Uber Eats expands food delivery in metro Detroit

Darrell Clem

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Uber Eats is expanding its food delivery service in suburban Detroit, giving consumers access to restaurant cuisine without leaving home.

After debuting in Detroit last November, the nation's fastest-growing meal delivery service has spread to Livonia, Westland, Farmington, Birmingham and Rochester Hills, among other suburbs.

Basement Burger Bar owner Dave Azar said his locations in Farmington and Detroit have joined Uber Eats, but the service isn't yet available for his third eatery in Canton.

"It's more marketing for our products and an easier way to have a delivery system," he said. "Detroit's been cranking for some time and we're just getting started in Farmington."

Uber Eats now delivers from restaurants in Westland, including Ashley's Beer and Grill, Los Amigos, Anna's House, McDonald's and Olga's Kitchen. Mayor William Wild said it gives the Westland Shop and Dine District another way to market its food and provide easy access for consumers.

"Uber Eats will help stimulate our local economy by increasing that access and by creating jobs in the area," Wild said.

To use the service, consumers can download the free Uber Eats app on smart phones, pore over menus and order from restaurants such as Black Label Tavern and Sonic Drive-In in Livonia, Los Amigos in Westland and Smashburger in Rochester Hills. Customers also can go to www.ubereats.com.

An Uber driver picks up the food order and delivers it. And the app allows customers to track the driver's delivery status and route. Consumers pay the price of the food and a delivery fee that has typically been several dollars.

Bring your beer mug for a trek along this ale trail

Brewers call it the "ale trail."

The 32-mile stretch of craft breweries roughly follows Grand River Avenue and Interstate 96, between Farmington and Howell.

It makes the perfect summer self-tour for beer lovers.

Start at Farmington Brewing Co. and work your way west to Aberrant Ales in downtown Howell.

Hometownlife.com caught up with three of the dozen breweries along the route to find out what's new this summer.

Froot Loops meet hops

Think Spool Toorf the next time you want breakfast with your beer.

Ascension Brewing Co. in Novi makes a Froot Loops- and marshmallow-based double IPA that takes its name from the cereal brand, spelled backward.

"There's 100 pounds of Froot Loops in that beer," said Aaron Czap, Ascension owner. "We've done the beer a couple of times in the past and it was our most popular IPA. It sold out in three hours the first time we released it."

That's the response they were expecting Saturday, when Ascension debuted its canned beer. Both Spool Toorf and an Irish red called Phoenix will be released in cans that will be available only at the brewery.

"The canning line was nearly a $100,000 investment on our part to be able to offer our product to the general public in away that is more shelf stable and a higher degree of quality control than we've gotten in the past," Czap

Construction comes to Warren Road in Canton

Ed Wright
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Canton Township's much-traveled stretch of Warren Road, between Beck and Canton Center roads, started receiving a fresh coat of asphalt Monday, according to the Wayne County Department of Public Works.

The 1.12-mile resurfacing project, which will include asphalt cold milling and resurfacing, widening, storm sewer, concrete pavement repairs and sidewalk ramps, is expected to be completed some time in November.

Although lane closures should be expected, two-way traffic will be maintained, according to Wayne County spokeswoman Whitney Lewis, who encourages motorists to use caution while driving through the work zones.

There will be no weekend closures for the project, Lewis added.

For more information, contact the county's 24-hour customer service center at 888-ROAD-CREW or go to waynecounty.com.

Contact Ed Wright at edwright@hometownlife.com or 517-375-1113.

Tipping is optional.

Customers will know their final price tag before completing their order.

Mark Taormina, Livonia director of planning and economic development, said Uber Eats gives consumers another option and provides a service for restaurants that didn't previously have delivery.

Uber Eats is expanding into suburban Detroit communities. UBER EATS

"It's a pretty neat concept," he said. "To the extent that it drives additional sales to restaurants, absolutely it would have an economic benefit."

Uber Eats only delivers from restaurants that join its delivery service and, therefore, customers can't order from just any eatery. But the list of participating eateries is growing, as is the number of communities served by the company.

A cursory review of Uber Eats didn't immediately find participating restaurants in communities such as Canton, Plymouth, Northville, Novi and South Lyon — but stay tuned.

In response to a question on Twitter, Uber Eats replied, "We're expanding quickly so stay tuned if your city isn't there." The company urged residents to download the Uber Eats app from the Apple or Google Play store.

Meal deliveries aren't locked into the city where the restaurant is located. That is, a resident of south Livonia could place an order from the McDonald's on Joy

Road on Westland's north side.

According to Uber Eats, the allowable distance for deliveries is dependent on the availability of drivers, the customer's location and where the restaurant is located. Similar factors play into how long it takes to receive an order.

Uber Eats partners with restaurants in hundreds of cities in 13 countries around the world, delivering a wide range of cuisine.

Charles House, Westland's economic development director, said the convenience of Uber Eats for residents and businesses "is another step forward for the city." He said it also brings job opportunities for Uber drivers.

"Not only is Uber Eats providing an easy way to get food from your favorite restaurants," he said, "it is also creating jobs."

Canton 5-year-old stable after being struck by SUV

Matt Jachman

hometownlife.com

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

A 5-year-old Canton Township boy was in stable condition at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor after being struck by a sport-utility vehicle Saturday in southwest Canton.

The accident occurred about 1 p.m. on Mott Road, in the Wagon Wheel Mobile Home Park, police said. The child apparently ran into the road and into the path of a Ford Escape driven by a 28-year-old township woman, police said.

Although the accident remained under investigation Monday morning, "We believe at this time that the child ran out into traffic," said Chad Baugh, deputy police department director. There were no other witnesses, other than the driver, to the incident, he said.

The driver stopped at the scene and is cooperating with police, Baugh said.

Neither speed nor alcohol appeared to have been factors in the accident, police said.

Thousands crowd Plymouth streets for art fair

For more than 30 years, Plymouth's Art in the Park has been a destination for art lovers.

Last weekend was no different, as the annual fair drew thousands of visitors to downtown streets.

The three-day event brought more than 400 artists from all over the country to display their work to nearly 300,000 attendees. This art, music and food extravaganza was voted one of the "Gems of the Great Lakes" by AAA Magazine and consistently ranks nationally as one of the top art fairs in the country by several national art publications.

Artists displayed thousands of pieces of original artwork, including paintings, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, fiber, fine glass, woodwork, mixed media, photography and folk art.

Livonia native wins Emmy for magazine show

David Veselenak
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

It took Chris Ogozaly until he went to college to discover his love of broadcasting.

After last month, that passion for the industry paid off as the Livonia native took home an Emmy statue for his work on a show highlighting the people and places of Michigan.

Ogozaly, an executive producer for the show "Destination Michigan" on WCMU-TV, was part of a team responsible for the magazine show, which highlights places and people across Michigan such as Comerica Park in Detroit, the Alden P. Dow home in Midland and the Highland Festival in Alma. It won a regional Emmy last month during the ceremony held in Detroit.

"It's such an honor to be nominated, I think the quality of production that comes out of the folks in this state is really exceptional," said Ogozaly, a 1997 Detroit Catholic Central High School graduate. "To win it is just icing on the cake."

Ogozaly headed to Central Michigan University after graduating from Catholic Central, then located in Redford, in 1997. There, he said he struggled to find what he wanted to major in. He later decided on broadcasting and has spent the last 15 years working for the public broadcasting channel in Mount Pleasant, including working on all nine seasons of "Destination Michigan."

The show received its first Emmy, beating shows such as "Pure Brews America," "Great Lakes Great Tastes" and four others.

Ogozaly will typically work on editing and capturing footage for the show, an assignment that's sent him to places such as the top of the Mackinac Bridge and flying over Lake Michigan in a seaplane.

"I think the thing about 'Destination' is we're out visiting the people across the state," he said. "And you're always meeting new people who have really interesting stories to tell."

One of his favorite segments he was involved in was shooting on the field at Comerica Park. Visits to Tiger Stadium were a mainstay during his childhood in Livonia and stepping onto the field was a dream come true for him.

"I would always bug my dad to go down to Tiger Stadium," he said. "Being able to shoot on the field a little bit, that was really fun."

"Destination Michigan" does not air on Detroit Public TV and is not accessible through an antenna after the WCMZ-TV signal was turned off earlier this year. Episodes can be viewed online by going to pbs.org/show/destination-michigan.

While the show has gone to plenty of places in southeast Michigan, such as Detroit, Auburn Hills and Commerce Township, it hasn't made a stop in Ogozaly's hometown. Perhaps that will change in the coming years.

"Maybe that's going to have to be the goal for next season," he said.

Decision on future of Ladywood property delayed

David Veselenak
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

A decision on what the future holds for the former Ladywood High School property will come at a later-than-expected date.

Felician Services, the business arm of the Felician Sisters, had originally said in packets for those interested in utilizing the property the former high school sits on at 14680 Newburgh in Livonia a decision would be made by July 1. But now, that page that housed that information now simply says a decision would be delayed.

"Regarding the Livonia property:

though we had hoped to have a decision regarding the property transfer by July 1, the due diligence process on the next phase is still in process," reads the statement on the website. "As soon as the decision is made and finalized, we will post that information here."

A message was left via phone with Felician Services seeking more information on when an announcement for the future of the property would take place.

The high school closed earlier this spring, holding its final graduation ceremony in May. The Felician Sisters, who ran the school since its inception in 1950 in Livonia, cited declining enrollment as the reason behind its closure when it was announced in December.

Even though a decision has not yet been made on what will happen with the property, at least one applicant has publicly said its proposal had been turned down. A parent/alumnae group organized earlier this winter calling itself Project Blazer had said it turned in a proposal earlier this spring to keep a Catholic high school at the site, though said late last month its proposal had been turned down by Felician Services.

How to protect yourself against phone scammers

Money Matters
 Rick Bloom
 USA TODAY NETWORK —
 MICHIGAN

The other day, I received a call on my cell-phone from a number I did not recognize. My general rule is, unless I know who's calling, I don't answer the call and always let it go to voice mail. In today's world, even if you're on the "do not call list," you still get unsolicited calls trying to sell you one thing or the other.

When I played back

the voice mail, it was one of those computer-generated voices that basically said unless I contact this number, I was going to be arrested. It was obvious to me this was nothing more than a scam, so I erased the message and didn't give it any further thought. What was interesting is, the next day, two other people in my office received the exact same call from the scammers.

Phone scams have been around a long time and, unfortunately, there's very little that the government can do. Many of these scammers are not even located in the U.S. There are things you do to protect yourself. One of those things is to not give the scammer an opening by calling them back. My initial instinct was to contact the scammer and to sort of play with them, but I know better. These scam artists are good at what they do and there is no reason whatsoever to contact them. If you receive a call like I did, just ignore it.

One of the more popular phone scams is from a scam artist who contacts you claiming that they are from the IRS. Typically, these calls are one of two kinds. The first is they claim you owe money and then they demand immediate payment. Another type is from those claiming you're entitled to a refund and they need certain information to process your refund.

These con artists sound very convincing and they can even alter the caller ID to make it look like the IRS is calling. We have to be smarter than the scam artists and one way to do that is to recognize that there are certain things the IRS will not do, but the scam artist will do. If you receive a call from someone claiming to be the IRS demanding immediate payment and you have not been previously contacted by the IRS through the mail, you know the call is bogus. You also know you're dealing with a scam artist if the person on the phone demands you make payment using a specific payment method such as a prepaid debit card. In addition, if the person on the phone is threatening to bring in the local police or other law enforcement groups to have you arrested for not paying your taxes, you know the call is bogus.

It is important we recognize we are the last line of defense to protect ourselves from being scammed. When we receive calls threatening arrest or claiming we owe money, the red flag should immediately go up. To protect yourself, never give out personal financial information such as Social Security numbers or credit card and bank account numbers, as well as passwords, to anyone.

According to reports, during the month of June, there were more than 4 billion robocalls made throughout the U.S. This number is growing because technology makes these calls very inexpensive for the scam artists. To protect yourself, if someone contacts you and is demanding money, your answer is no. Don't give in to their pressure. Don't give your credit card number, bank account, Social Security or other personal information to an unknown caller. The government doesn't have the resources to protect us. We have to protect ourselves.

Good luck!

Czap plans to release canned beer twice a month and says his future goal is a minimum five weekly can releases.

"The stuff we'll be putting in the canning line most often will be a specialty product, fun flavors," he said.

As Czap and his team experiment with new flavors, the question they most often ask themselves is, "Can I put that in beer?"

"We're kind of open to anything," Czap said.

Chef Haley Menard brings the same sense of innovation to her food that Czap and crew bring to their beer. It's lager time Drafting Table Brewing Co. has earned its place on the ale trail with a healthy assortment of IPAs, wheat ales, stouts and porters on tap. It even has a "feel good tap," that gives a percentage of profits to a charity of the month.

The Wixom brewery also produces lager.

"We have two lagers out right now," said Kristin Rzeznik, owner with her husband and Drafting Table's main brewer, Aaron Rzeznik. "It's tricky for small breweries to do lagers. It takes time and tank space. We pride ourselves on our lager."

Lagers ferment more slowly and at lower temperatures than ales.

"A lot of people around us try to do them," she said. "It's difficult in the amount of time it takes (to ferment)."

Wixom's Finest, an American lager brewed with corn that has hints of pear, is among its most popular. There's also Professional Pils, a "crisp German-style pilsner" with herbal and floral flavors.

Another four or five lagers were released Sunday, in time for the brewery's second annual Lagerfest.

The festival included face painting, a bounce house, bungee run, dunk tank, yard games and live music. Barlow's Gourmet Sauces and Authentic BBQ & Catering sold burgers, brats and nachos, while Kona Ice and Naughty Boy's Rolled Ice Cream will supplied treats. A $3 donation at the gate went toward a

"It's really the celebration of summer, of lager beer and flights of beer and getting friends and families and neighbors together," Rzeznik said.

Check out the brewery's website for other weekly staples, such as Tuesday bike night and trivia each Thursday.

Award winners

According to its slogan, Third Monk Brewing Co. makes "insanely great beer." The South Lyon brewery produces award winners, too.

Less than a year after opening Third Monk in June 2015, owner Jeff Robinson won a bronze medal for Lyon Pride Strong Bitter at the World Expo of Beer competition, held each April in Frankenmuth. He's been winning every year ever since.

"That was cool," Robinson said, reflecting on his first medal. "We ended up taking silver last year in the same category. This year, I tweaked the recipe to bring it more into the American amber category and took silver."

"I was trying to get something a little different out of the beer. The primary grain build was more or less the same, but I did tweak it so I was able to put it in a different category and I actually did medal with it."

His Goldhaven Stout took a silver medal in the dark British category and he struck gold with his Bellingham Saison in the strong Belgian category at the 2017 competition.

This year, in addition to a silver for Lyon's Pride, The Wellington, a bitter British-style brew, and Bellingham, a Belgian style, both earned a gold medal.

The World Expo of Beer is a two-part event, with judging in April and tastings open to the public in May. The 2018 competition drew 832 entries in 41 categories. Robinson entered 23 categories his year.

To compete successfully, brewers must understand established styles of beer and their characteristics.

"Our Wellington British golden ale took gold this year and it's the first time I made the beer," Robinson said. "I knew it was a good beer. I knew it could compete in that category. I was flattered and thankful, but it was designed with intent. So I'm glad my interpretation of all the qualities it should have were accurate."

Robinson said his customers ask for his winning brews for months after the medals have been handed out.

"You compete on a global level," he said. "To say we made beer as good as these other breweries is very important."

Wheelchair players driven to compete

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Disabilities be damned. As long as they have sticks, a puck and fully charged wheelchairs, life is pretty good whenever Livonia resident Dean Olivas and others on the Michigan Mustangs can play PowerHockey.

They fly around on motorized wheelchairs, zooming all over the blue pad in search of the bouncing, plastic puck.

Instead of bodies crashing against the boards, it's a different kind of "dodge 'em" featured by the host Mustangs and four other U.S. and Canadian teams this week during the 2018 North American PowerHockey Cup Tournament at USA Hockey Arena in Plymouth.

"Ultimately, we don't look at it as we're individuals with disabilities playing hockey," goaltender and captain Olivas said following a 5-2 loss to the Toronto Rock in the Mitchel Kieffer Memorial Rink. "We're out here playing hockey. And that's the mindset that everybody has.

"When you're here, these are your friends, this is your family and we're playing the sport that we love. It's not a matter of 'Oh, I'm in a wheelchair, I can do this, I can't do that.' It's a matter of we're playing hockey and it's win. That's all there is to it."

They really want it

Olivas noted that their physical tools might be limited, but their drive and mindset to play competitive, successful hockey is never wanting.

"When we're out there, we all know the name of the game, we know how to play it, we know strategy and tactics," he said. "It's wheelchairs instead of skates, that's all the difference is."

The Mustangs — a travel club in the Wheelchair Hockey League — won their first two games of the tournament Tues-

Wayne Memorial grad Horton is runner-up for Florida State

Brad Emons

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

When it comes to her volleyball career at Florida State, Katie Horton will leave an imprint like no other.

It's almost Deion Sanders-like — "Prime Time," to put it mildly.

After transferring from Ohio University, the 6-foot-1 outside hitter from Wayne Memorial High had an illustrious three-year indoor career with the Seminoles as she became the first Florida

Horton

State player to have 1,000 kills and 1,000 digs in her career while earning first team all-ACC honors as a senior in 2016.

After playing indoor in each of her three fall seasons, Horton transitioned to the sand, where she gradually became one of FSU's all-time standouts.

Her career culminated in May, when she helped the Seminoles win the 2018 Coastal Collegiate Sports Association title and earn a runner-up finish to UCLA in the NCAA Women's Beach Championships, held May 4-6 in Gulf Shores, Ala.

Only a week later, in Hermosa Beach, Calif., Horton and her playing partner Hailey Luke (Alamonte Springs, Fla.) reached the finals of the USA Volleyball Collegiate Beach Championship before falling to LSU's Claire Coppola and Kiersten Nuss in a three-set final, 21-9, 17-21, 15-8.

Housey takes over Novi High School program

hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

A new course has been charted for the Novi High boys basketball program with the hiring of Chris Housey as its new varsity coach.

The 36-year-old Housey spent the previous two seasons as the varsity coach at Grosse Pointe Woods University-Liggett.

He replaces Brandon Sinawi, who guided the Wildcats during the past four seasons before taking the varsity job in late May at nearby Novi Detroit Catholic Central High School.

Sinawi, a physical education teacher at Novi Middle School, finished 61-35 overall while leading the Wildcats to three consecutive Class A district titles, including a regional title and 17-9 record last season during a run all the way to the state semifinals.

Novi athletic director Brian Gordon said there were a total 24 applicants for the job. Housey was among the four finalists interviewed, all of whom had previous varsity head coaching experience.

"We're very happy that we waited and got the right person," Gordon said. "Chris comes highly recommended from administrators and head coaches in the area as well. A lot of good people had a lot of good things to say about him."

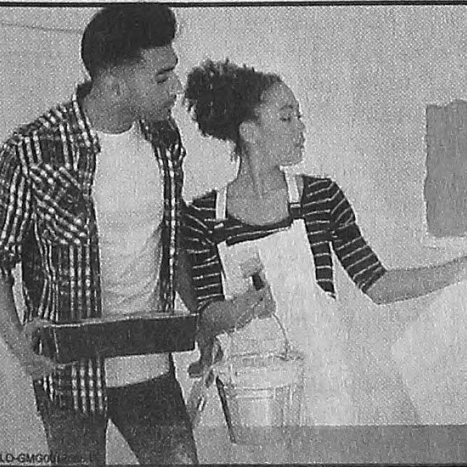

Housey is a 1999 graduate of Harper Woods Notre Dame. After graduating from Wayne State, he spent nine seasons as a JV and assistant coach under Greg Elser at Warren De La Salle, where he also taught English.

"Obviously, I had the fortune of being around a very successful program at De La Salle and learning from coach Elser and his assistants," Housey said. "I'm excited to get going. And going

hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Some of the best lacrosse talent in the nation has been on display this week in Frederica, Del., for the 2018 Maverik National Lacrosse Classic.

Managed by LEGACY Global Sports, the Classic will be staged at DE Turf complex.

Among area boys selected to play for Team Michigan is Plymouth High junior attack Harrison Albano, member of the class of 2020, who scored 24 goals in 13 games last spring for the Wildcats.

Another area boys player is Novi attacker Luka Saicic (2019).

Among the Team Michigan girls players are Elizabeth Bartels, attack, Farmington Hills Mercy (2019); Jillian Koviak, midfield-attack, Plymouth (2019); Isabella Murphy-Morrow, midfield, Salem (2019); and Madalyn Champagne, midfield, Livonia Stevenson (2020).

Also invited to play for Team West is class of 2022 goalie Maeve Burke (South Lyon/Wixom St. Catherine).

Area players who will be members of the Mid-West girls team in the class of 2022 include Northville's Elizabeth Czerniak, attack-midfield; Northville's Genevieve Heath-Sheppard, attack; Northville's Isabella Heath-Sheppard, midfield; and New Hudson's Madison Hogue, defender (South Lyon Unified).

Horton

Banner year

"Looking back at it now, it was a great season," Horton said. "We didn't finish how we wanted to, we got second, so that was a little tough during the moment of it. But just looking back, I don't think people thought we could make it that far in the tournament, to get second. Being to just do that with Hailey — my roommate, one of my best friends — it was just a great experience, a great way to end my college career."

Horton and Luke reached the final by upsetting the top-seeded duo of Tory Paranagua and Vanessa Freire, their Florida State teammates, in the semifinals.

Horton and Luke finished the year 38-5 overall, while being named to the NCAA all-tournament team at the No. 2 position. They were the CCSA Tournament MVPs as FSU captured the team title and both earned all-conference honors.

Needless to say, there was a great chemistry between the two red-shirt seniors.

"We played indoor together, we lived together, so we just know each other and the way we are," Horton said of Luke. "If we're having a rough game, we knew how to pick each other up ... we just know each other so well."

First encounter

During her high school years, while playing for the Premier Volleyball Club in Maumee, Ohio, Horton had dabbled in beach volleyball.

"I played for it a little bit, but that was just, like, an indoor player trying to play beach," Horton said. "So when I got here, I really learned that indoor and beach are two separate sports, just with how you play it, the learning from it and everything. Beach, you only have two players, so you have to do everything. Indoor, I was an outside (hitter), so I just had to pass and I had to hit. In beach, I still have to pass and hit, I actually have to set, communicate more with my partner."

After leading Wayne Memorial to a pair of Class A district titles and helping Premier to back-to-back finishes in AAU nationals while earning All-America honors, Horton went on to enjoy a productive freshman season at Ohio University, where she ranked second in kills (312) while helping the Bobcats to a 27-6 record and their 10th Mid-American Conference title in 11 years.

On the move

"When I was looking to transfer, I was just looking into schools where they had both," Horton said. "When Florida State got ahold of me, it was an easy choice, because they're so high in both indoor and beach level."

Florida State beach head coach Brooke Niles said that Horton, who finished 75-17 overall during her beach career, was able to make the transition through hard work.

"It's really, really hard what Katie did, because normally we have players that will red-shirt for a year in beach and try and play beach and indoor," Niles said, "It's a lot different and a lot of people quit or don't find success. But Katie was able to stick with it as well as one of her best friends on the team, Hailey Luke. She turned out to be one of our most consistent players this year and helped us get to that national championship game."

Katie Horton (left) and playing partner Hailey Luke finished with a 38-5 record and were the USA Volleyball Collegiate Beach Championship runners-up. FLORIDA STATE ATHLETICS

"My goal when I retire playing is coach college, so I figure working some camps, helping out with the clubs around here to get a better understanding of coaching aspect of the sport now."

Katie Horton
Florida State University volleyball player

As a fifth-year senior, Horton was able to concentrate on beach volleyball full time starting during the winter semester of 2017.

Joy to coach

"She is just a tenacious competitor," Niles said. "Obviously, she has some physical gifts. She's about 6-1 and jumps and hits at a high point of contact. But she's a really quick learner and her competitiveness kind of pulls her through a lot of situations."

In her four seasons with FSU's beach program, Horton brought many intangibles to the table.

"Off the court, she's really light-hearted, kind of a jokester," Niles said. "She's just really fun to be around. They called her and Hailey 'the grandmas' of our team, but that's not how she acted off the court. She put a lot of energy into things. She was really helpful in terms of training the freshmen to fall into the system at Florida State. She's definitely a leader and was an unofficial team captain on our team. But she's a great kid. She gets the job done. She's the type of player I'd want on my team a thousand times over."

Horton, who made the all-ACC academic honor roll twice, graduated with a degree in sports management from FSU's College of Education.

Less than a week after her collegiate eligibility ended, Horton and Luke entered a $150,000 AVP Pro Beach Volleyball Tour event in Austin, Texas, where they made it to the finals of the qualifier draw, only to lose in three sets.

Horton has also played in the Dig the Beach Volleyball Series in Florida, but her pro career has been shelved for the time being with an injured right labrum. She is scheduled to undergo a procedure next week.

Injury setback

"Sadly, I took a bad dive," Horton said. "I've been having problems with my shoulder, but rehabbing it. But over the summer, I fell on it pretty rough and I had to get an MRI and I'll need to get a little surgery to fix it."

Horton has been told that her timetable for recovery could be up 12 months.

"I'm hoping it doesn't take that long. It all depends how my body does, how I heal," Horton said. "I've never had surgery before, so I don't know how easy I am recovering. It's all kind of played by the month and see how I feel."

Horton's original plan was to turn professional and play indoor in Europe.

"I want try and do that because I've been playing indoor for the longest and that was, like, my passion before I started playing beach," Horton said. "But I want to try that for a season and, if that goes really well, I'll keep doing that. If not, then I'll come back to the (U.S.) and try make my name in beach."

During the summer, Horton has also been working at summer volleyball camps at Florida State and with local clubs.

"My goal when I retire playing is coach college, so I figure working some camps, helping out with the clubs around here to get a better understanding of coaching aspect of the sport now," Horton said. "But hopefully, I can make a good run and be a pro."

After completing her five-year career at Florida State, Horton now feels somewhat of a void.

"The team, having that family ... I like having everything planned for me," she said. "Like, I knew what I was doing every day ... I'd had to lift, I had class, I had workouts, like, every single day. I knew what I was going to do and now I have so much free time that I'm, like, 'OK, let's go work out, let's go do something,' because I just can't sit around."

Housey

through a bunch of interviews and having somebody pick you is a pretty humbling experience for me to know that they believe in me as much as I believe in myself, so I'm just very excited and I'm ready to get to work with the boys."

Housey finished 8-13 in his inaugural season at Liggett (2016-17), when it was a member of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. The Knights moved to the Catholic League Intersectional 1 last year (2017-18) as Liggett went 4-19 overall.

"We look at Novi as being a destination district," Gordon said. "When people come to us, typically the job they're applying for, they've done it before. We're really excited to have coach Housey. He comes to us from (Warren) De La Salle as a teacher where he's worked with kids for the last 12 years coaching a variety of different sports and, obviously, his head coaching experience at University-Liggett."

"Novi is really strong, not only in basketball and its tradition, but athletically, too," Housey said. "I'm hoping I can continue it and, obviously, keep the tradition together and put my own little imprint on the program. I'm sure the kids will buy in. From everything I've heard, they're great kids and ready to work hard. We're hoping it comes true and we'll start getting to work soon."

Housey also outlined his philosophy and a style of play that he hopes to bring to the Wildcats for the 2018-19 season.

"I like to play smart, we play hard," Housey said. "I like to play really hard-nosed, really tough defense. Offensively — I'll have to see our personnel, obviously, but we'll run a lot of sets that involve teamwork, passing, cutting, screening ... especially learning from coach Elser, we've always had a system, an offensive system and defensive system. It's never been one guy doing everything and everybody else just hanging out. We've always worked together as a team and as a group. I'm just excited to implement that. It's kind of what I was taught and what I've been used to. To me, that's the way to play the game, but we're definitely going to get after it on defense and use that to kind of springboard our offense."

Novi lost seven of its top eight players to graduation, including starters Traveon Maddox Jr., Oakland University; Tendon Hankerson, Northern Illinois; Tariq Woody, Paris Junior (Texas) College; and Blake King.

The website The D Zone Basketball reported July 1 that the Wildcats' lone returning starter and double-digit scorer off last year's final four squad, 6-foot-2 senior guard Giovanni Miles, apparently plans to transfer after an individual highlight video was posted of the Division I recruit playing summer basketball with Detroit Renaissance at Oakland University's Team Camp.

Meanwhile, Housey is looking forward to getting started in what can only be described as a rebuilding season.

"I'm beyond excited, incredibly excited and very thankful for the opportunity that Brian, Nicole Carter (school principal) and the whole place has given me," Housey said. "Obviously, they've had a lot of success in years past, especially last year. I'm just looking to come in, build on that success, get the program started, kind of just do my thing and get the kids acclimated to what I do."

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Livonia's Diane Voight was the recipient last month of the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America most prestigious award when she was presented with the President's Medal.

Voight was recognized for her service June 19 during the BPAA's annual Bowling Industry Service Awards luncheon held in conjunction with International Bowl Expo 2018 at the Paris Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

The owner of Community Bowling

Centers in Livonia was saluted for her many contributions and years of service to the BPAA, not only as an at-large director on the BPAA Board of Directors, but also as past chairman of the executive evaluation committee and current member of the nominating committee.

The President's Medal is given to an individual judged to have given exceptional support and/or made significant contributions to the association in the eyes of the current BPAA president.

In June 1978, together with 12 partners, Diane, along with her husband Mark, purchased a bowling center in Columbus, Ohio.

independent chain (the larger two being Brunswick and AMF).

Voight has made countless friends in the industry and in her community and, to this day, believes that getting into the bowling business was the luckiest thing she ever did (other than meeting her husband, of course).

Headquartered in Arlington, Texas, at the International Bowling Campus, the BPAA offers its more than 3,400 member centers business and educational seminars, legislative representation, group purchasing opportunities and proactively promotes the association and bowling industry.

ROLLER SKATING

Skatin' Station Skating Club qualifies six for nationals

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

The sport of roller figure skating might be under the radar, but for six competitors from the Skatin' Station Skating Club in Canton, it means the world.

And there's no doubt that a lot that goes into roller figure skating.

It demands that its skaters combine a careful balance of precision, strength and artistry into a single, impressive performance.

"We're here practicing every day at least four hours, but it is a small sport, but it's a lot like the ice skating," said Westland's Amanda Smyser, who has qualified for four events in the USA Roller Sports Figure Skating Nationals, July 22 through Aug. 4, in Lincoln, Neb. "Most of it is exactly the same. If anyone is interested in starting, they can come into the beginner skating classes and you can start from there. That's where I started and learned to skate backwards. That's where I learned about this sport and the passion just right away."

The 21-year-old Smyser, who graduated from Livonia Franklin High in 2016, works and teaches beginner skating classes at the Skatin' Station, 8611 Ronda Drive, tucked in behind Joy Road, just east of Lilley.

At the Great Lakes Regional last month in Appleton, Wis., Smyser earned first in Junior Women's Figures, Advanced Loops and Junior Solo Dance, along with second in Classic International Dance.

She laced up her first pair of roller skates at age 7 and has been a competitive roller figure skater for six years.

"I was skating outside on the cement, just always roller skating, so once I figured out that artistic roller skating thing, I started right away," Smyser said.

Also headed to Lincoln are five of Smyser's Skatin' Station S.C. teammates.

Westland's Ashlyn Nordquist, who did competitive and sideline cheer at John Glenn High School, will be making her fourth nationals appearance. The 17-year-old earned medals in four different Freshman-Sophomore B events at the Great Lakes Regional, including first in Figures, Dance and Figures Loops Com-

RECREATIONAL SPORTS

FootGolf takes over Fox Hills to host World Cup Shootout

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

What started as a curiosity for Jon Aron has become a bona fide athletic pastime and now the Ann Arbor man has plenty of company in the emerging world of FootGolf.

Look no further than the American FootGolf World Cup Shootout, held July 7-8 at Fox Hills Golf and Banquet Center in Plymouth. Aron was one of four Michigan residents to compete, along with 67 total participants from 17 states.

The top two finishers in the men's division, Jordan Godfrey and Bart Wojtyla, both from California, automatically qualified for the 2018 Federation for International FootGolf World Cup to take place in December in Morocco. Godfrey tallied a two-day scoreline of 59-56-115, while Wojtyla finished with a 59-58-117 score.

"I actually just drove by Fox Hills maybe four years ago and I saw that they offered this new sport called FootGolf," said Aron, a Pinckey High School alum. "And me and my friends play a lot of soccer, so we decided we'd try it out and, after we played one time, we were hooked."

"I don't play soccer anymore. I only play FootGolf."

Aron, 33, a member of Georgetown Country Club in Ann Arbor, was joined by his brother Kyle, Abdul Elkhaja and Talfik Rayyan.

"It's absolutely wonderful," Elkhaja said. "This is all fairly new to us. I know I'm spreading the word as well and it helps that the World Cup is around this time as well."

"I did run into some players that were former golfers. This is by far my favorite course, just the layout. It's beautiful. The holes are on the greens, just a wonderful course."

All of the Michigan-based FootGolf players cut their athletic teeth playing soccer. They then gravitated to the hybrid sport.

But they weren't the only ones taking

Jo Reid of Anchorage, Alaska, drives the ball on the sixth hole July 7 at the FootGolf World Cup Shootout. Reid placed second in the women's category.
ARIANA STRZALKA

that soccer-to-FootGolf route.

Long way from home

Jo Reid of Anchorage, Alaska, who finished second in the women's division, said she found out about FootGolf while scouring the Internet. Reid and Jeremy Johnson, who lives in a town about 40 miles from Anchorage, made the long journey to Plymouth just to take part in the national qualifier.

Both are in the West Coast FootGolf Club and are its only members not from California.

"I grew up playing soccer my whole life and still liked to compete," said Reid, 43. "Soccer games are a little harder to get through in your 40s, so we saw FootGolf on the Internet and decided to try it and loved it."

According to Roberto Balestrini, founder of the American FootGolf League and president of the Federation for International FootGolf, the weekend at Fox Hills was nothing but top-notch and was a great way to promote the sport.

"I introduced the sport in the U.S. in 2011," Balestrini said. "This golf course, Fox Hills Golf and Banquet Center, they were one of the early adopters — and a model of how to run FootGolf as an activity on a golf course.

"They are welcoming a new demographic and introducing them to the game of golf, as well. So now the FootGolfers — soccer people that have never been on a golf course before — now they're spending time and money in golf facilities for both sports."

Aron was glad he could play the tournament, even if he finished in the middle of the pack. The reason: he had to overcome a back injury. He was able to get back on his feet thanks to treatment from Performance Health Chiropractic in Ann Arbor, which sponsored him for the tourney.

The course drew raves from Balestrini, who vowed to bring another AFGL tournament to Fox Hills.

"We had 70 players from 17 states coming here and everybody is fascinated with the service of this company, Fox Hills," Balestrini said. "And the quality of the course. We're happy, we're coming back here next year with a bigger tournament."

bined, along with a third in Loops.

Melia Conners, a sophomore at Canton High, is in her fourth year with the club. She earned second in Dance, third in Figures and fourth in Loops in the Freshman A Girls at the regional.

Canton's Katie Wale, who will be a 10th-grader at Salem High, returned to skating after two years off and earned her first berth at nationals in the Freshman-Sophomore B division with second in Figures, third in Dance and fourth in Loops.

Canton's Mahira Tandon, who will be a seventh-grader this fall at Liberty Middle School, has been competing for six years after being a horseback rider. In the Great Lakes Regional, Tandon placed first in Elementary A Figures, second in Solo Dance and third in Loops. She will be going to nationals for the second straight year after placing second a year ago in Figures.

The youngest of the Skatin' Skation Club contingent headed to Lincoln is 9-year-old Sinchana Gowda of Plymouth, who attends Plymouth Scholars Charter Academy. The former dancer and ice skater will be making her second straight nationals appearance after taking first in Juvenile B Figures, Loops and Combined, along with second in Dance.

None were prouder of the team's effort at the Great Lakes Regional than Vickie Hudson, who has been coaching in the sport for 40 years. She will be guiding the team in Lincoln during the entire 14-day event.

"They did a good job at regionals and they have a good chance at nationals," Hudson said. "The sport is very opinionated, so it's one of those things. They all have a pretty good chance in least in one or two of their events."

At 65, Hudson remains passionate about her sport.

"I still just love to teach," she said. "I enjoy the kids, I enjoy my rink operator ... just the whole thing. In the past, I've coached a lot of world champions and traveled the world doing that. It's been really a lot of fun, so that's why I keep doing it."

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you have, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
