Search firm to vet candidates

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

The search firm sorting through applications for the Plymouth-Canton Schools superintendent opening will interview several more candidates at Detroit Metropolitan Airport Monday before giving its recommendations to the Board of Education.

And, what is becoming more clear, the next superintendent of P-CCS most likely will set back the cost-cutting district more money than is currently being paid outgoing superintendent Jim Ryan.

"We have four or five we're enthused about, and we're flying in a few for interviews on Monday," said Roger Garvelink, senior consultant for Hazard, Young, Attea & Associates of Glenview, Ill. "We have a number of candidates who are very strong, and if we can agree upon salary I think the board will be pleased with our top candidates."

Garvelink said there are 19 applications, including seven from Michigan and four from Illinois. There are two from Florida, and one each from Indiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Massachusetts and Missouri. And, according to Garvelink, most are already making more than Ryan's top salary of $161,000. Ryan, who is officially retired and working this year as part of an emeritus program as a contract employee, is being paid $131,000. Garvelink declined to comment when asked if there were any internal candidates.

"Several applicants are already beyond $200,000, with one from the top of my list in a district about a third of the size of Plymouth-Canton," said Garvelink. "It's hard for the public to understand that to bring in a new superintendent you'll most likely pay more than the person in the job who has served so well. But, that's the market we're in."

Board vice president Barry Simescu isn't too surprised by Garvelink's assessment.

"I don't think there's too much question Jim's been a bargain," Simescu said. "If we look to other districts in the area, he's on the low end of the compensation scale."

Trustee Dianne Gonzalez is aware it will most likely cost the district more to hire a new CEO, but believes it's a price the district will have to pay.

"Finances are always a concern, and we're already taking a hard look at the budget," Gonzalez said. "If a good person comes along and we need to make arrangements in the budget so we can hire that person, we're going to have to make it work."

Canton's Brandon Hynes, who is active in the Michigan Democratic Party, is working for Hillary Clinton's campaign in Nevada.

Local political activist works hard to get Clinton elected

BY KURT KUBAN
STAFF WRITER

Canton's Brandon Hynes' support for Sen. Hillary Clinton has taken him a long way from home.

With the Michigan presidential primary just days away, Hynes, 20, won't be with other voters heading to the polls in his hometown on Tuesday to cast a vote for the former First Lady. That's because on Tuesday, he will be in Nevada, where he has been working since Dec. 17 to drum up votes for Sen. Clinton leading up to the Jan. 19 Nevada Democratic caucus.

Hynes, who ran and lost in 2006 for the Plymouth-Canton School Board, says he was actually the first person in Canton to cast an absentee ballot in the Michigan primary. Despite his respect for Democrats Barack Obama and John Edwards, Hynes decided fairly early he was going to throw his support behind Hillary.

For most people, supporting a candidate means voting for that candidate. Not for Hynes, who has been quite active with the Michigan Democratic Party for several years. He contacted Clinton's campaign team, and told them he wanted to go to work for her. So they sent him to Nevada, where he is regional volunteer coordinator in west Las Vegas. He has been spending his time recruiting volunteers and knocking on doors to drum up support for Clinton.

"Hillary's experience and demonstrative record of change makes her the best candidate," said Hynes. "I like Barack Obama and John Edwards, who are both saying they are the candidates of change. It's another thing to look at 35 years of change, which is the case of Hillary. She has the record of change. She is change."

Hynes, who is a junior studying social work at Wayne State University, is currently the president of the Michigan Federation of College Democrats.

In addition to his own school board campaign, he has worked on a number of other campaigns, including Maureen Miller Brosnan's failed mayoral bid in Livonia and Mark Slavens' state senate run.

He believes Clinton's bid to become the Democratic nominee and ultimately president will be more successful. He believes she's a shoo-in in Michigan, because she is the only major name on the Democratic ballot.

"We're very confident in victory," he said.

Poole returns home with jury

Witnesses call murder defendant a great mother

BY TIFFANY L. PARKS
STAFF WRITER

The Canton woman accused of killing her foster daughter went home Thursday — but it wasn't for long.

The jury in the Carol Poole murder trial, along with Poole herself, briefly visited her Emily Court home to view the second-story balcony that 2-year-old Allison Newman fell over. They also viewed the toddler's bedroom and a bathroom.

Judge Ulysses W. Boykin ruled Wednesday that Poole didn't have to be shackled or handcuffed during the visit because she hasn't exhibited a violent nature.

Poole, 42, is charged with felony murder, involuntary manslaughter and first-degree child abuse in the September 2006 death of Allison.

The township woman told police that she was playing a game of "whirlybird" with Allison when the child arched her back, fell from her grasp and went over the balcony.

Her lawyer, Mark Satawa, has admitted that Poole made mistakes in not taking the girl to a hospital immediately and for initially lying to police about how the girl was injured.

Poole, who got custody of Allison in January 2006, has been blasted by Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Jerry Dorsey IV for giving the police multiple stories for the child's injuries. He also said that her claims that Allison would bang her head against her bed while sleeping are fabricated.

After the state's first witness, a former employee of the day care Allison attended, testified

Longtime Canton library director sent off in style

BY TIFFANY L. PARKS
STAFF WRITER

As those around her reminisced about days gone by, Jean Tabor grinned while saying that Friday was her last day of employment at Canton Public Library.

"Now that the decision has been made, I'm excited," she said. "It's time for me to move on to the next phase of my life."

A celebration honoring the longtime library director kicked off Friday evening in the library's community room. Dozens of people attended the bash to offer their support to Tabor.

While she embraced several well wishers, others looked at photographs of the library's history and newspaper clippings from the late '80s that documented the road to building the library's Canton Center Road facility.

"I'm most proud of the culture of customer service we have," Tabor said. "The building is one thing but it's really the people inside. I am proud of the way we treat people."

Tabor, who has been with the library for 25 years, said she has faith that her successor, Eva Davis, will lead the library in the right direction.

"She will be fine," she said. "I think she will be able to do a very good job."

Kids lock-in bowling fund-raiser

Superbowl of Canton is partnering with the Canton Police Department's Explorer Program to put on an all-night bowling lock-in for kids ages 9-15. The lock-in is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 20, beginning at midnight and ending at 7 a.m., on Jan. 21, which is a holiday for most schools. Participants will not be permitted to leave the Superbowl until 7 a.m., and will be supervised by Canton police officers during the entire event.

The cost is $20 per person and includes bowling, shoe rental, pizza, and breakfast. Proceeds will benefit the Canton Police Explorer Unit, which is made up of students ages 14-20 who are seriously interested in exploring a career in law enforcement.

The program provides serious, realistic exposure of the law enforcement career. Explorers in the program train bi-weekly on a wide variety of topics. Explorers are taught the procedures used by officers and learn the basic elements of the subject matter, and must also maintain the physical, moral and scholastic standards required to be a member in the program.

To register contact the Superbowl at (734) 459-6070. For more information on the Explorer program or to make a donation, contact Sergeant Robert Sidor at the Canton Police Department, (734) 394-5400.

Police department gains national stamp of approval

BY TIFFANY L. PARKS
STAFF WRITER

What does the Canton Police Department have in common with the Florida Highway Patrol, St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation?

They are all recognized by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc.

After a rigorous three-year process, the township department has been granted full CALEA accreditation status.

"We bypassed the partial accreditation and went for the full," Executive Director John Santomauro said. "They have the most in-depth evaluation an organization can go through."

Santomauro said earning the Virginia-based operation's coveted stamp of approval wasn't an easy task. Some agencies that appeared before CALEA's four-person panel in November, didn't walk away with accreditation.

"It's not a pass," he said.

"Even when it got down to the wire."

CALEA, which requires compliance with nearly 450 standards, was created in 1979 as a credentialing authority. Its main purpose is to improve the delivery of public safety services.

Santomauro said the accreditation process served as the catalyst for change within the township police department.

"It did enhance our operations," he said, adding that while the department has always written out its various policies, it's now responsible for having proof that those policies are being followed. "This took us beyond what we have always done."

With a CALEA official describing Canton as having an "exceptional police department," Santomauro said he is thrilled about the accreditation, which is awarded on a three-year basis.

"For us, as an organization, we've seen how we stack up against (other agencies)."

Canton Supervisor Tom Yack said the township department is the seventh and largest law enforcement agency in the state to earn the CALEA distinction.

"I know that I speak for the entire community in extending congratulations to the staff of the Canton Police Department on becoming accredited by CALEA," he said.

Seeking and achieving CALEA accreditation is a tribute to leadership of the Canton Police Department and dedication and commitment of its sworn and civilian members."

CALEA, a non-profit international corporation, granted its first accreditation in 1984. According to its Web site, www.calea.org, two of its required standards include: A comprehensive, uniform set of written directives and a preparedness program in the event of a natural or man-made tragedy.

Township expanding role of emergency manager

BY TIFFANY L. PARKS
STAFF WRITER

The Canton Township Board agreed Tuesday to expand the township's emergency management planner position to a full-time assignment.

The job, which is currently a part-time post filled by Kathleen Rich, is primarily focused on public education in homeland security and emergency planning in the event of an act of nature.

Executive Director John Santomauro said an external search will be done for the position and he wants to have it filled within 60 days. The salary, which will pay no more than $59,021, has been budgeted for 2008 and will be offset by an $18,000 homeland security grant.

Some of the emergency management planner's current responsibilities include: developing an emergency operations plan, creating and executing an annual disaster exercise to test the plan, attending training to maintain professional emergency manager certification, maintaining daily operations of the management office, maintaining outdoor warning sirens and researching grant programs.

In moving to a full-time position, the job will expand grant research and working with area businesses to create plans on how to bounce back after a disaster.

Daughters back after fruitless search for dad

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

Search efforts in Hawaii by two sisters to find their 67-year-old father from Salem Township, missing since Dec. 5 in the mountains of Mauna Kea when a blizzard dumped a foot of snow while he was hiking, produced more questions and dwindling hope as they pray their father is surviving somewhere in the mostly thick brush and lava-rock terrain.

Bridget Wallman, 43, of Canton and Kelly Seelbinder, 40, of Kalamazoo flew to Hawaii Dec. 26 to help organize additional search efforts after six days of searching by Hawaiian authorities failed to produce any clues in the disappearance of Brian Murphy. They were joined on the trip by Wallman's sister-in-law, Sarah O'Hare of Plymouth.

"We met with the rescue people on Thursday (Dec. 27) and they said they would reignite the search effort because we were there and wanted to find him," said Seelbinder, a 1985 graduate of Canton High School. "There were lots of areas they felt they searched, but there are so many cracks and crevices and boulders and big bushes that make it really difficult. I wanted to search where it wasn't obvious, a place where he might keep warm or hide out if he was hurt."

The sisters put an ad in the local newspaper, offering a reward in hopes of attracting volunteers to help. Seelbinder said 24 showed up the first day, 18 the second and 15 the third.

Early indications were Murphy planned to hike to the summit of Mauna Kea, which is 13,796 feet. However, he may have been discouraged when he checked into the Mauna Kea Visitor Information Station, which is at about 9,000 feet, before his hike. Murphy may have changed his plans and decided to take a shorter walk, possibly getting caught in a less severe storm at the lower altitudes. Seelbinder said her father was wearing khaki shorts, a T-shirt, and tennis shoes without socks in temperatures that reached about 80 degrees.

"It definitely was dangerous in certain areas, some of the bushes were as large as my dining room, with most of it volcanic rock," Seelbinder said. "They had already searched 64 square miles, which is probably an eighth of the area. He could be anywhere if he's hurt."

The problem for searchers is knowing exactly where Murphy planned to hike. His daughters know he was in good enough shape to hike the mountain. He'd been invited to the 1968 Olympic trials to compete in the decathlon, was track and cross country coach at the old Garden City East High School in the 1970s and was a ski instructor and avid downhill skier.

"Just the enormity, it would be happenstance if we found him," said Wallman after spending about a week in Hawaii. "It took two days to search one square mile. It's so frustrating."

"Everybody was so wonderful and super helpful," she said. "You're blown away by the fact volunteers came out; one man on his vacation from Florida helped search, and firemen who came on their days off. You knew they wanted to find him and help give us closure."

Hawaiian authorities, who told the sisters it's the first time anyone has gone missing on Mauna Kea, say they will continue the search for Murphy when the snow melts.

Murphy, a retired safety engineer who was contracted to work on the new MGM Grand Casino in Detroit, is the oldest of six children who grew up in Milwaukee. He later moved to Livonia, where the girls mainly grew up and went to school. The family moved to a 14-acre parcel in Salem Township, and the girls attended Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

Karen Maurino, 58, of Dearborn has known Murphy for 14 years and accompanied him on many trips, including the one to Hawaii. After touring the island by car the previous day, Maurino decided to spend time at the beach while Murphy went hiking.

"It's been like a nightmare," said Maurino, who wasn't sure until the next morning her companion was listed as missing. "There was a big storm that day and they said on the news the roads were closed. I was in total shock when I was told he was on the mountain because I knew how bad the storm was."

"He knew everything about survival, so it's hard to understand this," she said. "He's loved and will be missed by a lot of people."

Wallman said it's difficult at times not having some kind of closure.

"But, I'm satisfied he's somewhere on the mountain," she said, referring to Murphy's love of the outdoors. "One thing I found out was a lot of people knew my dad and enjoyed doing things with him."

Seelbinder said she's talked to several psychics, who tell her Murphy is still alive, maybe in a cave, and has access to water.

"He's so tough and strong-willed and optimistic, if anyone could survive it would be my dad," said Seelbinder. "I'm not giving up, I keep praying for a miracle."

But, she's also prepared in case the miracle doesn't happen.

"He's a very spiritual man, and I'll get to see him in Heaven, if that's his time," she said.

POOLE

that she saw scratches all over Allison, the center's assistant director, Cami Pierce, testified that Poole was a great mother and that she and Allison seemed like a healthy mother and daughter.

"She was a wonderful mother, I saw her everyday with Allison," she said.

Another former day care worker, Cheryl Majeske, said she witnessed "fishy" scratches and bruises on the toddler but wouldn't go so far as to say that the girl was being abused.

"Something wasn't right," she said, adding that Poole explained away a few of the bruises by saying that Allison had hit her head in the bed. "(But) I would say she was a good mom."

The Pooles' former nanny, who cared for the couple's newborn foster son, testified she never saw Allison being abused but did question Poole about a bruise on the child's forehead.

Despite calling the bruise "different," the former nanny said Poole was "one of the most loving mothers I've ever seen," adding that she was patient with the little girl the defense called "dramatic."

Allison's paternal grandfather, Ken Newman, called the proceedings a "dog-and-pony show" and said he was waiting for more facts about the night Allison died.

The toddler's biological father, Kenneth Newman, said he is anticipating a guilty verdict.

"My family has gone through a lot of emotions and suffering and we have been praying," the deaf man signed through an interpreter.

"We believe Mrs. Poole killed our baby and we hope and believe justice will be served."

If convicted of murder, Poole could be sentenced to life in prison.

Equity-index annuity provides tax-deferred investment option

I just received a settlement from a lawsuit for about $90,000. I have a very specific goal for this money. I bought property up North a number of years ago on a land contract and I have a balloon payment in seven years. I want to use this money to pay off that land contract. I want to be very conservative with this money and, therefore, I am considering either a CD or an annuity. I am 60 years old and I expect to retire in about five years. What would you recommend?

Money Matters
Rick Bloom

Equity-index annuities are like mutual funds — some good, some bad. They are not all the same and you have to be careful.

Some equity-index annuities have high fees thus making it difficult for investors to make money.

One of the problems with annuities is companies have many different types of annuity products. It's not unusual for an annuity company to offer a half dozen or so different types of equity-index annuities. Unfortunately, in most cases, only a few make sense for investors.

The majority of annuities are sold through representatives of the company. Individuals cannot purchase them directly.

One of the first issues is to deal with an individual you trust. You may also consider dealing with someone who specializes in equity-index annuities. There are a lot of nuances and different ways you can structure an equity-index annuity and you want someone who understands the differences between different products.

I recommend Jim Hutton from Hutton Financial, (800) 870-4444.

Another important issue to consider is the time period. Just about every annuity program requires a time period similar to CDs. However, the typical period of time for an annuity is longer than in a CD. In most cases, I recommend a five to seven-year period for the equity-index annuity. I am not a big fan of annuities that require a 10-15-year commitment period. Unfortunately, many people who sell annuities tend to encourage investors to lock up for longer periods of time so they can receive higher commissions.

One of the many changes that have occurred for equity-index annuities is the expanded index options. For example, Jackson National, a Michigan-based company, now has an equity-index product that offers U.S. large and small company stocks as well as international companies. This product allows an investor to have a diversified portfolio. Rick Bloom is a fee-only financial adviser. # FISH swims along in 35th year

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

Ask just about anyone what "FISH of the day" means to them, and you're likely to hear words like cod or shrimp or flounder.

Pose the question to someone in the Plymouth-Canton area who doesn't have a car, or the money to take a cab to a doctor's appointment or grocery shopping, the term is likely to have a very different meaning.

"FISH" of the day is the term used to describe the person responsible for coordinating the daily ride schedule for FISH of Plymouth-Canton, the civic organization which for 35 years has prided itself on providing just such services.

And, while the typical client would probably be described as disabled or a senior citizen, the service is available to anyone.

"We have one client who is a young woman whose children get treated at Children's Hospital," said Lila Vincent, a member of the group's steering committee. "These people have no means of transportation."

According to information provided by Vincent, FISH started in the Anglican Church in England, with the first American chapter founded in West Springfield, Mass., in 1964. FISH started in Plymouth-Canton in July 1972.

While transportation now makes up the largest part of the organization's duties, other services — baby-sitting, meal preparation, housework, etc. — are provided. They are coordinated by the "FISH of the Day," a volunteer who answers phone calls from those requesting service and arranges for that service to be provided. Volunteer drivers use their own cars — at their own cost without reimbursement for gas — to transport clients.

The group is funded exclusively by donations. While the rides are free, clients are given a self-addressed envelope at the end of the ride in case the client wishes to make a donation. Other sources of funding: Vincent's bridge club makes an annual $250 donation, while clients and churches provide the rest.

Thanks to Gary Simon, a steering committee member who now serves as the group's treasurer, the group needs fewer donations. Simon switched FISH from an answering service — which was costing the group more than $70 per month — to a voice mail system that costs some $17 a month.

"The clients get a chance to donate, but many of our clients don't have two nickels to rub together," said Simon, who joined FISH in 2005 after seeing a notice that said the group needed drivers. "I was already retired and I was looking for ways to volunteer."

Appointments are available Monday-Friday, and can be made twice a month, and the group is doing about 30 rides per month at the moment, Vincent said.

Simon said clients are "very appreciative," but that he volunteers for an entirely different reason.

"It's not unusual for people to tell us, 'You guys are angels,'" Simon said. "I do it for selfish reasons — it makes me feel good."

Volunteers sought for Frog and Toad Survey

The Friends of the Rouge have scheduled training workshops in preparation for the 2008 Frog and Toad Survey.

The workshop will offer training on how to identify frogs and toads in area streams and rivers. The information will help in keeping the river system healthy.

To participate, volunteers must attend one of the four scheduled workshops, where they will receive everything necessary to do the survey.

The workshops are free but pre-registration is required.

Workshops are 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 12, at Novi Civic Center, 45175 W. 10 Mile Road, Novi; 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb.

26, at Bloomfield Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township; 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, March 1, at Livonia Civic Center Library, 32777 Five Mile Road, Livonia; and 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, March 5, at Canton Summit on the Park, Walnut Room, 46000 Summit Parkway, Canton.

To register, call (313)792-9621 or e-mail picoordinator@therouge.org.

Surveying involves visiting a nearby wetland site at least twice a month beginning as soon as temperatures are above 46 degrees F (late February or early March) and continuing through July. Surveys are done after sunset and require listening for three minutes.

Data collected by volunteers is mapped and summarized and this information is provided to participants, Rouge communities and other interested parties.

The Rouge Watershed is 466 square miles and there are more than 1,000 blocks that need coverage. Surveys are best done in teams to increase safety at night.

Because amphibians depend on clean water for breeding and need good quality upland habitat for the adult portion of their life, their presence is an indication of a good quality habitat. The more species a site can support, the better the habitat.

Eight species of frogs and toads call the Rouge River Watershed home. These are: wood frogs, chorus frogs, spring peepers, American toads, leopard frogs, gray treefrogs, green frogs and bullfrogs, American toads and green frogs are the most abundant. Friends of the Rouge are also holding a Winter Stonefly Search, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 16, at Environmental Interpretive Center on the campus of the University of Michigan-Dearborn, 4901 Evergreen Road, Dearborn. Registration is required on or before Jan. 18, 2008, by calling (313)792-9621 or e-mailing picoordinator@therouge.com.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

Presented by Andrea S. Vivian, D.D.S.

SENIOR TOOTH LOSS' LINK WITH DEMENTIA

Recent research links elderly tooth loss with more than a three-fold greater risk for memory problems and dementia. This may best be explained by the possibility that people with cognitive impairment take worse care of their teeth. On the other hand, it is also possible that dental disease causes prolonged inflammation and infection in the mouth, which may alter some factors in the blood that could cause problems in the brain. In addition, lost teeth may lead to altered diets, which could cause vitamin deficiencies and other problems that affect the brain. Until the exact cause and effect are determined, it is essential that elderly individuals receive proper dental care just like children and younger adults.

We know how important it is to you that the people who take care of your dental needs be well-informed, knowledgeable, highly skilled, and caring and compassionate. Our promise to you, then, is that our office will provide you with dental care of the highest quality, based on sound medical modalities, using the most appropriate procedures, and utilizing extremely qualified staff members. Comprehensive dental care for you and your family is available at 496 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Ste. 201, Plymouth. (1 blk. E. of Kellogg Park). Keep on top of your dental health by calling 734-453-9413.

P.S. Perhaps the best reason to address dental concerns as we age is to be sure that we can eat a well-balanced diet without the restrictions of poor oral health.

YMCA gets a lift

Woman's grant request makes splash for disabled swimmers

BY REBECCA JONES
STAFF WRITER

A new chair lift at the Livonia Family YMCA makes getting in and out of the pool easier for exercisers with multiple sclerosis, arthritis and other impairments.

The Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation provided the $3,900 water-powered lift in response to a Canton woman's grant proposal.

Karolyn Davis, who has been a YMCA member since 2003, saw some members having a hard time using the facility's old lift, which requires users to be able to lift their legs over a bar, oftentimes with an assistant's help.

The new lift is designed so people who use wheelchairs can just slide from one seat to the other, Davis said. It also moves in and out of the water faster than the old model.

Dan Shaw, 50, of Livonia can use the stairs to get in the pool, but it's a struggle, he said. He has multiple sclerosis and works out in the water three times per week.

"(The new lift) saves me time. It does help," he said.

Davis, who works as a medical technologist at St. Mary Mercy Hospital, also has multiple sclerosis, but doesn't need to use the lift herself.

Water workouts help improve balance, she said: "It's the best. You can really get a workout without fatigue."

Davis met a representative from the Reeve Foundation at the Abilities Expo in 2006.

She completed the application with the help of her daughters, Tracie Vida, a grant writer, and Sara Vida of Redford, a photographer, and help from the YMCA staff who provided financial data.

She found out the grant was approved in late July, and the lift was installed in mid-November. As a thank you, staff from the YMCA sent her flowers.

The YMCA wasn't planning on replacing the old lift just yet, aquatics coordinator Marie Gerore said.

"We don't necessarily have the money to buy brand new stuff," she said. "It was a gift. It's nice to have a new one."

LETTERS

Seeking Sen. Levin's help

On Oct. 5, 2007, Van Buren school board member Ralph Nodwell contacted me. He did so in his official capacity. Ralph was eager to enlist my professional assistance. He was on a mission.

In point of fact, the entire Van Buren Board of Education and Belleville High School were attempting to establish an Army Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (JROTC) program at Belleville High School. To signify its commitment, the board unanimously adopted an official resolution.

Consequently, the board had been notified that it was on the "short list" of districts. Then, someone in Washington, D.C. decided not to confer the designation that had been sought. Why? No explanation was given.

With this background information, it was decided that I would endeavor to enlist the assistance of U.S. Senator Carl Levin. After all, he is the chairman of a very influential committee in the United States Senate. Clearly, if he wanted to help the cause he could do so.

On Oct. 18, I signed and sent an official request on my State of Michigan Senate letterhead. A copy of the school board's official resolution was enclosed.

That was over three months ago. Sadly, to date no reply has been extended. Since Sen. Levin has seven official offices, I suppose the letter could have been lost.

Due to his seniority, I am certain many people ask favors of Senator Levin. With the Thanksgiving recess leading up to the Christmas/New Year recess, and the budget work taking so much of his time, I understand that this little item may have been missed. At the very least, someone on the Senator's staff should acknowledge the receipt of our letter and maybe provide a token expenditure of effort for our cause.

This matter is important to our Community. And, the JROTC program is for the betterment of the students of Belleville High School and ultimately our Nation's security. Come on Senator Levin, please lend us a hand.

Clinton is only real choice

Voting for the most qualified candidate will always be the better idea. Don't let the "spin doctors" talk you into staying home on Tuesday. Only Sen. Hillary Clinton elected to put her name on our state ballot. Do you really believe that a candidate that did not commit to our state before the election will commit to our state after they are given the keys to the White House?

Let us recognize Hillary's commitment to Michigan by strongly voting for her in the Democratic primary on Tuesday, Jan. 15. Help her to help us by enlisting your friends to vote. See you at the polls.

Emily Brock
Canton

Flip a coin in primary

Please vote Jan. 15 in the State-of-Michigan-taxpayer-paid U.S. Presidential primary for the Democratic and Republican parties.

How should you vote? We'll get to that in a minute.

First, let's point out that the publicly-funded election is actually the property of the two major political parties in our state. They picked who you can vote for. And whether you take a ballot for the Republicans or for the Democrats will be told only to the two parties — who supposedly cannot tell anyone else. (If you believe your ballot will be a secret, then you'll want to invest in the new Disney-theme-Casino currently being planned for the soon-to-be-privatized historic St. John's Seminary at Sheldon Road and M-14 in Plymouth).

The legislators — Democrats and Republican party members every one of them — voted to have taxpayers spend upwards of $10 million to hold these primary elections for their two parties. They'll then use the voters' primary information (that is, which party ballot you take) for future marketing purposes. Add to this outrage: the Michigan Supreme Court ruled this private marketing ploy was constitutional. (You probably won't be surprised when you recall that those Supreme justices were all nominated by these same two political parties.)

This $10 million plus primary idea comes from the same fiscally-reckless state representatives and senators who nearly shut down state government until they invented "a service tax on palm readers and balloon-ograms" (as Thomas Lynch described it in The New York Times).

As voters, what can we do about this arrogance on the part of the parties and their lapdog legislators?

We could skip voting — as many political pundits believe will happen to the great majority of Michigan voters.

But not voting would only play further into the parties' "king-maker" arrogance. The chair of the Michigan Democrats has issued "instructions" for voting the Democratic ballot which essentially urges voting "non-committed." (He means "trust me" to pick the delegates voting for the presidential candidates). Doesn't this defeat the whole idea of taxpayers paying to hold his primary in the first place?

Everyone should vote. But how do we do that without jeopardizing our voters' privacy?

Flip a coin. When we get to the precinct, we take out a coin and flip it in front of the election clerks. Then ask for whichever ballot the coin flip dictates and use it to vote for "the least-likely to succeed." Later in the year, we'll start receiving campaign literature and phone calls from the party for which we voted — proving that the parties never had any intention of keeping our ballot's partisanship secret.

To further register our disgust with this public-paid debacle, we send that same coin to our state legislator. Imagine if all of us Michigan voters did that. Would the state representatives and senators then get the voters' point that we do not want to declare our partisanship any more than for whom we actually vote? To answer that question: flip a coin!

W. Edward Wendover
Ed Wendover is a retired Michigan newspaper publisher.

Throwing votes away

Due to violating party rules, the Democratic National Committee has stripped Michigan of all its delegates to the Democratic National Convention. You can vote in the Democrat's primary, but no Michigan delegates will be sent to the DNC to vote for you.

As if that isn't bad enough, most candidates running for the Democrat's nomination didn't even register to be on the ballot or have withdrawn their names. Here is a list of people who will be on the ballot: Hillary Clinton, Mike Gravel and Dennis Kucinich. So if you wanted to vote for Barack Obama, John Edwards or any other candidate you're out of luck because they won't even be on the ballot.

Instead of casting a meaningless vote on the Democrat's ticket, you can vote in the Republican primary, helping bring a "win-win" ballot for the 2008 presidential election by voting for Ron Paul. The war in Iraq has consistently rated the highest issue important to voters. Another issue not polled which I'm sure matters to voters is the restoration of our civil liberties.

Ron Paul is the only Republican candidate who is against the Iraq war and for the restoration of our civil liberties. Most of the Democrats oppose the war in Iraq, so by voting for Ron Paul in the Republican primary you can help create a "win-win" 2008 presidential ballot. It will be an anti-war, pro civil liberties Democrat versus an anti-war, pro civil liberties Republican.

No matter who wins the election, the war will end and our civil liberties will be restored.

Students get up-close look at wildlife

BY LAURIE MAKAREWICZ
CORRESPONDENT

Fifty-seven first-graders at All Saints Catholic School in Canton traveled around the world, meeting creatures from almost every continent, without even leaving their school's library as biologist Nelson Pearson shared with them his love of animals.

Also known as "The Animal Guy," Pearson has been entertaining and educating children of all ages since 1993 with his unique collection of animals as part of his Wildlife Safari program. While at All Saints, Pearson told a story of an adventurous bunny who hopped beyond the forest and discovered other continents. With each new region, the bunny made friends along the way.

With each twist and turn of his story, Pearson would produce a tamed critter for all the children to see. He began with an Eagle owl, whose 4-foot wing span impressed the delighted group.

Next, an Australian rodent known as a Sugar Glider leapt off a walking stick, flying through the air before landing safely in a basket, drawing cheers from the children. An African tortoise, a collection of millipedes, a South American

First-graders at All Saints got a kick out of the Animal Guy's creatures, including this alligator.

Three-Banded Armadillo, an Australian Mara, and a three-foot American alligator followed before Nelson ended his show with a fuzzy, Lion-Headed rabbit.

The children watched in amazement as the armadillo rolled itself into a ball and the marsupial rodent-like Mara sniffed its way around the library. The children also were allowed to pet some of the animals as Pearson cradled each creature and walked among the children.

Some weren't too sure of the alligator, especially when Pearson pretended to wrestle with it, but all adored the unusual rabbit which many thought looked very much like a Webkinz.

Luke Anderson, 6, thought the alligator "was cool" while classmate Olivia Kositz, 6, "definitely liked the bunny better because it was so fuzzy." Pearson said the rabbit is quite rare. The breed was introduced in Europe about 12 years ago and only recently has been made available in the United States by breeders, he said.

The children walked away from the in-school field trip learning many new facts, including recognizing the difference between a turtle and a tortoise (the latter generally doesn't swim), the ability of an owl to turn its head around in almost a complete circle, as well as where desert animals look to find water (they dig up plant roots), to name a few.

For Pearson, he said it's another wonderful opportunity to share his animals and tell their individual stories to others.

For the children, it was yet another memorable day in first grade.

'Animal Guy' Nelson Pearson wowed 57 first-graders at All Saints Catholic School in Canton with his menagerie of creatures from around the world.

Plymouth vs. Canton Week

Chiefs rise to 'D' occasion against 'Cats

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

BOYS PREP HOOP

A few hours after he blew out the candles on his 18th birthday cake, Canton's Neil Sharma extinguished any chances Plymouth had of constructing a second-half comeback Friday night.

The senior swingman netted a game-high 20 points and 14 rebounds to lead the Chiefs to a defense-dominated 43-27 victory over the Wildcats in a game played in the Plymouth High School gymnasium.

Sharma did the majority of his damage from the free throw line, where he connected on 11-of-14 attempts.

The win snapped a three-game losing streak for the Chiefs, who improved to 4-5 overall and 1-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division. The Wildcats fell to 2-7 and 1-3, respectively.

While impressed with Sharma's strong night, Canton coach Dan Colligan was most pleased with his team's effort at the defensive end of the court.

"We hadn't been playing good defense lately — we'd given up more than 60 the past couple of games," the first-year head coach said. "We made it a point in practice to play better defense and they went out tonight and did it.

"I thought Brody Coplai did a nice job of going out and taking charge of guarding Brandon Roberts, who is one of the best guards in the league. He did a nice job of containing Brandon."

Senior guard Navraj Sandhu led the Wildcats with 15 points. Roberts was held to a season-low five.

"We were out of rhythm on a lot of our shots tonight," lamented Plymouth coach Tom Van Wagoner. "That, combined with the fact that we didn't get to the line much, hurt us.

"I thought we played well defensively. If you can't win when you give up only 43 points, it's not because you're not playing good defense."

Canton led 7-6 after one quarter and 16-10 at the half. The Chiefs extended their advantage to 25-18 after three quarters before outscoring their hosts 18-9 over the final eight minutes.

Sharma drained six of his free throws in the fourth quarter. Canton was on fire from the line throughout the game, hitting 18-of-23 attempts. Plymouth made half of their eight freebies.

The most telling number of the night for the Wildcats was 17.8. That's the percentage of field goals the 'Cats made on 56 attempts.

Shaak-led 'Cats nip Chiefs in OT

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

Canton's girls basketball team overcame a five-point halftime deficit, 15 turnovers and some serious foul trouble Friday night against Plymouth.

But the Chiefs couldn't withstand a late-game "Shaak" attack.

Plymouth junior forward Shaakira Haywood, who is affectionately called "Shaak" by her teammates and coaches, registered 18 points and 12 rebounds to lead the visiting Wildcats to a suspense-filled 40-39 overtime victory in the Phase III gymnasium.

The game hung in the balance until Canton's Marie Martin stepped to the free throw line with a half second left and Plymouth leading 40-38.

Chief grapplers turn back Plymouth, 64-11

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

It was so loud during Canton's wrestling match against visiting Plymouth Thursday night that you couldn't hear a pin drop.

But there were plenty of pins to be seen — 10 to be exact, all by the Chiefs.

Wrestling in front of a revved up home crowd and underneath an illuminating spotlight, the Chiefs registered falls in all but two of the first dozen matches on the way to dominating their cross-campus rivals, 64-11.

Six of the pins occurred in the first period and three of them took 41 seconds or less.

The Chiefs fed off their fans and each other's enthusiasm, according to Canton coach Casey Randolph.

"In an environment like this — the loud crowd, the spotlight, wrestling against our close rivals — the kids really get excited for each other," said Randolph. "It's really cool because wrestling is such a close-knit family and when you have a night like this, it's electrifying. This environment enhanced things 10-fold."

Senior Adam Powers ignited the Chiefs' pin-fest when he secured Alex

Whalers split with Sting, Spirit

Jamie Arniel registered a hat trick and Steve Ferry and Steven Stamkos added single goals as the Sarnia Sting defeated the Plymouth Whalers, 5-1, Friday night in an Ontario Hockey League game played before a sellout crowd of 4,839 at the Sarnia Sports and Entertainment Centre.

Sarnia is now 22-17-1-0, good for 45 points and fourth place in the OHL West; Plymouth is now 22-14-2-2, good for 48 points and third place in the OHL West.

Stamkos opened the scoring with his team-leading 31st goal of the season and fourth in three games against Plymouth at 10:54 of the first period.

Sarnia scored three unanswered goals in the second period to stretch its advantage to 4-0. Ferry scored his third goal of the season at 5:36 of the second period with a shot from the left point. Arniel took over offensively for Sarnia from that point, deflecting Ryan Wilson's point shot on the left wing lip of the Plymouth crease at 7:52 and then tucking a hard shot from the right circle over Jeremy Smith's shoulder and under the cross bar at 15:19.

Vern Cooper scored the lone Plymouth goal at 10:56 of the third period on a Whalers power play when his shot from the right circle went five-hole through Sarnia goaltender Andrew Perugini for his ninth marker of the season.

Plymouth head coach Greg Stefan pulled Smith for the extra attacker with 2:30 remaining in regulation, but Arniel scored on the Plymouth empty net with 1:06 remaining.

Ryan Hayes made his Plymouth debut in the game and showed offensive skill as advertised. The former Boston College skater hit the goal post on a shot from the right wing late in the first period in his best scoring chance of the game.

PLYMOUTH 4, SAGINAW 2: On Wednesday in Saginaw, Chris Terry scored a pair of goals in the first period, Joe Gaynor and Kaine Geldart added single goals in the second period and Matt Hackett stopped 31-of-33 shots as the Whalers doubled-up the Spirit before a crowd of 2,718 at the Dow Event Center.

Jack Combs (28) and Ryan McDonough (25) scored second period goals for Saginaw.

Plymouth held a clear territorial edge in the first period, outshooting Saginaw 14-6. Terry gave Plymouth a 1-0 lead at 7:58 of the first period when he

First and foremost

Detroit's Jonathan Greenfield (left), pictured above in a game earlier this season, scored his 28th goal of the season Friday night in the Ignition's 12-4 victory over Chicago. The win kept Detroit (10-4) in a first-place deadlock with Milwaukee in the Major Indoor Soccer League. Kyt Selaidopoulos (2), Jamar Beasley (2) and Ryan Mack also found the back of the net for the winners. Danny Waltman made 15 saves to earn the win in net for the Ignition.

Davis leads Rock cagers to top of Lakes Division

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

A mid-season battle between Salem and Walled Lake Northern for supremacy in the WLA's Lakes Division wasn't a battle for very long.

Sparked by an inspired team-wide defensive effort and a double-double from junior forward Chelsea Davis, the Rocks surged to a 19-5 halftime lead before locking down a 33-20 victory in a game that saw both teams start the night with 3-0 divisional records.

The triumph improved Salem's overall mark to 9-2 while the Knights slipped to 7-4.

"They only scored five points in the first half tonight, so our defense was very sound," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "They had a little run in the second half, but we weathered the storm."

Northern cut its deficit to 23-15 after three quarters, but the Rocks rebounded by taking the fourth, 10-5.

Sara Stone had a strong night, posting eight points and eight rebounds. Brett deBear added five points and Victoria Brotz chipped in with four.

Salem's leading scorer Alaya Mitchell didn't score, but she did dish out four first-quarter assists.

Salem hit 6-of-8 free throws. Northern was 6-of-11 from the line.

The Rocks committed just 11 turnovers against the Knights' game-long full-court press.

The senior forward swished the first pressure-packed free throw, but the second rimmed out and into the hands of Plymouth's Kelsi Robinson.

While Haywood's contributions were plentiful the entire night, none exceeded the old-fashioned three-point play she executed with 40.7 seconds left.

With her team trailing 36-33, Haywood snatched teammate Alex Roberts' missed free throw and converted the shot while getting fouled by the Chiefs' best player, Baylee Hollowell. She calmly drained the free throw, which turned out to be the final pre-overtime point, to deadlock the game at 36-36.

The foul was extra-costly for Canton because it was Hollowell's fifth.

The victory was a pivotal one for Plymouth, which improved to 5-6 overall and 2-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division. The Chiefs fell to 3-8 and 1-3, respectively.

"Shaak did a great job of staying active the entire game tonight," said Plymouth coach Michelle Reilly. "We knew she had a quickness advantage on Baylee, but not necessarily a strength advantage."

"She did a nice job of staying active on the boards from the opening tip until she fouled out at the end. And that basket and free throw she made at the end of regulation were huge."

Canton coach Brian Samulski praised his team's effort.

"I feel bad for the kids — they worked their tails off," said Samulski. "It just came down to we needed to get one more loose ball, one more box out on a rebound or make one more shot."

"I was proud of the way the kids stepped up and hung in there during the overtime after Baylee fouled out. We competed right down to the end."

Troi Davis had a productive night from the perimeter for the Wildcats as she tallied 10 points. Two of her three-point baskets were launched from NBA range.

Roberts netted just three points, but she skied for nine rebounds, three on the offensive end.

Sophomore guard Kaylie Martin paced the Chiefs with 14 points and five rebounds.

Despite finding net on every shot she attempted, Hollowell was held to a season-low eight points, although she did pull down a team-high 12 boards.

"We knew we had to limit Baylee's touches because she's such a skilled player when she gets the ball inside," said Reilly. "Shaak did a good job of limiting Baylee's offensive rebounds as well as keeping the ball out of her hands."

Marie Martin and Plymouth's Stacey Klonowski both added five points and five rebounds for their respective teams.

Plymouth led 18-13 at the half, but Canton fought back to cut its deficit to 25-23 after three quarters.

The Chiefs' biggest lead of the night came with 2:55 left in regulation when Hollowell's inside bank shot made it 35-30.

Klonowski made one free throw with 1:55 to go and Robinson converted a layup following a steal to bring the 'Cats to within 35-33 with 1:05 on the clock.

Canton's Leslie Weisz nailed 1-of-2 free throws with 58 ticks to go to make it 36-33, but Haywood followed with her three-point play 19 seconds later to tie it up.

Canton freshman Kayla Bridges' 12-foot jumper to win it at the buzzer was blocked by Haywood.

A Kaylie Martin jumper gave Canton a 38-36 advantage 15 seconds into the OT, but Plymouth regained the lead, 40-38, thanks to four free throws from three different players.

Klonowski rebounded a Weisz miss with 3.5 seconds left, but she stepped out of bounds, giving the Chiefs one more chance.

Following a time out, Kaylie Martin was short on a jumper, but Marie Martin rebounded it and was fouled on the putback.

The Wildcats hit 13-of-49 shots from the field (26.5 percent) and 10-of-27 free throws (37.0). The Chiefs were 16-of-55 from the floor (29.0) and 7-of-11 (63.6) from the charity stripe.

WHALERS

accepted Joe McCann's pass from the right wing and beat Spirit goaltender Ryan Daniels with a one-timer from the left circle at 7:58. Terry scored his second of the night and team-leading 28th of the year at 13:31 when he banked a shot from the right goal line off a Saginaw defender's skate and past Daniels.

Saginaw picked up their play perceptibly in the second period, but the Whalers took a 3-0 lead at 9:17 of the period on good work by the line of McCann, Gaynor and Brett Valliquette when they kept the play alive deep in the Saginaw zone and Gaynor banked a shot from the left boards off Daniels for his third goal of the season. Saginaw cut into the Plymouth lead when Combs scored on a penalty shot at 10:45 and McDonough deflected Nick Crawford's point shot at 12:36.

But the Whalers came right back to re-establish a two-goal lead at 4-2 on a power play at 13:11 when Geldart tipped A.J. Jenks' shot from the right circle past Daniels for his eighth goal of the season.

The third period was scoreless. Saginaw outshot Plymouth, 33-30.

Hackett won his third game over the last seven days.

Winn's shoulder blades to the mat 2:16 into the match-opening 189-pound contest.

The Wildcats sliced their deficit to 6-3 when senior Vince Darolfi decisioned sophomore Tyler Bourcier 7-4 in a hard-fought 215-pound showdown.

"Darolfi's their best wrestler, so even though Tyler didn't win, at the same time he didn't allow them to get a lot of momentum back," said Randolph. "Tyler's a scrapper and he gives people fits. He needs a little refining, but he's going to be very good. He did exactly what we were looking for from him tonight."

The Chiefs put the match away by pinning their next five opponents on the heels of Darolfi's win.

Heavyweight Dan Wanshon, who normally wrestles at 215, sparked the avalanche with a 38-second pin of Anthony Pomerson to make it 12-3.

Waleed Faraj (103), Connor Johnson (112), Carl Lucke (119) and Donnie Watkins (125) followed in Wanshon's footsteps with falls of their own.

"I thought Connor Johnson's win at 112 was a big one," said Randolph. "He's really starting to come into his own and gain confidence in what he's doing."

Plymouth's Dylan Spicher momentarily stopped the onslaught with a convincing 18-2 technical fall triumph over Mitch Wolski at 130, however, the Chiefs swept the next four on pins from Steve Cox (135), Brent Winekoff (140), Anthony Abro (145) and Keith Zech (152) to pad their lead to 60-8.

Cox's triumph was the 100th in his illustrious high school career.

Plymouth's Vince Rizzo earned an exciting 11-8 win over Mitch Kuchenberg at 160 before Rodger Kropp capped the night with an 16-7 victory over Derek Davy at 171.

Salem swimmers rock Western

If Thursday night's meet at Walled Lake Western is any indication, 2008 is going to be a splash for the Salem boys swimming and diving team.

The Rocks dominated the host Warriors, 118-65, by placing first in eight of the 12 events.

A trio of Rocks -- Adam Seroka, Sida Chen and Nathan Spala -- each won a pair of individual races while also contributing to Salem's victory in the meet-capping 400-yard freestyle relay.

Seroka touched first in the 200 freestyle (1:51.34) and 500 freestyle (4:59.20); Chen captured the 200 IM (2:15.64) and 100 butterfly (1:00.49) while Spala took gold in the 100 freestyle (54.45) and 100 breaststroke (1:09.16).

Salem other individual winner was diver Kevin Smith, who won the 1-meter event with 188.80 points.

Posler's double-double leads Rock cagers over Knights

BY ED WRIGHT
STAFF WRITER

Throughout the 2007-08 season Salem boys basketball coach Bob Brodie has been looking for a third scorer to complement his 1-2 punch of Grant Stone and Ross Davis.

He finally found it Friday night at Walled Lake Northern.

Junior forward Joe Posler exploded for 17 points and 12 rebounds to lead the Rocks to a much-needed 57-38 victory over the Knights.

The win broke a two-game Salem losing streak and lifted the Rocks' record to 3-6 overall and 1-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division. The Knights fell to 0-9 and 0-4, respectively.

"The thing I was most impressed with was that even though Joe ran the middle of our offense against their pressure all night, he didn't have one turnover," said Brodie. "He did a great job of taking care of the ball and scoring when he had the opportunities."

Davis sparkled, too, netting 12 points and a Ben Wallace-like 17 rebounds.

"Ross was a fanatic on the boards tonight," said Brodie.

Stone was held to nine points, but he did an outstanding job of distributing the ball against Northern's game-long full-court pressure, Brodie stressed.

"Grant did a nice job of giving the ball up when he had to tonight," said Brodie. "Overall, I was very happy with our offensive balance.

"Our bench played much better tonight, too. We didn't lose anything when we put the bench guys in tonight."

Brodie said he could live with his team's 30 turnovers.

"It doesn't bother me because they Northern was pressing full-court the entire game," said Brodie. "You're going to get that because there are going to be a lot of deflections and there are naturally more possessions. We turned it over 29 times against Churchill last week and they were only pressing for a half. That's when it bothers me."

Salem led 19-7 after one quarter and was never threatened thereafter pulling away to a 30-19 halftime lead and 43-26 lead after three quarters.

CANTON AGAPE 53, FRANKLIN ROAD 37: On Friday at Agape, the Wolverines were led by Ty Majeski's 17-point night. Joel Ruffin also sparked for the winners, contributing 13 points and 10 boards, while Terrell Pierce added 13 points.

Dave Mansfield led Franklin Road with 13 points.

Agape led 11-6 after one quarter, 23-19 at the half and 38-31 with eight minutes to play. The Wolverines put the win on ice by outscoring Franklin Road 15-6 in the fourth.

The victory improved Agape to 4-4 overall and 2-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. Franklin Road dropped to 4-3 and 11, respectively.

Pain in the neck

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

Find relief online for computer-related pain

Rob Tworek started thinking about a way to help people in offices everywhere after more and more of his physical therapy patients were mentioning the stiffness in their necks and backs from working at a computer.

First came the e-book, How To Avoid That Pain in the Neck at the Office, and shortly after the Web site which offers exercises to do while at the keyboard (www.officecoachplus.com).

So far, Tworek's had visitors from more than 60 countries.

The Pain in the Neck e-book and Web site provide streaming video of a model performing exercises to relieve the discomfort but warns users to seek medical attention when there is severe, continuous neck pain lasting a week or more; pain, numbness and tingling that radiates to the arms or legs, and muscle weakness.

"I gave them exercises when you can't get away from your computer. They want relief now," said Tworek, a physical therapist for St. John Providence Health System and Heartland Rehabilitation. "The problem is when you start getting discomfort you need to break up that activity."

"At a computer you want people moving around, getting up and down out of their chair, but it's usually a static position. Even if you use the best posture over time those muscles will have a tendency to fatigue. It's advisable every hour to

21-DAY EXERCISE WORKSHOP

What: Physical therapist Rob Tworek leads a one-hour session featuring exercises and a discussion about starting and maintaining a program

When: 1 p.m. Saturdays, Jan. 26, at the Livonia Recreation Center, 15100

Hubbard; Feb. 9, at Costick Activities Center, 28600 11 Mile, Farmington Hills; and Feb. 23, at the Ford Community & Performing Arts Center, 15801 Michigan Ave., Dearborn

Cost: $25 in advance, $29 at the door. To pre-register, call (313) 244-8048 or send e-mail to 21dejs@officecoachplus.com.

Rob Tworek hopes his Web site helps people around the world relieve the neck and pain discomfort caused by working at a computer for extended periods.

take a break, to get up and do movement. As soon as you enter the Web site you're prompted to get moving."

The Web site and e-book offer simple movements to prevent neck or low back injury before medical treatment is required.

"I wanted to make it convenient for people," said Tworek of Livonia. "The Web site is set up as a resource. They can go to the stretch pages follow these along and work out the stiffness."

Lisse Egler first tried the exercises after a physical therapist friend told her about the Web site. A mechanical engineer in the automotive industry, the South Lyon resident uses the movements whenever her muscles feel tight.

"On the Web site there's lots of stretching that I wouldn't have known to do before," said Egler. "I like the exercises because they can be done at work at your desk. I like that they have a little video with Liz (the model). That helps me a lot. It's good to have that visual."

After initially doing the suggested movements, Egler progressed to Tworek's Three Day Exercise Jump Start. The program helps prevent and reduce neck and low back pain caused by extended periods of time at a computer. All that's needed is a stationary chair and two optional weights (one for each hand), either books, bottled waters or hand weights.

"It helped me get back into moving on a regular basis," said Egler. "I felt comfortable, I wouldn't be overstraining myself or my heart."

Tworek is expanding the exercise jump start to 21 days in time for people to start moving on a regular basis in the new year.

The program is intended for anyone who spends most of their workday at a computer or simply wants to exercise. The American Physical Therapy Association, American Heart Association and the Centers for Disease Control & Prevention recommend 30 minutes of activity five days per week.

"It's a 30-minute workout for 21 days straight and by then you have established a habit of exercising," said Tworek, who is giving one-hour workshops on the new program beginning in late January and early February at the Livonia Recreation Center and Costick Activities Center in Farmington Hills.

"Once they build the habit they want to keep on going with it. It allows them staying power at the computer."

Hospital seeking patients for study to regrow lung tissue

Henry Ford Hospital is seeking patients for a new treatment option that shows promise for regrowing lung tissue in emphysema patients.

Emphysema is a debilitating lung disease caused in large part by years of smoking.

It is the fourth leading cause of death in the U.S. Patients suffer from shortness of breath, coughing and limited exertion because their lungs are less elastic, cutting off oxygen to the bloodstream.

Several treatment options exist to relieve and prevent complications including lung volume reduction surgery and transplantation.

"This is the first emphysema study that will use computed tomography (CT) scans as well as standard lung function tests to measure participants' lung function," said Paul Kvale, a Henry Ford pulmonologist and lead study investigator. "CT scans can assess the extent of tissue damage in the lungs and whether the study drug is making a difference."

Eligible participants in the two-year study will be randomly selected to receive either a placebo or gamma-specific retinoid agonist, a new drug that in earlier studies has shown to effectively regrow lung tissue.

The study is open to former smokers who have not smoked for the past year, were diagnosed with emphysema, are age 45 and older, and have a history of smoking more than 10 packs of cigarettes a year.

Eligible participants will receive medication, undergo various testing procedures and make 15 office visits, all free, during the study.

To enroll or for more information, call (800) 996-0206.

Privileges of being a grown-up

When Sophia came downstairs 45 minutes after I'd tucked her in the other night, her worst fears were confirmed: Everything fun happens after she goes to bed.

Because my husband Don and I had eaten a late lunch, we'd passed on dinner with the kids, choosing instead to indulge in a late-night snack. Sophia left her room to complain of a sore throat and caught us pigging out in front of Family Guy. Yes, Sophia, it's true. After their kids are in bed, mommies and daddies eat popcorn and ice cream and watch cartoons.

Mom's the Word

Rebecca Kavanagh

"It's not fair," she groused as we escorted her back upstairs. "I can't wait to be a grown-up." I remember feeling exactly the same way when I was her age. Long after my 8-year-old self was supposed to be asleep, I'd spy down the stairwell at my parents laughing with friends over eucyre, sipping drinks from fancy glasses and snacking on — no fair! — homemade Chex Mix.

I had a plastic Holly Hobbie purse that couldn't fit more than a handful of change and my Bonnie Bell lip gloss. My mother's MacGyver-like handbag held everything a person could want or need. In addition to safety pins and tissues, she carried lipsticks I couldn't wear until I was 14, Doublemint I couldn't chew because of my braces and shopping lists devoid of the very items that I personally would have put at the top, such as Twinkies and Faygo. I especially craved the delicious power Mom held when she cruised the grocery aisles to determine whether we'd be eating meatloaf or tuna noodle casserole for dinner that night.

Now, of course, I know better. I've come to discover that although grown-ups do occasionally have fun after the kids go to bed, those precious few hours before we collapse ourselves are filled mostly with the mundane and the essential. We're whooping it up with laundry, bills, work deadlines and, these days, everything necessary to ensure that our sugarplum-dreaming darlings have a magical Christmas.

I laugh hardest these days at my childhood jealousy over Mom's dinner-planning privilege. It's not so much fun, I now realize, to come up with new and different ways to meet your children's nutritional needs when the only foods they're passionate about are pizza and PB&J. The other day, looking to mix things up a bit, I dared to pull out my mom's old meatloaf recipe. Mind you, Don abhors meatloaf. But he'd never tried this particular recipe, I reasoned, so maybe it would change his mind!

The last time I'd made the dish was 5½ years ago, when I was eight months pregnant with Jackson. Don was leaving on a business trip and, craving some comfort food, I decided to take advantage of my husband's absence to make a meal I wouldn't think of serving him. Perhaps I chopped the onion a bit too vigorously, because it was right around then that I felt my first contraction. Luckily, my frantic call to Don's cell phone caught him before he stepped on the plane, and cold meatloaf sandwiches hit the spot two days

Co-op gallery offers work by local artists

James Ritchie likes to call the gallery at Laurel Park Place mall a year round art fair. The 18 artists make it possible for the cooperative to offer paintings, ceramics, photography and jewelry 365 days a year by each working 30 hours a month.

Debbie La Pratt came up with the idea to share the rent and hours after signing a lease to open Art-is-in-Market in the mall in Livonia two years ago.

"I get over 300 hours of exposure a month," said James Ritchie, a Westland photographer whose images range from classic cars to the last night game at Tiger stadium. "The gallery's open seven days a week and I don't have to be here."

The customers seem to be as enthusiastic about the concept. When La Pratt first opened she planned to only later when we all returned as a family of four.

I told the kids that story as I was chopping the onions for this more recent loaf, and I also assured them that I'd loved this recipe as a kid when their grandma made it weekly. All of this emotional seasoning made them, and Don, really want to like dinner, bless their hearts.

Nobody did. Oh sure, they all gamely chewed that first bite. But after I celebrated the initial chorus of "mmm," and after I pledged to make meatloaf once a week from now on, I noticed that everyone was concentrating a lot of eating energy on their potatoes and corn. Don cleaned his plate, but confessed to me later that it took Herculean effort. Sophia and Jack stopped at one bite, and apologized profusely for not liking this treasured meal.

It's OK, I assured them. I can handle it; I'm a grown-up.

to turn her life around. This semester Rachel resumes classes to earn a degree in social work at Schoolcraft College. In the future she hopes to help people on an individual basis but for now she is speaking to groups to increase awareness about the women and children whose lives turn into nightmares at the hands of an abuser.

"There are still a lot of misconceptions out there, still a lot of stereotypes that it happens to underprivileged women, that it's always physical," said Rachel. "There's a lot of mental intimidation. People would say why don't you leave. You get worn down. It becomes normal. It's important for people to talk about it even if you tell one other person. Don't ignore intuition or gut feelings you have and don't stay for your kids. I didn't know how I was going to do it. You learn to use your resources. You find out you're not alone and it's not always people who are married. Teenagers need to be aware.

It's possible to start over. It's scary, hard but home is all what you make it."

Thanks to First Step Rachel and her three young children are living in a small apartment far from the abusive environment. Their new life wouldn't have been possible without the programs of First Step. That's why fundraisers like Brian Duggan's charity dance on Feb. 8, and the Women of Westland's Chocolate Fantasy Ball on Feb. 16, are so important. The money goes to support the shelter program for those fleeing their homes; counseling services at First Step offices in Plymouth, Redford and Taylor, and a 24-hour help line for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault at (734) 459-5900, toll free (888) 453-5900.

"We don't have a big fundraising staff. When you have an outside group that select us it expands the number of people we can reach and provide these essential, critical services," said Theresa Bizoe, an associate director of First Step.

"We have trained counselors available and it is confidential," added Amy Youngquist, First Step associate director. "You don't have to be a survivor. We get calls from concerned family members, teachers to help the one they're concerned about."

Laura C. received counseling as a teenager when her mother decided to leave an abusive marriage. Laura recently graduated and plans to help others as a police officer. "My dad always had a real bad temper. We started going to First Step because my mom didn't want us to think it was OK," said Laura C. "What I learned was how to interact and talk to kids in those situations to calm them down. One of the things that stands out the most is First Step had a ton of toys in the waiting area. I always keep stickers and coloring books in the back of the car. That was one of the best things about First Step that it was child friendly."

While many in the community know First Step as a shelter or refuge from domestic violence, the agency also runs a sexual assault program with prevention and intervention services.

"We see a lot of young women," said Youngquist. "The 15-24 range is a crucial time, a very risky time for teens. They become victims of sexual assault a lot of times with people that they know. According to the FBI 1 in 4 women, and 1 in 7 men will be victimized by sexual assault during their lifetime."

GALLERY

operate the gallery through the Christmas holiday.

"People begged us please don't leave. They liked the Michigan concept featuring local artists," said La Pratt of Sterling Heights. "I signed up for another three months then six months and then a year. Customers can always meet an artist and not a salesperson and it gives people who don't do art shows a spot to have their work."

La Pratt annually exhibits her clay architectural work on Detroit landmarks at the Ann Arbor State Street Art Fair; Art & Apples, Rochester, and Arts, Beats and Eats.

"We offer everything from $6 for a tiny night light to $700 for a large painting," said La Pratt. "I think we have something for everybody in everybody's price range and artists will actually go to a person's home and hang their art work."

Each member of the cooperative has different reasons for belonging. Bev Ellis gets "great satisfaction when people like her work." At age 84 the Farmington Hills jeweler is the oldest artist in the gallery. She taught in Farmington Hills schools from 1960 to 1986. She also has work at Clothes Encounter in downtown Farmington.

Tony DeCesco of Redford hasn't stopped painting since he took his first class at Schoolcraft College 14 years ago. He also exhibits his acrylic and oil paintings at Native

West in Plymouth.

Like DeCesco and Ritchie, Ro Lambert says the gallery lets customers know about the sterling silver and 14K gold filled jewelry she creates with gemstones, cultured pearls and Swarovski crystals. She does have a showroom in her Farmington Hills home that's open by appointment only to view her fiber tassels for hanging on doorknobs or tying back curtains.

Barb Teubert, who owns Barn Antiques in Northville, displays jewelry at the gallery, Annie Johnston of Northville embellished jackets and handbags.

"What I like about it is coming into contact with other artists," said Alan Casadei of Livonia, who does abstract painting and makes clocks out of 45 RPM records. "I like talking to them about different venues for art. They can guide you to which ones to do, which ones not to do, even where to buy supplies."

Susan Crespo couldn't keep with the demand for her wreaths, swags and centerpieces this holiday season. The award-winning designer has been in the gallery 1 1/2 years.

"I'm doing wonderful here," said Crespo of Farmington Hills. "It's a fun place to work. We all like the same things. You get a whole different perspective."

"It spurs your creativity. You get ideas looking at everything," said Elizabeth Walther of Plymouth.

Walther crafts whimsical clay salt and pepper shakers as well as jewelry and scarves. She is a member of the Greater Ann Arbor Quilt Guild and has shown work at the Ann Arbor Art Center.

Ann Hofman hopes viewers get inspiration from the spiritual images which can be seen in her photographs of clouds. Her series, Divine Faces of God, were not manipulated.

"My goal is to bring people back to God, to the Divine, to appreciate God's presence on earth through nature," said Hofman of Farmington Hills. Hofman graduated from the College for Creative Studies in 2006. She has displayed work in a New Mexico gallery; Scatter Joy Gallery of Faith, a local moveable gallery; Art in the Corridor in Farmington Hills, the Scarab Club, and Our Town exhibition. She also does encaustic paintings with beeswax.

"While I was at CCS my instructors wanted me to show God's presence with symbols. As a Catholic for me that was really hard. I took some clouds in and my instructor wanted me to stick with the clouds," said Hofman. "My senior thesis was on clouds. One is a photo of God sitting upon a throne in the clouds. There are multiple images within each photo. I get different reactions from everyone related to their beliefs. It's kind of in the eyes of the beholder."

For more information, call the gallery at (734) 432-9177.

UNUSUAL COMBINATIONS IN ARTHRITIS

Certain arthritic conditions do more than just cause joint aching. For instance ankylosing spondylitis is a form of arthritis that focuses on the low back, sacroiliac joints, and on the shoulders and the knees. Ankylosing spondylitis also causes an inflammation of the eyes known as iritis. The iritis can occur months or years before the back and joint pain of ankylosing spondylitis appears.

Individuals with forms of inflammatory bowel disease such as Crohn's or ulcerative colitis will often experience recurrent swelling of the knees or ankles. The arthritis may come on years before the bowel problem, or the bowel disease may be present for years before the individual notes the onset of recurrent knee swelling.

The theory for these associations between arthritis and other organ involvement is that the joints and these other sites share a common antigen. Therefore an attack on the joint by an antibody will lead to a similar assault on the eye because the eye has the same or a similar antibody-attracting site as the joint.

What remains unexplained is why a time lag occurs between the first attack say in the eye with iritis, and the much later appearance of joint inflammation in the back and sacro-iliac joints.

The doctor's role is to ask the seemingly unrelated questions such as when you first felt back pain or noted an isolated red eye. Knowing these associations allows him to make a timely diagnosis and institute therapy appropriate for the fundamental problem.

Chorus to hold open auditions

The Farmington Community Chorus will hold open auditions for new members 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 15, at the Costick Center, 28600 W. 11 Mile, east of Middlebelt, Farmington Hills. All voice parts are welcome. Singers must be at least 19 years of age.

The Farmington Community Chorus, directed by Steve SeGraves and accompanied by assistant director Susan Garr, is now in its 28th year. The 75-voice mixed chorus is composed of singers from throughout the metro Detroit area. The group rehearses 7:30-9:30 p.m. Tuesdays at the Costick Center. Beginning in January, the chorus will rehearse a new repertoire of music for their 28th annual spring concert on May 9-10. These concerts will feature the musical theme "a day in the life" and will include several Beatles tunes as well as music by Stephen Sondheim, Stevie Wonder and many other composers and arrangers of jazz, pop and classical vocal music.

SISTER MARY ANGELA SCHNEIDER, RSM
Sister of Mercy, Educator (Farmington Hills, MI) - Sister Mary Angela Schneider, RSM, a Sister of Mercy for 53 years, died on January 9, 2008 at St. Joseph Mercy-Oakland. She was 71. Born in Detroit to George and Angela (Steger) Schneider on July 11, 1936, she was named Mary Angela at her baptism in St. Gregory's Church. Her primary education was at St. Mary of Redford followed by graduation from Our Lady of Mercy High School in June 1954. In September of that year she joined the Sisters of Mercy at their motherhouse in Detroit and the following year received the name, Sister Mary George Ann at her formal reception into the religious community. After a five-year period of religious and professional preparation she made perpetual vows on August 16, 1960. Sister Mary Angela earned a bachelor's degree from Mercy College of Detroit and a master's degree in education from St. Xavier College, Chicago. Her many years of teaching were divided among Michigan catholic schools in Berkley, Temperance, Dearborn, Ludington, Hemlock, Detroit, Belding, and Remus. She also taught at St. John's School, Independence, Iowa and served as a pastoral minister at Our Lady of Mercy Hospital, Dyer, Indiana. Other pastoral ministries included St. Richard's Parish, Westland, St. Gertrude's Retirement Center, Grand Rapids and McAuley Center, Farmington Hills. In 1996, when her health no longer permitted active ministry, she retired to McAuley Center. There she assisted other Sisters as a volunteer, reading to them and praying with them. Sister Mary Angela is remembered for her gentle presence, her genuine interest in others and her devotion to prayer. She enjoyed reading and music, especially singing for she was gifted with a "perfect pitch" soprano voice. (She is survived by her brothers, Richard (Inaam) of Hickory, North Carolina; George (Angela) of Buffalo Grove, Illinois, her sister, Janet (Robert) Joyce of West Redding, Connecticut, several nieces and nephews, many friends and her Mercy community. A welcoming service took place on January 11, 2008 at 3pm at McAuley Center, 28750 W. Eleven Mile Road, Farmington Hills, followed by a remembrance service at 7 pm. The Mass of Resurrection was celebrated in McAuley Center's Sacred Heart Chapel on January 12, 2008 at 10:30 am, with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. McCabe Funeral Home, Farmington Hills is in charge of arrangements. Memorial contributions may be made to the Sisters of Mercy Ministry Fund, 29000 W. Eleven Mile Road, Farmington Hills, MI, 48336.

A NEW TAKE ON 20-SOMETHINGS' JOB SATISFACTION

WORKWISE
by Mildred L. Culp

The fact that 70 percent of workers in their 20s are unhappy with their organizations, according to Leadership IQ of Roswell, Ga., comes as no surprise. Its survey of 11,244 employees in approximately $150 to $200, Irvine notes, is critical for this generation, which has grown up with many amenities. He points out that sporting goods and electronics are frequent choices, as are luxurious dinners for two and hotel weekends away.

"This generation doesn't take loyalty for granted," Irvine reports. "Corporations are not good at saying, 'Thank you,' to employees." His service creates "a culture of appreciation."

"PSYCHIC INCOME"
Globoforce promotes the "recognition moment, a moment of genuine, well-considered appreciation, which varies greatly across the globe, according to individual circumstances and preferences," Irvine comments. However, in an obsessively-driven consumer culture, external rewards might well not be the answer. Spoken recognition might be. However, why not tip the balance and focus upon achieving job satisfaction from the inside out, rather than the outside in?

Leadership IQ finds that a boss's recognition matters more to this generation than anything else. Doesn't this mean that external rewards confuse the situation? If, as Irvine maintains, "thank you" is an underused expression, this would seem to be a very good time to reverse that trend.

Still, that "thank you" is external. It's one step closer to what the generation wants, but Gen Y needs an awareness of job satisfaction. How do they learn that there is something extremely special about their relationship to their work, which makes their relationship with their boss and organization only secondary? Leadership IQ maintains that job satisfaction increases as people age. How can companies bring maturity to younger workers in relation to job satisfaction?

Job satisfaction emerges when you grasp that your relationship to your work is exceedingly personal, that it's not driven by a boss's reaction or an organization's reward system. Job satisfaction comes from loving the work you do, not from constant recognition of your last step. It is a love of process. A sense of accomplishment is enhanced by external rewards, but the emotional satisfaction that comes from loving your work cannot possibly, in any context, be installed or instilled by anyone or anything outside.

The secret to increasing job satisfaction is to distract employees less with external rewards and teach them the value of doing something they love to do. Of course, that assumes that the employees are on a career track that suits them well. Bruce Tulgan, founder of Rainmaker Thinking Inc., in New Haven, Conn., advises 20-somethings to "figure out what you really need and want out of your job." This might well be the time to awaken them to the fact that one of their options is to enjoy doing their work, period.

Jaimee Ryan, Client Services account manager at Boston's Globoforce Ltd., is shopping on the company's reward redemption site in recognition of her excellence at work. Like many Generation Y employees, she enjoys selecting something special from the thousands of merchants available on the site.

Credit: Kim Rosen

"While you are at work," Tulgan recommends, "you should be all about the work, (BEGIN ITAL)your work(END ITAL). Focus on playing the role assigned to you -- your tasks, responsibilities and projects -- before you ever try to reach beyond that role. Focus on doing them very well." Tulgan also suggests developing a "diary of your accomplishments." While doing so may help lead to a promotion or the next job, it nurtures joy in the fulfillment of work.

2008 Dodge Caliber SRT 4 offers great performance, at an affordable price

Advertising Feature

CAReport

By Dave Menard
Avanti News Features

Is there such a thing as an "entry-level" performance car? Is it possible to get a fun-to-drive performance car at a price that won't break your wallet? Dodge thinks so, and offers the 2008 Caliber SRT 4 as proof.

The Caliber SRT 4 (SRT stands for "Street and Racing Technology") is a five-door vehicle, and my first thought when I saw it was that it's the Dodge Charger's little brother.

The front fascia features functional brake cooling ducts and a larger grille opening. The hood features a functional air scoop for better underhood cooling. A large integrated spoiler above the rear glass is tuned for smoother air flow and lift reduction. The headlamps wrap from the grille to the fender and fog lamps are included, as well.

The rear features an integrated spoiler and 19-inch aluminum wheels are standard (chrome-clad wheels are optional). It's a sharp, tough-looking package.

The interior is nicely done, as well. The "alloy silver" finish instrument panel is well laid-out and includes a tachometer and coolant temperature gauge, and there's a turbo gauge on the far left of the dash.

The alloy silver finish extends to the shift bezel, and bright aluminum pedal pads feature rubber studs for enhanced grip.

An optional Reconfigurable Display is available, with "performance pages" that provide lateral and longitudinal G-force, one-eighth-mile and one-quarter-mile acceleration time and speed, 0-60 mph time and braking distance.

The interior offers some cool features, and I mean that literally. Above the glove compartment is what Dodge calls a "chill zone." It's a compartment that will hold up to four bottles or cans of your favorite beverage, and the compartment is cooled by air from the air conditioner.

The center console holds a flip up compartment to hold a cell phone or mp3 player. There are plenty of cupholders and other storage areas built in, and there is a power outlet available, as well.

The seats feature "performance fabric," whatever that is, and provide very good support. The seats can only be adjusted manually, though. The passenger seat can be folded forward to create a table-like surface. And 60/40 rear seats are available that can also be folded flat, giving you a good amount of cargo space.

Of course, if you'd prefer to carry passengers in the rear seating area, you can. While I wouldn't want to go cross country in the back seat, for normal driving distances there's enough room for two adults in the back. In the front, there's plenty of leg- and headroom.

The Caliber SRT 4 comes with air conditioning; a tilt-steering column; a leather-wrapped steering wheel; rear window defroster; a theft-deterrent system; keyless entry; power windows, locks and mirrors; and cruise control. A power sunroof is available as an option.

The standard audio system is an AM/FM/CD system with a jack for an auxiliary source, like an mp3 player, and four speakers. You can upgrade to a Kicker high-performance audio system that includes 13 speakers in seven locations, and is powered by a 322-watt amplifier and 200-watt subwoofer.

So much for the aesthetics - how does it drive? Actually, it's fun to drive. The standard powerplant for the SRT 4 is a 2.4-liter, 4-cylinder, turbocharged DOHC engine that features variable-valve timing and an intake manifold design with flow control valves.

It'll give you amazing power for a 4 cylinder. It's rated at 285 horsepower and 265 lb.-ft. of torque - enough to get you blazin' off the line; 0-60 mph performance checks in at under six seconds. It's EPA-rated at 21, 26 mpg and you will need premium fuel.

It has a 6-speed manual transmission that is a breeze to shift when you're accelerating, but I found downshifting to be tricky. I had to engage in gear-hunting as the Caliber sometimes seemed to want to select a different gear than I did. Overall, though, going through the gears can be a lot of fun if you consider yourself to be even a little bit of an auto enthusiast type.

Ride and handling is a mixed bag. The ride can be rough, but the Caliber's handling is excellent. The front suspension is an independent MacPherson strut system, with coil-over-spring gas-charged shocks and stabilizer bar. In the rear, it's a multi-link independent system with coil springs, link-type stabilizer bar and gas-charged shocks.

Electronic Stability Program is standard. It's a nice system for a compact car. Rough roads will jar you a little, but the ride is smooth and quiet at highway speeds. Power-assisted rack-and-pinion steering is standard, and the turning circle is tight enough for quick U-turns (don't ask me how I know that; I won't tell you!) and for easy parking.

The SRT 4 Caliber comes with anti-lock 4-wheel disc brakes, which are excellent, and side-window curtain airbags. Side front seat airbags are optional.

The 2008 Dodge Caliber SRT 4 starts at about $22,500. Add the sunroof and upgraded performance tires and you're at about $24,000 - not bad for a performance car.

There's a lot to like about the 2008 Dodge Caliber SRT 4. You'll get excellent performance, handling and braking, a sharp-looking interior and nice exterior styling, as well.

And if you're looking to dip your toe in the performance pool, this might be a good way to get your feet wet.

Keeping up with this Jones farmhouse is a breeze

Compact, the Jones Farm (D8011) is a farmhouse designed in the old sense of the word. It has shutters around the windows, barn-styled doors on the garage, a front covered porch, and the simplistic lines of the old farmhouses of our ancestors.

Crossing the covered porch, the front door opens into the entry facing the great room. On the left side is the formal dining room, separated from the great room by a dividing wall. On the left wall is a long built-in hutch, ideal for displaying family heirloom dishes, and the crystal of yesterday.

A half bath is between the dining room and the living room. Backing up to the half bath is the pantry and a storage closet.

The kitchen is long and open to the living room and nook. The cabinets run down the entire outside wall, ending in a built-in desk. It gives an extreme amount of storage area. The island in the middle ties the kitchen to the living room. A see-through fireplace from the great room is visible from the kitchen and adds warmth to the rooms. The nook is in its own alcove, with a door opening out the backyard.

The great room is open and yet cozy with the see-through fireplace bathing the room in a warm glow. There are numerous windows in the back of the room that bathe the room in natural light. A stairway going upstairs and also to the optional unfinished 1,158 square foot basement is at edge of the great room.

All the bedrooms are located on the second floor. The master suite is in the rear with a large master bath. An oversized tub and a shower, with dual sinks grace the master bath, with a large walk-in closet adjacent. Bedrooms 2, 3, and 4 all have wall closets, large windows for extra light, and share a full bath with a tub and dual sinks. Off bedroom 4 is an optional unfinished storage room.

This plan is so traditionally a farmhouse that it stands out in its simplicity. It would be ideal for a large family, and with the basement, more bedrooms, a game room, and bathrooms could be added.

For a study plan of the JONES FARM (D8011), send $15 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Rd. E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424 or call (800)

Compact disks, with search functions are free of charge, to help you search our portfolio for your dream home ($5 shipping and handling will apply). Or you may order or search online at www.lidiplans.com. Save 15 percent on construction plans using the code (LOE48) online, mailing, or calling (800) 562-1151.

BRIEFS

BIA

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) presents Green Built Training from 9-10:20 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 879 Benjamin in Troy, in a Green Built certified home built by Wake-Pratt Construction Co. In this first of five trainings, Chris Pratt of Wake-Pratt Construction discusses the technical and sales aspects of Building Green using materials and methods that result in Green Built certification.

Building Green offers a change from selling cost per square foot to making an environmental statement. The training is free for BIA members. Advance registration is required. For registration information, call (248) 862-1008.

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) kicks off the Sales and Marketing Council (SMC) programs for 2008 with a Roundtable Discussion, "You're At A Networking Event ... Now What?" on Wednesday, Jan. 30, from 8:30-10:30 a.m. at BIA headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway, Suite 100 in Farmington Hills. Kirk Armstrong of Gerry Weinberg & Associates will lead the discussion focused on how to get a conversation transitioned into your business without appearing needy or offensive. Registration fees are $10 for SMC members, $20 for BIA members and $45 for guests. For registration information, call (248) 862-1033.

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) and its Remodelers Council (RC) will present a Negotiating Skills seminar, at BIA headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway, Suite 100, in Farmington Hills on Thursday, Jan. 31, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The seminar is part of the Certified Graduate Remodeler (CGR) series and counts toward CGR, Certified Graduate Associate (CGA) and Graduate Master Builder (GMB) designations.

Chuck Breidenstein, CAPS, of

Builder Professional Services Group Inc. will present methods and strategies to negotiate with customers, employees, subcontractors, suppliers and government officials. Participants will gain confidence in these skills through role-playing following lectures and exercises. Registration fees are $155 for Remodelers Council members, $175 for BIA members and $200 for guests. For registration information, call (248) 862-1033.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

It's a 30-year commitment. Start the relationship off right.

Whether it's fixed or adjustable, for 15 or 30 years, buying a home is a big commitment. You need someone who defiantly knows where the relationship is going. A REALTOR* is committed to making sure that you're comfortable during the entire home buying experience, and that you're satisfied in the end. Everyone knows that a good relationship takes work. So when it comes to buying a home, work with someone who'll work with you.
