Local teens win shot at filmmaking contest

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

After shooting a short film about a quiet, bullied high school boy who becomes a superhero, a young moviemaking crew including five Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township teens will compete to win a nationwide competition.

But they'll need all the support they can get during a seven-day, online voting contest.

The teens shot their film, Zero to Hero, in July at the vacant Parker High School in Howell, after beating out thousands of youngsters who sought an opportunity to work with Chicago-based Fresh Films, the nation's top filmmaking competition for teens.

Fresh Films assembled teen film crews in six U.S. cities, including the Detroit area, and chose youngsters who stood out after going online to fresh-films.com and making a personal sales pitch including essays about their interest in movies.

Fresh Films, using short film scripts from a separate contest, rolled into town in July after assigning Zero to Hero to teen filmmakers Danielle Allen, Kristen Riggs and Eric Schendel of Canton; Ben Corona of

MDOT ready to ride on bike trail project

BY BRAD KADRICH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Dave Duffield has waited some seven years for the Michigan Department of Transportation to do something about the deteriorating bicycle path that runs along I-275 from Michigan Avenue to Hines Drive.

Now he's excited that he'll only have to wait another year or so. Duffield was one of dozens of people who ran through MDOT's open house-style meeting Thursday at Fellows Creek in Canton to get a glimpse at improvements MDOT will make along the route. Duffield, an avowed and enthusiastic bicyclist from Northville, uses the portion of the I-275 path that's farther north, from Six Mile to north of 12 Mile, to get to work. And he's happy with the plan. "I've been beating this drum for seven years now," said Duffield, an at-large board member of the League of Michigan Bicyclists, a group whose charter is to fight for bicyclists' rights. "Needless to say, I'm ecstatic."

MDOT is in the process of advertising for a contractor for the $4 million project and, according to MDOT project manager Gorette Yung, expects to have one chosen by October. She said work is expected to begin in the spring and by complete by fall 2010.

She said work will be done in a design/build mode, meaning as the design work is complete, the building will be done. She said the speed this model provides was essential to funding for the project.

We need to capture the federal stimulus money," Yung said. "(Design/build) speeds things up and allows us to allocate money within the time frame required."

The project calls for some 7.5 miles of the trail to be rebuilt. Work entails reconstruction of the trail, rehabbing of the pedestrian bridge over the Lower Rouge River, and replacement of bridges over Tonquish Creek, Smith Drain, Fellows Creek and Wiles Drain.

Traffic signals will be installed at various intersections, ramps required by the Americans with Disabilities Act will be revamped and trail-blazing signs will be installed.

When it's completed, some residents believe the trail will actually help Canton's business climate, because bicycling groups who've avoided it in the past will use the trail now, bringing them into contact with Canton businesses.

"Organized rides would start using it, and it would bring people into the businesses," said Canton resident Theresa Beaver. "And it won't just be bikers. You've got Rollerbladers and walkers who use the trail, too."

The MDOT project will reconstruct a trail used not only for recreational bicycling, but also for people - like Duffield - who use it to get to and from work. And for residents like Diane Bancroft, who lives in the farthest northeast corner of Canton Township and who rode with Beaver to Thursday's meeting, the trail provides a more emotional boost.

"It would be great to see it come back again," said Bancroft, who said the trail has been deteriorating for years. "As a resident who feels disconnected, this will connect me to my township again. I'm very excited about that.'

Canton is going to the dogs. Well, actually, the dogs are coming to Canton. Some of them will be prancing around in their finest costumes and possibly riding on parade floats. Others will simply be looking for a friendly owner to take them home.

If you see Spot running, it's for a good cause. It'll help the Ann Arbor-based Humane Society of Huron Valley, which serves the Plymouth-Canton area, and it'll also bring in dollars for a Canton dog park planned for Denton Road north of Cherry Hill.

The weekend event is set for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 22-23, on the north end of Heritage Park off Canton Center Road between Cherry Hill and Palmer. It'll feature Advance tickets are $4 per person and may be bought at Canton's Summit on the Park, 46000 Summit Parkway; the Humane Society of Huron Valley's adoption center, 3100 Cherry Hill Road in Ann Arbor; and Pet Supplies Plus, 43665 Ford Road in Canton.

Tickets also may be purchased at the festival entrance for $5, and children ages 2 and under get in free.

Paws in the Park will happen rain or shine, and dogs must be controlled on a leash by their owners.

To kick off the festival, a one-mile Paw Walk is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Aug. 22 with a $15 minimum donation to benefit the humane society and the dog park. Owners are invited to a registration starting at 8 a.m., and they are urged to dress their dogs in costumes and create floats to win prizes from event sponsors, including a year's supply of dog treats from Three Dog Bakery in Plymouth and dog food for a year from Canidae Pet Foods.

Pet owners also may register by logging onto www.pawsintheparkusa.com.

The first 500 people to sign up for the walk will receive an official Paws in the Park bandana and one admission ticket to the main festival.

The Humane Society of Huron Valley, along with other local shelters, will have on-site adoptions both days of the festival from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. "for anyone who's looking to bring a new companion home," said Deb Kern, the humane society's marketing director. Dogs, puppies and likely a few kittens will be available, but probably not adult cats because "they don't travel as well," Kern said.

Paws in the Park will feature entertainment including the high-flying Purina Incredible Dog Team, a collection of some of the world's most athletic canines that perform to music. Dog feats will include a two-legged balancing act on the trainer's feet and jumping nearly 10 feet in the air to share a flying disc.

The Rock 'n' Roll K9s also will be on hand, including dogs and trainers putting on an agility show set to rock music. Children are asked to join in the fun and become part of the show.

In yet another contest, the Ultimate Air Dog United Kennel Club Competition will include canines competing for distance as they run and jump into a pool. Organizers say the event is hosted by former Detroit Tigers pitcher Milt Wilcox, who has appeared on a variety of television shows with his dog, Sparky.

Local and national vendors also will be on site to provide pet education on nutrition, obedience training, pet care and grooming. They also will showcase the latest fashions and pet products.

a phone call in late June confirming she had been chosen to help make Zero to Hero.

"I screamed," said Allen, who has dreamed of working in the film industry after acting in school plays since early childhood and performing at Canton's Village Theater at Cherry Hill. "It was unbelievable.

Allen had studied media production at Pioneer Middle School, and Corona had taken an advanced video class at Plymouth High, where he will be a senior this year. They both aspire to work in the film industry, but they hadn't dreamed of getting a chance this early in life.

Fresh Films set up shop at Staybridge Suites in Novi for a seven-day production, but Zero to Hero was actually shot during one long, 12-hour day in July at the Howell school. The teen crew earlier had to grasp movie-making duties such as handling auditions of nearly 200 people, choosing five actors, working the film equipment and arranging for on-set food catering. They worked cameras, sound mixers and boom microphones.

"I could definitely see myself directing motion pictures as a career," Corona said.

The film crew rotated their movie-making responsibilities, and Allen said one of the most difficult jobs included shooting a fast-paced scene as an actor rushed up a stairwell. Small duties, like making sure no one tripped over electrical cords, became a challenge.

"But all of our hard work has finally paid off," Allen said. The teens haven't yet seen the final film, which will be no longer than 10 minutes. It tells the story of a loner, Arthur, who ultimately uses his telekinetic powers to rescue a classmate, Aubrey, from what Corona described as "this psycho guy."

Now comes the real challenge: Zero to Hero will compete against two other superhero, Slurpee-sponsored films Aug. 27 through Sept. 2 during a free, unlimited, online voting competition at fresh-films. com. It will be up against films made in Dallas, Texas, and Orlando, Flai, and all the movies will be shown on the Fresh Films site.

"Log on and rock the vote," Corona said, "so we can start putting Detroit on the map to have another film capital."

Voters will be able to see online how the films are faring in competition. For now, teen filmmakers are promoting their movie on social networking sites like Facebook and MySpace, and they are arranging a laptop computer voting party for 6-11 p.m. Friday, Aug. 28, at the Oasis Cafe, 33523 Eight Mile Road, in Livonia, Allen said.

The superhero film receiving the most votes will face yet another - and final - voting competition Sept. 10-16, also at fresh-films.com. It will square off against the top vote-getter among three teen-made comedy films from New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

"Last year, we had more than three million votes come through," Bardauskis said.

The overall winner will be shown at a yet-to-beannounced, major film festival, she said, and all the movies are eventually expected to debut nationwide on DIRECTV. Moreover, they will be reviewed around voting time on the Fresh Films site by writer-director Adam McKay (Anchorman and Talladega Nights: The Ballad of Ricky Bobby) and writer-producer Chris Henchy (Land of the Lost) - two of the creative minds behind the Web site Funny or Die, www.funnyordie. com.

Teens who made the overall winning film will receive film editing software and small, handheld movie cameras, and it's possible they could get to attend their film festival debut.

"We're still exploring that," Bardauskis said.

Regardless, the filmmakers have had an experience they will remember a lifetime. "It has been amazing," Allen said.

Scout collects 75 bicycles for poor in Central America

BY MATT JACHMAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Steady rain didn't stop the donations from pouring in last weekend, when a Plymouth Township Boy Scout collected 75 used bicycles for needy people in two Central American countries.

Matt Montgomery, 17, who arranged the Aug. 8 bike donation event as a step toward his Eagle Scout rank, took in the 75 bikes in just four hours outside Plymouth Township Hall. Matt, his parents, Colleen and Tom Montgomery, and about 10 family members and friends processed the bikes, despite the rain, which Matt and his father then hauled to Pedals For Progress, a nonprofit in High Bridge, N.J.

Matt, who took in more than twice his goal of 35 bikes, said he met a lot of enthusiastic donors.

"There were some people especially that just liked the cause," he said. Monetary donations, toward shipping costs, were also generous, Matt said, exceeding the suggested $10 per bike.

"The turnout was really great, to show that people cared," he said.

The bikes are intended for people in Nicaragua and Guatemala who need reliable means of getting to and from work, schools, medical clinics and shopping districts. The Pedals For Progress Web site says the organization has shipped more than 120,000 bicycles to developing countries.

During the collection period, each bike had to be checked to make sure it was in working order, or easily repairable. Each bike had to have its pedals taken off and strapped to it, its seat and handlebars lowered, and its chain sprayed with WD-40. The bikes were all loaded onto a trailer and a pickup that Matt and his father used to take them to Pedals For Progress.

For the work, Matt enlisted his parents, friends and fellow Scouts.

"I don't think we would've been able to fit another bike into the trailer," he said.

Tom and Matt Montgomery began the roughly 14-hour journey to New Jersey the next day, Aug. 9. "It was a pretty long drive," Matt said. They stayed with relatives before returning home.

Matt, who is about to enter his senior year at Catholic Central High School, said he was inspired to help people in Central America by a service trip he made to Guatemala at age 15.

"That's 75 families' lives that are going to be changed by this," he said.

Boulders, with new owners, to become Plymouth Rock

BY MATT JACHMAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Boulders, a restaurant and bar on Ann Arbor Road at Harvey in Plymouth, is scheduled to close for a few days beginning Monday as its new owners remodel and get ready for menu and theme changes.

John Mousalas and Steve Stergiou, who also own Zak's of Plymouth, say they want Boulders, which they intend to rename, to be a family friendly sports bar known for good food. They took over June 1 and want to rename the place the Plymouth Rock Bar and Grill once the Boulders alcohol.license is officially transferred.

"I'm looking for it to be a true sports bar," Stergiou said. "Hopefully it'll be the new hot spot in Plymouth."

Patrons should take a last look at the facade of Boulders Restaurant on Ann Arbor Road, because new owners will rename the restaurant once a liquor license issue is resolved.

will be removing partitions, repainting and installing a new floor and ceiling, plus a new service bar inside, as well as doing exterior and parking-lot work. Stergiou said Boulders will reopen Friday, temporarily if the remodeling isn't finished, for an album-release concert by The Good Fight, an area independent roots rock band.

Several additional television sets, aimed for the sports crowd, are going to be installed, and Stergiou said he hopes to feature a regular lineup of live musical acts on weekend nights by the middle of next month or early October.

The Boulders menu, which now features a variety of appetizers, a madeto-order pizza, steak, ribs, burgers and Tex-Mex fare, will also change somewhat, when some new selections, like a zucchini eggplant burger, are added to current favorites, said chef Spiro Diakovasiliou.

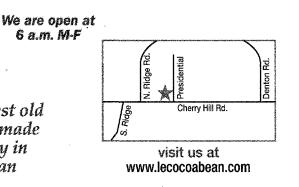

Mousalas said he's aiming to make the restaurant more appealing to families, particularly during the day.

Canton woman gets probation in stabbing

BY DARRELL CLEM OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A Canton woman accused of stabbing her brother during an argument has been placed on probation for three years after a Wayne County Circuit Court judge convicted her on a charge of felonious assault.

Katina Lynne Martinez, 35, could have faced penalties ranging up to life in prison if she had been found guilty on more serious charges of assault with intent to murder and assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Martinez already had served some jail time after police arrested her in February amid accusations she used a kitchen knife to stab her 36-year-old brother in the abdomen during a dispute on Buckingham, southeast of Cherry Hill and Lotz on the township's east side.

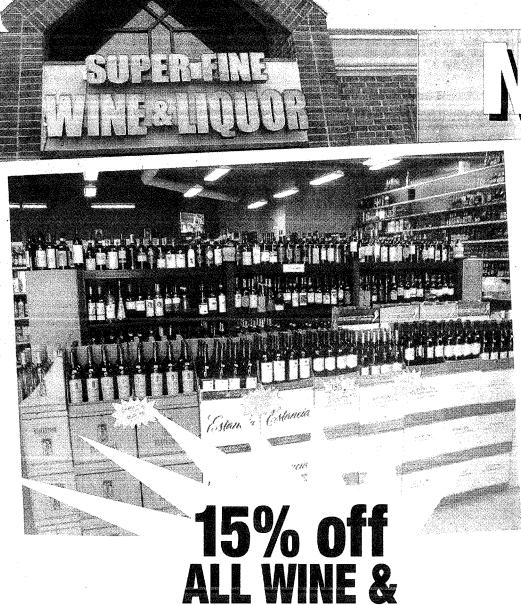

The victim was rushed to St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, where he was initially listed in stable condition before he began a more sustained recovery.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Maria Miller said Martinez was given a threeyear probation sentence July 29 by Judge Cynthia Grey Hathaway.

According to the Michigan Department of Corrections, the guilty verdict for felonious assault was returned during a trial heard by the judge rather than a jury.

Martinez also was ordered to receive treatment for substance abuse. She could be returned to jail if she violates any other laws during her probation.

The judge also ordered Martinez not to leave the state without permission; to attend alcohol and drug prevention classes; to report monthly for probation appointments; to take medications as prescribed by a doctor; and to perform community service.

MESP a strong plan with some very attractive options

Q: Dear Rick: I know in the past you have been a supporter of the Michigan Education Savings Plan. I want to start a college savings plan for my grandchild. Do you still think this is a good plan?

A: I still like the Michigan Education Savings Plan (MESP) and I believe it is a great way to save for a grandchild's college education. The MESP these types of plans allow money to be Money Matters invested and grow tax-free

for someone's college education. Although there are some common attributes to 529 Plans, they are not all the same. It is the differences that distinguish the MESP from other 529 Plans and the reason why I highly recommend the MESP.

The MESP is very flexible. When money is withdrawn for college, the money does not have to be used in a Michigan school or by a Michigan resident. Many 529 Plans are not this flexible and limit the institutions where the money can be used.

Money withdrawn from the MESP can basically be used in any public or private institution in the country. In addition, there are many institutions around the world that also qualify. Flexibility is a key ingredient - particularly when saving for a child or grandchild's college education that may be years down the road.

All 529 Plans offer set portfolios for investors to select from. One of the beauties of the MESP is that it offers a wide variety of investment options. This allows an investor to coordinate different college savings plans and also different strategies when it comes to saving for college.

Unfortunately, many 529 Plans have high minimums required to start an investment program. The MESP only has a $25 minimum required to open up an account. In addition, once you deposit $25, you're not committed to add any additional money. This gives investors a great deal of flexibility, because they can add money into the plan at their own discretion.

Another factor that distinguishes MESP from other 529 Plans is cost. The MESP has very low ongoing fees and no commissions. No commissions and low fees are what all investors should look for. The money saved on commissions and high fees is staying in the investment, exactly where it should.

As mentioned earlier, one of the beauties of all 529 Plans is the investments accumulate tax-free. In addition, when money is withdrawn, there are no income taxes that need to be paid as long as the money is used for a qualified education expense. A qualified education expense is basically room, board, books and required fees. In addition to these benefits, the MESP is the only plan that gives a tax deduction on an individual's Michigan Income Tax Return.

In your situation, if you invested money for your grandchild's college education, you will be able to deduct that contribution on your state tax return.

Davenport's new president seeks input from community

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Richard Pappas toured the Livonia campus of Davenport University on Wednesday and met with teachers and staff there, some of the first duties he's completed since taking over as Davenport's president this month.

Pappas comes to Davenport from National-Louis

University in Chicago. He said he went to Davenport because it was a "perfectly fitted match" for him. "I'm glad to be back in my home state, and Davenport has a tremendous drive for excellence," Pappas said.

Pappas wanted to meet with faculty and staff in Livonia and at other Davenport campuses to develop a five-year plan. He plans to return in about a month to talk with businesses, technological firms and hospitals to find out what employer demands and needs will be over the next several years.

"Livonia is a new campus, and it is a beautiful campus,' Pappas said. "We'd like to sit down with the residents and employers and have input from them."

That input and information will help develop a strategic plan that fits everyone's needs. whether it is a student seeking a career in an employable field further noted that the board based its decision for selecting Pappas on his successful track record in strategic planning, academics, admissions, fundraising, alumni relations and community leadership.

Pappas has 35 years experience in higher education and 20 years as college and university president. Pappas holds a doctorate in higher, adult and continuing education and a master's degree in higher education and business management from the University of Michigan.

Pappas served as president of Lake Michigan College in Benton Harbor and president of Harford Community College in Bel Air, Md. He will now oversee Davenport, a private, nonprofit university which has its main campus in Grand Rapids, and offers classes at 14 locations, from Alma to Warren. Enrollment is approximately 11,000.

Davenport specializes in business, technology and health professions. The university boasts that it prepares students for 17 of the top 20 careers on the Michigan Top 50 list.

But what else did I see on campus but a junior varsity stadium!

Not a patch of green grass adorned with a bench or two. mind you, but a Turf Field venue complete with actual bleachers for fans, friends and family members to watch the future varsity Chiefs, Rocks and Wildcats.

For the past five years covering teams in Redford and Garden City for the Observer, never did I see such a place. Don't get me wrong. Folks in those communities also strongly back their student-athletes to the best of their ability. They really care.

But I quickly found out that in Plymouth and Canton, athletics get the big-time treatment and the boys and girls who live there have unique opportunities to experience.

Tae kwon do transforms Plymouth teen from shy to sensational

BY TIM SMITH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Amanda Kertesz's transformation from "girlie-girl" to flat-out competitor? To paraphrase a pop culture slogan, it's been as easy as ... T-K-D.

The 16-year-old Plymouth girl and soon-to-be senior at Canton High School no longer does ballet or hip-hop dance routines.

These days, she is a rising star based out of Midwest Tae Kwon Do on Main Street in Plymouth. In July, she came home with two gold medals from the USA Tae Kwon Do Junior Olympics & U.S. National Championships held in Austin. Texas. "It was very thrilling, exciting and nerve-wracking all at the same time," said Kertesz, who claimed the gold in sparring and forms.

IT'S ALL GOOD

"You're showing off your stuff, they're challenging you physically and mentally and seeing what you can do," the usually low-key Kertesz said during a recent interview at Midwest. "Then you have the second test in October that's open to the public. 'That's where you break boards and break cement and all that good stuff." The good stuff is a little different than what her parents (Lisa and Michael Kertesz) once thought would be on her resume.

Champion SeaWolves

What an unbelievable finish for the 2009 SeaWolves of the Livonia Baseball and Softball Association. Not only did they dominate the playoffs with 12-3 championship berth victory against Waterford No. 1 they continued their awesome hitting attack by beating Waterford No. 2 by a 12-2 count on Aug. 1 at Ford Field in front of a large and supportive crowd to capture the Oakland/Wayne Intercity Colt Central Division Championship. Starting pitcher Josh Dehethre was the difference maker, keeping Waterford batters at bay. Calling a superb game was catcher Adam Michael. Key hits were registered by Angelo Cavagnini and Ben Anderson while Dan Blacker, Kyle Curtis, Troy Bodtke, Dallas Centers and Steve Siemieiak all made contributions at the plate and in the field. The team is managed by Mark Bodtke, assisted by coaches Ray Buttigieg and Ralph Call.

The Rams' offense was anemic for the second straight day as the New Orleans (La.) Boosters eliminated the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League representative, 3-2, at the 20-and-under All-American Amateur Baseball Association Tournament held Wednesday at Roxbury Park in Johnstown, Pa.

"We couldn't get the big hit to get in a run," said Berryman, whose team collected just four hits and lost a day earlier in the double-elimination tourney to Martella's Pharmacy of Johnstown, 2-1. "We had excellent pitching and defense. That wasn't the issue. We played flawless in the infield and the outfield, but did not hit."

Northville High's Steve Anderson (Grand Valley State), a tournament pick-up by the Rams from LCBL Blue Knights, belted a solo homer in the third inning to knot the count at 1-all. The Rams then went ahead 2-1 in the fourth on back-toback doubles by Jake Rhodes and Kyle Vesey.

Rams starting pitcher Matt Broder (Michigan) gave up one run on three hits and two walks before being replaced by reliever Tom Whiting in the seventh.

Whiting, who was charged with the loss, then gave up the go-ahead two-run double as New Orleans remained alive in the 16-team tournament.

The Rams, the LCBL runnerup, finished their summer sandlot schedule at 24-15 overall.

"Yeah, it's almost like a role reversal," said Lisa Kertesz, a regular at Midwest, where daughters Amanda and 9year-old Anna compete. "Now I've got my dancer who I thought I'd be seeing at dance recitals, But instead, I'm in the stands.

"God, I never thought I'd be a mom in the stands screaming, 'Kick her butt!'"

Even Amanda has to deal with double-takes from friends now and again.

"They're like, 'No way, I can't believe you do that," she said with a grin. "Because they just can't see me as that kind of person."

It's true, but still kind of hard to believe. That's because when Kertesz is not delivering crunching kicks to the torso of her sparring partners during training sessions at Midwest under the watch of Masters Russell Gale (a sixth-degree black belt) and Tanya Panizzo (a fifth-degree black belt), she is still as soft-spoken and humble as can be.

"It's helped me a lot as a person," she said about the impact tae kwon do has made in her life in just a few short years (and since January 2008 at Midwest). "Being in tae kwon do isn't just about martial arts.

"There's other lessons that come with it, that help you along the way through life, such as peer pressure and selfdefense.

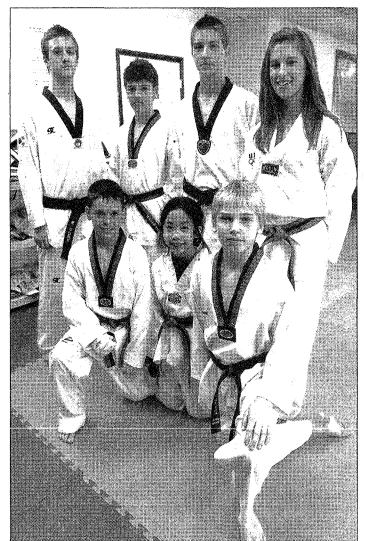

STEPPING UP

Those lessons, plus how to be more assertive and inquisitive, are why Lisa Kertesz really is thrilled her teen daughter is immersed in tae kwon do.

"I attribute it to these particular masters," Lisa said. "They've really taught her how to step up. They've taught her not to be part of the crowd. They've taught her to be different.

"And you know, for the longest time she didn't tell people she was in tae kwon do. Never would tell people and I always wondered. Now in the past year (since starting at Midwest), she definitely doesn't have a problem telling people. And a majority of them are impressed, they can't believe she does what she does.

And to be honest, Amanda Kertesz might not be amassing awards and accolades without some prodding from her younger sister. According to mom, it was actually Anna who was the first person in the family to get a jump start on the sport. "Anna is our tomboy and a very outgoing personality," Lisa said. "And Amanda credits her for getting her into something she normally wouldn't have done, like tae kwon do.'

"I just went to her class and started watching her and started helping out in the gym," she said. "She wanted to kick with me. I was a little iffy on it because I was a 'girliegirl,' you know."

She laughed when she said that, but the joke's on her competition now as opponents learned recently at the Junior Nationals.

MASTERFUL STUDENT

"She had to compete in a really large division with a bunch of other girls," Panizzo said. "She was flawless the entire time. She made one small error that she corrected the next round and she was able to pull it off and win the gold."

Panizzo also gave high marks to Kertesz in sparring. "As far as the free sparring, she was strong," Panizzo said. "She hit it hard and she was really underestimated. I think a lot of it was because she's very graceful and I think people assume she might not be as tough, but she is.' Kertesz now wants to return to the Junior Nationals in 2010 for what would be a third consecutive time. In 2008, she garnered a silver medal in forms and a bronze in sparring. And if she does go back, Panizzo wonders out loud just how good Kertesz can be after another year of training and encouragement from everybody at Midwest. "Does Amanda have a limit?

He's got sights on 2012 Olympics

BY TIM SMITH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Midwest Tae Kwon Do in Plymouth could be grooming a future Olympian.

Westland John Glenn's Steven Thompson certainly is on the right track toward that lofty goal, earning a gold medal at the recent USA Tae Kwon Do Junior Olympics & U.S. National Championships in Austin, Tex. and qualifying for Saturday's national team trial.

If the 16-year-old Westland native is victorious at the Colorado Springs, Col. "fight off" at welterweight (129-to-137 pounds) he will earn a berth on the USA National Junior Team.

"I think I'm surprising people," Thompson said. "A lot of people didn't think I could make it as far as I am now, like going to teams." One of his trademarks is dogged determination, so no matter what happens in Colorado, Thompson won't be deterred.

"I would just come back here, start training more and wait around for next year," he explained.

And making the USA National Junior Team is just the next of the string of ambitious goals Thompson is planning to reach.

"After making junior team, (goals are to) win internationally, travel around the world and play for USA and then go for the 2012 Olympics (in Chicago)," he said.

About the last goal in that list, he smiled and said it was do-able. "I think so. I always try to set myself at the highest I can go."

Thompson, whose parents are Lori and Daniel Thompson, said his tae kwon do success (he came home from Texas with a gold medal in sparring in the 18-32 age bracket) is helping him grow as a complete person.

"It's making me concentrate more in school and it's making me more athletic to do other

... I've grown in school, too. I got better grades since I started tae kwon do and I've met new people during tournaments and built friendships with them."

According to one of the masters at Midwest Tae Kwon Do, fifth-degree black belt Tanya Panizzo, there's no telling what Thompson might be able to accomplish.

One of the main reasons for Panizzo's optimism is Thompson's absolute passion for the sport, which gets it's three-pronged name from "foot," "fist" and "the way."

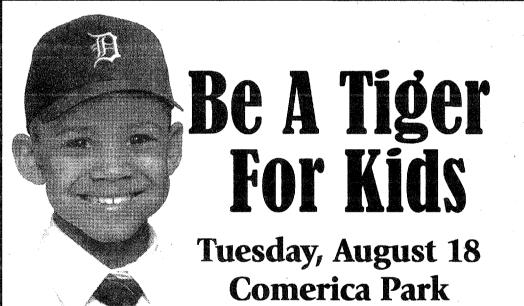

"It started when I was six, I always loved fighting," Thompson stressed. "It's just adrenaline and energy flowing through your body. It's like you just can't wait to get out there and fight."

Amanda concurred about how her sister, only 6 at the time, sparked her own interest in 2006.

'It's amazing where she's been and where she's come from and where she's at," Lisa said. "It just amazes me. Every time she goes out there and fights, there's just this glow in her eye."

Go ahead and ask the masters about that. Chances are pretty good they'll glow about that, too.

Madonna spikers look to maintain elite status

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

It could be a new-look Madonna University women's volleyball team this fall, but the results never get old for the Crusaders, who will be gunning for their 11th NAIA National Tournament appearance under Hall of Fame coach Jerry Abraham.

Abraham, entering his 23rd year, must replace first-team All-America Lubovj Tihomirova, who average 4.08 kills per game, and second-team All-America Whitney Fuelling (463 kills), along with front-row specialist Stephanie Parslow – all whom graduated.

"We lost three quality seniors – offensively who were dominant kind of players that were all tremendous leaders and volleyball athletes," said Abraham, who is coming off a 35-7 season and 12th straight Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference title. "So our recruiting efforts this year were to get more firepower specifically in the outside and middle hitting positions.

"Overall we're new in a lot of spots. We're returning experience in key areas, but yet we have a lot of new players that have to fit in. That's why this preseason is more important than the last few years. But I'm confident that once we mold into a team, it could be a team that is fast and athletic. The chemistry is extremely good and I'm excited about the season."

Mary McGinnis, a 5-foot-11 senior outside hitter from Fraser who ranked second behind the 6-2 Tihomirova in total kills (474) will take on the leadership role along with fourth-year starting setter Inta Grinvalds, a 5-10 senior from Portage Central.

Abraham said both are legitimate All-America candidates.

The other senior returnee is 5-8 defensive specialist Abby Long (LaPorte, Ind.), a three-year starter who is coming off knee surgery.

"Obviously we'll count on our seniors," Abraham said. "If Abby is healthy, she'll pick up where she left off. Inta's the floor general, the leader who is able to put it antenna-toantenna. She's a top level setter, one of the better setters in the country.

"Mary will be a captain. She had a great spring. We'll rely on her as a left-side hitter who we expect put up numbers on a consistent basis." McGinnis, meanwhile, is ready to assume the mantle. "Coach (Abraham) wants me to be more vocal," McGinnis said. "Usually I try to lead by example. I've been a leader, but haven't had the seniority. I'm excited to take on the role." Grinvalds, MU's all-time leading setter, averaged 10.83 assists per game in 2008.

"We're going to miss Lubovj, but we have some good girls coming in," said Grinvalds, who is majoring in nursing. "She was a key player, but we can make due with the girls coming in. Over the years with played the same style. But with a new assistant coach (Tera Woodruff) after three years it could be a factor as far as changing the style."

Also returning is Karie Altman, a 6-foot sophomore middle hitter from Allen Park Cabrini (175 kills); Megan Fricke, a 5-9 sophomore outside hitter from Wyandotte Roosevelt (111 kills); and Amanda Koszela, a 5-7 defensive specials from Dearborn High.

"She (Koszela) will be our starting libero, she's a great defensive player with a lot of speed," Abraham said. "Karie (Altman) will be a go-to player, a big part of the offense. She's very strong with a whip for an arm. She attacks from the slide dominantly." Other returness include three players with Observerland ties – Liz Dempsey, a 5-8 junior hitter from Livonia Franklin; Marie Martin, a 6-1 middle hitter from Canton; Anna Gatt, a 5-7 defensive specialist from Livonia Churchill.

Other returnees include three

"Martin has really developed," Abraham said. "It took a season for her to develop. And I thought both Dempsey and Fricke had great springs."

Grinvalds' back-up will be freshman recruit Evia Prieditis, a 5-9 setter from Milford. And adding depth to the front row is 6-1 sophomore Katie Czarnecki (L'Anse Creuse North), a 6-1 sophomore transfer from Macomb Community College.

"She's a lefty who will provide a big block and a big hit," Abraham said of Czarnecki. "Prieditis already is familiar with our system. She's played it for three years."

The trump cards, however, just arrived Sunday night from Riga, Latvia, just in time for Monday's opening day of conditioning and practice.

Abraham has added two freshmen in a pair of 6-footers named Anastasija – Baranovaskaja and Sheremetjeva – both whom hope to follow in the footsteps of former MU All-Americas Tihomirova and Natalja Tinina.

"They're very talented kids, both high level players from the club team that Lubovj and Natalja came from - that's the connection," Abraham said. "They both come in with high honors. They can play front and back row. They can play all over the place."

Abraham has also added a new and old assistant coach with the departure of Ed Tolentino to Georgia Tech. Back in the fold is Tim DeBeliso, who spent 11 seasons on the bench, and former MU standout Tera Woodruff. They join longtime Abraham assistant Brian McClain.

"With the two new Latvian players we may be smaller and quicker," Woodruff said. "We have a good core with Mary (McGinnis) and Inta (Grinvalds). We may not necessarily have the power we've had, but we have the quickness."

The new-look Crusaders, however, plan to keep on winning for Abraham, who ranks second among NAIA coaches in total wins (881).

"When we walk out on the court we may not look as intimidating," McGinnis said. "We'll be a lot different, but we'll be really aggressive and I think we'll have a successful year."

Schoolcraft spikers look for repeat performance

BY JIM TOTH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Entering his third season in charge of the women's volleyball program at Schoolcraft College, head coach Rich Lamb knows this year's squad will be hard-pressed to match, or better, the accomplishments of the 2008 contingent.

"We certainly had a good year," Lamb said of the last season's unit which posted a conference-leading 15-1 ledger, strung together 18 consecutive victories, and finished with a 31-9 mark overall. "It was quite rewarding.

"But we go into every season with the goal of being league champs, and continuing on in the national tournament. We started that season with a good base of sophomores and we're looking to do the same this year also."

A handful of returnees, including four starters, has Lamb believing the '09 Ocelots can be every bit as dominating both offensively and defensively. Lamb's optimism begins with Jordan Kerr (Livonia Churchill), a second-team All-MCCAA Eastern Conference selection in 2008, whose overall talents position her as the team's libero.

"She's all-everything out there for us," Lamb said. "She's our back-row specialist, but we'll position her everywhere out on the court and it will be up to the other team to find out just where she is."

Jennifer Brunink and Emily Bronkema return as powerful middle hitters and Brittany Denter, with a year of experience under her belt, should prove to be one of the league's top setters.

^{*}It will be nice to have an experienced setter," Lamb said. "Last year she (Denter) kind of learned on the fly thinking and making decisions."

The fifth returnee is Kirstin Kirk, who was limited in her playing time last season after suffering a knee injury.

The ability of freshmen to step in and make an immediate impact is crucial to any community college in maintaining a successful program.

Katie Vellucci (Livonia Stevenson) is one such freshman and Lamb believes her contributions, along with that of outside hitters Katrina Johnson, Sam Gilbreth and Kayla Creech, will be critical in the Ocelots' attempt to defend the Eastern Conference crown in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association. The race for the top spot in the Eastern Conference promises to be a heated one as Lamb believes the offseason recruiting turned in by Oakland CC, St. Clair CC and Macomb CC makes it difficult to select a clear-cut favorite.

"I just hope we're in the mix at the end," he said.

Regular-season play for Schoolcraft begins Friday, Aug. 28, with a tri-match against visiting league foes Alpena CC and Delta College.

Canton Christian Fellowship Church is ready to party - and give away school supplies at the same time.

It's registering participants for its Back-to-School Party, noon to 2 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 29, at the church, located at 8775 Ronda Drive, off Joy between Lilley and Haggerty in Canton.

"They call us and say they want to be a part of it and we get their name, their grade, whether they're a boy or girl and their school," Adonna Wright, event coordinator, explained the registration process. "We're hoping they register by Wednesday, Aug. 26, but if people call after that time we won't turn them down."

Wright said the church, pastored by the Rev. David Washington, Jr., also runs a clothing bank.

"This is the first time we're having a backto-school party. We'll try to accommodate everyone. And we'll have games for the kids, face painting and a little music to celebrate going back to school. The main thing is it helps those parents who are having a tough time now. RSVP at (734) 404-2480. Visit the church

Canines step out in style at Canton event

BY SHARON DARGAY O&E STAFF WRITER

Dinah Braun of Canton will don a handmade clown outfit next Saturday and do her best to look the cutest as she struts her stuff in a half-mile walk through Heritage Park in her community.

A lot will be at stake for the 3-year-old entrant. If she wins the "best costume" contest at the park, she'll get a year's supply of treats.

But she'll face some stiff competition from other contestants, like 41/2-year-old Abby Slattery of Novi who will portray "Toto" while her mom, Megan Slattery, walks the route in gingham dress and ruby slippers as Dorothy from the Wizard of Oz.

Win or lose, both the Braun and Slattery families say the fun — and fund-raising for the Humane Society of Huron Valley (HSHV) - is what counts the most.

"I always tell Abby, 'It's for the cause," said Slattery, a big supporter of HSHV.

She and her Cairn Terrier, (full name Abby Girl Pelino Slattery) and the Braun family - Kurt and Shawn, with kids Matthew, 11, and Alyssa, 13, and Dinah, their Border Collie/Retriever mix – will be among those participating in the Paw Walk August 22 during the first annual Paws in the Park, a two-day activitypacked event for canines and their families.

"There are so many familyfriendly events as well as dog events," Slattery noted. "This event is a must for dog pet people - beautiful setting, great causes and dogs dogs dogs." Dinah-saurs Team" members, the Brauns, look forward to the variety of events, as well as the costume contest during things to do and see all for a great cause."

MONEY, AWARENESS

Actually, two organizations will benefit. Money from event ticket sales will go toward efforts to create a dog park in Canton. The Paw Walk will generate dollars for HSHV. But Deb Kern, HSHV marketing director, and Terri O'Brien, founder of Plymouth's Green Street Fair and a Paws in the Park organizer, both say awareness is equally important.

"The Humane Society of Huron Valley is the Humane Society of choice for Plymouth and Canton. A lot of people don't know that," O'Brien said, explaining that dogs lost in those two communities are taken to the HSHV shelter, located in Ann Arbor.

Kern said HSHV serves all of Washtenaw County, in addition to Canton and Plymouth. The Michigan Humane Society, which maintains a shelter in Westland, is a separate entity.

A dog leaps off the dock during an Ultimate Air Dogs show.

"We try let people know that. If their animals get away from them they need to file a lost report with us," she said. "We have contracts with Plymouth and Canton.

"People think the Michigan Humane Society covers all of Michigan, and that's not the case."

In addition to raising money and awareness, Kern said Paws in the Park will help HSHV place pets in new homes through the adoption fair planned for both days.

The shelter cares for approximately 10,000 animals a year, including cats, dogs, rabbits, under construction and scheduled to open in the fall.

NO VACANCY

"We really need the space. Right now we have room for 110 cats and 70 dogs. We're full. We also have 150 foster families that work with us," Kern said.

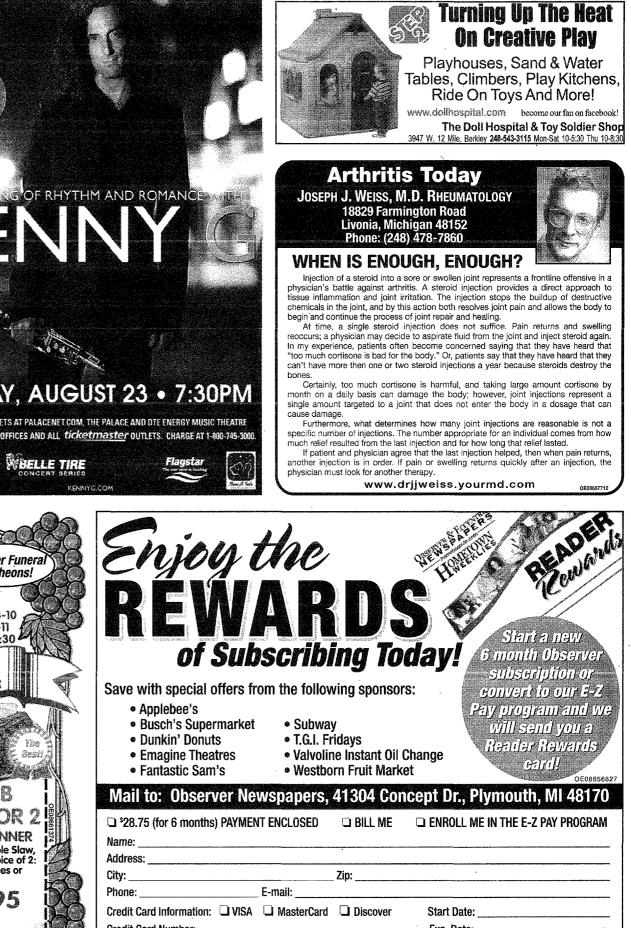

The new building will increase cat lodging by 60 percent and the dog kennel by 20

In the meantime, HSHV has taken a creative approach to placing cats, which tend to "overwhelm" the facility.

"We're doing adoption specials. We had our cat adoption stimulus plan - cats for canned food," Kern said. Anyone who brought in 12 cans of cat food received a free cat if they qualified for adoption. If they paid $50 for a kitten, they'd get the second one for free.

Kern stressed that applicants must meet adoption requirements.

"We do the same screening for everyone. It takes about 45 minutes to go through the process."

She said Paws in the Park visitors who plan to adopt an animal next weekend will go through that same screening process on site.

Car shows hosted by vets are Woodward alternative

Cars are the stars at the American Legion Post 32 shows, which also feature good food and oldies music.

BY JULIE BROWN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Not all the classic cars were on Woodward Avenue Thursday night. A show sponsored by the American Legion Post 32 in Livonia brought in '59 Chevy Corvette owner Paul Lemieux and other car-lovers.

"I've been wanting to come here," said Livonia resident Lemieux, standing by his white Corvette. His wife had a hair appointment Thursday, so it worked out; he attended regularly in the past, and decided to come back.

"It's my first car ever owned and I've had it since '67," he said of the Corvette. "I'll never get rid of it."

His brother bought the car in 1960 and Lemieux got it later. "What I do is the upkeep." This winter, it'll go "under the knife" for a chassis restoration with the body off. His wife doesn't ride in it all that much, "not a hair muss day, you might say." There's no room for the dog, but he still likes to drive it. The Thursday evening car shows at the Legion post on Newburgh north of Joy give Lemieux a chance to see other cars. He used to be in a Corvette club, but now those club members have newer cars. Lemieux didn't try the Woodward Dream Cruise Thursday, as he worried about his car overheating. He planned to go Friday and Saturday morning. Lemieux, who sees classic cars on Hines Drive said his cars on Hines Drive, said his nephew will probably get the car when he's 80 or 85 and can't push the clutch. "He probably wants this one when I go."

Keeping things running smoothly at the registration table was Doreen Linderman of Belleville, Legion Ladies Auxiliary president. The shows run 5 p.m. generally until dusk from May through the last Thursday in September.

"I've worked the car show the last several years," said Linderman, adding it's been about 10 years since shows began. "Tonight it's kind of light because of the Woodward Dream Cruise," she said.

They've had 120-130 cars and 60-70 motorcycles on a good night. Cars don't have to be of a certain year or model, and there's no judging other than a weekly appreciation plaque. The Legion, Ladies Auxiliary and the Sons of the American Legion put on the shows. They're helped by the American Legion Riders, veterans who ride motorcycles.

Car owners come from Howell, Ann Arbor, Monroe, "all around, all over," she said. "They're all great cars." She and her husband don't own a classic car but enjoy helping out.

Dorothy Koi of Plymouth Township, a veteran, was also staffing the registration table. She served in the Army Air Corps during World War II (1944) and is a past commander of the post.

"They're beautiful cars, but I don't have time to go around and look at them," Koi said.

Top 40 hits from the 1950s and 1960s played Thursday as car owners and onlookers visited. Food's served both from the kitchen and an outdoor grill, with the only charge for food. Admission to the show is free, as is parking.

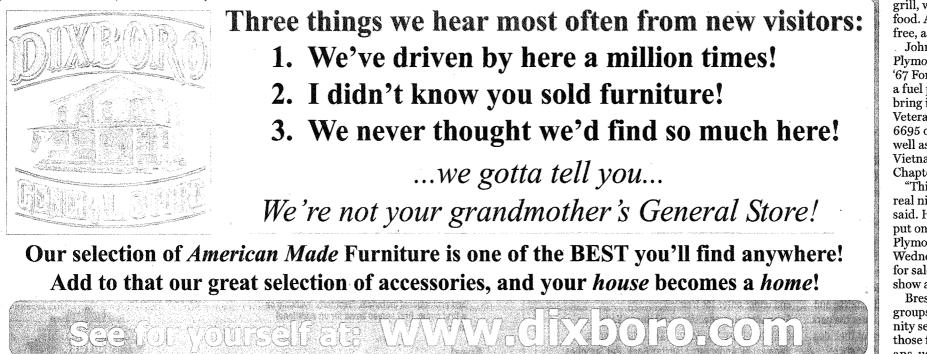

John Bresnahan of Plymouth Township owns a '67 Ford Mustang, but it needs a fuel pump so he couldn't bring it. He's a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6695 on Mill in Plymouth as well as the Plymouth-Canton Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 528.

"This is a good show here, real nice people," Bresnahan said. His veterans groups also put on shows at the post in Plymouth, usually 5-8 p.m. Wednesdays. Music and food for sale are also featured, and show admission is free.

Bresnahan said the veterans groups support many community service projects, including those for hospitalized veterans, using show proceeds. He hopes to bring his car back soon.

"One of these days," he said. "It's my work in progress.".

Benefit walk to fight mental illness

Anyone whose life has been impacted by the effects of mental illness gets a chance to help when the National Alliance on Mental Illness Michigan chapter hosts the seventh annual "NAMI Walks for the Mind of America" in some 80 communities – including Detroit - around the country Sept. 26.

The 5K/3-mile walk is expected to draw some 117,000 walkers nationwide. A key fund-raiser for NAMI, organizers hope to raise some $8.5 million.

The Detroit walk takes place on Belle Isle, with registration at 9:30 a.m. and the walk starting at 11 a.m. There is no registration walk for participants, who are encouraged to collect donations from family members, friends, co-workers and business associates.

Proceeds will fund NAMI programs in Michigan, including support, education, research and advocacy involving schizophrenia, bipolar disorder (manic depression), major depression, obsessivecompulsive disorder and severe anxiety disorders.

Organizations and families are encouraged to organize teams of walkers, made up of employees, organization members, relatives and friends. Walkers raising $100 or more get a T-shirt. Companies that don't field teams have other ways to help. There are sponsorships available, ranging from "Kilometer Sponsor" ($250) to "Presenting Sponsor" ($10,000), each carrying various incentives and opportunities. Anyone wishing to register or become a sponsor can do so online at www.nami.org/namiwalks/MI; contact walk manager Marti Bush at mbush@ gchi.org or (313) 263-2370; or Solomon at shallsolomon@ comcast.net or (517) 485-4049.

Health department creates Twitter page with current info

The Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) has launched a page on the social networking site, Twitter.

The MDCH Twitter page is designed to relay up-to-the-minute health information to the public in the form of "Tweets," which are messages of up to 140 characters. The MDCH messages will include helpful links, timely updates and important information.

Anyone who is a member of Twitter can join the MDCH Twitter page as a "follower" at www.twitter.com/MIHealth. Those who do not have a Twitter account can still view the MDCH Twitter page, but need to join Twitter to interact with others on the page. Followers can send their own Tweets to the department with questions, commends or concerns.

Tweets can be accessed through e-mail, a personal Twitter account and phones that have Internet access.

Social media and networks are the newest innovation in communication among people all over the world and no network is growing as rapidly as Twitter. With its ease of use, ability to convey a wealth of information in concise messages, and its availability to nearly every citizen, MDCH hopes to utilize all that Twitter has to offer the department and its followers.

To view or sign up for the MDCH Twitter page, visit www.twitter.com/MiHealth.

Study offers help for overweight kids

Beaumont Hospitals' Weight Control Center and the Oakland University School of Health Sciences are teaming up for a study that will help overweight children. Participants will be enrolled in the awardwinning Beaumont Healthy Kids Weight Management Program at no charge.

Psychologists, dietitians and exercise physiologists will use fun educational activities to keep children motivated and offer strategies to improve their health through nutrition, exercise and behavior changes. This 12-session "Healthy Kids" program takes a family approach to living a healthy lifestyle.

"By offering the services of medical professionals experienced in helping children manage their weight, we hope this program will demonstrate that children who are on their way to obesity can get back on track to a healthier lifestyle," stated Wendy Miller, M.D., medical director of Beaumont's Weight Control Center. "Ultimately we want them to adopt lifelong habits to keep their weight in check and optimize good health."

Excess weight or obesity in children can lead to poor quality of life and chronic disease, including type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure and early heart disease.

Needed for the study are children between 8 and 12 years old who have excess weight. Interested families tact research nurses Lynne Michalski, R.N., at (248) 655-5920 or Kathi Russell, R.N., at (248) 655-9645. The nurses can help determine during a phone call whether a child qualifies for the study based on his height and weight.

2009 Chrysler PT Dream Cruiser Series 5: Retro Styling Makes This A Favorite

Advertising Feature

By Dave Menard For Avanti NewsFeatures and Allopinionsallthetime.com

I have to confess that I've always been a big fan of the Chrysler PT Cruiser. It's hard to believe it's been around since the 2001 model year; I still remember driving the first-year models and having wide-eyed people come up to ask if they could take a look inside. The retro styling was new at the time and car buyers seemed to be fascinated by it.

And the car sold – to the tune of some 1.3 units in 60 countries since it was introduced. It seems like every neighborhood has a least one sitting in a driveway. With those kind of sales, it can be hard to keep the model fresh, to keep some excitement going. Chrysler has tried to do that by introducing various versions of the PT Cruiser – 14 different ones, to be exact, including the Woodie, the Street Cruiser, PT Turbom Flames and four different versions of the Dream Cruiser. The fifth, and latest, version of the Dream Cruiser is part of the 2009 model year and continues a very successful line.

Getting a Series 5 Dream Cruiser will add $2,000 to the sticker price of the standard PT Cruiser Touring Edition. What that two grand gets you is bright front door scuff pads, rear body color spoiler, large diameter bright exhaust tip, leather steering wheel with bright spokes, 17-inch painted aluminum wheels, premium clothe bucket seats, two-tone paint, bright grille, Dream Cruiser badging, fourwheel anti-lock brakes, bright accent ring cup holders, heated front seats, chrome lock knobs, traction control and body side molding. Of course, you can get many of these items as part of other packages, and some might be of questionable value (bright ring cup holders?), or even as stand-alone options on other versions of the PT Cruiser, but this is still a nice package.

Underneath the Dream Cruiser package is still a PT Cruiser Touring Edition, and you'd recognize the styling anywhere. The retro look is still there, as is the winged Chrysler logo on the hood. As mentioned above, you get 17-inch aluminum wheels and chrome body-side moldings with the Dream Cruiser package, and fog lamps are included, as well. A power moonroof is a $795 option.

Inside, the PT Cruiser is as versatile as ever. This is a small car that doesn't feel small, with plenty of leg and head room, thanks to the high roof line. Chrysler says you can configure the interior 160 different ways. Since I have a life, I elected to take the company's word for it. It is true that the PT Cruiser's rear seats are foldand-tumble to help with large cargo, and you get a fold-flat front passenger seat for even more room.

The seats themselves are comfortable enough, and with the Dream Series package the front seats are heated. The rest of the interior continues the retro theme the PT Cruiser has always been known for, down to the analog clock and chrome shift knob.

The instrument cluster includes a tachometer, with a digital driver information center display under the fuel gauge. The center cluster is simple and well laid-out, with the audio system and climate control system within easy reach.

The PT Cruiser Dream Series comes with power mirrors, keyless entry, power windows, rear defroster, center storage console, cruise control, power driver's seat, air-conditioning, tilt-steering column, rear 12-volt power outlet, and power locks.

The standard audio system is an AM/ FM/CD system that includes a CD player, auxiliary input for your mp3 player, four speakers and satellite radio service for one year. You can upgrade to a Boston Acoustics system that gives you a six-disc CD system, six speakers, subwoofer and 368-watt amplifier ($800). The system sounds great.

The PT Cruiser is a lot of things, but what it's not is a hot performing sports car – nor was it ever intended to be. The standard engine is a 2.4-liter, 16-valve DOHC 4 cylinder rated at 150 horsepower and 165 lb.-ft. of torque. For an additional $1,280, you can get a 2.4-liter DOHC 4-cylinder turbocharged engine that will add 30 horses and get you 210 lb.-ft. of torque. The turbo engine helps; it does provide adequate acceleration and power for passing.

The other part of the powertrain is a 4speed automatic. Surprisingly, there's no "autostick" option on the transmission, more proof that performance wasn't the first priority. Not that it's a bad transmission; the shifting is smooth, but many performance enthusiasts like the control of the auto-stick. The EPA rating of 18 mpg in the city and 24 on the highway is a bit disappointing for a small car.

Ride and handling are decent enough. The power rack-and-pinion steering feels a little heavy and the turning circle is a bit large for a small car, but overall the car is fairly easy to maneuver.

The front suspension features MacPherson struts, coil springs and a link-type stabilizer bar. In the rear, you get trailer arms, twist beam axle, coils springs and gas-charged shocks. The ride is decent enough for a small car and it is fairly quiet.

As for safety, the PT Cruiser comes with a security alarm, tire pressure monitoring system, supplemental side air bags, and Chrysler's accident response system, which turns on the interior lights, unlocks the doors and shuts off fuel to the engine after the airbags deploy.

The PT Cruiser Touring Edition has a base price of about $20,500. Add the Dream Series package, the turbo engine, upgraded audio, and the moonroof, and you're at about $26,000.

I like this year's PT Cruiser. Even though it's not the unique car it used to be, it's still a lot of fun, and a very versatile small car with some cool retro styling.
