Money doesn't talk much

School winner spent the least cash on election

> BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Spending the most money in May 8's Plymouth-Canton school election didn't translate into winning a seat on the Board of Education

In fact, Nancy Eggenberger of Canton Township according to Wayne County campaign reports - spent the least among the top three finishers and received the highest number of votes in the school election

Eggenberger, who captured one of the two four-year terms on the Board of Education, said her final campaign finance report will show she spent approximately $2,000 in the board race

By contrast, Kurt Heise of Plymouth Township said he spent about $8,800 - more than four times what the winner spent - for his campaign, which resulted in a third-place finish and out of the running for a board

Mark Slavens, who spent the second-highest during me campaign, imsned second to win his third term on the Board of Education Slavens resigned May 8 after being appointed a Wayne County 3rd Circuit Court judge

"I think I had name recognition," Eggenberger said "I worked on several committees and people in the district knew me, and word of mouth is a strong recognition

Final campaign reports aren t due until the end of the month, however, a preliminary report filed with the Wayne County Clerk's Office indicated Eggenberger raised $690 and spent $255 Eggenberger said her final report will include a $990 contribution from the Michigan Education Association 'I received a number of checks ranging from $10-$20, and it was nice to have that support,' Eggenberger said "I also spent some of my own money"

Heise's preliminary report showed he raised $7,225 for the campaign, which included $5,225 in contributions and $2,000 of his own money According to the report, Heise held a fund-raiser March 29 at the home of Plymouth Township resident Abe Munfakh, a former Plymouth Township board member, which was attenda, ed by 35 people

However, Heise said the final report will indicate he

Board to interview 4 candidates to fill Slavens vacancy

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Plymouth-Canton school board president Barry Simescu said whomever is chosen to fill the unexpired term of former board member Mark Slavens should be ready to get to work Tuesday night

We will interview the candidates before the board meeting, and plan on making the decision then,' Simescu said The person we select will be sworn in right away, and ready to go to work at the meeting, which begins at 7

Four people have notified the board of their interest in filling the remainder of Slavens current term, which will run through June 30 They are Nancy Eggenberger, who received the top number of votes in the May 8 election, and whose four-year term begins July 1, Kurt Heise, who finished third in the school board election, Larry Martin, who ran in the last election, and John Nichols

'We will have each candidate give us a minute or two on themselves, and then each board member will ask a question of each, similar to the League of Women Voters forum, Simescu said It would not be a surprise if Eggenberger is selected to give her a five-week head start on her term

Since Slavens was re-elected by voters for a third fouryear term, the Board of Education will go through the process again in July to fill his position until the next school board election, which would normally be until next May

ed the board will consider moving the election to November to reduce election costs, which would put the next school board election on the municipal ballots in November 2008

The Secretary of State's Office has indicated any change in school board elections must be made by Dec 31

Couple doing their part to bring church to area

BY TIFFANY L PARKS

A Canton couple is leading the effort to bring a Reformed church to metro Detroit

Margaret Waldecker, along with her husband, Richard, will host a meet and greet at their home May 21 and then have an informational meeting on June 5 to discuss the possibility of bringing a Presbyterian-based Reformed church to the region

Margaret Waldecker called the offices of the Rev Sherman Isbell in Virginia in January to inquire about forming a church in the area and says it quickly snowballed

He was so enthusiastic over the phone that it totally took me by surprise, she said 'I *hought I would tell him I was in Michigan and that he would say because of our economy Oh, they re failing But he was so encouraging

The June 5 informational meeting will be followed by a worship service on June 6 Both events will take place at the Canton Historical Museum, which is located on Canton Center Road just south of Cherry Hıll

Isbell and the Rev Sean Humby will be in town for both of the June events to get a feel of the area They can then make a recommendation to their Presbytery either for or against a church in the area

"I ll be happy with whatever they decide because that will be the Lords will, said Waldecker, adding that interest in the church has been growing 'We're very excited and really grateful at the response we ve been getting People are hungry for this'

Waldecker, who was raised in the Catholic faith, said when she and her husband began

Margaret and Richard Waldecker want to establish a Reformed Church congregation in Canton studying the Reformed theology 15 years ago, a light bulb went off

I was born and raised in the Catholic church and I was not a happy camper," she said 'Something told me the Reformed church was it It all fit together"

According to a Web page dedicated to the local efforts, the Reformed church cherishes 'the pursuit of personal godliness and loving relationships among the people of God 'The church uses the authorized King James version of the Bible

Isbell said he was excited to get Waldeckers phone call

'We re trying to make the effort to bring in new churches,' he said adding that attendance at the upcoming events is open to everyone It's not a matter of any commitment Those that want to hear good preaching and enjoy fellowship with Christians are welcome'

If the Presbytery decides to bring a church to the area, Waldecker said she's open to the location being in Belleville, Northville, Livonia or Downriver

Cost of sidewalk repair program raises the ire of some residents

BY TIFFANY I. PARKS STAFF WRITER

It's not the money, it's the principle

This argument may have fallen on deaf ears when Stanley Tse tried to offer it to township officials Tuesday night Tse has balked at the township's request he pay nearly $200 to improve portions of the sidewalk outside his Canton home

'That property belongs to the township, not to me, he said, adding hes more bewildered about being asked to foot the bill rather than the cost itself

Its not a lot of money, but it (shouldn t) have to be replaced by me,' he said I don t own the sidewalk

At its study session on Tuesday, the Township Board had a public hearing to receive homeowner feedback on any concerns surrounding the townships sidewalk ordinance and repair program

Introduced in 1999, the program was adopted to fix aging sidewalks and lessen the chance of the township being sued for a slip-and-fall accident The township has created a master plan for the project to carry it through 2010

Past inspections and repairs have taken place in subdivisions such as Windsor Park, Westbrook Manor and Sunflower Village

This year's inspections were done in Mayfair Village, Windemere, Oak Vale and other locations

According to township documents, approximately 1,050 notification letters were mailed to homeowners advising them of any requested repairs The letter also included an estimated cost

Upon inspection, damaged sidewalks are marked with either a green dot, indicating homeowner responsibility, or a red dot, denoting the townships responsibility Canton foots the bill for any sidewalks damaged because of a township utility

Tse argued that the township should pay for all of the work because if someone injured themselves, they would sue Canton, not the ındıvıdual homeowners

Longtime Canton resident Roger Hulett lives in Mayfair Village and said he supports the program, but is floored that his repair estimate came ın at about $700

"I'm on both sides of the fence because that's a lot of money in today's economy, but I walk a lot and have had those 5 a m (accidental) trips because of raised sidewalks, he said

Hulett attended the public hearing because he believes some of his sidewalk damage was caused by poor workmanship not aging

This is a good program but at the same time, I want it to be fair, he said

Municipal Services Director Tim Faas explained that those homeowners with concerns would receive another visit by the inspector to go over their property once

Pritam Singh said he does-n't have a problem with fixing his sidewalks and even replaced two slabs when he had work done on his home but said the township's request that he replace three additional slabs is wrong

"The process is flawed," said Singh, who has lived in the township for 30 years Singh told the board that he believes the damage was done by a township utility

Faas didn't rule out his claim and said the purpose of the public hearing was to hear from residents that wanted inspectors to take a second look at their property

Within 60 days of receiving notification from the township, homeowners can either replace the indicated slabs themselves, hire a contractor or allow the township to do the work and be billed

If the work is being done by the homeowner or a contractor of their choosing, residents must get a permit from the Building Services and Inspection Division If a homeowner goes through thetownship, they don't have toget a permit but must pay a 🛫 10-percent administrative

All repairs are expected to be complete by early October, For more information, call (734) 394-5150

Judge won't dismiss charges against day care director

BY BRAD KADRICH STAFF WRITER

Judge Ron Lowe isn't convinced prosecutors will be able to convict a Westland woman who ran a Plymouth day care center of failing to report abuse in the case of a Canton toddler who died last year

But he's willing to let them

Lowe, a 35th District Court judge, Wednesday denied a motion to dismiss a misdemeanor count of failure to report abuse against Jacqueline Hadwin, 36, who was director of Childtime Learning Center in Plymouth Township The charges stem from the death of 2-year-old Allison Newman, the Canton girl who died Sept 22, a death the Wayne County medical examiner ruled was caused by head trauma

The state closed Childtime after two witnesses came forward to say they d reported

ed, but Lowe

'They are going to have to demonstrate the nature of the injuries and what was known by (Hadwin) at the time she made the decision to report or not report,' Lowe said "(Prosecutors) are going to have to prove to the jury (Hadwin) had reasonable suspicion child abuse occurred"

Despite his doubts, Lowe said the decision to deny the motion to dismiss was easy as a matter of law

'People wanted me to dismiss the case because the prosecutor isn't going to be able to prove the case, Lowe said 'It's not my job to determine the facts at this point I could dismiss if it was a question of law. but this is a question of fact'

Hadwin's attorney, Todd Flood of Flood, Lanctot and Conner, didn't return calls seeking comment

Prosecutors declined to respond to Lowe's comments, noting the judge let the charge stand in preparation for Hadwin's June 28 preliminary

'We believe we had probable cause to charge in this case and that we have proof beyond a reasonable doubt (Hadwin) failed to report suspected abuse when she had a duty to do so under the law,' said Maria Miller, spokeswoman for the Wayne County Prosecutors

We will proceed with our case and, if need be, wait for a jury to speak'

side the district Among those are Detroit Water and Sewerage Department head Victor Mercado, Sen Bruce Patterson and two staff members, Susan Trussel and Bob Mauseth, Suzanne Sareini, Dearborn city councilwoman, Plymouth Township Supervisor Richard Reaume and Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack

'I ve been involved in public service for over 15 years and I have a lot of friends, Heise said

Slavens, in his preliminary report, indicated he spent nearly all of the $2,400 he raised for his campaign

The other three candidates in the school board race didn't need to file preliminary campaign spending reports because they spent less than $1,000 at the time the reports were due

Rich Robinson, executive director of the Michigan Campaign Finance Network - a nonpartisan, nonprofit coalition concerned about the influence of money in politics and the need for campaign finance reform in Michigan - said there is more money in campaigns at almost every level of politics, including school board races

"It may be nothing more than people who think hes the best candidate, or maybe there are people with hopes of getting a contract or favorable considera-tion," Robinson said "The more money that's involved, the more questions that need to be asked"

Robinson said, in general, money talks and translates into victory at the polls

Statistically, in 95 percent of Michigan elections the person with the most money wins," Robinson said "However, you can look at the last gubernatorial race, a lot of money (Republican Dick DeVos) didn't win there, either

Startling Research Unearthed After 80 Years Validates Latest Health Craze

The US spends more money on health care than the other 50 largest countries in the world combined, yet we are ranked 37th in health. Despite this alarming state of affairs, there is an enormous healing revolution occurring. The current breakthroughs of extraordinary health recovery are heavily supported by research done nearly 80 years ago. You are now the beneficiary of what has, until now, been the world's best-kept secret

"One Hundred Percent of the Diseased Organs can be Traced Back to a Misaligned and Deteriorated Area of the Spine"

in performing more than 200 autopsies, pathologist Dr Henry Winsor discovered that the organs determined to have failed (and were, therefore, named as the cause of death) actually had something in common In each and every case, the nerve that supplied the diseased organ was traced back to a misaligned and deteriorated area of the spine. In other words, he showed that the health of the nerve supply to organs determines the health of the organs themselves! The nerve system is the master system of the body - it controls and regulates every function in your body. Spinal misalignment can cause an interference within the nerve system (a condition known as subluxation) If left undetected, subluxation can lead to dysfunction

Let me introduce ourselves, our names are Dr. Mashike and Dr. Adam Mashike, and our purpose in practice is to educate and adjust the families of Plymouth and Canton back to optimal health and wellness using a completely unique and natural approach

When the body begins to experience abnormal functions like asthma, allergies, chronic pain, fatigue or lowered immunity, we must first be suspicious of some kind of nerve system interruption The problem is this You weren't taught to think that way

If Your Spine was on Your Face, You'd Take Better Care of it!...

I saw this on a marquee several years ago, and it really made sense. The dental profession has done such a great job teaching us that, if we don't maintain proper dental hygiene, it can lead to gingivitis, cavities and worse. That's why most people you know brush and floss their teeth every day an have regularly scheduled visits with their dentist. But, while poor dental hygiene might leave you with a set of false teeth, it won't kill you.

VBPS board will look at redistricting - again

STAFF WRITER

It's back to the drawing board for Van Buren Public Schools administrators as they try to redraw the school boundaries within the district

Supt Pete Lazaroff presented a plan to the Board of Education on Monday, but after an impassioned plea from some parents, the board decided to take up the issue again at a study session scheduled for 7 p m, Monday May 2 at the districts administrative building

The board made the decision after a group of parents currently living in the Tyler Elementary area, complained that they were being transferred to nearby Rawsonville Elementary

At issue is the district's desire to balance out the attendance at its six elementary and two middle schools The schools in the north, where development has continued to occur, are at capacity numbers, while schools in the south have plenty of space

According to district spokesman Paul Henning, no Canton students are being impacted by the proposed

redistricting plan

The group of disgruntled Tyler parents who live in Van Buren Township off of Denton Road just south of Michigan Avenue, are upset because their 12 children are being moved, while Tyler buses will pass their homes to bring in 48 students from five Canton subdivisions They are also upset because Tyler currently has Schools of Choice stu dents, who live outside of the district

One of those residents, Matt Best, who has a daughter attending Tyler, questioned the real need for the redistricting move especially when the district hasn't come up with a cost estimate to implement the changes

With uncertainty in school funding redistricting at this point might be fiscally irre sponsible 'he told the board

"You have not looked at the financial impact of the changes If you re going to make a massive change about this you should discuss this with your CFO (Nick Armelagos)

Lazaroff has pointed out to the board that no matter what changes are made, there are going to be upset parents He called the current recommendation the best plan

At the meeting Monday, the administration will explain that the current recommendations were made based on the changes impacting the least number of students and to equalize the number of students in the six elementary buildings

Lazaroff said it is critical to make a decision as soon as possible so teachers can be assigned for the new school

The recently re-elected Trustee Martha Toth, who made a motion to approve the administrations plan, said she sympathized with parents, but this move is to make the district more equal

This is all about fairness to me We've got far more students at some schools than others We ve got 30 percent more students at North (middle school) than South These kinds of disparities are unfair to the kids, teachers, and staff," she said

The Van Buren Administration Building is located at 555 W Columbia Avenue in Belleville next to Belleville High School

JILLIAN

Residents smile back and call out, "Hello there again, pretty girl" and Good to see you'

Welsch began bringing Jillian to Heartland after the death of his mother in February

'My mom was in a nursing home for six months and she realized that children had the power to lift spirits so she would direct Jillian to specific people to just go sit and talk with them, he said 'I started to notice what was happening because they didn't give two beans if I said hello, but when a child did it, they lit up"

After his mother died, Welsch said some residents of the nursing home in Shelby Township asked if they could return for random visits

The two tried that for a while, but Welsch said the drive from Canton to Shelby Township became taxing so he began looking for a facility closer to home They visited a place in Livonia but then discovered Heartland.

During her hour-long trips to the nursing home, Julian comes prepared with a small box of wooden signs and acrylic paints White speaking with residents, she lets them choose colors while she goes to work painting the signs, which have sayings like "peace," "love," and "believe"

Jillian's colorful workserves as decoration for several television stands throughout the facility

When asked about her favorite person at Heartland, Jillian's round blue eyes brighten and she quickly says. Hahr and then tells why she shows the weekly visits, It's says.

Rose Hoxey visits Heartland for therapy and said she was tickled to see the small child interacting with everyone.

"She's a beautiful girl and it's my prayer that more children get the foundation of what it means to serve others," she said "At this tender age, she's * learning so much grace I think ıt's wonderfül"

Greg Robbins, Heartland activities director, agreed

"We get high school students but not children this young," he said "We're grateful that they come and visit"

Welsch, who's nighttime work schedule allows him to take Jilhan to Heartland, said in addition to getting a kick out of seeing her talk to senior crtizens, he uses this time to bond with his youngest child His two older children, a 12year-old boy and a 9-year-old girl, sit out the nursing home

"This is absolutely her thing She's just like her grandma," he said and then chuckled "I'm hoping she grows up to appre-ciate older people and maybe one day she'll take care of me"

Good students understand the value of great teachers

he buzzword of the new millennium is nanotechnology — a very big idea about very tiny things

The Whatis com definition reads 'Nanotechnology, or, as it sometimes called, molecular manufacturing, is a branch of engineering that deals with the design and manufacture of extremely small electronic circuits and mechanical devices built at the molecular level of matter"

Josh Mann was turned on to nanotechnology when he was an eighth-grade student A teacher's project on the emerging field set Josh on a path toward a passion and a

Hugh Gallagher

I met Josh, a senior at Livonia Churchill High School, and Kimberly Martinez, a senior at Livonia Stevenson High School, at a breakfast for the Observer & Eccentric Academic All-Stars and their parents at the elegant Townsend Hotel in Birmingham What impressed me, what always impresses me, is how focused they are on what they want to do

Josh will attend the University of Michigan to study biomedical engineering Then he will pursue a master's degree in nano-engineering From there, great things will emerge

'I hope to develop cholesterol-ingesting nanoparticles and a delivery system to add tail codons to mRNA as a nano-engineer," he wrote in his All-Star application (No, I don't understand it either, but wow!)

Kim will also attend the University of Michigan, to study kinesiology and movement science. Her goals are also toward serving others

I want to become a physical therapist spe cializing in orthopedics and hopefully work for MedSport or a private clinic,' she wrote in her application

At the breakfast, each talked enthusiastically about their career choices, about going to the great university down the road, about their advanced placement classes, about life in general

Along the way, these young people were encouraged to reach a little further, read a little deeper, take greater risks. They were encouraged by their proud parents, who beamed and seemed a little awed by their accomplishments at the breakfast. They were also encouraged by teachers who came around at just the right time to make a difference

That eighth-grade teacher lit a fuse in Josh Mann that is burning brighter than ever That flame was kept burning by Along the way, these young people were encouraged to reach a little further, read a little deeper, take greater risks.

Churchill teacher Mary Buda, who taught Josh algebra II, calculus, discreet math and AP statistics Josh's mother raved about the teacher, who is retiring this year

In his application, Josh described how this 'phenomenal teacher challenged students to do more

(Freshman year) she established her intelligence against a group of smart kids and challenged us to perform beyond the minimum required to get an A Junior year, she pushed us to our limits in preparation for the difficult AP calculus BC exam, which everyone passed and a large portion received 5s Finally, senior year she has treated us like adults and conducted her class like a professor in order to prepare us for college

Kim was pushed by her English teacher,
Kathy Ladd
"Her class forced me to work hard and really analyze the books I was reading in order to write quality essays on them She also was the best grammar teacher I've ever had

If it wasn't for her, my ACT score wouldn't have been so high. It's because of her that I did so well on the English and reading portion. She is an amazing person and I owe her so much gratitude"

It's good to be reminded just how important good teachers are. They have recently become a concern for politicians. Teachers and their union, the Michigan Education. Association, have become the target for those who believe government has run amok. How dare they have negotiated contracts that pay them living wages and provide them health care and retirement benefits. (Who do they think they are, basketball players?)

Of course, it is more complicated than that But for many teachers, it must seem that what they do isn't valued very highly in the grand scheme of things

But Josh, Kim and many other highachieving students know just how valuable a good teacher is to their future and to the future of everyone their lives will touch

Teachers engage in a kind of nanotechnology every day, building the intellect of small children from the bottom up

Put a human face on state budget mess

Ith the political rhetoric being spun like Spider-man on steroids, you would think our state taxes provide little or no value to taxpayers. Sure, state government could be more efficient and effective while providing a higher value for the taxes collected. However, if you listen to the political spin, one could quickly come to the conclusion that we receive no return on our tax investment. That's just not true.

Consider the following the next time you hear excessive government bashing

Tom
Watkins

A burglar, rapist or other "bad guy' is plucked from your neighborhood and hauled off to prison Yep, your tax dollars at work

Remember the tears that swelled in your eyes when you read about children being abused and neglected by their parents? Yes, it costs money to care for them and keep them safe

■ Grandma is at a local nursing home and you are counting on appropriate rules, regulations and oversight to assure she is safe and cared for — yes, sirree, your tax dollars at work

■ People with mental illness or developmental disabilities are counting on the government to continue to provide the necessary resources so they may be able to live with dignitive

■ Our children need a quality education to be prepared for the hyper-competitive global economy — so thank a teacher and your fellow taxpayers for the investment in our collective future

Seems like everyone has their favorite government waste and inefficiency story Clearly, there is a need for further strategic cuts, structural reforms (including pension and health care changes and consolidation and collaboration among schools and local units of government) before taxes are raised

Many believe if taxes are raised before significant reforms are undertaken, we will never see the reforms while we will pay the higher taxes

There have been calls from across the state for bold, decisive leadership from our elected officials at the state Capitol Yet, with each day There have been calls from across the state for bold, decisive leadership from our elected officials at the state Capitol. Yet, with each day of political posturing and inaction, the problems of the state seem to multiply. The respective political parties are like a broken record, stuck on their talking points and afraid to compromise for fear of losing political advantage and power.

of political posturing and maction, the problems of the state seem to multiply The respective political parties are like a broken record, stuck on their talking points and afraid to compromise for fear of losing political advantage and power

Perhaps the great 20th century philosopher, Bertrand Russell, best captured this dilemma when he said "The central problem of our age is how to act decisively in the absence of certainty"

PEOPLE, NOT STATISTICS

As the governor and state Legislature graps ple with the tough choices of investing in our collective future, while making sensible cuts and reforms, let's remember that the 'cuts' do not simply impact a stereotyped, nameless, 'faceless, overpaid and underworked bureaucrat

Actions being contemplated will define the Michigan that 10 million of us call home. We must not ever let the decision makers forget that beyond the statistics is the face of a person.

The posturing on both sides of the political aisle over 'whose fault' the current mess belongs to and who will get the credit or blame for the potential fixes has been palpable Clearly, taxpayers believe there is enough blame to go around and want a sensible resolution — and they want it now

We are counting on our government leaders to lead — hopefully, with their heads, but also with their hearts

Chrysler more flexible

veryone is talking about the Chrysler deal My question, what is a private equi-

There is no one definition You can think of it as a mutual fund company It raises money from investors, then buys companies or makes other investments

What is unique about a private equity firm is that, unlike a mutual fund or a publicly held company that must comply with a variety of disclosure rules and security regulations, it does not have to meet many of these requirements

A private equity firm is not a publicly held company and does not report to investors or trade on open markets This gives those companies greater flexibility because they do not have the same pressures from analysts, the media and the stock market

In a mutual fund or a listed pubheld company, you and I can look at the performance of that fund on a day-to-day basis. In a private equity firm, it does not report results on a day-to-day basis, in fact, results are usually never reported in any public manner

Private equity firms have been around for years Back in the '80s, they were known for leveraged buyouts During the late 90s, many of them were known as venture capital firms

In today's market, private equity firms are known more for buying companies that have underperformed and then put ting in a more experienced management team

Can anyone invest in a private equity firm? The answer is, no There are strict rules and regulations as to who can invest in these types of firms Typically, it is the large public and private pension plans that are investing in equity firms In addition, high net worth individuals are eligible to invest in these types of companies

There are some opportunities to invest in these types of com panies, such as some hedge funds My general advice for investors is to walk away Many people are under the mistaken belief that because the rich get involved with these types of investments, that they are always successful That is not the case Many of these investments have underperformed and there have been many scams where individuals have lost their entire investment Therefore, for most of us, hedge funds and private equity firms should be avoided

Matters

Now that Chrysler has been sold. what happens to my stock?

Absolutely nothing Daimler is selling a portion of its business to Cerberus Capital Management. The transaction only deals with a portion of Daimler's business, so from the shareholder's standpoint, there will be no change

If you own DaımlerChrysler, you will own the same number of shares in Daimler AG

Whether one should consider buying or selling Daimler stock because of the sale is very difficult to analyze at this time On the face of the deal, Daimler should benefit from the sale of Chrysler The socalled mergers of equals never worked, so terminating the relationship does make sense

Although Daimler is taking a substantial loss in selling Chrysler, it will be free of legacy costs - a huge benefit On the other hand, Daimler is losing a foothold in the largest auto market in the world — the United States - and potentially creating another competitor which could cause issues down the road Daimler will retain nearly 20 percent interest in Chrysler, so if it does well, Daimler gains

In regard to buying stock in the new Chrysler, the company is private, so stock is not for sale

Over the long run, I anticipate both Daimler and Chrysler will emerge as stronger companies, however, anything can happen over the short run

Private equity status makes Vehicle fires are on the increase and dangerous

ehicle fires are quite commonplace occurrences, here and around the coun try The reason many people are surprised to hear this is based on the fact that they don t see vehicles burning regularly With a full-time career fire department, we respond quickly and most vehicle fires are quickly extinguished

While this may all be over in a period of minutes, the fires burn contents in the car, your vehicle and may even injure or kill occupants Avoid risking life for contents or a vehicle, or the vehicle itself

Fire departments across the United States responded to nearly 300,000 vehicle fires each and every year Vehicle fires kill approximately 550 people, and injure another 1,500 each year These fires have a total property damage that exceeds $1.3 billion every

Salvation Army sees more suburban requests

The Salvation Army Eastern Michigan Division (TSA) reported recently that it has seen dramatic increases in requests for its services over the past year, with sharply higher demand at its suburban corps for the first time ever The information was released in the non-profits 2007 Michigan Poverty Report

According to the report, service request increases were seen in all program categories, but they were particularly evident in the areas of food and shelter

In 2005, TSA provided 2,555,000 meals to the hungry men, women and children of metro Detroit However, in 2006 that number rose to 4,486,852 meals, representing an increase of 76 percent Additionally, in 2005 TSA's network of shelters provided a warm bed to more than 620,500 individuals during the year That number rose 26 percent to 781,692 in

On any given day in southeast Michigan, The Salvation Army provides 12,292 meals and shelters 2,124 men, women and children majority of vehicle fires are due to mechanical malfunctions This underlines the importance of sticking to a vehicle maintenance program and performing needed service as the situation arises While vehicles can be driven with minor malfunctioning deficiencies, major problems require immediate attention

Intentionally set vehicle fires account for approximate ly 15 percent of the total fires in vehicles in the U.S. This represents an increase over previous years, and they cause $165 million in property damage Collisions or overturned vehicles cause only 3 percent of the vehicle fires (although it sure seems like more than that when you watch some action movies), but do account for a large percentage of fire deaths in vehicles

If your vehicle starts smoking or flames are present, as quickly and safely as possible, pull your vehicle over and stop Shut the car's engine off and exit the vehicle Do not stay inside the vehicle searching for important papers or packages you think you may need - they are usually replaceable

Call 911 from your cellular phone, the phone of someone who stops to help, or a nearby house or business Dont attempt to investigate the fire yourself by opening the hood This increases the oxygen available and intensifies the burning Move well away from the burning vehicle While explosions are rare, an occasional tire bursting, hydraulic burst or pneumatic overpressure situation may result in a minor explosion Although rare, some pieces may actually move out a distance from the vehicle under pressure

Consider having a multipurpose fire extinguisher in your vehicle If so, you may take it out an try to control the fire while we are responding to the fire If you vehicle is leaking any fluids, don't get near them Many of them are flammable or combustible

While a fire in your vehicle is a disruption in the daily activities of life, plan ahead how you would react. A calm reaction usually hmits fire spread and avoids injures - or

Canton Cup draws record number of teams

BY ED WRIGHT Staff Writer

Ed Wright, editor (734) 953 2108 ewright@hometownlife.com

If you're looking for action in Canton over Memorial Day weekend, just follow the bouncing soccer ball

Or, more precisely, the hundreds of white-and-black spheres that will be getting kicked around as part of the 25th Annual Canton Cup Soccer Classic.

As of Thursday, a record 510 teams from throughout the Midwest had registered to play in this year's threeday extravaganza, which will kick-off Friday and run through Sunday The teams will compete on 45 fields set up at Independence,

Heritage and Griffin parks
"The neat thing about our tournament is that all 45 fields are within a fivesquare-mile area,' said tournament director John Vaughn "Last week we were at a tournament in Novi with half the number of teams we have and the fields were spread out from Eastern Michigan University, to Novi, to Hamburg Having our fields in such a relatively small area is nice, especially for the people coming from out of town

This year's event will not only be bigger (450 teams competed last year), but also better, according to Vaughn, who pointed to the addition of some unique attractions

"The Michigan Bucks, the national champion Professional Development League team that plays in the area, will be playing a league game Saturday night at Independence Park," said Vaughn 'They'll be playing their rivals, the Chicago Fire Premier, on one of the fields we're using for the Canton Cup, so the game will actually be part of the tournament

'The Detroit Ignition will also be hosting some clinics throughout the weekend and there will be athletic trainers from Oakwood at all of the sites." The ages of the participating players range from 8 to 18 Their skills will vary from recreational to premier, Vaughn added

Powers outage

2nd-half rally not enough for Rocks

BY ED WRIGHT Staff Writer

Austin Powers, the super-spy, is very funny

Flint Powers, the girls soccer team, is very good

On Thursday, the state-ranked Chargers were just barely good enough to edge a hard-charging Salem team in a game that evolved into a thriller during the closing minutes

Powers earned a 2-1 road victory by building a comfortable early cushion and holding on for dear life

Powers, which is 15-5 and ranked fifth in Division 3, built its two-goal lead on a pair of Katie Howarth goals before holding off the Rocks, who resembled a state-ranked team over the final seven minutes

The play seemed to ignite the Rocks, who amped up the pressure on their visitors from the north until the final horn sounded

The loss dropped Salem to 4-9-1 heading into next week's cross-over contest against Walled Lake Western

"I don't think we gave our best team effort until the final seven minutes," said Salem coach Joe Nora. "I think Jill's goal woke the girls up and it was like they said, 'Hey, we can play'

"We're not a bad team and we haven't been playing poorly. It just seems like we don't turn it up to that extra gear until the last seven minutes

Division 1 Regional Track & Field Meet ———

Churchill runners rule

Chargers 1st in Regional; Canton and Plymouth finish in top 5

Chargers win girls meet too Please see B3

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

The Livonia Churchill boys track and field team wiped out a season's worth of frustration against crosstown nemesis Livonia Stevenson Friday night with a memorable performance in the Division 1 Regional 5 meet held at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park's stadium

After finishing behind the Spartans in three meets over the previous seven weeks, the Chargers prevailed in the biggest competition so far this spring when they compiled 107 50 points to win the Regional title by 11 50 points over runner-up Stevenson (96) in the 16-team meet Stevenson was the defending Regional 5 champion

Filling out the top 10 spots were Detroit Cass Tech (81), Canton (78 50), Plymouth (49 50), Westland John Glenn (45), Dearborn Edsel Ford (33 50), Wayne Memorial (29), Salem (29) and Dearborn Fordson (28)

'Stevenson beat us in the City Meet by five points, they beat us in a dual meet and they beat us at Observerland, so our kids were getting tired of getting beat by Stevenson, said Churchill coach Rick Austin "I think they took that to heart tonight

This is one of the hardest-working, most-dedicated groups of kids I ve coached They're dedicated track kids, they love to work and they love to compete, and I think that showed tonight'

Austin commended the efforts of David St Amant (400-meter Regional champ), Brandon Grysko (second in the 800 run, third in the 1,600), Jonathan Robinson (second in the shot put, fourth in the discus) and hurdlers Mark Zehner, Andrew LaBerge and Jacob MacDonald

'They give us a very strong nucleus," Austin said "My hat's off to Stevenson They're having a great season and we know they'll be tough to compete against at next week's (WLAA) conference meet'

Spartan coach Scott Shaw said his team ran "fairly well," but he lamented a few mistimed baton passes

"We had a few problems with a couple of handoffs on our relays here and there,' said Shaw 'But, overall, I thought everybody ran hard

'Dan Cragel had an exceptional meet for us We were down quite a bit in the 1,600 relay when he got the baton and he made up a lot of ground and helped us finish second Dans really running well'

The Spartans chalked up 20 points in the long jump alone thanks to top-

Canton kickers knock off Spartans, 2-1

Livonia Stevenson's seven game unbeaten streak was snapped Friday by Canton, 2 1 in a Western Lakes Activities Association girls soccer crossover

Becci Houdek scored the game-winning goal off a corner kick with 15 minutes remaining

Stevenson, now 8-6-3 overall, had gone 5-0-2 since losing 1 0 to Walled Lake Northern on Aprıl 25

The Spartans scored midway through the first half when Victoria Slavin buried a shot with her left foot off a rebound attempt created by Kaithn O Hara for a 1-0 lead

But Canton answered with pressure and a goal with 10 minutes to go in the half to make it 1all

Stevenson used two goalkeep ers with Brittany Vella allowing a first half goal and Mandı Keedle giving up the Houdek tally

'We had a couple of opportunities to score, tie and even go ahead, but evidently we didn t want it bad enough," Stevenson coach Chris Pinta said 'We didn't really want to play tonight It was obvious in their body language and attitudes that tonight was going to be rough

I know we have a better effort in us and hope we're ready when we see this team again Monday (at Canton)"

PLYMOUTH 4 FRANKLIN 1º On Wednesday, the Wildcats improved to 7-5-3 overall and 6-1-3 in the WLAAs Western Division Senior Val Klemmer led the way with a pair of goals Megan Quinlan and Kelly Dobbs had one each for the winners Brittany Warner made six saves for Plymouth which led 1-0 at the half

'We struggled a little in the first half, but in the second half we turned it up a notch, said Plymouth coach Jeff Neschich

CHURCHILL 3, SALEM 0 Stateranked Livonia Churchill (12-1-3, 8-0 2) completed an unbeaten regular season in the WLAA with a win Wednesday over the Rocks (4-81361)

Hannah Ottos goal in the third minute off an assist from Bailey Brandon proved to be the gamewinner The Chargers added two more goals - Julianne Puroll in the 29th minute (from Callie Mack) and Alyssa Mıra (unassisted) in the 46th minute

Stephanie Turner, who played the first 66 minutes in goal before giving way to Megan Bauman, helped the Chargers post their ninth shutout of the season

'We were clicking on all cylinders, and everyone that played played well," Churchill coach Dave Hebestreit said eight efforts from Myles White (1st), Dave Simor (3rd) and Nathan Sergison (6th)

The host Chiefs led through the first third of the meet but couldn't sustain the momentum that their stellar crew of field-events competitors built Canton was sparked by Steve Paye and Nick Moores' 1-2 finish in the discus, Moores' triumph in the shot put and Eric Thornton's first-place high jump effort of 6 feet, 7 inches

"Our field event guys got us going early in the meet, but we weren t able to place as many guys in the running events as we would have liked, said Canton coach Bob Richardson Overall, we had some of our best times of the year and all of our relay teams had their best

I'm very proud of the guys effort We were third until the last race when Cass Tech moved ahead of us'

Kurt Britnell, head coach of the fifth place Plymouth contingent, was bursting with pride, too, after his team qualified a school-record number of athletes for the June 2 state

"We had nine state-qualifiers tonight and a lot of PRs,' said Britnell "We had five go last year, so we're making strides The guys are finding out that their hard work is being rewarded

Britnell was especially pleased for senior hurdler Nate Gholston, whose 14 37 time in the 110-meter high hurdles earned him a trip to East Kentwood, and four-year runner Pat Slavens, who qualified in the two-mile

Nates best time before tonight was 15 1, so he really ran well, said Britnell "And it's nice to see all the hard work that Pat Slavens has put in get rewarded He struggled a little last year, but came back strong for his senior season"

Leading Salems ninth-place night was senior hurdler Baze Efremov, who placed second in the 110-meter high hurdles

"Bazes performance was definitely the highlight of our night," said Salem coach Kyle Meteyer "We're going to take along a few of the guys who are on the verge of qualifying to the state meet and let them see what it's all about'

Three Observerland teams finished out of the top 10 Livonia Franklin was 11th with 24 50, Garden City was 14th (11) and Redford Union (6)

The top two finishers in each event qualified for the Division 1 state meet June 2 in East Kentwood Athletes who met a pre-determined time or distance in each event also qualified for the state meet

' Powers padded its 1-0 halftime lead with a goal three minutes into the second stanza when Howarth ripped a high, hard shot into the top left corner of the net over the outstretched arms of Salem goalkeeper Jill Slabey Howarth was assisted by Megan

"I thought we matched up well athletically with Salem,' said Powers coach Todd Anagnost 'We went wider on our attack in the second half and because of that I think we got more chances

'Overall, I thought we played well, but I wasn't happy with how the game ended Slabey made a string of solid saves to keep the Rocks within striking distance until she was replaced by sophomore Ashley Tucker with 24 30 left.

Tucker picked up where Slabey left off, making four saves over the final 20 minutes Her best came with 17 17 to go when she denied Howarth a hat trick from close range

Katie Shull, one of the Rocks most explosive scoring threats was dragged down in the 18-yard box with 6 37 to play, but no penalty was called Shull was shaken up on the play, but walked off the field on her own power On the ensuing corner kıck, Newton and Behrman hooked up on a highlight-reel goal to bring the hosts back to within 2-1

"Lindsey has a good leg and is very skillful at bending the ball and putting it where she wants to, said Nora, describing the Rocks' goal 'We've been working on her bending it in there with a little dip at the eight-yard line and she put a great ball in there for Jill, who didn't hesitate, ran in and put it home

Newton nearly knotted the game at 2-all with 52 seconds left, but her hard shot was smothered by Quaranta.

Churchill girls earn Regional T&F crown

Plymouth runners place 4th behind 3 Livonia schools

The big question heading into Friday's Division 1 Regional 5 girls track and field meet at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park wasn t 'Whos going to win?"

It was more like, By how many points will Livonia Churchill win?

The answer plenty The Chargers defended their 2006 Regional title in dominating fashion by racking up a whopping 16750 points -77more than runner-up Livonia Stevenson

Rounding out the top 10 were Livonia Franklin (7750), Plymouth (71), Detroit Cody (70), Dearborn Edsel Ford (56), Westland John Glenn (44), Detroit Cass Tech (24), Dearborn (18) and Canton (12 50)

The Chargers ran away with the crown thanks to their incred ible depth, which is on display at every Churchill practice said head coach Keith McDonald

Our practices are very competitive, said McDonald The kids push each other to do better and because of the depth we have, they have to work hard in practice or they know they won t be competing for the varsity in the dual meets

We were solid in every event and everybody did what they had to do tonight We had 16 or 17 qualify for the state meet and all four of our relays qualified so I was very pleased with our effort"

The Chargers earned first-place points in three events the shot put, which Kyndra Abron won with a heave of 38 feet, 8 mches, the 800-meter relay (Mılan Boyer, Nıcole Thornsberry, Sarah LaBerge and Mandi Coppola), and the 800meter run, which Sara Kroll took in 2 23 46 The champions slammed the door on their competition by placing second in 10 of the remaining 11 events Stevenson head coach Kelly Graham was pleased with her teams second-place effort especially the Spartans down tothe-wire victory in the 1,600meter relay when the Spartans' final runner, Courtney Calka, outleaned the Churchill and Franklin anchors in one of the nights most exciting races

That was a nice way to end the night, said Graham

I was pleased with how things went tonight for the most part We had a lot of girls seeded so the opportunity was there for points and medals We had five or six Regional champions, so its hard to be disappointed with that.

Graham said she knew follow ing the early-season Livonia City Meet that Churchill would be extremely tough to bring down

They're just way too deep for us or any other team in this Regional, she said 'I told Keith after the City Meet that I thought they were better than they were last year, and they won the Regional last year by quite a big margin

The Spartans turned in goldmedal efforts in the pole vault (Marla Winkler), the 3,200meter relay (Calka, Kristen Frey, Katie Glynn, Sarah Opdyke), the 1,600-meter run (Calka), the 400-meter dash (Brittany Mrozek) and the 1,600-meter relay (Denee Meier, Brooke Knochel, Calka and Mrozek)

Plymouth coach Kurt Britnell said the Wildcats exceeded his pre-meet expectations

"The girls surprised me a little tonight," he said "I thought a middle-of-the-pack finish would be good for them, but for the first half of the night we were in second or third place To fimsh fourth in a Regional with all those outstanding Livonia schools — I couldn't be more proud of a team"

Leading the Wildcats' charge to the top-quarter of the standings was senior Brittany Petty, who won the high jump with a 5-2 effort, and freshman Kelly Hahn, who won the 3,200-meter run in 11 28 70

Observerland squads that finished out of the top 10 were Salem (12 points), Garden City (10), Wayne Memorial (3) and Redford Union (0) seven innings, tossing a five-hitter Wednesday as host Wayne Memorial (9-16) snapped a sixgame losing streak with a win over the Rocks (9-14)

Collop, who missed the last two weeks with a shoulder injury, allowed one earned run He struck out four and walked four

I could tell before the game started that the team was excited to have Collop back and I think that confidence in him helped us win this close game, Wayne coach Frank Garcia said

The Zebras tallied the game winning run in the bottom of the seventh on a single by Mike Green followed by two walks to load the bases and a sacrifice fly from Jack Zimmerman.

Wayne tied the game in the sixth on a walk to Zimmerman, a sacrifice bunt by Jon Smoes and a single by Eric Schmitt.

Green went 3-for-4 with an RBI Tim Siegfried added two hits, including a double and two RBI Clint Cavanaugh also con tributed two hits and knocked in

'Cats improve to 17-3 with 8-0 win over Pats

Plymouth's surging softball team is just one victory away from its second-consecutive berth in the Western Lakes Activities Association conference championship game — maybe

The Wildcats (17-3 overall and 8-2 in the Division) whitewashed Livonia Franklin, 8-0, Friday afternoon at home to keep their hopes alive for a WLAA Western Division title The Patriots dropped to 18-9 and 4-6, respectively The Plymouth victory coupled with Canton's 3-0 loss to Northville on Friday left the Wildcats and Mustangs tied atop the division at 8-2 while the Chiefs slipped to 7-3. The first tie-breaker is head to-head and both teams split the season series

The second tie-breaker is overall conference record Northville is 14-2 in the WLAA and Plymouth is 13-2 heading into Tuesday's make-up game against Walled Lake Central

believed that the third tie-breaker was whichever of the two deadlocked teams won the most recent game, which would give the edge to Plymouth — if they beat the Vikings on Tuesday but this was not confirmed as of Friday night

One thing is certain — Livonia Stevenson has advanced to the title game from the Lakes Division after compiling a 9-1 division record

Megan Patterson paced the Wildcats in Friday's win as she threw a complete-game two-hitter at the Pats Patterson struck out two and walked just one bat-

The Wildcats scored six runs in the first and two in the fifth

Ern Rodes (2-for-3, run) and Amy Bondy (2-for-3, two runs) led the Cats' offensive attack.

PLYMOUTH 14, CHURCHILL 4: Ernn Rodes went 3-for-4 with a double and Kim Klonowski contributed two hits Wednesday as the Wildcats (16-3) rolled to a six-inning mercy rule triumph over host Livonia Churchill (12-13) in a WLAA crossover Hılary Antal doubled twice for the Chargers, while Katie Stodulski added an RBI single Winning pitcher Ally Ciotti and Meghan Patterson combined on a four-hitter Each went three innings, allowing a total of four walks, two hit batters and two Ks Losing pitcher Julie

Ks Losing pitcher Julie Lewandowski allowed seven runs on four hits and five walks over two innings She also hit two batter Jordan Kerr, who gave up seven runs on four hits, three walks and a hit batter, worked the final four innings

Salem's softball squad turns its season around

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Teams that start the season with a 2-9 record can sulk, hang their heads and count the days until the season comes to a merciful end

Or they can do what Salem's softball team has done the past month stay upbeat, stay focused and start beating up on opponents

The Rocks' turn-around season continued to flourish on Wednesday and Thursday when they reeled off victories over Wayne Memorial (16-0), Ann Arbor Pioneer (2-1) On Friday, Salem dropped a 7-3 decision to Livonia Churchill, leaving its record at 14-12 overall and 6-4 in the Lakes Division

Churchill (13-13, 3-7) unloaded for 16 hits Friday against the Rocks

Emily McShane led the assault going 3-for-4 with three RBI Katie Stodulski and Katina St Pierre each went 3for-4 with an RBI apiece Paula Guzik also was 3-for-4

Winning pitcher Jordan Kerr worked all seven innings, scattering nine hits and a walk. She fanned three

Salem starter Kelly MacDonald was roughed up for five runs on nine hits Melissa Leach went the final five innings, allowing two runs on seven hits

Christina Parsons and Kelly Behr each collected two hits for the Rocks Wednesday's shellacking of Wayne last just four innings due to the MHSAA 15-run mercy rule — much to the delight of the Zebras MacDonald earned the win in grand style as she tossed a nohitter while walked five and striking out eight

Salem's offense was running on all cylinders as the Rocks ripped 13 hits and drew four walks

Behr ignited the big day with a first-inning, over-the-fence home run and a single

Joining Behr in the hitting zone were Abby Pairitz (3-for-4, four RBI), Kait McKinley (two hits, RBI), Liz McCloud (triple, three RBI) and Mary Cox, who connected on a tworun double run double

On Thursday, the Rocks edged the Pioneers in a tension-packed, 15-inning marathon that finally ended when Behr knocked home Kelly MacDonald, who had walked in the bottom of the 15th

"Kelly came all the way home from first and went in hard at the plate and took a shot most players would not get up from," said Salem coach Bonnie Southerland "But Kelly knew what she had to do

"We could have hit better, but the hits we did have were at the right time"

Trailing 1-0, Salem scored its first run in the fifth thanks to Christina Parsons' RBI triple that knocked in pinch-runner

Emily, Meade
"We had several scoring opportunities, but Pioneer's pitcher threw really well," said Southerland

Behr led the Rock hitters with a pair of safeties, including the game-winning double She also threw a runner out at the plate from center field

Melissa Leach earned the win by throwing all 15 innings

"Melissa's pitch selection was right on today," said Southerland "She was ready to keep pitching keep pitching

"What an exciting game We never gave up and weren't about to walk away without a win after playing that many innings"

Canton softball team drops heartbreaker

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Northvilles Sarah Rounsifer caught one pitching gem and ruined another Friday after-

The Mustangs' senior catcher slugged a dramatic opposite-field, three-run home run with two outs in the bottom of the eighth inning to give Northville a 3-0 victory over Canton

The victory enabled Northville to stay alive in the race for first in the Western Lakes Activities Associations
Western Division as it improved to 8-2 On the flipside, the 7-3 Chiefs hopes for a title were squashed The first 7-and-a-half innings were dominated by both teams hurlers the Mustangs' Allison Holmes, who finished with a seven-hit shutout, and Canton's Hilary Payne, who scattered just four hits prior to the Mustangs three-run eighth

The Chiefs' bats appeared locked in early on as they loaded the bases with in the first on hits from Ali Taylor, Payne and Stephanie Sadek, but Holmes recorded the first of her six strikeouts to extinguish Canton's threat

Nicole Rago led off Canton's fifth with a double, but was stranded when Holmes retired the next three batters in order

Rago then made the first of two unbelievable defensive plays in the game when she robbed Brittany Birdsall of a sure triple with a diving grab in right

Canton pieced together a potential rally in the seventh, however, with runners on first and third with two outs, Holmes got Taylor to hit into a bangbang groundout to third

Rago's sterling defensive play was matched by Northville center fielder Emma Wise in the top of the eighth Lauren Delapaz reached on an error to open the inning and was bunted over to second by Payne Sadek then ripped a rope that Wise chased down with a spectacular catch in the left-center field gap

Payne retired the first two Northville hitters easily in the bottom of the eighth before Jenna Dumbleton and Wise stroked consecutive singles Rounsifer then ended the game
- and the Chiefs Division title hopes -- with her long blast to

Planning to avert school shootings is impractical

Never again

david hopper

Politicians and special interest groups made that their mantra during the weeks following the tragic shooting at Columbine High School But it did happen again, and again and again And its really too bad that liberals wag their fingers at the NRA and conservatives slap the wrists of bad television

Meanwhile students, teachers, parents, relatives and friends of victims are left with questions The outspoken demand answers, > but can t provide their own While the "big wigs" debate behind closed doors, throwing statistics and dollar signs at each other, students are caught in between, and questions of student security are raised Virginia Tech has once again driven home a point that should have been learned seven years ago in Colorado It is impossible, impractical and irrational to even attempt to secure and protect an educational setting from a school shooter

Columbine High School, Virginia Tech and Plymouth-Canton's own high schools maintain a regular staff of jump suit-clad security But a thousand-to-one student to security ratio is poor odds for the "Men in Black'

The fact remains that the only way to secure an area that spans several acres is by having an army of police officers and psychologists stand shoulder-length apart around the entire perimeter, frisking and psychoanalyz-/ ing any people and animals that attempt to enter school property to see if they are a potential threat to themselves or others

Even if taxpayers let that financial burden slide, the inconvenience would negate the very purpose of a school To learn

As is, schools waste enough time preparing for a shooting For those who haven t had the privilege to rehearse a 'Code Red' drill, lights are turned off and students quietly press themselves against the wall so the shooter can't see them Besides the fact that the student shooter - who will have rehearsed the drill many times himself or herself - will know exactly what's going on, the plan just might work Perhaps they ll just think the entire school is on a field trip. Or maybe thev II think its a Saturday

The fact is drills can take up an entire class hour, time that could be spent learning and preparing for the future Instead, schools decide to fear an unlikely threat in the pres-

So what should be done to protect students? Well, parents could home-school their children in bomb shelters or place their kid in a Kevlar bubble that rolls around Hamsters seem to enjoy those

Less drastic options include implementing common sense

No matter what CNN's coverage might imply, the probability of a school shooting ever occurring at your school, much less when you or your student are there, is a fraction of a percent And even then, the odds that you survive are pretty good Students are more likely to die in a car crash any day of the week, but you don't wet your pants every time you buckle up

There are risks inherent in everything we do And to enjoy the privileges we have as Americans, we can assume these risks Otherwise, the school shooter has already

Its an impractical idea to think that teachers principals and psychologists are going to catch the shooters

Students need to be aware of their surroundings, assuming nothing and trusting their gut feeling If a kid seems like they might initiate a shooting, say something

The only thing that can stop a student from hurting a student is another student Security might help out too, but don't count on it They're making sure everyone puts their 1Pods away

Service clubs give students the opportunity to make a difference

Little hands can make a big difference For proof, just look at the community service clubs that students participate in at Bentley and Isbister Elementary schools The Grateful Isbister Volunteers Everyday Club, also known as the GIVE Club and the Bentley Care Club both teach children to understand the importance of helping

The Bentley Care Club is inspired by the children involved and how they desire to make a difference in the world The kids come up with the service ideas and the teachers help the projects along At first they started in their own backyard but soon branched out to projects that would help others throughout Michigan, across the country and all over the world In the past they have collected money for victims of

VITAS is about life, some of the most important moments of life.

I'm not a nurse But my wife's failing heart and lungs turned me into one

Before we called VITAS, it felt like I was all by myself I was overwhelmed I was a cop for 35 years—I'd never felt so helpless

Then, there was VITAS

The pain medication was delivered The medical equipment came when they said it would Never a check to write

Nurses, nurses aides, social workers, chaplains even their doctor came to the house

When things got tough, VITAS was there around the clock

VITAS calls it Continuous Care I call it a lifesaver, a friend.

VITAS cheerfully welcomes enthusiastic new volunteers... just call us!

Hurricane Katrina and earthquake victims in India, adopted an animal at the zoo, have written letters to children in the hospital and sent 75 boxes of Girl Scout cookies to our armed forces in the Middle East.

In their most recent project, they took up a collection for the Humane Society, which fourth grade students decided on after hearing a presentation from one of the society's representatives They felt that the cause was a worthy one, and the issue of helping animals was important to

Because the students bring forth issues they feel strongly about, they feel empowered by the difference they can make When asked why they wanted to help others, students had many responses

The golden rule is to treat others how you want to be treated, said Olivia, a first grade student at Bentley

Cassidy, a Bentley fourth grader offered, 'Kıds have the power'

The Bentley Care Club is not exclusive to one group of students, but instead free for everyone, kındergarten through fifth grade to become involved with

The GIVE Club at Isbister is similar to Bentley's club The program started during the 2000-01 school year and has taken off

Allowing the students to give back to others, the GIVE Club participates in a number of services including Kids Against Hunger, blood drives, collecting pennies for patients for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, bake sales and car washes The GIVE Club has had many collections, including a book drive for Mott Childrens

Hospital, school supplies for children in Africa, can drives for First Step and the Salvation Army, and an annual Giving Tree during the holiday season

'Our school, the students and families are very blessed. The GIVE Club is a way for our students to give back, said James Buhro, a leader of the GIVE Club program Through these initiatives, children learn that it's wonderful to help other people

Unlike in high school, community service is not required for elementary students The hope is the lessons they learn will continue on with them into the future

As Paxton, a fourth grader at Bentley, puts it, Its good to help expert level)' He said I don't play that much, about three days a week, and an hour or so a day'

Becszlko, on the other hand, is guilty of not being able to walk away from the game, playing about five hours a week

'I don't get to play as much as I want to because of volleyball, but on weekends I tear it up," she said enthusiastically "I consider myself an addict"

Becszlkos greatest accomplishment with the game is having just one more song to beat on Guitar Hero II's expert

The Mini Gibson SG controllers five fret buttons are each colored differently to match up accordingly with the frets at the button on the screen while playing To play a note, a player must hold the correct fret buttons down and strum the "strum bar simultaneously The controller has a fabric strap used to help hold it and is connected to the

PlayStation via a cord A cordless controller is also available in most stores that sell Guitar Hero games

It was really hard to get started at first My pinkie finger wasn't long enough to reach the last fret button while trying to play on expert," said Christine Milo, Plymouth High School junior "I improved a lot after practice

Milo is new to playing Guitar Hero and was introduced to it through friends and nights of playing with everyone else'

Within a few hours, a player can accomplish beating a whole level and play songs that are four to five minutes long on the Expert Level

There is nothing that exhausts my fingers quite like this, Barretta said, while admitting that he has an arthritis-like feel after playing Becszlko agreed that the game could be tiring This is almost like a sport," she said 'You should stretch

BY SARAH WOODS

The Canton Summit has as much appeal as any recreation center Built for jocks, yet striving for more It has the standard pool, gym, locker rooms and other features common for exercise, but a quick turn around reveals an exquisite banquet hall with a ballroomesque feel

The room is bulging with an excess of space Its a perfect place for a band show

The banquet hall offers an oversized, yet underfurnished, room It features two stages parallel to each other, giving easy access and smooth transitions for bands

On March 30, each band played around a 20-minute set, giving the show a brisk speed The show only cost $5 - a reasonable price to see 11 bands in three hours

With the large space, somehow filled with an even more expansive noise, the show only could deplete my hearing further Some bands were tasteless, repetitive and to be quite frank, time fillers, other bands bands, an open mind was plausible but not always appealing A good number of the bands offered an aura of originality, whether or not someone's choice of music was compatible with the bands, the band on stage commanded attention

I arrived in the middle of Hedorah's set. The song I stepped into was bursting with lush melodies and a thick beat Although there were no vocals resonating, it was perfection The next band that caught my attention was Lyra With strong, deep vocals, their songs were striking and ear-shatter-

Both bands were mood pleasers, and glued my feet to the floor, pondering what exuberant bass line would trail in

The last two bands in the show were loved by the crowd They made you want more and kept everyones energy up The first, Violets for Verona, had only played one previous show With strong lyrics in the song My Words Are My Weapons, they drew one of the biggest crowds of the bands there

ing beats The second band was Never Turn Back The band's lead vocalist offered a strong, good pitch and the upbeat melody was accented by, not only the usual instruments, but a keyboard too

They were energetic with a loud chaotic sound and pulsat-

The show, overall, was a success For a night of entertainment at a good price, I hold true that no celebrity need be present The only advice I have for a future Summit show is get there early and stay until the end

You never know what the different bands will have to offer

STUDENT CARTOONS

These are worst sports team names

BY BECKY SIEGEL

The name of a sports team is supposed to strike fear in opponents and represent the area the team is from Why else do you think teams are often named after vicious animals? You would never hear of a team called the Clawing Cats because people don't view cats as a vicious

anımal

Ifa

team

were called

that the soft, petlike image of the becky siegel common house hold pet would be applied to the teams performance The realization that there are teams with these horrible names led me to make a list of the three worst team names in the NCAA and professional sports 1. Ohio State Buckeyes The name was originally supposed to honor the pioneers of the Ohio frontier — noble, but I don t understand what the pioneers have to do with a nut tree

Some OSU alumni would argue that, 'Yes, we are named after a nut, but Becky did you know the nut is poisonous? Yes, yes, I did know the nut was poi sonous, but again, you are named after a nut. Poisonous or not, I would never be scared of a nut. However, since the Ohio state tree is the Buckeye tree, this team scores fairly well in relativity' as it does have something to do with the area.

2 Utah Jazz (NBA). Again, the name is lacking in the fear department As far as I know, nobody is physically afraid of a genre of music The relevance of this team name was great, until the move to Utah in 1979

This team, as I m sure you've guessed, came from the jazz capi tal of the world New Orleans In this state, the name wouldn't have been bad As much as I researched, I couldn't find any thing that linked the state of Utah and jazz music. Please, if you change the location of your team, re-evaluate the effectiveness of your name This applies to you to Lakers Minneapolis has tons of lakes thus Lakers made sense But since when is Los Angeles known for its many

3. Syracuse Orange First, I want to give the university some credit It tried change Syracuse tried the names Saltine Warriors and Orangemen/Orangewomen before settling on the Orange in 2004 When I saw Saltine Warriors as a prior name, I originally wondered why the school ever changed its name I eventually found out though, that the name was changed with good reason They were named the Saltine Warriors after an article in 1931 described artifacts from a Native American tribe that were found on campus (both relevant and slightly fearful)

Unfortunately, the article was found to be a hoax So Syracuse rightfully decided to change its name from the fake Native American tribe 40 years later From there it was downhill for Syracuse University, as it got its inspiration for its new name from the color orange Wow, a color Really? How original You know, if I ever began a university, I would name my team after Crayola crayon colors Tickle Me Pink anyone? How about Pine Tree Green? Either of these seem to strike fear deep in your heart? No? And neither does the color orange If you ever begin a sports team, just remember that relativity and a fear factor are the most important criteria. You don t want a name that is lame and weak but you also don t want a name that scars your Lattle Leaguers for life The lesson here is that food, music and colors are not scary Thus, they are horrible team names If you want to take it one step further, when was the last time a team named after a food, music genre or color won a championship? Exactly Becky Siegel attends Stevenson High

City of Plymouth RESOLUTION 2007-2008 CITY BUDGET HEARING

WHEREAS, the 2007-2008 City Budget was presented by the City Manager on April 2, 2007, and was reviewed by the City Commission with the Administration during two public study sessions, and

WHEREAS, various modifications have been made to the proposed budget, based on a review of projected revenues and expenditures, and the City's priorities for various programs and projects,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the City Commission hereby calls a public hearing to consider the proposed 2007-2008 City Budget, as revised, in accordance with the following notice

City of Plymouth NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING 2007-2008 PROPOSED CITY BUDGET

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on Monday, June 4, 2007, at 700 PM in the portable band shell in Kellogg Park, or in the Commission Chambers of City Hall at 201 South Main Street in the event of inclement weather, for the purpose of discussing and receiving public comments on the proposed 2007-2008 City Budget

PROPOSED 2007 CITY MILLAGE RATES: The property tax millage rates proposed to be levied to support the proposed budget will be a subject of this hearing The following statements are provided concerning the 2007 proposed millage levies for the City of Plymouth

The 2007 tax rate for City operating millage is proposed to be 11 3834 mills, which is the same as the 2006 operating tax rate The City Commission has the authority under the City Charter to set the operating millage rate within the maximum allowed rate of 11 3834 mills, as adjusted by the Headlee millage roll-back formula

The 2007 tax rate for debt service millage to fund debt service requirements for the 2002 and 2004 General Obligation Street Bond issues is proposed to be 1 2300 mills, a decrease of 1 1900 mills from

The 2007 tax rate for City solid waste and recycling millage is proposed to be 1 9000 mills, which is a decrease of 0700 mills from the 2006 tax rate

The total City millage for all purposes is proposed to be 14 5134 mills for 2007, which is a decrease of 1 2600 mills from the 2006 total City tax rate of 15 7734 mills

EQUALIZATION FACTORS: Wayne County established a tentative 2007 equalization factors of 10515 for the residential class of property, 1 0656 for the commercial class of property and 1 0695 for the industrial class of property Since the City has increased assessments for the residential, commercial, and industrial classes for 2007 by the proposed factors, all 2007 equalization factors will be set at 1 0000 than picking up the pieces later According to a study by Harvard University, 51 percent of young adults voted in the 2004 election while only 46 percent voted in the 2000

It is encouraging to see an increase in voting participation, but 51 percent is not good enough Every teen should have a voice Voting is a way for us to change our future now

According to the same study, young voters were more likely to "cite registration mistakes or a lack of registration knowledge as a reason why they did not

While it seems many young voters are uninformed about the registration process, Alı Martın, a 2006 Farmington High School graduate, says that her school "encouraged" her to register and plans to vote in the next election

Registration is a simple process In Michigan, anyone who is eligible can register to vote at any time An eligible voter is a United States citizen, someone who has lived in Michigan 30 days, and is at least 18 years of age by Election Day Online registration is not yet available in Michigan, but the application can be downloaded and mailed

Applications can be completed at the Secretary of State office, a military recruitment center, the City Clerk's Office, or the health department Many people register to vote when they renew their driver's license A voter registration card will be created to serve as identification on Election Day If this card is lost, a driver's license will serve as sufficient identification

Some teens who are 17 now will be able to vote in the next election If a teen turns 18 on or before Election Day, he or she is eligible

GOLF COURSE 47000 Powell Road • Plymouth 734-453 9800

Register now so you don't forget later Even if a person has registered, he or she may not vote until 30 days after, so don t postpone this important responsibility until later

Some people think their vote is insignificant in a country with so many people This is a misconception, your vote gives you a voice, Mitch Albom sums that up very well in the last few lines of his poem, Small Voice, Big Difference"

Tell me how a person trying/ to work and sleep and eat,/ can make a dent in problems meant for armies or Wall Street / Tell me how a simple soul/ Turns living from the dead/ and here it came, a single word,/ vote the small voice said'

AAUW says women lag behind on pay equity

New research released April 23 by the American Association of University Women Educational Foundation shows that just one year out of college, women working full time already earn less than their male colleagues, even when they work in the same field. Ten years after graduation, the pay gap widens

In the report, Behind the Pay Gap, the AAUW Educational Foundation found that just one year after college graduation, women earn only 80 percent of what their male counterparts earn Ten years after graduation, women fall further behind, earning only 69 percent of what men earn Even after controlling for hours, occupation, parenthood, and other factors known to affect earnings, the research indicates that one-quarter of the pay gap remains unexplained and is likely due to sex discrimination Over time, the unexplained portion of the pay gap

The research also shows that 10 years after graduation, college-educated men working full time have more authority in the workplace than do their female counterparts. Men are more likely to be involved in hiring and firing, supervising others, and setting pay

'By looking at earnings just one year out of college, you have as level a playing field as possible,' said AAUW Director of Research Catherine Hill 'These employees don't have a lot of experience and, for the most part, don't have care-giving obligations, so you'd expect there to be very little difference in the wages of men and women But surprisingly, and unfortunately, we find that women already earn less – even when they have the same major and occupation as their male counterparts'

The AAUW research also shows that this pay gap exists despite the fact that women outperform men in school – earning slightly higher GPAs than men in every college major, including science and mathematics

"The persistence of the pay gap among young, college-educated, full-time workers suggests that educational achievement alone will not close the pay gap, Hill said 'We need to make workplaces more family-friendly, reduce sex segregation in education and in the workplace, and combat discrimination that continues to hold women back in the workplace"

AAUW has worked successfully to create educational opportunities for women and girls," said Lisa Maatz, AAUW director of public policy and government relations "It's clear that barriers beyond schooling have prevented true pay equity, and AAUW continues to be a strong advocate for legislative efforts to address this discrimination"

The report also includes other findings

■ Women who attended highly selective colleges earn less than men from either highly or moderately selective colleges and about the same as men from minimally selective colleges

■ Ten years after graduation, women are more likely than men to complete some graduate education

Men and women remain segregated by college major, with women making up 79 percent of education majors and men making up 82 percent of engineering majors. This segregation is found in the workplace as well, where women make up 74 percent of the education field and men make up 84 percent of the engineering and architecture fields.

The biessed stillness of the woods away from the clamor and futility of man. In this feverish madly whirling human world the nonchanging ways of nature bring comfort. The mountains stand quite majestic and the birds sing the same songs century after century bet you did not know you live in Region 3 of the United States Fish and Wilding Service. You are not alone I did not know either But that bif of obscure knowledge means you may celebrate spring and wonders of bird migration on Saturday, May 12, at the Humbug Marsh? That's not a typographical error. Had to check that, tob

Birds know no boundaries and we are, in a major migratory flyway. Most birders and nature lovers know that well' and some dedicate the spring days of early May to watch the warblers, while others seek out great blue herons unquet peaceful places free of noisy human activity, or listen in awe to sand hill cranes in flight And anyone who sleeps with windows open this time of the year knows that bird song wakes the sun Back at the Humbug Marsh sights, sounds and colors of bird arignation; movement and melody is magnified tenfold. And thanks to the work of the Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge, the International Wildlife Refuge Alliance, the Michigan Nature Conservancy and many supporting agencies including Wild Birds. Unlimited and the DTF-Energy Green Team you are invited to a celebration,

JONATHAN SCHECHTER

A great blue heron waits for a fish to move far from human disturbance

call it a party if you wish But before you slip into your spring finery, keep in mind the invitation states "It will be a one-half mile walk to the river frontage, dress accordingly for the weather EXPECT MUD"

The celebration is connected by wing and by air to all who appreciate birds

Bottom line The International Wildlife Refuge Alliance and the Detroit River International Wildlife Refuge invite you to join in celebrating "the very first public wildlife observation deck constructed in the refuge and the release of the bird driving tour brochure Byways To Flyways" This new federal wildlife refuge, partnered with our Canadian friends across the river and Point Pelee National Park in Canada (a funnel of land that channels many of the same birds you heard sing this morning) adds protection to rest, feeding and nesting areas for migrating birds, and migration is a risky business for birds

Melissa Soule, director of communications and marketing for the Nature Conservancy, confirmed what I wanted to know There will be light refreshments to go with the short ceremony that includes several congressman and Nita Fuller of the US Fish and Wildlife Service (But I ll miss out I'll be in Utah dabbling with birds of a different feather, training with wilderness-loving medics in hot canyons and along the Colorado River)

So just where is this oddly named marsh? Humbug Marsh is in Trenton and Gibraltar off of Jefferson Avenue across from Knights of Columbus The official celebration runs from 9-10 a m For detailed information, e-mail Project Coordinator Janae Reneaud janae_reneaud@fws gov or Melissa Soule at The Nature Conservancy msoule@tnc org

As I was scrambling about factchecking for this good news event, a celebration of spring migration, Melissa threw a few facts to me

She reminds us that Oakland County and vicinity is, "In the middle of the world's largest freshwater ecosystem And the Detroit River in terms of nature and migration importance is tied directly to the birds we enjoy in spring As for borders, 'Birds Know No Boundaries a phrase with global implications, from international borders, to the shrubs that separate your yard from your neighbors

Event to raise funds for children with leukemia

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

The photograph of Dakota Davis is too graphic to print Taken just three days after he was diagnosed with leukemia, the image shows massive bruised and red raw areas on his face and chest

If Dakota had been born in the 1960s, he would have had only about a 2 percent chance of survival Five years after receiving chemotherapy at Beaumont Hospital, the 7-year-old Troy boy is in remission and now considered cancer-free His mother, Dawn, is grateful not only to the doctors and nurses who cared for Dakota, but the Southfield-based Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan (CLF) A week after diagnosis, the nonprofit began providing the family with financial assistance, prescription reimbursement, emotional support and information about this cancer of the blood

In return, Dawn Davis is doing everything possible to help other families of children with leukemia, lymphoma and related blood disorders As a member of the event planning committee, Davis and her family will take part Saturday, June 9, in the first Walk for Hope and Support for CLF at Kensington Metropark in

"The foundation did everything and anything they could The emotional support was indescribable Til this day, we still get emotional support," Dawn Davis said

Emotional support was crucial to Catherine Withrow after her daughter Amanda was diagnosed with leukemia in November 2005 Withrow had noticed a black and purple bruise the size of a plum on the 3-year-old Bruising, paleness, nose and gum bleeding, infections and fever, and joint and bone pain are all symptoms of leukemia

For the next seven months, the Canton mother slept at University of Michigan C S Mott Children's Hospital as Amanda underwent five rounds of chemotherapy Today, the 4-year-old is in remission and attending Trinity Presbyterian Preschool in Plymouth There is still about a 30-percent chance the leukemia may return "The Children's Leukemia Foundation gave us a booklet with lots of information and pages in back for tracking reactions to medications and names of doctors," Catherine Withrow said "Once she got out of the hospital, one of the neatest things is they have social activities Once she finally got out of the hospital, instead of being relieved we worried. We had a chance to meet other families who were one year out who had all been through what we'd been through It makes you realize these kids are still alive We can do this It keeps your hope up On the floor we made a lot of friends whose children have died and that's hard

Dr Charles Main is hoping one day soon he will be able to tell parents there is a cure Main began treating leukemia patients at Children's Hospital even before graduating from Wayne State University's medical school in 1964

'As more and more chemo became available, we could do more things for the patients The survival rate has slowly, slowly increased, said Main chief of pediatric hematology and oncology at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak for the last 21 years The numbers have gotten better because of chemotherapy, blood and platelet transfusions, the antibiotics we have, medicines for nausea, medicines to bring white cell count back The survival rate is now about 85 to 90 percent It's been an incredible time But we're still treating children with chemo, (which are) poisons, and radiation therapy I m looking forward to the day when chemicals stop the cell and cause it to go back to being a normal cell

Beaumont, as part of the Children's Oncology Group (COG) cooperative trials, works together with about 240 institutions in the US and Canada to find the most effective treatment for each

'Instead of just taking our numbers and doing research, we all work together - Beaumont, Childrens, St Johns, U of M, Michigan State, Hurley in Flint, St. Jude, Mayo Clinic, said Main, of Beverly Hills "We talk to COG and they tell us which treatment that child should receive It's the parents that give us ' the trust that gives us the opportunity and privilege to take care of these children and see the treatments improve

The survival rate has increased so dramatically that 19 years ago Main established a scholarship program for cancer survivors through Beaumont with the support of Birmingham merchants

The basic idea was to tell them you have a future, Main said Back in the 1940s, no one survived leukemia. Sylvia Brown knows about the suffering parents go through along with the rest of the family, so she decided to establish the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan 55 years ago to ease their distress Brown's 2 1/2 -year-old daughter Sandra Ann lived only one month after doctors told her and husband Harry the grim news

It developed into a fabulous organization We had bingos, din

Amanda Withrow of Canton shows off her new haircut Amanda lost all of her hair while undergoing chemotherapy for leukemia. Today, the 4-year-old girl is in remission ners sold cookies, Christmas cards to help raise money and in the meantime helped each other. We shared the good times and the bad, said Brown, 89, a former West Bloomfield resident now living in Southfield Brown served as executive director of the nonprofit until Harry developed cancer in 1981 and died She remains on the board

Michigan Eye Doctor Helps Legally Blind Woman to See Again

Dr. Sheldon Smith helps those with low vision to enjoy daily activities like reading and driving.

By Elena Lombardı

Low vision is defined as vision that cannot be corrected with regular prescription glasses or contact lenses For most people, low vision means they cannot drive or do daily activities like reading a newspaper With specialized treatment people with low vision can get back to doing the things they enjoy

Michigan Optometrist, Dr Sheldon Smith helps people who have lost vision from macular degeneration and other eye conditions Just like looking through a pair of field glasses or binoculars, telescopic glasses make things look bigger, closer, and much easier to see

"Many of my patients consider me the last chance to help their vision," states Dr. Smith.

Macular degeneration is the most common eye disease among the senior population Twenty five percent of people over 65 years of age have some degree of degeneration When the macula, a small part of the retina, degenerates it leaves a blind spot right in the center of vision making it hard to recognize faces, read a book, or pass the driver's vision test

The cause of macular degeneration is unknown However, it has been shown that

UV light from the sun, smoking, poor nutrition and aging are contributing factors In addition, 15% to 20% of macular degeneration cases have been shown to be genetic there are experienced doctors who can help them with low vision care," says Dr Smith "My job is to figure out anything and everything possible to help a person see at the best level possible"

Valerie Bassett, 79, a music teacher and church organist from Essexville, Michigan was turning down music not see the music from the teacher's position Smith fit Valerie with telescopic glasses with an adaptor to read music "Now I use my glasses to participate in worship service, sing hymns and read the bible I can read music It's wonderful to be able to see again I have a new lease on life!" says Valerie

There are as many low vision devices as there are various activities Bioptic telescopes help some people continue driving, while special prismatic glasses can help for reading and other hobbies Devices range in "People don't know that price from $500 to $2,500

> "Every situation is unique Each person's level of vision varies and every patient has different desires," states Dr Smith "Our ultimate goal is getting patients doing those things they most wish to do The impact on quality of life and independence is remarkable "

Emmy and Tony Award-winning actress to headline fund-raiser

Julie Harris, one of the most awarded actresses of the stage and screen, headlines the University of Michigan Aphasia Program 60th anniversary fund-raising event, Its a RAP 60 Year Celebration of the U-M Aphasia Program The event June 1-2, includes an exclusive screening of her new movie, The Way Back Home, in which Harris portrays a woman who had a stroke

Harris, 81, attended the U-M Aphasia Program in May 2006 as part of her recovery from a stroke and resulting aphasia that occurred in May 2001

The U-M Aphasia Program attracts clients from across the United States and other countries due to its unique approach to aphasia therapy It is an intensive program, with clients participating in six-week sessions, receiving 23-hours of therapy each week Therapy is conducted by clinically-trained professional speech language pathologists not students, offering an individualized therapy program with a limited number of participants to ensure a high ratio of staff to clients for the most effective one on-one treatment

Aphasia is an acquired language disorder that results from damage to parts of the brain Stroke is the leading cause, however, it also can result from brain tumors, head injuries, brain infections, and other brain conditions People with aphasia know what they want to say but cannot always get out the words It can affect talking, understanding, reading, and writing Memory and thinking can also be reduced An estimated one million Americans of all ages have aphasia.

The two-day event begins the afternoon of June 1 with informational workshops on the latest in stroke and aphasia research and therapy featuring Dr Jennifer Majersik of the U-M Stroke Center, and Dr David Steinberg, Medical Director for Rehabilitation Services, St Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor The workshops take place at the Ann Arbor Marriott Ypsilanti at Eagle

On the evening of June 1, there will be a special exclusive first public screening of The Way Back Home. which takes place at the historic Michigan Theater in Ann Arbor Also attending the event will be producer Michael H King, who will introduce Harris and the movie to the audience

On Saturday, June 2, morning and afternoon workshops focus on the latest technology to help clients and family members, multi-modal communication techniques, music and art therapy, and caregiver support On the evening of June 2, a gala reception will be held to honor Harris, and includes a special VIP reception where guests will have the opportunity to meet the most honored performer in Tony history with 10 nominations and five victories. She is the only actress to date to receive 10 nominations and received a Lifetime Achievement Award in 2002 During her acting career, Harris won three Emmys Television fans of Knots Landing remember her fondly in the role of Lilimae Clemens Harris who was awarded the American National Medal of the Arts in 1994 by the National Endowment of the Arts in Washington DC, was born in Grosse Pointe

All June 2 events take place at the Ann Arbor Marriott Ypsilanti at Eagle Crest For more information. visit www.aphasiahelp.com.or.call (734) 764-8440

The University of Michigan Aphasia Program was established in 1947 to assist World War II veterans who sustained injuries in combat. It is the oldest, most effective program of its kind for treatment of aphasia in the US The intensive program provides clients with as much therapy during a six-week session as a person would receive in one year of traditional therapy For more information, visit www aphasiahelp com

Exercise will help save eyes

Peter's Principles

Peter Nielsen

Marla from Sterling Heights is concerned about losing her sight as she gets older. What can she do?

Marla, start exercising A new study found people who exercised three or more times a week decreased their risk of developing age related macular degeneration by 70 percent

Researchers sav exercise reduces systemic inflammation It also reduces the failure of cells that line the eye's blood vessels Both of these conditions play a role in the development of age-related macular degeneration Age-related macular degeneration gradually destroys the sharp, central vision you need to see objects clearly This can interfere with daily tasks like driving and reading

So get out and exercise!

Cindy from Franklin drinks a lot of cola and wants to know just how bad it is for her

It is not just cola that is bad, it is all caffeinated, carbonated drinks A recent study linked most carbonated drinks to lower bone density among girls Until this new piece of research came out, studies had only linked cola to the

Researchers believe one of the problems is the caffeine in the drinks Caffeine increases the excretion of calcium by the kidneys, so less is absorbed into the bones Colas are also full of phosphoric acid, which may lower blood levels of calcium, causing weaker bones Experts found no evidence of the carbonation itself causing bone problems

Your best bet is to drink more water Some 75 percent of all Americans suffer with some dehydration Water is key to a healthy body, so drink

CARPAL TUNNEL SYNDROME

Many of you are fam liar with the features of carpal tunnel syndrome. In this condition the nerve serving the palm thumb 2nd and 3rd fingers become pinched in the wrist As a result you feel numbness in the palm and first three fingers of the hand. The discomfort becomes intense at night and can wake you repeatedly from sleep. When your doctor examines the hand, he may find that the muscles are small and/or weaker than in the

At times, features of the condition are not straightforward, and your doctor before starting treatment may want further proof of the diagnosis of carpal tunnel syndrome The best way to obtain confirmation is through nerve conduction studies a method to stimulate the nerve electrically and record the nerve's response. Such testing will show that the nerve is impaired and to what extent

However at times itesting indicates that the impairment is mild even minimal. This difference in results between what you explain is happening and what the laboratory tests indicate is going on occurs often in medical care

Certainly a discrepancy will cause your doctor to pause and look for another explanation. But if he finds no alternative reason for your pain he will direct treatment to resolve the carpal tunnel condition It is a general rule in medicine. In a conflict between your experience and the laboratory results your experience takes precedence www drjjweiss yourmd com

New hires get advice from seasoned pros on making grade

BY JULIE BROWN STAFF WRITER

Lisa Kennedy, owner of The Lisa Kennedy Agency in Canton, offering Nationwide insurance, has some thoughts on what she likes to see in employees

'I like to see enthusiasm for life, good eye contact, good verbal/written skills, good computer skills, demonstrated success (no matter how entry-level the position what have they done to show they take pride in their work/accomplishments and want to stand out amongst their peers),' she said Kennedy, a Canton resident, likes hires who are eager to learn new things, can garner resources to solve problems and have great customer service skills

She's an assistant district governor for the Rotary service club's District 6400, and applies that organization's 4-Way Test standards, seeking hires who offer honesty, integrity, positive thinking and are responsible and depend-

EEO/Drug-Free Employer

She also likes to see job stability Advice I could offer to candidates is please, please, please proofread/spell check your resume It absolutely amazes me that I receive resumes with misspelled words/typos/improper grammar It makes a prospective employer think that you didn t even care enough to put your best foot forward on the resume, what will your work be like Also, display confidence (not arrogance) in the interview Be yourself so you can relax and have the best chance at selling yourself

Ask questions and be honest! Follow up with a thank you note† Perhaps, you don't have all the skills an employer is looking for, but if you can demonstrate your past success and how you stood out amongst your peers, your eagerness to learn and willing ness to work hard, you may still be considered, Kennedy said

employers

- 1 Communication skills (verbal and written)
- 2 Honesty/integrity
- 3 Teamwork skills (works well with others)
- 4 Interpersonal skills (relates well to others)
- 5 Motivation/initiative
- 6 Strong work ethic

I still think it comes down to the same quality and integrity within people Were you committed, were you responsible, were you on time?" Kennedy wanted her employers to think highly of her, and looks for that drive to excel

'It bothers me when I see people who have a new job every four months" It costs businesses to train new employees, Kennedy said, so

Let there be (natural) light

(NAPSI) — Everyone talks about the outdoor environment, but homeowners who are aware of the green building trend sweeping the country are taking indoor air quality just as seriously

According to the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), "Green home building is defined as a movement that "applies innovative and environmentally sensitive construction techniques and products to reduce energy and water consumption and improve residential comfort and safety"

Safety, in this case includes removing harmful airborne elements from indoors, ranging from simple stale air from everyday living to pollutants given off by building materials, to radon gas that seeps into buildings from soil through small openings in foundations. This can be critical in winter when many homes are sealed with windows tightly closed to retain heat

One of the NAHBs seven cate gories of green building is indoor air quality and Residential Systems mag azine agrees, identifying that and energy efficiency as hallmarks of the green building movement

According to Joe Patrick, senior product manager for Velux America, indoor air quality can be enhanced with venting skylights. They admit natural light from above to reduce energy costs and make living spaces more attractive and enjoyable while quietly exhausting stale air and improving ventilation without the use of fans," he said

Adequate ventilation also contributes to effective moisture man agement in the home, helping to control mold. And while gaining more natural light and better air quality, homeowners utilizing venting skylights realize other benefits.

Patrick points out that in bathrooms especially, venting skylights reduce condensation build up while providing a beautiful view of the sky above, without affording anyone the opportunity to see in 'Plus, you get the use of wall space, where a window is a t necessary. The same holds true in kitchens where skylights vent hot air and cooking odors," he said

Electric venting skylights are available with remote control, blinds shades awnings, insect screening and automatic rain sensors and with electrochromic glass that can be tinted electronically with a remote to control light and heat gain while still providing a view to the sky

Tax credits are available for skylight installations. Visit energy gov/taxbreaks htm for details For skylight selection literature, call (800) 283-2831 or visit vellixusa com. For government information on window and skylight energy efficiency visit energystar gov, and

Family is cornerstone for Van, a design that fits well on a city lot

The 1,672-square-foot Van is a medium-sized home that is perfect for a city lot Ideal for those with school age children or empty nesters whose kids come home for extended visits, the Van truly makes the family the cornerstone of this design. The attractive brick and wood front, including either tile of shake roof, adds to the curb appeal of this eye-catching home.

dows org

Think food when entering the Van The U-shaped kitchen with built in appliances, put y and eating bar, is to the left of the entry Casual meals can be served directly into the tracent nook, radiantly lit from the front windows and overhead skylights

On more formal occasions, or just for a change of pace dinner can be served in the vaulted dining room

The living room, also with a yaulted ceiling, flows into the dining area to create a great room effect. This provides plenty of space for family and friends to gather for conversation, watching your favorite television show or playing the latest board game. A glowing fireplace keeps everyone toasty and able to enjoy the fun on cold winter evenings.

is ideally situated for parents of young children. Featuring a walk-in closet private bathroom and separate vanity, it is placed with a modest bedroom, each with ample closet space, on either side. This allows parents to maintain their own privacy, while still being able to keep tabs on nearby children. For retired folks, one of the spare bedrooms can be utilized as a sewing room, music room home office or what have you

The hallway between the bedrooms has a full, sky-lit bathroom and a generous utility room with access to the two-car garage Groceries can be easily brought into the house regardless of the weather

Fun By The

Then you'll love sudoku This mind bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off so sharpen your pencil and put vour sudoku savvy to the test

Level Beginner

Here's How It Works

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid broken down into nine 3x3 boxes To solve a sudoku the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row column and box Each number can appear only once in each row column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

DETROIT-BUILT BUICK LUCERNE: LUXURY AT AN AFFORDABLE PRICE

Advertising Feature

CAReport

By Kevin Koloian Avanti News Features

Since 2006, Buick's most elegant and, thus, high-priced sedan has been the Lucerne

Replacing the LeSabre and Park Avenue, the Lucerne returned in 2007 planted firmly as Buick's flagship sedan

The Lucerne is what Buick execs are calling "the contemporary embodiment of Buick's tradition of style, comfort and performance However, any prestige associated with the

Lucerne is due to its gene pool The Lucerne shares its structure and chassis with its more popular, higher-classed corporate cousin, the Cadıllac DTS

The Lucerne also benefits from its kin, by being built alongside the DTS at General Motors' awardwinning Detroit-Hamtramck Assembly Center

This facility earned consecutive quality awards in 2004 and 2005 from J D Power & Associates a company that provides consumer ratings In 2006, the plant finally won the coveted Bronze Quality award by placing third in quality among all plants in North and South America All those accolades don't translate into auto sales for the Lucerne, though Being categorized as an entry-level luxury sedan, the Lucerne faces direct competition from the Chrysler 300, Ford Five Hundred, and Mercury Sable The Lucerne offers an attractive package, but needs more refinement to be a better luxury car

The 2007 Buick Lucerne comes in three trim levels CX, CXL and CXS The $25,515 priced CX offers 16-inch alloy wheels, keyless entry, full power accessories, OnStar, a CD player and steering-wheel-mounted audio controls

Moving up to the CXL gets you leather upholstery, 17-inch alloy wheels, heated outside mirrors, rain-sensing wipers, auto-dimming rearview mirror, a power passenger seat, dual-zone automatic climate control and an MP3-capable stereo An added benefit of owning the CXL is the optional equipment you can purchase, such as heated and cooled seats and heated windshieldwasher fluid

If you want the best Buick has to offer, get the CXS This $34,755-priced high-end model comes with driver-seat memory, heated front seats, a

The Lucerne replaced the LeSabre and the Park Avenue in the Buick lineup in 2006 because the models where dated.

280-watt Harman Kardon audio system, satellite radio, 18-inch alloy wheels and a heated steering

Stand alone options on all Lucernes are a CD changer, a moonroof, remote vehicle-starter and rear park assist Available on the two higher-priced trims are heated and cooled seats and a touchscreen navigation system

Two new exterior color choices are available for the 2007 Lucerne, Light Quartz Metallic and Gold Mist Metallic – along with new interior Cocoa/ Cashmere and Cocoa/Shale combinations The Cocoa/Shale mixture has Cocoa on the instrument panel upper trim, door upper trim, steering wheel, carpet and floor mats, and shale on almost every other interior trim, including seats, instrument panel lower trim and door lower trim

The Cocoa/Cashmere offering changes the look by placing Cashmere on just about every other interior trim, including seats, instrument panel lower trim and door lower trim

The CX and CXL are powered by a V6 engine that pushes out 197 horsepower In addition, there is a V8 engine available on the CXL and standard on the CXS that is good for 275 horsepower

All Lucernes share the same 4-speed automatic transmission no matter what trim or engine you choose, though

The Lucerne has been highly touted for premium safety since it debuted. The 2007 model keeps this reputation intact

In National Highway Traffic Safety Administration crash tests, the Lucerne earned a perfect, five-star rating for its protection of the driver and front passenger in frontal impacts A four-star rating was given for side-impact protection of front and rear occupants

There's a reason for these great ratings The Lucerne's safety results from a litany of standard safety features Every trim comes with anti-lock disc brakes, traction control, a tire-pressure monitor, front side-impact airbags and full-length, head protecting side curtain airbags at no added cost But that's where the trims' safety similarities end The invaluable stability control system and brake assist features are only standard on the CXS and optional for the V8 version of the CXL

The Lucerne's safety is matched by its practicality The available touchscreen navigation system uses signals from global-positioning satellites to locate the Lucerne's position and display it on a virtual map This priceless device is integrated into the instrument panel for easy access The system also lets you know where the nearest locations of gas stations, restaurants and other points of interest are upon your request Added navigational support is provided by OnStar's Turn-by-Turn navigation system – a standard feature installed on all 2007 Buicks

The Turn-by-Turn service allows drivers to talk to a live OnStar advisor, who in turn downloads complete step-by-step directions to the vehicle through the OnStar system Audio cues are then automatically played through the vehicle's stereo system This will allow drivers to reach their destination worry free, without even taking their hands off the wheel

Overall, with the exception of a heated steering wheel, an upgraded version of OnStar and the offering of a few new color schemes, nothing changes for the 2007 Buick Lucerne over the
