

CLARIFICATION

A story on Page A3 in the Nov. 10 Canton Observer should have included information that the Plymouth and Plymouth Township police were involved in a recent youth activity night for the T.E.A.M. program. The story also should have said that police departments in both communities are in the process of shifting their D.A.R.E. programs to the T.E.A.M. concept.

Shoe-store robber escapes with cash

An apparently unarmed man robbed a clerk at Payless Shoe Source on Ford early Wednesday evening. According to police reports, the man entered the store about 7:30 p.m. and appeared to be shopping for a few minutes. He then approached the clerk carrying a pair of socks. He then handed the clerk a note demanding money. The clerk turned over an undisclosed amount of cash. The man then forced the clerk and another employee into a store bathroom and left the store. No injuries were reported.

COP CALLS

The man was described as a black male, 5-feet-10-inches tall, bald, medium build, wearing a blue jeans shirt and khaki pants.

WALLS DAMAGED

The manager of Stoneybrook Apartments called police on Thursday to report damages in two of the complex's buildings. He said several holes had been punched in the drywall in hallways in each of the buildings. In one a door to a storage area was broken open. Police have no suspects. Damage was estimated at $225.

CDS TAKEN

A resident of the 8500 block of Mannington Road told police someone broke into his pickup and took 20 CDs and a flashlight. He said he parked the truck about 3 a.m. Wednesday and about 7 a.m. that morning his father noticed the back sliding window to the truck was open. There were no witnesses and no suspects. The CDs were valued at $2,000, the flashlight at $40.

CAR EGGED

Top cops honored for auto theft busts

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

Three officers from the Western Wayne Auto Theft Unit were recently honored as 2001 investigators of the year by Help Eliminate Auto Theft. Based in Livonia, HEAT operates a tip line to gather information about vehicle thefts. The information is passed on the appropriate law enforcement agency. WWATU is a regional investigation unit drawing officers from local departments and the Michigan State Police, which supervises the unit.

In an investigation that began in May 2001, Detective Larry Fortier executed a Bureau of Automotive Regulation inspection at Auto Tech Collision, 10501 W. Eight Mile in Detroit. After vehicles and records showed a possible pattern of insurance fraud, Fortier followed up and eventually obtained felony warrants on two employees for receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 and insurance fraud. Over the next year, Fortier executed six separate search warrants and seized five vehicles as part of his investigation. A Detroit Police officer assigned to auto theft unit, Fortier also seized more than $183,000 in accounts held by Auto Tech owner Art Danou. "During this time, Detective Fortier spent countless hours pouring over numerous boxes of records associated with Auto Tech and meeting with Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Rod Hassinger, who eventually authorized charges on the owner of Auto Tech," said Michigan State Police Lt. William Darnell, who heads the auto theft team.

The result was a 56-count warrant on Danou and Auto Tech Collision for operating a continuing criminal enterprise, a 20-year felony, obtaining money under false pretenses and conspiracy to commit insurance fraud.

In May 2002, Danou pled guilty to operating a criminal enterprise agreeing to pay the Western Wayne Auto Theft Team $100,000; $50,000 to the prosecutor's office; and to reimburse several insurance companies $100,000 for insurance frauds that were committed.

According to the prosecutor's office, this was the largest payment made to an auto theft team/prosecutor's office in Wayne County. In addition, Danou agreed to give up his collision shop and agreed to not have anything to do with the auto repair business for five years.

"It is my opinion that without Detective Fortier's hard work and persistence, this case would have never come to a successful conclusion," said Darnell, who also credited Hassinger's time and auto theft law expertise with greatly enhancing efforts to prosecute the case.

Detectives Robert Greene of the Van Buren Police Department and Carl Arnett of the Belleville Police Department were honored for their efforts investigating a case involving several people who had buried a 1999 Chevy S-10 pick-up in Van Buren Township in October 2001.

The suspects filed claims with AAA and were paid off for the truck. After several weeks investigation, the officers received a consent for a search at the address in Van Buren Township. Using a backhoe, officers found the truck in parts buried in the backyard. Arnett interviewed several of the suspects and four gave statements implicating themselves and a fifth person. Warrants were obtained charging five people on a total of 12 counts of insurance fraud, receiving and concealing stolen property over $1,000 and filing a false police report.

Four of the defendants have pled guilty, with the charges against the fifth person still pending.

Darnell praised the efforts of Arnett and Greene, who returned to duties at the Van Buren Police Department before the case concluded but continued to lend his expertise.

"The other case (Auto Tech) is much bigger, but it's really two different kinds of cases, like comparing apples and oranges," said Darnell. "They did a nice job from a case that was so old. They had to track down these people."

This case developed through information that came through the HEAT tipline, Darnell said.

"For HEAT, the fact is nothing is ever too small - one truck being buried or a large continuing criminal enterprise," said Darnell.

"HEAT is willing to take the call about the little ones that add up."

Information about vehicle crimes and related insurance fraud can be submitted to the HEAT tip line at 800-242-HEAT.

Salem Rockettes, kids enjoy fall pom pon clinics

BY TEDD SCHNEIDER
STAFF WRITER

When the Salem Rockettes get together a couple of times each fall with some 200 Rockette wannabes, it's a win-win situation.

The annual pom and dance clinics staged by the pom pon squad benefit both the high school students and their young protégés, said Aileen Balatico, Rockette head coach.

"For the girls that do sign up, it's a taste of what high school kids do. And it provides another role model," Balatico said. "We get some girls who come back year after year."

For the Rockettes themselves, "it's a chance to work with younger kids, which they might not otherwise have."

The clinics are also a chance for the team to reach out into the community, which Balatico believes is an essential part of their mission. They also participated in the Fall Festival and the Fourth of July Parade.

The team also stages a review in the Salem auditorium each spring.

This year's fund-raising goal is to pay for the team's trip to Orlando in February for the Nationals.

The Nov. 2 pom clinic attracted 186 area children ranging from kindergarten to fifth grade. Participants received instruction on how to warm up before exercising, cheers, and performing in a kick line during the three-hour clinic.

As expected, some of the 5-year olds had short attention spans and didn't keep up with the beat too well.

They then worked on three different routines which they had to master by the end of the day. The routines are geared toward age and skill level, the Plymouth resident said.

A T-shirt and pom pons are included for the $35 registration fee.

Balatico, a 1991 Salem graduate in her ninth year as Rockettes coach, said participation is mandatory for everyone on the squad. There are 20 varsity Rockettes and 18 on the JV for 2002.

A second clinic featuring dance instruction is set for Saturday, Dec. 14. There are still some spaces available, Balatico said.

The cost is $35, or $10 if you attended the first clinic.

For more information e-mail Balatico at: rockettecoach@cs.com

NIGHT CRAMPS

Cramps in your legs, that come on while you are sleeping are a common problem. You soon learn that the best way to stop the cramps is to get up and move. You may be able to walk off the cramps in five minutes or less, but going back to sleep is not easy. If you are lucky, you only experience one episode; it is possible to have two or three attacks during the night.

The cause of night cramps is unclear. It is difficult for trained medical investigators to be at hand to take blood samples and perform muscle and nerve conduction studies when the attacks come. What is known is that these attacks are not the result of low calcium, potassium or sodium. Medications do not seem to set off the cramps. Nor are they related to tension, anxiety or depression.

The most common treatment is quinine sulfate, 300 mg before going to bed. Studies to evaluate the effect of this therapy give mixed results. Some investigations show the medication lessens the number and intensity of the cramps. Other studies indicate that quinine sulfate is no better than placebo. Since doctors feel they should do something for the problem, and since no other medicine has proven to be helpful at all, the medical community continues to prescribe quinine sulfate.

Restless legs is a completely different condition. It evokes a crawling sensation in the legs and is accompanied by a burning or sharp pain. Often the condition is hereditary. Treatment includes medicines used for Parkinson's Disease although restless legs syndrome has nothing to do with Parkinson's Disease.

president, said he and his partner, Paul J. Slemer, Emagine chairman and CEO, have been meeting with Westland officials, and another meeting is scheduled for Tuesday.

"We're continuing our discussions with Westland city officials, and we remain highly optimistic about the prospects for moving forward," Glantz said Friday. "We're going to work it out ... we really are."

He said he's excited about the project because he sees Canton as a great market opportunity for a large, high-tech theater. A similar theater opened last month in Novi.

"We've got Novi open and it's doing great," Glantz said. "We're just so excited about it."

Canton seems pleased with what we've proposed."

In other business the board:

■ Approved a site plan request for a new chamber of commerce building on the south side of Hanford Road between Canton Center and Edgewood roads. The 2,500-square-foot office would be the chamber's first permanent home. A second 3,800-square-foot building will be built on spec and used for other business offices.

■ Approved the site plan for Cherry Hill Pointe Townhomes Phase III north of Cherry Hill and east of Lotz. The project will consist of 62 units in six buildings.

■ Approved a site plan for a BP gasoline station on the southwest corner of Beck and Michigan Avenue.

■ Approved the request for the expansion of Canton Auto Sales north of Michigan

Avenue and west of Hannan.

■ Authorized the Leisure Services Department to create and fill the position of performing arts coordinator. The coordinator would be in charge of the Performing Arts Center, which is scheduled for completion in 2004. The salary would be a minimum of $40,200 with a midpoint of $46,800.

■ Scheduled a public hearing for Dec. 10 on a request for a Class C liquor license from Ashoka Indian Cuisine, 2100 Haggerty. The location is the former Red Oak/ Mountain Jack's site. The building is being bought by Bharath V. Reddy, who is proposing to open an Indian restaurant. Reddy owns and operates another Indian restaurant in Troy.

"Students don't generally perform well when they are hungry and undernourished," she said. Strike two.

Most of the adults took some kind of assessment tests as kids, so this shouldn't be too tough, the thought was. Just circle A, B, C or D ... and when in doubt, just guess. Not so easy, said Anible.

"There are multiple-choice questions, but they are pretty complex," she warned. "There are follow-up questions, which are often constructive response, or essay questions. That's very common with the MEAP at all levels. Students are asked to take a stand and support it."

At that point, showing up for the free lunch didn't seem like such a good idea. Nobody wanted to be embarrassed by failing the test the kids take. Even the assurance the tests wouldn't be graded wasn't helping.

"OK," said Anible, "go ahead and get started."

It was a nine-question MEAP test, with multiple sections.

■ High school science question: A form of lake succession called eutrophication occurs ...

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Executive Director for Educational Services Verna Anible explains the MEAP to community members.

■ Create a graph showing the relationship between ...

■ Which of the following best describes ... followed by a constructed response ... write a letter and take a stand on ...

Approximately 30 minutes later comes a collective sigh of relief.

"The science and math were more involved than when I grew up," admitted Molly Wildman of Canton, who has three children in the school district.

"Kids today have to know how to recall information, be able to communicate it by constructing sentences. It's certainly harder than just filling in a blank by marking a circle."

Colleen Brown of Plymouth Township called the test an eye-opener.

"The answers weren't difficult to come up with, but explaining the answers with data was more difficult," she said. "I think the test is a much better measure of knowledge than when we were kids, because we could guess. Kids are smarter today."

Lon Rutkofske, director of secondary education, said students taking today's MEAP tests need to learn to take a stand.

"In taking the MEAP, you have to use data to support your stance. Opinion means nothing without data. That's one of the most difficult concepts to teach kids, especially if it hasn't been taught in the curriculum."

By the way, after taking and discussing the "practice" MEAP test, no one volunteered his score. And no one dared to ask.

ON THE MOVE

It's time to talk tree lighting. As in Christmas Tree.

The township's annual ceremony will feature all the usual fun – and more – but in a new location. Construction in and around the Administration Building means the Summit will be Santa's welcoming spot.

The ceremony is set for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 4 and it will kick off a two-day festival of holiday activities at the Summit and in Heritage Park. The Heritage Park amphitheater will be filled with static light displays. Activities will begin immediately following the tree lighting and will continue until 9:30 p.m. A second day of holiday fun is set for 6:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 5. Wednesday activities include caroling, entertainment and yes, a visit from the man in the dashing red suit and white beard.

Call the Canton Leisure Services Department, (734) 394-5460 for more information.

DDA ON TRACK

Finishing touches will be made over the next several weeks to complete streetscape improvements at the northeast corner of Ford and Morton Taylor Roads.

The Canton Downtown Development Authority improvement project includes the installation of 36 decorative streetlights, garden walls, limestone, shrubbery, irrigation, street trees and Canton logo signs. The project was designed to continue these elements from the original streetscape project completed in 1994 along both side of Ford, between Sheldon and Morton Taylor.

The new Wal-Mart and Sam's Club at the east end of the district (east of I-274) and the new TCF bank on Ford and Canton Center also feature DDA streetscape elements in their landscaping.

EXCHANGE CLUB NEWS

The newly formed Canton Exchange Club had a successful fund-raiser to help abused children, according to club spokesman David Loveland.

The group raised $815 in donations during a recent canister drive at the Kroger store on Canton Center and Ford. There were additional donations of $110 and a few expected late contributions could push the total near $1,000, Loveland said.

The money will be donated to First Step.

Penn moves to first-run films

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

For 20 years, the Penn Theatre in downtown Plymouth has been trying to get first-run movies for one of the last remaining single-screen theaters in the state. However, because of a rule by major movie production companies that called for territorial rights, the Penn was stuck showing movies months after they had already been shown at other theaters, said co-owner Ron Cook.

"The first obstacle was the Quo Vadis in Westland, because that was 6.2 miles from us when the rule was seven miles," said Cook. "After the Quo Vadis closed, they revamped it to four miles. The Canton theater gave us a little fuss, since they are 4.2 miles from us, but we were able to squeeze in."

The Penn began showing first-run movies Friday, starting with Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets.

"We signed contracts with Universal Studios, Warner Bros., Dreamworks and Sony, all the production companies, to show first-run movies," said Cook. "We're hoping that people who visit downtown Plymouth and have plenty of choices to eat will now have a venue for entertainment."

Of course, with the first-run movies comes a increase in ticket prices, which of late have been $3 to see the second-run movies.

"The movie production companies set the price levels, and the minimum we could charge is $7, and that's what we'll do. It will be $5 for kids and seniors. That will still be lowest around."

The production companies take 70 percent, or in this case $4.90 of each ticket sold. The Penn keeps $2.10 and all the concession money.

"We're making improvements there, too," said Cook. "We made improvements to the main concession stand and will be selling concessions at the stand where we sold beer and wine for the comedy shows. In fact, we're keeping the beer and wine sales for adults at R-rated movies."

'The Canton theater gave us a little fuss, since they are 4.2 miles from us, but we were able to squeeze in.'

co-owner

The Penn Theatre, which opened in 1941, was doing OK financially with the second-rate movies and the comedy shows on the weekend, Cook said. However, because of the new movies, the comedy club will come to an end.

"Clearly, the comedy club did well for us and kept the Penn going, but the contracts with the movie companies forbid us to continue comedy. Saturday night is big for movies, and they wouldn't let us do comedy. We hate to see it go."

The theater will increase the number of movie showings from two to four Friday through Sunday, with two evening showings the rest of the week, Cook said. After the first of the year, new seats will be installed, giving movie-goers more room and comfort.

"Right now we have 492 seats, but that will be reduced to about 450 with the new seats. The new seats will have a high back, be wider and will allow for more leg room."

"With other theaters that sell out quickly, that are smaller and have too many bad seats, and parking where you have to walk just too far, we think we can offer more in downtown Plymouth."

If patrons support the first-run movie concept, there are plans for expansion of the Penn to five screens, Cook said.

"We have a $6 million plan we've presented to the city which would have us building four new theaters above the current screen and The Gathering. In exchange, we would refurbish The Gathering to make it look like a European market."

Discovery students take to airwaves

WSDP 88.1-FM, in partnership with the Plymouth Community Arts Council and Discovery Middle School is producing a radio program called "Musical Kaleidoscope."

It's a 20-minute show that uses recordings from classical to contemporary to broaden students' musical appreciation. It also subtly promotes social studies and language arts skills in a "Top-40" radio format.

Three student announcers from Discovery Middle School are selected for a two-month commitment.

They work with the production team from WSDP to write and record the show. The station's team includes station manager Bill Keith and Salem High School sophomore Ryan Alloway.

The show is based on a program produced in Georgia called "Music in the Morning." The PCAC's Joanne Hulce found the program and approached the station to do a local version.

"It's a great way for students to become more familiar with the radio station," Keith said. "I also enjoy the wide variety of music and I get excited when students are exposed to all kinds of new music."

The next "Kaleidoscope" airs Nov. 19 and Nov. 26 at 5:45 p.m. The theme of the show is "Bring on the Night," and Discovery students Jake Napier, Katie Scanlon and Ryan Winkler are the hosts. Students are also working on the next show, set to air Dec. 10 and Dec. 17.

Angela Hospice benefit lights up more lives than ever

Fifteen years and still growing strong.

That's the message of the Angela Hospice "Light Up A Life" benefit, which drew a larger-than-ever crowd to Laurel Manor Friday.

"We started out 15 years ago with a lunch at Roma Hall and we've come a long way, baby," said Sister Mary Giovanni, president and CEO of the Livonia hospice, during the event. Another change is that the event will no longer feature a fashion show. Sister Giovanni instead had this suggestion for attendees at the semi-formal event: "Look at what the celebrities are wearing and we'll find out what stores they bought their clothes at."

Nearly 600 people joined the dinner/silent auction/live auction. "That's a record for us," Sister Giovanni said.

Although she had no results of how much was raised for Angela Hospice to continue providing its end-of-life care programs, Sister Giovanni said the committee's goal of $100,000 was exceeded – meaning more people would be served. "It just helps offset what Medicare and other insurance doesn't cover."

The live auction featured celebrity auctioneers.

The live auction featured celebrity auctioneers like Joanne Purtan of WXYZ-Channel 7, Lila Lazarus of WDIV-Channel 4, emcee Paul Gross of WDIV and others. One of the larger auction items was a Detroit Red Wings suite at Joe Louis Arena for 20 people, plus parking passes. The final bid was $3,750.

One of the more humorous and lively auctions was handled by Lila Lazarus, who pushed bids for a behind-the-scenes reporter for a day tour of Channel 4.

Don't worry, Lazarus said, "They don't have to have a colonoscopy on TV." (She was referring to one of her past news segments.) Later, she drew laughter by adding, "OK, they can have a colonoscopy on Channel 4." The winning bid – pushed to coordinate with her employer – was $1,004.

Sister Giovanni offered special thanks to longtime volunteer Carolyn DiComo and Georgia Scappaticci, co-chairs of the event. She also noted the numerous sponsors, topped by gold benefactors – HUMMER, G.M.C. and The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers; and diamond sponsors – Allied Printing, Ford Motor Company, Hour Magazine, Lear Corp., and Volkswagen of America.

Staff and volunteer hospice caregivers also were credited. "Thank you for all the work that you do that enables us to carry on," Sister Giovanni said. By Dave Varga

JIM JAGOFELD | OBSERVER

Detroit Red Wings tickets were hot items during the silent auction, drawing a bid from Frances Blavat.

Red Baron

Pan-style pizza lovers can now satisfy their cravings faster than ever with a new offering from one of America's favorite frozen pizza brands. Red Baron pizza is introducing the first microwavable, 8-inch deep dish pan style pizza to grocers' freezers nationwide. The Red Baron Deep Dish Pan Style Pizza product delivers a crisp crust pizza from the microwave in 5½-6 minutes. It comes in four varieties - Pepperoni, Cheese, Supreme, and Meat Trio. The suggested retail price is $3.39.

Bahama Breeze

Try a Caribbean-inspired recipe from Bahama Breeze this Thanksgiving. Bahama Breeze has two local restaurant locations, 19600 Haggerty, Livonia, and 539 E. Big Beaver Road, Troy.

BANANAS SUPREME WITH BUTTERSCOTCH SAUCE

Serves 2
Butterscotch Sauce - makes 1 cup
2 ounces butter
½ cup light brown sugar
½ cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon Orange Triple Sec

Place the butter in a sauce pan on medium heat until completely melted. Add the sugar and stir until completely dissolved. Add the cream and bring to a boil while continuously stirring. Remove from heat and add the Triple Sec.

BANANAS SUPREME

1 loaf of banana bread (room temperature)
1 banana
Vanilla ice cream
Whipped cream
1 package of almond slivers, toasted
1 fresh mint sprig

Cut banana bread into ½-inch slices. Layer 3 slices on a plate. Cut banana into ½-inch thick slices and place in sauce pan with heated butterscotch sauce. Sauté the bananas in sauce for about 30 seconds, long enough for them to soak and heat in the butterscotch sauce. Scoop the bananas from the sauce pan and place them on the plate, alongside the banana bread. Drizzle warm butterscotch sauce over the banana bread and banana slices. Add one large scoop of vanilla ice cream on top of the banana slices. Add three dollops of whipped cream around the ice cream. Sprinkle toasted almond slivers atop the banana bread, ice cream and banana slices and garnish with a sprig of fresh mint.

Food in the Family

Recipes honor those we love at Thanksgiving

BY LANA MINI
STAFF WRITER

Elizabeth Crawford felt satisfied when she watched her family devour her famous cranberry salad each Thanksgiving. The walnuts gave it crunch, the apples helped sweeten it. She adored cooking for her family.

This Thanksgiving, her granddaughter Helen Crawford of Westland, said the dish will have a stronger meaning at the dinner table. Elizabeth Crawford passed away from complications of Alzheimer's disease earlier this year.

"With this recipe the memories of her love for cooking will live on," Helen Crawford said. "Of all her recipes, it's the cranberry salad that was the big one, the one that we all remember."

We asked readers to share their traditional holiday recipes and most of the responses honored or remembered loved ones. Breaking bread keeps us close, especially when the food comes from someone close to us.

Most of the responses we received were side dishes that would pair nicely with a Thanksgiving ham or turkey. Margaret Callahan of Livonia makes a corn soufflé that has become a "must-have" every Thanksgiving. The corn bread mix adds a flaky texture, the sour cream adds the right amount of tang and the creamed corn makes it creamy.

"I'll have my whole family over this holiday," Callahan said. "Thirty-two to 34 of us. I double the recipe and never have any leftovers."

Callahan said she serves dishes her family loves on Thanksgiving because it's a good day to remember that she's blessed with good fortune.

"It's my favorite holiday," she said. "I have so much to be thankful for, 11 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren."

Honoring food of Native Americans, Cheryl Gavel of Farmington Hills, gave her family a creamy, baked corn recipe similar to Margaret Callahan's that they too have been using for years. It's especially good because even children, who can be picky eaters, devour it.

Her daughter, Tracy Kendall of Livonia, often cooks with her and uses the recipe year-round.

"Making a large family meal can be time consuming," Kendall said. "This recipe cuts down on the cooking chaos because it can be made ahead of time and re-heated in the microwave right before dinner — Thanksgiving guests won't know the difference."

Terry Godfroid-Marecki, of Livonia, honors one specific family member with a Russian recipe every holiday. The Mareckis adopted their son, Andrei, eight years ago from Russia.

"We decided to incorporate a Russian food at every holiday, not only for our son's sake, but so that our guests would learn to appreciate food from this country," Godfroid-Marecki said.

The Russian Mushroom Caviar dish is one of the family's favorites. Mayonnaise, dill, onion and olive oil help create the interesting taste and texture of the porcini or portobello mushroom combination.

For Anneliese Deising's family, an American dish with a twist, sweet potato balls with corn flakes, has been a family favorite.

"I've made the dish every Thanksgiving for 20 years," Deising, of Plymouth said. "The cornflakes make it a little different and help keep the dish together."

Deising discovered the concoction through a neighbor whom she dined with often.

"We often exchanged recipes and that's how I found this one. It's no-fuss and you can make it the day before Thanksgiving."

TURKEY TIPS

Feldbro Quality Meats of Farmington Hills sells turkeys the old-fashioned way, Alan Feldbro said. He'll sell more than 2,000 turkeys this Thanksgiving.

Once the birds arrive at Feldbro's each one is individually washed, cleaned and re-packaged.

"And every turkey comes with a thermometer," Feldbro said.

Turkeys should be fresh and not frozen, he advises.

"If you buy a frozen turkey you're losing two pounds that you thought was bird. Instead you're getting two pounds of water that was filled in the cavity and pours out once thawed," Feldbro said.

He sells Amish (organic) turkeys and all-natural birds. All-natural birds, meaning they are chemical and preservative-free, can also be found at Byrd's Choice Meats in Livonia.

Feldbro has its own way of cooking the bird: Brush the bird with olive oil, and place breast side down in the pan so the juices drip down into the breast meat. Many people complain of dry turkey breast and this method prevents it, he said. He stuffs his turkey with chopped oranges and apples, and puts fresh garlic around it before placing in the oven.

John Bennett of Byrd's Choice Meats in Livonia offers these tips for choosing a turkey:

■ Consider a more healthful turkey that wasn't fed antibiotics. All Byrd's turkeys are all natural, he said. Choose a low-fat turkey. Sometimes the fat content is 8.17 percent, others can be as low as 3.4.

Home economists ready to answer your call for help

Use figs and cranberries along with dressing for the turkey. Cook turkey with the breast side down to prevent meat from getting dry.

Here are some of the most frequently asked questions from home economists who staff Butterball's Turkey Talk Line — (800) BUTTERBALL. Call the talk line or visit www.butterball.com for help preparing Thanksgiving dinner and recipes.

■ What's the best way to thaw a turkey?

Refrigerator thawing is recommended. However, if short on time, submerge the turkey in cold water. Thaw turkey in unopened wrapper, breast-side up, on a tray in the refrigerator. For every four pounds of turkey, allow at least one day of thawing.

Cold water thawing: Place turkey in unopened wrapper, breast down and cover completely with cold tap water. Change water every 30 minutes to keep surface of turkey cold. Estimate minimum thawing time to be 30 minutes per pound for a whole turkey.

■ How do you recommend safely handling turkey?

Thawed turkey may be kept in the refrigerator up to four days before cooking.

■ What's the best way to roast a turkey?

Place thawed or fresh turkey, breast up on a flat rack in a shallow pan, 2 to 2½ inches deep. Brush or rub skin with oil to prevent the skin from drying and to enhance the golden color. Insert oven-safe meat thermometer deep into the lower part of the thigh muscle, but not touching the bone. When thigh is up to temperature and if turkey is stuffed, move thermometer to center of stuffing for stuffing temperature.

Place in a preheated 325°F oven. When the turkey is about two-thirds done, loosely cover the breast and top of drumsticks with a piece of lightweight foil to prevent overcooking the breast. Turkey is done when the meat thermometer reaches the following temperatures: 180°F deep in the thigh; also, juices should be clear, not reddish pink when thigh muscle is pierced

Pass the pumpkin bread, please

BY THE CULINARY INSTITUTE OF AMERICA
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

A mention of quick breads brings to mind the delicious cakelike breads we associate with American comfort foods. Banana, date-nut and pumpkin breads are traditional American favorites.

As the name indicates, quick breads are quick and easy to make. Quick breads differ from traditional bread recipes in that they do not require yeast. They are, by definition, chemically leavened breads. Generally, the chemical leaveners used in quick breads are baking powder or baking soda.

PUMPKIN BREAD

1½ cups all-purpose flour
1 cup whole-wheat flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon finely grated nutmeg
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup raisins, plumped (to plump cover raisins with boiling water, rest for at least 15 minutes and drain)

1 cup pureed cooked pumpkin (fresh, canned or frozen)
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ half cup vegetable oil

Preheat oven to 375° F. Grease and flour two 8½-by-4½-inch loaf pans.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

Combine raisins, pumpkin, sugar, eggs and oil in a large bowl and mix well. Stir dry ingredients into pumpkin mixture all at once and mix just until dry ingredients are blended into a batter.

Transfer batter to prepared loaf pans and bake 50-55 minutes. Let breads cool in pans for 10-15 minutes. Ease breads out of pans and continue to cool on a rack. Makes 2 loaves.

Chef's Tip: Since the batter is mixed very little once the dry ingredients are added, sift the chemical leaveners (baking powder and baking soda) twice with the flour before incorporating into the wet ingredients. This will ensure a more even distribution of the leaveners, which will give a consistent texture in the final product.

TURKEY

deeply. 160°F in the center of the stuffing, if turkey is stuffed.

Before removing stuffing and carving, let turkey stand 15 minutes to allow juices to set and stuffing temperature to rise to 165°F.

■ Where does the meat thermometer go?

When using an oven-safe meat thermometer, insert the thermometer in the thigh prior to placing the turkey in the oven and leave in while the turkey is roasting.

Position the thermometer so it can be read while the turkey is in the oven.

When using an instant-read meat thermometer, do not leave the thermometer in the turkey during roasting. Insert in thigh and/or stuffing to take the temperature.

■ How can leftover turkey be stored properly?

Within two hours after roasting, remove stuffing from turkey and carve meat off bones.

Then, chill in refrigerator before wrapping for storage. Wrap turkey and stuffing separately and use within three days.

To store in the freezer, wrap turkey and stuffing separately in heavy foil, freezer wrap or place in freezer container or bags.

For optimum flavor, use stuffing within one month and turkey within two months.

■ What's the proper way to stuff a turkey?

Use only cooked meats and seafood (oysters), and use pasteurized egg products instead of raw eggs. Place prepared stuffing in turkey just before roasting.

Do not stuff the turkey the night before roasting. Stuff both neck and body cavities of completely thawed turkey, allowing ½ to ¾ cup of stuffing per pound of turkey.

Do not pack stuffing tightly in turkey.

Return legs to original tucked position, if untucked for rinsing or stuffing.

■ How much turkey should I buy?

TIPS FOR A STRESS-FREE DINNER

■ Make part, buy part

Keep it simple. Buy some of your courses and make the rest from scratch. An appetizer or dessert could be purchased from your favorite restaurant or gourmet market. Save time in the kitchen to mingle with the guests.

■ Remember your guests' needs

Keep in mind that all eating lifestyles are not alike. Perhaps you have guests whose religion restricts them from eating certain foods. Perhaps there's a diabetic, vegetarian, or someone in the family allergic to specific foods. Make sure there's food on the table to accommodate everyone.

■ A pinch of good health

Holiday meals are celebrated by feasting - which can lead to overindulging and stomach distress. Offer lighter foods like fruit or vegetables at the beginning and end of the meal to help ease your guests in and out of the heavier turkey and ham main courses. Pumpkin pie with fresh ginger can help ease indigestion.

■ Provide nonalcoholic options

Remember that not everyone drinks alcohol. Keep guests sober by offering options to accompany the champagne and wine. Try sparkling waters and ciders garnished with fresh fruit or spices.

GRANDMA CRAWFORD'S CRANBERRY SALAD

BY HELEN CRAWFORD OF WESTLAND

2 Three-ounce boxes cherry Jell-O
2 cups hot water
1 can whole cranberry sauce
1 can crushed pineapple (drained)
½ cup diced apple
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup chopped celery

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Fold in all remaining ingredients. Chill until firm.

RUSSIAN MUSHROOM CAVIAR

BY TERRY GODFROID-MARECKI OF LIVONIA

1½ pounds fresh mushrooms
4 tablespoons olive oil
1 medium sized onion, chopped
3 cloves garlic, chopped
3 tablespoons mayonnaise, preferably Hellman's
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped fresh dill salt and pepper to taste

Clean mushrooms. Chop stems and caps. Heat 3 tablespoons of the oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add mushrooms and cook, stirring until they begin to throw off their liquid. Turn up heat to high and continue to cook and stir until mushrooms reabsorb most of the liquid and are lightly browned, 10-12 minutes. Remove from heat and set aside. Heat the remaining oil in the same skillet and sauté the onion until deep golden, about 15 minutes. Combine the mushrooms, onions and garlic in a blender or food processor and process until minced and not pureed. In a large bowl, combine mushroom mixture, mayonnaise, lemon juice, dill, salt and pepper. Mix well, cover and let stand at room temperature for 1 hour. Serve with toast points or black bread.

Makes 1½ cups.

What's for dinner? Easy Bistro Chicken

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Easy bistro chicken is a hearty dish, full of flavor but low in fat. Besides chicken, its ingredients include onions, tomatoes, garlic and green olives. Spooned over a pasta such as macaroni or cavatappi, a serving still has just 8 grams of fat.

The recipe is among a selection of family favorites in "The Best of Cooking Light: What's For Dinner," a fall 2002 special edition of Cooking Light magazine. The choice among about 100 recipes ranges from elegant menus for two to casual and dinner-party meals for entertaining larger groups – for which the cook can do some preparation ahead of time.

A tip for this recipe: You can chop the tomatoes in the can, using kitchen shears.

EASY BISTRO CHICKEN

2 tablespoons olive oil
Four 6-ounce chicken breast halves, skinned
4 chicken thighs (about 1 pound), skinned
4 chicken drumsticks (about 1 pound), skinned
2 cups chopped onion
4 garlic cloves, minced
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped fresh basil
½ cup chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley
½ cup red wine vinegar
¼ cup sliced green olives
¼ cup capers
1 tablespoon sugar
Dash of ground red pepper
2 bay leaves
28-ounce can Italian-style tomatoes, undrained and chopped
8 cups hot cooked macaroni or cavatappi
Parsley sprigs (optional)

Heat 1½ teaspoons oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium-high heat. Add chicken breast halves to pan; sauté 2 minutes on each side or until lightly browned. Remove from pan. Add 1½ teaspoons oil and remaining chicken pieces; sauté 2 minutes on each side or until lightly browned. Remove chicken from pan. Heat 1 tablespoon oil in pan. Add onion and garlic; sauté 5 minutes. Add celery; sauté 5 minutes. Add basil, parsley, vinegar, olives, capers, sugar, red pepper, bay leaves and tomatoes. Return chicken to pan; bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 20 minutes. Uncover and simmer 25 minutes or until chicken is tender. Discard bay leaves. Serve with pasta. Garnish with parsley sprigs, if desired.

Makes 8 servings (serving size: 1 chicken breast half or 1 thigh and 1 drumstick, ½ cup sauce, and 1 cup pasta).

Photos sparkle with star filter

Perhaps it's time to become a photographer of the stars. Not movie stars or constellations, but stars, added to your photographs by means of a star filter.

Focus On Photography

Monte Nagler

A star filter is an inexpensive addition to your photo equipment that can add a burst of excitement to your shots, whether color or black-and-white. A close inspection of a star filter will reveal a miniature window screen imbedded in the glass.

This screen acts on any light highlight to produce a starburst effect in the finished picture. And because you always see directly through the lens on your single-lens-reflex camera, you'll be able to preview and adjust the star effect before you snap the shutter.

Star filters come in four-, six- and eight-point designs, depending on how much of a burst you want. I prefer the simplicity of the four-point star, which easily adjusts to any angle.

Here are some subject ideas that work well with star filters:

Sparkles in the lake or ocean caused by a descending sun will produce dazzling photos with a star filter, especially if you place a silhouetted subject in the foreground such as a seagull perched on a piling or tree branches framing the seascape. Reflections in shiny objects

A star filter added that special touch to Monte Nagler's photograph of late afternoon sun sparkle in the lake.

Sparkles in the lake or ocean caused by a descending sun will produce dazzling photos with a star filter, especially if you place a silhouetted subject in the foreground ...

such as chrome will give that added flair to your pictures. Street lamps at night combined with a star filter produce effects not attainable in any other way.

And, of course, the sun itself photographed through a star filter will result in a breathtaking shot.

A star filter can be used in combination with other filters if, for example, you want to darken a blue sky with a polarizer or use any of the filters designed for black-and-white film.

Just attach the star filter directly over the other filter being used and you'll be pleasantly surprised with the results.

Always reach for the stars in your photography. And to help along the way, use a star filter.

THE BEST AMERICAN SCIENCE AND NATURE WRITING

Natalie Angier, Editor; Tim Folger, Series Editor
Houghton Mifflin, $13 paperback

BY ALICE RHEIN
CORRESPONDENT

One of the unexpected pleasures of switching doctors during my first pregnancy in 1998 was going from a waiting room full of parenting magazines to one that carried current issues of The Atlantic Monthly and Discover.

I wasn't so confident to think that I didn't need parenting advice, but something deeper in me said "fuel your intellect now, they'll be plenty of time to learn '10 Steps to Painless Potty-Training.'"

When I was making regular office visits again in 2001, I hoped that the nurse wouldn't call my name before I finished Eric Schlosser's Why McDonald's Fries Taste So Good in the January issue of The Atlantic Monthly.

When she did, I had no choice but to sneak it into the examining room with me, finishing it just before she produced the blue gown.

It was no surprise to me then, that Natalie Angier, the Pulitzer-Prize winning journalist and best-selling author, included Schlosser's article in The Best American Science and Nature Writing 2002, which she edited for Houghton Mifflin along with series editor Tim Folger.

Schlosser's article, which was gleaned from his wildly popular book Fast Food Nation, is both a funny and disturbing tale of what goes into making America's most popular food. His story of the secretive group of scientists, or flavorists, who manufacture the flavors and smells of fries, as well as perfumes, floor wax and TV dinners is riveting, and will forever

ON TOUR

Natalie Angier, the Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and the author of the national bestseller Woman: An Intimate Geography will be promoting the collection of works included in The Best American Science and Nature Writing 2002 at Shaman Drum, 313 South State Street, Ann Arbor at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 19. For more information, contact the bookstore at (734) 662-7407 or (800) 490-7023.

change how you think about that burger, fries and shake.

In fact, the contributor's notes mention that after Schlosser's article was published, riots broke out in India and class action lawsuits were filed against McDonald's after the company admitted that the fries contained beef.

Schlosser's story is just one of 27 non-fictional articles included in this 300-page book. And Angier will be at Shaman Drum bookstore in Ann Arbor on Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. to discuss her role as guest editor.

In her introduction, Angier, who attended the University of Michigan for two years before transferring to Barnard College in New York, wrote that the element common to all the stories she chose was clarity.

Clarity is important to every story, but perhaps more so in science writing.

Few scientists can actually write an article that can capture and maintain a lay reader's attention. And when journalists take on the task, they have to be able to comprehend the subject matter well enough to explain it back to the reader in concrete terms rich with anecdotes.

That's no easy task when the subject is, say, an artificial intelligence machine that could someday learn through normal conversation. Clive Thompson's The Know-It-All Machine written for Lingua Franca is about just that, a software called Cyc that will enable its computer to speak, reason, and learn.

Not all the subjects are heady.

Joy Williams writes about the acre of land she purchased in Florida and vowed to keep in its natural state even as land subdivided around her. One Acre, first featured in Harper's Magazine is a loving tale of nature's beauty that offers a thoughtful, Thoreau-like image of lagoon life.

Barbara Ehrenreich, who wrote the compelling Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting By in America offers her less-than-rosy take on the marketing of breast cancer in Welcome to Cancerland from Harper's Magazine.

Having been diagnosed with breast cancer, she writes about the oddities that she has encountered, like the tote bag distributed to breast cancer patients that contains — along with perfume and costume jewelry — a small box of crayons and a pink-striped journal.

"Possibly the idea is that regression to a state of childlike dependency puts one in the best frame of mind with which to endure the prolonged and toxic treatments," she ponders, adding later that, "Certainly men diagnosed with prostate cancer do not receive gifts of Matchbox cars."

Garret Keizer also muses in the first-person about his disdain of noise in Sound and Fury from Harper's Magazine. And in The Sting of the Assassin, written for Outside, Peter Stark fictionalizes a bit by introducing a honeymooning couple to explain the dramatic impact that the venom of a box jellyfish has on the human body.

Sarah Blaffer Hrdy's Mothers and Others from Natural History presents the evolutionary aspects akin to "It takes a village." And Steve Mirsky's column Dumb, Dumb, Duh Dumb, which first appeared in Scientific American rings with humor.

Strangely absent from this book are stories about 9/11, perhaps because Angier herself wrote one of the best pieces for the New York Times on Sept. 18 entitled Altruism, Heroism and Nature's Gifts in the Face of Terror, which is listed in the appendix along with other notable writings of 2001.

But the World Trade Center is very much a part of this book. In Wall Street Losses, Wall Street Gains by Anne Matthews for Orion, the gleaming twin towers are what beckon migratory songbirds to Manhattan, where they are so mesmerized by the light that they can circle the building until exhaustion sets in.

Birds plummeting to the ground hardly seem important now, having seen the horrors of our own species crash, but Matthews story is hauntingly bittersweet in retrospect.

Before 9/11, it was a story about songbirds and the people who take an interest in them. After 9/11 it's a warm eulogy to a place that once teemed with life.

The Best American Science and Nature Writing is a fascinating and surprisingly uncomplicated read, which, of course, is the sign of excellent writing.

"For all their passion and productivity," Angier writes in her introduction, "scientists labor in profound anonymity."

These essays certainly highlight many of the men and women who possess that passion for knowledge, and in doing so, their stories inspire us all to unlock the mysteries of science.

Children can give thanks for a harvest of good holiday books

BY SAMANTHA CRITCHELL
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

It's not too hard to teach children about thankfulness when parents dangle a reward in front of them. The instructions are easy enough for even a toddler to understand: When you want something say "please," when you get it say "thank you."

It might be more difficult, however, to teach children about the first Thanksgiving, an event that happened centuries ago to people these kids never knew. "Why should we care?" children may ask.

Because it's a good story with a better lesson, that's why.

There's drama and interesting characters, and by the end of the tale the children will learn that working together offers great rewards — rewards that might include turkey, stuffing and pumpkin pie.

There are several new picture books about Thanksgiving, the parades that lead up to it and the feast that follows to help tell the story of the holiday in words and pictures that youngsters will understand.

A good place to start is The Very First Thanksgiving Day (Atheneum, $15.95, ages 3-6), featuring a cumulative rhyme text by Rhonda Gowler Greene and painting-style illustrations by Susan Gaber.

The book certainly isn't wordy but it covers all the basics about why the Pilgrims and the American Indians sat down together for a meal back in 1621.

It explains the hardships of the Pilgrims and how they overcame them with hard work, and it gives credit to the Indians as skillful and strong teachers to the Pilgrims.

The last few pages might even ring familiar with 21st-century families. The grown-ups greet each other with handshakes while the kids run off to play with their toys. Surely they'll regroup to sit at a very long table that's decorated with corn, sweet berries and turkey.

In Thanksgiving Day (HarperCollins, $5.99, ages 2-5) by Anne Rockwell, a father tells his children about the holiday play he put on when he was a kid. He recalls his role as the Mayflower, the ship that brought the Pilgrims to the New World. His friends, children of all races outfitted in feathered Indian headdresses and construction-paper Pilgrim hats in illustrations by Lizzie Rockwell, filled out the rest of the cast.

The Pilgrims from England built wood houses and the Wampanoag Indians planted corn. Together, they hunted turkeys for that memorable harvest feast.

The whole animal kingdom cooks the Thanksgiving meal in Turkeys Never Gobble! (HarperFestival, $5.99, ages baby-preschool). In Jennifer Beck Harris' cartoonish pictures, young readers will see alligators sharing their recipes with helpful hippos, and monkeys measuring, mixing and chopping the ingredients for their favorite treats.

But at the table even the well-mannered warthogs become wild beasts as one devilish critter calls out "food fight!"

Leftovers are the big treat in Twice the Day After Thanksgiving (Little Simon, $5.99, ages 3-6) by Mavis Smith.

As young readers lift the flaps, they'll catch glimpses of a family of mice who eventually grow tired of turkey and its trimming. Sound familiar?

Children — and many adults who are unfamiliar with this part of Thanksgiving's history — learn about Sarah Hale's crusade to make the fourth Thursday in November a national holiday in Thank You, Sarah: The Woman

Who Saved Thanksgiving (Simon & Schuster, $16.95, ages 5-10).

Laurie Halse Anderson explains that Hale was a "dainty little lady" who became the superhero of Thanksgiving through her letter-writing campaign. She convinced President Abraham Lincoln, after failing to convince many of his predecessors, that the nation needed a day to come together as one big family.

In return, Hale, at least in Matt Faulkner's illustrations, is honored with what looks an awful lot like a balloon in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. A fictional story with several true historical references brings the famous parade to life in Milly and the Macy's Parade (Scholastic, $16.95, ages 5-8) by Shana Corey, with pictures by Brett Helquist.

Milly can't bear the thought of seeing her Polish immigrant grandfather and his fellow workers at Macy's, who all miss their native lands, so sad during the holiday season; Mr. Macy can't bear the thought of these grumpy workers turning away customers.

When she suggests the store help stage a parade just like in "the old country," Mr. Macy embraces her idea since he, too, remembers what it feels like to be homesick. The result is an American celebration with influences from all over the world.

Other kiddie-themed Thanksgiving books include: I Know an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Pie (Puffin, $6.99, ages 3-8) by Alison Jackson and illustrated by Judith Byron Schachner. Humming a familiar tune, this particular old lady starts out eating a pie, moves on to a whole turkey and still joins in the holiday parade.

The Little Engine That Could Saves the Thanksgiving Day Parade (Grosset & Dunlap, $3.49, ages 3-6) by Watty Piper and illustrated by Cristina Ong. When the Turkeyland Band gets stuck in Gobbleville, only one Little Blue Engine pulls through.

The Pilgrims and Me (Grosset & Dunlap, $5.99, ages 6-9) by Judy Donnelly and illustrated by Maryann Cocca-Leffler. A little girl shares her class report on her visit to the Plymouth Plantation.

Tricky Turkey Tongue Twisters (HarperFestival, $6.99, ages 4-8) by Quinlan B. Lee and illustrated by Clive Scruton. Catchy phrases that are even harder to say when one's mouth is full of Thanksgiving food — especially mashed potatoes.

A Charlie Brown Thanksgiving (Little Simon, $5.99, 3-8) by Charles M. Schulz. The book adaptation of the TV special in which Peppermint Patty invites the gang over for dinner at Charlie Brown's.

Whalers tie

A 3-0 lead after one period wasn't enough for the Plymouth Whalers Thursday at Barrie.

The Colts scored twice in the second period and tied it with just under four minutes left in the third, and that's the way it stayed as both teams settled for a 3-3 draw.

The tie gave the Whalers an 11-6-2-1 record.

John Vigilante scored the game's first goal unassisted at 8:20 of the first period. Tim Sestito made it 2-0 at 10:56, the assist going to Jimmy Gagnon. Martin Cizek's goal at 14:52, assisted by Jonas Fiedler and Sestito, gave the Whalers a three-goal bulge.

But the Colts struck back with second-period power-play goals by Luc Chiasson and Mark Langdon; Jeremy Swanson got the tying goal in the third period. Swanson and Chiasson also had assists for Barrie.

Paul Drew had 31 saves in goal for the Whalers. Paulo Colaigcolio had Michael Ouzas combined to make 22 saves for the Colts.

Ocelots roll

The Schoolcraft College men's basketball team improved to 3-0 Wednesday with a lopsided 122-44 victory over visiting Concordia University JV team.

The Ocelots, who jumped out to a 24-0 lead, had eight players score in double figures led by Marcus Bennett's 19 points.

Rounding out the scoring brigade was Dion Sherrell (17), Andre Scott (16), James Holmes (13), Gary Johnson (12), Ronald Dorsey and Aaron Squirewell (11 each) and Torvoris Baker (10).

Bennett had a team-high nine assists, while Baker grabbed 10 rebounds and Lamont Arrington added eight.

SC women fall

What was close for one half was a blowout after two.

Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team was within three (35-32) at halftime of its game against Toledo Owens Tech. The Lady Ocelots couldn't keep pace in the second half, however, eventually losing 82-62.

Tech improved to 3-1. SC's record was evened at 1-1.

Pam Wingate led the Ocelots with 24 points, 14 rebounds, five blocks and four rebounds. Mia Henderson added 10 points and eight boards.

Michelle Vorst scored 28 points for Tech; Stacey Weiland had 22 and Tonia Willis had 13.

Ocelots beat the best, advance to Final Four

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

They're in.

Schoolcraft College's volleyball team got what it was after in its first two days at the 12-team NJCAA Division II Tournament, hosted by Toledo Owens Tech. The Lady Ocelots won their first four matches, getting victories in 11 of 12 games, which is what they wanted. Those wins earned them a berth in the Final Four, played Saturday.

But they weren't through. They capped their pool-play performance with a 17-30, 30-20, 30-22 win over No. 1-ranked Kishwaukee CC (Malta, Ill.) Friday night.

VOLLEYBALL

The Ocelots, seeded fourth going into the tournament, took a 43-14 record into the Final Four.

Friday's win over Kishwaukee didn't really mean much, although it did allow SC to play the second-place team in the other pool in the semifinals. As SC coach Tom Teeters pointed out, a win over Kishwaukee on Saturday would mean more — since it would come in the NJCAA Final and be worth a national championship.

offensive play for SC, collecting 14 kills against Kishwaukee (giving her 65 for the tournament). Going into Saturday's play, she had 39 digs, 14 blocks and seven service aces in the tournament.

The Ocelots other tournament standouts included Noelle Swartz (from Canton/ Westland John Glenn) with 50 kills, 74 digs and nine aces; Katie Drews (Livonia Stevenson) with 34 kills and 15 blocks; Kerstin Marshall (Livonia Franklin) with 19 kills, 18 blocks and 14 aces; Meghan Mitchell with 54 digs; Stephanie Koslowski with 22 kills and five aces; Ioana Vescan with 103 set assists, six aces and 33 digs; and Desiree Betts (Livonia Ladywood) with 78 set assists and five aces.

SC opened its six-team pool play against eight-seeded Northwest Shoals CC (Muscle Shoals, Ala.) on Thursday, and the Ocelots prevailed 30-26, 33-31, 30-14. They followed that with a 30-19, 30-16, 30-21 victory over No. 12 Longview CC (Lee's Summit, Mo.) later Thursday, then on Friday they defeated No. 9 Moraine Valley CC (Palos Hills, Ill.) 30-19, 30-15, 30-15 and No. 5 Des Moines Area CC (Boone, Ia.) 30-21, 29-31, 30-27.

This was the Ocelots ninth trip to the NJCAA Tournament since 1985. They won the Division I NJCAA Title in 1988. cjriskak@oe.homecomm.net | (734) 953-2108

Canton crushes Central to claim WLAA crown

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

If you want to beat Canton's girls basketball team, there's just two things you have to deal with: The Chiefs' offense and defense.

Well, then there's their rebounding, too.

Okay, so there's three things. Still, it is doable — isn't it?

In 18 of 20 games this season, it hasn't been. The last example came Wednesday night, when Canton hosted the Western Lakes Activities Association championship game against Walled Lake Central.

The two teams tangled Sept. 26 in a regular-season game at Central, and Canton survived the battle, winning 43-42. The Vikings went on to win the WLAA's Lakes Division, setting up Wednesday's title clash at Canton.

Apparently, they didn't learn anything from that first encounter. Instead of a final-shot-wins-the-game kind of thing, Canton took command

Plymouth's team of all freshmen is just perfect

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

Start at the top. When building an organization or program — or, in this case, a basketball team — bring in someone good at the top level and success is sure to follow.

Plymouth HS has done just that, hiring Richelle Reilly to coach its freshmen girls team. Reilly has ample coaching experience, most recently as the head coach at Concordia College the four years before taking the Wildcat job this fall.

Prior to that, Reilly served as an assistant coach under Bob Taylor at Oakland University for two years and was the junior varsity coach at Farmington Harrison for two years. Reilly played both basketball and softball at Albion College through 1992 and was a graduate assistant there for a year.

Reilly, who got her teacher's certificate so that she could be a physical education instructor at the secondary level, came into a Plymouth program that was just starting out. Like all other Wildcat sports teams, it had just freshmen for its first year.

"The opportunity to build a program, in going from the college level to the high school level," was one reason Reilly gave for leaving Concordia for Plymouth. "I welcomed the opportunity to coach here."

Less travel for games and no recruiting trips, which would allow her to stay close to home, were other reasons. Those rea-

Canton, Salem girls rank with Observer's best runners

Livonia Stevenson saved its best for last during the 2002 girls cross country season.

The Spartans were underdogs going into the Western Lakes Activities Association, but came away with the title. The following week, Stevenson won the regional and went on to post the area's top finish in the Division I state meet by placing sixth.

Stevenson, which placed five runners on the first-team All-Observer squad and two on the second-team, relied on depth to make its late-season surge.

Under veteran coach Paul Holmberg, who was named Coach of the Year, Stevenson has been to the state meet 17 times since 1976 (the year the Spartans captured the state Class A crown). The Spartans have been runner-up at the state meet twice (1995-96) and third once (1997).

Under Holmberg, Stevenson has been regional champion five times and regional runners-up five times. The Spartans have won 12 league titles (including the Inter-Lakes).

Holmberg's dual meet record is 127-18.

Livonia Churchill also made a strong showing this season. The Chargers, who placed four on the first team, won the Livonia Public Schools title and was runner-up at both the regional and WLAA meets.

Introducing the 2002 All-Observer girls cross country team:

Heather Sirko, Livonia Stevenson: The 10th-grader had a breakout season after being the Spartans' No. 8 runner as a freshman.

Sirko was Lakes Division (19:22), Western Lakes (19:07) and regional (19:06) champion at 5,000 meters, and made Division All-State honors with a 12th place finish (18:47). She also won invitations at South Lyon and Ypsilanti.

The Stevenson MVP and Livonia Public Schools champion, whose average time was 19:39, ranks sixth all-time on the Cass Benton Park course and fourth best in school history (18:47).

"Last year we called Heather a good prospect for next year," Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said. "What an understatement. From eighth best on last year's team to 12th best in the state."

"She should be an inspiration to anyone who wants to high school cross country."

Nicole Schmidt, Livonia Churchill: The Churchill MVP was the Chargers' top finisher at the state meet (42nd) with a time of 19:15.

She also finished second at the regional with a personal best 19:12 and added thirds at the South Lyon (19:53), Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard (19:23) and Wayne County (19:35) meets. Schmidt was fourth in the Livonia Public Schools (19:59), Western Division (19:38) and Western Lakes (19:36) meets.

"Nicole had an outstanding season, she figured out how to compete this year and wasn't afraid to run with some very talented runners," Churchill coach Sue Tatigian said. "She is a pleasure to coach because of her unending talent, competitive nature and kind disposition."

"She sets high standards for herself and runs to achieve them. I was extremely proud of Nicole for the hard work and effort she put into her workouts and meets this season, and I am looking forward to watching her break the 19-minute barrier next year."

Lisa Montgomery, Livonia Stevenson: It was another solid season for the three-time All-Observer pick, a junior who finished 61st at the state meet (19:33) and runner-up in the WLAA (19:18) and Lakes Division meets.

The two-time defending regional champion added a fourth in 2002. She ranks seventh on Stevenson's all-time list (19:10).

"Lisa caught fire at mid-season and raged through the end of the season," Holmberg said of the 2002 All-Stater. "She ran under 20 minutes in five of her last six races and her 19:18 at the WLAA meet was a big part of why we won the meet."

Sarah Westrick, Livonia Churchill: The senior team captain is also making her third straight appearance on the All-Area team.

She finished third in both the WLAA (19:31) and regional (19:21) meets. She was runner-up in the Livonia Public Schools meet (19:46) and was fourth in the Wayne County meet (19:45). She also added a pair of sixths in the South Lyon and Gabriel Richard Invitationals. She was 132nd in Division I. The three-time state qualifier is also an Academic All-Stater, carrying a 3.9 grade-point average in Churchill's Math, Science and Computer program.

"Sarah is an outstanding young lady and it has been a great pleasure and privilege to coach her the past four seasons," Tatigian said. "She's a serious student-athlete who has been a great asset to the Churchill cross country program because of her great leadership and work ethic. She really thrives on competition and has always been extremely dependable. Sarah will be greatly missed next fall, but I am confident that she'll be an outstanding collegiate runner."

Sara Pilon, Livonia Stevenson: The outgoing senior has the distinction of being selected first-team All-Observer four straight years.

Pilon wrapped up her cross country career with a 65th in the Division I meet (19:34) after finishing fifth in the regional (20:01), 24th in the WLAA (20:47) and fourth in the Lakes Division (20:27). Pilon owns the ninth-best time at Stevenson (19:17).

"Sara has had a tremendous career, a four-year varsity competitor and four-time first-team All-Area," Holmberg said. "It is hard to always be at the top, and she has struggled at times and has some doubts, but she never gave up. She finished the year showing her best. She'll be hard to replace."

Jessica Levely, Canton: The senior earned a 70th place at the state meet with a season-best time of 19:36.85. She also took a seventh at the regional (20:02), 14th in the WLAA (20:03) and sixth in the Western Division (20:37).

Levely also placed third at Monroe (20:46), fourth at Troy (21:25), ninth at Haslet (20:07) and Wayne County (20:15), and 14th at Ludington (21:46). "Jessica is a four-year runner who served as our captain the past two years," Canton coach John Venning said. "Her work ethic is outstanding. She ran all summer, set her sights high and did what was necessary to accomplish her goals."

"I count myself blessed to have had the opportunity to coach her. She leads by example and helps her teammate to improve. She has consistently improved her times and peaked perfectly at states. Her 19:36 is the second fastest ever at Canton."

Nicole Renaud, Livonia Churchill: Another three-time first-team All-Observer pick, Renaud ended her junior year 156th at the state meet (20:35.55). She finished ninth at the regional (20:14), 13th in the Western Lakes (20:05) and sixth in the LPS meet. Other top finishes included eighth (South Lyon), ninth (Wayne County and Western Division), 13th (Gabriel Richard) and 20th (West Bloomfield). She as a lifetime personal best of 19:43 after going 19:57 at the Richard Invitational this year.

"Nicole had another solid season," Tatigian said. "She has been an exceptional leader this year and led her team to some outstanding performances. She is a very committed distance runner who really seems to thrive on hard workouts and races."

"She is an athlete who puts her heart into each and every race. I have a lot of respect for Nicole. I am so glad that I have the privilege of coaching her in the spring and next year."

Kristian Tyler, Livonia Franklin: The junior finished 84th in Division (19:49.9) after qualifying with an eighth place (20:09.3) at the regional. Among her other placings including 12th (Western Division), 15th (Wayne County) and 29th (WLAA).

"Kristian's success this season is the result of her hard work and dedication," Franklin coach Dave Bjorklund said. "It is very gratifying when you set goals and achieve them. I look forward to future success for Kristian, and for her to lead our program in a positive direction."

Lauren Kane, Salem: The sophomore posted the third fastest 5,000-meter time (19:42.1) in Salem history with a 78th place finish in the Division I state meet at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

In the WLAA meet, Kane placed 11th (19:58) and qualified as an individual for the state meet with another 11th (20:29.9) at the Willow Metropark regional.

"Lauren is a very self-motivated athlete who set her goals to be our number one runner and lead this team, which is something we have not had in several years," Salem coach Dave Gerlach said. "She overcame an early season injury to run 19:58 at the conference meet, then she ran a personal best at MIS."

"Lauren is a fun-loving individual who knows when it's time to get down to business. She is a very hard worker that strives every day to achieve team and personal goals. She has truly made her teammates around her better."

Kylen Cieslak, Livonia Churchill: The freshman, despite being hampered by a foot injury late in the season, made an immediate impact on the Chargers' program.

She had several outstanding races including second each in the Western Division meet (personal best 19:21) and Westland John Glenn Freshman-Sophomore (19:45); third, Livonia Public Schools (19:52); fifth, Wayne County (19:52); seventh, Gabriel Richard (19:38); and ninth, WLAA (19:51). She also took 13th at West Bloomfield (20:49) and 27th at MSU (19:44).

"Kylen is the most successful freshman to have attended Churchill in a string of outstanding distance runners the past four years," Tatigian said. "She is an extremely talented young runner with the ability to run some outstanding times in the future. She is a true competitor who absolutely loves to race."

"I'm looking forward to seeing Kylen's progress in years to come. She is definitely a runner with All-State potential."

Kristyn Green, Livonia Stevenson: Named

second-team a year ago, the senior was a strong contributor to the Spartans' success this season. She placed 128th in Division I (20:13), 13th at the regional (20:39), 10th in the WLAA (19:57) and third in the Lakes Division (20:18). Her time of 20:19 in the second WLAA jamboree puts her in the top 15 among Stevenson runners on the Cass Benton Park course.

"I compare Kristyn to the Energizer Bunny," Holmberg said. "She just keeps on going. She helped put energy into our team this year. She was a great captain and will be missed next year."

Linda Montgomery, Livonia Stevenson: The junior placed sixth in the Western Lakes meet with a time of 19:49 and came back the next week to place 14th at the regional (20:39).

At the state meet held at MIS, Montgomery took 100th in 20:03.55. She was also eighth in the Lakes Division meet.

The three-year varsity runner made second-team All-Area in 2000 and 2001.

"Linda is a competitor who really stepped up for us in the big meets," Holmberg said. "She ran the best race of her career at the Western Lakes meet."

The IMMUNE SYSTEM

An ally in the fight against cancer

BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI
CORRESPONDENT

University of Michigan Health System doctors are studying the power of the body's immune system to fight cancer, and they point to the people involved in trial studies as the real super heroes.

Imagine vaccines that eradicate cancer the same way they fight smallpox, pneumonia and influenza. Or how freezing tumors helps cancer victims destroy bad cells with their own natural defense systems.

U-M Comprehensive Cancer Center doctors are taking their message to the public in community forums, like one held last month at the Livonia West Holiday Inn. They're talking about new developments in immune system therapy and how their research is zeroing in on ways to prevent, delay, stop and reverse cancer growth.

"One way I'm studying breast cancer is freezing the tumor and letting the immune system reabsorb the dead tumor cells," said Dr. Michael S. Sabel, U-M Health System assistant professor of surgery. "I'm hoping I can stimulate an immune response. When you freeze and kill cancer, the antigens are still present for the immune system to recognize."

Sabel is conducting a trial at the cancer center with women in early-stage breast cancer. The cancer is frozen before it's removed surgically, allowing doctors to study whether the immune system has been stimulated.

"There's evidence that (cryosurgery) incites the immune system, and I believe that will make it better than surgery," he said. "I'm hoping that if the immune system can be stimulated, there will be less chance of cancer cells being left behind after surgery and there would be less likelihood of recurrence. The ultimate goal is that women would not need the lumpectomy."

CLINICAL TRIALS

U-M Health System doctors credit the hundreds of people who become involved in the clinical trials with helping them make breakthroughs. Each trial requires 25 to 900 people.

"Options in treatments we can offer patients today are based on trials 10 years ago," Sabel said. "Women who are involved in trials today are affecting women 10 years from now. I can't promise a benefit, but it's not going to hurt them. Hopefully, there are benefits. The reason to be involved is to help their daughters, their nieces and women they don't even know."

If Sabel's trial shows that cryosurgery is successful, it would probably be another five or 10 years before the procedure is approved and available to the general public.

David Shaltz, 50, of Holt, Mich., had surgery to remove melanoma in April 1999. Five months later, he became involved in a clinical trial that lasted about a year. The trial examined whether a course of vaccines would boost his immune system.

Frankly, Shaltz said, he got involved in the trial to help his own chances of survival.

"Melanoma is a serious type of skin cancer, and while the surgery I had suggested that we caught it in time, I was interested in doing anything I could to improve my chances for full recovery," he said.

As time went on, Shaltz began to appreciate the greater good he was achieving.

"I got more and more interested in study results and the broader clinical trials and whether this would help more people," he said. "I would encourage people to really consider clinical trials, because I do think they're important in advancing what we know about diseases."

IMMUNE SYSTEM AS FIGHTER

Using vaccines to fight cancer focuses on ways the immune system can eliminate bad cells the same way it fights infection, said Dr. Alfred E. Chang, chief of the U-M Health System Division of Surgical Oncology.

Vaccines are being used in cancer trial studies in the same way they have been used for generations to fight smallpox. During the clinical trials, cancer started going away in some patients with advanced cancer.

The immune system works by recognizing proteins on the surface of bacteria or cells infected by viruses that are different than the body's proteins. Tumor cells show similar proteins, and U-M doctors are studying ways to stimulate the immune system to recognize these antigens and kill cancer cells.

Cancer vaccines haven't been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. However, clinical studies are showing good possibilities of their use to fight cancer.

The trials involve collecting circulating cells, called dendritic cells, normally present in everyone, and stimulating those cells with tumor antigens. The dendritic cells take up the antigen and jump-start the patient's immune system, which hopefully triggers a response against the patient's own tumor.

Another approach is to take the dendritic cells from the patient and inject them into the tumor to stimulate the immune system. These dendritic cell trials are restricted to people who have advanced cancers that have not responded ed to other treatments. The National Cancer Institute Trials Database provides a list and description of many clinical trials across the country.

MELANOMA

On another frontier, a vaccine made from other people's melanoma is being studied in research trials conducted by Dr. Vernon K. Sondak, U-M Health System professor of surgery.

"We're using the vaccine to take care of the leftover cells," Sondak said.

Open-heart surgery marks 50th anniversary

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the world's first successful open heart surgery, a procedure that made medical history in 1952.

Dr. Forest Dewey Dorrill captured national headlines when he used a mechanical heart pump to operate on a patient at Wayne State University's Harper Hospital in Detroit.

Paid for in part by the American Heart Association, and billed as a public service by General Motors, the Dorrill-GMR (General Motors Research) mechanical heart looked much like a Cadillac V-12 engine. This historic operation routed blood around the heart, allowing the surgeon to repair a damaged valve.

"We've come a long way since the first heart operation by Dorrill in 1952. Now, it's estimated that worldwide more than one million open heart operations are done using some form of heart-lung machine each year," said Dr. Larry Stephenson, Wayne State University cardiothoracic surgeon and medical historian, who documented and researched the historic operation.

"Without some form of blood pump of heart-lung machine, many of the heart operations we routinely do would not be possible."

According to the American Heart

Association, 753,000 open-heart procedures were performed in 1999, the latest year for which figures are available.

In the early 1950s, there were few surgical options for people with heart ailments. A team of General Motors engineers used Dorrill's conceptual designs to construct a machine that was used not in a vehicle but in an operating room.

"To develop this revolutionary machine, many GM engineers and researchers volunteered their time to support this great medical advancement," said Dr. Joel Bender, General Motors bypass of narrowed coronary arteries, repair or replacement of damaged heart valves, and repair of congenital heart defects," said Dr. Robert Bonow, president of the American Heart Association.

The first patient to undergo surgery with the mechanical heart was a man who had a mitral valve repair at Wayne State University's Harper Hospital.

Although new technologies continue to be developed to correct heart problems, heart-lung machines are a mainstay for cardiac surgeons. With very high rates of survival and success, open-heart surgery is one of the most commonly performed operations in the United States.

Canada as a treatment for patients with advanced stages of cancer. The entire trial process takes more than 25 years from research stages to drugs and procedures being available.

"That's how time-consuming this process can be," Sondak said. "Immune therapy is just starting to be approved and come into the mainstream. It's all up to the courageous volunteers who go into the study and how essential that is to the development of the vaccine."

The best way to fight melanoma is to prevent it, by avoiding the sun and wearing

In a randomized trial, a few people benefited from this procedure. However, a more important finding was that researchers could identify who would benefit. employees by funding research so medical breakthroughs like the Dodrill-GMR can be possible."

One patient who benefited from open-heart surgery was a 5-year-old girl. Julie Miller's extreme heart defects restricted her from normal physical activity. Dodrill performed open-heart surgery in 1961, making her one of the youngest heart-lung machine patients at the time.

"Before the surgery, I didn't have any recollection of playing outside, bike-riding, just everyday activities you'd think of a little kid doing. And after the surgery, the doctors were amazed how quickly I recovered. I had no limitation," said Miller.

The success of Dodrill's heart-lung machine started a wave of research and medical advances that continues today.

"The Dodrill-GMR heart created the opportunity for advances in cardiac surgery we have witnessed over the past several decades, including

Breast Cancer-

What difference can having four options make?

With a family history of breast cancer, I knew the importance of early detection. Henry Ford was able to offer me four unique types of breast cancer detection options. My doctor and I were able to choose the best method for me. And thanks to the screening we were able to treat cancer in its earliest stages.

For more information about breast cancer screening call 1-888-734-JFCC (5322) or go online to HenryFord.com/cancer

Procedures include:

SENTINEL NODE BIOPSY:
one lymph node is tested to see if others need to be removed

DUCTAL LAVAGE:
tests cells collected from the milk ducts where cancer first forms

MAMMARY DUCTOSCOPY: uses a scope to look inside the milk ducts for abnormalities

CORE BIOPSY:
a biopsy needle is used to remove tiny tissue samples from the breast

Beaumont issues annual deer hunting alert

Deer hunters, beware! Nearly a million hunters will take to the woods and fields as the rifle season for deer hunting opens in Michigan. The excitement of spotting a deer, combined with strenuous activity and heart-disease risk factors, could place hunters at risk of having a heart attack.

William Beaumont Hospital conducted the first study of its kind to determine whether deer hunters are at elevated risk for heart attack. To test the hypotheses, researchers sent 25 deer hunters into the woods equipped with heart rate monitors. Results determined that just sighting a deer can cause a hunter's heart rate to soar to the peak heart rate achieved during cardiac stress testing.

"The heart rate of some hunters would almost double upon seeing a buck deer, even though they were standing totally still," said exercise physiologist and researcher Susan Haapaniemi of Beaumont's Cardiac Rehabilitation program.

Shooting, gutting and dragging a deer pushed hunters' heart rates well above the maximum, she said.

Twenty-one of the 25 hunters who participated in the study had heart rates equal to or higher than 85 percent of their maximum heart rate while merely walking to their blind.

"Exceeding the maximum heart rate for a sustained period of time places a hunter with hidden or known heart disease at high risk for heart attack. The hunters were often unaware of what was happening with their hearts during these activities."

Cold weather, bulky hunting equipment, rugged terrain and a hunter's personal lifestyle (smoking, drinking, fitness level) are other factors that may accentuate the cardiac risks of hunting.

Haapaniemi stopped short of recommending that hunters with a history of heart disease avoid deer hunting altogether, but she did recommend some tips:

■ Don't drink or smoke the day before hunting.

■ Don't eat a heavy meal before hunting.

■ Before participating in a hunt, spend some time raising your fitness level through regular brisk walking or other aerobic exercise.

■ Never drag a deer if you have heart disease.

■ If you have high blood pressure, high cholesterol or other risk factors, such as smoking, check with your doctor before hunting.

■ If you experience any of the warning signs of a heart attack – dizziness, chest pain or heart palpitations – stop what you're doing and get medical help.

Researchers find red flag for lethal prostate cancer

High levels of activity in a gene called EZH2 could be a warning sign of metastatic prostate cancer, according to scientists at the University of Michigan's Comprehensive Cancer Center.

In an article published in the October issue of Nature, U-M scientist Dr. Arul M. Chinnaiyan and his research team used advanced DNA microarray technology to show that EZH2 expression was at "the top of the list" of 55 genes found to be more active in metastatic prostate cancer than in localized prostate cancer. This is the first study linking EZH2 to solid tumors, Chinnaiyan wrote.

When the EZH2 gene is active, the cell uses its coded instructions to produce EZH2 protein. U-M scientists believe a future diagnostic test for high levels of this protein could serve as a red flag for physicians and help save the lives of men with the most dangerous form of the disease.

"We found the greatest EZH2 overexpression in metastatic prostate cancer tissue. At this point, it's unclear whether the gene plays a role in cancer's development or is simply an indicator of lethal progression," said Chinnaiyan, an assistant professor of pathology and urology in the U-M Medical School.

If additional research and human clinical trials confirm the U-M results, a test for EZH2 protein could, for the first time, allow physicians to identify accurately those men who need immediate, aggressive treatment to prevent the cancer from spreading outside the prostate. Once prostate cancer metastasizes (spreads to other organs), it is usually incurable.

"Over the past 50 years, there has been no significant improvement in clinical outcome for men diagnosed with advanced prostate cancer and no way to tell ahead of time which cancers will spread and which cancers will remain localized," said Dr. Mark A. Rubin, a former U-M faculty member who is now an associate professor of pathology at Brigham and Women's Hospital. "It is exciting to think that we may have finally found something to help the 30,000 men who die every year from metastatic prostate cancer."

OTHER FINDINGS

Another intriguing finding reported in the Nature paper was the use of a new technique called RNA interference to inhibit production of EZH2 protein in cancer cells. RNA is the messenger molecule that copies DNA's genetic instructions and delivers them to the cell's protein-production factory. In 2001, scientists discovered that short sequences of RNA could be used to shut down the activity of specific genes in mammalian cells.

"We ordered RNA nucleotides specifically targeted for the EZH2 gene and tested them on two different prostate cancer cell lines. The first thing we noticed is the cells stopped growing. After 120 hours, 80-90 percent of the cultured cells containing the RNA nucleotides targeted for EZH2 had stopped dividing. When cells can't divide and grow, they die. This suggests that EZH2 could play an important role in the progression of prostate cancer."

Chinnaiyan and Rubin hope to discover exactly how the EZH2 gene regulates cell division and whether EZH2-targeted RNA interference will have the same effect on cancer cells in living animals.

Rubin and Chinnaiyan emphasized it is unlikely there will be just one biomarker for prostate cancer. In previous research published in the April issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, they described another protein called AMACR, which is overexpressed in several types of cancer. Used in combination with screening tests for AMACR and other biomarkers, they believe a test for EZH2 could help physicians diagnose cases of prostate cancer earlier and determine the most effective and least invasive treatment for each patient.

Research on the genetic and molecular profile of prostate cancer is part of a major initiative under way in the U-M's Comprehensive Cancer Center. Its goal is to link molecular genetics and clinical outcome for all types of cancer.

This research was supported by the National Cancer Institute, CaPCURE and the U-M Prostate Specialized Program of Research Excellence, directed by Dr. Kenneth Pienta, a study co-author and professor of internal medicine and surgery in the U-M Medical School. The U-M has applied for a patent on prostate cancer gene expression profiles for future diagnostic and therapeutic use.

Custom is custom from get-go at Falls of Northville

Gilberto Pietrandrea, owner of Falcon Homes, builds nothing but custom and custom-from-scratch at the Falls of Northville.

The platted community of 39 lots is off Beck between Six and Seven Mile roads in Northville Township.

"It goes from the customer's mouth to the builder's ear with no middleman here. Nothing is lost in the translation," said Dave Mathieu, sales rep.

"One customer here was looking for two years, shopping all around," Pietrandrea said. "They wanted the home they wanted. No one else would do it."

"Here, provided it meets requirements for style and square footage, they can draw any kind of plan they want. They can build their dream house if they wish or kind of step up."

"I'm not interested in having a billion-dollar operation," Pietrandrea said. "I'm a small operator. I don't have the overhead. I want to make a good living and give good value for price."

"We start at around $600,000 and can go to wherever you want to take it," Mathieu said. "The mean (half-above/half-below) will be about $700,000. We're doing complete custom building."

Ranch homes at the Falls of Northville must be at least 3,000 square feet, story-and-a-half a minimum of 3,450 and two story at least 3,800.

Brick and dimensional shingles are standard. No vinyl or aluminum is permitted.

All homes will include a three-car garage, air conditioning, fireplace, separate jet tub and shower in the master, double oven, cooktop, microwave and dishwasher in the kitchen, and basement.

Flooring can be ceramic or wood with an additional $5,000 allowance for carpeting. Twelve recessed lights are standard plus a $2,000 allowance for additional light fixtures.

This story-and-a-half of about 4,400 square feet with four bedrooms, three full baths and two half-baths, is an example of what Falcon Homes builds at The Falls of Northville.

Energy-efficient furnaces and water heaters, central vacuuming system, Kohler water fixtures and granite counters in the kitchen and master suite will be installed.

A spec home/model has been constructed, a first-floor master of about 3,450 square feet.

An office with cathedral ceiling and formal dining room with detail ceiling are on either side of the foyer. The great room with volume ceiling and many windows is straight ahead.

A two-way fireplace separates the family room from a hearth room, kitchen/ nook. The kitchen includes a large walk-in pantry and an island.

The master with pan ceiling contains a pair of walk-in closets and a two-sink vanity.

A guest suite with its own shower is upstairs, as are two other bedrooms which share a Jack-and-Jill bath.

The model as is, including landscaping, carries a price of $711,500.

Other factors including the quality of the Northville public schools, easy freeway access to M-14, the amenities of downtown Northville, Northville Hills Golf Course and Maybury State Park also are expected to draw buyers to the community.

Individual lots average a half-acre in size, and most have walk-out basements.

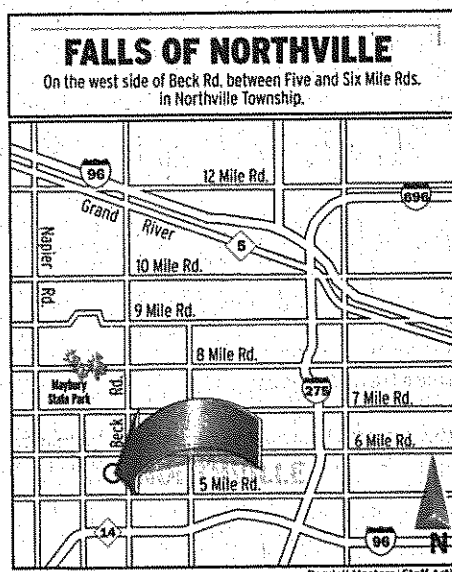

The Falls of Northville is served by city water, sewers and sidewalks.

The property tax rate is now $30.58 per $1,000 of state taxable value, half of sales price for new construction.

That means the owners of a $700,000 home there would pay $10,700 the first year.

The annual association fee to maintain common areas hasn't been established but isn't expected to exceed $500, Pietrandrea said.

The sales model/office at the Falls of Northville, (248) 348-9150, is open noon to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, or by appointment through Mathieu at (248) 437-1345.

Clean pans with this method

BY MORRIS AND JAMES CAREY
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

When you have a dirty frying pan, try this cleaning method.

It usually will remove all the black, cruddy buildup from the bottom of a pan or an electric skillet, for that matter.

Place the pan or skillet upside-down, inside a plastic garbage bag. Pour ammonia onto the back of the pan but avoid getting ammonia on the cooking surface side.

Lay an absorbent cloth over the ammonia and then add more ammonia until the rag is saturated. Close the plastic bag, making an airtight seal.

Let the pan soak overnight, or for at least eight hours.

Remove the pan from the bag and rinse it off in hot water.

Use a steel wool scrubbing pad to eliminate extra-tough spots.

Versatile ranch design has many appealing features

The Tyndal is a quaint, cottage-style ranch that would be ideal as a vacation, retirement or starter home.

The house has nearly 1,700 square feet of living space with an optional unfinished basement.

Angled windows and the covered porch provide an unusual facade. The garage has an overhanging roof. Wood-and-rock on the exterior further contributes to eye appeal. The entry acts as a foyer.

The dining room, with decor ceiling and a number of windows, is to the right.

The nook and kitchen, hidden behind a wall, are to the left. The C-shaped kitchen faces the front of the home and is open. A built-in desk and pantry run along the staircase wall. Doors open into the two-car garage and the laundry.

The center of the home is dedicated to a long, vaulted living room with a fireplace on the rear wall surrounded by windows and a door to a deck.

The master suite, also with decor ceiling, is to the right of the living room. Sliding doors here also provide access to the rear deck.

A skylight between the walk-in closet and private shower/ toilet area brightens the master bath, which contains a two-sink vanity.

Two other bedrooms and a full bath are on the other side of the living room.

This house is versatile depending on the needs of the homeowner. For example, retirees could convert one of the secondary bedrooms into a project/ craft/ sewing room and use the other as a guest suite.

When beams of sunlight enter the home, they make windows sparkle and walls come alive.

They make the greenery happy, and they form dancing shapes on the shiny wood floor.

Even beyond the entryway, natural light can do wonders. Imagine the cheery brightness of the sun's rays in the master bath. Or how about having natural light in your home office?

Skylights, large windows and doors all let the sunshine in to brighten your life.

Custom is custom from get-go at Falls of Northville

Gilberto Pietrandrea, owner of Falcon Homes, builds nothing but custom and custom-from-scratch at the Falls of Northville.

The platted community of 39 lots is off Beck between Six and Seven Mile roads in Northville Township.

"It goes from the customer's mouth to the builder's ear with no middleman here. Nothing is lost in the translation," said Dave Mathieu, sales rep.

"One customer here was looking for two years, shopping all around," Pietrandrea said. "They wanted the home they wanted. No one else would do it."

"Here, provided it meets requirements for style and square footage, they can draw any kind of plan they want. They can build their dream house if they wish or kind of step up."

"I'm not interested in having a billion-dollar operation," Pietrandrea said. "I'm a small operator. I don't have the overhead. I want to make a good living and give good value for price."

"We start at around $600,000 and can go to wherever you want to take it," Mathieu said. "The mean (half-above/half-below) will be about $700,000. We're doing complete custom building."

Ranch homes at the Falls of Northville must be at least 3,000 square feet, story-and-a-half a minimum of 3,450 and two story at least 3,800.

Brick and dimensional shingles are standard. No vinyl or aluminum is permitted.

All homes will include a three-car garage, air conditioning, fireplace, separate jet tub and shower in the master, double oven, cooktop, microwave and dishwasher in the kitchen, and basement.

Flooring can be ceramic or wood with an additional $5,000 allowance for carpeting. Twelve recessed lights are standard plus a $2,000 allowance for additional light fixtures.

This story-and-a-half of about 4,400 square feet with four bedrooms, three full baths and two half-baths, is an example of what Falcon Homes builds at The Falls of Northville.

Energy-efficient furnaces and water heaters, central vacuuming system, Kohler water fixtures and granite counters in the kitchen and master suite will be installed.

A spec home/model has been constructed, a first-floor master of about 3,450 square feet.

An office with cathedral ceiling and formal dining room with detail ceiling are on either side of the foyer. The great room with volume ceiling and many windows is straight ahead.

A two-way fireplace separates the family room from a hearth room, kitchen/ nook. The kitchen includes a large walk-in pantry and an island.

The master with pan ceiling contains a pair of walk-in closets and a two-sink vanity.

A guest suite with its own shower is upstairs, as are two other bedrooms which share a Jack-and-Jill bath.

The model as is, including landscaping, carries a price of $711,500.

Other factors including the quality of the Northville public schools, easy freeway access to M-14, the amenities of downtown Northville, Northville Hills Golf Course and Maybury State Park also are expected to draw buyers to the community.

Individual lots average a half-acre in size, and most have walk-out basements.

The Falls of Northville is served by city water, sewers and sidewalks.

The property tax rate is now $30.58 per $1,000 of state taxable value, half of sales price for new construction. That means the owners of a $700,000 home there would pay $10,700 the first year.

The annual association fee to maintain common areas hasn't been established but isn't expected to exceed $500, Pietrandrea said.

The sales model/office at the Falls of Northville, (248) 348-9150, is open noon to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, or by appointment through Mathieu at (248) 437-1345.

Clean pans with this method

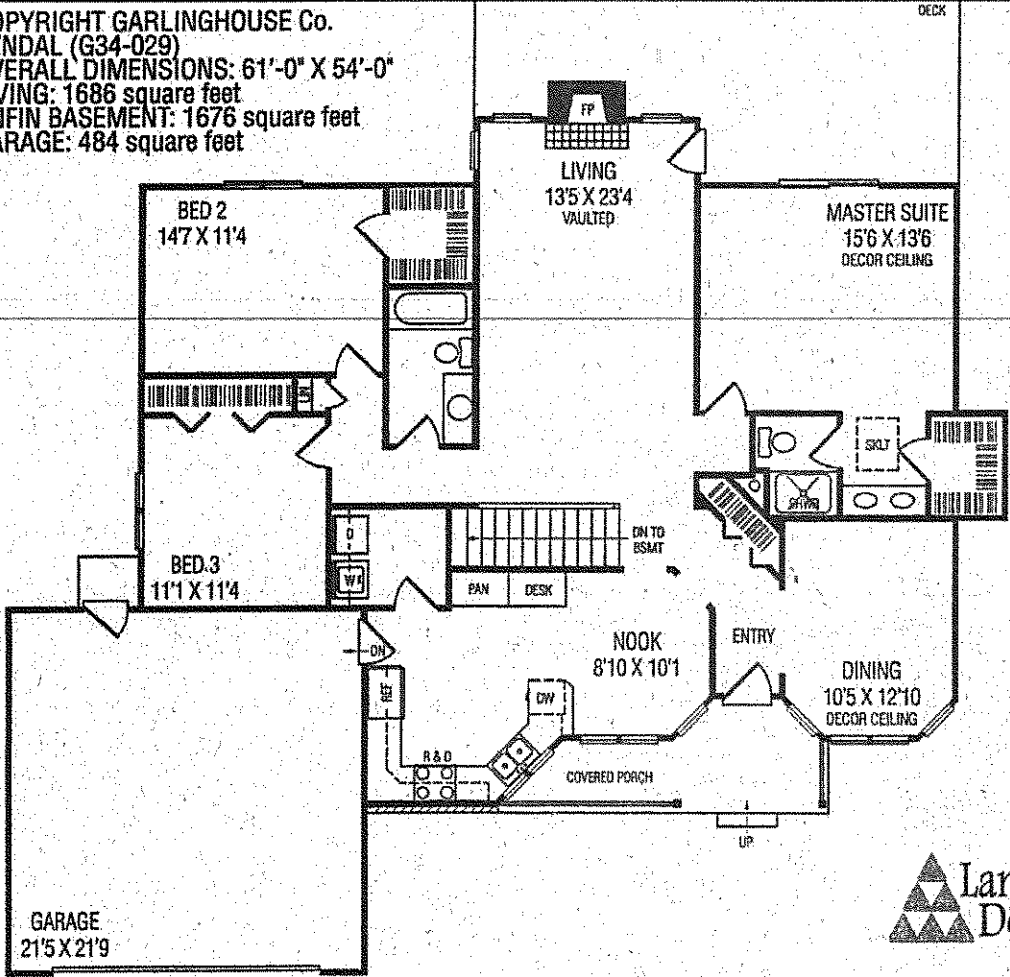

BY MORRIS AND JAMES CAREY
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

When you have a dirty frying pan, try this cleaning method. It usually will remove all the black, cruddy buildup from the bottom of a pan or an electric skillet, for that matter.

Place the pan or skillet upside-down, inside a plastic garbage bag. Pour ammonia onto the back of the pan but avoid getting ammonia on the cooking surface side. Lay an absorbent cloth over the ammonia and then add more ammonia until the rag is saturated. Close the plastic bag, making an airtight seal. Let the pan soak overnight, or for at least eight hours. Remove the pan from the bag and rinse it off in hot water. Use a steel wool scrubbing pad to eliminate extra-tough spots.

Versatile ranch design has many appealing features

The Tyndal is a quaint, cottage-style ranch that would be ideal as a vacation, retirement or starter home. The house has nearly 1,700 square feet of living space with an optional unfinished basement. Angled windows and the covered porch provide an unusual facade. The garage has an overhanging roof. Wood-and-rock on the exterior further contributes to eye appeal. The entry acts as a foyer. The dining room, with decor ceiling and a number of windows, is to the right. The nook and kitchen, hidden behind a wall, are to the left. The C-shaped kitchen faces the front of the home and is open. A built-in desk and pantry run along the staircase wall. Doors open into the two-car garage and the laundry. The center of the home is dedicated to a long, vaulted living room with a fireplace on the rear wall surrounded by windows and a door to a deck. The master suite, also with decor ceiling, is to the right of the living room. Sliding doors here also provide access to the rear deck. A skylight between the walk-in closet and private shower/ toilet area brightens the master bath, which contains a two-sink vanity. Two other bedrooms and a full bath are on the other side of the living room. This house is versatile depending on the needs of the homeowner. For example, retirees could convert one of the secondary bedrooms into a project/ craft/ sewing room and use the other as a guest suite. For a study plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, sections and an artist rendering, send $24.95 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Road E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424. Specify plan name (Tyndal) and number (G34-029). A catalog featuring hundreds of home plans is available for $12.95, or save by ordering both for $29.95. Natural light enlivens your personal space

What could add the finishing touch to a grand two-story foyer of that new home? You have a curved staircase with decorative wrought iron, a front door with leaded-glass sidelights and an unusual balcony with graceful arched windows. Yet something is missing. Then it hits you like a bolt of lightning - or a ray of sunshine. When beams of sunlight enter the home, they make windows sparkle and walls come alive.

They make the greenery happy, and they form dancing shapes on the shiny wood floor. Even beyond the entryway, natural light can do wonders. Imagine the cheery brightness of the sun's rays in the master bath. Or how about having natural light in your home office? Skylights, large windows and doors all let the sunshine in to brighten your life.

2003 Grand AM is a great value

CAReport

BY ANNE FRACASSA
AVANTI NEWS FEATURESAnne
Fracassa

There's a lot to be said about compact cars. For one thing, the mileage you get on these puppies is phenomenal. Second thing, compact doesn't really mean compact anymore.

Spending the week in the 2003 Pontiac Grand AM SE2 was a lot of fun. Not only because of the nimble handling and strong performance of its V6 engine, but also because it was actually fun to drive around my community.

Then I took it for a jaunt Up North. Just to the north of the middle of Michigan's mitten. Big lake town. And it cost me nine bucks, round trip. If that doesn't sound phenomenal to you, then try taking a GMC Yukon up there for the weekend. You'll spend more like $55 round trip.

One thing I've got to get out of my system right now is the beautiful exterior of the Grand Am. It's a classic Pontiac: the unique "cat's eye" headlamps, the distinctive, familiar twin-port grille, bold, stainless steel exhaust ports and twin-post sport mirrors.

All that makes the Grand Am a true Pontiac with a heritage that's steeped in excitement and the fun-to-drive attributes. Pontiac freshened the Grand Am's exterior this year and got rid of the bodyside cladding and smoothed the front and rear of the vehicle.

It's also equipped to the max. There's more power, more standard equipment and more available options on the SE2 for 2003. That's better for you, no?

Let's start with the performance issues. Powered by 3.4-liter (3400) V6 engine with sequential fuel injection, the Grand Am SE2 delivers 170 horsepower. The engine is mated to an electronically controlled four-speed automatic transmission.

Standard engine on all Grand Ams is a 2.2-liter dual overhead cam engine that nets 140 horses. There different versions include the SE sedan, GT coupe and GT sedan.

Back to the SE. Standard equipment includes some snappy 15-inch twin five-spoke aluminum wheels and blackwall tires. That only adds to the sporty features on the Grand Am. Other standard equipment includes air conditioning, a center console with integral arm rest, cruise control, programmable power door locks with keyless entry, leather-wrapped steering wheel with stereo controls, power windows and mirrors, 6-way driver's seat, uplevel seating with map pockets, illuminated entry, split folding rear seat, rear heat ducts and tilt steering wheel.

2003 PONTIAC GRAND AM SE2 | Vehicle class: Compact Sedan; Power: 3400 V-6 engine; Mileage: 20 city mpg city / 29 highway; Where built: Lansing, Mich.; Price as tested: $23,295.

All that and more for a base price of $20,790. The base-level of Grand Am-the SE sedan starts with a price of $17,640. Not bad.

The Grand Am SE2 driven had, as an option of course, the "solid value appearance package." It costs $2,345, but adds a great nest of stuff that makes the Grand Am more appealing.

I'm talking about 16-inch cast aluminum wheels with 16-inch tires, a Monsoon eight-speaker sound system that includes a CD player and cassette, power sunroof and leather seats.

The SE2 also has a rear deck spoiler on it, which just completes the picture. All in all, the SE2 we tested came out the door, including destination price, for just a hair over $23,000.

As you know, I hardly ever talk about the stereo systems in the cars and trucks I test. I don't think it's a selling point because most who REALLY care, take it to a shop for further enhancements or replacements.

But this was the first time I was treated to that new-fangled XM satellite radio system. Now this is cool stuff, folks. You can get more than 100 channels of coast-to-coast digital sound. Everything from Disney to Fox Sports to CNN. Right on your radio.

From country to classical to blues to talk to opera to children's programming, it's all there at your fingertips. And get this--more than half of them are commercial-free. Yep, I said commercial free.

This could almost make a daily commute to the city enjoyable again.

Inside the Grand Am, the cockpit has everything logically placed and within easy reach of the driver. Instrumentation is logical (the tach is really neat) and night instrumentation illumination is unsurpassed and truly Pontiac's finest.

Seating for the driver is comfortable, as it was for the front passenger, but rear seating is a bit tight for an adult. Kids can fit back there fine, though.

The Grand Am is fun-to-drive, easy on your wallet with fuel costs and may provide a little excitement to your everyday life. Check it out. Oh, and it's a good value for your dollar, to boot.
