Latest technology makes library leaner

Faced with declining revenues, fewer employees and record-shattering circulation figures, Canton's bustling public library has increasingly turned to technology to become more efficient.

The latest: A new, automated sorting system that's easy for patrons, frees up workers, quickly separates materials and gets books, movies, music discs and other materials back on the shelves — faster. Faced with declining said. The sorting system allows patrons to return their library items to a new drop-off box on the front of the building — nothing revolutionary. From there, however, it becomes more complex yet remarkably efficient,

Plan nabs violator first day

A prison parolee who allegedly phoned a sex hotline to share fantasies of kidnapping and raping young girls has been returned to prison after Canton police and state corrections officers found a loaded semiautomatic handgun in his home on the township's southeast side, authorities said.

Officers took the 48-year-old man into custody last Friday, the same day Canton police and the Michigan Department of Corrections debuted a joint program making unannounced visits to residences where state parolees live.

police and the Michigan Department of Corrections debuted a joint program making unannounced visits to residences where state parolees live.

"We feel very strongly that we put a very dangerous person back in prison and prevented a potentially heinous crine against a child," said Canton police Lt. Debra Newsome, who heads up the new parolee spot-check program.

The parolee wasn't arrested for allegations he repeatedly phoned the sex hotline to talk about his fantasies involving girls as young as 3 years old, Newsome said.

"It is not a crime to fantasize or call a hotline and say those things. If you act on it, then it is a crime, Newsome said. It's not a crime to fantasize about committing a crime, as appalling as this is."

Rather, authorities arrested the man because he violated his parole by being in a house where a weapon was found, even though the gun apparently belonged to his roommate.

The parolee's alleged phone calls prompted the company that operates the hotline to contact Canton police — by sheer coincidence on the same day township and MDOC officers started the spot-check program.

According to Newsome, the company became concerned after the man made 13 calls within two hours on the eve of the spot-check program, "talking about his fantasies of kidnapping and raping a child."

Authorities checked the man's background and learned he wasn't a convicted sex offendard hearned he wasn't a convicted sex offendard promotes and controlled substance violations.

It was the finding of the gun that allowed authorities to take him into custody.

Board OKs inspection program

In a 6-0 decision Tuesday, the Canton Township Board of Trustees approved a three-year plan to have the assessor's office spearhead an exterior-inspection program of every single-family home and condominium in this 36-square-mile community. It marks a sweeping effort to make sure 28,500 residences are properly and fairly assessed for tax purposes.

A team of appraisers, starting on the northeast side and gradually working southward, will meticulously measure the exterior of homes, garages, sheds, porches, decks, balconies and other outdoor amenities.

Though he missed Tuesday's meeting, Trustee Todd Caccamo said Wednesday he supports the decision made by his board colleagues to make sure residential properties are fairly assessed.

"One, it prevents any surprises for future homeowners. Two, for people who do go out there and try to usurp the system, it brings them back into compliance not only from a (tax) revenue standpoint, but also from a safety standpoint," Caccamo said.

Assessor Doug Shaw has said some property owners may not even realize it when companies fail to obtain the proper township permits they need before building addi-

Materials move along a conveyor belt that uses a computer and radio-frequency identification (RFID) technology to detect microchips embedded in books, movies and other items. Using the information it finds, the conveyor dumps materials into one of 11 bins — bins where materials are grouped together according to where they get placed on library shelves.

When a bin is full, a flashing light lets employees know. Even if they are elsewhere in the library, they can keep watch on the sorting room by web cam and then cart materials back to the shelves more quickly than if they had to sort them by hand.

"That allows other people to check things out more quickly," said Laurie Golden, the library's marketing and communications manager. "It saves a lot of time." Built by Design Industry LLC, the Canton library's conveyor works similarly to systems used by UPS, some Wal-Mart facilities and Netflix, a home-delivery movie-rental company. Library patrons can actually see the sorting system through a glass door, near the children's department. "Kids love it," Golden said. Library officials moved to the automated, 24-hour sorting system after earlier initiating seven self-serve stations that allow patrons to check out their own materials and review their account — another effort to save time and money.

To be sure, the library has invested some $500,000 in new technology, paring its fund balance to $2.5 million. However, library supporters such as Bob Bulmer, a trustee for the Friends of the Library fund-raising group, said becoming more efficient and trimming Library officials worry, though, that they may be hard-pressed to provide the level of services residents have come to expect if, indeed, money woes continue to worsen, as expected. Davis said projections indicate a possible loss of an additional $1 million by 2013.

"I honestly don't know how we're going to get through that," she said.

PAROLEE

"Why should taxpayers spend the dime to check on parolees? This is a perfect example why," Schreiner said. Public Safety Director Patrick Nemecek lauded the efforts of officers who arrested the man.

"Having run the spot-check program one time, and having checked on only 17 people, to have something like this pop up on the first go-through really recommits us that this is a program we're going to stand behind and continue all the way through," Nemecek said. He commended MDOC for working with Canton to start the program, which is intended to make sure parolees are complying with the terms of their release from prison. Local police have more sweeping powers when accompanied by state corrections officers to parolee homes.

One other parolee was caught Friday with marijuana, and Newsome said state cor-rections officials will decide if that amounts to a parole viola-

"This program is not about punishing them if they're in compliance," Newsome said. Nemecek has said Canton is home to some 275 parolees, and township police and MDOC officers eventually plan to contact each one.

Newsome said officers are aware the program comes with certain risks, but she said authorities take precautions to ensure their own safety.

Shaw has stressed that the so-called residential field-inspection program applies only to the exterior of properties. Nonetheless, his office will send notices seven to 10 days before appraisers show up at homes.

Armed with proper identification, appraisers will knock on doors and attempt to alert homeowners before conducting the inspections, in a move to ease any confusion and alarm among people who see workers on their property. Shaw's office already has conducted a sampling of 52 homes and found the inspections, on average, added $1,110 to the taxable value of a typical home. While that means an additional $32 a year on a tax bill, Shaw said the small increase would likely be more than offset due to falling property values and, therefore, declining taxes.

The township will have to spend $570,000 on the three-year effort but ultimately will benefit from tax revenues, which Shaw said should eventually bring in more than $300,000 a year.

Shaw said the program could take three years to complete, though the township will see some new revenues as early as next year. Similar efforts already have been finished in communities such as Plymouth and Ann Arbor Township.
Canton hasn't had a township-wide residential field-inspection program since 1982, but the State Tax Commission is making its rounds among Michigan counties to conduct audits and make sure municipalities are complying with the program. "They are coming. It's just a matter of when," Canton Finance Director Rick Eva said.

If the state finds a community has refused to start an inspection program, it could put the program on the fast track and force a one-year project costing up to $800,000, Eva said.
Caccamo conceded he has issues with broad state regulatory powers.

Yet, in supporting the effort, he and other township officials hope to ensure that all properties are properly and fairly assessed and taxed. If the state finds a com

Salvation Army taps Canton for new thrift store location

Someone finally found a use for the former Farmer Jack store on Joy Road at Morton Taylor in Canton.
The Salvation Army plans to open its seventh Salvation Army Thrift Store location - they're aiming for a November opening - in the old grocery store located at 43403 Joy Road. Salvation Army officials said it would be their biggest store.

store.
"There's no exact date, but we're pushing for Nov. 1," said Salvation Army spokesman Mike Whitlow. "There are a lot of things to do to get it up and going ... (Nov. 1) depends on everything going right."

The thrift store, like other stores in the area, will feature a variety of items for sale, including household items such as furniture and appliances, clothing, electronics and other items.

When it's up and running, the Canton location will serve as its own warehouse, meaning donated items will be stored on-site for resale. The only other store with that capacity, according to Whitlow, is the thrift store on Plymouth Road (near Farmington) in Livonia.

The Salvation Army operates other thrift store in Romulus (the main warehouse), Wayne (on Michigan Ave.), Garden City (on Ford Road), Lincoln Park and Dearborn Heights.
The Canton location, like the others, is expected to help fund the Salvation Army's Adult Rehabilitation Center, 100 percent of the funding for which comes from the resale of gently used donated items. The center gets no government or community funding other than that of food subsidies shared by the men while they live, work, worship and eat in the six-months residential program.

Salad donations

As part of Hiller's Markets Good Deeds in the Making program to benefit local charities during these challenging economic times, the family-owned chain of seven metro Detroit grocery stores will proudly donate 100% of the profits from the sales of its popular Chopped Fresh Salad to ALS of Michigan throughout the month of August. This delicious blend of nine freshly chopped vegetables combined with sweet and sour dressing can be enjoyed as an entrée, side salad or topping. The product retails for $6.59 per pound at all Hiller's locations.

Hiller's Good Deeds in the Making program was created last year as a way to inspire consumers to purchase high-quality, ready-to-eat, great-tasting meals while helping good causes in their communities. This month's charity, ALS of Michigan, is dedicated to the fight against ALS, which is commonly referred to as "Lou Gehrig's disease."

"Having watched my mother ravaged by ALS, I know the value of an organization like ALS of Michigan and its director, Sue Burstein-Kahn," said Hiller's CEO Jim Hiller. "During the darkest times, just knowing ALS of Michigan was there to help made all the difference. I'm especially proud to have ALS of Michigan as our Good Deeds partner in August."

When the Plymouth Whalers skate in the team's second annual Alumni Game on Saturday, Aug. 7 at 4:30 p.m. at Compuware Arena, they'll be playing for a single goal – to increase awareness and raise funds to support the local autistic community.

The game is an opportunity for Whaler fans to reconnect with players who represent every season of the franchise, dating back to 1990. Several Whalers currently playing in the National Hockey League are scheduled to play in the game, including Chad LaRose, James Neal, David LaRose, James Wisniewski and Jared Boll.

Before the game, fans will be able to participate in an autograph session with all players from 2:30-4 p.m. In addition, the Whalers are teaming up with the Hope for Autism Foundation and Autism Compass as their charity partners.

"We are hoping to raise much needed awareness around autism, especially the needs of individuals as they mature and transition into the local community," said Lori Kinjorski, Vice President of the Hope for Autism Foundation. "Today there's a lack of housing options available for individuals with autism who, with the proper facility, assistance and support, can live a much more independent life. Machete found

Canton police making a routine traffic stop nabbed a teenager who was carrying a machete in his vehicle, Detective Sgt. Dave a machete in his vehicle, Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said.

The traffic stop occurred Tuesday night near Beck and Warren.
Police stopped a car carrying several teens and found what Schreiner described as "alcohol and a large machete."

The teen told police he was carrying the weapon for protection.

He was charged with a five-year felony of carrying a concealed weapon and a misdemeanor for having open alcohol.

Schreiner said the incident should serve as a reminder that suspects can be cited for carrying a concealed weapon even if it isn't a gun.

Video game heist

A woman moving from a home on Old Michigan, southeast of Michigan Avenue and Haggerty, told police someone broke into the residence and stole hundreds of dollars in video game systems and games.

The incident happened between 10 p.m. Friday and 8:20 p.m. Saturday.

The woman has been in the process of moving and had last gone to the residence the day before she found the items missing. She said an entertainment center and her son's bedroom had been gone through, with Xbox and Wii equipment and games missing.

Nothing else appeared to have been taken from the home.

Truck trashed

3 A man who lives on Ashford, southwest of Beck and Cherry Hill, called police after his red Ford F-150 truck was vandalized between 10:30 p.m. Sunday and 2 a.m. Monday. The man's truck had been smeared with peanut butter and slices of cheese, and he also found syrup and eggs on it.

The man learned what had happened after he received a mysterious call on his cell phone from a caller who had a blocked phone number. The caller told him that he should go outside and check on his truck.

The incident was under investigation.

GPS gone

A woman filed a police report after some-one broke into her vehicle and stole a GPS navigation system.

The incident happened sometime prior to 7:30 a.m. Sunday on Trails Court, southwest of Joy and Sheldon.

The woman called police after she found the front passenger window of her Dodge Nitro had been broken and the GPS unit stolen.

She told police her son's bicycle had been stolen a few weeks earlier.

Boosted system

6 Another woman told police the GPS unit was stolen from her car while it was parked in her driveway on Provincial, northeast of Sheldon and Warren. She said the front passenger window of her 2004 Chevy Malibu was broken and the GPS unit was taken sometime prior to 12:30 a.m. Friday.

Parking violation

A warning to motorists: Don't park in the handicapped space without proper documentation.

Officials say it's not only rude, but illegal. One woman was issued a misdemeanor violation for misuse of a handicap placard during an incident that happened just before 5:30 p.m. Saturday outside the Target store on Michigan Avenue at Beck. A police officer noticed a white Ford Explorer parked in a handicapped spot with no placard, though he was shown a placard by a passenger as he approached the vehicle. The passenger said it belonged to a driver who was inside the store.

But police ran a background check and learned that the handicap placard had been cancelled.

Meanwhile, a female driver returned to the Explorer, produced a driver's license and another handicap placard she said was registered to her son, who was not with her. Police issued the woman a citation for misuse of a handicap placard.

Pot arrest

Canton police and state corrections officers arrested a man Friday afternoon on Old Michigan, southeast of Michigan Avenue and Haggerty, after finding that he had marijuana in his residence.

The arrest came during Canton's new parolee spot-check program, which allows local police and Michigan Department of Corrections authorities to make unannounced visits to make sure parolees are obeying the terms of their release.

Police found two small bags of marijuana in a bedroom and then found dozens of small bags in a wooden box.

Stolen plate

The stolen plate

A man was arrested for operating a motor vehicle with a stolen license plate during an incident that happened about 4:30 p.m. last Thursday on Ford Road near Haggerty.

A police officer noticed the male driver make a quick lane change in a Pontiac Grand Am on Ford Road near the IKEA store. Police ran a background check on the license plate and learned it had been reported stolen earlier out of Detroit.

Police stopped the vehicle, and the driver initially said the car belonged to his brother. He then said he got the vehicle a month ago from a co-worker and was planning to sell it to his brother.

Police learned the car had never been registered in his name and he didn't have insurance for it. He was taken into custody and also cited for driving with a suspended license. The car was impounded.

Canton man faces charges for firing at neighbor's home

A 24-year-old Canton man accused of firing gunshots into a neighbor's home was facing an arraignment on criminal charges, authorities said Wednesday afternoon.

"No one was hurt," police Sgt. Mark Gajeski said.
Police received a call around 7:40 p.m. Tuesday that shots had just been fired through a window of a sunroom of a home located in the 1000 block of Kings Court, southwest of Cherry Hill and Lilley roads, Gajeski said.
Three people inside the house were not in the sunroom when two bullets were fired from a .22-caliber handgun, police said.

Township officers initially went to the suspect's residence and investigated a group of young adults who denied any involvement in the incident, Detective Sgt. Dave Schreiner said.

However, one of the suspect's relatives called police back to the house after the suspect reportedly made statements that ultimately has led to criminal charges against him, Schreiner said.
Police returned to the house and found a .22-caliber handgun that authorities believe was used to fire shots into the neighboring home.

Authorities weren't aware of any earlier disputes that might have prompted the incident.

Schreiner said the suspect claimed the shots were accidentally fired into the house.

'Dominator' contestant hosts premiere party

For Matt Sysol, the premiere party he's holding at Kicker's Bar on Plymouth Road in Livonia tomorrow evening is more in honor of his biggest fan — his mother, Wanda — than about his appearance on The DIY Dominator, a new DIY Network series that pits three of the country's top rough carpenters against each other in a showdown for one grand prize.

Wanda Sysol died July 12 from a heart attack, devastating Sysol, who was ready to cancel plans for the celebration when friends stopped him in his tracks.

"They told me this is what my mom would have wanted," the Westland resident said. "She was my best friend, my biggest fan."

Sysol grew up in Canton Township and his mother tracked his successes, even calling him to tell him he had turned up as the top three hottest boyfriends in Detroit on 106.7 radio earlier this year. "She was all excited about that," Sysol said. "It was 200 girls who nominated their boyfriends."

However, his mother never got to see a commercials for the show which airs on the DIY cable channel at 10 p.m. Friday, July 30. The commercials, video clips and promos can be found in his Facebook fan page.

Sysol has 13 years' experience as a carpenter and has taken course in set carpentry at the Center for Film Studies. He credits CFS in helping him land a spot on the reality TV show.

"There were thousands of applicants for this, with the Center For Film Studies training and their good reputation is what helped me get on this show," he said.

Sysol believes his mother is probably smiling down on him. He truly misses her, but he knows he's doing what she would have wanted him to do.

Group works to get women out of sex industry

A Westland resident with roots in Garden City is organizing a fund-raiser to help women get out of the sex industry.

Laura Urenda, who graduated from Garden City West High School, has joined with Margie Kelly, a Garden City resident, and Meredith Wallace, of Livonia, all of whom have had some experience with the demons of the sex industry. Lisa Beier, a teacher who lives in Westland is also interested in the cause because she teaches impressionable adolescent females. "Young girls get pulled in and it is very difficult to get out," said Beier who does not have a history in the sex industry.

Urenda recently founded My Sister Song, an outreach program based at Connection Church in Canton Township.

"We know the tremendous change that God can do in a life," said Kelly, 58, who has been out of the industry for 30 years.

The fund-raiser will feature LDA (Last Days Alliance), a coalition of faith-based bands that play for a cause which was created by Steven Urenda of the group called MEDISIN WHEEL.

money, but there is nothing easy about the money they make and there is usually a story behind what lands them there," Urenda said.

Compared to the general population, women in the sex industry experience higher rates of substance abuse, rape and violent assault, sexually transmitted diseases, domestic violence, depression and post traumatic stress disorder, she said.

"My Sister Song is committed to helping women in the sex industry to conquer these issues and we want them to know they are valued, purposed," and loved beyond measure," Urenda said.

Her small team visits strip clubs and takes gifts with the simple message that the women in these clubs have a story that matters.

"Barking at them won't do them any good, but loving them does," Kelly said. "We want to help."

The gift bags are given to every woman working at every establishment and contains little things like earrings, a candle, some candy, lipstick and an eye liner with a contact card.

The women who work in this industry soon learn that no knight in shining armor will come to rescue them, Wallace said. That type of thing may have happened in the movie Pretty Woman but not in real life, she said.

The contact card will connect them to resources, such as counseling, mentoring, education and a variety of support as they desire.

"The encounters with the girls are precious," Urenda said. "So, the bands at the Token are going to rock hard for our cause and we'll have an information table there in order for people to learn more about us."

The rain held off July 18, and the Michigan Jazz Festival was a sight — and sound — to behold.

The 16th annual event filled up the stages at Schoolcraft College in Livonia and offered music from noon to 9 p.m. Student musicians from Eastern Michigan University, Schoolcraft and Wayne State University performed on the Future of Jazz Stage, joining such notables as the Dennis Tini Trio, George Benson Quartet with Benson's sax and the Johnny Trudell Big Band.

Donations are the lifeblood of the annual free event, as volunteers and organizers reminded the throngs of listeners. If you'd like to donate to the Friends of Michigan Jazz Festival, send a check or money order payable to Michigan Jazz Festival to 20467 Maplewood St., Livonia, MI 48152–2022. For more information, call (248) 474–2720 or (734) 459-2454.

Donations are fully tax-deductible and will be used primarily for educational clinics and workshops for middle school and high school musicians.

Three high school students were singled out for performances, backed by the Dennis Tini Trio. The teens are: Joshua Meadows, piano, Warren DeLaSalle High; Charles Miller, trumpet, Grosse Pointe North High; and Adam Olszewski, bass, Ann Arbor Pioneer High.

The event at Schoolcraft offers listeners a free day of great music of many jazz varieties. Special thanks go to the 2010 sponsors, the U.S. Recording Companies (furnishing funds in part for instrumental music through the Music Performance Funds, as arranged by Local No. 5, American Federation of Musicians), the family of Morry Cohen, Myron P. Leven Foundation, Friends of Michigan Jazz Festival, InmartGroup Limited and The Steinway Piano Gallery.

Linda Yohn, program director for radio station WEMU, told the outdoor tent audience that next year's event depends on donations from appreciative audience members, a theme repeated throughout the day.

Yohn noted that a $25 check from each person present will go a long way. She acknowledged times are

If you can spare it, why not make a donation and plan to attend next summer's jazz festival?

My first requirement was to find a really honest candidate to invest my time in, one who would work to force the government to be really transparent. I checked out a number of candidates but only one answered my questions in a straight forward, honest way, either in their literature or directly face to face. That candidate was Lori Levi (state representative for District 21).

Though I work full time, I have spent every spare minute of the last two months or more going door to door with Lori trying to inform voters of the importance of voting in good candidates and telling them what their potential representative stands for I particularly liked that Lori believes government should be run like a business, accountable to taxpayers for how they are spending our money.

In my "spare" time a friend and I designed and made this unique sign for this very unique candidate, Lori Levi. I have spent a lot of time checking this lady to represent you in Lansing.

My purpose in writing this letter is to encourage everyone to get out and vote and get active. An active citizenry is vital if we are to save our state and local communities.

Supporting Price

After taking the time to meet both Republican candidates for state representative in the 21st District, I support Shannon Price.

Either candidate will improve our state from a jobs perspective, and make our district more business- and tax-friendly. This is essential to turning our region around, and must be our No.

It has been estimated that the WTUA has saved our communities millions of dollars in unrepresented increases in water rate fees and surcharges alone. For the record, the WTUA has removed us from the ill will of the Detroit City Council by bringing the control of our water and sewage rates back to our communities and provided feasibility for many local Rouge River Rescue efforts. This is the type of leadership we need in Lansing, someone that doesn't look at today, but rather towards tomorrow — our children's future. Tea Party shouldn't be broad-brushed, but some messages are racially divisive ot all Tea Party activists are racists. Let's get that one out of the way up front.

And disagreeing with the president, when the president is black and the dissenters are white, isn't automatically racism. Not sure anyone said it was in the first place, but some of President Barack Obama's political opponents try to make themselves look like victims and divert challenges to the substance of their arguments by wearing that chip on their shoulders.
But one would have to be willfully blind — or completely ignorant of the insidious ways that race divides us and creeps into our conversations — to not recognize the racially charged messages put forth in some of the placards and slogans at Tea Party rallies across the country, including in Plymouth.
No, there weren't any signs depicting Obama as a witch doctor or calling him a "lyin' African," to mention two of the more notorious images that have been widely depicted in media coverage of Tea Party events. Most of the name-calling was limited to things like "worst president" and "socialist." But race was undoubtedly a factor for some of the people — nearly all of whom were white — participating in the protest.

One participating in the protest.

One participating in the protest. With Us Tea Party, showed a watermelon, cut in half, with the caption, "Green on the outside, red on the inside."

On its face, the sign seemed to be a jab at capand-trade legislation designed to slow global warming; appears to be good for the environment (green) but is really a communist plot (red).

But, a watermelon? Really? Is there anyone under the age of 12 who doesn't recognize a watermelon — in that context — as a reference to an ugly old stereotype that pegged black people as simple-minded and lazy?

More subtle — and perhaps more troubling — was the sign that read, "I want my country back," a theme that's been heard at Tea Party events from coast to coast and repeated on Internet chat

a theme that's been heard at lear farry events from coast to coast and repeated on Internet chat ad nauseum.

That divisive message includes the assumption that "my" or "our" country has been taken over by others who are not part of it, not like "us." That would presumably include the majority of voters — and the huge majorities of Hispanic and African American voters — who favored Obama and the Congressional Democrats over John McCain and the Republicans.

To imply that "our" country has been hijacked by "them" is to deny electoral and demographic facts. Even the most fervent supporters of Al Gore, who arguably had the presidency stolen from him in 2000 by a partisan Supreme Court, didn't deny that nearly half the country had voted for George W. Bush. In the case of Obama vs.

McCain, there was no question as to whom the majority favored.

The debate over whether there is racism in the Tea Party movement had died down in recent months, but was revived this month when the NAACP called on the movement to denounce the what the group called its racist elements. (The NAACP most clearly did not call the entire Tea Party racist, though some Tea Party defenders characterize the statement that way).

Local Tea Party groups would do well to look in the mirror and soberly assess the messages they are putting forth. The country is changing, has changed. The sooner those pushing the I-want-my-country-back line come to terms with that, the sooner they can start using more appeals to reason, not race, to win others to their side.

On Aug. 3 we will select the candidates to run for office in November. Please remember to vote. grow our way out of this because unity elections in the only solution. That's why I'm supporting Shannon Price and Murt Heise for Canton's State Representatives.

Growth happens when government is sensible, predictable and fair. Government has to "get out of the way" of the entrepreneurs, the job creators, and out of the way of bus this once great state for us, the middle class, for our kids' futures, for our own futures.

Kurt Heise and Shannon Price get that. Their experience in the private sector and their strong understanding of the public sector, will put them both on the ground in Lansing at a dead run. They ve been on the front lines of trying to make a broken Michigan work for local communities; they've worked on behalf of Michigan businesses to carve out a niche of success, they're committed to making the right, clear-headed choices that will help Michigan return to a great state. Shannon Price and Kurt Heise are right for Canton, they're right for Michigan and they're right for this time.

ENTERTAINMENT, B5 YOUNG ACTORS TAKE ON SHAKESPEARE

Ford Field hosts Frontier League set

Frontier League baseball will be up-close and personal this weekend as the first-place Oakland County Cruisers will roll into Livonia's Ford Field for a three-game series with Washington (Pa.) Wild Things. The unaffiliated independent minor league team, with no current home park, stands 38-20 (as of Monday) and leads the East Division of the Frontier circuit by 6.5 games over the Traverse City Beach Bums.

There will be no admission charge for any of the three games, which kicks off with a double-header at 4 p.m. on Saturday in a pair of seven-inning affairs, followed by a single nine-inning matchup beginning at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

The Cruisers, who play 78 of their 96 games away from the metro area, will return for another three-game set against the Kalamazoo Kings beginning with a twinbill at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1 and a single game at 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 2 at Ford Field. (The Livonia Junior Athletic League will provide concessions for all six games.)

"We're very excited to play in Livonia and Jerry Garland, the Cruisers' Director of Sales and Customer Relations. "We hope to have a great crowd – so check us out, It's not a bunch of beer league-type guys, it's probably more closer to double-AA caliber ball with the average age of our players around 22 to 27."

The Cruisers' franchise is in its fourth year of existence since joining the Frontier League, which consists of 12 teams, including six clubs in the East and six more in the West.

With the help of a local group of investors, Baseball Heroes of Oakland County, LP, the Cruisers are expected to break ground soon on a new 4,000-seat plus stadium on an 11-acre parcel at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads (at the old Oakland Mall).

The new park will be called Diamond

Looking to turn the fortunes of the baseball program around, Concordia University recently inked a pair of former Observerland standouts. Ryan Neu, a shortstop who for the past two years starred on the diamond at Macomb Community College after prepping at Canton High School, and Nate McHugh, a standout pitcher at Garden City

Racing team rebounds from rough start

Jim Sechler's boat, the Fast Eddie II, rebounded from a rough first day to win both heats in hydroplane racing July 18 at the Quake on the Lake.

After a rocky start, Jim Sechler and his hydroplane team rebounded on day two of the Quake on the Lake to salvage the July 17-18 racing weekend.

A failed engine in Sechler's boat, Fast Eddie II, wiped out the opening day at Pontiac Lake in Waterford, but he and his crew came back to win two races Sunday with another motor.

"In the five years we've been running, we never had an engine explode," Sechler, a Farmington Hills resident, said. "We blew one up in the first race Saturday.

"We spent the afternoon putting a motor back in. We got it ready to go; we got it ready for Sunday and won both heats. Saturday, we didn't do so well!"

the wheel, is in a tight race for the overall points leadership in the APBA one-liter modified class, and the engine failure cost the team valuable points.

Sechler called it a minor setback, however. The 200 points from winning qualifying and final heats Sunday helped to keep Fast Eddie II in contention.

"That keeps us in the running," Sechler said. "We're still doing pretty well this year."

said. "Were still doing processive year."

The greater disappointment was the fact the failed engine was brand new and had just been installed the previous week, he added.
"What's a little frustrating is we lost a good engine that had little run time," Sechler said. "It was running really well. I thought we had a pretty good shot and "When we watched Nate (pitch) we saw him go out there and take the mound with the competitive edge we're looking for," McCosky continued. "He has pretty good stuff and I think he's the kind of guy we can develop his potential."

A left-hander, McHugh led his Garden City teammates in wins (7), inmings pitched (54) and earned run average (2.81) last spring as the Cougars finished with a 21-8 ledger overall and advanced all the way to the regional finals. At the plate he proved to be a difficult out, clubbing opposing pitchers at a .395 clip, driving in 27 runs and scoring 21 times.

"Coach McCosky said he could use me as a pitcher, but is also looking at me to help out at first base and the out-field," said McHugh, whose repertoire on the mound includes the two- and four-seam fastball, curve, slider and change-up. "This (college ball) has always been a

"Baseball has always been "Baseball has always been No. 1 for me and I've always been interested in Concordia, so it's a pretty good situation," Neu said. "Playing at Macomb was a really good stepping stone and I know I have big shoes to fill because Pounders was such a great player.

"I know I'll be really nervous when I go out there, but I've been working out hard trying to get bigger and faster to help better prepare me for this challenge."

According to both McCosky and Neu, solidifying the middle of the field defensively at shortstop will be top priority. Significant contributions at the plate by the incoming Cardinal will rate as a dividend.

"It's going to be defense first with him, but we know he can hit, too," McCosky said.
"I'm a contact hitter, but I know I have to get stronger," said Neu, who found himself in the lead-off position much of the time at Macomb. "It's going to be a challenge for me, but that's why I like baseball so much...because of the personal challenges."

Sechler gest race of the season is this weekend and we want to be prepared. Instead, we're going in with one engine and not feeling real confident right now. I think the competition smells blood in the water."

The triple crown race will decide the APBA Summer National, Canadian Summer National and World Championship winners in titles are usually determined in separate events. There were about 50 boats at Waterford for the Quake on the Lake, and there will more than 140 at this race. "When you have a problem with the boat, it's not like you can throw it in the local lake and see if you fixed it,' Sechler said. "We're going 10 and a half hours to Maryland, and we're not sure it's going to run or not. We'll just try. to prepare as best we can and hope for the best.

"The fact we ran well on Sunday makes me feel we're not totally in trouble. We have to make sure we stay focused and get this thing up and running."

Each team can compete in as many events as they want, but only the top 15 count toward their total points. Sechler has nine race days in and needs six more.

"Hopefully, we pick up one this weekend at the Summer Nationals," he said. "Then, we have a week off and a few more to close it out. We're in good shape. I just hope we had our hie-cup for this year." RECYCLE

Gooding's gem puts Coach's Corner in AAABA tournament

Right-hander Jeremy Gooding was more than good than enough Sunday as Coach's Corner posted a pivotal Livonia
Michigan Collegiate League victory over the Michigan Rams in a battle of top 20-and-under teams at Ford Field.
Gooding, a freshman starter at Monday University who went 10-1 with a 2.39 earned run average this spring, scattered seven hits and three walks over seven innings as Coach's Corner improved to 26-7 (52 points).
The win also allowed coach
Mike George's team to control its own destiny in the Collegiate League race.
Gooding, a Livonia native
from Dearborn Divine Child High struck out seven, got out of pair of bases loaded jams to earn the victory against the Rams.
Losing pitcher Brandon Sinnery (Michigan) allowed three runs (two unearned) on just three hits in five innings. He struck out seven before giving way to reliever Neil Zalud in the sixth as the Rams fell to 25-8-1 (51 points) in the league.
Austin Delmotte's 2-run double in the first inning staked Coach's Corner to a 2-0 advantage. Steve Pelletier also knocked in a run in the third and Drew Adamice (MU) scored twice.
Brett Mazmanian went 2-for4 and scored the Rams lone run in the fifth on an RBI by Cam Walker.
On Monday, Coach's Corner
improved to 28-7 (56 points)
and locked up a playoff berth in the All-American Amateur Bassehall Association Regional
this weekend in Zanesville, Ohio
by sweeping the NFWB Cobras in a double-header at White Lake Lakeland High School, 7-0 and 8-3.

and 8-3.
Westland John Glenn's Robert
Fraser (Madonna University) improved to 7-1 with a 4-hitter in the opener, while Aaron Saarela (MU) went five innings to earn the win in the nightcap with Garland said. "The economy set us back, but it's been a phe nomenal effort by everybody involved."

nomenal effort by everybody involved."

In 2009, the Cruisers called Oestrike Stadium at Eastern Michigan University their home after playing all 96 games on the road in 2008 as the Midwest Sliders.

They were formerly known as the Slippery Rock (Pa.) Sliders before a group led by Cruisers President and CEO Rob Hilliard purchased the team and brought them to Michigan. The most recognizable name on the Cruisers is former Tiger Dimitri Young, who serves as a bench coach for acting manager Gera Alvarez. Young is also Vice-President and Senior Advisor for Baseball Operations.

After finishing 12 games under .500 last season, the Cruisers have been in cruise control for much of the summer as six players made it to the Frontier League All-Star Game. The pitching staff is led by Brisbane, Australia native James Albury, a starter who is 6-3 with a 0.86 earned run average in 60.2 innings.

Even more impressive is closer P.J. Zocchi, a Clemson grad who has converted all 20 save opportunities with an impressive 1.03 ERA. He was a 36thround pick of the Cleveland Indians.

round pick of the Cleveland Indians.

Meanwhile, outfielder Jeremy Jones (North Carolina A&T) is the team's top hitter at .309. He also leads the Cruisers with seven homers and 39 RBI.

Another interesting story is outfielder Robbie Tolan, a Bellaire, Tex. native who was once a promising minor league prospect with the Washington Nationals who was shot in his home in a brutal case off mistaken identity. He plays with that bullet still lodged in his body.

relief help by Delmotte.

"Pitching has carried us all season," said George, whose team opens AAABA regional action 4 p.m. Saturday against Youngstown, Ohio. "We have six guys and they've all pitched well." Meanwhile, the Rams finish 27-8-1 (55 points) and will play either Saturday in the American Amateur Baseball Congress Stan Musial State World Series which begins Aug. 4 in Toledo, Ohio.

The Rams' fate will be deter-mined Wednesday as the 22-and-under Michigan Bulls (27-8, 54 points) will try and get a share of the LCMBL crown with a win over Advanced in a 5:45 p.m. start at Ford Field.

Bobby Thomas (WSU) paced the Rams offense going 2-for-3 with a homer and three RBI. Cam Walker (WSU) went 3-for-3 with an RBI, while WSU-bound Jeff Sorenson (Livonia Stevenson) doubled and scored twice.

Losing pitcher David Partyka went six imnings, allowing four runs on seven hits. He struck out three, walked two and hit one batter.

In the nightcap, right-hander Tyler Higgins (WSU) pitched another com-one.

Losing pitcher John Nelson gave up eight runs on seven hits in six innings. He struck out six and walked six as Advanced fell to 12-20-1.

Young actors take on Shakespeare, song, dance

BY SHARON DARGAY

OBESTAFF WRITER

Shannon VanEsley wasn't sure what to expect when she agreed to teach and direct Motor City Youth Theatre's Shakespeare day camp for kids.

"I had done Shakespeare but never directed it," said VanEsley, 27, a New York actress and former Redford resident, who has taught in the summer program for several years. "I really had not done Shakespeare with them before."

VanEsley, a Motor City Youth Theatre alumnus, was pleasantly surprised.
"I have some kids who I would say are as good or better than some adults who try to do Shakespeare. It has been amazing to see them grow, to shape them into poised performers. They've learned some serious technique. It has been a cool process."

And a fast one.

cool process.

And a fast one.
Shakespeare day camp meets for three hours week day afternoons from July 5-30, culminating in a public performance of A Midsummer Night's Dream, Aug. 6-8. Although rehearsals began last month, VanEsley said campers "basically learned everything about (the play) in the last three weeks."

"They are learning a lot of improvisational skills and how to think on the spot. They're learning how to be aware of their surroundings on stage and how to be poised in any situation. The things they are learning on stage — poise, awareness, team work — are important life skills.

For VanEsley, the summer teaching and directing gig offers an opportunity to reconnect with her roots and "give back" to Motor City Youth Theatre and its students. She joined the troupe, founded by Nancy and Fred Florkowski of Redford, about 20 years ago, when it was known as Redford Youth

Jerry and Sharon Smith of Livonia are devout Christians who share a love of music. Jerry is the musical director at First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth (the church celebrated its 175th anniversary July 18) and a longtime member of the Livonia Community Prayer Breakfast Committee. Sharon is a pianist and a regular performer at the breakfast, which typically draws more than 500 individuals.

So it's no surprise that when they traveled to Israel earlier this year that music director and singer, Jerry Smith, led the group in singing When Peace Like a River on the banks of the Jordan River. The Jordan River is where Christians believe Jesus was baptized and preached to his disciples. The Smiths were part of a tour sponsored by Liberty University, of Lynchburg, Va.

The tour group of more than 90 people from throughout the United States was hosted by Mike Huckabee, former GOP presidential candidate, and his wife, Jan. The popular former Arkansas governor, who now has a television show on the Fox network, is an ordained Southern Baptist minister.

Also on the trip was Pat Boone, a popular singer and actor during the 1950s and early 1960s, who continues to entertain and perform, as a motivational speaker and a Christian activist, writer and preacher.

BOBLICAL SITES

of Fame.

BIBLICAL SITES

The 10-day tour began in Jerusalem with stops at the Garden of Gethsemane, the Mount of Olives, Temple Mount, the Bethesda Pool, the Via Dolorosa, the Garden Tomb and the Wailing Wall. Traveling to Tiberius (on the Sea of Galilee) by way of the Dead Sea and the Jordan River, Huckabee related various sites to Scriptural references: Capernaum, the Mount of the Beatitudes, Golan Heights, Caesarea Philippi and Nazareth. The group also held a Sunday worship service while sailing on the Sea of Galilee. On the return to the Mediterranean coast, the tour included a visit to Megiddo, the famed center of many Israelite battles, and Caesarea.

"Two thousand years plus of history remains and the church groups have preserved the holy sites," said Jerry Smith, "Pilgrims are still coming in large numbers" to visit the Holy Land.
"Reading Scripture and then seeing Scripture is indescribable," he added.
The group also visited Jerusalem — an international/interfaith center of religion.
As both Smiths pointed out, the Holy Land is holy to Jews, Christians and Muslims.
The Smiths said the tour deepened their belief as "more than spectators in the arena of religious purpose." They added that it expanded their "horizons of belief as seen and experienced by thousands who have walked this land."

CITY BITES

Sweeten up your family fun

Between family reunions, sports leagues and neighborhood block parties, there are many activities and annual traditions that families look forward to. This year you can make these events even more meaningful by transforming them into charitable bake sales to benefit a worthy cause.

committed to raising funds for pediatric cancer research through bake sales.

Baking and sharing homemade treats with friends and family, the fun of a bake sale and knowing that you're giving back with each cookie sold, will make your outings even more special.

Here are some tips and ideas to turn three classic activities into successful bake sales:

SPORTS LEAGUES

SPORTS LEAGUES

Your delicious baked treats can be used for more than just as nack at your children's next game. Choose a sports tournament or opening day at the neighborhood field as the perfect setting for a bake sale home run. Designate a baked good for each participating team, such as the Bengals Brownies or Crusaders Chocolate Chip Cookies, and see who can score the most points by selling the most treats for a good cause. Drive home winning donations with sports-themed cookies and treats like baseball bat cookies or cupcakes decorated like soc-cer balls.

FAMILY REUNIONS

Make the annual family gathering even more memorable and host a bake sale as part of the celebration. Have each family member come with a dozen of their favorite baked goods and sell them for donations to other families celebrating nearby. As a special gift, compile all of the recipes into a family bake sale book — a timeless treasure that will ensure your family's recipes are passed down for generations to come.

NEIGHBORHOOD BLOCK PARTY

this year, propose turning the event into a mini bake sale. Encourage each family to create a custom cookie of their own. Everyone will love picking out their favorite ingredients and naming their one-of-a-kind treat; some might even stumble onto a lasting family recipe. Visit www.GladtoGive.com to learn more tips to make your bake sales successful. If you are looking for a cookie recipe, try the delicious Chocolate Chip Cherry Cookie — the official Glad to Give Cookie — developed as a tasty inspiration for those hosting bake sales to benefit Cookies for Kids' Cancer. This sweet and chocolatey cookie is guaranteed to be a favorite for many years to come.

Keep home, yourself cool in the summer

Harry Jachym of Plymouth Township knows a lot about home maintenance and repair.
This time of year, he sees a lot of problems with heating and cooling systems, in his part-time work with a heating and cooling company.
"People haven't had routine maintenance done on them," he said of air conditioners.
Jachym is an adjunct instructor in architecture and construction technology at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn. He's also a former construction teacher in the Livonia Public Schools, having retired from that district two years ago.
"Spring and fell pea the histories."

ago.

"Spring and fall are the big times" for home projects, Jachym said. He offers midsummer tips for homeowners and dwellers, such as:

•Clean the clothes dryer exhaust vent. Dryer lint is very flammable

•Be certain to keep proper chemical levels in pools for healthy swimming.

•Check for any place water can pool in your yard. Water pools can breed mosquitoes.

nosquitoes.
•Repair cracks in concrete.

PRE-VACATION TIPS

•Check the water hoses on the clothes washer, refrigerator ice-maker and dishwasher for cracks and bubbles.

•Check ALL window and door locks for proper operation.
•Use a timer on lighting. Place them in various rooms and set them for times that room would normally even when home.

Trim trees and shrubs to make your house easy to see. Keep the exterior well lit (even when you are home).

•Have neighbors pick up mail and papers or cancel them.
•The Jachyms' two greyhounds say take your dogs for walks or better yet to a dog park. Socializing dogs is good for them.

Karen and Harry Jachym of Plymouth Township use rain barrels they bought at the Plymouth Green Street Fair, also carried at area stores.

LIVING IS EASY

LIVING IS EASY

He has other tips to keep summertime cool.

"Ceiling fans keep the air circulating very well," Jachym said. He recommends a dehumidifier, especially for those without air conditioning.
"The less humid the air is, the cooler it feels," he said.

His wife, Karen, said it helps to pull window shades. "We try to avoid air conditioning as much as possible because we prefer fresh air," he said.
They have a whole house fan in the ceiling to draw air in and exhaust it out through vents.

This time of year, there are many watering restrictions, he noted, but you shouldn't worry too much about your lawn going dormant. "They will turn brown, but they come back."

The Jachyms use rain barrels they bought at the Plymouth Green Street Fair, also carried at area stores. For watering flowers, the barrels are hooked into gutters.

The couple has a small electric pump for watering flowers. There's a hose off the bottom of the rain barrel with a shower-type sprayer.

Banning of guests has limits in law

Q: We live in a gated community and I am wondering whether or not we can ban quests and/ or delivery persons for those co-owners who are delinquent?

A: It is a question that gives homeowner associations the right to restrict nonpaying residents from pools and other amenities but that right doesn't extend to condominium associations, and, that right exists only if it is delineated in the association's governing documents. Also, you have to worry about a state statute or HOA document that may say that you can't impede an owner or tenant's ability to enter or exit his or her property which is normally in condominium documents. You are best advised to consult with an experienced community association lawyer and be very cautious in this regard.

o: I read about an 88-yearold woman who was stabbed to death by a neighbor and whose family is now suing the condominium association and its management company. The victim was allegedly terrorized for months by the neighbor and the association allegedly failed to protect her and other homeowners. It was also alleged that the assailant was mentally unstable and represented a danger but the claim is that the Association took no action to warn or protect the residents. The association's position is that the association did report it to the police. The question is, do you think there is any liability?

A: It remains to be seen what will happen in that case as it appears that the potential violence was foreseeable, but the question becomes whether the association had an independent duty to protect the coowner from the other co-owner, or whether that was something to be left to the police.
In effect, what is the scope of the association's responsibility when they are aware of a dangerous person?
Realistically, what could a condominium association do to prevent the autercation? We will have to wait and see.

Like puzzles?
Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
