Ambush murder trial under wa

Two of three teens charged in the slaying of a correctional officer at a Canton mobile home park will be tried on first-degree murder charges beginning Monday. A third defendant faces trial in Wayne Circuit Court Nov. 18.

BY SCOTT DANIEL STAFF WRITER

Two teens charged with killing correctional Officer David Martell last November will stand trial starting

Mark Edwards, 16, and Matt Leonard, 17, face counts of first-degree murder, conspiracy to commit murder and felony firearm use. Leonard faces an additional charge of receiving and concealing a stolen firearm.

The teens will be tried together in front of Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Cynthia Hathaway A third teen charged in the shooting, James Blanchfield, 17; will be tried on first-degree murder, conspiracy to commit murder and felony firearm use. His case will be heard separately by Hathaway starting Nov. 18, Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Christopher Coyle said.

There's ample evidence to convict," Coyle said of the cases

Martell, 21, was killed in an ambushstyle shooting at Westpointe Mobile Home Park in Canton Township on Nov. 19 of last year.

Witness statements claim the Belleville man was killed because he had a friend steal guns and drugs from another teen.

Using handguns ranging in caliber from .22 to .38, Edwards, Leonard and Blanchfield allegedly shot Martell as he left a female friend's home in West-

As he drove away from her home, he was shot twice and then crashed into a mobile home as he attempted to flee from the gunmen. One of the shots hit Martell in the chest, killing him. Testimony at a preliminary exam in 35th District Court indicated the three teens met several days before Martell's murder and plotted the shooting.

Edwards had been seen with a .25caliber handgun, Leonard a .38-caliber handgun and Blanchfield a .22-caliber handgun, testimony revealed. Michigan State Police crime lab tests suggested five spent bullet casings found

Tonda's new science 'lab' is all decked out

Approximately 600 students, teachrecent dedication of the deck, part of the outdoor science laboratory along Fellows Creek (also known as Tonda Stream) that runs behind the school.

The deck is part of the ongoing project at the Canton school designed to teach students about nature. In the spring of 1997, students planted more than 900 trees in an effort to naturalize the area behind the school. Since then, butterfly, duck and bat houses have been erected to attract wildlife.

"I like to come out here. It's not very often you come across places like this outside because people destroy places like this," said Mina Innes, 10. "It's nice to have a place that's all wildlife and no people to interfere with it."

"The money for the wood came from the Nongame Wildlife Fund, and parents donated their time to construct it,' said Marjane Baker, a fifth-grade teacher whose ideas spearheaded the naturalization project several years ago.

"I would go on the bridge (that crosses the creek) during the summer and watch them work," said Mina. "They worked hard, and I was grateful for all the people who dedicated their time to put this deck up here for us."
"The goal is to get classrooms outside, and the deck will allow us to do more of our teaching out here," said Belvitch. "We want to encourage teachers to use the creek and the deck to help teach children environmental science outside. Kids will start talking science just by walking along the creek. It gets learning in the right direction.

"It's better than being in the class-room and sitting around," said Marwan Faraj, 10. "We took our (first-grade) buddies and asked them questions on what they hear, see and smell. Maybe in the future they will know about nature.

"It's kind of fun to that we planted trees two years ago and they've grown," added 10-year-old Jill Flora, indicating with her hand that her tree started this tall (about 1 foot) and grew to this tall (about 4 feet.) "Sometimes, I come here after school just to be with

Canton to add precincts to handle more voters

Changes in where Canton residents vote are on the way. The township will add "three or four" precincts by next spring, according to Township Clerk Terry Bennett. State law mandates the additions.

"You can only have 2,500 registered voters in a precinct, Bennett said. In 1994, the last non-presidential election, 34.611 township residents registered to vote. This year, 44,015 registered - a jump of some 27 percent.

had "We've tremendous growth in the community's population," Bennett said.

McLaughlin optimistic despite commission loss

BY SCOTT DANIEL STAFF WRITER

Despite failing in her bid to win the 11th District Wayne County Commission seat, Melissa McLaugh lin isn't closing the door on her polit ical future

"I will keep my eyes open for other opportunities," said the Canton Republican, who wasn't sure what those options might be at this point "I haven't thought that far ahead."

McLaughlin lost to Wayne Democrat John Sullivan by just 47 votes on election night. She was unsure if she'd ask for a recount before the deadline in about two weeks

"I don't know if that's the right thing to do," said McLaughlin would take 25 votes to turn the election my way."

Recounts rarely turn up that many votes. She also mentioned the cost of a recount, $10 per precinct. as a deterring factor.

McLaughlin, who had worked for departing Commissioner Bruce Patterson, won in Canton Township. but Sullivan bested her in other parts of the 11th District including Wayne, Belleville, Romulus and the townships of Sumpter, Huron and Van Buren

She attributed Sullivan's victory to an effective get-out-the-vote campaign by the UAW. She said she counted 150 people wearing union clothing at a Van Buren poll she worked on Tuesday

"When you have Ray Bailey who has never bought a lawn sign getting 36 percent of the vote, and you have a guy like Loren Bennett eading only 52 to 48 percent (over Ken Warfield), you know there was a mobilized activity," McLaughlin

Straight party voting also hurt, she added About 2,900 people pulled the Democratic lever in Canton while 2,500 more did the same in Romulus. McLaughlin said.

Because of her commitments to Patterson, she wasn't able to begin working on her own race in earnest until September

"I don't know that I could've gotten out much earlier." McLaughlin

She didn't feel that was a factor, though After working closely with constituents in the 11th District for three years as part of Patterson's team, she felt her name was known.

Don't rake leaves into drains

Wayne County officials are asking that residents of western Wayne County communities and nine townships, including Canton, Redford and Plymouth, avoid sweeping or raking leaves into drainage ditches or the gutters of paved residential streets.

Each year county road crews battle flooding problems due to leaves blocking the drains, especially in Wayne County townships where Wayne County is responsible for the maintenance of all residential streets.

"We are making an appeal to residents to follow their township's leaf disposal program and not put their leaves where they could plug up a drainage culvert or catch basin," said Bob Mahoney, Wayne County director of roads. "Each fall we are inundated with calls from homeowners whose property is flooded because their leaves - or their neighbor's leaves - have plugged the drainage system. This forces us to take our crews away from road repairs to clean out the obstruction. Each community has a leafpickup program, usually one that, requires residents to put their leaves into approved brown paper bags or trash containers marked "compost

Wayne County can't enforce township ordinances, but the township could ticket residents who sweep their leaves where they will block culverts and catch basins, according to Leo ship's Department of Public Ser vices. "We send out ordinance officers to enforce the township's policy, and homeowners definitely could receive a ticket," Snage

From the county's perspective the less time county crews spend blowing out culverts and catch basins the more time workers can spend keeping the roads in shape. Mahoney said "And from the residents' perspective, properly disposing of leaves will keep them from being ticketed and make them good neighbors by not causing a flooding problem

For more information on leaf disposal policies, residents can call their local department of public services

WAITING IN PAIN

We are familiar with the adage: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." The converse is: "If something is wrong, don't wait to right it."

When you have arthritis, you tend to disregard this advice. Too often, you take the view that it is all right to leave the pain alone another day, give the joint ache more time to go away. Such a view ignores not only the discomfort you continue to endure, but the loss of useful time. When you move in pain, you move slowly, or not at all. The result is you get less done and forgo not only work but recreation.

Responding to joint pain does not mean that every ache requires a doctor's appointment. However, you should consider at least a phone call to your physician if you have pain, not explained by injury or past experience with your arthritis. Important features that the present episode is different includes if the pain:

Lasts more than 24 hours, spreads from one joint to another, worsens over time despite rest is accompanied by fever, develops into joint swelling, continues despite use of prescribed

"We're obviously looking forward to the completion of it." said Elaine Kirchgatter, Canton Township treasurer.

The project to widen Canton Center to five lanes has caused some disruption for motorists. Kirchgatter said. Canton has been plagued with traffic delays in the I-275-Ford Road area.

"I think people will still see some traffic delays, but (the project) will ease traffic at Canton Center and Cherry Hill. It will probably help police and fire units because Canton Center will have a center lane."

Kirchgatter hoped Canton can continue working with Wayne County for road improvements, particularly on Beck Road between Ford and Cherry Hill and Morton Taylor between Ford and Warren.

Bennett, McCotter win leadership spots

The Republican Senate leadership will contain representation from western Wayne County for the next legislative session.

State Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, was elected assistant majority leader, while Sen. Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, was chosen to be assistant majority floor leader at the postelection Senate Leadership cau-

As assistant majority floor leader, McCotter will work with the Senate's new floor leader. Mike Bouchard, R-Birmingham. McCotter will be responsible for aiding in the scheduling and the Senate. He will also be responsible for informing members on the order of business and the progress of measures that may be considered for a final McCotter said he was honored by the faith of his fellow GOP Senators in his abilities, especially Sens. Bennett, Joanne Emmons, R-Big Rapids, and William Van Regenmorter, R-Hudsonville.

McCotter said Bennett tutored him on the "finer points of the caucus process," Emmons was "committed" to having a freshman in a leadership position, which made McCotter's election possible, and Van Regenmorter's support was critical as he was the former assistant majority floor leader.

"Most importantly, of course, I am indebted to Sen. (Robert) Geake for his help throughout the election and the caucus process.

Bennett replaces Bouchard as assistant majority leader, following Bouchard's rise to Senate Majority Floor Leader.

"I greatly appreciate the support and approval by my Senate colleagues in electing me to the position of assistant majority leader," Bennett said.

Others named to state GOP Senate leadership spots are:

Fran Harris, broadcast pioneer, remembered

BY JULIE BROWN STAFF WRITER ibrown@oe.ho

Broadcasting pioneer Fran

Marion Marzolf, retired profes-nications at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Harris got her start in broadcasting in the advertising. department at Himelhoch's Department Store in the 1930s. The new college graduate opted for a retailing job and then moved into the advertising department.

The store bought five minutes of air time on WWJ radio three times a week during November and December, an unusual move. She got the assignment because she was the newest member of the department.

"I went home and told my mother and father I was going to be on the radio, and it wasn't until months and months later that I found out my father had gone down to the station to make sure it was a reputable place for women to work," Mrs. Harris recalled in a Sept. 26, 1988, interview with the Observ-

The Detroit native later did a helpful hints program.

On Jan. 4, 1943, she became the first woman newscaster in the state. She continued to do news and interviews for 20 years before moving into WWJ's corporate area.

She entered TV in 1946 as the first woman to broadcast news from "the attic of the Penobscot Building." She made her debut in a cooking show and also did a children's show.

Mrs. Harris, who had lived in Westland and Livonia, pioneered a forerunner of "People's Court" for local TV in 1949-50. "Traffic Court" was based on real cases, with only the defendant played by an actor. After 10 years of Traffic Court," she did a similar program, "Juvenile Court."

She and her late husband. Hugh, also raised a family. "I' was always home for dinner/and we never talked about our jobs at dinner," she recalled in the 1988 Observer interview. "We talked about the things the kidswere interested in and were doing."

Combining career and family set a good example for younger women, according to U-M's Marzolf, who had interviewed Mrs. Harris for her book, "Up From the Footnote," published in 1977.

"I think it makes for a much richer, fuller life. It's great to be able to see you can do that,' Marzolf said. The support of others, such as a husband, makes such achievement possible.

Marzolf said Mrs. Harris had network job offers, but opted to stay in Detroit. "The fact that she was there and had done all those things made her a significant role model."

Mrs. Harris was the first woman installed in Michigan's Journalism Hall of Fame in 1986. In 1988, she was inducted into the Michigan Women's Hall of Fame. She was active in Women in Communications Inc., having served as national president, and was a charter member of the Women's Economic Club of Detroit.

Learn your food's genetic background

ow would you like a big bowl of fresh strawberries with fish genes? How about a mound of grandma's homemade mashers with chicken genes? And don't forget to save room for a two-scoop serving of your favorite ice cream produced with milk containing BGH (Bovine Growth Hormone) which has been linked to breast and prostrate cancer.

On Saturday, Oct. 31, Chefs Collaborative, an organization of food professionals committed to safe food products and healthy whole foods, in conjunction with Greenpeace, kicked off its campaign against the horrors of these genetically engineered foods.

Most chefs, myself included, are committed to the pursuit of good cooking that nourishes people. Since the time that humans first started cultivating plants and raising animals for food, we have been striving to make food healthier and food production more efficient. Using the natural mechanisms of cross breeding, which is nature's way of ensuring genetic diversity, we have been able to affect the biological traits of offspring by selecting and mating the parents that carry the traits we desire. Crossbreeding can only take place between species of plants and animals that are closed related genetically.

Genetic engineering

With the advent of genetic engineering, scientists are now able to surpass the natural barriers of crossbreeding. Genetic engineers can cut out bites of organism DNA genes and splice them together into totally unrelated species such as the strawberry/fish example.

A gene from a flounder was encrypted into a strawberry gene to give it additional tolerance to the cold. The hope was that frozen strawberry products would thaw and taste

Over 16 million Americans have been diagnosed with diabetes, and perhaps millions more have the disease but do not know it. Diabetes is a serious, incurable disease that causes your blood sugar to be too high.
Over time, diabetes can harm your eyes, kidneys, nerves, heart and blood vessels. But diabetes doesn't have to be scary. Studies have show that, in most cases, all foods can fit in a diabetic diet if they are managed

Our body normally handles food by breaking it down into tiny particles. These particles get absorbed from the intestines and into the blood stream where they travel to all parts of the body to be used. Foods that contain protein, like meat, eggs and cheese, are broken down into amino acids and build muscle tissue.

Foods that contain carbohydrates, like bread, cereal, fruit, vegetables, and milk, become glucose and travel to the brain and muscles for energy and performing work. Foods that contain fat are broken down into fatty acids and used for energy or stored for later use. Any extra amino acids, glucose or fatty acids not immediately needed, get converted to fat for storage. And in fact, our body has unlimited capacity to store

However, with diabetes, a horcalled insulin, that allows glucose to enter the cells of the body, is either absent, or the body becomes resistant to it. So instead of insulin working to pick up glucose from the blood, glucose stays in our blood, and we have no energy. If high blood glucose continues, it can cause damage to sensitive organs resulting in blindness, kidney failure and ampu-

Types of diabetes

There are several types of diabetes, however, the two most common are Type 1 and Type 2. Type 1 diabetes is an inherited disorder that primarily occurs before age 30. People with Type 1 produce little or no insulin, and to survive, must depend on daily injections of insulin. Because stomach acids destroy insulin before it can be absorbed, insulin cannot be taken orally.

A far greater percentage of people with diabetes, perhaps 90-95 percent, have Type 2 diabetes. This type primarily appears after age 40. These people may produce normal levels of insulin, however, their body becomes resistant to it, or its release is delayed and sluggish. These people usually can correct this defect by taking oral glucose lowering medication to stimulate insulin. About 40 percent of people with Type 2 diabetes eventually require insulin injections to control their blood sugar. There is a myth that some people have a "touch" of diabetes or are "borderline diabetic." There is no such thing you either pass or fail the blood glucose load test. Some people have what is called Impaired Glucose Tolerance (IGT) and with weight loss, IGT returns to normal.

People who require insulin injections to control their blood sugar may be prescribed one or more types of insulin. Medication, diet and exercise must be balanced to get good blood sugar control.

The primary goal for people with diabetes is to achieve and maintain near normal blood sugar levels. Daily monitoring of blood sugar is important to evaluate how the body is responding to food, activity, stress and other daily events. So whether you are injecting insulin, or taking oral medication, it is important to test your blood sugar frequently according to your doctor's recommendations.

People with diabetes have special meal planning needs. The first step is to consult with a registered dietitian to develop a flexible, personalized meal plan. There is no such thing as a

THE MICROWAVE

Taking work out of low-fat cooking

I didn't grow up eating low-fat foods. Like most of my patients I was brought up in a food culture that said, "fat tastes great." When later nutrition research pointed out that this was not the way to avoid the diseases programmed by my genes, I reconsidered my eating

It was then that I met what has become a venerable friend my microwave oven. It became a major support for my low-fat cooking efforts.

The microwave oven doesn't need fat to cook foods deliciously. It cooks vegetables, fruit, fish and poultry in less than half the time, and with half the dirty dishes of stove and oven cooking. It's not only a boon to cooks like me who are in a human but also me who are in a hurry, but also lazy cleaner-uppers as well. One of my most flavorful treasured recipes for the microwave is this one for Apricot Cornish Hens. It has most of the necessary virtues

It also keeps with half the fat, satuthe dirty rated fat and dishes of calories at low limits. stove and I don't even oven cookmiss one of the loves of former life - the chicken skin.

The white wine Worcestershire sauce and apricots contribute a more interesting tart-sweet fla-ing.

This recipe works in a 650-700 watt microwave oven. It yields a moist, juicy bird that's really an improvement over the traditional oven roasting. I like to skin the cooked halves and then brush them with the white wine Worcestershire sauce so that they'll turn a lovely golden brown under the stove broiler.

The halves should be cooked and left to stand until an internal temperature of 175°F (drumstick) is reached. I measure this on an instant read thermometer to sidestep food contamination problems.

Cornish hens are really small chickens. As such they are a possible source of Salmonella infections. Surprisingly, however, most of the problems with infec-tion occur when a raw, or slightly cooked, food has come in contact with the raw poultry or its juices

I like to defrost poultry in the fridge just prior to cooking. After handling raw poultry make it a rule to wash your hands, the cutting surface and cutting tools with hot soapy water or in the dishwasher before preparing another food.

I like to serve my hens with quick-cooking wild rice prepared in sodium reduced, fat-free bouillon. I add sliced water chestnuts, slivered green onions and dried cranberries for crunch, color and single "diabetic" diet anymore. All foods, even sugary desserts, can be worked into a meal plan It is important, especially now before the holidays, to have a clear understanding of how all foods fit into a diabetic diet.

People with diabetes can enjoy a traditional Thanksgiving meal. They just have to do a little plan ning. If you require insulin to keep your diabetes in check, it is important to stay on track and keep within your prescribed dietary restrictions. For those who control diabetes with pills and/or diet, a Thanksgiving dinner can certainly be a pleasure. Just enjoy small portions. This is good advice for all of us, with or without diabetes. Instead of feeling bloated and uncomfortable after the meal, by eating sensibly, we'll feel better and be ready to help with dishes and go out for a nice, brisk walk.

Here are some general nutrition recommendations: ■ Protein - The requirement for protein is the same as for the general population, approximately 10-20 percent of calories.

■ Fat - The general recommendation for the U.S. population is to limit fat to 30 percent or less, of total calories. This applies to people with diabetes daily fat further to lose weight ■ Carbohydrates - The total daily carbohydrate intake is what is left over after protein and fat calories are used, typical ly 50-60 percent of total calories. Scientific evidence does not justify the longtime belief that plain sugar (sucrose) aggravates blood sugar control more than other carbohydrate foods. Neverthe less, foods containing sucrose are typically higher in calories and fat, and lower in important nutrients. They should be used in limited amounts. ■ Fiber - The fiber recom mendations for people with diabetes are the same as for the general public, 20-35 grams daily. Many people believe high fiber diets help control blood sugar, but current research does not support this. ■ Sodium - There is evidence that people with diabetes may be more "salt sensitive" than the general population. The recommended intake is less than three grams per day. Food selection should aim for less than 400ms of sodium per single serving of food, or less than 800mg of sodi um per entree or convenience

■ Alcohol - Is metabolized in a manner similar to fat. One drink equals about 100 fat calories Alcohol should be limited to not more than two drinks per day, and food or medication should not be altered. If you want to lose weight, are preg nant, on other medication, or have a history of substance abuse, alcohol should be avoided The concept of "exchanges" for food intake has been around since 1950 In the "Exchange List for Meal Planning," foods are placed into one of three groups according to the nutrients they contain

The carbohydrate group includes bread, cereals, grains, baked goods, fruit, vegetables and milk. The meat group contains meat, poultry, fish, eggs, cheese, dried beans, peas and lentils. The fat group contains nuts oils cream salad dressing butter and margarine.

A calorie level is determined to meet the individual's weight loss or maintenance needs, and a personalized meal pattern with meals and snacks is developed

The best advice for people with diabetes is to sit down with a registered dietitian and discuss your lifestyle, goals, needs and eating habits. Plans can be developed so that people with diabetes can be happy and

Unstuffed cabbage less work but just as good

1/2 cup chopped walnuts

5 cups cored, peeled, medi-

1/2 cup dried cherries

Juice of 1 lemon

2 tablespoons flour

1/2 cup white sugar

3/4 cup brown sugar

1/8 teaspoon cloves

1/8 teaspoon ginger

1 teaspoon cinnamon

2 sheets puff pastry

1/8 teaspoon allspice

Necessity and tradition have simmered together for so long in stuffed cabbage that they have melded with the ingredients in this down-to-earth dish to create something elemental.

For me, eating stuffed cabbage always triggers flashes of memory. I can taste my mother's stuffed cabbage, with its perfect balance of natural sweetness from dill and golden raisins, and lemony tartness.

Occasionally, I help my mother make stuffed cabbage, but it takes too long to bother with on my own. Seeking a way to shortcut the work so I can enjoy this healthful dish without taking a half day to make it, I realized the answer was to skip the stuffing.

This idea came to me while reading a Hungarian recipe for Luckoskaposzta, Sloppy Cabbage. This casserole combines the usual stuffed cabbage ingredients, but the meat is not stuffed into the cabbage.

When I tested my theoretical recipe in reality, simmering together shredded cabbage and sauerkraut, ground turkey and tomatoes, the result tasted like my best memories

Unstuffed cabbage still takes

according to the clock. But now, most of it is pot time, hours when you can be out of the kitchen while everything simmers together. Like most slow cooked dishes, this stuffed cab bage improves with time and reheating. Try to make it the day before serving, then reheat the entire potful, even when you are serving only part of it. What remains in the pot keeps getting better. Just add some water or broth each time the pot is Only one Michigan health plan made the grade in Newsweek's national survey.

HAP stands alone in Michigan: The only health plan to be ranked A, overall, in Newsweek magazine's third annual survey of health plans. And, HAP finished in the top 10% nationally. Newsweek surveyed 200 plans, examining how well they dealt with preventive care; how well they managed acute and chronic conditions; their choice and quality of doctors and hospitals. In all these categories, HAP scored well. It's because we emphasize personalized care from respected physicians and staff, along with prevention, and member education. "I had been searching for some answers to my questions about food and I was inspired by his book. It all made sense to me," said Wilson.

Making changes

In the summer of 1992, Wilson made a personal pledge that she would make an effort to add and cut out harmful foods from her diet by the New Year. "I dedicated myself to Macrobiotics and it's changed my life."

The 31-year-old Garden City resident now teaches Macrobiotic cooking classes from her home each week (Macro Val's Cooking School) to dozens of other hopeful consumers who don't feel they're get ting a healthy balance from the diet they currently

The macrobiotic theory was developed more than 100 years ago by Japanese physician Dr. Sagen Ishizuka, author of the book "The Cure Through Food." Ishizuka suffered from a bothersome skin disease of which "western medicine" deemed incur able. The Japanese doctor maintained that good health and longevity could be achieved by striking a balance between minerals found in the body and a diet based on unrefined natural foods grown locally and eaten in season.

The West was introduced to the macrobiotic theory in the late 1950s by George Ohsawa who translated Ishizuka's theories into a diet called "Macrobiotics," derived from the Greek words meaning "the great art of life."

Two students of his liberalized some variables in Ohsawa's diet following his death by emphasizing less salt and grain and more vegetables, salads and fruit.

Wilson's, Macro Val's Cooking School, furthers Michio Kushi and Herman Aihara's ideas that foods consumed in their most natural state, grown without chemical fertilizers/pesticides, free of additives and preservatives are favored over highly processed, refined foods.

Opposing energies

The Taoist concept of yin-yang classifies foods in the Macrobiotic diet by those that have a relaxing and generous effect (yin) to those with a contractive, focused effect (yang). For instance, meat and salt are highly contractive yang foods. In a meal containing these two foods, more expansive yin foods, like vegetables, should be eaten to bring

The orchestra's 26th season, dubbed the Romantic Tradition in American Music, begins with African American composer William Grant Still's "Festive Overture."

"We have great composers here," said Schesiuk. "Still is an African American composer. His music is really American music. I hear the color, the style, the American theme. It's written from the heart."

West Bloomfield pianist Pauline Martin is the first guest artist performing Prokofiev's "Piano Concerto No. 3." Martin plays Prokofiev's "best concerto," according to Schesiuk. "The composer finished the piece when he left the Russian Federation in 1921," he said. The theme, the feeling is very close to the stories of Alexander Pushkin with czars and princess.

Guest artist Martin, a Koch International Classics recording artist, appears frequently as a soloist with North American orchestras including the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. A music professor at Wayne State University, Martin was inspired by her mentor Menahem Pressler to form the St. Clair Trio in 1989 The trio, consisting of herself and Detroit Symphony string principals Geof-frey Applegate and Marcy Chanteaux, received a first-round Grammy nomination in 1996 for the compact disc "Hobson's Choice." The trio won a Motor City Music Award for "City Sketches: Works by James Hartway" in 1994. "Pauline Martin is a brilliant pianist," said Schesiuk. "We are very lucky to have

Create your own film · festival

By Hugh Gallagher Staff Writer hgallagher@oe.homecom

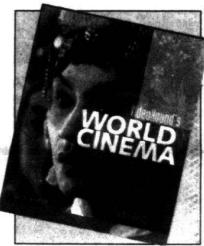

Eliot Wilhelm says his new "Video: hound's World Cinema: The Adventurer's Guide to Movie Watching -ts designed so that readers can create their film festival.

Wilhelm, director of the Detroit Film Theater Series at the Detroit Institute of Arts, has brought his passion for movies to a lively, opinionated and entertaining guide to 800 foreign films. The guide, priced at $19.95, is the latest in a series of successful Video-Hound and MusicHound guides from Farmington Hills publisher Visible Ink, an imprint of The Gale Group.

Visible Ink publisher Martin Connors approached Wilhelm two years ago about doing a guide based on Wilhelm's experience of bringing exciting foreign and independent films to Detroit for the past 25 years.

The guide features a capsule review of the films, vital statistics, recommendations for similar films viewers might like and information on how to rent videos that might not be readily available at your local video store.

The book is well organized and includes several indexes for cross referencing. In addition to the capsule reviews, Wilhelm includes short personality profiles on such prominent figures as Japanese actor Toshiro Mifune, Chinese actress Gong Li and French director Louis Malle and the legendary Luis Bunuel.

What the book does not have is a rating system.

"It's something I've never been fond of, though VideoHound has used a rating system in its other books," Wilhelm said. "What we found with my book, through the process of whittling down from thousands of titles, was that films I was selecting were mostly films I really liked. The vast majority would have a really high rating and it would be redundant and superfluous to have them rated. One of my problems with ratings is that it's not as simple as liking or disliking and we hope people would explore."

Wilhelm does make his likes and dislikes perfectly clear. He bluntly dismisses films that he finds offensive, exploitative or trite and sentimental But the majority of films are treated with the insight of an admirer and the knowledge of a film historian.

"Most of the films in the book were important to me, made an impression or had an impact on me," he said. "It's not necessarily great classics of foreign film, but ones that had an impact."

Cranbrook unveils 21stcentury interactive museum

BY FRANK PROVENZANO STAFF WRITER fprovenzano@oe.homecom.net

When Robert Gavin assumed the post of president of Cranbrook last September, it was generally agreed that it'd take about a year before his vision for the prestigious educational community would become clear.

ing conduc-

While Cranbrook supporters may suggest that after 14 months in the post Gavin shouldn't be bound by an arbitrary deadline, the impatient public at-large has a different response "Time's up."

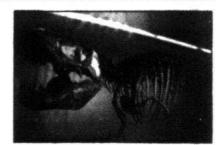

In the past year - unlike few other times in its 71-year history - Cranbrook has laid claim as a destination point, not just for students and benefactors, but for the general public starved for cultural experiences

This weekend's opening of the five newly installed permanent, interactive exhibits, at the Cranbrook Institute of Science is a decisive statement about the new direction of a place that conjures notions of wealth, privilege, and considering the formerly stodgy natural history exhibits - archeological mustiness

After much consideration, physical reconstruction and an investment of millions of dollars, those timeworn perceptions have been transformed expanded by more than 50 percent to 96,000 square feet in a sleek, engaging $27-million annex designed by renown architect Steven Holl. With a gritty contemporary aesthetic and an interactive playfulness, the newest exhibits feature what is commonly referred to as The Cranbrook Factor - the engaging blend of scientific principles with artfully designed presentations by a group of Cranbrook artists.

"We've approached the exhibits with a visual freshness," said Elaine Gurian, acting director of the Institute of Science. That's not an easy task, especially in the world of museums

where exhibits have a cookie-cutter sameness. "We've set out to be a standard bearer among science museums,"

Buzz of inclusiveness Since last summer, the buzz word from Cranbrook has been "inclusiveness." There has been a concentrated effort for non-academic programs to be targeted beyond the wealthy sylvan ndaries of the rolling field Hills campus.

"Cranbrook is serving a wider audience," said Gurian. "The value is on serving customers throughout the region.'

For Gurian, who sounds more like a marketing guru than a scientist, the Institute of Science must focus on delivering diverse programs, and connecting with the community at-large.

"We imagine one day to develop science curriculums, both formal and informal for the public," she said. "Right now, we're just

"A sea change"

Both Gavin and Gurian characterize Cranbrook's more public-oriented approach as a "sea change." An appropriate term considering the new exhibits at the Institute of Science pertain to evolutionary concepts, and adaptability of species over time.

In stature and style, Gavin and Gurian's "can do" attitude has emboldened the Institute of Science staff, many of whom were shaken after the death last January of former director Dan Gurian, who worked with Appleman in the mid 1980s at the Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History, noted that during the evolution of the revamped museum, they continually asked: Would this have made Dan proud?

"This is undoubtedly a tribute to the omnivorous curiosity of Dan Appleman," said Gurian, as she looked around as the finish ing touches were put the exhibits a few days before last Saturday's grand opening.

Gurian pointed to a place on the wall near the exhibits where a plaque dedicated to Appleman

"We all believe his vision has been realized."

For Gavin and Gurian, who is expected to step down as acting lirector when a new director is named in the next several months, there's hardly a feeling that "time's up."

On the contrary, at Cranbrook, they're just getting started.

Chaim Potok explores perilous path to adulthood

Zebra and Other Stories By Chaim Potok (Alfred A. Knopf, 1998, $18)

could run as fast zebras thundering across a grassy plain. In moment of seemed weightless as he soared through space - the boy moved into the path of an oncoming car. That ended his passion for running and plunged him "into a darkness from which he emerged very, very slowly. . ."

Thus begins the first narrative of "Zebra and Other Stories" by the much revered author Chaim Potok. Known for his poignant coming-of-age novels ("The Cho-"My Name Is Asher Lev") in which youthful protagonists are caught between the demands of Jewish tradition and the allure of modernity, Potok weaves his literary magic once again in a collection of six short pieces that reflect, this time, the cultural and religious diversity of mainstream America.

Each story focuses on the moment when a young person leaves the safety and ignorance of childhood and crosses the threshold to enter an adult world of peril and uncertainty. This transition also provides the link binding the seemingly disparate plots into a meaningful whole. Named for their protagonists, like Zebra, Isabel, Moon, and despair as the result of a tragic Max, the narratives explore the encounter. Yet they each find within themselves "the sublime impact that injury, drugs, sex, or sensation of secret power" to the loss of a parent makes on its cope with and even transcend teenage victim. phony Orchestra's "Overtures," a group made up of concert going "20-to-40 somethings," have been meeting to mix, mingle and enjoy classical music.

This season, "Overtures," will cater to metro-Detroit's urban and suburban singles through a four-concert/party subscription

Subscriptions include pre-concert parties beginning at 6 p.m. in the Orchestra Place atrium with live jazz, plentiful hors d'ouevres (enough for a light dinner) and cash bar.

At 8 p.m., Overtures subscribers will walk next door to Orchestra Hall to enjoy a Detroit Symphony Orchestra Classical Series concert.

Concerts for the Overtures four-concert subscription package include the "Concert for A New World," featuring the DSO under Music Director Neeme Jarvi performing Dvorak's "New World Symphony," 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 13; superstar flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal performing Mozart on Friday, March 12; the young American violinist Kurt Nikkanen in Prokofiev's Second Violin Concerto on Friday, April 23; and

Musicians lend a hand to Thanksgiving parade

Just call him the house band of radio station WPLT (The Planet, 96.3). Singer/songwriter Duncan Sheik has played two "Holiday Hootenanny" shows and one "Planetfest" concert, and he's returning once again to play "Light Up Detroit!" this Friday.

"I just always have a really good time playing their radio shows and they've always been really supportive of me. It's just the right kind of radio station for what I'm doing," Sheik said via telephone from Boston, Mass. "Light Up Detroit," which begins at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 13 at the State Theatre, is a benefit for The Parade Company, pro ducers of America's Thanksgiv ing Day Parade. Hooverphonic Jill Jack and Surfin' Pluto are also scheduled to perform. Outside of the State Theatre music fans at the show can get

More good luck

Playing major Detroit-area shows has become par for the course for the roots rock band Surfin' Pluto. Earlier this year, the band won the Midwest leg of the Kool Band-to-Band Contest allowing them to play the two HO.R.D.E. Festival dates at Pine Knob this summer.

Surfin' Pluto also opened for Paul Rodgers, formerly of Bad Company, at Pine Knob, and played at the House of Blues in

"It's been a fabulous year for us," said Chris Catallo, Surfin' Pluto keyboardist. The H.O.R.D.E. Festival was by far the most fun, according to Catallo, who lives in Rochester

"We got the full treatment of truly being on the bill. We met just about everybody on the show. We got to play with the guys from Blues Traveler, sat in with the singer from the Spin Doctors (who was hosting the workshop stage). I sat in and six-string acoustic bass, and played piano. We have horn players who do some gigs with us, and they played the second stage with all the different acts."

"It hasn't been quick at all," Catallo said with a laugh. "We've been playing around for years." The Catallo brothers have been playing together since they were youngsters in Warren.

"Me and my brother used to goof around writing songs. I had a piano in my bedroom and we'd sit around and play music," he

The band is playing in suppor of its self-titled, hook-laden debut, recorded at Underground Productions in Warren with producer Kevin Holevar of the country outfit The Clinton River

"Kevin wanted a more natural feel. He just let us go ahead and play. We wouldn't know if he was tracking or not. The one thing that he emphasized was That's what he wanted to cap ture in the studio."

Catallo explained that Surfin Pluto started out as a heavier band but eventually leaned toward melodic rock.

"The hooky stuff really started growing on us. It's fun playing it. This is definitely what we should

Thanksgiving's the time for some turkey talk

I'm hosting my first Thanksgiving dinner this year and want it to go well, so I've been doing some

Mainly, I wanted to know how big a turkey I should get, if it matters it the bird is fresh or frozen, and i there are any neat there that would make the meal easier to prepare.

folks at Butterball recommend buying one-and-a-hal pounds of turkey per person that, when cooked, will yield about 10 ounces per person. Christine loperti, one of the owners of Roperti's Turkey Farm in Livonia, recommended the same thing and said that 20- to 22-pound fresh turkeys are her biggest seller

Frozen turkeys need a lot of time to thaw out (24 hours for every four to five pounds). Fresh turkeys can be cooked right away, but they tend to cost more than frozen. Fresh turkeys tend to be very juicy, but frozen ones can be, too, depending on how they're processed and cooked.

If a fresh turkey is what you're after, they don't come any fresher than at Roperti's. Its fresh, dressed organically-fed turkeys are killed the day before customer pick-up, Roperti said. They come with cooking instructions and are so tender and juicy from their corn and wheat diet that they don't require basting, she added turkeys and as a convenience for customers who want to serve both a turkey and a ham, it takes ham orders for the Dearborn Sausage Co. All of the turkeys are raised on the Ropertis' 50-year-old farm. The farm and turkey store are located at 34700 Five Mile Road in Livonia. The store is only open Oct. 1 through Dec. 23, and it sells about 4,800 turkeys during that time, Roperti said. Its fresh hen turkeys are $2.29 a pound and are generally 15 to 23 pounds. Tom turkeys are $2.10 per pound and are 28 to 39 pounds. The hens and Toms taste the same; the only difference is in their size, and all of the turkeys are four to six months old when sold, Roperti said.

Roperti's also sells smoked

Roperti's smoked turkeys come in two sizes, small and large, and cost $3.69 a pound. Ham orders are $3.59 Because Roperti's has a limited turkey supply, it's best to order as early as possible, to make sure you get the size you want. For more information, call (734) 464-6546. If you're in the market for a frozen turkey, then you may have noticed the ad that Farmer Jack has been running in its circulars. It says, "Farmer Jack will not be undersold on Grade A, 10-22 lb. frozen turkey. f you see an ad for a lower priced, Grade A turkey somewhere else, bring in the ad and Farmer Jack will

However, Farmer Jack's ad goes on to say that its price-matching offer 'excludes Butterball, Honeysuckle, Kosher or fresh turkeys and other supermarkets' multi-week shopping So what does that leave? Jennie-O brand, Grade A, frozen turkey, which was on sale at Farmer Jack for 49 cents a pound when I checked Nov. 2. (Butterball turkeys were $1.39 a pound and Honeysuckle White ones were $1.29 a pound there).

As for nifty kitchen gadgets, the one I want the most is a potato ricer, to make lump-free mashed potatoes without peeling. Williams-Sonoma carries two, a plastic one for $12 and a stainless steel version for $20. You can boil or roast potatoes in their skins, cut the potato in half, stick it cut side down in the ricer, and then squish out the potato, leaving the skin behind.

I also like the non-stick turkey ifter/rack, $16, and the digital meat thermometer timer, $30, that Williams-Sonoma sells (the thermometer probe is connected by a long wire to a magnetic display unit that sticks to the outside of the oven, and you can set the alarm to go off when the meat reaches a certain temperature or when a certain amount of time has passed). Williams-Sonoma is located at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, Laurel Park Place in Livonia and the Somerset Collection in Troy

Small cruise ship offers perfect Riviera vacation

BY PAT RITNER SPECIAL WRITER

Have you noticed how much bigger cruise ships are getting? Is is not at all uncommon for a vessel to accommodate 2,000 or more passengers. My husband and I have discovered, however, that there are times when smaller is better!

The Wind Star Cruise line with its four and five mast sailing vessels are a wonderfully different cruise experience.

The four ships in the fleet range from 148 to 310 passengers with plenty of crew to pamper the guests. Dining is open seating and room service to the comfortable, well-appointed staterooms is available 24 hours a day: The atmosphere and dress are casually elegant, and there are no annoying public address announcements. Each ship offers the luxurious intimacy of a private vacht for those of us not privileged enough to own one.

Our latest experience on a Wind Star ship was a week sailing the French and Italian Rivieras in June on the newest fleet member - the Wind Surf. We met the ship in Nice, France, and our itinerary included three Italian and four French ports on

If You Want to Go

The standard cost of a 7-day cruise on the Wind Surf is $3,895 per person. Special dis-counts are offered. In addition to the base cabins, the Wind Surf has a few luxury suites.

the beautiful Mediterranean Sea. During the trip we had time to restore body and soul, and freedom to do whatever we wished.

The first morning we awoke to experience Wind Surf arriving at the tiny Italian village of Portofino set in a small bay surrounded by hills and luscious vegetation. This tranquil and serene port was once a fishing village, and its character unspoiled even though it is now one of the most important centers for international jet set tourism. We delighted in viewing the opulent yachts which line the harbor and browsing in the quaint boutiques. That afternoon we took the local bus to the nearby larger town of Santa Margharita.

On the Island of Elba we visited Portoferraio, which has much to offer Napoleonic history enthusiasts, picturesque Porto Azzuro and a local winery. In addition, we were able to view some of the fine minerals which are found on Elba. As in all of the ports we visited, there was lots of uphill walking. This was probably good since it helped balance the fine food served on the Wind Surf!

The day the ship docked at Portovenere, we opted to take an all-day excursion to Florence. Florence, or Firenze if you are Italian, is a magnificent city which can easily be explored on foot. We only had five hours to do our exploring which meant that had to be selective. Florence really deserves several days. We visited the Church of St. Croce, which contains the graves of Michelangelo, Leonardo and Marconi, the Piazza Della Signoria to view the statues of David and Neptune, and the pic-turesque Pont Vecchio Bridge with its dozens of jewelry shops. After a delightful lunch as La Grotta Guelfa, we did a little shopping at the street market called Mercato Nuovo. There was just enough time for a tiramisu ice cream before rejoining the group to return to the ship.

Monaco was trip to a fairy tale land. I couldn't help imagining what it must have been like for the young Grace Kelly to have arrived there so many years ago knowing that the tiny principality built on a rock was to be her home. Monaco is only 473 acres with just 5,000 citizens. It has been under control of the Grimaldi family since 1308. A visit to the State Apartments of the Princes Palace was one of the high points of our trip. Prince Rainier and his son, Albert, were in residence the day we were there but did not invite us to stay for lunch. The entire area surrounding the palace, including the cathedral, Oceanographic Museum and private residences, has a very stately air with magnificent, beautifully kept grounds. This was one hill I didn't mind climbing, but Monaco also has an excellent public transit system which enables visitors to explore the entire principality.

That same evening we returned to visit the elegant shops and the gold leaf splendor or the Grand Casino. It was fun to view the luxury cars, designer clothes and fabulous iewels. Elevators from the port made for easy access to the casino and the magnificent surroundings and world-class people watching kept us occupied for hours.

Small vessels can enter ports which cannot handle large cruise ships, but it is still necessary to use tenders in many locations. The tenders ran very frequently and the rides were usually only about 10 minutes so it did not present a problem. The normal routine was for the ship to anchor at a new port each morning and to set sail early evening. That schedule was adjusted to a

2 a.m. sailing from Monaco and an early evening arrival at Saint Tropez so passengers could fully enjoy the night life in both ports.

Tiny Saint Tropez has a yearround population of 6,000 inhabitants which swells to 20,000 in the summer. We were there during the sailing of the Saint Tropez Rolex Cup so were able to see some of the fastest and most efficient boats ever designed as well as enjoy the beautiful city with a magical atmosphere of cafes, restaurants, galleries and boutiques. Many of our fellow passengers chose to do some serious shopping in Saint Tropez, while we lounged away the afternoon at the well-known Tahiti Beach.

Our favorite port of the entire week was Cannes, home of the Cannes Film Festivals. Not only did we enjoy a great day exploring the open air morning market and the medieval old town, we were able to experience the city at leisure since we stayed an extra two days there when the cruise ended. On the way to the airport, our driver asked us how we liked Cannes. When we replied, "It was perfect," he said, You must come back in the spring or fall, it is even better

Some vacations are good. Ours on the Wind Surf was 180 degrees from ordinary just like the brochure promised!

In addition to the French and Italian Rivieras, Wind Star offers cruises to the Caribbean, Costa Rica, Greek Isles and Turkey and several special voyages. Additional information may be obtained through your

Steelers stop Lions

A perfect regular season was on the line, and the Plymouth-Canton Steelers varsity made certain they got it by beating the Canton Lions 29-6 in a Western Suburban Junior Football League finale last Sunday (Nov. 1).

Brandon Wilcox scored two firsthalf touchdowns on runs, the second covering 9 yards, and David Nicoloff tossed a 22-yard scoring strike to David Hoskins as the Steelers put 23 points on the board. They added another touchdown in the second half on a blocked punt by Matt Bennett.

The 8-0 Steelers have a playoff game today.

The Lions were the winners in the junior varsity game, beating the Steelers 2-0 in a defensive struggle. Ryan Kilgore got the game's only points, causing a fumble and then tackling the Steeler who recovered the ball in the end zone. Chris Drabicki aided the Lion defense by recovering a fumble, and Nathan Rzeppa had an interception. Other Lion standouts were Ryan Lewis and Matt Kappler.

The Steelers were the winners in the freshmen game, beating the Lions 12-0. Steeler touchdowns were scored by Deshon McClendon and Shawn Little, as the freshmen won their third-straight game to finish at 3-5.

Kicks are perfect

The Plymouth Kicks '89, an under-10 boys select soccer team, completed its fall season with a first-place finish in the Western Suburban Soccer League's Red Division. The Kicks were 8-0 with six shutouts, and they outscored their opponents 43-2. Add in the three wins the Kicks collected in the Waterford tournament in August, and they posted an 11-0 overall record, outscoring their foes 63-2.

Baseball meeting

The Canton Community Junior Baseball and Softball Association will hold an election meeting from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday at the Plymouth District Library.

Five Executive Board positions will be up for election: vice presidents for boys, girls and fund-raising plus treasurer and registrar.

Remaining board positions will be up for election next fall. All offices will be held for two-year terms.

We'd like to have a big turnout, President Harry Hill said, "because we'd like to get as much involvement from Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township as we can."

Rec offerings

• The annual used sports equipment sale, sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Services, will be Saturday, Dec. 5 at Pleasant Run Golf Club's clubhouse, located at 46500 Summit Parkway in Canton.

The public is invited to both sell and buy. Those wishing to sell may drop off their items between 6-9 p.m. Dec. 5 at the Pleasant Run clubhouse Sellers set their own prices; volunteers will handle all sales, with those dropping off items to be sold collecting the profits (minus 15 percent for the Parks and Rec department).

For further information, call the Parks and Recreation department at (734) 397-5110

• The city of Plymouth's Parks and Recreation Department will host both men's and women's basketball leagues this winter. Cost is $325 per team, plus $20 per non-city of Ply-mouth resident. Each league plays a 12-game schedule, with men playing Wednesday or Thursday nights and women playing Monday nights; each play one night a week.

The men's league consists of 12 teams and the women's league has six teams. Play begins Monday, Nov. 30.

Registration for returning teams runs through Monday - after that, new teams may register, with all sign-ups at the city of Plymouth Recreation Department office. For more information, call (734) 455-6620.

Anyone interested in submitting items to Sports Scene or Sports Roundup may send them to sports editor C.J. Risak, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, Mi, 48150, or may FAX them to (734) 591-7279.

Livonia Churchill put up a better fight, but Plymouth Salem had the last word in the opening round of the Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball playoffs.

"She (Grubaugh) got a little frustrated because they couldn't get her the ball, but she still got her points," Churchill coach Dave Balog said.

"She came through when she had to.
"The box-and-one was critical. She had to work harder. The first time we played her she went something like eight-for-eight. It seemed she just didn't miss."

Salem shot the ball effectively (50 percent) going 17-for-34 from the field.

Grubaugh was eight-of-11, including a three-pointer a free throw.

Kiessel keys Canton win; Salem next

BY DAN O'MEARA

Christina Kiessel wasn't one of the leading scorers for Plymouth Canton's girls basketball team, but her seven points were among the most timely and important Thursday.

She came off the bench to score all seven at a crucial point and help the Chiefs defeat host North Farmington in a Western Lakes Activities Association playoff game, 52-48. At the end of the third quarter, Katie Vihtelic had just scored to give North a 38-37 lead. Before time ran out, however, Kiessel nailed a three to put Canton back on top. The Chiefs (14-4) never trailed again.

Kiessel also scored two more perimeter baskets during an early fourth-quarter run for Canton's biggest lead of the game, 48-41.
"She and Amanda (Lentz) handled the ball well versus the zone, and she and Lentz stepped up and scored some big baskets," Canton coach Beb

"At the beginning of the fourth quarter, we had some great scoring opportunities. We got some reversals into the zone and some good looks at the basket."

The Chiefs, who avenged a 49-41 loss to the Raiders, managed to overcame a 27-point performance by North sophomore Samantha McComb, who kept the Raiders in the game until the end.

"Actually, I thought we did a pretty good job defensively on her and made her work to score points," Blohm said. "She got away from us for some threes, but for the most part we were at least there.

She's just a hard kic to guard. She can score in a lot of ways, so she's really a complete player."

McComb sank a pair of threes to keep North within range, 48-44. After Canton's Elise Thornell made a free throw, McComb stole the ball twice, scoring once herself and feeding Staci Russell for a layup and a one-point difference with two minutes remaining, 49-48.

Thornell's back-door layup gave the Chiefs some room. After a three by North's Katie Gaffey rimmed out, Russell stole the ball, but the Raiders (8-10) gave it back with a turnover.

"That was huge," said Blohm of Thornell's basket. "When it got down to the 2:40 mark, we said, 'If it's a layup, take it; if not, hang on to the ball and lets shorten this thing up.

North put Canton's Anne Morrell on the line where she made the first free throw and final point with 35 seconds

McComb tried the same baseline move that won the game against Livonia Stevenson a week earlier, but she couldn't get clear of Canton defenders to get the ball to the rim.

8th-seeded Spartans jolt Hawks

The top seed has been planted Livonia Stevenson buried No. -seeded Farmington Harrison, 52-33, Thursday in the opening round of the Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball tournament.

"We've played really well for our last 13 games," Harrison coach Pete Mantyla said, "but this time we didn't. And we ran into a team that played really well. I think they outplayed us."
