History's home

Museum is archive, showcase for Canton's colorful past

BY TEDD SCHNEIDER
STAFF WRITER
tschneider@oe.homecomm.net

Yes, Canton has a history. No, it doesn't begin with the first subdivision built in the 1970s.

Canton was actually designated as a township in 1834, some three years before Michigan was granted statehood. It was named after a province in China, as were neighboring Nankin and Peking townships, because of burgeoning trade between that country and the U.S. at the time.

Tracking down information about the township's past – or your family's history in this area – doesn't require a lot of digging or a long commute. Just a short jaunt to the restored, one-room schoolhouse on the corner of Canton Center Road and Heritage Drive.

The Canton Historical Society Museum is marking its 20th year in the former Canton Center School, built in 1884 for students in what was then called Union School District No. 1. The museum is open to the public on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons from March through December, or by appointment for group visits and tours.

Highlighting agriculture

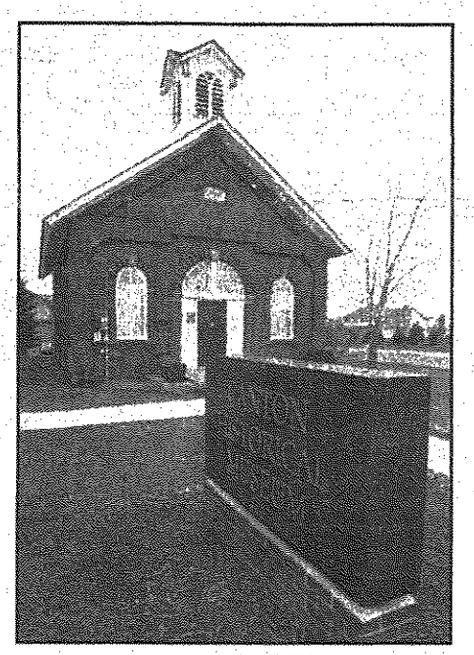

Members will quietly acknowledge the last two decades as they make plans for the museum's 25th anniversary celebration, said Ronni Curtis, society president. But the all-volunteer group had a busy winter, putting the finishing touches on a major exhibit they hope to debut this summer.

"We have a pole barn out by the Bartlett-Travis House that's chockfull of plows and other farming equipment," Curtis said. "We hope to have an exhibit on Canton's agrarian past open out there by July."

The equipment, donated mostly during the 1980s from various sources, is too big for storage on the museum property on the northeast corner of the township municipal complex, Curtis said.

The society raised money for construction of an out building at the site on Ridge Road, north of Cherry Hill, where the historic farmhouse Finishing touches: The museum has added new roof, restored cupola and monument-style sign in recent years. Next on the list is a front door more in keeping with the building's 1884 completion.

Lawsuits hold up election planning

■ Redistricting the township's voting precincts has hit a snag due to pending lawsuits over statewide redrawing of political boundaries following the 2000 census.

Canton Township Clerk Terry Bennett won't say that she's frustrated.

"There's no point in being frustrated," she said philosophically.

But she is anxiously awaiting settlement of two court cases, so that her office can get on with the business of adding and redrawing voting precincts in the township and issuing new voter registration cards.

They've been working on the process for months, following the redrawing of political boundaries after the 2000 census.

■ 'Canton previously had two state Senate seats. With the redrawing of Senate lines, Canton will have one Senate seat.'

Terry Bennett

"Canton previously had two state Senate seats," Bennett said. "With the redrawing of Senate lines Canton will have one Senate seat."

The township also has two House seats and three school districts with different precinct lines.

"We presently have one county commission seat," she said, "but depending on the outcome of litigation challenging those lines that could change."

The case she's referring to is a lawsuit filed last year by five Wayne County residents challenging the redrawing of boundaries of the 15 commission seats. The Michigan Court of Appeals heard the case last month but has not yet issued a decision.

A separate federal lawsuit challenging Michigan's redistricting map for congressional seats has been scheduled for trial in Detroit next month. And that, too, could potentially affect some of the township's voting precinct lines.

The clerk's office has actually finished the task of redrawing some existing precincts and adding seven new ones based on the newly drawn political boundaries and the growing popula-

'Fill the Boot' proceeds go to NY rescue squad

BY JACK GLADDEN

jgladden@oe.homecomm.net

The Canton Fire Fighters Charity Foundation has donated $25,000 to Rescue Company 3 of the City of New York Fire Department.

The money was part of almost $30,000 raised by Canton firefighters last fall in the wake of the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. It was raised in the "Fill the Boot" campaign and from the sale of 9-11 shirts.

Fire Capt. Jim Davison, treasurer of the foundation, said the group had been looking for a suitable fund for the donation.

A couple of weeks ago, according to Public Safety Director John Santomauro, the Southeast Michigan Fire Chiefs held their annual "critical issues" seminar. The speaker was John Salka, a fire battalion chief from New York City.

Davison said Salka told them that Rescue Company 3, which lost eight firefighters on Sept. 11, was not getting much money in donations so the Canton group decided to donate their money to the Rescue 3 Family Fund.

In a letter acknowledging receipt of the money and thanking Canton for its "generous donation," the members of the company said, "The monies received by this fund will go directly to the families of the eight members that were working in Rescue 3 on September 11, 2001."

Lt. John Olson, a member of Rescue 3, said Wednesday the unit has received several donations since the Sept. 11 attacks.

"But with us being in the Bronx and outside of Manhattan," he said, "the money for individual company funds

HS teacher suspended for questionable e-mails

BY TONY BRUSCATO

A Canton High School social studies teacher has been suspended with pay while Canton police and school officials investigate inappropriate e-mails allegedly sent by him to a student.

Steve Mercatante has been on paid leave since March 5 after district officials found out about the e-mails, which a source said "contained inappropriate comments and sexual innuendo."

According to a release from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, the district "is conducting an investigation concerning allegations of inappropriate e-mail communication by a high school teacher."

Canton police Sgt. Todd Mutchler said his department is investigating for possible criminal charges.

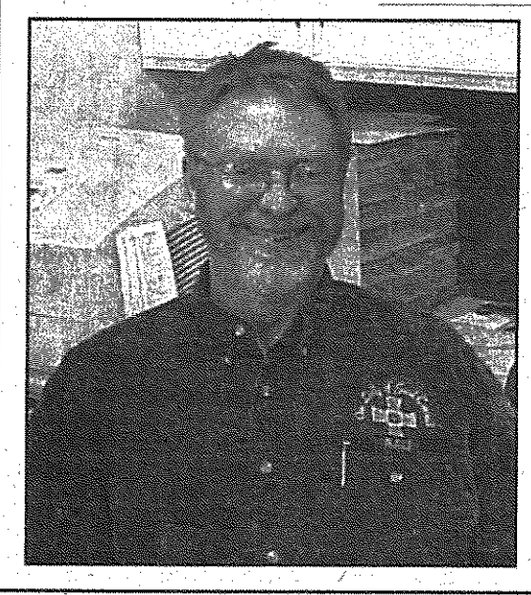

"He (Mercatante) has not been charged with a crime," said Mutchler. "The investigation is continuing, and should be completed sometime next week."

Mercatante's attorney, David Kramer of Novi, said he will meet with school officials next week.

"He (Mercatante) denies any wrong-

Report: Handgun, jewelry stolen during break-in

A handgun and jewelry valued at about $1,500 were reported stolen from a home in the 41000 block of Canton Court on April 9.

Two men in their 20s allegedly broke into the home shortly after 2 p.m., according to police reports. Two female teenagers were home during the incident. Police believe the suspects were acquaintances of the teens.

Reports said the suspects were looking for money, but the girls convinced them there was no cash in the house. The men then discovered three watches and a handgun.

A 19-year-old female then drove the suspects an unknown location in Ypsilanti without further incident.

Toilet seat theft

A worker at a construction site in the 3800 block of South Sheldon reported to police that someone broke into the site two nights in a row last week and stole eight handicap toilet seats, three ladders and several tools.

According to police reports the thieves were very selective about what they took, leaving many other items untouched. They also took an unknown amount of floor tiles.

Entry was apparently gained by pushing in a boarded up window. Police have no suspects.

Cars damaged

Police are investigating a series of reports of vandalism to cars.

■ A resident of the 47100 block of Sherstone Court reported that someone smashed the driver's side window of his 1999 Ford Escort while it was parked on the street in front of his house. Damage was estimated at $200.

■ A resident of the 1700 block of Copeland Circle said he parked his car across the street from his house about 6:30 p.m. April 9. When he went to the car the next morning, the driver's side window was smashed, causing $300 damage.

■ A resident of the 41700 block of Princess said while his car was parked on the street in front of his house someone shot out the driver's side window with either a BB or a pellet gun. Damage was about $200.

■ A resident of the 43100 block of Ironsides Court said he parked his 2002 Ford Explored on the street in front of his house about 7 p.m. on April 9. When he went to the car about 6 a.m. the next morning, three tires had been slashed. Damage was estimated at $500.

Tobacco sting

Two businesses were cited for selling tobacco products to an underage police decoy last week, in a police sting of 12 local businesses.

A clerk at the Speedway Gas on Lilley and another at the Amoco Gas on Michigan Avenue were citing for selling cigarettes to a minor.

Business that refused to sell were Clark Gas, Amoco Gas, Mobil Gas, Canton Party Store, Marathon Gas, Speedway Gas and Shell Gas, all on Michigan Avenue. Also refusing to sell were CVS Pharmacy on Haggerty, Oakview Party Store on Palmer and 7-Eleven on Michigan.

Canton man charged in purse snatching

By Brad Kadrich
Staff Writer
bkadrich@oe.homecomm.net

A 24-year-old Canton man was arraigned in 35th District Court Wednesday on charges of unarmed robbery stemming from a purse snatching at a Plymouth hotel.

Robert Lee Boone of Canton is being held in the Wayne County Jail on a $50,000 cash bond.

Boone also faces possible charges in Romulus, based on information obtained during the investigation into purse thefts in that city.

According to Detective Kal Lauria of the Plymouth Township Police Department, Boone is suspected in the theft of a purse at the Hilton Garden Inn on Sheldon in Plymouth Township.

According to police reports, the woman arrived at the hotel, retrieved her handbag from the trunk and was waiting for an elevator inside the building.

As the elevator arrived, the woman was shoved into the elevator from behind. She turned to see a suspect she described as a black male wearing a knit cap and dark clothing. Security workers at the hotel saw the suspect leave the scene and climb into a cream-colored Lincoln.

The preliminary investigation — conducted by Sgt. Jeff Felts and Officers Marc Hoffman, Brian Schaefer, Scott Linton and Mike Lego — led to a search warrant for Boone's Canton Township home. Based on evidence collected, Lauria said, Boone was taken into custody.

Lauria's subsequent investigation led him to three other victims robbed in Romulus. Romulus police were in the process of procuring three additional arrest warrants at press time.

"Through conversation with (Boone), it was discovered he was committing these crimes to pay for a gambling habit," Lauria said.

RELIEF OF PAINFUL CALLOUSES BECOMES EASIER

Callouses on the bottom of your feet can be very difficult to live with. They remind you how painful they can be, every step you take. They can be so painful, they can alter the way you walk, leading to pain in your knee, hips & lower back.
With modern technology, these painful areas can be off loaded & the pressure can be shifted to less sensitive parts of the feet very successfully. These very thin computer generated orthotics work so well, they are guaranteed. Also, very effective medications can be also used to help clear this condition. Why walk with pain if you don't have to?

Early Morning, evening and Saturday appointments available.

Hall inducts developer who changed Canton

Area developer Richard Lewiston will be inducted into the Canton Hall of Fame today in a ceremony at Summit on the Park.

Eleven other individuals and community groups will be honored for their contributions to the Canton community in 2001.

"Although his principal business is elsewhere, Dick Lewiston has been a fixture in Canton since the late 1960s," said Township Supervisor Tom Yack.

"Over the years he has been a benefactor to so many organizations with Canton ... Relay for Life, St. Joe's, the Canton Chamber."

Yack said Lewiston was "willing to take a risk when nobody else was' when he built Glengarry subdivision south of Ford Road.

"The guy has left behind some really nicely designed and stylish subdivisions," he said. "His fingerprints are all over the community. He's kind of made Canton his second home."

This year's community achievers are:

■ Dollie Lieberman, a local quilt maker who was involved in a worldwide project to create a quilt to honor victims of the Sept. 11 attacks.

■ Megan Reilly, who's only 7 years old but wanted to do something to help out in the wake of Sept. 11. She collected Teddy Bears and other toys. After learning that New York had already received more Teddy Bears that it could use, Megan donated hers to the Canton Police Department, which distributed them to 20 children for Christmas.

■ Charles, Jo Ann, Chelsea and Gabriel McBay bought the Gilmore house, a Canton historical site, and are restoring it in a personal labor of love, time and money.

Other community supporters:

■ Jack and Bob Koers, owners of Plymouth Construction Equipment.

■ Wayne Byrum, Public Safety Department chaplain.

■ Mark and Janet Ott, community volunteers and leaders.

■ Christina Bair, a "behind the scenes" leader in the local school community.

■ Sue Davis, a school board member for eight years.

■ Greg Greene, a volunteer on many different organizations.

■ Tax Aid Program, a group of 20 counselors who provide service to seniors.

■ Ron Bradley, In Memoriam. He was a leader for many years with Canton community youth programs.

Museum

was moved several years ago.

The museum sees a variety of visitors each year, according to Ruth Wiles, the last living charter member of the Historical Society, which was formed in 1975 and became official two years later. Wiles still spends two afternoons most weeks volunteering at the museum.

Most visitors are township residents, she said. They range from senior citizens to young couples toting infants to school and scout groups. Admission is free, although donations are accepted.

Tracing family roots

In recent years, there has been an increase in interest in genealogy, Wiles said. "People come here with only an inkling that someone from their family lived in this area," she said. "What they find out often surprises them."

Smaller historical societies are among the best places to start a search for your family's roots, Curtis added.

Canton's first families emigrated to the U.S. from European countries including Poland, Germany, Russia and Ireland, usually through New York.

Most people are aware of Canton's history as a farming community and have heard it described as the "Sweet Corn Capital of Michigan."

Dairy farming was also prominent in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. In fact, cows likely outnumbered people in most years, as the township's human population didn't climb above 5,000 until the 1960s.

The exhibits and information available through the museum aren't limited to farming. Its collection of documents and artifacts trace the area's history back to the Ice Age.

North vs. South

For example, Canton residents joined the Union Army during the Civil War. Many fought with the 24th Michigan Infantry, which was stocked heavily with soldiers from Wayne County, said Dave Curtis, Ronni's husband and a Civil War buff.

Dave Curtis estimates 80-100 Canton residents served during the war. He has been seeking their military pension records from Washington, D.C.

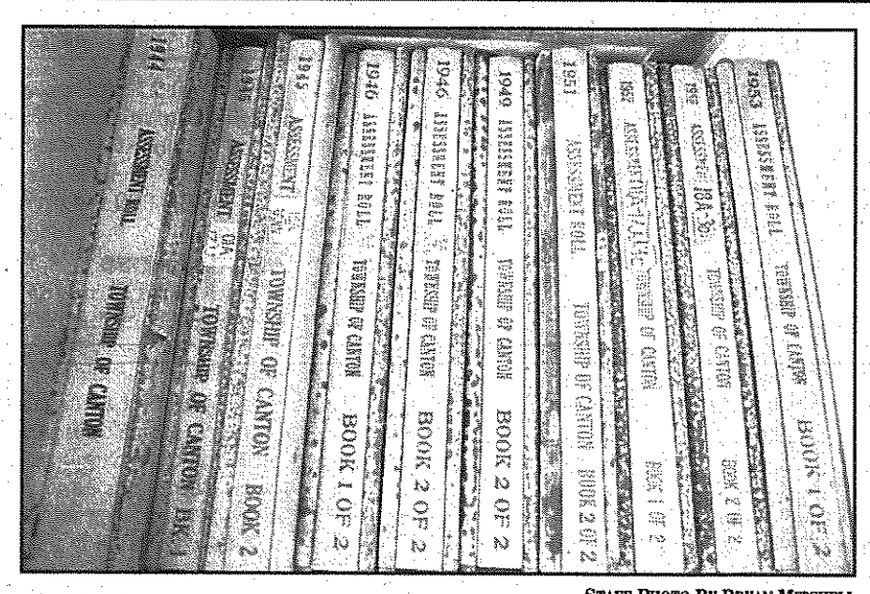

Ronni Curtis noted that local farms apparently thrived under women's tutelage while the men were off fighting, at least according to agricultural and state censuses from 1860-64. Coincidentally (or maybe not), there were also three dance halls within the township's six square miles during Civil War days.

Other society projects this year include a first-ever scholarship through the Canton Community Foundation. The $500 scholarship will be awarded annually to an undergraduate or graduate student studying a history-related field at a Michigan college or university.

"It's a way to see that an interest in local history is kept alive in future generations," Ronni Curtis said.

The society is also hoping to raise enough money over the next few years to replace the museum's current front door with something more in keeping with the school house's time period. The cedar shakes roof and restored cupola – which housed the original school bell – were added to the building during the late 1990s.

Canton Historical Society Membership is open to anyone interested in local history. Members receive a regular newsletter and invitations to meetings and special events. Individual memberships are $10 annually and family memberships are $13 annually. Meetings are on the second Wednesday in April, May, September and October at the museum. was plentiful" but not as much made it to the Bronx.

Olson said Rescue 3 was the second rescue squad to reach the World Trade Center that day. It's the squad that commands the city-wide building collapse unit. "That's a piece of apparatus," according to Olson, "that we respond with when there's a collapse of any type in the city."

The squad had 27 members on that day and eight were killed in the rescue efforts, almost a third of the company. Seven were fathers who had 21 children among them.

Most of the members lost were fire department veterans. Three had 20 years service and others had service ranging from 10 to 17 years.

Even months after the attacks the New York Fire Department still has a pool of more than 100 men digging through the rubble, including members of Rescue 3.

Davison said a small portion of the money raised was used to buy 9-11 memorial shirts, which the charity foundation sold to raise additional money. The remaining shirts will be offered for sale at a booth at this year's Liberty Fest in June.

"All the proceeds from those sales will be sent on to New York," he said.

Society pledges help on fire truck project

BY JACK GLADDEN
STAFF WRITER
jgladden@oe.homecomm.net

With a little help from the Canton Historical Society, the township's first fire truck may get refurbished just in time to take part in the Liberty Fest Parade.

At a regular meeting Wednesday night, society president Ronni Curtis presented a check for $1,000 to Fire Capt. Jim Davison, treasurer of the Canton Fire Fighters Charity Foundation.

The 1950 Ford pumper, which has been out of service for years, has been sitting at Auto Craft Collision on Michigan Avenue for about three years. A restoration was started, according to Davison, but they ran out of money. He said it would cost about $10,000 to get the truck restored.

■ 'Well I'll make a pledge tonight. I'll get with Cathy Johnson (a community activist) and we'll raise the $9,000 to have this truck ready by parade time.'

Bob Boyer
Society member

After the check was presented, historical society member Bob Boyer asked Davison how much money has been raised so far.

"One thousand dollars," Davison replied with a smile.

At that point society member Bob Boyer asked if the truck could be restored in time for the Liberty Fest parade if money was available. Davison said he would check with the people working on it and see.

"Well I'll make a pledge tonight," Boyer said. "I'll get with Cathy Johnson (a community activist) and we'll raise the $9,000 to have this truck ready by parade time."

Woodcarving marks Hulsing's 25th

Art work: Hulsing Elementary Principal Becky Moore and artist Pierre Bataille show off the woodcarving Bataille made to help celebrate the school's 25th anniversary. The carving, which depicts the Hulsing Hawk mascot, students and a parent, is on display in the main office at the Canton school.

tion of the community, especially the western portion of the township. And it's not an easy task.

"It's not wise to create a precinct where half the voters have a ballot for one House seat and the other half have a ballot for another House seat because the line falls down the middle of the precinct," Bennett said.

And while by law a single precinct can serve as many as 2,999 voters, Bennett said she keeps Canton's precincts much smaller,

"You can't service the lines to vote with that large a number in a precinct," she said.

Bennett said the changes in Canton's precincts were done "a while ago" and have been entered into the state Qualified Voters File. She said that now her office has to check that file to make sure the address ranges are correct "assuming that no additional changes happen because of the lawsuits."

"If there are no changes as a result of the lawsuits," she said, "we'll be able to issue new (voter registration) cards shortly. If the lawsuits affect our boundary lines for the county commission or for congressional seats, then we're kind of back to square one."

Bennett said her office was supposed to notify residents of the precinct changes by the end of April.

"But if they (the courts) haven't made a decision we can't meet that deadline," she said.

Another reason Bennett is concerned about the time frame is that the deadline for candidates who want to file for local, state or national office is May 14 at 4 p.m. But if the political boundary disputes have not been settled by then, it could present confusion for potential candidates.

She said she had heard stories of situations in which a court case hadn't been settled by the filing deadline and people filed pending determination of the case. But she said she had never dealt with such a situation during her time in office.

In the case of the federal dispute over congressional districts, the United States judge set a trial date for May 21-23 and pushed the filing deadline for congressional candidates from May 14 to June 11. That has not happened in the case involving county commission districts.

At the moment, Bennett said, there are 48,500 registered voters in Canton and all will be issued new voter registration cards, each of which has to be printed individually with the appropriate precinct numbers on them.

The new cards, which will replace the "off the shelf" plain green cards now in use, will feature the Canton Township logo and looks totally different from the present one.

"It's important to remove the old card from your archives and replace it as soon as you get your new card," she said.

CAMPUS NEWS

DEAN'S LIST

Bruce Wayne Osnoe, son of Mark and Karen Urick of Canton, has been named to the dean's list at Baker College in Flint for the winter 2002 semester. The university recognizes all full-time undergraduates who earn a 3.5 grade point average for the semester.

HONORS

Katherine Tolbert of Canton received back-to-back honors recently at Western Michigan University. Tolbert was inducted into the Phi Kappa Phi honors society for being among the top 7.5 percent of students in her class, among other qualifications. She also has been inducted into Kappa Omicron Nu, the national honor society for Family and Consumer Science majors.

Tolbert is a 1999 Canton High School graduate and has been named to the Dean's List for five consecutive semesters at WMU.

Taryn A. Myers, daughter of Geraldine and Douglas Myers of Canton, has been named to the Merit List at Kenyon College for the first semester of the 2001-2002 academic year. To be eligible, a student must earn a grade point average of at least 3.45 on the college's 4-point grading scale. A graduate of Greenhills School, Myers is a sophomore majoring in psychology.

Molly Noonan of Canton has been named the 2002 Communications Department Presidential Scholar at Western Michigan University. This is the highest award given by the university and is based on grades, involvement in extracurricular activities associated with the student's major course of study, and involvement in volunteer work. Noonan carried a 3.5 g.p.a., is President of WMU's Public Relations Organization as well as Vice President of Lambda Pi Eta, a communications honor society. She volunteers her time designing brochures and other publications for a Kalamazoo AIDS information organization. She is a 1998 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School and is a senior at WMU, majoring in Public Relations and Journalism.

Jeff Cheek, Sophomore, qualified for the Honor Roll for the fourth card-marking period of the 2001-2002 academic year at St. Mary's Preparatory, Orchard Lake, an all-boys college prep school. He had to have earned an average of 3.7 or better to qualify for the Honor Roll.

DEAN'S LIST II

Lauren Elaine Smith of Canton, studying Biology, has been placed on the dean's list for the fall 2001 semester at Geneseo College in New York.

Humphrey, Chelsea E. Opdyke, Adam J. Podolan, Tracy E. Robey, Kristine E. Roulo, Scott P. Setlock, and Jennifer E. Wrobel, all of Canton; and Maureen E. Kearney, Michael C. Kress, and Denise E. Philips, all of Plymouth.

Derek Klemm, a resident of Canton, has been named to the dean's list for the fall 2001 semester at Concordia University, St. Paul. Klemm is completing a degree in Theology at Concordia.

Richard Purzer of Plymouth has been named to the dean's list at Trinity University for the 2001 fall semester.

Natalie Hansen, a student at Concordia College has been named to the dean's list for achieving a grade point average of 3.5 or above for the fall 2001 semester. Natalie is the daughter of N. Gordon and Karen Hansen of Canton.

Jennifer Foess has been placed on the dean's list at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Jennifer is a 1999 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. For five semesters in a row, she has earned University Honors and is a three semester James B. Angell Scholar, which is an all A record with a minimum of 14 credit hours. She is majoring in Anthropology-Zoology and is pursuing a career in human medicine.

Michigan State University has announced that Danielle Marie Portelli, of Canton has been placed on the dean's list for the fall 2001 semester. The dean's honor roll recognizes all full-time undergraduates in the university who earn a 3.5 or better grade point average for the semester.

STUDY ABROAD

Erin Terkoski, sophomore, a graduate of Ladywood High School, and Brett Stinar, sophomore, a graduate of Plymouth-Salem High School, are two of 38 Kalamazoo College students departing for study abroad during the spring term. They will study in Madrid, Spain from April 1 through May 31. This will provide the students with opportunities to understand how people in other cultures live and to attend excellent academic institutions in other countries.

doing," said Kramer. "We will meet with school officials to obtain the alleged documents and evidence."

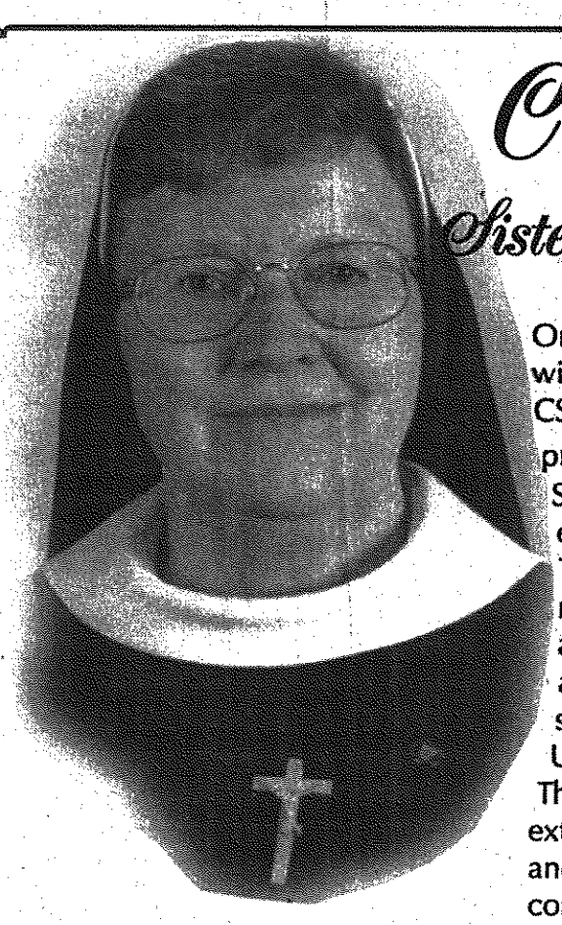

According to a source familiar with the investigation, a friend of the girl told another teacher about the e-mails, who then contacted the administration. The recipient of the correspondence reportedly admitted to receiving e-mails "numbering in the teens" and corresponding with the teacher. Mercatante's classroom computer was confiscated, but the e-mails were reportedly deleted.

However, computer experts have reportedly been able to determine that "times and dates correlate with the e-mails that have been sent. The e-mails start with compliments and then result in the teacher discussing getting together after she graduates," the source said.

Deputy Superintendent Jim Ryan said the district took the allegations seriously as soon as the allegations were brought forth.

"We suspended the teacher immediately when we found out," said Ryan. "The teacher deserves due process during the investigation. We also don't want to forget to support the parent and student during this process."

There are reports the victim is 18, which means unless the e-mails contained illegal subject matter, Mercatante wouldn't be charged with a crime, but could still be fired by the district. Mercatante has been teaching for 3.5 years. Tenure for teachers comes during the fourth year.

GREAT DOCTORS AND NURSES IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD

Health Department encourages child immunizations

During National Infant Immunization Week, April 14-20, Wayne County Public Health officials are urging parents to get their children fully immunized against vaccine-preventable diseases.

Many parents know how crucial this process can be.

"It's important for young mothers to make sure that their children's immunization records are up-to-date," says 25 year-old Niketa Bonner, a Wayne County resident who brings her two children to the County's Wayne Health Center for shots. "I want my children to be healthy. There's too much going around."

Wayne County Public Health officials have indicated that some health care providers are unable to get certain vaccines due to nationwide shortages or delays in the distribution of some of the recommended childhood vaccines. However, the County's health centers have supplies of these vaccines and will be administering them according to state and federal guidelines.

"Despite these nationwide vaccine shortages, we are still encouraging parents and caregivers to bring their children to one of our health centers to get immunized," says Donald Lawrenchuk, Wayne County Medical Director. "Protecting children and communities from vaccine-preventable diseases is a major public health concern."

Parents see the difference between private and public costs. "My private physician charges $55 for vaccinations, and the County offers them for free," says Bonner. "And it's convenient for me to come here because you don't have to wait a month or two to be seen by a County health care worker."

The Wayne County Department of Public Health offers free shots at several locations to parents who do not have insurance coverage. A parent or legal guardian should accompany children seeking vaccinations and are asked to bring their youngster's immunization records to the clinic.

Dr. Lawrenchuk, says the following vaccines are needed by age two and can be given in five visits or less by a doctor or at a clinic:

- Diphtheria, tetanus and pertussis (whooping cough)
- Measles, mumps, rubella (MMR)
- Polio
- HIB meningitis
- Hepatitis B
- Varicella (chicken pox)

You can visit the following Wayne County Department of Public Health clinics for free shots. Call any health center for an appointment. Immunizations are given without an appointment on days designated for walk-ins:

Lawmakers wrangle over tax credits

BY MIKE MALOTT
HOMETOWN NEWS SERVICE
mmalott@homecomm.net

Parents in school districts from Rochester to Novi have set up "foundations," charities for raising a little extra money to support educational programming in those districts.

And state lawmakers would like to given them a tax credit in return for the donations.

Only one little problem — if the foundation supports a private or religious school, that tax credit could be unconstitutional.

That's the problem holding up progress on House Bill 4072, sponsored by Rep. Michael Bishop (R-Rochester), which will give a tax credit up to $100, $200 for those filing jointly, on state income taxes for those who donate to "educational foundations."

Bishop initially introduced the bill to extend the tax credits now available for those who donate to libraries, museums, colleges or public television stations to include those who donate to local school district foundations.

"It's such a positive thing," Bishop said. "It is such a positive way for people to get involved in their local school district ... Since the passage of Proposal A, a lot of people are looking for way they can give additional support to their local districts ... If I could have a legacy from my time in office, I would like it to be this, that I did this for public schools."

If it would be positive for public schools, private schools think it would be positive for them too. The Michigan Catholic Conference and the Michigan Association of Non-Public Schools bid to be included. An amendment tacked on in House Tax Policy Committee would add private schools to the list of those eligible.

But got the bill in trouble with the House Republican leadership, who believe it will likely be declared unconstitutional. Article VIII of the Michigan Constitution prohibits such tax credits for private or religious schools.

Even though the bill had been approved by committee, House leadership recently sent it back to committee for a second look.

Rep. Jack Minore (D-Flint) explained the constitutional provision was apparently intended to prevent a tax credit from being used as a form of voucher system, to reimburse for tuition at private schools. And he anticipates that if credits were extended to non-public schools, the law would quickly be challenged by the Michigan Federation of Teachers, the Michigan Education Association, or the American Civil Liberties Union.

Minore favors credits for donations to public schools, but opposes extending the credit to private schools. Nonetheless, he is looking for a compromise, proposing a "severability" clause that would allow the law to remain in effect even if a portion of it is declared unconstitutional.

Tax Policy chair Rep. Nancy Cassis (R-Novi) said she expects her committee will review the bill again when lawmakers return to session after spring break. She said Minore's compromise might be the way to get the bill back on to the House floor for a vote.

Bishop is not happy with that as a compromise, saying he doesn't like passing legislation that is likely to be found unconstitutional.

The goal of giving parents another way to support their local district "is desirable," Minore contended, "but it does kind of favor the richer districts." Poorer and urban districts are less likely to be able to run foundations that make a significant contribution to district finances, he said.

Just because something is old doesn't mean it isn't valuable.

I can relate to that. maybe that's why I'm never in a rush with these guys. Sanding out a dent here and there, restoring the gears... soon I'll have all the time in the world for them, just like they have for me. That's the beauty of retirement. And now that it's almost here, I'm grateful that I started planning early — with U.S. Savings bonds. I started buying Savings Bonds when I got my first real job, through a Payroll Savings plan. I put aside something every payday. And little by little, it really added up. Bonds are guaranteed safe, too, and earn interest up to 30 years.

RAY & ELEANOR HEALD

Fisher Vineyards in renaissance

It's fun to reacquaint with pioneers in the California wine industry. Fred and Juelle Fisher probably don't think of themselves that way. Fred founded Fisher Vineyards in 1973 and after marrying Juelle in 1975, this couple joined in pioneer grape growing in the Mayacamas Mountains of Sonoma County. A tasting and discussion with them recently, however, revealed a winery in renaissance.

If you've been a wine lover living in Michigan for a number of years, you most certainly know the wines of Fisher Vineyards. Fred was born and grew up in Michigan. The winery's flagship Coach Insignia Chardonnay and Cabernet Sauvignon honor his family's heritage of craftsmanship, expressed through Fisher Body Co. for the autos of General Motors. His wines have often been touted as having a "body by Fisher."

With new wineries bursting on the scene monthly and grabbing wine media attention, the pioneers of the 1970s often take a back seat. That's sort of how it has been for the Fishers. Yet, they've made steady, top quality wines with aging potential and were early leaders in the latest trend of vineyard-designating wines.

Great vineyard challenges

Wedding Vineyard, where Fred and Juelle were married, is a rugged site that produces concentrated fruit at only one ton per acre. The cabernet showcases black fruit aromas and flavors and frequently chocolate and coffee nuances in the finish. The 1999 Wedding Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon $130 has exceptional integration of fruit and oak.

In 1979, Juelle's parents Robert and Marcia Lamb purchased this vineyard, adjacent to the well-known Eisele Vineyard, now owned by Araujo. The first single-vineyard designated bottling was the 1991. Look for the highly-anticipated release of the 1999 Lamb Vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon $130 in August 2002.

Planted in 1988, RCF Vineyard, named after Fred and Juelle's son Robert Charles Fisher, has produced magnificent merlot in a rich, cabernet-like style that is one of the blockbuster merlots of California. The 1999 $52 is a dynamic wine not to be missed.

First-born, daughter Whitney, has her vineyard too. It's on the south-facing slope of the Fisher's mountain estate where low yields of not more than two tons per acre, produce the Whitney's Vineyard Chardonnay. The 2000 Chablis-like wine with loads of California fruit power is $48.

Renaissance in motion

The Fishers desire to perch their wines at the pinnacle of California winemaking took a giant leap forward in 2000 when they hired Mia Klein as consulting winemaker. Klein's reputation in the rigorous pursuit of excellence is well-exemplified in Dalla Valle

Hard times bring people back to familiar foods

BY LANA MINI
STAFF WRITER
LMINI@OE.HOMECOMM.NET

When times are tough people often turn to food for comfort.

Peter Loren knows this; it's his job.

It's also his job to know what type of meals people crave during periods of emotional or economic difficulty. The kind of food sought for comfort depends on the area of town. Currently, America is in a period where comfort food is wanted, and perhaps, even needed.

Loren is corporate chef and director of development for Epoch Events Premiere Off-Site Catering in Novi. It's the parent company to Too Chez restaurant in Novi, Forté in Birmingham and Tribute in Farmington Hills. One of Loren's prime responsibilities is to make certain the restaurants offer meals its clientele craves.

What's In:

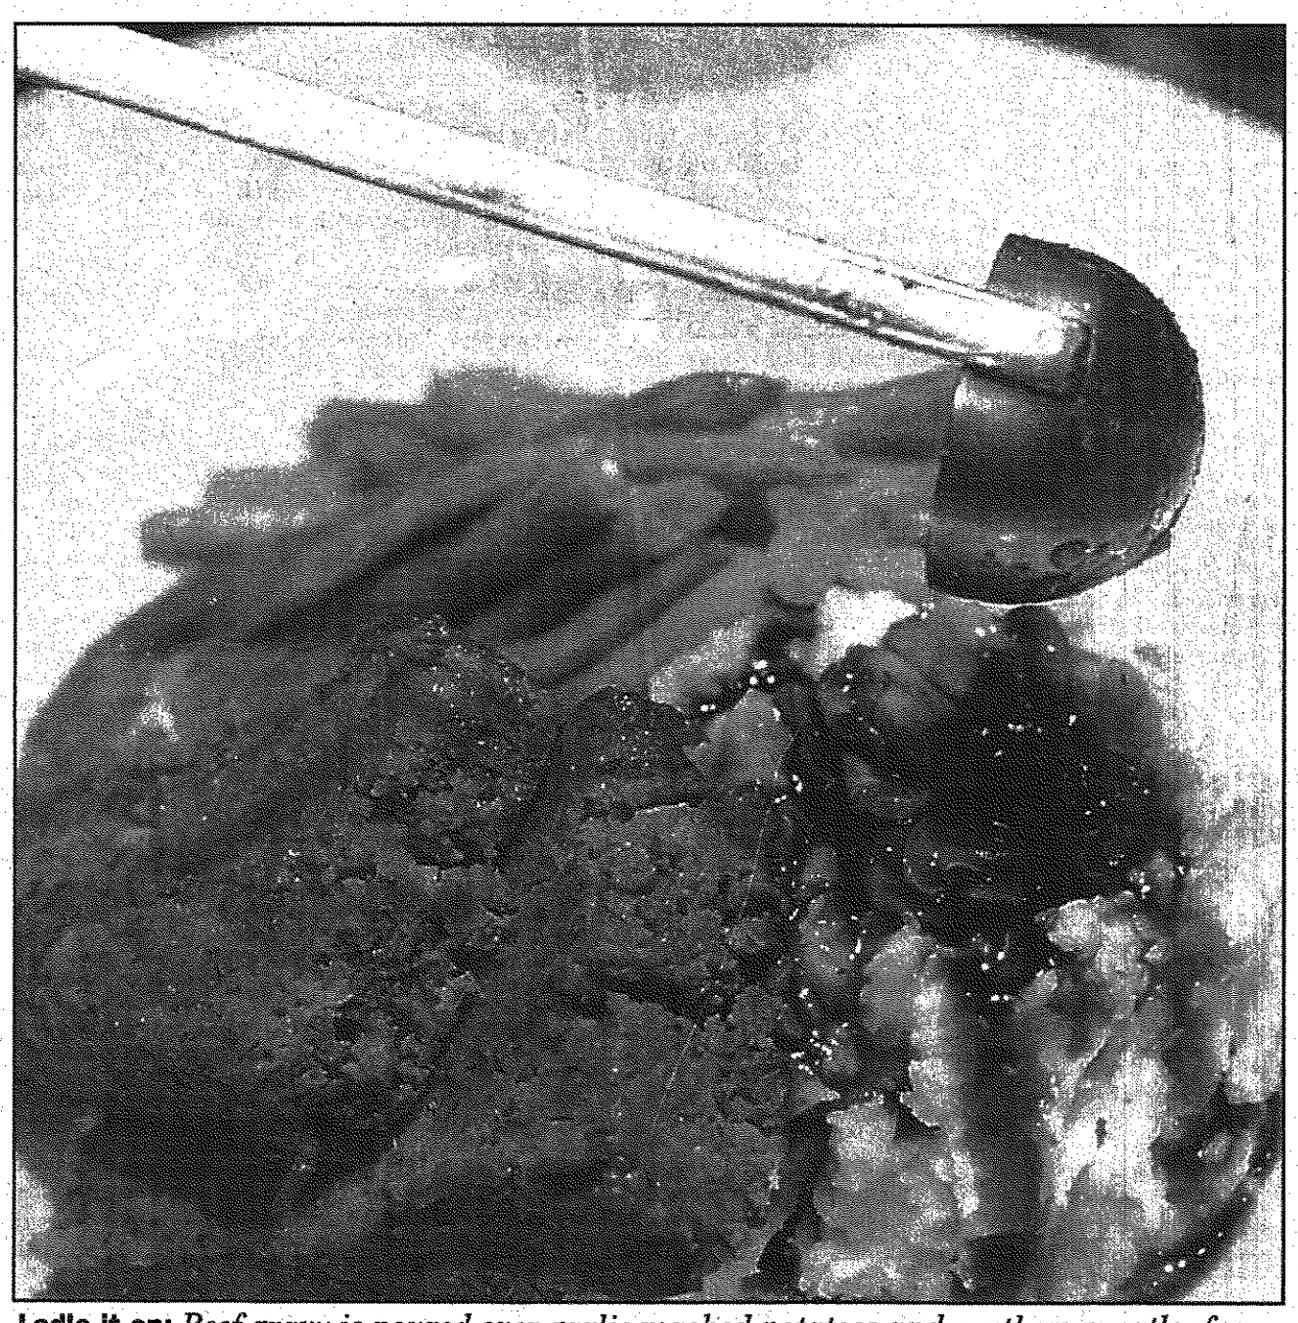

- Peanut butter sandwiches
- Roast chicken
- Real potatoes with real butter.
- Heirloom tomatoes
- Stews and roasts
- Meatloaf
- Real gravy

Today's desires are simple foods. Comfort foods.

For upscale areas like Birmingham or West Bloomfield the comfort foods sought at Forté may be lobster and butter – minus the fancy sauces and herbs. For middle and upper-middle-class clientele like those who frequent Tribute in Farmington or Too Chez in Novi they are seeking sandwiches with good breads and red meat.

"Everyone is making more conservative buys in the market and at the supermarket," Loren said. "Just on a different scale. And we want food that isn't so fussy. We want basic hearty meals that make us feel good."

Even before the 9-11 tragedy, the trend at Too Chez was becoming more mainstream. The designer foods were being partially replaced by barbecued food, Loren said.

Ladle it on: Beef gravy is poured over garlic mashed potatoes and southern meatloaf.

At Forte, since 9-11, the Apple Martini is in demand.

All income levels are cutting costs, just in different ways. In some areas, meatloaf is replacing steak while in others $45 bottles of wine are replacing those costing $80, he said.

The economy is affecting what we're eating, Loren said.

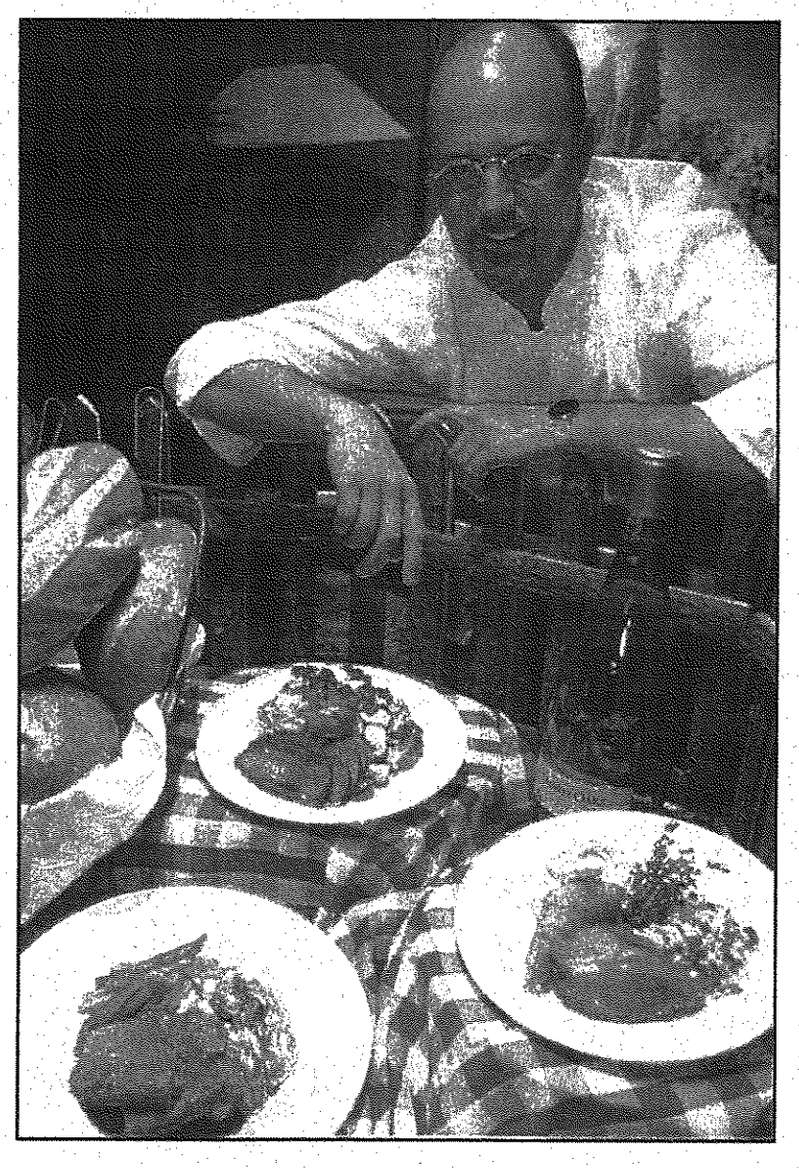

"Maybe people are ordering the apple martini because subliminally they're thinking of their love for New York. It's an emotional time," Loren said.

Right now, he said, people want simple food that's simple to prepare. Peanut butter sandwiches are comforting. So are whole roasted chickens with real potatoes and real butter, he said.

Heirloom tomatoes, actual "siblings" of original tomatoes grown in America hundreds of years ago, are in big demand. Stews and roasts are

SOUTHERN MEATLOAF

SERVES 4 TO 6

1 1/2 pounds ground beef, lean
2 cups Italian style bread crumbs
1 cup tomato ketchup
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 eggs, beaten
1 beef bouillon cube
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper

1. Crush bouillon cube and beat with eggs.

2. In a large mixing bowl, mix all ingredients together with a pastry cutter or spatula. Be careful not to over mix, which will make the meatloaf tougher.

3. Grease or spray a medium sized loaf pan with non-stick vegetable oil coating. Turn mixture into pan and mold into a loaf shape. Alternately, you may save butter stick wrappers and line the pan with them instead. The resulting meat loaf will have a slightly sweeter butter flavor.

4. Place in a pre-heated 350 degree oven and bake approximately 1 hour or until an internal meat thermometer registers 155 to 160 degrees.

5. Cool 15 minutes; turn meat loaf out of mold and slice.

GARLIC MASHED POTATO WITH CHIVES

SERVES 4 TO 6

6 medium large potatoes, peeled and cut
Cold water to cover
1 tablespoon salt
1-2 tablespoons fresh minced garlic
1/2 - 3/4 cup milk or half & half, hot
1 stick butter
Salt to taste
Black pepper, ground to taste
1 tablespoon chives, minced

1. Place potatoes in a large saucepot and cover with water. Add 1 tablespoon of salt and bring to a boil. Reduce to a simmer and cook until tender.

2. While potatoes are cooking, place butter in a small saucepan or fry pan and heat on medium heat until melted. Add minced garlic and return to medium heat, stirring until the garlic is light brown.

3. Drain water from cooked potatoes. Mash dry potatoes until well broken and somewhat smooth. Add butter and garlic and one half of milk and beat until smooth. Add more milk as necessary to create a light and fluffy potato mixture.

4. Season with salt and black pepper as necessary.

5. Stir in chives or sprinkle over finished potatoes as served.

'Buyer beware' with nutrition supplements

BY PEGGY MARTINELLI-EVERTS, R.D.

■ It is important to be informed about products before purchasing them because it is often difficult to know what information is reliable and what is questionable.

You or someone you know is probably taking them. They may be used to calm you down or chase away the blues. Some people use them to increase their concentration or improve athletic performance. Some people spend hundreds of dollars a month and swear by them. They are nutrition supplements. They include vitamins, minerals, herbs and other botanicals, amino acids, and other extracts or tinctures.

The supplement business is a multibillion dollar a year industry. The Food and Drug Administration regulates dietary supplements under the Dietary Supplement Health and Education Act of 1994. Under this act, the manufacturer is responsible for ensuring that a nutrition supplement is safe before it is marketed. The FDA is responsible for taking action against any unsafe nutrition supplement after it reaches the market. Generally, manufacturers do not need to register with the FDA or get FDA approval before producing or selling any nutrition supplements. Manufacturers do not even have to prove that the product works, only that the product label information is truthful and not misleading.

"I make sure to steer clear of supplements that accuse the medical profession or government of suppressing information about their particular product," said Brian Schmitt of Rochester. "It is illogical to assume that large numbers of people and companies are conspiring to withhold information on beneficial treatments."

GREEN BEANS WITH MUSHROOMS & ONIONS

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 1 - 1 1/2 pounds green beans, fresh, trimmed
- Water, boiling to cover
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/2 stick butter
- 1 onion, peeled and cut in half and sliced
- 2 cups mushrooms, fresh sliced
- Salt to taste
- Black pepper, ground to taste
- 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese, grated

1. Blanch green beans in boiling salted water 2 minutes. Extract beans and immediately chill in ice water to stop cooking and preserve the color and flavor of the beans. Reserve.

2. In a large frying or sauté pan, heat butter and then sauté onions until a transparent and slightly caramelized brown. Add the sliced mushrooms and continue to sauté on medium heat until the mushrooms have softened and browned slightly. Add the beans and sauté together until all ingredients are heated through.

3. Season with salt and pepper and serve with a dusting of grated Parmesan cheese.

CLASSIC COUNTRY FRIED CHICKEN WITH CORN O'BRIEN

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 2 fresh chickens, cut in pieces, skin on
- 1 1/2 cups buttermilk
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon dry, crushed oregano
- 1 teaspoon dry, crushed thyme
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- Vegetable oil to fry

1. In a large bowl, dissolve bouillon cubes and buttermilk together.

2. Soak chicken in this mixture.

3. Combine flour, paprika, oregano, thyme, garlic powder, salt and pepper in a large bowl.

4. Remove chicken pieces one at a time and roll in flour mixture liberally. Repeat to get an additional crust if desired.

5. Heat oil to 350 to 375 degrees in a skillet or deep saucepot. Place breaded chicken in hot oil making sure not to crowd. Cook until brown. To be sure chicken is thoroughly cooked, it may be additionally heated in a 325- degree oven until done.

BARBECUE BRAISED BEEF BRISKET WITH POTATO & BACON GRATIN AND DIJON BASTED BRUSSELS SPROUTS

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 4 pounds beef brisket
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 large onions, cut in julienne strips
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 1/4 teaspoon dry, crushed thyme
- 1 tablespoon parsley, fresh chopped
- 1 cup beer
- 2 cups beef broth (canned)
- 2 cups BBQ sauce
- Salt to taste
- ground black pepper, to taste

1. Heat oil in skillet until very hot.

2. Place beef brisket in skillet and brown well on all sides. Remove brisket from skillet and season with salt and pepper and place in a deep casserole dish with a well fitting lid.

3. Add onions to skillet and cook 3 to 4 minutes. Add garlic and seasonings; cook 2 to 3 more minutes.

4. Add beer and beef broth and cook 2 to 3 minutes.

5. Pour enough beer mixture over brisket to cover one half. Baste half of the barbecue sauce over the top exposed brisket and cover with a lid and bake in a 350 degree oven 2 to 2 /1/2 hours or until very tender. Add more beer mixture if necessary.

6. When meat is tender, remove from casserole and baste with remainder of the barbecue sauce. Rest meat 5 minutes. Serve.

CORN O'BRIEN

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 12 ounces frozen cut corn
- 1/3 cup green pepper, diced 1/4 inch
- 1/3 cup red pepper, diced 1/4 inch
- 1/3 cup onion, diced 1/4 inch
- 4 strips bacon, sliced and cut in 1/2 inch pieces
- 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon fresh, chopped parsley
- Salt and pepper to taste

1. In a large skillet or fry pan, sauté bacon until nearly crisp, retain fat.

2. Add onion to bacon and sauté 2 to 3 minutes.

3. Add peppers and continue to sauté until peppers are tender.

4. Add cider vinegar, parsley and season with salt and pepper.

5. Optionally, a pinch a sugar can be added for sweetness.

POTATO & BACON GRATIN

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 5-6 medium potatoes, sliced
- 2 cups chicken broth (canned)
- 1 large onion, sliced thin
- 6 bacon slices
- 3 tablespoons all purpose flour
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese, sharp
- pinch white pepper

1. In a saucepan, heat broth to a boil. Add potatoes and onions. Simmer covered 5 minutes. Drain and reserve 1 –1/2 cups of the broth.

2. Cook bacon in skillet over medium heat until crisp. Remove bacon and crumble.

3. Blend flour with bacon fat and cook over medium heat one minute.

4. Add reserved broth to flour bacon fat mixture and stir in briskly. Cook 1 to 2 minutes or until bubbling and thickened. Add cheese and pepper to this mixture and stir in.

5. Grease a one-quart casserole dish and layer onions into dish. Pour sauce over potato onion mixture and bake in a 375-degree oven approximately 30 to 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Remove from the oven and crumble bacon over top. Serve.

DIJON BASTED BRUSSELS SPROUTS

SERVES 4 TO 6

- 3/4 cup chicken broth, canned
- 1 pound Brussels sprouts
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
- pinch ground black pepper
- salt to taste

1. Heat chicken broth in a medium sized saucepan. Trim Brussels sprouts and make an 'X' incision on bottom of each Brussels sprout to ensure more even cooking.

2. Add Brussels sprouts to chicken broth and simmer uncovered until sprouts are tender.

3. Drain and reserve Brussels sprouts.

4. Toss Brussels sprouts in butter, Dijon mustard, salt and pepper.

5. Serve.

Spring forward with warm salad

BY J.M. HIRSCH
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

After months of heavy, warming foods such as casseroles and stews, the advent of spring means we can lighten the load and work greener, cooler produce into what we eat.

You can do it gradually. Use this time of still-limited fresh vegetables as an excuse to toss together dishes that celebrate the contrast of warm and cool – like the spring days, as they come and go.

For a great seasonal meal that can be on the table in about 10 minutes, try a plate of hot and cold nachos.

Spread corn tortilla chips over a plate or platter. Layer them with shredded lettuce, chopped tomatoes and peppers. In a small saucepan, heat a can of navy or vegetarian baked beans and spread over the vegetables. Finish with dollops of cold salsa.

For a cheesy version, don't top the platter of nachos with cheese – that will require heating, which will wilt the lettuce and ruin the hot-cold contrast. Instead, add shredded cheese to the beans as they heat and stir frequently.

For another great spring dish, try Warm Potato, Onion and Caper Salad from Lidia Matticchio Bastianich's Lidia's Italian-American Kitchen (Knopf, 2001, $35).

This warm salad is great served on a bed of crisp greens. For a twist, toss it with cooked, chilled bowtie pasta and olive oil.

Bastianich suggests trying the salad as it was traditionally made, without vinegar. But people who find the capers don't provide enough zing should sprinkle it lightly with vinegar and toss well before serving, she writes.

WARM POTATO, ONION AND CAPER SALAD

- (Preparation time 50 minutes)
- 1 pound Idaho or Yukon Gold potatoes, scrubbed but not peeled
- 1 small red onion, sliced thin
- 1/3 cup chopped fresh Italian parsley
- 1/4 to 1/3 cup tiny capers, drained
- 1/3 cup extra-virgin olive oil
- Salt (preferably sea salt)
- Cracked or coarsely ground black pepper
- Several teaspoons red-wine vinegar (optional)

Place the potatoes in a medium saucepan and add enough cold water to cover by about 2 inches. Bring to a boil over high heat, then lower the heat slightly to a gentle boil. Cook until the potatoes are tender, about 20 to 35 minutes.

Drain the potatoes and let them stand until cool enough to handle, but still quite warm. Cut the potatoes into 1/2-inch slices and set them in a serving bowl.

Scatter the onion, parsley and capers over the potatoes, then drizzle everything with the olive oil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste.

Toss gently until all ingredients are well mixed. If desired, add vinegar and toss again. Serve immediately.

(Warm Potato, Onion and Caper Salad is from Lidia's Italian-American Kitchen, Knopf, 2001, $35.)

These drinks are packed with vitamins, minerals and other nutrients, but are also somewhat high in calories for such a small volume. Enjoy them in reasonable portions.

STRAWBERRY SMOOTHIE

- 2 1/2 pounds strawberries, fresh, sliced
- 1 quart vanilla yogurt, frozen, low fat
- 1/8 teaspoon honey

In a clean, chilled blender, place strawberries, frozen yogurt and honey and blend on high until smooth. Pour into tall glass and garnish with sliced strawberry. Serving size 8 ounces.

CHOCOLATE YAHOO

- 1 quart orange juice
- 1 1/2 pounds strawberries, fresh, sliced
- 4 bananas, ripe, peeled, sliced
- 2 1/2 cups vanilla yogurt, low fat
- 1 cup chocolate syrup
- 1 quart, 2 cups ice cubes

In a clean, chilled blender, place juice, fruit, yogurt and chocolate syrup and blend on high until smooth. Add ice cubes and blend until frothy. Pour into tall glass and garnish with sliced strawberry and chocolate shavings on top. Serving size 12 ounces.

BANANA COCONUT CREAM COOLER

- 2 cups grapefruit juice
- 4 bananas, ripe, peeled, sliced
- 1 1/2 pounds strawberries, fresh, sliced
- 1 cup coconut cream, canned
- 1 quart, 2 cups ice cubes

In a clean, chilled blender, place juice, fruit and coconut cream and blend on high until smooth. Add ice cubes and blend until frothy. Pour into a tall glass and garnish with sliced strawberry or sliced orange wheel. Serving size 12 oz.

Loren knows that what makes us comfortable is food that we're familiar with – food that grandma made. Still, customers want basic, but high quality foods.

"They want real butter, not the fake stuff," he said. "They want a nice piece of fish minus the fussy extras. In uncertain times we gravitate to when things were great and foods that remind us of it."

No matter what the economy, people want good taste and texture. Broiled and baked and braised with simple butter or lemon is what we're cooking at home and eating at the restaurants.

"Even people who are cooking at home or entertaining at home are cooking comfort foods," he said. "We're in a time right now when people are re-examining their lives – either taking better care of their health or spending more time with family and friends in their own homes.

"They want real gravy with real mash potatoes."

Braised meats are popular at all the restaurants and gourmet shops, he said. People also want foods that will please the parents and the kids.

"That's why the chain restaurants like Applebee's and Bahama Breeze are doing well right now. They have mainstream food."

Too Chez used to be a designation restaurant, now the menu has been adapted to make it a family neighborhood restaurant.

And we want food that reminds us of home.

of identity, strength, purity, packaging and labeling. The USP designation can help consumers identify high quality supplements. Because most botanicals and herbals are not regulated like drugs, they are not subject to the same standards and labeling requirements. Standards for these articles appear in the National Formulary. This designation indicates that the product complies with the public standards in the NF.

"What mystifies me about some supplements are their claims to being clinically proven," said Jessica Straka of Royal Oak. "If this is true, where is the clinic and what exactly did they prove?"

It is important to be informed about products before purchasing them because it is often difficult to know what information is reliable and what is questionable. Consumers may first want to contact the manufacturer about the product they intend to purchase. Another source of information is the FDA web site for the article entitled Tips For The Savvy Supplement User: Making Informed Decisions And Evaluating Information at http://www.cfsan.fda.gov/~dms/ds-savvy.html.

Some supplements can interact with prescription or over-the-counter medicines. Taking a combination of supplements or using these products together with medications could, under certain circumstances, produce adverse effects, some of which could be life-threatening. Be alert to advisories about these products, whether taken alone or in combination. For example: Coumadin (a prescription medicine), ginkgo biloba (an herbal supplement), aspirin (an OTC drug) and vitamin E (a vitamin supplement) can each thin the blood. Taking any of these products together can increase the potential for internal bleeding. Combining St. John's Wort with certain HIV drugs significantly reduces their effectiveness. St. John's Wort may also reduce the effectiveness of prescription drugs for heart disease, depression, seizures, certain cancers or oral contraceptives.

Check assumptions

Check your assumptions before taking supplements.

Assumption 1 – Even if a product may not help me, it at least won't hurt me.

It is best not to assume that this will always be true. When consumed in mega doses, for a long enough time, or in combination with other substances, all chemicals can be toxic, including nutrients, plant components, and other biologically active ingredients.

Assumption 2 – When I see the term "natural," it means that a product is healthful and safe.

Consumers can be misled if they assume this term assures wholesomeness, or that these food-like substances necessarily have milder effects, which makes them safer to use than drugs. The term "natural" on labels is not well defined and is sometimes used ambiguously to imply unsubstantiated benefits or safety. For example, many weight-loss products claim to be "natural" or "herbal" but this doesn't necessarily make them safe. Their ingredients may interact with drugs or may be dangerous for people with certain medical conditions.

Assumption 3 – A product is safe when there is no cautionary information on the product label.

Manufacturers of nutrition supplements may not necessarily include warnings about potential adverse effects on the labels of their products. If consumers want to know about the safety of a specific nutrition supplement, they should contact the manufacturer of that brand directly. It is the manufacturer's responsibility to determine that the supplement it produces or distributes is safe and that there is substantiated evidence that the label claims are truthful and not misleading.

Assumption 4 – A recall of a harmful product guarantees that all such harmful products will be immediately and completely removed from the marketplace.

A product recall of a nutrition supplement is voluntary and while many manufacturers do their best, a recall does not necessarily remove all harmful products from the marketplace. Consumers must be on the lookout for fraudulent or misleading products. These products don't do what they say they can do, or don't contain what they say they contain. At the very least, they are a waste of money, or worse, they may cause actual physical harm. The types of claims made in their labeling, advertising and promotional literature can often help you identify fraudulent products. Some possible indicators of fraud include:

■ Claims that the product is a "secret cure," or that it is a "breakthrough," "magical," or "new discovery." If the product were a cure for a serious disease, it would be widely reported in the media and used by many health care professionals.

■ Pseudomedical jargon, such as "detoxify," "purify" and "energize" to describe a product's effects. These claims are vague and hard to measure.

■ Claims that the product can cure a wide range of unrelated diseases.

■ Claims that the product is backed by "scientific studies," but no list of the studies or references that are out-of-date, irrelevant or poorly designed.

■ Claims that there are only benefits, and no side effects of the supplement. If a product is potent enough to cause effects, it is potent enough to cause side effects.

Supplements' dark side

Some problems with nutrition supplements include the following:

■ Nutrition supplements are not drugs, usually! There are reported cases of people becoming ill with heart failure, liver disease, and other problems due to mega dosing or interactions with other medication. Check with your doctor or pharmacist before taking nutrition supplements while taking any other type of medication.

■ Do not give nutrition supplements to children. Many supplements have strong biological properties. Dosing and safety are not well studied in children.

■ There is a general lack of controls with regard to regulating the manufacturing process especially as it relates to standardization requirements.

■ There are few controlled studies demonstrating the long term safety and effectiveness of many nutrition supplements.

■ There are a huge number of suppliers of supplements and just about anyone can manufacture these products.

■ The safety of the product is "established" by the manufacturer but there does not need to be any guarantees.

■ Consumers can be misled by quality statements on the label of products that do not meet the quality standards of the United States Pharmacopeia or the National Formulary.

Remember the old adage that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Use supplements with caution. Supplements should help support, not replace, good eating practices.

Maya, for which she oversees production, and in the wines of her own brand Selene.

Klein joined Fisher because she was impressed with the quality of the vineyards producing the single-vineyard cabernets. She was also attracted to the second generation of Fishers, Fred and Juelle's children, who have shown the dedication of their parents.

As a start to reach the pinnacle of wine excellence, Klein had the Fishers climb their steep mountain vineyards in steps they'd not taken before. Once on board, she led Fred and Juelle through the final blending of the 1998 Coach Insignia Cabernet and the 1999 Chardonnay. It was Klein's call not to bottle the Wedding and Lamb Vineyard cabernets as single-vineyard designates from the tough 1998 vintage.

Under Klein's direction, the 2000 Fisher Coach Insignia Chardonnay $35 has taken on a gorgeous fruit profile with backed-off oak character and distinguished touches of tropical fruit. It finishes delicate, creamy and sophisticated. The 1999 Coach Cabernet Sauvignon $63 is brimming with dark fruit flavors. It's complex and layered, expressing fruit power with an elegant finish. Each vineyard-designated wine is a signature from a special place.

Picture this: Bond Falls in Michigan's upper peninsula provided Monte Nagler the opportunity to capture this miniature landscape on film. This was one of the many pictures within a picture that he was able to make.

Focus on miniature landscapes

Too often photographers try to shoot the broad panoramic view while ignoring landscape details. Within every large landscape are hundreds of smaller ones just waiting to be captured by your camera.

FOCUS ON PHOTOGRAPHY

MONTE NAGLER

Lily pads shimmering on the surface of a pond, a cluster of fallen leaves, or a wave gently lapping the shore...each of these and many more can be just as exciting and picturesque as the more expansive view.

Any environment contains an inexhaustible supply of fascinating miniature landscape detail.

Other than a keen eye, no elaborate equipment is needed. At times, a set of close-up filters or a macro lens will help to move in close and a tripod should be used to maximize sharpness and depth-of-field.

Seeing "simply" is a good way to begin to photograph miniature landscapes. That is, start to look through the viewfinder and withdraw simple elements from the whole, that, in themselves, make exciting, dramatic photographs. In other words, begin to see pictures within the picture.

The view of a majestic mountain across the lake will make a beautiful, overall landscape shot, but don't overlook the miniature landscape produced by the velvety row of moss-draped rocks at the water's edge.

Rather than portray the whole plowed field in your country photograph, zoom in on a small section of freshly cut furrows.

Bond Falls in Michigan's upper peninsula has provided me with many sweeping and majestic waterfall picture opportunities. Yet isolating only an intimate detail as shown in the accompanying photograph, produced an image that "says it all" about these magnificent falls.

Miniature landscapes will give a unique perspective to your picture and will emphasize textures and tones you often won't get by shooting the whole.

Remember, you're making photographs, not taking snapshots. Let your miniature landscape be a complete picture in itself while at the same time conveying the flavor and essence of the whole.

Mysterious 'Mr. Crane' worth knowing

Mr. Crane, If You Please by Anthony Blossingham, Writers Club Press, New York, 2001, $11.95

BY KEELY KALESKI WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

kwygonik@oe.homecomm.net

Out of sight, out of mind, the mysterious Mr. Crane is lurking somewhere. You never know when he'll turn up – "he's the Boogie man in a black suit..." A dangerous one who gets away with murder.

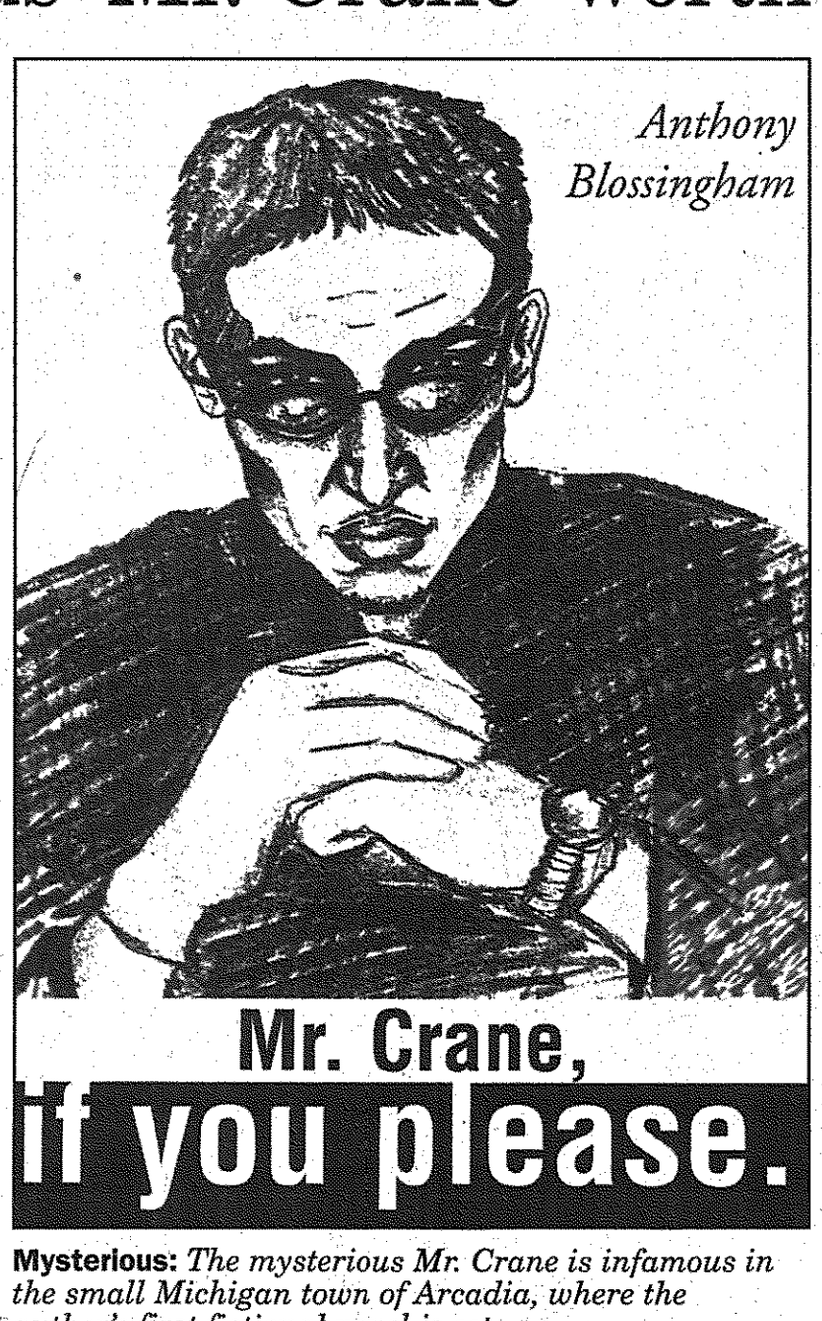

Anthony Blossingham draws the reader into this mystery that takes place in Acadia, Mich.

"The character of Mr. Crane was developed over 14 months, when I first thought of a merciless Hitman with a touch of honor," said Blossingham, who has written poetry, song lyrics, short stories and feature articles for the Traverse City Record Eagle. "The secret I've found to my personal experience of writing a novel is to keep yourself entertained by the story. Finally, enjoy yourself. It's supposed to be fun, an obsession. If you aren't excited about writing your novel, go outside or find someone to fall in love with."

It's obvious, from his first novel, that Blossingham is a man who loves words and knows how to weave them into a cleverly told story. There's a bit of Motown soul, love found and lost.

Having just graduated from high school, Jacob George James, against his father's wishes, packs his duffel bag and leaves the family farm in Minnesota.

Jacob thought of his hometown, Bishop Springs, as "Purgatory; it was a place of indecision and limbo. He couldn't choose anything there because none of it mattered to him."

Mysterious: The mysterious Mr. Crane is infamous in the small Michigan town of Arcadia, where the author's first fictional novel is set.

He's saved enough money for a bus ticket, and trip to Acadia, a town that has no problem with aspiring young authors like himself. He's working on a novel about a homicide detective from a big city who moves out to a farming town to solve big crimes.

It had stopped being interesting, and become a burden.

In town he meets his cousin Jilly, who like himself had no appetite for farming. James gets a job at the neighborhood bar. The owner, Frank Simona cautions James about Mr. Crane from the beginning – his darkened booth is untouched, and roped off from other patrons.

In between customers, Frank spins tales about some of Acadia's more colorful characters, especially the notorious Mr. Crane. James is enthralled.

Is Mr. Crane fact or fiction? Is he still running around Acadia and Michigan with an "axe to grind?"

Blossingham keeps readers guessing, and in between tells a story of growing mutual respect and friendship between Frank and Jacob. There are misses with death, and decisions that change Frank and Jacob's life.

"Take care not to be rude to tall gentlemanly strangers if you should choose to visit Acadia," cautions Blossingham. "Remember one thing for when you go on your nightly Acadian walks. Nothing kills like rudeness."

Mr. Crane, If You Please, can be ordered at your local bookstore, or Amazon.com. Visit the publisher's Web site www.iunivers.com for more information.

Makeup mistakes can be corrected

Everyone has had experience with beauty disasters – everything from orange bronzer, to a lip color that makes you look pale and washed out, to dreadful dye jobs.

DISCOVERING BEAUTY

MARY ANNE TOCCALINO

For anyone who has tried makeup magic, beauty mistakes are inevitable. While something may look perfectly acceptable to us in our lighting, we can walk out into the public and beauty blunders just jump out where everyone else can spot them.

We all can use a little help, so here are a few common mistakes and their easy solutions.

■ Mistake – Over glow

Too many beauty products are loaded with shimmer these days – everything from body lotion to rouge to lip products – that it can easily lead to overkill.

In small doses, shimmer can be very complimentary. The tiny sparkles will add a touch of radiance to your face and highlight your strong features (eyes, cheeks and décolletage included).

If you use too much, you can run into the risk of looking like an aspiring Vegas girl. Also, too much will accentuate any flaws in the skin.

Correction – Rather than drowning yourself with shimmer all over, pick a couple of key areas on your face to shimmer up.

During the day a touch of shimmer on the cheeks, along with a high-shine lip gloss, is perfectly OK. Or a sheer sparkle on the lids is always complimentary.

In order to extend the flow into the night, add a delicate dusting of shimmer powder on key areas such as the shoulders and shins.

■ Mistake – Trying to eliminate skin flaws with concealer

Concealer is definitely a good weapon against dark circles, blemishes and spider lines, but too much can have just the opposite effect. If used too heavily, it can look piled on and accentuate the problem area.

Improvement – Just use a smidgen of concealer in spot areas and make sure it's the right color for your skin tone.

Light skin should use one with a yellow undertone (Vincent Longo Duo concealer No. 2 works well); darker complexions look better with peach a peach cast. Be careful to avoid white concealers – they draw attention to the area and are extremely difficult to work with.

■ Mistake – Outlining your mouth with a dark lip pencil

Lip liner is a great tool when used properly. It can make lipstick last longer, correct the shape of an imperfect mouth and prevent color from bleeding.

The trouble with this is as the lip color wears off, the liner is left, leaving an unattractive dark line around the mouth.

Improvement – Color in the entire lip before applying lipstick to avoid this problem. Also, use a liner most natural to your own lip color. MAC lip pencil in Spice is a classic neutral and a great companion to almost any color.

■ Mistake – The wrong foundation

Always try on a foundation first. It may take all sorts of sampling but it's worth the time invested.

Correction – Apply the foundation on the jaw line and feel free to walk around the store and look at it in several different lights. If you can see the foundation, it's the wrong shade; if it isn't noticeable, it's the right shade for you.

If testing isn't available, make sure the product is returnable.

■ Mistake – Skipping trims while growing your hair

While growing our hair out many of us avoid a haircut, which is just one big mistake. Hair needs a trim in order to remain healthy.

Correction – Long, shiny, healthy hair must have a trim at least every two months. If you don't have your hair trimmed, you're carrying around split ends and dull breakage, which defeats you from achieving length.

A bonus to this regime is it gives you a chance to experiment with different styling.

■ Mistake – Choosing the wrong hair color

Hair color can instantly uplift your look. But it can throw the whole thing off, too. If you don't pick the right shade to compliment your skin tone, you'll look artificial; it simply won't work with anything about you.

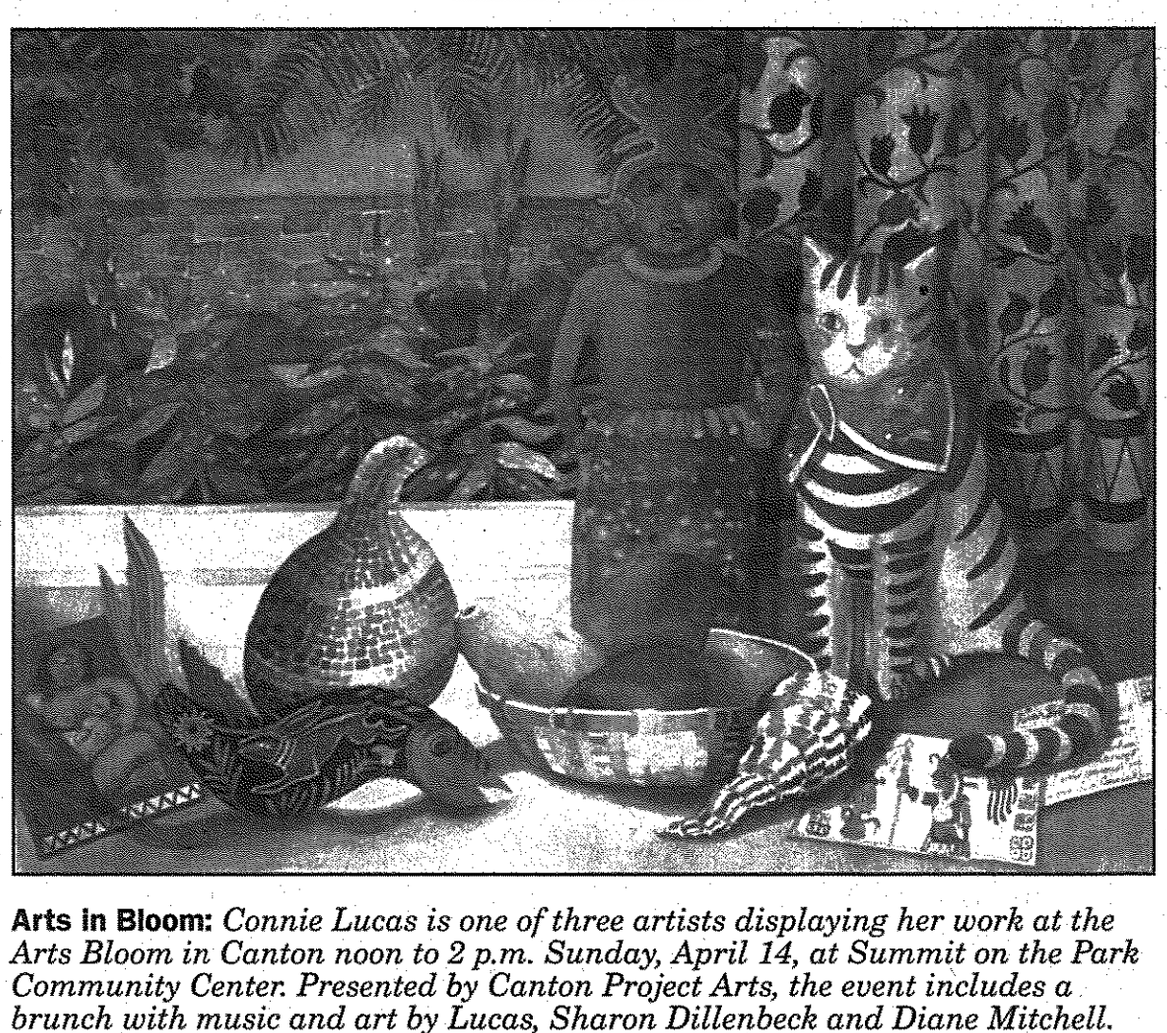

Correction – Know your skin tone before you colors. Seek a consultation from a professional makeup artist or hair colorist. Oftentimes they are complimentary and you'll walk away knowing your skin tone once and for all.

Also when coloring your hair, make sure you remember to color your brows as well. Otherwise you're still going to give an artificial appearance.

So keep your eyes open and take a double take to make sure you're well matched, well blended and perfectly painted in order to put your best face forward.

Manners not only for manors

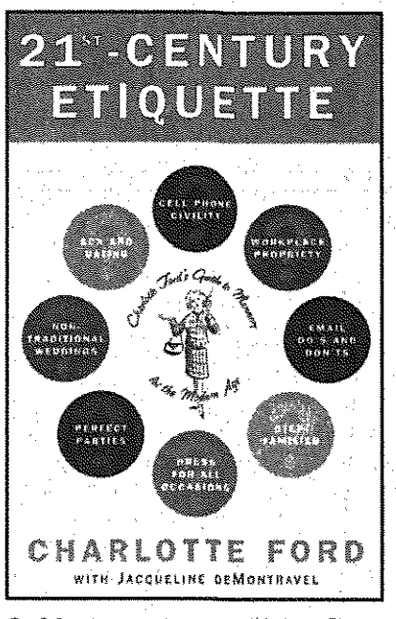

Manners are not only for manors.

That's the message in best-selling author Charlotte Ford's newest book on manners, 21st Century Etiquette: Charlotte Ford's Guide to Manners for the Modern Age, (Lyons Press, $24.95. Nov. 2001), a fresh, and witty guide to maintaining civility in today's high-tech world. With easy-to-follow tips and common-sense advice, Ford shows readers that courtesy is never out of date and is always in style.

Ford, a New York City resident, will also speak on this topic when she is the featured guest of The Women's Division for Project HOPE (Health Opportunities for People Everywhere), at a luncheon on Friday, April 19, at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

In her book, Ford, daughter of Henry Ford II and an accomplished businesswoman in her own right, not only addresses current and social situations, but expands her comments to everyday situations in the gym, the use of cell phones, tipping, the single life, and many more areas where modern technology and alternative lifestyles have made former "rules" obsolete.

Each chapter contains "Do's and Don'ts" of topics, and end with a quiz. In the Taming Technology chapter, her cell phone "don'ts" include: "Don't talk to someone else

(the waiter, someone on the street, etc.) while on the phone." ""Do's"" include: "Do keep conversations short and to the point if you are forced to take a call in the company of others."

Chapters also contain a "Past Century/Present Century" summary of various etiquette questions.

The Friday program begins with a reception at 10:30 a.m. with Project HOPE member and pianist Alice Berberian Haidostian of Bloomfield Hills playing classic popular songs. At 11:45 a.m. Ford will make a brief presentation before the noon luncheon. From 1 to 2 p.m. she will answer questions from the audience and autograph copies of her book, which will be available for purchase.

The Spring Luncheon, a fund-raising event to benefit Project HOPE, has received significant sponsorship from Marsh and Comerica. Co-chairwoman are Gwen Bowlby of Detroit and Julie Stackpoole of Bloomfield Hills. Tickets are $45, $75 and $100. Paid reservations should be received by April 15. For more information, call (248) 642-9585.

Project HOPE is a 43-year old not-for- profit agency. Volunteers around the world share in the mission of helping people, communities and nations to develop the medical skills and knowledge to help themselves, through training and health education.

The Classic Rock Musical!

APR 24 - MAY 19

Music and new lyrics by Stephen Schwartz
Book by John-Michael Tebelak

High energy rock 'n roll makes Godspell a plugged-in circus-romp retelling of the Gospel According to St. Matthew. Great songs like "Day by Day" are just part of this exuberant, life-affirming celebration's high spirits. The New York Times cheered "Godspell still has the giddy rapture that made it a hit!"

TRAVEL

Galapagos Island tour an awesome adventure

BY NORMA AND WENDY SCHONWETTER
SPECIAL WRITERS

Where can you find penguins, impenetrable forests, and the highest capital city in the world? Give up? Ecuador. It's home to the Galapagos Islands, the rain forest, and Quito – which is perched atop an active volcano that towers nearly 10,000 feet above sea level. We guarantee you'll get your money's worth checking out this awesome threesome.

Charles Darwin put the Galapagos Islands on the map when he brought back his observations of animal adaptations from this unusual place. He saw iguanas happily swimming in the salty Pacific Ocean, penguins thriving far from home, and unconcerned cormorants airing their tiny, useless wings. Imagine animals so unafraid of predators that nesting birds and mothers of newborn seals don't flinch when humans approach, plants and animals thriving in the absence of fresh water, finches with a multiplicity of beak shapes, each adapted to feeding on specific plants or seeds to eliminate competition. His explanation of these sights became the reasoning for his theory of evolution.

For the birds: Blue-footed boobies can be spotted in high-up rocky outcroppings

Fantasy adventure

Darwin saw all of this (and more) hundreds of years ago, and not much has changed. This is a fantasy adventure to exotic and remote islands, untouched by pollution, where preserving the native fauna and flora is a primary consideration. Two organizations work together for the conservation of the islands. The Galapagos National Park works to preserve and protect the natural resources of the Islands and the Charles Darwin Research Station, founded in 1959 under the auspices of UNESCO, conducts and facilitates research in the Galapagos Islands.

Aboard the Galapagos Explorer II, owned by Canodros S.A. of Ecuador, stellar service and ambiance mix amazingly well with shorts, sandy toes, and sunscreen.

This 100-passenger ecotourism cruise ship offers nothing but beautiful, large, outside rooms, with all the frills, including 110-volt electricity. They are so conscientious about protecting the environment, they even supply you with an excellent biodegradable soap and shampoo. And here's a secret – the lowest deck has the largest rooms, with walk-in closets and sitting rooms. Even better, it's the smoothest sailing and has adjoining rooms – at the lowest price on the ship.

This is not a party cruise, it is ecotourism at its finest, an educational sightseeing trip, and the clientele reflects that difference. That doesn't mean it's not fun.

You don't need to be an athlete for this trip. Seniors and those with injuries joined ranks with the jogging set on the islands. Guides are very accommodating, and if walking is deemed too rugged, you can tour the exterior of the island by Zodiac. While our counterparts grunted their way to the top of an island in search of an elusive owl, we saw schools of graceful stingrays, puffer fish and herons in shallow, serene lagoons, and dolphins, humpbacks, penguins, and mating sea turtles in open water all from the comfort of our dinghy. There are also plentiful opportunities to snorkel, sunbathe or learn more about the islands in the library aboard ship.

Highlight

Bartholomew Island was the highlight of our trip. Take the hike for breathtaking views, and don't miss snorkeling here. Each island has its own plentiful treasure-trove of exotic animals based on the specific food and shelter available. Exotic wildlife abounds, from clownish boobies (blue-footed, red-footed and masked), mammoth albatross, and thieving frigate birds, to playful fur seals and sea lions.

Despite their equatorial location, it is remarkably comfortable year-round in the Galapagos Islands due to the Humboldt Current, which travels north from the Antarctic. Temperatures range between nearly 90° F to the mid-60s. The best time to visit is December through April, but whenever you come there will be twelve hours of daylight to brighten your mood.

Located 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador, the Galapagos Archipelago consists of thirteen large islands, six smaller islands, and over forty islets. The islands, many resembling craggy moonscapes and scraggy flora, are the result of volcanic eruptions three- to five- million years ago, and are in one of the most active volcanic regions of the world. Four of the islands are now inhabited, with a total of 16,000 people, along with the domestic animals they brought.

The only direct flights to Quito take 4 hours from Miami and are offered by American Airlines. It is the most economical and comfortable, with wider seats and more leg room. Other airlines servicing Quito are LanChile and Continental. Make time to see Quito, then use it as a departure point for the Galapagos and Canodros' other gem, Kapawi Ecolodge and Reserve in the Amazon Rain forest.

Ecuador, and its nearly two-mile-high capital Quito, is full of pleasant surprises. Ecuador is on Eastern Standard Time, the U.S. dollar is the national currency, and the electric power (and plugs) are the same as in the U.S. Drivers are very courteous to each other and pedestrians and taxis are cheap. The southern part of the city, the Old City, has the largest Spanish Colonial district in the Americas, and in 1978 it became the first UNESCO site designated as a World Heritage City in order to preserve its colonial structures. The northern part of the city is very modern with skyscrapers, condos, hotels and the airport.

A short drive from Quito is the Equatorial Monument considered "The Middle of the World" by Ecuadorians. It's fun to watch visitors mug for the camera while straddling "the line" (painted yellow) that puts one foot in each hemisphere.

A visit to Quito is incomplete without a tour to Otavolo, a large open-air market. This day trip takes travelers on a breathtaking ride through the mountains, past volcanoes (twelve or more), lakes, and miles of greenhouses, where flowers and roses are grown for export. Continue on to Cotacachi to shop for fine leather goods, and then stop at scenic Cuichocha Crater Lake for lunch.

This is a great way to relax before being transported back in time in the Amazonian Rain forest of Ecuador.

If you go

Cruise: Offerings are typically 3, 4 and 7 days, some with extensions to other parts of Ecuador. A great combination is a 4 night cruise, 3 nights in the rain forest, with a few days in Quito.

Here are some tour companies that offer Galapagos trips:

Visiting Otavolo: Although Saturdays are hyped as the best day to visit Otavolo, it is also the most crowded. Go during the week when there are few tourists and great bargains.

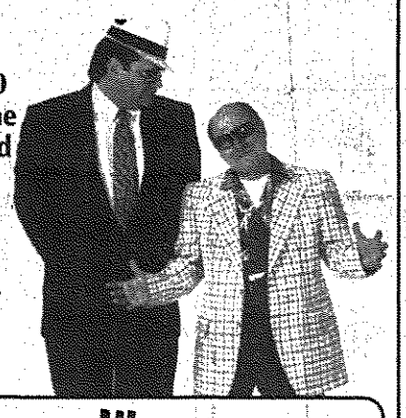

What to eat, drink: Try some of the Ecuadorian specialties, like guanabana (a refreshing creamy fruit drink), potato cheese soup, empanadas, fritada (lean pork cubes), passion fruit desserts, and plantain. Sample "Spirit of Ecuador", a potently delicious fruit liqueur available at supermarkets for $3.95/ 750 ml bottle.

NAHL award-winners

The North American Hockey League has selected those among its ranks to be honored, and a couple of Compuware Ambassadors were among those chosen.

Andy Greene, a Miami (Ohio) University recruit, was named the league's most valuable defenseman. A first team all-league selection, Greene was second among defensemen in scoring with 16 goals and 29 assists (45 points) and led the NAHL with 11 power-play goals.

Todd Watson, the Ambassadors coach/general manager, was named coach of the year after leading Compuware to a 42-9-5 record, good for first overall in the NAHL and a berth in the USA Hockey Junior A National Championship May 3-4 in Bozeman, Mont. The Ambassadors led the NAHL in power-play percentage, converting 31.08 percent of their chances, and in penalty kill percentage at 87.35 percent.

Gymnastics standouts

Nicole Roach, a 12-year-old Canton resident, competing at the Region 5 Level 9 Gymnastics Regional in Lexington, Ky., April 7, earned herself a spot on the Region 5 team to compete at the Eastern United States National Championships in Kissimmee, Fla.

Roach, a member of the Sports Club of Novi Gymnastics Team competing in the Junior A Division (12-and-under), scored a 36.025 in the all-around competition, tying for 16th. The top 17 finishers were placed on the team. Roach also scored an 8.9 in the vault, tying for 14th, and had a 9.1 on floor, a 9.025 on balance beam and a 9.0 on uneven parallel bars.

Gymnasts were required to score a 34.0 in the all-around at their respective state meets to qualify for the Regional. Club teams from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky were in Region 5.

The Sports Club's Level 8 team competed at the Galaxy of Stars Meet at Central Michigan University, finishing fourth with a score of 110.0. Among those on the team were Alyssa Kelley, 13, of Plymouth and Brittany Young, 12, of Canton.

Kelley was second in the all-around with a 36.65 score, finishing third on vault (9.025) and sixth on bars (9.325); she also had a 9.025 on beam and a 9.275 on floor.

Young was fifth on bars (9.15) and sixth on vault (8.55), with an all-around total of 33.9.

Tough afield

Chiefs build big lead, roll to victory over Rocks

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR
cjrisak@oe.homecomm.net

A season ago, track afficiondos could look at Plymouth Canton's boys team and see the Chiefs would be tough to beat in field events.

A lot of those guys are gone now. Which created some doubt: How good would Canton be this year?

Not even the Chiefs' coach, Bob Richardson, was certain.

In last Thursday's season-opening dual meet against cross-campus rival Plymouth Salem, that question was answered — satisfactorily for Canton.

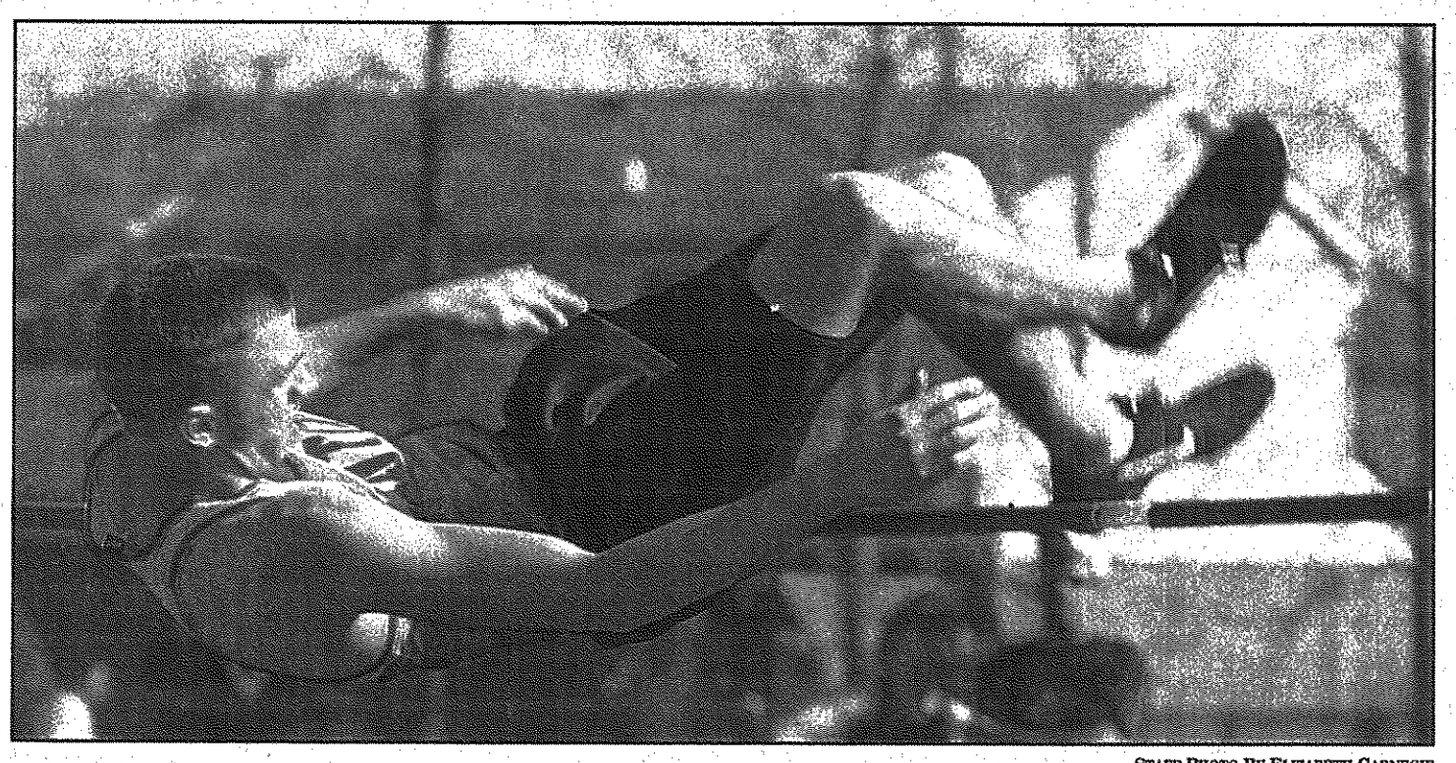

The Chiefs built a 42-3 advantage through the field events against Salem, giving them an almost insurmountable lead and assuring them of their second-straight win in the Bolger-Mangan meet, this one by a 90-47 margin.

"I had no idea we'd be ahead that far," said Richardson of his team's dominating performance in the field events. "I knew we could get some firsts and I thought we could get some firsts and seconds."

The Chiefs didn't just get a few firsts and seconds — they got 'em all. Dane Kobus placed first in the shot put (41-feet, 9-inches) and second in the long jump (19-8 3/4), Bryan Frawley was first in the discus (111-5) and second in the shot (40-3), and Ken Page was first in the long jump (19-11) and second in the high jump (5-6).

Other winners for Canton in field events were Mike Lanius in the high jump (5-8) and Jon Chapman in the pole vault (10-0).

That still left eight individual track events and four relays. The Chiefs didn't fall off much, taking firsts in eight of those 12.

Top spot: Canton's Mike Lanius cleared 5-foot, 8-inches to win the high jump against Salem. Lanius was also third in the long jump.

Most notable in the track performances was that of junior Corey Walser, who tied the 15-year-old school record in the 200-meters of 22.6, originally set by Brian Carney. Walser also finished first in the 100, clocking 11.2 while racing into a head wind — not far off another ancient school record (translated, that means pre-Richardson era) of 10.9, set by Elijah Rogers in 1984.

"Corey Walser had a career day, for him," Richardson said, then added, "so far."

The implication was clear: as good as he looked, Walser will be better.

Canton won both hurdles' events, Kobus — who recently committed to Hillsdale College for football — capturing the 110s (15.9) and Corey Stewart taking the 300s (43.8). The Chiefs also got a victory from Aaron Schmidt in the 800 (2:03.9).

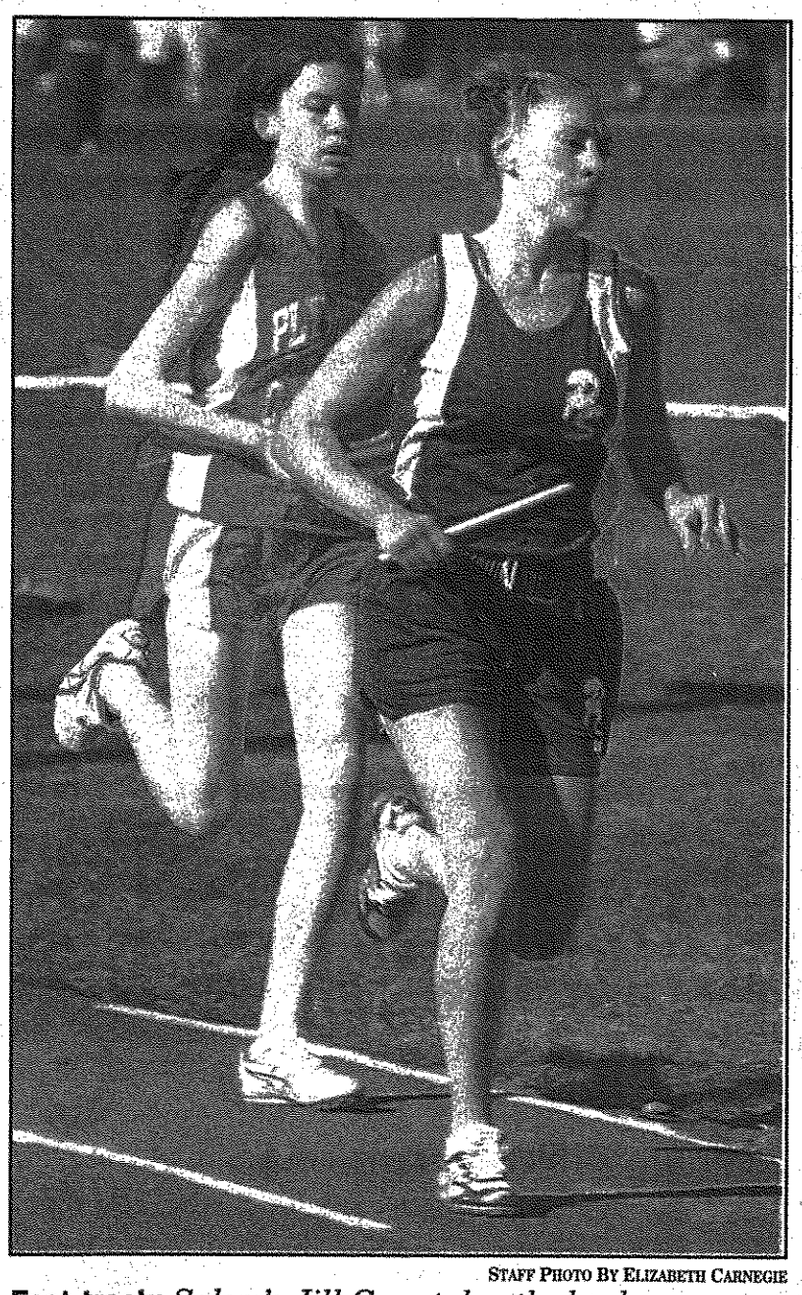

"We surprised ourselves a little bit in the hurdles," said Richardson. "We knew Corey (Stewart) would be good, but 43.8 by a sophomore and in April — that was real good."

Salem's strength figured to be in the middle distance and distance events, and for the most part it was. Justin Hajduk, a junior, finished first in both the 1,600 (4:37.8) and the 3,200 (10:08.0), with Chris Vraniak placing second in both the 800 (2:07.1) and the 1,600 (4:38.9). They also got a win from Tom Huls in the 400 (53.2).

"I saw some good stuff on the track," said Salem coach Geoff Baker. "I found some pretty good speed, now it's just a matter of finding a place for them.

"In our field events we just don't have the bodies. In the distance (events), we showed what we're made

Salem proves too strong for Canton

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR
cjrisak@oe.homecomm.net

■ 'It was a good, competitive meet. Canton has a lot of good athletes. But we had better depth than I thought. We have some freshmen who are stepping up to the plate.'

Mark Gregor
Salem coach

Sure, it's an important meet. It's Plymouth Salem-vs.-Plymouth Canton.

Still, Salem's girls track team has been dominant in this meet over the past few years. When the two cross-campus rivals tangled last Thursday, more of the same was expected.

And it was.

The Rocks finished first in three-of-the-five field events, five-of-eight individual track events and three-of-four relays. The result: an 89-48 triumph that allowed Salem coach Mark Gregor to start thinking about next week's imperative dual meet against Walled Lake Central.

Not that Gregor would ever, ever admit to looking beyond the Canton meet to something else. But let's face it: It's been a while since Canton has beaten Salem. And Central is the defending Western Lakes Activities Association champion.

In fact, the Vikings swamped Salem last season in their dual meet, beating the Rocks 92-47 — their first dual-meet loss since 1997.

So perhaps a glance past Canton at Central, which visits Salem for their annual WLAA dual Thursday, is allowable.

"It was a good, competitive meet," said Gregor of Canton. "Canton has a lot of good athletes. But we had better depth than I thought. We have some freshmen who are stepping up to the plate."

Despite what seemed a lopsided loss, the Chiefs and their coach, John Venning, were anything but displeased.

"I had some parents tell me after the meet, 'You wouldn't know who won or lost afterwards by the way the kids were cheering,'" Venning said. "That's because our girls met their goals. They're pumped. Right now, they're aiming for the regionals."

And the Chiefs did have some bright spots. The two brightest were Rachel Lindman and Sarah McCormack. Each won two events, Lindman capturing the long jump (15-feet, 8-inches) and the 200-meters (27.3) and McCormack winning the 1,600 (5:50.1) and the 3,200 (12:24.1).

"It was a beautiful tactical race," Venning said of McCormack's win in the 3,200 over Salem's Liane Griffiths, who placed second in 12:24.9.

The Rocks had more than their share of excellent performances, too, in particular Erriane Bundle, who won the 300 hurdles (52.1) and the 100 (13.2) and was part of the first-place 4x200 relay (1:52.3).

"Bundle had a really good meet," said Gregor, adding almost all of his girls were limited to three events.

Salem seeks to build on its success

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR
cjrisak@oe.homecomm.net

■ Trying to rebuild a team that can once again reach the 20-win plateau, and perhaps win a second-straight district title, won't be easy. But Southerland is confident she has the talent.

Last season was an historical one for Plymouth Salem softball. The Rocks gained their second-straight 20-win season and they won their first state district championship.

Now the question is, how can they build on that success?

Which is exactly what coach Bonnie Southerland wants to do. She also realizes it won't be easy, considering the losses her team must deal with.

"We had an excellent year — I couldn't have been more pleased," she said of Salem's 21-15 season in 2001. But: "We lost our whole infield except at third base. That's 16 years of experience (that graduated).

"Basically, this team has some shoes to fill."

Gone are two four-year varsity players in shortstop Katie Kelly and first baseman Dawn Allen. Both are playing collegiately, Kelly at Albion and Allen at Henry Ford CC.

Also graduated are second baseman Jen Allen, pitcher Kristen Miller (16-7 last season) and outfielder Jen Warnick.

Trying to rebuild a team that can once again reach the 20-win plateau, and perhaps win a second-straight district title, won't be easy. But Southerland is confident she has the talent.

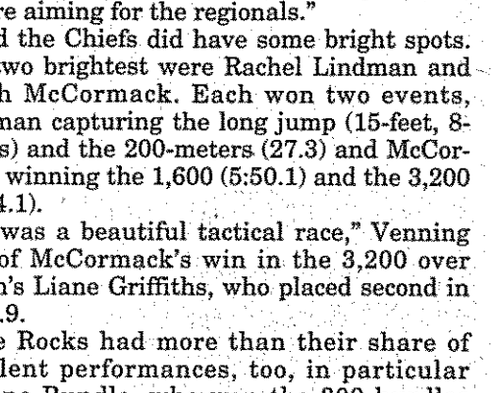

It starts with returnees like senior catcher Amy Szawara, an all-Western Lakes Activities Association all-Lakes Division player who batted .317 with 17 runs batted in. A third-year varsity starter, "Scrappy" was also named all-district. "She's one of the smartest players on the team," said Southerland.

Then there's senior centerfielder Kelly Jaskot, another three-year player who hit .315 with 14 RBI. Like Szawara, Jaskot played all 36 games for Salem last year; she was an all-WLAA selection and an all-district player. "She's just a well-rounded athlete," her coach said.

A third key returnee is junior Maggie Tudor, who led the Rocks in most offensive categories last season, batting .403 with 50 hits and 13 stolen bases (all team bests). Tudor had four doubles, two triples and 12 RBI and was named all-division, all region and all-district.

That was playing in the outfield.

SALEM

Lose the top two players from a team that finished in the middle of the pack and a coach might be concerned.

Not Bill Nelson. That's because everyone else on his Plymouth Salem boys tennis team is back.

Not only that. They've all spent a lot of time on the courts indoors over the winter, perfecting their games.

"All of them played all winter, which makes it very encouraging," said Nelson, whose Rocks were part of a four-team group in a four-point span that placed third through sixth at last year's Western Lakes Activities Association championships. "We don't have any superstars, but we have a lot of good players.

"We're not really weak in any position."

How that translates when compared to the rest of the WLAA is another story, but Nelson is confident the additional work over the winter will help — big time.

Gone from last season's squad are John Machnacki, who played No. 1 singles, and Andy Fenton, who was at No. 2.

Filling their spots will be, at No. 1, Evan Roller, a senior who played No. 3 last season and reached the WLAA semifinals before losing to eventual conference champ Kyle Dehne of Northville, and at No. 2, Mike Ware Jr., a sophomore who in the WLAA finals at No. 4 last year took North Farmington's Rob Frankel to three sets before losing.

Moving into their positions at No. 3 and 4 singles will be last season's No. 2 doubles team of Dave Wallen and Dave Daigneau. Both are seniors; Wallen figures to be at No. 3 and Daigneau, a soccer player who "can run all day — he frustrates his opponents," will be at No. 4. At last year's WLAAs, they too reached the semifinals before losing to the eventual champs from North Farmington, Dan Carlson and Dan Levy.

■ 'All of them played all winter, which makes it very encouraging. We don't have any superstars, but we have a lot of good players. We're not really weak in any position.'

Bill Nelson
Coach

"I'd like to think our singles are pretty strong," said Nelson. "I think we'll challenge people. We'll be competitive."

At No. 1 doubles, Kyle Jose, a senior, returns; he'll pair with another senior, Jeff Sibbold, who moves up from No. 4 doubles. Both spent a lot of time indoors over the winter.

Sameer Dohadwala, a junior, and Pat Shaw, a sophomore, move from No. 3 to No. 2 doubles, while a pair of promising freshmen, Chris Treadwell and Robbin Wallen, fill the No. 3 slot. Pat Pokarski, a junior who played No. 4 last season, and Jason Rizzo, a senior who filled in at several spots, are at No. 4 doubles. Dave Kwak, a senior who is nursing a sore arm, also will figure in the doubles mix somewhere.

"When we come up against the big boys like North Farmington (the defending WLAA champ) and Northville (second in the WLAA), we'll make a good showing," predicted Nelson. "We're developing some new talent. We've got a lot of freshmen — we've got 37 kids out. We've got a lot of kids with a good work ethic."

Still, North and Northville figure to be at the top of the WLAA, despite some major roster changeovers. Livonia Stevenson, third last season, has nearly everyone back, making the Spartans look pretty good, too.

The Rocks should be in there, too. Just where may depend on how far their winter workouts carry them.

Despite their losses, Chiefs should still be solid

CANTON

Plymouth Canton wasn't exactly a boys tennis powerhouse in the Western Lakes Activities Association last season, but the Chiefs managed to carve out a strong finish for themselves.

North Farmington (league winners the last five years) and Northville battled for top honors — again. After them came Livonia Stevenson in a distant third, with Livonia Churchill, Canton and Plymouth Salem all packed in within four points of the Spartans.

The Chiefs managed their impressive finish without much of a presense in singles play. Only Kyle Andrews, at No. 2, reached the final four for Canton in singles play, losing to Northville's Mark Thomson in the semifinals.

Canton was, however, strong in doubles play, reaching the finals in No. 3 and the semifinals in No. 1.

That image won't change much this season. Coach Barb Lehman likes to build her team through its doubles, where teamwork is a bigger factor.

"I feel good about my singles, but in this league a new kid or an exchange student can come in and change it all so drastically," she said.

Andrews' return should bolster Canton's singles play. Now a senior, he moves to No. 1.

The Chiefs have lost five key contributors to last season's team, including No. 1 doubles member Brian Balfour and No. 2 doubles Kevin Nuttal. Three others also will not return.

That leaves some holes in the lineup to fill, which won't be easy for Lehman. Chris Slupek, a senior co-captain who played No. 4 singles last season, moves up to No. 2, and Brian Keesey, a sophomore transfer student from Wisconsin, will be at No. 3. "He has a good work ethic," said Lehman of her transfer addition. "And he loves tennis."

Sam Kaufman, a sophomore who played No. 3 doubles last season with Jeremy Romer, another sophomore — they reached the WLAA finals, losing to Stevenson's Corey Shedd and Nick Reale in three sets — will be at No. 4 singles.

■ 'I feel good about my singles, but in this league a new kid or an exchange student can come in and change it all so drastically.'

Barb Lehman
Coach

Canton's No. 1 doubles pairing of Brad Kreger and Mike Han, both seniors, looks promising to Lehman. "I like watching them play," she said. "They're both seniors and, well, just the way they play it. They make a good team."

Andrew "Spike" Wagner, a senior, will team with Romer at No. 2 doubles, while Steve West and Jon-Eric Cornellier, both juniors, will be at No. 3 doubles.

"There's been a lot of improvement since last year," said Lehman. "But we'll see just how much once the season starts."

One area of concern is No. 4 doubles, which Lehman said is still undecided. That could be an important spot for the Chiefs.

"We need to come up with a fourth doubles that can give us some wins," the Canton coach said.

If the Chiefs want to move up in the WLAA, developing additional players will be imperative. North Farmington, winner of the last five conference titles, and Northville, the perennial runner-up, have lost considerable portions of their 2001 squads. Stevenson hasn't; indeed, Lehman believes the Spartans could challenge the top two.

Canton, Salem and Churchill figure to remain in the level just below. But anything's possible.

Madonna Crusaders rally to extend win streak to 3

Make that three-straight.

Madonna University's baseball team rallied behind the strong pitching of Mike Hayes and Adam Kline to hold off Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference rival Spring Arbor, 4-3 Friday at Livonia's Ford Field. The second game was suspended due to rain.

The win, combined with the Crusaders sweep of Siena Heights Wednesday, 2-0 and 6-2, gave them three-straight victories and improved their overall record to 13-16, 6-7 in the WHAC. Spring Arbor fell to 11-16 overall, 5-8 in the WHAC, with the loss; Siena Heights was 5-27 overall, 3-6 in the conference through Wednesday's games.

BASEBALL

In Friday's win over the Cougars, Madonna scored three times in the second inning on a double by Sterling Mintzer, a run-scoring single by Neil Wildfong (from Plymouth Canton), an RBI ground out by Mark Cole and an RBI single by Mario D'Herin. They added a run in the fourth to make it 4-0 before Spring Arbor rallied, scoring three times on a double by Cory Parrott in the fifth inning.

Mintzer finished with two hits to lead Madonna. Parrott had three hits for the Cougars.

Hayes got the pitching win for Madonna, evening his record at 3-3. He allowed three earned runs on four hits and six walks, striking out five in 5 1/3 innings. Kline relieved with two out in the sixth and gave up two hits in 1 1/3 innings to earn his fourth save. Aaron Morrow took the loss for Spring Arbor.

Last Wednesday at Siena Heights, Jeremy Stevens blanked the Saints in the first game on seven hits with no walks, striking out three in 6 1/3 innings. Kline relieved and got the final two outs to get the save. Phil Dunn took the loss for Siena Heights.

Matt Rigley had two hits and an RBI to pace Madonna's eight-hit attack. Mintzer also had two hits.

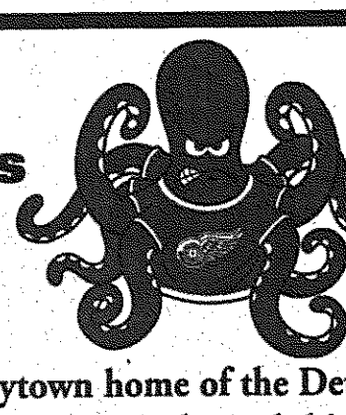

In the second game, Cole had a single and a home run, driving in three runs to pace the Crusaders' 6-2 win. Joe Prucknik contributed two doubles and two RBI and Rigley totaled two hits, including a double, and one RBI.

Joel Halliday went all seven innings to get the pitching win, evening his record at 2-2. He gave up one earned run on four hits and three walks, striking out four. Mike Hoshield absorbed the loss for the Saints.

Thurston ambushes Salem

Before the thunderstorms hit the area Friday afternoon, Redford Thurston was able to pick up its first baseball victory of the season at Plymouth Salem's expense.

Thurston downed the Rocks 7-2 in a game that was called after 5 2/3 innings. The Eagles are now 1-1 on the season. Salem is 2-2.

Shaun Anstett was the winning pitcher, going five innings while giving up just one run on two hits and striking out six. He also went 2-for-3 at the plate with a run batted in. James Melvin went 2-for-2 with 2 RBI and one run scored. Travis Farkas, Dave Madigan and Paul Eckler each drove in single runs for the Eagles.

Salem got a single and an RBI from both Brian Bradley and Cliff Thomas. Steve Tobin took the pitching loss, allowing seven runs on seven hits in three innings.

BASEBALL

CC 4-8, A.A. Pioneer 2-0: Redford Catholic Central freshman Eric Vojtkofsky didn't see action in Thursday's doubleheader until the seventh inning of the first game. He made his time on the field count in a big way after that.

Vojtkofsky was the hero of the opener with a walk-off, two-run home run to help the Shamrocks to a 4-2 win over Ann Arbor Pioneer. He topped that performance in the nightcap by going 3-for-3 with two homers and a double, driving in five runs in CC's 8-0, six-inning victory.

Jeff Niemiec got his second win of the season in the first game, pitching three innings and striking out four batters.

Senior Ryan Rogowski pitched four no-hit innings in the second game, fanning seven while securing his first win as a pitcher this season. Mike Monterey matched Vojtkofsky's day at the plate by going 3-for-3 with two singles and a double.

The Shamrocks, ranked 4th in the state preseason, travels to fifth-ranked Grosse Pointe South Monday.

Agape 2, A.P. Inter-City 1: Mike Ossana's run-scoring double provided the difference Thursday as Canton Agape Christian improved its record to 2-0 in a game played at Canton's Griffin Park.

Allen Park Inter-City Baptist fell to 0-1.

With the game tied at 1-1, Johnny Estrada reached base when the Chargers' catcher dropped a third strike. That set the stage for Ossana's game-winning double.

Agape got a run in the first inning after two were out, Josh Anthony doubling and Rob Hough bringing him in with a single. Inter-City tied it with a run in the second.

Hough went the distance on the mound for Agape, allowing one run on four hits and six walks, striking out eight. He benefitted greatly from his defense, including one play in the sixth in which Josh Claypool, Inter-City's starting (and losing) pitcher tried to score on a wild pitch.

Claypool got caught in a rundown between third and home, with Ossana — Agape's catcher — tagging him out, then picking off another Charger runner as he tried to advance on the play.

Claypool gave up just four hits and hit one batter.

Warriors edge PCA; Agape gets a victory

Down 6-3 after five innings, visiting Lutheran High Westland (2-0) rallied for four runs and a 7-6 victory Thursday against host Plymouth Christian Academy (0-1) in a non-league softball game played at the Canton Softball Center.

Pinch-hitter Lindsay Cunningham's 2-run double proved to be the difference. Ashlea Weston added an RBI triple and Sam Matyas added an RBI single in the sixth.

Matyas, Weston, Meaghan Engel and Cherie DeVries led the Warriors with two hits apiece. Amber Wiard had a run-scoring triple and single for PCA. Whitney Gould added an RBI single.

Heather Rose, the winning pitcher, worked five innings, allowing four earned runs. Cris Hilden came on to earn the save. PCA starter Lauren Terkoski struck out eight, walked one and allowed 11 hits in seven innings.

SOFTBALL

Farmington Mercy 6, Ladywood 2: Senior pitcher Megan Fediuk was her standout self Friday as host Farmington Hills Mercy opened its season with a 6-2 victory over Livonia Ladywood.

Fediuk struck out seven and didn't walk a batter while allowing four hits. The Marlins had 13 hits off Blazer pitcher Shawn Fallon, who fanned three and walked three.

Anna Schneider, Carly Tracey, Rachel Del Corvo and Lindsey Fediuk had two hits apiece for Mercy. Fediuk had a triple, Schneider and Sarah Roman a double.

Del Corvo, Fediuk, Holly Van Cleave, Schneider and Erin Agemy had one RBI apiece.

Erin Hulett and Meghann Wilkinson had two hits and one RBI each for the Blazers.

Agape 12, Bethesda 8: Canton Agape Christian overcame a 3-0 first-inning deficit to defeat host Sterling Heights Bethesda Thursday in the Wolverines' season opener. Bethesda is 0-1.

Stephanie Johnson led Agape with two hits and three runs scored, while Andrea Hough had two hits and scored two runs. Dana Hanes sparked a four-run Agape rally in the fifth inning with a two-run triple down the right field line.

Amy Henry got the pitching win, striking out nine and walking three.

Ocelots earn a title at Kalamazoo Valley CC

Back-to-back tournaments resulted in first and second-place finishes for Schoolcraft College's men's golf team last week.

On Friday at the Kalamazoo Valley CC Invitational at Gull Lake View-Stonehedge North, the Ocelots placed first in a field of 14 teams, scoring 289. Tri-State University was a distant second at 300, with Flint Mott CC third at 303.

All four of SC's golfers placed in the top eight, led by a one-under par 71 by Tom McCall (Garden City), who tied for second overall. Brian Downing (South Lyon) and Derek Lineberry (from Plymouth Canton) each shot a 72, tying for third, and Mark Doughty (from Plymouth Salem) had a 74. Other SC scores were 77s by both Brian Harnos (Garden City) and Jay Smith (Salem).

GOLF

Last Thursday at the Muskegon CC Invitational at Muskegon Country Club, Muskegon finished first in the 12-team field with a 314, followed by SC at 319 and Kalamazoo Valley at 322. Downing and Lineberry led the Ocelots, tying for third-place overall with 77s, followed by Harnos at 80 and Smith and Doughty at 85. McCall shot an 86.

It'll be a busy week for the Ocelots. They play at the Henry Ford CC Invitational Monday at Dearborn Country Club, at the St. Clair County CC Invitational Tuesday at Port Huron Country Club, then host the Schoolcraft College Invitational Friday at Gateway Country Club in Romulus.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BASEBALL TRYOUTS

The Canton Cardinals 10-and-under travel baseball team, which will play 36 games in the Little Caesars League and various tournaments (including the state tournament), is having tryouts.

For tryout information, call Chris Tidwell at (734) 495-9767.

S'CRAFT VOLLEYBALL CAMPS

Field-event winners for the Rocks were Susan Woodard in the shot put (36-6 1/2), Ashleigh Shear in the discus (98-2) and Jennifer Jedlick in the pole vault (8-0).

On the track, other winners for Salem were Stacey Schmedding in the 100 hurdles (17.3), Melissa Drake in the 400 (1:04.6) and Kara Dendrinos in the 800 (2:37.2). Schmedding, Celena Davis, Drake and Jessica Shamberger won the 400 relay (52.9), with Bundle combining with April Aquinto, Drake and Shamberger in the 800 relay (1:52.3) and Jill Grey, Lauren Kane, Erin Jensen and Dendrinos teaming for a win in the 3,200 (10:22.8).

Canton's Sarah Stobbe, Levely, Katie Cezat and Lindman collected a first in the 1,600 relay (4:28.8). The Chiefs other win came in the high jump, with Cindy Rotramel and Kate Calile tying for first (4-8).

As for their next opponent, Gregor knows the Vikings will pose a difficult challenge. The question is, are they as good as they were last season? And how does Salem compare?

"I think we're better this year," the Salem coach said. "A lot of it will depend on how much they've progressed and how much we've progressed."

Certainly the gap between the two teams expected to be at the top of the WLAA should narrow. How much will be determined Thursday.

of, and our sprinters aren't that bad. They will help us down the stretch."

The relays were split, the Chiefs winning the 800 (1:35.7) and the 1,600 (3:48.4), while Salem captured the 400 (46.7) and the 3,200 (8:40.8). Canton's 400 relay team was disqualified, something that, while not pleasing Richardson, wasn't all that upsetting.

"I'm just glad the DQ occured at a meet like this, early in the season," the Canton coach said, "because we can go real fast."

And they will do better, in just about everything, something that must be a concern to everyone else in the conference.

Tudor moves from left field to shortstop to take over for Kelly, who was a four-year starter. "(Tudor's) quick, she's fast, she's got a quick release and she's a smart player," said Southerland. "She's a hard worker and a very disciplined hitter."

Mandy Bradley, a junior, returns at third base, and she too brings with her a strong bat. Bradley hit .346 with four doubles, two triples and 15 RBI last season, playing all 36 games. "She has a tremendous arm and she's strong, she can hit the long ball," said Southerland.

Bradley will be the designated hitter some of the time to allow Southerland to get Janesse Chapman, also a junior, into the lineup at third base. Another strong-armed player, Chapman will be the designated hitter as well.

Rachel Heid, a senior, will take over at second base. She saw some action last season, collecting 17 hits. Jessica Bonello, a junior, will move to left field for Tudor, or wherever else she might be needed — versatility is her strength.

At pitcher, senior Jill Posler brings some experience to the position. She saw action in 16 games last season (starting and relieving), picking up five wins and posting a 2.47 earned-run average.

Although Southerland does have a core of proven players to count on, her team is a young one (just five seniors). That means a few of her six sophomores will have to contribute.

Brooke Posler is one; she'll start at first base. Courtney Edwards will share time at second with Heid, Ashley Bilkie will play in the outfield, and Alycia Murawski will back up Szawara at catcher. Michelle Jurcak and Kelli Szczepanski will pitch some, with Szczepanski also playing in the outfield. "We need to get her into the lineup," said Southerland.

How well the transition from last season to this one will work is anyone's guess. Although Salem won 21 games, they were just 7-9 in the WLAA.

"We have kids who will step up," said Southerland. "They have high expectations, but they have huge shoes to fill. Most have played together before, and they get along great on and off the field.

"Defense will be our strong point. They're fundamentally strong and, as I said, they've been playing ball together a number of years. The sophomores will fit right in."

But will it be enough to make a run at North Farmington and Walled Lake Central and Livonia Churchill, the three teams that figure to be the toughest in the WLAA, and perhaps another district crown?

"We have some girls who won't settle for anything less," said Southerland. "We can hit the ball well. If we can hit the better pitchers in this league, it'll prepare us for the state tournament."

Sounds optimistic, and reachable.

In my family, learning is everything.

Books don't just enlighten. They empower. Our children are growing up knowing this. A good education is one of the most important things we can give them. And we will, with the help of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Through the Payroll Savings Plan, we put aside something with every payday. And little by little, it will add up to college for our children.

U.S. Savings Bonds helped my parents put me through college. And next year, it's Michelle's turn. Sure, Savings Bonds have important to our past, but they'll be even more important to our future. that's what makes our investment so valuable.

Ask your employer or banker about saving with U.S. Savings Bonds. For all the right reasons.

All knotted up: Salem, Canton both tie

Last season, the biggest problem for Plymouth Salem's soccer team was scoring goals. In Friday's season-opener, the Rocks did not seem to have upgraded that area much as they played Utica Henry Ford to a scoreless tie at Salem.

To be fair, the non-league match with the Falcons was called with 15 minutes remaining due to lightning. The weather had caused the start of the contest to be delayed 30 minutes.

"It was a good opening game," said Salem coach Joe Nora. "It was hard-fought, by both teams. We had some good, quality chances and we gained a lot of confidence, so we know what we have to work on."

The match was the first in a four-games-in-six-days stretch for the Rocks, who host Walled Lake Central Monday, then play at Northville — ranked No. 2 in the state — on Wednesday. Both are Western Lakes Activities Association matches.

Canton 2, Novi 2: Eighth-ranked Plymouth Canton started off its season with a tie against the Novi Wildcats Wednesday at Canton.

Two players supplied all the offense for Canton in the game, with Stephanie Johnson scoring the first goal, assisted by Erica Ahrenz. Johnson later assisted on Ahrenz's go-ahead goal late in the first half.

Brianna Wolcott made 13 saves in goal for Canton, who is 0-0-1 on the season.

PCA 1, Lutheran Westland 1: Sarah Moriarty scored the game-tying goal for Plymouth Christian Academy in the second half, giving the Eagles a draw Thursday at Lutheran Westland.

PCA is 0-1-1 overall; the Warriors are 0-0-1.

Samantha Wiemer got Lutheran Westland's goal in the first half off a direct kick. Moriarty's tying score came off an assist from Rachel Rudzis.

Ladywood 0, Bishop Foley 0: Livonia Ladywood opened a few eyes Thursday, battling defending Division II state champion Madison Heights Bishop Foley to a scoreless draw. Ladywood is 1-0-1; Foley is 0-0-2.

Junior goalkeeper Stefani Szczechowski posted the shutout for the Blazers. She suffered a broken leg in the Foley match last year.

"My whole team played an excellent game," Ladywood coach Jill Logsdon said. "We walked on field ready to play. We worked hard and worked as team. They really picked up their game to play Foley.

"They (Foley) broke Stefani's leg last year, so I think my team was ready to pay them back by playng well on the field."

Sophomore sweeper Sue Christenson helped run the Ladywood defense, while center-midfielder Danica Rodriguez and Lindsay Rowe also prevented Foley from having many shots on goal.

"We very excited," Logsdon said. "The team is working hard and performing well. They're coming to practice ready to work hard. They want keep this momentum going."

Prostate study

The University of Michigan Health System, Section of Urology, is seeking healthy males to participate in the Selenium and Vitamin E Cancer Prevention Trial (SELECT). If you are a White male (age 55 years or older) or an African-American male (age 50 or older) and interested in participating in a research study for prostrate cancer prevention, please call the Cancer Answer Line at (800) 865-1125 for more information.

Grief teleconference

Saint Joseph Mercy Hospice of Washtenaw, Muehlig Funeral Chapel of Ann Arbor and Hosmer-Muehlig Funeral Chapel of Dexter will sponsor "Living With Grief: Loss in Later Life." This live via-satellite teleconference will be held 1:30-4:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 24 at Washtenaw Community College, 4800 E. Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor in the Morris Lawrence Building, Room 105.

The program will be moderated by Cokie Roberts, ABC News, and will feature a panel of experts who will examine the needs and barriers faced by our aging population in coping with the range of losses found in later life.

For more information, please call Saint Joseph Mercy's Hospice of Washtenaw at (734) 327-3409.

Adoption

Lutheran Adoption Services will hold a workshop dealing with parent-adoptee attachment issues 12:30-5 p.m. Saturday, May 11 at the Providence Park Medical Center, 47601 Grand River (at Beck Road), Novi.

Adoptive parents, adults adoptees and professionals will learn how attachment develops, why it can fail, and how it affects families and marriages.

The fee is $20 per person or $30 per couple, and advance mail-in registration is highly recommended. Individuals can register at the door for $25 if space is available. Contact Tina Caudill at (248) 423-2770 or e-mail: tcaud@lssm.org

American Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society needs volunteers for its Road to Recovery program to drive cancer patients to and from treatment at Henry Ford Hospital in downtown Detroit. All volunteers need is a reliable means of transportation and a few hours during the week.

"Sadly, patients everyday are canceling and postponing their cancer treatment simply because they do not have a ride," said Jessica Pott, Quality of Life director, American Cancer Society. "Right here in the metro-Detroit area, 10-20 percent of newly diagnosed cancer patients are not getting the treatment they need simply because they do not have transportation. It is our job to help them get back on the road to recovery.

To learn more, call the American Cancer Society at (248) 557-5353.

Time for Tai Chi!

Seniors gain balance, flexibility and strength through ancient form of Chinese martial arts

BY SANDRA J. CAMPBELL
SPECIAL WRITER

■ This preventative maintenance exercise is made up of slow, graceful movements that flow from one position to another. Tai Chi has been found to improve memory function, provide better balance and greater flexibility, and produce an overall sense of well-being.

Baby boomers across the nation are recognizing the many health benefits that Tai Chi, an ancient form of martial arts, brings to their aging bodies. This preventative maintenance exercise is made up of slow, graceful movements that flow from one position to another. Tai Chi has been found to improve memory function, provide better balance and greater flexibility, and produce an overall sense of well-being.

Bob Correll of Dearborn is a sifu, or instructor, who teaches Tai Chi Chuan classes in many metro-Detroit areas, including the Redford Community Center in Redford Township. His interest in Tai Chi dates back to 1967 when he was a young army officer stationed in Viet Nam. He recollects: "One morning I saw a tiny elderly man moving in what appeared to be a slow-motion dance of incredible beauty and continuous flowing movement. This was my first exposure to Tai Chi Chuan."

In the early 1990s Correll experienced a serious health condition that required surgery. As part of the healing process, he incorporated his knowledge of Tai Chi to design his own rehabilitation program.

"My recovery was rapid and continuous," he said.

He currently is negotiating a plan to introduce his Yang style of Tai Chi Chuan as part of the rehabilitation program offered through Oakwood Health Systems. The slow, graceful movements can be easily adjusted to any fitness level, he said.

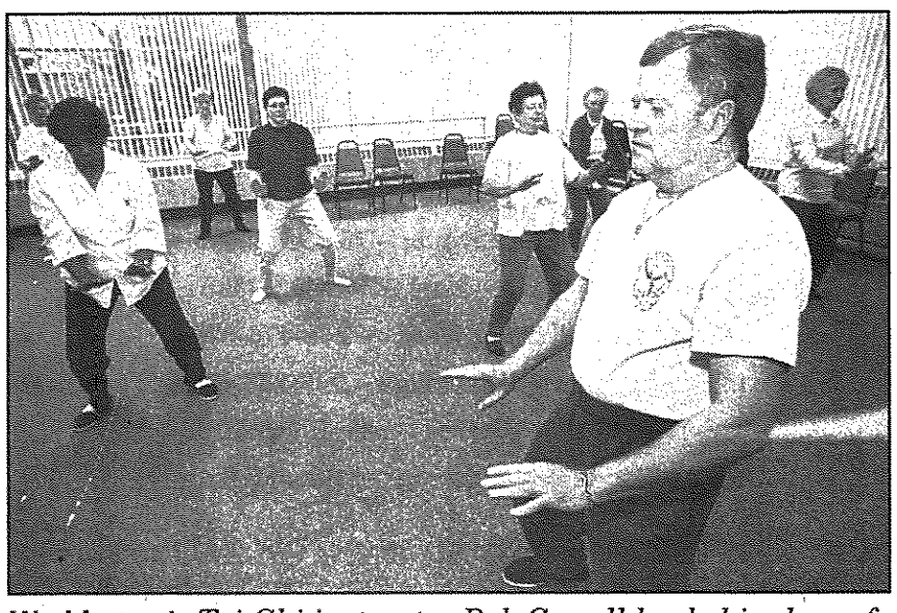

Happy students

Correll has designed a special modified form of Tai Chi for senior citizens. His students are thrilled with their own physical and mental health improvements.

Anna LaCombe, a retired math teacher from Wayne, said of Correll: "He is a gentle soul who has adapted the traditional form and teaches us the mechanics of Tai Chi. He breaks each position down into four or five separate steps and then its practice, practice, practice. I try to do the warm-up exercises and the Form about three times a week."

Betty Gabrielli of Westland went through extensive back surgery and was forced to take an early medical retirement. "My physical therapist at the University of Michigan MedRehab in Ann Arbor suggested that I should take Tai Chi and stick with it for life," she said. "My involvement in the class has made me feel more hopeful of my future and in my ability to remain functional. Tai Chi gives a disabled person hope for a better physical tomorrow."

Since starting the class, Gabrielli's pain from osteoarthritis has been relieved through greater joint flexibility. Correll explains: "During the warm-up exercises we rotate every major joint in the body. This circular movement brings extra fluid to help lubricate the joints."

Working out: Tai Chi instructor Bob Correll leads his class of seniors through a series of postures Friday morning at the Redford Community Center.

Seventy-nine year old Nadean Malosh of Wayne says the lessons have improved her memory and her ability to concentrate. "You have to learn a new posture each week and then remember it for next class."

Correll offered an explanation for Malosh's improved memory: "The nucleus of Tai Chi is the 'form' or series of postures. They are never held in a static position but are flowed through using transition moves. Each posture is learned in sequence much as in a choreographed dance."

Lower cholesterol may be another benefit of Tai Chi. "I went to my doctor for an annual check-up and my cholesterol was down," said Ann Leonard of Wayne. "He asked me what I had been doing different and I told him, 'Tai Chi!' I love this so much, I just can't quit coming!"

Health benefits

Caroline Smith is the health program coordinator at Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills. She has been taking Tai Chi for five years to help alleviate symptoms of Reiter's Syndrome, an autoimmune disease that attacks her joints and muscles.

"Tai Chi helped me to slow down, relax and lower my resting blood pressure. The deep breathing exercises increased my lung function," she said.

Sally Rich of Bloomfield Hills is president and volunteer instructor for the Taoist Tai Chi Society, a non-profit organization that promotes the health benefits of Tai Chi. The health of many of her students has improved, she said. An elderly man who has cancer told her his energy level has increased. He has less pain and is able to sleep better at night. In addition, a woman with muscular sclerosis who came to the first class in a wheel chair now goes through the one-hour class with just her cane, thanks to special leg strengthening exercises.

Research studies reported in Medicine and Science in Sports and Exercise showed Tai Chi gave a 10 percent increase in cardio-respira-

Quadruple bypass survivor runs in local race

THE HEALING TOUCH

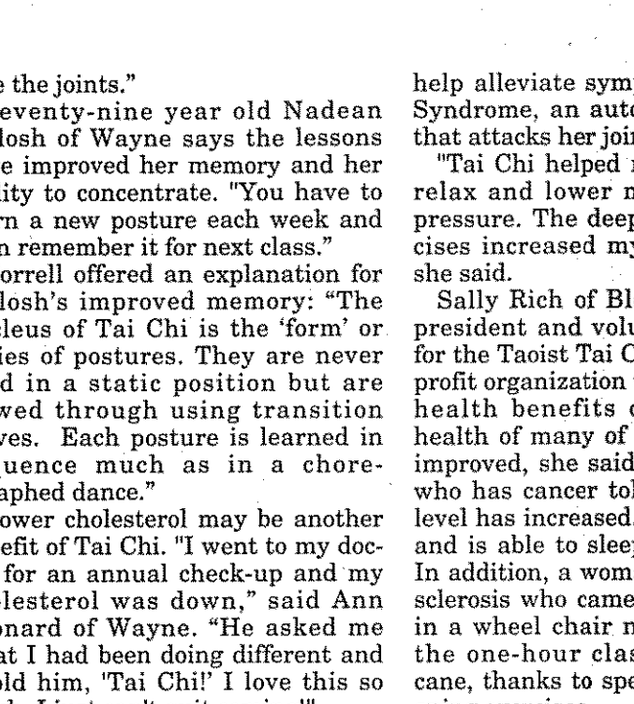

BY JENNIFER KENNEDY
SPECIAL WRITER

Tom Dempster is living proof that exercise, a proper diet and a positive outlook on life can do a body good.

Dempster, a project coordinator in roofing for R.E. Graham Construction in Livonia, recently participated in the Livonia Family YMCA's annual St. Pat's Fun Run on March 16 along with 280 other runners. His goal was to finish the three-mile race in 36 minutes, but he finished in 32:13, much faster than he had imagined. To some avid runners, this may not seem a significant accomplishment, but to a 51-year-old man who experienced two previous heart attacks in 1996 and 1997 and quadruple bypass surgery on Feb.14, 2001, this is like winning a marathon.

On Feb, 5, 2001, Dempster visited his doctor for a routine appointment, but she would not let him return home. He was diagnosed with a 60 percent blockage of his arteries, which required immediate surgery. The surgery at St.

tion function in patients who had coronary bypass surgery.

"Tai Chi makes the heart rate go up to aerobic levels providing an excellent cardiovascular workout. The rhythmic movement shifts the body weight which helps to pump the blood from head to toe," said Rich.

Dr. Elliot Kravitz, a specialist in geriatric medicine and advisor to the society, said Tai Chi has numerous advantages over other methods. "It is evenly balanced, self-regulated and does not subject the body to the sudden shearing and tearing forces that so commonly lead to injury."

The American College and Sports Medicine Health and Fitness Journal reports a 47.5 percent decrease in falls of patients over 70 years old. Tai Chi increases the self-confidence by giving them a better sense of balance.

Ageless

Eileen Sands teaches Tai Chi at The Summit in Canton. "Tai Chi can benefit any age group," she said. "It is a no-impact exercise that makes it easy on the joints for those who suffer with osteoarthritis. Tai Chi is a weight-bearing exercise that helps build bone density and prevent osteoporosis."

Tai Chi has been described as "meditation in motion," she said. "Our class helps seniors to have better balance by teaching them how to distribute their weight evenly. The exercises help to gently stretch the spine, which increases mobility and provides greater flexibility."

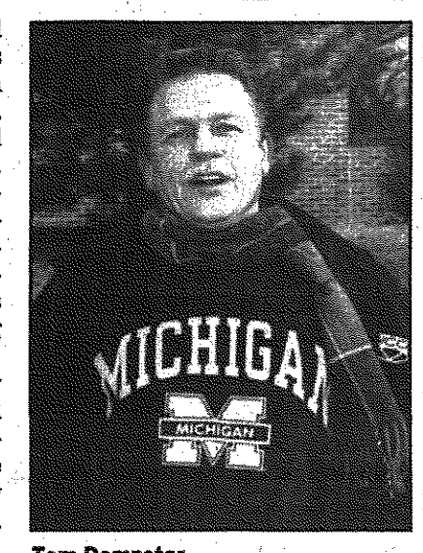

Sands' class has become so popular, there's a waiting list. So, come on, baby Boomers, get off that couch, stand up and get moving again. Tai Chi may not be the X-treme sport for the X-Generation, but it's just what the doctor ordered for you.

John Hospital was successful and Dempster remained on his cardiac rehabilitation program at the Livonia Family YMCA. However, Dempster experienced another scare on Dec. 23, 2001. He had an emergency catheterization performed over the holiday season and it was determined he had a 57 percent blockage again. With a change in his medication, he has been doing well.

"We (The Livonia Family YMCA staff) were concerned about him," said Teresa Maguran, a personal trainer at the YMCA. "Tom is such a nice guy and works out very consistently, so we see him all the time."

It is not easy for someone like Dempster. He has a family history of high cholesterol. His liver produces too much of it. With a well balanced diet, doctor-recommended exercise, and the proper prescribed medication, Dempster has done his part to maintain a healthy lifestyle. He eats lean meats like chicken, a few vegetables, and five fruits a day. He also exercises on a regular basis.

Tom Dempster

■ It is not easy for someone like Dempster. He has a family history of high cholesterol. His liver produces too much of it. With a well balanced diet, doctor-recommended exercise, and the proper prescribed medication, Dempster has done his part to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

The battle begins

Three years ago, never having joined a health and fitness facility before, Dempster decided to battle his family's medical history and join the Livonia Family YMCA. He has since lost 70 pounds, made friends and found a place where he feels comfortable.

"The support I've received from the staff and the friends I've made at the (Livonia Family) Y has really encouraged me to accomplish what I've done so far," he said. "I was determined to run in this race." And that he did with the support of his family, who was waiting for him at the finish line.

Dempster, a divorced father of two daughters, Autumn, 21, and Kathleen, 15, had been the only family member belonging to the YMCA. Now his daughters also belong.

After his surgery in 2001, Dempster was monitored for three months, exercising once a week.

"I started out with one-pound weights and walking on the treadmill," he said. "I slowly gained strength and endurance so now I can bench press 160 pounds and do three-to-four miles of cardiovascular exercise. I do more cardio and go light on the weights."

Dempster varies his cardiovascular program with walking, running, the stairclimber and the eliptical machine, and a lot of stretching. With his doctor's permission, he increased his mileage in order to train for the YMCA St. Pat's Fun Run. It certainly proved successful.

"Tom deserves recognition for his hard work. It is not easy coming back from heart surgery and training to run in a race. He shows that it takes a positive attitude and determination to maintain a healthy lifestyle," Maguran said.

Dempster is extremely appreciative to the people who helped him achieve his accomplishment.

"I took my St. Pat's Fun Run T-shirt that I received from entering the race and gave it to my doctor. She was very excited for me. It means a lot, too, how supportive the staff and my friends have been at the Livonia (Family) YMCA."

OSTEOPOROSIS

When you think of osteoporosis, you may think of a moment of sudden pain associated with a compression fracture in the back or a bone break in leg. The event is the culmination of bone that over time slowly lost substance, eventually becoming so fragile that a trivial turn or stumble causes that bone to break.

There is another side to osteoporosis. The osteoporotic bone does not break, but it aches all the time you are up and moving. Sitting relieves your pain; being in bed eases the discomfort. However, whenever you are standing or walking the ache returns. The discomfort usually centers in the lower back from the first lumbar vertebrae to the tailbone.

The problem with this form of osteoporosis is its persistence, it continues for years. Worse yet, it becomes a little worse each year. You may undertake repeated x-rays or MRI scans, with no evidence for vertebrae out of place or nerve impingement. You or your doctors may conclude you have "back strain."

Recognition that the pain is osteoporosis is important since treatment exists. Therapy does not consist of exercises to strengthen your back or massage to relieve your tight muscles. Rather, appropriate treatment focuses on reversing the osteoporosis. In most instances that means use of estrogen type medications where appropriate or initiation of fosamax, actonel, or miacalcin depending on the preference of your doctor.

Builder rents final phase at Copper Creek

Condominium living without owning a condo?

Consider leasing one in The Reserve at Copper Creek in Canton.

The last 16 residences in the 72-unit community off Warren between Haggerty and Lilley will be offered on a rental basis.

Floor plans remain basically the same as the other "homes" there except for some minor tweaking and a new insulation product.

"We have found a market for high-end, upscale rentals," said Cary Belovicz, sales manager for Copper Creek Development. "Executives, transferees, contract people here for one, two or three years."

"They're not going to be here long enough to purchase, but they want to be comfortable," added Leah Brewer, leasing consultant.

But there's another kind of potential tenant.

"Somebody in the $1,300 to $1,700 rental unit now, who doesn't mind paying more for the luxury style we have," Belovicz said.

"We researched the market and very few (rentals) are in that range," Brewer said.

"They're full. Here, they have the best of both worlds. They can rent a high-end and not have to do maintenance."

Mel Belovicz, president of Copper Creek Development and Cary's dad, said he's often thought about holding back some new housing product for sale at a later date.

Now that he's in a financial position to do so and he's finding that the new condominium market has softened a bit, the timing is right.

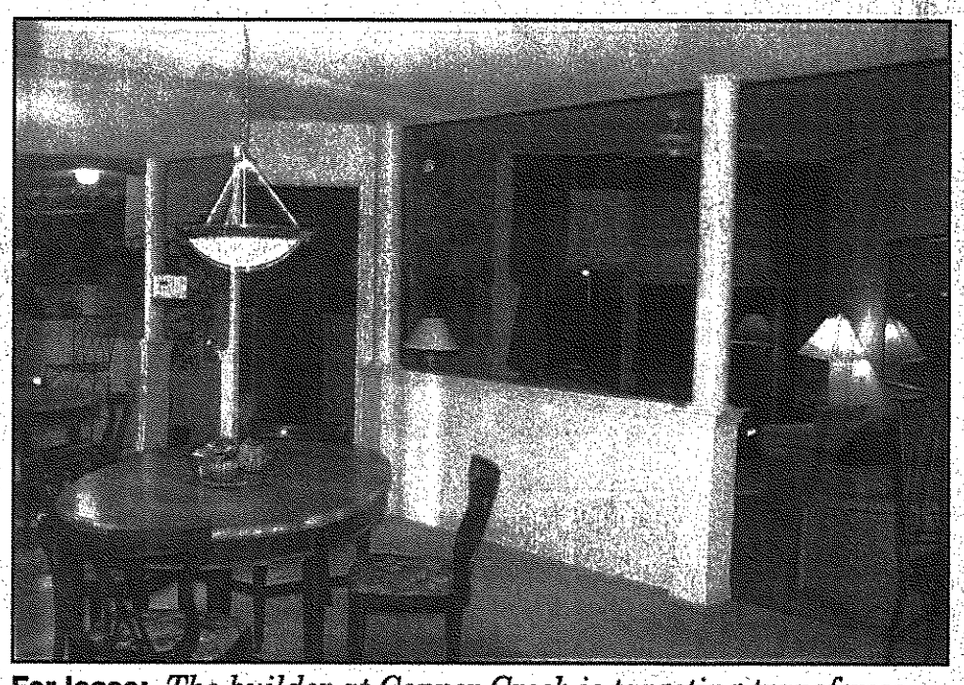

"The big draw is you can't rent something like this," Mel Belovicz said.

"This is a very high-class, upscale condominium. It's a beautiful project with a pond and everything."

The 16 rentals, like the other buildings in the Reserve, will feature eight residences to a building, four on the ground floor, four on an upper level.

Each has a private entrance, single-car garage and basement.

Rents range from $1,700 for a ground floor unit of about 1,400 square feet to $2,400 for an upper with about 1,700 square feet.

For lease: The builder at Copper Creek is targeting transferees and folks already here who rent but want to move up.

All also contain at base price air conditioning; fireplace; patio or deck; individual laundry with washer and dryer; separate jet tub and shower in the master; and range, microwave, refrigerator and dishwasher in the kitchen.

Four different floor plans – three with two bedrooms, one with three and all with two baths – are available.

The model – the Skyline – is an upper of about 1,700 square feet.

The two bedrooms are on either side of the unit.

The master, with cathedral ceiling, features a two-way fireplace between the bed and bath portions, a two-sink vanity, walk-in closet and compartmentalized toilet.

The kitchen contains a half-wall/breakfast bar that opens toward the dining area. The great room has a cathedral ceiling.

The unit also features curved walls and niches and will rent for $2,400, which includes water.

The Reserve at Copper Creek has good freeway access to I-275.

Shopping and Canton's municipal/recreational offerings are fairly close, also.

"Just the uniqueness of the product" will bring people in, Brewer said.

"You can buy a condo and rent an apartment. Where can you rent a condo?"

The community is within the Plymouth-Canton school boundaries.

The rental office/model in The Reserve at Copper Creek, (734) 394-0000, is open noon to 6 p.m. daily.

A couple condos in Copper Creek still are available for purchase.

Thomas Ervin
Let's Talk About Real Estate

"KEEPING THE APPOINTMENT"

We all know how frustrating it is when someone does not keep an appointment they have made with us. The real estate business is a continuing series of daily appointments. These meetings are necessary to list a piece of property, show to a prospective buyer, present an offer, or close the sale. The two most common appointments are for listings and showings. Many people are not aware of the time and effort spent by the REALTOR® prior to the actual appointment.

The Listing Appointment

When you make an appointment with a REALTOR® to list your home, you put a number of wheels in motion. In order to give a professional listing presentation, the REALTOR® wants to be well prepared to discuss the value, saleability, and marketing of your home. He or she will probably drive by the house prior to the appointment so as to know what style and floor plan you have. It is also important to see your location in the neighborhood and the condition of adjacent homes. The REALTOR® may also stop at the local zoning authority to obtain the legal description, assessed valuation, present taxes, and exact lot size or your property. Once back in the office, information must be gathered on current listings and past sales of similar homes. Through a process of comparison, a market value must be determined. Finally, all of this information must be drawn together for your consideration.

The Showing Appointment

Considerable work is necessary to prepare for an afternoon of showing homes to interested buyers. A review of all current listings is made to determine which homes suit your needs. This review sometimes includes personal visits to each home to be sure it meets your criteria. Once these homes are identified, a phone call must be made to verify that the home is still available. If it is, another call must be placed to the owner to arrange for access to the house. Sometimes, because the owner will not be at home, a key must be obtained at the listing office. Copies of pertinent information must be made so that you may have specific answers to your questions as you visit each home.

Suggestion:

As you can see, much time, effort, and planning is expended by your REALTOR® prior to each appointment. Be considerate. Once an appointment is made, make your best effort to keep it.

Michigan Humane Society
ADOPT-A-PET
This Week's Featured Pet

Timmy is a three-year-old Domestic Shorthair male who was picked up stray by an animal control officer. He is a strikingly handsome fellow with a white and orange calico coat and green eyes. He is very suave and mannered and gets along well with everyone he meets. He has already been neutered and litterbox trained, making him a great pet to have around!

If you would like to show Timmy the way to his new home, visit the Michigan Humane Society Westland Shelter, (734) 721-7300
