Five-year plan

Folks wanting to know, and comment on, Canton Township's five-year plan for its Leisure Services Department need to be at Canton Township Hall Tuesday.

The township board will conduct a public hearing about the plan as part of its regular meeting.

The meeting starts at 7 p.m. The Canton administration building is located at 1150 Canton Center in Canton.

Santa letters

While Christmas is a very busy time of year for Santa Claus, he always makes time to read letters from children.

Youngsters can be sure Santa knows what they want by writing a letter to Santa. Santa Claus has given the Observer permission to print some of those letters in our Thursday, Dec. 22, issue.

Letters should be e-mailed to bkadrich@hometownlife.com.

Parents, be sure to include a JPEG photo of your child, with their name, age, address and phone number. Only your child's name and age will be published.

Letters can also be mailed to Letters to Santa, c/o Brad Kadrich, 615 W. Lafayette, Second Level, Detroit, MI 48226.

The deadline for all Santa letters is Friday, Dec. 16.

Holiday need

The Plymouth Salvation Army, which serves Canton, Plymouth, Belleville and Northville, is running short on food to feed the needy during its Christmas service period.

Salvation Army officials say they need some 400 turkeys and/or hams to be able to meet the growing need of people in need of help this holiday season.

Turkeys and hams can be dropped off at the Plymouth Salvation Army Corps, located just on Main Street just south of Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth.

For more information, call the Salvation Army at (734) 453-5464.

Using a $100 spending limit he received as a Christmas gift from Walmart, 12-year-old James Brodie of Canton picked out just one gift for himself, a Yu-Gi-Oh! trading card game, before he started exploring the store to find presents for his family.

"I want to get stuff for my grandma, my mom, my two little brothers and my sister," he said.

Though he could have spent all the money on himself, Brodie clearly had learned the gift of giving. His generosity was made possible by a holiday program sponsored by Canton Police, Canton Leisure Services and three Canton merchants — the Walmart and Meijer stores on Ford Road and Target on Michigan Avenue.

Each store allocated $2,000 so that 60 children could spend $100 each for the holidays — money the youngsters otherwise wouldn't have had for gifts.

Employees involved in Canton's B.L.O.C.K. youth center — Building Leaders Out of Canton's Kids — selected youngsters ages 11-15, picked them up in vans and drove them to stores where they split into small groups and shopped with uniformed Canton police officers.

It's called Shop with a Cop, a program that marked its seventh year with shopping outings Tuesday at Walmart, Wednesday at Meijer and Thursday at Target.

Woman gets year in jail in sex case

By Darrell Clem
Observer Staff Writer

A Canton woman accused of criminal sexual activity involving underage boys has been sentenced to one year in jail and five years probation, Wayne County authorities confirmed.

Laura Buckingham, 50, has started serving her one-year jail term after she was sentenced Nov. 23 in Wayne County Circuit Court on two counts of second-degree criminal sexual conduct. She was given credit for 87 days she already spent in jail, Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Maria Miller confirmed.

Buckingham pleaded guilty to second-degree CSC after prosecuting and defense attorneys reached an agreement to dismiss two charges of first-degree CSC. She could have faced penalties ranging up to life in prison if she had been convicted of the higher charges.

However, Miller provided documentation showing that Wayne County Circuit Judge Daniel Ryan has imposed a lengthy list of probation terms once Buckingham leaves jail. Those include performing 150 hours of community service, paying hundreds of dollars in court costs, reporting for monthly probation appointments and avoiding contact with victims she was accused of molesting.

Ryan also ordered Buckingham to avoid alcohol, be subject to drug testing, not to violate any more laws and not to leave Michigan without permission. After she leaves jail, her probation could be revoked unless she complies with Ryan's orders.

Buckingham was charged for incidents that allegedly happened between 2003-05 and involved underage boys, some as young as 12.

Two of the victims testified during Buckingham's earlier preliminary examination in 35th District Court, although one boy refused to answer most questions posed by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Suzette Samuels.

Canton dad charged with abusing baby

By Darrell Clem
Observer Staff Writer

A Canton father accused of fracturing his 4-month-old son's skull admitted he "messed up" as he was arraigned Friday afternoon in 35th District Court on a charge of first-degree child abuse.

Anthony Lawrence Sewejkis, 25, broke into tears during his video arraignment by 35th District Judge James Plakas following allegations he pushed his son's head against the floor of a residence on Michigan Avenue near Sheldon.

Canton Detective Tim Wright, responding to questions from Plakas, said Friday afternoon the boy was in critical condition at the University of Michigan Hospital. Police had received a phone call around 11 p.m. Wednesday from a different hospital where the boy had initially been taken.

"It has been alleged that (Sewejkis) caused a fracture to the skull of his son by pushing his head to the floor," Wright said during the arraignment.

The boy had undergone surgery to alleviate swelling, Wright told Plakas. The child's mother wasn't at home when the incident occurred.

Sewejkis briefly cried during his arraignment. "I messed up bad," he told Plakas.

Plakas ordered Sewejkis jailed with a $500,000 cash bond and warned him not to have contact with his son if he should somehow be released. Plakas denied the father's request to be freed and placed on a tether.

Plakas entered a not-guilty plea

House approves judicial reforms

The Michigan House Friday approved legislation expected to save millions in taxpayer dollars by eliminating 35 trial court judgeships throughout the state. Additional bills will be voted on in the coming days to increase the number of eliminated judgeships to 44.

The bipartisan legislation makes changes statewide, including in Southeast Michigan and Wayne County, and is the result of the 2011 Judicial Resources Recommendation report, compiled by the State Court presented by Rep. Kurt Heise, R-Plymouth, eliminates two judges from Wayne County, reducing the total number from 61 to 59.

As vice chair of the House Judiciary Committee, Heise worked with state representatives from Wayne to St. Ignace Administrative Offices. A successful amendment to the original legislation, to fine-tune the legislation. "This legislation tackles the job of resizing our court system, which saves money and gives us better options in the long-term," Heise said. Statewide savings are estimated at $7 million. The process will take time and happen by attrition – judges who retire or pass away will not be replaced in counties where the number of bench positions is being reduced. The package now goes to the Senate for consideration.

CORRECTION

A story in the Dec. 4 sports section of the Plymouth and Canton Observers incorrectly stated that Said Youssef was the first Plymouth Wildcats wrestler to reach the state meet. In 2006, Plymouth's Ali Youssef and Steven Korpus also made the state finals and Ben Kosmalski did the same in 2007.

for Sewejkis and ordered him back in court Dec. 19 for a preliminary examination to determine whether he should face trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

If convicted, the father could face penalties ranging up to 15 years in prison. Should the child's condition deteriorate, Sewejkis could face more serious charges.

Plakas set the $500,000 cash bond after Wright indicated during the arraignment that a prior referral had been made to Child Protective Services.

Moreover, Sewejkis implied he couldn't say where he would stay if he managed to be released from custody.

"As of right now I don't know for sure," he told Plakas.

Sewejkis' arraignment came just one day after a Westland couple was arraigned in 18th District Court on charges of abusing and killing their 2-month-old son and abusing his surviving twin brother.

The father, 22-year-old Antonio Pepalonia Brandon, was charged with first-degree murder, which carries a mandatory sentence of life in prison if he is convicted, and two counts of first-degree child abuse.

The mother, 18-year-old Nicole Susanne Roberts, was charged with involuntary manslaughter/failure to perform legal duty, a 15-year felony, and two counts of second-degree child abuse.

Those parents are jailed with a $1 million bond each as they await their Dec. 15 preliminary exam.

Nativity fundraiser helps homeless

By Darrell Clem
Observer Staff Writer

A Canton church raised $1,894 to help the homeless by displaying 158 nativity scenes Dec. 3-4 and collecting money from donors who toured the display.

St. John Neumann Catholic Church, on Warren between Canton Center and Sheldon, had its members bring in nativity sets for the two-day display to raise money for homeless programs sponsored by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

St. John Neumann parish sponsored the fundraiser with The Ladies Ancient Order of Hibernians Elizabeth Fagan Division to benefit St. Vincent's homeless programs, which serve people in Canton and other area communities.

The testimony of one male, now a college student, convinced 35th District Judge Michael Gerou to send Buckingham's case to the higher court for disposition.

Buckingham sobbed at the defense table as the victim testified that he had sexual contact with Buckingham three times when he was in seventh grade.

The victim said one incident happened after he and Buckingham's daughter had returned to her Canton home from a middle school dance. After the daughter fell asleep, he testified, he and the mother went to a bedroom and kissed, which "led to touching, which led to other things" including oral sex.

Another incident happened, he said, when all three male victims were in bed with Buckingham. He said she was "doing something below (one of the victim's) waist" — though he said he couldn't see exactly what was happening.

Yet a third incident occurred, the victim testified, when Buckingham fondled him "discreetly" while others were in the room. He said he remembered the exact date because it happened the same day as singer Janet Jackson's infamous "wardrobe malfunction" during the Super Bowl.

The victim said he never told anyone other than a couple of friends until years later, when he confided to a child psychology professor. He said he also finally told his father, who urged him to report the incident to police.

"I've spent the last seven years trying to forget this," the victim testified. "I've tried to push a lot of memories out of my head."

Staff writer Brad Kadrich contributed to this story.

Kettle giving off compared to last year

By Matt Jachman
Observer Staff Writer

Christmastime donations to the Salvation Army's Plymouth Corps are down this year compared to 2010, and the leader of the charitable organization is pointing to a lack of bell-ringers as the main cause.

As of Tuesday, the Plymouth Corps had collected about $66,000 through its Red Kettle campaign, about 29 percent of its $225,000 goal for the season, according to Maj. Dan Hull. That's off about $4,700 from what was collected at this time last year, Hull said.

"That's just due to not having ringers out there," Hull said Friday. "We're highly dependant on the volunteers to help us get those dollars."

Would-be donors hesitate to put money in unattended kettles, Hull said, offering an example to illustrate the difference:

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Plymouth Salvation Army officials are hoping to draw more volunteer bell ringers like Plymouth residents Carol Renner and Jody Smith to help battle a slow economy. The annual Red Kettle drive is off some $4,700 from this time last year.

A bell-ringer at local Walmart recently raised hundreds of dollars while, outside another door at the same store, an unattended kettle brought in only $2 during the same time.

Plus, Hull said, oftentimes "if there's no ringer we usually don't have that kettle there."

The Plymouth Corps' overall seasonal fundraising is also off from last year, with $87,510 raised as of Tuesday, Hull said. That's just under 29 percent of the overall goal of $315,000, and nearly $7,700 less than had been raised by the same point last year.

The overall fundraising campaign includes the Red Kettle drive as well as donations mailed to or dropped off at the Plymouth Corps' office on Main Street south of Ann Arbor Road.

The holiday campaign is the Plymouth Corps' biggest fundraiser of the year, and the money collected goes toward providing needy local families with Christmas basics: food, and clothing and presents for children. It also goes toward general Plymouth Corps programs: preschool and summer day camp, rent and utility bill assistance for families in need, and the emergency food pantry. The organization has an annual budget of about $1 million.

"We are greatly appreciative of all those who have contributed and have volunteered," Hull said. "We live in a great community and we're really an army of volunteers."

Hull expects the Plymouth Corps will assist between 470 and 500 families, with about 1,000 children among them, during this holiday season. The group works with other local charitable organizations, such as the Plymouth Goodfellows, to avoid duplications.

Michigan's continued slow economy, and what until recently was relatively warm weather, may also have contributed to the fundraising slowdown, Hull said. "People weren't thinking Christmas," he said.

Hull said the Plymouth Corps is getting a good response from its Adopt-an-Angel program, which collects gifts of clothing and toys for children for distribution at Christmas. "Angel Trees" with gift tags with the age and gender of children in need, are available at Walmart stores in the Plymouth Corps' service area, at the Cracker Barrel in Belleville, or donors can register for the program through the corps' website www.misalpymouth.org.

Hull said the Red Kettle drive is expected to continue through Saturday, Dec. 24, although it may be continued briefly after Christmas. The overall holiday campaign lasts through January.

Popular Tonda staffer loses cancer battle

By Brad Kadrich
Observer Staff Writer

Kenda Jones was part of a group of staffers at Tonda Elementary School who always gathered around the water cooler — and sometimes in front of each other's television sets — to keep up with the hit ABC show, "Lost."

Now, after Jones lost her battle with cancer last week, staff, students, friends and family feel a little lost without her.

Jones, the popular long-time

media center paraprofessional at Tonda Elementary School, died Dec. 3, losing a three-year fight with the disease.

"She was truly a Tonda treasure," said Tonda Principal Tara Botosan. "She worked right up until she passed. That's how much she loved the school."

Jones, a Fort Knox, Ky., native, lived with her husband,

Steven, in the neighborhood surrounding her school. As the media center paraprofessional, Jones was often the person called upon when teachers had technical problems with equipment, even if she didn't know, at first, what the problem was or how to fix it.

Fourth-grade teacher Becky Leiting, hired in 12 years ago along with Jones, said that was part of Jones' willingness to help.

"As frustrating as technology can be, Kenda would always just say, 'Let me take a look,'" Leiting said.

"She was so caring and giving. She was always willing to help anyone. She had just a great sense of humor. The staff and the kids just loved her."

Jones' devotion to the job extended to both the school and the students, so much so that she kept working, although she did cut her hours down, right up until her death.

And she did it with a smile on her face, despite the devastating illness that was sapping the life out of her.

"She never let you know what she was going through, Botosan said. "Her attitude through the whole illness was amazing. She was so optimistic."

Jones, 57, is survived by her husband, Stephen; daughter Kerri Jones; son Marcus Jones; her mother, Marcellain Boyer; and her sister, Tamara (Randy) Rehmer.

Services for Jones are set for 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 17, at St. Michael Lutheran Church, 7000 Sheldon, in Canton.

Bosch grants 'energize' district's teachers

By Brad Kadrich
Observer Staff Writer

Despite the fact that an estimated 300,000 plastic bottles were bought and sold at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park last year, there is no concerted, organized recycling effort on the three-high-school campus.

Many teachers and students do their part to recycle that much plastic, but no designated program exists — for the moment.

That's about to change now that Bosch Corp., the automotive supplier based in Plymouth Township, has handed Beth Savalox $3,000 in grants as part of their Bosch Energy, Science and Technology program.

Savalox and Becky Kraft, the faculty advisors for the district's National Honor Society, will use the grants to develop a six-week pilot program to establish recycling at the 6,000-student park.

"One of our goals is to improve the environment," said Savalox, who Bosch handed out $25,000 worth of grants for programs dealing with sustainability and recycling to the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools teachers during a ceremony Thursday.

received three $1,000 grants — one for each of the district's high schools — as part of the program. "Those goals are driven by the students. (The lack of recycling) has been bothering them their entire high school careers, so they decided to give it a shot."

Savalox, Kraft and the NHS students will develop a program to recycle in a six-week window starting Jan. 30, mirroring a nationwide competition the district missed out on this year. The program will focus solely on plastic bottles, none of which were recycled as part of any sort of comprehensive program.

"Lots of teachers and students are (recycling)," Kraft said. "It's just not systemic yet."

The grants awarded to Savalox were among 15 handed out to individual teachers in Bosch's BEST program. In addition, Bosch handed the district another $10,000 grant, which will be used to develop an energy curriculum for ninth-graders at the Park.

The grants, part of Bosch's celebration of the company's 125-year anniversary, are part of Bosch's focus on recycling and the environment.

"Education and sustainability are key for the company," said Maximiliane Straub, chief financial officer and executive vice president, controlling, finance and administration for Bosch. "This is a focus of the company. We are part of the community, and of course we get our talent from the community. We want to give back."

National Honor Society adviser Beth Savalox (center) will start a pilot recycling program with the $3,000 in grants she got from the Bosch Corp. Congratulating Savalox are Plymouth-Canton Supt. Dr. Jeremy Hughes (left) and Maximiliane Straub, Bosch's chief financial officer.

More than 40 teachers applied for the program, and the selection team took nearly three hours to delve through the quality ideas put forth by teachers, according to Plymouth-Canton Supt. Dr. Jeremy Hughes. Ideas range from a recycling program with the potential to eliminate 6.5 tons of landfill waste to an indoor lighting system for soil compost-based gardening. Bosch handed out grants to seven elementary school projects, two middle school ideas and six to the high school level. In tough economic times, the grants are important to the district's mission, according to Hughes.

"To me the energizing part of it is what it gives to teachers," Hughes said. "Budgets are limited, and there's not a lot of money. It's great to see the teachers have the money to be able to do the kinds of creative things they're going to be able to do now."

"Compassion is the core of our service ... just taking one extra step can make all the difference ... that's what people remember."

Dr. Cassius Drake, ER Medical Director, Henry Ford Center for Health Services, recently spoke with staff about compassion as the core of service.

Compassion plays a major role in physical healing. "I was terrible at holding hands when I began treating patients," admitted Drake. That all changed when he began thinking about the spiritual side of healing and vowed to start each day by saying, "Today I am here to serve, to listen and care. There's a magic that can happen when you decide to serve." Charles Dunn, Four Seasons owner, applauded his staff for listening and acting with a compassionate heart. "Our staff helps people heal every day. Just taking one extra step can make the difference."

them know that we're real people who are here to help them," Officer Jessica Nuottila said. "It helps them understand they can always come to us if they need anything."

Nuottila, Sgt. Mike Steckel and Officers Patty Esselink and Ed Jagst gathered Tuesday evening with the first group of youngsters who scattered across the Walmart store with shopping carts for a two-hour spending outing. Other officers participated Wednesday and Thursday.

Jon LaFever, Canton Leisure Services recreation supervisor, said Shop with a Cop introduces youngsters to positive role models and allows them to buy gifts they might otherwise not get — or give — for the holidays.

"Our goal is to provide these kids with positive role models," LaFever said.

The youngsters couldn't buy violent video games, toy guns or music CDs with explicit language.

Otherwise, they could select gifts for themselves or their families.

"It's cool that they're letting us do this," 16-year-old Cody Burke said, just before she set out to shop.

Eian Albert, 14, smiled as he picked up a copy of the movie Scott Pilgrim vs. the World.

"I've only seen bits and pieces of it," Albert said. "I heard it was a really good movie."

He put it in his shopping cart and moved on, but not before he commented the Shop with a Cop program.

"I think it's really good," Albert said. "It gives kids a chance to see what's in their price range that they might want to get for Christmas."

Meanwhile, after selecting his Yu-Gi-Oh! trading card game, Brodie turned his shopping attention to his family. He stopped at a few spots to check out potential gifts.

His smile spoke volumes as he locked in on one present. "I'm going to get this for my grandma."

Hopefuls make pitch to be last ‘Survivor’ standing

By LeAnne Rogers
Observer Staff Writer

As big fans of the reality television show Survivor, Brooke Baranowski and Regina Snead jumped at the chance to audition for a shot to be the last person left on the island.

They were among hundreds of people who came to a Survivor open casting call held Wednesday at the MJR Westland Grand Digital Cinema.

“It’s something fun to do. We watch it every Wednesday night,” Wayne resident Baranowski said. “I like the different personalities.”

“I like (host) Jeff Probst,” added Snead, a Westland resident.

The women arrived an hour before the auditions were scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

“I’m surprised there are not as many people as I anticipated,” Snead said.

The CBS television program sends contestants to a remote location for weeks as they compete in individual and team challenges to avoid being voted off the island. The winning sole survivor receives a $1 million cash prize.

“I’m kind of self-employed. I work on and off. I doing cleaning, painting, whatever,” said Snead, who is married with a grown children. “My husband would be OK with me being away seven weeks. He just started a new job, so he couldn’t be here.”

A full-time student, Baranowski said she works as a nanny, in retail and as a caregiver for a cousin with Downs Syndrome, but would still be able to make room to participate on Survivor.

Garden City resident Jeff Frantjuskos described himself as a huge fan of the reality show since it began airing. “I’ve often thought, ‘I could do as well as that.’ And who couldn’t use $1 million,” said Frantjuskos, a married truck driver. “I can represent the over-50 group real well. I’m into fitness and health. I believe I can do some damage to those young pups.”

Melissa Lehr may have traveled the longest distance to audition — she flew in from Annapolis, Md. A flight attendant, Lehr was accompanied by friend and co-worker Karen George.

“I came because I can win. It’s been a dream of mine for a long time. I have the stability in my life to be gone that long,” Lehr said. “I’m the ultimate warrior. I’m a mom. I’m very crafty and strategic. I’m smart. I think I can do it.”

Describing herself as moral support, George said, “She organizes well. I wouldn’t be here if I didn’t think she had a shot.”

Would-be contestants received a number as they arrived, then were taken in groups of 10 to video tape their one-minute audition, explaining why they should be a contestant on a future show.

Brooke Baranowski hopes her audition will land her a chance to win $1 million on the reality show ‘Survivor.’

Westland resident Regina Snead was among the would-be contestants on the reality series ‘Survivor.’

Truck driver Jeff Frantjuskos of Garden City said he thinks he could out play some younger contestants on ‘Survivor.’

BBB offers tips to avoid holiday travel headache

The holidays are a time of cheer, but they can also be a time for battling traffic and bad weather on the road. Staying safe should be a top priority for all travelers so Better Business Bureau recommends taking a few precautions when hitting the road this holiday.

“Before hitting the roads, give your car the attention that it needs,” said Patrick Bennett, BBB director of community relations. “Make sure you are well-equipped and know where to turn should the unexpected happen.”

BBB recommends taking the following steps for safe driving this holiday season:

- Create a car safety kit.

Holiday driving often includes the threat of dangerous winter weather. Snow and ice lead to accidents, car troubles, long delays and road closures. You can prepare for bad weather by creating your own safety kit. Basics for the kit include blankets, flashlight with extra batteries, radio, first aid kit, jumper cables, non-perishable foods like granola bars and nuts, bottled water, an ice scraper and warm gloves.

- Take the car in for a checkup.

Breaking down on the side of the road can definitely put a damper on the holiday spirit. If your car is due for a checkup, take it in before making that long haul. At the very least, check the car’s fluid levels, wipers and tire pressure. Check the condition of your tires and, if you plan on driving through serious winter weather, consider getting snow tires.

- Take BBB with you.

When you’re away from home or in the midst of an emergency, it’s hard to know which businesses — such as tow trucks and locksmiths — you can trust. The good news is you can now rely on BBB’s mobilized website or the BBB iPhone application for finding businesses you can trust when you’re away from your computer.

- Start early and slow down.

The best way to fight holiday traffic is to give yourself some extra time to make the trip, and don’t speed. Speeding leads to accidents, which slow traffic and cause bottlenecks. Also, if you’re caught speeding by law enforcement, that adds travel time and puts a dent in your holiday spending.

- Drop the distractions.

According to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, drivers who use handheld devices are four times as likely to get into crashes serious enough to injure themselves. When you’re behind the wheel, don’t text and drive, use a hands free headset when talking on the phone, and get someone else to fumble with the GPS.

Local heating contractors give free furnace inspections

Local heating contractors are doing their part to ensure that seniors and homeowners with limited incomes get free furnace inspections and tune-ups.

The Southeast Michigan Chapter of the Air Conditioning Contractors of America (SEMIACCA) celebrated its 25th year of “Al Keats Day – Project Heat” on Dec. 3.

Approximately 50 homeowners in Livonia and surrounding communities had their furnaces inspected and tuned up for free – and all received free carbon monoxide detectors, too.

“This is our way of giving back to our citizens who might not normally be able to afford a furnace check-up,” said Craig Jones, co-owner of Slasor Heating of Livonia and president of SEMIACCA. “We all put on our Santa hats and got into the Christmas spirit.”

Homeowner Ray Summers of Livonia was happy to see the crew from Slasor pull up to his home. “Slasor replaced my furnace last year, and I don’t usually get annual inspections,” he said. “I’m glad they inspected last year because they found a cracked heat exchanger.”

Not only have the SEMIACCA contractors serviced more than 1,250 furnaces during the 25-year program, they have also replaced 60 furnaces that were in poor condition and needed replacing – free of charge. Their labor was donated and parts and equipment were supplied for free to homeowners through local heating and cooling distributors.

Project Heat was named after longtime local heating contractor Al Keats, who began the project. “Al Keats Day helps SEMIACCA promote goodwill in the community through their quality member contractors and employees,” added Jones.

All seniors participating in the program are referrals from local Community Senior’s Coordinators and from the Area Agency on Aging for Wayne and Oakland Counties. For more information on SEMIACCA, visit www.semiacca.org or call (734) 266-5475.

CDs make sense to park investment money short term

By Rick Bloom
Guest Columnist

Q: Dear Rick: After being married for 12 years, I recently became divorced. In addition to the house, which is paid off, I received about $150,000 in cash. My divorce attorney, who I'm not thrilled with, recommended that I talk to his friend, a financial adviser. He was very aggressive and recommended that I put the entire amount into a variable annuity. I have read your columns enough to know that this is not the way to go. However, I'm not sure how I should invest this money. At this point I'm more focused on trying to get my life together, so I'm not sure what I should do. I work, have a 401(k) plan

Money Matters
Rick Bloom

What would you suggest?
A: I've always been a believer that when it comes to investing, you need to focus on your goals and objectives. In other words, what are you looking for from the money? Is this money for your retirement, which may be years down the and my salary more than covers my living expenses. To be honest, I just don't want to think about the money at this point in time.

road, or is it something shorter term?

Since you don't know what you want from this money and you do not have the energy to deal with it, my recommendation would be to invest the money short term, such as in a CD. I recognize that CDs aren't paying that much, however, the key is not the return, but rather that you are buying time until you can think clearly and define your goals with this money. After all, since you were married for a considerable amount of time, it does take some time to adjust to your new life and get your thoughts together. Therefore, I believe a CD makes sense for you.

In today's world, certificates of deposits that you get through banks or credit unions are not paying great rates of return. However, there are ways to at least get a little better rate of return. Most people are under the misconception that all CDs pay the same — that is not true. You can shop CDs around the country in order to get better rates of return. One caveat to be considered is that whenever you invest in CDs, you must always make sure they are federally insured. No matter what the return is, it is not worth it to invest in a non-federally insured CD.

In addition, with interest rates as low as they are, it doesn't make sense to invest in long-term CDs. In your particular situation, I recommend either a three-month or six-month CD. This will allow you to have some time to get your thoughts together so you can re-invest the money wisely.

When shopping for CDs, in addition to contacting your local bank, you should also consider credit unions. Credit unions tend to have more competitive rates than local banks. Credit unions are owned and operated for the benefit of their members. You should also consider out-of-state banks. A website I've recommended in the past to help shop CD rates around the country is www.bankrate.com.

One of the biggest mistakes investors make is that they invest before they've had time to think about what they want from their money. When investors are either pressured to make a decision or make a decision before they are ready, inevitably they make the wrong decision. Good investors take their time, don't get pressured into anything and only invest when they are ready.

Good financial advisers are more concerned with making sure an investor has a portfolio that not only fits their needs, but one that they are comfortable with. Taking your time and investing when you're ready is always a smart move. Rushing into an investment or being pressured into doing something that you're not comfortable with will always lead to bad results. Good luck!

The Best Money I've Ever Spent!

(Actual Testimonial
from Kimmy K.,
Dearborn, MI)

I had laser hair removal on my lip & chin over three years ago with Beth. It changed my life. I had such severe facial hair I shaved my face every morning (like 5 o'clock shadow hairy.) After waxing me one day Beth gently asked me "Why don't you have the laser hair removal done?"

I told her that I had tried that. I went to Henry Ford Fairlane paid $1000 for my chin area and had 8 treatments. I then sarcastically said "Clearly it doesn't work." She promised me that after one treatment I'd see a difference. I really wanted to believe that it could work. I had my first treatment and noticed a difference. After 3 treatments my friends and co-workers noticed it too. By the time I was done I finally felt like a girl. My self esteem was restored. It's been three years and I have thanked Beth, Renee, & Fatima every time I see them for taking such wonderful care of me. I referred every woman I know to see them. Laser hair removal is the way to go! I'm having my underarms done now. For less than the price of a Coach purse, I'm NEVER going to have to shave my underarms again. I'm investing in ME!

I've lived in Canton, Northville and now Dearborn. I don't care how far I am from them New Face New Body is my Laser Hair Removal Spot. The Brazilian wax is awesome too. I think I'll laser that next.

Chiefs look to stay on roll

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Nothing seems to get John Cunningham down, especially when gymnastics seasons rolls around. The 2010-11 Chiefs cruised to the KLAA Kensington Division title and went on to postseason glory, finishing second in the state finals to perennial powerhouse Grand Ledge.

Gone from that team are Robyn Piwowar, Kali Pierce, Brooke Granowicz (who all graduated) and Alex Fideler (a former state champion who opted not to return in her junior year).

But the new season is here and Cunningham is hopeful.

There is good reason for that. Freshman Jocelyn Moraw and German exchange student Pia Simon show promise.

Plus, Division 2 vault champion and senior co-captain Ayana Lewis leads a group of excellent returnees.

Won't miss a beat

"We're going to be a 140 team, that's one of the watermarks that you say 'Is it a good team or not?'" Cunningham said. "Ayana Lewis is going to be our leader coming back. "She was state champion on vault and second at states all-around (D2). Obviously that's a lot of power coming back."

An indicator the Chiefs will be OK was a 138.85 score at the recent Red-White-Black scrimmage, despite not having Lewis in the lineup.

"We ended up with a 138.85 with-

Salem guard Katelynn Krause (No. 5) sends a pass to a teammate during Friday's non-conference girls basketball game against Farmington Hills Mercy.

Salem sizzles, then fizzles

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

A promising start faded fast Friday night for Salem, as the host Rocks lost 42-26 to Farmington Hills Mercy in a non-conference varsity girls basketball game.

The Rocks (0-2) came out on all cylinders and led 11-6 after eight minutes of play.

But the Marlins started to take over in the second quarter, with defensive pressure turning up the heat in Salem's kitchen — resulting in numerous turnovers that led to transition buckets.

"In the second quarter, we didn't do a good job of taking care of the basketball," Salem head coach Fred Thomann said. "That was the bottom line."

Salem turned it over 20 times en route to a second straight loss to open the season.

"They (Marlins) were in their press, we turned it over and they were able to convert," he said. "We played better in this game than the other game (a loss to Ann Arbor Huron). Our first quarter was excellent."

Mercy took control with a 13-3 edge in the second quarter, to build a 19-14 halftime lead. Then it was more of the same in the third, as the Marlins outscored Salem 10-4 to build an insurmountable 29-18 advantage after three.

All of the Rocks' points in the third quarter were scored from the free-throw line.

The squads each scored seven points in the fourth quarter.

The leading scorer for Salem was Bri Berberet, with 13 points, with Katelynn Krause chipping in with six. Breanne Beaver was the top rebounder for the Rocks with seven.

Leading all scorers with 18 points was Mercy's Sarah Benson.

Salem will next visit Dearborn Divine Child on Tuesday.

Wildcats romp

Plymouth improved to 2-2 on the season thanks to Friday night's 48-30 victory over visiting Ann Arbor Skyline.

The Wildcats' defense was the catalyst, with 20 steals — led by Jada Woody and Shelby Cheston (four each).

"I think our defense triggered most of our offense tonight," Plymouth head coach Bob de Bear said. "We scored the first 11 points of the game off turnovers."

Plymouth led 15-6 after the first quarter and 26-11 at halftime before really putting a vice grip on the win with a 20-5 advantage in the third.

Please see HOOPS, B3

OT loss for Wildcats

After storming back to send Friday night's into overtime thanks to a trey by Brendan Swanson in the closing moments of regulation, host Plymouth's boys basketball team could not carry that momentum into the extra session.

Ann Arbor Skyline's 11-8 edge in OT gave the visitors a 66-63 win, but Plymouth head coach Mike Soukup couldn't blame his team for giving an all-out effort.

"I'm real proud of my guys," Soukup said. "We were down 10 midway through the fourth and came clawing back to force overtime. I'm so proud of their effort."

The Wildcats (1-1) outscored Skyline 16-11 in the fourth to keep the game going.

Josh Priebe led Plymouth with 24 points, with Sid Acharya adding 12 points and nine rebounds.

Chipping in with nine points and five boards was Jake Divens, while Swanson's triple gave him eight points.

Soukup also cited the strong defense played by senior guard Donte Fox, among others.

The win gave Skyline a 1-0 mark on the young season.

Chiefs fall short by 5

Despite 12 points each by Josh Mayberry and Paul Baumgart, visiting Canton dropped Friday night's non-conference boys basketball contest by a 44-39 score to host Dexter.

Baumgart also led the Chiefs (1-1) with nine rebounds, with Terrell Sewell adding seven points and six rebounds.

Penguins down Mercy

The Plymouth-Canton-Salem Penguins girls hockey team defeated Farmington Hills Mercy 6-3 on Tuesday, but the win came at a price.

High-scoring forward Nicole Natelborg was lost for 7-to-10 days due to a concussion sustained midway during the second period, after she had scored twice and assisted on two others.

Natelborg will definitely miss Tuesday's 6:30 p.m. game against Regina at Canton Arctic Edge Arena.

Adding two goals and an assist was Jackie Lough, with Jenna Carter finishing the scoring from Cortny McAdoo.

Mariah Tucker chipped in with three assists.

The Penguins improved to 3-1 overall.

Five Whalers ready to take aim at World Juniors

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Ask any member of the Plymouth Whalers what their two top hockey missions are and they'd probably say representing their country and playing in the National Hockey League.

A handful of players from the OHL West Division leaders have a great chance to put a checkmark past the former when they attend tryout camps for the International Ice Hockey Federation World Junior Championships.

dian World Junior squad. Defenseman and Farmington Hills native

Austin Levi later this week will leave to attend tryouts for Team USA, as will forward J.T. Miller.

Other Whalers going to camps include forward Rickard Rakell (Sweden) and defenseman Dario Trutmann (Swiss).

"It's a big honor for me,"

Wedgewood said. "Last year I didn't go, this year it was kind of a goal of mine to start out strong and hopefully get invited and I did.

"Now, it's a matter of going there and showing what I've got and hopefully making it."

Wedgewood is one of four goal-tenders going to Calgary, Alberta, trying to earn two spots, with a third available on an as-needed basis.

He can't wait

Both Levi and Miller will leave for Team USA tryouts on Friday.

"This is going to be my first year attempting to make the team and I'm going to give it everything I have," Levi said. "I was in the first (Team USA) camp in August and it was a great experience for me and it's really exciting to be able to represent your country."

Levi said he is looking forward to going to the camp with a Plymouth teammate (Miller) and would relish having a chance to fire pucks at Wedgewood should

Bringing home two first-place trophies after competing at the Chippewa Valley Dance Invitational was the Salem Varsity Rockettes. The team won the varsity pom and small varsity jazz divisions at Chippewa Valley High School. Members of the team include (front row, from left) assistant coach Jen Leight and head coach Kaithlin Fettes; (middle row, from left) captain Mary Colon, captain Mary-Liz Benintende, captain Stephanie Fogoros and Jessica VanOoyen; (back row, from left) Anna Cratty, Vanessa Bank, Jenna Newman, Mary Zelmanski, Kayla Stokfisz, Mianna Krause, Rachel Duprey, Nina Cilia, Taylor Harvath and Olivia Ozeranic.

Razor-sharp Sharks

Going undefeated at the recent Rock n' Roll Cup in Cleveland, Ohio lifted the Plymouth Razor Sharks' pee-wee hockey team to the tournament championship in late November. Head coach Eric Jackson's Sharks — who gave up just five goals all weekend — defeated the Geauga Maple Leafs 4-3 in the title game, played Nov. 27 at Lakefront Arena. Goalie Robert Leny earned tourney MVP honors. Pictured are the Razor Sharks following the championship win. They are as follows: (back row, from left) coaches Rob Willacker, Chris Posa, Eric Jackson, Ron Leny, Greg West and Carol O'Donohue; (third row, from left) Ben Rapai, Ben Posa, Brett Cygan, Garrett Willacker, Matthew Homrich, Brock West and Patrick Leny; (second row, from left) Alex Welch, Dakota Greener, Justin Perry, Matthew Asher, Nick O'Donohue, Marcus Jackson and Jason Moran; (front row) goaltender Leny.

Rocks set sights on return to state meet

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

Buoyed by last season's success of making the Division 2 state meet as a team, Salem varsity girls gymnastics head coach Dana Driscoll would like nothing more than an encore performance.

"We'll be at least as good, I say better than last year," Driscoll said. "That's their goal, that's my goal."

The path back to the state meet begins with a dual meet Monday at Walled Lake.

"I'm very optimistic," Driscoll said. "Last year, it was like four or five years since we went to the state meet as a team. Being able to do that last year was great."

"The kids who were here worked hard all summer and fall. I lost some leadership, but everybody who competed, for the most part most of my scorers (are back)."

There's an intriguing

fourth-place finish in the KLAA Lakes Division.

"It's a mixture, but pretty young, a lot of freshmen and sophomores," Driscoll said. "We had 40 girls on the team last year and had nine graduate. We had a handful move in here."

Returning soon

Of course, the ultra-talented Nicole Jacobs will soon return from an injury rehab and make a bid at being a top all-arounder.

Jacobs, entering her senior year, tore her ACL at the 2011 Division 2 state meet, but is "doing as much as she can" to get the medical clearance she needs, Driscoll said.

Another key return-ee and all-around talent blend of top returners and newbies as the Rocks hope to improve on last season's is junior Ade Jepperson, who finished 25th in all-around at the D2 meet (even with her injury, Jacobs placed 16th).

Sophomores Brooke Allgeyer and Morgan Soper and Brooke Allgeyer showed plenty of talent in their rookie seasons, finishing 25th and 36th on vault, respectively, at the D2 meet.

Salem's chances also are bolstered by returning sophomores Laura Akcasu, Maddie Burt and Paulette Martino.

Among newcomers are freshman Brittaney Ramirez and junior Andrea Mellotti.

"Brittany Ramirez is a freshman who is going to be a very strong all-arounder," the coach noted. "She's going to contribute everywhere right away."

Mellotti brings club experience to the team and should also contribute in several events.

the U.S. and Canadian teams square off.

"That'd be great, that'd definitely be a story to tell and an experience to carry with us for the rest of our lives," said Levi, about potentially facing Wedgewood. "It'd be fun to shoot against Scott, (friendship's) out the window for that game."

"There are no friends on the ice as it pertains to the other team."

With a grin, he added that, "If I see him, I'm not letting up at all."

U.S. tryouts continue until Dec. 22, when the team will be selected.

Players making the cut begin the tournament on Dec. 26, with games involving the top 18- and 19-year-old players from around the world continuing until Jan. 5.

Whalers head coach and general manager Mike Vellucci said all of the players would be missed for a couple weeks should they make rosters for their respective countries.

But he will be rooting for them, just the same.

"I think it's great for them to make it, and that's what they're trying to do, play for their country," Vellucci said. "It will give us more opportunity to play our young guys and see what we have going in to the trade deadline."

"It's just a big opportunity for our young guys to step up."

Plymouth victimized by defending champs

By Chris Jackett
Correspondent

In a somewhat lackadaisical performance by both squads, a close hockey game burst wide open in a four-minute span Wednesday as Novi defeated Plymouth 6-2 at Novi Ice Arena.

Defending Division 1 state champion Novi scored three goals in a span of 3:46 late in the second period to turn a 2-2 tie into a decisive victory over Plymouth.

The game-winning goal came with 6:47 remaining in the second period when a play from behind the net led to a goal by Novi junior Luke Bageris, with sophomore Chris Kennedy and junior Wes Guenther assisting.

After a give-and-go with senior Kent Burnett, Novi senior Curtis Herzog curved inward toward the goal from the right side and notched a goal just 1:36 later. Herzog scored again 2:10 later when he found the puck in the left circle and buried it in the net.

The three-goal burst was too much for Plymouth (3-3-0, 2-2-0 Kensington), who was unable to counter.

The black and silver Wildcats had brief momentum just before the burst when senior Zach Gambrell stole the puck from two Novi defenders behind the goal and came around the right side and to the top of the crease for a shot into the roof of the net to tie it 2-2 at the 9:21 mark.

Good early

"Early in the game we were working hard," Plymouth coach Gerry Vento said. "We were creating our opportunities and things were going well. Then for whatever reason, I don't know if we got too complacent after we scored two goals. We stopped moving our feet and good things aren't going to happen if you do that."

The game had started off as a close contest. Despite being outshot 10-4, Novi (3-2-1, 2-1-1 KLAA Kensington) took a lead on a wristshot by senior Ryan Kobylarek 7:05 into the game before Plymouth senior Jeremy Cigile tied it up during a scramble in front of the net with 3:04 remaining in the first period.

Both netminders, Novi senior Spencer Peterson and Plymouth senior Richard Guglielmi, came up with a few point-blank saves. Each team had 23 shots on the night, with Peterson making 21 saves and Guglielmi making 17 saves.

"He kept us in there," Vento said of Guglielmi. "He's been a warrior for us all year and goaltending wasn't the reason we lost this game. We weren't nearly as physical and against a team like Novi you just can't do that."

"You've got to take away their time and space and we didn't do that. We either were taking penalties or we're giving up goals. They've got a great power play, they're skilled and well coached and they capitalized."

Junior Mark Baker gave Novi a 2-1 lead off a rebound 2:14 into the second period before the host Wildcats' string of goals.

Kobylarek put the icing on the cake with 7:15 left in the game, netting his second of the night with a power play tap in from the right post after Guglielmi attempted to make a save on the far side.

"I thought both teams were just not playing as hard as I would've expected," Novi head coach Todd Krygier said. "And that happens some nights, but if that happens against a Canton or a Brighton, we're in trouble."

Top scorers for the Wildcats were Kate Watson, Woody and Cheston with eight each.

Contributing seven points was Alyssa Dillon, with Kylie Robb and Chyna Williams each tallying six.

The Wildcats will host Northville on Tuesday.

LUTH. N'WEST 53, C'VILLE 20: Kim Lepore popped in 18 points Thursday to spark Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest (3-1) past visiting Livonia Clarenceville (0-4).

Abbey Looker added 12 points for the Crusaders, who led 7-6 after one quarter before outscoring the Trojans 17-7 in the second period and 20-8 in the third to take a commanding 44-21 advantage. Sophomore Ayanna Buckley tallied 11 points for the Trojans, who hit 11-of-22 free throws.

Northwest made only 6-of-17.

LADYWOOD 40, G.P. NORTH 29: Junior guards Andie Anastos and Shelby Walsh each tallied 11 points to lead Livonia Ladywood (2-2) to a victory Wednesday night at Grosse Pointe North (1-2).

The Blazers also got eight points and six rebounds from Sara Even along with seven points and six boards from Morgan Chops.

"It was a hard-fought, scrappy game and our defense put us over the top," said Ladywood coach Anthony Coratti, whose team led 27-15 at halftime. "We made them work defensively."

from the foul line, while the Norsemen were only 2-of-6.

ARBOR PREP 45, HVL 37: Freshman guard Zakya Wells poured in 20 points Tuesday as host Ypsilanti Arbor Prep (1-0) downed Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (0-1) in a non-conference game.

Junior forward Megan Prieskorn led the Hawks with 12 points, while freshman forward Madison Dest added 11 points and six rebounds. Dayna Schroeder also chipped in with 10 points and seven boards.

RU drought helps Salem

By Ed Wright
Observer Staff Writer

The midway point of the third quarter is quickly turning into the Bermuda Triangle for the Redford Union boys basketball team.

On Thursday against visiting Salem, the Panthers' offensive rhythm disappeared for a long stretch not long after the second half started and the Rocks took advantage, pulling away for a 61-46 victory.

A nine-minute end-of-third-beginning-of-fourth-quarter scoreless drought Tuesday also proved costly to the Panthers in their 40-32 loss to Plymouth.

"It seemed like we were stuck on 44 (points) forever in the second half," RU head coach Randall Taylor said. "We came out and played well at both ends of the court tonight and it was a back-and-forth game until we went cold late in the third."

Senior swingman Tyler Stewart led the Rocks with 16 points, 12 of which came in the first 16 minutes. Junior Chris Dierker also had a nice season debut for Salem, netting 12 points.

The main man for RU was senior point guard Dwight Pooler, who put up Chris Paul-like numbers: 10 points, eight steals and six assists while turning the ball over just once.

Tré Goynes notched a hard-earned double-double for the Panthers, registering 11 points and 11 rebounds.

Salem led 29-25 at the break, but RU came out of the gate rolling at the outset of the third quarter when it reeled off a 6-0 run to take a 31-29 lead. Stewart stuck a long three, however, to shift the momentum quickly back to the Rocks.

Whalers nip Belleville, 4-3

In a battle of first place teams, the Plymouth Whalers built a 4-1 lead after one period of play and withstood a late Belleville rally to beat the Otters, 4-3, in an Ontario Hockey League game played Friday night at Compuware Arena.

The Whalers improve to 20-8-2-1, good for 43 points and first place in the OHL's West Division. Plymouth picked up ground on second-place Sarnia (now 17-8-1-4, 39 points), who lost 7-3 to the Erie Otters on Friday. The Otters won just their fourth game of the season and are now 4-24-0-1.

Scoring single goals for the Whalers were Dario Trutmann, Stefan Noesen, Mitchell Heard and J.T. Miller while goalie Scott Wedgewood played his 100th game for the OHL club — the seventh in franchise history to do so. Wedgewood, who Saturday was scheduled to leave for the Canadian World Juniors tryout camp, stopped 31 of 34 Belleville shots for the victory.

Plymouth will next play road games against Oshawa and Belleville Friday and Saturday, respectively, before the holiday break. The next game at Compuware is 2 p.m. Dec. 28 against London.

out Ayana and you're talking about somebody that scored 37 all-around," Cunningham said. "We're a 140 team and we could easily be back at 145, where we were last year."

Of course, the Chiefs will miss the girls who moved on. Piwowar was honored last season by the Michigan High School Gymnastics Coaches and Judges Association as Senior Gymnast of the Year.

Cunningham, however, puts a positive spin on things.

"Robyn pushed the all-around record at the school several times," Cunningham said. "Ayana can be Robyn. Because she can score 36-37."

Other returners with the chance to again play key roles are "prime contributors" such as sophomores Melissa Green, Erica Lucas, senior co-captain Marina Milad and junior Nicole Lasecki. All are all-arounders.

Plenty of potential

Pushing them for spots on the so-called "A-team" are promising all-arounders Moraw and Simon.

"Jocelyn will be in contention for being the No. 1, No. 2, No. 3 girl on the team," Cunningham said. "She comes with quite a bit of club experience."

Also "very good" with club experience is Simon, who looks particularly strong on vault (8.95 at the scrimmage).

The influx of new talent doesn't stop there.

"I've got half a dozen new kids coming to me with experience," he added. "Not all of them are what I call A-team right now. They are going to be helping out."

"Give me half a season to work with these kids, then I'll have a better handle on how much they are going to contribute."

Among those he mentioned in that group are freshmen Katie Kleabir, Katie Lawera and sophomore Shannon Kozlowski.

"She (Kozlowski) will be a good vaulter, (as well as) good beam and good floor," Cunningham said. "She should be an all-arounder. The two Katies are going to be in a similar fashion, where they're going to contribute all-around."

Beyond that group are "some kids who are going to contribute individually," Cunningham stressed. "(Junior) Katie Adams is going to be one of my beam contributors. (Junior) Emily Lang on vault and beam, maybe bars."

Sophomore Jessica Siegler improved enough last year to be at the regional qualifying level in all-around and continues to make strides. "She's going to be good."

Canton opened the regular season Saturday in a tri-dual meet and are now idle until Jan. 3 against Northville.

Quad meet good way for young teams to learn

By Tim Smith
Observer Staff Writer

The long-term benefits of competing in Wednesday's season-opening quad meet outweigh immediate results, according to Plymouth and Salem wrestling coaches whose teams participated.

At the four-team meet hosted by Plymouth High School, the Wildcats lost 45-34 and 44-31 to Dearborn Fordson and Belleville, respectively.

Salem's wrestling squad also dropped both matches, losing 50-9 to Belleville and 41-27 to Fordson.

"I tell my guys that these first four competitions are pretty much scrimmages that count," Wildcats head coach Quinn Guernsey said. "We do these first two weeks, we figure out all the stuff we need to work on, and then we take a nice long break over Christmas break and work on it."

"The team we have coming out of Christmas break is going to be a lot different than the team we had going in — hopefully."

Guernsey noted that the Wildcats are a "work in progress," and that the quad meet gave youngsters a double dose of mat time.

Salem assistant coach Jeremy Henderson said the quad meet accelerates the learning curve for the young Rocks.

"Two matches is better than one if you're going to a random dual, especially these two teams (Fordson, Belleville) that we don't get to see too often," Henderson said. "Wrestling against them gives us some experience and lets us see them before we see them later in the season."

al highlights. Plymouth's Trey Berry (119), Jon Conn (130) and Said Youssef (140) each won both of their matches, with Conn and Berry twice pinning opponents.

"That's going to happen a lot, hopefully," Guernsey said. "All three of those guys have pretty high expectations for the year and definitely have the ability to fulfill those expectations, too."

Salem's Jake McCabe took down his two opponents, also both via the pin route.

"He's going to be a key for us this season," Henderson said. "He's going to get a lot of pins, he's just got to work on some standard technique and we should see him in March (at the Division 1 state meet)."

Other Wildcats posting wins against Fordson included Mohammed Youssef at 103 (by fall) and Brendon Davis at 145 (16-6) while Hussein Youssef won the 135-pound bout against Belleville by a 10-6 score.

In addition to McCabe, Tony Agohiad was victorious for Salem against Belleville at 215 (7-4). In the loss to Fordson, other Rocks with victories were Ali Ajami (285, pin), Mitchell Marshall (140, pin) and Tyler Gross (160, 6-2).

The quad meet also gave newcomers such as Plymouth's Mitchell Lamarand to show their stuff.

"We're missing our usual 125-pounder, Chase Kallil, who's one of our team captains," Guernsey noted. "That hurt. We had a freshman (Lamarand) step in out of nowhere and did what we ask freshmen to do. Come in and do your best. He lost both of his matches but he was still going hard."

Overcoming holiday blues

Focus on good memories, delegate
duties

By Sharon Dargay
O&E Staff Writer

The Rev. Joan Christoffers identifies with parishioners who feel more tearful than cheerful at the holidays.

Years before her ordination, she attended her first Christmas Eve worship service as a newly-divorced mom. There was music, pageantry, people and decorations, but none of the merriment could overcome her feelings of sadness at the time.

"I was divorced after 22 years and was devastated. The children were with their father that night. I didn't think twice about going to Christmas Eve service. I sat next to a gal who had recently lost her husband. The two of us cried through the whole service," she said, suspecting they had rained on the feel-good vibe shared by others in the pew that night.

Years later as a minister, she introduced a quieter, low-key alternative to traditional Christmas services at her former church in Capac. Now the pastor at Good Hope Lutheran Church in Garden City, Christoffers will bring that same "Blue Christmas" service to her new flock this year.

"It's a service of hope and healing. The first step is in recognizing that some of us are not happy at Christmas and the holidays are not a happy time because of illness, loss of family, financial woes. People come to this service because they want a quiet, meditative type of celebration of the birth of Christ rather than the craziness of Christmas Eve services."

Stress or depression?

Dr. Theodore Ruza, D.O., a psychiatrist and medical director of Botsford Hospital's Geriatric Psychiatry Program in Farmington, says the notion of holiday "depression" is "a little exaggerated" for most individuals simply trying to "fit 25 hours into a 24-hour day" as they strive to meet holiday demands.

"It's not so much depression as it is anxiety and stress, which is a huge difference. People get angry, irritable, frustrated, hostile," he said. "Financial issues can be a huge concern."

"I see people get clinically depressed after the holidays. During the holidays, even if you don't have family, there are a lot of things going on ... shopping, a lot of hustle and bustle, anticipation, things on the radio, movies. On Jan. 1 it's all over and loved ones go back to work and the bills start coming in, it's cold here."

But Ruza acknowledges that the holidays can evoke feelings of sadness and depression over the loss of a loved one, even if they are no longer mourning.

"People can feel sad and depressed even if their mother passed away three years ago because they are remembering Christmases of the past. That is a normal response."

Grieving

Vicki Campbell, Grief Support Services Coordinator for Arbor Hospice, presents workshops in Plymouth, Ann Arbor and Woodhaven to help individuals deal with their feelings of loss at the holidays. During sessions this year, participants learned to make memory boxes and memory stockings to honor their loved one's life. An art therapist worked with children to help their express their grief through drawings.

"The grief process is so unique. No two people grieve the same way. Not everyone has a Courier and Ives family," Campbell said. "We tell them that it's good to plan for the holidays. They may not feel as if they have control over their emotions. At least having a plan in place can calm anxiety. They do have some control with whom they spend the holidays. If they are going to get together with family, they may want to compromise, maybe cut back on decorating, place the tree in another location this year, include children in the decorating process.

"It's all about honoring that person's life," she added.

Lighting a candle for the deceased, honoring them with a memorial Mass or making a donation to a charity in their memory can become a part of holiday tradition.

Ruza suggests that families focus on "good memories" of deceased loved ones.

"Talk about the foods they made, what stories they told. If you look at it in a positive way, that can be reassuring and make you feel better," he said. He said delegating tasks and compromising can go a long way toward alleviating stress in families at the holidays.

Both Campbell and Christoffers say reaching out to others by volunteering also can lessen the blues.

Visiting a nursing home, taking cookies to a shut-in, simply "looking outside yourself," can change your outlook while helping someone else, Christoffers said.

Quiet service

Good Hope Lutheran Church's "Blue Christmas" service is 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21, at the church, 28680 Cherry Hill Road, Garden City.

It will include quiet Christmas songs and will focus on message of hope rather than the Christmas story. Participants will get a chance to light votive candles and the service will include a laying on of hands for healing.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia also offers a Blue Christmas service at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 14. A coffee reception with care ministers will follow the service. The church is located on Five Mile, one block west of Inkster Road.

Rescues seek donations for medical costs

By Sharon Dargay
O&E Staff Writer

Sandra Mezza of Guardian Angels Animal Rescue in Livonia had been aware of Abby, a stray dog running the streets of Detroit, for nearly seven years.

One of her Detroit-based volunteers had tried trapping, chasing and following the dog that lived on scraps of food and slept in abandoned buildings.

"She was always too smart and even got out of a live trap they set for her," Mezza wrote in an e-mail. "Who knows how she survived so many winters, she must have been so cold and so hungry."

Mezza and her volunteers gave a collective sigh of relief recently when they managed to capture the dog. But their celebration was tempered by the dog's medical needs.

"She has a very large tumor under her chest and will need it removed asap," Mezza wrote. "The tumor seems to be just a fatty tumor, which is good. The sad news is, she was tested positive for heartworm."

The group seeks donations for her treatment and surgery which will cost approximately $1,000. Mezza also hopes to find a quiet foster home for her recovery. She said Abby is well behaved, quiet and has had no "potty accidents" in the house.

"She is so happy just to have a warm loving place to sleep."

More rescues in need

Tail Waggers's 1990, the Livonia organization that helps pet owners who are in need of assistance and provides funding for animals in emergency situations, set a fundraising goal of $8,000 by Dec. 31 for prevention, treatment, and support programs. Laura Zain, Tail Waggers's founder, has plenty of rescue stories with happy endings this season, but also many cats and dogs that require veterinary care.

"Yesterday, I received an early morning call from the frantic owner of two Himalayan cats named Bailey and Bentley," Zain wrote. "They had bought the cats for their daughter, but soon after, lost their jobs. Subsequently, they could not afford a trip to the veterinarian for vaccinations, spaying and neutering or food."

"Later the same night, I received a phone call about a puppy that had been found in an abandoned Westland home. Gullivar appeared to be in good spirits but had one of the worse skin conditions I'd ever seen. From head to tail, he was nothing but scabs with hardly any fur on his body. He had been attacked by fleas for many months, causing a severe reaction."

Zain accepts donations of any amount at Tail Waggers's 1990, 28402 Five Mile, Livonia, MI 48154. Or pay on line through her Web site at www.tailwaggers1990.org.

Better Life Canine Center, headed by Brenda Woody of Westland, also accepts donations to help defray veterinary and dog training costs. The organization socializes and obedience trains all rescues before they are placed in permanent homes. Contribute at www.betterlifecaninecenter.org.

Urologists share data to improve care, treatment of patients

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan and 21 urology practices work to improve care of patients with prostate cancer across state

Physicians share data and best practices to improve quality, reduce unnecessary procedures

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan and 21 doctor offices throughout the state have launched a new initiative aimed at improving the quality of care for patients with prostate cancer.

The Michigan Urological Surgery Improvement Collaborative will look at how to reduce unnecessary testing in men with low-risk cancers, and how to provide more appropriate treatment for men with high-risk cancers. Urologists across Michigan also will share data and information to develop guidelines for the use of certain therapies. Standards are designed to reduce variation in practice patterns, which can in turn improve the quality and cost-efficiency of care provided to men with prostate cancer.

"Our initial efforts will focus on improving patterns of care in the staging of men with newly diagnosed prostate cancer," stated Dr. James Montie, professor of urology at the University of Michigan Health Center, (UMHC) the initiative's coordinating center. "We will use clearly defined evidence to guide us in staging bone and CT scans."

Montie will lead the initiative along with Dr. David Miller, an assistant professor of urology at UMH.

Montie and Miller worked with colleagues in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Virginia to establish the Urological Surgery Quality Collaborative in 2009. That project has successfully reduced variations in practice patterns and improved adherence to recommended staging practices within participating urology groups. The Michigan initiative is based on the principles of the successful multi-state collaborative.

The new Michigan Urological Surgery Quality Collaborative joins 30 other collaborations among primary care and specialty physicians participating in BCBSM's Physician Group Incentive Program.

The program connects physician organizations across Michigan, supporting them in their efforts to collect data, share information and collaborate on initiatives that improve the way health care is delivered in Michigan.

Local urology practices that are participating in the Michigan Urological Surgery Improvement Collaborative include Affiliates in Urology in Westland, Dearborn, and Taylor; Huron Valley Urology Associates in Brighton, Canton, and Ypsilanti; Oakland County Urologists, in Waterford, Milford, and Novi; University of Michigan Department of Urology, Ann Arbor; and Wayne State University Physicians Group - Urology in Detroit, Farmington Hills, Dearborn, and Southfield.

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan is a nonprofit corporation and independent licensee of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association. For more information, visit bcbsm.com.

Appliance repairs can be tricky, may be best to go with a pro

This e-mail from Bob has a story to it that I'm sure will interest all you do-it-yourselfers.

Bob writes: "My 8-year-old Whirlpool washer makes a retching noise when it is selected to spin. I took it into the garage and I had it on a dolly and laid it on its front. I rotated the joint between the motor and the transmission and heard one click. I thought maybe that it was in between spin and agitate. Now it will not run at all. Does it need water pressure to run? Does a tip switch need to be reset? I worked on these years ago."

Appliance Doctor
Joe Gagnon

Well, folks, I called Bob because I'm sure he needed a little help.

Come to find out that Bob during the 1960s had a part-time job after high school classes. He worked in a laundromat in Milford maintaining commercial washers and dryers and just loved the man he worked for. This man taught Bob the inner workings of a washer and dryer but those lessons were not doing him much good on his current 8-year-old washer. He didn't know how to take this machine apart.

With a little help, Bob was able to remove the cabinet from this washer and determined that he needed a new coupler which cost him $25 and he completed the repairs himself. Once he was told how the cabinet came off he was amazed at how easy it was to repair the product. Once again, knowledge became power.

The fact of the matter is that manufacturers do not want homeowners to repair their own major home appliances. The have made entry into the components of these products a sometimes very tricky thing and many times the do-it-yourselfer will cause more damage than good. Now ask yourself why a manufacturer would do this to someone who they wish to become a loyal customer. It doesn't make sense to me but it does to them because service profits make the bottom line look good. The more service calls available for their own technicians the more revenue realized by the company. It's almost as if they want to force you to call for a technician, but remember that many independent service companies will gladly explain how you can take things apart.

Another e-mail from Ed tells a story hardly ever told. He writes: "Last night we had an unusual event. Barb was baking cookies and was approaching the oven when the glass from the door exploded all over the floor. She didn't get that close, so she wasn't injured. She went on the Internet to find out if this was something that just happened to her. It was not, it has happened numerous times and it seems by other makers of ovens with glass doors. Ours is a Kenmore purchased September 2010. Lucky for us it came with a three-year warranty."

Now Ed and Barb are going to have their oven door glass repaired and I'll bet that when Barb is baking something and has to open the door you will hear her call for Ed, to "open the door."

Not so long ago I had a lady tell me that she wasn't using her kitchen range, walked by it and the glass blew out of the door and cut her legs. Another lady I met once had a big scar over her right eyebrow and told me that the top burner on her electric range blew up and a piece of hot metal caused a severe burn where the scar is today. It just goes to show that not only are appliance repairs tricky, so are the appliances themselves. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m., Saturdays on WAAM 1600. You can e-mail your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@twmi.rr.com

Arthritis Today

WINTER AND ARTHRITIS

We enjoyed a slow onset of winter, but it was arrived. For anyone with arthritis, winter represents a time for caution and planning.

The first winter rule is: Do not hurry.

Allot ample time to dress warmly and to put on boots. Muscles, tendons and joints stiffen quickly when cold; for a person with arthritis, that stiffness adds on to the hazards of winter walking. Any amount of snow or the possibility of ice necessitates wearing boots; putting them on is a nuisance for everyone. For a person with arthritis of the hands, hips or knees, the process is even more annoying.

The only way around the aggravation is to give ample time to the job. The second winter rule is: Keep moving.

Winter in Michigan raises obstacles to hiking, biking, or walking malls with friends. No ready answer exists to what to substitute in winter for the outdoor facilities offered by Nature in spring and summer. Treadmill equipment is not always available or practical, pool facilities are scarce and getting to an enclosed mall if the weather turns nasty, may prove impossible.

Winter weather not only keeps the person with arthritis a prisoner in his or her home, but turns the car into a straightjacket on wheels. I refer to the prolonged time on the road because of traffic jams, poor road conditions or the limited visibility that accompanies snow storms. While anyone who must stay for a prolonged period in a cramped position feel joint aches, the individual with arthritis suffers infinitely more.

No ready answer exists to overcome these winter circumstances, we must do whatever possible to keep moving.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many people are wrongly rejected when they apply for Social Security Disability benefits. Money was taken out of their paychecks for Social Security taxes to ensure that they would receive disability benefits if they could no longer work full-time. Sadly, the government denies approximately 60% of those who apply for disability benefits.

Attorneys J.B. Bieske and Jennifer Alfonsi have 42 years combined experience representing only Social Security disability clients. And they personally meet with all clients and appear personally at all court hearings. Many large firms assign inexperienced attorneys to your case. And some of these firms are located thousands of miles away and only fly the attorney in the day of the court hearing. Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi have vast experience before local Michigan judges.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi can often make a winning difference at the application stage. And, if an appeal is necessary they have won several hundred cases before a court date is even set.

Those denied can appeal on their own but statistics for many years reveal that those represented by attorneys win a much higher percentage of appeals. And attorneys who specialize in Social Security Disability cases win a much higher percentage yet.

In addition to practicing only Social Security disability law attorney Bieske has written a book for attorneys about the subject and has been interviewed on various television programs. Both attorney Bieske and Alfonsi have also been interviewed on radio programs and have given speeches to many groups.

Attorneys Bieske and Alfonsi offer free phone or office consultation. If they represent you, there will be no fee charged until after the case is won. The fee is a percentage of retroactive benefits.

Bieske and Alfonsi represent clients from all over the state of Michigan. Their Livonia office is on Six Mile Road just west of I-275. Their Novi office is located on Haggerty Road just north of 12 Mile Road. Call them at 1-800-331-3530 for a free consultation if you have been denied, or if you are thinking of possibly applying for Social Security benefits.

Give the gift of good health

This holiday season, help your loved ones start their New Year's resolutions a little early with gifts that encourage eating better and moving more.

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation, a national non-profit founded by the American Heart Association and the William J. Clinton Foundation to combat childhood obesity, offers 10 healthy holiday gift ideas:

Exercise class gift cards

Inspire a little gym motivation by giving your friends exercise class gift cards. Whether it's yoga, spinning, Zumba or their personal favorite, you can help them stay physically active this winter. Bonus points if you offer to be their buddy and join.

Local options might include a punch card for Summit on the Park in Canton, ($55 residents, $130 nonresidents) offering 10 visits to use the facility and attend fitness classes; www.leisure.canton-mi.org/summit/. Or a gift certificate to classes at the Michigan Tai Chi Association in Livonia. Classes start the week of Jan. 2 and are taught at the Association, 38121 Ann Arbor Road, east of I-275, at the Plymouth Council on Aging Friendship Station and at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Call (734) 591-3530 or visit www.taotachi.org

Race Registration

Racing is a great way to work towards an objective. Whether it's a local 5K or a full marathon, giving the gift of a goal will provide an important benchmark on the path to a healthier lifestyle.

Locally, the Barbara Ann Karmanos Cancer Institute has begun registration for the 21st Annual Susan G. Komen Detroit Race for the Cure on May 26, 2012, at Comerica Park in Detroit. Sign up by Jan. 1, 2012 for the early bird price of $25 for adults and $15 for youths, 6-17 and seniors, 65 and older. After Jan. 1, prices jump $10 for adults and $2 for youths and seniors. Race day cost is $50 for adults and $25 for youths. Visit www.karmanos.org/detroitracefortheCure to register.

Water Bottles

Staying hydrated is essential during physical activity. Show your family and friends you support their commitment to fitness and exercise with this personal gift they will bring on every work out.

Add a green twist to the gift by including a handmade certificate promising to accompany the recipient to the 5th Annual Green Street Fair in downtown Plymouth. Be sure to take your water bottles to the fair, which runs May 4-6, 2012.

Homemade granola

Granola can be a healthier alternative than pre-packaged breakfast foods. By making your own granola you can customize your gift to someone's tastes while also ensuring only wholesome ingredients make it into their morning meals.

Here's a recipe from Sun-Maid to get you started:

Granola Fruit Cups

- 1 ½ cups old-fashioned oats
- ¼ cup wheat germ (or oats)
- ¼ cup chopped pecans or walnuts
- ¼ cup chopped almonds
- ¼ cup pumpkin seeds or sunflower seeds
- 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
- ½ cup maple syrup or honey
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1 large egg white

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup Sun-Maid Fruit Bits
Preheat oven to 350 F. Coat a 12-cup muffin tin with cooking spray, or line with muffin papers. (A dark metal non-stick pan produces best results). Spread oats, nuts and seeds on a rimmed baking sheet. Bake for 15-20 minutes or until fragrant and lightly toasted. Reduce oven temperature to 300 F. Combine syrup or honey, butter, egg white and vanilla in a large bowl. Add Fruit Bits and toasted oats mixture; stir well. Spoon 1/3 cup mixture into each muffin cup and pack firmly using the bottom of a flat measuring cup. Bake at 300 F for 35-40 minutes for dark pan, or 40-45 minutes for regular pan, until well browned. Cool completely in pan, preferably several hours. Gently release by running a blunt knife around edges. Store in an airtight container.

Bike tune-up

Are there bikes gathering dust in the garage? Get them working good as new with a professional tune-up and inspire your family to start riding.

Want to try a winter ride? The Ann Arbor Bicycle Touring Society offers daily treks including routes through Kensington Metropark, along Hines Drive, and starting in downtown Plymouth. Visit www.aabts.org for an events calendar and membership information.

Cooking gear

A portable grill top or a steamer for a stove is an easy way to prepare vegetables and meats in a nutritious, delicious fashion.

Fresh Fruit

This holiday season, hold the cake and give sweet, healthy fresh fruit. Order in a store, online or express yourself by purchasing and arranging the fruit on your own.

Jump ropes

Jumping rope is a great workout and is the perfect indoor activity during inclement winter weather. Make your gift extra special with a jump rope technique video.

Sports balls

Soccer balls, kick balls, basketballs and other sports balls are fun ways to cut down on screen time and encourage kids to get active.

Local Produce Membership

Fresh produce is a healthy and delicious addition to any household. Many neighborhoods offer community-supported agriculture programs that are open for membership. Give the gift that keeps your pantry and your family full of seasonal, local vegetables.

The Alliance for a Healthier Generation aims to reduce the prevalence of childhood obesity by 2015, and to empower kids nationwide to make healthy lifestyle choices. For more tips on ways you can cultivate a healthy lifestyle and help reverse the trend of childhood obesity visit: www.HealthierGeneration.org.

Is Your Major Marketable?

Careers for popular college majors
Rachel Farrell,
Special to CareerBuilder

College majors are a funny thing. Some students know exactly what they want to major in before they even start the school year. Others don't declare until a year or so down the road. Some choose one knowing they could potentially earn a lot of money. Others follow in their parents' footsteps. The list goes on.

Our advice has always been to earn a degree in something that will lend itself to a career path that you can be passionate about. It can be uncommon, broad, challenging. As long as you love it, and can find some type of career doing it, go for it.

We took a look at the most popular college degrees, defined here as the number of degrees conferred in any given major.

Business was the most popular degree in 2007-2008, according to the 2010 Digest of Education Statistics from the U.S. Department of Education. Of the 1,601,368 bachelor's degrees awarded by degree-granting institutions, 346,972 were for degree in business, management, marketing and related support services. Here's how other popular degrees broke down:

Social sciences: 133,789
Health professions and related clinical sciences: 120,488
Education: 101,708
Visual and performing arts: 89,140
Engineering and engineering technologies: 84,636

Communication and communication technologies: 83,109
Biological and biomedical sciences: 80,956

If you're thinking about earning your bachelor's degree in any of the above fields, here are some possible careers that line up with market demands:

Business
Career: Market researcher

A bachelor's degree is often adequate for entry-level jobs, but you may need a higher degree for advancement and more technical positions. Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 28 percent from 2008-2018
Career: Human resources analyst

A lot of schools don't offer specific programs for human resources, so many employers look for college graduates with a technical or business background or a well-rounded liberal arts education.

Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 22 percent from 2008-2018.
Biology

Career: Forester
A bachelor's degree in forestry, biology, natural resource management, environmental sciences, or a related field is the minimum educational requirement for a forestry career.
Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 12 percent from 2008-2018.

Career: Zoologist
A bachelor's degree in biology is generally sufficient for a career in zoology.

Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 13 percent from 2008-2018.

Social Science
Career: Social worker
A bachelor's degree in social work is most common to get a job in social work, but majors in psychology, sociology or a related social science may qualify for some entry-level jobs.

Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 16 percent from 2008-2018.
Career: Urban and regional planner Graduates with a bachelor's degree in urban planning qualify for some entry-level positions, but they will most likely need a higher degree to advance.

Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 19 percent from 2008-2018.

Visual and Performing Arts
Career: Graphic designer
An associate or bachelor's degree is needed for entry-level positions in interior design.
Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 19 percent from 2008-2018.

Career: Interior designer
A bachelor's degree in graphic design is often required for most graphic design positions. Bachelor's degree programs in fine arts or graphic design are offered at many colleges, universities and private design schools.

Job prospects: Employment is expected to increase approximately 13 percent from 2008-2018.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

	2			5		6	1
1		6					5
				2	4
5
7			3	9	4
3				1
9				6			8
4					7

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
