Brothers’ fine larger than most

Canton officials seek $450K for illegal tree clearing

Darrell Clem

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

A $450,000 settlement offered to two brothers who cleared trees from their Canton property, without the township’s permission, far surpasses any amount developers have paid during the last 10 years.

That’s the amount Canton officials say is owed by Gary and Matt Percy for cutting down an estimated 1,500 trees to start a Christmas tree farm behind their business, A.D. Transport Express, Inc., near Belleville and Yost roads.

Hometown Life asked Canton Township to name the top five payments made to Canton’s tree fund during the past decade. Officials said the payments came from developers who followed the rules and plunked down money for not replacing all the trees they took down.

■ Lombardo Homes shelled out $174,600 for the Sheldon Estates development on Sheldon, between Cherry Hill and Palmer. The company didn’t have enough room on-site to replace all the trees it cut down.

■ Redwood Management paid $80,600 for the Enclave at Brownstone complex near Palmer and Haggerty.

■ Danny Veri of Livonia Builders plunked down $27,900 for trees he

One after another, teens professed to stand in unity with the Jewish community, to fight hatred and to never hide their Star of David necklace again.

“I am deeply saddened by the 11 Jews who were killed on Saturday,” Mac Bauer said during his comments. “I am angry at Robert Bowers for screaming, ‘All Jews must die.’ I am enraged that he used an assault weapon to convey his message. And I am scared that it could happen in our community.

Canton librarian ready to turn the page

Fittingly, sun shone through the windows in Rebecca Havenstein-Coughlin’s favorite little corner of the Canton Public Library.

It was the perfect place for Havenstein-Coughlin to talk about her looming retirement after spending nearly four decades building the library into the success it has become.

No one really knew — back in 1980, when the library was built — how it was all going to turn out. Turns out, it turned out fine, in no small part because of Havenstein-Coughlin’s efforts.

“It’s hard to walk away from something you love that you’ve done for so long,” said Havenstein-Coughlin, the library’s department head for information services. “If you can provide something ... that changes someone’s life for the better, that’s not too lofty a goal. That’s a great thing.”

She’s been doing it since 1980, one of the first hires at the library. She started as the adult services librarian in June 1980, a few months before the library’s October opening. Local officials were getting ready to open when Havenstein-Coughlin hired in. Canton was a farm community back then, she said, and board members were “proud to have a library.”

“I was grateful that I was what they were looking for,” she said. “I was new, I had a fresh perspective.”

The library has obviously grown — there were nine people on staff in 1980; there are more than 100 now — but Havenstein-Coughlin said the staff was a little worried back then.

"I remember we were worried, 'What if no one comes?'" she said. But after opening day, "there wasn't a single children's book left on the shelf."

It was the beginning of the career she'd wanted since her days at New Boston High School, where she "loved" working in the high school library. The librarian, she said, had a big influence on her.

"Books are in my blood," Havenstein-Coughlin said. "I've loved to read since I could."

While she started as the adult services librarian, the last 10-15 years of her career have been spent in management. That has kept her off the floor, for the most part, but she said she still can occasionally "get a lot of time with the public."

That, say her colleagues, is where Havenstein-Coughlin excels: with her people skills.

"She's an amazing people person," said Laurie Golden, the library's community relations department head. "She's very kind and very positive. That's one of the reasons customer services here is so good. She exemplifies that and the staff sees that."

Her staff — she oversees librarians and the technical processing staff — point to her caring attitude toward them. She knows about kids and lives and moments in their lives.

"She relates to everybody," said Lisa Boyd, a librarian for four years. "She talks to each of us and genuinely cares for us. Sometimes, people you work for lose that."

There's been a lot of change, Havenstein-Coughlin said, particularly with all of the advancements in technology. Heck, she said, libraries don't even have card catalogs anymore.

But those changes have been necessary.

"You have to keep up with the times," she said. "You have to change or people are going to stop using you."

What hasn't changed is Havenstein-Coughlin's love of reading. Last year, after creating an account on the Goodreads, she read 107 books. She's behind that pace a bit this year, but that figures to change.

"I like (reading) everything," she said. "You pick up something and either it et list.

"Anywhere beautiful," she said of potential destinations. "I'm a lover of mountains."

Havenstein-Coughlin enters retirement while facing a battle even more difficult than retirement: She suffers from a glioblastoma, the same kind of brain tumor that eventually killed late U.S. Sen. John McCain of Arizona.

She was diagnosed in November 2017 and she's undergone treatment since then. But she had already made the decision to retire before she found out about the tumor, and she's determined not to let it change anything.

She said she'd already told library director Eva Davis it "was time" before she found out about the tumor, which she said confirmed "it really is time."

"My focus has been on my retirement, not my cancer," Havenstein-Coughlin said. "Everyone has either gone through (cancer) or knows someone who has. I'm nothing special."

Her colleagues beg to differ. Ellen Pare has been a librarian in Canton for 18 years. She called Havenstein-Coughlin the "heart and soul" of the library.

"She cares passionately about the library and excellent customer service," Pare said. "She cares about literacy and all the things that go into a library. I don't think this library would be what it is without Rebecca."

Now that the ghouls and goblins have their candy sorted all over the floor, it's time for the next holiday question: When do the spider webs and ghosts get replaced by Christmas lights?

Regardless if you've already got the tree up or won't until Dec. 1, there's plenty to keep busy with this weekend. Here are three events happening in western Wayne and Oakland counties.

International Festival in Canton

Travel the world without leaving

Canton this Saturday.

The Canton International Festival returns Saturday at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill, 50400 Cherry Hill. Here, visitors can take in the sights and sounds of several different countries, including China, Ireland, Italy, India, and plenty more during the festival.

Tickets for the festival are $2 and are available at the door. The festival begins at 11:30 a.m. and runs through the afternoon. For more information, go to cantonvillagetheater.org.

Turkey Trot in Livonia

If it's time to begin working that Halloween candy off, Livonia is the place to be Saturday morning.

The 13th annual Turkey Trot returns to Bicentennial Park at Seven Mile and Wayne roads. Check-in for the 5K race begins at 8:30 a.m. and the event begins at 9:30 a.m. Those interested in still signing up to run can do so by visiting the Livonia Parks and Recreation website. Registration fees are $15.

Those who attend are encouraged to bring a canned food donation to benefit the Livonia Goodfellows and Blessings in a Backpack.

Snowmobile show in Novi

Those photos of winter weather from up north are just a preview of what we can expect soon. Get prepared for a season full of fun by visiting the Suburban Collection Showplace this weekend.

A snowmobile show will take place at the Novi convention center, 46100 Grand River, Friday through Sunday. The show will feature plenty of snowmobiling action across more than 600 yards of space.

Tickets for the show are $10 and children age 12 and under are free. Parking is $5. For more information, go to the Suburban Collection Showplace's website.

couldn't replace at the Northgate apartment complex, under construction on Koppernick, near I-275.

■ Presidential Builders paid $19,200 into the tree fund for the Aspen Ridge development at Saltz and Beck.

■ Developers paid $6,750 for a small residential development on Shenandoah Circle, near Joy and Ridge.

Since Jan. 1, 2008, Canton has issued 107 tree removal permits. Of those, only 17 developers chose not to replace all trees and, instead, to pay at least some money into the tree fund, said Kristin Kolb, the township's corporation counsel. She recalled only two companies that didn't comply with local rules, but later backtracked, got permits and planted trees.

Kolb said the vast majority of developers replace all or most of the trees they take down, largely on-site or in places such as public parks. Those who don't typically agree to pay into Canton's tree fund.

The fund has a balance of about $650,000 and is used to plant trees and improve local parks and other public areas.

Kolb called it "very rare" that a developer, without permission, clears a large site, as officials say the Percys have done.

Their attorney, Michael J. Pattwell, said the brothers "exercised a farming exemption in the local tree removal law" to clear the site for a Christmas tree farm. They already have planted about 1,000 of the 2,500 trees they intend to plant, he said.

Canton officials haven't decided a course of action, though the situation could potentially lead to a court battle.

Officials say it wouldn't be the first time the township has had legal battles with the Percy brothers and A.D. Transport Express, Inc.

Canton Municipal Services Director Tim Faas said one court battle in the 1990s ended with the company paying for 200,000 gallons of water that it used inappropriately. Faas said a meter bypass — installed by the township as a backup for water when a company's meter is out of service — was used when it shouldn't have been and resulted in lower water bills. The township realized the situation during an audit.

The amount the company ultimately paid for the water wasn't immediately available.

Faas said the township also prevailed in a lawsuit filed by the company some 13 years ago over site plan details pertaining to an on-site truck washing facility.

And now the tree dispute could very well be headed to court.

"We also are absolutely prepared to take this case into a courtroom," Pattwell has said.

With the new tree dispute, Kolb said the Percys should have come forward with a site plan and to seek permission to remove an estimated 1,500 trees, though Pattwell disputes the number of trees and said much of what was removed was invasive plant species.

"It's very rare that someone clears a site," Kolb said, adding that most developers try to work trees and other natural features into their projects.

To that end, Canton gives developers some leeway, allowing them either to replace — or pay into the tree fund — only 75 percent of the trees that are taken down. Canton Community Planner Jeff Goulet said some developers use a combination of those options.

Officials concede that tree-removal rules are rather complicated. Generally, trees that are six inches in diameter when measured two feet up from the ground have to be replaced, though some older, "landmark" trees are much bigger and may have to be replaced with three smaller trees, Kolb said.

Some trees, such as diseased ash trees and certain elm trees, need not be replaced at all. And some trees cost more than others to replace.

To estimate the trees on the Percy property, Canton had arborists examine an adjacent wooded area to arrive at the 1,500-tree number.

Generally, the township relies on tree surveys submitted by developers who have to provide a count and list the types of trees, Kolb said.

"We're trusting that what they are going to be doing is honest," she said, saying Canton has been "very fortunate" that problems have been few.

And the situation with the Percys is one of the biggest, but Pattwell said the site in question "was teeming with invasive plants like phragmites, buckthorn, autumn olive and other scrub brush."

The Percys have other hurdles, too. Kolb said Canton requires 40 acres of land for a new farm, but the property designated for the Christmas tree farm is only 16 acres. Kolb said the Percys would have to ask for a variance to have a farm and would need a rezoning, because the property is zoned industrial.

Pattwell has dismissed Canton's approach as "misguided overreach" by a local government "abusing its authority to shake down its residents."

Goulet said the local tree ordinance evolved after a property owner in the early 1990s removed numerous trees from the site of what would later become Home Depot. Since then, local officials have tried to reign in wholesale tree-cutting, unless trees are mostly replaced.

Canton Township Supervisor Pat Williams has said the rules are in place for a reason.

"The reason for this ordinance is so that when developers come to do their projects in our community, there are controls in place to make sure that everybody's best interests in the community are taken into consideration," he said.

friends, the oneness from all of us teens coming together,” he added.

Organized by five area teen Jewish youth organizations, more than 300 teens attended the vigil at Temple Israel in West Bloomfield to sing, pray and listen to teen speakers shining light on a dark week.

Like most in attendance, Lily Kollin, one of the teen organizers, was at synagogue when she heard the news. “It was hilariously Jewish; it was unforgivably Jewish; it was proudly Jewish; it was home; it was compassion; it was generosity; it was family at its holiest,” she said.

“Saturday morning,” she said with a pause, “and I was in synagogue and I was pulled aside. And I was told 11 of our people were murdered. Saturday morning — in synagogue.

Saturday morning — and I was in synagogue,” she added. “And for once, I couldn’t think about gun laws; I couldn’t think about our president; I couldn’t think about God. All I could do was feel and I felt endlessly. It was as if a small part of my soul had been plucked. ... For this time, it wasn’t just another shooting. This time, it was family. This time, it was home. This time, it was Saturday morning — in synagogue.

“Saturday morning, I vowed to wear my necklace (Magen David) every day for the rest of my life,” she said. “I vowed to let myself feel endlessly and love without hesitation. I vowed to fight hate at its every turn.

“For I have grown up being taught to create life in the face of death. To create unity in the face of division. To create love in the face of hatred — to hope with such intensity for the future.”

In all, 17 teens came to the podium. As candles were lit, Brayden Hirsch led Kaddish and read the names of the 11 deceased: Joyce Feinberg, Richard Gootried, Rose Mallinger, Jerry Rabinowitz, Cecil Rosenthal, David Rosenthal, Bernice Simon, Sylvan Simon, Daniel Stein, Melvin Wax and Irving Younger.

OUR VIEW

Our thoughts on races, millage proposals

In addition to statewide proposals on marijuana and political districting, Plymouth and Canton voters have a fairly extensive ballot to navigate when they go to the polls in Tuesday's general election.

Hometown Life offers its choices on the various local races and proposals affecting Plymouth and Canton voters:

Plymouth-Canton school board

Anupam Chugh Sidhu is as easy an endorsement choice as has been available in recent elections. She is seeking the six-year seat being vacated by board President Kim Crouch, who decided not to seek re-election.

Chugh Sidhu, elected in 2015, has shown strong leadership in her first term. She's serving as board secretary and also chairs the board's student performance and achievement committee. She's had a long career in education and currently serves as an instructional technology consultant at Wayne RESA.

Chugh Sidhu has demonstrated strong leadership capabilities, her opinion carries weight with the other board members and her opinions are strong and well-reasoned. She'll make a good board president when the time comes.

For the two-year spot being vacated by Chugh Sidhu, we recommend Aamina Ahmed. Ahmed, recognized last year at the Canton Hall of Fame ceremony as a community supporter for her advocacy for intercultural dialogue, Ahmed has also been quite active in the district.

She is a member of the 2018 district stakeholder and improvement teams, she was part of a talented and gifted program study group for two years, she's been a parent volunteer at Dodson Elementary and East Middle schools and she currently sits on the board's policy committee.

State House, 20th District

Republican Jeff Noble is our pick. His votes on public school funding have benefited Northville and Plymouth-Canton school districts and his votes on increased funding to fix roads, lower auto insurance and pass a bill protecting people from sexual abuse have reflected the views of his district.

State House, 21st District

Democrat Kristy Pagan, a Democrat from Canton (unless court proceedings show otherwise) gets our vote. She has worked hard on school funding and other issues, passed bills as part of a bipartisan package addressing sexual assault and, as a member of the House Appropriations School Aid Subcommittee, worked hard to make sure public school funding isn't damaged by the presence of for-profit charter schools.

The endorsement comes with a caveat: While we take Pagan at her word (while others, particularly on social media, don't) a recent lawsuit does raise the question of whether Pagan and her husband use a house they bought two years ago in Ann Arbor as their principal residence. If that turns out to be true (Pagan vehemently denies it and, to be fair, no action has yet been taken on the lawsuit) then Pagan should immediately resign.

However, in the eyes of the state and her supporters, she remains a solid candidate for re-election and that's what we think voters should do.

Plymouth Township public safety millage

Plymouth Township officials are asking voters for a 1.2-mill, 18-year public safety millage to fund public safety needs they say have been growing, but ignored, for years.

And while voters are being asked to consider several tax proposals this year, this is one we believe they should OK.

Officials say the new money — estimated at $2.1 million for the first year — would be used to buy and maintain police and fire department equipment, maintain facilities, pay retirement obligations and keep public safety staffing at authorized levels.

They point out property tax revenue fell by about 20 percent during the Great Recession and will take nine more years, at the current rate, to reach the 2007 level of about $8.1 million. Public safety legacy costs will cost the township some $1.6 million this year, a figure that will reach nearly $2.8 million, or about 20 percent of the total budget, by 2025.

Staffing is another issue the new tax money would address, as is equipment. The township has made hay with drug forfeiture money and other funding sources, but officials say it's not enough.

We agree with them, and urge a yes vote.

PARC millage

The folks at the Plymouth Arts & Recreation Complex are asking for 0.075 mills to not only renovate the former Central Middle School property in downtown Plymouth, but to add an 800-seat performing arts center on the open space just north of the existing building.

The millage, which officials said would cost the average property owner less than $100 per year, will stretch over 20 years and is expected to raise approximately $20 million, if voters approve it.

And we think they should. Supporters believe the performing arts center, combined with the existing PARC offerings, would bolster residents' property values, increase quality of life and provide Plymouth with a community-enhancing landmark, supporters stress.

Opponents raise valid points, as well. There are existing theaters in the area that aren't doing well so, they ask, where's the evidence another one in Plymouth would succeed?

The fight has gotten dirty, with the not-unexpected vandalism of campaign signs and a war of words over social media. The Say No to PARC people induced state inspectors to come out with a claim of exposed asbestos (PARC director Don Soenen said a clean bill of health for the facility is expected soon).

Largely, opponents concede, their biggest objection is whether taxpayers should pay for it. In our minds, that's a question for the taxpayers to decide.

Prosecutor: Police shooting was justified

Matt Jachman

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

A Livonia police officer was recently cleared in the May shooting death of a 37-year-old man in Plymouth Township.

Wayne County Prosecutor Kym Worthy's office announced that charges would not be brought in the death of Joseph Demel, who was armed with a pistol when an officer shot him while in the backyard of a home in the area of Tavistock Drive and Joy Road, just west of the Livonia border, the evening of May 18.

Demel, who grew up in the Detroit area and had recently returned after living in Arizona, was reportedly suicidal and had led Westland police on a high-speed chase to the area of Joy and Hix. After officers broke off that chase, Livonia police received several calls about a man running through yards in the area and set up a perimeter in an attempt to stop him.

"Mr. Demel's actions endangered the lives of multiple civilians and police officers," Worthy's spokeswoman, Maria Miller, wrote in an email. "After the car chase, he was observed with a weapon by a Livonia officer. Demel was told by the officer to put down his gun and refused to do so and was shot by the officer."

The officer, a four-year veteran whom police were not identifying, had the right to use deadly force under the circumstances, Miller said.

The finding didn't seem to surprise Nick Demel of Brainerd, Minn., Demel's younger half-brother.

"The only thing I can think of is that Joey was just so down and so out of his own mind that he was thinking, 'OK if I push this cop enough, he'll do what I can't,'" Nick Demel said by phone this week.

Demel had a history of drug abuse, encounters with police and the criminal justice system and personal troubles, Nick Demel said.

A carpenter who built and remodeled homes and also did tile and dry-wall work, Demel had seemed to be on a better path since the birth of his daughter Keison, his brother said. With her, he was at his best, he said.

"You could just see an amazing light in his eye. Just — that girl brought him just every ounce of love you could possibly imagine," he said.

Demel had a strong artistic bent, Nick Demel said, that was seen not only in his finish carpentry work, but in his sketching, painting and work as an unlicensed tattoo "scratcher." Their father, Keith Demel, who died in a motorcycle accident when Joey was about 7, had also been a carpenter.

Nick Demel wants people to know "that this wasn't Joey," he said.

"Joey was an amazing, awesome, beautiful human being and I just hope people don't remember him for his faults, because there was a lot more good than bad," he said.

Police Chief Curtis Caid said police had been informed, prior to Westland officers' attempts to stop Demel, that he had made threats to himself and were concerned that he posed a danger to others in a rapidly developing situation.

According to a Westland report, officers responding to a call about a suicidal man that evening found Demel in a strip mall parking lot at Warren and Nankin Boulevard, where he yelled at police to shoot him before deliberately crashing his vehicle into a patrol vehicle and leading them on a chase, driving at up to 86 mph in a 40-mph zone.

During the later foot pursuit, Demel had a chance to comply with police, Caid said.

"In those circumstances, all we ask for is compliance," he said. "Put the weapon down, let's try to work things out."

He added: "The officer made this decision in a split second and, as tragic as it is on all ends, I think he made the right decision."

The officer involved has returned to full patrol duty. The process of returning to patrol included psychological screening, additional firearms training and getting back on road patrol with a partner for an interim period, Caid said.

"I know that this event has weighed very, very heavy on him," the chief said.

Charles Nelson Barber

HILLSDALE - Charles Nelson Barber, age 98, was born September 22, 1920 near Pinckneyville (Perry County), Illinois to Charles D. and Rosa Ellen (Lowe) Barber and died on October 24, 2018 in Hillsdale, Michigan. He is survived by his son, Gary N. (Penny Greiling) Barber of Hillsdale, his daughter, Gail L. (Jeffrey) Whaley of Toledo, OH, three grandchildren, Samantha (David) Allen, Jennifer Barber Clark, and Kevin Whaley, and five great-grandchildren. One of nine siblings, he is also survived by his only brother, Robert (Bob) Barber of Pinckneyville, and his youngest sister, Doris (Dollie) Cox of Oklahoma.

As a teenager, Charles served for a time in the Civilian Conservation Corp. working on projects such as the Hoover Dam before moving to Detroit to begin his career at Chrysler Corporation. World War II soon intervened and, in 1942, he enlisted in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Promptly called to active duty, he served as an aviation mechanic at bases in Florida, Virginia and Michigan. He continued his service in the Naval Reserve at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station for many years thereafter.

On August 22, 1943, he married Laura Berniece Pigg at her parents' home in Detroit. They were married for 75 years until her recent passing in August 2018.

Charles returned to Detroit after the war and soon commenced his long career with Parke-Davis & Co. while completing his formal education at the Detroit Institute of Technology (now Lawrence Tech). He eventually became Manager of Plant Operations at the Detroit production facility and then at the company's Ann Arbor research laboratory. He retired following Parke-Davis' merger with Pfizer Corp. and formed a maintenance contracting/engineering consulting firm that was instrumental in the redevelopment of the former Parke-Davis headquarters into Stroh River Place on the Detroit waterfront. He very much enjoyed his "second career" as a business owner and entrepreneur.

Charles and Laura lived in Detroit, Livonia, Plymouth, and Northville, Michigan before moving to Hillsdale in 2004. Just as he had been an avid outdoor sportsman in his younger years, he became an avid gardener in retirement. Many happy hours were spent planning, planting, and tending his landscaped yard overlooking BawBees Lake.

Interment will be in the Barber Family Plot in the Swanwick Bethel Cemetery (Perry County), Illinois. A family memorial/celebration of life will be held at a future date with the assistance of the Pyatt Funeral Home in Pinckneyville. Local arrangements were entrusted to the VanHorn-Eagle Funeral Home in Hillsdale.

The Many Facets of Holiday Wines

Wine is very versatile. You can pair it with your favorite holiday meal, give it as a gift, or celebrate a special occasion with it. And, the variety! Where do you begin?

Well, Joe's Produce Gourmet Market's wine steward, Paul, has just the right suggestions. Joe's has a wide selection of wines from all around the world and many choices from Michigan. So whatever the occasion, they have a bottle of wine to fit every palate and pocketbook.

Paul suggests starting your holiday dinner off with a little bubbly. A few choices of sparkling wines are Cava from Spain, Prosecco from Italy, and the quintessential celebratory wine, Champagne from France. Just toast the holiday and dive into those appetizers!

Paul's Tip #1: Try serving the bubbly in a white wine glass. It allows it to breathe better than using a fluted glass.

A successful pairing is when the wine makes the food taste better, and vice versa.

Is it Time for Dinner Yet?

If you're like most people, you'll be serving turkey for the holidays, and Joe's Meat and Seafood Market has the freshest turkeys available. You'll have to order ahead of time because once they're gone, they're gone.

Paul's Tip #2: You don't have to serve red wine with red meat or white wine with fish, seafood, or white meat.

Turkey is a versatile bird with great texture. Some great choices of wine would be Beaujolais Nouveau, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Chablis, Zinfandel, Sauvignon Blanc, Gertzweiner, and since you have that bottle of bubbly already, you can serve it as well!

Joe's suggests having one white and one red at meals for your guests to choose their favorite. The best that could happen is that you will introduce them to a new wine selection.

Are you thinking of grilling a beef tenderloin, roasting a standing rib roast, baking a leg of lamb, or perhaps slow-cooking a brisket? The folks over at Joe's have the freshest USDA Prime and choice meats. They also have the largest meat counter in the area. It's 60' long – so there are more meat and seafood options to choose from and enjoy!

Paul's Tip #3: Match the weight and texture of the wine to the texture of your meat.

When you're talking about matching wines with meat, Cabernet Sauvignon is the most popular suggestion, but you don't have to stick to that selection, do you? Now's the opportunity to impress, surprise, or delight your guests' palates with something new or similar to their favorites. You've got this!

Joe Maiorana, the owner of Joe's Produce Gourmet Market, suggests Marauder Dark Arts to accompany any hearty meat. It's a bold, dark, and brawny beauty produced from a blend of Syrah and Petite Sirah. It's one of his favorites and stands equal to the richness of the meat.

Another option to pair with meat is a rich, full-bodied Malbec. It has a dark fruit flavor with a smoky finish. Or try a full-bodied Syrah/Shiraz for your lamb, pork, or cured meats. Paul suggests pairing a Chenin Blanc with a leaner, tender red meat such as filet mignon. If bold is what you crave, try Nero d'Avola.

Not serving meat? Serving a potato kugel instead? Try a light, fragrant Pinot Noir. Pair your latkes and sour cream with an unoaked Chardonnay.

Paul's Tip #4: Break the rules with your wine pairings – doing so could help you discover more exciting and unexpected flavors than you've ever tasted.

Don't Forget Dessert – Wines Don't End When Dinner Does

Dessert wines are a tasty ending to your meal so save room for the dessert pairings.

Wine with pie, you say? You bet! So if you're going all in for the holidays, you'll need to pair it with a dessert wine. Paul suggests serving pumpkin pie with 20-year-old Tawny Port. It will match the spices of the pie. If apple pie is your preference try Moscato d'Asti. It's bubbly, sweet, and has notes of fruit blossoms.

Joe's has a variety of house-made treats perfect for your holiday. You really need to taste their pies. They are baked daily.

What if your guests aren't in the mood for wine with dessert? Joe's café team roasts a variety of fresh beans daily to make a perfect cup to accompany any of their cakes, pies, cookies, and pastries. There are regular and decaf coffees in light, medium and dark roasts.

You Don't Have to Be a Wine Expert

All you need is the Wine and Beer Department at Joe's Produce Gourmet Market with its unique stock and one-of-a-kind customer support. Paul and Joe's team is always ready to help with your holiday selections.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Cybul leads pack as Northville rolls

Salem is runner-up; Plymouth also headed to MIS for first time

Brad Emons
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Northville had another runner break through the 18-minute barrier Saturday at New Boston's soggy Willow Metropark as the Mustangs galloped to their seventh straight MHSAA Division 1 girls cross country regional title.

This time it was senior Nicole Cybul who took individual honors with a 5,000-meter time of 17 minutes, 57.5 seconds as Northville scored 41 points to advance to the state finals Saturday

(Nov. 3) at Michigan International Speedway.

Joining the Mustangs in Brooklyn will be regional runner-up Salem (64) and first-time state qualifier Plymouth (91).

Cybul outkicked Plymouth freshman Lauren Kiley (17:59.6) during the final 150 meters to earn first-place honors.

"I was really motivated at the end," Cybul said. "Being in front the whole race, I really wanted to pull off my first regional win, so that's kind of why I was so motivated at the end to give it my all. I've been really confident with all my training, having good sessions and just really working hard every day. I think that has definitely translated into my time today."

Shamrocks roll to 49-28 triumph despite Walker's 268 yards rushing for Chiefs

It was still very much a game late in the first half, with Novi Detroit Catholic Central leading Canton 14-7, when the Chiefs decided to go for it on fourth-and-one at the Shamrocks' 31.

And it was no secret that Steven Walker's name would be called, because the senior running back came into the game with more than 2,000 yards rushing in nine regular-season games.

The 5-foot-9, 170-pound Walker got stopped by the CC defense short of the first-down marker and the ball popped loose. There to pick it up was Shamrocks sophomore defensive back Jonathan Brewer, who made a game-turning 70-yard scoop and score fumble recovery return for a TD with 3:02 remaining in the first half.

The play figured prominently in CC's 49-28 Division 1 pre-district triumph Friday over the visiting Chiefs.

Novi Detroit Catholic Central (7-3) at West Bloomfield (8-2): This is a gigantic match-up for the District 1 regional crown. West Bloomfield, last year's state runner-up, is coming off a 49-14 pre-district win over Plymouth as C.J. Harris threw five touchdown passes, including three to Michigan State commit Tre Mosley, who finished

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Plymouth repeats as regional champion

USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

With Carter Solomon setting the pace, Plymouth remains right on course in its quest for an MHSAA Division 1 boys cross country state championship.

The Wildcats, placing five in the top 11, scored 29 points Saturday at New Boston's soggy Willow Metropark to repeat as regional champions.

Meanwhile, runner-up Salem (79) and third-place Northville (83) also punched their tickets to Michigan International Speedway for Saturday's (Nov. 3) state finals.

Solomon, a junior, broke the 15-minute barrier for the second time this season, clocking a 5,000-meter time of 14 minutes, 59.4 seconds. Novi Detroit Catholic Central junior Luke Perell was runner-up in 15:35.8.

"I think it's awesome, we've been talking about it, we did it once and we said have to do it again before states to have a shot to do it again at states," Plymouth coach Jon Mikosz said of Solomon. "I think there have only been three D-1 runners in the history of the state meet ever break it (15 minutes) at state, so that's the goal we're focusing on."

The Wildcats' other four scorers were sophomore Patrick Byrnes, third (15:41.4); senior Brandon Boyd, fourth (15:56.3); senior Jarrett Warner, 10th (16:08.6); and junior Tyler Mussen, 11th (16:10.6).

Plymouth's non-scorers were Bassil Syed (36th, 16:57.5) and Conner Davis (69th, 17:56.2).

After their strong regional showing, the Wildcats appear poised to be make a run at the state title that eluded them by just three points a year ago against Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The Plymouth boys cross country team holds the Division 1 regional trophy at Willow Metropark.

"They're not necessarily happy how the race went today, but I am," Mikosz said. "And our goal is to just get through here, stay healthy, be ready to go. We're right where we need to be, so we've just got to keep it going for one more week and hope for the best."

Rounding out the 14-school field were Novi Detroit Catholic Central (99), Ann Arbor Huron (118), Novi (147), Canton (198), Livonia Stevenson (202), Livonia Churchill (203), Livonia Franklin (256), Oak Park (310), Berkley (366), University of Detroit-Jesuit (385) and Garden City (451).

Senior Luke Haran paced Salem's effort with a fifth-place finish in 15:57.7. Other scorers for the Rocks were sophomore Hezekiah Williams, 12th (16:20.5); sophomore Talha Syed, 14th (16:22.1); senior Christo Jeffers, 17th (16:33.6); senior Shane McKimmy, 31st (16:49.5).

"Christo Jeffers was our No. 4 and came through big time," Salem coach Steve Aspinall said. "He had a season best by nearly 20 seconds, so he ran a great race. He was the one who tilted it in a good way for us. We knew it would be close between us and Northville for second and third, but at that point you're top three and you're just happy to be there and get one more race as a team."

Salem's non-scorers were Evan Wheeler (52nd, 17:15.5) and Bryce Paine (64th, 17:36.9).

"Always fun to qualify. We're one of the best regionals in the state of Michigan with six or seven teams that are really solid," Aspinall said. "You've got to run well on race day. Outside of Plymouth, there was nobody constant going in that was going to be one of those three teams. We had four guys in the top 20, so when we saw that, I was confident that we were going to be at least top three."

The Rocks hope to improve upon last year's 20th-place finish at the Division 1 state finals.

"Next week, the goal at the state finals is to go out and compete like we did today," Aspinall said. "We could probably be anywhere from eighth to 12th or 13th if we run well. Luke Haran is our No. 1. His goal a couple of years ago was to be top 30. Top 30 is all-state and he can be right in that conversation. Then a couple of sophomores behind him who ran low 16:20s today who were close to the top 10 could have a great day next Saturday."

Northville was paced by returning all-stater Nicholas Couyoumjian, a senior, who placed sixth (16:04.08). He was followed by sophomore Sean McKee, 15th (16:22.5); senior Raymond Jiang, 19th (16:35.3); senior Alex Flegal, 20th (16:35.5); and junior Josh Morrissey, 23rd (16:37.9).

The Mustangs non-scorers were junior Ben Steinig (34th, 16:55.7) and Josh Hardy (49th, 17:12.7).

"There would be a couple of teams shooting for second and third place today and whoever ran the fastest was going to move on to the state finals and I'm just happy how our seven kids competed today," Northville coach Tim Dalton said. "We had two kids step up in senior Alex Flegal and junior Josh Morrissey, who ran huge career (bests) to be our fourth and fifth guys. The other stat was our fourth runner (Flegal) was in 20th place, so four in the top 20 locked the door for you there."

It turned out to be a happy day for Northville, which was disqualified last year from going to the state finals because of an MHSAA uniform rules violation at the regional.

"The goal next week is to go in and compete," Dalton said. "I believe we're a top 10 team in the state and just happy to get those seven kids there. We talk all the time that if you're not having fun in the sport, we're doing something wrong, so go out, compete and have fun and good things will happen."

Other additional individual state qualifiers in addition to Perelli headed to MIS by virtue of a top-15 regional finish were Matt Whyte (Novi), seventh (16:06.6); Karsin Dass (Ann Arbor Huron), eighth (16:07.8); Alexander Dugas (Detroit CC), ninth (16:08.2); and Joseph Michalak (Canton), 13th (16:21.8).

Northville

Northville coach Nancy Smith believed Cybul was capable of breaking the 18:00 barrier.

"Nicole has had a great few weeks of practice, we talked about trying to get her time under 18:00," Smith said. "I've never seen her look stronger."

The other Northville runner to break 18:00 this season, sophomore Yasmine Mansi, placed third overall in 18:01.5. The Mustangs' three other scorers were sophomore Emily Gordon, ninth (18:49.1); freshman Gina Couyoumjian, 13th (19:08.2); and sophomore Keira Courtney, 15th (19:10.0).

Northville's non-scorers were senior Olivia Harp (21st, 19:46.2) and freshman Emma Munro (40th, 20:43.5).

"Overall, I thought we ran exactly like we wanted to," Smith said. "We ran as a team. We've been working on that all week in practice and talking about being accountable for each other, stepping up and helping each other out. They worked beautiful. They went through the mile super-fast and I think they were a little awestruck, but they continued to work hard and pull together.

So we bring home our seventh regional and we're on to the state finals and, hopefully, finish and bring home another state title. That's our goal."

Salem was led by sophomores Raegan Justice and Olivia Millen, who placed fourth and fifth, respectively with times of 18:17.5 and 18:34.1.

The Rocks' next three scorers were senior Bridget Nelson, 16th (19:14.8); sophomore Kiersten McBride, 19th (19:32.9); and freshman Marissa Henry, 20th (19:45.5).

"I was extremely proud of the girls' effort," Salem coach Dave Gerlach said. "In the second half of the race, it was amazing how these girls started competing and passing people. Reagan and Olivia — race of their lives. Reagan running an 18:17, coming in fourth in a regional with this kind of firepower, is truly amazing. And she deserves it with all the hard work she's put in."

Salem's non-scorers were seniors Hallie Younglas (22nd, 19:46.7) and Gabrielle Mancini (27th, 20:06.8).

"We took care of business today. We knew coming in that Northville is, obviously, the favorite being ranked No. 1, but we wanted to go after them a little bit and solidify our placing second as a team," said Gerlach, whose team qualified for the D-1 finals for the seventh straight year. "The big thing was going out as a unit and competing together. Times don't matter in these kind of meets. It's all about competition and going out there and doing the best you can."

Afterward, Plymouth coach Alice Ahearn wasn't sure her team had qualified, but the Wildcats tucked in comfortably in third place, 47 points ahead of fourth-place Berkley (138).

In addition to Kiley's runner-up finish, the Wildcats also got scoring from sophomore Londyn Swenson, sixth (18:37.9); sophomore Paige Cristea, 17th (19:27.3); senior Ana White, 29th (20:13.5); and sophomore Lindsay Ripple, 37th (20:35.6).

Plymouth's non-scorers were freshman Sasha Fox (45th, 21:00.7) and junior Laura Bonds (51st, 21:28.6).

"They ran a great race," Ahearn said. "They put in all the work. They were ready to go. It was their spot to lose. When we saw how well we could do with that dynamic duo, who I call the 'Double-L' advantage with Lauren (Kiley) and Londyn (Swenson) ... they give them that push. I now have nine under 21 (minutes), which is great ... they've put in a lot of hard work this season."

Rounding out the 13-school field were Canton (158), Novi (170), Livonia Franklin (183), Livonia Stevenson (204), Ann Arbor Huron (213), Livonia Churchill (232), Oak Park (299), Detroit Renaissance (223) and Detroit King (387).

There were six additional individual state qualifiers who earned places in the top 15, including Canton freshman Thea Schley, seventh (18:41.6); Novi senior Katherine Ray, eighth (18:43.3); Franklin senior Erin Seibert, 10th (18:58.4); Berkley senior Emma Murray, 11th (19:04.8); Berkley senior Kenna Childress, 12th (19:05.3) and Huron senior Callie Hastie, 14th (19:08.7).

But the day belonged to Cybul, who hopes to help propel the top-ranked Mustangs to their second state title in school history at MIS. Last year, the Mustangs came close, finishing just five points behind Troy.

"I'm super-excited about next week," Cybul said. "This is definitely our chance to show the state how hard we're working and I think my whole team is really motivated and we just want to go out and do our best and, hopefully, that will lead to a good result."

with nine catches for 190 yards. CC, meanwhile, overcame the 268-yard rushing performance by Canton's Steven Walker in a 49-28 pre-district win. The Shamrocks' QB Marco Genrich was 10-of-13 passing for 189 yards. These two teams have never met. Picks: Emons (CC), Budner (CC), Smith (CC).

Birmingham Brother Rice (7-3) at Birmingham Groves (8-2): Rice, sparked by the running of James Donaldson and the throwing of Greg Piscopink, got a big Division 2 district win on the road last week against favored Livonia Churchill, 27-13. Groves toppled rival Birmingham Seaholm for the second straight week, 35-14, as Damontè McCurdy had a monster game with 256 yards on 20 carries and four TDs. Rice leads the series, 9-3, winning two of the last three, including a 24-21 triumph last year. Picks: Emons (Rice), Budner (Groves), Smith (Rice).

Walled Lake Western (7-3) at South Lyon (10-0): These two Lakes Valley Conference foes met earlier in the season, with South Lyon winning, 29-19. The Lions, who lead the series 10-4, nearly saw their undefeated season go down the drain in the Division 2 district opener against upset-minded and underdog Dexter before prevailing in overtime, 31-24, thanks to a Jake Newman interception in the end zone. Western, getting 176 yards passing from Boston College commit Sam Johnson, is coming off a 24-9 pre-district win over Fenton and is looking for revenge in the rematch. South Lyon's "Jungle" should be rocking. Picks: Emons (Western), Budner (South Lyon), Smith (South Lyon).

South Lyon East (6-4) at Farmington (7-3): After stumbling down the stretch, losing its last two regular season games, Farmington regrouped to win its Division 3 district opener against Auburn Hills Avondale, 42-9, as Kendall Williams ran for 165 yards and six touchdowns, including one on a fumble recovery return. East, making only its second playoff appearance in its brief playoff history, is already enjoying its best season ever following a 22-15 pre-district win on the road at Ortonville Brandon, thanks to the clutch passing of Ayden Oliver. These teams have never met. Picks: Emons (East), Budner (East), Smith (East).

Farmington Harrison (7-3) at Beverly Hills Detroit Country Day (7-2): This is for a Division 4 district championship. The last time these two teams met was 2001 and Harrison has owned the series, 6-0. Harrison overcame a stubborn Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook squad in the pre-district, 24-10, as Northwestern commit Roderick Heard scored a pair of TDs, including a 90-yard kickoff return. Country Day's Ahlon Mitchell threw three TD passes, while Darrin King returned a punt 50 yards for a TD and caught another TD pass in a 42-6 pre-district romp over Center Line. Harrison doesn't want this to be its last game ever under the state's winningest coach John Herrington. Picks: Emons (Harrison), Budner (Harrison), Smith (Country Day).

Bonus games

White Lake Lakeland (7-3) at Clarkston (8-2): The series between the two teams stands at 1-1. The last meetings were 1975 and 1974. Clarkston, the two-time defending Division 1 state champ, took care of business last week with a 30-7 win over Lake Orion. Lakeland, meanwhile, got three TD runs and a two-point conversion play from Robbie Tracy to pull off a stunning 23-20 overtime victory over Rochester Adams. Picks: Emons (Clarkston), Budner (Clarkston), Smith (Clarkston).

Temperance Bedford (6-4) at Livonia Franklin (6-4): This is only the second meeting in history between the two at-large teams, with the Patriots getting to host based on a slightly higher playoff point total. Franklin, last year's Division 2 runner-up, went on the road to whip Wyandotte Roosevelt, 38-14, in the district opener as junior quarterback Jake Kelbert ran for a TD and passed for another. Bedford, which features a tough-to-defend mid-line veer offense, also rolled in the pre-district with a 55-21 road triumph over WWAC champion Dearborn Heights Crestwood. Bedford has won the only meeting between the two teams, 39-22, in 2016. Picks: Emons (Franklin), Budner (Franklin), Smith (Bedford).

Harrison survives scare from Cranbrook, 24-10

Marty Budner
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Once Farmington Harrison gets into the playoffs, the Hawks are a virtual first-round lock to win.

This is Harrison's 34th time playing postseason football in its storied 49-year history. Incredibly, the Hawks have won 31 opening games, including Saturday's tougher-than-expected 24-10 thumping of Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Kingswood.

Harrison, proud owners of 13 state championships under the direction of the state's winningest head coach in John Herrington, needed three second-half touchdowns to finally corral the Cranes in a Division 4 pre-district game that wasn't the mismatch everyone had anticipated.

"I told the kids the first game of the playoffs is always difficult and everybody comes and gives you their best," said Herrington, whose team hiked its record to 7-3. "We did have our problems with them. There's no question.

"Cranbrook was tougher than anticipated, really," he added. "They did a good job. They were physical and they were good."

Cranbrook Kingswood entered this year's postseason on the heels of its longest playoff run ever last year, when it advanced to the regional final before falling to River Rouge by a touchdown. The Cranes registered a school-record 10 victories in 2017.

However, while they gave the seasoned Hawks a scare on a chilly, drizzly afternoon at Buller Field inside the John Herrington Athletic Complex, their season ended with the 14-point loss.

"Obviously, the history. You're going against a team that has multiple state championships," first-year CK head coach Scott Steward said about Harrison. "So we knew that that would be a challenge. But we also felt like last year we played good teams and that (Harrison) was a good team and we were capable of playing with them and potentially beating them.

"And I think, most importantly, our kids believe that," he added. "And I think that goes to our assistant coaches and our preparation. We feel so prepared and ready that we have a belief that we can play with anybody."

The scoring plays

Cranbrook held a 3-0 halftime lead on David Hiser's 31-yard first-quarter field goal.

The Hawks went ahead 10-0 on a 4-yard run by Rod Heard, who finished with 98 yards rushing, early in the third quarter. Cranbrook followed with its lone touchdown on its next possession, when quarterback Jack Fairman hit Torrell Williams with a 22-yard scoring pass.

The play of the game took place on the ensuing kickoff, when Heard returned the ball 90 yards for a touchdown to make it 17-7. Harrison quarterback Keel Watson scored the final Hawks touchdown on a 13-yard run midway through the final quarter, much to the delight of the home fans.

Cranes kicker Chase Paulus completed the scoring by connecting on a 41-yard field goal with 2:32 left.

"They played really good defense on us. They mixed up their defense between a 40 and a 50 and we couldn't get Rod loose," Herrington said. "It was tough and our passing game was not really clicking.

"Their coaching staff did a great job getting ready for us. They had Rod pretty much stopped," he added. "Our defense did a good job and our pass rush was good at the end."

Hawks buzz on to 'Jackets

Harrison will continue its final playoff run this week in Beverly Hills at Shaw Stadium against Detroit Country Day, another well-established postseason football team.

Country Day (7-2) easily defeated Center Line, 42-6, in its opening playoff game Friday. The last time the teams met was in 2001, with Harrison posting a 42-0 victory.

The Yellowjackets have three state championships to their credit in eight state title game appearances. They own a 52-23 overall playoff record under former head coach Joe D'Angelo and current head coach Dan MacLean.

This marks DCD's 26th playoff appearance — its 12th in the past 13 years. Country Day missed the playoffs last year with a 4-5 mark for its first losing record in 11 seasons.

"Country Day looked real good to me. I watched them last night and they killed Center Line," Herrington said. "They have a lot of good athletes. They don't have much depth, like all of us teams in (Division 4) playing with 25 players or so, it seems like. But they have good players and it's going to be a tough game."

First time in D-4

Prior to this season, Harrison has played postseason football in five different divisions/classes over the years. This year marks the sixth.

Harrison has played and won state championships in Class A, Class B, Class BB, Division 2 and Division 3. This was its first Division 4 playoff game and it came during its last season, as Harrison will close its doors following the current academic year.

Tough-running Brother Rice grinds out 27-14 win

Tim Smith
hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK — MICHIGAN

Livonia Churchill's postseason dreams were snuffed out by Birmingham Brother Rice's relentless ground game, as the visiting Warriors dominated in the second half Friday for a 27-14 victory.

The Division 2 football pre-district contest was deadlocked 7-7 at halftime, but the Warriors scored on each of their first two drives of the second half to open up a 20-7 advantage. The Chargers (7-3) could only muster one more touchdown, on a 12-yard pass from senior quarterback Drew Alsobrooks to senior Joel Forgacs.

"It took its toll in the second half," Churchill head coach Bill DeFillippo said. "A lot of the times, it's because we didn't execute and have any consistency on offense. So we left our defense on the field for quite a while tonight.

"And against a big, physical team like that, letting them stay on the field, you get worn down a little bit in the second half."

Brother Rice (7-3), a strong-running Catholic League powerhouse, was spearheaded by senior running backs James Donaldson (23 carries, 177 yards) and Daniel Jordan, along with the running and throwing of junior quarterback Greg Piscopink (15-of-19 passing, 143 yards, two TDs).

"When we went into halftime, we knew we had to make some adjustments, just to be able to punch another ball in the end zone and take the lead in the game," Piscopink said. "But when we came into the second half, we knew we just had to keep scoring.

"Because if you look at Livonia Churchill's offense for the whole year, they're a team that puts up a lot of points. So we knew even if something fell through with our defense, we just had to keep putting up points."

Donaldson keyed his team's 80-yard, eight-play drive to open up the second half and put the Warriors in front, 13-7. On third-and-six, he blasted through the line for a 13-yard pickup. On the next snap, he took it to the house for a 43-yard TD.

The Warriors made it 20-7 later in the third on a 22-yard touchdown strike from Piscopink to senior receiver DaRon Gilbert (four catches, 54 yards).

"Our O-line is killing it," Donaldson said. "We talked about grinding it out and that's what our O-line is built off of. So you get those guys rolling you get me rolling and get Greg Piscopink our quarterback rolling and it's just tough to stop. We're moving and I couldn't be happier for our guys."

Here are several other takeaways:

TIPPED AND PICKED

Piscopink already had his team up

7-0 and was on the move again early in the second quarter when bad luck struck. His pass near midfield was tipped and then intercepted by his Churchill counterpart, Alsobrooks.

That interception turned the tables and ultimately led to the tying touchdown with 3:15 remaining in the first half.

AVERY ON THE SPOT

Avery Grenier not only had two interceptions in the first half, he retrieved an errant snap on a 21-yard field-goal try by Alsobrooks and ran it in for the equalizer.

The ball bounced right to Grenier and he completed what was called a 4-yard touchdown run.

"Avery had three interceptions, made a couple big catches for us," DeFillippo said. "But he's been doing that for the last two years. He ended up picking up the bad snap and making a good pump fake and getting it in for a touchdown.

"That was huge to keep us in it. Our kids fought hard, I'm proud of them, we just couldn't find much consistency on offense tonight and ended up on the short end to a good team."

CHIPPING IN

Other Brother Rice contributors included junior Patrick O'Hara (nine catches, 77 yards), senior tailback Jordan (4-yard TD run for Warriors' final score of the game) and senior tight end Brendan Holt, with a 10-yard touchdown catch.

NICE TO MEET YOU

The playoff match-up between Brother Rice and Churchill was the first in the long, storied histories of the schools.

HALLOWEEN CAME EARLY

Before the opening kickoff, the Chargers marching band members wore Halloween costumes while they played music to entertain the fans. All told, it was a pretty sweet performance.

ball in my hands, I just ran down the field and scored," Brewer said. "Just the ball came out and it went right in my hands. Just got caught in the moment, really."

Brewer admitted he wasn't looking toward the goal line.

"Just a little bit of dance class I've been doing that kept me in," Brewer said. "I don't have much to say, to be honest. The Lord is with us every day ... we come out here and do the work."

Walker, who may go down as the best running back in Canton history, had 199 yards on 15 carries, along with a 57-yard kickoff return, in the first half alone. He finished the night with 268 yards on 24 attempts and scored all four Canton TDs.

Despite going down 21-7, Walker made amends for his fourth-down fumble with an 81-yard TD run to cut the deficit to 21-14 just 17 seconds later.

But the Shamrocks used back-to-back passes of 10 and 56 yards from Marco Genrich to Nate Anderson to go back up by two scores, 28-14, with 1:19 left when Cole Price, who scored four TDs himself, barreled in from 2 yards out. (On the second reception, Anderson fumbled at the Canton 10, but was able to wrestle the ball back from Canton defender Caden Domzalski to keep possession.)

The Chiefs, who did not utilize their final two timeouts on their final possession of the half, nearly scored again when Walker ripped off a 48-yard run before being forced out of bounds as time expired at the CC 5.

"You go back to one play here, one play there, but that was big momentum one," Canton coach Andy LaFata said of the Brewer scoop and score. "I felt like we never got it back. Right before halftime, we get down there. Didn't expect it to pop like that, but it did, and it popped down to the 5-yard line. (Brewer) made one there from the back side. I don't know how fast that kid is, but he runs Steve Walker down from the other side of the field ... impressive."

It was all CC in the second half.

After deferring on the coin toss to open the game, CC got the ball to start the second half and scored in 10 plays, getting a 5-yard TD pass from Genrich to tight end Mike Harding with 7:54 left in the third quarter.

After CC stuffed Walker again on a fourth-and-one at the Chiefs' 36, CC officially made it a rout with Price scoring his third TD of the game on a 4-yard run with 5:42 to go in the same quarter for a 42-14 advantage.

And with 3:55 to go in the third, Price's 16-yard TD run, set up by Parker Bohland's interception, increased the CC advantage to 49-14.

Walker scored a pair TDs in the final quarter, but it was too little, too late for the Chiefs.

"I played against him when I was younger in little league," Brewer said. "I wanted to seek revenge; just a great player overall."

After CC's Owen Finnerty unloaded for a 61-yard punt down to the Canton 5, the Chiefs drove 95 yards in 10 plays for their first TD as Walker busted up the middle for a 17-yard score with 1:17 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead.

On its second possession, CC got a 4-yard TD run by Cole Price with 9:14 left in the second quarter, followed by a 35-yard TD pass from Genrich to Nate Anderson with 5:41 left in the half.

That was only the start of CC exposing Canton's secondary as Genrich, a senior, connected on 10-of-13 passes for 189 yards.

"We just noticed they weren't playing any safeties and we felt like our receivers were good one-on-one against their corners and it paid off for us," CC coach Dan Anderson said. "Nathan caught it and Marco put the ball on the money."

Walker accounted for much of the Canton offense, which also included a 57-yard kickoff return during the first half.

"He's a heck of a player, we knew that coming in," Anderson said. "We knew we had to try and stop him, but I don't think you can. We didn't see anybody on film that could stop him and, obviously, we didn't stop him. With a team like that that runs that offense, you got to try and get up on them. And so that's what we were trying to do, get up, score two on them and try to maintain the ball as much as we can, keep it out of their hands."

Walker finished his senior year with 2,318 yards rushing with 26 touchdowns. He averaged 231 yards per game.

"So proud of Steve, he battled time and time again," LaFata said. "The whole defense knows he has the ball, everybody is keying on him and he still busted out there. I can't say enough good things. I hope the state recognizes it and sees the talent he's bringing out here and see how special he really is."

Canton ended its season 6-4, while Catholic Central (7-3) travels Friday to face West Bloomfield (8-2) for the district title.

"(CC) made plays all over the field, credit to them," LaFata said. "That's a damn good football team. They got behind us, they're talented and they're tough to cover out there and they had a few of those."

The emergence of Brewer had Dan Anderson beaming afterward.

"He's come into his own and I guess he's no longer a sophomore," the CC coach said. "He's played a whole season. I was very impressed with him on that scoop and score and how he danced down the sideline. That's just incredible, but he's a heck of an athlete and we look forward to big things to come from him."

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
