefs host seven-time defending WLAA champion Livonia Stevenson at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Lions roar

The Canton Lions varsity football team put two touchdowns by Brandon Szwejkowski to good use last Sunday in a 22-7 vicotry over the Dearborn Heights Redskins. Quarterback Drew Amble tossed two TD passes, each covering 21 yards, and Drew Bringley booted two extra points to boost the offense. On defense, Anthony Nowak intercepted a pass and Jake Powers recovered a fumble, and Jimmy Kral, Jason Lewis and Randy Epley sparkled all-around.

The Lions junior varsity improved to 2-0 with a 28-0 blanking of the Redskins last Sunday. Chris Drabicki scored twice on runs of 3 and 4 yards to spark the offense, which also got TD runs of 3 yards from Bobby Groat and 8 yards from Matt Trublowski. The defense was led by Nathan Rzeppa and the special teams by Jonathon Wood, who blocked a punt.

The Lions freshmen team wasn't as fortunate, dropping a 26-8 decision to the Redskins. The Lions surrendered 20 first-half points and didn't close the gap until the fourth quarter, when Johnny Groat scored on a 6yard run. Joshua LeDuc booted the two-point conversion, making it 20-8. A late Redskin score sealed the Lions fate

All three Lions' teams host the Rangers today at Central Middle School.

Quick-striking Vikings shock Rocks

How could this happen? Walled Lake Central had not won this season. But the Vikings came out Friday like a team bound for the state playoffs, scoring 25 first-quarter points - too much for Salem to overcome.

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK STAFF WRITER

It was three football games in one. Walled Lake Central won the first one Friday night, scoring 25 points in the first 8:53 of play.

Plymouth Salem took the second, tallying 17 points in the final 10:25 of the second quarter.

And the third contest ended in a scoreless tie. Walled Lake Central goes into the record books as the winner, though, taking the 25-17 decision as its first victory of the season. Plymouth Salem is now 2-2. Both schools have 1-1 records in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"It happened too quick for us," Vikings' coach Darrell Harper said.

"We were 0-3. And scoring 25 points in the first quarter, we didn't know how to handle that.

We're a young team. We expected the other team to quit. But in this league, teams don't quit. Give (Salem coach) Tom Moshimer credit. Give his kids credit."

Quick? Like lightning. The Vikings had 25 points before they ran their seventh offensive play from scrimmage.

Andy Movalson ripped off a 38-yard touchdown run on a counter play after Jake Leonhardt had recovered a fumble on Salem's first possession of the game.

Salem went three-and-out on its second possession and Movalson scooted 11 yards around left end for a touchdown after quarterback Cory Heitsch hit Mike Higgins with a 20-yard pass on third down.

The Rocks got a first down but a first-down pass was picked off by junior Evan Connell on his own 30. Joe Paletta zipped 67 yards to the Salem three on a counter and two plays later scored from the five to make it 19-0 with 5:34 left in the first quarter.

A holding penalty on a Salem punt pushed the Rocks back to their 22 and Jasson Andriese broke through to block

DuPage bounces SC in OT

BY C.J. RISAK SPORTS EDITOR

Ninety minutes of regulation play couldn't decide it. Neither could 15 minutes of sudden-death overtime. It took five minutes of a second suddendeath OT before one defense would crack Unfortunately, it was Schoolcraft College's.

The Ocelots played visiting College of DuPage (outside Chicago) to a vir-tual standstill for the entire match until that second OT. That's when David Wlodarczyk pounced on a loose ball in front of the SC net and struck a shot that got under a diving Eric O'Neil (from Livonia Stevenson), rolling into the left corner of the goal to give DuPage its 1-0 victory.

The win left DuPage, the second-ranked team in the NJCAA, undefeated at 8-0. SC slipped to 9-2.

"We had our chances, they had their chances," said Ocelot coach Van Dimitriou. "I don't like to lose, but there was no disgrace in this. I thought the boys played well. I thought they handled themselves well." well.'

SC did a lot of things right, including adjusting to a new lineup Dimitri-ou had put in for the first time. What the Ocelots could not do was put one in the net, although they had some good chances.

But, then again, so did DuPage.

Both teams missed two open-net scoring opportunities in the first half. The Ocelots had the upper hand early, but toward the end of the opening half DuPage was asserting itself. Indeed, in the final two minutes of the half, O'Neil had to first make a leaping save following a corner kick, then swallowed up an attempted crossing pass to an open teammate.

Power still hot

After opening the season by going unbeaten in its first six games (5-0-1 in that stretch), the Siena Heights men's soccer team has fallen on a bit of hard times in the last 10 days, losing two of three matches to a pair of unbeaten squads in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference - Tri-State University (3-2) and Madonna University (3-1).

Still, the Saints managed a 4-2 victory inbetween those losses over Indiana Tech. Sam Skeels scored three of Siena Heights' goals in that match: the fourth, and first of the match, came courtesy of freshman midfielder Andy Power (from Plymouth Salem), whose goal 15 minutes into the match made it 1-0.

With the loss to Madonna last Monday, the Saints were 6-2 overall and 1-2 in the WHAC

Big night: Salem co-captain Christine Phillips riddled Livonia Franklin for 18 points in Thursday's win.

Canton gobbles up Glenn; Salem crushes Franklin

The Plymouth Canton girls basketball program is where Joel Lloyd wants John Glenn to be in the near future

It's getting there

The Rockets (4-4, 1-2) hung with the Chiefs for a half Thursday before succumbing to Canton's experience and firepower in a 47-32 loss. Last season Canton easily handled John Glenn.

"I thought we played an extremely good defensive first half," Glenn's coach Lloyd said "In the third quarter, well, Canton is just extremely disciplined on offense. They just worked the ball on us

Canton (5-3, 1-1) got off to a 10-6 lead but John Glenn played the Chiefs to a 10-10 second quarter and trailed, 20-16, at intermission. Canton came out with a 13-5 third quarter to put some distance between itself and the Rockets

"I thought Glenn played very well." said Canton oach Bob Blohm. "It was almost a carbon-copy of the North Farmington game (a 49-41 Canton loss), the way they packed in their zone

"We got some good shots, we just didn't get any second shots against them. They played us tough. It wasn't an easy game for us

Anne Morrell continued to supply the big defensive plays for the Chiefs, and she added a season-high 12 points on offense. Janell Tweitmeyer also netted 12 points for Canton Stephanie Crews led all scorers, getting 13 points for the Rockets.

"We watched film," Llovd said, "and on numerous possessions they go 10 or more passes in their halfcourt offense. They get the shot they want Plymouth Salem roared out to an 18-5 lead and shut Livonia Franklin out in the third quarter Thursday while scoring 16 points.

The game went into running time limited clock stoppages) at 5-1/2 minutes of the third period

Senior center Christine Phillips and junior guard Tiffany Grubaugh led Salem (6-0, 2-0) with 18 points apiece Freshman Kelly Jaskot scored 10, Dawn Allen eight and Jenna Van Wagoner seven

Tyra Morrill paced Franklin (1.4, 0.2) with seven points

PCA 44, Flat Rock 37: Plymouth Christian Academy made it six straight with Thursday's win over the visiting Rams. Flat Rock fell to 2-3

The Rams, led by Shannon Brodie's 13 points daughter of Salem coach Bob Brodie , were up 10-6 after one quarter and 17-16 at the half. It remained a close contest - the score was tied after three quarters, 29-all - until the final period

The Eagles got strong overall play from senior center Jenny Sutherland, who totaled 13 points and 11

Low-shooting Stevenson tops Rocks; Chiefs win

It was pivotal, to be sure. And Plymouth Salem's golf team did what it had to do Friday against Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division rival Livonia Stevenson.

Unfortunately, it wasn't quite enough Stevenson moved into a tie for second place overall in the WLAA with Salem thanks to four Spartans who bettered 40, enough for a 189-200 victory at Whispering Willows in Livonia.

"It wasn't a poor score by any means said Salem coach Rick Wilson of his team's scores. The Rocks and Stevenson are now both 6-2 in the WLAA; the Spartans are 7-2 overall. "Give Stevenson credit, they must have been primed for us. Those are great scores.'

The Spartans were paced by Steve Polanski's medalist-earning 35. Kevin Yuhasz was next best for Stevenson with a 36, Mike Byberg shot 37 and Roy Rabe followed with a 38. The fifth Spartan scorer was Scott Wolfe, 43.

Salem shot well, too, led by Adam Wilson with a 37. Mike Thackaberry shot 39, Ryan Nimmerguth and Erik Krueger fired 41s, and James McCafferv had a 42.

Fish habitat projects hit home

Founded in OUTDOOR 1982 by Rus-INSIGHTS sell Bengel, the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation has been restoring wildlife and fish habitat in Michigan at an unparalleled pace.

The mission statement of the MWHF declares: "We in the Foundation resolve to bequeath of natural experiences. To do so will require the reversal of many detrimental changes and the restoration of degraded fish and wildlife habitats
