Local Republicans choose new leader, 21

Darrell Clem

Moving to regain political momentum after suffering stinging losses in the November election, the Canton Republican Club has chosen a new, 21-year-old leader who hopes to broaden the local GOP's reach. Austin Deljevic, an Eastern Michigan University junior studying political science and pre-law, describes himself as a fiscal conservative who is moderate on social issues. Chosen to chair the local GOP club, he wants to tap into Canton's increasingly diverse population to grow the Republican voter base.

Deljevic

"We are a big-tent party," he said, one that welcomes "a variety of viewpoints."

Deljevic's leadership comes after Canton, bucking state and national trends, swung toward Democrats in November — a trend political observers had anticipated as Canton attracts more residents, such as Asian Americans and African Americans, who lean Democratic.

Democrats now have a 5-2 majority on the Canton Township Board of Trustees, a seismic political shift considering the GOP had a 6-1 advantage prior to Nov. 8. Voters also re-elected state Rep. Kristy Pagan, D-Canton, to a second term.

Darian Moore, a Republican who fell short in his township board campaign, said he has confidence in Deljevic's ability to bring more local voters into the Republican fold.

"He's got a lot of energy and he's very committed to the party and its causes," said Moore, the local GOP club's new vice chair. "He's plugged in, he has a lot of ideas and he is

Ex-teacher's aide gets probation for relations with minor

A former teacher's aide at East Middle School in Plymouth has been placed on probation for two years following allegations she had a relationship with two underage boys.

Bridget Diane Caplin, 41, was sentenced Wednesday in Wayne County Circuit Court after she pleaded no contest to charges of distributing obscene material to children and using a computer to commit a crime.

Caplin

Judge Gregory Bill warned Caplin that she will be jailed for six months if she violates any of the probation terms he imposed, including staying away from school zones, having no contact with children under 17 except her own, undergoing a psychiatric evaluation and being subject to alcohol and drug testing.

Caplin also will be placed on the state's sex offender registry for 15 years.

Caplin, who was fired from her job at East Middle School, was sentenced by Bill after she accepted a plea in November. A no-contest plea is not an admission of guilt, but is treated as such for sentencing purposes.

Caplin's sentencing came after the most serious charge, third-degree criminal sexual conduct involving a person age 13-15, was dismissed by prosecutors after one of the victims refused to testify during an earlier preliminary hearing in 35th District Court in Plymouth. Caplin could have faced up to 15 years in prison if she had been convicted of that charge.

Plymouth Police Lt. Jamie Grabowski has said authorities were surprised by the teen's refusal to testify and the dismissal of the most serious charge.

"We didn't see that charge going away," he has said, "but we can't control what victims do."

The now-dismissed criminal sexual conduct charge, police say, stemmed from Caplin's alleged relationship with one boy, while the charge of dis-

TLC Production's One Acts Festival debuts this weekend.

TLC Productions will host its fourth biennial One Acts Festival, showcasing four original plays and one musical this month. Fifty plays were submitted from across North America and among the finalists are two Michigan playwrights.

The scripts come from two states — Arizona and Washington — as well as Canton's Brion Scheidel and St. Clair Shores' Peter DiSante. New for 2017 is the inclusion of a TLC original one-act musical, "Behind the Curtain." This musical was last staged in 2008.

This fourth festival continues to serve its original mission: to bring new plays to the Canton community and The Village Theater at Cherry Hill. "This festival is now a theatrical tradition at The Village Theater and I am thrilled that TLC Productions organizes such a high-quality production, giving emerging and established playwrights the opportunity to be showcased," said Jennifer Tobin, coordinator of Arts at The Village Theater. "This festival is a must-see for real theater aficionados. Supporting playwrights is critical to the future of the legitimate theater."

The 2017 Festival includes a play by author Kay Phillips, who received the Second Place Audience Choice Award in the 2013 Festival. Brion Scheidel's play, "Saving JFK," was also featured in the 2013 Canton One Acts Festival. Scheidel also wrote "Life 2.0," which was performed in TLC's Stage-Lab24 in 2016.

Established in 2008, TLC Productions is a resident arts group at The Village Theater at Cherry Hill. In 2008, TLC Productions brought you "Behind the Curtain," an original one-act musical. In 2010, "FONTS! A Type of Musical," made its debut at the Village Theater as an original one-act musical. In 2011,

TLC Productions established the biennial Canton One Acts Festival. In that same year, TLC's "In the Dark" was featured in the Fenton One Acts Festival. TLC has begun work on its next one-act musical, "Casting Family." This year marks the 10th anniversary of TLC Productions.

Show dates in the Biltmore Studio are: 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Jan. 13-14, and 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 15. For general admission, tickets are $15. To purchase tickets go to tclproductions.org or call the Village Theater Box Office at 734-394-5300.

The following are the five one-act plays:

» "Jesus feeds the 4,999" by Kay Phillips of Sierra Vista, Ariz. Cast includes: Jesus: Allen Maxson of Canton; Paul: Alexander Trice of Hamtramck; Miriam: Annie Heitmeier of Northville. Directed by Megan Wright of Walled Lake. Jesus has just performed the miracle of the loaves and fishes. Everyone has been fed except for one fussy eater and her self-imposed dietary restrictions and endless allergies. Paul struggles to keep calm as he and Jesus find a work-around.

» "My Beautiful Voyage" by Paul Lewis of Bainbridge Island, Wash. The cast includes: Ticket agent: Mary Rumman of Milan; Amy: Laura Farms of Ferndale. Directed by Tim Majik of Plymouth. Amy hears a voice in a dream entreating her to travel to Ithaca. Would that be Ithaca, Greece, or Ithaca, N.Y.? New York, she concludes. Although she never reaches her destination, her bus journey through the night brings her unexpected riches.

» "Perpendicular Proposals" by Pete DiSante of St. Clair Shores. The cast includes: Andy: Tim Majik of Plymouth; Beth: Laura Farms of Ferndale; Yvonne: Mary Rumman of Milan; Zeke: Alen Fyfe of Ann Arbor. Directed by Alexander Trice of Hamtramck. "Perpendicular Proposals" is a whimsical juxtaposition of couples who are "young and in love" and "old married." Listening in on them at their chance encounter in the same restaurant, we see how priorities and life circumstances change as time marches on.

» "Revenge" by Brion Scheidel of Canton. The cast includes: Andrea: Leanne Young of South Lyon; Mary: Kristin Heitmeier of Northville. Directed by Linda Trygg of Westland. In the final hours before her execution for the murder of her husband, Andrea meets one last time with her friend and lawyer, Mary. This ultimate opportunity for soul-baring yields some reminiscing, some revelations and some shocking plans for revenge.

» "Behind the Curtain" (a musical) by Linda Pohl and Tim Chanko of Canton. The cast includes: Doug: Tim Chanko of Canton; Sam: Nicci Der-Stepanian of Canton; Steve: Cory Chambless of Plymouth. Directed by Betty Berryman of Canton and Linda Pohl of Canton. Musical director and music composer is Tim Chanko of Canton. This lighthearted, one-act musical is about working backstage at a community theater — sometimes the best shows are "behind the curtain."

CITY OF PLYMOUTH

ORDINANCE NO. 2017-01

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHAPTER 78, THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ZONING ORDINANCE IN THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH FOR THE PURPOSE OF REGULATING RESIDENTIAL FLOOR AREA IN RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS

Section 1 Modify Section 78-21

Section 78-21. - Definitions.

Floor area ratio (FAR) means the ratio of the floor area of a building to its lot area. For example: when a floor area ratio of 0.4 is specified, the floor area of the building constructed on a lot of 6,000 square feet in area is limited to a maximum of 2,400 square feet (or 6,000 x 0.4 or 2,400). The purpose of this ratio is to control the bulk of buildings based on the size of the lot. FAR for residential buildings is calculated using "residential floor area," as defined in this ordinance.

Floor area, residential, means the sum of the horizontal areas of each story of the building measured from the exterior faces of the exterior walls or from the centerline of walls separating two dwellings. The floor area measurement shall include any habitable space and attached garage. Examples of architectural features that are included or excluded in the FAR calculation are shown in the following table:

Examples of Architectural Elements Included/Excluded from FAR Calculation

	Architectural Feature	Conditions
Include in FAR:	First Story
	Upper Story	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Connected by a fixed stairway to the first story, and <ol style="list-style-type: none"> With headroom of five (5) feet or more (between top of floor and bottom of rafter), or Which may be made usable for human habitation
	Attached Garages
	Enclosed Porches
	Accessory Structures (except Detached Garages)
	Car Ports
	Porte Cochere
Exclude from FAR:	Basements
	Unfinished Attics	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> With headroom of less than five (5) feet (between top of floor and bottom of rafter), and Which may NOT be made usable for human habitation
	Unenclosed Breezeways
	Unenclosed Porches
	Detached Garages

Section 2 Modify Section 78-190

Section 78-190. - Limiting height, bulk, density and area by zoning district.

The following table indicates the height, bulk, density and area limitations by zoning district.

Zoning District	Minimum Size Lot Per Dwelling Unit		Maximum Height of Structures		Minimum Yard Setback (Per Lot in Feet)				Minimum Floor Area Per Unit (sq. ft.)	Maximum % Lot Area Covered By All Buildings	Maximum Floor Area Ratio

Child pornography, eavesdropping case ends in guilty plea

hometownlife.com

A defendant has pleaded guilty to charges of having child pornographic images on the same cellphone he used to secretly videotape a woman using the bathroom in a Canton workplace.

The plea by 28-year-old Zaron Eugene Holley of Detroit came Friday and averted a trial that was expected to begin Jan. 31 in Wayne County Circuit Judge Margaret Van Houten's courtroom.

Holley's legal troubles began Sept. 26, when police say he placed a cellphone in a workplace bathroom and videotaped a female co-worker who contacted Canton police after she realized she was being recorded. Investigators poring over the phone for evidence then found sexual images of juvenile girls.

Holley could face penalties ranging up to four years in prison when he is sentenced by Houten. Court records didn't indicate his date of sentencing.

In the child porn case,

Holley pleaded guilty to one charge each of having child sexually abusive material and using a computer to commit a crime. In return, authorities agreed to dismiss four similar counts.

In the workplace case, he pleaded guilty to one count of using a computer to commit a crime, but authorities dismissed additional charges of capturing and distributing images of an unclothed person and using a device to eavesdrop.

A Wayne County Jail spokesman said Holley remains jailed with a $25,000 bond as he awaits sentencing.

Canton Detective Sgt. Dan Traylor has said police don't believe Holley actually took the sexual pictures of juvenile girls.

"It appears that the photos are from the Internet," Traylor said.

The case arose at a workplace in the 6000 block of Haggerty Road.

Holley initially was charged in Plymouth 35th District Court on charges involving the co-worker. Prosecutors slapped him with additional charges after police found child porn on his phone.

Four P-CEP student-musicians head to all-state competition

John McKimmy
Correspondent

Musicians at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park have made a big impression this year, with four student-musicians selected to participate Jan. 21 in the Michigan School Band & Orchestra Association's All State Ensembles.

The students who will play at the All State Ensembles at the Michigan Music Conference in Grand Rapids are Sebastian Demetter, Emily Forester, Ian McKimmy and Alex Zajdel. A fifth student, Nate Lewis, was selected as all-state honorable mention.

More than 2,500 student-musicians from across the state tried out for MSBOA All State. In the past, P-CEP has had musicians who made the All State Ensembles, but to have five in one year is unprecedented. What makes this especially impressive is that P-CEP is represented in all three high school ensembles: the All State Full Orchestra, the All State Band and the All State Jazz Ensemble.

The music programs at P-CEP are no strangers to success. The world-class marching band, led by Jon Thomann, director of bands at P-CEP, has won 26 state championships, including its third straight this year. The Winter Drum Line is often a finalist in the WGI World Championships. The Jazz Band, led by Noah Bellamy, plays in festivals around the Midwest. The orchestra program, led by Cathy DePentu, is one of the best in the state.

P-CEP has five concert bands, two orchestras, three jazz bands, a pit orchestra, string and brass ensembles, a marching band, drum line, a number of choirs and other vocal groups, plus much more. Dozens of students from P-CEP participate in the annual MSBOA Solo/Ensemble Festival each year and earn top marks for their abilities.

Here are the 2017 P-CEP all-state musicians:

» McKimmy is a senior at P-CEP. He will play first chair tuba for the All State Full Orchestra. At P-CEP, McKimmy plays in the Wind Ensemble Concert Band and the Full Orchestra. He is a four-year member of the marching band and was low brass captain and tuba section leader. He has been a member of the Student-musicians Nate Lewis and Ian McKimmy.

P-CEP Jazz Band, Winter Drum Line and Brass Orchestra. He performs with the DSO's youth orchestra and a local rock band. He has achieved first division ratings every time he has gone to the MSBOA Solo Ensemble Festival.

» Forester is a senior at P-CEP. She will play third chair flute for the All State Band. At P-CEP, Forester plays flute in the Wind Ensemble Concert Band and the Full Orchestra. She is a four-year member of the marching band and was the flute section leader. Forester was a member of the Plymouth Soundscape Ensemble that performed at the Midwest Music Conference last year. She has achieved first division ratings every time he has gone to the MSBOA Solo Ensemble Festival.

» Demetter is a senior at P-CEP. He will play third chair trombone for the All State Jazz Ensemble and fifth chair trombone in the All State Band. He recently moved from Pittsburgh, where he started playing the trombone in fourth grade. He didn't waste any time taking advantage of the music programs at P-CEP. He is a member of the Wind Ensemble Concert Band and the Full Orchestra. He plays in the P-CEP top Jazz Band and was a member of the marching band.

» Zajdel is a freshman at P-CEP. He will play fourth chair bass in the All State Full Orchestra. At P-CEP, Zajdel plays in the Full Orchestra and is a member of the Michigan Youth Orchestra at the University of Michigan. As a middle school musician, he performed with the Middle School All State Orchestra. He has achieved first division ratings every time he has gone to the MSBOA Solo Ensemble Festival.

» Lewis is a sophomore at P-CEP. He was selected as honorable mention saxophone for both the All State Band and the All State Jazz Ensemble. At P-CEP, Lewis is a member of the Wind Ensemble Concert Band and the top Jazz Band. He is also a member of the marching band.

"It is certainly an honor to be selected," McKimmy said. "There were so many good musicians that tried out. I think it is a testament to the instructors we have. Mr. Thomann, Ms. DePentu, Mr. Bellamy and many others work with hundreds of students each day, pushing us to be the best musicians we can be. Many people don't know this, but during the summer, they will put in 12-hour days working with the marching band. As musicians, we are all very lucky to attend this school and have these teachers."

New owner, old employee continues legacy left by Showroom

Darrell Clem

Diamonds just might be Tammy Haggerty's best friend.

After working 15 years for a Canton jewelry shop that closed its doors Dec. 26, she has reopened the business and made it her own.

The former Showroom of Elegance was shuttered just one week until Haggerty lifted the curtain on Jacob Matthew Jewelers, named after her two sons, ages 21 and 18.

"I've always wanted to own my own jewelry store," she said. "It's exciting for me and I think it's exciting for the community, too."

Selling merchandise ranging from $40 to $20,000, Jacob Matthew Jewelers has opened in the same location, 6018 N. Canton Center, north of Ford Road, where former Showroom of Elegance owner Linda Robin ended a 16-year run and retired.

Canton business officials say the shop has been a local gem and they're glad to see its legacy continue.

"I think it's very relevant and very significant to the community," Canton Chamber of Commerce President Thomas Paden said. "We're very excited about the new business and we're very happy to keep it as a chamber member and active in the business community."

Haggerty had worked for Showroom of Elegance for 15 of its 16 years, the last three as manager. She kept the store's seven employees and added an eighth.

Haggerty and Robin worked out a plan to keep one of Canton's fine jewelry stores open after Robin bowed out to spend more time with family.

"It just felt right," Haggerty said, "and I wanted to keep every one of her employees and keep us active in the community."

She plans to keep the business involved in helping charitable organizations and named the Wounded Warriors Project, which provides programs and services for wounded veterans, as one she intends to support.

Paden said the chamber had strong ties to Showroom of Elegance and is eager to continue the relationship with Jacob Matthew Jewelers.

"Tammy is a wonderful person," he said, "so we're proud to still be partners with that business."

Serving our communities. Together.

Across Michigan, we are committed to serving the greater good of our state. In 2016, we helped contribute over $3 million in cash and services to make food, health care, shelter, youth services and literacy education available to those in need in metro Detroit, Livingston, Lansing, Port Huron and Battle Creek.

More than $2 million came from reader contributions to our charitable initiatives, and from runners in the Detroit Free Press/Talmer Bank Marathon, who raised money for 50 Michigan charities. We contributed nearly $1 million of in-kind services (including advertising space) and cash, with help from our charitable partner, the Gannett Foundation.

Beyond that, our employees worked 1,000 volunteer hours on community service projects.

We couldn't have done it without you.

Together, we helped serve the needs of our great state in many ways. Thank you for your generosity. And we hope you'll join us again in 2017.

PREP BOWLING

Salem wins Baker games, stays red-hot throughout

Rocks boys, girls maintain lead in KLAAs Central Division with victories; both Canton teams prevail against Novi

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com

When bowling teams are cooking during their Baker games, it's a tasty recipe for victories.

And such was the case Monday at Super Bowl in Canton, with Salem's boys and girls teams — already holding down first place in the KLAAs Central Division — both registering a 29-1 victory over Northville during one of three division dual matches.

In other match-ups, Canton swept Novi by a 28-2 score on both sides, while Westland John Glenn's boys team defeated Plymouth, 18-12. The Rockets also prevailed on the girls side, 28-2.

"The Baker game is an important part of the game, it's the first 10 points," ninth-year Salem head coach Kathie Hahn said. "You want to win those.

The girls this year are doing really well in their Baker games. Today, I think their Baker games were higher than the boys."

Actually, Salem's boys tallied 335 in Baker games — just one pin more than the girls did — although both teams won all 10 available points.

According to Mitchell Rusinek, senior and co-captain of

COLLEGE HOCKEY

Andrew Lindsay has had a flipping great time playing hockey at Schoolcraft College the past two seasons. He is leaving the team's active ranks, but will remain as an assistant coach. His ultimate goal is to become a police officer.

HARD TO SAY GOODBYE

Hockey always has come naturally for Andrew Lindsay, beginning as a 3-year-old before going on to stardom with the Trenton High School team.

During the past two seasons, Lindsay has been the catalyst for a successful men's hockey club team at Schoolcraft College — providing vision and leadership on and off the ice as a player and captain.

But something else also is a natural fit for the 21-year-old: serving others.

Because the soon-to-graduate Lindsay is not eligible to play in the second semester, which begins this week, he was able to end his Schoolcraft hockey career with Friday's game at the University of Michigan's storied Yost Arena in Ann Arbor.

It's almost as if Lindsay scripted his farewell, getting the chance to close it out in such a historic venue as Yost. With friends and family

Canton places third at Rockford

Chiefs strong across the board against elite rivals

Tim Smith

The new year already is resembling the past several ones for Canton's varsity gymnastics program and head coach John Cunningham.

Canton traveled Saturday to Rockford for the prestigious Rockford Invitational and placed third out of 16 elite teams with a score of 140.675.

Finishing first with 143.75 points was Farmington, followed by 2016 state champion Rockford (142.75).

If not for what Cunningham described as a "falling disaster" on beam, Canton might have finished a notch or two higher in the tourney.

Cunningham noted that one of his assistant coaches told him that the Chiefs are "in mid-season form and this is the first meet of the year. I was able to look past beam and congratulate the girls on a superior performance and tell them how proud

BOYS BASKETBALL

Canton grinds way to win over Rockets

Chiefs make enough plays on defense, come through with timely buckets

Tim Smith

Canton played its best defensive game of the season Tuesday night, edging Westland John Glenn in a see-saw KLAAs South Division varsity boys basketball game, 55-52.

Junior forward Noah Brown, who led the Chiefs with 11 rebounds, went strong to the basket for a layup with a minute remaining, before sophomore point guard B. Artis White added a pair of free throws for the final margin of victory.

"It felt great. The coach was telling me all game to shoot the ball," Brown said about his game-winning shot. "I finally did and look what happened."

Still, the Rockets — who lost for the first time in six games — had a chance to force overtime, but senior Christian Agnew and sophomore Joe Moon IV both missed on last-second triple tries.

"I think the second-to-last possession, Vinson Sigmon did a great job on Christian Agnew to force him out towards the sideline and they tried to throw it to him still and there wasn't any space there," Canton head coach Jimmy Reddy said, referring to a John Glenn turnover in the final minute. "The last series, we did a pretty good job of contesting the first three. It was a tough shot. We just weren't able to come up with the rebound.

"They were able to get a second one, which is always scary."

the boys team, improving in the Baker games (a format where each bowler takes a turn) continues to be "a work in progress, we're trying to get better at them."

Still, the Salem boys are 5-1 overall and 4-0 in the Central and the girls are 6-0, 4-0.

"I just have really strong bowlers," Hahn said. "They're gifted kids who really take their talent seriously and are working hard."

"My varsity boys, I have four seniors (Mitchell Rusinek, Ryan Gonyea, Shane Rusinek, Alex Mattson). They have the experience and they're doing well. There's a couple seniors on my girls team (Leah Boucha, Olivia Harkins, Morgan Zach)."

Rusinek (175-172—347 Monday) said the team just stays focused on "getting it done. We're undefeated in our division so far. We all bowled pretty well today."

According to Canton senior Dominic Dimaya, he and the rest of the Chiefs (5-1, 2-1) are fully aware of how well the Rocks are bowling. They are looking forward to a head-to-head match-up Jan. 16.

"I'd like to beat them because they beat John Glenn and that's our only loss this year," said Dimaya, who tallied a 158 game Monday.

Dimaya did note that the Chiefs took both Baker games against Novi and "I like Baker games because it's more of a team. In singles, you're kind of relying on yourself."

John Glenn boys coach Ron Staples, whose team improved to 4-1, 2-1 with Monday's win over Plymouth, stressed that the Rockets are showing resiliency despite being shorthanded due to illnesses.

"We were down against Plymouth, switched the order," Staples said. "We threw some strikes and made some key spares, put the pressure on them."

"I think the second game we took four out of five."

Staples highlighted the efforts turned in by Tyler Brown (186-222—408), freshman Kenny Raynes (257 in the second game) and Matt Essa (185).

"It came down to the second game in match play and we won four (and) totals," he said. "Good victory for us. They got us last year. Our side of the bracket is tough."

John Glenn girls coach Tom Oddi also pointed to strong Baker games, with 203 and 187, good for 10 points.

"We're working on trying to stay focused all the way through," Oddi said. "The girls really went out and went after their points and did a good job."

Alyssa Kolb "was on all day" with a 221-187—408 scoreline for the Rockets (3-2, 1-2).

I was of them."

The Chiefs did finish first on uneven parallel bars and vault.

On bars, the Chiefs totaled a 35.675 score — the best in three years.

Victoria Faber registered 9.55 to take the top spot. Other teammates who had solid showings in the event included Zoe Graves (fourth, 8.775) and Katie Dickson (fifth, 8.75).

Kelsea Kernosek was victorious on Division 1 vault with a 9.35 score, followed by Faber (fourth in D1, 9.2) and Katherine Najduk (seventh, with a personal best 9.05). In 10th, with an 8.9 score in D2, was Rachel Socha.

Floor exercise had just one Canton performer reach nines, with Kernosek third (9.1). Not far behind were Socha (seventh in D1, 8.95) and Dickson (fifth in D1, 8.85).

Beam was the one area of concern for Cunningham, but even so, Socha placed fifth in D2 with 8.725, while Faber chipped in 8.525 in D1, good for fifth.

In Division 1 all-around scoring, the Chiefs collected three of the top five places. In second was Faber (35.95), followed by Dickson (fourth, 34.7) and Kernosek (fifth, 33.675).

According to Cunningham, the rest of the year looks bright too, what with the Canton 'B' team placing 10th with a 128.15 score.

On vault, top performers were Nehal Harish (8.6), Bree Kalinsky (8.6), Payton Cheslick (8.55), Alaina Smith (8.45) and Jaymi Giardin (8.3).

USA HOCKEY

NTDP toasts World Junior champions

Former players help Team USA to victory

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com

Hockey coaches never feel too good following lopsided losses.

But Danton Cole, head coach of the U.S. National Team Development Program's Under-17 team, at least managed to smile Friday following an 8-3 United States Hockey League loss to the Chicago Steel at USA Hockey Arena.

The reason was crystal clear. Cole and everybody else with the Plymouth-based NTDP are over the moon following the gold medal secured Jan. 5 by Team USA at the 2017 International Ice Hockey Federation World Junior Championship at the Bell Centre in Montreal.

Nine players that Cole coached with the NTDP U18 squad in 2015-16 made their mark at World Juniors, including Kieffer Bellows, Clayton Keller, Charlie McAvoy, Jordan Greenway and Adam Fox. Following the 5-4 shootout win, all of those players and more exchanged texts with Cole.

"That's one of our big charges here," Cole said. "There's successes we want to have while the guys are here, NTDP U17s head coach Danton Cole, shown from earlier this season, proudly watched a number of his former players help win a gold medal for Team USA at World Juniors.

RENA LAVERTY | USA HOCKEY

but a lot of it is it's a national team development program. U20 is the next thing after they leave here and then there's the Men's World Championships and then there's the Olympics, getting guys ready for that.

"You know what, we spend a lot of time with those guys and then they leave and they go and do great things. It's fun to watch them and see them succeed. It makes you feel good about all the work people do here to put them in that position.

"We're proud of what they've done and we had a lot of guys who came through here. It's a big win for USA Hockey as a whole."

He added that it was nice to have contributed in some way to the greater good.

"You do feel like a dad when your kids go off to do really good stuff and you are proud of them," Cole said. "Because you know how hard they've worked and you know what they've put into it, it's nice to see them get there."

Cole said his current players duly noted what was going on in Canada.

"We talked about it every day," Cole said. "Whatever game it was ... we always put it in that context, of what to learn and how you play against different countries, because every country comes at you a little bit different."

The team already had first-hand experience in international tournaments, having captured December's Five Nations Tournament held in Monthey, Switzerland.

"Stopping a goal sometimes is just as valuable as scoring a goal," Cole said, explaining the nuts and bolts of being in the medal hunt at such tournaments. "Having that mentality, that everything counts and we're not going to take a shift off, is a good mentality to get to. Teams that have success are able to do that."

Meanwhile, things got a little better on the home front Saturday night. The U17 squad, which until Friday had played only one home game since Oct. 21, bounced back with a 1-0 victory over Youngstown.

Scoring the winning goal late in the third period was Jake Pivonka. Making 31 stops for the shutout was Erik Gordon.

GIRLS HOCKEY

Ladywood enjoying banner season with 7-0 beginning

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

In his two different stints as Livonia Ladywood hockey coach, Ron Predmesky said he's never had a team this good or this fast.

And the senior-dominated Blazers are living up to their billing so far this season with a 7-0 overall record, including a 6-0 mark as the only undefeated team still standing in the 14-team Michigan High School Girls Hockey League.

Ladywood's latest victory came Saturday night on home ice at the Plymouth Cultural Center, a 3-0 shutout of previously unbeaten Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook (6-5, 4-1).

It was a dominating performance, to say the least, as Ladywood outshot the Cranes, 45-8. Only goalie Maggie McMurray (42 saves) kept it close for Cranbrook.

"Our wheels carry us," said Predmesky, who began coaching the Blazers in 1997 before taking a brief hiatus. "We seem to have picked up a lot of speed this year. We're skating well as a team and most of the teams, come by the third period, they're out of gas. And that's what we did (Saturday) night. It was 1-0 going into the third and we scored two in the last."

Senior Cecilia Werner had a goal and assist, while seniors Devon Kelly and Katie Hayward both contributed a goal.

Junior Brooke Spiegel collected two assists, while senior Claire Doyle, junior Sydney Pilut, senior Sydney Malek and sophomore Victoria Pilut contributed one assist apiece.

Senior Samantha Erickson, the team's No. 1 goaltender, went all the way in net, making just eight saves as the Blazers posted their second shutout of the year.

Team defense has been a key for Ladywood this season. The Blazers have allowed just nine goals in seven games, with Ericson and sophomore backup Isabella Lorelli combining for a .950 save percentage.

"I think there is a real commitment as a whole team," senior defenseman and captain Colleen Lynch said. "Everyone does their part and everyone trusts each other. Even if one person makes a mistake, we all got each other's backs."

Ladywood, meanwhile, has also put together a potent offense with 49 goals in seven games. Predmesky rolls as many as three forward lines, with Hayward, Spiegel and Werner leading the way.

During last month's Grosse Pointe Woods University-Liggett Invitational, Hayward cracked the 100-goal barrier and has now hit 106 for her career.

"We have really good team unity," Predmesky said. "They all get along, they watch out for each other, both on the ice and off the ice."

Last season, the Blazers reached the semifinals of the Michigan Metro playoffs, but want to take it one step further.

"I think this year we're really staying focused," Lynch said. "We have a goal to reach at the end of the year and we've got to work every game like we want to play at our best. We want to work together and play as a team and work hard."

The Blazers continue their unbeaten quest Thursday at Grosse Pointe North before taking on Ann Arbor Skyron at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The busy week concludes at 2 p.m. Sunday against host Walled Lake at Suburban Ice-Farmington Hills.

Ladywood will then play three games in three days Jan. 20-22 in Traverse City.

"It's been a lot of fun this year, especially because we've been doing so well and everybody is in a good mood and everybody enjoys being around each other," Lynch said.

PREP WRESTLING

Shamrocks take first in own invitational

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com

In 13 of the last 16 years, the winner of the Novi Detroit Catholic Central Wrestling Invitational has gone on to win the MHSAA Division 1 state championship.

Buoyed by four individual champions Saturday, the host Shamrocks signaled that they'll be the odds-on favorite win take the title Feb. 25 in Mount Pleasant after scoring 241.5 points to capture the team title, while Davison was a distant second with 163.

"Our guys competed extremely hard today and it showed in our performance," CC coach Mitch Hancock said. "With the competition and teams at this invite, winning this tournament is a big deal. We focused this week on finishing — finishing a take-down, match and tournament. We weren't very happy with the way we finished in Medina (Ohio), so I'm proud of the way our guys responded."

Rounding out the top 10 were Warren Woods Tower (146.5), Macomb Dakota and Westland John Glenn (133.5 each); St. Johns (117), Hudson (97), Bay City Western (94), Oxford (90) and Grandville (88).

The Shamrocks separated themselves from the 21-team field by winning six of seven matches in the semifinals.

Four CC grapplers went on to win individual crowns, including Kevon Davenport (135 pounds), who raised his record to 23-0 with a 12-1 major decision over John Glenn's Anthony Gibson; Cameron Amine (145), a 7-1 decision over John Glenn's John Siemasz; Tyler Morland (171), a 12-2 major decision over Marysville's Nino Bastianelli; and Nick Jenkins (285), who won 3-2 in overtime against Allegan's Chase Beard.

Amine (22-2 overall), Morland (13-0), Jenkins (22-1) and Davenport are all defending Division 1 individual state champions.

Also reaching the finals were CC's Devon Johnsen (103) and Rhett Newton (112).

Johnsen avenged a dual meet loss Jan. 4 to Dakota's Nick Alayan before losing to Woods Tower's David Stephanian, 5-0, in the final. Newton upended top seed Tucker Sholl, the defending Division 4 state champion from Hudson, in the semifinals, 2-0.

"I'm super proud of the way Johnsen and Newton competed," Hancock said. "They beat some extremely talented wrestlers to make the finals. I thought they competed hard in the finals as well. I don't think our four champs surprised anyone. They are expected to perform the way they did. They were aggressive, smart and tough."

Meanwhile, CC's defending state champion Ben Kamali (119) placed third, defeating John Glenn's Mikey Mars in the consolation final, 4-3, after losing in the semifinals to eventual champion Jordan Hamdan of Hudson by major decision, 10-1.

Placing fifth for the Shamrocks were Stone Moscovic (125), Joe Urso (140), Adian Wagh (152), Brendin Yatooma (160) and Easton Turner (189).

CC's sixth-place finishers included Dan Rehfeldt (103), Derek Gilcher (119) and Conor Curnutte (215).

Dual meet win

On Jan. 4, the top-ranked Shamrocks captured nine of the 14 matches to best host Macomb County champion Dakota in a non-league dual, 43-23, as Kamali (125), Amine (145), Morland (189), Jackson Ross (215) and Jenkins (285) all scored pins.

Davenport (135) also won by major decision, 16-8, while Stone Moscovic (130) won by a 9-4 decision against the No. 5 Cougars.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
