#FindDani supporters prepare for hearing

Susan Vela Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

Floyd Galloway Jr. was the last person seen with Danielle Stislicki almost three years ago, and some hypothesize his murder charge is a mere formality that will conclude with an adamant guilty verdict.

Like the convicted felon now in the state's custody, they are preparing for an evidentiary hearing that could last an entire week, starting Sept. 9.

They hope the imminent court proceedings answer some of the questions that have swirled throughout southeast Michigan since Stislicki, 28, went missing.

They want to know where her body is, so the Farmington Hills woman can be returned to her family.

They want to know what happened to her and why.

They have cried for Danielle. They have prayed for her and searched for her.

They have posted flyers at local restaurants.

They have followed web sites, Twitter accounts and Facebook pages because the disappearance of Danielle Should Livonia enact food truck regulations?

David Veselenak Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

Could Livonia require food trucks that roll into the city obtain a license to do so? There's talk it could happen.

The city council discussed the possibility of regulating the popular mobile restaurants during an Aug. 28 committee meeting, a discussion that was sparked earlier this year when the owners of the proposed brewery on Seven Mile talked about hosting food trucks in the parking lot.

With food trucks gaining in popularity, some city leaders wanted to see if there was anything needed to be done surrounding their operations when they come to Livonia.

"I believe our ordinances currently call that every business has to be licensed as it is," said Paul Bernier, Livonia's city attorney. "There is nothing special in the ordinance about food trucks. As council knows, this is the new world: food trucks. They're everywhere."

The proposed ordinance written by the law department would require food trucks get licensed on an annual basis in the city for a fee. That would fall in line with other businesses in the city, including ice cream trucks that traverse neighborhood streets selling pre-packaged frozen goodies.

The proposal was written by the law department after it reviewed other Michigan cities with ordinances governing food trucks, including those in Detroit, Grand Rapids and Berkley,

Plymouth Fall Festival has something for everyone

Ed Wright Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

The comforting quality of Plymouth's annual Fall Festival is that there are few surprises. There will be chicken dinners to consume, rides to give children the thrills of their youth, and entertainment galore.

And don't forget to arrive at this year's Fall Festival - scheduled to start Friday at noon and close Sunday at 6 p.m. - with an empty stomach. That way you can enjoy chicken and spaghetti dinners in the evening and as many pancakes as you can manage in the morning.

Here are seven events you'll want to check out at this year's Fall Festival:

Antique and Classic Cars Show

The show continues Saturday and Sunday. Car enthusiasts will receive an opportunity to show off their eye-catching vehicles and cruise down Main Street. Pre-registration and Cruz Night is Friday, the opening night of festivities. The event will be sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Plymouth Fall Festival Arts and Crafts Show

The time slots for the show are Friday, noon to dusk; Saturday, 9 a.m. to dusk; and Sunday, 9 a.m. to dusk. The arts and crafts will be displayed along Main Street between Penniman and Church. To request an application, email craftshow@plymouthfall-festival.com. Include a list of products you will be selling. This is a juried craft show.

Rides and games for the kids

Rides will open 3 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. Tickets are four for $5 with ticket packages available. Rides cost two to four tickets each. On Sunday, $25 ride wristbands will be available.

Longacre celebrates 50 years of fashion shows

Shelby Tankersley Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

Fifty years after the Longacre fashion show fundraiser became an annual tradition, the plaid prints and bell bottom jeans that were all the rage when the first show hit the runway will make a comeback.

The 50th anniversary event, taking place Sept. 26 at Glen Oaks Golf Course, benefits the Longacre House in Farmington Hills. The estate turns 150 this year and is a popular place for weddings, receptions and other special events.

Over the fashion shows' tenure, money raised has gone to improve parts of the house's interior and exterior, most notably its stonewall. The show draws between 350 and 400 people every year and is among Glen Oaks' largest events.

This year, some of the trends people can expect to see models wearing include straight legged pants, bell bottom pants, denim, animal prints, belts, stars, plaid, blazers, faux leather, faux suede and colors like mustard, olive and chocolate.

"I think it's cool that belts are back because we've been having so many years without belts, just the loops by themselves," said Tina Jensen, a co-chair of the event. "I think the fact that people are buying belts and putting belts together with items again is great."

Jensen jokingly said she's surprised to see denim back on the runway.

"I'm surprised at denim being a trend again," she said. "I see some skirts coming out as well as the jeans. I'm very surprised that that's coming back again because most people just consider jeans an everyday thing."

The fashion show's 10 models will sport clothes from Milford's Clothing Cove, and a number of child models will wear clothes of their own during the show.

Diane Bauman, Terri Weems, Valeria Knoll, Nancy Coumoundouros, Karen Blazaitis, Michelle Kacki, Marisa Miller, Ellen Schnackel, Tracy Freeman and Karen Mondora are this year's adult models.

Jensen said the show won't be any different in celebration of Longacre's 150th birthday, but there will be black and gold decor to acknowledge the show turning 50 and plenty of the fashion-forward fun people have grown accustomed to.

"It's a nice kickoff for fall and for everybody to get back together and see their friends after the summer," Jensen said. "Most people are home from their cottages and vacations. Basically, it's kind of a reunion."

To celebrate Longacre's birthday, the City of Farmington Hills is holding two events on Sept. 21. A Victorian garden party will be held in the early afternoon and a Roaring '20s "All That Jazz" party will take place in the evening.

As for the fashion show, tickets are $45 and will include the show along with lunch and dessert. Door prizes and raffles will also be available the day of. Tickets can be purchased at the Longacre House or via phone by calling 248-477-8404. Tickets purchased by phone can be picked up before or at the event.

Judge: Farmington Hills council member will stay off ballot

Shelby Tankersley Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

A judge decided Aug. 29 that Farmington Hills Councilwoman Theresa Rich will not appear on the November ballot as a candidate for city council.

Rich filed a lawsuit against the city of Farmington Hills, Farmington Hills Clerk Pam Smith and Oakland County Clerk Lisa Brown on Aug. 20 with the Oakland County Circuit Court in an attempt to reverse the decision that knocked her off the ballot.

The councilwoman, while filing to run for her second term, listed "City" as her office sought instead of "City Council Member" on her affidavit of identity.

Smith, who was given the choice to either keep or disqualify Rich from the ballot, sent Rich a letter Aug. 13 informing her she would not be on the ballot because of the mistake.

After a few days of consideration, the councilwoman filed her lawsuit.

Judge Michael Warren with the Oakland County Circuit Court said in his written opinion on the case that: "Simply put, (city) is not an office. As such, the Affidavit of Identity was defective and this court has no authority to overlook its deficiency and order the Plaintiff onto the ballot."

In court, Rich's lawyer, Terry Johnson, argued the clerk had no legal right to de-certify Rich's affidavit after certifying it. Johnson argued Michigan election laws do not address this issue.

Steven Joppich, Farmington Hills' attorney who was representing Smith, acknowledged that Rich's situation is not clear-cut or ideal. But, he said Smith has to look at the facts while doing her job.

"She can't have heartstrings, so to speak," Joppich said.

Warren also dismissed Rich's suggestion that if she was removed from the ballot, council candidates Mayor Kenneth Massey and T.R. Carr should be as well. Massey and Carr both made clerical errors on their affidavits relating to address and precincts.

At the council's meeting Aug. 26, 15 people spoke in support of Rich.

"My voting rights are being denied," said resident Nomi Joyrich. "Ms. Rich made her intentions extremely clear and hundreds of voters indicated that they would like to see her name on the ballot."

A few elected officials came in support of Rich as well.

"I think it is an injustice to not allow her to have that opportunity to be on the ballot for the people of the community to vote her back into the city council or to maybe not. But that's the democratic process," said John Paul Torres, the vice president of the Waterford School District Board of Education.

Rich has previously said she plans to continue as a write-in candidate.

Hearing

Stislicki has gouged a hole in their hearts that is somewhat filled by their sense of community.

"She just loved life and she was such a sparkle in everybody's world," said Lt. Sarah Krebs of the Michigan State Police and Missing in Michigan non-profit group. "It's just one of those cases our community has really gotten behind."

"I just want to see answers. We all hold out hope he's going to shed some light on what really happened to her and where she's at."

Galloway, 32, is in state prison because he pleaded guilty to assaulting a female runner with the intention of sexually assaulting her a few months before Stislicki's disappearance.

Just recently he was charged with Danielle's premeditated murder; she was last seen Dec. 2, 2016.

Attorneys preparing to face off in a Farmington Hills 47th District courtroom declined to comment for this story.

The same goes for Stislicki's family members and close friends.

Yet, as they have from the start, those keeping Stislicki's memory alive have taken to social media.

Visitors to the "Find Danielle Stislicki" Facebook page will find posts with the following hashtags: #JusticeForDani, #DanisArmy, #FindDani, #BringDaniHome, #LightTheWayForDani, #WeWillNotStop, #DaniRocks, #FindTheMissing, #Truth, and #Hope.

Danielle Stislicki, of Farmington Hills, has been missing since Dec. 2, 2016.

FILE

They'll see testaments of support for Stislicki's family and find proof that Michigan businesses kept "Find Dani" posters in their windows.

Tina Marie McCallum has visited the site to offer support. She's more likely to trust her gut instincts, check surroundings and carry pepper spray after following the search for Stislicki and the investigation tightening around Galloway.

"Don't ignore that bad feeling," she said. "I do feel that there needs to be justice."

"Citizens are safer with someone like him off the street."

The Troy resident wants Stislicki's body found so the family can give their loved one a proper burial.

Elizabeth Rose Newton also wants some closure for the Stislicki family.

Her sister was married to Galloway for years before his legal troubles led to a divorce.

"He was lovable," the Waterford Township woman said. "He was part of the family. Everyone just really liked him. He was nice and very gentle. ..."

"It's weird. I can't dismiss the good memories."

She plans on being in the courtroom for both Stislicki's family and her own.

Newton said she often thinks about the woman whose disappearance upended her family relationships.

"How can I not (think about her)?" Newton asked.

Police say Stislicki disappeared after leaving work Dec. 2, 2016, at the Met Life office in Southfield.

Her 2015 Jeep Renegade was found the next day outside her apartment building in Farmington Hills. Her body was not.

Hundreds turned out for vigils intended to keep her memory alive.

Stislicki grew up in Redford and graduated from Redford Union High School. She was acquainted with Galloway because he had been a security guard at her place of employment.

Investigators spoke to Galloway and went through his Berkley residence.

Time passed. Then, in June 2017, they charged him with trying to sexually assault a runner in Hines Park in Livonia the previous September, a few months before Stislicki's disappearance.

He pleaded guilty to the assault and a state prison became his official home in December 2017.

Holidays passed without Danielle ... and without charges.

State Attorney General Dana Nessel broke through the tragic sameness in March.

Galloway faces one charge of first-degree premeditated murder.

If convicted, he could spend the rest of his life behind bars without the chance for parole.

"Two years is a very long time to wait for this," Nessel said during the press conference where Stislicki's family was present. "We are going to be prosecuting your daughter's killer, and we will not rest until she gets the justice she deserves."

Regulations

said Leo Neville, an assistant city attorney.

But several council members were unsure if such an ordinance was necessary. Council Vice President Jim Jolly said he wasn't opposed to requiring the trucks to hold licenses, but the city doesn't see a lot of them coming in now and wasn't sure if adding additional steps was a good idea.

"We don't see a whole flock of food trucks here now. And maybe we want to see them," he said. "We might want to be careful in terms of like how many separate approvals we're requiring right off the bat."

It also would require some regulation if food trucks wanted to set up in one of the city's parks, requiring permission of the superintendent of parks and recreation. That would prevent the city's parks from becoming outdoor food courts.

"We don't want to see Rotary Park all of a sudden lined up with four food trucks," Bernier said.

Kritzman said he was OK with reviewing some ideas that would regulate how trucks are used on city property, but feared the discussion would keep the city out of this national phenomenon that happens in other communities across the country.

"I feel like this is over-legislating a fairly simple thing," Kritzman said. "I'm concerned that we're going to over-complicate the daylights out of this and find ourselves investing $500 worth of internal time in every one of these instances to check on a $15 license."

Special events, such as the Spree or the Michigan Funfest at St. Mary's Orthodox Church, typically have food trucks, but those go through proper approvals already.

No decision was made by the council during its committee meeting. Council members will continue to review the proposed ordinance and make decisions in the future about what, if anything they would like to see happen.

Red Cross backs out of blood drive at gun shop

David Veselenak Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

The owner of a prominent gun shop in New Hudson says the plans he made the last few months for a blood drive have been dropped by the Red Cross.

Ed Swadish, who owns Huron Valley Guns at 56477 Grand River, said he had been planning for a Labor Day weekend blood drive to take place in his shop since the middle of summer.

He got in touch with the Red Cross, whom he said agreed initially to do it, and began planning.

Last week, though, he said the organization withdrew from the blood drive, leaving those planning to donate blood hanging.

"It is kind of insulting," he said. "I don't know what to think."

Swadish said it was the first time his shop had ever put on such an event, though his business is more than just guns. Huron Valley Guns, which opened in 2017, also has a restaurant and a barber shop on site.

After not getting enough signups by mid-August, Swadish decided to sweeten the pot by including a raffle for a Glock 19 firearm for those who signed up, something he said the Red Cross originally helped with reservations. Then a few days later, he was told to cancel the raffle.

Then, he said the organization in-

The Red Cross canceled a blood drive set for Labor Day weekend at Huron Valley Guns, citing policies that do not allow the presence of firearms during a drive. JOHN HEIDER/HOMETOWNLIFE.COM formed him they would not hold the drive inside the shop because of the presence of firearms, but would set up shop in the parking lot. That issue frustrated Swadish, but he agreed as well.

"The lady came back yesterday morning and said, 'We can't do the drive inside of the gun store because of all the guns,'" he said. "That was a little insulting. I said, 'Fine, go ahead, get the bus.'"

Swadish said he then received a call from the Red Cross, saying they had to cancel altogether. He said it wasn't fair to those who had signed up to give blood over a holiday weekend.

Red Cross responds

In a statement sent to Hometown Life, Todd Kulman, communications manager for the Southeastern Michigan Blood Services Region for the Red Cross, said he was appreciative of the intent behind the blood drive, but the organization's policies do not allow for firearms to be present during their drives.

"The Red Cross is committed to maintaining a weapons-free environment in which our employees and volunteers safely and securely conduct Red Cross business and fulfill its humanitarian mission," he said. "Red Cross policy prohibits staff, donors or partners from possessing, transferring, storing, selling or using weapons of any type, whether openly or concealed, at any Red Cross facility regardless of whether or not the individual or organization has a federal or state license or permit to possess the weapon."

Kulman said nothing prohibited the blood drive from taking place outside the store, so long as there were not any firearms in the area. He said logistical issues made it difficult to move forward with the drive and the organization opted to cancel it.

"We did not effectively communicate our policy to the blood drive sponsor, and as we began preparations to hold the drive we faced a number of logistical and promotional challenges that ultimately made it infeasible to move forward," he said. "We are committed to improving this process as we organize drives in the future."

Moving forward, Swadish said he hopes to have another organization come in later this fall and do a blood drive then.

"(It's) short notice to pull the plug," he said. "I feel bad."

How to deal with a 529 education plan, estranged family

Money Matters

Rick Bloom
Guest columnist

Dear Rick:

I have a problem I hope you can help me with. I'm a widow; my husband died a few years ago. My husband and I were married for over 30 years. We had no children; however, my husband had a daughter from a previous relationship who lived with us. Eventually she got married and had a child, and at that time we set up an education fund for the child through the Michigan Education Savings Plan.

Ever since my husband passed, I have had major issues with my stepdaughter, particularly about the estate. She took me to court and lost, and since then she has refused to allow me to see my grandchild. I even consulted with an attorney to see what rights I had, if any.

The bottom line is, I've decided to cut all ties with that side of the family. My question is what, if anything, can I do with the education fund that I've established for my grandson? Since I no longer have a relationship with him, I see no reason why he should have the money for college. Therefore, what options do I have?

Thank you, Joanne

Dear Joanne:

You do have a number of different options with regards to your Michigan Education Savings Plan. The first option is to change the beneficiary. According to the rules, an account owner of a 529 Plan can change the beneficiary at any time without tax consequences when the new beneficiary is a family member of the current beneficiary.

The definition of a family member is very broad, and not only includes the beneficiary's blood relatives, but also relatives by marriage and adoption. I mention this option, although I do not believe it will apply to you based upon the information you provided me with.

Another option is to leave the money within the 529 Plan with the idea that if your relationship with your grandchild changes in the future, the money will be there to assist in his future education needs, such as if decides to go to grad school or for continuing education purposes.

The third option is to terminate your Michigan Education Savings Plan and take a distribution on the money. By doing this there would be a tax consequence to you, including a potential penalty. The way the law works is that if you decided to close the account, it would be considered a non-qualified withdrawal. What that would mean would be that you would pay taxes at your ordinary income bracket of the earnings portion of the distribution and in addition, you would be subject to a 10 percent withdrawal penalty.

For example, if you're original contribution to the Michigan Education Savings Plan was $10,000 and today the account is worth $14,000, if you took a withdrawal, your tax would be based upon the $4,000 gain that you have. The $4,000 would be taxed at your ordinary income bracket and then there would be a potential 10 percent penalty on the $4,000. The 10 percent penalty is waived if the beneficiary of the 529 Plan attended a U.S. Military Academy, receives a tax-free scholarship, dies or becomes disabled.

In the situation at hand, depending upon the earnings portion of your account and your tax situation, you may consider closing out the 529 Plan half this year and half next year. In this way you could spread the tax consequences out over two years.

Unfortunately, situations such as the aforementioned are not unusual and they do happen. We all know that family dynamics can be difficult, and emotions always run high. That is why when a situation involves families, I always tell people they need to take a step back and make decisions based with a clear mind. You don't want to let emotions dictate your decision.

Just like when it comes to investing, I always remind investors that if you let fear and greed dictate your decisions, you generally will make the wrong decision. It is the same thing when it comes to family dynamics - you need a clear mind to make the most appropriate decision.

Good luck!

Rev. James Evan Roseland

LIVONIA - James (Jim) Roseland, age 71, departed in peace on August 24, 2019 at Karmanos Cancer Center in Detroit, MI. Jim was born in Elmwood Park, Illinois on January 14, 1948 to Jack E. and Carol (Cross) Roseland and grew up on the southwest side of Chicago. His childhood aspiration was to be a bus driver; collecting toy buses and cars remained a passion throughout his life. During high school, Jim worked at WBEZ-FM, then the radio station of the Chicago Public Schools, and produced a classical music program for children, which sparked a lifelong interest in all things related to radio, as well as an enduring commitment to assembling an extensive library of both classical and rock 'n' roll music. He graduated from Gage Park High School in 1966 and went on to Concordia University, River Forest, IL, studying speech and drama, while also fulfilling his dream of driving a bus for the Chicago Transit Authority each summer.

After graduating from college and teaching in a Lutheran elementary school, Jim decided to return to bus driving for United Motor Coach Co. in the northwest Chicago suburbs. It was in his daily encounters with passengers and in listening to their stories that he found a calling to the ministry and entered Trinity Lutheran Seminary in Columbus, OH. During his final year of seminary, in 1976-1977, he served an internship at University Lutheran Church, East Lansing, MI, where he met Carole Williams, a medical student, who would later become his wife. In 1977, Jim earned his Master of Divinity with honors, provided summer coverage for First Evangelical Lutheran Church in Muskegon, MI, and was ordained as a pastor and called to St. Paul Lutheran Church in Villa Park, IL. Jim and Carole were married on July 5, 1980. Jim went on to serve Redeemer Lutheran Church in Oak Forest, IL, as well as First Lutheran Church in Rugby, ND. He returned to Michigan in 1986 and was a youth pastor at University Lutheran Church in East Lansing. He also served in interim Michigan pastoral assignments in Jackson and Charlotte, a mission project in Chesaning, as well as a pastoral position at Calvary Lutheran Church in Lansing. As a part-time job in Lansing, he also enjoyed helping customers find what they needed at Harmony House Records.

In 1989, his daughter, Molly, was born. His wife's work as a radiologist brought the Roseland family to Livonia, MI, in 1994. It was at this time that Jim discovered a new calling: ministry to his family with the upbringing and enjoyment of his daughter, the love and support of his busy wife and the management of their household. While leaving the formal clergy roster, he never left his service to God. He also continued his pursuits of extensive collecting, writing, keeping current on news and politics, all while generating smiles on the faces of everyone he met.

Jim was an astute grammarian and a master of words. He enjoyed preaching to both children and adults and tried not to bore people with long sermons, making a few good points linked with a relevant personal story. He had a generous heart, a listening ear, a wry sense of humor and the ability to make anyone laugh. He looked out for everyone and was always concerned about how his actions affected others. He was a true lover of animals, particularly cats, as well as a few dogs, upon which he lavished constant attention and food, never leaving them home alone for long. He looked for the unique in everything he encountered and collected it. In recent times, he also faced illness with amazing strength, optimism and courage, despite many serious setbacks. Most of all, he loved his family and friends. He will be sorely missed.

Jim is survived by his wife, Dr. Carole Williams Roseland, his daughter, Dr. Molly Roseland and son-in-law, Dr. Michael Huarng of Northville, MI, as well as a sister, Janet Abriam, of Plymouth, IN.

Visitation was held at the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home, Livonia, MI, and funeral services was held at Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington Hills, MI, Pastor Sean Myers presided, followed by burial at Parkview Memorial Cemetery in Livonia, MI.

In lieu of flowers, remember Jim with a donation of blood or platelets to the Red Cross or funds to the MDS Foundation, your local Humane Society, Forgotten Harvest or Gleaners. If you are able, also consider joining the National Bone Marrow Registry through Be the Match.

Please share a memory of Jim at www.rggrharris.com.

Catholic Central holds off King in opener

Colin Gay Hometownlife.com
 USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

Before the season started, senior offensive and defensive lineman Steven Kolcheff was aware of the tall tasks Detroit Catholic Central had in front of it. He said the schedule was built with the intention of keeping up the notion that it was known as a Michigan high school football "powerhouse."

That process started Saturday afternoon.

After scoring 24 unanswered points in the first half, Catholic Central was able to fend off the second-half surge of Detroit King, the reigning Division 3 state champions, securing the season-opening 24-22 victory against the Crusaders at the Xenith Prep Kickoff Classic at Wayne State University.

"I think our kids did a great job," Catholic Central head coach Dan Anderson said. "They rose to the occasion. You are playing an excellent team over there, athletes all over the place."

Holding a 24-20 lead late in the fourth quarter, Catholic Central muffed a snap on a punt, which landed out of the end zone for a King safety.

Trailing by two points with possession, King quarterback Dante Moore threw an interception, his first of the day, to running back/linebacker Cole Perfect weather, packed bleachers, cheerleaders and the marching band set up a great scene for Thursday night's season opener between Novi and Livonia Stevenson, two teams that are primed to improve upon dreadful 2018 seasons.

Stevenson has now equaled its win total from a year ago, starting the season with a 24-18 victory over Novi at Stevenson High School.

Both squads focused on their rushing attack, but it was the Spartans that came away with more big plays, led by junior running back Caden Woodall.

"It feels great," Stevenson coach Randy Micallef said. "The kids have worked so hard and after last year, the season we had, the group of kids were dedicated all off-season and this summer."

"To have all their hard work pay off, they persevered and the outcome was great."

GAME OF THE WEEK

Northville vs. Canton tops list of six to watch

Andrew Vaillencourt
Hometownlife.com
 USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

An exciting Week 1 has us ready for Week 2 of the high school football season.

After Labor Day altered the traditional game day from Friday to Thursday, we are now back on a regular football Friday schedule. Here is our Hometown Life game of the week and five more games to watch:

Northville vs. Canton:
 Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

It was a rough start to the season for Canton, which lost to Dearborn 21-6. It was a game between two playoff teams that are positioned in a similar tier and the loss serves as a big blow to Canton's division title hopes.

Now, the Chiefs will need to rebound and pick up a win against division foe Northville, and will have the challenge of taking on the Mustangs on the road.

Northville's week one game couldn't have gone much better, picking up a 15-0 shutout against John Glenn. It's a nice start to the year for Northville, which is positioned to improve on the three wins it earned last season. A win over an establish conference power like Canton would be monumental for the Mustangs, who have a very winnable next three games against Howell, Hartland and Salem.

Canton quarterback Ben Stesiak and Northville quarterback Nick Lauderdale will be players to watch.

Here are five other games to watch in Week 2:

Groves vs. West Bloomfield:
 Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

West Bloomfield is one of the premier teams in the state, entering the season as the Detroit Free Press' No. 1 team in the state, and opened up the year with a 21-14 win over a strong Oak Park team.

It's a monumental task for Groves, which came away with a great win of its own against Grosse Pointe South.

This will be a big showdown, and it's a game where Groves can prove itself as a state title contender.

Stevenson vs. John Glenn:
 Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

The Spartans picked up a huge week one win at home against Novi,

Price, securing the victory for the Shamrocks.

From the first play of the game, the Catholic Central defense continued to make a name for itself.

King wide receiver Peny Boone fumbled a lateral, giving the Shamrocks possession at the Crusaders' 27-yard line. Helped by a 21-yard pass from quarterback Jack Beno to Sam Dersa, Catholic Central struck first with a 5-yard touchdown run by senior running back/linebacker Brendin Yatooma.

Yatooma was Catholic Central head coach Dan Anderson's go-to guy in the red zone in the first half, scoring on a 1-yard rush in the next drive.

Holding a 24-0 lead late in the second quarter after a 3-yard touchdown run by Price, King regained some momentum, returning a kickoff 95 yards for the Crusaders' first score of the game. Moore added a touchdown pass heading into halftime to cut the Shamrocks' lead to 24-14.

That momentum continued into the second half for the Crusaders, as Moore threw a 20-yard touchdown pass to Rashawn Williams to cut the Shamrocks' lead to one possession.

Here are three takeaways from Catholic Central's season-opening win.

Momentum shifts define game

The Shamrocks outscored King 24-0 until the final moments of the second quarter, recording 243 yards of offense compared to the Crusaders' 60.

"We came out of the gate fast, which is interesting because this team, at times, practices are a slow start for them," Anderson said. "But they came out and they were rolling right away."

Anderson credits the two takeaways in King's first two possessions of the game — linebacker Mo Jaffer's fumble recovery on the first play and defensive lineman Zach Rood's interception on the Crusaders' second drive — as early being momentum shifts.

However, when the King offense began to click in the second half, Catholic Central did not waver. To Kolcheff, this was a major message in the week leading up to the game.

"We realize there are going to be ups and downs," Kolcheff said. "We just said don't ride the roller coaster, we have to stay steady, keep going."

Even when the muffed punt seemingly shifted momentum back to King, Price said Catholic Central kept its cool. "The adversity was very high," he said "We just had to come out there and be as a team and make a huge play."

Price said, on the first play from the line of scrimmage after the safety, he knew Moore favored Williams in the passing game and saw the quarterback open up to throw to him. Price ran to pluck the ball out of thin air, securing Catholic Central's fifth win against King in school history.

Running game remains key

In what has proven to be a Catholic Central staple during Anderson's tenure, the running game was a constant.

Price was the featured back, leading the team with 16 carries and 62 yards on the ground, scoring once for the Shamrocks. Yatooma was the short-yardage back for Anderson, and was featured exclusively on the final offensive drive of the game to secure the victory.

Price said this is the bread and butter offensive approach for Catholic Central. But he said the Shamrocks had to open up the passing game a bit for the running game to be successful later.

Beno added 58 yards on the ground, completing 6-of-13 through the air for 164 yards. He also threw two second-half interceptions.

Moving forward with confidence

Anderson keeps a grounded idea about his team moving forward.

"If you really look at us, we are green and we are young," Anderson said. "We have talked about adversity since Day 1. You have to fight through adversity. There are going to be peaks and valleys."

He said Catholic Central has a lot of work to do and that many mistakes were made against King. But he said it's also better to fix mistakes after wins than losses.

That's the mentality Yatooma is keeping. It's just the season opener, it's just starting everything off. But he said it's a good place to start.

"We got to keep this momentum," Yatooma said. "We just have to make sure we go out there and do the same thing that we just did out there this game."

Catholic Central will next face Whitmer on Sept. 6.

Stevenson

Stevenson goes to 1-0, and Novi falls to 0-1.

"It's a tough one," Novi coach Jeff Burnside said. "We have a very young team and we made some young team mistakes, but we're going to get better. ... We corrected some things in the second half, there was marked improvement from the first half to the second half, we just have to do little things better."

Here are three takeaways from the game:

Woodall shines in spotlight

It was the Woodall show Thursday night. He dominated the Novi defense, torching the Wildcats for 216 yards and three touchdowns on 17 carries. He added two catches for 20 yards as well.

It was exactly the kind of game Woodall has been waiting for. He suffered major injuries in both his freshman and sophomore campaign.

"I've been waiting a long time for this," Woodall said. "I broke my ankle my freshman year and broke my arm last year. I'd like to thank my line first, they did a hell of a job tonight. I'm just trying to run hard. ... I play fast and play hard, my dad's been teaching me that since I was in third grade."

He ran for 173 yards and two touchdowns in the first half and simply looked bigger and stronger than anyone who opposed him. The 6-foot-1, 210-pound tailback figures to be a key force for the Spartans all season long.

"He's just scratching the surface with his ability," Micallef said. "He was really set to have a breakout year last season as a sophomore, so he's one that's really hungry and works extremely hard. He's a tough runner, an old-school I-back runner where he gets downfield and has the wheels that when he gets outside, he can run away from people."

Several football players make contact in a near-goal-line situation as Novi quarterback Josh Erno, left, tries to gain some yardage against Stevenson.

Stevenson should have a solid backfield all year long with Woodall and senior Evan Beck, who ran for 75 yards on seven carries. Junior Ray Kastl got the start at quarterback and went 6-for-12 passing for 36 yards.

"Woodall is a load, our kids had never seen a kid like that in any scrimmage of thing we've done," Burnside said. "He's strong."

Spartans capitalize on Novi miscues

The Spartans had plenty of mistakes of their own, but they also took advantage of the Wildcats' miscues. In the first half, Novi quarterback Josh Erno fumbled in the red zone and Stevenson recovered. A few plays later, Woodall ran 65 yards down the field for a score.

With one minute left in the second quarter, the Spartans stopped the Wildcats and forced a punt that gave Stevenson great field position. A pass interference call on Novi then set up a 43-yard field goal, which was made by senior Ethan Hamm. That gave Stevenson a 17-6 lead at halftime.

Despite scoring three touchdowns, Novi failed twice on two-point conversions and then had an extra-point blocked in the fourth quarter. Those missed points proved to be important.

"It's extremely big, especially in the first game," Micallef said. "We talked to our kids about turnovers, blocking and tackling and special teams are going to win the first game and it held true today. ... Those little details that you work in practice that the kids sometimes get sick of hearing about, but it pays off."

Novi doesn't go quietly

Novi wasn't going to just go away quietly.

The Wildcats stuck to their game plan, pounding the rock with their option offense, despite being down in the fourth quarter. That led to a one-yard touchdown by Malik McGhee with six minutes left in the game.

The defense then came up big, shutting down Stevenson's offense with around three minutes to go. Novi got the ball on its own end of the field and began marching into Stevenson territory. It wasn't looking good for the Spartans until a pair of sacks spoiled the drive, securing the win.

"We rotated a lot of guys in because playing these guys with what they do on the ground it was going to be difficult," Micallef said. "Jeff does a great job teaching them... his quarterback is a very good runner and reads things well. ... We were able to make some plays there in that last drive because I think we were a little bit fresher than their guys up front."

Senior defensive lineman Anel Mujovic led Stevenson's defense with nine tackles. Junior Gavin Parenti led Novi's defense with nine tackles as well.

Erno led the Novi offense with 130 yards and a touchdown on 21 carries. He only threw the ball four times, completing two passes for 24 yards. Alex Vargas scored Novi's other touchdown and ran seven times for 22 yards.

"These kids will not quit," Burnside said. "They got the ball moving, just unfortunately when they pin their ears back and you have to throw, it gets difficult for us, which is why we continued to run the option down the field."

defeating the Wildcats 24-18. They relied heavily on a powerful running game, which was led by junior Caden Woodall. He ran for 216 yards and three touchdowns and figures to continue getting a large number of carries as long as he stays healthy.

This is a winnable game for Stevenson, which could double its win total from 2018 with a victory.

John Glenn has a tough first game, losing to Northville via a shutout. The Rockets need a win to keep their playoff hopes alive, especially given how tough their schedule is the rest of the way.

South Lyon East vs. Walled Lake Western: Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

It was an extremely tough loss for South Lyon East in week one, falling to Waterford Mott 7-6. Entering the year after winning its first playoff game in school history, the Cougars will be hungry to get back on track.

The only problem is that Walled Lake Western is a force to be reckon with. Building off a strong finish in 2018, which included a playoff win over undefeated South Lyon, Western is a threat to win the entire LVC.

It started off the year with a resounding win over Lakeland, which was delayed due to weather.

Dearborn vs. Franklin: Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

This could sneakily end up as the best game of the week. Franklin's offense was explosive as we've come to expect, dominating Howell, while Dearborn knocked off Canton.

Both teams have playoff expectations and play in the very difficult KLAA East. Can a solid Dearborn defense shut down Franklin quarterback Jake Kelbert? We'll find out.

South Lyon vs. Trenton: Sept. 6 at 7 p.m.

South Lyon crushed Walled Lake Central 46-0 on Thursday and will nice face a much more challenging foe in Trenton.

Trenton picked up a blowout win in week one as well and is coming off a 7-4 season. The non-conference matchup should provide a strong test for the Lions, who are seeking another perfect regular season. This won't be easy, though, and we expect it will be a competitive game.

Brighton loses standout LB in win over Churchill

Bill Khan Livingston Daily
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

After months of training and the building excitement, it's a cruel twist of fate for a player's hopes and dreams to be wiped out before halftime of Week 1.

Brighton senior Zach Pardonnet will have to watch from the sidelines as his teammates continue without him, with a renewed mission to play every down like it could be their last.

Because, for Pardonnet, a simple running play by Livonia Churchill in the second quarter of the Bulldogs' 21-7 victory Friday night was likely his final play in a Brighton uniform.

Churchill running back Davieon Pitchford ran the ball around the left side when Pardonnet sprinted toward him from his middle linebacker position, spun in the air after making contact and sustained a knee injury when his right leg landed wrong on the turf with 2:43 left in the first half.

He sat on a bench behind the Brighton sideline during the second half, his right leg immobilized in a brace.

"He's the heart and soul of this team, but we're going to keep playing for him," senior safety Ian Hummel said. "Everyone was down, but we kept pushing and overcame it."

Pardonnet is a third-year starter and first-team all-county selection whose night started out on a high note with his first career touchdown. The plan was to play him more at running back this season, and he scored on a 3-yard run on his first carry to open the scoring with 4:09 left in the first quarter.

"We just wanted to play for him, get the win for him," senior quarterback Colby Newburg said. "It's his senior season. We're going to play it for him, I guess. We're just trying to support him as much as we can. It's very tough. He's a really tough kid. It's hard watching it."

Pardonnet's touchdown, which came after a fumble recovery by Hummel at Churchill's 26-yard line, gave Brighton a 7-0 lead that it held until Shane Morelli hauled in a 34-yard touchdown pass from Gavin Brooks with 6:00 left in the third quarter.

Brighton put together back-to-back scoring drives to get the victory. A 7-yard run by Nicholas Nemecek with Jordan Garcia, left, and Joshua Brown, right, take down Brighton QB Colby Newburg on Aug. 29. Brighton won, 21-7.

TIMOTHY ARRICK/FOR THE LIVINGSTON DAILY

10:58 left in the fourth quarter capped a nine-play, 84-yard drive. Newburg's 1-yard run with 5:52 left gave the Bulldogs a cushion.

Churchill kept battling, getting inside Brighton's 20-yard line twice in the final five minutes.

After getting a pass interference penalty, Hummel broke up a fourth-and-goal pass from the 9-yard line with 4:16 left. He broke up another pass from the 17 on the next drive. A sack by Cole Riddle on third down and a pass breakup by sophomore Carson Billig on fourth down with 12.7 seconds left ended the Chargers' comeback hopes.

"We just didn't execute the way we wanted to," Churchill coach Bill DeFillippo said. "Brighton's a good team; they're the defending West Division champions. So, I'm really proud of our kids' effort, the way they performed. Down the road, we'll start making some of those plays."

Both teams used first-time starters at quarterback.

Newburg ran 12 times for 123 yards and a touchdown, while going 7-for-18 for 71 yards through the air.

Brooks was 9-for-23 for 123 yards and a touchdown for Churchill, completing six straight passes at one point, but throwing incompletions on his final eight.

Nemecek ran 28 times for 124 yards and a touchdown.

"The first game out of the chute, you expect some bumps and dips in the road, and that's kind of what it is," Brighton coach Brian Lemons said. "Getting a lot of guys acclimated to varsity speed and varsity game plans. That's what I expected; that's what we saw. Defensively, it's easier to line up and get things going. We did a good job."

Hometown Life-area top 10: Week 2

Colin Gay Hometownlife.com
USA TODAY NETWORK - MICHIGAN

Week 1 of the high school football season is complete, and Hometown Life Sports is back with its weekly top-10 teams in the area.

Each week, we rank the top 10 teams in our coverage area based on record, strength of schedule, experience and of course, the game results.

The ranking will be decided on by our two sports reporters: Andrew Vaillencourt and Colin Gay.

Here is the top 10 for Week 2:

1. Detroit Catholic Central (1-0, Last week: No. 4)

Coming into a very difficult matchup against Detroit King, Catholic Central looked fired up, putting up 24 points in the first half against the reigning Division 3 state champions.

Despite allowing 22 points and coming close to losing to the Crusaders, the Shamrocks have proven that they belong at the top and have high expectations moving forward.

2. South Lyon (1-0, Last week: No. 1)

Coming off an undefeated season and the No. 1 team heading into Week 1, the Lions showed what they could be against Walled Lake Central, blowing out the Vikings, 46-0, on Aug. 29.

Trenton may be slightly more difficult for South Lyon, but with an offense clicking with senior quarterback Connor Fracassi at the helm, expectations remain extremely high moving into Week 2.

3. Birmingham Groves (1-0, Last week: No. 2)

With key performances from safety and slot back Ralph Donaldson and running back and linebacker Colby Taylor, Groves looked like it was playing in mid-season form at the Xenith Prep Kickoff Classic, defeating Grosse Pointe South 34-21 in Week 1. Things do not get easier for Brendan Flaherty's team in Week 2, facing a matchup with West Bloomfield on the road.

4. Livonia Franklin (1-0, Last week: No. 3)

Franklin senior quarterback Jake Kelbert looked extremely comfortable in his first game of the 2019 season, completing 10-of-15 passes for 152 yards, recording 76 rushing yards and combining for four scores. And while the Patriots continued its recent domination of Howell, Franklin will have the task of facing a Dearborn team that defeated Canton in Week 1.

5. Brother Rice (1-0, Last week: No. 6)

In a hard-fought defensive battle, the Brother Rice front came out with a shut-out, defeating Utica Eisenhower 7-0 in the Xenia Prep Kickoff Classic. After the ending of the 2018 season, allowing 38 points to Birmingham Groves in the second round of the playoffs, the defense is already showing signs of improvement in 2019.

6. Seaholm (1-0, Last week: No. 7)

With a run-first offensive approach and a stout front four on the defensive line, Seaholm pounded Ferndale with a 41-6 win, putting constant pressure on the Eagles and taking advantage of their many mistakes. The Maples left extremely confident moving forward, and will try and continue that momentum on the road against Stoney Creek.

7. Farmington (1-0, Last week: No. 8)

With a lot of attention on North Farmington, after inheriting the coaching staff at Farmington Hills Harrison, the Falcons continued its momentum from this past season into 2019, defeating Detroit Ford 33-6 in the season opener. Former Harrison quarterback Max Martin and running back Keion Shaw will try and continue this success into Week 2 against Royal Oak.

8. Plymouth (1-0, Last week: No. 9)

Plymouth got off to a fast start in the first game of the season. The Wildcats scored 35 first-half points and allowed only 64 yards of offense in their season-opening 43-0 win against Wayne Memorial. Led by Ray Barber and Mike Mathias offensively, Plymouth has the opportunity to make a statement if it can continue its early-season dominance against Howell.

9. Canton (0-1, Last week: No. 5)

Coming into the season with high expectations, being picked as the pre-season favorite to win the KLAA West, Canton had a wake-up call in its first game of the season against Dearborn, losing to the Pioneers 21-6 in the season opener. Quarterback Ben Stesiak, whose offense mustered only six points against Dearborn, less than any point total from last season, will have to get his team back on the right track against Northville.

10. Stevenson (1-0, Last week: N/A)

Despite facing Novi, who struggled mightily in the opening game of the season, Stevenson used junior running back Caden Woodall to run all over the Wildcats. With an offensive star to build around, expectations should be higher for the Spartans heading into Week 2.

The Hometown Life sports (HTL sports) area consists of 28 teams representing Catholic League (Novi Detroit Catholic Central, Bloomfield Hills Brother Rice, Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook Kingswood), Independent (Detroit Country Day), the Oakland Activities Association (Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham Groves, Birmingham Seaholm, Farmington, North Farmington), the Western Wayne Athletic Conference (Garden City, Redford Thurston, Redford Union), the MIAC (Livonia Clarenceville, Lutheran Westland), the Kensington Lakes Activities Association (Canton, Livonia Stevenson, Salem, Novi, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin, Plymouth, Northville, Westland John Glenn, Wayne Memorial) and the Lakes Valley Conference (White Lake Lakeland, South Lyon East, South Lyon, Milford).

Renewal by Andersen
WINDOW REPLACEMENT an Andersen Company

SOME CHANGES ARE HARD, BUT AT LEAST WE MAKE REPLACING YOUR WINDOWS EASY.

The most hassle-free home improvement project you'll ever have. You won't have to deal with a manufacturer or chase down an installer. We manage the entire process—from building to installation to the warranty—on our windows and patio doors.

Andersen is the window that every homeowner wants. Renewal by Andersen is the full-service replacement window division of Andersen, and our window is engineered to help save you money on your energy bills and make your home more comfortable.

41,504 other Detroit area homeowners have trusted us. That means we understand the window and patio door problems in this area. And our installers are true craftsmen who will completely and thoroughly clean up after your upgrade is complete.

We won't try to "sell" you on vinyl. Poor-quality vinyl windows can discolor, leak and warp just a few years after they're installed, so we refuse to sell them. Our window's Fibrex® composite material is twice as strong as vinyl.

THE BOLD LOOK OF KOHLER.

- Durable Materials for Long-Lasting Beauty
- Low-Maintenance Shower Walls
- Quality You Expect From Kohler
- Accessories to Personalize Your Shower
- Safety-Focused Design Features
- Quick, Professional Installation
- Lifetime Warranty

Choosing between a new walk-in bath or shower for your home depends greatly on your needs and accessibility. While both offer the safety benefit of a low step-in for easy entry, the comfort and aesthetic advantages vary.

The KOHLER® Walk-In Bath allows you to bathe in a comfortably seated position while enjoying the therapeutic benefits of hydrotherapy whirlpool jets. It also allows you to recline as you bathe. However, those who feel comfortable standing for a longer period of time may find that the KOHLER® LuxStone™ Shower, which provides a more traditional shower experience, better meets their needs.

Contact your Kohler specialist at New Bath Today to discuss your bathing needs and options, and to help make a decision today.
